HARRIMAN'S CONTROL OF RAILROADS ON INCREASE

Magnate to Secure Trade of All Pacific Coast

NEW LINES RUSHED

Possession of Road East to West Makes Him Master of Situation

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 22.—The Chronicle says: Although it has been apparent for some time that Harriman is seeking to control the Pacific Coast, the Southern Pacific plans are announced for a new coast line from Portland to San Francisco by the way of Eureka. The magnitude of the plans of Harriman have just been made public. When all has been completed he will have a railroad extending from the border line of Canada to the heart of Mexico. It is announced that Harriman has succeeded in securing terminal rights in the cities of Seattle and Tacoma. The road from Portland to Seattle is now being built and will be completed in a year.

Competes with Hill

This part of the line will compete with the Hill lines running from Portland to Seattle. From Portland south along the coast plans for a road have been in preparation by officials of the Southern Pacific for some time. The line from San Francisco to Los Angeles is now in operation and forms another link in the long chain.

Rushing Construction

From Los Angeles south the Sunset route will be used to Yuma, where trains turn along the short of the Gulf of California to Guaymas to Guadalajara, which road is now building, and orders have been received to rush the construction as much as possible. From Guadalajara the next step will be to the City of Mexico and Harriman will have a line down the entire length of the Pacific coast.

Special to The Telegram.

VINELAND, N. J., Sept. 22.—Henry W. Wood, brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad's new electric line to Atlantic City, is suffering from a shock received in an odd way. He threw a bucket of water on a journal to cool a hot box on a car and the spray falling upon the third rail established a circuit and Wood was whirled around and thrown off his feet by the current that came through the mist to the bucket handle.

SULTAN MARKED

Insurgents Levy Taxes and Expel Officials While Organizing for Fight

By Associated Press.

TANGIER, Sept. 22.—The situation in Morocco is becoming daily more menacing. European properties at Tanlet, Rifmogador, Casablanca and even Tangier are threatened. The natives are equipping and organizing as if for a holy war and the sultan's authority is non-existant. Sheiks in the Marantes region have demanded complete autonomy. It is now up to the sultan to succeed in preventing the big feudatories from uniting, but their power is growing daily. They interrupt taxes, raise levies and expel officials sent by the sultan.

MANCHURIA HELD ON $300,000 CLAIM

Cable Company Saves Ship and Demands Pay

Special to The Telegram.

HONOLULU, Sept. 22.—The steamship Manchuria, which was floated last Sunday, is now in charge of United States Marshal Hendry under an attachment placed by the Pacific Commercial Cable Company for $300,000 for the pay of the Cable Company's steamer Restorer in salving the Manchuria. It is alleged that the Restorer constantly towed the Manchuria at great risk to the Restorer, from Aug. 2, the day the Manchuria went aground, until Sept. 16, the day she was floated.

Pay is also demanded for the service of the Restorer in towing the Manchuria to Honolulu after she was floated. The libel alleges that the Manchuria is worth $2,000,000 and that she had a cargo valued at half a million.

HURT BY HORSE

Special to The Telegram.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 22.—Bud Doble, the famous driver and trainer, who has handled trotting horses for the last forty years and is known throughout the country, is in a serious condition here, as the result of being seized by a vicious stallion's teeth, shaken like a rat and thrown to the ground.

Before Doble could arise the animal reared, then threw himself on the prostrate form of the trainer, crushing Doble into insensibility. Only the timely arrival of stablemen who beat off the horse saved Doble's life. Several of his ribs are broken.

STANDARD OIL MEN STRIKE

Will Tie Up Company's Business in Middle West

REFUSE DEMANDS

Thousands to Take Up Fight Against Octopus and Force Granting Advance

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—The Chronicle today says:

Warfare between the Standard Oil Company and the labor unions of the country was begun last night when the Whiting, Ind., employes of the company quit work to enforce their demands for an increase in wages. The strike, which already threatens to tie up the business of the big corporation in the middle west, is likely to assume gigantic proportion before it is ended.

May Become General

It was predicted last night it might involve all of the employes of the company in the country and become a general one. Already the Chicago labor unions are preparing to seize the opportunity presented by the Whiting strike to make more trouble for the company.

The Chicago men were wholly unprepared for the trouble which started at Whiting because of the fact that the employes there were not members of a union, but after a hasty conference last night it was said that they would support the men who went out and that no one from Chicago would take their places.

5,000 Men May Qut

Three hundred firemen employed by the Standard Oil Company left their places yesterday. More than 5,000 employes who are working with their men are scheduled to leave their places Monday morning. There are engineers, skilled mechanics, laborers and others, the officials of which said last night that they would refuse to permit the members of their organizations to work with new men who might be put to work in the places of the strikers.

Wage Advance Asked

The strike of firemen was called because the representatives of the Standard Oil Company refused to advance wages from 22½ cents an hour and 25 cents an hour and agree to grant to all of the workmen the eight-hour rest day. They also refused to recognize the union.

Their desire is to be united. The Lipans, now almost extinct, and who were the terror of the Texas border in the days of the republic, have all united with the Kickapoos in Mexico.

A steamer, not an oil burner by some oversight, will take the young men to Tarrytown, from whence the Rockefeller automobiles will take them to the magnificent Pocantico estate of the elder Rockefeller.

Just what the scope of the entertainment there will be has not been made public, but that it will be out of the ordinary the reputation for lavish expenditure of young Mr. Rockefeller makes certain.

Patrick Prefers Electric Chair to Years Commutation

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer condemned to die for the murder of William M. Rice, does not want a pardon, but vindication, says the American today. The paper gives a brief interview with Patrick, in which it quotes him as saying:

"I would rather die in the electric chair than spend a year in state prison under a commutation of sentence."

Patrick, in his cell, is directing the last fight for his life. His chief reliance is based upon what he calls, in a brief prepared by him for submission to Governor Higgins, the uncertainty of expert medical evidence as exhibited in his case.

WHO GETS THE TOGA?

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 22.—Considerable talk is indulged here in political circles of running Horace Chilton for United States senator. His name is being mentioned as a suitable man for the place now held by Senator Joseph W. Bailey.

O. B. Colquitt, railroad commissioner, is also mentioned for the honor.

Special to The Telegram.

CORSICANA, Texas, Sept. 22.—Ex-Senator Roger Q. Mills of this city may wear Bailey's toga in the senate, as there is much talk of making him a candidate.

Special to The Telegram.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22.—United States Senator Bailey of Texas, whose reelection is fought by the Harris County Good Government Club of Texas, dropped quietly into St. Louis this morning. When asked by a reporter at the Planters hotel for an interview, he declined to talk for publication. He spent most of the day in conference with Senator Stone and Colonel Moses P. Wetmore.

The movement of the Harris County Good Government Club was mentioned but Senator Bailey did not comment upon it other than to say: "What I have to say regarding that will be said when I get to Texas and on the stump, not in the newspapers." He added that he regarded the charge as trivial.

Senator Bailey said:

"You can just say that I refused to be interviewed upon any subject. I am not talking politics today. I am just here on my way to my home at Gainesville, Texas, from Washington, and as the morning fast trains do not run to my home I am compelled to stay in St. Louis until 8 o'clock tonight. My visit has no political or business significance."

Holsey Would Investigate

Special to The Telegram.

CORSICANA, Texas, Sept. 22.—Senator-elect Walter R. Holsey says:

"I do not think any officer of this government should be allowed to serve the government and the corporations of this country at the same time. Senators draw salaries from the people for their services and no patriot would want to, nor could he, serve the people of Texas and the corporations at the same time. I think the next legislature should make a close investigation of the official conduct of certain attorneys who claim to represent the people in our legislative halls and at the same time claim a moral right to represent corporations as a private attorney."

Houston Club Against Bailey

Special to The Telegram.

HOUSTON, Texas, Sept. 22.—Yesterday evening, in response to request, H. F. Ring, president of the Good Government Club of this city, stated that the club had a membership of fifty, all good citizens, but was organized only a few weeks ago before the testimony of H. Clay Pierce of St. Louis, but for the purpose of defeating Joe Bailey for the senate, chiefly because of his relationship as shown in that testimony and believed here before the testimony was taken. The address sent out is the sentiment of the members taken in meeting and fully indorsed. The club, he says, is composed of democrats.

President Ring was at one time city attorney of Houston, and Treasurer John S. Stewart was also city attorney at one time, and is a son of the late Charles Stewart, congressman for several terms from this district.

In response to other questions, President Ring stated this evening that the address, already sent out to all papers in the United States, would be sent out next week with a supplement containing more points applicable to the case, some taken from recent developments.

ADRIFT A WEEK ON KEEL OF BOAT

Captain and Sailor Have Terrible Experience on Sea

Special to The Telegram.

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—The amazing story of a skipper and a sailor who spent a week on the bottom of a capsized boat is published in this city. The sailing vessel, Anna Rebekka, which left Memel with a cargo of wood, collapsed when she was forty miles out. The crew, consisting of a skipper, sailor and ship's boy, clambered onto the vessel's keep, on which they drifted about for a week without food or drink. The sailor was once washed away, but the captain saved him.

Sunday morning the boy went mad and died. The vessel shortly afterward drifted within sight of Schwarzot, and a lifeboat put out and took the shipper and sailor and the body of the boy.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22.—A dispatch today from Havana gives a signed statement by the insurgent leader, General Asbert, in which he says if peace is not made by the Palma administration the revolutionists propose to attack "all property" in order to precipitate American intervention.

"And this will we do," Asbert continues, "because we are absolutely certain the present government of the United States does not aspire to annex our youthful republic since President Roosevelt, who personally helped to destroy the Spanish regime, has the ambition to be the guardian of our liberties and now as before lend his disinterested efforts to work for justice which we support."

600,000 AT GAY CONEY

Gangs of Roughs Cut Dresses of Women in Crowd

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—It was estimated last night that 600,000 persons were at Coney Island, it being the next to the last night of Mardi Gras. That is the biggest crowd the island ever saw, not excepting Labor Days and Fourths of July. The streets were solid masses of humanity.

With the streaming thousands were gangs of young roughs who took advantage of the immunity from arrest and offer of such a wealthy gathering to perpetrate a number of criminal acts.

Some of the roughs went through the crowd cutting the dresses of the women. Others had feather ended ticklers and with these they jabbed into the faces and hands of people they passed. Some twenty men and women went to the Coney Island emergency hospital to have slight wounds of this kind dressed.

The crew tell a story of hardships and suffering, having been thirteen days in an open boat and living on whale blubber during the entire time. The Alexander was wrecked during a fog at Cape Terry, near Banks Land, Aug. 12. The ship sank almost immediately and the crew had to take to the boats with very scanty preparation.

When they were picked up by the whaler Herman the men were almost dead and only the greatest care saved them. The Herman took them to Point Barrow, where the Dollar picked them up and brought them to this city.

A party on board the steamer Stanley has been dispatched to recover the body. The governor of Macao offered to send the gunboat Rio Lima to stand by the steamer Heung Shan, but the offer was declined thankfully because Commodore Williams had already sent a torpedo boat on the same mission.

It is unofficially reported that the Heung Shan's back is broken. The salving steamer Protector is proceeding to the scene. A dredger has been dispatched to the scene of the steamer Kinshan's stranding, confident of success. An attempt to tow off the stranded steamer Fatshan was unsuccessful. The rheumatism, Mears said, passed from the man to the dog and the next day the puppy howled and moaned from the pain. The animal was promptly chloroformed. Several other victims of the disease have since resorted to the cure, and it is said that beneficial results have followed.

AWAIT RETURN OF STENSLAND

Son Will Try to Induce Father to Fight Case

GREED LED TO RUIN

Confesses Thefts Commenced Ten Years Ago, Intending to Make Good

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Paul O. Stensland, the fugitive Chicago banker, will arrive at this point late today or tomorrow, probably Sunday, on board the steamer Prinz Adalbert.

He is in custody of Assistant State's Attorney Olsen of Chicago, who, with Managing Editor Keely of the Chicago Tribune, traced Stensland to Tangier, Morocco, where the banker was found and arrested, and Mr. Stensland will be taken at once to Chicago, and officers from that city are here and have arranged the formalities regarding the extradition. Stensland himself is not expected to object, as he has said since his capture that he desired to be taken to Chicago as speedily as possible and that he would make no trouble.

Son May Dissuade Father

However, Stensland's son, Theodore, has been in New York and it has been stated that he will try to dissuade his father from returning without first asserting his legal rights in opposing extradition in the courts. There may be some interesting maneuvering should the son make such a move.

Stensland Aged 65 Years

Paul O. Stensland is about 65 years of age. He is a native of Norway, came to this country when young and became a successful man. He gained the confidence of the community in which he dwelt, and when in the prime of life found himself president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, one of the larger outlying banks in Chicago, trusted and respected.

His Greed for Gold

Ten years ago, according to a confession he recently made, greed of gold overcame him and he began using the bank's money in personal investments; he lost, took more in the hope of making good his losses, and the end came when he was old and in the shade of life, found himself so deeply involved that he had to flee to escape the wrath of the law and the people whose money he misused.

Depositors in Riot

With his flight his bank was closed and for some days Chicago witnessed the spectacle of hundreds of people who were defrauded of their savings clamoring at the doors of the bank, panic-stricken and almost in a riot.

This in brief is the story of Paul O. Stensland's crime, which he has acknowledged and for which he is now returning, with bowed head, to receive punishment.

Claims Liability $500,000

Stensland's misappropriation of his bank's funds have been estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. Since his arrest he has said that his liability to the bank was $500,000. The Milwaukee Avenue State Bank closed Aug. 6, last, and Sept. 3, or less than a month after, Stensland was arrested in Tangier, Morocco.

It has been stated that the clew to his whereabouts was given by a woman. Stensland expressed a willingness to return, and, as the sultan of Morocco was acquiescent, little time was lost. It was arranged to have the steamer Prinz Adalbert call at Tangier. This was done, and Sept. 12 Stensland and his captors sailed for New York.

One Death, One Suicide

Some results of the failure of the Milwaukee Avenue Bank other than the panic among the depositors was the death of one of the depositors, through excitement over his loss, and the suicide of another man who lost the savings of a life time. Other officials of the bank are under indictment on various charges regarding the bank's failure.

MRS. HETTY GREEN, IN HER OLD AGE, DRAWS CLOSER TO HER CHILDREN

More Human Side of Greatest Woman Financier Comes to Surface at Her Tranquil Old Homestead in Vermont—Does Not Like to Have Son in Politics

(BY MARLIN E. PEW.)

Special to The Telegram.

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt., Sept. 22.—Along the crooked streets of this town there walks every morning, at exactly 9 o'clock, a venerable woman of sturdy figure who is dressed in black and moves with a firm step that would do credit to a woman of half her years.

The townspeople gaze at her with curiosity as she passes along to the postoffice, from which she emerges with armsful of mail. They recognize in her the famous Hetty Green, the embodiment of the highest development of financial genuis ever known in her sex, the mistress of $40,000,000 nine-tenths of which is the reward of her years of endeavor and economy.

E. H. R. GREEN.

Mrs. Green's Only Son, Over Whom She Is Jealous of Texas.

Few of the millions who know her by fame would dream it was she if they were to see her. Quiet and motherly, stopping here to kiss a child, there to advise a mother of a sick baby, again to pass the time of day with a tradesman, Mrs. Green is not the woman of the Chemical National bank, the cold money machine that barters in seven numerals with the kings of finance in New York.

A representative of this newspaper found her in the middle of the street, surrounded by a group of children.

Misunderstood!

"It does not matter much to me how the world judges me," said Mrs. Green, speaking reluctantly of herself. "It does not matter if they think me only a woman of finance and figures, a human cash register without heart or soul. I am and have been misunderstood throughout my life. It is the way of the world.

Minds Own Business

"It ought to be realized that I have followed my own way pretty consistently, minding my own business, not judging my neighbors and looking for rules in life to the ten commandments. I can go to my grave with the record of never having wittingly done harm to another, that I have tried in my own way to do some good for others.

Not Bested by Men

"You ask if a man has ever worsted men in a business deal. I can say that no man has," and here the old woman laughed. "Some have tried and regretted it. You know how I have been sued, but I always win, for I have the right on my side. I am sure to have that.

"Now, remember this. Right will always win, if not today then tomorrow. To win, you must have right on your side. You must follow the ten commandments. They are the eternal law.

"There are in this country thousands of clever young women who, if placed in my position, could have done better. I have always known how to buy cheaply and sell high, and that is the secret of successful business.

When She's Happiest

"There is one time in the year when I am very happy. It is when I come to Bellows Falls for a rest in the old homestead. I drop all thought of business. I enjoy my friends and think of my children—Sylvia, my companion, and my boy Edward, whom the people of Texas want to become governor.

A Mark Hanna Echo

"I do not like to have my boy in politics. I lent him once before to Mark Hanna when Texas wanted Tom Reed for President of the country. Perhaps you don't know it, but Mr. Hanna wanted Reed for President, and Texas favored him.

Wants Her Son

"I am an old woman, a little tired of work and my son is my right hand. It is very well to talk of his duty to his state! He is a very good man, but I cannot help feeling that his first duty is to his mother.

A Pessimist? No

"I've seen the world change," said Mrs. Green after a lapse. "I've seen people change, and I do not know that either is much better in spite of all our wealth and grandeur today. There is one thing I want to tell you, though. It tries my patience to hear all sorts of self-appointed judges crying that we are getting worse and that the country is going to the dogs. Really, men and women are at heart about like their fathers and mothers were.

As to Russell Sage

"You remind me that Russian Sage often took a pessimistic view of the conditions of humanity. Well, his life was, in many ways, an example to young men, not, perhaps in every way. Still, on the whole, he set a good example and did much good. His wife wanted me to subscribe $100,000 to a lying-in hospital. I would not. I have no faith in big advertising charities with big expenses and big salaries to a lot of officers. I believe in living quietly and in such a way that no one, even the people who are helped, shall be aware of the identity of the giver.

Doesn't Know Wall Street

"Do I admit that Wall street sets the example of immorality and extravagance? Well, I don't admit anything of the kind. I know next to nothing of Wall street, although people insist upon connecting me with it. I have nothing to say about Mr. Harriman's deal in the Union Pacific matter. I don't even know him. But if people go down into Wall street and gamble they take their chances, as they do in everything else. All that I know of Wall street is that I sometimes buy in the market and sell when I get my price."

YOUNG MEN TO STUDY BIBLE

Baraca Movement Reaches Ft. Worth and Class Organized

There was organized at the First Baptist church, corner Third and Taylor street, Sept. 16, the first Baraca class for Fort Worth, with the following officers: A. B. Stewart, president; J. B. Rawlings, vice president; O. B. Riley, secretary; F. E. Pound, treasurer; H. C. Wolfe, assistant secretary; S. B. Rister, librarian; J. E. Turner, teacher; L. E. Hodges, chairman membership; M. L. Hargrove, chairman social; with an enrollment and all present of twenty-five.

The Baraca movement is sweeping over the entire country, there being more than one thousand classes organized at present in the United States.

Baraca is simply organized Bible classes with their platform: "Young Men at Work for Young Men; All Standing by the Bible and the Bible School."

Atlanta, Ga., has a class of three hundred, San Antonio more than one hundred. The Dallas First Baptist church class meets upon the church lawn, there being no room to hold them. Fort Worth will have one hundred by Christmas, as there are more young men available here than any other city in Texas.

ROGER Q. MILLS AGAIN TO FRONT

Name Being Spoken of Here as Successor to Bailey

Roger Q. Mills, author of the famous Mills tariff bill, the "Lion of the Tribe of Judah," who was turned down and out of the United States senate by the Texas democracy because of his position as a gold standard man, is again a senatorial possibility as a successor of Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, because of recent developments in the Waters-Pierce investigation.

The sentiment against Bailey in Texas is growing stronger day by day and petitions asking democratic county executive committees to meet and instruct members of the legislature to vote against Bailey's re-election are now being circulated in more than one county. The matter is being considered in Fort Worth, only sixty-five miles from Bailey's home, and it is quite probable that the county committee will be called together for this purpose.

In connection with Bailey's successor the name of Roger Q. Mills of Navarro county is on the tongue of hundreds and men who seven years ago were his bitter enemies now seem to think that Texas made a mistake when Mills was retired from the senate and now favor him as a successor to Bailey. Mr. Mills is now east with his wife and possibly knows nothing of the use of his name in connection with the senatorial succession, but he has strength today where he had enemies seven years ago. At an informal caucus of prominent lawyers held here at which Senator Bailey was discussed unfavorably, the name of Mills as his successor was used and the sentiment for him was unanimous. It was suggested, however, that Mills is rather old, being 77, but it was claimed that he was yet as vigorous as a man of 65.

SUIT HANGS ON WEATHER RECORD

Local Records Consulted for Evidence in Damage Action

D. S. Landis, official in charge of the local weather bureau, made a very important trip to Weatherford Friday, taking with him the weather bureau records for the month of April, which will be used as evidence in a suit for alleged damages against the Frisco railroad, in which inclement weather, it is alleged, played an important part. The alleged damages were sustained at Cresson, Parker county, Texas, on the night of April 15, 1906, when the complainant, a man, missed the time of departure of a train on the defendant's road and was compelled to remain at the station from 2 a. m. until 7 a. m. It is alleged that despite the low temperature on this night, no fire had been made for his comfort, and as the result he took cold, which, the complainant claims, has incapacitated him to this day.

There is an important point in Mr. Landis' records, which are the leading evidence in this suit. Congress has passed a bill making all official weather bureau records unquestionable evidence before all courts in the country. There is no going back of the record reports and in this case the record will in a large measure determine the right for the alleged damages. Mr. Landis has been called upon for similar records on several previous occasions.

AT GREENWALL'S

Mabel McCane, Mabel Addington, Johnny Fogarty and Leo Kendal are the bright particular thirty-two candle-power lamps of "His Highness the Bey," which ends its bookings at Greenwall's tonight—which statement is of no value to the person who hasn't seen "His Highness" unless it be further told that the first of the quartet named is the most fetching musical comedy songstress who has been in Fort Worth since Helen Byron; the second of the quartet is stout, blonde, graceful and a hard worker; the third is long, lanky, fits the stage as if he had been raised on it and makes a droll sort of fun with every movement from his feet up; the fourth does a jolly German comedian stunt.

Drollness is the saving grace of all members of the "Highness" cast in the particular company which is now in Fort Worth. As a musical comedy "His Highness" is a decided improvement on the usual run in that it occasionally depends on pure dialogue for dramatic effects. The music is fairly tuneful and the lines more than ordinarily witty.

The audience caught the encore habit early in the first act Friday night and every sore thereafter came in for an abundance of recalls. The stage settings are bright.

A little more rapid action in the movement of the play and a more juvenile chorus would put "His Highness" up among the best ones on the road.

Pasteur Institute Successful

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 22.—Superintendent B. M. Worsham of the State Lunatic Asylum submitted his biennial report to the governor today. It shows a total population of 1,171, of which 642 are males and 547 females. During the year 57 died.

Of the patients treated, 226 were from Texas, 20 from Indian Territory, four from Oklahoma and one each from Arizona, Arkansas and Kansas. One hundred and ninety-nine cases were caused from dog bite, 20 by skunks and 12 from house cats.

Receipts were $2,410 from the Pasteur department and disbursements $1,039. The success of this department is very gratifying.

SECTION MAN KILLED

Santa Fe Train Runs Over H. B. Sanders

H. B. Sanders, a section man on the Santa Fe railroad, was struck by a Santa Fe switch engine and run over by the engine and three cars in the Santa Fe yards at 6:25 a. m. Saturday. The man's body was badly mangled and he was dead when picked up and taken to L. P. Robertson's undertaking establishment.

Justice John L. Terrell was notified and held an inquest, the verdict being that the man came to his death by being struck by a train. O. J. Schell, the engineer, said at the inquest:

"The name of deceased is H. B. Sanders. I am engineer on the Santa Fe switch engine No. 628. About 6:25 a. m. Saturday we were switching in the yards and at the water tank the section foreman cried out to me that we had run over a man. I stopped as soon as I could. We were going about two miles an hour at the time with a train of three cars, going north. The man was dead when we reached him and under the front car wheels. He seemed to be 32 or 33 years old and was working on the North Fort Worth section, but boarded down town. He had his lunch basket with him. The section foreman under whom the deceased worked is named John Chappel.

$500 FINE IN GAMBLING CASE

Heavy Penalty Is Asesssed Against John Dennis

The heaviest penalty ever imposed by a jury for a violation of the laws against gambling in Tarrant county was imposed on John Dennis in the county court Friday afternoon, the verdict of the jury assessing the punishment at a fine of $500, with a ninety days' jail sentence added to the monetary fine.

Dennis waived motion for a new trial and gave notice of appeal to the court of criminal appeals, and at once entered into recognizance in the sum of $1,000, with two securities. This takes the case out of the county court jurisdiction and the verdict of the jury will be in abeyance until the final decision of the appeal in the higher court.

The jury that tried the case against Dennis was J. B. Wynne, E. M. Tarver, C. C. Henry, J. G. Norman, W. L. Foster and J. B. Barksdale. The jury deliberated on its verdict considerably less than an hour.

Dennis was charged with conducting a gambling game in a room in the Metropolitan Hotel. He had been raided by County Attorney Jeff D. McLean and his office force and several deputy sheriffs over the Crown Saloon and after the game was broken up there, it was charged, Dennis shifted his quarters to the Metropolitan. Last February the county attorney made a second raid on Dennis at the Metropolitan and the case just tried grew out of that raid. The defense of Dennis was that at the time he was raided and arrested the game going on at his place was private and not such a gambling game as the law contemplates.

Effective Wednesday, Sept. 26, there will be a general and important change of time on the Fort Worth and Denver City railway.

Under the new schedule trains Nos. 7 and 8, known as the Colorado and Texas express, will be operated through between Fort Worth and Texline only, there being no connection with the Colorado and Southern railway. No. 7 will leave Fort Worth at 8:45 as at present, reaching Texline at 5:25 the following afternoon. No. 8 will leave Texline at 12:01 p. m. arriving at Fort Worth the following morning at 7:45 instead of 7:25 as at present, still maintaining all connections at Fort Worth. These trains will carry a 16-section Pullman sleeper between Fort Worth and Amarillo, the last through sleeper between Denver and Fort Worth will leave the respective terminals Monday night, Sept. 24.

Trains Nos. 3 and 4, now running between Fort Worth and Quanah, will be extended to Childress. No. 3 will leave Fort Worth at 8:30 a. m., or ahead of No. 1—the Denver Special, arriving Childress 6:50 p. m. No. 4 will leave Childress at 6:55 a. m., reaching Fort Worth at 5 p. m. instead of 1:30 as now.

Train No. 1 will leave Fort Worth at 9:45 a. m., the present time, but will reach Denver slightly later, though still early in the afternoon, and in ample time to make all trans-continental connections there and at other Colorado common points. No. 2 will arrive Fort Worth at 6:45 p. m. instead of 5:10, also continuing to connect in that city with lines for various points in Texas and other states. These trains will also continue to handle a through Pullman sleeper between Houston and Denver, and will maintain the present through cafe car service between Fort Worth and Denver.

SHERIFF RAIDS 20 GAMBLING HOUSES

$15,000 Worth of Paraphernalia to Be Burned

Special to The Telegram.

LAWTON, O. T., Sept. 22.—By order of District Judge Gillette and upon report of the grand jury investigation Sheriff Hammonds and forty deputies made a simultaneous raid upon twenty or more saloons and gambling houses of this city last night, seizing about $15,000 worth of gambling paraphernalia. This has been deposited on the court house square and it is believed that the order of the court will provide that it be burned this afternoon.

No resistance worth the name was made to the raid of the officers. The Monarch theater program was stopped and some consternation was created. Feeling is high today and the grand jury is making rapid investigations of gambling. It is said that no less than fifty gamblers have left the city since early last night.

ATTORNEY LOCKED UP

U. M. Simon Imprisoned in Court of Civil Appeals Library

U. M. Simon, assistant county attorney, knows now what it is to be locked up. For a time Friday afternoon he was in durance vile in the appellate court clerk's office and for a while it looked as if he would have to spend Friday night there. Had it not been for the invention of the telephone he would have had to forego both supper and breakfast to say nothing about sleeping on the floor.

Simon was in the clerk's office Friday evening, reading some book from the court library, and when the office was locked up for the night Simon was locked up also. He did not discover his predicament for nearly an hour, and then everybody had left the court house. He pounded on the doors, yelled out of the windows and tramped up and down the clerk's office and finally thought of the telephone. He knew that Justice Rowland had a key that would fit the clerk's office door and he telephoned him at his home and asked:

"For the love of suffering man, come down to the court house and release me; I am locked in the court of appeals clerk's office!"

Rowland went down and released Simon, who was about as glad to get out as a man could be.

"I heard ghosts walking in the hall just before you came up," he said to Rowland.

DEAD NUMBER SEVEN

Five Injured in Jellico Explosion May Die

By Associated Press.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 22.—A special to the Sentinel from Jellico, Tenn., says:

Revised estimates of the dead as a consequence of the terrible dynamite explosion at this place Friday morning show only seven fatalities instead of twelve, as believed yesterday afternoon. However, five of those reported dead yesterday and who are now living are believed to be fatally injured. The list of injured numbers fully 150 and about twenty of these are so seriously wounded some may die.

The property loss is conservatively estimated not less than half a million dollars and may exceed that figure. Citizens of the town have begun heroically the work of rehabilitation and it is now believed they will be able to cope with the situation without the necessity of outside aid.

PLANNING CAUSEWAY

Meeting of Railroad Engineers Held at Galveston

At Galveston a meeting was held Friday of engineers representing the steam roads entering Galveston and the proposed interurban between Galveston and Houston, the purpose of the conference being to consider and revise plans prepared by engineers of the city and county governments for the construction of a causeway across Galveston Bay. The engineers concluded that the causeway should be built in a most permanent manner and to be proof against wind, wave and fire. They therefore recommended improvements which will increase the estimated cost from $1,400,000 to $1,800,000. These improvements include increasing the concrete height ten feet, substituting concrete for the proposed rip-rap, substituting concrete arches for the proposed concrete conduits, and narrowing the structure so that it will only accommodate four tracks and a wagon road, also a duplicate water main.

The conference was attended by Chief Engineer Robinson of the Santa Fe system, with headquarters at Chicago; Chief Engineer Felt of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe; Engineer Colburn of the Southern Pacific, Houston; Engineer Corrigan of the Galveston, Houston and Henderson; Engineer Macey, representing Stone & Webster, and General Manager Cooper, also representing Stone & Webster.

WEATHER WARMING UP

Higher Temperatures Prevail Over Western Half of Country

Warm weather is again prevalent over the entire western half of the country with the exception of a narrow area, in the middle Rocky Mountain region, at which point is noted a high barometer. This area presents a barometric ridge and the local weather is fair and cool. The Pacific coast is still under low pressure but practically no rainfall is reported. Texas is clear and but light showers are reported at Mexia and Longview. Amarillo reports temperatures for Saturday morning ranging from 46 to 84 degrees, Galveston 52 and 76, El Paso 90 and 56. Thunderstorms occurred in the great lake region Friday night chiefly in Michigan and Ohio, also in Missouri and the Potomac valley. The cotton belt is generally enjoying the much needed warm weather, skies are clear and rainfall has been very unimportant since the last report. Light local showers are reported from portions of Alabama and Georgia. Fair weather and low temperatures are noted on the Atlantic coast. New York reports 86 and 72 degrees, Atlanta 88 and 68, Duluth, Minn., 54 and 52 and Spokane 86 and 52. Fort Worth forecast is for clear weather.

BOVINIA KNIGHTS ARE TO REORGANIZE

Famous Entertainment Organization Is Revived

A meeting was held Friday night at the office of Dr. J. L. Frazeur for the purpose of reorganizing the Mystic Knights of Bovinia, which organization furnished entertainment for visiting cowmen and others on the occasion of the annual meeting of Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas at Fort Worth. The meeting Friday night was well attendeded, the offices being filled to the point of overflow and the enthusiasm evidenced was sufficient to insure the success of the present movement.

The meeting was called to order by A. M. Luckett, and on motion Dr. J. L. Frazeur was elected chairman and J. B. Roberts was elected secretary.

Dr. Frazeur briefly stated that the objects of the meeting was to reorganize the Mystic Knights of Bovinia for the purpose of furnishing fun, frolic and entertainment for the cattlemen who will be in attendance at the annual meeting of the cattlemen's association in March, 1907. He said that he had with others interviewed quite a number of business men, men who were members of the former organization, and that the proposition to reorganize for 1907 was enthusiastically received. Suggestions as to the best steps to be taken towards organization were invited, Dr. Frazeur himself suggesting that the reorganization be on the same lines as formerly.

On motion of A. M. Luckett, the chairman appointed the following committee on permanent organization: A. M. Luckett, chairman; Stuart Harrison and Will Lowry.

It was suggested that in the reorganization the old constitution and bylaws were good enough as organic law for the knights, and it was tacitly agreed that these be recognized; but as to the ritual it was urged that there should be much added to it; that the ancient rites should be modernized and brought up to date in order that the entertainment of visitors could be materially increased. The only way to settle this was by committee work, and on motion of Sam Triplett the following committee on ritual was appointed: Sam Triplett, chairman; James O'Dowd, L. J. Polk, R. G. Littlejohn and Press James.

E. L. Coonrod was appointed a committee of one to select a hall in which to hold the regular meetings of the organization.

Lem Day, George T. West and A. M. Luckett were appointed a committee to look up the old membership roll or other books or papers of the old organization, the same being valuable as aid in the reorganization plan.

On motion, Sam Triplett was appointed a committee of one to interview prominent cowmen and enlist them in cause.

On motion of A. M. Luckett a press committee was appointed as follows: T. O. Walker, chairman; Mayor W. D. Davis of North Fort Worth and James D. Farmer.

The question who shall be eligible to membership in the new organization as charter members without having to go through formal initiation was discussed, and it was finally ordered that all persons old members and those who did not belong to the old organization who should attend all preliminary meetings held before permanent organization should be permitted to become members without initiation. The meeting then adjourned until next Wednesday at 8 p. m., when all who wish to get in on the ground floor are requested to meet at Dr. J. L. Frazeur's office, 601½ Main street.

Gruet Aids State

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 22.—J. P. Gruet, former secretary of the Waters-Pierce Oil company, was here with the attorney general today, but left last night before he could be seen.

It was learned at the attorney general's department that Attorney General Davidson and Special Assistant Lightfoot met Mr. Gruet in San Antonio last Tuesday and prevailed upon him to come to Austin. It was also ascertained that Judge Lightfoot had met Mr. Gruet in St. Louis on several former occasions, and that it is now understood that the Texas attorney general received some valuable information from Mr. Gruet.

Mr. Gruet severed his connection with the Waters-Pierce Oil company some time ago, and it is rumored that he was willing to tell all he knew, which facilitated matters for the Texas officials. It has been talked that Messrs. Davidson and Lightfoot had gotten hold of a lot of verbal information, and it is probable that Mr. Gruet's connection with the case explains where the Texas man fortified himself.

It is not amiss to state that Mr. Gruet is the man who was mentioned as having been connected with the Pierce railroad deal of $13,000,000 in Tennessee, when United States Senator Bailey had charge of the property for Mr. Pierce. The press reports stated that Mr. Gruet reported to Mr. Bailey and to New York. Mr. Gruet could not be found to be asked as to these matters.

RAILROAD DEAL WORRIES STREET

Harriman After Line to Cross the Continent

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Union Pacific's purchase of Baltimore and Ohio stock from the Pennsylvania led to the assumption in Wall street of intended control of that property and the formation of a single controlled railroad line from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

The prospect of so radical a departure from existing railroad policy resulted in a flood of surmises over the consequences throughout the railroad world and one rumor of readjustments of control to renew the balance of relations. Opinion was mixed over the benefits to follow. This and the growing lightness of money confused speculation, which continued active.

FAMILY RUNT

Kansas Man Says Coffee Made Him That.

"Coffee has been used in our family of eleven—father, mother, five sons and four daughters—for thirty years: I am the eldest of the boys and have always been considered the runt of the family and a coffee toper.

"I continued to drink it for years until I grew to be a man, and then I found I had stomach trouble, nervous headaches, poor circulation, was unable to do a full day's work, took medicine for this, that, and the other thing, without the least benefit. In fact I only weighed 116 when I was 28.

"Then I changed from coffee to Postum being the first one in our family to do so. I noticed, as did the rest of the family, that I was surely gaining strength and flesh. Shortly after I was visiting my cousin who said, 'You look so much better—you're getting fat.'

'At breakfast his wife passed me a large sized cup of coffee, as she knew I was always such a coffee drinker, but I said, 'No, thank you.'

"'What!' said my cousin, 'you quit coffee? What do you drink?'

"'Postum,' I said, 'or water, and I am well.' They did not know what Postum was, but my cousin had stomach trouble and could not sleep at night from drinking a large cup of coffee three times a day. He was glad to learn about Postum, but said he never knew coffee hurt anyone.

"After understanding my condition and how I got well he knew what to do for himself. He discovered that coffee was the cause of his trouble, as he never used tobacco or anything else of the kind. You should now see the change in him. We both believe if persons who suffer from coffee drinking would stop and use Postum they could build back to health and happiness." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

TUSK UNEARTHED

Italy Farmer Finds Further Evidence Mastodons Once Roamed Texas

Special to The Telegram.

ITALY, Texas, Sept. 22.—Will Scruggs, who resides in the Aquilla neighborhood, a few miles south of Italy, discovered a large petrified tusk in a ditch near there a few days ago. The tusk is ten inches long and weighs eight and a half pounds.

The general supposition is that it was the tusk of a mastodon, which specie of animal formerly roamed throughout this country. A short time ago Rev. J. S. Elliott of this city while digging in the creek banks at Dripping Springs, two miles south of here, unearthed a large tusk four feet long and several inches thick.

DAY OF ACCIDENTS

One Killed, Two Injured by Gin Saws at Italy

Special to The Telegram.

ITALY, Texas, Sept. 22.—Yesterday was a day of accidents in the Emmett community, about twelve miles southeast of here. Allen Northern got his hand caught in the gin saws at the Matson gin and died within a few hours after the accident occurred. His right arm and side were terribly mangled and physicians amputated his right arm in the hope of saving his life. His side was so horribly lacerated that it was found impossible to close he wound by sewing.

The same day W. L. Bailey got one of his hands caught in the gin at Emmett but it is thought that amputation will not be necessary. At the same gin John Brock got one of his feet caught in the seed augur and sustained serious and painful bruises. His shoe saved his foot from being mashed to a pulp.

HEARST LOSES OUT

New York Democrats to Read Journalist Out of Party

Special to The Telegram.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 22. — Two things the democratic state convention will do when it meets here next week to nominate its state ticket. It will read W. R. Hearst out of the democratic party by refusing him the nomination for governor on the ground that he is no longer a democrat, and it will indorse W. J. Bryan as the logical candidate of the democracy for the presidency in 1908.

Mr. Hearst's employes and lieutenants here are panic-stricken by the collapse of his boom all over the state. Their commodious headquarters in the Elliott Square building is a scene of feverish activity. They had believed they were certain of the twenty-seven votes of Erie county in the state convention for Mr. Hearst. Since the delegates were elected in conventions which refused to adopt Hearst instructions they have reduced their claim to ten and will probably get less than half that number. Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, is the last hope of the Hearst men. They have told him that unless he can deliver Tammany's 105 delegates solidly for Hearst they will defeat all his local candidates by placing a local ticket in the field in New York City.

LINEMAN HURT

Lay Across Wires in Mid-Air Before Lowered to Ground

Special to The Telegram.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 22.—Fred Holterman, a lineman employed by the Beaumont Ice, Light and Refrigerating Company, received a shock while at work on the wires on top of a post on Fannin street. Holterman was at work with a companion on top of a pole carrying some eight heavy lead wires and in some way his wrist came in contact with a spot on the wires where the insulation had been knocked off. The shock knocked him unconscious and he fell full length across the string of wires and lay stretched there for nearly ten minutes and until a rope could be rigged up with which to lower him to the ground.

In the meantime the power house was advised of the accident and the current on the wires was shut off. It was generally believed the unfortunate man was dead, but when he was removed and lowered he began to revive. He will recover.

Railroad Rumblings

Estopped by the decision of the United States attorney general in relation to importation of labor from Mexico and because of that decision compelled to deport many of the laborers they had brought in here, the railways of the southern part of Texas have adopted another plan which is yet more effective than the importation under contract plan and does not violate any law. The plan is to spread broadcast throughout the northern part of Mexico that high wages are paid Mexican laborers for work on the railways. The result is that the influx of laborers has been so large that the demand is fully supplied.

To facilitate the work on dam No. 6 of the Trinity river navigation plans, the Texas Midland will build a road about four or five miles long from Rosser on the line of the road below Dallas to the river. The contractors for the dam have options on some of the finest and largest gravel beds in that part of the state and at or near the river. In consideration of the building of the railway the contractors agree to assign their options on the gravel beds to the railway company.

The survey of the proposed line of railway from Taylor to Houston, via Brenham, is about completed and a charter will be promptly applied for. This line would not be any out of the way for an additional route to Houston in connection with the proposed Fort Worth-Georgetown route.

The contract for the building of the big steel bridge of the Colorado Southern, New Orleans and Pacific, over the Atchafalaya was let this week. When completed it will be the largest bridge in either Louisiana or Texas.

Because of the shortness of the grain crops and the need for a liberal importation of grain for food, especially corn, the import duty on grain from the United States to Mexico will be much reduced and may be taken off altogether.

A patent was issued by the state to J. D. Talley for the location of the town of Happy, eighteen miles south of Canyon City, on the line of the extension of the Santa Fe from Canyon City to Plainview.

The Rock Island announces that the bridge over the Cimarron, the scene of the recent disastrous wreck on that line of railway, is repaired so it can be used for the passage of trains.

The Queen and Crescent has put on an additional fast train between Shreveport, La., and Meridian, Miss. The run is made in twelve hours and it gives four trains a day each way.

SHOULD APPLY THE REMEDY

As the one Texas newspaper free and untrammeled of the Bailey influence and with the nerve to disregard the senator's bulldozing and braggadocio methods and first demand that he return to the people the senatorial toga he has trailed in the dust, The Telegram is receiving many words of commendation from an appreciative public. There are also many communications of genuine merit to which we would give space if opportunity permitted. The following from the editor of the San Angelo Standard, one of the leading papers of the state, is a fair sample of a number that have already been received:

Editor Telegram: The revelations made by H. Clay Pierce in the Gruet suit at St. Louis last week of Senator Bailey's connection with the Pierce railroad, coal and other interests are such as to challenge the serious consideration of the democrats of Texas jealous of the good name of their representatives in the national congress. In view of Mr. Bailey's oft repeated asservations of his honesty, high purpose and devotion to the welfare of the people of the state, it is little short of startling that he should be revealed as the attorney and agent of one whose connection with vicious and corrupting corporations has made himself so unpopular with the masses. Mr. Pierce has long been recognized as the representative of the Standard Oil interests in the southwest. His admissions that the Waters-Pierce company has all along been under the domination of the Standard Oil, that there is and has been all along an agreement with the two companies as to the division of territory, that the oil which it sold was obtained from the Standard is only conclusive testimony of things which many people have believed all the time. Mr. Pierce further admits that at the time Mr. Bailey secured the readmission of the Waters-Pierce company to Texas that a majority of its stock was owned by Standard Oil and held in his (Pierce's) name.

But the thing that brings the blush of shame to every true Texas democrat is the fact that their junior senator, whom they so much admired, and who has been heralded as the democratic leader of the senate, and prominently mentioned from one end of the nation to the other, as of proper Presidential size, should be revealed as so closely allied with the interests of Mr. Pierce as to make him his personal representative rather than the representative of the people.

The propriety of Mr. Bailey's connection with the readmission of the Waters-Pierce company to Texas was questioned in 1900, and a farce investigation held prior to his election, but under the whiplash of public opinion, deceived by the gentleman's high personality, nothing was brought to light and he was triumphantly elected. The present situation, however, is far different from that of 1900. The statements made by Mr. Pierce under oath stand unchallenged. He testified that his interests in the Tennessee Central railroad, the Briar Creek collieries, the Cumberland Construction company and a coal company were placed in Mr. Bailey's hands with instructions to manage them as his own; that his interests in these concerns amounted to virtual ownership, being about thirteen million dollars; that he turned these over to Senator Bailey because he did not have time to be worried with them, and that when the auditor's report was to be made he "summoned Mr. Bailey to New York from Washington to hear the report."

What do the unpurchasable democrats of the state think of a senator of theirs subject to the beck and call of the head of such corporations as these? Whose employe is he? That of the people or that of Mr. Pierce?

The democratic party stands square-faced against trusts and monopolistic corporations. It believes that unless the influence of these corporations is checked and the corporations themselves brought under strict control that the power of government will forever pass from the people. If this position is the democratic position, then that senator who becomes the paid agent and attorney of such combinations of capital is in direct opposition to the tenets and principles of his party and is no longer fit to represent them. "No man can serve two masters." This being true we are brought to ask whom does Mr. Bailey serve? The people who elected him and pay him $5,000 a year, or the corporations that pay him several times that amount? The welfare of the corporations and that of the people cannot be identical. Mr. Bailey's service of the H. Clay Pierce interests is indefensible. It places him without question with the interests of the corporations and identifies him as among those who can be depended upon to see that his clients are protected. Mr. David Graham Phillips was not far wrong when he placed him among the list of those senators who could be counted upon to protect the corporations while beating the air as an advocate of the people's rights.

There are situations and conditions when one is absolved from his obligations. The democracy of Texas has said that Mr. Bailey should be reelected to the high office he now holds, but at that time the democracy did not know of his close affiliations with predatory corporations. Under the situation as it now stands Mr. Bailey ought to resign as senator or the sovereign legislators should exercise that right which the constitution gives them to select a successor who can assume the office free of any entangling alliances with the favor seeking corporations and trusts of the country. The good name of the state should not longer be marred by a representative whose private employment puts him in direct opposition to the hopes, desires and principles of the people whom he was elected to represent. It is a situation at once embarrassing and painful to the democracy of Texas, but it has the remedy in its hands and should not hesitate to apply it.

W. J. BUIE.

San Angelo, Texas.

THE WEDDING TRAPPINGS

The magnificent Parisian trousseau of the "future Mme. Corey" is being admiringly discussed throughout the fashion circles of Europe and this country, although the name of the bride-to-wear-it can only be guessed at.

Presumably the woman to be thus gorgeously gowned is Mabel Gilman, the actress whose picture was once so prominently displayed in William E. Corey's New York apartments as to precipitate the big sensational row between him and his wife which resulted in his recent divorce.

But Mabel Gilman is only a guess. It is not safe to assume that a man who has held love so lightly as has Corey should fix his affections upon one for any great length of time, or even upon only one at a time.

Anyway, the name of the woman who is to wear the magnificent new trousseau is a matter of only incidental interest.

The trousseau in this case is of more importance than the woman. With some men, in some grades of modern life, the wife is less consequential than her trappings.

The divorce courts might lose much of their mad rush of business if people married more for each other alone and less for their possessions and other external equipment.

A Montana girl, who is a bride of a month, has had her young husband arrested in New York because he had deceived her into believing that he was a son of Thomas W. Lawson of Boston.

Finding that he is not a son of a millionaire, she will have none of him.

He deserves no sympathy, nor does she.

While he was deceiving her into the belief that he was somebody other than himself, she was deceiving him into the belief that she loved him for himself alone.

It was his supposed connection, standing and prospective wealth that she was really in love with.

The mere man himself, stripped of all this false equipment, is nothing in her eyes but an object of loathing.

Thus the trousseau is the main thing in the marriage of a William E. Corey.

The splendor of the wedding outfit will veneer a very poor quality of conjugal character.

HONESTY IS NORMAL CONDITION

That there are wrongs, in big enterprises and in small, there can be no question.

Some people pretend to believe that this country is going straight to the demnition bowwows because monumental dishonesty prevails in all business.

Poppycock!

Look at E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Company. The popular idea seems to be that a man in his position is so fixed in the habits of rascality that he would steal the coppers off of a dead man's eyes. But Gary has astonished the custom collectors at New York by voluntarily going down into his trousers pockets and showing up $53,000 worth of diamonds and paying on them a duty of $5,300.

This is not a bad sort of honesty, particularly when it is remembered that many people consider it not very wrong to deceive custom collectors if one can.

We hear more about delinquencies of all sorts than we did when the facilities for gathering news were meager.

But the optimist sees that justice, honor and honesty are the normal conditions—that they rule as a matter of course in social and business relations.

Millions of instances in which they are in evidence never appear under startling headlines of the newspapers. They are far too ordinary to constitute news.

An honest man creates no sensation as he passes along the street attending quietly to his business. But the thief in custody attracts a crowd.

The great tendency of our American society, whether political or industrial, is toward the general welfare and the common good.

The whole business structure rests and has always rested on the conviction that men will fulfill their obligations and deal fairly.

This conviction is the foundation of credit.

Ninety-five percent of the total business transactions of this country are carried on not in cash, but in credit based on that conviction, showing how general it is and how firm.

Confidence, not suspicion, is and must be the prevailing tone of the business world.

The proceedings of the bankruptcy courts show strikingly that the great majority of business failures are not tainted by dishonesty or dishonor.

The common belief that the vast majority of men are honest is just as pronounced now as it ever was.

It bears silent but convincing testimony to the fact that humanity is going forward, not backward.

Among the Exchanges

The question now is, which of Mr. Pierce's two statements is the truth—the one he made to the Texas authorities in which he swore the Standard was not interested in the Waters-Pierce Company or the one reported in the newspapers to have been made to the Missouri authorities, in which he stated that a majority of the stock is now held by the Standard? It is immaterial which is true. Everybody knows that he lied to Senator Bailey, if as a matter of fact the Standard was interested in the Waters-Pierce Company at the time of its readmission into Texas. If he would swear a lie to the Texas authorities, why not tell a lie to Senator Bailey?—Austin Statesman.

Has Senator Bailey shown any disposition to break with Pierce, even since his fraudulent practices have been developed? On the contrary, has not Senator Bailey defiantly announced to the people of this state that he proposes to continue to practice his profession? And that is tantamount to the declaration that if the people of this state do not like his representing the Pierce corporate interests they have a poor way of helping themselves.

Attorney General Davidson has handed out a lengthy explanation for allowing all the express companies and the railroads to compromise suits amounting to several million dollars for the little sum of $40,000. Mr. Davidson knows that an explanation is due the people; but they can easily see that his excuse won't hold water.—Tyler Courier.

There seems to be a very general sentiment among the newspapers of the state that this compromise was wrong, and it is very safe logic that all compromises are wrong. One is rarely effected in which an injustice is not worked on one side or the other.

❖ ❖ ❖

Report has it that the Mormons are to abandon the United States and go to Mexico. This is indeed excellent news to this country, but at the same time a trifle hard on Mexico.—Terrell Transcript.

There is no probability of the Mormons abandoning the United States. They have too strong a foothold in Utah and other western states.

The fact that the people pay a United States senator $5,000 a year does not mean that he is the servant of the people. Very often he is the attorney or agent of large corporations that pay him much larger salaries.—San Angelo Standard.

And where such conditions prevail the people should promptly retire that United States senator from business. The high office of United States senator is not a commercial commodity to be used for the financial advancement of any man.

TEXAS PRESS AND SENATOR BAILEY

Not the Man For Senator

According to his own admissions Senator Bailey is not the man to represent the people of Texas in the United States senate.—Athens Review.

Another Explanation Due

Senator Bailey has another explanation coming, H. Clay Pierce, president of the Waters-Pierce branch of the Standard Oil Company, having testified under oath that Mr. Bailey had an important connection with his operations, at one time having complete control of $13,000,000 of Mr. Pierce's capital. How about it, Joe?—Boyd Index.

Prosecute Pierce for Perjury

Senator Bailey should prosecute H. Clay Pierce for perjury and then bring suit against him for defamation of character. On the perjury charge Attorney General Davidson has the evidence. In the city of Waco six years ago this Waters-Pierce Oil case was threshed out, but the action of the state convention did not settle it.—Dallas Times-Herald.

A Run for Political Life

We hear men talk; we hear them say that they do not relish the close relations existing between Henry Clay Pierce and Joseph Weldon Bailey, and these men are not Bailey's enemies, but fair, conservative citizens. Newspaper expressions are along the same line. As we see it, and we write in no unkind spirit, Mr. Bailey is standing over a smoking volcano; he may have to run for his political life and that within the next two months.—Waco Times-Herald.

Political Undoing of Bailey

Wood county democrats have called a mass meeting to be held at Quitman Saturday, Sept. 29, to investigate Senator Bailey's connection with the Standard-Waters-Pierce oil trust. Recent developments in the Waters-Pierce oil investigation at St. Louis has placed the distinguished senator in a bad light before the people, and the opinion is expressed here in Austin that it is going to be the undoing of his political career.—Austin Tribune.

Not Entitled to Re-Election

If Standard Oil and Waters-Pierce are contaminated, certainly Mr. Bailey ought not to have handled their millions. If he has, under the circumstances quoted, had control of large property interests of H. Clay Pierce he is not entitled to re-election to the United States senate. The people of Texas are eagerly awaiting Senator Bailey's explanation and they do sincerely hope that it will be made so plain that Bailey may be able to maintain the high esteem and confidence which Texas has always placed in him.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Whole Country Is Shocked

The whole country is shocked over the exposure of Senator Bailey, which was forced from Mr. Pierce on the witness stand Saturday, Sept. 15, and which appeared in the reports of the Associated Press Sunday morning. The sworn statement by Mr. Pierce that he turned over thirteen million dollars in property to Senator Bailey with power of attorney to conduct its affairs as though it was his own property, is a staggering revelation. The people throughout the country await a statement from the Texas senator.—Tyler Courier.

Judge Bell Real Winner

It is reported that Colonel T. M. Campbell is not allowed time to sleep nor rest by the applicants for positions under his administration. It is a matter of wonder to the few who have not applied whether or not all this dogging after the nominee will cause him to make a change in his selections.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

It looks like a great annoyance to Colonel Campbell to be so constantly importuned for office, but when we come to think of the real facts in the case, it has been but a short time since Colonel Campbell was "dogging" the voters just as hard as 1,200 voters are now said to be "dogging" Colonel Campbell. And it seems to be a case where honors are just about even.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Judge Bell, who is on his wedding trip has the best of his successful rival for political honors. S. W. T. Lanham has broken down in filling the office that he worked so many years to win, and has no compensation for the terrific strain of four years he has passed through at Austin.—Abilene Reporter.

Success of Cotton Mills

The capacity of the cotton mills at Sherman is to be considerably increased, and similar action has been taken by the other mills operating in the state. There is so much prosperity attached to the operation of these manufatcuring institutions that it is surprising there is not a rush to build more mills in all parts of Texas.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The cotton mill proposition has proved uniformly successful in Texas when adequately financed and properly managed. As yet, however, cotton spinning is only beginning in Texas and a big future development in the industry is sure to come.—San Antonio Express.

Instead of the very few cotton mills now in Texas there should be hundreds of them. The Sherman mill is giving employment to a hundred or more people. This number will be greatly increased when the enlargement of the mill is completed. The mill is proving a success and others would do the same.—Sherman Democrat.

Defeat Legislative Salary Grab

It will be a bad proposition for Texas to amend her constitution, allowing $1,000 salary to legislators, unless before doing so the present number is cut down about half. The point is, if we pay more we must have a better quality.—Austin Tribune.

There is not much danger of the people of Texas voting to increase the salaries of members of the state legislature to $1,000 per annum. There is a very general belief among the people of this state that the average legislator already comes too high.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The Herald agrees fully with both its esteemed contemporaries. There is little question but that this amendment will suffer defeat at the coming general election.—Denison Herald.

Strong Man of Mexico

The newspapers of the country are apparently dissatisfied with the magnitude of the revolution in progress down in Cuba, and are doing their level best to pull off a bigger event of the same kind in the Republic of Mexico. But that man Diaz is something of an insurmountable obstacle to the spread of revolutionary doctrine in the sister republic.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Nothing illustrates better the value of the man than the efficiency of the Diaz government, and the weakness of that of Palma. There are times in the history of man when the individual counts as much as an army.—San Antonio Express.

MONUMENT TO VETERANS TO BE PLACED IN HOUSTON

—Courtesy Washington Times.

Design for bronze monument, "Genius of the Confederacy," by Louis Amateis of Washington, D. C., which will be placed by Robert Lee Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy in the city park at Houston. The single figure will be nine feet in height, and will be supported by a pedestal of red granite from the Texas quarries. The spot selected for this monument is a high mound in the city park of Houston, where it will be outlined against the sky in a commanding position in this beautiful park.

The symbolic figure is graceful in outline, vigorous in conception, and thoroughly artistic in its arrangement. The design has been accepted by the chapter from whom the order was received, and the artist is now busily engaged in the various steps which must precede its completion in bronze.

Mr. Amateis is a native of Turin, Italy, and came to this country some twenty-four years ago—a stranger in a strange land, unacquainted with its people or its language, but believing that there were greater opportunties for his art than in the home of his nativity.

THE PUBLIC EYE

Everybody Get Together

To The Telegram.

The predicted happened just as any reasoning, far-seeing man might have expected who had the least conception of business ethics and realized the commercial spirit sufficient to build up a fortune large enough to enable men to own and operate a corporation as large as the Northern Texas Traction Company. For the consideration of right of way over certain streets of the city, the Traction Company agreed to build and maintain car lines. The company was granted that privilege by a large majority of the votes cast, which must be taken as the will of the people, for while the vote was light, the question of "valuable franchises," taxation, bloated and wealthy corporations robbing ordinary humanity, public ownership and all the other socialistic dogmas were thoroughly threshed out ad libitum during the campaign, affording a full and unrestricted opportunity for every voter to make up his mind and vote in accordance therewith. And because many of them did not exercise this privilege and those who did said by a decisive majority that the request be granted, is no excuse, far from a progressive spirit and very detrimental to the growth and advancement of the city to first place, for any man or set of men to say, We will not submit to the voice of the people; they are wrong, as usual, and only we are competent to judge. Our law not empowering the council to qualify, amend or offer a second proposition to go along with the original request, giving the voter a choice between the two, is undoubtedly very lame and needs revising, but under the law as it is, once submitted to the people and passed pro or con should meet with final approval or at least quiescent chagrin and submission without further agitation and turmoil through personal pique or posing as the great regulator of all things mundane. Let the past alone when once settled by competent jurymen and more forcibly take up the graver questions confronting us. Threshing over old straw has ever been a waste of valuable time and energy. It's live issues we want and not posthumous referendary to displace a referendum decision.

Aside from the needless controversy and the settled fact that no business institution worthy the name will submit to being made shuttlecocks of and buffeted about for the edification of an unseeing minority that sits and laments over miscarriage of personal views, harm has already been done the near approaching benefit to badly paid working girls and other small wage earners in whose behalf more generally the 4-cent trip fares in lots of twenty-five or more would probably in the near future have been a reality. We hope yet that the company will not take the mutterings and unfriendly attitude of the handful of never-satisfieds as being an indication of unwelcome in hospitality on the part of the masses, for unless all signs fail, if the question is ever reopened it will be snowed under so deep this hot September sun could not thaw it out in the lifetime of those who profess to be the people's friends, while in fact are actually standing in the way to betterment of the common citizens' condition. An effort to increase the city's revenue by class legislation and thus nullify pending efforts to aid those most in need of it is a most unenviable position for anyone to occupy who is supposed to live by the Golden Rule and walk in sight of the Lord. To single out one particular public utility for our anathemas and favor all other common carriers with exemption papers is "unequal rights to some, special privileges to those who have not provoked our displeasure," for certain it is that justice is not the paramount and ruling passion.

A broad and liberal show of generosity on our part will eventually be met by equal concessions on the part of the company and the people most vitally needful of saving a few dimes each month will be the beneficiaries by being able to ride at reduced rates. This is not only possible, but probable if the unworthy display of antagonism is relegated to oblivion, from whence it should never have been resurrected, as any thorough business man, progressive citizen or far-seeing city-builder will agree. Towns are not builded by opposing forces; it takes unanimity of action, generous treatment and a willingness to divide the risk as well as the profit. We have seen one large enterprise driven from our midst by a grasping, dog-in-the manger spirit, robbing the city and its tradesmen of the opportunity to have and to handle the earnings of a tin-bucker brigade 600 strong. That was the kind of cement which doesn't stick to reactionary elements. Est modus in rebus. GEORGE F. ROBERTS.

LUNATICS ESCAPE

Brought to Town for Safe-Keeping, But Makes Get-Away

Special to The Telegram.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., Sept. 22.—Dick Sheppard, who resides near Warner, and who, it is alleged, is insane, was brought to this city last evening by his brother-in-law, John Ireland. It was the intention of Ireland to place Sheppard in a place of safe-keeping, but while in conversation with one of the court house employes, Sheppard, who had been watching his chance, slipped away and has not been heard from.

Sheppard frightened the inhabitants of Warner Monday night by his strange actions. He is a man of about 45 years of age and is considered dangerous when excited.

CLAIM TEXAS LAND

Old Will Just Discovered May Cause Whitesboro Trouble

Special to The Telegram.

LAWTON, Okla., Sept. 22.—Mrs. J. L. Cozens of this city is one of six heirs that are to receive an estate in Grayson and Cooke counties, Texas, valued at over $2,000,000. The number of acres of land included in the big estate has not yet been ascertained, owing to the vagueness of titles thus far in the investigations. It is known that a part of the townsite of Whitesboro is involved.

The will of R. H. Hollis, the grandfather of Mrs. Cozens, who came to Texas from Virginia in the early '60s, has been found on the records of Grayson county, having been filed there many years ago. This provides that the estate should not be segregated to the heirs until the death of his wife.

Recently a purchaser of a town lot in Whitesboro made an examination of the title and discovered that it yet remained in Hollis or his heirs. This brought to light the fact that nearly all of the entire original estate of Hollis, now distributed among probably a score of farmers in Grayson and Cooke counties, belongs to six heirs.

Arroyo Al's Cow Pony

I took a trip this summer to the market with some steers,
And I struck an eastern city where they sell you tubs for beers;
I was feelin' putry yowlish and I couldn't say my name,
When I wound up, somehow 'nuther, at a high-tone polo game.

There was sunburned doods cavortin' on some ponies in a lot,
And they whacked a little spheeroid till it traveled like a shot;
I couldn't savvy, nohow, and I vowed that I was through,
When I spied a feller ridin' on a pony that I knew.

It was that there buckskin broncho that I rode fer Circle Bar,
He was clipped and oiled and powdered, but I knew each old-time scar;
I had lost him when Bear Hawkins played an extry ace and jack,
And I'd allus had a longin' fer to git that pony back.

Well, he stopped and sorter snorted when I yelled an' old-time "Yip!"
And he bucked until his rider hit the ground upon his hip;
And he came a-runnin' to me, and I jumped upon his back,
And he pitched fer sheer enjoyment when I hit his flank a whack.

When, I rode across the open and I stooped down on the run
And picked up the polo mallet (fer the player he was done)
And I hit that ball a crack, sir, and it sailed plum o'er the fence,
And the crowd jest howled with pleasure, fer they thought the sport immense.

Well, it cost me jest six hundred fer to get my little bronk
And to have that player patched up, from his heels to injured conk;
But I got my old cow pony—and just hear this one thing more:
Don't whisper "Polo" to him, or he'll buck like Satan, shore!

It is Easy

To brand a beer "Pure," but actual purity means to double the cost of the brewing. That is how we attain it.

Schlitz beer is brewed in absolute cleanliness, and cooled in filtered air. Then it is aged for months to avoid causing biliousness, then filtered through white wood pulp. Then every bottle is sterilized. That is why Schlitz is unique for its purity.

Ask for the Brewery Bottling.
Common beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz.

RAIN CAME LATE IN GONZALES

Early Crops Suffered From Protracted Drouth

W. T. Abbott, a resident of Gonzales county, near the town of Wrightsboro, and a stock farmer who understands his business, came on the market Tuesday with two cars of sample hogs from his section. What he said of his section of Texas was as follows:

"While we have suffered to some extent from lack of rain, still we are now in about the condition we should be, remembering that it is cotton picking time. We had no rain from along in February until June and July and in consequence our crop of corn was almost a complete failure. As a rule we raise good crops of corn and most of the county is above the average of lands of the state. Our county has been famous for its fine stock, especially horses. Some of the most famous Texas race horses have been owned by Gonzales county people, notable among these owners have been the Askeys, of whom some are still in the county. We have our ups and downs just as other sections have, but altogether things always turn up more or less good in the end. The agricultural season is so long with us, corn planting beginning in the latter part of January or first week in February, that what hurts at one time may be recovered from and a crop of something else matured before frost. Our cotton is in excellent shape and will bring good results.

No Harm from Weevil

"The boll weevil has not done us any considerable harm as yet, and it is too late now for his efforts to result in much harm. He is around all right, but he, for some reason, has not concluded to work this year. I know a farmer in our section who was a large cotton planter, but the weevils came and wiped him out time after time until he told his boys that it was time to stop raising food for the pesky things and go into something else that would bring in food for the family. He was a big planter. The next season he actually did not plant a seed of cotton. He had some negroes whom he allowed to have patches of cotton from one to two acres or more and the negroes made good crops on the land and were not disturbed by the weevils. This occurring the second year and no weevil, he concluded that they had starved out or got mad and quit, so he went to work and planted a full crop of cotton and the weevils just wiped it up lock, stock and barrel. From this it can be seen that there is no certainty of what the things will do. I think myself that the weevil has been with us all the time and we did not know it until the government got to prospecting round and found them, and then everybody laid them up against the Mexicans.

"We have another railroad now that runs about four miles south of Wrightsboro. It is the San Antonio and Gulf Shore, which, since the legislature passed the merger law permitting the Southern Pacific to merge all parallel lines, has built on to Cuero and there connects with the Texas-Mexican for Houston. They have built a depot at Smiley Lake and that gives us better facilities for shipping than we had when we only had one little line at Gonzales. Despite the drouth and failure of the corn crop Gonzales county lands are increasing in value along with like lands in other parts of the state. There are some large farms in the county and well improved. I suppose that the J. B. Wells place is one of the largest and best improved. It is in the Leesville vicinity and it is noted for the variety of products it produces. Cotton, corn, millet, sugar cane, pepper and other kinds of truck. It is the best improved place in the county, there having been probably some $60,000 worth of improvements made, among these being thirty-five tenant houses. Lands are selling to incoming farmers for not less than $15 per acre and on up. It looks like when we all are offered our price we will have to sell. Fort Worth is certainly a hummer of a city and seems to be rebuilding all over. There is an immense amount of building. Grass and cattle are in good shape now and will go into the winter in a fat condition."

PARIS, Sept. 22.—The news that William Jennings Bryan may visit and address the Choctaw Indians has caused many a curious "Ugh!" to be grunted and many an unnatural question to be asked by the taciturn Indians.

The fame of the orator has penetrated the forests of southeastern Indian Territory and caused more gossip than the last of the Indian executions at Atoka.

But the comment has been favorable to the democrats and the appearance of Bryan is expected to gain the Indians to the democrats.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The bankers are securing gold from France, and their success in thus securing large sums leads to the belief that considerable additional quantities of gold will be forthcoming from that quarter, while it is believed that Secretary Shaw will not much longer delay relief.

The advance in Southern Pacific brought heavy profit-taking, but higher pries yet are looked for. Union Pacific is also expected to advance, thoug perhaps slightly, while Baltimore and Ohio, St. Paul and other standard stocks are receiving strong support. No material reaction is looked for prior to recording of high prices. Continued good support is expected from Copper shares, as the metal situation was never stronger or the outlook brighter. The favorable bank statement issued today will restore confidence on the part of the public, which is waiting a favorable opportunity for heavy operations in the market. The short interests are still large and somewhat inclined to be stubborn on the movement of stocks on important announcement. Steel does not show very good strength yet, and information is bullish on Brooklyn Rapid Transit. Smelting seems to meet stock toward 157 at present and St. Paul around 180, though the tips are to buy when strong and active. Strong support is reported in Atchison around 105 and 106, with a check on advances toward the old high level. For a long pull, a big eastern house regards Missouri, Kansas and Texas as the real thing.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22—The cotton market opened dull and easy at a decline of about 3 points on disappointing cables. The week's sales of spots in Liverpool were 40,000, against 33,000 last week. The amount of cotton forwarded was 51,000 bales, against 57,000 bales last year and 53,000 bales in 1904. The total stock, 285,000, against 672,000 last year and 109,000 in 1904.

There is not much shifting of the merits or demerits of the cotton market arguments. The talent, however, has begun to reluctantly admit that in the absence of a fresh speculation incentive, a steady spot market means unwavering rings.

Floor gossip appears to indicate the existence of very little speculative long interests. There are long hedges, however, with the short end held by the speculators, who are largely dependent upon the working out of these hedges for desired covers. This, then, is much of technical importance underlying the surface situation. The increase for the week of the visible supply of the American cotton was only 85,000 bales, against 143,000 bales last year, and 222,000 the year before, while takings by spinners aggregated 170,000, 164,000 and 109,000 bales for the respective periods. Meanwhile, bearish efforts to force the market down have failed because no one cares to sell the stuff until the technical position shall have cleared up.

On the whole, with the heaviest movement of the season near, both large and small bulls are holding back and not buying for the very good reason that weakness in the months of October, November and December is logical if not assured. In the meantime the gain seems to lack interest, for the man who has not already put up good money on the outcome.

VOLIVA HEADS ZION

Court Declares Him Only Bona Fide General Overseer

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Judge Landis, in the Federal court, has decided there is no irregularity in the election of Wilbur Voliva, general overseer of Zion church. The court declared he will hereafter recognize Voliva as the head of the church and directed a receiver appointed by the court do likewise. The attorneys for Alfred Bills, the rival of Voliva in the election, admitted Voliva received at least 1,300 legal votes while his client received but nine. They insisted on a contest being made, but the court declined to entertain the motion.

BUILD BIG BRIDGE

Contract for Erection Let to Kansas City Firm

Special to The Telegram.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 22.—The contract for the erection of the steel work on the big bridge that will span the Atchafalaya river in Louisiana for the Colorado Southern, New Orleans and Pacific, was let during the present week to the Griffin Construction Company of Kansas City, and the work is to commence immediately. It was announced some time ago that the contract for the finishing steel had been let to the Pennsylvania Steel Company. The bridge will be the biggest one in either Louisiana or Texas.

DEAD MAN ON TRACK

Train Delayed Four Hours Until Inquest Is Held

Special to The Telegram.

EAGLE PASS, Texas, Sept. 22.—The through train from Mexico was delayed four hours yesterday on account of a dead man being discovered on the track this side of Castanio. Under the Mexican law no one is allowed to move a dead body until after the inquest is held, so the train had to be held until a judge was secured and an inquest held.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago Grain and Provisions

Special Cable to The Telegram.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 22.—The wheat offerings were very light today. The locals were bidding the price up. The market is sensitive. Not much wheat is wanted and market is not taking it, only pit traders are the least bit active in buying. Wheat seems to be in a fair shape for a good setback. Cables show a heavy tone from abroad, and without help from them present prices are not likely to be maintained.

Advices from Kansas City indicate that a comparatively large movement of wheat from Kansas City is expected on account of the fear of great damage from weevils, which are said to be more numerous than usual. Duluth advices are to the effect that spring wheat, with present movement and largely increased demand in foreign markets promises to go above 80c.

Heavy rains in the northwest have made the new spring wheat damp, and Minneapolis millers are after dry wheat to mix with the damp. Cash prices in Kansas City were up half a point yesterday with millers and exporters buying.

A local export house has its bids advanced 1¼c on hard winter wheat, but were still about ¾c out of line. A New York exporter who seldom talks for publication, said that the Seaboard was offering to sell Manitoba, Duluth No. 1 northern and No. 2 hard winter wheat at lower prices than it was possible to put the wheat there. An advance in wheat of even 4 cents has worked a wonderful change of sentiment among the speculative trade in the past two weeks. A majority of the traders are now bullish and it will take plenty of rain to justify their position.

CATTLE AND HOGS

Steer Trade Nominally Steady—Cows and Calves Steady—Hogs Steady.

Sheep Strong

Five loads of cattle on the market, with three reported back, made estimated receipts for Saturday 300, against 1,181 a year ago.

Steers

Two of the five loads were medium grass steers and these met with slow sale, packers having loaded up on yesterday's late market with a train load of medium weight steers at $3.35 and were not disposed to take the day's small supply any better figures, if at all. No steers had sold late.

Sales of feeders:

No.	Ave.	Price.	No.	Ave.	Price.
3...	643	$2.75

Butcher Stock

Butcher cows were in very short supply, even for Saturday. Buyers were not at all anxious for a Saturday supply, but were willing to pay about steady prices. Quality was very ordinary and the market dull. Sales of cows:

No.	Ave.	Price.	No.	Ave.	Price.

Sales of heifers:

11...	572	$1.85	1...	680	$2.00

Calves.

Calf receipts were about on a par with the usual Saturday run, 230 head coming in, all heavies, none less than 200 pounds. The supply came entirely from west and southwest Texas. Steady to easy prices prevailed, packers taking hold until the last vealer had gone over the scales. Calves of 224 pounds average made $4.15, and others of 206 pounds sold at $9.25 per head. Sales of calves:

No.	Ave.	Price.	No.	Ave.	Price.
15...	324	$3.00	59...	224	$4.15

Sales per head:

Hogs

Hog receipts for the day were very light, being the smallest of the week, about 530 head coming in, chiefly from the territories, with four loads from Texas points and a few drive-ins. The bulk of the marketings were medium weights, averaging from 179 to 193 pounds, with a few heavy packing hogs from 218 to 237 pounds. The packers were in the market early and the supply was soon exhausted. The market was steady with yesterday's closing, quality considered. Tops sold at $6.40, on both heavies and medium weights, with the bulk from $6.30 to $6.40. Pigs were few in number, being cut from mixed loads and sold steady with tops at $5.50 and the bulk from $5.35 to $5.40. Sales of hogs:

No.	Ave.	Price.	No.	Ave.	Price.

Sheep

Sheep receipts today numbered 438, being southwest Texas wethers of good quality. They were bought by a local local packer at $5, the market closing the week fully steady.

The required printed blanks and literature to take the census have been obtained and to meet the cost of them the superintendents made assessments against the different Sunday schools as follows:

First Methodist, $5; Missouri Avenue Methodist, $4; Mulkey Memorial Methodist, $4; Central Methodist, $2.50; Glenwood Methodist, $2; Peach or Pecan Street Methodist, $1; North Fort Worth Methodist, $1.50; St. Paul's, $2; First Presbyterian, $4; Broadway Presbyterian, $4; College Avenue Presbyterian, $1; Taylor Street Presbyterian, $4; Cannon Avenue Presbyterian $2; First Christian, $5; Tabernacle Christian, $3; North Fort Worth Christian, $1; First Baptist, $5; Broadway Baptist, $5; College Avenue Baptist, $2.50; Kentucky Avenue Baptist, $1.50; Grace Baptist, $1; Glenwood Baptist, $2; North Fort Worth Baptist, $1.50.

It was announced that these amounts could be left at Connor's book store from the Sunday schools.

Hundreds of names of helpers have been handed in but it will be necessary to secure many hundred more at the morning sessions of the Sunday schools Sunday morning, if the whole work is to be completed in the one day—Tuesday, Sept. 25.

While many of the Sunday schools have already had the question up and secured more helpers than are needed in that particular district, still it has been found that a few Sunday schools have not yet taken the matter up, but that they will at Sunday morning's session.

All helpers as well as superintendents will attend the big mass meeting Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist church, and any church and Sunday school people who may not attend will miss one of the greatest meetings of the kind there ever assembled in Fort Worth.

At this meeting the following program will be carried out:

Introductory song service.

Purpose of proposed canvass, by O. S. Lattimore.

Importance of such a canvass, short speeches by pastors of leading city churches.

How to take the canvass, by Jere Reeves, general superintendent of the movement.

This meeting will of course be open to any and all who are interested in the movement, but it is especially important that all canvassers be present to receive final instructions regarding this great undertaking.

SANSOM RANCH IN UPSHUR SOLD

20,000 Acre Tract Bought by D. C. Giddings of Brenham

Marion Sansom of Fort Worth has sold his Upshur county ranch of 20,000 acres to D. C. Giddings of the Brenham banking firm of that name, the consideration being $64,000. The sale includes the ranch improvements, houses, etc., but the cattle are reserved by Mr. Sansom. He will move them to another location.

This deal has been pending some little time, but it was announced by a party concerned Saturday that negotiations were closed Friday night. Mr. Giddings has not made public his plans for the disposal of the new holding, but is understood that the impetus was of a speculative nature.

The sale was made through John J. Giddings of Ennis county.

SALE TO BE DISCUSSED

Members of Queen City Lodge to Meet Monday

To consider the suggested sale of the Pythian Temple, Queen City lodge, one of the owners of the building, will have a meeting Monday evening, at which the special order of business will be the consideration of the committee reports on this question. Notices have been sent to all of the members of the lodge, calling especial attention to the fact that these reports will be presented for consideration at that meeting.

After a long delay the rituals of the new uniform rank company, Ruby No. 65, have been received and now the company can meet at its regular place of meeting on the north side and do its own initiation work if so inclined. No. 2 is willing to help in the initiation work at any time it is so requested.

It is probable that after the regular meeting of Fort Worth Company No. 2, Uniform Rank, Sunday afternoon, that company will be joined by No. 65, and both will go out to Lake Como for drill on the fine drill ground out at the lake. They will leave the city about 3:30 o'clock if the suggestion is carried out.

Brigadier General J. H. Tiller has appointed J. J. Langever on his staff as assistant commissary general of subsistance, with the rank of colonel.

COMPLAIN AT GUTTER

Sanitary Officers Notified of Condition of Gutter

The sanitary officers have been notified of the condition of the part of the gutter on the west side of Throckmorton street, between the Touraine hotel and the Southwestern Telephone building and it is in a fair way to be remedied. The grade of the gutters in front of the two buildings named is correct, but the unpaved part of the gutter between the two buildings causes the accumulation of water there until it stagnates and becomes offensive to the smell and traffic over it keeps it churned and in a semi-liquid black mud state.

Complaint is made by the guests of the Touraine and by others who have to spend a large part of their time in this locality because of the odor and because of the mosquito breeder that the place is.

It is stated by some who should know that the property-holder is the one who is responsible for the paving of the gutters, and if so, complaint will be formally laid before Dr. Barber, the city health officer, with the request that he remedy the evil.

J. P. MORGAN FEARS MERGER MAY FAIL

Ohio May Rule Project Violation of Law

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—At the office of J. P. Morgan yesterday there was signs of apprehension, according to the Times, over the announced intention of Attorney General Ellis of Ohio to prevent the proposed merger of the Hocking Valley and Kanawah and Michigan railroads, on the ground that the merger is in violation of the law.

Deposits of stock under the plan were being received as usual, and it was said by one of those interested in the consolidation of the two roads that the attorney general's opposition would not be taken unless the courts decided that the consolidation as proposed is illegal.

This man said that it seemed that criticism of the merger plans has ground that the two roads were "parallel and competing lines" was entirely captious, since the two systems were parallel for only a short distance between Corning and Athens, Ohio.

Young people's societies and aid societies in the churches, ladies' literary and social clubs, lodges and asked to volunteer the amount needed for a room. The cost of furnishing a room is from $50 up, owing to the size and necessary equipment.
