CURSIN' GRANT.
BY SLOWCUS.

Politics is easy writin,'
Now "Democracy" means "cuss,"
Tricks is trumps; the heavy fightin'
Mostly runs to cussin Grant.

Friend in office goes for steallin';
P'raps your uncle and your aunt
Gets removed. Of course your feelin's
Finds relief in cussin' Grant.

When your're forced to pay your taxes,
"Bond exemption" is the rule;
As your indignation waxes
Keep straight on a cussin' Grant.

P'raps you'd "sacrifice" to fillin'
Some good place in the Levant,
Turnin' an official shillin'
Only for that cussed Grant?

Never mind what man or measure
He approves, be sure you slang;
You must not forgo the pleasure
Every time of cussin' Grant.

After Opposition favor
Would you cringe or run and pant?
Doesn't matter whether knave or
Honest man, just cuss at Grant.

And when cussin' do it hearty!
Don't with mealy mouth descant
Like some traitors in the party
When they go to cussin' Grant.

Don't waste argument or reason,
Bid the Truth and Sense avaunt,
Welcome Falsehood, Meanness, Treason,
Only keep on cussin' Grant.

Pigs and Venomous Serpents.

We give below an extract from the Oriental Sporting Magazine, in which the writer states that he was on the two occasions a witness to pigs being severely bitten by cobras without being in the slightest degree affected.

The first time I witnessed the act was in Ceylon, in 1856. I was returning one morning from snipe shooting with a tolerably fair bag of birds, when my attention was arrested by a dozen semi-wild pigs belonging to my friend, most perseveringly engaged in endeavoring to turn over with their snouts the half-rotten stem of a palmyra palm, and curiosity to see if they would succeed in their endeavors—for I had never seen pigs work so unanimously in concert before—caused me to stop and watch them. After two or three failures they gained their point, turning the tree half-way round, when a whole family of cobras, large and small, glided from under it. After them the pigs scampered hither skelter, showing as much activity, although only half-wild, as a Bengal boar would do. A very large cobra, fully five feet in length, was seized by a half-grown sow within twelve feet of me and whilst she was crunching up the horrible writhing bonne-bouche, which had been seized about the middle of the body; I distinctly saw the reptile bite the sow twice on the snout, without the animal apparently caring the least about it; the pleasure of consuming the luscious tit-bit entirely compensated for any annoyance or pain that the pig might have felt at the time. I saw the sow mentioned some days afterward, not the least affected by the bite of the cobra.

The second instance was on a small island, yclept Pulobbin, situated in the narrow channel of the sea between Singapore and the main land. I had gone over to Pulobbin to endeavor to shoot a man eating tiger which was creating great havoc among a few wretched Chinese convicts stationed on the island to split granite and ship it to Singapore for building purposes. In this instance, I had been out all the morning in an unsuccessful search for the man-eater, and on my return, feeling rather done up, I stretched myself at full length in the raised portico of the shooting hut and was enjoying my pipe, when I noticed a large black cobra slowly gliding along the top of the bank, within twenty feet of me.

In the side of the bank were several holes, having much the appearance of the nests of our English sand-martin, and they had evidently at some previous time been the nests of either king-fishers or some of the fly-catcher family. The cobra, having approached the very brink of the cutting, suspended his head and about two feet of his body over it, and commenced a diligent search in these holes for rats, birds, or any small prey which might be concealed within them. Suddenly a loud squeak from one of their occupants showed that the unwelcome intruder had been successful in the search; and on the snake withdrawing its head from the abandoned bird's nest, a large frog leaped vigorously out, but on reaching the ground seemed to be perfectly paralyzed with the venom of the bite, and in less than a minute died.

The snake seemed to be fully aware of the deadly effects of its own bite, as it never attempted to follow its victim, though it closely watched it from the bank; its head being thrust about two inches over the bank, its eyes fixed on the frog, while the forked tongue was thrust in and out of its mouth, showing the state of excitement that the reptile was in at the contemplation of the feast before it.

Little, however, did the reptile anticipate what was in store for it; for whilst gloating over his wretched victim, a fine half-grown pig, belonging to one of the Chinese ticket-of-leave men, saw him, and rushed at him. The snake was completely taken by surprise, its head at the moment being about four inches below the surface of the bank, thus preventing him to see the enemy approaching from behind.

The pig, without a moment's hesitation, seized the snake near the tail, and commenced chumping him up as a savage would eat a string of macaroni. Again and again the reptile bit him with great violence, but for a Ten Cents, only one quarter the cost. Address, GEM SPECK, Rochester, New York. 30-12-71d(f.)

SUCCESSFUL EDITORS.—An English writer says: A good editor, or competent newspaper conductor is like a general or a poet, born, not made. Exercise and experience give facility, but the qualification is innate, or it is never manifested. On the London daily papers all the great historians, novelists, poets, essayists, and writers of travels, have been tried and nearly every one has failed. "I can," said the late editor of The London Times, "find any number of men of genius to write for me, but very seldom one man of common sense." Nearly all successful editors are of this description. A good editor seldom writes much for his paper; he reads, judges, selects, dictates, alters and combines, and to do all this well he has but little time for composition. To write for a paper is one thing, to edit a paper is another.

EDUCATION AND BOOKS.—The first use of education is to enable us to consult with the wisest and greatest of men on all points of earnest difficulty. To use books rightly, is to go to them for help; to appeal to them, when our own knowledge and power of decision have failed; to be led by them into wider sight, purer conception—than our own, and receive from them the united sentence of the judges and councils of all time, against our solitary and unstable opinion. —Ruskin.

OFFICIAL LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES,
Passed at the Second Session of the Forty-Second Congress.

[GENERAL NATURE—No. 29.]

AN ACT to restore the records of the United States courts in the northern district of Illinois.

(Countinued.)

SEC. 3. That it shall be the duty of the district attorney for the northern district of Illinois to take such steps as may be necessary to secure the records and files of the circuit and district courts of said district which were destroyed by fire on the ninth of October, eighteen hundred and seventy-one, and in which the United States is interested, so far as the judges of said courts, respectively, shall deem it essential to the interests of the United States that said records and files be so restored; and the judges of said courts, assembled to direct such steps to be taken as, in their opinion, shall be deemed advisable to restore the judgment dockets and policies of said courts, and, for that purpose, may direct the performance of the clerks of said courts, and he, the United States attorney for said district, of such duty incident thereto, and said clerks and said district attorney shall be allowed compensation and disbursements for services rendered under this act, in exact accordance with the provisions of law provided by law for such services; as may be allowed by the Attorney General, and certified to be just and reasonable by the judge of the court in which said service are rendered, and the amount so allowed shall be paid out of the judiciary fund: Provided, however, That the sum allowed the clerks of said courts shall not exceed the sum of twelve thousand dollars, and the entire compensation of the United States attorney for such services shall not exceed the sum of six thousand dollars.

Approved, March 18, 1872.

[GENERAL NATURE—No. 30.]

AN ACT to amend section thirty-five of an act entitled "An act to reduce internal taxes, and for other purposes."

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the privileges of an act entitled "An act to reduce internal taxes, and for other purposes," approved July fourteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy, be, and are hereby, extended to the port of Pittsburgh, in the State of Pennsylvania, with the same effect as if it had been inserted in the thirty-five section of said act.

Approved, March 18, 1872.

[GENERAL NATURE—No. 31.]

AN ACT authorizing the survey and marking of the boundary between the territory of the United States and the possessions of Great Britain, from the Lake of the Woods to the summit of the Rocky Mountains.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, be, and he is hereby, authorized to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in the appointment of a joint commission, in accordance with the 5th and 6th articles of the treaty of Ghent, of a competent number of engineers, not exceeding twenty-third, eighteen hundred and seventy, for determining the boundary line between the United States and the British possessions, beginning at the Lake of the Woods, and the Rocky Mountains: Provided, That engineers in the regular service of the United States shall be employed exclusively as engineers in the performance of the duties contemplated by this act, without additional pay, allowances, or emoluments, and the Secretary of War is hereby directed to make the necessary details of engineers for that purpose.

SEC. 2. That fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be required, be, and the same is hereby, appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to carry into effect the object of said joint commission.

Approved, March 19, 1872.

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF BEXAR COUNTY AND CITY OF SAN ANTONIO.

SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1872.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

CHANGE OF TIME ORDERED.

A Delegate Convention of the Republican party of Texas is hereby called to assemble in the City of Austin on the second Tuesday of May, 1872, for the purpose of nominating Presidential Electors, selecting Delegates to the Philadelphia National Convention, for a thorough re-organization of the party, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the body.

The basis of representation is fixed the same as for members of the Legislature under the present apportionment.

Papers friendly to the objects herein expressed will please copy this call.

A. S. TRACY,
City Republican State Executive Committee.
J. P. NEWCOMB, Secretary.

TO THE REPUBLICANS OF BEXAR COUNTY.

After consultation with prominent Republicans, it is deemed advisable to modify the notice for a county convention of the Republicans of this county, as published in yesterday's EXPRESS, instead of general conventions appointing delegates to the county convention, it is thought preferable to hold a General Mass Meeting of the Republicans of the whole county at the time and place named.

The request is therefore made, that a full representation of the Republican voters of this county, from all its precincts, meet at the Firemen's Hall, on Market St. in this city, on Saturday the 13th instant, for the purpose of electing delegates from this county to the State Republican Convention to be held in the city of Houston on the 2nd Tuesday of May proximo. A full representation is requested, in order that delegates may be chosen who will express the Republican voice of this county in the State Convention.

A. SIEMERING,
Chairman of the Executive Com. of the 1st Judicial District.

VICTORY NO. TWO.

The dispatches so far received announce with sufficient certainty the election of the entire republican ticket in Connecticut. The republican Majority at the last election for Gov. Jewell was 127 only; that it is much greater in the late election is amply evidenced by the silence maintained in the telegrams to the Associated Press, the line being unfortunately a partizan instead of a strictly neutral medium of all news whether political or otherwise, as it ought to be. The leading Democratic newspapers of the north are busily engaged in rejoicing over the republican victories, while the southern Democratic press, so far as we have seen, the Louisville Journal excepted, have little to say upon the subject. The Chicago Times, which in times past has been one of the most bitter representatives north of the proscriptive "Bourbonism" of the democratic party, consoles itself after the following fashion:

"The result is unmistakably unfortunate by the moral which it affords. This moral is embodied in the obvious detection that the Democratic party alone stands in the shadow of a chance to prevent the re-election of Grant. The most hopelessly pig-headed Bourbon in the party must now recognize the fact that the Democratic candidate for President could not carry more than one-third of the electoral vote."

The New York World, by far the ablest and most influential democratic journal in the country, gives utterance to similar sentiments. We are more than willing to feel content with the results of the election in New Hampshire and Connecticut, and for once have a fellow-feeling with the defeated party so long blindly struggling after the satisfaction they might have derived from power and spoils. But he must be an incorrigible Radical of the changes going on among the people all over this country who does not perceive that the issues of ten and fifteen years or more gone are forever dead, and will be finally entombed next November. Vallandigham showed himself a man of superior foresight when he first sounded the bugle cry to the democracy of "change front!" It threw the ranks into confusion, but the party has been trying hard to change front ever since—and seems likely to demolish the difficult feat, not in time to defeat Grant, but in time to present a fair array before the succeeding Presidential election. The young men of the South are throwing off the more potent with the progressive spirit which inheres in our institutions, those of the North too from a more extensive intercourse with the people of the South and a better knowledge of our good qualities as well as bad ones, are liberalizing their views, and four years from this time will be a new party opposed to the Republican party which will contain elements of strength because it will be patriotic and [illegible] for all states, just as the Republican party has been striving for the same ends ever since its existence. The Democratic party is laid away, and they themselves now so long and [illegible] the time [illegible] joke at the coming change. There is no fear whatever that the new combination will [illegible] for many years to come, the republican party, because it combines all of the great principles of progress and energy which the new party lacks, it has the prestige of a [illegible] record and yearned successful government, and it will be purified and strengthened by having a "few worthy of its steel," the far-from sincerely anti-so-called reformers evident to every one possessing broad and liberal views, looking forward to a brilliant future for a great and united people, that it will be vain for the democracy, and well for those of us inclined to act from feelings engendered by civil strife, to find that our real antagonisms are founded upon actual political differences and not upon barbaric hate. Then let the democracy change front—and the sooner the better. We will give them a fair fight and beat them still. Our worst men will desert and go over to them, but there best men will enlist in our ranks, and republicanism will go on in triumph giving to the whole country, enlightenment, prosperity, and freedom to all without fear.

The Call for Republican county Convention.

By mistake we put in up the form day before yesterday the amended call for a county convention, which appears in to days issue, was omitted. For the information of several who have inquired upon what authority this call is made we will state: That this call is made by the chairman of the Executive Committee of this district at the request of Gen. Zoeller, chairman of the Executive Committee of this Senatorial district.

Mr. David Bell was appointed chairman of the executive committee for this County, but refused to act; but as this District contains the county of Bexar only, Mr. Siemering is virtually the chairman of the county executive committee, and was very properly called upon to make the call. We hope our republican friends all over the county will respond heartily, and give us a rousing mass-meeting that will wake up old Bexar to her full strength. We have a great work to perform next autumn, we must elect Grant, and a republican legislature of the right stamp. Let us all be up and doing and not wait for the next neighbor to make the start.

We are in receipt of the first number of the Galveston Standard, a semi-weekly newspaper, edited by Hon. G. T. Ruby. Mr. Ruby, who is probably the leading colored man in the State, says in his valedictory:

Regarding the great principles, Right, Justice and Equality dominating the Republican party to-day, to be national in their character, entwined, alike to all true patriots and lovers of their country, continuing what our fathers designed, "A government of the people, for the people and by the people"—we shall at all times advocate such measures, broad and liberal in effect, as will best subserve those interests. The Administration, of President Grant has been eminently practical, and conducive to the peaceful solution of the vexed questions growing out of the late war. To-day our country is great, free and prosperous, in a degree commensurate only with the free will and broad, earnest purpose of him who is at the helm of our ship of State. We believe that in the renomination and re-election of Gen. Grant will the work so nobly begun, and continued by the present Administration, be gloriously and triumphantly concluded in the unity and harmony of a peaceful, prosperous country. A great nation and people, under a wise and stable Government, having awoked to a true consciousness of their rightful position, renouncing the dead issues of a forgotten past—knowing no North, no South, no East, no West, no creed, no sect, no color, and no condition, but united in the indissoluble ties of a common nationality—a common citizenship.

The paper is a good sized one of 24 columns, excellent in typography, and its editorials are well written. We wish it success with all our heart.

The New York Times says: "We support Grant for these reasons. He has kept the peace; he has given protection to men of all colors in the South; he has solved the painful and shameful Indian question; he has given us an economical administration, and has been implacable with rogues in office; he has made a treaty with England, and means to hold England to it; he has straightened the national credit, and has contributed in every way to the prosperity of the country. He has borne himself with simplicity, dignity, and honor in his station—a quiet, unpretending gentleman, as every President should be. Behind this he has made a name in our history second only to Washington as a soldier—a name known to all the world. We say to the coalitions—What better can you give us? Have you any name? Is there any living American name more illustrious than that of Grant? What can you put against THIS that we give to the people, for Mr. Greeley must be viewed as our candidate, or you will offend Mr. Trumbull. What can you give us as a platform?"

Considering the magnitude and multifarious character of the business passing through the office of the U. S. Treasury, that other seems very blemishless, but of the examination of his accounts, just concluded. The Committee's report shows, as was expected, the deficiency caused by the defalcations of two dishonest clerks, and a further discrepancy of $655,373.63, but this last amount is found to be wrongly placed, rather than deficient. After all, the enormous amount of money handled by the Treasurer's office, the Government has lost but a small loss.

With the Democratic press outside of the party it is exclusively the things of yesterday's defalcation!

The Secretary of War has had under consideration for some time past the relations affecting post-traders, and a decision has been issued to the following effect: [illegible] required to reside permanently in the station, and a regard of administration will regulate the prices at which goods are to be sold. Post-traders are forbidden to assign or sublet their licenses, under penalty of immediate revocation. If not approved by the council traders they can appeal to the War Department. Traders who [illegible] expected to [illegible] in sixty days from the date of the decision reaching the post.

[From the State Journal.]

Is hereby given that I am now prepared to discharge the six per centum bonds of the State of Texas (interest payable semi-annually on the first days of March and September) to parties holding certificates of debt issued by the auditorial board. These bonds are of the denominations of $500 each. The holders of certificates for a greater amount will be entitled to fractional certificates for any balance, or they are privileged to pay any difference in cash to make their claims equal to a bond. Claimants will present their paper to the clerk of the auditorial board for final examination and registration, and to the Treasurer to receive their bonds.

GEO. W. HONEY,
State Treasurer.

WHOSE FUNERAL IS THIS?—The Chicago Tribune—good administration organ—avers that "the democratic party, as a whole, has made up its mind to lay down its life, and, relieving its members of their supposed allegiance, enable them to make such political affiliations as may seem to them the most advisable." When the Tribune is so ready to ring the knell of one departed party will it not have the kindness to inform its readers whose funeral among its own friends it is secretly inclined to attend?—N. Y. Herald.

AND now Christopher Columbus is to be shorn of his honors. A Rev. M. Maury has read a paper before the American Geographical society, in which he claims that "Martin Behaim's Globe," which was constructed prior to 1492, contains a representation of the West India islands, showing that Columbus was not the sole believer in the world's rotundity, or of the fact that the Indies could be reached by sailing westward.

Two wretches are to be hung in Kentucky, and the Courier-Journal asks: Why doesn't the State hire a big circus tent, make the hanging "private," and charge the Christian thousands twenty-five cents per head for admission? The hanging would then be not only a measure of economy, but a source of revenue, which would go far toward paying the expenses of an extra session of the Legislature.

A PETITION to Congress to prohibit the calling of any more children by the name of "George Washington," is in circulation out West. Something like this is due to the memory of the great Virginian. The modern George Washington lies and steals outrageously. He is already in jail in various parts of the country. The heaven of that "little hatchet" seems to work on all who bear the name, and in the death of cherry trees, their mischief rises to the level of every crime upon the calendar.

A JAPANESE handbill, found in a package of tea at San Francisco, remarks: "They are both kinds: Young and Hanging; it is the name of the mountain; there very much fuzzy cover the top of the mountain, so the feel are constantly. These quality are superior and genuine. Any person who was feeling indisposed may try taker a cup of it in a A.M. morning, and will feel much better and good spirit. Wholesale only packed for Imperial. By Foohing & Co., Yokohama."

THE Geneva Convention will consist of five "arbitrators." Switzerland will be represented by Herr Stampfli, President of the Federal Council of the Swiss Confederation. The King of Italy sends the former President of the Italian Senate, Count Sclopis. Brazil sends the Baron de Itajuba, a famous lawyer and ambassador. Charles Francis Adams will be there as the representative of the United States, and Chief Justice Cockburn will appear on behalf of Great Britain. These gentlemen constitute the Board of Arbitration.

THE Fifteenth Amendment rose up like a dark spectre before the astonished Assembly last night in the person of the Rev. Mr. Rhodes, who prayed for the unfortunate bone hunters with zeal and fervor. He is the first colored gentleman, in the history of the State, who was permitted to rush in the face of Providence in this way. We like the innovation. White chaplains are unfortunately too much given to addressing the Throne of Grace in reference to bills in committee, and demanding spiritual interference in close political contests. The New York Legislature cackled a long time about the fifteenth amendment, and behold! here is a colored clerical chicken come home to roost and crow.—N. Y. Herald.

DALLAS is in a muddle. It seems that Gov. Davis has appointed a new board of city officials and the old constituted authorities will not vacate according to order. Every lawyer in Dallas, with one exception, the Herald says, expresses the opinion that this action of Gov. Davis is wholly illegal.

QUITE a number of the Japanese embassy have made application to the Masonic lodges of Washington city for admittance into that Order, and their petitions have been favorably acted upon. Extensive preparations are being made for their initiation.

KENTUCKIANS cannot understand why their land, which is fertile and conveniently situated as any in the United States, should decline so much in value. Let them rub the mould of decayed political ideas and institutions out of their eyes, and they will see clearly enough.

THE aggregate duties collected last year on imported coal, salt, tea and coffee, were as follows:

On coal, $535,276; salt, $1,175,587; tea, $6,000,000; coffee, $10,000,000; total, $21,710,007. The repeal of these duties has been voted by the House of Representatives.

Chinese Vermin.

By mixing together three parts of fresh-beaten defibrinated blood, four parts of slaked lime, and one part of pulverized alum, the Chinese obtain a kind of varnish which they call achie-lac, and which in China is extensively employed as a coating for wooden utensils requiring to be thoroughly water-tight. Dr. Von Scherzer, who first introduced this substance to the notice of Europeans, says he has shown Pekin wooden chests that had been varnished with it, which after a journey into Siberia to St. Petersburg and back were still sound and perfectly water-tight. It is a substance strongly used for the transportation of oil, are made fit for the purpose by means of this varnish. Dry [illegible] coated with it are [illegible] both in appearance and firmness, like wood. Articles resembling in appearance and firmness, like wood. Articles resembling to be absolutely impervious are varnished twice, or at the most three times, by the Chinese. The preparation has been tested to various ways both in Europe and Australia, and although it is stated to resemble varnish, it is rough, and [illegible] to water.

THE Chicago Republican says: "Lieutenant Governor Mueller, of Ohio, says that all the American anti-Grantmen whom he knows favor the liberal Republican movement, either on account of their personal grievances, or on account of their free-trade principles. As to the Democratic reformers, he says they consist for the most part of men who, having no hope for the resurrection of the Democratic party, seek to obtain power in a negative way."

"Is Horace Greely a college-bred man?" Inquired a diligent searcher after truth. "No, he is a Graham bread man," says the Rochester Democrat.

TRUST SALE.

WHEREAS, W. E. A. Thielepape, President of the "San Antonio Meat Extract Company," did, on the 22nd day of January, A. D. 1872, as President of said San Antonio meat extract company, a body corporate and politic in the county of Bexar and State of Texas, and by authority in him vested by such meat extract and deliver to Ernst Altgeld his certain Deed of Trust, for a legal and valuable consideration, and to secure the prompt payment of his certain promissory notes, by him so made as the President of the said body corporate and politic, the one executed and delivered on the 22nd day of January, A. D. 1872, to A. Seele, G. Eimendorf, E. Pantenscheder, A. Steinring, A. F. Wild, Th. Hertzberg, and H. Kloeke, for the sum of twenty-one thousand and thirty seven dollars and thirty cents, U. S. currency, payable one month after date of execution, with twelve per cent interest per annum, and the other executed and delivered the same day and date, to A. Seele, G. Eimendorf, E. Pantenscheder, A. Steinring, A. F. Wild, Th. Hertzberg, and H. Kloeke, for the sum of six thousand three hundred and thirty-five dollars and two cents coin, payable one month after date of execution, with twelve per cent interest per annum, selling and conveying the following described property, to wit: Two tracts of land in Victoria County—State of Texas—described by metes and bounds in said Deed of Trust and already sold by virtue of said Deed of Trust on the 15th day of March, A. D. 1872, to E. Herndon of the County of Bexar and State of Texas. Also a certain tract of land in Bexar County State of Texas, on the west bank of the San Antonio river, below mission San Jose, beginning at a stake on the bank of the river, the south east corner of a tract of land owned by the Estate of C. L. Pyron, thence west 454 vares thence south 782 vas, thence east to the San Antonio river, thence up said river to the place of beginning, containing six hundred and eighty-five acres of land, it being the same tract sold by Wm. Menke to San Antonio Meat Extract Company, together with buildings, houses, factories, outhouses, and all improvements, and all appurtenances to the same belonging, and also the entire inventory now of and belonging to the said San Antonio Meat Extract Factory as follows, to wit: one slaughter house, one tallow tank, iron with boiler, cooler and conducting pipe and other fixtures, 3 tables, a platform balance, an iron pipe, grindstone, one sugar-pan, [illegible] with furnace, a lot of tallow barrels, &c. &c. LOCAL AFFAIRS.

REMOVAL.—Mrs Pollio's Millinery Establishment has been removed to the fine building of Commerce st., next door to the National Bank and opposite S. H. French's store. 6-24-tfdtw

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement for the sale of condemned Quartermaster's supplies at this depot, on the 15th of May next, horses, mules, wagons, carts, ambulances, clothing, hats, caps, boots, and other articles may be had cheap, no doubt.

THE News says, A. W. Kempton was arrested on Wednesday last charged with extortion in office. That paper also says, copying the Herald's allusion to his celebrated motto when the fees didn't come in fast enough to suit him, "Stir around boys, this won't do," that the valiant captain "sticks to his text."

ARMY NEWS.—Second Lieutenant Alfred M. Raphall, company H, has been promoted to be First Lieutenant, vice Guthrie, deceased, which carries him to company C, at Fort Richardson.

Ordnance Sergeant Charles Seidler, U. S. Army, has been transferred from Fort Stockton to Fort Clark, Texas, and will proceed to that post—accompanying the Headquarters 9th cavalry.

THE Israelites have Sabbath School at their place of worship this morning at 9 o'clock A. M., and their usual service at 10 o'clock A. M. We understand that the Rabbi is a man of learning and liberal views, and that his teachings are not only eloquently rendered, but such as persons of every religion would be glad to listen to, and be benefitted by them. The lecture is in German, otherwise we would like to become able to judge for ourselves.

THE method of glass blowing, and the skill and perfection with which it is done, is really interesting, instructive, and a sight worth beholding. You see in the shops and glass stores, the finest and most beautiful objects in glass both of vertue and for use, and never stop to think how these were made. When you witness their construction the process seems easy enough—in fact, it requires a skill and dexterity only acquired by years of patient practice and labor.

If you want to judge for yourself, go and see Prof. Greiner, at Fireman's Hall, and you will learn more in an hour from seeing than you would learn in a week by reading.

THE Recorder's Court is getting to be quite a lively institution. Five "drunks" yesterday, three could'nt pay, and the others went away—after paying fines. The non-paying went to jail.

Three more "unfortunates, sadly importunate," went away poorer, if not better. Query!—Why do the "drunks" generally occur on a rainy day? Is it because they get too much water with their whiskey?

Another query!—How can a woman be punished on a charge of "vagrancy," even if she have a reputation unlike that of Cesar's wife, when she stays at home and disturbs nobody?

Query!—If she can, what is the object—reformation, or her dollars and cents? We just ask for information, nobody need answer who don't'nt like to tell.

THE Military circle were on the qui vive for several days in anticipation of the Pour Prendre Congé party, of our popular retiring Chief Medical Director (Dr. L. A. Edwards) who, as previously announced, has been transferred to Philadelphia, Pa. The event came off under most favorable circumstances, except that the weather was a little murky, but it did not detract from the pleasure of the occasion.

"Through the unceasing vigilence of the host, hostess and daughter, ably assisted by the genial and affable Mrs. Captain A. E. Hooker, everything passed off as "merry as a marriage bell." The pleasure of the entertainment was greatly enhanced by the execution of some choice music, by the accomplished Mrs. Gillon and daughter. At the bewitching hour of twelve o'clock, the guests were summoned to the supper table, which groaned beneath the weight of good things. To enumerate would cause non-attendants to wish they were there. Ample justice having been done to the supper, all retired to the parlor and indulged in general conversation, until the "wee sma' hours" admonished the votaries of pleasure that it was time to depart. Among the guests were General Augur and family, General Ekin and family, Colonel G. L. Andrews, General Card and lady, and other distinguished army officers on duty here. All retired from the festive scene with but one regret—that we are so soon to part with our gentlemanly host and his amiable family.

THE most remarkable specimen of the genus homo which we meet across yesterday, was one who asserted that, in his opinion, the editing of a daily newspaper was "the easiest thing going." How we pitied that man because he did not know the sweets of toil! But it made us reflective. We looked over some of the great daily sheets of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, &c., &c., and said to ourselves how much labor is here bestowed every day. He could take this issue a whole day to read one of them through—but who did the writing!—and all the other work necessary!

Not less than a hundred men on some of these papers. We tried to count the number of editors which some of these employ, and couldn't recall all those engaged on a daily paper in one of these cities all of whom we ought to remember, the sheet is larger than ours. There was the political editor, the clipping and news editors, the reviewer of books and magazines, the stock and monetary reporter, the collector of local news items, the man who looked after advertisements, &c., and how many more we are getting too tired to think about.

Now think of one man doing all this without assistance, reading the proof besides, not a line going into a sheet of the size of the EXPRESS except it passes through his hands—writing of politics and every other subject, narrating local affairs to which he would not give a moments thought but for the benefit of somebody who may pass to read about it in the morning, and then say his job is an easy one. Bosh such is nothing, such men think. When they are sighing about in their easy evenings which only all too few take as they lounge, "whistling for want of thought," they imagine our lives are as vague and joyless and tranquillous as theirs.

They are the men who get up strikes, and play the mischief with the clock-work of society, loitering in their dawdling inebriety they curse engine houses and other luxuries. If anybody in the world has a right to strike it is the editor; and we do not wonder that he does so sometimes, with the pen, a little more savagely than his nature would prompt him to. It is he who deserves, if faithful, a palace, a fast horse and sufficient recreation.

CLOTHING! CLOTHING!

CHICAGO, October 21, 1871.

F. W. FARWELL, Esq., Sec. N. W. (Babcock) Fire Extinguisher Co.,

DEAR SIR—It affords me pleasure to state that both the Babcock Engines and Extinguishers, (which I took possession of in behalf of the city during the great conflagration, and some of which I am still using,) have rendered valuable aid and service, and are now showing daily records (see Fire Department Reports) of fires being extinguished by them. If I ever had any doubt of the efficiency of these engines it is now entirely removed. I feel as though I could not speak too highly of them. They have proved themselves to be the best apparatus yet invented for self-protection.—Every person should be their own fireman, and arm themselves with them.

Very truly yours, E. A. WILLIAMS.
29-3 72 Fire Marshal, Chicago.

"GEO P. ROWELL & Co., are the largest advertising agents in the world." Journal and Recorder, West Meridian, Conn. "The success of this firm is truly wonderful, and yet not so, either, when we take into consideration their honorable manner of transacting business. We truly wish that all of our foreign advertising might come through them, as it would be saving to the advertiser and advantageous to ourselves.—Journal, Adams, N. Y.

The Importance of Health.

In point of importance, bodily health is second to nothing earthly. Nay, a modern French philosopher has maintained, that to pursue health—bodily health that is—is the main duty of man. This much, at any rate, is certain, that, whether or not the pursuit of health be itself virtue, the attainment and the possession of health conduce in a degree most remarkable, if not to virtue, at least to clearness of thought, to soundness of judgment and general prudence of conduct—which are commodities much more marketable than virtue is. Now the two great conditions of health are abundant Nourishment and unobstructed Excretion—the latter removing from the system that which is used-up; the former replacing this. It is in accordance with this principle that Dr. Gottlieb Pisch's Bitters acts. It stimulates the digestive and nutritive process, on the one hand, and, par pass, the excretory, on the other. To, who prize health, make trial!

This subject continued next week under "How to save the food of our Eating."

CWARK & SCHMITZ, Philadelphia, Proprietors of DR. PISCH'S FOOD CURE BITTERS."

Plain Words for the People.

When broken down in health, strength and spirits it is not necessary that we should ask a medical man whether an invigorant is necessary. Common sense tells us that it is. The only question to be decided is, what the invigorant shall be. A standard tonic and restorative, which has been many years before the public, and to which millions of the intelligent classes repose the fullest faith, seems, in a case like this, to present the strongest claims to the confidence of the prudent invalid. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to possess these high recommendations. Its triumphant progress during a period of twenty years, its present popularity, and the uniform success which attends its use in indigestion, nervous debility, biliary complaints, fever and ague, and all ailments which depress the physical system and enervate the mind, entitle it to the rank of a standard national specific. It is regarded in that light by the community at large, and hundreds of thousands of both sexes resort to it at this season as a preventative of the numerous and harrassing class of diseases which take their rise from the miasmatic winds and vapors of spring. It is a stimulant, a tonic, an alterative and a mild aperient—four essential restorative and protective elements of the materia medica—united in a single agreeable preparation. Every ingredient is vegetable, of the purest quality, and absolutely pure. Hostetter's Bitters is better known, held in greater esteem, and commands a larger sale, than any other proprietary medicine manufactured in this country or imported from abroad.

IRISH POTATOES,
19 WAGNER & HUMME.

light dawned upon the world with the introduction of Plantation Bitters twelve years ago. Drastic purgative went out—restoration and renovation came in. The eyes of the people were opened to the great fact that the way to cure disease is to strengthen and support its victims, not to place them at its mercy by depriving them of the little strength they have. It soon became evident that as a means of infusing vitality into the feeble system, regulating the secretions, curing indigestion, and reforming a billious habit of body, no medicinal preparation then known was at all comparable to the new restorative. Since then hundreds of attempts have been made to rival the Bitters. They have all failed, and the grand revolution in medical treatment, which was commenced in 1860, is still in progress. Nothing can stop it, for it is founded on the principle, now universally acknowledged, that physical vigor is the most formidable antagonist of all human ailments, and experience has shown that Plantation Bitters is a peerless invigorant, as well as the best possible safeguard against epidemic diseases.

TRUTH.—The powers of Mrs. Whitcomb's Syrup for children are as positive as the sunlight from heaven, and gentle and soothing as an angel's whisper.

Dead Men tell no Tales: If they could, verdicts against the depleting lancet, the drastic purge, and the terrible salivants of the materia medica, would arise from every graveyard. The motto of modern medical science is "Preserve and Regulate, not destroy," and no remedy of our days is so entirely in harmony with this philanthropic logic as DR. WALKER'S VEGETABLE VINEGAR BITTERS. In this powerful, yet harmless restorative, dyspepsia, billious complaints, and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and nerves, encounter an irresistible antidote.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

HAVING GOOD reasons for believing certain persons, actuated by unworthy motives, have originated the current report that "my charges for professional services are exorbitant and not in accordance with customary rates," I, in just self-defence feel compelled to denounce such imputations, tending to injure me, as utterly devoid of truth, for I have at all times been governed in my practice as far as charges are concerned, by the customary fee bills adopted by the majority of medical societies and respectable practitioners throughout the state and also agreed to years ago by the old established regular physicians of San Antonio. A regretable discrepancy of opinion among the members of the medical profession here at present, preventing a satisfactory agreement in order to establish a uniform, adequate and regular standard of charges for professional services in accordance with the customary rates adopted nearly everywhere in this state by the profession, is the cause of the difference in the amounts charged by physicians here at the present time. Unwilling to suffer myself any longer to be wrongly suspected of charging higher rates than other physicians, and in order effectually to disprove all circulating rumors to the contrary, I herewith beg leave to inform the public at large, that my general charge for a professional visit within the city limits in day time will be $1 specie.

To poor and destitute sick I shall cheerfully give advice gratis.

The American Washer!
PRICE $5.50.

The American Washer Saves Money Time, and Drudgery.

The Fatigue of Washing Day no Longer Dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing, Sure.

In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.

It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting! It is always ready for use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most elaborate and costly. One-half of the labor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one-half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a Quilt to a Lace Curtain or Cambric Handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of the LITTLE GEM! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at will.

No matter how deep rooted the prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleaning efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detracter at once become the fast friends of the machine.

We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwieldy, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

All that is asked for this GREAT LABOR SAVER, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly.

Policy of the Administration.

In conclusion, I would say the policy of the administration to be a thorough enforcement of every law, a faithful collection of every tax provided for, economy in the disbursement of the same, a prompt payment of every debt of the nation, a reduction of the taxes as rapidly as the requirements of the country will admit, the reduction of taxation and tariff to be so arranged as to afford the greatest relief to the greatest number, honest and fair dealing with all other people, to the end that war, with all its blighting consequences, may be avoided, but without sacrificing any right or obligation due to us, a return to the government of Indiana and in the whole service of the country, and finally in assuming a pure, untrammeled ballot, where every man entitled to cast a vote may do so just once at each election, without fear of molestation or remuneration on account of his political faith, nativity or color.

Newspaper Laws.

We would call the special attention of Postmasters and subscribers to the following synopsis of the newspaper laws:

1. A Postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning a paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reason for its not being taken; and a neglect to do so makes the Postmaster responsible to the publishers for the paper sent.

2. Any person who takes a paper from the Postoffice, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.

3. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until the payment is made.

4. If a subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it from the Postoffice. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Postoffice, or removing and leaving them unclaimed, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
