SHAKEUP MAY BRING ON TROUBLE IN SATTELITES

By RICHARD O'REGAN

VIENNA (AP)—Russia is going to have trouble in East Europe by returning to its "guns instead of butter" policy, Western diplomats in Vienna believe.

These East European experts don't expect the fall of Georgi Malenkov to bring many changes in the leadership of the Soviet Satellites. One or two "front" men for the apparently outdated policy of more consumers goods may lose their jobs. But these diplomats think Russia will be just as happy to let "collective leadership"—on its way out at home—continue in the satellites as a barrier to any new Titos.

The big effect of the Moscow changes, the diplomats predict, is likely to be in the resistance of the 70 million people of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Opposition to the Communist regimes was strong before Stalin died and Malenkov announced his policy of more for the people. That "new look" policy undoubtedly lessened supressed resistance a little, but there is still a great deal. Recent Iron Curtain travelers report continued bitterness and disillusionment.

With the new back-to-Stalin industrialization policy, Western diplomats expect resistance to increase again. Some observers expect it to be kept underground by a revival of the Stalin "big stick" terror policy.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's threat to join Russian and satellite armies under one command may have another purpose besides a military one: it could help to keep the restless East European masses under control, observers here point out.

Economic conditions behind the Iron Curtain are not at all good. Despite a year and a half of the "new look" and emphasis on agriculture, the Reds report immense shortages in food supplies. Nor has there been a great increase in consumer goods.

Adding to the Reds' problem, more consumer goods and less police pressure seem to have brought about an actual reduction—instead of the expected increase—in production of coal, electric power and the medium and heavy industries.

The chief change anticipated in the satellite leadership is predicted for Hungary. There, diplomatic sources believe, Premier Imre Nagy will resign publicly or quietly disappear. Hungarian Communist party boss Matyas Rakosi recently re-emerged from the background into which he had stepped after Stalin's death. In the interim he had made Nagy "front man" for the policy of more consumer goods.

Rakosi also announced, after a vacation in Moscow that Hungary would revive its program of heavy industrialization.

Otherwise, the top men are expected to remain in Cechoslovakia, Poland, Romania and Bulgaria, responsible now to Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev. The leaders of those satellites are all Stalin men, and "yes men" who have shown no Tito-like tendencies.

Sharon Ridge Unit Arranges Water Supply

BIG SPRING — Contracts under which the Colorado River Municipal Water District will furnish surplus water to the Sharon Ridge Canyon Reef secondary recovery project have been executed.

E. V. Spence, general manager for CRMWD, announced receipt of the signed contracts Thursday along with a check for $125,000.

The funds, representing an advance payment by the oil producers as a contribution to cost of installing lines and pumps from Lake J. B. Thomas, have been deposited in a special construction account.

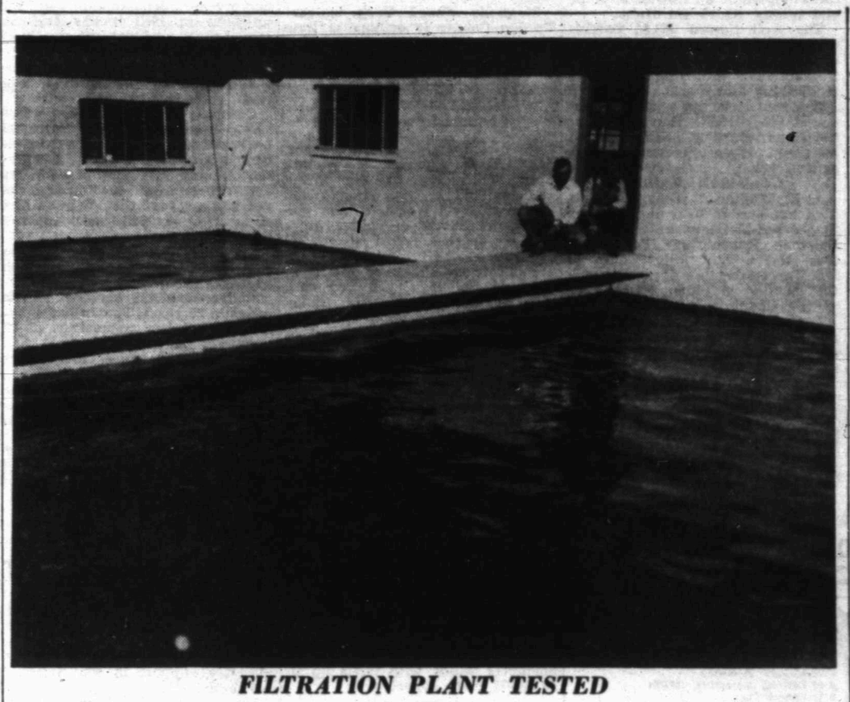
This advance, similar to one under which the SACROC units contributed $165,000 to the cost of rerouting and enlarging the supply line to Snyder, will be absorbed through a three cent differential in rate. After the Sharon Ridge unit has used 4,167,000,000 gallons of water, the rate will be adjusted from 12 to 15 cents, said Spence.

Under terms of the contract the operators will play a $24,750 minimum charge per year, payable in 12 monthly installments. This may be applied to purchase of water but must be paid whether water is taken or not after the first tender.

The schedule calls for 1½ million gallons per day to be made available by May 1. Ultimately, the Sharon Ridge group, with Warren Petroleum Company as the operator, will require up to three million gallons per day.

Pipe is now being turned out of the United Concrete Pipe factory at Big Spring for 3½ miles of 18-inch main supply line. Pumps also are on order for the project.

Fast-Moving Cold Front Sends Mercury Tumbling



FILTRATION PLANT TESTED

A hard-hitting cold front which stirred up dust lowered the mercury to 28 degrees in Snyder overnight. By 7:30 this morning the temperature had risen to 29 degrees. Yesterday's high reading was 77 degrees.

By The Associated Press

Snow covered the upper Texas Panhandle and dust cut visibility sharply in much of West Texas Thursday as a howling norther pushed deep into the state.

Snow began piling in drifts from Amarillo northward as temperatures plunged toward expected zero readings in the area by Thursday night.

The speeding cold front, part of a great mass of Arctic air pushing into the mid-continent from Canada, rode on strong northerly winds that reached 40 miles per hour in gusts at Amarillo.

As the front raced southward it was kicking up great clouds of blowing dust that reduced visibility at Abilene, Childress, and Wichita Falls long before daylight.

The front was due to reach across the state by nightfall and many areas were slated for their coldest temperatures this winter. The forecasts called for 0 to 10 degrees above in the Panhandle, 5-15 on the South Plains, 15-30 elsewhere in West Texas, 10-22 in North Central Texas, 15-32 in East Texas, 15-28 in the northern part of South Central Texas, and 24-32 in the balance of South Central Texas with the exception of the lower Rio Grande Valley where a low of 35 degrees has been forecast.

The near freezing temperatures predicted for the Lower Rio Grande Valley area posed a threat to young tomato, cotton, corn, cabbage and lettuce plants, Hidalgo County Agricultural Agent J. A. (Red) Oswalt said.

John Hagan, forecaster for the Brownsville area, said that lows to 32 degrees could be expected early Friday morning in some parts of the area. He said there would be little danger of frost because of the wind.

By mid-morning the front lay on a line that ran roughly from Tyler southwestward through Austin to Del Rio. Amarillo reported blowing snow while Wichita Falls had blowing dust.

Minimum temperatures early Thursday morning ranged from 14 degrees at Dalhart to 63 at Brownsville. Mid-morning temperatures in the Panhandle showed little change and temperatures in the southern part of the state were toppling as the front raced southward.

Dalhart, where approximately one inch of snow remained on the ground, Amarillo and Abilene were the only points reporting moisture for the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a.m. The Weather Bureau said the front would prove to be a dry one generally with only widely scattered spots of rain or snow expected.

A stiff north wind blew over the state Thursday. The highest velocity reported Thursday was 43 miles an hour at Abilene.

Skies were cloudy over most of the state except in the El Paso area and in portions of West Texas.

Chiang Forces Burn Supplies

By FRED HAMPSON

TAIPEI (AP) —Nationalist China has stripped three small islands near the Red mainland of their entire population—civilian and military—and begun redeployment of its forces on the burned and blasted Tachen islands, the Defend Ministry said today.

A communique said all the civilians from the two Yushan Islands, 30 miles north of the Tachens, and from Pishan, 32 miles southwest of the Tachens, had arrived in Formosa.

The communique said guerrilla forces from those islands had been redeployed—indicating they possibly were taken to Quemoy, Matsu or Nanchishan.

Reports from the Tachens said Nationalist troops were filing aboard U.S. transports in biting cold and rain squalls. The civilians already had left.

There was still no sign of Chinese Communist interference.

Explosions reverberated around the Tachens as Nationalist forces blasted and burned a maze of underground defense works. Other troops shuttled tons of ammunition and other supplies to the rocky beaches.

U. S. 7th Fleet warships churned the East China Sea around the island and jets swept overhead protecting the critical military withdrawal.

Civilians already had been removed. Most of the refugees already were on the Nationalist bastion of Formosa 200 miles to the south.

Nationalist sources said the withdrawal had been completed on three outlying islands, the Yu Shan group 35 miles northeast and Pishan 32 miles southwest of the Tachens.

The government announced a decision to pull out civilians on Nawchishan, 80 miles south of the Tachens. But official quarters said the military garrison would remain there and probably would be strengthened to maintain the island as a northern shield for Formosa.

AP Correspondent Jim Bekcer reported from the Tachens that Nationalist troops were "blasting into uselessness a labyrinth of caves and tunnels."

"Seemingly endless streams of brown-clad soldiers sloshed through the mud, lugging boxed mortar shells, hand grenades and machine guns which never will be used to defend this northernmost outpost," Becker said.

"The Communists are blasting too, on the low brown island of Yikiangshan only eight miles away.

"In the choppy, brown muddy waters off the (Tachens) beaches, small landing boats maneuver around the burned hulk of a long LST sunk by the Communists in a shallow water during a bombing before the evacuation started.

"It seems a symbolf of defeat and retreat.

"Hard-bittin Rear Adm. Lorenzo Sherwood Sabin Jr. squints at the LST and the empty villages of the Tachens from under his two-star helmet and says:

" 'I hope this is the last piece of real estate we give away to the Communists.' "

Chinese reports quoted the Nationalist commander of the Tachens, Gen. Liu Lien-yi, as regretting that his forces had not been permitted to make a stand against the Reds. Liu said his force there had been powerful, confident, well equipped, strongly dug in and capable of repulsing any Red invasion.

Jayne Mansfield, a former University of Texas and Southern Methodist University coed, became the 100th Texas girl to land a Hollywood movie contract. Authority for that statement is Jerrell Babb, a Los Angeles attorney and president of the Texas State Society. Babb keeps track of such matters. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peers of Dallas, Jayne hopes to follow in the footsteps of such former Texans as Ann Sheridan, Joan Crawford, Ginger Rogers and Dorothy Malone.

House Endorses Bill To Cut Bus Registration Fees In Half

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN (AP)—A bill cutting bus registration fees in half was passed by the House today in the face of a warning that there should be no slashes in state income.

Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, was among those voting no as the measure was approved 116-17 and sent to the Senate.

Smith had warned that lawmakers should be slow to make any cuts in income in view of heavy demands for spending.

Two bills to help solve the state's water problems went to the calendar of the House today, but four with backing of the State Water Resources Committee faced two weeks' delay.

An attempt to advance them to the House floor was thwarted by Rep. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville.

Burkett, who has an all-in-one bill which he says would do everything basically that the State Water Resources Committee has proposed in nine measures, urged the committee to go slow.

He said the four bills which he delayed have numerous flaws which would jeopardize their chance of final passage if not corrected.

House committees worked until nearly midnight last night and endorsed proposals to:

1. Amend the Constitution to make congressional redistricting mandatory if the Legislature fails to do the job.

2. Amend the Constitution to repeal all property taxes on passenger cars but increase registration fees one-third.

3. Amend the Constitution to allow judges discretion to deny bail to professional criminals.

4. Extend the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act to include 30,000 more employers and 175,000 more workers.

5. Sent to House subcommittees for further study bills to:

Set up machinery for determining if a labor union represents a majority of employes of any bargaining unit in disputes over management recognition of the union. Voluntary conciliation and mediation procedures also would be provided.

Set floor and ceiling charges for shell, sand and gravel taken from state waters.

Amend the Constitution to allow the Legislature to set interest rates on loans up to $1,500. The constitutional maximum is now 10 per cent per year.

Water bills delayed by the House Conservation and Reclamation Committee, 13-3, on Burkett's motion would:

Require approval by a water commission and the governor for federal projects in Texas, following public hearing.

Authorize cancellation of all filings for water not used for 10 years.

Require permits for impounding of any flood waters in excess of 200 acre feet.

Require all users of surface waters to file reports with the water commission on the amount of water used.

The first three bills already had won Senate committee approval.

Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas, who joined Rep. Jerry Sadler of Hickory Grove in wanting to speed the bills on their way, argued time is getting short.

Nelson Is Brought Before Grand Jury

By GARTH JONES

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Chained hand and foot, ex-convict Andrew H. Nelson was brought here today to tell a grand jury the same story he has told police: that he bought dynamite for Harry L. Washburn, charged with murder in the bomb slaying of a wealthy Texas ranchwoman.

Mrs. Harry Weaver, 51, was slain here Jan. 19 when a bomb exploded in her husband's car as she started it.

Police claim she was killed by mistake and the intended victim was Weaver.

Sheriff Cecil Turner and detective Sgt. Lee Braziel made the 800-mile round trip to Houston and back with Nelson last night.

Nelson was locked in jail on the same floor with Washburn, a Houston contractor.

Scores of other witnesses summoned for the grand jury began drifting into town.

About six witnesses were scheduled to walk into the grand jury room on the third floor of the courthouse at 1 p.m. today. Another 40 have been called for tomorrow.

"Most of them will show up," Dist. Atty. Aubrey L. Stokes said last night.

His comment did not include a shapely former professional wrestler, Mrs. Adela Heninger of Houston. The brunette, known on grappling programs as "Nature Girl," was last reported in Illinois.

Among the first summoned to tell their stories was Andrew H. Nelson, termed by the state as one of their strongest witnesses.

Stokes revealed yesterday Nelson had made a written statement saying he and Washburn bought a case of dynamite in Rosenberg five days before Mrs. Weaver's death. Nelson described a "practice" detonation of one stick of the dynamite in a wooded area near Houston. The dynamite, connected by 60 feet of wire to a car generator, exploded when Washburn started the automobile, Nelson said.

One of Washburn's attorneys, Clyde Vinson, of San Angelo said last night the defense would have no comment on the grand jury action.

"We will make our defense in court," he said.

Today's other witnesses include John McKinnis and Ray Fife of Houston, whose statements to police led to the arrest of Washburn Jan. 29. The two said Washburn offered them money, guns and a car last March to kill Mrs. Weaver's husband. They said they took the money but made no effort to harm Weaver.

Another witness today is Carl Heninger, estranged husband of the woman wrestler. He was arrested with Washburn and also charged with murder but the charges were dropped later and he was released.

Approval Due Tariff Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee seemed headed toward giving its final approval today to President Eisenhower's lower tariff foreign trade program.

Committee members late yesterday okayed most of the key provisions of an administration bill aimed at whittling away trade barriers.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn) said he hoped the committee would complete action on the bill at a closed session today.

Committee members reported last night supporters of a more liberal trade policy were maintaining a margin of 2-1 or better in the section-by-section voting. But opponents had a long list of trade restricting amendments they planned to press.

Committee members said they tentatively approved yesterday key sections of the bill to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act three more years.

Unions Plan Giant Membership Drive

By NORMAN WALKER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The nation's top union leaders, agreed on consolidating forces into a single organization, today planned a giant drive to take in millions of new members.

Leaders of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations decided to bury traditional rivalries and embark on the same sort of intensive mass organizing campaign that sparked the CIO's surge two decades ago.

The AFL and CIO chiefs worked out what appeared to be an ironclad arrangement to merge into a 15-million-member union federation.

A long series of ratifying actions still was required to solemnize wedding, but declarations of intentions from principals appeared convincing. Both George Meany, top man in the AFL, and Walter Reuther, CIO chief, predicted the merger would be an accomplished fact before the end of the year.

They said a well-financed organizing drive to take in new members would be launched and where possible unions in the same general field would be combined to make more effective their bargaining and political powers.

An initial organizing goal was the chemicals and plastics industries. A field where combining rival unions appeared most likely was in the textile industry where relatively weak AFL and CIO unions have largely neutralized each other for years.

There was no way of anticipating whether the apparently stronger union setup would bring on bigger or longer labor strikes, but it was apparent that AFL and CIO leaders felt their hand would be strengthened in dealing with employers.

In arranging the merger agreement yesterday the union chiefs, accustomed to hard horsetrading with employers, played a give-and-take role with each other.

The AFL was given the top jobs in the new setup. Meany was assured of the presidency and AFL Secretary - Treasurer William Schnitzler will have the same title in the merged federation.

The CIO won the right to enter the AFL as a union group and to organize entire plants from top to bottom in individual unions without regard for AFL crafts.

In addition, it was agreed that the leadership for the ambitious new member organizing activities would come from the CIO.

The key question of whether unions would be allowed to "raid" or seize each other's already - organized members was left open. Reuther had wanted a definite popolice system to stop this, but it was agreed only that "raiding" was a disease which ought to be discouraged.

The merger agreement contained intentions to include guarantees in the new constitution that would prevent racial discrimination among unions and effectively deal with union racketeers.

Kidnap Story Proves False

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The case of the missing truck driver appeared closed today with the return to Mansfield of Clayton Schindler, 24.

Schindler disappeared Jan. 31, the date his truck was found abandoned on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Last Monday police were told Schindler had called a Mount Vernon, Ohio, couple with whom he lived, saying he had been picked up by two men, held captive and released in Snyder, Tex.

Chief Detective Bruce Friday said today that upon return here, Schindler told him the story about being held captive was not true, that he had hitch-hiked to Texas, purchased an automobile there and sold it before returning here. Police said Schindler gave no reason for abandonment of the truck.

Vandrygriff Is Subpoenaed

AUSTIN (AP)—The first executive secretary of the Texas Veterans Land Program, Alvis Vandrygriff, Austin, has been subpoenaed to talk to House investigators tomorrow.

He was one of 20 more former employes of the Veterans Land Board or the General Land Office called to appear before the House special investigating committee.

Also called for tomorrow was H. Lee Ritchey, appraiser in many South Texas land transactions who recently resigned as a land board employe.

Eleven previous employes of the two agencies were questioned informally yesterday as the committee sought additional information on irregularities in the 100-million-dollar land program.

March 5 Is Deadline For City Candidates

Only one candidate has announced for one of the three city council posts to be filled in the regular city election to be held April 5.

The one candidate is Hollis Fields, owner of Snyder Steam Laundry & Dry Cleaners, who is seeking place 1, now held by Eugene Harper.

Harper said this morning that he is not seeking re-election.

Deadline for filing as a candidate for the offices is March 5.

The three city council posts to be filled in the election are those now held by Harper, C. N. von Roeder, and Walter Hales.

McCormack Calls For Another Look At Proposed Army Cuts

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts urged the administration today to reconsider proposed Army manpower cuts and said 95 per cent of House Democrats are opposed to them.

"It is a dangerous thing," he said in an interview, "to think that one man is possessed of all knowledge in one field. It could be a terrible thing for our country if the President is wrong."

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said some senators also "are greatly disturbed," but that there probably is little Congress can do unless "we want to impeach the President, and everybody knows that is not going to happen." He said reappraisal of the cuts seems justified.

President Eisenhower has said he made the final decision on the extent of manpower reductions, which propose mid - 1956 armed forces of 2,850,000 men, compared with more than three million now. The bulk of the cut, 173,000 men, would be in the Army.

The Senate Armed Services Committee, which Russell heads, spent nearly six hours yesterday questioning Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, about the reductions.

Wilson later told newsmen he sees no reason to revise the plans because of the shift in Soviet Russia's leaders, and he added: "That's the President's position too." Wilson said the program will provide "an adequate defense structure for the United States . . . on a long-term basis."

Two Republicans, Senators Duff of Pennsylvania and Flanders of Vermont, said in separate interviews they are backing Eisenhower's decisions, Flanders said: "Even if we had more ground forces, we could not use them immediately in case of a sudden war."

Russell and Sen. Byrd (D-Va) told newsmen they are undecided on the issue.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee reiterated his support for the President's program.

But McCormack said that in view of developments ranging from the Soviet political change to the Formosan situation, "I cannot understand how any leadership would not immediately reconsider the proposed reduction of the Army and Navy."

Representatives Brooks (D-La) and Winstead (D-Miss) also threw their support to demands for a reappraisal of the program after hearing what they described as a second warning by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

The Army chief of staff told a House subcommittee yesterday that only active forces could supply needed Army units at the outbreak of war. Earlier, he had testified the decision to cut the Army "jeopardizes our security . . . to a degree."

WEATHER

state included Dalhart 16 degrees, Amarillo 15, Lubbock 21, Wichita Falls 27, Abilene 30, Big Spring and Midland 31, San Angelo and Dallas 35, Fort Worth 36, and Waco 43. At Austin the temperature was 60 degrees before it started dropping as the front hit that city. Temperatures ahead of the front were in the high 50's and 60's.

A weather observer in Dallas said, "There's a hope the main part of the front will slide off to the east before it reaches the lower Valley."

The norther traveled Wednesday night from Northern Kansas to Northern Oklahoma in six hours. Weathermen said it would keep that fast pace and cover most of Texas before sundown when temperatures were expected to become severe.

A cold wave warning issued by the Weather Bureau late Wednesday night urged West Texas stockmen to care for their livestock. Temperatures of "cold wave proportions" were expected for most of the state by nightfall.

Shortly before dawn, temperatures at Amarillo were dropping steadily after reaching 23 at 3:30 a.m. and 20 at 4:30 a.m. Strong northerly winds with gusts up to 40 MPH were reported.

By The Associated Press

A cold wave surged across the nation's midsection today.

Temperatures plunged. And, in some areas, gusty winds blew and driving snow slowed traffic.

The Weather Bureau at Chicago said it could become the most widespread cold wave of the winter.

Temperatures included: -27 at Dickinson, N.D.; -23 at International Falls, Minn., and Williston, N.D.; -15 at Duluth, Minn.; -11 at Spencer, Iowa; -12 at Minneapolis-St. Paul; -6 at Sioux City, Iowa; -2 at Helena, Mont.; -1 at Omaha.

The advancing cold front stretched from the eastern end of the Great Lakes region on the north to southern Texas on the south. It touched off snow squalls in some areas.

Kansas City, Mo., was pelted by snow. A snow storm whipped into Illinois, where the fall was expected to range from one to four inches.

Winds up to 50 m.p.h. raked eastern Kansas.

Temperature drops of as much as 50 degrees since yesterday afternoon were reported.

The cold front was moving in a southeasterly direction.

Local Groups Have Perfect Safety Marks

Two Snyder departments of Lone Star Producing Co. are among 107 separate employe groups in the company which still hold perfect safety records.

They are Lone Star Gas Co. distribution department, managed by C. L. Callaway, and the compressor department, which has as superintendent W. A. Disheroon.

The distribution department has an average number of 13 employes and has had no loss-of-time accident since the forming of the Snyder district three years ago, Callaway said.

Disheroon said that since the compressor department was set up here in 1950 it has had no loss-of-time accident of any kind and no automobile accident while working in the compressor, re-pressuring, and two dehydration stations with 12 employes.

Company-wide, the 107 perfect safety records represent 19,169,199 hours of work without a loss-of-time accident. The records represent a cumulative total of 457 years and range from one through 26 years. Last year the 107 units had a total of 5,433,516 accident-free hours.

Tops in the company is the compressor station at Joshua which averages 12 employes and has accumulated 991,492 accident - free hours in 26 years. The Joshua pipeline district has an average of 39 employes and its personnel has worked 999,096 hours in 12 years without a lost-time accident.

Framed certificates are to be presented the districts with safety accomplishments at safety meetings soon.

Coty Seeking New Leader

PARIS (AP) — Former Premier Antoine Pinay abandoned his efforts to form France's 21st postwar government today. President Rene Coty announced he would start new consultations seeking a political leader capable of winning majority support in the National Assembly.

Pinay went to the Elysee Palace to announce his withdrawal after first communicating his decision to a meeting of Conservative leaders supporting him. The Cabinet crisis started with Premier Pierre Mendes-France's resignation last Saturday after he was defeated on an Assembly confidence vote.

Leaving the Palace, Pinay said the President had urged him to continue his attempt to organize support but he felt this was impossible.

Panel Formed Here By Heart Association

A Scurry County committee of the American Heart Association was organized this week to conduct an educational program concerning functions of the association and statistics of heart disease.

The committee was appointed in a meeting held here Tuesday afternoon in which Dr. Glenn H. Walker of Midland, medical advisor for the Permian Basin District, was guest speaker and assisted in the local organization.

Clyde Hall was named chairman of the committee, Jim Reed was chosen secretary, and Dr. Carl Dillaha was appointed county medical advisor. Other committeemen are R. B. Fulcher, administrator of the county hospital; Dr. Cecil L. Yarbrough, superintendent of the Snyder school system; the Rev. Bill Lewis, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church; Dan Warren, and Lyle Deffebach.

The committee, which will serve as a chapter of the association, is to call a meeting at an indefinite time in the near future to plan its program, according to Dr. Dillaha. The doctor said there were several types of educational programs recommended, any of which would be good here.

The educational program conducted here will be financed from the portion of the Heart Association's funds which are automatically to remain in the county for use. Like most other such organizations, funds gathered locally are divided with a portion sent to national headquarters while another portion is used locally.

The American Heart Association is primarily an organization of medical research and ecuation concerning the prevention and control of heart disease.

Robert Smith, a Snyder Negro cafe operator, pleaded innocent this morning to a county court charge of illegal transportation of liquor.

Smith was arrested on the Big Spring highway at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Howard Gibbons, deputy sheriff. Gibbons said he confiscated liquor from the 40-year-old defendant's 1946 Ford coach.

Smith was in the process of being released from custody at noon today on bond of $500 being drawn by George Killam, attorney.

Student Here Is Finalist

Jerry Stewart, 18-year-old high school senior here, is one of a half dozen finalists in a contest for a four-year scholarship to the University of Houston to be awarded by Houston merchants.

Stewart is a distributive education student here, and the scholarship is to be awarded a student planning a DE major at the University. The contest, which provides a scholarship of tuition and books for four years, is sponsored by the Houston Retail Merchants Association.

Final elimination will be made at the state DE convention in March. At that time, the finalists will appear before a committee of merchants and personnel directors to answer a series of questions. They will be judged on personality, poise, and grooming. They must also then work out a set of three business problems.

To enter the contest, Stewart was recommended by his sponsor, Robert Taylor, manager of J. C. Penney Co.; his DE instructor, Daniel Martin; and the high school principal, T. D. Wiman, Jr. He submitted solutions then to four business problems, and a transcript of his high school grades was sent. Stewart has a B plus average for his entire high school course so far.

Four years ago a Snyder student won such a scholarship award. He is Otis Sneed, who is now a senior DE student at the University of Houston and training in the personnel department of Sears, Roebuck & Co. there.

One a penny, two a penny, Hot Cross Buns —you probably remember the poem and the luscious fruit-filled buns from your childhood. Make them for your children and be sure to make plenty, as the oldsters enjoy them too. Here are the easy directions.

HOT CROSS BUNS

2 medium-size potatoes
½ cup milk
½ cup sugar
1¼ teaspoons salt
½ cup margarine or butter
½ cup warm water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
2 packages or cakes of yeast, active dry or compressed
3 eggs
4½ cups sifted flour
Grated peel of 1 lemon
¾ cup raisins
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Pare and boil potatoes. Drain and put through ricer or mash until smooth. Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt, butter and ¾ cup of the potatoes. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm water for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast, stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk-potato mixture. Beat two of the eggs and add to yeast mixture. Stir in half of the flour and lemon peel. Beat until smooth. Add remaining flour or enough to make an easily handled dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead quickly and lightly until smooth and elastic — about 8 to 10 minutes. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board. Knead raisins into dough. Divide dough in half: form each half into a roll about 12 inches long. Cut with a sharp knife into 12 equal pieces. Form into smooth balls. Place in greased 9-inch cake pans about ¼ inch apart. Separate remaining egg. Beat egg yolk with 2 tablespoons water and brush buns with the mixture. Cover buns and set in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk. Bake at 375 degrees about 25 minutes. Beat remaining egg white and add enough to confectioners' sugar to make spreading consistency. Drop from tip of spoon, making crosses on tops of buns. Makes two dozen hot cross buns.

Irene Gilbert clothes have a very special style, an easiness and grace that fits them into any wardrobe. The Gilbert design illustrated above gains flattery from a deep pleat across the center front bosom. A bias fold neckband diminishes to nothing when it meets the pleat in the center. The skirt, seamed center and back, has four inverted pleats on each side of the seams. The pleats are stitched down an inch and a half before opening out into fullness. The dress would be lovely in wool, and could be worn in many other seasons if made in gingham, chambray, a novelty cotton, shantung, tie silk or printed silk. Size 12 requires five and one-eighth yards of 39-inch material for the dress with three-quarter sleeves. To order the pattern, No. S-253, send $1 to International Designer Patterns, P.O. Box 993, Dept. SX-12, G.P.O., New York 1, N.Y. Add four cents for handling on check or money order. Be sure to state the pattern number and give your bust, waist and hip measurements since the pattern is cut to designer measurements and not standard pattern measurements. Size 12 has a 35 bust, 25 waist and 36 hips.

When you are baking a cake, adjust the oven rack so the cake will be as near the center of the oven as possible. If you are baking a layer cake, arrange the two pans diagonally on the same shelf with equal amounts of space between each pan and the oven walls to allow the hot air to circulate freely.

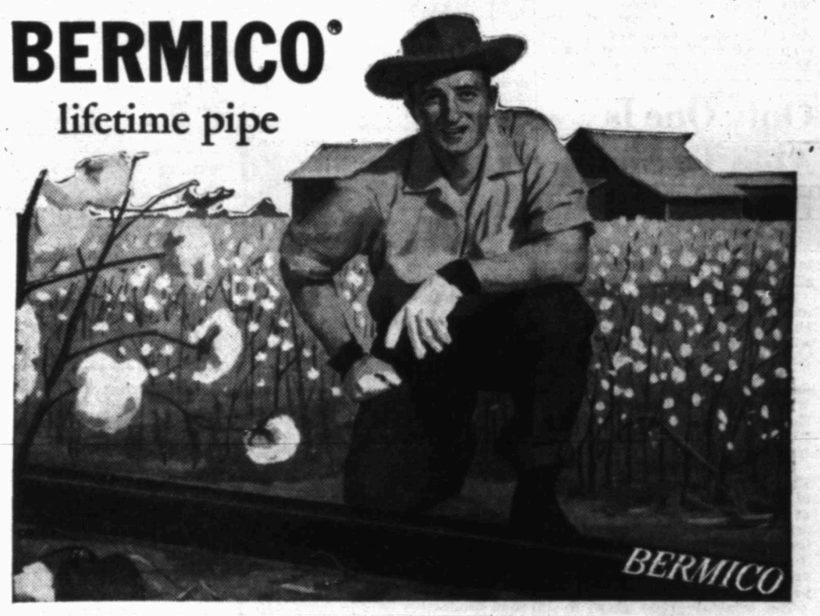
How Wesley Williams, Jr. of Stanton, Texas

RAISED A BUMPER COTTON CROP

for the first time in four years with

BERMICO® lifetime pipe



Wesley Williams had been using open ditches to irrigate his 175 acres—losing large amounts of precious water through seepage and evaporation. Naturally, his cotton crop suffered.

Last year Mr. Williams installed BERMICO and a remarkable change took place. Water savings were 25% and he raised a bumper crop the very first year!

According to Mr. Williams, he used regular BERMICO pipe, laid it on top of the ground without digging any ditches, allowed for gravity flow and connected it up with his wells. Thus, he could get water to whatever point he needed it without any loss through seepage or evaporation.

Bermico is ideal for irrigation purposes because it comes in easy to lay, light weight 8-foot lengths. Made of tough wood fibre impregnated with pitch, BERMICO is not affected by acids and alkalies in the soil.

New credit sources are now provided by the Federal Government for farmers hurt by drought, floods or soil erosion. If you can't get help from your bank, ask your county FHA about eligibility for a loan.

Don't pass up this outstanding opportunity to increase your crops through better irrigation. Write to Brown Company's Dallas office for the name of the distributor who will service you with BERMICO LIFETIME PIPE.

Zhukov Friendly To American Military Men, Correspondents

Editor's Note — Eddy Gilmore was an AP correspondent in Moscow for 11 years, starting in World War II and ending soon after the funeral of Joseph Stalin. He wrote "Me and My Russian Wife," an account of his life in the Soviet Union. Currently assigned to AP's London Bureau, he is just now in the United States on a brief leave.

By EDDY GILMORE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

The time was a late summer day right after the war. The place was the Blue Room of Spasso House in Moscow. The man slouched easily in a deep leather chair was Gen. Eisenhower.

I remember asking the question. "What do you think of Zhukov?"

The general hesitated for a moment. The slanting rays of a setting sun fell across his face. He frowned slightly as he replied.

"Georgi," he said, "is a very decent fellow."

American and British correspondents who had covered the war from the Russian side had the same opinion of the broad-shoulder, square - jawed Soviet commander. A tough guy all right, but a man who could smile and a man who—unlike many other Red commanders—would give you a straight answer to a question.

"Do you think we could ever do business wth Zhukov?" someone asked the supreme Allied commander who was later to become president of the United States.

"Well, left on his own," said Eisenhower, "I believe I could do business with him."

That seemed to be a good endorsement of Georgi Zhukov, Russia's new minister of defense. It filled in with what I knew of this man who was a good soldier, but I'm afraid not a very good politician.

Eisenhower visited Moscow after the war as Zhukov's guest. He received a sports parade atop Lenin's Tomb with Zhukov, attended a football game with him at Dynamo Stadium and was cheered by the Russian people as no American perhaps ever was cheered in Moscow.

I remember Zhukov sitting around a big table in Berlin shortly after the war. Eisenhower was across the table. Field Marshal Montgomery of Britain was down at one end. A French general whose name I can't remember was at the other end.

Beside Zhukov sat the late Andrei Vishinsky, then deputy foreign minister. I stood just behind Zhukov and Vishinsky, so close I could have flicked cigarette ashes down their necks.

Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov was appointed Soviet Minister of Defense in Moscow succeeding Marshal Nikolai Bulganin. The latter resigned after being named prime minister to succeed Georgi Malenkov.

Eisenhower made a proposal. When he finished, Vishinsky poked Zhukov in the ribs. He poked him with his thumb. Obediently Marshal Zhukov got to his feet and recited a routine Soviet reaction to what Eisenhower had said. If I remember correctly, it concerned some minor details of setting up a four-power command in Berlin.

Zhukov was still in the full fight of oratory when Vishinsky suddenly grabbed him by the tail of his smart fawn colored military jacket and—with a yank—pulled him back into his seat.

"You've said enough," Vishinsky whispered to him in Russian.

I looked at Zhukov's broad beefy neck. Perspiration stood out around it like a string of pale pearls.

Montgomery made a suggestion and once more Vishinsky poked Zhukov. He jumped to his feet again.

Later we asked some of the high American and British brass about Zhukov at conferences.

"He's all very normal," said a British general, "except when he's got the devilish Soviet politicians around him. How he seems to hate them."

And how well another scene involving Zhukov comes back today.

Again it was Berlin, battered and broken after its capture by the Red army hordes. Zhukov sat behind a long table overlooking a pretty little lake. With a matchbox he illustrated how he moved his tanks against the Wehrmacht.

"I brought my tanks against them like this," he said, "and then I brought up two fresh artillery groups over here. And the infantry here."

An American correspondent interrupted him:

"What part did Generalissimo Stalin play in all this operation?"

Zhukov looked stunned, as if someone had hit him with an ax. He began a recitation.

Generalissimo Stalin," he said, "directed every move I ever made in the war. He made every decision. He is the greatest and wisest military genius who ever lived."

Georgi Zhukov was the only hero of the Russian people who came out of the war. They knew and he knew of course that he did more to win the war than any single Soviet commander or Kremlin official.

The high esteem in which he was held by Russia's 200 million people, and the fact that he seemed to get along well with Eisenhower, are probably the reasons why Joseph Stalin banished him to the relative wilderness of the Odessa military district after the war, a wilderness from which he did not return until after Stalin's death in March 1953.

Of all the Soviet officials he remains the one who on the face of things seems the sort of fellow Americans might be able to do business with. That is—if the politicians would ever let him do business on his own.

Only One Is Able To Show For Reunion

NEW YORK (AP)—More than a dry Martini filled the glass of 79-year-old Charles H. Blair.

In the liquid shimmered his memories of college days and the chain of years twining down to his solitary fulfillment of a fraternity pledge made 58 years ago.

It was no coincidence that Blair stood at the men's bar of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel last night. He was keeping faith with the "1900 Club" of the Psi Upsilon fraternity at Cornell University.

The club was formed in 1897 as 13 youths sat around the fireside of the Psi U house on the campus at Ithaca, N.Y., and vowed to hold reunions at regular intervals for the rest of their lives. They named the Waldorf-Astoria as the site — at 8 p.m., on Feb. 9, every five years.

The original group grew to 28 and the first meeting was held — they rushed it a bit — in 1900. The years rolled, and the students scattered, but the pledge held firm.

Time, as usual, took its toll, and the pledge was modified to read "if health permits."

In 1950 three members of the club showed up.

Twenty-one of the 28 are dead. This year the only one able to show up was Blair, grandson of Ezra Cornell, founder of the university.

Blair, retired senior partner of a brokerage firm, is the father of two daughters and the grandfather of four girls and a boy.

Blair picked up his Martini ("No olives, they take up too much room") and renewed the pledge to come back in 1960.

He toasted the club members, living and dead. He recalled the old campus scenes, the coeds ("They wore red petticoats and were highly moral"), his stint as a pitcher on the baseball team.

The Martini was gone and Blair slowly put down the glass and said softly: "How many men are gone — that's what stands out."

Business To Watch Effect Of Shakeup

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Will the Russian political and economic shakeup step up a trade war brewing between East and West?

American businessmen in recent weeks have noted signs that the Soviets were fishing more actively in international industrial waters.

Russian gold has been reported once more circulating in some West European markets.

India has been promised a Russian steel mill.

The shift in Russia to more emphasis on heavy industries — while primarily implying more military arms production — will be watched in American business circles for hints the Russians want to wage economic war first.

American business hasn't worried too much about Russian competition, since U.S. industrial production capacity is far greater. But in some lines the rate of increase in Russian capacity has been greater than the United States' in recent years, although they are nowhere near closing the gap. The interesting things to watch will be:

1. How Russia uses the increased capacity — whether for home consumption or for world trade. Example: Although Soviet steel production is little more than a third that of the United States, and is badly needed by the Russians themselves, Moscow finds political reasons for exporting materials and technicians to India to build a steel mill there.

2. Whether Russia dangles the lure of trade to coax other countries into its orbit — as some in the United States are fearful the Russians and Chinese are doing right now in Japan.

While Russia finds few outsiders interested in taking its rubles in return for their goods, Russia has a large store of gold.

From time to time this gold appears in West European markets. The British took quite a bit of it a few months ago, building up their reserves that way, while shipping the Russians some products they wanted.

Russian deals with its Scandinavian neighbors are currently reported beng financed by new gold.

The big shakeup in Russia could also brings a change in its trade policy, an urge to win economically as well as just to cause political trouble wherever it can.

WHEN BULGANIN STOOD BY STALIN

This picture was taken in the reviewing stand on Moscow's aviation day in July of 1951, less than four years ago, and left to right reads Nikolai Bulganin, Josef Stalin, Lavrenti Beria and Georgi Malenkov. Bulganin is the new prime minister of Soviet Russia, Stalin has been dead almost two years, Beria has been executed, and Malenkov has resigned as prime minister.

Senate Moves With Unusual Speed To Sanction Treaties

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators, watching Asia like men with no time to lose, in the past two weeks have approved two extremely important treaties and a far-reaching resolution. All involve defense in the far Pacific.

Treaty debates are often oratorical festivals which sometimes last weeks. Not this time. The Senate took less than a day each to approve the treaties and just a few days for the resolution.

The resolution and one treaty apply to defense of Formosa. The other treaty covers defense of Southeast Asia. The Senate took these two actions on Formosa:

1. Jan. 28. It gave President Eisenhower a blank check by approving beforehand anything he thought necessary to do in defense of Formosa, the nearby Pescadores Islands and "related" areas.

This means he could order the bombing of mainland China if he thought it should be done to prevent a Red Chinese buildup for an attack on Formosa. The resolution gives the President extraordinarily wide discretion.

2. Feb. 9. The Senate okayed a mutual defense agreement between the United States and Chiang Kai-shek's government, but only on Formosa and the Pescadores. It does not apply to other Chiang-held islands.

The President, of course, will operate under the wider powers of the resolution as long as he sees fit. Although the resolution and the treaty seem like duplicates of each other, they are not quite.

The President's power under the resolution ends when he notifies Congress the emergency in the Formosa area is over. That emergency may not be considered over for years.

The treaty, on the other hand, is to last "indefinitely," unless canceled by either side on one year's notice.

The treaty, rushed through at this time, has more psychological than real value, since it is added notice to the Red Chinese of the American government's determination to defend Formosa.

The other treaty approving U.S. membership in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization was approved Feb. 1. The members of Seato, besides this country, are Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Pakistan and Thailand.

Under this treaty the members agree to act together for the defense of Southeast Asia against Red attack. Just how much the treaty really means depends on what the members want to make it mean. It sounds big. Time will show how good or flimsy it is.

It does not, for instance, mean the United States must go to war to defend Southeast Asia. The members will decide what to do "in accordance with their constitutional processes." In this country's case Congress would have to approve American action.

The members also agree to try to counter Communist subversion in the area, besides giving mutual help in economic and other ways in the area.

Rockefeller Still Paying

NEW YORK (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller, whose divorce from Barbara (Bobo) Rockefeller cost him a reported six-million-dollar settlement, apparently must shell out another million dollars in lawyers' fees.

In State Supreme Court yesterday it was disclosed that Rockefeller already has paid out $500,000 in legal charges, and has another half million to go.

The court action was in answer to a $100,000 suit filed by Boston Atty. Joseph Sax against both Winthrop and Bobo. Sax charges nonpayment for services rendered in 1951-52.

Bobo contended in court that Winthrop took on all legal obligations connected with the divorce last summer in Reno.

Rockefeller reportedly has not yet been served in the suit.

Push-Button Control Warms Up Automobile

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—A kitchen push-button gives Capt. Kenneth R. Kurtzman a hot car on cold mornings.

Kurtzman has rigged 40 feet of TV antenna wire from the kitchen of his home to the garage. The wire carries current which trips the ignition and starts the car motor while the captain eats his breakfast.

He calls his invention "MATO"—morning - assisted - take - off. It cost him about $3.

Johnson, Rayburn Keep Press Posted

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—At 11:45 a.m. each day Congress is in session a dozen or so reporters gather around two Texans who direct things, Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson.

Rayburn holds his daily news conference in the ornate speaker's office, just across from the House chamber.

Reporters who attend these news conferences are those who regularly report all activities in the House and Senate.

Because they are the "regulars" who know the issues involved, they frequently are taken into confidence by the speaker or the Senate majority leader. They learn what's on the day's agenda, often are told "off the record" what's likely to happen, or what the party leaders think about this or that issue.

Around the Capital:

Six Texans, foremost authorities in road work, have been here attending the Highway Research Board meeting held by the State Highway Department in Austin. Two of them are Frank Scrivner, supervising research engineer, and A. W. Eastman, materials and test engineer. Scrivner read a paper on the designing of "climbing lanes," used to expedite trucks and other heavy vehicles from main streams of traffic off to side lanes.

The others, all on the faculty at Texas A&M, are: R. S. Schiller Jr., Fred Benson, H. K. Stephenson and Lawrence DuBose.

East Texas Rep. Brady Gentry says he will certainly help press for enactment of a bill introduced by Ohio Republican Rep. Frances Bolton. The measure would make the rose the national flower. Gentry's home is in Tyler, called the rose capital of the world.

Rayburn, honor guest at several receptions given since Congress convened Jan. 6, gave a formal reception at the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel Jan. 15 in honor of two sisters visiting from Bonham. They are Miss Lucinda Rayburn and Mrs. S. E. Bartley. Scores of officials and congressmen attended.

Tom Davis of Vernon, Wilbarger County attorney, has been here attending a meeting of national Red Cross leaders mapping the Red Cross 1956 drive. Mrs. Davis was with him. They visited Rep. Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls and Ikard's secretary, John Stallings, gave them a tour.

Jail Cook Can List Plenty Of References

OMAHA (AP)—"It will be good." That's what Joseph T. Taylor, 67, said of the food he will serve as cook at the Douglas County Jail here.

"I've served some pretty strict people," said Taylor, "and I had no complaints."

Then he named former Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, Warren Harding and Harry truman as among those he cooked for. That was during the 47 years he was a railroad chef, he said.

Southwest Now Has 4-Team Cage Race

By The Associated Press

Southern Methodist, which finally managed to handle Texas Christian's sophomore sensation, Dick O'Neal, and at the same time break an alarming hex TCU had held over the Methodists, is back in the big middle of the Southwest Conference basketball race—and so are Rice and Arkansas.

It turned once more into a free-for-all Wednesday night when SMU whipped Texas Christian after six years of trying. The Methodists, in winning, 84-70, with a last-half surge that almost blew the hitherto invincible Horned Frogs out of the gym, drew virtually even with TCU at the top of the standings. And it brought new hope to Rice and Arkansas, which have lost only one more game than TCU and SMU.

So, as the race moves down the stretch, TCU leads with a 6-2 record, SMU is second with 5-2 and Rice and Arkansas have 4-3.

There's no easy road ahead for the leaders. SMU plays dangerous Baylor at Waco Saturday night and could stumble very easily. But by winning that one, the Methodists could push into a tie for the lead with Texas Christian.

Arkansas and Rice get together at Fayetteville Saturday night and the loser will be eliminated from championship consideration.

The SMU-TCU game looked like a repeat of the past six years during which TCU has won 12 straight games from the Methodists. The Horned Frogs jumped to an early lead that reached 12-2 before SMU started to click. Finally the Methodists drew even at 12-12, lost the lead momentarily, then tied it up at 14-14. The lead changed hands five times before the half ended with SMU ahead by a bare point, 34-33.

Jim Krebs, the giant SMU center, was doing a great job of defensing O'Neal and also was proving deadly with his lazy hook shot. The Methodists started controlling the ball off the backboard and they started hitting from all angles.

O'Neal was limited to 15 points. He took plenty of shots at the basket but few were from close up and he was harried so much by the ever-pressing Krebs that on many that he did try his aim was ruined. It was one of the worst nights the great sophomore, leading scorer of the conference, has run into.

Krebs was the high scorer of the night with 25 points.

Texas A&M plays Oklahoma City University at Oklahoma City Thursday night in a nonconference game and action halts until Saturday night when there are three games — SMU-Baylor, Arkansas-Rice and Texas-Texas A&M at College Station.

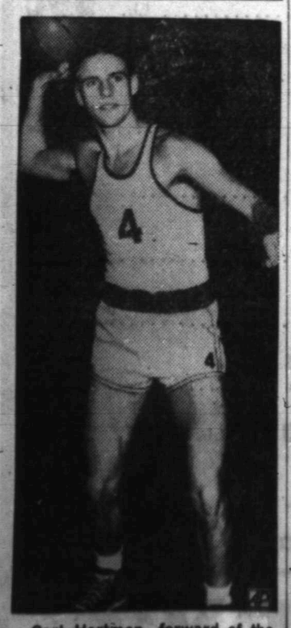
By DALE WALTON

Colorado City has a pretty fair basketball team this season, but the Wolves just couldn't get past Stamford.

Winning all their other district games, the Wolves lost twice to Stamford in regular round-robin play. Colorado City always seems to have trouble with Stamford, just as Snyder always had trouble with C-City in the days the Tigers were in athletic circuits with the Wolves.



Carl Hartman, forward of the Alderson - Broaddus basketball team of Philippi, W.Va., has amassed a total of 2,623 points in his college career to establish a new scoring record for four-year colleges.

Three years ago, the last year Snyder was in Class AA with C-City and Stamford, there was a regular round of jinxes. In regular loop play that year, Snyder beat Stamford twice, Stamford took C-City twice, and C-City defeated Snyder twice.

District 2A-4 now holds a tournament at the end of the round-robin.

Keith Pitner, former Snyder High School track star, is now working out with the cinder team at the University of Texas.

Pitner was well-known among high schoolers for his half-mile runs in the 880 race and in the medley relay. He may show up well in the next couple or three years in relays for the Longhorns.

During his last year in high school. Pitner was not running much of the time because of an injury. He ranked among the fastest half-milers in the state for a two-year period.

• • •

Three more games remain on the schedule of the Snyder Tigers before they shelve their basketballs and go on to such things as track, baseball, tennis, and golf.

One of those will be against Sonny Everett tomorrow night, the second against Vernon Saturday night, and the last against Sweetwater next Tuesday night. We say Sonny Everett because he is the only thing Breckenridge has in the way of a basketball team.

Both the Breckenridge and Vernon games will be played out of town. Sweetwater will come here for the last match.

The Vernon and Sweetwater games are likely to be close matches for the Tigers. Vernon, even though it has one of the second division teams in the district, can give more competition on its home court than it can away from home, so the Tigers will have to be sharp for that one.

Sweetwater, too, is probably plotting right now how to beat the Tigers, remembering that one-point win the Tigers took in Sweetwater during the last few seconds of their earlier match.

NC State Is First Winner Of 20 Games

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

It appears that if North Carolina State can't be the "fustest" among the nation's college basketball teams, the Wolfpack at least is going to try to be the team with the "mostest."

The Wolfpack, at one time No. 2 in the Associated Press poll but down to No. 7 this week, is the first team to win 20 games this season. They did it 126-99 last night against William and Mary at Norfolk, Va.

In their last three games, the Pack has scored 359 points.

There was a total of 85 field goals in the game—22 of them by Ron Shavlik of NCS. He added 11 free throws for 55 points and a new record by an Atlantic Coast Conference player. The loser's John Mahoney was away back with a mere 37.

The 126-point total by NCS—ineligible for the NCAA playoffs, incidentally, because of a probationary ban last spring—was a new high by an ACC team. Wake Forest had set the previous high only last week with 120 against Clemson.

Elsewhere, San Francisco kept its pace as the No. 1 team in the poll and the nation's defense leader with a 72-52 victory over College of the Pacific. Big Bill Russell took charge of the boards and scored 27 points for the Dons in their 15th straight success.

Kentucky, making its first start since falling out of the No. 1 spot in this week's poll, knocked Georgia for a loop in the Southeastern Conference 86-40. The Wildcats, ranked No. 2, led 50-20 at the half and experimented the rest of the way.

Fourth-ranked Duquesne, which yesterday ruled itself out of a possible NCAA at-large playoff berth by accepting an NIT bid, choked off Carnegie Tech 62-27.

Dayton, ranked No. 16, got ahead early and stayed there to defeat Miami (Ohio) 78-62. Cincinnati (No. 17) called on Jack Twyman for its last five points to edge Xavier (Ohio) 70-69.

A pair of upsets popped up. Georgetown (D. C.), which lost four players in training rules trouble last week, knocked off 19th-ranked Villanova 84-79.

In the Southwest Conference, Southern Methodist surprised Texas Christian 84-70.

Duke gained a share of the ACC lead with Maryland and North Carolina by beating Wake Forest 75-73, and Richmond fattened its Southern Conference lead 76-54 over Virginia Military.

Stronger Baseball Is Expected In S'west

By The Associated Press

A stronger field all the way around is indicated as Southwest Conference baseball teams prepare to open training. Practice starts next Wednesday at the six schools that play for the diamond championship.

Southern Methodist and Texas Christian have a dozen lettermen each with prospects of their best teams in years.

Defending champion Texas has nine lettermen but is short on experienced pitchers. In fact, the Longhorns have only one letterman hurled back—Don Heifer — and he may not be able to play because of a back injury. Texas also has no experienced outfielders.

Texas has a bright prospect up from the freshmen in infielder John Lowry to go along with five lettermen infielders and three lettermen catchers.

Southern Methodist is strong with the mound staff with Tommy Bowers, twice all-conference, heading up a corps of four lettermen. Texas Christian has three letterman pitchers and Dick O'Neal, great sophomore prospect. To go with the other lettermen, which include Les Mattinson, an outfielder who's rated one of the best ball players in the country, TCU has Harold Pollard, an outfielder, and Ken Weinburg, a catcher, up from the freshmen.

Baylor pins much of its hopes on Fred Gottlieb, ace pitcher of 1954, and sophomore Jerry Mallett, hurler from Beaumont with a great baseball background. All-conference shortstop Wayne Connally returns. Baylor has seven lettermen.

Rice numbers eight lettermen but is short on pitchers and outfielders, and needs a shortstop. Pitchers Babe Navarro and Billy Arhos and outfielder Merman Pollard are the best prospects from the freshmen.

Nine lettermen return to Texas A&M, these including all-conference catcher Jimmy Williams and the two mainstays of the pitching staff the past two years — Jerry Nelson and Joe Hardgrove. The Aggies get some good prospects from the freshmen of 1954.

Youths Play Big Role In Tucson Meet

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Eager youngsters are expected to play important roles in the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf Tourney starting today.

The youth movement may be helped by the aches, pains and rustiness of some of the established, consistent money winners.

The 6,409-yard, par-70 El Rio Golf and Country Club course should also help the younger lads. There isn't a hard hole in the lot, Peter Thomson of Melbourne commented. "We have courses as easy as this in Australia although we don't play tournaments on them."

Ed Furgol, St. Louis, Mo., the U. S. Open champ, has a cold and complains of pains in his chest. "I never felt so bad in my life," he said yesterday. Aches and all, Furgol will be dangerous. He shot a 6-under-par 64 in the pro-amateur yesterday to win $50. So did Ed (Porky) Oliver, Lemont, Ill.

Tommy Bolt, the tempestuous Texan from Houston, is defending champ here but has had a nasty cold in his shoulder that has hurt his play.

BOOSTERS TO BEGIN CANYON RELAY WORK

Several committees to perform tasks in preparation for the upcoming Canyon Reef Relays will be appointed tonight at a meeting of the Snyder Quarterback Club.

The club, which will meet at 7:30 o'clock in the high school cafeteria, will also be enlisting workers for judging, records, timing, and other tasks. Bill Morgan, club president, said a professional football film will be shown.

El Paso's Hall Of Fame Picks Cohen

EL PASO (AP)—The first member named to the recently-created El Paso Athletic Hall of Fame is the manager of the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern Assn., Andrew (Andy) Cohen.

Cohen was a star center of the El Paso High School basketball team in 1921-22. He will fly to El Paso from spring training in Florida to accept the honor at a Gridiron Club dinner Feb. 22.

A tennis star of the 1910-1920 era, N. A. Ferguson, was named for the posthumous award.

Aggie Track Coach Sees 3-Way Affair

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Col. Frank Anderson, veteran track coach of Texas A&M, thinks the 1955 race could very well be a 3-way affair.

After Texas won the title last spring at Waco with a tremendous 95 points to 54 7-12 for second-place A&M, it was freely predicted that the Longhorns would win the championship again this season.

But Texas lost three important members of the 1954 team when Bob Billings, ace higher jumper, entered the service, and pole vaulter John Novey and 2-miler Inocensio Cantu were ruled scholastically ineligible.

Now Col. Anderson says A&M and Rice will have a chance of upsetting Texas.

The Aggies, who lost 11 lettermen from last year's squad, will be stronger this spring in the field events but weaker in the races. The 11 lettermen gone represent 25 11-24 points registered by A&M in the conference meet. The nine returning T-men represent 2 3-24.

Taking a long-distance look at the Southwest Conference meet to be held in Houston May 13 and 14, Col. Anderson sizes up the events like this:

Sprints and sprint relay—Texas all the way with Rice picking up any left-over points.

440 and mile relay—Rice or Southern Methodist with Texas third.

880—Texas, SMU and Rice.

Mile-and two-mile—Texas, A&M and Arkansas.

High hurdles—TCU (if Bill Curtis returns), A&M, Texas.

Low hurdles—Rice, A&M, Texas.

Shot put—A&M all the way.

Discus—A&M, SMU, Rice.

Vault—Rice, A&M.

Broad jump—A&M.

High jump—A&M.

Javelin—Texas, Arkansas, A&M, Rice.

The boys team now has a 13-12 record for the season. Mengwasser, the only four-year letterman on the squad, was picked on all-tournament teams in Fluvanna and Ira meets this season.

Suman Called SW's Most Underrated

HOUSTON (AP)—Rice Coach Don Suman says Monte Robicheaux is the most underrated basketball player in the Southwest Conference.

"He's the finest guard I've ever seen in college play," said Suman of his 5-10 guard from Bowie.

"He's the most underrated player in the conference but I'm not complaining. As long as the opposition doesn't pay him too much attention it makes our job that much easier."

Slue Hull, the Texas coach, has reason to agree with Suman. After Robicheaux scored 18 points in leading Rice to a 79-70 victory over the Longhorns Tuesday night, Hull said:

"The little guy beat us, like he always does."

Texas has defeated Rice only twice since Robicheaux became a sophomore and that includes two playoff games and a tournament championship game.

Brooks Gets New Test In City League

Another team will try to knock off the league leader in the city basketball league tonight.

The challenger is D&H Super Market, which so far has a 1-1 record in the league. Its opponent is Brooks Oil Well Service, which has a 4-0 record and is the only undefeated squad now remaining.

Also playing tonight will be Chuck Wagon, fifth place team, and Gail, now in sixth place.

Brooks has stormed over Chuck Wagon 63-32, Hermleigh 55-31, Sunray 88-9, and National Guard 65-27. D&H has downed Sunray 50-37 and lost to National Guard 52-43.

Other than the loss to Brooks, Chuck Wagon had one other loss to Hermleigh 58-53. The team downed Sunray 64-35. Gail's losses were to Hermleigh 65-25 and National Guard 49-23.

Frosh Enter Big Spring Meet Friday

Snyder High School's freshman basketball team will leave tomorrow for Big Spring to meet Cowden of Odessa in the first round of the Big Spring tournament.

The team, coached by Hal Battle, is going into the event with a 7-3 season record.

The Cowden team is strong this season and is ranked alongside the Big Spring team as favorite in this tourney. The Big Spring squad downed Cowden in the finals of the Odessa tournament.

The Snyder-Cowden game is scheduled for 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Also going into first round play in the tourney tomorrow are Lamesa vs. Andrews at 6:45 p.m., San Jacinto of Midland vs. Sweetwater at 4 p.m., and Big Spring vs. Colorado City at 8:05 p.m.

On Saturday, in second round play, the winners of the Snyder-Cowden and Lamesa - Andrews games will meet at 2:20 p.m. and winners of the Big Spring-Colorado City and San Jacinto-Sweetwater tilts will play at 1 p.m. Losers of those first two games are to play at 10:20 a.m. and those of the other two games at 9 a.m.

At 3:40 o'clock Saturday afternoon, losers of the consolation semi-finals will go into a game for seventh place. The consolation title game will be at 6 p.m., while losers of the championship semi-finals will meet at 7:20 that night for third place. The title game will be played at 8:45 p.m.

Ticket Sales Near Sum Of Meet Prizes

HOUSTON (AP)—Ticket sales for the $30,000 Houston Open Golf Tournament Feb. 24-27 have exceeded $29,500, Houston Golf Assn. officials said yesterday.

Tournament expenses are expected to be about $40,000 including the prize money.

Foods For Valentine Can Be Prepared In Heart Shapes

With Valentine's Day so close at hand, holiday-time hostesses will be thinking of new ways to decorate with food novelties.

The old favorite, heart-shaped cake, is a good stand-by especially for buffet suppers. Another hostess might prefer to mold her aspic salad into a heart shape or serve meringue tarts. The tarts, shaped like hearts, can be filled with puddings, red strawberries or any other dessert.

One appropriate cake for the season is called hearts and flowers.

HEARTS AND FLOWERS CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
1¼ cups sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
½ cup milk
¼ cup maraschino cherry juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ teaspoons almond extract
3 egg whites, unbeaten
1-3 cup chopped almonds

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt into mixing bowl. Add shortening, milk, cherry juice, and flavoring extracts and beat 200 strokes (2 minutes by hand or in mixer at low speed). Add egg white and beat 200 strokes. Add almonds and blend. Bake in two deep, 8-inch heart-shaped pans, that have been well greased and coated with flour, in moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 to 35 minutes. Spread with frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Decorate with flowers.

The cake frosting is called bridal pink. For a deeper red, cake coloring might be added.

BRIDAL PINK FROSTING

2 egg whites, unbeaten
1½ cups sugar
5 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice
1 teaspoon light corn sirup (or ⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar)
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
2 marshmallows, cut in eighths

Put egg whites, sugar, water, corn sirup and salt in top of double boiler and mix thoroughly. Place over rapidly boiling water and beat constantly with rotary egg beater until mixture will hold a peak (about 7 minutes). Remove from hot water, add vanilla, almond extract and marshmallows and beat until cool and thick enough to spread. Makes enough frosting to cover top and sides of two 9-inch layers.

Another heart-shaped cake is called "To My Valentine."

VALENTINE CAKE

2 2-3 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2-3 cup shortening
1¼ cups sugar
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla or grated lemon rind
5 egg whites
½ cup sugar

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening; add 1¼ cups sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add flavoring.

Beat egg whites until foamy, add ½ cup sugar gradually, and continue beating only until mixture will hold up in soft peaks. Beat thoroughly into batter. Turn into deep 9-inch heart - shaped pans which have been lined on bottoms with paper, then greased. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Frost with seven minute icing and shredded coconut.

Valentine cake calls for a punch accompaniment. A ruby - tinted drink carries out the red theme associated with the holiday.

RUBY FLASH

¾ oz. red cinnamon candies
¾ cup apple juice
Ginger ale

Combine candies and apple juice. Heat until candies melt. Chill. Divide among 4 tall glasses. Fill glasses with ginger ale. Stir gently.

Another beverage which is easily prepared is sweetheart punch.

SWEETHEART PUNCH

2 6-ounce cans lemonade concentrate
1 can orange concentrate
2 cups strong cold tea
2 28-ounce bottles ginger ale

Prepare lemonade and frozen orange juice as directed on cans. Pour over ice in punch bowl. Add tea; mix well. Add ice cold ginger ale. Garnish with lemon slice and mint sprigs. Makes 35 punch cup servings.

Another Valentine goddie is cream tarts.

CREAM TARTS

1¼ cups sifted flour
¼ to ½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup cold shortening
2 tablespoons cold water (about)
1 package prepared vanilla pudding
2 cups milk
4 teaspoons tart red jelly

Sift flour once, measure, add salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening until pieces are about the size of small peas. Add water, a small amount at a time, mixing lightly with fork. Handle as little as possible. Wrap in waxed paper; chill thoroughly. Roll ⅛ inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut in circles and fit carefully on outside of four upturned 4½-inch tart pans. Trim edges. Prick with fork. Place on baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 to 15 minutes, or until slightly browned. Prepare pudding as directed on package. Cool. Fill tart shells with pudding. Spread pastry hearts with jelly; place one in center of each tart. Chill. Makes 4 servings.

Other Valentine tarts can be made with package puddings. The tart base can be meringues instead of pastry shells.

MERINGUES

Add ½ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon cream of tarter to 4 egg whites and beat until foamy. Add 1 cup sugar by tablespoonfuls, beating well after each addition. Beat mixture until stiff. Shape meringues on cookie sheet lined with brown paper by using pastry tube to form heart shapes. Bake at 250 degrees F. for 1 hour and 10 minutes.

A variation of the usual tart resembles a cherry shortcake.

VALENTINE TART

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup shortening
2-3 cup sugar
3 egg whites
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
1-3 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually; cream together until light and fluffy. Add unbeaten egg whites and beat thoroughly. Add vanilla extract to milk and add alternately with dry ingredients to creamed mixture. Pour into one greased paperlined 8-inch layer pan and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes. When cool, slice through center and spread cherry filling on lower half. Place other half on top and frost with confectioners' sugar icing.

CHERRY FILLING

½ cup sugar
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
2-3 cup cherry juice
3 egg yolks
2-3 cup canned pitted cherries
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ teaspoon vanilla extract

Combine sugar, flour and salt. Gradually add cherry juice. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Pour into beaten egg yolks, add cherries and cook over boiling water for five minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from heat. Add butter or margarine and vanilla extract. When cool, spread between slices of cake. Makes one eight-inch filled layer.

With the sweets for Valentine come the sour in the form of salads. Aspic salad, always good for entertaining, can be made with tomato juice for Valentine red coloring.

VALENTINE ASPIC

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
3½ cups cold tomato juice
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon celery salt
¼ teaspoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon milk
1 3-ounce package cream cheese

Soften gelatin in 1 cup of the cold tomato juice. Place over boiling water: stil until gelatin is dissolved. Add to remaining 2½ cups tomato juice; stir in salt, celery salt, sugar, Tabasco and lemon juice. Turn into a 4-cup heart-shaped mold; chill until firm. Unmold on cole slaw. Blend together milk and cream cheese; pack into an individual heart-shaped mold. Remove cheese carefully and place on top of aspic. Yield: 8 servings.

Another bright salad for the holiday is cranberry relish molds.

CRANBERRY RELISH MOLDS

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 1-pound can whole cranberry sauce
1 cup diced celery

Soften gelatin in cold water. Place over boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add salt and lemon juice. Stir into cranberry sauce. Mix in celery. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on cole slaw. Yield: 6 servings.

Valentine's Day wouldn't be complete without heart-shaped cookies.

VALENTINE COOKIES

3½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs

Sift together flour and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar. Add eggs and vanilla extract and mix thoroughly. Add flour mixture, mixing only enough to combine ingredients. Chill. Roll out one-eighth inch thick. Cut with heart cookie cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Makes about 60 two-inch cookies.

A more novel Valentine cookie is Honey Hearts.

HONEY HEARTS

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup honey
½ cup ready-to-eat bran
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon allspice

Blend butter with honey; beat until creamy. Crush bran slightly; add to first mixture with sifted dry ingredients. Mix thoroughly; chill. Roll dough on floured board to about 1-16 inch thickness. Cut with floured heart-shaped cookie cutter; bake on greased baking sheet in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Yield: About 5 dozen cookies.

Pilot Aided By Motorist

MILES CITY, Mont. (AP)—A veteran B17 bomber pilot on a mercy flight ran into foul weather and trouble, but a motorist below saved the day. Using his car's headlights he guided the air ambulance onto the highway.

The patient was Kenneth (Buz) Chamberlane, 36, injured Monday when a horse fell on him. Dr. Robert Currey and pilot Jim Shennum late Tuesday loaded Chamberlane on a plane at Scobey to bring him to Veterans Administration hospital here.

They ran into soupy overcast near Glendive. The ceiling lowered to less than 500 feet. Shennum spotted the highway and buzzed it.

Motorist Pep Waplef realized the trouble and pulled his car around. Its headlights guided the plane down onto the highway. Another motorist, James Cuber, of Rosebud, took the party on to the hospital.

Chamberlane was reported in satisfactory condition yesterday.

Council Hopes Insults Will Drive Off Pigeons

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Several weeks ago the City Council ordered the Health Department to exterminate by whatever means necessary the flocks of pigeons that have been plaguing downtown Akron.

Shoot them, trap them, gas them, ordered the Council.

But after criticism from the Audubon Society and other bird lovers, the Council this week rescinded its previous order and passed another ordinance which simply declares pigeons are a "common nuisance."

Maybe the pigeons will be insulted and go away, the Council said.

Flaming Crash Ends Chase

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—A wild auto chase ended in flaming death early today for a man and a teen-age girl he forced at gunpoint to drive him in a getaway attempt.

Police tentatively identified the man as Leonard Pasco, 23, who had a previous record and was out on parole.

They said he attempted to escape pursuing officers by commandeering a car and forcing Constance Cobb, 17, of Milltown, to drive at top speed. The car hit a Hudson County patrol car which had been set up as a roadblock on the Pulaski Skyway.

It skidded, flipped over and burst into flames. The girl and Pasco, trapped inside, burned to death despite police efforts to get them out.

Late last night, Pasco was picked up by a Milltown patrolman because he looked suspicious. His trousers were soaked to the knees. As Patrolman Hylan Petri was taking him to headquarters, he drew a gun, disarmed the policeman and fled.

He came upon a car parked in a deserted spot in nearby North Brunswick Township. Inside were two young couples, including Miss Cobb.

Pasco ordered all but Miss Cobb out. Then he forced her to drive him north along Route 1. A police alarm was broadcast immediately.

The car was spotted in Elizabeth, about 20 miles from Milltown, by Motor Vehicle Inspector James Philbirn, who gave chase. He said he saw a gun held at the girl's neck. Two motorcycle policemen joined the chase at Newark and pursued the car until it hit the roadblock.

Woodpecker scalps, elephant tails, tobacco and beaver skins all have been used as money.

Self-Educated Delivery Boy Shuns Glamor

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the nation's highest-paid delivery boys thinks too many young men are trying to win success the wrong way.

"They want a glamor job—a position with a title," said Alfred Hammell.

Hammell is the delivery boy who heads the Railway Express Co. Largely self-educated, although one college has conferred a doctorate in business degree on him, he began at the bottom 45 years ago as a freight handler.

The firm he directs as president has about 45,000 employes, rings up some 400 millon dollars a year in making 90 million air and rail shipments to 23,000 American communities.

"It's a big mistake for young men to look only for the glamor jobs," he said. "Anybody who is afraid to get his hands dirty isn't likely to go very far.

"The jobs that have the least glamor on the surface often afford you the opportunity to get the most know-how of the business you're in."

Hammell, a gruffly genial, beartall man weighing 240 pounds, enjoys rough-and-ready battling. He's waging war with the U.S. post office. It currently handles parcel post packages weighing up to 70 pounds. He wants it to go back to its old limit of 11 pounds.

"The postoffice today is in the freight business, and losing money," he said. "We're in the position of a free enterprise competing against a government tax subsidy."

Hammell keeps an ear close to the telephone on his desk, and prides himself that nobody has to go through a dozen secretaries to reach his ear.

So if someone shipped you a tropical fish and it arrived with one of its fins bent, just dial Murray Hill 6-7900—and ask for Mr. Hammell. He may not know how to bend the fin back in shape himself, but he probably can find someone who can.

Man Finally Completes His Trip To Mortuary

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP) — Harry Apperson was in a hearse en route to a mortuary last Sept. 1 when he revived and persuaded the driver to take him to a hospital.

A chronic sufferer from a heart condition, Jones had been pronounced dead by a doctor.

Last night Jones suffered another heart attack. And this time he was not revived. His body was taken to the same mortuary for which he started last September.

A Tax On Shaving

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, N.M. (AP) — Police are arresting clean-shaven men these days if they don't have a shaving permit. It's the law that, by way of making the city look more Western for its annual fiesta program, men must buy a $1 shaving permit or wear their whiskers long. Fiesta ends Feb. 17.

FORMER KING LEADS QUIET LIFE

Dunn Is Happy Over Verdict

LAREDO (AP)—Col. Robert V. G. Dunn says he is very pleased with the outcome of his court martial and has no plans to appeal the verdict.

The court martial convicted the air force officer yesterday on four of six charges of misuse of Air Force equipment, planes and men. He was ordered to forfeit $150 of his monthly pay for a year. The military court also reprimanded Col. Dunn.

The record showed his base pay is $666.90 a month. An Air Force officer also receives other allowances.

The maximum sentence for the offense is 11 years and 11 months at hard labor. Had he been convicted on all counts he could have been sentenced to 21 years and 8 months of hard labor.

The Kokomo, Ind., officer was accused of using military planes and men in flights to Harrisburg, Pa., to repair two half-tracks (personnel carriers) he had purchased from Army surplus. He also was accused of making unauthorized landings, including some at Kokomo.

Col. Dunn told the court he planned to use the halftracks in an informal mechanics course at Laredo Air Force Base, where he was stationed, and later as experimental machinery at his Indiana farm.

A number of character witnesses, including superior officers, had told the military court that Col. Dunn was a careful man, honorable and trusworthy. One of the principal prosecution witnesses was Maj. James A. Adams, who testified he made flights to Harrisburg which were concerned with Dunn's personal business rather than government affairs. Adams also claimed to have credited Dunn with instrument flying time which the officer did not actually put in.

Dunn was found innocent of misstatements concerning his instrument flying time and innocent of charges he sought to intimidate Maj. Adams. He was convicted on some counts of mis-use of tools, and airplanes acquitted on others.

Harry Matusow, who has stated he gave false testimony at the trial of 12 secondary Communist leaders, arrives at Federal Courthouse in New York City. Federal Judge Edward J. Dimock deferred Matusow's appearance before a federal grand jury. He granted a motion by counsel for the 12 defendants to suppress a government subpoena calling for Matusow's appearance before the grand jury.

Kerr Takes Over As U.S. District Attorney

EL PASO (AP)—William Monroe Kerr, 24, was sworn in yesterday as Asst. U.S. Dist. attorney for the Western District of Texas.

The youthful attorney, third-generation West Texas lawyer, was administered the oath by U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason. He will accompany Judge Thomason to Pecos, birthplace of the new federal prosecutor, to open court there Monday.

Kerr took over his duties immediately after the swearing-in ceremony in the judge's chambers.

Plane Crash Victim Identified By Webb

BIG SPRING (AP)—An aviation cadet who was killed in the crash of his training plane at midnight Tuesday was identified last night as Herbert D. Washburn, 22, of Crescent City, Calif.

Washburn was to have graduated in May from Webb Air Force Base. His T28 propeller plane crashed and burned on a ranch 10 miles south of Big Spring.

Dr. Newman Named To Head Howard Payne

BROWNWOOD (AP)—Dr. Guy D. Newman, promotional vice president of Baylor University, will become president of Howard Payne College when Dr. Thomas H. Taylor retires June 1.

Dr. Newman accepted the presidency yesterday shortly after being selected by the school's board of directors.

Texans Score Zero Again

HOUSTON (AP)—Texans got their plows cleaned again yesterday in the judging of breeder cattle at the annual Houston Fat Stock Show.

It was the second day of judging in which Texas didn't win a single breeder banner.

Herschede Ranch, Hereford, Ariz., showed the grand champion Hereford bull and the female grand champion Hereford. The Haystack Angus Ranch, Longmont, Colo., showed the grand champion Angus bull. The grand champion female was shown by Ralph Smith, Chillicothe, Mo.

Previously all the Shorthorn and Jersey titles went to Arkansas, Illinois and Indiana animals.

However, Texans did win some breeder sheep and market rabbit ribbons.

Jan Hoyle, 10, Houston, won first with a pen of three pink eyed New Zealand white rabbits.

Brian Davis, Menard, had the champion Rambouillet ewe and Duery Menzies, Menard, showed the champion ram.

H. C. Noelke & Sons, Sheffield, exhibited the winning Corriedale ram. Clifford Chrouser, Columbia, Mo., had the champion ewe.

The Double O Stock Farm, Marion, Ind., took the titles in both sexes of Shropshire sheep. Helms Bros., Bellville, Ill., did the same among Southdown sheep.
