

The Rains Came - At Last!

WATER RUNS WILD - This past week's deluges flooded highways in several places in this area. Cars above are shown crawling through hub - deep water flowing across U.S. 84 just over in Lamb county east of Muleshoe.

U.S. 70 FLOODED, TOO - Water snaked across U.S. 70 in several places between here and Earth after this past week's downpours. This shot was made 10 miles east of Muleshoe at the Bailey-Lamb county lines. The water stretched across the highway for more than half a mile.

THIS IS COTTON, PARDNER - Somewhere down under this water is what was once a flourishing cotton crop. Re-planting, if it is to grow cotton this year, obviously will be necessary. The shot was made near Pleasant Valley which also had a pint-sized tornado.

PLAYA LAKES A-PLenty - The rain-created lakes, known as playa lakes, sprang up all over the South Plains after up to 10 inches of rain fell in Bailey county. This lake, incidentally, is barely outside Muleshoe near Richland Hills. (All Photos by Journal Staff)

Parched Farms Soak Up Deluges; Crops Flooded

Rains, long overdue, came in bunches here this past week, dumping as much as an unofficial 11½ inches in the Bula area, flooding roads throughout the Muleshoe territory and shoving cotton deep into the mire.

Muleshoe had an official fall of 3.35 inches, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The rains were a Jekyll and Hyde event. For dryland farmers the downpours were a blessing in one respect, putting long-dormant land into condition for planting late but still profitable.

But, by the same token, the rains also were a curse; hundreds of acres were flooded and must be replanted, giving a Jekyll and Hyde complexion to the weather picture.

A pint-sized tornado that failed to have the customary funnel shape, hop-scotched through the county, spewing damage in several farming communities Wednesday night.

Nickels Pleasant Valley gin 12 miles east of Muleshoe on U.S. 70, was damaged, and cotton trailers toppled over like bowling pins.

S. K. Flatt, a farmer in that area, called it a "small twist" which settled down on his farm and lifted the roof off a building housing Latin-American workers.

J. K. Adams, county agent, said 40,000 acres must be replanted or planted in this county. Of course he stressed the fact that much of the dryland area had not been seeded in the first place, thus the rains will make planting possible. However, thousands of additional acres must be replanted.

Roads were flooded in virtually every direction out of Muleshoe, and did extensive damage in some sections.

Bill Johnson in the Pleasant

Valley area east of Muleshoe said his cotton was covered by a lake of water a foot deep. "And what the water doesn't drown out, the frogs will stomp to death," he quipped.

Roads managed to stay open, but flooding slowed traffic to a snail's pace. A 10-inch fall at his farm. Many farmers reported two inches or more throughout the entire Muleshoe area.

In the Enochs area, two barns were destroyed on the Bradley Robinson farm and wellhouse was blown down at Enochs. Roof on one of the school buildings also was lifted by the twister. A dairy barn was destroyed on the John Hubbard farm, and D. J. Cox reported the loss of a dairy barn.

Rain gauge overflowed with Lester Howard, 13 miles south of town, reporting a 10-inch fall at his farm. Many farmers reported two inches or more throughout the entire Muleshoe area.

In the Enochs area, two barns were destroyed on the Bradley Robinson farm and wellhouse was blown down at Enochs. Roof on one of the school buildings also was lifted by the twister. A dairy barn was destroyed on the John Hubbard farm, and D. J. Cox reported the loss of a dairy barn.

The continued rains, which started Wednesday and extended throughout the night and well into Thursday, knocked out 290 telephones in the Muleshoe area, and in the south part of the county, Bailey County Electric Cooperative reported the loss of a number of power poles.

John Blackburn, Bala, reported 10 inches of rain fell on his farm Wednesday and Thursday. The rains were general throughout the South Plains. Nazareth, 33 miles northeast of here, reported a four-inch downpour, but Dimmitt got only 6 inch, but had there again.

Board Reshuffles Teachers, Approves Three Contracts

Muleshoe school board reshuffled two teachers, named three new ones and extended contracts of two others in a busy session this past week.

The board also named a tax equalization board. Mrs. Kisty Jean (Pruitt) Lee was hired as a fourth grade teacher at Richland Hills, and contracts for two teachers were extended for a year. Mrs. D. B. Lancaster's contract was approved for algebra I in the high school, and Mrs. Martha McOrnack's contract was approved as a homemaking teacher.

Mrs. Lee is a native of Dallas and holds a bachelor of science degree from Texas Tech. She had taught for two years in the Lubbock school system.

Mrs. Lela Breckenridge was transferred from the fifth grade at DeShazo to junior high as a reading teacher, and Mrs. Wanda Newsom from sixth grade science in junior high to homemaking in senior high.

Five resignations also were accepted by the board. Winona Daniel, a teacher in the fifth grade at Richland Hills, has resigned to join her husband in Lubbock. Latoyia Howell has resigned as a fourth grade teacher at Richland Hills, and Eva Rogers has given up her post as a seventh and eighth grade art teacher in junior high. William D. Slayden resigned as a sixth grade teacher at junior high.

Also leaving the system is J. E. Bachman, a sixth grade teacher in junior high. He is moving to Lubbock to do work on his master's degree.

Named to the tax equalization board were Ernest Locker, Morris Douglas, Leon Lewis and Ben Yeager with Earl Schmitz and Byron Owen as alternates. First National bank of Muleshoe was selected as the next biennial auditor after bids were opened at the session this past week.

Three old school buses were sold to Clarence Carpenter, El Paso. His bid of $2600 was the highest received.

The board spent considerable time discussing the new salary schedule for teachers as a result of recent Texas legislation. However, no definite action was taken pending official information from the Texas Education

Library Reading Program Is Off To Speedy Start

After just eight days, 120 boys and girls have registered for the children's summer reading club program at the Muleshoe Area library, Bernice Camp, librarian, said Saturday.

A record number of 163 books was checked out Tuesday as children browsed throughout the area flooded to the library, and a record of 748 books was rung up during the first eight-day period.

"The librarian and volunteer workers were kept busy every minute from Tuesday, the first day of the program, through Saturday," Mrs. Camp said.

As an added encouragement to get them off to an early start on the required reading, the boys and girls registered for a drawing held Saturday for a number of gifts.

Winners were: A Mary Poppins doll to Dovie Reynolds, for first prize, a junior printing set to Lee Clodfelder, second prize; Mary Poppins pop-out fun books to Cynthia Winkler and Tevanna Pierce, and two boys' books were won by Kevin Tucker and Tommy Clements.

Mrs. Camp said the response to the program has been good and that new books are being added every day. Ninety-six new books were ready for the first week and 45 more will be issued soon. "We will have an adequate supply of books," Mrs. Camp said. "and boys and girls are invited to continue to register for the reading club."

Recent donations include: Gail Darsey; 13 children's books and volunteer work; Mrs. Bernard Phelps; 35 adult fiction books, mostly late book of the month selections, one of these is the much talked of, and much requested, "I'll Cry Tomorrow" by Lillian Roth; Mrs. J. A. Nichols; 28 magazines, mostly Pilot and Flying magazine.

25 Amendments Due For Voters' Action

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
Twenty-five proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution were recommended by the 39th Legislature. Amendments will be voted on in three different elections during 1965 and 1966.

First election will be voted on November 2. They would:

- Extend to four years terms of governor and other statewide elected officials now limited to two-year terms;
- Increase state representatives' terms from two to four years;
- Permit full state participation in federal medicare program;
- Authorize the Legislature to set salaries of the lieutenant governor and speaker;
- Set up an $85,000,000 student loan fund;
- Authorize $200,000,000 more in veterans land bonds;
- Require district and appellate court judges to retire at 75 and set up a system for removal for misconduct;
- Expand the investment authority of the public school retirement system;
- Increase the state property tax from 42 to 47 cents and allow the extra five cents to college buildings;
- Exempt from the property tax locally a hospital which spends as much as $1,500,000 a year on care of indigents;
- Fourteen amendments on the 1966 general election ballot;
- Add $200,000,000 more to the water development fund and permit use for conveyance and

We Still Want Mule Stories, And Pictures

Response to last week's plea by the Journal for mule stories and pictures for our Mule - a Ramma edition July 4 has been good, but we still need more mule stories, pictures and facts. And we need them as soon as possible.

For example, in the facts category, The Journal would like to know such things as:

1. Who owned the biggest herd of mules in the early days?
2. Did anybody operate a mule train here before the coming of the railroad?
3. Who was the best mule trainer in these parts?
4. Whose mule had the reputation for being the meanest mule . . . and the kindest mule?
5. Who farmed the biggest tract of land exclusively with mules?
6. What part did the mule play in building the railroad?

These are just some of the questions that we need answered. If you know the answer, please call the Journal - or better yet, write out the account and send it in.

Youihs' 'Kidnap' Girls; Parents Drop Charges

Three frightened youths, one 15 who didn't want "to be called chicken," and the others 17, are out of jail simply because the parents of two girls "thought it best just to drop the whole affair."

They could have been charged with abduction, kidnapping, or assault as a result of an incident involving a 14-year-old girl and a 15-year-old girl.

Judge Glen Williams said the boys and the girls' parents told conflicting stories about the incident.

One of the girls, she told Judge Williams, had been to a baseball game and was on her way to visit a girl friend, she says, when the three boys in an automobile gave chase. She told Judge Williams she outran the boys and managed to reach her friend's front door. She charged that the boys got out of the car and gave chase on foot, but the step-father of the girl friend opened the door and let her into the house. The boys left.

The boys, however, told Judge Williams that they had picked up both girls and had asked them to go to a movie with

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Butler, Billy Cunningham

A white archway entwined in crystal, greenery lighted with candles formed the setting last Thursday at 3 p.m. when Miss Mary Evelyn Butler and Billy Charles Cunningham exchanged wedding vows in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. D. Hallford 501 E. Garfield, Morton.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James C. Butler, Morton and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cunningham, Baileyboro. The Rev. Leon Perry, Causey, N. M. read the double ring ceremony.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of chantilly lace and silk illusion net. The high neckline featured a Peter Pan collar. The bodice of lace had a cutout neckline featuring iridescent sequins. The sleeves came to the wrist forming petal points. The full length skirt was of French illusion net hung from a tiara trimmed with pearls and iridescent sequins. Scalloped lace also completed the veil. She carried a white covered Bible with a pink rose corsage.

Miss Patsy Butler, Morton, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Miss Jo Ann Wells and Miss Brenda Mullnix served as bridesmaids. They were all attired in sheath dresses of pink embellished lace with white accessories. They carried long stemmed pink roses.

Candelighters were Miss Glenda Hemphill, Hale Center, and Miss Linda Kay Cunningham, sister of the groom. Ring bearer and flower girl were Brent Richardson, Lubbock. The flower girl carried a white basket filled with white carnations and pink roses.

Bobby Cunningham, Three Way, brother of the groom, served as best man and Eddie Reynolds, Baileyboro, cousin of the groom served as groomsman.

The bride's mother was attired in a beige print chiffon dress with beige accessories and a rose corsage. The groom's mother chose a green silk dress and black accessories and a pink rose corsage.

A reception immediately followed the wedding ceremony and was served to 75 guests. The bride's table was laid with a white lace tablecloth over pink, with a miniature bride and groom on top. Appointments were of silver and

Homesteading, It's All Over, Warns Bureau

Judging from recent nationwide promotional schemes, the gun has sounded on the greatest "free public land" bonanza since the Oklahoma Land Rush in 1889.

The ballad proclaims that Federal lands have been opened up to homesteading and that fertile acreage is waiting for all who are long on desire but short on cash. The cost? Why, it's free for the asking, or little more than the cost of the paperwork — or so the promoters claim. And the promoters offer a printed list of such land offerings in return for a certain fee.

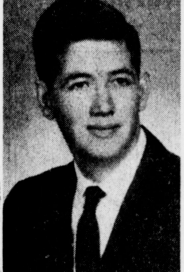

Free land schemes are nothing new. Such hope bubbles have been floated over the land-hungry American public ever since the West was won. And, as always, the Department of the Interior has been forced to explode them.

"There's no such thing as free land — from the government or anybody else," according to Charles H. Stoddard, Director of Interior's Bureau of Land Management, the agency in charge of administering the nation's 460 million acres of public domain.

"Far less than one percent of lands left in the public domain is suitable for farming," he said. "So homesteading is almost a thing of the past. And when public lands are sold to the public, they are sold at the fair market price, mostly at public auction."

The homestead legend dies hard, despite the fact that the really suitable agricultural lands have long since been settled and transferred out of Federal ownership. What's left is mostly true desert, very costly to reclaim, even when water is available, rocky hillsides and semi-arid rangeland. It has great value for livestock grazing, mineral development, forestry, recreation, hunting and fishing and many other uses — but seldom agriculture.

Stoddard pointed out that notices of public land sales are available at the Bureau's State land offices. Any citizen interested in sale notices can be placed on the mailing list free of charge by simply writing to the appropriate land office, he said.

Patrica Rohde, Jerry W. Farmer Married By Bridegroom's Father In Double - Ring Rites

At 8 p.m. last Friday evening Miss Patricia Ann Rohde became the bride of Jerry Wayne Farmer in a double - ring ceremony officiated by the father of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rohde, Pampa, are the parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Farmer, Assembly Of God Pastor, here.

A white wrought - iron archway entwined with greenery, floor baskets of yellow mums, baskets of greenery, two seven-branched candelabra bearing yellow tapers and a white satin covered kneeling bench appointed the scene for the wedding which was solemnized in the First Assembly of God Church, Pampa.

Miss Melvina Wagoner, Levelland, organist, presented traditional wedding selections and accompanied Miss Lucretia Hartsock, Norman, Okla., as she sang, "Because of You," "True Love" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Wearing a chapel - length gown of silk organza over tulle, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The fitted bodice of the gown featured a sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves which came to petal points over the hands. The front of the bodice and bell - shaped sheath skirt were embellished with alabaster lace motifs. A chapel - length train was attached to the back of the gown below the neckline. The bride's three - tiered elbow-length veil of illusion fell from a coil of illusion petals adorned with seed pearls topped by a seed pearl tiara. She carried a cascade crescent - shaped bouquet of white roses centered with white yellow - throated phalaenopsis orchids.

Bridal attendants were Miss Laecra Sharp, Seminole, Okla., maid of honor, Miss Linda McCoy and Miss Dianne Ammons, bridesmaids; Mrs. Art Rohde Jr., bride's sister in - law, bridesmatron, and Cheryl Robbins, bride's cousin.

in, junior bridesmaid. Dressed identically in floor-length gowns of yellow peau de soie, featuring scooped necklines and bell - shaped skirts and white gloves, they carried crescent - shaped bouquets of yellow pom pom mums and salad leaves.

Serving the bridegroom's best man was Art Rhoads Jr., bride's brother, and Phil Haskie, Fort Smith, Ark., Jimmy Seely, Lamesa and Ronnie Farmer, Muleshoe, bridegroom's brother, served as groomsmen and ushers. Louny Robbins, bride's cousin, was junior groomsmen.

John Oxley and Dennis Walker, cousins of the bride, served as candlelighters.

An azalea pink silk suit, complemented by white accessories, was worn by Mrs. Rohde for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Farmer was attired in a pale blue lace suit accented by blue accessories. Corsages for both mothers were of yellow cydium orchids.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church annex. An ecru crocheted cloth, made by the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. John Rohde, placed over yellow linen, covered the bride's table which was centered with silver candelabra entwined with greenery bearing yellow tapers surrounded by the bridal attendants bouquets. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Robbins, presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Walker, Denver, Colo., also an aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake. Mrs. Polnac, bride's cousin, attended the guest register.

After changing into a yellow silk suit with white accessories and lifting the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet the new Mrs. Farmer and her husband departed for Dallas on a wedding trip.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Pampa High School, attended Southwestern Assembly of God College, Waxahatchie. The bridegroom is a 1963 graduate of Muleshoe High School, and attended South Plains Junior College one year and Southern Assembly of God College one year.

A new U. S. Army recruiter for the Muleshoe area has been assigned to the Clovis station, 117 W. 4th, it was announced this week by Lt. - Col. Enoch G. Martin, Amarillo. The new officer is Sgt. 1-c Joe E. Valverde Jr. whose home town is Masquero, N. M. He was in Muleshoe Friday making arrangements for the enlistment of two Muleshoe youth, expected to complete their enrollment this week.

Miss Jocila Lovorn, assistant editor of Arizona's Baptist Beacon, stopped by Muleshoe Friday afternoon to visit friends on her way back to Phoenix from covering the convention in Dallas.

Mrs. Ruth Briscoe and son Joe Dan, joined by Mrs. John Garrett and Carolyn, of Earth, and Mrs. J. Pitts of Riverside, Calif., who is visiting in Texas returned Monday from a week's trip in Springdale, Ark. The children enjoyed fishing, horseback riding and other activities. The group visited with former Muleshoe residents, the Bill Jeters, the Cotton Sins, the Roy Howards and the Chick Ottwells, in Arkansas.

lashed at the wheat crop which had been hard hit by hail only a week before. Hereford area also was hit by hail. Apparently the heaviest fall to the south of Muleshoe where the moisture was most needed, the dryland section, Morton had 3 inches and several roads in the area were closed for a time by the high water. A pelting hailstorm, and a golf-sized hail, and Bovina got a pelting from hailstones. Clovis gauged 1.05 inches of rain Wednesday and Portales a half-inch. Additional rain boosted the total in both areas Thursday.

The rainfall here measured 3.35 on the official gauges operated by R. J. Clump, local weatherman. Temperatures climbed only to 70 degrees Thursday, with an overnight low Friday of 43 degrees.

Adams said "much more" of the 40,000 acres to be planted will be for first-time seedling trial for re-planting.

Adams takes the cotton acreage at 104,000 and of this, 70,000 was irrigated cotton and all ready up to a stand when the storm hit. Some 30,000 acres of dryland was either unplanted or planted and lost due to high winds, with the exception of a few footpads. Following the rains of this past week, there will be some 30,000 acres of dryland to be planted, and a rough estimate of 10,000 acres of destroyed cotton to be replanted. This total of 80 acres of cotton to be planted, and a rough estimate of 10,000 acres of destroyed cotton to be replanted.

Dryland to be planted to grain sorghum, he figures, may reach as high as 50,000-60,000 acres.

Dryland grain sorghum has plenty of time to mature, but there is some concern that midge may invade dryland fields and cut yields. Any grain sorghum blooming after Aug. 15 could be invaded and damaged by midge," he said.

Other area totals through Thursday were reported as follows:

- Amherst, 5 inches; Brownfield, 1 inch; Clovis, 2.5 inches; Dimmitt, 3.85; Friona, 2.42; Hale Center, 3 inches; Hereford, 4.6; Levelland, 2.50; Littlefield, 5 inches; Maple, 7 inches; Morton, 3 inches; Needmore, 8.5; Olan, 2.99; Shallowater, 1.75; Slaton, trace; Sudan, 3.45; Tulia, 2.50, and Willfirth, 2 inches.

them, and that the girls said they would have to ask their parents.

Accordingly, the youths drove to one of the girl's homes and parked outside while the two girls went into the house to ask permission.

When she returned to the automobile to tell the boys that her parents had refused, the two 17-year-old boys grabbed her and attempted to force her into the car.
They released her unharmed. Officers were called and the boys were hauled into the judge's office.

"At first the girls' parents considered filing charges," Judge Williams said, "and were preparing to make statements to the county attorney and the city police. However, they later called to say they had changed their minds and decided to drop the whole affair."

Judge Williams said the two older boys could be tried in court on any one of three charges, but the 15-year-old would have appeared before him on juvenile charges. "The younger boy told me that he didn't want the other two to try to kidnap the girls, but he said he was afraid he would be called 'chicken' if he protested."

The judge added, "I tried to impress upon all three of the boys the seriousness of their offense, regardless of which story is correct. I think they all left my office pretty much shaken by their close call with the law. It was not the first time two of the boys had been in bad with the law; so far, now on they will have to walk a straight line or they'll be hauled into court—and quickly."

Rains Increase Weeds Problem In Cotton Crop

LUBBOCK — Success in post-emergence weed spraying in cotton comes from carefully calibrating equipment and good coverage, according to Emer Hudspeith, USDA agronomist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center here.

Rains in the Muleshoe area increase the weed problem. Hudspeith suggests four steps for getting successful post-emergence spraying: Follow instructions for the chemical, set application rate correctly for a given speed, use a surfactant and spray when weeds are easily killed.

Researchers at the center who have followed these steps have had effective and economical control of weeds.

Poor calibration of equipment is the cause of most unsuccessful post-emergence spraying, Hudspeith said.

Here is the calibration method he suggests:
First, record the number of seconds it takes your tractor to travel 100 feet going the speed to be used while spraying.

Second, collect spray from all nozzels used for one row for the number of seconds required to travel 100 feet.

The number of ounces collected is equal to the number of gallons applied per acre of crop. If the amount is not suitable, small adjustments can be made by changing pressure or speed. Large adjustments require changing spraying tips.

"Most spray instructions list the amount of spray needed per acre for broadcast application," Hudspeith said. "When hand spraying it's important to figure the amount required for the area sprayed."
As an example, Hudspeith said a herbicide that should be applied at the rate of one pound per treated acre should be applied at the rate of 1/4 pound per crop acre when applied in 10-inch bands on 40-inch rows.

here, says careful calibration not only increases chances for a good weed kill, but also gives the best results for the money and time invested in spraying. Surfactants must be used with post-emergence herbicides for most effective results, Hudspeith said.

A surfactant, he said, is a solution that "makes water wetter." Herbicides enter plant leaves more rapidly when a surfactant is used.

Weeds suffering from drought are more difficult to kill, he said, and this is why so many South Plains farmers spray soon after the first summer irrigation of cotton.

Hudspeith says farmers who need more information of post-emergence spraying should contact their county agent. PUBLIC NOTICE

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON SEPTEMBER 7, 1965.
 SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 44 proposing an Amendment to Sections 2 and 25 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to provide for an increase in the membership of the State Senate from 31 to 39 members; to fix the membership in the House of Representatives at 150 members; to require apportionment of the Senate according to population; and to delete the limitation that no single county is entitled to more than one Senator.
BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
 Section 1. That Sections 2 and 25 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended to read respectively as follows:
 "Section 2. The Senate shall consist of 39 members. The House of Representatives shall consist of 150 members."
 "Section 25. The state shall be divided into Senatorial Districts of contiguous territory according to population, as nearly as possible."
 "Should the Legislature enact any enabling legislation in anticipation of this Amendment, no such law shall be void by reason of its anticipatory nature."
 "This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

 Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the 7th day of September, 1965, at which election all ballots shall have printed on them the following:
 "FOR the Constitutional Amendment increasing the membership of the State Senate from 31 to 39 members, retaining the present membership of the House of Representatives, requiring apportionment of the Senate according to population, and deleting the limitation that no single county is entitled to more than one Senator."
 "AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment increasing the membership of the State Senate from 31 to 39 members, retaining the present membership of the House of Representatives, requiring apportionment of the Senate according to population, and deleting the limitation that no single county is entitled to more than one Senator."
 Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

Plains Cotton Growers' Chief Takes Dim View Of Proposed Cotton Plan

"While there are others who voice approval, cotton merchants are the only ones really advocating a direct compensatory payment plan in cotton legislation."

So reports Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. He continued that: "If they are successful in getting payments made directly to farmers and a low loan level — or no loan at all as their testimony clearly shows they would prefer — most producers believe they will have cut their own throats along with that of the commercial cotton farmer."

Johnson has just returned from House Agriculture Subcommittee hearings on H. R. 8149, the new cotton bill introduced by Senator Harold G. Carter of North Carolina. The bill would give cotton producers a choice between a non-recourse loan at the current level or the market price plus a direct payment and would cut the minimum national cotton acreage allotment from 16 to 14 million acres. Producer groups are of the opinion that the loan-payment choice is merely a "gimmick" whereby they are being wooed to take the first step toward acceptance of direct payments.

In his further analysis of the producer consensus, Johnson said: "Producers feel that direct payments and reduced acreage would be the beginning of the end for commercial cotton production on a profitable basis, and they are unwavering in their opposition to such features in any cotton bill." Producer groups contend that no law Congress could pass which involved direct payments to farmers would be adequate to prevent limitations from being placed on the amount of payment any one farmer could receive. This sooner or later would be done from the floor of Congress through the agricultural appropriations bill. Such they say, would stifle incentive, encourage the inefficient and ruin cotton's chances for lower production costs and greater markets.

"Without a chance to regain markets lost to foreign grown cotton and manmade fibers," Johnson stated, "United States cotton as a textile fiber would be a dead issue."

The philosophy of the Cooley Bill apparently is toward reducing production below consumption. Carried to its conclusion, this philosophy would snowball cotton down the hill to the bottom of the fiber market. Producer philosophy, on the other hand, calls for a cotton bill designed to increase consumption above production, leading to greater markets and eventually to increased acreage and better profits. "This was what producers had in mind when they supported the Agricultural Act in 1964 which made cotton available to our domestic mills at a more competitive price," Johnson says. And he pointed out that estimates of the increase in domestic cotton consumption during the 1964-65 marketing year range from 900,000 bales to 1.1 million with the bill only in effect 10 months.

MORE AID FOR HALE CENTER - Bailey county folk have responded in a big way to Hale Center's appeal for help after a tornado struck that town recently. Among truckloads of items for Hale Center victims was a truck sent over by the Bailey County Citizens' Band Radio Club. Here's Don Gover, the club president, inside the truck as it was making ready for the trip to Hale Center. The Glen Rowland family and the Meredith Fretts family in Muleshoe helped collect the items which Gover says "were deeply appreciated by the Hale Center folk. John Agee supplied the truck. Witnesses' Hold Area Meet

Members of the Muleshoe congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have returned home this week after attending their semi-annual circuit assembly in Vernon. Witnesses from 16 congregations in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma were present.

Friday night by way of talks and demonstrations the theme "Willingly Fulfill Your Ministry" was highlighted. It was pointed out that opportunities of greater service are not limited to just older persons, but that all, young or old, male or female, can reach out for greater privileges.

Saturday afternoon the witnesses heard a talk on dedication, after which baptism in water was performed on new ministers. Jehovah's Witnesses view baptism as a public symbol of their dedication to serve God, and also count it as their ordination as ministers.

Sunday afternoon, Harry A. Fetzik, district supervisor from Brooklyn, New York, spoke on "The Moral Breakdown — rains so far this spring, but farmers are still hoping that it will rain in time to plant cotton and feed.

John's Feed Mill Has Special Mix

Anyone having livestock and wanting the right kind of feed should see John Fried owner of John's Custom Feed Mill at 523 East American Blvd. The firm manufactures all types of feed for all livestock: hogs, cows, horses, mules, chickens, dogs and even birds. You can also buy minerals, salt and insecticides here.

Mr. Fried mixes special types of feed for dairy cows as this feed makes them healthier and more productive. His many years of experience in this business has taught him what types of feed various animals like and what type makes them fat and healthy.

No matter what your feed problems are, take them to John Fried and he can certainly help you to find the right mixture for your livestock.

Starting in 1941 Mr. Fried has

The Albright Invitational basketball tournament set for Reading, Pa., Dec. 29 - 30 will include Albright, Dartmouth, Long Island University and Williams.

Editor: It is my understanding that the Legislature of the State of Texas has placed the Counties of Lamb and Bailey in the 18th Congressional District. If this action finally becomes law and safely withstands court tests, the 18th Congressional District will be constituted of 30 counties including Bailey and Lamb. In the past I have received many communications and requests from people living in these two counties and have always been most pleased to be of aid or assistance in helping to solve the problems of our area.

The Honorable George Mahon, who has so ably represented you throughout the years, is a very close personal friend of mine and we have worked together to the end that the best interests of our section of the State be best served. We shall of course continue to do this.

I shall look forward with great pleasure to an early opportunity to visit with you personally.

Sincerely yours,
Walter Rogers, M. C.

odds favoring Connally's remaining in office for another term — and another term could be four more years, if the constitutional amendment passes to double the elective span of state-wide officials.
 If Carr runs for the Senate, apparently there will be a big field battling to succeed him in the attorney general's office. At least a half dozen state senators reportedly have their eyes on the job. Of the lot, Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio has been busiest so far.
 Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, who makes no secret of the fact he wants to run for governor, most likely will run for re-election in 1968.
 Congressional races are shaping up on the assumption that new reapportionment bill will stand up. If it does, Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin or Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity likely will take on Congressman John Dowdy of Athens in District 2.
 New District 23 in South Texas (from southern Bexar County to the Mexico border) has drawn interest from State Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo, Walter Richter of Gonzales, greater and more varied assortment of problems than one legislature in modern times, and educated predictions were that lawmakers could not solve all of them without one or more special sessions.

 Connally disagreed with critics who insist the redistricting bills will be knocked out by federal courts. He thinks the bills will meet the courts' test. The session closed out calmly, in contrast to most of those of the past. After congressional redistricting was disposed of two days before the quitting deadline, there wasn't much left to wrangle about.

Rep. Glen Kotlmann of San Antonio and Rep. Wayne Connally of Floresville, brother of the governor.
 High sources regard Merrill and campaign manager for Governor Connally, his older brother, as another "distinct possibility" in the District 23 field of candidates. But there is no chance of the Connally brothers opposing each other.
SESSION LAUNDED — In an unusual closing address to the 59th Legislature, Governor Connally produced it as "the most laudatory of any in this century."
 Governor specifically cited work in the areas of education, public health, finance, water and legislative redistricting. He recalled that last January the 59th was faced with "a
