UN Looks To Johnson For Guidance

By MAX HARRELSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U.N. diplomats looked hopefully today to President Johnson to keynote the world organization's 20th birthday celebration with a plan for ending its financial crisis and rebuilding its sagging prestige.

The President is to address the delegates of 114 countries in the San Francisco Opera House where the U.N. Charter was drafted two decades ago.

Johnson's speech was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. EST.

Although the contents of his speech were not released in advance there was widespread belief that a major theme would be the difficulties of the United Nations and possible action to strengthen the organization.

Greece's U.N. ambassador, Alexis S. Liatis, agreed with Secretary-General U Thant and others that the financial crisis was the most urgent problem facing the United Nations at the moment and said: "We all expect something tomorrow morning from President Johnson."

Observers agreed that the atmosphere was far different from the optimism in San Francisco in 1945, but they noted a brighter outlook than that of a few months ago.

The secretary-general observed this improvement and said: "I am very hopeful of the future potentialities of the great organization I have the privilege to serve."

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, also in an optimistic vein, expressed the belief that the deadlock over Soviet voting rights was heading toward a solution, perhaps in the near future. He declined to answer directly when asked if the United States was possibly backing down on enforcing Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. This article says that countries two years behind in paying assessments shall lose their vote in the General Assembly.

West Berlin Traffic Threatened By Reds

BERLIN (AP) — The East German Communists threatened today to tie up barge and rail shipments to West Berlin. They also suggested that the four occupation powers give them control of air traffic to West Berlin.

The threat to barge and rail shipments was made by Transport Minister Edwin Kramer in a speech to the Communist party Central Committee published by Neues Deutschland, the party newspaper.

Kramer said permits for barge traffic between West Germany and West Berlin issued by the four occupation powers would not be acceptable after June 30.

He warned that East Germany would take necessary measures if the West German government does not reach agreement with the East German regime by then to establish new procedures.

This could mean that all barge traffic, averaging between 100 and 200 barges a day, would be stopped on July 1.

Concerning rail traffic, the East Germans want to increase freight rates by about 20 per cent, contrary to four-power rules. Kramer said if no agreement on this is reached between the Bonn and East German governments, all freight shipments will be issued new transit documents at the border stations instead of allowing shipments through on a single document as has been the practice.

This could lead to mammoth tie-ups of rail shipments at the various border crossing points.

The threat of the air corridors came from East Germany's new foreign minister, Otto Winzer, who told the Central Committee the Berlin Air Safety Center which controls the air routes lost its basis of operation when the Allied Control Council for Berlin ceased to function in 1948.

After the council ceased to operate, the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union continued to operate the Air Safety Center. Winzer said international law gives East Germany rights over the Berlin air space and corridors and the four powers should get the East German government's permission to continue the center's operations.

Winzer said he was making "suggestions" but only those "who want to stir up the cold war" would not accept them.

There was no immediate Allied reaction to the East German statements.

The new Communist threats came after unusual Communist military activity along the Berlin Autobahn.

The military operations along the superhighway subsided Thursday night. Western diplomats were puzzled about its meaning, but the West German government said the situation was serious and called for countermeasures.

Philadelphia Gets Food

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The five-day wildcat strike of Teamster drivers began breaking up today as chain store food trucks, driven by Local 107 members threatened with loss of their jobs, delivered tons of fresh fruit, vegetables, fish and meat.

In the first hours after dawn more than 100 trucks of Food Fair, Acme, A. & P. and Penn Fruit left warehouses for supply - exhausted stores in the Greater Philadelphia area.

The drivers of Local 107, which had called the unauthorized "holiday" Monday in defiance of national Teamster leaders, reported for work after receiving warning telegrams from their chain store employers that they will be "considered to have quit" if they didn't come in this morning.

Downpour Soaks Panhandle Areas

By The Associated Press

Flood warnings were issued for low areas of the Panhandle today as torrential downpours of up to 11 inches continued to soak sections of Texas.

Hardest hit was Channing, in the northwest corner of the Panhandle, where an unofficial 11 inches was recorded. The cloudburst there was accompanied by hail as big as hen eggs.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said that the heavy rains were continuing and that more rain can be expected during the day. In its warning, the bureau said that flooding will occur in streams, streets and low lying places. All residents were warned to take special precautions and travelers were advised to be alert to high water conditions.

Quick rising water blocked U.S. 385 at a point 5 miles south of Channing and also halted a Burlington Railroad train near there. Rita Blanca Creek halted traffic on Texas 767 east of Channing.

Kress, 60 miles south of Amarillo, measured 3.25 inches of rain in an hour. Water seeped into some stores and at least one road in the area was impassable.

Amarillo itself gauged 1.93 inches, mostly before midnight as hail pounded areas to the north toward Channing during a heavy thunderstorm. Similarly hard rains drenched the countryside around Hereford and Muleshoe.

Underpasses filled in Amarillo, almost paralyzing traffic in parts of the city for a time.

Water covered most highways around Muleshoe and police closed U.S. 214 and FM 1760 in that vicinity for several hours.

Borger area residents applauded as runoff poured into Lake Meredith, a big new reservoir.

The storms, generating winds up to 40 miles per hour, subsided into slow, steady rainfall through the night and early morning in an area bounded by lines linking Childress, Dalhart and Tucumcari, N. M.

Jaycees Offer Rides To College Hearing

Free transportation to the junior college hearing Saturday morning will be provided by the Snyder Jaycees.

Anyone wishing to attend the hearing, which is set for 9:45 a.m., and who needs transportation, is asked to call HI 3-7517 before 9 o'clock.

Jaycees, and other backers of the proposal to establish a junior college in Snyder, are hoping for a good turnout at the hearing at which the three - member survey team from the State Board of Education will be present. The amount of local support for the college here is deemed a prime factor in the committee's decision to recommend Snyder as a site for a junior college.

2 Terrorist Bombs Shatter Saigon Cafe

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Two big terrorist explosions ripped through a crowded floating restaurant on the Saigon River almost simultaneously tonight and witnesses said they believed 40 or 50 persons, including many Americans, were killed.

The first police count showed 17 dead and 24 wounded. Officials expected this tally to go higher. Decks of the restaurant, the My Canh, and pavement on the riverside were slick with blood.

This incident is possibly the worst in terms of lives lost in South Viet Nam's capital in many years.

The riverfront normally is thronged with strollers seeking cool breezes in evening. Mothers and their children were among the casualties.

The explosions cut into the floating restaurant about 8:15 p.m.—7:15 a.m. EST.

One was caused by a powerful shaped charge—possibly an American-made Claymore electric mine—planted in the bank of the river. The Claymore explodes in the direction it is pointed.

The restaurant, which is moored about 25 feet from the bank, has an entry over a gangplank leading from the waterfront street. It is patronized mostly by Americans and wealthy Vietnamese.

A second blast, which investigators believed was caused by a bomb mounted on a bicycle, went off at a tobacco stall on the bank next to the restaurant.

Investigators assumed they were planted in advance and timed to explode at the peak of the dinner hour on a weekend night. The restaurant was crowded to capacity and its glass walls were crushed under the hail of fragments.

Last year a bomb was set off across the street from the waterfront and several Vietnamese were killed.

Authorities reported no arrests after the bombing. The terrorists were believed to have escaped before the explosions.

While Vietnamese police patrol the Saigon waterfront to some extent, the restaurant has not been regarded as a likely prime terrorist target.

Earlier in the day Radio Hanoi announced the Viet Cong had executed an American officer, U.S. Army Sgt. Harold Bennett of Perryville, Ark., in reprisal for the Vietnamese government's execution of Viet Cong terrorists.

The blast came despite tight security measures ordered into effect in Saigon this week.

Tonight was the first night of a new "antiluxury curfew" decreed by the military government to cut down on the capital's nightlife.

For the past two days the streets have been swarming with Vietnamese military police, marines and other guards, especially alert against terrorism. A police patrol boat regularly cruises the Saigon River.

The blasts sounded about 500 yards from the U.S. Embassy, a building heavily guarded since it was damaged March 30 by a terrorist bomb that killed 20 persons.

The riverfront incident came nine days after a bomb damaged the civilian terminal at Saigon's airport and injured 46 persons, including 34 U.S. servicemen.

84 Marines Die In Crash

EL TORO, Calif. (AP) — An Air Force jet transport loaded with Marines headed for Okinawa via Hawaii crashed today shortly after takeoff from the Marine air base here. A spokesman said all 84 aboard were killed.

The big C135 smashed into the low, rolling hills about 4½ miles north of this Southern California base at about 2:45 a.m. The wreckage was spotted soon after dawn.

A base spokesman said the 72 Marines aboard were from Camp Pendleton, Calif., near San Diego south of here. The plane and crew of 12 Air Force men aboard were from McGuire Air Force Base, N.J. A McGuire official said the aircraft, assigned to the 18th Air Transport Squadron there, left Thursday on a Military Air Transport Service troop mission.

There was no indication what went wrong aboard the plane. There were low clouds and light mist in the area at the time. The plane is a military version of the Boeing 707 jet.

A base spokesman said, "There is expectation that the Marines on board were on their way to Viet Nam but this plane was scheduled only for Honolulu."

In Washington, the Defense Department gave Okinawa as the destination. Okinawa is a staging area for movements to Viet Nam.

El Toro is 40 miles southeast of Los Angeles, just inland from the sea. The plane took off to the north. Planes doing so normally then bank left, away from the low-lying Santa Ana Mountains that border the field area. The wreckage was found in the hills almost due north of the strip.

The area is sparsely populated brushland. Because it is isolated, with few roads, search and rescue parties went to the scene in helicopters.

At Camp Pendleton, a spokesman said the Marines on the plane were part of a staging battalion that processes individual Marines from throughout the country for shipment to various overseas units.

They had been processed through Pendleton within the last two or three weeks and were brought to El Toro by bus Thursday.

Fourteen - hundred others in the staging battalion at Pendleton were ordered to wire or telephone their next of kin, to assure them of their safety.

The spokesman said it probably would take all day and perhaps part of tonight to notify next of kin of the victims.

Viet Cong Executes US Sergeant

By PETER ARNETT

—The Viet Cong executed a U.S. Army sergeant in reprisal for South Vietnamese executions of several Red terrorists, Hanoi Radio said today. It warned other Americans "must pay for their blood debts" if more Viet Cong prisoners are shot.

And in Saigon, terrorist bomb explosions tore through a crowded floating restaurant tonight leaving scores dead or wounded.—Many of the dead were believed to be Americans. Witnesses expressed belief as many as 50 persons had perished in the two blasts.

Execution of the American sergeant, Harold George Bennett, 25, of Perryville, Ark., was announced at a press conference Thursday by the "commander of the South Viet Nam Liberation Armed Forces in a liberated area," the North Viet Nam Radio said.

"The fate of U.S. prisoners-of-war, who are in the hands of the Liberation Armed Forces (Viet Cong) or will be captured by them, is decided by the U.S. aggressors themselves," Hanoi Radio quoted a Viet Cong spokesman as saying.

The U.S. Embassy, after hearing about Bennett's execution, said: "This is obviously a wanton act of murder if this is confirmed."

JIM HEATH

C-C Manager To Start On July 1

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce will have a new manager on July 1 when Jim Heath, formerly a staff member of the Wichita Falls Chamber, takes over the job here.

Heath visited with the members of the Chamber's board of directors at an informal board meeting Thursday evening, and was told to report on that date. Previously it had been planned that he would come here sometime after July 15.

Heath told the board members that he had planned on attending an institute for chamber of commerce managers at the University of Colorado July 11-17. The board agreed that he should attend the institute, and voted $250 for registration, travel, and housing expense for the trip.

Board members brought Heath up to date on activities of the chamber since they last talked to him, including the plans for the Independence Day celebration. Heath said that he planned to spend at least one day touring Snyder before taking over as manager of the chamber next Thursday.

Education As A Legacy

(An Editorial)

Long ago, before any of us were born, someone took an interest in our education.

The school system which taught us to read was established by far-sighted people who have long since gone to their reward. But behind them they left something of unmeasurable value to each individual and to our Nation.

Saturday morning the citizens of Snyder will have a chance to show their faith in an educational facility that should outlive every person alive today.

If those who believe that every child deserves the right to the greatest amount of education which he is able to absorb and intelligently use, and if those who believe that it is our duty to the present generation and to generations yet unborn to provide for their education, will stand up and be counted, we too can leave a valuable legacy.

If the high school auditorium is full tomorrow morning when the State Board of Education's Junior College Survey Team is here, the committee members will know that the proposal has the backing of the community. Without knowing of this support the committee members would not be inclined to look with favor on Scurry County's request for a Junior College.

We will have a chance to show that support, and to stand up and be counted as those who favor education for all. That chance will come at 9:45 Saturday morning.

Senate Approves Silverless Coins

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a bill which would eliminate silver from dimes and quarters and cut the silver content of half dollars.

Passage came late Thursday on a 74-9 vote. The bill was sent to the House, where a similar measure may come up for debate next week.

Under the Senate bill, the 90 per cent silver content of the half dollar would be reduced to 40 per cent, as requested by President Johnson. The House bill, which also would remove the silver from dimes and quarters as asked by Johnson, includes an amendment which would eliminate all of the silver from half dollars.

The President had called for the reduction of silver in coins on June 3. In a special message to Congress, he urged quick action in view of the rapidly diminishing Treasury stock of silver. He also expressed concern that a prolonged debate might encourage the hoarding of silver coins.

Western senators made six unsuccessful efforts to revise the bill more to their liking.

But their key proposal, to keep 40 per cent silver in the dime and quarter as well as the half dollar, was rejected 57 to 34.

On the other side of the argument, Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., from a silver-using state, sought to eliminate silver from the 50 cent piece, too. This was beaten 60 to 32.

Mining-state senators argued that the effect of the administration bill was to debase the nation's coinage system. They said the only real solution to the problem was a drastic price increase for silver to entice more domestic mines back into production.

Sponsors of the measure said that it was a reasonable compromise which would provide satisfactory coins for as far ahead as can now be foreseen.

They insisted it protected the interests of producers by establishing a $1.25-an-ounce floor price, as well as meeting the needs of industrial users of silver, vending machine operators and the public generally.

The new dimes and quarters are not expected to come into use until next year. With a copper core and coated with an alloy of nickel and copper, they will resemble a nickel in surface appearance but will be unchanged in size. Present vending machines will accept these, the Treasury says.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I particularly enjoyed and appreciated your recent column on the needs for hunting to preserve and improve many species of game. As I recall, there has been an open season on men ever since Eve opened up the fruit farm.

Yours for fewer game wardens and more games.

RED HUNTER

DEAR RED: You're confused. Eve did not open up a "fruit farm." She tempted Adam with a single apple. History is somewhat fuzzy concerning what followed, but I think Adam must have made applesauce of it, because since that time, whenever a man yields to temptation, he discovers it's just a lot of applesauce.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: In the past, when my husband and I would go to a party, he'd get tired around 11 o'clock and want to go home. I wouldn't be ready to go home that early, but I'd have to go with him and miss the best part of the evening. Now I'm not criticizing my husband, Abby. He works hard and has to get up early in the morning. But it isn't fair to me because I can sleep until noon if I want to. Well, we solved our problem by each driving his own car to the party. Now, when he's ready to go home, he goes. And I stay until I'm ready to go. Recently I was told that it didn't "look well" and I should cut it out. I'd like your opinion.

NIGHT OWL

DEAR OWL: If your husband doesn't care, the criticism of others is unimportant. But I agree, it doesn't "look well" and a lady should 'go home with the guy what brung her.'

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both elderly and not in the best of health. We live in a wonderful neighborhood with mostly younger married folks who are very kind. So many of the younger men have come over and offered to do odd jobs, and none of them would ever accept any pay. I am a good bread baker and have sent freshly baked bread to the various homes in appreication of their help. Now a little "bird" has told me that I am causing some resentment because the husbands are nagging their wives to bake bread. I don't want hard feelings, and wonder what I should do. Can you give me some advice?

GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: Keep right on baking that bread. Those who resent it could easily bake their own. . .they just wanna loaf.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the person who doesn't like people to sit beside her on a piano bench while she's playing. I share her sentiments.

The best way to get rid of them is to lean over very far in their direction to reach either the very high notes, or the low notes, depending on where they're sitting — and let them know they are in your way.

"SUBTLE"

DEAR SUBTLE: Subtlety is a waste of time with the denser set. I still say trade in the piano bench for a stool.

Killed In Crash

The helicopter was spraying mesquite north of Snyder when the trouble developed.

Voting Bill Fight Is Taking Shape

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two old antagonists on civil rights legislation have given the House a preview of the battle it can expect when it takes up the voting rights bill shortly.

If there is an argument on either side that Reps. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., and Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., didn't come up with Thursday, it's probably not worth using.

Smith, for instance, complaining that the bill would require Alaskan officials to come to court in the District of Columbia for relief, inquired: "How far are those folks from Alaska going to have to come through ice and snow to get here?"

And Celler, reminded by Smith that he had changed his position on the authority of Congress to ban poll taxes, replied: "As Shakespeare said: 'Do I contradict myself? I am large. I contain multitudes. I can contradict myself.' Sometimes you have to contradict yourself to effect a compromise."

The verbal duel was waged at 25 feet, with Smith and Celler at opposite ends of a long, narrow table. Smith, hunched over a pile of documents, peered from under shaggy eyebrows as he drawled his questions. Celler, the light from a chandelier gleaming on his bald head, responded calmly through a constant haze of cigarette smoke. Ten other Rules Committee members sat silently at either side of the table during the 80-minute exchange.

To several of Smith's questions, Celler had long, written answers. "You see, Howard," he said. "We've been associated so long I can read your mind. I knew you'd ask me that."

Celler, with 42 years of service, is the dean of the House. Smith, who came to Congress in 1931, is fifth in point of service.

"Hand me my ammunition," said Smith, turning to an aide for a brief case full of papers as he started questioning Celler.

He said the bill, which would strike down literacy tests in states where less than 50 per cent of the adults either voted or were registered last year was "a device to begin the regimentation of voters, as in Russia."

"Now Howard," said Celler. "I can't accept that. You can't correlate that with Russia."

As Smith whacked away at the bill, Celler said, "I agree this is a strong dose of medicine. But the malady is serious."

"Did you say malady, or malice?" asked Smith.

"This is the fever of the old Confederacy that is still raging," said Celler. "That's why the law has a good deal of strength."

"A good deal of unconstitutional strength," said Smith.

No one disputed Smith's final observation:

"I just don't think you and I can reach agreement on anything here."

Bid Accepted By School At Hermleigh

The low bid of T. E. Shelburne and Son Inc. was accepted Thursday evening by the Hermleigh school board on construction work to be done this summer at the schools.

Included in the work to be done there is extensive remodeling of the gymnasium, and the installation of an entire new lighting system for the elementary and junior high school portions of the building.

The gymnasium will have a new floor and ceiling, new dressing rooms and concession stands.

Unsuccessful bidders on the projects were Jones Construction Co. of Big Spring and Rose Construction Co. of Abilene.

Ted Averitt, superintendent of Hermleigh schools, said that it was hoped that all work could be completed before the start of school this fall.

J. D. Hinton of Snyder is the architect on the project.

Johnson Nixes New Autos

WASHINGTON (AP) — At President Johnson's request, a provision of $522,000 to buy two special limousines for his use has been stricken from an appropriation bill.

The action was taken Thursday by Senate and House conferees working on the annual Treasury-Post Office appropriations bill.

The limousines, with bullet-proof glass and other special protections, were requested by the Secret Service, which has the job of guarding the President's life.

When the plans for the special cars came to light several months ago, Johnson said he didn't want them.

Police Seek Son Of Slain Couple

HOUSTON (AP) — Detectives pressed a search today for a man whose elderly parents were beaten to death and the bodies dismembered and placed in a refrigerator.

Police discovered the butchered bodies of Fred Rogers, 81, and his wife Edwina, 79, at their home late Wednesday night.

A nationwide police pickup order went out for Charles Rogers, 43, their only son. He lived with his parents in the 1½-story house.

The son, a graduate of the University of Houston and a former seismologist for an oil company, was described by neighbors and relatives as a recluse.

No charges had been filed. Homicide Capt. L. D. Morrison said the son was wanted for questioning.

"No one seems to know much about him," Morrison said. "Relatives tell us he didn't even speak much with his mother and father."

The son was described as 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighing 140 pounds, balding with dark brown hair. He is a Navy veteran of World War II.

Officers found a claw hammer which they believed to be the death weapon. They also found a keyhole saw, a knife and scissors which may have been used in dismembering the bodies.

Detective J. P. Paul said he believed the hammer was used to beat the victims unconscious "or kill them."

Morrison would not speculate on how the crime occurred.

"But I know one thing for sure," he said. "Whoever did this must have spent the best part of the day at it."

Because the bodies were in the refrigerator and the hearts and other internal organs were missing, Morrison said authorities had not been able to determine the time of death.

"My guess would be that it occurred this past weekend," he said.

Morrison said the search for the missing son did not look bright.

"We are looking for a man we know almost nothing about," he said. "His relatives and neighbors know little of him. We don't know his habits or friends if he had any. We don't know how he was dressed, or when he left. We don't even have a recent photograph of him."

One neighbor who had lived next door to the Rogers for seven years said she was unaware they had a son.

Police found the bodies when they searched the house at the request of a nephew, who said his aunt had not answered the telephone for several days.

The elder Rogers was a retired real estate salesman. Mrs. Rogers was a home products saleswoman.

Fluvanna News

By MARJORIE MATHIS

For one who had never had the pleasure of attending a Homecoming, Fluvanna's big every-five-year celebration was certainly a huge success. We wandered through the crowds observing shouts of recognition, handshakes, bear hugs and lots of cousin kissing. Name tags proclaiming HELLO! My name is — what's yours? were pinned to everyone. It was a day filled with smiles. The only tears observed were a few of gladness or postalgia and of course some in the cases of exhausted babies late in the afternoon on that memorable Saturday.

There were license plates from California, Florida, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Tennessee. Former students also registered from Illinois, Nevada, Kansas, Louisiana, and of course from all parts of Texas. When it was over, members of the Young Farmers Chapter wondered how they had served 1,600 persons so quickly. One connoisseur of fine baking estimated that at least one hundred homemade cakes had been contributed by Scurry County ladies. Among other good things, three hundred and twenty - five pounds of barbecue and twenty-five pounds of onions were served.

Some of those present were Lec Squyers of Amarillo, calling hello to everyone. Brothers A. C. Boren of Paducah and Emmett Boren of Lamesa were on hand. We noted Buford Browning of Snyder in a flowered kitchen apron helping out at the barbecue. Former teacher Doris Beaver (Mrs. Frank) of Borden County was visiting friends. Attractive and vivacious sisters-in-law, Shirley Drum in green, and Margaret Drum in white, wives of Fluvanna exes—Don, now of Irving, and Buddy, active president of the YFT Chapter — were here and there.

Francis E. Brooks, who used to write Sandscripts for this paper, came home from Key West Florida. Mrs. E. O. Wedgeworth (Doris) from Pampa was all smiles. Naomi Polk, wife of Fluyanna's former barber twenty - five years ago, came from Midland. J. C. Landrum was introducing himself and others. Mr. Landrum lives in Fort Worth. Patsy Holder Williams of Hobbs and her look-alike daughter, Kim, appeared in mother - daughter dresses.

Junior High School information girls in red and white helped guests find the proper classrooms for reunions. Jess Bley and a host of other Bley relatives were on hand. There were many representatives of the Beaver family including Mrs. J. B. Stein, the former Matty Lynn Beaver, all the way from Chicago, Illinois.

Former students Velma (Greene) Wren and husband, Amos, of Bells, Tennessee, came home. Mrs. Wren explained that they left Fluvanna in 1914. Robery Robby of Wylie came. Mrs. Dale Deere Gleghorn of Artesia drove over. She explained that she was in school in 1915. Another of the Wren family, Mary White Wren, made a striking appearance as she greeted old friends.

Busy in the registration booth were also Mrs. C. A. Daugherty, Mrs. Harley Carmichael, and Mrs. James Beaver. Teacher Francine Allen out from Snyder was everywhere helping out.

A 1921 teacher from Snyder, Mrs. T. A. (Maggie Werner) Faver, signed the guest book. Lots of camera fans were on hand besides members of the press. Thanks to Terry Williamson, Snyder Daily News, and Jerry Burton, Abilene Reporter News, and Dan Waddell, Coop News, for nice coverage.

Bill Wyche of Van Horn was around. Former teachers Jack and Pam Blanchard of Sweetwater were visiting their old home. Gaylene Sneed Harrison of Winters was happy to be back. From Lubbock came Louise Glass Linker and smiling husband Del and three small boys. W. T. Taylor of Grapevine was busy talking to a former teacher.

Enthusiastic Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stinson of Plainview enjoyed the program. Attractive Mrs. D. C. Andrews of Fort Worth was in the auditorium. Paul Mariner of Borger stopped to shy thanks to Mr. L. M. Dawson. Bruce Land drove over from Abilene, and Mrs. Edna Ainsworth Lawlis came from Brady. Jayton was represented by Mrs. Belle Sewalt. There were so many other names — Lightfoot, McKnight, Hunnicutt, Moore, Mize, Young, Browning, Belew, Patterson, and of course another Jones family. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones of Snyder were on hand visiting with former neighbors.

There were just a few. Everyone was in a gala mood. All manner of dress from the highest heels and prettiest party hats to the most casual of sports wear was observed.

When the program in the auditorium began, every seat the back. Following the invocathebac k. Following the invocation by Donald Earl Browning of Snyder, the stage lights were up as Elmo Faver of Abilene began singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." The halls echoed with many voices young and old. The audience followed when he sang "My Wild Irish Rose." The lyrics of "Search Everywhere, there is none to compare" evoked many memories fair and tender, said, happy, and true. Then they sang "Springtime in the Rockies—I'll be coming back to You." And of course it is hoped that all present will return in 1970, the date of the next Homecoming.

Dr. C. W. Tarter of Abilene, who taught for two years at Fluvanna, acted as master of ceremonies. His remarks were humorous and entertaining as he introduced the afternoon's performers. Mr. Dawson presented the welcome, students by class years were recognized, and awards were presented. A tremendous ovation was given E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, former superintendent, when he was presented by Dr. Tarter as one of the Beatles of yesteryear. His trombone rendition of "Memories" was stirring. Mrs. Russell Jones of Seminole joined in this duet with her incomparable piano styling, and the audience called for more.

Former teachers and school board members were presented. The program closed after a special by Ray Herring, Don Willis, Glenn Toombs, and James Beaver.

It was late in the afternoon before the crowds dispersed. Some went on to other family reunions Saturday night and Sunday. Most started for home. All were undoubtedly tired. It had been a nice Homecoming even for the newcomers.

Clothing For Senior Citizens

Clothing designed for older people is virtually nonexistent in spite of the fact that more than 1,000 men and women in the United States pass their sixty - fifth birthday every day. There are approximately 1300 people over 65 in Scurry County now and the number will increase.

There are distinctive physiological changes in this age group as there are in preschool and adolescent groups, points out Dr. Graham Hard, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

An understanding of needs and interests of older people is required for this group to have adequate and suitable clothing, the specialist says.

Some of the characteristics of textiles and clothing needed to meet the needs and interests of older citizens include wear factors, esthetic and social factors, care factors, economic factors and clothing design.

Dr. Hard emphasized that garments should be light in weight and less tiring to wear, and warm, to compensate for decrease in activity and poor regulation of body temperatures. Construction processes should not irritate the skin, design of fabrics and clothing should be selected for safety, and soil resistant finishes should be considered.

Social and esthetic factors to consider include: Colors should be chosen to flatter skin and hair tones; prints should be avoided if unflattering; fabrics and designs should be selected to enhance appearance and personality of wearer, and clothing should be chosen to convey a feeling of being appropriately dressed.

Under care factors, consider these: Garments should be styles that allow for figure changes; disposable in case of illness, if feasible; wash-and-wear to facilitate care; easy to iron; fabrics that are not damaged by too-hot iron.

Clothing expenditures for older people are generally lower than for other age groups, since lower income levels limit the amount spent for clothing. The value they receive for the price is important. Since they are less active, there is less wear and tear on clothes. Attractive, appropriate styles in the lower price range should be selected.

Lines that give trim, softening effect should be chosen in clothing design. Easy-on and easy-off garments with fabric and garment design adaptable to easy alterations are the best selecion choices, the clothing specialist emphasized.

Miss Ruby Butts, Scurry County Home Demonstration Agent, would remind local people that much is being done to learn about the needs of the over 65 age group.

Bravery, Completed Journey

THE GREATEST THING SINCE SLICED BREAD. By Don Robertson.

On that autumn afternoon in 1944, Morris Bird III, age 9, played hookey from his class trip to the museum and made the most important journey thus far in his life, a four-mile hike to see his old friend Stanley Chaloupka, who had moved away.

Morris was responsible for his sister Sandra, 6, so he had to take her with him. He hauled her in a wagon marked Crimson Streak, and it had cost him four dimes, a nickel and five pennies to rent it from Teddy Karam, who called it the Nosmirc Kaerts.

That Morris was brave in the midst of disaster that afternoon was less important to him than the fact he had accomplished his mission and reached Stanley's house — he had "accomplished what he had set out to do," and that was very important to this 9-year-old.

All this is fiction, but the settings are real, and the disaster was an actual occurrence — a great explosion and fire at the storage tanks of the East Ohio Co. on Cleveland's East Side, on Oct. 20 of that year.

The first half of the novel is a two-fold exploration of Morris' world. On the one hand it is a vividly depicted story of what it is like to be a small boy, and that includes all the wishes, fears, questions, hopes, disillusionments, satisfactions, mistakes and fun that fill a small boy's life. On the other, it is a re-creation of a time and place that will stir postalgic smiles among many a reader.

Then as Morris and Sandra begin the journey, Robertson reaches out to chronicle the minute-by-ninute lives of some assorted characters who, unknowingly, are being drawn into the vortex of the great disaster — among them the woman whose life Morris will save, a legless man who plays the trumpet and later will join the Crimson Streak, a retired teacher, an adulterous matron, a boy attending a football game.

So in the latter half of the book there is a tense narrative dnveloping the two children.

Those who read Robertson's recent "A Flag Full of Stars" will remember how expertly he delineates the telling moments of his people's lives. This novel is an even more striking accomplishment. You'll remember Morris.

Precocious Nephew And Man Witch

LADIES OF THE RACHMANINOFF EYES. By Henry Van Dyke.

There are some moderately odd people doing even odder things in this novel.

The scene is the home of a rich Jewish widow, Etta Klein, at the edge of a small Midwestern town. She and Harriet Gibbs, a Negro who is more of a companion than a servant, have been together for 30 years.

Harriet's nephew Oliver, who is the narrator, is a precocious youth approaching the age of 17. He has been made a pampered pet of Mrs. Klein, since the death of her son Sargeant, five years earlier.

The other characters include Mrs Klein's other — and unloved — son Jerome, his wife Patricia Jo, and Mrs. Klein's Negro maid Della.

The complications begin when Mrs. Klein invites a Chicago charlatan, who advertises himself as a warlock (male witch), to come to her home to conduct a seance. The purpose is to establish contact with Sargeant's spirit. It is Oliver who faces most of the problems of coping with the situation, which finally reaches a bizarre resolution.

Both the people and the plot are on the offbeat path, and Oliver seems more precocious than nature would allow. Yet there is a lot of good writing and imaginative characterization in Van Dyke's novel.

AMA Finds This 'City Hall' Just Too Much Opponent

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Medical Association ran up against City Hall and then occurred one of the strange coincidences of history.

For 15 years the AMA and its presidents successfully fought passage of a federal medicare program which would provide health care for the aged through a Social Security tax.

The AMA spent a bale of money doing it, this year almost $1 million in the first three months.

Among other things the organization, with a membership of about 206,000 doctors, argued medicare would introduce a third party, the government, into the doctor-patient relationship.

But the tide was running against the AMA at last. Under President Johnson's prodding, and with his own Democrats in overwhelming control of Congress, approval of his medicare plan seemed certain this year.

Last February, still butting its head against medicare, the AMA endorsed another plan called "eldercare."

Then last April 8 the House by a 313-115 vote approved medicare. Senate approval and final passage seemed certain after the Senate Finance Committee gave its okay and sent it up for a vote.

The AMA, facing this prospect, met this week in New York and some doctors promptly submitted 10 strong resolutions urging physicians to boycott the health plan if it became law.

This was too much for the new president, Dr. James Z. Appel, 58, a surgeon of Lancaster, Pa., who sternly warned his fellow- doctors such a boycott would be unethical as well as "impractical and not good citizenship."

But out on the sidewalks old folks marched and shouted support of medicare, chanting as they picketed: "Two-four-eight, A-M-A cooperate."

Then Thursday came the coincidence:

The Senate Finance Committee approved the medicare bill and will send it up to the full Senate which is expected to pass it after the July 4 recess.

And the AMA turned aside the boycott proposals although it warned it would not cooperate in any health program that interferes with a doctor's judgment and skill.

And it decided to look over the situation again when, and if, the medicare plan becomes law.

As a medical organization, the AMA is not unique in its opposition to a government medicare program. In countries around the world with government health care, doctors have protested against such systems, or certain conditions within the systems.

But most of the fighting was lost motion, which is what the AMA may be thinking now.

Bills to add hospitalization benefits to Social Security were introduced in Congress as early as 1942, only six years after the retirement system itself began.

They were reintroduced again and again but made no headway.

Presidents Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and John F. Kennedy in one way or another moved in the direction of a health care program.

A chief reason for the mounting support of medicare is that almost no family has been free of the rising cost of illness, with mounting doctor and hospital fees.

This, added to the huge Democratic control of Congress, after the 1964 election, plus Johnson's insistence upon a medicare program, made the whole business a City Hall which the AMA couldn't lick.

Captain Wins Loyalty Of Viet Tribe

By HAL BOYLE

KHE SANH, South Viet Nam (AP) — Capt. Nguyen Xuan Loc is a man who doesn't like his job but is so good at it they can't let him go on to something bigger.

He has become a kind of Lawrence of Arabia for the mountainous northwest corner of this country and military victory if it comes depends on men like Capt. Loc.

He is tall, handsome, quick-witted and speaks good English. Loc, 33, had been an outstanding soldier for 10 years when he was picked to be district chief here. A district chief is roughly equivalent to a powerful county political boss in the United States.

Loc's assignment was a rough one. It was to win over and protect Montagnard tribespeople scattered in a thinly populated area of about 1,800 square miles. It is bordered on the west by Laos and on the north by the demilitarized zone along the 17th Parallel.

The captain is a native Vietnamese born in Hanoi. Giving him the district chief's job was like appointing someone named McCoy as a good-will envoy to the Hatfield family during that famous feud, for the poverty-ridden Montagnards traditionally dislike the Vietnamese and the Vietnamese look down on the Montagnards as illiterate savages.

But there are several hundred thousands of these tribespeople and how they go can have an important effect on this war.

To counter the initial distrust he knew he would meet, Loc appointed a Montagnard as his deputy and put others in important civic and military positions.

He also imported rice to feed the hungry tribespeople, convinced them to try more productive farming techniques and trained them to fight better.

The captain has made an impressive record in 20 months as district chief.

Before he came the Montagnards quickly lost 92 out of 150 weapons issued them by the Vietnamese government but of 250 weapons that he issued he said none had been lost.

"Our Montagnards used to fire only at Vietnamese Viet Cong but not at Montagnard Viet Cong" he said "but I have taught them that if we are to win Montagnards must fire at Montagnards if they are with the enemy.

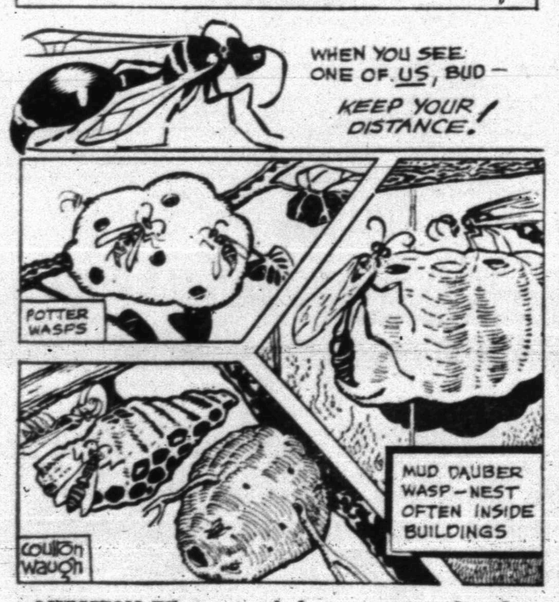
"I feel that 90 per cent of the Montagnards are now loyal to me. Twice at the risk of their own lives the villagers have warned me of assassination attempts against me."

Loc would like to resume command in the Vietnamese army or take special training in the U.S. Infantry School at Ft. Benning, Ga., but his is the tragedy of the indispensable man. His present role is so important his superiors are afraid to promote him.

"I am not a politician," said the captain, "I do not like this job but it is my duty and I always do my duty.

"The Montagnards say that if I am replaced by someone they don't like they will turn in their weapons and refuse to help the government. But the people must stay loyal if we are to win."

Junior Editors Quiz on WASPS



QUESTION: What materials do wasps use in making their nests?

• • •

ANSWER: Most of us have been stung by wasps at least once and are apt to think of them as nasty, useless little creatures. Yet most of them are helpful to us, for they destroy large numbers of harmful insects. Wasps become nervous if people get too close to them, but they do not go out of their way to attack. Some wasps live by themselves, but other cooperate and work together in colonies. Both kinds build remarkably efficient houses or nests out of different materials.

The potter or mason wasps (upper left) make nests out of clay attached to branches, some quite large with a number of entrance holes and other which look like little round pots, each with a single hole. Inside deserted buildings and often in attics, we will find the interesting nest of the mud dauber (right), a number of upright cells linked together. The lower picture shows wasps who engage in making nests out of their own kind of paper. To do this, they chew up wood, to make a light but very tough substance. It is well to keep away from all wasps' nests, but it is especially important to give a wide berth to the hornet's large one. There are too many hornets inside with bad tempers.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: The social habits of wasps are very interesting and worthwhile to study, but don't get a painful stinging while doing so. You will find information about them in insect books and encyclopedias. 6-25

Spurs Still Cling To League Lead

By The Associated Press

That's not only a close race but a tantalizing one that Dallas-Fort Worth and Tulsa are staging for the Eastern Division lead in the Texas League.

Since May 30 Dallas - Fort Worth has been ahead by one-half a game 11 times, they have been virtually tied for the lead three times and there never has been more than 1½ games difference.

Tantalizing to Tulsa indeed. A little nerve - wracking to Dallas-Fort Worth.

Thursday night was another time for Tulsa to pull within a half-game as the Oilers beat El Paso 7-5 and Dallas-Fort Worth split a double-header with Albuquerque.

While Dallas - Fort Worth lost ground, Albuquerque gained a half game despite the split, since El Paso took its licking from Tulsa, and it widened the Albuquerque bulge to 3½ games in the Western Division.

Dallas-Fort Worth won the first game 8-4 with an 11-hit and steady pitching of Dave Dowling. Albuquerque took the nightcap 4-3 in 12 innings on Cleo James' line single.

Chuck Benson dropped a fly ball in the 12th to open the gates for the victory.

John Kindl homered with two out in the top of the ninth to tie the score and Wayne Petrie singled in two runs for victory as Tulsa nipped El Paso.

Larry Yellen held Austin to two hits while Amarillo was pounding 18, including four homers, to swamp the Braves 13-0. Yellen didn't allow a runner as far as third base. Leo Posada hit his 17th homer of the season, tops in the league, while clubbing four hits.

Willie Stargell Slams Pirates Past Fading Bums

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Say Hey, look what Willie did. Willie Stargell, that is.

The slugging Pittsburgh outfielder, who takes his glasses off to play ball, hammered Los Angeles pitching for three home runs and a double Thursday night, driving in six runs as the Pirates crushed the National League-leading Dodgers 13-3.

Riding a month-long streak that has propelled him into the race for home-run leadership, Stargell brought his total for the season to 20 with his latest outburst. Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants leads the majors with 22.

Against the Dodgers, Stargell homered with the bases empty in the first and with one on in the third against 11-game winner Don Drysdale, struck out in the fourth, then connected for his third homer against reliever John Purdin with two on in the sixth.

He came up in the eighth against Mike Kekich and doubled, shooting a line drive down the left-field line that fell two feet short of the stands.

While Stargell was leading a 15-hit attack, St. Louis belted Cincinnati 11-4 with a 12-hit offensive, Philadelphia downed San Francisco 3-1, the Chicago Cubs defeated Milwaukee 3-1 and Houston whipped the New York Mets 4-2.

In the American League, Cleveland clipped Minnesota 3-1, Detroit edged the Los Angeles Angels 3-2, Baltimore beat Boston 4-1 and Kansas City took the New York Yankees 6-2. Washington and Chicago were not scheduled.

Stargell was joined in homer hitting for the Pirates by Bob Bailey and Jim Pagliaroni.

Wes Parker drove in all the Dodger runs with a sacrifice fly and a two-run homer off Don Cardwell, who got the victory for a 5-2 record with a four-hitter. Drysdale lost his third straight and now is 11-6.

The Cardinals, gaining only their eighth victory in the last 29 games, did most of the damage against Jim O'Toole, who suffered his sixth loss against only one victory.

Phil Gagliano rapped a three-run homer and Lou Brock and Bob Uecker each stroked two-run singles while Tracy Stallard brought his record to 4-2 with relief help from Don Dennis.

The Giants scored in the second inning on singles by Len Gabrielson, Tom Haller and Hal Lanier but the Phillies moved ahead to stay with a two-run sixth built on a walk and singles by Cookie Rojas, John Callison and Tony Gonzalez.

The victory went to Jim Bunning, who left in the sixth after a single by Matty Alou hit him on the right ankle. Ray Herbert preserved the victory, Bunning's eighth against five defeats. Juan Marichal, now 11-6, was the loser.

Dick Ellsworth scattered six Milwaukee hits as he brought his record to 8-3 with his fifth straight victory. He has not lost since May 15 when he pitched a one-hitter and was beaten by the Dodgers.

The Astros put it away against the Mets with a three-run second inning helped along by New York pitcher Jack Fisher. Fisher wild pitched one run home, made a throwing error that let in another and failed to cover first on a bunt that brought in the third run.

Rain Fails To Spoil Golf Game

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Neither rain nor its sloshy aftermath could keep Houston's Marty Fleckman from his self-appointed round with a nine-under par, four-stroke lead at the halfway mark in the National Collegiate Golf Tournament.

Fleckman, the 1964 Texas amateur champion from Port Arthur, shot a masterful four-under par 68 Thursday to give him a 135 going into today's final 36 holes.

Within striking distance were Jim Wiechers of Santa Clara with 70-69-139; Lauren Hammer of Florida, 69-71—140; Arne Dokka of California State at Los Angeles, 68-73—141, and Steve Robbins of North Carolina, 73-69—142.

Fleckman's score led Houston to its eighth NCAA team championship in 10 years. Houston's four lowest scores in the first two rounds totaled 577, followed by California State at Los Angeles, 587; Southern California, 590, and Florida and Purdue, 594 each.

The 17-year-old lefthander will report to the Braves today and Manager Bobby Bragan will look him over before he is sent to Sarasota, Fla., in the Rookie League. Sarasota is a Braves farm club.

Celtics Sold To New York Brewing Firm

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, winners of seven straight National Basketball Association championships, are being sold to the Ruppert-Knickerbocker Brewing Co. of New York, but will remain in Boston and will remain the life work of Arnold (Red) Auerbach.

Announcement of the sale, "in the area of $3 million" and of the continuation of the Auerbach regime was made Thursday night by co-owner Lou Pieri and representatives of the brewing company.

Pieri said he and Mrs. Walter Brown, who became an owner on the death of her husband last September, would sign the papers today in the office of Boston attorney Charles Keene.

Jack Waldron, president of the brewing company, will be president of the Celtics and Marvin Kratter, board chairman of Kratter Realty, owners of the beer concern, will be board chairman of the Celtics.

Waldron said that Auerbach as executive vice president will continue to manage and coach the team and generally "run the show."

Pieri said both he and Mrs. Brown were very happy the team would not be moved out of Boston.

Auerbach, told newsmen "I feel Walter Brown, in a situation like this, would be happy because these are real sports people." He said "eight to ten" groups had been interested in buying the club.

Meadow Court Still Irish Derby Favorite

DUBLIN (AP) — Irish-trained Meadow Court continued as a lop-sided favorite today against a probable field of 21 other 3-year-olds in Saturday's Irish Derby.

A late Thursday scratch, Joseph McGrath's Dux Bonus, a 100-1 outsider in the pre-race betting, cut the field to its probable starting delegation of 22.

The race, at 1½ miles at the Currach track, carries a winning purse of $168,000 and is the basis for the second Irish Sweepstakes of the year.

Manager Gil Hodges of the Washington Senators compiled a .273 batting average for 2,071 National League games.

Braves Run Up Largest Score

In a single Pony League game Thursday night, the Braves whipped the Rebels 27-3.

It was the highest run producing affair this year by any one ball team from the Little League up. Mitch Rambin and Doyle Gallman were the big guns for the Braves in the five inning contest. Each of them scored five runs and got four hits in four official trips to the plate. Charley Johnson and David McGinnis each scored four runs apiece and both only registered one official trip at bat.

Johnson was the winning pitcher as he allowed only three runs on two hits. Both hits were back to back triples by Gary Shields and Jimmy Patrick of the Rebels.

Movie Industry Is Bringing Dollars Home From Abroad

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While Washington frets about American tourists spending Yankee dollars abroad, one industry confidently predicts it will be pulling back more of these dollars this year than ever.

The motion picture industry says it gets 55 per cent of its gross income from showing its flickers abroad. And it claims this is a higher percentage than can be boasted by any other large American industry.

This year it expects to bring back $10 million more than last year's $260 million.

Movie makers also insist that they inspire demand throughout the world for American products and thus help boost U.S. exports of goods. This is the nation's biggest source of dollars when it tries to balance its international monetary payments. And Washington is beating the bushes to get American businessmen to try to sell more abroad.

The American products that movies popularize run all the way from blue jeans in Algiers to electric guitars in Stockholm, from gocarts in Bern, Switzerland, to home furnishings in Caracas, Venezuela.

Movie makers also take credit for stimulating interest of foreigners in visiting the United States. They can't prove it, but they feel sure that pictures of American scenes and particularly of American ways of life make Europeans curious to see for themselves.

With an eye on gleaning still more dollars abroad, the Motion Picture Export Association of America is urging the government to get its foreign service to put more emphasis on stimulating such trade. It says its return flow of dollars would be increased if Washington could get some nations with blocked funds to ease their restrictions, and others to lower discriminatory trade barriers.

Such barriers also work against the buying of American goods that foreigners see and admire in movies. A survey of U.S. consular posts shows that this is the case in such places as Pakistan, Egypt, Brazil, Israel and the countries behind the Iron Curtain.

But in many lands American movies have inspired consumer demands that local manufacturers have been inspired to satisfy. Consulates note this affect in Baghdad and Buenos Aires, in Madrid and Cairo.

Sweden reports its younger set goes heavily for pop records, sportswear, cosmetics and auto decorations such as are featured in the American flickers. The older set is influenced by appliances and home interiors.

And when "Goldfinger" was shown in Johannesburg, one South African manufacturer asked U.S. officials the name of the maker of the car crushing machine shown in the film.

Drug Returned To Market Despite Doctors' Objections

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration decided to allow a controversial antidepressant drug back on the market although one of its officials, a psychiatrist, said:

"I deeply regret the sacrifice of human life and the prolongation of suffering that will follow. . ."

Dr. Arthur Engelman made this comment about Parnate in an interoffice memo introduced Thursday at a hearing of the House Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee.

Despite his view and similar doubts expressed by two other FDA officials—Dr. Arthur Ruskin, the deputy director of the division of new drugs, and Dr. Matthew Ellenhorn, director of the division's surveillance branch—the agency decided to allow the drug to be marketed again.

However, in defense of the agency's action, Dr. Joseph Sadusk Jr., the FDA's medical director, told the subcommittee two outside psychiatrists—Dr. Jonathan Cole of the National Institutes of Health and Dr. Fritz Freyhan, then with St. Elizabeth's Hospital—concurred in the decision to re-issue the drug.

Parnate was withdrawn from the market Feb. 25, 1964 after high blood pressure and strokes, some fatal, were experienced by some patients. On July 24 the FDA allowed the drug to be remarketed but with a new warning label stating, among other things:

It was to be used only in cases of severe depression, only when the patient was in a hospital or under close observation, and it was not to be used for patients over 60, the age when the incidence of strokes increases markedly.

Sadusk said several physicians and psychiatrists protested removal of the drug, saying "its adverse effects were outweighed by its value in concerting invalidism to a useful life and in the prevention of suicide."

No deaths have been reported among the 120,000 persons who have used the drug since it went back on the market, Sadusk said.

A subcommittee study said the FDA has received reports of 18 strokes, seven fatal, since Parnate was re-issued. Sadusk said that of the four fatal cases in the United States the victims used the drug prior to re-issue under the new warning label.

Up to the time the drug was taken off the market, the FDA official said, 38 strokes had been reported in the United States, 12 fatal.

Rules For Mrs. Marcus

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Judith Frich Marcus, 27, was granted an uncontested separation from an heir to the Neiman-Marcus department store fortune Thursday after testifying he slapped her face in Manhattan, broke her jaw in Dallas and then abandoned her.

The dark-haired ex-model and fashion consultant obtained the separation from Richard Marcus. His father, Stanley Marcus, is president of the Dallas-based stores.

She said they were married July 18, 1962, and he abandoned her last August. State Supreme Court Justice Edward McCaffrey granted the separation.

Mrs. Marcus said under questioning by her lawyer, Roy M. Cohn, that Marcus slapped her in front of a New York restaurant in April of 1963.

In november of the same year "he broke my jaw in Dallas and I had to go to a hospital for treatment," she said.

Inmates Approve New Criminal Code

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — "The Echo," inmate newspaper at the Texas Department of Corrections, has congratulated the 59th Legislature for revising the state's criminal code.

The June issue of the paper, written and edited by prison inmates, applauded the "advanced thinking and progressive minded legislators who recently voted into law Texas' first complete criminal code revision since the 1800s."

Gov. John Connally signed the measure last week. It liberalizes criminal judicial procedure.

Mishap Proves Fatal

HAZEN, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Patricia Bashaw, 28, of Houston was killed Thursday when a truck hit her husband's car from behind while it was halted at a traffic signal, knocking the auto across an intersection in front of a second truck. Her husband, Benjamin Bashaw, 31, was injured.

Be still

"Thou wilt show me the path of life: in Thy presence is fulness of joy." Psalms 16:11.

Human joy, like glorious dawn,
Passes quickly as day goes on,
Always an exquisite thing
As the bluebird, swift of wing—
Just a flash then gone away.
Only joy in Thee will stay!

Survey Of 'Over-65s' Set Saturday

A reminder was issued today to the high school and college age youth of Scurry County who will be conducting the survey of over-65 age persons, that tomorrow is the day.

Those who will be helping in the survey are to meet at the First Baptist Church at 8 a.m. for breakfast before starting out on the survey.

The survey is being done in connection with the Governor's Committee on Aging and with the cooperation of the Snyder Ministerial Alliance. The survey is planned to provide information about housing, leisure time, activities, interests, and other similar information.

Scientist-Astronauts To Be Announced

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The names of this country's first scientist-astronauts — believed to total six — will be announced Tuesday.

Manned Spacecraft Center spokesmen said Thursday they will be introduced at a news conference.

The exact number was not disclosed. Indications are there will be six men, each holding a doctor's degree in the natural sciences, medicine or engineering.

None of the scientist-astronauts is expected to make a space flight until after the first moon landing, which is not scheduled until at least 1969.

Young Genius Still Finds New Interests

DALLAS (AP)—There are still new worlds to conquer, even for a young fellow who started to college at the age of 10.

He's Mike Grost, now 11, of Lansing, Mich., and Thursday was a day of fresh experiences.

With his father, William Grost, he made his first airplane trip, taking a close look at the jet cockpit in the process.

Mike also held his first news conference, proving among other things that he's pretty personable. One reporter wrote:

"Bright-eyed, robust Mike is about the friendliest, happiest, healthiest, calmest genius you're liable to meet—even if he does talk down to you once in a while."

He flew here to accept a "captain of achievement award" from the American Academy of Achievement.

Educators say Mike possesses an intelligence quotient so high it cannot be measured adequately. He finished his freshman year at Michigan State University last spring with all A's.

At his air terminal news conference, someone asked the young mathematics major if he ever felt ill at ease among his older classmates.

"No, I don't," he replied. "But after all, I've been at it for 2½ years now."

What are his career plans? Mike isn't sure. He is giving serious thought to the priesthood.

"I still don't know what God wants me to do," he said.

To a request for his definition of God the answer was:

"Pure existence. I've done a lot of thinking about that, and I think that's what it comes down to—pure existence."

Has he ever encountered a problem he couldn't solve?

"Yes, but I can't remember what it was."

The elder Grost manages the employes' credit union at the Motor Wheel Corp. plant. He and his wife also have two younger children.

Texas Solons Favor Silver Coinage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and John Tower, R-Tex., both voted with the majority Thursday in the Senate's 74-9 passage of the administration's silver coinage bill.

92-Year-Old Physician Plans For Later Years

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"I'm going to study geriatrics—when I get old."

With that jaunty declaration, 92-year-old Dr. William Bentley Griggs, still an active physician, conceded there might be some reason for the fuss that's being made over his 71 years of medical practice.

Doctors and laymen will gather at a public meeting in Hahnemann Medical College tonight to honor him, and there will be many felicitations to read, from around this country and from abroad.

"It's quite a lot of frosting to put on the cake of a plain old family doctor," he said in an interview at his combined home and office in suburban Jenkintown. "I have had a bit of experience, though, and I'm always after more."

Slender, alert, the humor of his Scotch-Irish blood ever-present, Dr. Griggs ranged over a variety of subjects, expressing his views with an animation characteristic of far younger men.

"As long as my mind is clear—and it is now, I assure you—I'll not retire," he said. "After 90 I did slow up a bit. I take only office calls now, and have cut down on the number of patients. But I'm still a doctor.

"Retirement at 65? Nonsense. My judgment and perception were at their best when I was 65, in my last years of teaching at Hahnemann Medical College. I wouldn't be where I am now if I had retired at 65—or 75."

"Compulsory retirement is wrong," he continued, "and I agree with those in and out of my profession who say that companies who force people to retire at a given age are very behind the times. Think of the waste of ability, maturity and experience."

Dr. Griggs was born in Philadelphia on Sept. 8, 1872, the son of a physician-teacher at Jefferson Medical College. After his graduation from Hahnemann, he did post-graduate work in Berlin.

Dr. Griggs' first wife died in 1945. In 1958 he married Irene Smith, a widow, over whose birth he presided.

"I won't soon forget how we first met," said the doctor.

Rotarians Hear About Convention

The Snyder Rotary Club met Thursday at noon for their regular weekly meeting with Rayburn Burgess, president of the club, presiding.

The program was presented by Si Steinberg who related highlights of his trip to the 56th annual Rotary International Convention which was held in Atlantic City. The Steinbergs also visited New York, Washington, D. C., and several other cities during their trip.

The club was reminded of the Rotary booth to be operated on Saturday July 3, at the celebration in Towle Park. Ed Dickerson and Jim Brewer are in charge of the project.

The club voted to give $35 to help defray expenses of the American Field Service's local unit in entertaining the group of some 100 foreign exchange students who will come through Snyder and spend the night June 30.

Guests of the club included E. L. Kirby of Pampa and Glenn Beard of Abilene, and local guests Dr. John English and Renal Rosson.

What a story here! And it's all written down, too. The stub of an old check book! Here is part of the story of what one man wanted most in life. Here he selected and paid for the things dearest to his heart. Here is the measuring stick by which he determined things most valuable to him... his selection, then his check, his money. Mister, what would the stubs of one of your old check books reveal? Suppose in the future friends of yours should thumb through it. Would you be proud of your portrait there? Would you be ashamed of the relative importance it gave to the church on the corner? Don't kid yourself.

As a good steward of the goodness of God, act on your better judgment today. Your church needs you, and you need your church.
