Funds To Be Freed

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. federal government, hoping to insure the health of both home building and the economy, will make it easier beginning next month for builders and buyers to get mortgage credit.

An easing of federal regulations effective Aug. 1 will permit the savings and loan industry to offer an additional $600 million to the public in home loans. The government, announcing this Tuesday, idictated a further easing could come later.

The additional credit will become available at a time when government experts look for slower over - all growth in the nation's economy.

Some private economists have contended the 10 per cent income tax surcharge, coupled with $6 billion in spending cuts and higher Social Security taxes next Jan. 1, will brake the economy too much and possibly result in recession.

But government economists contend this "overkill theory" ignores the basic strength of the private economy and fails to take account of an easing in credit conditions and a better balance of economic policy.

One government source said the easing of mortgage credit was made possible by the surcharge which went into effect this week as an anti-inflationary tool.

There was no indication from the Federal Reserve System, however, when it might loosen its tight anti - inflationary rein on credit now that the surcharge has gone into effect.

No Red Reply To New Peace Plea

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — The United States made a new appeal to North Vietnam in the Paris peace talks today to declare what action it will take "if the remainder of the bombing of North Vietnam ends."

"I have stated many times," Ambassador W. Averell Harriman told North Vietnamese negotiators, "that the United States is prepared to stop the bombing of the remainder of North Vietnam, but I have asked what would happen then.

"I have asked what you then will do—slow the pace of the war or continue to heighten the level of your aggression? And to that central question, you have given no answer—no answer whatsoever.

"Are we to interpret this to mean that further restraint on our part will be met again by further escalation of violence on your part?"

Harriman's statement was released by his office before today's session ended. This 13th meeting of the two negotiating teams was the longest since the talks started May 13. It lasted almost 4½ hours. Harriman said when the meeting ended that no progress was made.

Harriman told the North Vietnamese in his formal statement that the United States had made a series of proposals for reducing infiltration from North Vietnam into the South, restoring the demilitarized buffer zone between North and South, respecting the neutrality of neighboring Laos and Cambodia, and the like.

He said North Vietnam had rejected each proposal.

"Your only answer has been the repetition of a slogan: Stop the bombing and pull American forces out of Vietnam."

Before going into the meeting, Harriman said the lack of enemy shelling of Saigon for the past month "may have some significance."

Harriman said he had "no way to judge" whether a reported withdrawal of some of the enemy forces in the Saigon area constituted a peace move. He added that he did not know exactly how much withdrawal there had been.

In Vietnam, U.S. Defense Secretary Clark Clifford minimized the withdrawal, which intelligence reports said occurred west of the South Vietnamese capital. Clifford told newsmen that enemy forces around Saigon are increasing and another countrywide enemy offense can be expected in late July, August or early September.

Harriman said it was interesting that since the United States had protested against "the indiscriminate sheling and inhumane and barbaric attacks on Saigon" there has been no shelling of the city.

"That may have some significance," he said. "I hope it does, but one doesn't know whether they'll start again.

Asked whether it might be an act of reciprocity on North Vietnam's part in response to President Johnson's March 31 limitation on bombing of North Vietnam, Harriman replied: "Its hardly reciprocity to stop an escalation which they took after the President's act of material de-escalation of the fighting."

A North Vietnamese spokesman reported that Ambassador Xuan Thuy was unable to attend today's session because of a slight indisposition. At the table today were Ha Van Lau, considered the delegation's No. 2 man, and Mai Van Bo, head of the North Vietnamese mission in Paris.

Fugitive Is Nabbed In Local Manhunt

Freedom ended at 8:35 p.m. Tuesday for convicted murderer Hearne Edward Smith, 33, who allegedly knifed and bludgeoned a deputy sheriff from Hale County, when he was nabbed near the Basin Wax plant northwest of Snyder by City Marshal Alvin Pittman of Earth and City Policeman W. A. Hatfield of Hale Center, brother of the wounded deputy.

Smith reportedly escaped from E. L. Hatfield after an altercation at Dermott about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning during which the deputy received knife wounds in the lower abdomen and chest. Previously Hatfield was struck in the head with a hammer after Smith grabbed his gun and took control of his patrol car between Lubbock and Plainview about 6 p.m. Monday, officers reported.

"We spotted him walking in the brush near the road which runs north and south beside the Basin Wax plant," said Pittman.

"He acted suspicious — turning his back on us — so we went over to question him," Pittman explained, adding, "He told us he was an employee of Basin Wax, but he didn't have an identification card. He had a bulge under his shirt, so I grabbed him from behind and pulled out the gun. Then he admitted being the man we were looking for."

An intensive manhunt for Smith centered in the Scurry County area about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning when Sheriff Keith Collier and his deputies were notified that Smith had fled south on foot from Dermott after a struggle with the deputy. The altercation occurred when the car in which they were riding broke down at Dermott.

Smith had asked Ben Cardenas, a farm laborer, and his teenage son, to drive him to Snyder, according to Collier, who said the killer posed as a lawman telling Cardenas that Deputy Hatfield had killed a woman here. Officers said Smith went to the Cardenas farmhouse after the deputy's car broke down near Southland.

Smith was being held in County Jail in Scurry County this morning. A charge of assault with intent to murder was filed against him in JP Court this morning. Sheriff Troy Porterfield of Hale County said he was taken from the state prison at Huntsville to Plainview on a bench warrant concerning a charge of burglary. Later, he was taken to Lubbock in connection with another charge and was being returned to Plainview at the time he commandeered the patrol car, Porterfield said.

Hatfield, the injured deputy, remained in good condition at Cogdell Memorial Hospital this morning, according to authorities there.

The Basin Wax plant had closed down Tuesday night for the protection of night shift employes. Officers said Smith told them he had hidden out during the early morning hours Tuesday and most of the day at a pipe shack located near the Santa Fe Railway Co. tracks about 9 miles south of the Basin Wax plant. He was walking towards Snyder when he was apprehended.

Sheriff's Authorities, City Police and lawmen from surrounding counties had set up road blocks on area roads and conducted an intensive search for the fugitive. The road blocks were called off Tuesday afternoon.

"We went back up there before nightfall," said Sheriff Collier — "—We figured he was still in the area, but we didn't expect to catch him until after dark."

Sheriff's Authorities here said they were notified by the warden at the state prison Tuesday afternoon that Smith had remained in the same area for three days after an earlier escape in South Texas. While at large, they said, he killed a woman, stole a car and went to Mexico. He drew a 60 - year prison sentence following his recapture, according to the Associated Press.

Another Hijacked Plane To Havana

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A National Airlines jet was hijacked today over Texas by a man who threatened to blow up the plane with a grenade and was flown to Cuba. There were 64 persons aboard.

The DC8 landed at Jose Marti Airport in Havana and the first off the plane was the hijacker, described by the pilot as a Cuban, AP correspondent Fenton Wheeler reported from Havana. Wearing a yellow shirt, he walked jauntily away with security police. He appeared to be carrying no weapons.

The man had held command over the plane during a refueling stop at New Orleans, La., after walking into the cockpit with a grenade and a pistol shortly after takeoff from Houston, Tex.

Ordinarily, the plane and passengers would be returned quickly but the apparent illness of a passenger or crewman may delay the flight back to the United States.

The passenger or crewman—it was impossible to tell which—was removed from the plane in a stretcher and was driven away in a Red Cross ambulance. He once raised his head, showing he was conscious.

The plane carried 57 passengers and 7 crewmen and the crew was the first to follow the hijacker off the plane. The passengers then followed, the first dozen or so U.S. servicemen. The soldiers were taken to a separate room at the airport.

Urges Ok Of Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called on Congress today to pass the embattled foreign aid bill without further cuts.

In a statement issued as the House prepared to vote on the controversial measure Thursday, Johnson disclosed he will not oppose a $600 million cut already made by the House Foreign Affairs Committee in his original $2.9 billion request.

The annual foreign aid legislation is under particularly heavy assault in Congress this year from critics of the administration's Vetnam policy and from those who want to cut federal spending.

There were indications Tuesday as the House concluded debate on the measure some congressmen may attempt to cut another $400 million from the authorization.

Honolulu Talks Are Played Down

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials appear intent on playing down the significance of this weekend's Vietnan summit in Honolulu, referring to it as just a "review session."

Advance indications are that the session between President Johnson and South Vietnam's chief executive, Nguyen Van Thieu, will be no more momentous than their four previous get togethers.

The Vietnamese, however, have provided an occasional surprise and no one is ruling out the possibility they could do it again this time.

"There is no particular urgent political or military reason that required a meeting at this time," said one official.

The official, who asked not to be identified, said it will be a rather routine affair consistent with the established rythm—his word — of a Johnson meeting with Saigon leaders approximately every six months.

In the past, the Vietnamese have precipitated the unexpected often enough at such conferences to be disconcerting to their Washington allies.

In March 1967, for example, Johnson was upstaged at the Guam conference because of free-wheeling public statements by Thieu, then the No. 2 man in the Saigon government, and Nguyen Cao Ky, prime minister at the time.

In similar fashion, the same pair grabbed headlines from Johnson at their very first meeting in Honolulu in February 1966.

Whether the Saigon officials refrain from grasping for the limelight would seem to be just about the only element of uncertainty this time.

American officials said Johnson and Thieu probably will spend much of their time in Honolulu in private talks, saying exactly what is on their minds.

Injuries In Local Mishap

Kay Bradshaw, 22, Camden, Ark., and her 2-year-old son, Gregory were injured in a one-car mishap that occurred at 10:23 a.m. Tuesday on the U. S. 84 bypass east of the north inlet from FM 1673.

They were passengers in a 1967 Model Dodge operated by Phyllis Nelson Fuller Ft. Worth, according to investigating police patrolman J. H. Kimmell, who said the vehicle overturned and was demolished.

They were traveling west prior to the mishap. Damage to the vehicle was placed at $2,200.

The injured were taken to a doctor's office for treatment. Their injuries were believed to be minor.

Minor damage resulted from another mishap which occurred at 5:49 p.m. Tuesday on Avenue S at Twenty - sixth Street.

CONTINUE LIBERAL COURSE

Czechs Defy Orthodox Reds

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Czechoslovakia's new Communist leaders defied the Kremlin and other Orthodox Communist governments Tuesday night and said the nation will continue on its liberal course, with the full support of the people.

The Czechoslovak Communist party presidium met to discuss a letter from the Warsaw conference of the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria. Their leaders met Sunday and Monday because the Poles and East Germans fear the liberal ferment will spread to their countries, and the Soviet leadership also is uneasy.

The Czechoslovak presidium said it will prepare a reply in the next few days. In an interim communique, it said it was aware that opponents "are active and trying to misuse the democratization process against the party and against socialism."

Alexander Dubcek, the new chief of the Czechoslovak party, refused to attend the Warsaw meeting and proposed instead that he and his colleagues hold a series of bilaterial meetings with the various allied Communist leaders.

Reliable sources said the letter from Warsaw demanded that the Czechoslovak leaders attend a Communist summit conference within two weeks to justify their program, The New York Times reported in a dispatch from Prague. The report said the letter charged that the policies of the Dubcek regime had given rise to "revisionism" in the party and had raised the threat of a counterrevolution by forces friendly to "imperialism."

The letter reportedly made one concession to Prague's new leaders—agreement for separate meetings with the leaders of the five nations before the joint meeting with all the conferences to be in Prague.

Gun Controls Issue Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The controversial question of stricter gun-controls, eclipsed for the moment in the Senate by Supreme Court nominations, is nearing a crucial test in the House.

President Johnson's request for a ban on interstate mail sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition is slated for a vote Friday with three hours of debate today expected to put the outlook for passage in sharper focus.

Similar gun control measures are before the House and Senate Judiciary committees, but the burden for action appears to be on the house.

The Senate committee became bogged down in the question of whether to tack onto the bill registration and licensing of firearms and last week put off any action until a later, unspecified date.

The committee is not expected to wind up its hearings into President Johnson's nominations of Abe Fortas and Homer Thornberry to the Supreme Court for at least another week.

Two committee backers of the registration and licensing provisions have said they would take their fight straight to the Senate floor.

The easiest route would be to try to amend a house bill on gun controls so the outcome for some kind of measure making it through Congress before the scheduled Aug. 3 adjournment depends a good deal on the house.

The dilemma in that chamber is the same as the one that faced the Senate Judiciary—whether to tack on registration and licensing.

Two powerful members of the House Judiciary Committee—its chairman and the ranking Republican—both have said they will oppose registration and licensing in any joint conference committee because they feel it would weaken chances of passing the ban on long-gun and ammunition sales.

Besides banning interstate mail order sales of rifles ad shotguns, the bill before the house forbids their over-the-counter sale to out-of-state residents except to those people who live in adjoining states.

The measure is an extension of the Omnibus Crime Control Bill, enacted into law earlier this year, which bans the mail order sale of handguns.

The bill also would prohibit the sale of long guns to anyone under 18 years old and handguns to anyont under 21. Ammunition for those guns could not be sold to anyone in those age brackets.

It also bans the interstate mail order sale of ammunition but an out-of-state resident could buy it.

One of the obstacles toward passage of the measure is much of the misinterpretation over what the bill does and does not do.

For instance, the House Judiciary Committee says the measure does not prohibit a person going to another state to hunt and to take his firearms with him. Some opponents contend the bill can be interpreted to prohibit such action by a hunter.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and am going with a very pretty girl who is also 18. It is getting serious between us, and now I have a problem.

My father is a mortician, and his father before him was also a mortician, and that is what I want to be.

My girl says she feels "funny" about my going into that profession, and unless I go into something else it is all over between us. Abby, the mortuary business has been very good to our family, and I have never considered going into any other profession. Besides, one day I will inherit this business, and I couldn't do any better in anything else.

I have never liked a girl as much as I like this one and I hate to lose her, so what should I do?

DEAR ABBY: When a friend invited me to her home for a dinner party, I knew it was the date of her wedding anniversary. But since she made no mention of the occasion, neither did I.

I surprised her with a gift when I arrived. She took it, thanked me, and quietly put it out of sight. Not one word was mentioned about my gift OR the occasion all evening. (Obviously, no one else had remembered it.)

I was hurt and disappointed because I had written a poem and enclosed it with my gift, and it would have pleased me had she opened my gift and read my poem to her guests.

A few days later I received a note from her thanking me for the gift and poem, but it didn't make up for the hurt I felt that evening.

Don't you think the hostess showed extremely bad manners in ignoring my gift the night I brought it?

Tentative Pact In Phone Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal mediator Robert E. Kennedy announced today tentative agreement on a new contract covering 24,000 long distance telephone workers in 46 states and the District of Columbia.

The announcement at 4:15 a.m. followed marathon talks between negotiators for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America.

Talks had continued past a midnight deadline on a wage reopener provision of the current three-year contract, now at midpoint.

An AT&T spokesman described the tentative pact as a three-year extension of the contract. He said "a few details remain to be ironed out, but nothing major."

The tentative settlement averted the possibility of a strike that could have affected TV and radio facilities and Teletype equipment, including that used by news services, at the national political conventions.

Industry - wide communications workers averaged $3.61 an hour in wages and fringe benefits before a recent contract settlement covering most employes in the Bell System. The long lines workers average slightly more.

Dunn, Buford Donate To McMurry

The Methodist Church parsonage at Dunn has been sold, and the money has been donated to McMurry College in Abilene. The amount, $3,608, will be used as an endowment fund for ministerial students of the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church.

The parsonage had served both the Dunn and Buford churches, but it had not been occupied for some time. Trustees of the two churches decided to sell the parsonage when it became apparent that it would no longer be needed.

The gift was announced by McMurry's president, Dr. Gordon R. Bennett, and the development director, J. Dean Williams of Lubbock.

Dr. Bennett said, "This is a wonderful gesture on the part of our Methodist friends in the Dunn and Buford churches. At a time when many of them have to struggle to meet their college expenses, interest from this money in years to come will help many young ministerial students attending McMurry. We are very grateful."

The Rev. Bobby J. McMillan, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church in Snyder, also serves the Dunn Church.

DATE-AND-NUT APPLESAUCE loaf delights all ages. Warm and delicious with butter, apples and a pitcher of cold milk.

Applesauce Nut Loaf Brightens Rainy Day

Here's a nostalgic recipe to save for a rainy day. . . . homemade Applesauce Nut Loaf.

Children trapped indoors by the rain won't complain that they have nothing to do if you let them help with the mixing. In fact they may start looking forward to rainy days as a special treat. And you can be sure they'll do more than their share of "helping" with the eating

One of the best things about this homey favorite is that it will stay moist for several days so you could make more than one loaf. The butter and applesauce help keep the bread moist.

What's the secret of our nut loaf besides applesauce? Butter, together with nuggets of chopped dates and nuts, and just enough cinnamon and ginger to make it deliciously spicy.

You can make your Applesauce Loaf with your own fresh homemade applesauce that you've stored in the freezer for this rainy day. Or, if homemade applesauce isn't one of your great talents, buy some.

It may be raining outside, but it's warm and sunny in the kitchen when mom and the youngsters are all pitching in to make Applesauce Nut Loaf. But the best part comes when you serve it warm, with lots of butter. Complete the nostalgic mood with red juicy apples and a big pitcher of fresh cold milk. Warm Applesauce Nut Loaf and cold milk . . . mmm.

Maybe some day your children will talk about good old-fashioned Applesauce Nut Loaf like Mother used to make.

Applesauce Nut Loaf

½ cup (1 stick) butter
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
2¼ cups regular all - purpose flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ginger
1¼ cups applesauce
½ cup chopped nuts
½ cup chopped dates

In a mixing bowl cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Combine flour, baking powder, salt, baking soda, cinnamon and ginger. Reserve a small amount of flour mixture. Add remaining mixture to creamed mixture alternately with applesauce beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Toss dates and nuts in reserved flour mixture. Stir date and nut mixture into batter. Turn into buttered 9 x 5 x 2¾ - inch loaf pan. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven 60-70 minutes. Cool in pan on wire rack 10 minutes; turn out of pan to cool completely. Makes 1 loaf.

Summer Squash

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 small onion, sliced into thin rounds
1 yellow summer squash (¾ pound)
¼ cup boiling water
½teaspoon salt

In a 6-inch skillet over moderately low heat melt butter; add onion and cook, stirring often and separating into rings, until browned. Wash squash, cut away any blemishes; do not peel; discard ends and slice ¼-inch thick. Cut any very wide slices in half. Into a 10-inch skillet turn squash, water and salt; simmer, tightly covered but turning squash a few times, until slices look transparent—8 to 10 minutes. Drain off any liquid; mix in onion; reheat if necessary. Makes 3 servings.

Hearty Pea Salad

1 can (8 ½ ounces) peas, chilled and drained
½ cup finely diced celery
1-3 cup finely diced cheddar cheese
¼ cup finely diced sweet pickle
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
Lettuce

In a mixing bowl toss together peas, celery, cheese and pickle. Sprinkle with oil and vinegar; mix well. Serve on lettuce. (No salt is called for.) Makes 4 servings.

Fashion On Waistlines

By NADEANE WALKER
AP Fashion Writer

ROME (AP) — A handsome waistline is the most valuable asset a girl can have if she wants to look like a million dollars in the new Italian fashion creations for fall and winter.

Baratta and newcomer Andre Laug today both showed the slender-line silhouette that has taken the Rome collections by storm. Nothing could be more flattering than the gently flared redingote that is everybody's darling this season.

Most Roman designers have heaped on the jewelled embroideries, lames and brocades with such a prodigal hand that as a steady diet it all becomes a bit too rich for the blood.

That's why Andre Laugs unassumingly handsome little collection comes like a breath of fresh air. His line is young and fresh, prim and proper.

Clean-lined, high-waisted redingotes sport huge saddlebag pockets set on the slant, or small, neat pocket flaps diagonally placed on the hip.

Curved seams exactly matched on coat and dress ensembles underline a small bust, or point up a slender waits. Sometimes these are used below the bust and at the hip for a corselet midriff effect.

Models wear glazed serpent skin, open crown domes or helmets with matching belts. There are a few gold or silver long shirtwaisters, but even these have plain skirts and prim unadorned collars and cuffs.

Laug is satisfied with two tiny rhinestone buttons to trim a slim sleeveless black cocktail dress. His one knockout number is a plain black tube, cut in two diagonally at the midriff and laced together again with a string belt threaded through rhinestone bangles.

By Valentino-De Barentzen-Fabiani standards, Baratta is fairly restrained, too. He uses wool fringe and bobbles to perk up the ends o' long scarf collars and hems one coat with the same trim.

WOMEN

Fashions Show Mini Skirts Out

By PAT WILLIAMS

LONDON (AP) —The first two autumn and winter collections in the season's fashion shows here—Mattli and Hardy Amies— signaled one clear message: Don't be caught in a mini-skirt this fall.

In fact the less flesh you show the more stylish you will be.

Skirts were never more than an inch or two above the knee, sleeves reached the wrist — where they sometimes belled out gently — and heads were hugged in fur turbans and beets.

Mattli's prettiest evening dress, made from yards of soft white jersy, fitted quietly over the bodice, fell into a cummerbund, and from there dropped into scores of small, billowing folds.

But Mattli had another mood for the evening—Eastern, which shows signs of a trend: harem-style evening trousers in multi-colored lame, sequins as close as fish scales on top, belt and sandels of silver and a frothy chiffon turban in the same tropical sea colors of the whole outfit: pinks and shades of blue and green.

Hardy Amies repeated the same Eastern mood in his evening clothes. In fact, even with their sharp, crisp day clothes, the models wore scarves over their faces.

His funniest outfit was a dress pretty enough for Doris Day—in silver and gold, but which pulled up to reveal white satin knickerbockers underneath.

Amies, in fact, luxuriated in glittering colors for evening, showing a coat and dress in beige and gold brocade, another coat dress aptly named "Bullion", which had a bodice glittering with steely sequins, bunched close and piled high.

All the day clothes looked remarkably easy to wear — Mattli favoring bright colours and sharply patterned heavy tweeds, Amies preferring his colors understated. Gray, conspiciously absent from fashion for so long, is back in several neat coats.

Cotton is never clammy.

Cotton fabrics don't cling.

G. Beckham Attending Conference

A Snyder high school student, Gayle Beckham of 2512 Thirty-first Street is in San Antonio this week attending a National Intercultural Conference for Girl Scouts on the Skyline Campus of Trinity University.

Girl scouts ages 16 through 18 are attending the two - week conference at Trinity and are participating in study sessions to gain an understanding of cultures which are foreign. In preparation for the conference, each participant undertook a research project concerning her own community including economic and religious mores.

The cultures being investigated are primarily Latin American, and a major point of study for the girl scouts is San Antonio's World's Fair which has a theme of "Confluence of Civilizations in the Americas."

The 96 girl scouts and their sponsors are learning about cultures through various methods including interviewing foreign nationals working at HemisFair '68, meeting with 20 girl scouts from Mexico, and studying with foreign language students at San Antonio's Lackland Air Force Base. Background and supplementary study will be done in a special section of Trinity's library system.

During the conference, two anthropologists, Dr. Nancy Feldman of the University of Tulsa and Dr. William Burns, director of the San Antonio Witte Memorial Museum, will discuss culture and how it changes.

Other questions such as "What is Culture," "How Does Culture Change," and "Do People Have a Choice in Behavior?" are points of study for the girls.

While at Trinity, the conferees are living in University residence halls, and are using Trinity's meeting facilities on the Skyline Campus.

The two - week study period is being sponsored by the San Antonio Area Council of Girl Scouts. It is the first national conference of its kind.

WE MUST BE DOING SOMETHING WRONG ...

Nation's Industrious Blind Seeking Only Opportunity

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While job programs are devised almost daily to correct economic inequities, a poor but eager group that seeks only an opportunity sometimes must feel out of tune with the times.

These are the nation's 425,000 legally blind citizens, only 11,000 of whom have regular jobs, many of them paying close to the minimum wage. Although many blind people cannot work, thousands can work but can't find jobs.

Those that are employed often work in factories especially designed for the blind. And though blind workers have proved their skills in exacting factory jobs, their livelihood often is based in dustcloths and brooms and such.

"If our shops closed tomorrow," said Robert Goodpasture, executive vice president of the National Industries for the Blind, 'about 99 per cent of our workers would be unemployed."

The NIB, a nonprofit affiliation of 78 factories for the blind, in 75 cities, attempts to upgrade the nature of blue collar work for the blind, research new products the blind might make, and coordinate buying and marketing of products.

If Goodpasture sounds a bit annoyed it might be because of the size of the job. 'We need work," he said. "We have 5,000 jobs but we need 16,000 in five years." Eventually, he adds, 'at least 25,000 should have blue collar employment."

Unfortunately, in most instances it must be the blind themselves who will provide the jobs, mainly through organization and expansion of their own factories, or through use of their professional skills or ownership of newsstands.

"Private enterprise is not absorbing blind people into their plants," said Goodpasture. "Industry and labor have not set up the machinery for acceptance of blind workers into manufacturing jobs."

As a result, almost all blind blue collar workers are employed in NIB factories, even though their skills are equal in many ways to sighted workers and their job safety records far exceed that of most other groups.

Output of these factories will perhaps surprise most people. In 1967 sales totaled $54 million, and the 5,000 workers earned $8,776,000 on an expenditure of six million manhours of labor.

Seldom, however, do blind blue collar workers graduate from their own special industries into jobs where they compete with sighted workers. An obvious disadvantage is that many of them are multiple handicapped, maybe deaf or emotionally disturbed, and so cannot compete.

However, a good many could obtain competitive jobs if given the chance. "It's not that our workers are not good enough; it is industry's lack of acceptance," Goodpasture claims. This may or may not be industry's fault.

For many years the NIB did not try to educate industry in the values of employing blind workers, leaving that instead to state directors of vocational rehabilitation, or DVRs as they sometimes are acronymed.

Historically, our shops have not trained people with placeable skills," Goodpasture conceded. 'We accept some of the responsibility for this, and now we are training them in operations that are usable in other industries."

Junior Editors Quiz on ARABIAN HORSES

QUESTION: How did the Arabian breed of horses get started?

* * * *

ANSWER: Horses were domesticated and bred in various ancient civilizations of Asia Minor and in India, Persia and Arabia, but it was in Arabia that horse breeding reached the highest point. Mythology credits the birth of the Arabian horse to the west wind. One can understand this myth, for the depth of chest, large girth and unusually large windpipe gives this horse remarkable speed and endurance. Moors from Africa brought the Arab breed to Spain. Later, Spaniards took these horses with them to the New World. In England, development of horse racing led to the importation of Arabian stallions to be bred with English mares. This mixture created the Thoroughbred breed, from which came the Morgan, Hambletonian and others. The Arabian is the oldest breed, and its blood flows in most of the "light horse breeds" of today. An Arabian's head is wedge shaped. The large, intelligent eyes are set low with a bulge above (1). The profile is concave (2) the muzzle small and delicate (3). A purebred Arabian has one less vertebra than other horses.

Studying The Art Of Acronyms

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — There's an art to naming organizations today. The first letters of the words in the name have to spell a word themselves. And, what's more, that word has to have a meaning relevant to the membership's activities.

The official designation for these words made of words is "acronym," and the whole country has gone acronym happy. From agencies on the international level such as AID—Agency for International Development—through the national VISTA—Volunteers in Service to America—the idea has filtered down to state, city and even school groups.

In the days of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's New Deal, scores of alphabetical agencies were created, but the names were picked first and shortened later to initials that didn't spell a thing.

Thus the National Labor Relations Board became NLRB, rather difficult to pronounce had anybody thought to try. The Works Progress Administration, known as WPA, which undertook to supply work for anyone who needed a job, thse days would have been called AWAKE—Arrange Work and Keep Employment.

Now there's HOPE—Health Opportunity for People Everywhere; KEEP—Kindergarten Educational Enrichment Program; and REACH— Raising Educational Aspirations of Culturally Handicapped. And there's START—Short Term Adolescent Retraining—but they're fudging a little on that one.

This build-a-word game has fairly lenient rules. Minor words don't count if the word created doesn't need them, as in PUSH — Projects Unlimited for Self-Help. But they are allowable when their initial letter helps form the word, as in CORE—Congress of Racial Equality.

It's hard to figure out which came first, the name or the acronym. When a refresher training course was started for registered nurses who have been out of the profession for years, was the name RECAP picked and then the designation Re-Entering the Corps of Acting Professionals thought up to go with it?

I've thought up both the name and the acronym for the new group I'm going to form. I plan to be a charter member of SLOTH—Society for Lazy Or Tired Housewives. Wanna join, ladies?

Iraq Coup Bloodless

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A bloodless coup during the night overthrew President Abdel Rahman Aref of Iraq and his regime, Baghdad Radio announced Wednesday.

A "military command council" has taken control, the broadcast said, but there was no immediate word on who carried out the coup.

Messages of support from various military units were broadcast.

The coup was carried out "to preserve the July 14 resolution and the revolution of March 8," the government radio said. This indicated that the revolt was led by the Baath Socialist party, which rules in Syria.

Presiden Aref was removed from all his offices and placed in retirement, according to the broadcast. It added that Premier Taher Yahya and his cabinet were also dismissed.

Local Stars Host Ballinger Next

That was a real whiz - bang battle in Towle Park last night. But when the dust had all died down, the Snyder Nationals All-Stars had themselves a hard - earned 11-10 verdict over Colorado City's All - Stars in the second round of the Little League playoff.

Both teams had plenty of muscle with the Nationals cracking three home runs and the visitors putting the same number over the fence.

The Nationals tallied four runs in the opening stanza with Ralph Lewis doubling in John Boren and Richard Gorman. John reached first on an error while Richard took a free pass. Larry Beard then cracked one over the centerfield fence, driving Lewis ahead of him. Colorado City got its run on a four-bagger by little Clayton Salmon.

The visitors cut the margin to 4-3 in the 2nd with Mitch Cooley doubling in Randy Erwin who had walked in front of him. Cooley came in on a line single by Jeffrey Overturf.

The visitors tallied seven times in the top of the 3rd to grab a commanding 10-4 lead. Salmon cracked another home run with Edward Warren on base by virtue of an Annie Oakley. Then, with two away, Tim Bell socked another two-run homer, bringing in Franco, who had singled. Another single by Overturf, three successive walks and a single by Salmon accounted for the remaining four scores in the 3rd.

Facing a seemingly overwhelming deficit, the Nationals proved they are of championship caliber in the bottom half of the frame by pounding in six runs to tie the score at 10-10. Richard Gorman stepped into an 0-2 pitch and set it sailing over the fence to get the ball to rolling. Then Ralph Lewis cracked a single and advanced to third on passed balls. He came in on a roundtripper by Greg Godair. Tim Jones walked and Randy Dryden reached first on a fielder's choice. Johnny Boren cracked a hot grounder to short, which was bobbled momentarily — long enough to let Jones in. Then Richard Gorman was hit by a pitched ball with all runners advancing on a passed ball. Dryden scored on the play.

Snyder scored the winning run in the bottom of the 5th. Tim Jones opened with a double and scored on a single by Randy Dryden.

Colorado City threatened in both the 5th and 6th frames. Two walks and a passed ball put runners on second and third in the 5th with one away, but Johnny Boren bore down and fanned the next batter, then the first sacker, Jerry Webb, made the third out unassisted taking a scorching grounder near the line.

In the 6th, Ausbie walked and, after a strike out, moved to third on a passed ball. The next batter grounded out, second to first. Cool, calm and collected, Boren sent the next batter down swinging for the third out.

Richard Gorman started the game for the Nationals, but gave way to Boren in relief. Eddie Medford and Edward Warren took turns on the hill for Colorado City. Each team collected eight hits.

The National All - Stars host Ballinger at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Towle Park in the next round of the playoffs leading to the World Series. Ballinger took out Colorado River 1-0 last night after knocking off Winters 3-0 earlier. As their winning scores indicate, they've got good pitching.

Chance's Six-Hitter Crushes Boston 12-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Minnesota pitchers got the word to start running for their money, Dean Chance wasn't caught standing still. And neither were the Twins' hitters.

Jolted by a pregame blast—directed at the pitching staff—by club president Calvin Griffith Tuesday night, the Twins erupted for six first inning runs and went on to crush Boston 12-3 behind Chance's six-hitters.

The victory—only the third for the Twins in their last 12 games—sent them from seventh to fifth place in the American League standings.

Detroit's Denny McLain breezed to his 18th victory, tops in the majors, as the front-running Tigers blanked Oakland 4-0, ending a three-game losing string and holding their 6½-game edge over second place Baltimore.

The red-hot Orioles topped the Chicago White Sox 4-2 for their seventh successive victory. Cleveland nipped California 2-1 in 10 innings and the New York Yankees swept a twi-night twin bill from Washington 4-0 and 4-3 in other AL action.

St. Louis trimmed San Francisco 6-1, Atlanta downed Houston 6-2, the Chicago Cubs shaded Philadelphia 4-3 in 12 innings, Pittsburgh beat the New York Mets 3-2 and Los Angeles drubbed Cincinnati 9-2 in National League games.

Griffith, convince tdhat an out-of-shape pitching staff was responsible for the Twins' recent tailspin into the second division, ordered more running for the hurlers after a rare on-the-field inspection visit before his club took on the Red Sox.

"Our pitchers have got to get their legs in better shape," Griffith said. "How many pitchers have we had go nine innings recently? I can't remember any for a long time."

Chance then went the route with ease, backed by an early inning barrage that sent three Boston pitchers scurrying for cover before Jim Lonborg finally stilled the Twins' bats. All 12 Minnesota runs were scored in the first four innings against loser Gary Bell and relievers Bill Landis and Jerry Stephenson.

Tony Oliva's two-run triple and a two-run homer by John Roseboro were the big blows in the first inning burst. Oliva doubled home a run in the second and Rich Reese and Rick Renick contributed two-run singles in the third and fourth, respectively.

Chance allowed only four hits—including homers by Lonborg and Reggie Smith—until the ninth.

McLain scattered eight hits and struck out nine while running his unbeaten string to nine games—all full-route jobs. The Detroit ace, 18-2, did not permit an Oakland runner past second base.

Al Kaline slammed his fifth homer against loser Chuck Dobson, who was clipped for eight hits and all four Detroit runs in the 5 1-3 innings he lasted.

Andy Etchebarren's fifth homer sent the Orioles in front to stay at Cnicago and right-hander Jim Hardin shackled the White Sox on six hits. The victory was No. 6 without a loss for Earl Weaver, Baltimore's new skipper. The loss was the White Sox' first in four starts under new pilot Al Lopez.

Larry Brown's run-scoring single in the 10th carried the Indians past the Angels after Joe Azcue's double off reliever Bobby Locke started the winning rally. California rookie Tom Murphy had held the Indians to three hits over the first nine innings. Stan Williams was the winner in relief of Sam McDowell.

Rocky Colavito slammed a three-run homer in his first game as a Yankee, helping Steve Barber, who scattered 10 hits, subdue the Senators in the opener at New York. Joe Pepitone's two-run blast in the sixth inning of the nightcap erased a 3-2 deficit and gave reliever Fred Talbot his first victory after eight setbacks.

Police Escort In Texas Loop!

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Policemen were on the field almost as much as players in a wild Texas League game between Albuquerque and Arkansas Tuesday night.

Officers went into action twice—once to break up a rhubarb and later to escort Arkansas manager Vernon Rapp from the field. Albuquerque finally won 3-1.

In milder frays elsewhere, Amarillo defeated Shreveport 4-3, El Paso nipped Memphis 1-0 and San Antonio edged Dallas-Fort Worth 5-4.

Tempers flared at Little Rock when Arkansas pitcher Santiago Guzman hit Dodgers shortstop Bill Grabarkewitz with a pitch. A full-scale rhubarb raged about five minutes before police stepped in. There were no injuries and none was ejected from the game.

Rapp, however, was sent to the showers in the third inning when he disputed a foul ball call. Rapp refused to leave the field until escorted by police.

When the extra curricular activity finally subsided, Albuquerque's Chuck Goggin blasted a triple to score one run in the ninth inning and went home on a wild throw to break a 1-1 tie.

Memphis got nine hits off El Paso but they were well scattered and a solo home run by Don Wilkinson in the fourth was all El Paso needed to maintain its 3½-game western division lead.

In a battle of the division cellar-dwellers, San Antonio scored three runs in the first inning and hung on to beat Dallas-Fort Worth. A rally by the Spurs for two runs in the sixth fell short.

Mike Corkins went the distance for Amarillo, striking out nine to pick up his fifth mound triumph and snap Shreveport's winning streak at five games.

WT State Adds Defensive Coach

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — Lance Van Zandt, an assistant football coach at nationally ranked Highlands University for two years, has been named defensive secondary coach at West Texas State University.

Van Zandt, a former high school coach at Stephenville and Graham, was head defensive coach at Highlands, which was ranked third in the final Associated Press small college poll last year.

Van Zandt was a four-sport letterman at Port Neches High School and attended Sam Houston State.

Buffs Nip Rebs In Jr. League

The Rebels and Buffs locked horns in a close struggle in the Junior Teenage League in Towle Park last night with the Buffs emerging with a 4-2 triumph.

David Thompson fired a 3-hitter for the Buffs and Jessie Speer hurled a 4-hitter for the Rebs.

All of the runs were scored in the first two innings. The Rebs got theirs when Bobby Burleson walked and Louis Loyd got on on an error. Both runners scooted home on Speer's double.

A single by Bobby Thompson, an error, a fielder's choice, a walk and a double by Jerry Hardin accounted for three first inning runs for the Buffs. They added another one in the 2nd with Jim Provence singling and scoring on a subsequent error.

Bobby Thomspon had two singles for the Buffs. Louis Loyd and Gary Harless picked up singles for the Rebs.

It was a pitcher's duel most of the way with Thomspon fanning six and Speer striking out eight.

Agreement Far Reaching

DETROIT (AP) — John Gordy, the Players Association president who spearheaded negotiations for a $3 million pension settlement with National Football League owners, says the effects of the agreement reach far beyond the football players world.

The Detroit Lions' guard, who is 33 today, discussed the weekend settlement at the team's suburban Bloomfield Hills training camp after practice was rained out Tuesday.

He said the settlement, which provides $1,600 a month for 10-year NFL veterans at age 65, struck a formidable blow for people who work minority professions, such as actors and airlines pilots.

"It proves that groups like these that want to be heard, can be heard as part of the social revolution, and it can be done without violence," said Gordy. "This is what makes democracy strong."

Steelers' Clark Quits Football

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Place-kicker Mike Clark, the Pittsburgh Steelers' top scorer last season, has announced his retirement from football.

Clark's announcement Tuesday didn't come as much of a surprise, since the Steelers already held two tryout camps looking for a replacement.

Last year he scored 71 points, on 35 of 35 extra points and 12 of 22 field goals, to rank 14th in the National Football League.

Four More Gain Berths

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Randy Tighner of Baytown posted the top performance as four more Texans gained berths Tuesday in the United States Golf Association Junior Amateur Championship.

Tighner carved out an even par 72 at the Braeburn Country Club course at Houston to lead 2 golfers seeking the three available berths in the sectional round.

Bruce Lietzke of Beaumont and John Walzell of Houston gained the other two berths, each firing 76s.

John Laidlow, 17, of Fort Worth fired a 76 at Lubbock Country Club to earn the lone berth available there.

The tournament will open Saturday in Brookline, Mass., and continue through Aug. 3. David "Spec" Goldman of Dallas, USGA junior committeeman, said 1,599 golfers sought a place in the 150-man tournament field.

Top Golf Names Converge On San Antonio For PGA

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus, trying to retain his reputation as one of golf's best pressure players, heads into Thursday's start of the 1968 PGA tournament hoping to end almost a year of frustration.

Not since last fall has the blond king of the fairways won a tour title, but Nicklaus still ranks as the man to beat on the 7,096-yard Pecan Valley course.

Nicklaus' bid for victory in the last of the Big Four tournaments will be challenged by 167 touring pros and club professionals on the par 70 layout criss-crossed by Salado Creek.

Top contenders include Billy Casper, top money winner on the tour this year, and a band of brash youngsters led by San Antonio favorite Lee Trevino and confident Dave Stockton.

But defending champion Don January, a Texan who grew up in the sun-baked Southwest, said the heat and the shaggy rough around the narrow fairways will be the biggest challenges.

"The rough is tough, and the heat may be awful," said January, who failed to make the cut last week at the Milwaukee Open.

Temperatures in the 90s are likely throughout the tournament, which is a sharp change for Nicklaus. He played in the British Open in Scotland last week, with temperatures in the 50s.

Nicklaus, fighting an erratic driver all season, always has fared well in the four prestige tournaments, which also include the Masters and the PGA.

Except for 1964, he won at least one of the Big Four every year since he turned pro, claiming the PGA crown in 1963.

The pro tour this year, however, has been dominated by Casper and the younger players, such as Trevino, Stockton, Bob Lunn and Tom Weiskopf. Trevino, El Paso, Tex., native whose Mexican ancestry makes hin the sentimental favorite of San Antonio's Mexican-American fans, won the U.S. Open last month.

Lunn and Weiskopf each have won twice this year, and Stockton won the last two tournaments he played, collecting a $40,000 payoff in the Milwaukee Open Sunday.

Most of golf's big names are in the field, with the exception of South African Gary Player, last week's British Open champion, and Argentina's Roberto DeVicenzo.

Arnold Palmer, who has never won the PGA title and whose last triumph in a prestige tournament was at the 1964 Masters, has been in and out but will tee off Thursday. He appeared optimistic about his changes after a practice round Tuesday before he flew to Colorado to visit a boys' golf camp.

Julius Boros, Bobby Nichols, Dave Marr, Al Geiberger, Jerry Barber, Jay Hebert Bob Rosburg, Dow Finsterwald, Lionel Hebert Doug Ford and Sam Snead are among the former champions in the field.

The winner of the 72-hole tournament which ends Sunday will collect about $30,000.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q - My daughter is going to help out in our store this summer. Do I treat her as any other employee for tax purposes?

A - Yes, her salary is subject to the same withholding requirements as your other employees if she is 21 or over. If she is under 21, then you withhold just income tax and not social security.

The salary you pay your daughter can be treated as a business expense to the extent it is what you would pay a person not related to you for performing the same services.

Q - Are wedding gifts taxable?

A - The recipient of gifts is not subject to income or gift taxes. However, the giver may be liable for a gift tax if gifts to one person in a single year exceed $3,000.

Q - Is it true you could lose your tax deductions for a business trip overseas if you take a vacation at the same time?

A - Yes, there are situations where business deductions for overseas travel can be affected by the amount of time devoted to sightseeing and other non-business activities.

Under certain circumstances, the cost of transportation, including meals and lodging, to the place of the business meeting and back to the taxpayer's home will not be allowed in full as a business deduction.

Rules for handling business deductions in these circumstances are explained in Publication No. 463, "Rules for Deducting Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses." Send a post card to your district office for a free copy.

Q - A mistake in my social security number held up my refund for weeks. Why is this number so important?

A - Because so many taxpayers have the same name, your social security number is the only positive identification of your account with IRS. Names change, too, as marital status changes.

Congress passed a law several years ago requiring business firms to use tax identification numbers. Social Security numbers were selected for this purpose because most taxpayers already had one.

This number should be placed on all individual tax returns filed with IRS, covering returns, payments for tax shelters, and similar documents. The number should also be given to corporations and savings institutions to identify dividend and interest payments.

Q - We're going to a benefit dinner for a charitable organization. Won't this cost be deductible?

A - The cost of the tickets will be deductible to the extent it exceeds the value of the food and entertainment you receive. If the value of the meal and entertainment is not indicated on the tickets, the sponsors of the event should be able to tell you.

Q - When do I have to pay Social Security tax for my maid?

A - The quarterly payment for the months of April, May and June is due July 31. Use Form 942, "Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees," a self-mailer, to file and pay this tax.

This tax is due when cash wages of $50 or more are paid to a household employee during a calendar quarter.

Marine Snipers Born, Not Made

By FRED HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ability to go for long periods without food or water, to control emotions and to kill "calmly and deliberately" and without remorse are the main qualifications of a good sniper, says a proposed Marine Corps manual.

In effect, it adds, the sniper cannot be made—he must be born.

The 200-page manual is being circulated through Marine commands for comment and has not yet been adopted.

Written by Maj. Robert A. Russell of Vista, Calif., who commanded early pickup sniper teams in Vietnam, it lays out the first formal training program on the subject since World War II.

The document says that candidates for sniper training should undergo psychiatric screening to make sure they have "certain essential mental qualities."

"A sniper . . . must kill calmly and deliberately, shooting carefully selected targets," the manual says.

"He must not be susceptible to emotions of anxiety or remorse."

The manual says "a proper mental condition cannot be taught or instilled by training."

Russell, now retired, told newsmen at the time he completed the manual more than a year ago that sniping is a "very personal kind of fighting—you can see the look on people's faces" when they are shot.

By this, he meant that a telescopic sight brings the face of the often unsuspecting victim close to the eye of the sniper, even from a thousand yards away.

"It's different than spraying lead all over a hill," Russell said.

His manual says a sniper must be highly intelligent, because he must learn a wide variety of skills such as ballistics, radio operation, adjustment of artillery fire, map reading and military intelligence collection and reporting.

Sniper teams, generally two men, must operate for long periods by themselves and this means, the manual says, the sniper must display decisiveness and self-reliance.

Stressing coolness, the document says that "even an instant of uncontrolled emotion can be fatal."

"The sniper must possess true equanimity, a perpetual self-possession and serenity which fosters maturity and patience," the manual says.

Sorry, Wrong Size

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — David Barnett of Fort Wayne reported to city police that four hubcaps were stolen from his car parked at his home. Barnett later called back to say the hubcaps had been returned with a note reading, "Sorry, they didn't fit."

Worth A Ticket!

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A parking ticket and the $1 fine was received Tuesday by the municipal-county clerk's office with this note on the back of the ticket: "Hi! It was worth it. Got a dream of a hat on sale."

Texas' Unit Rule Challenged

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

Some of Texas' top politicians are trying to convince their followers that political unity in numbers does not necessarily mean one-man, one-vote.

The so-called unit rule, where all members of a convention delegation are bound to the decision [illegible] majority, is being challenged by supporters of Eugene McCarthy and George Wallace in an effort to break the apparent majority control of Hubert Humphrey's followers.

A similar pledge made by the Texas Republican convention to support Sen. John Tower as a favorite son candidate was broken after challenges by backers of Ronald Reagan and Nelson Rockefeller. Tower and other supporters of Richard Nixon still claim majority control.

As a result, Texas' 38 votes at the Republican national convention beginning Aug. 3 will be split on the first ballot for presidential nominee because Republicans do not have the unit rule. A late Associated Press check on individual delegates shows only 8 who say they will be for Nixon and 11 for Reagan. The other 18 say they have not fully made up their minds.

Unless the Democrats' unit rule is broken the 104 votes of the Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention starting Aug. 26 in Chicago will be cast as a unit, apparently for Humphrey after a token tally for Connally as a favorite son.

Opponents of the unit rule, mostly backers of McCarthy, claim it is undemocratic and point out that only Texas and 13 other states will have delegations bound by such restrictions.

Supporters of the unit rule claim it is the only way a major political party can operate. They claim several minorities could make a deal to defeat the wishes of a true majority of the party.

The unit rule is not a part of any federal or state election law but a convention rule effective only for the duration of a political gathering.

Political oldtimers recall that nominees were chosen many years ago by the "two-thirds rule"—it took two-thirds of a convention's delegates to win a ballot. As a result, balloting often went on for day after day because no candidate could get two-thirds.

The unit rule was devised to circumvent the two-thirds rule.

It was a lot easier to get two-thirds if each delegation was obligated to vote the way the simple majority of the delegation wanted to vote. Finally in 1936 the two-thirds rule went out the window.

These are not the only convention rules that have caused political troubles in Texas. After World War II the loyalty oath became a political weapon against Texas regulars, state officeholders or Democrats who voted Republican. A political loyalty oath for convention delegates was abolished in 1956 but delegates still had to promise that party nominees would appear on ballots in their states.

Some form of pledge or agreement to work for the nominees of the party—or at least not against them—is still on every convention agenda.

Special convention committees on rules and procedure will argue the unit rule question before each of the national conventions this year, particularly the Democratic meeting in Chicago. If opposition is strong enough, a minority of the committee can bring the matter before the entire convention.

Revisions Approved

AUSTIN (AP) — Four-year terms for governors and their right to fire anybody they appoint have been approved by the executive branch of the Constitutional Revision Commission.

No governor could "immediately" succeed himself under the proposed new executive branch section but he could lay out four years and run again.

The proposal on appointees at first read that the governor could fire any member of a state board or commission that any governor had appointed.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood, Amarillo, strongly opposed this. It would wipe out any security for appointees, he said.

But Hazlewood concurred in giving the chief executive the power to dismiss anybody he had selected himself. "If he's going to appoint, he ought to have the right to fire cause he's going to make a mistake sometimes."

The governor now has no right to dismiss appointees except for cause and after hearings.

The committee's proposal will go before the full commission at its Aug. 27 meeting.

Unusual Baby Bird Studied In Aviary

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Aviary had an unusual bird under study Tuesday—a baby sparrow with two tails, four legs, two hearts and two digestive tracts.

Victoria S. Lord, 14, found it on a neighbor's driveway in Upper St. Clair Township Monday. She fed it oatmeal, a little milk and some fruit, then turned it over to an aviary official. The aviary estimated the bird's age at three weeks.

Explosion Fatal To Pampa Man

PAMPA, Tex. (AP) — One of seven employes burned in a gas plant explosion died today and three others remained in critical condition.

Fire flashed through the Cities Service Co. facility about a mile southwest of Pampa in the Panhandle about 1:10 p.m. Tuesday.

One of the injured men, [illegible] Stewart, 61, of Pampa, died after being taken to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

Attendants listed as in critical condition at the Amarillo hospital Travis Patterson, Leo Casey and Charles Reeves, also Pampa residents.

The others suffering injuries—Emory Campbell, Sam Goodan and L. C. Wassell—were reported in satisfactory to good condition at a Pampa hospital.

"A header pipe outside the plant blew out and fire spread over the entire engine room," said a spokesman at the Cities Service booster plant, which compresses natural gas gathered from wells in this vicinity.

From here the gas flows into pipelines delivering it to the areas around Wichita, Kansas and Kansas City.

Most of the injured men were working in the engine room. The explosion "blew debris over the whole booster plant yard," the spokesman reported.

Automatic valves shut off the flow of gas and prevented a worse fire.

Denies Report About LSD

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — An Army spokesman at Ft. Sam Houston disclaimed official knowledge Tuesday of any basis for a published report about use of LSD by personnel at the post.

George Lampkin, information officer at the big Army installation here, said an investigation was being made.

His comment followed the publication by the Washington Post of a news story stating LSD, a psychedelic drug, was made in the 4th Army laboratories by a chemist at Ft. Sam Houston.

The newspaper quoted a former Wac saying also that 75 per cent of the men she knew in the Army were LSD users. A soldier medic was said to have given a like account.

In the same article the Post said many officers and men at Ft. Hood, near Killeen in Central Texas, refer to that Army post as Ft. Head because there's such widespread use of marijuana and other kinds of dope here.

Only Set Of Adult Quints Live Fully Independent Lives

By ROMAN JIMENEZ
Associated Press Writer

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The Diligenti quintuplets will celebrate their 25th birthday on July 15 in typical fashion: without celebration and without a reunion.

When the three girls and two boys were born in Buenos Aires in 1943, their father, Franco, an Italian immigrant who had made a fortune in textiles, decided to spare the children what he felt was the circus-like publicity which surrounded Canada's famous Dionne quintuplets.

At first, he tried to keep the birth a secret. When word leaked out, he refused to let newsmen, or anyone else, see the quints.

Mrs. Diligenti, a former Italian opera singer, disagreed with her husband's passion for anonymity, but Diligenti persisted and the children grew up "normally".

Although they are the world's only living set of adult quintuplets, only occasional news items reminds the world of their existence.

Diligenti told friends that he wanted the infants to become individuals and to lead fully independent lives.

"That's exactly how we grew up, as individuals," said Maria Fernanda, one of the quints. "We always had the feeling we were normal children."

The youngsters never dressed alike and they attended separate high schools. They were sent to college abroad.

To avoid publicity, Diligenti built a special classroom and play area for the children on the grounds of his sprawling estate in the fashionable Belgrano suburb.

"But when they started growing up, I had to separate them," Diligenti said in an interview. "I only allowed them to get together for birthdays."

The quints have visited together only rarely since college days.

Today, two of them—Franco Jr. and Maria Fernanda—live in Buenos Aires; Carlos is an engineering student in Vancouver, Canada; Maria Ester lives with an elder sister in Rome; and Maria Cristina is a resident of St. Paul, Minnesota, with her American husband, Dr. Bruce Zimmerman. She married last May.

Franco Jr. is an executive in one of the several textile plants his father owns here.

Franco Sr. described the boy as his latest headache. Franco Jr. dropped his studies of industrial engineering at Vancouver, Canada, early this year and returned here to get married, against his father's wishes.

"I wanted him to wind up his career before getting married," the father said.

He gave his son a job but he did not attend the boy's wedding here three months ago.

Another daughter, Maria Ester, divorced her Argentine husband, Carlos Vivares, three years ago and now lives with her three children in Rome.

Marja Fernanda, also the mother of three, lives here with her husband, Fernando Boero, an Argentine law student and public relations man.

Maria Cristina was studying to become an airline stewardess until she met and married Dr. Zimmerman. They were introduced by an elder Diligenti son, who is a friend of Zimmerman.

Carlos, studying at Vancouver, is the only unmarried quint.

Diligenti had one son from a first marriage. After his first wife died, he married Isabel Aversan, an Italian opera singer from Rome.

The couple settled here more than 30 years ago and Diligenti set up a small textile business which he developed into a successful industrial complex.

The Diligentis had two children, a son and a girl, before the quints came in 1943. They did not have any more children.
