Dow falls 26 points, then recovers

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street wavered uncertainly today after two blue Mondays in a row as the Dow Jones industrial average fell a marginal 0.83 points in the first 1½ hours.

The Dow average fell 26 points in the opening minutes of trading today, then recovered. The Dow briefly rose 7 points ahead of last Friday's level, breaking the 2,000 barrier, before receding to 0.83 points below last Friday's level at 1,992.70.

The Dow industrials fell 508 points two Mondays ago in the worst decline in history and lost 156.83 points last Monday.

The dollar was off again today in New York, near postwar lows, raising the prospect of instability that could frighten away foreign investors, push up inflation in the United States and hurt economic growth overseas.

But the dollar's decline was not as sharp as it had been over past weekends and traders seemed unalarmed, said Larry Ryan, foreign exchange manager for European American Bank in New York.

"We're in uncharted waters here," Ryan said.

The New York Stock Exchange opened as usual today in spite of a strike threat by clerks, whose contract expired this past weekend, said Richard Torrenzano, an NYSE spokesman. Talks broke off shortly before 3 a.m. and were to resume later in the day, said federal mediator Pat Hart.

As trading resumed overseas, prices gained slightly on the Tokyo Stock Exchange, while the dollar closed near a record low against the Japanese yen and fell against other currencies in Europe.

The dollar's drop affected early domestic trading in the bond market, where prices declined slightly and interest rates rose. Bonds have been particularly sensitive to weakness in the dollar because it can discourage foreign investors from buying U.S. debt securities.

Prices on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange closed generally lower in quiet trading, with the prime indicator of blue chips, the Hang Seng index, down 36.90 points to 2,203.23.

Share prices opened lower on the London stock exchange this morning.

A key measure of the Tokyo market, the Nikkei average, closed up 29.69 points at 23,358.60 in light trading. During a half-day trading session Saturday, the exchange surged by 2.5 percent.

On the Tokyo Foreign Exchange Market, the dollar fell 0.97 yen against the Japanese currency despite heavy central bank intervention, closing at a near record low of 137.58 yen compared with Friday's close of 138.55 yen.

The previous day, it had closed at 137.55 yen, its lowest closing since postwar exchange rates were set in the late 1940s.

In the United States, the Dow crashed an unprecedented 508 points two weeks ago today in what has come to be known as Black Monday.

Last Monday brought another sharp decline as the Dow fell 156.83 points, the second-biggest point drop ever in that market gauge.

On Saturday, traders worked about three hours to catch up on paperwork.

Prison backers seek vote for '8'

As county residents go to the polls Tuesday to decide 25 amendment proposals and two special issues, members of the Economic Development Committee here are urging a strong supportive vote for Proposition 8.

If passed, it would allow the legislature to issue up to $300 million in general obligation bonds to build or repair buildings for the Texas Department of Corrections, Texas Youth Commission and the Texas Department of Health and Mental Retardation.

Members of the prison support group say a strong approval by Scurry County residents will be viewed by TDC officials as another supportive measure toward the county's ultimate selection.

The group is also soliciting a large crowd of supporters for the Nov. 9 public hearing in Austin, when final selections for state-built prisons will be revealed.

Reception to start Carriker Day here

A reception from 10 until 11 a.m. at the Western Texas College Student Center will be the first public event here Tuesday related to Steve Carriker Appreciation Day activities.

The reception is slated to be informal and all community residents are invited.

Carriker will begin the day at WTC where he will meet with history, government and economics students informally from 8:35 until 9:55 a.m.

Following the reception on campus, the Friends of Carriker organization invites the public to a noon luncheon honoring the Roby legislator at The Shack.

Tickets are $25 each and may be reserved by calling John Forsee, Britt Canada or Annette Williams at Western Texas College.

Carriker is serving his third term as representative from Texas' 78th District which includes Scurry County as well as Cottle, Fisher, Garza, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Lynn, Nolan and a portion of Taylor Counties.

COMPETITION ENDS — One phase of competition for the Snyder High School band ended Saturday in Wichita Falls after the group failed to advance from regional. Two of the six bands in competition were chosen to compete at state, Cleburne and Crowley. Canyon was named the alternate. The Snyder band is still in the running for a sweepstakes prize--assuming a Division I in concert and sight reading events in the spring--based upon its Division I at district Oct. 24. Court oks insurance claim pay

Scurry County commissioners Monday approved a new system of honoring hospitalization insurance claims by county employees.

The action came at the regular weekly meeting of the court.

The county's insurance clearinghouse had proposed that, rather than mailing checks for which the county has been sending reimbursement checks, the company be authorized to pay claims by drafting the county's bank account.

The county is represented by Boone-Chapman of Austin.

County Attorney Michael Line told the court that the county would be on preferable grounds legally to have the company send drafts to the county auditor

The auditor would then be authorized to sign these checks to be honored at the bank.

Horse racing, state board vote slated

The polls will open at 7 a.m. Tuesday at four Scurry County polling places for the Texas constitutional amendment election.

Individuals will vote based upon which commissioner's precinct they reside in. The polls will close at 7 p.m.

Polling locations include:

—Precinct 1: the north side of the coliseum under the supervision of Mrs. Wade Davis, election judge.

—Precinct 2: the Scurry County Library, where the election judge will be Jerry House.

—Precinct 3: Towle Park Barn, supervised by election judge Clarence Payne.

—Precinct 4: The south side of the coliseum with Ima Emerson, election judge.

At the close of absentee voting Friday, 252 ballots had been cast.

Texas voters will decide two special issues and 25 amendment proposals.

The controversial issue of parimutuel betting on horse and dog races will be decided; as will the question of continuing with an appointed state school board--the body charged with mandating statewide policies affecting local school districts.

In addition to these two issues, voters face a record number of amendment proposals. A brief listing of these includes.

—Amendment No. 1: To establish a grain warehouse self-insurance fund to guarantee payment, with public money, in case of defaults.

—Amendment No. 2: To raise property taxes in certain unincorporated, rural fire districts; if local voters approve.

—Amendment No. 3: To limit school tax increases on the homestead of surviving elderly spouses.

—Amendment No. 4: To provide public monies to private companies, encouraging development.

—Amendment No. 5: To allow the state highway department and the Texas Turnpike Authority to cooperate in road and bridge building using public monies to guarantee bond issue.

—Amendment No. 6: To authorize the legislature to finance Texas products and businesses.

—Amendment No. 7: To issue bonds to pay for local public facilities.

—Amendment No. 8: To issue

Four treated after two separate wrecks

Four persons were injured, although none seriously, in two Saturday night accidents reported Monday by the Department of Public Safety.

A 1981 Chevrolet two-door driven by Leon Alvis Grove, 28, of 214 20th St., went out of control while westbound on Ennis Creek Rd. at 10:40 p.m.

The wreck occurred as the vehicle reached a "T" intersection with a county road 1.2 miles north of Snyder. The vehicle jumped the road, was airborne for 16 feet, jumped a five-foot embankment and was airborne for another 30 feet before it crashed through a fence, a DPS trooper said.

Grove and Ronny Arnulfo Hernandez, 28, of 1303 18th St. were treated and released at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The other accident was reported at 9:45 p.m. Saturday 13.2 miles north of Snyder on U.S. 84, where a southbound 1985 GMC van driven by Jacqueline Jo Hays, 16, of Tahoka went out of control and overturned in the median.

She and 13-year-old Joe Clyde Hays of Tahoka were treated and released at the Snyder hospital.

Council to consider street project funds

Snyder city council members, set to meet Monday for their regular November session, are to discuss applying for state grant monies to finance major street projects here.

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. at city hall.

The grant program is being offered through the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation and is to be distributed over the next five years. City officials note some $4 million will be available for projects in the Abilene District, which includes 13 counties.

The city has a longterm prioritized list of four local projects and the indication is three of these would likely be eligible for the state monies.

To qualify for the grant funds, these projects are to involve either extending or widening existing streets.

The four local projects included in the city's longterm planning, listed in order of priority, are:

—To widen 37th St. from Austin Place to College Ave., a project estimated to cost $390,000.

—To rebuild 30th St. from El Paso Ave. to Ave. Y, estimated to

Pastor has congregation, no church

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The Rev. David C. Walker may not have a church building, but he certainly has a congregation.

Walker drew more than 1,200 people Sunday to an informal service in the ballroom of a San Antonio hotel only a week after he was voted out by members of the First Baptist Church of San Antonio because of his conservative views and charismatic preaching style.

Most of those in attendance at the first meeting of Walker's New Southern Baptist Church of San Antonio were members of the church that ousted him, Walker said.

"Regardless of your church denomination or affiliation," Walker told the cheering congregation. "Jesus is in the house today. We have no committees. We have no constitution. We have no rules of order."

"We can have this room for another week," Walker told his new congregation. "But the minute you max out a room, you limit your potential to grow. And, we want to grow. We may be going hither and thither and yon to find a place to light."

Walker again will lead services at the hotel at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. next Sunday.

Extra chairs had to be moved into the ballroom and many people were forced to stand and some had to listen from adjacent hallways.

"This morning, we weren't expecting this many, that's why he's going to preach two services next Sunday," said church spokesman Henry Walker.

The spokesman, who is not related to the pastor, is one of 10 volunteers, all former members of First Baptist, picked to help guide the church and make arrangements for facilities and equipment.

Volunteers held Sunday school in their homes before the regular church services.

Nurseries were set up in hotel meeting rooms.

"We have no baby beds," Walker said. "We have nothing. We have no property. We have no place to meet."

The Rev. Frank Pollard, a guest minister, conducted Sunday's service at First Baptist, where attendance was said to be off by about 400 people.

"We expected that," First Baptist business administrator Glen Cameron said of the smaller congregation Sunday at the 126-year-old church. "Attendance dropped off before the separation. I'd say it's down about 400 today."

First Baptist has not started searching for another pastor and has booked guest preachers through the end of the year, Cameron said.

"I imagine it will be several months before we begin a process of seeking a pastor," he said.

First Baptist officials say they have 13,000 members on the rolls of the church, but only have about 1,500 to 2,000 active members.

Radiation team saves 2 people in Brazil

NEW YORK (AP) — International experts who treated victims of the Chernobyl nuclear disaster have spent two weeks in Brazil, where they saved two radiation victims with an experimental drug, a newspaper reported today.

Dr. Robert Peter Gale of the University of California at Los Angeles led the team, The New York Times reported.

Gale, a bone marrow specialist who went to the Soviet Union after the April 1986 explosion at the Chernobyl reactor, said the conditions in Brazil were different from those the experts had previously encountered.

The Brazilian patients became dangerously radioactive after coming in contact with cesium-137, a highly radioactive substance that spilled out of a piece of medical equipment being ripped apart as scrap.

More than 240 people were contaminated after a scavenger took a capsule of the isotope cesium-137 from a partly demolished cancer treatment clinic. A junk dealer broke open the 500-pound lead casing and found about 3 ounces of a phosphorescent powder which he and others confused with carnival glitter.

By late October, four people who had rubbed the cesium on their bodies, including a 6-year-old girl, were dead. Seven others remain hospitalized with little chance of survival.

It was considered the world's most serious nuclear radiation incident since the Chernobyl accident that took more than 30 lives.

"This was something that most of us had not really thought much about having to deal with," Gale told the Times. "It was a very unusual situation."

The two patients saved were treated with a drug created through genetic engineering.

The medical team included a Soviet radiation biologist and two medical scientists from UCLA.

Charlie's Still Hiccupping In Spite of Readers' Cures

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1987 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: On Sept. 16, an Iowa woman wrote to ask me if I could help a fellow Iowan named Charlie Osborne, who's 95. He got the hiccups in 1922 when he tried to lift a 350-pound hog to butcher it, and he's had them ever since. She said Charlie was a celebrity in Anthon (population about 800) and after 65 years of constant hiccupping, he would appreciate a good night's sleep. Did any of my readers have a cure for the hiccups?

Not one to pass up a chance to help a fellow Iowan — or a good story — I phoned the Anthon Herald, a weekly run by Sheryl Ashley and Shirley Nelson. Yup, it was true: Charlie Osborne was still hiccupping — in fact he had already hiccupped himself into the "Guinness Book of World Records."

So I ran an item in my column asking any readers who had a sure cure for the hiccups to please send them to Charlie in Anthon.

Well, the day that hit print, Charlie got a telephone call at 8:20 a.m. from a Richmond, Va., woman who had a sure cure. For the next three days, phone calls came from all over the country offering cures, solutions and prayers. Charlie, who had always walked downtown to the post office to pick up his mail, needed help to carry his mail home. The first week he received more than 1,000 letters and cards, and I received nearly 900 "cures" to send on to Charlie. A radio talk show host in Austin, Texas, called Charlie for an impromptu interview. He's had two offers (one from California and one from Alabama) to appear on TV shows there. He said if they'll send him a ticket, he'll go.

According to Charlie, the only cure that gave him any relief was one used by a doctor who visited him from Illinois. Using carbon monoxide, the doctor cured Charlie's hiccups for 30 minutes, but they came back again.

Readers, I know you mean well, but please don't send any more cures to Charlie in Anthon — he's moved. Last week he sold his house, packed up his belongings and went to live with his daughter, Lucretia, and her husband in Minnesota. Charlie says the move is not permanent. He may move back to Anthon someday.

DEAR ABBY: The most popular parlor game these days seems to be snooping into the past of famous people to find out when they were married and when their first baby arrived. This is embarrassing to say the least for some of our most respected — and least suspected — public figures.

I am reminded of a letter you once published. It went something like this:

"Dear Abby: Our son was married last January. Five months later his wife had a 10-pound baby girl. They said the baby was premature. Tell me, can a 10-pound baby be this early?"

You replied: "The baby was on time — the wedding was late. Forget it."

DEAR LEO: Apropos counting the months — friends who "count" don't count.

McDonald's has Welding Machines and Supplies

McDonald Welding Supply has gained a reputation for service, and for good reason. The staff at McDonald Welding Supply comes early and stays late. This is especially important to the area's busy oil fields, and this is why so many companies have depended on McDonald Welding Supply for their supply needs.

The firm serves an area bounded by Sweetwater to Loraine to Colorado City and Big Spring and back to Snyder. The Company has three 18 foot bobtail trucks for delivery to farms, businesses and well locations.

In stock at McDonald Welding Supply is the Miller and Lincoln Welding equipment line, which includes small engine drives and electric machine for farm and home use. They also have a large stock of smaller welders. They vary in size and can fit in the rear of a foreign truck as well as a two-ton truck. In addition, they carry Victor and Uniweld welding and cutting equipment and Walton vises.

If you need steel for oilfield fabrication, you can find exactly what you need at McDonald Welding Supply. The firm has a complete line of Milwaukee heavy duty electric drills and grinders. They have Williams hammer wrenches and heavy tools.

Safety equipment of all types is stocked including goggles, first aid kits and refills, hard hats, liners and fire extinguishers. This popular business also stocks chains, cable, tubing and chain hoists. They have recently added a complete line of Grade "8" Hard Bolts and Nuts in sizes from 5/16 to 1¼. Blocks as well as all types of pulleys may be added to the list.

The available list of supplies is almost endless, just ask for it. Stop by and see Gayle or Jack McDonald and the staff at McDonald Welding Supply, 1110 College Ave.

Infection can cause ear perforation

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My daughter, 19, recently had an ear infection. When the doctor looked in her good ear he noticed that the drum had several small holes in it. He was stumped as to the cause. Should we have it checked by a specialist?

DEAR READER — Perforated eardrums are most commonly caused by injury from foreign objects — such as hair pins and cotton swabs used to clean the ears — and by middle-ear infection. Your daughter may have inadvertently pricked her eardrum while cleaning her ears.

A more likely explanation, in my opinion, is that she developed the holes during an ear infection. Did she ever have draining ears as a child? Sometimes, when infection ruptures the drum, healing is delayed and tiny perforations persist into adulthood. In addition, although childhood perforations usually heal, they do so with a thin membrane that may be difficult to see. Hence, your daughter may not have holes in her eardrum, they may just seem to be there. In my opinion, she should see an ear specialist.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had my blood pressure checked. It was 180/90; my pulse goes over 100 with little activity. I also get what I call drunken spells if I get overworked — I laugh hysterically, have slurred speech, can't walk a straight line and feel higher than a kite. Sometimes I get shooting pains in my chest and have poor circulation in my feet. I've had a slight heart murmur since childhood. My doctor says all my tests are normal, but I don't feel normal.

DEAR READER — It's hard to put all of your symptoms into a cohesive diagnosis. Your blood pressure is too high; it should be rechecked on several occasions to see if it returns to a normal level. If not, treatment is indicated.

Your strange feelings are difficult to explain. The "drunken spells" suggest either poor circulation to the brain or emotional upset. The tendency to rapid pulse and the poor circulation to your feet are consistent with diminished bloodflow to other parts of your body as well. Chest pains are always a "red flag" to doctors and should be diagnosed; depending on your age, angina may be a possibility.

Finally, the heart murmur is probably not contributing to your problems, unless you have mitral valve prolapse, a common condition in which part of the valve is floppy. This is often associated with heartbeat irregularities.

In short, I think that you should be examined by an internist, a doctor skilled in diagnosis. Depending on his or her findings, further testing or referral to a subspecialist may be in order.

For Dr. Gott's complete discussion of problems and treatments of the prostate gland, write for your copy of Dr. Gott's new Health Report on THE PROSTATE GLAND. Send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Jobs to be cut

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC, which already has announced plans to cut 200 jobs, will eliminate 500 more next year, according to a report published today.

Network executives proposed the cuts Friday in a 1988 business plan presented to General Electric Co., which owns NBC, according to The New York Times.

About half of the immediate 200 job cuts would be from NBC News, the report said.

Vote Yes
Proposition 8

Tuesday, Nov. 3
Texas State
Constitutional
Amendment Election

PROGRESS

Proposition 8 on the ballot may have a direct impact on Scurry County and efforts to locate a Texas Department of Corrections facility here. The proposition calls for the issuance of up to $500 million in general obligation bonds to finance projects for three state agencies--including the TDC.

This is the most economical method of financing for the state. Prisons will be built in Texas because of federal court orders. Scurry County citizens should again show their support for prisons by voting Yes on Proposition 8.

Members of the Economic Development Committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce believes that a big turnout of votes in favor of Proposition 8 will once again be a signal to TDC officials of local citizens' interest in the prison system.

Looking to the future.

Tonight in rare home game...

WTC hoopsters open season

College basketball fans not so keen on road travel need to plan on being at Scurry County Coliseum tonight.

Western Texas College opens the 1987-88 basketball season here at 8 p.m. against Cisco and it will be one of only three home games for the Westerners during the first half of the campaign.

The Westerners entertain Ranger on Nov. 30 and host Howard College in a conference game on Dec. 10. They'll then take a month-long holiday break and won't play in the coliseum again until Jan. 14.

Western's Lady Dusters open their season Thursday at 4 p.m. against Western Oklahoma in Levelland's Texan Dome. It will be the first game of the South Plains Lady Texan Classic, which features SPC, Seward, Northern Oklahoma and Southwestern Christian.

The Dusters also have only a limited number of home games until January.

Tickets for tonight's single ballgame are $2 for adults and $1 for students. Season tickets and WTC Booster Club memberships will be available.

Western is opening the new season under first-year coach Tony Mauldin, who coached Morton High School to a number of state championships in recent years. He'll open with an inexperienced squad. Western has 11 freshmen and only three sophomores.

The sophomores are Harvey Marshman, 6-7 out of Richmond, Va.; Darrell Nelson, 6-4 from Richmond; and Gerald Wells, a 6-6 forward-post from El Paso.

Freshmen include Frank Bailey, a 6-2 guard from Fort Worth; Earnest Monette, a 6-2 guard from Dallas; James Hill, a 5-7 guard from Fort Worth; Chawn Cummings, a 5-10 guard from Richardson; Chris Jackson, a 6-0 guard from Henderson; Derrick Greene, a 6-3 guard from Austin; and Dwight Wilson, a 6-0 guard from Snook. Others are Bobby Spear, a 6-5 forward from Albuquerque, N.M.; Malcom Waters, a 6-4 forward from Stratford; and Walter Martin, a 6-8 post-foward from Snook.

Ladies close out on winning note

MONAHANS -- Snyder's Lady Tigers wrapped up the 1987 volleyball season here Saturday with their third straight victory.

The Tigers utilized everyone on the team to defeat Monahans 15-9, 12-15, 15-10.

"The girls were very relaxed for this game," said Coach Vicki Nelms. "They enjoyed themselves and had a good time. We didn't play as well as we could have played but there were bright spots. We went out on a winning note and that's what we wanted to do. It's a good feeling."

The victory gave Snyder a 17-10 season and earned the Lady Tigers third place in District 2-4A with an 11-5 record.

"We won our last three matches which was very important for us," said the coach. "Sure, you always want to get in the playoffs, but this team I think made a lot of improvement and a lot of strides from the beginning of the season and I'm pleased with that."

Scoring on serves for the Tigers last Saturday were Denise Overton 21, Sandra Powell 7, Becky Becerra 6, LaFon Williams 5, Sandra Morin 2 and Jennifer Alarcon 1.

In front of fickle fans...

Cowboys clash with Giants

IRVING, Texas (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys go into tonight's NFL showdown with the New York Giants wondering now warmly they'll be received by the Texas Stadium fans.

"We're booed at home and booed on the road," said Cowboys' free safety Mike Downs. "The only difference in this game is that we didn't have to get on an airplane to play it."

Dallas cornerback Everson Walls said, "It could be rough out there but if we win, we'll probably be cheered and it looks like the Giants are the only team we can beat."

Dallas beat the Giants 16-14 in the final game before the strike.

The Cowboys are now 3-3 and trail the NFC East leading Washington Redskins by two games after losing 37-20 to Philadelphia last week.

Dallas was 2-1 in replacement games and won over the fans but the veteran players were booed upon their return.

The Cowboys had 17 players cross the picket line. The players held a closed door meeting this week to air their differences.

"We had to put the strike behind us and move forward," said running back Tony Dorsett.

Dallas player representative Doug Cosbie said, "A lot of guys were upset (over the picket line crossing) but I think that is behind us now."

Dorsett trade rumors flew during the week after the running back and Herschel Walker complained they weren't being given the ball enough.

However, Club President Tex Schramm said Dorsett was not on the trading block and the Cowboys "need to forget the silly stuff and play football. The other teams we are playing are serious and we need to get that way."

The Giants are even in worse shape than the Cowboys at 1-5.

"We are in a must win situation every week," says Giants' Coach Bill Parcells. "There is no margin of error."

The defending world champions got off to an 0-2 start, then tumbled to 0-5 by losing three replacement games.

The Giants' regulars routed St. Louis 30-7 last week.

New York is 3-11 in the Cowboys' home with victories in 1972, 1974 and 1984.

The last two games between the two teams in the stadium evolved into tough losses for the Giants.

In the 1985 regular season finale, the Cowboys edged the Giants 28-21 in a clash for the NFC East title. In the 1986 Monday Night Football opener, the Cowboys rallied to defeat the Giants 31-28 in Walker's NFL debut.

New York has lost four of its last five games against Dallas and trails the all-time series 34-14-2.

"I don't know for sure why we always play the Giants well," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "There are just certain teams you play well against."

The Giants were rated 7-point favorites over the Cowboys despite the Sept. 20 loss to Dallas.

Parcells said the Giants' playoff chances hang in the balance.

"Based on what I see in the division, I doubt you can make it (the playoffs) with six losses. If you did you'd have to be lucky," he said.

JV triumphs in last match

MONAHANS -- Snyder junior varsity concluded the 1987 volleyball season with a 15-9, 15-5 victory over Monahans here Saturday afternoon.

The victory left Snyder with a fine 23-6 record.

"I thought we had a great season," said Coach Patty Grimmett. "The girls did a real good job. I think there is a lot of potential for the future in this bunch. I'd like to thank the parents and the fans for all the support they gave us."

Scoring on serves against Monahans were Jennifer Pate 12, Cindy Srna 3, Melissa Madrid 2, Teena Braziel 7 and Shelly Tomlin 6. Also playing were Annette Ramos, Kathy Armstrong, Veronica Rivas, Letisha Escareno, Diana Espinosa, Anne Osborn and Amber Adams.

"We played really well against Monahans. Everybody played and everybody did a good job," added Coach Grimmett.

Senior soccer team goes 6-1

Team Snyder, Snyder's senior youth soccer team, ended its season Saturday when Odessa forfeited.

Snyder's only loss was to the Midland Blast and the team posted victories over four other Midland teams and two from Odessa, resulting in a 6-1 season.

Snyder averaged 4.5 goals a game while its stingy defense allowed only 1.5. Eleven different players scoring during this first season of competitive play.

According to Coach Bill Parker, Team Snyder will begin spring training in March. Anyone born in either 1974 or 1975 and is interested in playing competitive soccer, will be invited to tryouts.

Kenyan wins NYC Marathon

NEW YORK (AP) - The little Kenyan city of Kapsabet has produced some of the world's outstanding distance runners, including Kip Keino and Henry Rono.

Add Ibrahim Hussein to the list.

Hussein, 29, scored the biggest victory of his career Sunday, capturing the New York City Marathon in two hours, 11 minutes, 1 second.

Britain's Priscilla Welch, making her third start in the race, scored her first victory in the women's division, clocking 2:30:17.

The winners received $25,000 plus a new car.

"There's so many (great runners) from where I come from..." said Hussein, who was born on the outskirts of Kapsabet, a town of about 30,000. "They know me as a runner (there), but now they might know me better because I won the New York City Marathon."

He won in convincing fashion.

After seizing the lead from early pacesetter Pat Petersen shortly past the 14-mile point of the 26-mile, 385-yard test through New York City's five boroughs, Hussein led the pack of more than 22,000 entrants, a record field.

"I was expecting those guys to move in," Hussein said about a large pack, including two-time winner Orlando Pizzolato of Italy, that had settled in behind Petersen. "I wanted to be fresh when they arrived."

With about 200 yards remaining, the tiring Petersen was passed by Gianni DeMadonna of Italy, the runner-up in 2:11:53, and Pete Pfitzinger, winner of the 1984 U.S. Olympic Trials, who finished third in 2:11:54.

Petersen wound up fourth in 2:12:03, and was followed by Tommy Ekblom of Finland in 2:12:31 and Pizzolato in 2:12:50.

Britain's Welch had the slowest time for a women's winner since 1978, when Grete Waitz of Norway won the first of her eight New York City Marathon titles in 2:32:30.

Waitz, the five-time defending champion, did not compete Sunday because of injury.

Welch became the oldest woman winner. She is 42 years, 344 days. The previous oldest winner and the last American champion Miki Gorman, was 42 years, 75 days, when she won in 1977.

Strange wins tour title but Watson cops tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - Curtis Strange won the PGA Tour's money-winning title. Paul Azinger won Player of the Year. Tom Watson won.

"He's back," Azinger howled as he watched Watson's 6-iron tee shot on the final hole nestle in close to the cup Sunday in the Nabisco Championships of Golf, the final official event on the PGA Tour schedule.

"You can write it: he's back. It's great for him and it's good for golf," Azinger said.

Questions and frustrations came to an end in Watson's scrambling, struggling, 2-under-par 68 that gave him a 268 total and a two-shot victory over Chip Beck on the Oak Hills Country Club course.

It also gave Watson $384,000 from the total purse of $3 million, almost 10 percent of the total distributed on the PGA Tour this season. The prize money was broken down into $2 million for the tournament and another $1 million for the Nabisco Grand Prix of Golf, which also ended in this event.

Strange finished dead last in the 30-man field but remained first in the Grand Prix standings. He won a total of $207,000 and took his second money-winning title with a record total of $925,941.

The title he wanted, however, eluded him. His 293 total, 13 over par, knocked him out of the Top 10 in scoring average, reduced his point total and handed the Player of the Year title to the disbelieving Azinger.

Azinger finished second on the money-winning list at $822,481, far ahead of the record $653,296 won by Greg Norman last year.

Beck took second with a closing 64 and a 270 total and won a total of $238,000. Norman was next at 66-271 and collected $172,000. Azinger followed at 67-273 and won $164,000.

The group at 274 included Ben Crenshaw, South African Nick Price, Hal Sutton, Corey Pavin and Mark Calcavecchia. Crenshaw closed up with a 64, Price and Sutton had 67s, Pavin 68 and Calcavecchia matched par 70.

Group: unnecessary c-sections performed

WASHINGTON (AP)-- Numerous c-sections are performed in the United States despite heightened risk to the health of the mother.

Public Citizen Health Research Group, which is affiliated with the Ralph Nader organization, based its calculation on a finding that 24 percent, or about 906,000, of the estimated 3.76 million births in 1986 were by Caesarean section compared with a study that suggests the optimum rate would be about 12 percent.

"The national C-section rate has more than quadrupled in the last 16 years, rising uncontrollably from a rate of 5.5 percent in 1970," said the report being issued at a news conference today.

"Legitimate concern has been voiced about the rapid increase in C-section rates in the U.S. because of the increased risks of death and illness to the mother, the higher costs involved and the higher psychological toll on the mother," it said.

It said the three most important medical causes contributing to the rapid rise in C-section deliveries are continued use of "the outdated policy" of automatic repeat C-section for women who already have had one, overdiagnosis and overuse of C-section for abnormal labor and overdiagnosis of fetal distress.

Another possible cause, though undocumented, is the threat of malpractice suits. "Although the influence of this issue is not certain, it should be clear that the way to solve the malpractice crisis in obstetrics is not by practicing bad medicine and doing more unnecessary C-sections," the report said.

It called for state legislation to require hospitals to tell maternity patients upon admission their rates of initial and C-section delivery and said obstetricians should be required to attempt seriously a "trial of labor" in patients who have had C-sections "as often as it medically indicated.

The report also said hospitals should require a mandatory second opinion prior to doing any C-section that is not an emergency and that government and private insurance plans should reimburse physicians for vaginal and C-section deliveries at the same rate to remove financial incentives for unnecessary C-sections.

If present trends continue, the Caesarean delivery rate will exceed 40 percent by the year 2000, the report said.

The private research group picked 12 percent as the acceptable national rate of C-section deliveries based on studies by Dr. E.J. Quilligan, dean of the school of medicine and former director of maternal-fetal medicine at the University of California, Irvine.

In addition to national figures, the study took a closer look at 10 states and the District of Columbia, focusing still further on Maryland because its 26.6 percent C-section rate was the highest of any state. Only the District of Columbia, with a 30.1 percent rate, was higher.

It found that the C-section rate in Maryland hospitals ranged from 12.4 percent to 42 percent.

Here are the C-section rates for the other nine states for which separate figures were available: California 21.6 percent: Colorado, 20.6 percent: Florida, 24.8 percent; Iowa, 19.7 percent; Massachusetts, 24.3 percent; New Jersey, 23.6 percent; New York, 24.2 percent; Washington, 22.2 percent; and Wyoming, 18.5 percent.

Officials: thrifts 3 years from recovery

DALLAS (AP) — A majority of chief executives from Texas savings and loans institutions say it will take at least three years for thrifts to return to satisfactory levels of profitability and net worth, a survey shows.

More than 80 percent of thrift executives made the assessment to the Dallas Morning News in a survey of S&L leaders. Many blamed a grim economy for their problems.

In the survey results, published today, almost 60 percent admitted that the reputation of their industry had been severely damaged.

About the same number say the recently approved three-year, $10.8 billion bailout of the S&L insurance fund will be inadequate to clean up after failed thrifts around the nation.

"I wouldn't even want to begin trying to come up with a dollar amount," the chief of one Dallas S&L that is struggling but still relatively healthy told the newspaper. "It's indeterminable. I don't think there's enough money to do the job."

Statewide, more than one-quarter of S&Ls are insolvent, officials say, and Texas thrifts as a group have a negative net worth.

Some large cases of alleged fraud and mismanagement caused the Justice Department to launch what it called the largest banking fraud investigation ever.

The newspaper's research department conducted a telephone poll from Oct. 7 to Oct. 19, contacting each of the 281 thrifts listed in the 1987 Texas Savings & Loan Directory.

Those responding were promised confidentiality. Chief executives from 206, or 73 percent, of the institutions responded, and another 15 thrifts refused.

Thrifts' single biggest problem, in the view of CEOs, was the Texas economy. When asked to name major factors that created the S&L industry's crisis, 52 percent mentioned general economic conditions and 35 percent answered industry deregulation of interest rates and types of lending.

Another 30 percent listed the oil market collapse, 28 percent said the real estate slump, 17 percent blamed poor management and 13 percent cited developers coming into the S&L business.

Also, 11 percent mentioned insider abuse and 10 percent cited fraud. The total exceeds 100 percent because most mentioned more than one factor.

Market crash prompts lawsuits

DALLAS (AP) — Angry investors who lost money in the stock market's crash are turning to lawyers for help in an attempt to recoup some of their losses, authorities say.

At least two lawsuits have been filed against brokerages since the crash and lawyers, brokers and stock exchange officials say these may be just the beginning of an avalanche of suits likely to be filed in the coming weeks.

"People lost money," a Dallas broker said. "It puts them under tremendous pressure psychologically. It's like sliding downhill when you can't stop."

Tom's Marine has all types of heaters

Cool mornings and evenings are here and winter is just around the corner. Now is the time to start thinking about your heating and Tom's Marine now carries two types of heaters, the Kero-Sun and the Pelonis Disc Furnace.

Efficiency is the key word in describing a Kero-Sun heater. These portable heaters give out instant heat for only pennies an hour. And since the Kero-Sun uses only clean-burning kerosene fuel, you get over 30 hours of warmth on less than two gallons of fuel. That means more pennies on your pocket.

Tom's Marine is the exclusive carrier of Kero-Sun heaters in Snyder, and Tom offers many different models of heaters to choose from and can help you find one to suit your needs.

All Kero-Sun heater models have been tested for combustible by-products. They can be operated continuously with complete safety. They burn with no soot or smoke and for complete peace of mind, every model is equipped with a unique shut-off device which instantly puts out the flame in the event of a tip over.

Another feature of the heater is the push button lighting system. Press a button and a battery powered electric igniter automatically starts glowing right above the heater's wick. Each heater comes complete with batteries and a fuel syphon pump for easy filling.

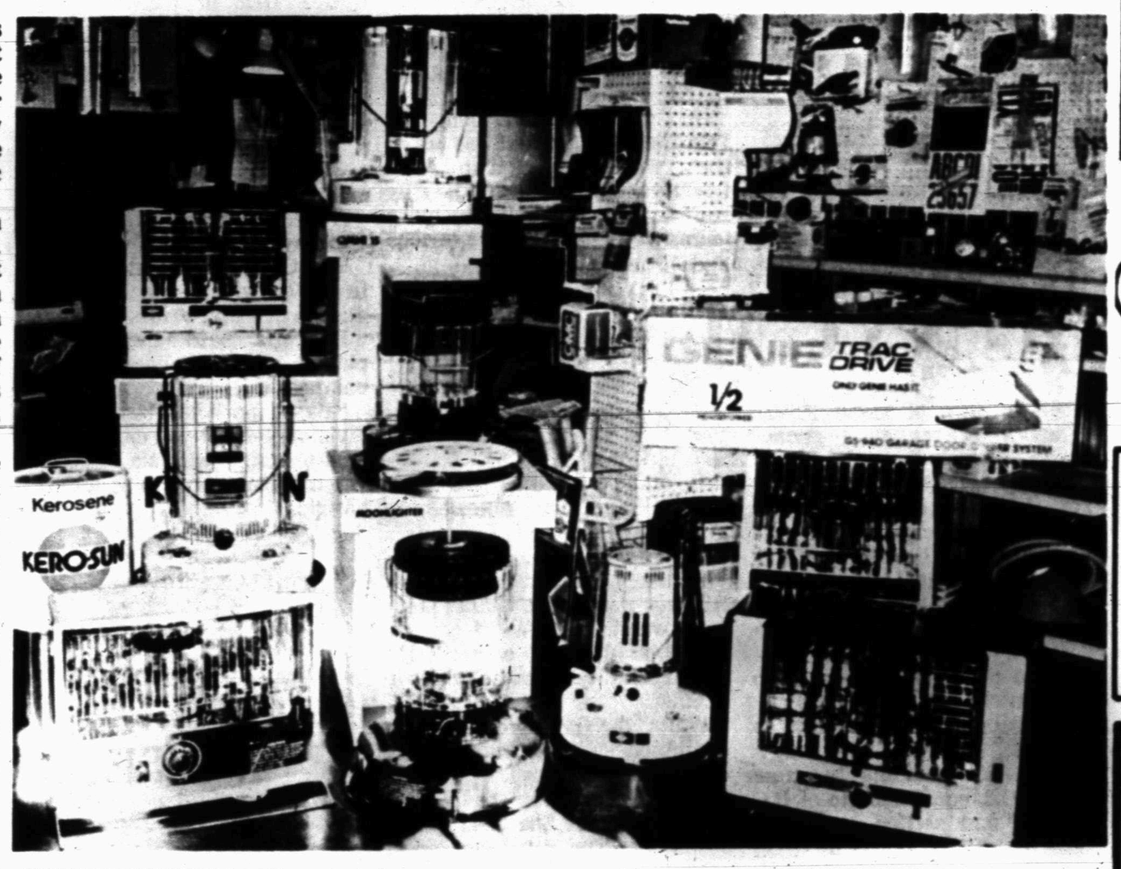
If electric heat is what you prefer, Tom's Marine now carries the Pelonis Disc Furnace. This compact six inch square device provides instant heat, is exceptionally safe and operates at much lower temperatures than conventional electric heaters.

Only with the disc furnace can you preselect a desired comfort control temperature and after achieving the temperature the unit automatically holds that level without on and off or hot and cold cycling.

The incredible furnace allows you to selectively heat the areas you occupy and in most areas the average cost is 68 cents per 24 hours.

The disc furnace has a washable filter and actually cleans the air that it circulates and with no burning fuel, there are no noxious fumes and no smoke residue to contend with.

Let Tom Machen and David Cunnington of Tom's Marine set you up for the chilly autumn and cold winter ahead with a Kero-Sun heater or a Pelonis Disc Furnace. Tom's Marine is located at 315 East Highway.



TOM'S MARINE is ready to help keep you warm with a Kero-Sun heater tailored for your needs and easy on your pocket. (SDN Staff Photo)

THE PELONIS DISC FURNACE is a compact, efficient electric heater and can be seen at Tom's Marine, 315 E. Highway.

Communist party names leaders

BEIJING (AP) — Senior party leader Deng Xiaoping retained control of the military and his protege Zhao Ziyang became head of the Communist Party today in a major reshuffling of the party leadership.

Deng, who on Sunday retired from three top party posts, was reappointed chairman of the powerful Central Military Commission. Zhao was named vice chairman, a crucial move in his drive to solidify power within the party.

Doctors: toddler is doing well after surgery

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 3-year-old girl who had been near death "looks good" after a five-organ transplant operation, and began moving her limbs today as she awakened from the experimental surgery, officials said.

"What her prognosis is now, it's almost impossible to say because I think we're on uncharted ground now," Dr. Marc Rowe, chief surgeon at Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh, said Sunday after the nearly 15-hour operation on Tabatha Foster of Madisonville, Ky.

"Tabatha is doing very well now, taking into consideration that she's had a very large operation that went into the night," Rowe said. "She looks good."

The toddler, who has been in hospitals for all but two months of her life and has never eaten solid food, received a liver, pancreas, small intestine and parts of a stomach and colon during the surgery, which ended Sunday afternoon.

She was born with short gut syndrome, a deadly condition in which her twisted intestines interfered with blood circulation.

Tabatha was in the intensive care unit early today in critical condition, normal following transplants, said Lynn McMahon, a hospital spokeswoman.

The girl began moving her limbs today as she awakened from surgery, and doctors were watching her closely for signs of organ rejection, the hospital said.

"The first 72 hours are critical," the spokeswoman said.

Tabatha's parents, Sandra and Roy Foster, had seen Tabatha after the surgery and described her as looking great, according to Sue Cardillo, another Children's spokeswoman.

Driver hurt after hitting two pickups

Two Snyder men were injured and one hospitalized in an 8:12 p.m. Sunday accident involving two cars and a pickup truck in the 100 Block of College Ave.

Hervil David Coy of 400 Ave. O was listed in stable condition Monday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital, and Gary Sorrells of 1205 N. Ave. R was treated and released following the accident.

Police said Coy was driving a 1977 Pontiac station wagon that was in collision with a parked 1982 Chevrolet pickup in which Sorrells was seated.

A second parked vehicle, a 1968 Chevrolet pickup owned by Jimmy Sorrells of Hermleigh, was struck also.

—Amendment No. 25: To permit Amarillo Hospital District to serve Randall County residents; to allow hospital districts to change boundary jurisdiction with voter approval.

Three wrecks called minor

Police investigated several minor accidents over the weekend, none of which involved serious injuries.

A parked 1976 Buick owned by Mary Guerrero of Rt. 3, Box 288D, was hit by an unknown vehicle in a mishap discovered at 11:39 a.m. Sunday in the 300 Block of 29th St.

A 1968 Chevrolet pickup driven by Benito G. Ortegon of 3112 Ave. I was in collision with a parked 1972 Pontiac two-door owned by Guadalupe Guerra of 1309 31st St. at 10:28 a.m. Saturday in a College Ave. supermarket parking lot.

A 1983 Chevrolet pickup driven by William Lee Hamilton of Rt. 2, Box 160, was in collision with a 1986 Oldsmobile four-door driven by Robert Martinez of 2407 28th St. at 6:46 p.m. Saturday at a College Ave. drive-in restaurant parking lot.

Tapes, tires said stolen Saturday

Two thefts were reported to police Saturday, one involving a tape case and 14 cassette tapes said removed from a car in the parking lot of a College Ave restaurant and the other the theft of a number of tires and wheels from a pickup parked at a N. College Ave. shop.

Amy Floyd reported the theft of her tape case and tapes at 2:15 p.m. Saturday, and Doyle Scott reported the theft from a relative's pickup of two Mohave Spoke Wagon wheels, two Sporture 60 tires with factory spoke wheels and two Sporture 70 tires.

Council agenda for tonight told cost $370,000.

—To extend Ave. E from 37th St. to F.M. 2763, estimated to cost $3.7 million.

—To extend Houston Ave. from 30th St. to State Highway 180, estimated to cost $400,000.

Of these three, city officials note it is likely the rebuilding of 30th St. from El Paso to Ave. Y would likely not qualify for the state funds now available.

Other agenda items listed for Monday's meeting include:

OLD BUSINESS

—Consider on second reading approving "updated service credit" for the city's participation in the Texas Municipal Retirement System.

—Casting the city's ballots for five nominees to the Scurry County Appraisal District board.

NEW BUSINESS

—Consider the appointment of three members to the board of electrical examiners.

—Consider the appointment of a new member for an unexpired term to the board of adjustment.

Arrests said drink-related

Police made numerous drinking-related arrests over the weekend, including an 18-year-old man arrested for public intoxication, disorderly conduct and unlawfully carrying a weapon at 4:11 a.m. Sunday in the 1900 Block of Coleman.

At the same location, a 47-year-old man was arrested for public intoxication and disorderly conduct at 9:42 p.m. Saturday.

Police answered several disturbance calls to this address during the weekend, apparently related to an ongoing dispute there between two groups.

Other arrests included a 32-year-old man charged with DWI at 2:33 p.m. Sunday in the 2900 Block of Ave. E.

Three men, 29, 33 and 28, were taken into custody for public intoxication at 1:45 p.m. Sunday in the 2300 Block of Ave. I.

A 26-year-old man was arrested for DWI and driving with his license suspended at 6:22 p.m. Sunday in the 1300 Block of 25th St.

Also, a 53-year-old man was arrested for public intoxication and resisting arrest at 2:15 p.m. Saturday in the 4500 Block of El Paso.

Two men, 22 and 24, were arrested for public intoxication at 11:33 p.m. Saturday in the 2400 Block of Ave. R.

A 24-year-old man was arrested for DWI at 12:46 a.m. Saturday in the 400 Block of 37th St., and a 27-year-old man was taken into custody for public intoxication, misdemeanor possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia at 1:08 a.m. Saturday at 27th and O.

An 18-year-old woman was arrested for DWI at 1:09 a.m. Saturday at Towle Park.

A 16-year-old girl was arrested for public intoxication at 2:09 a.m. Saturday in the 2400 Block of 42nd St. and was later released to a guardian.

Two men, 17 and 18, were arrested at 2:25 a.m. Saturday in the 2000 Block of 30th St., the 17-year-old for public intoxication and the 18-year-old for DWI.

A PRISON IS WRONG FOR SCURRY COUNTY WHY?

1. It will create a negative image for Snyder. Huntsville is known as a "prison town." How can an even smaller town like Snyder escape the stigma of a "prison town"?

2. Department disciplinary records since 1984 show that drug smuggling is widespread and contributes to the growth of prison gangs and inmate violence.

"Drugs are an insidious problem in the institutions," David Weeks, special prosecutor for prison crimes said. "We've come to realize that drugs in the institutions are tied to a lot of bad things, including the gangs." Taken from Dallas News Article

If we cannot control drugs in Scurry County now, what can we expect when we have larger drug dealers?

3. AIDS is a well-recognized problem in prisons. Why do we want to risk spreading this disease in our hospital and county? There are four stages of AIDS. It is only during the final two stages that prisoners would be transferred to Galveston to be hospitalized.

4. Economic benefits are not cheap. Scurry County will be footing the bill for crimes committed in prison. Cost of the trial and court appointed lawyers will be paid by Scurry County taxpayers.

If even one of our fears --an escape, hostage taking, rape, riot, a child infected with AIDS -- comes true, the economic benefit will not mean much -

Do not be intimidated!

Letters to the editor

To the editor,

Much has been written on the pros and cons of pari-mutuel betting. Let me give you the point of view of someone who grew up with horse racing. I was reared within the shadows of the twin spires of Churchill Downs in Louisville, Kentucky.

My boyhood memories are of my mother trying to keep dinner warm. My Dad is delayed again in traffic created by the evening rush hour coming at the same time as the race track patrons also trying to get home.

The first Saturday in May as the world watches the Kentucky Derby, you are a prisoner in your own home. Streets are closed for bus and taxi traffic, others are one way in a direction depending on the time of day. The neighborhood supermarket and bank must hire security personnel to keep race track patrons from filling their parking lots.

The Baptist church has to barricade the parking lot so that those attending an afternoon funeral will have a place to park. You can't get your car out of the garage because someone has parked behind it.

I remember reading in the newspaper about a concessionaire being investigated for ties to organized crime. My barber is a bookie and takes several calls while cutting my hair. College students sleep in neighborhood yards on Derby Eve. Downtown streets are closed on Derby Eve because the crowds are swelling off the sidewalk into the street. People are leaning out of hotel windows yelling to people below.

All of this translates to paying overtime to the police for traffic and crowd control. The Sanitation Department must work extra crews to clean away the rubbish. The welfare department supports families because the pay check was bet on the horses. Contracts are given with wrecker companies to tow away cars because the city wreckers can't handle the work load. Who picks up the tab for this? The local taxpayer.

I still return to Louisville to visit my parents. They still reside in the same house. This once blue collar neighborhood of home owners has changed from well-kept homes to rental property in need of repairs. All around are vacant stores and others have put bars over the windows. A few blocks away is a street known as Derby Strip. It is lined with topless bars and prostitution is rampant.

Because of declining revenues Churchill Downs is searching for answers. One of their answers was racing on Sunday. They have added days to the racing season, so they race nearly year-round. If the other race tracks are in financial trouble, why do they expect us to believe it will be better here?

Kentucky has a personal income tax, inheritance tax, sales tax, corporate tax and a severance tax on coal and other minerals. Martha Collins, the governor, wooed Toyota into building a plant in Georgetown right in the middle of those prize horse farms. She has made many trips to Japan looking for other industries for Kentucky. This has prompted a bumper sticker with the slogan, "Martha Layne, the best governor Japan ever had."

If pari-mutuel betting adds so much to the state treasury, why does Kentucky need so many taxes? Revenue bonds were sold to finance a complex of toll roads across the state. They don't spend it on education, because teachers are so poorly paid and per capita spending on pupils is among the lowest in the nation.

Just maybe pari-mutuel betting isn't the boon they say it is.

The proponents say people will go to New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisana. If that is the case, then let's go to the Sand Hills in Monahans and install snow making machines and create some ski slopes to keep the people away from New Mexico and Colorado.

The dollars and cents don't total to a vote for pari-mutuel betting. Join me in voting no.

To the editor,

Do people believe that Communism is only a bad dream or a fable? Do they know that when it was first put into force that they used all their most cruel and ruthless criminals for their top executives in the police and sheriff's departments?

Does anyone keep the communist manifesto in mind and how closely we are obeying their rules? Maybe we should read it again and again.

If we succeed in getting this new Texas prison facility, we will be getting a large building full of non-law-abiding citizens. Don't we already have enough of that kind?

It is too late to do anything about it of course, but once we have it, we'll have a lot of outsiders helping inmates escape.

It may be a help financially, but it will do the opposite to our moral environment.

Agnes Sorrells
Star Rt., Box 32
Ira, TX 79527

To the editor,

We would like to take this means to appeal to the citizens of our county to let their wishes be known concerning the building of a prison here.

We, like everyone else, are concerned about our current economic situation here, but we do not feel that this is the solution to the problem. There are too many unanswered questions.

We do not have any guarantees — I repeat, we do not have any guarantees — of just how much this will help our local businesses and citizens.

We will surely have a lower city and county image (as has been evident with other locations that have the prisons). How will it affect our younger citizens? What will be the long range outcome?

Time is growing short. Let us give this serious thought and let us all think of each other and a brighter future for our citizens.

Hunts involved in tax dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The embattled Hunt family of Dallas is to appear in U.S. Tax Court today to fight an Internal Revenue Service claim that they owe $358 million in taxes related to the family's silver trading fiasco of 1979 and 1980.

Your Birthday

Nov. 3, 1987

In the year ahead, ventures that start out on a sour note should not be written off too hastily. Interesting twists could be in the offing, enabling you to wind up a winner and not just an "also ran."

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Misunderstandings with co-workers can be ironed out to everyone's satisfaction today. Be the bearer of the olive branch and make the overture. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Friends will not only take pleasure in your company today, they may also have more substantial things to share with you. One could be profitable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your words carry an extraordinary amount of weight with your admirers today. The less secure will be inspired when you express confidence in them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your optimism is justified pertaining to present projects that are large in scope. Procedures that clicked in the past are applicable again today.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A material opportunity could develop today that might not appear too exciting at first. Take a second look. It has more potential than you think.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Because you'll be the first to show genuine concern for the interests of others today, they, in turn, will make sure your personal aims will be promoted as well.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You will be luckier today if you associate with people who possess a practical outlook rather than with individuals who have flighty natures.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your greatest asset today is your ability to restructure negative situations into positive ones. It looks like you will have at least two chances to prove yourself.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A critical arrangement you share with another should go off smoothly today. Luck will help adjust the variables for the collective good.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't be afraid to take bold measures today regarding a situation that you have spent ample time figuring out. Decisive action is required at this point.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Everything comes to he who waits. The constructive changes for which you've been hoping that affect you and loved ones are about to transpire.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Now is the time to initiate that important plan you and your mate have been discussing in detail. Working together, the two of you can pull it off.

BE A SCOUT — One of the youth-oriented agencies benefitted by United Way is the Girl Scouts of Snyder. Some $9,500 is pledged this year toward their operation. At a recent signup, Angela Martinez signs up her 8-year-old daughter Norma (left) and 10-year-old daughter Monica.

A HELPING HAND — Cub Scouts like Kenneth Darling (middle) and Jack Hedges benefit from United Way dollars as well. The Buffalo Trail Council of Boy Scouts is to receive $9,500 this year. Other youth-oriented agencies aided include the Boys Club, Snyder Child Day Care Center and Oil Patch Foster Parents.
