Constitution is 200 years old today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Constitution, "the single greatest work of government the world has ever seen," is 200 years old today and President Reagan helped its hometown kick off a bell-ringing, flag-waving, star-spangled bicentennial birthday party.

In a speech at Independence Hall, Reagan acclaimed the framing of the Constitution 200 years ago as a milestone "that would profoundly and forever alter not just these United States but the world."

"In a very real sense, it was then — in 1787 — that the revolution truly began," he said. "For it was with the writing of our Constitution ... that the hopes and dreams of the revolutionists could become a living, enduring reality."

As the country entered its third century, Reagan said the Constitution's continuing goal is "the preservation and extension of the sacred fire of human liberty. That is America's solemn duty."

The day of superlatives began on a solemn note as Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger and Gov. Robert P. Casey helped lay a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Revolutionary War Hero near Independence Hall.

"This ground is as hallowed as those graves at Arlington National Cemetery," Weinberger said.

The ceremonies continued with the beginning of a $3.5 million, six-hour parade featuring 30 floats, more than 20,000 marchers and 1,500 white doves fluttering skyward. About 750,000 spectators were expected.

The procession began with a colonial artillery blast, a flourish of horns and a drum roll. A light drizzle fell shortly after the 9 a.m. march began.

Bands ranged from colonial-style fifes and drums to Dixieland, from bagpipes to kazoos. Marchers included 39 descendants of the signers of the Constitution, skateboarders from California, two 1,700-pound oxen and two teams of certified public accountants in blue business suits twirling briefcases.

Also beginning was a four-day picnic along the Delaware River for about 1 million people.

This afternoon, former U.S. Chief Justice Warren Burger was to ring the Centennial bell, cast from Revolutionary and Civil war cannon and modeled on the long-silent Liberty Bell.

His signal at 4 p.m. will trigger 200 seconds of bell-ringing around the globe.

Monthly sales tax has rise

For first time year-to-date

Snyder sales tax returns, which have profiled a grim economic picture all during 1987, displayed a ray of sunshine with the latest return, a monthly increase this year compared to last amounting to some 11 percent.

It marked the first month this year when a larger figure was reported than 1986's monthly report. The figures reflect sales made in July and reported to the state comptroller by Aug. 20.

The monthly figure was $56,970 this period compared to $50,647 last year.

The year-to-date figure continues to run in the negative, but it has steadily improved from the minus 25 percent reported here during the spring. It is now estimated at a minus 18.2 percent.

In actual dollars, the year-to-date total is $512,117 this year compared to $626,099 last year.

Across Texas, sales tax returns continue to be reported at an average minus 6 percent.

The comptroller's office sent checks totaling $56.1 million to 1,039 cities which levy the 1 percent city sales tax.

A sampling of area cities indicate a general occurrence of sales tax returns running behind last year. The only exception to this is San Angelo. The figures include:

—Lubbock: a minus 5.8 percent

Clamor to honor U.S. Constitution

The bell-ringing, siren-blowing 200 seconds beginning at 3 p.m. Thursday will not signal an emergency. It will be Snyder's most vociferous method, among many more subtle this week, of marking the 200th anniversary of the signing of the U.S. Constitution.

The idea came from publications of the Bicentennial Commission that were sent to the schools in advance of the observance, according to Snyder Junior High School American history teacher Betsy Griffin.

Now the public schools, churches and city have gotten together, and church and school bells and the city siren will ring and blow until it's obvious indeed that something is going on.

Public school students here have embraced the occasion in numerous ways, 75 percent of them wearing red, white and blue for a ceremony on the junior high school lawn Wednesday morning, for example.

"They enjoyed it," Griffin said. "Then we went inside, and a lot of them recited the Pledge of Allegiance with the President, (watching President Reagan on television)."

She said she believes Reagan's approach to patriotism has greatly influenced the new generation.

"It's just one of the most positive forces we can have," she said.

Diez y Seis event here this weekend

A crowd of 500 is expected this weekend for the annual Diez y Seis Festival, which will begin with the opening of booths Saturday afternoon and the queen's coronation and a dance Saturday night.

Booths will open at 2 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. Sunday at the Latin American Center at 13th St. and Ave. K, where the coronation will be at 6:30 p.m. Saturday and a dance will follow at 9 p.m.

The annual Diez y Seis or Mexican Independence Day parade will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Scurry County Library and go up Ave. R to the Latin American Center, where a mariachi band from Pecos, Mariachi Aguilar, will entertain until 6 p.m.

Ballet Folklorica will perform beginning at 6:15 p.m. Sunday.

The selection of a festival queen is based on fund-raising throughout the year for Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church. The honor this year has gone to 19-year-old Vicky Gutierrez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon

Auction totals being counted

The King's Highway auction to help the Industrial Foundation pay off its indebtedness drew numerous buyers from out of town, as well as a strong contingent of Scurry County buyers, and is expected to be a success when final figures are computed, Chamber of Commerce director Bill Moss said Thursday.

Moss said there were more than 100 buyers at both days of the sale, which ended Wednesday, and all of the 1,055 lots of merchandise were sold.

Finance report has highest U.S. honor

The City of Snyder and its city secretary and finance director, Jeanne Johnson, has been given the highest award offered by the Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada.

The Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting was given jointly to the city and staff for demonstrating "a constructive spirit of full disclosure to communicate clearly its financial story."

The 10,500-member organization said the certificate "is the highest form of recognition in the area of governmental accounting and financial reporting, and its attainment represents a significant accomplishment."

When a certificate is awarded to a governmental entity, the group said, the individual who is primarily responsible is also recognized.

Johnson is a native of Pecos who came to Snyder from Dallas four years ago. She became city secretary a year later.

The finance officers association represents the public finance community in Washington, D.C., and has an annual conference attended by about 4,500 public finance professionals.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Some couples never forget the time they first met–but they keep trying."

At the start of school, it's not unusual for an English teacher to ask for an essay on summer experiences. It allows the student to write something he knows about, and gives the teacher insight into the student's writing ability.

One student wrote that he had spent a big part of his summer at camp learning to be an expert in survival training.

The junior high kid said he was taught how to start a fire with two sticks of wood, how to tell which way is north by the moss on the tree trunks, which snakes are poisionous, how to climb a mountain, and other handy items needed for "making it through the school year in Snyder Junior High."

A gal from East Elementary proudly announced at supper that her boyfriend kissed her the first week of school.

"He did?" gasped the mother and father simultaneously.

"Yes, he did," she replied. "And it took three of the other girls to catch him for me."

That's initiative and ingenuity at its best–always helpful in getting through modern math.

We like the story about the high school sophomore who was broken-hearted because her boyfriend decided not to ask her to the first football game.

She confided to her mother, "Not only has he broken my heart and destroyed my life, but he's spoiled my whole evening."

One kindergarten teacher reported that she was explaining classroom procedures to her new pupils. While telling how she expected them to behave, she finished by saying, "If anyone has to go to the bathroom, hold up two fingers."

After several moments of silence, one puzzled youngster asked, "How is that going to help?"

Q. — When does absentee voting begin for the upcoming amendment election and has there ever been as many as 25 amendment proposals on a state ballot before?

A. — Absentee balloting at the county clerk's office begins Oct. 14, a Wednesday. Regarding your second question, election officials call the total number of 25 as "unprecedented." There is also two special referendum propositions on the ballot related to pari-mutuel betting and the method of filling state board of education posts.

In Brief

Senate vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted 58-38 today to restrict tests of President Reagan's "Star Wars" system to make sure the trials comply with the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile treaty.

Textile bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A plan to curb textile, apparel and shoe imports, fresh from gaining House approval, still faces what sponsors concede is a hard fight to win enough support to override an expected presidential veto.

"We have an uphill battle," Rep. Butler Derrick, D-S.C., said after Wednesday's 263-156 vote. "But we can do it."

The House approval vote was well short of the two-thirds needed to overcome a presidential veto.

Auto talks

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Negotiators for Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers union agreed today to a three-year contract covering 104,000 autoworkers, local union officials said.

David Schaar, plant chairman of Local 898 in Rawsonville, said "I just got the word there's a tentative (agreement)."

Dear Abby

Newlyweds' Slumber Is Too Close for Husband's Comfort

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1987 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I got married three months ago to a wonderful lady. I am 31 and she's 26. The problem: She insists on sleeping in the same space that I sleep in. I thought it was kind of cute at first, but now I am annoyed. She practically sleeps on top of me. I can't sleep with somebody touching me, let alone using me as a human pillow. She says she's not able to sleep any other way.

I have tried everything including begging and pleading; I've pushed her to one side of the bed only to wake up later with her on top of me again. I've tried cuddling with her until she falls asleep, then moving to another bed, but she awakens and comes over to join me. She slept on my arm one night and it was nearly useless for two full days!

We've had numerous arguments about this. I asked her what she did when she was single. She said she slept alone because she had to, and does not intend to sleep alone now that she has a man to sleep with — correction — sleep on.

If this keeps up, I may have to rent a motel room to get a good night's sleep.

What a way to start a marriage! I love her, but wonder if this woman needs some psychiatric attention. What do you think?

SLEEPLESS
IN PALO ALTO

DEAR SLEEPLESS: Nowhere is it carved in stone that, once married, a person must give up his/her right to a good night's sleep to please the other. Your bride appears to be spoiled, selfish and immature. Buy her an inflatable life-sized man to sleep on, and stand your ground. And yes, she does need counseling if she can't compromise.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I work in a three-person office. My two co-workers like the temperature "cool." However, what they consider "cool" is too cold for me. Consequently they are always switching the thermostat to regulate the temperature to suit themselves.

Today my fingers were so cold I had to put gloves on. (Ever try to type with gloves, Abby?) I complained to the boss, and he said, "If you are cold, put a sweater on — the other two workers are more valuable to me."

Any suggestions?

ONE AGAINST TWO

DEAR ONE: Now that you know how you rate with your boss, you have two choices: Dress for Siberia or find another job.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: About 55 years ago, Will Rogers said: "What's the matter with this country? No country ever had more, and no country ever had less. Ten men in our country could buy the whole continent of North America, and 10 million can't buy enough to eat."

FRAN KROIS,
ST. PAUL, MINN.

DEAR FRAN: Nothing is the matter with this country. It's the distribution that's out of whack. So what else is new?

Panhandle preservative protects Constitution

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — A Texas Panhandle product is the primary protector of the U.S. Constitution, government officials said.

Helium from the U.S. Bureau of Mines Plant, in this city about 100 miles from the Texas-Oklahoma border, is used to prevent the deterioration of the 200-year-old document.

The non-flammable gas is sealed in an airtight glass display case along with the original copies of the Constitution, Bill of Rights and Declaration of Independence at the National Archives in Washington D.C.

The inert gas does not corrode paper and cannot support organic life, such as insects, which could damage the documents, Department of the Interior officials said.

Amarillo became known as the "Helium Capital of the World" after the 1929 construction of the government plant about five miles west of the city. The plant process helium-rich natural gas from the Cliffside Gas Field.

Bicentennial plans listed for pupils

By The Associated Press

Uncle Sam competed against Ben Franklin for the best-looking character in American history award, while young delgates wrote a new constitution to address their concerns on school rules.

Texas schoolchildren joined in Wednesday's nationwide celebration of the bicentennial of the signing of the U.S. Constitution in 1787 with assemblies costume contests and dessert.

Many students in the Lone Star State tuned in when President Reagan led the nation's schoolchildren in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance from Washington, D.C. at about 1 p.m.

School pupils across the South Plains, including the majority of Lubbock Independent School District, joined with Reagan in saying the pledge, Carolyn Goebel, an LISD administrator, said.

But for students in Jayton, the televised Pledge of Allegiance is just the beginning of a full year of activities that will be tied to the Constitution.

Throughout the year, students will be studying about the document and in the spring all the students in the district will combine for a Constitution program.

Elementary school pupils at Stephen F. Austin in Pampa started their crash course in the making of the Constitution by writing their own school constitution.

The students in this small Panhandle town lined up enthusiastically Wednesday to sign the final document, including seven articles that called for reciting the Pledge of Allegiance every day and taking pride in the school's appearance.

Delegates, like third-grader Ryan Cornelson, said he thinks their efforts will be in effect at Stepehen F. Austin for another 200 years.

First-grader Danny McPherson said not only does the Pampa school need a constitution to follow but the country needs its Constitution "so we can have a government of the people. If it wasn't important, I wouldn't like it."

Students in Merkel battled to see who most closely resembled some of history's most important people.

Characters from the founding fathers to Civil War generals to Challenger astronauts attended school in this town eight miles outside of Abilene to show their true American spirit.

Even a green Statue of Liberty joined in the bicentennial festivities, which included answering history trivia questions.

Southeast Texas students celebrated the historical day with bicentennial wear.

Vidor students showed their patriotic colors by declaring Wednesday and Thursday "Red, White and Blue Days," and donning shirts, skirts and sweaters displaying the colors of the American flag.

At Beaumont Christian High School, students released 1,200 red, white and blue balloons after watching the national ceremony for the Constitution. A ceremony at the Hill Country Middle School in the Eanes School District, treated students to a 4½-by-6½-foot cake decorated like the U.S. flag.

Some students in Central Texas talked with an actor portraying William Jackson, secretary of the 1787 Constitutional Convention.

The third-, fourth- and fifth-grade students at Bluebonnet Elementary school in Round Rock asked Mr. Jackson to answer questions such as why everyone wore wigs, what kind of feathers were used to write and were there any women back then.

AT&T ANNOUNCES UPCOMING PRICE CHANGES FOR SOME TEXAS INTRASTATE SERVICES

AT&T announces the following price changes for some of its Texas intrastate services. These changes, which more closely reflect the actual costs incurred by AT&T in providing these services, will become effective on October 1, 1987.

- SDN (Software Defined Network) Schedule B prices will be reduced an overall 7.1%. Schedule C prices will be reduced 4.4% for the initial 30-second rate period of each call.
- WATS 80 service prices for both the initial period 80-hour usage and additional period usage will increase 5%.
- The monthly prices for AT&T's Private Line Service will increase up to $25 per channel termination for Analog services and 10% for Digital Data Services.
- A $25 monthly surcharge will also apply to any private lines which may be used to access the local exchange network, unless certified as exempt by the customer. The $25 surcharge, which was previously authorized by the Public Utility Commission of Texas, is a flow through of charges assessed by the Local Exchange Companies to AT&T for those Private Line services.

The combined effect of these price changes is expected to produce approximately $4.99 million annual revenue, which is approximately .5% of AT&T's annual revenues for all Texas intrastate services.

If you have questions regarding the changes for Private Line service, please call AT&T toll-free at 1-800-345-5092. If you have questions regarding the WATS or SDN price changes, please call our business consultants toll-free at 1-800-222-0400. AT&T's tariffs reflecting these changes will be filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas on August 31, 1987, with an effective date of October 1, 1987.

Persons who have questions regarding this tariff filing may also contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas in writing, at 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or by calling the Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223, or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 for teletypewriter for the deaf.

Keep tabs on vitamin level

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had some tests done because of abdominal discomfort. All results were OK except for one: The doctor told me I have twice the normal amount of vitamin A in my system but gave me no information about what to do about it.

I do not take vitamins and I eat a balanced diet, so I am confused about the cause of my vitamin overload.

DEAR READER — Vitamin A is stored in the liver. A well-nourished adult who received no vitamin A would take about 200 days to use up half his reserve. Vitamin A toxicity does not usually produce abdominal discomfort; more commonly, it causes loss of appetite, anemia, drying of the skin, increased brain pressure, headache, muscle and joint pain and hair loss.

Look to your diet as a possible source of excess vitamin A. The foods richest in this substance are: liver, whole milk products, carrots, spinach, turnip greens and palm oil.

Try cutting down on these foods. Let your body use the vitamin A you have already stored. Have your vitamin A blood level checked in a few months. If your abdominal symptoms diminish as the vitamin level falls, fine. If not, it's back to the drawing board for your doctor.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Are all those rectal tests necessary? It seems that all doctors want their patients to have them. No one in my family has ever had rectal cancer, although I did have a bone cancer operation four years ago. If these tests are so important, why don't doctors show their patients the correct way to use those home tests that detect blood in the stool?

DEAR READER — I am not sure what you mean by "all those rectal tests." The digital (finger) rectal examination should be performed at regular intervals on all adults. This test is ordinarily part of a complete examination and it gives a great deal of useful information. The doctor can feel for lumps and check the prostate gland in male patients.

Another simple and inexpensive test is the stool guaiac analysis for hidden blood. Using small fecal smears that the patient obtains at home, the doctor checks the specimen with a sensitive chemical to detect trace quantities of intestinal bleeding. This, too, should be a routine part of the examination of patients over age 40.

In my opinion, other tests — such as sigmoidoscopy and colonoscopy — are best reserved for specific patients who have either bowel problems, a history of bowel tumors, a family history of bowel cancer or other abnormalities that are discovered during the course of the examination.

Many doctors do show their patients the correct way to use home tests for stool blood. In addition, these kits come with clear directions. If you are confused about why and what your doctor encourages you to do, ask him or her to explain.

Dr. Gott's new Health Report on VIRUSES AND CANCER tells about the latest discoveries in cancer research. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Ex-ambassador mayor still travels the globe

ATLANTA (AP) — Mayor Andrew Young, who resigned under fire as ambassador to the United Nations eight years ago, still travels the globe, pursuing his foreign policy interests while promoting Atlanta to the business world.

Young, a minister, former civil rights leader and ex-congressman, was away from City Hall 102 days last year, most of them on trade missions for Atlanta.

"I've maintained my connections with the world through inviting foreign leaders here as well as my continued travels abroad, and frankly that's one of the reasons why our city is so successful," Young said in a recent interview.

The second-term mayor is scheduled to appear Frday before the Senate Judiciary Committee in Washington to urge rejection of Judge Robert Bork's nomination to the Supreme Court.

One Atlanta legislator has characterized Young as "a crusader who happens to be in public office." Young, who was a lieutenant of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., responded, "I'm proud of that. If I wasn't a crusader, I wouldn't have the right to vote."

Young, 55, started the year with a trip to Zimbabwe in southern Africa. In April, he flew to Nicaragua and came home accusing the Contra rebels of using American tax dollars to "slaughter innocent people."

Last month, Young was in Guatemala to discuss a request to train that nation's police force at Atlanta's police academy.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce couldn't he happier with Young's business efforts, but critics say he should do more at home, especially for the poor and for Atlanta's estimated 8,000 homeless.

The mayor, in an effort to better understand the plight of the homeless, disguised himself and spent 36 hours on the streets in January. He was shunned even by friends.

James Jacoby

What's my line?

By James Jacoby

Unbridled optimism best describes North's jump to three spades on his second bid. If South had minimum values, even two spades might be in some jeopardy. However, South came well-heeled and immediately bid a small slam. But how to play it? Isn't it your natural instinct to go after that long diamond suit, setting it up by ruffing, and counting on the spades to also divide 3-2 so that you can get back to dummy and run the diamonds? Of course one defender will be left with a high trump, which he can take any time, but you will make the slam.

With that line you will surely be set when the defenders' diamonds or spades fail to split as you wish. So the answer is to play to make the contract when either the club suit splits 3-3 or the trump suit splits 3-2, with the clubs dividing no worse than 4-2. Here's how it goes: Ruff the opening lead in dummy, come to the ace of clubs and ruff another low heart. Play king of clubs and ruff the third club with the king of spades. Now play A-Q-J of spades and then play on clubs: East can take his trump trick whenever, but you have made your slam. What if clubs were 4-2? Then you would simply hope for the defenders' spades to divide so that you could draw trumps and give up a club to make your contract.

A new book by James Jacoby and his father, the late Oswald Jacoby, is now available at bookstores. It is "Jacoby on Card Games," published by Pharos Books.

Tigers try to rebound against Ft. Stockton

Snyder's Ragin' Tigers, still hunting their first victory of the young season, begin district play this Friday night. It didn't take long for Coach Dennis Tomlin to sum up the task ahead.

"The key factor is how well we shake off what has happened and understand that this begins a new season. That's the challenge to this football team. The next challenge is Fort Stockton."

Those are both large challenges. No one on the team or the coaching staff expected anything like last week's 41-6 loss to Levelland. And no one probably expected Fort Stockton to show the power it has shown so far.

Snyder takes on the undefeated Panthers at 8 p.m. Friday in Fort Stockton. In other 2-4A openers, Lake View is at Big Spring, Andrews treks to Lamesa and Monahans is at Pecos. Sweetwater has the night off.

"Fort Stockton is much improved over last year," said Coach Tomlin. "They are quite a bit better offensively, I think. Mike Nix and Ramon Valeriano are both excellent running backs. They have a good, balanced attack, running and passing, and that will make it tough for us to defend them."

Fort Stockton is averaging 416.5 yards and 41.5 points an outing in its wins over Crane and Alpine. Though admittedly playing weak foes, the Panthers have indicated they are a team to be reckoned with.

Nix, a 220 pound fullback who also doubles at linebacker on defense, has carried the ball 33 times for 175 yards. Quick-footed Valeriano has 163 yards on 25 carries.

The Panther quarterback this season is junior Pete Martinez. He is 11 of 25 for 182 yards and no interceptions.

"Defensively, they are probably one of the top two or three teams in the distict. They are solid across and have good quickness and good size," said Tomlin.

Fort Stockton hasn't given up a point so far, and has allowed an average of only 68 yards a game.

Standouts include Nix, end Heath Reno (205 senior) and defensive back Ryan Murphy (185 senior).

Snyder comes into the contest averaging 234.5 yards and giving up 332.5. The Tigers have moved the ball well but have had problems scoring offensively, and on defense have given up the big play.

Junior middle linebacker Chris Casas is nursing a shoulder injury and is doubtful for Friday's game. He'll be replaced by Trey Tippens who saw limited action last week for the first time after coming off of knee surgery.

Tippens will also start at tight end, though that spot will likely see a lot of Craig Watkins, too.

Cowboys will join walkout if it comes

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Dallas Cowboys players are firmly behind their union in its battle with National Football League management as the threat of a strike by the NFL Players Association looms, a union official said.

Gene Upshaw, union executive director, told about 40 players to expect a season-long strike if an agreement is not reached. He flew to Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport to meet with Dallas players on Wednesday.

"We have to pull our wheels into motion for the worst," Upshaw said. "When I started this process, I planned to come down this road to avoid a strike. The players know that. That's why they have confidence in my position."

A union negotiator said there was a good possibility a strike would start Tuesday.

Cowboys president Tex Schramm, a member of the management council's executive committee, said Upshaw's trip from union headquarters in Washington shows the organization isn't sure of players' support.

"If I were dealing from a position of confidence, I wouldn't be in Dallas, still trying to sell the program to players," Schramm said.

Upshaw said he decided to meet with the Cowboys players after talking to Dallas player representative Doug Cosbie.

Dallas was known as a weak union team during the 57-day strike in 1982 when Cowboys quarterback Danny White advocated a return to work.

"Dallas used to be a weak union team, but that's not the case anymore," Upshaw said. "All of that has changed with this team."

It was Upshaw's second meeting with players this week; he met for two hours Monday with the San Francisco 49ers.

Upshaw said he choose Dallas because it was the easiest place to visit. "Management has been trying to keep me locked in a room," he said. "I needed to get out and get the word out on our policies."

Cosbie said Cowboys players are together as a team. "We hate to go out on strike," he said. "But if management won't bargain, we won't have any choice."

Cowboys wide receiver Mike Renfro said he hoped an agreement would be worked out without a strike.

"The final conclusion is pretty much going to be the same, whether an agreement is reached this week or five weeks from now," he said. "We may get a little more if we strike, but it's going to be similar, so I hope we can avoid it."

Players absent from the meeting were Randy White, Danny White, Herschel Walker, Don Smerek, Todd Fowler and Roger Ruzek. Upshaw said all had sent word why he wouldn't attend.

Management will not budge on the major stumbling block of the negotiations, Schramm said.

"We don't plan to change our position on free agency," he said. "It's like I've said before, there's no such thing as being a little bit pregnant."

Upshaw said there are more issues to consider.

"They are talking about an entry-level wage scale that will kick every veteran out of the league in two years," Upshaw said. "We want guaranteed contracts. We don't believe in their drug program. We still have many issues to talk about."

Strike seems unavoidable

NEW YORK (AP) - With the deadline for an NFL players strike less than a week away, the rhetoric on both sides is escalating. So is the likelihood of the second walkout in five years.

The owners flatly rejected Wednesday the latest union proposal, with chief negotiator Jack Donlan saying a strike starting Tuesday is "a very good possibility."

Gene Upshaw, executive director of the NFL PLayers Association, agreed.

"Oh, yeah, there's going to be one because they forced it," Upshaw said. "It's like they had an agenda to force a strike and break the union."

Donlan advocated an impartial mediator, but the Players union flatly rejected the idea, noting that mediation has not worked in previous strikes. No further negotiations have been scheduled, and Upshaw was scheduled to meet today with Lane Kirkland, executive director of the AFL-CIO.

Donlan, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said he thought full negotiations would be futile at this point without mediation, although he called Upshaw in hopes of scheduling a one-on-one meeting. Dick Berthelsen, the union's chief counsel, said he relayed Donlan's message to Upshaw, but there was no other response from the NFLPA.

The strike is scheduled to begin following Monday night's game between the New York Jets and New England Patriots at Giants Stadium. That was also the site of the meeting between the Green Bay Packers and New York Giants, the final game before the players walked out for 57 days and seven games in 1982.

The union's latest proposal came Tuesday, when it withdrew its call for total free agency and limited it to players with more than four years' experience.

But Donlan, who suggested it looked like the union proposal was inviting a strike, dismissed it as little more than a variation on the original NFLPA position, first put on the table April 20.

Upshaw, meanwhile, continued to look for someone in management to make a deal. "We don't need a mediator, we need a negotiator," he said.

Upshaw has said several times he would accept Commissioner Pete Rozelle as a deal maker but not as a neutral mediator. He has also spoken with Dan Rooney, president of the Pittsburgh Steelers and a member of the Management Council's executive committee.

Rooney, with the help of Paul Martha, a lawyer and former Steeler, was instrumental in ending the 1982 strike.

NFL owners, meanwhile, say that in the event of a walkout, they plan to play with "whatever players are available."

Sideline glances says 'How about...'

Cowboys, Hinojos, Tiger turf and rodeo

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

How 'bout them Cowboys, huh? How 'bout them Longhorns, huh? How 'bout them Horned Frogs, huh? How 'bout them...

Well, how about it? Are you yearning for basketball season already? Maybe just a little bit? Come on, now. I know you're out there already analyzing the Cowboys. Should Tom have gone ahead and retired? Can Danny White take it? Is it the offense, the defense? Drugs? Too tough a training camp?

Personally, I think it's those cheerleaders on the sidelines. It makes concentration tough, even for $42,000 a game.

So what excuse to the Astros and the Rangers have?

How 'bout that Hinojos kid?

A glance through the District 2-4A statistics shows that Isrrael is a versatile player for the Ragin' Tigers this season.

Since you probably don't have a copy of those stats though, I'll do the honors here. I've got 'em right in my back pocket.

Let's see. The junior fullback has carried the ball 16 times for 62 yards in two games and caught 5 passes for another 47 steps.

His 5.2 yard average isn't really outstanding stuff - teammate Vyron Clay is averaging 10.6 yards per rush, for instance - but it's nothing to scoff at, either.

Opponents have to respect the 5-5, 152-pounder, whose quickness and hard-running style as a rusher make him a double threat when the passing game comes into play. And as Snyder's young players get more comfortable with the offense, Hinojos should make an even greater impact.

Incidentally, Isrrael's 5 catches leads the district. At least four players have 4 each.

And how about that grass at Tiger Stadium?

Several years ago the complaint was Tiger Stadium couldn't attract playoff games because the turf was spotty from the first kickoff and almost nonexistant by the end of the season.

That's not the case now. In fact, the condition of the turf where the Ragin' Tigers play has got to be one of the best in the area. It should hold up fine through the season.

Special recognition goes to Rick Nickerson, the guy who did the labor and had the knowledge, and to the former board of trustees and superintendent for putting priority on it.

And finally, where have all the cowboys and cowgirls gone?

Western Texas College Rodeo Coach Bob Doty may have the toughest coaching job in the world. Certainly in the Southwest Region of the NIRA, anyway.

He coaches a kid, takes him to the national finals rodeo, then a year or two later packs him off to join the competition.

WTC is one of several two-year schools who compete in the region against Texas Tech University, Eastern New Mexico, Tarleton State and others.

So where do they go? Well, Keith Hudson, the 1986 national champion and 1987 runnerup calf roper is headed for Tarleton. Mike Carrillo, last year's SW region bareback champion, is going to Sul Ross State. Those two and Tobin Tate, who is going to ENMU, were members of WTC's 1986 national championship team. They and Robert Fifer were also members of the 1987 team which placed fourth at the CNFR.

Others? Here they are...

Shelly Eldridge Tate and Mistri Davis, who with Niki Moist made up the 1986 SW region women's championship team, are attending ENMU. Moist is at Sul Ross.

Wendy Lunsford and Tana Whatley are at Tarleton along with Don Eddleman, Cody Foster, Todd Danley, Paul Ivy and Heath Sims.

Texas Tech got Stephanie Weaver, Clay Cass, Jeff Gilbert and Cleat Stephens.

Joel Marr is at NMSU and Bliss Mayhan is at Southwest Oklahoma.

Gooden, Mets blank Montreal Expos, 10-0

By The Associated Press

Dwight Gooden followed one of his worst starts ever with what he called "the best game of my career."

On Saturday, St. Louis tagged New York's Gooden for six runs and five hits in two innings to send him to his earliest exit in 120 career starts.

Gooden returned to the mound Wednesday night to beat Montreal 10-0 with a three-hitter that kept the Mets 1½ games behind first-place St. Louis in the National League East. The Cardinals beat Pittsburgh 8-5.

Len Dykstra hit a grand slam and Darryl Strawberry added a two-run homer to support Gooden.

Gooden, 14-6, struck out 11 and walked two as he pitched his sixth complete game, third shutout of the year and 16th of his career. It was the 35th time in his four-year career that Gooden has struck out 10 or more batters in a game.

"I'd have to say that was the best game of my career," Gooden said. "I had command of all my pitches, I had good velocity and I was hitting my spots."

Elsewhere in the NL, San Francisco beat Houston 7-1, Philadelphia beat Chicago 8-5 and San Diego blanked Atlanta 3-0. Cincinnati and Los Angeles were not scheduled.

The Mets scored three runs on wild pitches, two by Montreal starter Charlie Lea, 0-1. Lea lasted only one inning in his first major-league appearance in three years after being called up from the minors Saturday.

Cardinals 8, Pirates 5

Tony Pena's two-run double capped St. Louis' four-run third inning as the Cardinals beat Pittsburgh at Three Rivers Stadium.

Giants 7, Astros 1

Dave Dravecky pitched a four-hitter and Will Clark hit a pair of two-run homers as San Francisco beat Houston at Candlestick Park for its fifth straight victory.

American League roundup...

Jays, Tigers still share top

by The Associated Press

The Toronto Blue Jays and Detroit Tigers are showing they have more in common than a share of first place in the American League East for four consecutive days.

Both teams, whose 88-57 records are the best in either league, got outstanding performances from their ace pitchers and their cleanup hitters Wednesday night.

Jack Morris pitched a three-hitter and Alan Trammell drove in two runs with his 26th homer and a double as the Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox 4-1.

Jimmy Key shut out the Baltimore Orioles on six hits for seven innings and George Bell knocked in two runs, giving him a major league-leading 124, as the Blue Jays blanked the Baltimore Orioles 7-0.

Morris, 18-8, didn't allow a hit for the first 5 1-3 innings. He allowed one unearned run, walked two and struck out four while pitching his 12th complete game.

In other games, it was Seattle 5, Cleveland 3; Milwaukee 5, New York 4; Chicago 13, Minnesota 10; California 6, Kansas City 4, and Texas 4, Oakland 1.

The Blue Jays and Tigers will play each other in seven of their remaining 17 games. The seven games will be played from Sept. 24 through Oct. 4.

Blue Jays 7, Orioles 0

Tony Fernandez had three hits and three RBI as Toronto kept pace with Detroit and handed Baltimore its ninth consecutive loss.

Key, 17-6, struck out four, did not walk a batter and got the Orioles to hit into three double plays. Mike Boddicker, 10-9, gave up 10 hits and seven earned runs in 5 1-3 innings.

White Sox 13, Twins 10

Chicago swept its first three-game series from Minnesota since 1979, but the Twins stayed 3½ games in front of Oakland and Kansas City in the AL West.

Harold Baines and Ozzie Guillen led a 16-hit attack with three hits apiece for the White Sox.

Rangers 4, Athletics 1

Texas kept Oakland from making up ground on the Twins as Charlie Hough pitched a three-hitter and Darrell Porter and Larry Parrish homered for the Rangers.

Hough, 17-11, walked three and struck out seven in his 11th complete game.

Oakland right-hander Dave Stewart, 19-11, was the loser.

Angels 6, Royals 4

Bill Buckner had three hits and drove in two runs and Ruppert Jones had two RBI for California Angels against Kansas City.

Greg Minton, 4-2, who relieved starter Chuck Finley, benefitted from Jones' RBI double in the sixth that broke a 3-3 tie against Bret Saberhagen, 17-9. DeWayne Buice went 2 1-3 innings for his 16th save.

Bob Boone of the Angels caught his major-league-record-setting 1,919th game.

Brewers 5, Yankees 4

Ted Higuera, 17-9, pitched a six-hitter while Glenn Braggs' seventh-inning triple broke a 4-4 tie and climaxed a three-run seventh inning against New York.

Mariners 5, Indians 3

Seattle beat Cleveland when Rey Quinones hit a two-run homer with one out in the ninth inning.

Quinones' 11th homer, off Sammy Stewart, 4-2, followed a walk to Edgar Martinez with one out.

Bill Wilkinson, 3-3, was the winner in relief, pitching two-thirds of an inning.

Greene club champ; shoots first-round 82

Carolyn Greene set the pace with a first-round score of 82, then went on to capture the Ladies Golf Association Club Championship at Snyder Country Club on Wednesday.

Greene, who also won closest to the pin honors both Tuesday and Wednesday, shot a second-round 86 to finish with a 168 total.

Her efforts outdistanced solid rounds of 88 and 87 by Finnie Seale, who took second place with a 175. Jo Sterling took third with a 96 and a 92 for a 188.

Glenda Hollingsworth won the First Flight with a fine 182 score. She put together back-to-back 91s. Second in the flight was Suzy Reed with a 95-92 for a 187. Kaye Cypert was third with a 96 and a 100 for a 196.

Mary Blackmon was the Second Flight champion. She shot 102 and 106 for a 208. Barbara Yorgeson and Marie Dollins tied for second place with 211s. Yorgeson shot 106 and 105; Dollins 109 and 102.

Longest drive honors went to Sterling in the Championship Flight; Cypert in the First Flight and Joycelyn Holder in the Second Flight.

As season begins in Portales...

Depth highlights WTC rodeo team

PORTALES, N.M. -- Coach Bob Doty brings his Western Texas College rodeo team here tonight for the opening of the Southwest Region NIRA rodeo season.

The setting is the Eastern New Mexico University NIRA Rodeo, scheduled for tonight, Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. MST and 1 p.m. Sunday.

Western will join familiar rivals Tarleton State University, Odessa, College, Sul Ross State University, Texas Tech University and others who begin their bids for a berth in the College National Finals Rodeo. Western won the national championship two years ago and was fourth in the nation last season.

Back to pace the effort are a couple of roughstock riders, Snyder's Adam Brewster and Winston, N.M.'s Wesley Henderson. Other top hands returning include Scott Sharp, Sandy Scott and 1987 national barrel racing reserve champion Jessie Colburn.

A good recruiting year should keep Western Texas as one of the teams to beat in the Southwest Region again this season. In fact, Coach Doty could have a problem determining just which six cowboys will make up the designated men's team and which three ladies will make up the women's squad.

"We have several young guys that we could have put on the team this week but I just wanted to see how they compete under pressure," said Coach Doty. "There may be some changes in the men's team as we go along."

Everyone can compete in the rodeos and earn individual collegiate points, but only designated team members can earn points for the team.

"One of our strong points should be depth. I think we'll have a lot of it. It may mean that some of the kids that aren't on the team will be doing well in the individual standings," noted the coach.

Competing for the men's team will be Brewster and Denny McLanahan in the bareback and bull riding, Henderson in the saddle bronc, Sharp and Ray Brown in the calf roping, bulldogging and team roping, and Clyde Himes in the calf roping and bulldogging.

Women's competitors are Colburn in the barrels, Tana Mahoney in team roping, breakaway and goat tying and Scott in barrels, breakaway and goat tying.

McLanahan, Brown, Himes and Mahoney are all freshmen.

Other men competing from WTC include Shawn Goemmer, Troy Budvarson, Mark Minton, Buddy Reed, Kenny Tatom, Michael Gaffney, Monty Ashworth, Thad Springer, Barry Byrd, Cody Hurt, Jim Blain Kenney, Bryan Davis, Kyle Cain, Tom Figueroa, Lance Lutrall, Canyon Clowdus, Bobby Moody and Cody Cooper. Women are JoDitt Danley and Melanie Graff.

The rodeo season extends through the spring with a break during the winter months. College teams will compete in 10 Southwest Region rodeos during the season. Each team then totals its seven best scores from the 10 outings to determine its overall points for the season. The top two teams advance to the national finals.

Coach Doty noted that in years past, teams counted their best five rodeos instead of seven.

"That means we need to get off to a better start this season," he said. "I don't think we counted any of our fall rodeos last year."

Western idled near third place most of the 1986-87 school year, then came on strong in the final four rodeos to win the men's division.

Top state leaders to create special panel on education

AUSTIN (AP) — Top state leaders say that although they expect to win an appeal of an order revising the state's public school finance system, they will appoint a special committee to inform the public of the order's implications.

"I don't want to leave any impression whatsoever ... that I have a question about whether or not we'll win the case, because I think we will," Gov. Bill Clements said Wednesday.

"But I think the people of Texas need to be aware of what (State District Judge Harley Clark) is attempting to do to the present system," he added.

Clements met in a closed-door session with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, House Speaker Gib Lewis, education officials and staff of the attorney general's office.

2 fire runs told

Firemen answered two calls Wednesday, one for a car fire in the Cogdell Memorial Hospital parking lot and the other a reported house fire that turned out to be a fire in an air-conditioner.

Fire fighters were called at 5 p.m. to extinguish a fire in the engine compartment of a car owned by Marvin Butler, but the fire was out when the trucks arrived.

An air-conditioner at a house at 609 30th St. was still burning when firemen arrived, and they were able to put it out and keep it confined to the air-conditioning unit following the 6:20 p.m. call.

Woman found

McDADE, Texas (AP) — A woman found semiconscious in a farmhouse had been tortured so badly during four days of captivity that she wasn't able to speak or move after her rescue, authorities say.

The severely bruised woman was lying in a bed and was unable to tell officers what happened, but by the marks on her hands and feet, it was apparent she had been tied with electrical wiring, Bastrop County Sheriff's spokesman Jay Beggs said Wednesday.

In the year ahead, you will have some unique involvements that will bring you before the public and serve to enhance your status. These involvements will open new doors of opportunity.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Think your moves through carefully today so that you won't be a victim of your own mistakes. Above all, don't do anything out of spite or anger. Major changes are ahead for Virgos in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH, 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be optimistic and positive today, but base your hopes on realistic premises, especially where your material interests are concerned. Be a doer, not a dreamer.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Goals will be thwarted today if you fail to use logical procedures. Let your mind, not your emotions, call the shots.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's best not to pry too deeply into the affairs of a close friend today. You might discover and misinterpret something you're better off not knowing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you recommend to a friend someone whose business ethics are unknown to you, the developments could return to haunt you. Endorse only people of whom you're sure.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) There's a chance you could be too easily influenced by others for your own good today. Unfortunately, you might follow some unwise advice.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A poor attitude toward your work today could cause you not only to perform badly, but it may create problems with coworkers as well.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Tread warily today regarding ventures that are highly speculative. If you're not careful, you might end up taking a lot of risks for little or no rewards.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) An old issue that previously created disruption in your household may surface again today. Try to be smarter this time in handling it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't say things about a co-worker today that you would not say to his or her face. What you tell others will be repeated verbatim.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Try to manage your money like a tightfisted banker today. You don't want your extravagant whims to gain the upper hand and cause you to waste funds needed for necessities.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you're too insistent on doing everything your way today, this could result in problems. Situations that inhibit your will must be handled tolerantly.

House leaders agree to $3.5 million Contra aid extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — About $3.5 million in new humanitarian aid for Nicaragua's Contra rebels will be included in a stopgap spending bill scheduled to come before the House next week, under a tentative agreement worked out by House leaders.

House Speaker Jim Wright, D-Texas, on Wednesday agreed to the request by House Republican leader Robert Michel of Illinois after cutting it down from the $8 million Michel had sought. Both leaders were clearing the deal with members of their parties, and sources said the exact amount was subject to change.

The money was to be included in a bill to be voted out of the House Appropriations Committee today. The measure, designed to keep the government running while Congress works on appropriation bills for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, is expected to reach the House floor as early as Tuesday.

The money is intended to keep the Contras in food, uniforms and medical supplies from Oct. 1, when the current fiscal year's $100 million allocation runs out, through Nov. 7, the target date for a cease-fire to begin under a Central American peace plan now being implemented.

Michel was acting with the approval of President Reagan, who had agreed last month not to raise the Contra aid issue while the leaders of five Central American countries were trying to implement the peace agreement.

Wright had insisted that no consideration be given to additional Contra aid while the peace efforts were under way, fearing the debate would derail the talks.

But White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said the aid request did not violate that agreement, and aides to Wright agreed.

The money was to be put directly into the spending bill by the Appropriations panel without the need for a high-profile floor vote or debate.

"We're talking about a very small amount of humanitarian aid," said an aide to Wright, who spoke on condition of anonymity. "We're not going to do anything that would interfere with the peace process."

The amendment would authorize the governing body of a county with a population over 400,000, a county adjoining such county, and any city or district located in or partially in such county to make agreements with the Texas Turnpike Authority and levy ad valorem taxes to pay part or all of the principal and interest on Turnpike Authority bonds and to pay maintenance and operating expenses of the Turnpike Authority, if the voters approve the tax.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing agreements between the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation and the Texas Turnpike Authority and the governing bodies of counties with a population of more than 400,000, adjoining counties, and cities and districts located in those counties to aid turnpikes, toll roads, and toll bridges by guaranteeing bonds issued by the Texas Turnpike Authority."

The amendment would authorize the issuance of up to $15 million of general obligation bonds to provide initial funding for the program. A Texas small business incubator fund could be established to foster and stimulate the development of small businesses in the state. Small businesses operating under the program would be exempt from ad valorem taxation. A Texas agricultural fund could be established to promote the production, processing and marketing of agricultural products produced primarily in Texas by small Texas agricultural businesses. "The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds to finance certain local public facilities."

The legislator could not, however, receive the increased compensation approved during his legislative term.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide that a member of the legislature is eligible to be elected or appointed and to serve in a different state office but may not receive an increase in compensation granted to that office during the legislative term to which he was elected."

Subsections (d) and (e) of Section 1 of Senate Joint Resolution 12 propose a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation all tangible personal property except structures which are used as residential dwellings and property held or used for the production of income. This exemption would be in addition to the personal property homestead exemption already established by the constitution. If the legislature authorizes the exemption of additional personal property from taxation, under this amendment, local political subdivisions may pass resolutions providing for taxation of such property unless the property is exempt from ad valorem taxation under another law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation certain personal property not held or used for the production of income."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Section 1, Subsections (f) and (g) of Senate Joint Resolution 12 propose a constitutional amendment to exempt from ad valorem taxation goods, wares, merchandise, and ores other than oil, gas and petroleum products. These items would be exempt from taxation only if they originated outside the state and were located in the state for a period of 175 days or less for purposes of assembly, storage, manufacture, processing, or fabrication. Such property could be taxed by a county, school district, or municipality if the governing body of the political subdivision took official action to provide for the taxation of the items while they were located in the political subdivision. If the governing body of a political subdivision took official action to tax the items before January 1, 1988, the tax would be effective for the 1988 tax year. If the action were taken after January 1, 1988, and before April 1, 1988, the tax would become effective January 1, 1989.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the exemption from ad valorem taxation of certain property that is located in the state for only a temporary period of time."

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow for the creation and establishment, by law, of special districts to provide emergency services."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

This proposed amendment would allow the legislature to pass laws granting state prosecutors the right to appeal in limited circumstances.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment giving the state a limited right to appeal in criminal cases."

PROPOSITION NO. 15 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 35 proposes a constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county treasurer in Gregg County and transfer the duties of that office to the county auditor or an elected official designated by the commissioners court. The amendment would also abolish the office of county treasurer in Fayette and Nueces counties if a majority of the voters in those counties vote in favor of the amendment. In Fayette County, the functions of the treasurer would be transferred to the county auditor or the officer succeeding to the auditor's functions. In Nueces County, the powers, duties, and functions of the treasurer would be transferred to the county clerk.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for the abolition of the office of county treasurer in Gregg, Fayette, and Nueces counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 16 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the commissioners court in a county with a population of more than 150,000 to establish more than one Justice of the Peace court in each Justice of the Peace precinct, i.e., to provide for the election of more than one Justice of the Peace in each Justice of the Peace precinct.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

PROPOSITION NO. 17 ON THE BALLOT

This authorization would apply to laws passed by the 70th Legislature, 1987, and by future legislatures in regular or special session. A municipality is liable for damages arising out of acts committed under its proprietary functions, but not its governmental functions. Definition of such functions by the legislature would clarify the liability of a municipality in civil lawsuits filed against it.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to define for all purposes the governmental and proprietary functions of a municipality."

PROPOSITION NO. 18 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 18 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide for the creation, operation, and financing of jail districts. Financing of a jail district could be accomplished through the issuance of bonds and other obligations, or by levy of an ad valorem tax on property located in the district if the qualified electors of a district approve an ad valorem tax or bonds secured by a property tax.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relating to the creation, operation, and financing of jail districts."

PROPOSITION NO. 19 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 88 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of $500 million in general obligation bonds, the proceeds of which will be used to establish a superconducting super collider fund. The fund would be used to provide economic incentives for the superconducting super collider research facility, and the agency administering the fund would be authorized to grant land or property to the United States government for undertakings related to the facility.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds to fund undertakings related to a superconducting super collider research facility sponsored or authorized by the United States government, and to make appropriate grants for such undertakings."

PROPOSITION NO. 20 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 96 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide ad valorem tax relief for mobile offshore oil and gas well drilling equipment. The tax relief would be limited to equipment that is being stored while not in use in a county that is adjacent to the Gulf of Mexico or on a body of water that is adjacent to the Gulf of Mexico.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide ad valorem tax relief for certain offshore drilling equipment that is not in use."

PROPOSITION NO. 21 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 17 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide for legislative involvement in the executive branch of government by permitting the legislature to include the speaker of the house of representatives in the membership of an agency or committee that includes officers of the executive branch of government and performs executive functions. Under current law, the legislature is not allowed to exercise any powers in executive matters under Article II of the Texas Constitution, which provides for the "separation of powers" into three distinct departments.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to include the speaker of the house of representatives or the speaker's appointee in the membership of an executive agency or committee."

PROPOSITION NO. 22 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 53 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the term of office of a gubernatorial appointee to a vacancy in a state or district office to a partial, temporary term if the appointment is made on or after November 1 of the last year of the governor's term and the governor is not reelected. Under this amendment, the legislature may provide that the tenure of such an appointee would end sooner than the term would normally expire.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the authority of a governor to fill vacancies in state and district offices during the end of the governor's term if the governor is not reelected."

PROPOSITION NO. 23 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $400 million in water development bonds. Of the $400 million authorized, $200 million would be designated for conservation and development of water resources, $150 million would be designated for water quality enhancement, and $50 million would be designated for flood control. The amendment also authorizes the legislature to provide for review and approval of the issuance of the bonds and the use of the bond proceeds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $400 million of Texas Water Development Bonds for water supply, water quality, and flood control purposes."

PROPOSITION NO. 24 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 83 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow a county to use county equipment and personnel to perform work, without compensation, for another governmental entity if the commissioners court finds that the work will not interfere with the performance of county work and approves performance of the work. The governmental entity must be located wholly or partly in the county, and the governing body of the governmental entity must file a written work request with the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to permit a county to perform work, without compensation, for another governmental entity."

PROPOSITION NO. 25 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the Legislature to authorize Randall County to levy a tax for the benefit of the Amarillo Hospital District. Any such tax could be levied only on property located outside the City of Amarillo and outside the South Randall County Hospital District. The tax could not be more than 75¢ per $100 property valuation and would be effective only upon approval by the voters in the area to be taxed. If the tax is authorized by the Legislature and approved by voters, the Amarillo Hospital District is to serve residents of part of Randall County. If a tax is levied under this provision, Randall County must repay the State for the cost of publication of this amendment.

The proposed amendment also permits the legislature to authorize a hospital district to change its boundaries or jurisdiction if the district was created or authorized by a constitutional provision that includes a description of the boundaries or jurisdiction of the district. Any change in the boundaries or jurisdiction of such a hospital district would become effective only upon approval of the voters in the district.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to permit the Amarillo Hospital District to serve certain residents of Randall County, to authorize Randall County to provide financial assistance to the district, and to authorize certain hospital districts to change their boundaries or jurisdiction with voter approval."

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT FOR STATEWIDE REFERENDUM NO. 1

Senate Bill 86 submits to the voters the question of whether the 15 members of the State Board of Education should be appointed instead of elected. If the proposition passes, the Governor will appoint a member of the board for each district, with the consent of the Senate. If the proposition fails, the members will be elected from these districts.

The referendum will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The State Board of Education shall be composed of members who are appointed from districts instead of elected, with equal representation throughout the State of Texas."

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT FOR STATEWIDE REFERENDUM NO. 2

The Texas Racing Act submits to the voters the question of whether pari-mutuel wagering should be legal in Texas on a county-by-county local option basis. The referendum will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The legalization of pari-mutuel wagering under the Texas Racing Act on a county-by-county local option basis."
