AFTER MANY DAYS.

BY LEONA.

"After many days" the spring-time
Fills the earth and upper air
With a touch of living beauty
And a glory everywhere.

"After many days" the minstrels,
Whose old lyres were still so long,
Cheer the travelsome forests
With their merry pealn of song.

"After many days" the manna,
Out upon wild wastes cast,
Bears a hundred fold rewarding,
After a deluge blast a year.

"After many days", the harvest,
Lonesome of changing and rain,
Springeth up as flowers of gladness,
Neath God's glorious sunshine.

"After many days" the spirit,
Weighed by many burdens down,
Rises to a better nature—
Crosses strength into a song.

BERLIN, Dec. 26, 1871.

The interest which the American politics possess here would astonish any one who thinks that outside of glory, beer and philosophy there is no subject to stir the sensibilities of the stolid subjects of the Kaiser. It is only, however, necessary to reflect how much of the blood and kindred of the Fatherland is warmed in the bosom of the great republic to alter one's opinion on the matter. Indeed, if there is one pet subject with the Berlinese, it is tracing the political and social in America. The reason of this preface to what I am about to relate will presently appear.

A few days ago I called at the residence of Dr. F. Kapp, formerly of New York, who, having amassed a large fortune in our great republic, has returned to his native land, where once he was a fugitive from justice for having fought the Prussian government on the barricades. I knew that Dr. Kapp was therefore I had concluded to interview him, as I was curious to hear the shrewd lawyer's opinion on the coming Presidential election.

After having exchanged the usual salutations I asked him if he would not tell the Herald what he thought about our next national campaign.

"Well, there is no doubt but that General Grant will be re-elected."

"You are very confident, Doctor; what makes you think so?"

"Simply the reason, that the best cause will always win in the end. So it has been, and so it always will be. Look only at the results of the two last great wars, the one you fought against slavery, and the other fought by the German people for national independence, and can there be any doubt of the truth of my saying? Besides, General Grant has well deserved a second term of office, for he has in a great measure restored national prosperity to your country, and he has materially promoted the faith Europeans have gained both in your people and in your institutions."

"What do you think

OF THE MISSOURI MOVEMENT?"

The Doctor gave a merry laugh. It is concerning to hear a German laugh; you cannot abstain from joining.

"Doctor," said I, when I had recovered, "you seem to see hidden behind the shoulder of the national reformers the ulterior views of Jeff Davis, Toombs, Forrest, Wade Hampton and other worthies."

"O, yes. These fellows will snatch every opportunity that will offer to the helpless of the unrestricted democracy, a chance to step into power again with all their Know-Nothing propensities. But it is not that which made me laugh." And here the Doctor laughed again in another merry outbreak.

"Well, I cannot refrain from laughing when I see

Our Delegates
To the National Republican Convention.

We have already, a few days ago, alluded to the fact, that the Convention which the National Republican Convention, which is to be held in Philadelphia on June 5th of the present year, is anterior to the date on which our own State Convention is to be held, which will be on the second Tuesday of that year. We at the same time adverted to what we believed would happen, unless the date of the State Convention was changed, so as to cause it to take place previous to the National Convention, and in time to allow that body to elect the Delegates, which are to represent our State in the National Convention.

We were greatly afraid, that the appointment of the Delegates by the State Executive Committee, would give rise to dissatisfaction, to petty jealousies within the party, which, considering the results of the last campaign, we could ill afford. Our able cotemporary, of the Houston Union, one of whose editors, Col. Tracy, is President of the State Central Committee, and [illegible] upon the matter as follows:

The political organization of Republicans.

Our Austin correspondent mentions some dissatisfaction at the manner of the time for the Republican State Convention, and joins with some [illegible] in expressing the opinion that it should be called in time to elect delegates to the national Convention.

This whole subject was thoroughly discussed by the State Executive Committee at its last session, held in Austin in October. At this meeting which was large, some seventeen members being present, it was decided, almost unanimously, to call the State Convention at a period later than the National Convention, or rather that we might have the benefit of the delay in the latter in forming our State platform.

The selection of the Delegates to the National Convention was not considered of sufficient importance to warrant the call of a State Convention for that purpose, alone, particularly in a State so extensive in geographical proportions as Texas, where the means of transportation are very poor and expensive.

The reason, and the additional one that the duty of Delegates was acknowledged to be simply to proceed to the National Convention and cast their votes for the renomination of Gen. Grant, determined the Committee to authorize its Chairman at the proper time to appoint the Delegates.

We may say that so far as the Chairman is concerned, he has no special favorites to reward in those positions, and that in making the selections he will be governed by a desire to see every shade and faction of the party, and every section of the State represented in the delegation.

Inasmuch as each Delegate will have to defray his own expenses, it is not presumable that there will be much clamor for a simply ministerial position so expensive to attendance.

SHAWSHEAN.

If we, therefore, may accept the views advanced by the "Union" as those of the State Central Committee we must acknowledge, that, upon the whole, the Committee have acted wisely.

We cannot fail to understand, that the enthusiastic renomination of Gen. Grant, together with the adoption of a wise and liberal policy, will have a favorable influence upon the state of party affairs in our State, and materially assist the State Convention in taking proper measures for the Presidential campaign.

It is equally true that means of transportation in the State are such, as to almost preclude the possibility of holding the State Conventions within so short a period as between the present time and the opening of the electoral campaign. We believe, that our people will see, that it is vastly more important, to have a State Convention after, than before the National Convention.

Even the friends of the measure of holding a Convention before, should being sufficient influence to bear upon the State Committee, as to induce it to change the time, it would be hardly possible, even on such a notice, to have the Convention properly represented, at an early date, for the attainment of the object in view, if it be necessary.

It will therefore be a matter of the first necessity, for the people to have the appointment of delegates to the national Nominating Convention in the hands of the State Central Committee.

That committee, we know, is composed of true men, and tried Republicans, who will leave to give them a word of advice:

Be very careful in [illegible] the time. The press of every [illegible] every day we have [illegible] in their most sacred obligations, the party there.

The [illegible] the fire—they must be [illegible]

The Union will [illegible] with the date of [illegible] Convention and cast their vote for the renomination of Gen. Grant.

If none of the Delegates, to be appointed by the State Central Committee shall be in attendance of the time of the [illegible] the unanimity of our people in his renomination [illegible] doing their duty [illegible] Gen. Grant, and [illegible] vote, for the renomination of Gen. Grant.

We are very [illegible] Delegates.

We [illegible] of the State Central Committee will be [illegible] this important matter.

In regard to the nomination of Vice-President, we respectfully urge the State Central Committee to consider before instructing the delegates in this regard, the peculiar claims of General [illegible]

[illegible] on account of his faithful service to his country and party, [illegible] reputation be a most proper [illegible] but we think also that it is [illegible] Southern Republicans should have some recognition. We think that as a rule when the President is nominated from the North, the Vice-President should be a Southerner and [illegible] would go far towards [illegible] this section.

We do not believe, that Texas has ever had a President or Vice-President [illegible] from the ranks of her citizens and [illegible] the Lone Star State, [illegible] developing her immense resources, and [illegible] growing in wealth and population, [illegible] right to consideration. General [illegible] with miles all the necessary attributes to be presented to the Convention, as the choice of the Southern States. [illegible] born, [illegible] his services in the field [illegible] the gubernatorial chair of his State, [illegible] government presented so numerous and unprecedentedly difficulties, were [illegible] brilliant, his record is without a stain, his capacity [illegible] his honesty and straight forwardness have become almost proverbial. We [illegible] Delegates will be instructed or pledged [illegible] of Governor Davis to the State of Texas for the Vice-Presidency [illegible] that he will [illegible] the nomination.

We have confidence in the good judgment of the Committee, and earnestly trust, that the unanimous vote of the delegation from our State, will be [illegible] with the wish of all true Texas Republicans, cast for "Grant and Davis."

THE Democratic line has ceased to roar, for a season, after the decapitated drive. He is not as hungry as he was.

SAPPHO is going to furnish the Casino masquerade supper. We congratulate the gay masqueraders.

IN less than three days the third of all citizens living outside of the limits defined in the cattle ordinance will petition to have those limits extended.

ICICLES fringe the roofs of the houses and the pavements are glazed with ice; rather a singular state of affairs for this latitude.

THAT Geo. P. Rowell & Co., No. 41 Park Row, are the most extensive advertising agents in this city, is a fact too well known to dispute.—New York Programme.

THE last stage from Concho brought only the mail that should have been forwarded by the stage before. The stage waited several hours for the through mail to make the connexion, but it failed.

WE HAVE heard of several remarkable cures of Dr. McBride. Our readers in this office says that the Doctor has performed wonderful cures in Louisiana, particularly in the rheumatic line, and we therefore feel justified in calling the attention of the afflicted to his card which appears elsewhere.

THE purchase of the property on the bank of the River by the City, is the very best and most profitable act of our administration. In a subsequent issue we will devote an exhaustive article on the subject, showing the advantages of the purchase, present and prospective.

To the best of our knowledge and belief the new regime by the way of Austin is a failure. The temperatures of chickens were frequent, but now they are much more so. But as long as we have no railroad, we may expect this deplorable state of affairs.

MAVERICK & KNOWLES are having quite a run in the grocery line, notwithstanding the hard times.

That friend our youth, Bill Elliot, whose business qualifications are well known, is there to assist customers in finding out what they want. He is the right man in the right place. Make up to barter with him with frequent calls.

THE condition of the street and unfinished pavement in front of the Gazette, at the corner of Commerce St. and Main Plaza should be improved immediately. The pavement has been taken up and a three foot deep trench dug, which does not give pedestrians more than a foot of room to clear the corner in. Quite a lake has formed in the middle of the street, besides. These obstructions should be removed immediately, and if they continue a day or so longer, the city will assert her majesty and fine somebody.

GEN. ERASTUS has received a dispatch from Washington that the Patent Office, for the purpose of directing a Government Depot thereby, has been secured by the proper authority. We are informed that the work of construction will begin early in the spring. If we are correctly informed, a considerable sum has already been appropriated for the purpose, and we have no doubt the present Congress will make the additional appropriations necessary for its completion, provided the present representative of this Congressional district shall use his best endeavors in obtaining a reconsideration of the policy of appointing of the Government, and greater hearing to his selfish claims and preferences for Austin. We fear, however, so far as Mr. Hancock's concerning, although well aware of his designs and desires.

Our citizens, therefore, may congratulate themselves upon the final determination of the much vexed question as to the selection of a Government. That they will be permanently established in this city can no longer be doubted.

We have, so far, entirely kept clear from the personal controversy of some of the Sewing Machine representatives in our city, and had hoped to do so to the last, but the outstanding parties would endeavor by boisterous statements to draw us into the vortex. Notwithstanding they have attempted to wash us with printers' ink, we shall not [illegible] to make our Machine superior to the intelligent public by entering into a personal controversy that has already disgusted them with Sewing Machine literature.

We are willing to submit our Machine to any public test, at any time, where the merits of the Machine can be thoroughly tested, and if defeated, will present to the best newly shortitude institution in the city one of our finest Family Favorites, providing outstanding position name in these terms.

Bennett & Gleason, Gen. Agts.
for Wood Sewing Machine Co

THIS is a free country and every body has the right, to a certain extent, to do what he pleases with his own, but when the owners of property on Commerce St. undertake to paint the front of the stores different shades of sky-blue, we think that the public have rights in the premises, which should be respected. If a man who keeps a nuisance opened his establishment that offends the nostrils of everybody, who approaches within city limits, to tickle to a fine, what shall be done to the man that ploughs the taste and sensibility of the whole people.

And when will this Chinese style of decoration stop? If one man can paint his store sky-blue, his neighbor may try to get ahead of him by painting his crimson, or a mild combination of purple and green, stockstripped with scarlet, while another might give his the appearance of an infant rainbow. When the hot weather comes and brings with it the usual clouds of humbug, it would not surprise us, if an enraged and insulted populace did raise upon the perpetrators of these atrocities, and give them a coat of tar and feathers.

See American Shirtie shirts. B. & G.

THERE have been no cases of drunk and disorderly before the the Recorder for several days, from which we conclude that the cause of temperance is making headway, or that the bar keepers have resolved to do a cash business from now on. The remark is heard everywhere throughout the city, "What dull times." The spell of weather has caused the streets to become as desert, as if forty deputy sheriffs were hunting jurors. Even the the spirits of the auctioneers burn low down in the socket.—When auctioneers droop their items are fearfully indurated. We saw one trying to sell an old rocking chair yesterday to a broken hearted crowd of three freedmen and a Mexican. A youth of about 18 summers was watching the attempt with an composure that betrayed the ownership of the furniture. The auctioneer couldn't get a bid, notwithstanding he praised the old concern with utter recklessness. He could not strike the right cord; he should have tried the sympathetic.

We were confident that one of the negroes would have opened with a dime on the first assault. He should have said though: "What soft and tender recollections are pendant from this furniture. Here stands the owner, a youth with scarce the fuzzy down of manhood around his feeding apparatus, compelled by adverse fate to part with this family relic. He yearns for his morning toddy, and a thirty-hearted ban-ner (pin-eiled) refuses to repose confidence in him to the extent of a dime. It was the last best, and only gift of his departed mother. Oft have her venerable limbs rubbed themselves against its legs, its arms have supported her arms, her back rounded by age has made this depression in its back; its bottom "e" [illegible] Instead of this appealing to the nobler attributes of our fallen nature, he went on lying about the old concern being better than new &c., and failed. But sometimes things are sold for a mere trifle. We know this, because we once sent some valuable articles there for sale, and remember the difficulty we had in coaxing out even with the drayman.

The Cattle Ordinance.

WE do not believe that any political capital worth speaking of can be made by the democracy out of this ordinance. It effectually abates a nuisance of long standing, and at the same time, it interferes as little with the convenience of cattle owners as is possible under the circumstances.

Section 1st defines the limits within which no horned cattle shall be allowed to run at large: they include the city proper, and the ordinance, therefore, does not affect those who keep cows beyond the suburbs for the purpose of selling the milk in town.

Section 2nd provides for the creation of a pound on each side of the river, and the appointment of a pound keeper.

Section three defines the duty of the pound keeper and others who take up stray animals, and the penalty to which the pound keeper is liable for neglect of duty. It requires the person taking up a stray animal to be of age, and to certify under his signature that the animal was actually found loose within the prescribed limits; thus protecting the citizen from any abuse.

The other sections of the ordinance, which can be found in another column, provide for carrying out the object of the law with fairness and equity and in a business like manner.

To some of our old antediluvian locals, who constitute the connecting link between the Comanche and the intelligent American citizen, any change for the better will always be regarded in the light of an outrage, but their number is few and their influence less.

It is high time San Antonio was "getting out of the wilderness."

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it is at present, and the average of human life lengthened by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences and improducens which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and unconstitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alternative treatment. To reinforce and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous physique from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable preparations. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice; as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible; as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest, and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against disease of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of fortifying the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, ungenial atmosphere. Hence its great value as a minor tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain cure for ague and fever, it is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable preparations. Policy of the Administration.

In concluding [illegible] we sum up the policy of the Administration to be a thorough enforcement of every law, a faithful collection of every tax provided for, economy in the disbursement of the same, a speedy payment of every debt [illegible] as the requirements of the country will admit, the reduction of taxation and tariff to be so arranged as to afford the greatest relief to the greatest number, honest and fair dealing with all other people, to the end that war, with all its blighting consequences, may be avoided, but without compromise any right or obligation due to us, a reform in the treatment of Indians, [illegible] of the rights of the citizen, [illegible] a pure, untrammeled ballot, where every man entitled thereto is entitled to one vote and but one at each election, without fraud or intimidation to exercise it, [illegible] political faith, nativity or color.

Newspaper Laws.

We would call the special attention of Postmasters and subscribers to the following synopsis of the newspaper laws:

2. Any person who takes a paper from the Postoffice, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.

3. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrearages of the publisher may continue to send it until the payment is made.

4. If the subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it from the Postoffice. "For the reason that it is no ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Postoffice, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE

New York Tribune,

For 1872.

THE consolidation of Italy, so long fragmentary and impertinent, into one powerful State, with Rome as its capital; the humiliation of France through a series of crushing defeats, culling with the siege and capitulation of her proud and gay metropolis; the expulsion of the Bourbons from the Spanish throne, and the substitution for them of a scion of the most liberal among royal houses; the virtual absorption of the kingdoms of Saxony, Wurtemberg, Bavaria, with Baden, Hesse, the Hanse Towns, &c., under the leadership of Prussia, into the triumphant and powerful empire of Germany; and the arming of Russia to resume her preponderance in the councils of Europe, or to consummate her often postponed but never relinquished designs on the great city founded by Constantine and the seas but denying to the archiel domain of the Ottoman, all combine to invest with profound interest the ever-changing phases of our tidings from the Old World. THE TRIBUNE, through trusted correspondents stationed at all points in Europe where great movements are in progress, [illegible] such a complete and instructive panorama of events on that continent, and to mirror the prolonged struggle between middle age Feudalism and Ecclesiasticism on the one hand and Nineteenth Century Knightism and secularism on the other. Recognizing a Divine Providence in all this proceeds and is, it looks hopefully on the great conflict as destined (like our own recent convulsion) to evolve from strife, disaster, and seeming chaos, a fairer and happier future for the toiling masses of mankind.

In our own country, a year upon which [illegible] and rascality in office has been inaugurated in our City, whereby the government of our State has been revolutionized through an initial triumph of Redeem [illegible] surpasses the most sanguine anticipations. It is totally certain that the movement thus inaugurated cannot, in its [illegible] to any locality or party, but that its purifying influence is destined to be felt in every part of the Union, rebuking venality, exposing robbery, wresting power from politicians by [illegible] and confiding it in those worthiest and fittest to wield it. To this beneficent and widely needed Reform, THE TRIBUNE will devote its best energies, regardless of personal interests or party predilections, assuming the choice of honest and faithful men to office as of all New Departures the most complete and acceptable.

The virtual surrender by the Democratic party of its hostility to Equal Rights, recognition of Human Brotherhood with the [illegible] of half their bygone intensity. However parties may henceforth rise or fall, it is clear that the fundamental principles which have hitherto honorably distinguished the Republican [illegible] to be regarded as practically accepted by the whole country. The right of every man to his own time and earnings, and equality of all citizens before the law—the inability of a State to enslave any portion of its people—the duty of the Union to guarantee to every citizen the full enjoyment of his liberty until he forfeits it by crime—such are the broad and firm foundations of our National edifice, and palsied be the hand which shall rent to disjoint the fabric. Though not yet twenty years old, the Republican party has inscribed the noble fabric of Emancipation, and may fairly invoke therein the sternest judgment of Man and the benignant smile of God.

Henceforth, the efforts of our Republic will be of Peaceful Progress. To protect the weak and the humble from violence and oppression—to extend the boundaries of the blessings of Civilization—to stimulate Ingenuity to the production of new inventions for economizing Labor and thus enlarging Production—to draw nearer to each other the producers of Food and of Fabrics, of Grains and of Metals, and thus enhance the gain of Industry by reducing the cost of transportation and exchange between farmers and artisans—such is the blessing THE TRIBUNE, which the Nation now addresses itself, and by which it would fain contribute to the progress, enlightenment, and happiness of our race. To this great and good work, THE TRIBUNE contributes its genius, persistent efforts.

Agriculture will continue to be more especially elucidated in its Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions, to which some of the ablest and most successful editors of the will steadily contribute. No farmer who sells $500 worth of produce per annum can afford to do without our Market Reports, or others equally full and comprehensive. If he should read nothing else but what relates to his own calling and its rewards, we believe that no farmer who can read at all can afford to do with out THE TRIBUNE. And we aspire to make it equally valuable to those engaged in other departments of Productive Labor. We [illegible] more money on our columns this year, so our contributors [illegible] patronage on them in 1871, and we are resolved that our issues of former years shall be exceeded in varied excellence and interest by those of 1872. Friends in every State help us to make our journal better and better fed better, by sending in your subscriptions and renewing your Clubs for the year just before us.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called by the name of Bitters, but are the Purest and Best Medicine made, the base being the purest and most delicate of all Stomachics, Tonics, Alteratives, and Aperients, that heal the system of a diseased stomach and bowels, and cure all diseases arising from a bad digestion, such as Fever, Ague, Bilious, Remittent, Intermittent, Typhoid, Typhus, Yellow, Scarlet, Spotted, Malignant, Nervous, Inflammatory, Rheumatic, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the Region of the Kidneys, and a thousand other painful symptoms consequent on a disordered stomach or digestive organs.

CURSE OF ALL NATIONS, PURE FIRE OF A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Regulator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones do not become destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar virtue of acting as a powerful stimulant to the torpid organs of the Liver, and all the Digestive Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Bitters are unequaled.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Biliousness, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Humors in the Blood, which will be found to pervade every portion of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the Region of the Kidneys, and a thousand other painful symptoms consequent on a disordered stomach or digestive organs.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Carbuncles, Ringworm, Scurf, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases is worth a guinea a stamp.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find it to impede the course of the blood, whenever it lies dormant, causing sluggishness of the blood, and you will find health follow.
