Post Script

Once again in this Success issue we are saluting the local Boy Scout organizations, in connection with the upcoming Boy Scout week. We thank all who helped compile material, and the public-spirited advertisers who helped to make it possible.

At 5:00 p.m. yesterday, January 31st, the sheriff's office reported that 750 poll taxes had been paid. Deadline for payment of the tax was last midnight.

Today, February 1st, sales get under way of 1962 license tags for vehicles. The sale will continue through the months of February and March, and April 1st will be the deadline for all vehicles to have the new plates installed.

Stained glass windows for the Methodist church arrived Tuesday and a crew was busy installing them yesterday. Rev. Nyquist said the job would be completed today.

The warm weather for the past week has enabled farmers to go on with the remainder of their cotton gathering and the Eldorado gin has been turning out from 15 to 20 bales a day.

At 10:00 a. m., yesterday the total stood at 5319 bales. There was only one bale on the yard, but the crew was warming up the motors in expectation of the afternoon run.

The gin continues to operate every day, but they are now running with a skeleton crew.

The fire department was called out twice yesterday when grass fires threatened to get out of control. No damage was done but tall dry grass and warm weather is presenting a fire hazard all over the county.

Last week a similar situation developed when a grass fire threatened the old Rogers house.

$7,654.50 Contributed Screwworm Eradication

A total of $7,654.50 had been contributed for the screwworm eradication program in this county as of noon Tuesday.

The winter kill of the screwworm pest is believed virtually complete all over the state, and if the $3,000,000.00 needed to launch the sterile fly program can be pledged within the next few days, the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation can begin the program by starting a band of sterile male flies across the southern borders of the state for eradication.

Based on the fact that the female screw worm fly mates only once, the program is one of self-extermination. The native fly population is overwhelmed by systematic release of millions of screw worm flies, produced and sexually sterilized by irradiation in the laboratory.

If the livestock men move fast it is believed by authorities that there is a possibility for a knock-out in 1962. The odds are in your favor.

Mail your check to Leslie Baker, cashier, First National Bank, at Eldorado, today.

Those who have contributed, in addition to those listed in last week's Success, are:

L. E. McCalla, Billy Williams, Mrs. J. Tom Williams, W. M. Whitten, D. S. Wilson, H. E. Finnigan, M. H. Woodward, F. E. Chapple, E. N. Edmiston, Sam E. Jones, L. L. Watson, Mrs. T. F. Green, S. D. Harper, W. T. Parker, James Page, Page Bros., Wilson Page, Robert Page, W. V. Lux.

New License Plates Go On Sale Today

Vehicular license tags for 1962 go on sale today, February 1, in the office of Orval Edmiston, Schleicher county sheriff and tax collector.

Some drivers have already designated the numbers they want. The plates this year are black with white numerals.

The plates on hand are as follows:

Passenger: JY 250 thru 666.
Commercial pickup: 2M 2975 thru 3106.

Farm pickup: 8P 2075 thru 2216.

February and March are the two months during which the sale of new tags will be conducted. Deadline is April 1st for the new plates to be on all vehicles.

Personnel in the office remind motorists that the tax collector is required by law to examine title and license receipt of the previous year before the registration can be renewed.

Landmark West House Is Now Being Razed

Clarence Fish, who bought the Carson West house in the south part of town some time ago, this week began to dismantle the landmark structure.

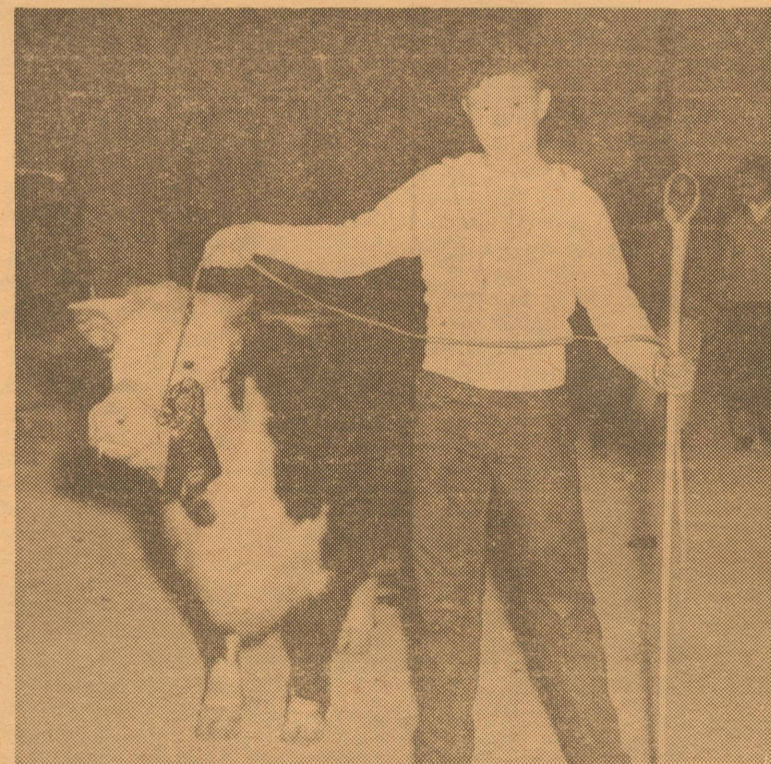

The large frame house, which is trimmed in black is a landmark from Eldorado early days. The rambling structure has a number of rooms which boast 12-foot ceilings, and there is a porch all across the front.

Mr. Fish states that he will supervise the razing of the house, and later on may put some motel units on the site.

—Feb. 8, 1935.

Boy Scout Merit Badge Exposition Coming Up

Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27, have been definitely selected as the dates for the First Annual Council-wide Boy Scout Merit Badge Exposition and camp-arall of the Concho Valley Council, according to W. D. Bradley of San Angelo, general chairman of the affair which is sponsored by the American Business Club of San Angelo.

More than 1,000 Boy Scouts residing in the council area are being invited to participate in the exposition and to compete for awards and cash prizes.

Already queries have reached the Boy Scout headquarters, in the Western Reserve Building in San Angelo about the exposition. —March 22, 1935.

Local Scouts Enjoying Camp At Louis Farr

A group of Eldorado Boy Scouts left Sunday for Camp Louis Farr, the Scout camp near Mertzon, where they are spending this week in gaining actual experience in camp life.

The local Scouts in camp are of the following ranks: M. C. Laird, Bob Bradley, and John T. Ballew, Life Scouts; Willie Bridgeman, Star Scout; Jo Ed Hill, first class; Gardner McCormick and Hugh D. Craig, second class; and Abram Millar and Marshall Bailey, tender foot. —May 31, 1935.

Boy Scouts Spend Two Days Camping Out

Monday and Tuesday of this week, the Eldorado Boy Scout Troop 18, accompanied by Scoutmaster Don McCormick; J. A. Whitten, chairman of executive committee; E. W. Brooks, member of executive committee, and A. L. James, cook, spent a delightful two days and nights camping on the banks of the San Saba river on Louis Tisdale's ranch.

The boys were allowed plenty of time for fishing and playing and those enjoying this splendid outing were: Bob Bradley, Willie Bridgeman, J. T. Ballew, Hugh Craig, Billy Green, Abe Millar, Julian Carr, Earl Bryant, Marshall Bailey, William Jarrett, Gardner McCormick, Jack Whitley, George Whitley, Jolly Sample, Wallace Cozens, and Bobby Oliver. —Aug. 30, 1935.

Local Scouts Report On Trip Thru Western States

M. C. Laird, Eagle Scout; Jo Ed Hill, Star Scout, and Gerald Nicks, First Class Scout, returned Saturday from a 3,806 mile motor-hike through several national parks. They were among the 47 Scouts of the Concho Valley Council who made the trip instead of going to the Washington Jamboree in August which was called off account of an epidemic scare.

The boys made a report to the Lions club here Wednesday, thanking the club for the trip.

Laird told of the trip going west, giving details and explaining the things that were seen. Jo Ed Hill gave some history of Yellowstone Park and gave in detail the points visited. Gerald gave a description of the Grand Canyon and the trip back home. —Sept. 6, 1935.

More Than 400 Attend 10th Concho Valley Meeting

Another rung in history of the Concho Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, was placed alongside others in annals last week when more than 400 persons thronged San Angelo for the 10th Annual Meeting and Banquet.

It was a fitting climax for the Silver Jubilee year of Scouting in the council, ending the 1935 fiscal year, the 25th of Scouting.

Henry C. Ragsdale, San Angelo, was elected president of the council. Other officers named were Emmett D. Cox, San Angelo; Roy E. Aldwell, of Sonora, and E. K. Fawcett, Del Rio, vice presidents; and Houston Harte, president for three years, National Council representative. —Jan. 31, 1936.

26th Scouting Anniversary To Be Observed Here

A radio program, featured by the address of Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, will be given in behalf of the 26th anniversary of Scouting Saturday evening from 5:30 to 6:00 o'clock, Scout officials here have been informed.

All Scouts and Scouters of Eldorado will gather at the Scout hut Sunday morning, form in double file, and march to the Methodist church where a space will be reserved for them to be seated in a body while they hear a sermon delivered by Rev. P. S. Connell, at 11:00 o'clock.

Monday evening at 7:30, the main program of the week will be given at the court house, with J. A. Whitten, chairman of the Scout committee, in charge of the meeting. —Feb. 7, 1936.

More Than 50 Attend Meet

Monday night, Feb. 10, was parent night for local Boy Scouts. The meeting was called together by Jim Tom Roach, blowing taps. It opened with everyone singing the first stanza of "America." The Rev. A. J. Quinn led in prayer.

Scouts fell in line and repeated the Scout Oath and the 12 Scout Laws, led by Scoutmaster Don McCormick.

The Rev. N. P. Wilkinson gave an excellent talk on the benefits of Scouting. Rev. Quinn followed with a good talk on cooperation carried on in Scouting. Judge J. A. Whitten told how Scouting was started in America.

Joe Hearne Moore, one of Eldorado's best former Scouts, told how Scouting had helped him. —Feb. 14, 1936.

Camp Farr Preparing For 1936 Summer Camp Sessions

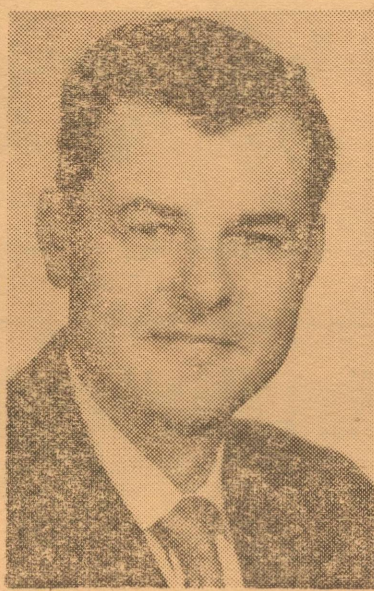

It won't be long until it will be camping time for the Boy Scouts. Camp Louis Farr will be the center of attraction for Scouts of this district.

Local Scouts will go to camp the latter part of this month or the first part of June. A good many boys are expected to go. The camp is better equipped this year than it was last year and will provide more fun and training for the boys.

The camp near Mertzon has a nice hall, which is called Yates hall, good camp grounds among the trees, and a good swimming hole in Dove Creek just above the dam. A new spring board has been installed and all traces of poison ivy have been killed out along the paths and camp grounds.

Scouts will stay for a week. The fee for this year is $5.50. You get all you can eat and cook one meal a day over the camp fire. —May 15, 1936.

Howard Derrick Is Now On Executive Board

HOWARD DERRICK

Now serving on the executive board of the Concho Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America is Howard Derrick.

Mr. Derrick is new representative from Schleicher county to the board, which adopts the Council budget each year, hires the professional staff, and in other ways manages the affairs of the 23 1/2-county Concho Valley Council.

Age Of The Goof-Off

Our national pattern is being willing to settle for something less than the best. For this, in America, is the great era of the goof-off, the age of the half-done job.

The land from coast to coast has been enjoying a stampede away from responsibility. It is populated with laundry men who won't iron shirts; with waiters who won't serve; with carpenters who will come around someday maybe; with executives whose mind is on the golf course; with teachers who demand a single salary schedule so that achievement cannot be rewarded, nor poor work punished; with students who take cinch courses because the hard ones make them think; with spiritual delinquents of all kinds who have been triumphantly determined to enjoy who was known until the present crisis as "the new leisure."

I think and I hope that our people are becoming sick of this goofing off. The reason I do not know, but I will guess that we are beginning to realize that history is repeating itself.

The Russians are doing a wonderful job as the barbarians in our modern historical drama. But we are far outdoing them in our superlative imitation of Rome. We may lack a few of the refinements of Rome's final decadence, but we do have the two-hour lunch, the three-day weekend, and the all-day coffee break. You can buy for $275 a jeweled pillbox, with a built in musical alarm that reminds you (but not too harshly) that it's time to take your tranquilizer.

Unquestionably, we are now engaged in a battle for survival. We must get our people into the battle. But first we have to get some battle into our people.

What you and I have to do, patiently, and day by day, is to teach those over whom we are given supervision, that work can be fun—that the only real reward that life offers is the thrill of achievement, and that the place where achievement amounts to most is on the job.

We are a nation of hobbyists, but there is a large element of escapism in hobbies. Too many of us get our vocations all tangled up with our avocations. We have got to get to work or a stronger nation may put us to work. And to get to work, we have got to rediscover what millions used to know: There is a great thrill in work well done. —Charles H. Brower, president of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, Inc., reprinted from Scouting magazine.

ABOUT BOYS' LIFE

Most people have heard about Boys' Life. It is a magazine for all boys aimed at giving them good reading, Scouting helps, and hobby interests.

Through the years it has made a great contribution to the lives and interests of young Americans. Many dads will remember it as having an important place in their boyhood.

Boys' Life magazine was started in Rhode Island in 1911 by a Boy Scout. The magazine and its then 6,100 circulation was acquired by the Boy Scouts of America in 1912 and became the official publication of the movement. From that small beginning Boys' Life has grown until now it is reaching almost two million subscribers. Several hundred thousand of the subscribers are nonmembers of the Scouting movement.

Watson Brings Program At Lions Club Meeting

Fred Watson showed a film, "Prophet From Tekoa," at yesterday's meeting of the Eldorado Lions club. The film, based on the book of Amos in the Bible, drew parallels in the decadence of Amos's time and that of America today. In the business session, the members voted $40 of the club treasury for Boys Ranch to be used for purchase of new dining room equipment. In addition, some individuals in the club are making contributions for this. Bob Whitis was a guest. Mrs. Jud Brannan and her sister, Mrs. Charles Morris of Del Rio, were in San Angelo last Friday shopping and visiting Mrs. Brannan's daughter, Mrs. Clyde Evans. Mrs. Morris left for her home in Del Rio Tuesday after spending about two weeks with Mrs. Brannan. Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Ivy are at home in the Riley house on North Main street. They moved here from Monahans, and he is employed at Johnny Griffiths' barber shop. He and Mrs. Ivy united with the First Baptist church here Sunday.

Feb. 15th Proclaimed Wool & Mohair Day

Governor Price Daniel has officially proclaimed February 15th as Wool and Mohair Day in Texas in conjunction with the Texas International Wool and Mohair Show held during the 13th Annual San Antonio Livestock Exposition, Feb. 9-18, according to Edwin M. Jackson, chairman, Advisory Committee, Texas International Wool & Mohair Show. Jackson stated that the Governor's designation reads in part: "Texas is the leading wool and mohair producing state in the United States. It produces 20% of the nation's wool and 97% of the nation's mohair. The latter represents 60% of the world production. "Wool and mohair are major contributors to the agricultural income of Texas and are the oldest clothing fibers known to man. "The San Antonio Livestock Exposition, Inc., supports and promotes the industry through the Texas International Wool and Mohair Show. This show has grown to be the largest of its kind in the nation, featuring all phases of the industry from fleece to fabric. "Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby call special attention to this event at the Texas International Wool and Mohair Show and designate this day, Thursday, February 15, 1962, as Wool and Mohair Day in Texas."

The Royal Service meeting was held at the First Baptist church Monday afternoon with the Van Dusen circle as hostesses. The program was from the Royal Service magazine and was entitled, "Caring Not For the Ways of God." Mrs. W. M. Rountree was in charge of the program assisted by Mrs. Fred Watson and others. 20 Years With Conservation Districts

J. Forrest Runge, Chairman Board of Supervisors Eldorado-Divide Soil Cons. District There was a full house at the banquet in the Crystal Ballroom of the Granada hotel in San Antonio Friday night, January 12, when B. E. Moore and J. Forrest Runge were awarded gold lapel buttons for 20-year service as Supervisors. For their activities in arousing interest in a Soil Conservation District and to help arrange for the election and other necessary matters pertaining to the organization of such the State Board appointed B. E. Moore and J. Forrest Runge supervisors. Edwin Brown of Christoval, Ernest Foster of Knickerbocker and Edgar Spencer of Eldorado were elected later. County land use planning board with Runge chairman, worked up the material and developed the need for a district. The main theme was to combat or remedy the menace of bitterweed and the repeated harassment of the divide lakes that regularly inundated the roads after heavy rains. The Eldorado-Divide District was planned on a watershed basis, incorporating all of Shleicher county, east drainage area of Spring Creek and Irion county, and the area between the Middle Concho and Pecan Creek in Tom Green county. Because of opposition ar-used by one particular resident of Irion county fearing taxing powers, the board approved the application eliminating the Spring Creek watershed.

In working up the program and plan for the district, we had the whole hearted support of the U. S. Federal and State and County organizations. At that time there were many organizations in force, some or them war inspired.

The final charter of organization was completed and the district started functioning in June, 1941. At first the main objective was to acquaint the populace with the terminology used in speaking of conservation.

Because of our interest we were invited to neighboring counties to help spread the gospel and are proud to claim credit for interesting our neighboring districts of Reagan, Irion, Devils River, Crockett, Menard, Gillespie, Coke and Runnels.

The local district also takes pride in claiming to be the first to officially stage a Soil Stewardship Sunday with all city churches (Union Services) meeting at the Methodist Church to hear Roy Gough of the Soil Conservation Service using Lowdermilk's Biblical references extolling need for conservation. He cited Lowdermilk's observations of several years study of the desert wastes of the Holy Land. Teach the youth the value and need of conservation has been the aim of the district from the start. This resulted in this district being the first to hold grass, range and soil judging contests among the 4-H and FFA boys of the district.

ELDORADO STUDY CLUB HAS PROGRAM ON HEART

Dr. John L. Read, president of the San Angelo District Heart Association, presented a program for guests and members of the Eldorado Study Club Thursday evening. By using slides and charts Dr. Read explained a non-surgical method of restoring the heart to a stopped heart. Known as "closed chest cardiac resuscitation," the new technique has received wide attention to the medical profession since it was first described some months ago by a team of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore scientists.

Previous methods of starting up a stopped heart either required administering an electric shock or opening the chest in order to massage the heart by hand. In the closed chest technique, reliance is placed primarily on controlled intermittent pressure of the hand placed over the patient's breastbone.

When correctly applied, this method has been found successful in restoring the heartbeat in 70% of cases. Its application by untrained persons is not without hazard, Dr. Read stated, and for this reason professional teaching sessions have been arranged thru the Heart Association.

Wedding Held

Bro. DuBose, pastor of the First Baptist church of Eldorado, officiated at the double ring ceremony for Sandra Nixon Meador and Robert Floyd Ackly of Ripley, New York, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Farris Nixon.

Sandra wore a dress of beige sheer wool with a pink corsage. She is a 1956 graduate of Schleicher County High school. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ackly of Ripley, New York, and is a surveyor with the Air Force. He is presently stationed at Turner Air Force Base, Ga.

The couple's attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Henderson of Eldorado.

After the ceremony, wedding cake, coffee, and punch was served to relatives and a few close friends.

Evelyn Jo Yoakum of Big Lake was here Saturday visiting with Kathy Kinser.

Who Owns The World?

Take any boy and introduce him to the world. He is part owner and he should be learning to take care of his property. He may live on Main street and sleep there, but the entire world is his home and what affects it affects him. It is smaller than he thinks and, since three quarters of it is water and there are millions of arid and unusable acres, it is fast being used up.

Who owns the world? Why the inhabitants, of course; but they are only temporary owners because all unconsumed property belongs to the future. But let's straighten out the inhabitants. We do not mean Homo sapiens alone, because everything that breathes has a share in the world, but man is the responsible species. Give or take a plague or two, his own wars, and the great natural disasters, man remains in charge. Meanwhile, he is changing and occupying it mightily, not always for the better.

If, as we say, we own the world, what is it that we really own? Simply and irrevocably, it is the earth and its natural resources. Our real wealth is in the water, the land, the minerals, and in the very air we breathe. We have to breathe the air. Yet, we are polluting it with everything from smog to fall-out; unpredictable impurities are building up in the air. In time some of them are dissipated, but the same force that makes the apple fall keeps the smog and atomic dust around the earth. We cannot dump it into the cosmos.

When were you born? It doesn't matter. Every thoughtful adult has lived long enough to have noticed the stark differences in the face of the land. Nature has been plowed under to industry, farm and subdivision until there is little space for a boy to be alone and free. There is a critical shortage of recreational space over the nation and the world. Soon there may be a shortage of everything but stars.

Recent studies indicate that world population will double in 40 years. When that happens, twice as many people—as individuals—will own less than half as much as they do now. This will create a new kind of poverty, a new struggle for Lebensraum, because there will not be enough land or natural resources. The resulting restrictions will mean losses of freedom such as we have never known before.

We have been whittling away at our world for a long time. Now we are chopping it out with tools beyond the ken of Paul Bunyan and his men, and the enormous chips are flying in a world of less and less. Life stands to change more in 40 years than it has in centuries.

What can we do? How can we conserve these resources of utility and beauty that are at the heart of the good life? How shall we adjust to the more crowded times or find our way through cloverleaf and thoroughfare without losing our bearings on a wider world? Certainly we can do something.

We can face the problems. We can more deliberately conserve and, more important, we can train our youth to accept its share of the responsibility for keeping the earth fair and tenable. The stakes are higher for them than for us, for they will be here longer. Still, we can help them keep the world a good place to live in, beautiful to enjoy, and safe to abide in.

We cannot escape the world. Our biology is of this planet, evolved through millions of years in our own peculiar sphere. We are not suited to any other place, neither Mars nor Venus nor Planet X out there in the Milky Way. The earth is gloriously and pathetically our home, and we must stick with it whether we like it or not. But we do like it. Most of us love it. We love its "rocks and rills, its woods and templed hills," its wind and song.

Take any boy and introduce him to the world. Show him how wonderful it is, and then tell him from the heart: It is your, my son. Hold fast. Hold fast. —Samuel D. Bogan in Scouting magazine.

Carl Stevens is home, and up and around, after undergoing surgery at the Clinic-Hospital in San Angelo last week.

On The Screen . . .

Three motion pictures—which range from a fantasy-adventure, to a western, and to an adventure story set in World War II, and all three in color—are the coming attractions at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre here in Eldorado.

Showing tonight and tomorrow night is "Mysterious Island," starring Michael Craig, Gary Merrill, Joan Greenwood, Beth Rogan, Michael Callan and Herbert Lom. It is based on the famous Jules Verne story.

Producer Charles H. Schneer makes considerable use of the process of SuperDynamation, whereby small objects can be made to appear life-size or bigger and vice versa, in taking some liberties with the original Verne story of five men who escape the 1855 siege of Richmond in a balloon which is driven by high winds to the South Seas.

There on a tiny atoll they encounter giant creatures, two lovely British snipwrecked ladies, a band of pirates and Captain Nemo with his submarine Nautilus. When the volcanic isle blows up, all escape except Captain Nemo.

Regardless of the merits of the actors, the real central figure of the film is the resourceful Ray Harryhausen who creates the monsters, the balloon sailing through stormy skies and the other convincing wonders, all in dazzling color.

Edward Bernds 1958 production of "Quantrill's Raiders," makes a return showing Saturday night at the Eagle. This Allied Artists film is in CinemaScope and color, and the cast includes Steve Cochran, Diane Brewster, Les Gordon, Gale Robbins, Will Wright, Kim Charney, Myron Healey, Robert Foulk, Glenn Strange, Lane Chandler, Guy Prescott, and Dan M. White.

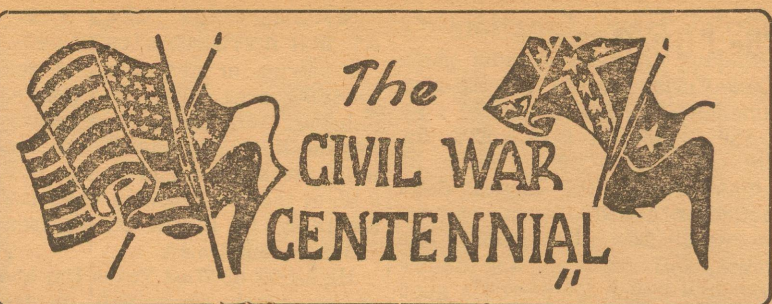

Showing Sunday and Monday nights will be "The Guns of Navarone," already being talked as the greatest adventure-action film of 1961, and the finest since "The Bridge on the River Kwai." The setting for the story is the Aegean Sea during World War II.

The island of Navarone commands a sea passage. The Germans have occupied it and have made it impregnable with two monstrous radar-operated guns. It is up to a British team of six saboteurs to spike the cannons.

Writer-producer Carl Foreman has given us the story of the handpicked commando crew, each a specialist in his own line, that is given this impossible assignment: Infiltrate right under Nazi noses, scale an impossible cliff on the unguarded side of the Greek island, somehow get inside the heavily guarded German fortress and blow up those two giant Navarone artillery pieces that bombs can't reach. Be sure it's done by 2400 hours when the fleet is due to sail by.

The cast includes Gregory Peck, David Niven, Anthony Quinn, Stanley Baker, Anthony Quayle, Irene Papas, Gia Scala, and James Darren. The movie holds the attention of the audience for 157 Technicolor minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Lige Foster have moved here and are occupying an apartment at Mrs. W. H. McClatchy's. Mr. Foster is employed as a driller on a Schleicher county well.

On January 19, 1862, just 100 years ago—the Confederacy suffered its first severe defeat in the field.

A Union army under General George H. Thomas defeated a Confederate force commanded by Gen. George B. Crittenden in a battle known by three names—Mill's Springs, Fishing Creek, and Logan's Crossroads.

The battle, whose results gave control of eastern Kentucky to the Union, pitted two generals against each other, each of whom should have been on the other side.

Thomas, later to be called "The Rock of Chickamauga," was a Virginian who had remained loyal to the Union when the war came on and had been commissioned a brigadier upon the recommendation of no less a personage than General William T. Sherman.

It was said that President Lincoln hesitated to sign the commission because he doubted the Virginian's loyalty. General Sherman, however, assured the President that Thomas was loyal, and Lincoln gave him his commission.

When leaving the interview with the President, General Sherman met his friend Thomas on the street and exclaimed "Tom, you're a brigadier!" When Thomas showed no sign of pleasure, Sherman began to fear the Virginian was on his way to the War Department with his resignation and asked "Where are you going?"

"I'm going South," Thomas is reported to have said. "But Tom," Sherman said, "I've just made myself responsible for your loyalty."

Whereupon Thomas replied, "I am going South at the head of my troops."

General Crittenden, the Confederate commander, should have been in the Union army just as Thomas, by virtue of his birth, should have been in the Confederate army. Crittenden, whose brother Thomas L. Crittenden was a general in the Union Army, had joined the Confederate army against his father's wishes.

The father of the generals Crittenden was Senator John J. Crittenden of Kentucky whose compromise efforts probably staved off the war for at least 10 years.

The Confederates lost Brigadier General Felix Zollicoffer, a former newspaper editor and Congressman from Tennessee, in the battle and his death is said to have set off the retreat of the Southerners which soon turned into a rout.

General Zollicoffer offered an excellent target in his white rubber coat that rainy Sunday and the Union colonel he mistook for one of his own men put a pistol bullet point-blank into the general's chest.

The Confederates, seeing their commander slain, turned and ran from the field yelling "Betrayed" and infecting the other brigades with their panic. Soon the whole command of General Crittenden was in retreat before General Thomas' Federals.

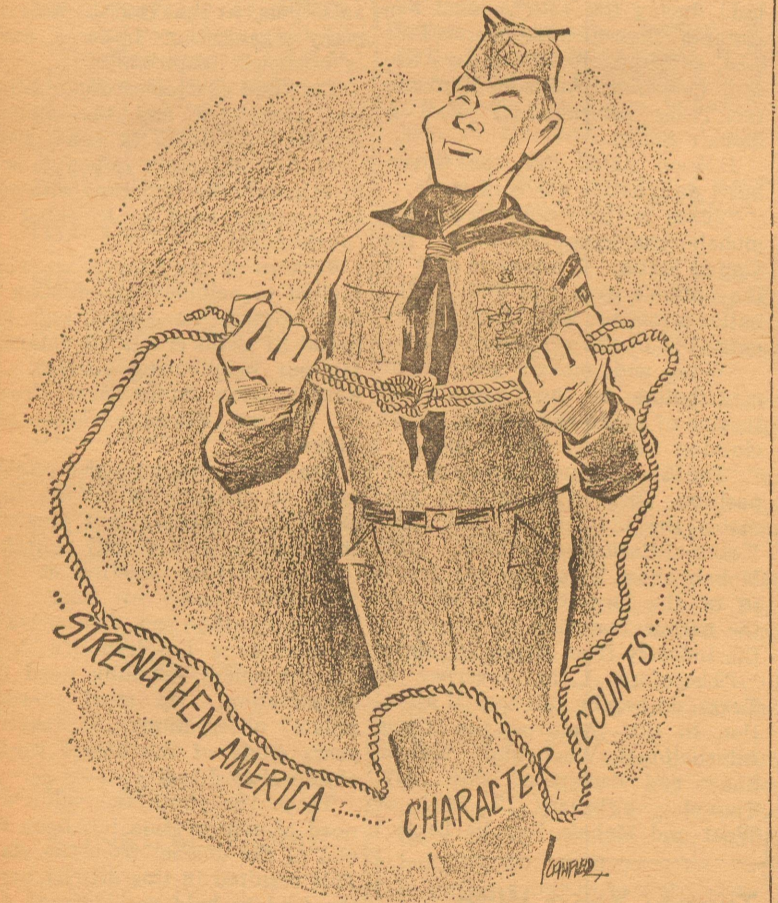

As a result of the battle and the "betrayed" flung about by the Confederates, there was an inquiry which charged General Crittenden with drunkenness, with disloyalty, and with giving information to the enemy. After all, wasn't he a brother to a Union General?

Weeks afterward, a court of inquiry found General Crittenden innocent of all charges except that of "intoxication" and he was reduced to the rank of colonel. He finally resigned from the army and served on the staff of a little-known general in the Trans-Mississippi Department.

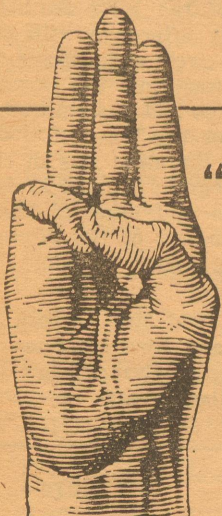

General George H. Thomas went on to become one of the most valuable generals in the Union Army.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cales were visiting the Fred Watsons and other friends in Eldorado from Wednesday until Friday last week. They were moving back to Odessa from Louisiana after completing his work there.

The Fiftieth Boy . . .

About one boy in fifty will remain after the feast and of his own accord offer to help clear the things up or to wash the dishes. Do you know this Fiftieth Boy? There are forty-nine boys who are seeking jobs; the job seeks the Fiftieth Boy.

The Fiftieth Boy makes glad the heart of his parents. The Fiftieth Boy smoothes the wrinkles out of his teacher's forehead, and takes the worry out of her mind.

All the grouches and sourfaces brighten when they see the Fiftieth Boy coming, for he is brave and cheery.

The forty-nine "didn't think"; the Fiftieth Boy thinks.

The Fiftieth Boy makes a confidant of his mother and a pal of his father.

He does not lie, steal nor tattle, because he does not like to.

When he sees a banana peel on the sidewalk, where it is liable to cause someone to slip and fall, or a piece of glass in the road where it may puncture a tire, he picks it up.

The forty-nine think it's none of their business.

The Fiftieth Boy is a good sport. He does not whine when he loses. He does not sulk when another wins the prize. He does not cry when he is hurt.

He is respectful to all women and girls.

He is not afraid to do right nor ashamed to be decent.

He looks you straight in the eye. He tells the truth, whether the consequences to him are unpleasant or not.

He is not a prig, nor a sissy, but he stands up straight and is honest.

Forty-seven out of the forty-nine like him.

He is pleasant toward his own sister as toward the sisters of other fellows.

He is not sorry for himself.

He works as hard as he plays. Everybody is glad to see him. Do you have that kind of boy at your house? If not, don't complain; there are not enough of them to go around. —Dr. Frank Crane.

What's New In '62?

What's ahead in Scouting as the fifty-second year starts? Three major activity periods stand out to be observed in 1962.

Immediately at hand is Boy Scout Week, February 7-13. The theme is featuring the family, emphasizing the important part it plays in the development of boys, of Scouting, and of America. During this week Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers are interpreting the program to the public through blue and gold dinners, open houses, expositions, demonstrations, and public programs.

On June 15 comes National Charter Day—the anniversary of the granting of Scouting's federal charter from Congress (June 15, 1916). Major national activity will center in Washington, D. C., where a Boy Scout or Explorer representative from each of the 12 regions will join in honoring our friends in government and the heads of national partner organizations. These 12 boys will be given educational grants of $300 each and their 12 alternates (who will not go to Washington), $200 at their regional meetings in the fall and spring following. The grants are to be furnished through the courtesy of the Reader's Digest Foundation. Later the 12 report Scouts will be honored at a dinner in New York.

Three awards will be available to units during the year; the Prompt Reregistration streamer to units completing their registration during the month of their charter expiration, the Award of Merit streamer for units attaining 75% of their unit goals, and a seal to be affixed to the charter of each unit that earns the Award of Merit streamer.

The slogan of our program of action, "Strengthen America—Character Counts," continues to keep us aware of our larger opportunities and responsibilities; it should challenge our planning and action so that every boy in America who wants to join can become a Scout.

Arrow On Target

A group of Scouters shot an arrow into the air at Treasure Island Scout camp in 1915. The arrow is still in flight, gaining momentum in its orbit of service to camping. From its origin at Philadelphia's Scout camp, the Order of the Arrow has grown to 150,000 active members, in 511 lodges in councils across the country—the official campers' honor society of the Boy Scouts of America.

As a part of the council camping program, the Order of the Arrow is dedicated to these purposes: —To recognize those campers who best exemplify the Scout Oath and Law in their daily lives and, by such recognition, cause other campers to conduct themselves in a manner to warrant recognition.

—To develop and maintain camping tradition and spirit.

—To promote Scout camping, which reaches its highest effectiveness as a part of the unit's camping program.

—To crystallize the Scout habit of helpfulness into a life purpose of leadership in unselfish service to others.

The Arrow is unique in that its members are elected by Scouts or Explorers of their own units. Both boys and leaders consider this an honor. To be eligible, a candidate must have had at least 15 days and nights of Scout camping.

Indian lore provides an atmosphere and background for their activities. Colorful Indian costumes, names, and language are used in the ceremonies of the Ordeal (induction) ceremony; the Brotherhood ceremony, when Arrowmen seal their membership after ten months of service; and the Vigil ceremony, the highest honor.

Here in the Concho Valley Council, the Order of the Arrow organization is the Wahinkto Lodge. Order of the Arrow candidates are selected during the summer sessions of Camp Sol Mayer and Camp Fawcett, after which they return for a special two-day session of camp to be inducted into the order. The Order of the Arrow Ordeal for candidates will be held July 19-21 at Camp Mayer.

Critical Then . . . Crucial Today

I preach to you, then, my countrymen, that our country calls not for the life of ease, but for the life of strenuous endeavor. . . . If we stand idly by; if we seek merely swollen, slothful ease, and ignoble peace; if we shrink from the hard contests where men must win at hazard of their lives and at the risk of all they hold dear, then the bolder and stronger peoples will pass us by and will win for themselves the domination of the world. —Theodore Roosevelt, from speech to Hamilton Club, Chicago, 1899.

in a class by itself, right between compacts and big cars.

In a 1962 Ford Galaxie or Fairlane you can go all year—or 12,000 miles—with only two stops for service. This revolutionary new twice-a-year maintenance program—available only in the cars from Ford—frees you forever from the nag-nag-nag of month-after-month servicing. (See chart.) It's the biggest thing that's happened to cars since Ford introduced the 12-month or 12,000-mile warranty.* See your Ford Dealer soon—and start saving time and money with the convenience of twice-a-year maintenance. It's another Ford first!

*Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers in turn, warrant to their customers as follows: That for 12 months or for 12,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty, appropriate adjustments will continue to be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters, spark plugs, and ignition points.
