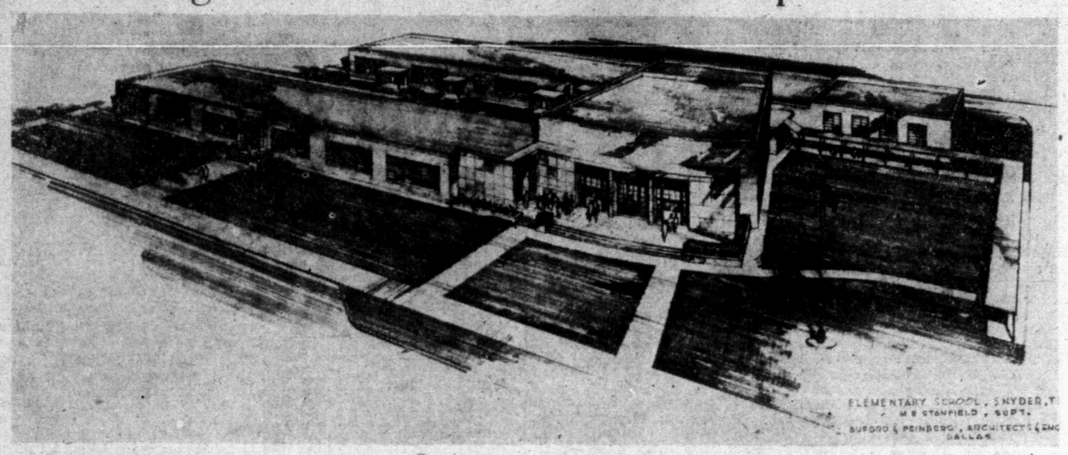
Drawing of Two New Ward Schools Proposed Here



If the $3,500,000 school bond issue is approved by the voters in Saturday's election, work will begin soon on a new elementary school similar to the one pictured above. It will be situated in Southeast Snyder on a 12 acre tract of land purchased last week from Ross Riley about four blocks south of the Phillips "66" super station. Within a few weeks, it is expected another school, similar to the one above, will be built in Southwest Snyder. It is hoped both can be ready for occupancy by the opening of school next fall.

Truman And Attlee Consider Blockading Red China Coast

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. —President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee today were reported seriously considering a blockade of the Red China coast if United Nations troops are long beleaguered or are driven out of Korea.

The proposal was described by diplomatic informants as one of several ways considered for dealing with the Chinese Communist aggression, depending on what actually happens in the Korean fighting.

Negotiation of a settlement is another possible way and the President and Prime Minister are ready to consider any Chinese peace move provided it does not involve "appeasement."

TRUMAN TOUGHER

In general, it appears that Mr. Truman and his advisers are taking a much tougher line than Attlee on the Far East, both as to possible negotiations or as the putting direct pressure on the Chinese Reds outside Korea.

Informed officials said that Secretary of State Acheson put forward the blockade proposal at the secret Truman-Attlee meetings which are now in the fourth day.

Attlee was described as cold to the suggestion but willing to discuss it. Informants said it probably would come up again this afternoon, or tomorrow, as part of a new general look at the Far Eastern situation.

What Attlee clearly would like to get agreement on here—but what he apparently has little or no hope of obtaining—is a course of Anglo American action aimed at bringing the Far Eastern crisis to a close at the earliest possible moment and by broad scale negotiations with the Chinese Reds if necessary.

NO APPEASEMENT

President Truman is understood to have made emphatically clear to the British leader that the United States will have no part of any "appeasement," which Attlee himself has rejected, or (2) of any Korea settlement which involves bargaining on outside, non-Korean issues—for example Red China's desire for United Nations membership and for control over the Chinese Nationalist held Island of Formosa.

The British, however, feel that if a Korean settlement is at all possible it will involve hard bargaining perhaps over a wide area, and that such bargaining probably should be undertaken if necessary to a settlement.

Aides of Attlee represent him as being generally opposed to the idea of carrying on a "halfwar" against the Chinese Reds indefinitely.

Apparently his view is that if UN forces are expelled from Korea the Western Powers should wind up the Far Eastern conflict as rapidly as possible and concentrate all of their efforts on Western Europe.

Attlee's ideas as to what would be a reasonable proposal for a settlement presumably were sought at a forenoon conference he had with Madam Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, the Indian ambassador.

30-MINUTE TALK

They talked for about 30 minutes at the British embassy. Reporters were told they discussed Korea and the possibility of a settlement, but the embassy would give no further information.

India has been active in trying to promote negotiation of the Korean problems.

The White House announced the Truman-Attlee conference will continue at least through tomorrow. Stephen T. Early, acting presidential secretary, said it was impossible to say at this time whether they might extend beyond Friday.

Secretary of Defense Marshall arranged a luncheon at the Pentagon for Mr. Attlee and Mr. Truman before today's resumption of their conferences.

Reinecke Field Is Extended 1 Mile North

P. R. Rutherford has completed his No. 1 A. O. Murphy as an important north extension to the Reinecke field in Southeast Borden County.

Operator reported a daily potential of 515 barrels of 46.2 gravity oil gaged through a quarter inch choke.

Gas-oil ratio on the test was 1,195-1. Pay was topped at 6,935 feet. Total depth of the producer is 6,954 feet.

The open hole section was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid.

The No. 1 Murphy is 4,500 feet north of the nearest other producer in the Reinecke field.

Exact location is 660 feet from west and 467 feet from south lines of the lease of section 66, block 25, H&TC survey.

MORTON COUNTY

Drilling is to be started at once at an 11,000-foot wildcat in Central East Morton County. The prospector is approximately nine miles north of the town of Stanton.

It will be drilled as Callery & Hurt and Ted Weiner No. 1-18 Earl Powell. Location is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 18, block 35, T&P survey, T-1-N.

Rotary rig is now being moved to the drill site and actual drilling will start as soon as the equipment can be put in operation. Standard-Fryer Drilling Co. has the rotary contract for the prospector.

The project is being drilled on a block of several thousand acres which were recently acquired by Forest Oil Corp. and Pan American Production Co.

Forest and Pan American farmed out the checkerboarded spread in the block to Weiner for the drilling of the 11,000-foot wildcat.

Weiner then made a trade with Callery & Hurt whereby that concern assumed a part of the obligation for the well in return for a portion of the acreage which had been obtained by Weiner.

Both operators will have an interest in the well. It is in the same section as is Magnolia's No. 1 Powell, a dry hole drilled in 1942 to a total depth of 8,300 feet in the lower Permian and abandoned there after failing to develop any commercial production.

TERRY WELL FLOWS

Honolulu Oil Corp. and Union Oil Co. of California No. 1 McGowan, one half mile south stepout from the Union, No. 1 Laura Cotten, discovery of the Brownfield-South Canyon field in East-Central Terry County, flowed at the rate of 72 barrels of oil per hour from the Canyon reef.

On a 35-minutes drillstem test over the section from 9,930-60 feet,

Minimum Of Five Degrees

Snyder shivered under more intense cold last night as the mercury receded to a chilling five degrees, following a maximum reading of only 35 degrees yesterday, Mrs D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, said.

The rest of Texas began warming up today after severe freezes numbed the state three days in a row. Bright sunshine over most of the area was expected to bring temperatures into the 40s and 50s this afternoon.

The bitter norther took two lives, killed more than a thousand cattle and damaged crops.

Generally, the Panhandle and South Plains were a few degrees warmer this morning as compared with yesterday, while deep South Texas was a few degrees colder.

Some representative temperatures, with today's minimums given first and yesterday's lows second:

Dalhart 6-2, Dallas 12-13, Corpus Christi 24-29, Bryan 12-17, San Antonio 14-21.

MODERATE TEMPERATURES

Early Friday morning, minimum thermometer readings are expected to be relatively moderate, particularly in West Texas, where the lows are due to range from 20 to 30 degrees. The East Texas forecast also calls for 20-30 degree mininums.

During the day yesterday, the mercury hung around the freezing point except in some deep South Texas areas.

For the second day in a row some Gulf Coast points had freezing temperatures. It was the first freezing weather for some for almost two years.

Minimum temperatures early Thursday included:

Dalhart 6, Childress 7, Amarillo 8, Wichita Falls and Mineral Wells 9, Lubbock 10, Fort Worth 11 Lufkin and Bryan 12, Dallas and Texarkana 13, San Antonio 14, Palestine and Junction 15, Austin 17, Waco and Palacios 18, Houston 19, Victoria 20, Presidio 21, Alice 22, Cotulla 23, Corpus Christi 24 and Del Rio 26.

Bond Election For Schools To Be Saturday

Property owners in the Snyder school district will go to the polls at the school tax office, 1924 Twenty-sixth Street, Saturday to voice their opinions concerning the proposal to issue $3,500,000 in bonds to build two new 18-classroom elementary school buildings and a new high school building.

The polls will open at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and will remain open for 12 hours.

The proposed issue is to provide for permanent facilities for educating children in the Snyder district. This is the unanimous desire of numerous oil companies here which were represented at a recent meeting with the school board when the election was called.

The oil companies will pay the major costs of all the projects in taxes. The present tax rate will not be increased because of the issue, since an increase is not necessary due to the vast increase in total valuation in the district.

One of the elementary schools will be situated in the east section of Snyder, and the other will be built near the proposed high school, which already has a site near the football stadium in the southwest section of town.

All Must Pay Shivers Says

AUSTIN, Dec. 7. (AP) — Gov. Allan Shivers urged Texans today to make "Operation Democracy" a fulltime program and to willingly pay whatever it costs to maintain democracy.

"Whatever it costs, we will have to pay—in money, in blood, in effort, in time and in devotion to whatever duty is placed upon us," the Governor said in a speech prepared for radio delivery at 12:30 this afternoon.

His speech on the ninth anniversary of Pearl Harbor Day launched the Texas American Legion's campaign against complacency and neglect of civic responsibility. Shivers was to light the first of 777 Texas "Fires of Freedom" at 7 o'clock tonight on the Capitol grounds in Austin.

He said the fires would symbolize the aim of the "Operation Democracy" program "Shining as beacons of hope in freedom's name."

British Troops To Stay With Korean Fight

LONDON, Dec. 7. (AP) — Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell declared in the House of Commons today that "there is no thought in our minds or in that of the American authorities of withdrawal from Korea."

He said there may be "still harder tidings" from the critical front, however. 'No one knows what the outcome will be. It would be foolish to underestimate the size or determination of the Chinese intervention."

He told the House UN forces already face 270,000 Red Chinese soldiers, with 500,000 more in reserve.

He paid tribute to "the galantry with which our allies—particularly the U. S. soldiers, the main bearers of the burden—are fighting this desperate and unequal battle,

G.O.P. Leaders To Let Senators Pass On Ousting Acheson Move

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP) — Republican Senate leaders decided today to let all GOP senators pass upon a formal request "for the resignation or replacement of Secretary of State Acheson."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman, told reporters this was the decision of the Senate GOP Policy Committee.

Taft said the 11-member policy committee, after an hour and a half closed-door session, took no direct action itself.

CONFERENCE CALLED

Instead it agreed to call a conference of all 43 Republican senators early next week, probably Tuesday, for a discussion of the oust-Acheson move as well as the broader subject of foreign and military policies.

Even if the Republican senators agreed to back the demand, there is no assurance it would be met. President Truman has said repeatedly he has no intention of letting Acheson go.

Taft appointed a subcommittee to go over the wording of a replace-Acheson resolution sponsored by Senator Ives (R-NY).

Members include Ives, Republican Leader Wherry of Nebraska, Senator Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the Republican conference, and Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee.

"SOME DISCUSSION"

Asked whether there had been opposition to the move against Acheson, Taft said there had been "some discussion both ways."

He indicated that all Republicans present favored replacement of the secretary of state even though some questioned the idea of trying to make this a Republican party policy issue.

Taft told newsmen he wanted to stress that the conference would not be limited to the Ives-Acheson matter but also would cover "all phases of the foreign and military situation which presents such a threat to the security of our country."

By the time the conference is held, Taft said, details of the meetings between President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee of Great Britain should have been completed and some information made public.

"NOT TALKING"

Taft was asked how he felt about making the Ives resolution for ouster of Acheson "a party matter?"

"I'm not saying how I feel," Taft replied with a smile.

The cabinet member's removal long has been a target of individual Republican senators. They have denounced his foreign policies both in Asia and Western Europe and accused him of appeasing Russia abroad and pro-communism at home.

Recent setbacks by United Nations forces in Korea have provided them with fresh ammunition.

Attlee Stand Backed Up In London Today

LONDON, Dec. 7. (AP) — London morning newspapers today fully endorsed British Prime Minister Clement Attlee's Declaration in Washington that there will be no appeasement of Communist China.

"This should scotch foolish rumors in America that the Prime Minister had come to Washington in an appeasing mood," said the liberal News Chronicle.

"The sincerity of Attlee's words must be unmistakably apparent to Americans for all they know, not only of his record and his principles but of the British people," it continued.

"We shall not go a second time to Munich."

The Conservative Daily Graphic said Attlee "made the right reply to the clumsy Russian effort to drive a wedge between this country and America."

The pro-labor Daily Herald said the need to "sustain and strengthen the association between Britain and the United States is obvious and necessary.

"Destruction of that friendship would mean an unprecedented victory for the forces of aggression everywhere. It is a victory which will not be granted to them."

The Conservative Daily Telegraph comented:

'In this country there will be the fullest endorsement of Attlee's unequivocal hostility to attempts to break the ties between Britain and the United States and to any suggestion of suicidal appeasement."

Korean War In Brief

(By The Associated Press)

FIGHTING front — U. S. Eighth Army steadies itself on new 70-mile defense line 25 miles south of Pyongyang. Marines and Doughboys of 10th Corps battle through masses of Communists in retreat from Changjin reservoir. Americans reach Koto. Seven Chinese divisions blocking their way to Hamhung.

WASHINGTON — President Truman and British Prime Minister Attlee go into fourth day of crisis talks. They are said to be considering any reasonable settlement but rule out appeasement.

PARIS — France agrees to inclusion of German units in Western European army paving way for immediate formation of strong defense force.

UNITED NATIONS — Assembly political committee begins first full discussion on request to Red China to remove troops from Korea. Motion may pass assembly this week.

France Leads UN Move For Korean Talks

By MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, Dec. 7. (AP) — France led a western power move in the United Nations today for top priority consideration of Communist China's intervention in Korea. Russia immediately opposed the move.

The clash took place in the General Assembly's 60-nation political committee. Jean Chauvel, French delegate, said Chinese participation in the Korean fighting is a grave question that affects the peace of the whole world. He said it should take precedence over all other items before the committee.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky said Chauvell's demand was "most unprecedented." He argued that the committee must continue with debate on Russia's charges of American aggression against Formos.

While the procedural wrangle tied up the committee, UN diplomats anxiously awaited word from Peiping whether the Chinese Reds are ready to accept any of the several pleas for a cease-fire. India's sir Benegal N. Rau, one of the leaders in the peace efforts, said this morning he still has received no reply from Chinese Communist Envoy Wu Hsiu-Chuan.

Jet Dog Fights In North Korea

U. S. FIFTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Dec. 7. (AP) — U. S. F-80 jets reported damaging two Russian-made MIG-15 jets over North Korea today in two aerial dogfights.

The Fifth Air Force said none of the American planes was damaged.

One MIG-15 was reported hit over the town of Charyongwan; the other over Sonchon. Both towns are south of Sinuiju on the Korean-Manchurian border.

Four F-80 shooting stars led by Capt. Donald L. Loegering of Minneapolis, Minn., were jumped from behind in the first encounter by two Soviet jets.

The American planes escaped enemy fire and then swung around fast to make a headon firing pass at 600 miles an hour.

Speedy Action In Both Houses For Rent Control Extension

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP) — House and Senate raced today to see which will be the first to pass an emergency extension of rent controls.

The Senate has agreed to start voting this afternoon, on a bill to continue the federal program for two months beyond its present expiration date of Dec. 31, 1950.

The three-month extension bill is the top business before the House meeting at noon.

The President has requested a three-month extension.

Because of the parliamentary situation, the Senate appeared likely to pass its bill first. It could then be sent to a Senate-House Conference which would have to recommend a compromise.

Opponents of extension of the program made no advance claims of enough strength to beat either bill. They were hoping for the shorter extension.

If they are able to amend the House bill to cut the time down to 60 days, the bill could be sent to the President by the end of this week.

It is the first of the administration's "must" bills to reach the voting state in both chambers at the present short session of Congress.

DATE STAYS SAME

Supporters of the bill contend that unless the program is continued rents will soar after the first of the year except in cities which exercise the option under existing law of keeping the controls until June 30 of next year. Neither Senate nor House bill would affect this June 30 date.

Opponents insist that rent control no longer is a federal problem but should be handled by local communities. With prices of most other things rising, they argue landlords are entitled to an increase in their income from rentals. They also say rents should not be controlled unless wages and prices are too.

It was this last argument which some members of the House Rules Committee advanced on Tuesday when they voted 6 to 5 against clearing the bill for House debate. yesterday the committee reversed that decision, gained by a 6 to 5 vote —reportedly after Rep. Cox (D-Ga) switched.

Marines Still Fighting Way Out Of Trap

United States Garrison At Wonsan Withdraws Under Heavy Cover

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Dec. 7. (AP) — Allied troops braced on a new hill defense line 25 miles south of fallen Pyongyang today for a stand against steadily advancing vanguards of a million-man Chinese Red expeditionary force.

The line stretched inland 70 miles from northwest Korea from the Yellow Sea. It was a defense in depth on commanding heights and not a solid line.

The U. S. Eighth Army, with its long and bitter retreat at a halt, was greatly outnumbered and hard hit but still was a unified fighting force.

HEAVY RESERVES

The Chinese armies in front of it were estimated at 100,000 men with up to 50,000 combat reserves behind those Reds and hundreds of thousands more in Korea, or moving up from Manchuria.

The Eighth Army force on the defense line is something less than the 110,000 men Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker had when he was forced to retreat late in November.

Northeast of the new line, U. S. Marines and Doughboys battled in a blizzard in a dogged effort to break out of Red traps south of the Changjin Reservoir. They broke out of one and have to fight through another.

SITUATION CRITICAL

Underscoring the critical situation of the United Nations forces near the reservoir and elsewhere in the northeast was the withdrawal of the American garrison from the east coast port of Wonsan.

A bombardment by three U. S. destroyers and shore fire by South Korean Marines covered the pullout of Wonsan. Presumably the American garrison at Wonsan was relatively small. It was not identified.

Wosan was captured Oct. 10 by South Korean troops. The same Marines trapped at the Changjin reservoir landed at the port Oct. 15 after a week-long sweeping of a minefield offshore. Because the port already had been secured, the Marines called it "Operation What-the-Hell."

Hamhung and its nearby port of Hungnam, 50 miles north of Wonsan, now becomes the allies' main escape route in the northeast. It is more centrally located for the widely scattered units of the 10th Corps.

NORTH OF NO. 38

The new line in the northwest is 85 miles north of Seoul, the Korean Republic's capital, and is 58 miles north of Parallel 38. General MacArthur described its as arching from the West Coast port of Chinnampo to Koksan, an inland town 53 miles southeast of Pyongyang.

There was no explanantion as to why the location of the defense line was announced. It previously had been a deep secret.

There were no set lines in the northeast. Three American and two South Korean divisions are all over the rugged map there, with the Marines and two regiments of the U. S. Seventh Infantry Division in the worst spot.

They pushed into Koto today after a bitter battle through heavy Chinese resistance south of the Changjin reservoir.

It took them 25 hours to batter their way eight miles from Hagaru.

The first elements of two Marine and two infantry regiments made their way into Koto late Wednesday.

STILL COMING

Associated Press Correspondent Jack MacBeth, the only correspondent in Koto, said eight hours later they "are still coming into Koto today."

A headquarters spokesman said "the pressure is heavy at Hagaru and the enemy is trying to capture as many of our men as they can."

The Americans still were faced with fighting their way out of Koto through heavy Communist concentrations to cover the 40 miles of winding mountain road southeast to Hamhung.

UN Forces Burn Bridging Materiel

A trailer jeep filled with retreating American soldiers goes past a huge fire consuming bridging material in Pyongyang, Dec. 3. The material was originally airlifted into Korea and was burned so that it would not fall into the hands of advancing Chinese and North Korean Communist troops.

France Turns Around, Wants Germans In West Europe Army

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS, Dec. 7. (AP) — France pressed today for an anti-Communist army in Europe, bolstered by German manpower, and named one of her top generals to head wavering French defenses in Red-menaced Indochina.

The cabinet announced it will call a meeting of the west European nations in Paris during January to draw up plans for an Atlantic Pact European Army. The announcement confirmed that France had agreed to immediate formation of West German combat teams in the Atlantic force.

For the Far East, France named Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny as high commissioner in Indochina, with "full military and civil powers" to direct the war against the Communist-led Vietminh.

TAKES BOTH POSTS

De Lattre de Tassigny, who has been serving as commander of infantry in the joint general staff under the Brussels Pact, will take over the duties of both civilian High Commissioner Leon Pignon and Gen. Marcel Carpentier, now in command of French forces harassed by Ho Chi Minh's Nationalists.

Today's announcement was the first official disclosure that France has withdrawn her insistence on delay in forming German combat units until a unified defense ministry has been created.

Information Minister Albert Gozier said the decision was an emergency measure providing for a "transitory" phase in European rearmament. France still hopes to see the unified defense ministry set up eventually.

Faced with strong opposition at home to the idea of a German army, French political leaders have until now opposed putting arms into the hands of any Germans before a unified European army is formed.

It is believed the darkening crisis in Korea has made the French more aware of the urgency of rearming Europe at once.

The switch in French attitude was seen as a victory for the United States, which wanted to get the Germans into a European army as soon as possible.

The move came as President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee announced in Washington that the western defense powers will push to build up Atlantic defenses against Soviet aggression.

Gozier said France will support an American compromise proposal, now before the North Atlantic Pact deputies meeting in London, for bringing West German troops into the western defense forces.

The U. S. proposal seeks to reconcile the American view calling for division-size German units—supporting Atlantic Pact nations—with previous French insistence that the Germans be allowed only the "smallest practicable" units. The units agreed on will number from 4,000 to 5,000 men each.

It also provides, Gozier said, that German troops be recruited by civilians under allied control, that they comprise no more than 20 per cent of the total forces raised, and that the Germans have no heavy arms, no general staff and no war ministry.

Both the decision on the German units and the appointment of De Lattre de Tassigny came after political struggles that threatened the collapse of the French cabinet. Compromises were effected which kept the Socialist opponents of German rearmament from withdrawing their support.

Gozier said the Atlantic Pact deputies will draw up a plan relating to western defense for the 12 foreign ministers of the Atlantic Pact countries to consider.

BONN, Germany, Dec. 7. (AP) — West German officials turned a cold shoulder today to the new plan for including German troops in the North Atlantic forces, which was announced by the French last night.

An official government spokesman declined immediate comment.

But high officials said privately West Germany would never accept any plan which discriminates against German contingents.

Permian Basin Oil News

Possible Field Opener Flows

Frankel Brothers and Shell Oil Co. No. 1 Williams, wildcat in Central-North Schleicher County, indicated as a possible discovery from the Wolfcamp of the Permian when it flowed naturally 92 barrels of oil plus two-tenths per cent basic sediment and water in 10 hours through a 38-64-inch tubing choke.

The flow came through perforations in the 5 ½-inch casing opposite the zone at 5,520-40 feet in the Wolfcamp lime of the lower Permian.

After the 10-hour test, operators shut the well in to test the casing for a leak. After that is found and filled it is planned to test further.

Gas-oil ratio of the petroleum production during the testing was 458-1.

This project is operating on a plugged back total depth of 5,606 feet. The casing is cemented at that point.

This prospective new field opener is 12 miles south of Mertzon and 660 feet from south and 810 feet from west lines of section 26, HE&WT survey, Abstract 1,136.

It drilled to a bottom of 7,341 feet in the Ellenburger. That horizon made sulphur water and had no shows of oil or gas.

Offset To Discovery In Terry County Completed

Tide Water Associated Oil Co. No. 1 Lucile Morley has been completed as a new well in the Corrigan Silurian field in Southeast Terry County, 14 miles southeast of Brownfield and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 1, block C-38, psl survey.

It flowed 24 hours through a three-eighth inch choke to make an initial production of 333.63 barrels of 35.60-gravity oil.

Twenty two per cent of the total fluid recovered was water. Gas-oil ratio was 62-1.

Total depth is 11,591 feet and five and one-half inch oil string is cemented at 11,590 feet. Proudction is coming through perforations at 11,540-11,589 feet. This section had been treated with 200 gallons of acid.

Tide Water No. 1 Morley is a west offset to the discovery well of the Corrigan-Silurian field.

Pecos Well Located

J. B. Tubb has staked location for a 3,000-foot cable tool wildcat in North Pecos County 13 miles southwest of Imperial.

It is No. 1 P. R. Robertson and is located 330 feet from northwest and 1,980 feet from southwest lines of section 12, block 10, H&GN survey.

Operations on this test will begin immediately.

Midland Prospector Recovers Oil From Spraberry on Test

Ted Weiner and associates No. 1-4 O'Daniel, Central-East Midland County prospector, one and one-quarter miles northeast of the Tex-Harvey field, is credited with recovering 1,080 feet of clean oil during a three and one-half hour drillstem test in the Spraberry sand at 7,000-7,265 feet.

Gas surfaced in 35 minutes. There was no gauge or estimtae on the gas volume. No water was shown with the oil.

Operator is reported to be preparing to use the Hydrafrac treatment on the Spraberry between the top of that formation at 7,060 feet and the total depth at 7,265 feet.

On the top of the Spraberry at 7,060 feet the project has a datum of minus 4,420 feet, which correlates to be 16 feet high to the same marker in the nearest completed producer from the Spraberry in the Tex-Harvey field.

Location is 664.6 feet from south and 664.7 feet from west lines of survey.

No Oil Strains Logged In Union's No. 1 City Of Robert Lee, At 4,227

Union Oil Co. of California No. 1 City of Robert Lee, 4,500-foot wildcat in East-Central Coke County, is drilling below 4,227 feet in shale with no shows.

The project topped the McCutchen sand at 3,989 feet on a datum of minus 2,105 feet. The formation has been hard, tight sand and shale in drilling to present depth. No oil stains have been logged.

Operator plans to drill ahead to 4,365 feet and then decide what to do with the wildcat. It appears definitely to be a failure in the McCutchen field pay zone.

Location is 330 feet from south and east lines of J. W. Hall survey No. 1, abstract 1342 and one mile east of Robert Lee. It is two and one-half miles southwest of the McCutchen-Cisco lime field in Central Coke County.

Offset Staked For Glasscock Discovery Well

Amerada Petroleum Corp. spotted location for a north offset to a recently completed Spraberry discovery in Central-West Glasscock County.

It will be drilled as No. 1 K. S. Boone, at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 17, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey.

It will offset Hubbard S. Russell No. 1-20 Wrage-Henderickson recent discovery three miles east of the Tex-Harvey field in Central-East Midland County.

Two Locations Spotted In Southeast Hockley

Honolulu Oil Corp. and Signal Oil & Gas Co. are building derrick for one prospector in the four-well Ropes-Pennsylvanian field of Southeast Hockley County, and have spotted location for another.

Rig is being installed for their No. 3 Underwood, three-quarters of one mile south of their No. 2 Underwood, a drilling project and 694 feet from west and south lines of labor 13, league 5, Wilbarger County school land survey.

Location was made for the same concerns' No. 2 Burleson, three-quarters of one mile east of their No. 1 Burleson, which is in the process of completion.

The No. 2 Burleson will be drilled 694 feet from east and south lines of labor 9, league 5, Wilbarger County school land survey.

Both prospectors are to be drilled to around 9,500 feet, which is calculated to test the regular Pennsylvanian pay in the recently opened Ropes field.

The drillsites are approximately five miles south of Smyer.

To Deepen Dry Lubbock Wildcat To 12,000 Feet

A supplemental application has been filed by Bankline Oil Co., Wilshire Oil Co., and Basin Oil Co. requesting permission to continue drilling to 12,000 feet at their No. 1 Earl E. Elliott, wildcat in West-Central Lubbock County.

The prospector is now drilling below 10,793 feet in lower Pennsylvanian lime and shale.

No shows of possible commercial production have been encountered in the prospector thus far.

Location is 1,980 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of section 33, block JS, EL&RR survey.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Priddy who live at the Petroleum Distributing Co., will return this week from a vacation trip to Camden, Ark.

Wildcat Near Stanton 300 Feet High On Top Of Spraberry Sand

Southern Minerals Corp. No. 1 Houston, wildcat in Northwest Glasscock County six miles southeast of Stanton, is drilling below 6,821 feet in Spraberry sand, which was topped at 6,784 feet.

That is on a datum of minus 4,166 feet and makes it 300 feet high on the top of the Spraberry to the wells in the Germania field in Northeast Midland County.

No drillstem tests have been taken since the Spraberry was reached in the No. 1 Houston.

The Spraberry top in that exploration was picked by electric log.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 13, block 36, T&P survey, T-2-S and 10 miles east of the Germania and approximately six miles east and slightly north of the Germania-Spraberry field.

Charged On Liquor Count In Court Here

A county court jury yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of guilty in the case of Vernon Matthews, 36-year-old owner of the Log Cabin Cafe, charged with possession of liquor for purpose of sale in a legally dry area.

The jury assessed his punishment at 66 days in the county jail and a fine of $250 plus $23.50 court costs.

Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron, and Niacin May Make You

HURT!

Don't despair because nagging aches and pains, due to deficiencies of Vitamin B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin, rob you of rest, make life miserable. Today's great Hadacol may relieve the real cause, due to such deficiencies, for you as it has for folks like this.

Mrs. Rose Williams Winn, 4427 Maffitt Avenue, St. Louis 13, Missouri, says: "I have been troubled with pains in my legs off and on for a long time. I work in a Drug Store as Fountain help. I could hardly go up and down stairs without much effort, on account of such pains. About 4 weeks ago, I decided to try Hadacol. I did not have much faith, but I took one bottle and it gave such relief. I bought another dose and I am completely relieved of the misery, and I will not be without Hadacol. I have told all my friends and they have started taking it also, with much satisfaction."

Many doctors recommend Hadacol. Trial size bottle, only $1.25, large family or hospital size, $3.50. Only Hadacol gives you that "Wonderful Hadacol Feeling." Strict money-back guarantee.

Agreement On Water Projects Is Reached By Three States

SANTA FE, N. M., Dec. 7. (AP)—A three-state accord for flood control, irrigation and city water supply projects along the Canadian River has been reached. Talks have gone on for months.

Its fate rested today with the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma legislatures. All three states must approve before the accord becomes effective.

For Texas, a limit of 500,000 acre-feet of conservation storage is provided until Oklahoma has 300,000 acre-feet. Thereafter Texas is limited to 200,000 acre-feet plus whatever amount is in conservation storage in Oklahoma. The water in conservation storage is determined by the maximum quantity in storage after each flood.

New Mexico retains "free and unrestricted use" of all water originating in the drainage basin above the Conchas Dam near Tucumcari. New Mexico also got the right to impound 200,000 acre-feet of water originating below the dam.

Oklahoma obtained free and unrestricted use of all waters in that state.

Commissioners who reached the accord yesterday include E. V. Spence of Austin.

The Canadian rises in New Mexico and flows across the Texas Panhandle into Oklahoma.

New Mexico and Oklahoma were left free under the agreement to settle the amount of water they may store from the North Canadian River which rises in Oklahoma. Texas was limited to water impounded for "municipal uses, household and domestic uses, livestock watering and the irrigation of lands cultivated solely for the purpose of providing food and feed for householders and domestic livestock actually living or kept on the property" under the North Canadian proviso.

Berkley Johnson, who sat in final discussions as federal government official, said he believed the accord "an equitable and sound" one. Sen. Chavez (D-NM) gave tentative approval. He previously had opposed a bill in Congress to authorize a Canadian River project to supply water to a half dozen West Texas towns.

Legion Meeting Monday Will Plan Yule Party

Plans for a big Christmas party for members of the American Legion here and their families will be discussed at a meeting of the Scurry County post Monday night at the clubhouse, it was announced today by Hilton Lambert.

"A special committee will be named to handle the program, and we plan to make this affair an event," said Lambert.

New members in the organization are being signed up every day, he said.

Funeral In Missouri For Man Who Died Here

Funeral services for Alward Azore Hudnall of 1200 Avenue R, who died here Tuesday morning will be conducted in Charleston, Mo.

Mr. Hudnall, 61 years of age, was found dead at his home, apparently having died in his sleep. He lived by himself, and had lived here about 10 years.

Survivors include a widow, four sons, three daughters, two brothers and three sisters.

All arrangements were under the direction of the Bolger-Barnes Funeral Home, who prepared the body for shipment by train.

Funeral Today For A. J. Logan

Funeral services for Andy Joe Logan, 73, of 2911 Avenue Y were to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Logan died yesterday morning at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene, where he had been since Nov. 27. He was receiving treatment for a heart ailment.

The Rev. E. K. Shepherd, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate at funeral services. He is to be assisted by Boyd Fanning, minister of the Church of Chirst.

Mr. Logan was born in Coryell County near Gatesville, Tex. He had made his home in this county 42 years and was engaged in farming and held oil interests.

Survivors in addition to the widow, Mrs. Nettie Logan, include two daughters and three sons. Daughters are Mrs. Rex Miller and Mrs. Gordon Smith, both of Snyder. Sons are Archie Logan, Floyd Logan and Loy Logan, all of Snyder. Two brothers who survive are Thomas Logan and Doc Logan of Gatesville. A sister, Mrs. Lucy Rutherford, lives in Baytown.

Grandchildren are Charles Fred Miller, Miss Lynn L. Logan, Jo Ann Miller, Jeannine Smith and Miss Cynthia Kay Logan. Other grandchildren are Mrs. Wauree Neal of Ohio, Mrs. Jacqueline Daniels of Odessa, and Miss Patsy Logan of Plainview.

Pallbearers will be Bushy Hedges, Harold McClinton, Paula Moore, Albert Bills, Lewis Blackard, E. E. Thompson, Jr., Horace Williamson, Howard Crenshaw, and Wayne Smith.

Interment will be in Snyder Cemetery, under the direction of the Bolger-Barnes Funeral Home

Symphony and Chorus In Christmas Music

A chorus of 160 voices will join the San Angelo Symphony orchestra in a concert of special Christmas music at 3:30 o'clock Sunday there.

The orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Eric Sorantin, will be presenting its second concert of the season. The chorus will be under the direction of Miss Jean Barlow, San Angelo High school vocal music instructor.

The orchestra will open the program with the "Egmont Overture" by Beethoven, followed by four movements of Schubert's Symphony in B flat major. A third orchestral selection will be ballet music from "Faust," by Gounod.

Following the intermission, the chorus will join the orchestra to present the Halielujah chorus from "The Messiah" and selected Christmas carols.

Anthony's Will Open Colorado City Store

The C. R. Anthony Co. has announced plans to open a store in Colorado City at 221 East Second Street, with formal opening planned in the spring.

Plans are now proceeding for modernizing the store front and installing modern lighting and fixtures throughout the building. Total floor space of the building will be about 7,000 square feet including storage rooms.

The C. R. Anthony Co. now operates department stores in seven states.

Furr Food Inc. Is Advertising Award Winner

A citation for distinguished service through advertising was made yesterday to Furr's Inc., of Lubbock, at the annual mid-year meeting of the Super Market Institute, national organization of super markets in the United States, Canada, and Mexico, held in Houston.

The company's advertisement was selected in a nationwide competition to receive honorable mention in the Second Annual McCall Super Market Advertising Award from among those submitted by 116 companies operating 2,390 stores in all parts of the United States, Canada and Mexico.

In making the awards, Claude W. Edwards, of Los Angeles, California, president of the Super Market Institute, said: "American business has a vital role in keeping the public fully informed — and newspaper advertising is the primary tool of the food industry. Your newspaper advertisement has made a significant contribution to this job of public education."

The competition, the second of its kind, is held each year under the auspices of the Super Market Institute, and is designed to aid super markets in making their newspaper advertising a more effective tool of public information.

Furnace Fumes Overcome Four

Four members of a Snyder family were taken to the Snyder Hospital about 6:30 o'clock this morning suffering from carbon monoxide poisoning caused by inhaling fumes from a gas floor furnace during their sleep.

They were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Owens, owners of Owens Department Store, their 17-year-old daughter, Martha Ann Owens, and H. E. Owens, 88, father of E. H. Owens.

The elder Mr. Owens was more seriously overcome than other members of the family.

When Mrs. Owens found that the members of her family could not be awakened this morning, she attempted to call the fire department for aid. Norman Autry, fire chief, said that he received the call and that Mrs. Owens succeeded in giving him part of the address but was overcome before she could give him the street name.

Autry called the telephone operator and was told that the call came from 2812 Twenty - eighth Street, the Owens address.

Raymond F. White, fireman, went to the residence and found that two members of the family could not be wakened. He called a Bolger-Barnes ambulance, which took the family to Snyder Hospital.

All members of the family quickly revived except the elder Owens. He was revived later and was reported to be in satisfactory condition by hospital attendants after oxygen was administered.

An inspection of the house revealed that birds had built a foot-long nest of straw and sticks in the four-inch flue through which fumes from the floor-furnace escape.

Two dead birds and a large quantity of nest material were removed from the flue.

Firemen said that the asphyxiation was due to carbon monoxide from the furnace that escaped under the house when the flue was blocked by the bird nest.

They warned that floor furnace flues should be checked to see that others are not similarly clogged. The way to prevent this clogging is to cover the flue opening with screen wire or a similar obstruction, they said.

2 Charged With D.W.I.

J. B. Shurley, 29, of the Amarillo Apartments here, and Thomas A. Carter, 33, of Ardmore, Okla., were charged in county court today with operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Neither had been arraigned at noon today.

Sailor Seeking Family

A sailor from San Diego, Calif., is now attempting to locate his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Haley in Snyder.

The sailor has a younger brother attending high school here, but he was not in school today. Anyone knowing the address of Mr. and Mrs. Haley is asked to contact the high school office or the Daily News Office.

In 1887, the only season when a base on balls was recorded as a base hit, J F. O'Neill had a batting average of .492.

There were 20 players on a side when Yale played its first intercollegiate football game against Columbia in 1872.

Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron, and Niacin May Make You

ACHE!

When nagging aches and pains, due to deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin, strike with nagging misery in arms, legs, shoulders, back, why settle for symptomatic relief? Today's great Hadacol may relieve the real cause of your distress, due to such deficiencies, and prevent their return.

Mrs. H. A. Quinn, 213 12th St., Dawson, Georgia, who was suffering from such deficiencies, says: "I am 68 years of age and have suffered from aches and pains. I had indigestion, also pains in my joints and legs. I have taken 2 bottles of Hadacol and was greatly benefited by it. I am taking my third bottle. After taking ½ bottle, I was benefited, and the pains in my joints and legs vanished. I recommend Hadacol highly."

Only Hadacol gives you that "Wonderful Hadacol Feeling"—trial size bottle, $1.25; family or hospital size, $3.50. Recommended by many doctors; money-back guarantee.

Schoolboy Football Goes Into The Semi and Quarter-Finals

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
(Associated Press Staff)

The championship of one division will be decided, another will determine eight of twelve regional championships, a third will advance to the semi-finals and a fourth will reach the quarter-finals in a tumultous week-end of Texas schoolboy football.

The City Conference will name its third and final state champion Friday night when John Reagan of Houston plays Sunset at Dallas. The City Conference will be no more after this year. It is being combined with Class AA schools in a super Four-A Conference.

GLAMOR BOY

Class AA, the glamor boy of Interscholastic League football, has eight games as 16 district representatives go through the first round of the state play-off.

Friday afternoon Temple and Austin clash at Austin and Friday night Texarkana will be at Conroe, Baytown at Port Arthur and Alice at Harlingen. Saturday afternoon Pampa plays at Wichita Falls, Austin (El Paso) at Lubbock, Breckenridge at San Angelo and Sherman at Highland Park (Dallas).

Class A decides its semi-finalists with four games. New Braunfels plays Lavega at Waco Friday afternoon, Arlington and Mt. Vernon clash at Commerce and Wharton and Pearsall at Pearsall Friday night, while Levelland and Kermit battle at Odessa Saturday afternoon.

ELDORADO VS EDEN

Class B determines regional titles as follows Friday:

Region 1—Happy vs Dimmitt at Tulia, Region 2—Stanton vs Rochester at Abilene, Region 3—Eldorado vs Eden at Eden (night), Region 4-Lewisville vs Farmersville at McKinney (night), Region 5-Seagoville vs Grandview at Ennis (night), Region 6-Valley Mills vs Elkhart at Waco (night), Region 10-Granger vs Fort Hood at Temple (night).

Pine Tree and Leveret's Chapel play for the Region 7 championship at Kilgore Saturday. Groveton and Tomball clash at Conroe Dec. 12 for the Region 8 flag. Taft and Lyford battle at Robstown Dec. 15 for the Region 12 crown.

The other two regions will be played off next week. In region 9, Pearland awaits tonight's game between Columbus and Bastrop at Columbus to know its opponent. In Region 11, Palacios and Pleasanton play at Cuero and Bandera and Dilley clash at Dilley Friday night to determine the finalists.

Easy crust for a lemon chiffon pie is made by crushing 32 vanilla wafers and mixing with a quarter cup of soft butter or margarine and a quarter cup of sugar; press into an eight-inch pie plate and bake in a moderately hot oven for eight minutes. Cool before adding filling.

Tomato aspic now comes prepared in ten-and-one-half-ounce size cans. To remove from can, punch a hole in one end, then cut around edge of other end and slide out aspic whole. Cut in four equal slices and serve on salad greens with a dollop of creamed cottage cheese topped with a sprig of watercress or parsley.

Readings, Christmas Stories At Meeting Of Alpha Club Yesterday

Mrs. Alfred McGlaun, 1200 Twenty-fifth Street, entertained members of the Alpna Study Club yesterday afternoon in her home which was decorated in the holiday motif.

Miss Eula Stimson, who assisted Mrs. McGlaun as hostess had prepared miniature Madonna placed against a background of greenery. Pine branches and red gladiol completed the seasonal theme.

Mrs. Forrest Beavers gave a musical reading, and Mrs. O. M. Fowler read a Christmas story. The group joined in carol singing.

The club president, Mrs. Maurice Brownfield, presided at the tea table, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Dumas. Coffee, Christmas salad, and fruit cake were served to the members.

The club meets for a study session Jan. 3, in the home of Mrs. Brownfield.

Frogs Rally To Beat Tech In 70-53 Score

(By The Associated Press)

Southern Methodist University and Texas A&M take on New York basketball teams tonight in the only games scheduled for Southwest Conference teams.

Kiwanis Club Pledge To Aid All City Needy

Toys, clothing and food for every underprivileged child and needy family in Snyder for Christmas was assured by the Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon yesterday.

Sufficient funds derived from the football game last Saturday night insure that no needy child will be neglected if the name is given to some member of the Kiwanis Club, Dr. Woodrow W. Mikeska, chairman of the underprivileged children's committee of the club, said. Dr. Mikeska was appointed chairman of this committe to succed Bruce L. Greer, who resigned.

Harold Grant has volunteered to furnish a truck to pick up used toys and other gifts that will be assembled at the Matthew Furniture Store on East Highway. Grant's telephone number is 389-R. Anyone knowing of a needy child or family has been asked to call the flolowing telephone numbers: 1722, 929, 1089 and 1442.

It was announced following the committee meeting last night at the Snyder Hospital that the Kiwanis Club will take care of all letters addressed to Santa Claus.

"We don't want to miss a single underprivileged child or needy family in Snyder, so if anyone knows of such persons, please contact the phone numbers listed above," said Dr. Mikeska.

Members of the Kiwanis Club underprivileged children's committe besides Chairman Mikeska, include Leroy Johnson, vice-chairman; Harold Grant, R. M. Wemple, Ford Kenner, C. W. Bradley, Frank Fisher, and Dr. W. E. Jones. This committee will meet again at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the Snyder Hospital to discuss further plans for Christmas gifts for the needy.

Dr. Ben Costin presided at the luncheon instead of Bill Brown, president, who was out of the city.

Testimony In Assault Trial Given Today

The trial of A. F. Smith, 48, charged with assault to murder Tommie Swaim, 19, on the night of Oct. 4 at the Log Cabin Cafe, got underway before a district court jury this morning.

R. J. Allison, the first witness placed on the stand by the state, testified that he was employed as a bouncer at the Log Cabin, by Vernon Matthews, owner.

Allison told the jury that he saw the start of a fight between Swaim and another man in the dance hall shortly after midnight.

DESCRIBES SCENE

"It was an awful fight before it was all over, with perhaps a dozen participating in it," said Allison.

Allison told of seeing Smith cut Swaim across the face with a knife.

Allison said that when he went to stop the affray, Smith also used a knife on him, cutting his pants and legs, which necessitated hospital attention.

"There were two fights, one inside and another on the outside," Allison said. He told the jury that when he tried to separate the fighters, Smith threw a coke bottle at him. He also said that Smith knocked Swaim out of the back door with a coke case.

When questioned by the defense attorneys, Allison said there were about 75 people in the dance hall during the fight. He told of seeing a knife during the scuffle but not a gun.

The next witness was Mrs. Vernon Matthews, wife of the owner, who, testifying for the state, said she did not know Smith, but he had been in the place three or four times. She then recited the events of the early morning of Oct. 5, in which she said an awful fight took place at the cafe, but she did not see Smith and Swaim fighting, as she was in the kitchen at the time.

LARGE GROUP

Mrs. Matthews told of the Smith party of several women and men coming to the place early in the evening and that their behavior was good until the fight started.

"Did you see a gun during the fight?" she was asked by the state.

"Yes, my husband had a gun, but I never did see a knife while the big fight was going on," she replied.

She said the place was closed, at the time the fight started, telling the jury that it was closed shortly before midnight.

Mrs. Matthews also told the jury that one of her waitresses found a knife later and she threw it in a trash can. The weapon, which did not close, was apparently a butcher knife at one time with a sharp point on it, she said. The knife was eventually turned over to the sheriff's department.

"Inasmuch as the fight was outside the city, I called for Vernie Head, deputy, who came out to make the investigation," Mrs. Matthews said.

She also said that several days after the fight, a man whom she later learned was Smith came to the Log Cabin Cafe, and she directed him to a trailer nearby. She then called the sheriff's office, giving the license number of the car. But when the officer arrived, Smith had fled. He was arrested later.

SUSPEND TRIAL

At that juncture of the trial, the case was halted due to the absence of the prosecuting witness, Swaim. He and one other principal witness were absent when court convened for the trial this morning, both believed to have been awaiting transportation to Snyder from Big Spring.

In a courtroom speech, Judge A. S. Mauzey scored those who are responsible for persons being tardy during trial, saying that it may become necessary to impose fines in order to correct this situation.

"If all persons, witnesses and others, were as prompt as jurors in reporting for duty, then there would be less time lost in trying both criminal and civil cases," the judge said.

"There is too much lack of interest and laxity in court matters and this must be corrected or fines will be levied against the guilty one," he concluded.

The state is slated to place additional witnesses on the stand this afternoon, to be followed by the defense.

Pat Beene and James Rosser are representing Smith. A petition for a suspended sentence, if Smith is found guilty, has been filed by his attorneys.

Oil News

gas was to the surface in nine minutes and water blanket in 14 minutes. Oil followed in 24 minutes. No water was made on the test.

Top of the reef has not been picked. Operator is now running electric log surveys and will run casing.

Location of the possible producer is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 72, block T, D&W survey. That makes it four miles southeast of Brownfield.

KING LOCATION

Ard Drilling Co. and Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. staked location for a 5,000 foot wildcat in northeast King County, which will be drilled as No. 10 R. B. Masterson.

Projected depth is calculated to take the explorer into the Canyon the upper Strawn.

Exact location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 39, F. T. Knott survey, one and one half miles northwest of the J-Y Canyon field discovery.

DRILL IN STONEWALL

Skelly Oil Co. No. 1 William Flowers will be drilled in South Central Stonewall County five miles southeast of Aspermont.

It is to be drilled as that company's No. 1 William Flowers, 467 feet from north and east lines of section 54, block D, H&TC survey.

The No. 1 Flowers is projected to go to around 6,500 feet to explore the Ellenburger.

NEW DISCOVERY

Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1 H. F. Timmerman, Central West Midland County wildcat, 11 and ½ miles south and slightly west of the city of Midland has been completed as a new discovery from the Pennsylvanian lime through perforations at 10,440-485 feet, natural, for a 24 hour flowing potential of 400-29 barrels of oil.

Gravity of the petroleum is 44.2 degrees. The flow was through a 28-64-inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 1,770-1.

Shakeout was .5 of one per cent basic sediment. There was no formation water flowing tubing pressure was from 690 to 500 pounds and there was no pressure on the casing.

This new discovery is to be put on regular production as a new field producer.

The well drilled to a total of 13,030 feet in a mixture of Joins and Ellenburger dolomite. It did not find any possibilities of production in that formation.

It logged some slight shows of petroleum in the Montoya and in the Devonian. However, it flowed oil on a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian while being drilled and operator elected to try to complete in that zone.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block 40, T-3-S, T&P survey. It is two and one quarter miles south and slightly east of the opener of the Parks-Ellenburger field.

Slight Injury In Car Train Crash Yesterday

A minor train-car crash at the Santa Fé railroad tracks and Avenue S yesterday resulted in slight injuries to the driver of the car, police reported.

A. W. Knight, 39, was taken to Snyder Hospital where he was released after treatment for injuries.

Trailer House Burns

Fire yesterday destroyed a trailer house and its contents at the Birdwell Trailer Court just west of where a small child recently died in a trailer house fire. The fire which occurred on Twenty-fourth Street in West Snyder about 3:30 yesterday afternoon was believed to have been caused by a short in its wiring, firemen said. One fire truck and three volunteer firemen reported to the scene, but arrived too late to save the house.

Rent Controls Alone Doubtful

By BARNEY LIVINGSTONE
(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A coalition of House Republicans and southern Democrats threatened today to stymie rent control extension unless general wage and price curbs are imposed.

Teamed up in the House Rules Committee, Dixie and GOP members tossed a monkey wrench into plans of House leaders to bring a 90-day extension of federal rent controls to a vote and probable passage today.

NOT CLEARED

Voting 6 to 5, the Rules Committee late yesterday refused—for the moment, anyway—to clear the bill for House consideration. Some southern members took a stand for total mobilization of the nation's economy.

Rep. Colmer (D-Miss) called for "complete controls on everything," and suggested Congress make it mandatory that President Truman invoke them, he now his discretionary powers to put controls into effect.

Colmer was joined by Rep. Cox (D-Ga), another rules committee member, who argued that if rent controls are necessary price-wage controls are too.

HOUSTON, Dec. 7. (AP) — A supermarket owner predicted prices will continue to rise until clamped tight by controls.

George W. Logan of Nashville, Tenn., told the mid-year conference of Supermarket Institute, Inc., that the institute's policy is to keep prices as low as possible. But he said the supermarket operators were being swept along unwilling ly in the rising tide of inflation.

G.I. Education Hearing To Be Held In Dallas

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Hearings on the $30 million GI educational program will begin in Dallas Dec. 14-15.

Rep. Teague (D-Tex.) said witnesses will include men from private trade schools which have trained veterans and VA employees. The committee has replies from Texas and other educators to questions about the veteran education program.

Children In Iceland Have American Santa

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—To many Icelandic children Santa Claus is an American. This is particularly true in and around the Keflavik airport which is operated by Americans. During the war American soldiers held Christmas parties for the local children with big successes and the habit was kept by the civilians who took over the base.

Elmer Gross is in his second year of coaching Penn State's basketballers.

Teen-Agers On Trial For Plotting Against Yugoslav Government

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 7. (AP) — Eleven teen-agers are on trial today, charged with plotting sabotage and the overthrow of Yugoslavia's Communist government.

Before their arrest, the prosecution asserted, they had managed to break street lights, set grass fires, tear down government propaganda posters and damage public telephones.

Ratislav Katuric, who will be 20 on Dec. 30, was named leader of the group. He was charged with plotting to "fight against the existing Yugoslavia social order and replace it with the kind of government which exists in the United States."

The youngest of the defendants is 7. Five of the accused heard so far in Belgrade district court have pleaded guilty to the charges.

Yule Tree Sales This Year Runs $50 Million

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP) — Americans will spend more than $50 million for Christmas trees this year.

This estimate forecasting the sale of 29,500,000 trees was made today by the Agriculture Department.

The department said this season's supply will equal last year's, and that prices are likely to be about the same.

The agency said about 21,500,000 trees will be cut in this country and about 7,000,000 imported from Canada. Montana leads the states in tree production, providing about one seventh of the country's cut.

Contest Gets Votes

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask., (AP) — The Civic Voters Association donated $25 in prizes to school pupils making the closest estimate of the number of civic votes cast. A contestant had to prove his parents voted, and the result was nearly 1,000 more votes than usual.

UN Complaint Says One Israeli Officer Killed

JERUSALEM, Dec. 7. (AP) — Israel complained to United Nations officials here today that an "Arab Legion ambush" on the disputed road to Elath in the Negev Desert has cost the life of one Israeli officer.

The reported incident occurred about 30 miles south of the spot where Jordan and Israeli forces engaged in a gun duel Sunday morning.

Immediately after Sunday's clash, the UN ordered a cease fire and troop withdrawal. Jordan agreed to both. Israel agreed to abide by the cease fire but served notice it would continue to use the road to supply its settlements at Elath.

Britons Discard Pipes

LONDON, (AP) — Britons, from Bond Street gentlemen to gruff Cockney dockworkers, are laying aside the pipes which once were closely linked to their way of living. An ounce of tobacco costs 56 cents, 7 cents more than a pack of 20 cigarettes. So more men are smoking cigarettes.

The men who make and sell pipes and tobacco are highly disturbed. They've formed the national pipe smoking conference from representatives of associations of retail tobacconists, pipe and pipe tobacco manufacturers and their allied industries.

Protest Over Housing

SINGAPORE, (AP) — Moslem pilgrims in Mecca have to put up with dark, stuffy rooms, totally inadequate sanitary arrangements, lack of ambulances and doctors, a Malayan Federal Councillor charged on his return from Mecca.

Tuan Sheik Ahamad asserted "as every pilgrim paid $56 to the Saudi Arabian government, it should be the duty of that government to provide sanitary comforts."

He added this was a matter for the respective Moslem governments to appeal to the Saudi Arabia government.

Animals Get Fortune

WINNIPEG, (AP) — Two shaggy dogs and an old horse are living a life of leisure here. Shep and Bounce, collies, and Buck, a 27-year-old horse, inherited a $5,000 estate when their mistress, Mrs. Elinor Scott, died at Fisher Branch, Man.

Children See President

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, (AP) — The President of Iceland, Sveinn Bjornsson, invited the children of Keflavik Airport, who are mostly of American and Icelandic-American parents, to his country residence the other day. The home, which is over 200 years old and was formerly the residence of the Danish governors, is furnished with many handcarved pieces in the traditional Icelandic style. Bjornsson invited the children into his study where he showed them his collection of photographs of European Royalty as well as many notables of the United States government.

Israel Plans Monument

TEL AVIV, (AP) — The 66 families — the first who settled 40 years ago in what is now Israel's largest city, Tel Aviv 250,000 inhabitants — will be honored by a monument bearing their names. It will be set up in front of the Tel Aviv Museum. Aaron Fechter will be the sculptor.

Leona Ranchman Killed In Train-Car Crash

BOWIE, Dec. 7. (AP) — A Leona ranchman, Mellon (Happy) Barlow, 66, was killed last night when his pickup truck collided with a passenger train.

Barlow's wife, who was with him, saw the lights of the approaching train, jumped from the truck and was not injured.

Browning Chapel Open

LONDON, (AP) — Poetry lovers now can go to church amid relics of Robert Browning. A Browning chapel, furnished with his study table as an altar, his chair, and other items from the Venetian home where he died, has just been dedicated at St. Marylebone parish church. The church parish includes Wimpole Street, where Browning lived and from where he courted Elizabeth Barrett.

The building of the chapel was supported by John Masefield, Britain's poet laureate, the Poetry Society of Great Britain, and ten Browning societies in the United States.

Conspiracy To Get Men Into The Stores This Christmas

By SAM DAWSON
(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. — People who worry because men don't buy enough duds to please the industries involved are attacking the problem of the unsartorial male from three sides today

1. Trying new ideas in man-made fabrics.
2. Enlisting Santa Claus to get hats on men.
3. Revamping store practices to lure the male within.

Accent on the casual and the colorful comes in Burlington Mill's announcement today of a new line of men's shirting and sportswear fabrics. Most are from rayon, but fashioned to look like wool, linen, flannel, sheers, or silk.

COLORFUL

Their fashion prints and woven-effect patterns are colorful—to employ an understatement. They get their inspiration from West Indian turtles, birdwings, waves, bamboo, coral, and shadow squares. Some of them come in 30 different shades. Burlington's idea is:

"Up to 200 years ago, men were the real peacocks, strutting in lace and buckles, fancy blouses and ribbons. We think men are feeling their oats again and will show it more and more in the way they dress."

The thoughts of the hat research foundation today are on Santa Claus. It hopes for big things this year from the Christmas gift certificate idea and gives stores some hints on avoiding pitfalls that showed up previously.

GIFT CARDS

The foundation cites a study of hat sales which shows in 1929 only nine per cent of the annual hat business was done in December, and now it's 17 per cent—thanks to Santa Claus. A typical store reports more than half of its Christmas hat business is in the form of gift cards.

Women buy more than a half of all certificates sold—and they select a higher priced hat than do men who buy gifts for other men. But a newer, and growing form is the certificate sold to business firms for Christmas gifts. One hat store reports this has grown to more than 40 per cent of its Christmas business.

MORE ADVICE

Further advice for men's stores comes today from a clothing manufacturer. Jerome I. Udell, president of Max Udell Sons & Co. In 1941, he notes, 65 cents were spent in men's apparel stores for every dollar spent in women's apparel stores. Last year only 53 cents went to men's stores for every dollar to women's.

Why aren't men buying clothing? Udell thinks the stores aren't doing the best of selling jobs.

One reason, he thinks, is that retail stores "are closed during most of the hours of the day and week when the mass of consumers are free to make purchases." He says much of the time the men's store is open it is practically deserted while costs go on unrelentingly and clerks grew unhappy from boredom.

Rhodes Scholarship Is Near For Texas Youth

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 7. (AP)—Aldon Duane Bell, 20, of Perryton, Texas, was a step nearer a Rhodes scholarship today.

He and Edward W. Amend, 19, of Stillwater, Okla., were selected as Oklahoma's representatives in the final competition at New Orleans Saturday.

Motor Stall Brings Stork A Little Early

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7. (AP)—The stork overtook a stalled family auto here last night, bringing the 13th child to Mrs. Mary Adams, 32.

A seven-pound boy arrived when the motor of the Adams' car stalled at a street intersection while en route to University Hospital.

A fire department emergency squad administered medical aid. Then the mother, father Linzie Adams, and the new baby turned around and went home.

All 48 states are represented in the 19th Infantry Regiment now in Japan, the range being from one Nevadan to nearly 200 New Yorkers.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By FRANCES BIOW

Some of the highest-priced radiators in town are freezing these frigid mornings, brightening life for no one with the exception of the taxi drivers, who enjoyed a bonanza. WARREN BOYD, driver for Yellow Cab Co., cryptically remarked, "I walked six miles in snow to school when I was a kid, and got so fed up with walking that I guess that's why I drive a taxi for a living!"

Of course, if you think it bad, there's always someone with a better story. . .MR. and MRS. DONALD RAE SCOTT shivered in yesterday at 11 o'clock after four weeks in the heart of the blizzard region, Johnstown, Pa.

* * *

According to Mr. Scott, the weather here has been mud, yes mud! The City of Pittsburgh spent a mere $20,000 on snow plows and various other means of clearing streets of a driving, deadly cold snow. The front walk where the Scotts stayed required three hours of concentrated effort to clear. Something between 18 and 30 inches fell during two weeks.

MR. and MRS. D. C. VAN SICLEN, who maintain architect-geologist offices and home at 2508 Avenue K, still are chortling over the two-hour show they saw at the West Central Texas Oil & Gas Association in Abilene last week. Called the Fort Phantom Finangle, it was satirically emceed by Dr. Frank B. Conselman, an Abilene geologist. The Van Siclens think him the wittiest man who ever hit it, with his portrayal of unsettled conditions in oil industry today. . . government red tape, the war, etc.

Two Suspended Sentences In District Court

Two persons were given suspended prison sentences in criminal district court yesterday afternoon.

Ernest James, 18, Negro, who was charged with theft of $85 cash and a wagon sheet from H. C. Hargrove Nov. 14, waived a trial by jury and pleaded guilty before Judge A. S. Mauzey. James admitted the theft and told the court that he had repaid the Hargrove with the money and wagon sheet. The judge gave him a three-year suspended sentence.

In the other case, James C. Smith, 45, Negro, also entered a plea of guilty and was assessed a three-year prison term, but suspended on his good behavior. He was charged with the theft of [illegible] from the home of Mrs. Ann York on July 26, of this year. He told the court that he had repaid all the money.

Eldon Mahon, district attorney, in explanation of the suspended sentences meted out to the pair said:

"It is the policy of the district attorney's office not to prosecute a case where the complaining witness does not wish to send a person to prison if the defendant has made restitution of the money or goods taken. This only applies where the court orders suspension of a sentence.

"On the other hand, when a jury tries a case and renders its verdict for a suspended sentence, the court has no other alternative than to follow the jury's wishes in the matter.

"The suspended sentence provision is a good law, and as long as its on the statute books of Texas, we will be governed accordingly."

Snyder Delegation To Attend District Meet Of Kiwanis Officials

Leaders from 11 Kiwanis clubs in district No. 12 will gather in Sweetwater Dec. 15 for a meeting of new club officers.

Luman Loman, governor of the Texas-Oklahoma district, will be the principal speaker at the banquet planned to close the meeting. Other speakers will include Lt. Gov. H. W. Smith of Big Spring, acting as master of ceremonies.

Clubs to be represented at the meeting will be from Lamesa, Big Spring, Brownwood, Snyder, Midland, Abilene, San Angelo, Coleman, Colorado City, Odessa and Sweetwater.

Press Conference Off

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP) — President Truman called off his weekly news conference today to attend the funeral of his press secretary and lifelong friend, Charles G. Ross.

Private services were held at the Ross home in suburban Chevy Chase, Md.

Ross died of a heart attack Tuesday.

Diesels On Trial Runs

TURIN, (AP) — A new type of diesel-powered railway coach is now undergoing trials here. The new coaches are being built for Greece, Egypt and Spain by the Fiat-Grandi-Motori works here.

The cars, are built with two 6-cylinder horizontal diesel engines. Spain has also ordered several, Fiat officials said.

American Gets Award

SINGAPORE, (AP) — Dr. Paul B. Means, professor of religion at the University of Oregon, is the first American to receive an award under the Fulbright Act to do research work in Malaya during the 1950-51 academic year at the university of Malaya.

Dr. Means spent 10 years as a missionary in Malaya and Sumatra before World War II. He has been engaged for several months in a study of changes in religious thought in Southeast Asia and in furthering a literacy campaign in Malaya.

Snyder Recruiter Recalls A Sunday Morning 9 Years Ago

Not only was most of the world shocked by the sneak Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on that Sunday morning, Dec. 7, 1941, but a Snyder man felt that awful impact of a second world war in the making.

That man is Master Sgt. William J. Wells, now in charge of the army recruiting station here. He was in it. Here is his graphic story:

"I was stationed at Wheeler Field, with the 72nd Fighter Squadron, which is about 20 miles from Pearl Harbor. As a buck sergeant I was with my outfit, quartered in tents awaiting orders for assignment to a Southwest Pacific station.

"It was while talking to a supply sergeant in the chow line that I first noticed some planes maneuvering in the skies in the distant. I thought it was our planes on tactical maneuvers and paid little attention to them until they soared directly over our heads, dropped a load of bombs. It was when I saw the Japanese "rising sun" insignia on the wings and I knew this was real.

"The next thing I did was to hit the ground, which I did with a bang, hugging a nearby curb. I guess I got closer to earth that moment than at any other time in my life.

"While I was stunned by the bomb attack, I escaped injury, but the damage wrought by the Jap planes, which occurred about 7:50 o'clock that morning, was terrible, and it was all over within an hour.

"Of the 275 men in my outfit about 75 per cent were casualties most of them being killed while asleep in their bunks because it was Sunday.

"Nearby hangers were in flames and of the 100 planes parked there only 12 ships remained undamaged.

"Immediately following the bombing, the Jap planes returned to straf the barracks, tents and hangers in great waves.

"I, with others who had not been injured, administered first aid to the wounded as best as we could despite the confusion of the attack.

"Shortly afterwards, we joined the infantry nearby, to ward off a landing by the Japanese, which we thought at the time was imminent.

"A group of American planes did attack the Japs, we heard later.

"When an officer at Wheeler Field telephoned Hickam Field near Pearl Harbor about five minutes before the attack occurred there, it was received as a joke — it couldn't happen, but it did.

"As the smoke of the attack cleared, I saw in the distance six huge American battlewagons sunk in the harbor, a large pile of wreckage, with fires raging around the vessels.

"It was an event that I hope never to witness again."

Wells, who calls Baytown his home, enlisted in the Army Air Corps in 1938 and trained at Kelly Field, Texas.

His active rating is master sergeant, but he holds a commission as first lieutenant in the Air Corps Reserves.

He has been on duty in Snyder since April.

G.M. And Ford Boost Prices

DETROIT, Dec. 7. (AP)—The price line in the automobile industry was caved in today at two major points.

Ford had followed General Motors with a boost in car prices. The two increases approximated five per cent or more.

Higher costs and materials shortages figured in both actions.

Only Chrysler of the industry's "big three" had yet to announce its price intentions. Chrysler's 1951 model cars come out in January.

Thus the auto industry, a vital part of America's economic pattern, had all but given up in the attempt to "hold the line."

Wholesale Food Price Shows Big Increase

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (AP)—Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradsireet index, this week jumped to the highest level since Sept. 21, 1948.

The index climbed to $6.77 compared with $6.67 last week and was 17.5 per cent above the $5.76 level of a year ago.

The rise was the sharpest since the index soared 13 cents late in August this year. The record high was $7.36, on July 13, 1948.

The index represents the total cost of wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Miss DeShazo

Miss Anna Mae DeShazo, 2411 Avenue I, bride-elect of Eldon Perry, will be feted at several social gatherings before her approaching marriage in January.

Tuesday night the first of the parties was in the form of a bridal gift tea, given by Mrs. G. B. Clark, Jr., Mrs. Wilson Connell, and Mrs. Amos Joyce at the Country Club.

Receiving with the hostesses were the honoree, Miss De Shazo, Mrs. J. P. DeShazo, the bride's mother, Mrs. J. E. Perry, the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. P. S. Werley, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Duff, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. Dale DeShazo, the bride's sister-in-law of Amarillo.

The hostesses had decorated the tea table in bridal wreath and lilies of the valley, with candlelight illuminating the hall room.

Miss Olive Ann Sumlin sang three numbers accompanied by Jack Your. Mr. Your also played during the tea hour.

Presiding at the tea table was Miss Daffney Scarborough, assisted by Miss Durrell Stokes, Miss Jonnie Dell Brock, and Miss Dewey Faye Everett.

Coffee, tea, fancy sandwiches and pastel colored bon bons were served to more than 60 guests.

Miss De Shazo wore a black taffeta gown with a nylon lace overskirt. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Tough Talking Woman Gets Best Of Gunman

RICHMOND, Ind., Dec. 7. (P—Mrs. Bertha Hercules, wife of a roofing company owner, told police the following dialogue took place when a man entered their office and pointed a gun at her last night:

Gunman: "Sister, I need some money and I need it bad."

Mrs. Hercules: "Brother, if you can find any money here just go ahead and take it."

The nonplussed gunman walked out, Mrs. Hercules told police she wouldn't have had such a snappy comeback if she hadn't thought the man was joking. Police took the view he probably meant it.

Bleak Picture Painted By Oil Company Taxmen

DALLAS, Dec. 7. (P—Things are going to get a lot tougher before they get any better, oil company taxmen were warned.

"The best we can hope for in the next few years is higher taxes, less goods to sell, more controls on those sold, and fewer people to do the job with," said H. Clyde Reeves, commissioner of revenue for Kentucky.

C. D. Gallamore of Tulsa told the three-day advalorem tax forum yesterday that "local governments should have those things essential to betterment but not beyond." He warned against wasteful cost.

County Weather Bill

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7. (P — A Philadelphia motorist caught in last week's snow storm while driving through western Pennsylvania's Lawrence County had to dig out his own car.

Oleg N. Dudkin, an industrial engineer, figured he was doing the county a favor and sent in a bill for five hours' labor at $4 an hour.

The county commissioners wrote Dudkin that if they had to pay wages like that they could only afford mild weather. In fact, they added, it might be cheaper to move the county bodily or roof it all in. They said they were filing Dudkin's bill in the wastebasket.
