Cambridge Racial Riots Bring Injuries, Arrests

AWARDS WERE PRESENTED Monday night at the Jaycee installation banquet by outgoing president Gene Williams, right. Doug McGlaun, left, received the Mr. Jaycee award for the 1963-64 year, and Dave Adams, center, received the Key Man award. Appreciation awards were also given to KSNY Radio and the Daily News.

Rep. Cannon Of Missouri Dies Today

CLARENCE CANNON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Cannon, D-Mo., peppery guardian of the U.S. pocketbook for decades, died today. He was 85.

Aides said Cannon died about 4 a.m. (EDT) after a heart attack. They said Cannon had entered Washington Hospital Center Sunday afternoon suffering from what he thought was nausea.

He had appeared at his office as usual on Saturday, aides said, and was "chipper and in good spirits" at that time.

Dean of the House in years, he had been in Congress since 1922, a member of the Appropriations Committee, and chairman of the group since 1941 except for the periods 1946-48 and 1952-54 when the Republicans were in control.

In that period he had presided over appropriation of more than a trillion dollars — more than any man in history. But he was proudest of the billions he had helped chop out of requests. Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., is in line to succeed Cannon as chairman of the powerful committee.

As a parliamentarian it was conceded Cannon was top man in the House. In fact, he wrote most of the rules — "Cannon's Procedure of the House of Representatives" is a legislative bible.

And in the sometimes rowdy Democratic conventions over which the late Speaker Sam Rayburn presided, he was Rayburn's strong right hand when the procedural going got rough. Rayburn once said privately he didn't know where Cannon got all the precedents he cited, and had his doubts they really existed except in Cannon's agile mind. But they helped Rayburn keep conventions under control.

Cannon will be buried Thursday in his hometown, Elsberry, Mo. Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. at the Elsberry Baptist Church.

Aides said Cannon had entered Washington Hospital Center Monday, but said they did not know the reason for his entry.

Death occurred abou 4 a.m. EDT the congressman's office was advised.

A peppery and agile figure despite his age and slight stature - he was only a 140-pounder -Cannon was dean of the House in point of age at the time of death.

He had been a member since 1922 and was outranked in service only by Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga.

Associates said he has been active and apparently in top health through last week, but had complained Sunday of not feeling well.

Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex. shepherded a supplemental appropriation bill through the House Monday at Cannon's request - a chore Cannon normally would have performed for himself.

Under the congressional seniority system, Mahon as the Democrat with the longest service on the Appropriations Committee behind Cannon, succeeds to the chairmanship. Mahon is from Lubbock.

APPROPRIATIONS PANEL

Rep. Mahon To Assume Chair

WASHINGTON (AP)—Moving up to chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee, with the death today of Rep. Clarence Cannon, is a tall, quiet-spoken Texan, known for his even temper and ability to get along with people.

He is George Mahon, a Democrat who looks much younger than his 63 years. First elected to Congress in 1934, he represents a 20-county West Texas district around Lubbock.

A member of the House Appropriations Committee since 1939, Mahon has been head in recent years of its subcommittee handling funds for the Defense Department.

Patience best characterizes the Texan. This has been evident in his mood during years of waiting for seniority to get on the Appropriations Committee in the first place, and even more so until his turn came to move to the top.

By the end of his first term in Congress he began to feel frustrated at the inability of a young congressman to get on one of the major committees, such as Appropriations, Ways and Means, or Agriculture.

Counseling with older Texans, including former Vice President John Nance Garner and the now-retired U.S. Dist. Judge Ewing Thomason, he was admonished to bide his time, learn his job and make friends.

Of his early years here, Mahon once said:

"By 1939, neither of the two Texans who had been on the Appropriations Committee was in Congress, and I was appointed to membership on that powerful committee.

"From that day, I began to have the feeling that I belonged to the Washington show, and that I had a role in it which could become increasingly important.

"The opportunity to have a major part in significant congressional action was mine. The old feeling of frustration was gone."

Long a Methodist and for many years a Sunday School teacher here, Mahon is known as a non-drinker but as congenial in any group. He once told of his first meeting with Garner. Thomason escorted him to the Senate, where Garner presided.

After Speech By Wallace

By LOUIS G. PANOS

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—An outburst of violence in the wake of a presidential campaign speech by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace left this center of racial strife in the grip of new tensions today.

Two demonstrators and five National Guardsmen were injured in a melee touched off Monday night when about 200 singing, hand-clapping integrationists tried to march on the arena where Wallace had spoken.

They met a cordon of some of the 400 National Guardsmen hurried into this sensitive spot just to prevent such an act.

Wallace had already left the town of 12,600. He had addressed about 1,500 supporters in his campaign in the May 19 Democratic primary and was applauded more than 40 times during a 45-minute speech attacking the civil rights bill pending in the Senate.

Balked by guardsmen wearing gas masks and holding rifles with fixed bayonets, the integrationists squatted in the street and sang "We Shall Not Be Moved."

Guardsmen used tear gas to disperse them, arrested 14 and slapped an 11 p.m. curfew on the city.

State officials met into early morning on the disposition of the arrested. Two were treated at Cambridge Hospital, one for a cut and the other for the effects of tear gas, then were returned to the National Guard armory. Two others were then sent to the hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Robert Murphy said charges to be filed against some of those arrested still were under study.

"It may be foolish, if the climate stays as it is, to turn them loose in this inferno down here," he said.

Gloria Richardson, leader of the two-year-old integration movement in Cambridge, was among those arrested. Those not hospitalized were transferred to National Guard headquarters in Pikesville, across Chesapeake Bay and north of Baltimore.

Four white men told newsmen rocks and bottles were thrown at them today as they drove along Cambridge streets.

National Guard headquarters said they had no information on any incidents.

The guardsmen ordered into Cambridge before Wallace's appearance at the invitation of the Dorchester Business and Citizens Association included units which were called out at the height of similar violence in Cambridge last summer. A token force of 10 had been assigned to the uneasy city throughout the winter, but there had been no curfew or other restrictions similar to those imposed after an outbreak of shootings and arson last July.

The 1963 demonstrations emphasized demands of the Cambridge Nonviolent Action Committee for integration of restaurants and other public accommodations. The Town Council approved a public accommodations amendment to the Cambridge charter after these outbreaks, but it was overridden in a public vote on the question last Oct. 1. The Business and Citizens Association led the opposition.

Crash Deaths Set At 92

By CARL ZIMMERMAN

MANILA (AP) — Ninety-two persons were dead or missing today following four military plane crashes around the world. Most of the victims were American military personnel.

A fifth plane, a U.S. Air Force supersonic fighter, crashed in the Philippines today but the pilot parachuted to safety.

The four fatal crashes occurred Monday in the Philippines, off Spain, in southern England and in Alabama.

At Clark Air Base north of Manila, a U.S. Military Air Transport jetliner with 83 persons aboard crashed short of a runway and burst into flames. Seventy-three persons died in the wreckage and another two died in the base hospital.

The other victim was an American serviceman riding in a taxi which the plane struck as it headed for the runway, the Air Force said.

The eight people on board who survived the crash were in the base hospital. The Filipino cab driver and another American passenger in the taxi also were hospitalized.

Aboard the four-engine C135 were 9 Air Force crewmen, a flight nurse, 48 Air Force passengers, 19 Navy men, 4 Coast Guardmen and 2 Nationalist Chinese.

"I don't think anybody knows what caused this thing," an Air Force spokesman said. "There was nothing in the plane's behavior that could give a clue to any mechanical failure."

No indication of distress came from the pilot as he brought the big jet in from Hickam Air Base, Hawaii.

Landing in a rainstorm, the plane struck a 42-foot antenna-like aircraft navigational aid just inside the base fence, hit the taxi on a road running along the base perimeter, and broke up in flames.

The C135 was on a troop airlift mission from Travis Air Base, Calif. It was to return sick and injured personnel to the United States.

The Air Force said the crash was the first involving a C135 in the Western Transport Air Force, and only the second for a MATS C135 in more than 75 million miles the service has flown the big planes since June 1961.

In the other fatal crashes:

A 24-hour air and sea search failed to find the 10 crewmen of a U.S. Navy long-range patrol plane that crashed at sea 20 miles off Cadiz, Spain. The plane, based at Jacksonville, Fla., was taking part in manuevers off the U.S. Polaris submarine base at Rota, Spain.

Four crewmen were killed in the crash in southern England of a British Vulcan bomber, one of a type that can carry Britain's H-bombs. Two crewmen parachuted and were injured.

A U.S. Air Force C119 carrying 43 student paratroopers to a jump zone made a crash landing in a field near Searle, Ala. Two men were killed.

Rusk Urges NATO To Isolate Cuba

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged the complete isolation of Communist Cuba today, warning the Western allies that the Cuban problem presents the danger of another world-shaking crisis.

"In an address to the opening session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) Council, rusk coupled a plea for action against Cuba with a call for the allies to pitch in and help in South Viet Nam.

Rusk said manpower and military assistance are not needed from the other allies in Communist-threatened South Viet Nam. He suggested industrial equipment, commodities, medical teams and teachers would help to give the people a psychological boost.

Speaking of East-West relations in general, Rusk declared that despite an easing of tension, there still was no sign of any basic historic change in the Soviet position.

Rusk said that Premier Khrushchev cannot expose himself to any charge by Red China that he is moving toward the capitalist camp. Such a charge might push Khrushchev into a position of diplomatic rigidity, the secretary added.

Rusk said the United States is continuing to seek some avenues of agreement with the Soviet Union and other nations should do the same. But he reminded his allies that the man who put Soviet missiles in Cuba still runs the Soviet Union.

In discussing Cuba, he brought up the U.S.-Soviet confrontation of 1962 that for a time appeared to be pushing the world toward nuclear war.

Rusk declared the United States is determined to continue aerial reconnaissance of Cuba and any attempt by Prime Minister Fidel Castro to intervene could create a severe problem.

Pair Charged With Robbing Milford Bank

MILFORD, Tex. (AP)—A man and woman, both redheads, were charged today with robbing the Milford First National Bank shortly before 2 p.m. yesterday of about $7,000.

The charge of armed robbery was filed against Robert Snyder, 35, an ex-convict, once of Duluth, Minn.

Also charged was Mrs. Betty Jean Talavera, a waitress and divorcee from Los Angeles. She originally was from Vicksburg, Miss.

Officers said the two had been together for about two months.

Snyder told the FBI he had served two prison terms for car theft. He said he was a surveyor.

The two were arrested at Grand Prairie, 50 miles north of Milford, about two hours after the 1:50 p.m. holdup.

Vice President J. C. Woodward said a calm man wearing glasses entered the small bank, pulled a pistol, and ordered him to fill a sack with money.

The gunman then walked outside to a car with a woman driver.

Grand Prairie police noticed a car fitting the description and driven by a red-headed woman leave a motel. They arrested the woman as Rangers, Ellis County officers and more police seized the man at the motel.

Woman Is Drowned At Lake Thomas

A preliminary verdict of death by drowning was returned at 1 o'clock this afternoon by Justice of the Peace Cone Merritt following the discovery this morning of a woman's body at Lake J. B. Thomas.

The woman has been tentatively identified as Mrs. Lona Daniels, 34, of Seminole.

The body was found near the shore at the south end of the dam at about 11:30 a.m. by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tadlock of Snyder.

Mrs. Daniels and her four-year-old son were reported as missing at 9 p.m. Saturday in Seminole. At 1 p.m. today officers had found no trace of the missing boy.

The body was fully clothed with the exception of shoes. The shoes were not found.

Mrs. Daniels' teen age daughter was contacted in Seminole, but she knew nothing of the child's whereabouts. Mrs. Daniels' husband was reportedly en route to Snyder this afternoon to make positive identification and funeral arrangements. Bolger Funeral Home is taking care of local arrangements.

The tentative identification was made after the small foreign car found near the spot where the body was found was found to be registered to Mrs. Daniels. Her handbag was also found in the car. The body also fits the description of Mrs. Daniels as given by the Seminole sheriff's office.

The Scurry County sheriff's office and the Justice of the Peace are continuing the investigation.

McNamara Talks Heavily Guarded

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara arrived in Saigon today for a 36-hour visit and plunged into a series of heavily guarded conferences on the progress of the war in Viet Nam.

McNamara raced from one conference to another in Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's car, with flak jackets piled on the floor, on the seat and behind his back for protection against Communist terrorist bullets, hand grenades and mines.

He was accompanied everywhere by a motorcade of vehicles bristling with police and a truck loaded with black-bereted Special Forces soldiers, their guns at the ready.

U.S. and Vietnamese security were taking no chances since discovery of a plot on McNamara's life. Viet Cong agents were caught Saturday night trying to mine a bridge the secretary was to cross.

McNamara on his arrival conferred for two hours with Lodge. Then, after a quick lunch at Lodge's residence, he began a series of conferences with top U.S. military officials.

Here for his fifth visit since the U.S. military buildup in South Viet Nam began more than two years ago, McNamara promised the United States will provide "whatever is required for however long it is required."

"During my brief stay here this time, we will review the progress achieved along the lines of the program laid out last March," he said as he arrived by plane from Bonn, Germany.

Air Force police checked all arrivals before McNamara landed and inspected the VIP room where he stopped after getting off his plane.

Police reported that one of the three Viet Cong arrested for the plot leaped from a second-floor window at police headquarters Monday. The suspect, Nguyen Van Troi, landed on a Jeep, broke his leg and was taken unconscious to a hospital.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who arrived Monday told reporters that visits by him and McNamara would probably continue to be frequent.

"Don't be surprised if we are back here every couple of months," he said.

At the Hague, U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk was urging other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to support the South Vietnamese cause against the Communists with money, men or materials. But only West Germany, of America's 14 NATO allies, was reported considering sending some aid, and that reportedly would be economic.

Rites Held For Guelker Infant

Gravesides services were held at Hillside Cemetery in Snyder at 4 p.m. Sunday for Nelda Kay Guelker, one day old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. (Cotton) Guelker. The infant died Saturday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital in Snyder.

Grandparents are Mrs. Mabel Snowden of Snyder and Mrs. Teula Guelker of Sweetwater. Other survivors include the parents and two brothers, Mark and Welton Lee.

Cambodian Jets Fly Across Border

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Two Cambodian jet fighters swept across the South Vietnamese unit, reliable sources said.

Vietnamese infantrymen on the ground fired back at the jets, which stayed only minutes inside Viet Nam and then roared back to Cambodia, the informants reported.

The incident was the latest in a series of border clashes between Cambodia and South Viet Nam. Americans fear such incidents could seriously worsen relations between the two neighbors.

Texas Man Killed In Okla. Crash

ALTUS, Okla. (AP) — Boyd Whitman, 53, of Thailia, Tex., died early today after his car hit a guard rail and bridge on U.S. 283 north of here. He was alone.

Draft Quota Down

AUSTIN (AP) —Col. Morris Schwartz, state selective service director, said today the June Texas draft quota is for 234 men, down from 258 for May.

The quota will be filled mostly with volunteers under 26 and nonvolunteers 19 to 25 years old. Husbands and fathers will not be selected during the call, Schwartz said.

The Texas quota is part of a national call for 6,000.

Damage Suits Filed In Mobile Crash

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Owners of both vessels involved in a flaming collision in Mobile harbor last week have filed countersuits seeking damages.

The owner of the tug Vulcan—Sabine Towing & Transportation Co. of Port Arthur, Tex.—filed a federal suit Monday for $100,000 damages.

The tug was towing a gasoline barge that collided with an ore freighter owned by Lib-Ore Steamship Co. of Monloriva, Liberia. The steamship line earlier filed a suit for $275,000 damages.

Calif. Avaitrix Completes Flight Around Globe

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Globe-circling Joan Merriam landed her crippled plane safely at the Oakland Airport today.

The Coast Guard had two planes escorting the 27-year-old Long Beach, Calif. housewife for almost the last 100 miles of her flight from Hawaii.

She accomplished a feat Amelia Earhart tried unsuccessfully to achieve 27 years ago. Miss Earhart vanished in the western Pacific.

Miss Merriam's plane touched down at 9:12 a.m.

Bad weather and engine troubles had plagued her from the start of her flight — from the same airport — March 17.

Miss Merriam feathered the propeller of her right engine approaching the U.S. mainland, coming in on her left engine.

Coast Guard escorts rendezvoused with her at 7:36 a.m. after she radioed she was in trouble.

"Her right engine is running rought and she has asked the Coast Guard to send aircraft to her aid," said Dorian Meredith, air route traffic control watch supervisor.

The Coast Guard dispatched search craft for a rendezvous with the 27-year-old Long Beach housewife in her twin-engine Piper Apache.

It was also Miss Merriam's right eingine which forced her to turn back to Hawaii Sunday night after flying 200 miles toward the mainland.

On the Honolulu to Oakland flight, longest leg of her 27,500-mile globe-girdling journey, she received routine navigational aid from a weather ship stationed halfway between Hawaii and the mainland.

Weather and mechanical problems have plagued the 27-year-old professional flier since she set off on her adventure in mid-March.

At the start, she hoped to become the first woman to circle the globe alone by air.

But Jerrie Mock, a Columbus, Ohio, flier accomplished that feat on April 17, after flying a more northerly route for a total of about 22,800 miles.

ARRIVES IN SAIGON — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, talks with newsmen on arriving in Saigon. Listening over his shoulder is Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff of Vietnamese armed forces. Taylor arrived to join with Defense Secretary McNamara in conference on the war against the Communist guerrillas. Texas Cotton Planting Lags Behind

AUSTIN (AP)— Texas cotton planting is 10 days behind last year's schedule, the U.S. Department of Agriculture says.

The department said Monday 49 per cent of the cotton crop is planted, compared to 61 per cent last year. Northwest dryland cotton farmers are awaiting rain. In preplant irrigated fields, farmers delayed opening of beds to avoid moisture loss from drying winds.

Blowing dust, low moisture and high temperatures hurt prospects for High Plains dryland wheat. Prospects for irrigated High Plains wheat are good.

The sorghum crop is 48 per cent planted, compared to 56 per cent planted this time last year. Corn is making good growth. Rice planting is 83 per cent complete, 5 per cent behind last year.

The vegetable harvest is active in the Rio Grande Valley. The onion and carrot movement is declining.

Rain, Hail Hit Extremes Of Texas

By The Associated Press

Rain and hail pounded the far north and far south parts of Texas during the night. The Weather Bureau reported hail the size of golf balls and baseballs in Iowa Park, near Wichita Falls, at 4 a.m.

A 30-mile wide mass of heavy thunderstorms just north of Wichita Falls churned southeastward.

A triangular area of the Rio Grande Valley was pelted Monday night by up to two inches of rain, accompanied by brilliant electrical displays.

McAllen recorded 1.24 inches and the community of McCook reported 2 inches. The most general rains fell from Mission to Edinburg to Alamo and back to Mission.

Hail shattered street lights in parts of McAllen and Pharr, and some low areas were flooded. The U.S. Weather Bureau in Brownsville recorded only a trace of rain.

Erratic weather hit in states bordering Texas during the night. A tornado funnel cloud was spotted in the Oklahoma Panhandle. Nineteen miles southeast of Shreveport, La., a tornado dipped down but did no damage.

More widely scattered showers, with slightly cooler weather, were forecast for today.

Strong northerly winds stirred up dust in the Lubbock and Hobbs, N.M., area as cooler dry air pushed into the state. Visibility in Lubbock was cut to 1½ miles, with a 46 miles per hour wind.

Temperatures ranged from 38 degrees at Dalhart to 76 at Galveston and Palacios.

Oilmen To Pay Fines For Hot Oil

HOUSTON (AP) — Two independent oil operators from Tyler have five days in which to pay $10,000 fines for allegedly shipping $2.2 million worth of "hot" oil in interstate commerce.

Billy Bridewell and R. H. Hedge were assessed the fines Monday by U. S. Dist. Judge James Noel.

They were indicted last March on 60 counts of violating the Connally Hot Oil Act and filing false reports with the Federal Petroleum Board.

They pleaded guilty to 20 of the counts. The other 40 were dismissed after Asst. U. S. Atty. Morton Susman filed a dismissal motion with the court.

Bridewell and Hedge allegedly produced the contraband oil from a slanted well in the Webster oil field. Their well bottomed on an adjacent lease belonging to the Humble Oil & Refining Co.

More than 600,000 barrels of oil were taken from the slanted well between January, 1950, and July, 1962, according to the indictment.

Susman said this was the largest amount of oil ever producted from a slanted well in this country to the knowledge of the Federal Petroleum Board.

Defense Attorney W. F. Weeks stressed to the court his clients had pleaded guilty to some of the charges and the court should be lenient.

He said the two men had already paid Humble $500,000 and given them the lease and well, that $18,400 had been paid in penalties to the state and that $71,400 had been paid in royalties.

"Observing the manner in which they have approached their responsibilities, I feel this is sufficient," Judge Noel said as he assessed $500 fines for each of the 20 counts.

He then set a five - day time limit.

GOPs Hear Bush, Cox

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Republican leaders meet today to herald the largest GOP primary ever held in Texas and to plan a purse-straining two-man statewide runoff election.

Principal speakers at the session will be George Bush and Jack Cox, both of Houston. Voters will decide June 6 which of the two will be the Republican nominee in the November general election to challenge U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

Unofficial totals of the May 2 Republican primary gathered by the Texas Election Bureau show approximately 141,500 voted in the U.S. Senate race in which Robert Morris and Dr. Milton Davis both of Dallas, were eliminated. The unofficial figures showed Bush with 62,579 votes and Cox 44,080.

Republican officials have urged GOP county committees to hold runoff elections June 6 although the two-man race will be the only contest on the ballot.

The 141,500 persons voting in the May 2 primary compares with an estimated 115,000 votes in the 1962 GOP primary, the previous record.

Tower Claims Bill Will Protect Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., had introduced an amendment to the civil rights bill today which he said would protect the freedom of the press.

The amendment would exempt persons working in editorial capacities on newspapers, broadcasting networks, and stations from the employment section of the bill.

The section Tower seeks to amend would set up a federal commission to investigate complaints of discrimination in employment.

Odessa Family Hurt In Blast

ODESSA (AP)—A mother and three children were injured in an explosion which destroyed their house here Monday night.

Firemen blamed bottled gas. There was no fire. Mrs. Eva Armisto and her son Alex, 1, were in serious condition. Her infant daughter, Annette, and son, Anthony, 3, were in fair condition. Stephen Armisto, the father, was not in the house.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Why do so many nice people with dogs have so little regard for their guests' comfort? When we visit these people, their dog jumps up on us the moment the door is opened. As soon as we sit down, the dog jumps up on the furniture right next to us. When we sit at the dining room table, the dog is under the table, with his nose on our legs. He even puts his paws up on the tablecloth, "begging" for food. (The master thinks nothing of feeding the animal from his hand, and then goes right on eating. Yich!) We love dogs, Abby, and have always had one. But when we entertain, our dog is not included with the guests. Do you agree with those who have the "Love us, love our dog" attitude? Or can you see our side of it?

THE "E's" in HILLSBOROUGH

DEAR "E's": I can more than SEE your side of it —I'm ON it!

DEAR ABBY: With so much divorce and remarrying these days, isn't there some wedding etiquette for divorced parents of the bride and groom? Say the bride's parents are divorced and have both remarried, but the bride wants her real father to give her away. Where does the father go to sit after he has given the bride away? Surely he doesn't go to sit with the bride's mother, who is sitting with her present husband! And if everyone is friendly, and the father's present wife is invited to the wedding, where does SHE sit? Should she be right up front with the relatives in the wedding party, and beside her husband at the head table at the wedding dinner?

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: The bride's mother and present family sit in the first pew. The bride's father, after giving away his daughter in marriage, then goes to sit with his present wife and family in the second pew. The father's present wife sits beside him at the wedding dinner.

DEAR ABBY: A young, rather pretty little married woman lives next door to me, and she is always telling me that a door-to-door salesman made a pass at her and she had to put him in his place. She claims the mailman, milkman and grocery man have also made improper advances to her, and she had to tell them off.

Abby, I have the same mailman, milkman, grocery man, and the same salesmen calling on me, and I have never had one speck of trouble with any of them. Do you think she is making all this up, or can it be true?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: She's probably making it up. But if only a part of it is true, she should take a good look at herself in the mirror, and listen to herself talk.

DEAR ABBY: Re the man who accused his good and faithful wife of every dirty deed in the book: I have been down that road myself, and I, too, was sick at heart at all my husband's accusations and suspicions until I learned that it all came from his own guilty conscience. Everything he was accusing me of doing, HE was doing — the rat.

We drove 3,243 miles to make a point about our Super Turbine transmission

You can do it on the way to the grocery store

Would we drive a Buick with a Super Turbine transmission* all the way from Pasadena to New York City just to win Class C in the Mobil Economy Run?

Of course. And just in case anyone failed to get the message, we did it twice again. And won Class D and Class G. In all, Buick entered 4 classes, and won 3—more than any other make of car. (Remember when people used to think Buicks used a lot of gas?) Did we make our point about the Super Turbine transmission? You bet.

Obviously you aren't planning to drive 3,243 miles to prove your new Buick is economical. And you can't expect to get as many miles per gallon as the experts in the Economy Run. Still, it is nice to know you can win the economy run around town. And the good looks prize at the same time. See your Buick dealer about it. No doubt he'll think of a number of other reasons to drive a Buick.

Labor Department Searches Files On James Hoffa

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department prepared today to dig into Teamsters Union financial records to find out how much the union has paid in legal expenses for its oft-indicted president, James R. Hoffa.

"We are going into the various cases involved," said a spokesman for Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who announced the unprecedented investigation Monday.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said the investigation may take at least six weeks because of a maze of financial dealings between Hoffa and his various lawyers in a number of states.

While the Labor Department has conducted thousands of investigations into the alleged improper use of union funds, a source said the Hoffa case is the first involving the question of legal fees.

The investigation, under the 1959 Landrum-Griffin labor law, was viewed as another blow to the sorely beset Hoffa. He was recently sentenced to eight years in prison on one federal charge, a decision he is appealing, and he is now on trial in Chicago on a charge of misusing union funds. There are also increasing signs of unrest among his 1.7 million union members.

The amount of Hoffa's legal expenses has been estimated by labor sources from hundreds of thousands of dollars up to $1 million.

Although the Labor Department can only investigate and make public the amount of union funds paid to defend Hoffa, the probe might open the way for individual Teamsters to sue union officers to recover the funds.

Already challenged by both rank-and-file Teamsters and the union's executive board on payment of the legal fees, Hoffa would be in serious financial trouble if he were permanently barred from tapping the union treasury to pay his snowballing legal expenses.

Hoffa has agreed to stop using union funds to pay his legal fees, at least temporarily, until the union can get outside legal advice on the question.

Experts Say Accused Man Is Insane

WHARTON (AP)—Three witnesses told a jury in Dist. Judge Thurman Gupton's court Monday they considered Leslie Douglas Ashley, 26, insane and incapable of being tried for murder.

The three were a clinical psychologist, a psychiatrist and a lawyer.

Dr. Jack Tracktir of Houston, Dr. Alfred P. Bolch of the Houston State Psychiatric Institute at Baylor University and attorney Clyde Woody were called to the stand as part of the effort of Ashley's lawyers to prove he was mentally ill at the time of the Feb. 6, 1961, gun-torch murder of Houston realtor Fred Tones, and still is.

Harris County Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe and others handling the state's case planned to call other witnesses in a counter move to prove Ashley mentally competent of going to trial for the Tones murder.

Woody is the attorney for Carolyn Ann Lima, 21, who was given five years for the Tones slaying after being retried in February.

The one-time prostitute is expected to be a star witness during the Ashley sanity hearing.

The pair originally were tried jointly and received death sentences, but a federal court reversed the convictions and granted separate trials.

Miss Lima was given credit for three years of jail time already served. She is expected to be released soon.

Production of paper and paper board reached an all-time high of 39 million tons in 1963, the American Paper and Pulp Association reports.

QUEEN CONTESTANTS—These three young ladies, each 18 years old, will be representing their local Lions Clubs in the District Queen contest here Friday. The contest, which is a part of the Lions' District Convention, will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium and will be open to the public. Over 30 girls are entered. Pictured are Sheila Kay Johnson, Plainview; Vicki Milliken of Lubbock, representing the Wolfforth Club; and Linda Henexson, Ralls.

Light Vote Seen In GOP Races

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Light voter turnouts were expected today with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller running unopposed in West Virginia's Republican presidential primary and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona alone on the GOP presidential ballot in Nebraska.

In both states, Democratic delegates to be selected are expected to favor President Johnson.

Rockefeller has no opposition in West Virginia, and write-in votes are not counted.

Goldwater, the GOP frontrunner in delegate strength, may run into write-in opposition in Nebraska from supporters of Henry Cabot Lodge, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Rockefeller.

The expected Rockefeller and Goldwater victories in the two presidential primaries may have little effect on the GOP presidential race. Neither vote is binding on delegates to the Republican National Convention.

None of the candidates for the 14 spots on the West Virginia delegation are pledged to a candidate.

Most of the Nebraska delegate candidates favor Goldwater. Six district delegates are being picked today, and 10 at-large delegates are to be chosen June 1 at a state GOP convention.

Rhode Island Republicans are also picking their convention delegation—at two district and one statewide convention tonight. The state has no primary.

Gov. John Chafee says he hopes the delegation will be uncommitted. Supporters of Goldwater say they have four backers on a slate chosen by the GOP State Executive Committee and plan to fight for more.

Nebraska and West Virginia also have primary contests for governor and congressmen. Races for governor held chief attention in both states.

Rockefeller was busy campaigning today in Oregon where six GOP presidential contenders square off Friday in the week's most important political test.

Goldwater made his only primary appearance in Nebraska Monday night. Speaking to a statewide radio-television network, he attacked the Johnson administration's handling of the war in South Viet Nam and said a Republican president could bring peace to Southeast Asia.

Texas Wheat Farmers May Plow Under Part Of Crop

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government crop report raised questions today of whether any sizable acreage of winter wheat will be plowed under by farmers to comply with the administration's new wheat program.

The Agriculture Department said an appraisal May 1 indicated a harvest of 37.6 million acres of winter wheat, 9 per cent more than last year.

If all farmers plan to harvest within government acreage allotments, the harvested acreage would be around 35 million acres.

Of course, farmers still had some time after May 1 to comply by plowing up excess acreage. Those cooperating with the programs get price supports, marketing certificates worth 47.5 cents a bushel on 30 per cent of their nominal reproduction, and land diversion payments.

Non-cooperators get none of these benefits. Their return will be limited to whatever price they can get in the market.

The winter wheat crop was forecast at 1,013,000,000 bushels, 12 per cent more than last year. The new program was designed to reduce surpluses and bolster incomes.

New York Met catchers led the National League in passed balls with 24 in 1963. The team also led in errors with 210.

Miami Alive With Talk Of Action

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Talk of impending military action against Fidel Castro gained momentum today in this Cuban exile capital, but plans, if any, were shrouded in secrecy.

Officials of anti-Castro groups, while not denying that something was in the air, were tight-lipped in contrast with the open-talk situation prior to the ill-fated 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion They spoke of a long guerrilla war, sabotage, infiltration and hopes for defection of Castro's armed forces.

Rogelio Cisneros, newly named chief in Exile of Revolutionary Junta—JURE—returned from a conference in Puerto Rico with Manuel Ray, who has promised to be fighting inside Cuba by May 20, Cuban independence day.

Cisneros was silent about his talk with Castro's former Havana underground head, now designated JURE's chief inside Cuba. Ray founded JURE.

A spokesman pointed to JURE's emblem, a twig.

"It is small, but it will grow," he explained.

Another activist group, Revolutionary Recovery Movement—MMR—reported it is mailing out English translations of a speech by its head, Bay of Pigs leader Manuel Artime, predicting "a long, hard war full of blood and sacrifice."

He was quoted in his March 18 address to an exile group as comparing Castro's forces to Goliath and his to David.

Revolutionary Unity Movement, a large anti-Castro organization, published a coupon in its official publication urging Castro's militiamen and soldiers to defect.

The coupon, to be mailed to Cuba by exiles, says: "The Communist regime is near its end. When that moment arrives, the most responsible figures will try to flee, a flight already prepared, but they won't include you."

The message to Castro's servicemen added: "Take note what happened in Brazil. Joao Goulart (deposed president) fled in time, and left others behind, abandoned to their fate."

Canada, US May Raise Rare Cranes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Canada and the United States have proposed a joint venture to build up a flock of captive whooping cranes from which young birds could be released into the wild.

The United States Interior Department and the Canadian Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources said the proposal has been submitted to conservation groups interested in the rare species.

Adult wild whooping cranes total 32.

The birds winter at Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas and fly to nesting grounds in Canada for the summer.

Under the plan, eggs would be taken from nests of wild whoopers and hatched in captivity. Two bantam hens recently hatched a whooping crane egg each.

Whooping cranes in captivity have a long, productive life expectancy as compared to the wild cranes.

A maximum of six eggs would be taken from only three nests in any one year. Under the plan, eggs would be taken only in wet years in Canada because studies indicate the mortality rate of young cranes is highest in those years.

Strong Winds Delay Rocket Testing

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE N.M. (AP) — Strong, gusty surface winds early today caused postponement of a Little Joe II rocket test from White Sands Missile Range in the Apollo moonflight program.

Officials scheduled a press conference later to announce new plans to fire the payload 22,500 feet high where it would destroy itself.

The test of the proposed Apollo moon spacecraft's escape system is to determine if the escape rocket engine of 155,000 pounds thrust can pull the 9,500-pound command module to safety from a launch vehicle explosion.

JAYCEE OFFICERS—New officers of the Snyder Junior Chamber of Commerce were installed Monday night. Those who will lead the club for the coming year are, seated, Dean Floyd, president; Herb Reed, first vice president; Dave Adams, second vice president; John Reed, secretary; and Gerald Pullig, treasurer. Standing are Gene Williams, inter-club director and past president; Dan Novikoff, new director; Max von Roeder, new director; Johnny Greenfield, hold-over director; and Dave Harlin, new director. Hold-over directors not pictured are Bill Dryden and John Jarrell.

Conferences At Schools

Snyder Public Schools officials today urged parents of children who will be entering the first grade next fall to take advantage of conferences which have been set up this week at the various elementary schools.

Schedules for school nurses to participate in the conferences were arranged ahead of time, and copies of the schedule were sent out ahead of time to parents.

The conferences were arranged so that principals, school nurses and parents may make plans for each child who will begin his public school career next fall.

Mexico Has Averted Telephone Strike

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Officials have averted a telephone strike with a two-year collective bargaining agreement. The strike was set for noon Monday against Telefonsde Mexico.

Trial Opens With Charge Of Fraud

CHICAGO (AP) — James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, and seven codefendants raided a Teamsters pension fund in order to help Hoffa out of personal financial difficulties, the federal government charged Monday in U.S. District Court.

In his opening statement of the mail fraud and conspiracy trial of the eight defendants, Charles Z. Smith, special assistant U.S. attorney, said the government would prove that they fraudulently arranged $25 million in loans from the pension fund over a 4½-year period.

Smith told a jury of eight men and four women that $1 million of that amount was diverted to the defendants' own use.

The jury and four alternates were selected after two weeks of examining prospective jurors during which nearly 600 veniremen were questioned.

Smith said the loans were part of a scheme to help extricate Hoffa from personal financial difficulties stemming from his envolvement in a housing project for retired persons in Brevard County, Fla., called Sun Valley Inc.

Smith, a tall, bespectacled Negro, told the jury Hoffa used his influence to obtain fraudulent loans in return for which the defendants received kickbacks in the form of fees, stock options and stock interest.

Hoffa is a trustee of the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Area Pension Fund which has its headquarters in Chicago.

Japanese Royalty Faces Long Hours

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Japanese Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko, who arrived Monday for a five-day state visit, today face a tough 14-hour schedule. The program calls for lying wreaths, visiting a Japanese handicrafts exhibit, a visit to the National Museum of Anthropology, and a luncheon with President Adolfo Lopez mateos.

Guards Scarce At Texas Prisons

HOUSTON (AP)— Texas prisons are short 78 guards and pay is so low guards can't be hired, Dr. George Beto, department director, said Monday. He said he would ask the legislature for pay increases which will amount to about $5 million.

Posse Sets Trail Ride

The Scurry County Sheriff's Posse has planned a trial ride for Saturday.

The event will take participants to Camp Ed Murphy, the Boy Scout Camp at Lake J. B. Thomas, and many of the group expect to remain overnight at the camp.

The group will leave the Sheriff's Posse club house at 10 a.m. Each person has been asked to bring a sack lunch and steak for supper. A collection will be taken for acquire other items for the evening meal.

Those who plan to remain overnight at the camp also were reminded to bring their bed rolls.

Any person interested is invited to make the trail ride, and further information may be obtained from Park Hamilton, president of the Sheriff's Posse.

New Governor Takes Louisiana Office

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Louisiana's new governor, John McKeithen, took office today, promising a new era in state government.

The country lawyer, 44, emphasized industry's role.

Unless the state nourishes, encourages and protects its business and industrial enterprises, he said, "We cannot have economic well being for our citizens."

The McKeithens and their six children moved into the new $1 million executive mansion last week.

McKeithen succeeded Jimmie Davis, a politician who first made his mark as a hillbilly singer and composer. Both men hammered hard on the racial issue in their campaigns. They are Democrats.

Farrell Is Impressive

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Anytime a pitcher comes up with a 4-1 record for the Houston Colts, he has to have something going for him. Dick Farrell, however, has an even more impressive statistic: He limited Willie Mays to 1-for-4.

The Colt right-hander, a hulking, 226-pounder, won his fourth game Monday night, pitching his eighth-place mates to a 4-1 triumph over National League-leading San Francisco.

He lowered his earned-run average to a respectable 2.14, which is even more respectable when it is considered that all his decisions have been against the league's tougher clubs: two victories over St. Louis, including a four-hitter, and a win and loss to Los Angeles.

And against the Giants, he allowed streaking Willie a single his first time up, then retired him three times in a row, striking him out once with two men on base. This, of course, is quite an accomplishment.

Farrell, who was 14-13 with the ninth-place club last season, scattered 10 hits about as effectively as possible and got the benefit of some strange Giant base-running.

Jesus Alou, leading off the first, singled, but was thrown out trying to make third on brother Matty's single. Mays then singled, but Farrell pitched out of it.

And in the fifth, Jesus doubled with one out and held up at third on Matty's single. Mays struck out and Matty broke for second. The throw went to second and Matty stopped. But Nellie Fox made a quick throw to third and Jesus was picked off for a weird double play.

St. Louis edged Philadelphia 3-2 and Cincinnati rallied for a 7-6 victory over Pittsburgh in the only other games on the short National League schedule.

In the American League, Cleveland whipped Boston 11-7, Washington edged Baltimore 6-5 and Los Angeles held off Kansas City 6-5. Chicago and the Twins were rained out of their game at Minnesota, the only other scheduled action.

Pete Rose's three-run homer in the eighth inning provided the Reds with their victory at Pittsburgh, even though the Pirates rallied for two in their half of the inning.

Julian Javier's seventh-inning homer drove in all the Cardinal runs and gave lefty Ray Sadecki just enough working room to make his six-hitter stand up.

Swimmers In Competition

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The 300-meter freestyle swimming competition will be staged today as the fourth event of the International Modern Pentathlon.

The United States team took the top four places in Monday's .22 caliber pistol shooting to assume a 316-point overall lead after three events. Riding and fencing contests were completed earlier.

U.S. Army Capt. Don Johnson was the individual leader going into the fourth event with 2.838 points. Johnson finished second in the pistol shooting with 193 of a possible 200 for 960 points.

Gold medal winner was Air Force Lt. Dave Kirkwood, who fired a par 1.000 points. Capt. Jim Moore was third.

Overall, the U.S. team has 8,408 points. Today's swimming and Wednesday's 4,000-meter cross country run are the only remaining events, and the U.S. figures to do well in those.

Brazil dropped to second place overall with 8,092. West Germany held third place with 7,714.

Miller's Hypnosis Is Not Enough For Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stu Miller has been hypnotizing batters for years, but he may have put his first base runner to sleep.

It happened Monday night at Washington, where the Orioles lost to the Senators 6-4, despite Miller's performance and an extra second baseman.

Miller, who seems to lull batters into submission with his slow stuff, got the call from the Oriole bullpen in the seventh inning with the score tied 3-3 and two Senators on base—Don Lock at third and Ken Hunt at first.

Miller proceeded to loft four of his pitches wide of the plate, intentionally walking Don Blasingame to load the bases. That forced Hunt over to second base where he apparently figured he could catch a few winks while Miller faced pitcher Bennie Daniels.

At any rate, when Daniels blooped one of Miller's bloopers into shallow center and it fell in front of outfielder Jackie Brandt, Hunt never left second base.

Brandt quickly turned himself into a second baseman, stepped on the bag and recorded a rare putout for an outfielder by forcing Blasingame, who had become a man without a base.

Lock, however, hadn't been caught napping and raced home with the tie-breaking run. Don Zimmer, who previously had collected three singles, followed with a two-run triple and Hunt was left somewhat less red-faced.

Elsewhere in the American League, Albie Pearson slammed a two-run homer and a pair of doubles while leading the Los Angeles Angels to a 6-5 victory over Kansas City, and Fred Whitfield hit a grand-slam homer and Larry Brown a three-run shot in Cleveland's 11-7 walloping of Boston.

The Chicago White Sox-Minnesota game was rained out. The New York Yankees and Detroit were not scheduled.

In National League action, Houston downed San Francisco 4-1, St. Louis edged Philadelphia 3-2 and Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh 7-6. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Pearson homered in the second, doubled in the fifth and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jim Fregosi then came across with what turned out to be the decisive run when he doubled and scored on Billy Moran's single in the seventh. The A's, who lost their sixth in seven games, struck for three runs in the eighth before reliever Barry Latman cut off the rally.

Whitfield hit his grand slam in the fifth and Brown hit his three-run homer in a four-run eighth-inning uprising that sent the Indians and rookie Tommy John into the ninth with an 11-1 lead. The Red Sox, however, battled back, jamming in six runs after two were out in the ninth before Ted Abernathy put out the fire.

Nicklaus Holds To Top Money Ranking

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, until last Sunday the only double tournament winner this year, sat securely today at the head of the Professional Golfers' Association's list of 10 top money winners with $46,925.

Nicklaus' double winner distinction was shattered Sunday with Bill Casper's $14,000 victory in the Colonial Open at Fort Worth, Tex. Casper's second win of the 1964 tour boosted him into third position with $30,981 for the season.

'Rolling Stone' Gathers Money

Bob Shaw is one ball player who doesn't sell himself short. The 30-year-old righthander is an excellent salesman as well as a capable pitcher. Over the stretch of seven years during which he has been pitching in the big show, Bob has been the "rolling stone" which has gathered the moss. Every time he has been traded, he has come up with a rajse. The Giants followed the usual pattern and upped his salary when he was obtained from the Braves during the past winter.

Shaw began his pitching career with Detroit and was traded for the first time to the Chicago White Sox in 1958. He was given a substantial raise when he signed and, after winning 18 games in 1959, he was raised for a second time. Even when he dipped to a 13-13 record in 1960 he held out for an increase and got it. Before he agreed to be traded to Kansas City in 1961, Shaw demanded some what's more - he got it! $2,500 for services performed in Chicago during the winter and collected when the league brass decided that he was entitled to that "expense account" money.

Even before he threw a single pitch for Kansas City, Shaw had talked the Athletics into giving him an extra $2,500. He was traded to the Braves after one season, and, once again, managed to come up with a pay increase. His first year with Milwaukee was a good one, 15-9, and he was rewarded in the pay envelope. Bob was in the bull pen during 1963 and wound up with a 7-11 record, but he saved some 13 games and came up with an impressive 2.66 earned-run average. The Giants inherited Shaw's inflated contract when they gave up Felipe Alou to get him from the Braves. Being the key pitcher in the deal, Shaw, quite naturally, felt that he was entitled to a raise. And what's more - he got it!

Pilote Is Named Top Defenseman

MONTREAL (AP) — Pierre (Pete) Pilote, aggressive captain of the rough and tumble Chicago Black Hawks, was named the National Hockey League's outstanding defenseman for the second straight year today.

For his selection by hockey writers and broadcasters in each of the circuit's six cities, Pilote will receive the James Norris Memorial Trophy plus $1,500 from the league.

Texas Loop Sluggers In Spotlight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was Sluggers' Night Monday in the Texas League, and heading the parade were Albuquerque's Dukes, who bombed pace-setting San Antonio with a 10-run fourth inning in a 17-8 victory.

The triumph pulled Albuquerque to within two games of the Bullets, with Tulsa and one-half games back by virtue of a Sunday postponement.

Tulsa beat Austin, 3-1, and Fort Worth belted El Paso, 5-3, in other games.

The Dukes banged out 16 hits against San Antonio after a belated start.

The Bullets got off to a 6-3 lead mainly on Charley Harrison's three-run homer in the first inning and Von McDaniel's two-run smash in the third.

Pinch-hitter Al Norris was one of the big hitters in the Dukes' 10-run fourth. He drove in one run with a single and later in the same inning raped a solo homer. In all, 15 men batted for the Dukes in that profitable inning.

At Fort Worth, Elder White drove in all the Cats' runs with a grand-slam home run in the second inning and a single in the fourth.

Tulsa first baseman George Kernek was the power man in the Oilers' trjumph over Austin. His 368-foot solo home run in the seventh gave Tulsa a 3-0 lead, and Austin could do no more than avert a shutout with a run in the eighth.

Behind Tulsa in the standings are three teams separated by one game. El Paso is three and one-half games out, Fort Worth four and one-half, and Austin five and one-half. The half-games came from Sunday postponements.

Today Albuquerque goes to El Paso, Austin is at San Antonio and Fort Worth visits Tulsa.

Trojans Bow To C-City

The Lincoln Trojans closed out their baseball campaign here Monday afternoon when they dropped a 15-7 exhibition to Colorado City.

Colorado City, the district champion, was to meet Cleburne in its first round playoff game this afternoon in Cisco.

In Monday's game Curtis Taylor, Willie Campbell and Frank Biggers all saw duty on the mound for C-City, with Campbell the winner. Brady Cobbs went all the way for Lincoln, giving up 10 hits and striking out 11.

Lincoln got six hits, including two-run doubles by Cobbs and Roy Clayton. Campbell and Russell each had a two - run home run for Colorado City.

Ramos' Decision Likely To Stand

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — The world's two biggest boxing bodies said Sugar Ramos still is featherweight champion today, but angry words still swirled around the scene of his disputed battle with Floyd Robertson of Ghana.

Abe J. Greene, commissioner of the World Boxing Association, said chaos would rule if boxing authorities were allowed to overrule judges' decisions.

The British Boxing Board of Control said it would not recognize the move by the Ghana Boxing Authority to reverse the split decision for Ramos and give the title to Robertson.

The local press attacked the two judges who voted for Ramos, Ed Lassman of Miami, president of the WBA, and Ramon Velazquez, head of the Mexico Boxing Commission.

It also attacked Ohone Djan, Ghana's sports director, for "bungling up Ghana's greatest sporting opportunity."

The Daily Graphic, a government-owned newspaper, called on the British group and the WBA to give the title to Robertson. "Bad decisions are not new in boxing," the newspaper said, "but surely this one by the two imperialist exploiters is something that hurts Africa."

Other newspapers called the two judges "corrupt capitalists."

Lassman and Velazquez voted 70-69 for the Puerto Rican-born champion, in the 15-round bout Saturday night. British judge Jack Hart voted for Robertson.

Lassman, who flew to London Monday, said he would give the same verdict again. So did Velazquez.

The two judges had to be helped from the arena by Ghana army men. Fans fought to get at them and called white newsmen at ringside "Yankee imperialists."

'Bandits' Just Plain Americans

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — World political tensions have claimed another victim — the famed "Chinese Bandits" of the Army football team.

From now on, just call them "Bandits."

That's the official word from the U.S. Military Academy where a spokesman, who preferred anonymity, explained:

"The term 'Chinese Bandits' was given to our football defensive unit. It was intended to mean a tough bunch of guys. Also it gave the second team some dignity.

"But it had an undesirable international connotation, and we've had some criticism ever since it started. You see there are different kinds of mean guys — good, mean guys and mean, mean guys.

"There was the idea that the mean, mean guys were Chinese Communists. Rather than create an international incident, we decided it best to skip it."

Officially, Army denied that there were any political pressures which dictated the dropping of the Oriental tag, which will mean also the end of the Chinese laundry chants and coolie hats at West Point games.

No phone call from the Pentagon. No complaint from Chiang Kai-shek or Chou En-lai.

"We just decided that the word Bandits' was simpler," said Coach Paul Dietzel, who said he got the inspiration for the 'Chinese Bandits' out of a comic strip 15 years ago.

"We only intended that the team be known as 'Bandits.' It has nothing to do with the Chinese." He didn't explain the chants and the coolie hats.

This is not the first time nicknames of athletic teams have been changed for political, or other, reasons.

Right after World War II, when the Russians and Americans were in a titanic struggle for world supremacy, the Cincinnati Reds baseball team decided it best to change the name to "Redlegs." Later, Premier Khrushchev got a bit more friendly, and the name was changed back to "Reds." The "Redlegs" tag never took anyhow.

Short Fence Not Helping

NEW YORK (AP)—You know that short right field in Yankee Stadium that Kansas City owner Charles Finley has been complaining about?

Well, it develops he and the rest of the American League are lucky the Yankees are so afflicted.

Afflicted? Yes, afflicted.

Finley recently charged that the friendly right-field stands at Yankee Stadium, only 296 feet from home plate, were largely responsible for the Yankees' domination of the league in the last 40 years.

Maybe so. But the figures belie that charge this year.

In eight games at Yankee Stadium, the American League champions have hit only two home runs. In contrast, the Yankees have hit 14 home runs in 12 road games.

Eight of those home runs were smashed in the Yankees' four-game sweep over the Indians in Cleveland last weekend. Before that Mickey Mantle and Company hammered five home runs off Senators' pitching in three games in Washington.

That's 13 home runs in seven games on the road. Just before they went on their first road trip, the Yankees played three straight games without hitting a home run at Yankee Stadium.

Texas Hospital Board Oks Funds For Construction

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Hospital Board has approved budget requests for the 1966-67 state financing period that include $13.2 million for new institutions and a $28 million increase in operating expenses.

The board approved these spending proposals Monday for the two years beginning Sept. 1, 1966:

—a $128.6 million budget request for operating expenses for its various institutions. Current appropriations call for $100.4 million.

—a $25.5 million request for new capital outlays, including five new institutions that would cost $13.25 million.

The new institutions would be a $4 million mental hospital each for Dallas and the Gulf Coast area; a special school for West Texas and Corpus Christi, at $2.5 million each and a $250,000 food service training schools.

The requests will be screened by the legislature.

In action stemming from reports last fall that two professional staff members of a state hospital had backgrounds of mental illness, the board approved a new policy requiring confidential files on key administrative and professional personnel.

Sellers, Wife Counter Sue

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Peter Sellers and his wife, Britt Eklund, have answered the $1.5-million suit against them by Twentieth Century-Fox by suing Fox for more than twice as much.

Fox sued Miss Eklund for alleged breach of contract and Sellers for allegedly inducing the breach. The studio complained that she refused to continue her role in the film, "Guns of Batasi."

Sellers and his wife filed a cross-complaint Monday asking for $2 million damages and an additional $2 million in punitive damages on the grounds that Fox's suit constituted malicious prosecution and abuse of legal process.

Sellers also said he suffered damage to his health and reputation as a result of Fox's suit.

Sellers suffered a heart attack more than a month ago and spent several weeks in a hospital.

Voting Expected To Begin On Antipoverty Changes

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The crucial voting on amendments to President Johnson's antipoverty bill is expected to begin today in the House Education and Labor Committee.

Democratic members of the committee have been meeting in caucus for a week to iron out their position on a series of amendments. They are reported in full agreement on all but one.

The one area of discord centers on the role parochial schools and agencies should play in the local administration of the program.

Activities begin today with a meeting of the committee's special subcommittee on poverty. It is expected to approve the bill and send it to the full committee, which then will consider the series of amendments.

Republicans have complained loudly over the Democratic caucus meetings. They have cried "lockout" and "partisanship."

The committee's ranking Republican, Rep. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, has expressed fears about an attempted steamroller by the Democrats.

"We hope we will not be faced with the proposition of making immediate decisions," Frelinghuysen said Monday and added: "We're still optimistic that our views will be received."

Frelinghuysen and other Republicans say they want the bill changed, first, to eliminate what they call a new federal agency of poverty, and, second, to allot funds to the states and let them administer the program.

These changes have been incorporated into a Republican bill introduced by Frelinghuysen.

Committee Republicans met for more than two hours Monday with Sargent Shriver, the man picked by President Johnson to administer the war on poverty.

Frelinghuysen later told newsmen that Shriver had not changed the minds of the Republicans "one iota."

Johnson's bill, which would provide $963 million in fiscal 1965 to fight poverty, would include a variety of programs:

1. A job corps, work-training programs, and work-study programs for youth.

2. Urban and rural community action programs.

3. Loans and grants to combat poverty in rural areas.

4. Loans to businesses to encourage employment and investment.

5. Funds to stimulate states for experimental programs to help unemployed fathers get jobs.

Johnson At Prairie View For Sessions

Daniel Johnson, principal of Abraham Lincoln School here, was at Prairie View A&M College over the weekend where he attended two important meetings.

One session was that of the legislative advisory council of the Prairie View Interscholastic League of Texas. The council went through a 16-item agenda which included discussion of such items as dates for fall football practice to begin, limitation of awards, spring practice, basketball tournament rules, etc.

The other meeting was the 17th annual Housing Conference of Prairie View A&M. Theme of the conference was "Expanding Opportunities in Housing." One speaker was Edward J. Dee, director, Federal Housing Administration, Dallas, and the keynote speaker was Neal A. Pickett, director, Federal Housing Administration, Houston.

Two workshops were conducted in connection with the housing conference. One dealt with "Planning Development, Modernization and Construction Problems," and the other was on "Multi - Family Housing." Actual problems and demonstration associated with each topic were presented at the session.

NATO Schedules Meeting; Its Members Widely Split

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—NATO, born in peril, quivers in comfort.

The foreign ministers of the 15 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meet at the Hague today to discuss their problems, of which they have plenty, and mostly of their own doing.

They have splits just at a time when—because the Soviet Union is occupied by its split with Red China—they might be solidifying themselves for the future.

But NATO has had an uneasy history. Fright created it and, when it wasn't tormented by problems from the outside, it manufactured them from the inside.

Scared by the fear of Soviet power — after the Communists took over Czechoslovakia—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg formed an alliance for mutual defense. They wanted the United States in, too.

That was in March 1948, three months before Stalin tried to grab Berlin with a blockade. It took the United States a year to smash the blockade with an airlift. By then this country had decided to cast its lot with Europe.

NATO was formed April 4, 1949. The United States had a marvelous protective umbrella over Western Europe then because it alone had the atomic bomb.

This meant the Allies' ground troops could hold off a Soviet attack, if it came, until American planes went to work with the bombs.

This kind of thinking had to be altered for by August 1953, the United States and the Soviet Union both had nuclear bombs. But ground troops were still needed.

It was agreed NATO would have 50 divisions for defense. But the United States was the only member which ever lived up fully to its commitments.

NATO didn't really get going on a defense force until the Communists began the Korean War in 1950 and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was made commander.

But the desire of the Allies to relax their vigilance — if war didn't seem too likely, they could save money by not spending it on armaments—showed up early, as early as September 1950.

At that time it seemed the Korean war might be over soon. President Harry S. Truman had to warn NATO that the greatest danger to the West would be in ever letting down its guard.

Even in those early years, although he was then in retirement, Gen. Charles de Gaulle was a force for disunity. He complained the identity of French troops would be lost in the combined armies of NATO.

By 1955, with Stalin gone, the Soviet Union began to propagandize the West about its peaceful intentions. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had to warn the NATO members not to let themselves be weakened by this.

NATO suffered an internal convulsion in 1956 when Britain and France, without telling its partners, invaded Egypt. The Russians jolted the West, but good, by warning they would hit Britain with missiles, although no one was sure the Soviet Union had missiles then.

The United States turned on Britain and France, told them to quit in Egypt. They did.

On May 31, 1958, De Gaulle returned to power as premier and within a month began dismantling the unity of NATO by telling the United States France would make its own nuclear weapons.

Then he had a new idea: that the United States, Britain and France should be the bosses of NATO. The idea was a "directorate." The United States wouldn't buy it, saying this would mean less participation for the smaller countries.

He went on from there until now, as president, with dreams of a tremendous France, he talks in terms of a Europe of "fatherlands," a loose association of fully sovereign states as independent of the United States as possible.

Hoboes Of Old Have Disappeared

By JERRY BUCK

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—What ever happened to the hoboes I used to know as a kid?

I haven't seen an honest-to-goodness hobo in years. Apparently in this age of prosperity they have been squeezed into employment.

But to a kid in those first post-depression years they were everywhere. The railroad tracks were only a few blocks away and every freight train brought more of them to the Louisiana bayou country where I grew up.

Looking back, I suppose most of them were derelicts, bewildered and abandoned, but in those days they seemed like soldiers of fortune.

In old felt hats, knee-length coats and open-toed shoes, they had an aura of glamor. They came and went like the wind and every meal was a picnic around a camp fire.

We had no sidewalk in front of our house on which to scrawl a sign, but the hoboes all seemed to know my mother was an easy mark. She was always good for a plate of scrambled eggs, bread and a cup or two of coffee. Sometimes I would sit beside one on the back steps and watch him wolf down the food.

Dad had a brick yard along the tracks, and for a time it was a hobo Hilton. There wasn't much demand for bricks, and for months at a time its kilns stood empty. We used to play there, up the chimneys, down through the tunnels, and out again, yelling just to hear our echoes.

The hoboes turned the kilns in to harbors from the wet and the cold—and perhaps too from the world. A knapsack tossed into a corner and a blanket on the floor and it was home until the wail of a train whistle called them on again.

A few bricks made an excellent hearth on which to set a battered pot. I pooled my nickels with the hoboes for a sack of beans and salt pork. Its odors filled our cavern, and nothing ever tasted better. We sat around the fire while the rain dripped outside and I heard embroidered tales of places that seemed to me like the Arabian Nights.

I was especially envious of one ingenious fellow who fashioned a home out of an abandoned auto. It sat under a weeping willow beside a brick pond filled with junk.

It was a shell. The motor and wheels, even the fenders, were gone. He stripped it bare inside, then plastered the walls and chinked the holes with newspapers to ward off the chill. From the junk heap he salvaged an old car seat and it was chair and bed. An upturned crate was a table.

Later, long afterward, a gang of us braced ourselves against the willow and shoved the car into the pond. A little sadly, I watched it settle into the murk.

They are gone now, and no hoot of a diesel will ever bring them back. Like our childhood, they are gone.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHIPS

QUESTION: Why are ships called "she"?

• • •

ANSWER: Old-time sailors always had a special affection and reverence for the ships which carried them over the dangerous sea. They looked on them almost as living things. Eyes were painted on the bows of Egyptian and Greek craft (1) by which they were supposed to be able to spy their way. Statues of goddesses were often placed in the bows of Greek and Roman craft—the famous "Winged Victory" (2) gives the feeling of this custom, even though this was not a real figure head but a statue set up to commemorate a naval victory. Statues of the Goddess Athena were often used on Athenian ships and the custom became carried on in the use of later ships figureheads, a great many of which were female figures. The old time sailor identified the figurehead with the ship and probably from this came the habit of calling the ship "she." The old sailors lived a rough life, but they were romantic characters, looking forward longingly to the time when they would return to their wives and sweethearts. "She's a sweet little packet," a sailor would say of his ship, at the same time probably thinking of his sweet little sweetheart at home.

• • •

Old-Timers Might Faint At Rush Hour In The City

By JIM KOETHE
Dallas Times Herald Writer
Written for The Associated Press

Texas' old-time prospectors just thought they had it rough—never had to face such things as Dallas' 5 o'clock rush hour.

Such hazards of the city make the great outdoors seem safe for an unusual group of Dallas hobbyists—the treasure hunters.

This group of Texans are a new breed, unrecognizable to the old prospector. They practice with their metal detectors on concrete sidewalks and think nothing of driving across Texas to check out a treasure story they've picked up.

Their leader, although they have never formed any club or organization, is a man who makes treasure hunting his full-time job, Bill Mahan.

From Mahan, the list runs through housewives and businessmen. It includes Dallas people who spend almost every spare minute "out prospecting" and others whose business schedule gives them very little free time for treasure hunting.

But they all have one thing in common—looking for lost treasures and relics. Most know each other and exchange treasure stories or team up on special hunts.

Mahan came to Dallas two years ago from Colorado, figuring Texas would be a good place to look for buried treasure.

One of his first metal detectors went to Rock Fagot, manager of the Stoneleigh Hotel.

Fagot's friends and employes probably would never have suspected that the hotel manager was an avid treasure hunter. The Stoneleigh is a favorite stopping place for the nation's leading stage and screen stars when they come to Dallas.

It soon became normal for Fagot to be host for a leading opera star like Mario del Monico on one day and out trying to get a farmer's permission to look for treasure on his land the next.

'I've wanted to look for treasure all my life," he said, "but the hotel business doesn't leave much spare time."

He learned how to use his metal detector around the Stoneleigh's swimming pool in front of amazed guests and, within several weeks, had made his first discovery.

He was out looking around an old house in Dallas when his detector gave him a strong reading. Fagot started digging and, about a foot down, found an ancient pistol, still in excellent condition, wrapped in oiled rags.

Famagusta Area Is Sealed Off

By THOMAS A. REEDY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Irish troops of the U.N. peace force sealed off the old walled Turkish area of Famagusta today to prevent Greek Cypriot revenge for the slaying of two Greek army officers and a Greek Cypriot youth leader.

A U.N. spokesman said 10 Turkish Cypriots were reported missing in the Famagusta area. Most of them were known to have been taken hostage by Greeks after Monday's shooting in which a third Greek officer was wounded and a Turkish Cypriot killed in the crossfire.

Outside the Turkish sector, Famagusta, biggest and busiest port on Cyprus, was virtually shut down as a result of the shooting which the Greek government denounced as "cold-blooded Turkish murder."

Most Greek Cypriot dock workers, fearing they might come under fire from the nearby Turkish quarter, stayed away from the waterfront. Turkish Cypriot dock workers all stayed off the job.

Fearful of an influx of armed men, the U.N. set up roadblocks on all approaches to both Greek and Turkish sectors of Famagusta.

The wounded survivor of Monday's shooting said he and his three companions drove into the Turkish quarter by mistake in civilian clothes but in a Greek army car.

"We were on the way out when armed Turks stopped us and ordered us out of the car," said Capt. Panayiotis Tarsoullis, 38. "Three Turks in uniform and a civilian all armed with submachine guns opened fire at us without giving us a chance."

Tarsoullis said he was not armed.

However, U.N. headquarters said it believed all four men were armed and that evidence gathered by Iirish troops indicated all had fired weapons, although it was not clear who had started the shooting.

Robles Leads In Early Vote Count

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

PANAMA (AP)—Official returns from more than half the vote in Sunday's presidential election gave a commanding lead today to government candidate Marco A. Robles, advocate of a tough policy toward American rights in the Panama Canal Zone.

Electoral tribunal figures from 704 of 1,144 precincts gave Robles 86,447 votes to 73,131 for Dr. Arnulfo Arias, a slight favorite before the election.

About half the estimated 130,000 votes cast in Panama Province, where Arias had his greatest strength, were yet to be counted. It was believed the former president would have to take more than 70 per cent of the uncounted votes in the capital province to win.

Sullenness replaced the carnival atmosphere that had prevailed in the Arias camp. Some hinted at government manipulation, claiming that the Electoral Tribunal gave Robles an early edge to provoke Arias followers into violence. Then the National Guard could jail Arias and other leaders of his party.

A Robles victory could portend difficulty for the United States in negotiations on the Panama Canal treaty. Although all seven presidential candidates demand revision of the treaty and it was not an issue in the campaign, Arias was considered more sympathetic to the United States than Robles.

President Roberto Chiari, prevented by law from succeeding himself, had given the government coalition's backing to Robles, a 58-year-old banker-politician.

Integrated Movies To Be Suspended

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A leader of the National States Rights party says a theater here has agreed to suspend showing of a movie with an integrated cast.

Dr. Edward R. Fields, a leader in the NSRP, said both his group and the Ku Klux Klan protested showing of the movie "Free, White and 21" at a local drive-in. The States Rights organization picketed the theater Sunday night.

Fields said further picketing was planned Monday night but was canceled when the theater manager agreed to withdraw the picture.

Pickets waving anti - Jewish placards and Confederate flags drove away all but a few potential customers Sunday, police said.

Nasser, Khrushchev Due To Preside At Aswan High Dam Ceremonies

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

CAIRO (AP)—Two years ago the giant Aswan High Dam was in trouble. Its engineers spoke guardedly to foreigners, and Russians and Egyptians were touchy and embarrassed.

Today the vast Soviet-financed project is booming along right on schedule, its engineers pridefully awaiting the arrival of President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Soviet Premier Khrushchev for next Friday's ceremonies marking completion of the impressive first stage.

The two men will engage in formal button pressing, setting off dynamite charges allowing the ancient Nile to flow into a mile-long diversion channel.

They will stand on a special platform built over gaping entrances to six ship-sized tunnels which will eventually house the dam's great turbines, now under construction in Russia.

The tunnels, connecting two sections of a diversion channel, the channel itself and the beginning of the rockfilled foundation for the dam comprise the first stage.

Started in January 1960, the work is awesomely impressive. Channels and tunnels were hewed from solid rock. The channel is a 300-foot-deep canyon set in impressive cliffs overlooking the Nile.

The site is famed for beauty. Blistering hot in summer, it is balmy in winter and long was a retreat for wealthy Europeans. In ancient times it was a holy place—the beginning of the Nile home of paramount gods and the source of life.

Fifty years ago the British built a dam here which curbed the worst of the Nile excesses but which will be a pygmy beside the new Sadd el Ali, the high dam.

Seventeen times the size of the Great Pyramid, needing 15 times the steel used in the Eiffel Tower, the structure will be 2.6 miles long and 436 feet high.

It will not be the world's tallest, nor biggest, but in over-all complexity no other dam can match it.

These complexities, language difficulties, bureaucracy and the prickly sensitivity of Russians and Egyptians gave the dam monstrous teething troubles.

Khrushchev and Nasser had intervened to straighten out what threatened to become a mess. Khrushchev fired some key people, jolted Soviet bureaucracy into action and laid down top priorities. Nasser fired the minister for the dam, reorganized the work force, drafted local engineers and gave the dam top priority for hard currency.

The teething troubles also doubtless increased the cost of the great project though the over-all official figure still remains one billion dollars. Of this the Russians have pledged to put up credits equivalent to $271 million, repayable at 2.5 per cent interest in 12 installments.

Whether Russia's propaganda benefits will equal costs in problematical.

With the first stage completed, Egypt will feel benefits at once. With the waters already being backed up, a beginning is being made on irrigation projects which will bring an extra million acres of cultivable land to Egypt's 27 million people.

A start on a power station is due next year and the first third of the electric power will be available some time in 1967, eventually doubling Egypt's present electric power.

The dam and power stations are to be finished by 1970 but it will take several more years to fill the 367-mile-long lake which will almost completely submerge the 5,000-year-old land of Nubia.

In this area, the dam is causing troubles of its own. Since work began at Aswan, international teams of archeologists have been swarming through the Nubian valley in a last minute effort to save countless ruins and temples, large and small.

Industry Forecast Fair And Sunny

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Like the weather, business relations with government are always subject to change. But today a generally pleasant climate seems to many industrialists and bankers to be in prospect.

Part of this expectation is due to the feeling that the new administration in Washington will see things more the way a businessman does. Part is due to the growing prosperity which leaves less excuse or desire for carping. And part is due to the cut in federal taxes, the middle of the road monetary policy on money and credit, the stressing by Washington that profits are a good thing and that wages and prices should rise only moderately if at all — policies that business likes or can live with.

Business doesn't like the recent rash of antitrust actions, nor the harder line on mergers, nor the moves to extend government involvement in many lines through new regulations.

But over-all the climate seems much better than a year ago.

How long this will last is anyone's guess. Government is now so involved with business—through regulations, competition, labor mediation, awarding and cancelling of contracts—that clashes between government and specific industries or individual companies are almost weekly occurences.

And Washington has made it plain it will push its idea of wage and price guidelines in the months ahead. These will be tested this summer in important labor contract negotiations, notably in the auto industry.

Government regulatory agencies doubtless will step on many toes. For one example, this week the nation's stock exchanges and the Securities & Exchange Commission will start debating new rules for stock specialists—the brokers who are assigned to guide the trading in a particular stock to prevent unruly markets.

And businessmen are with fair regularity called before various executive or congressional investigating bodies — a fixture in modern business life which many industrialists regard as an expensive time waster, especially when the investigations tend to overlap.

Government needs a healthy business community to make the economy grow if it's to combat unemployment and tackle poverty. It needs business and banking cooperation if it's to lick the balance of payments problem that in recent years drained too many dollars and gold into foreign hands.

If the wage-price difficulties brewing this summer can be handled to the satisfaction of labor, management and government, all of today's outpouring of good feeling may be justified—that is, until new problems or conflicts come along.

Drought Cuts Estimate Of Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON (AP)—A dry spell in the Texas Panhandle has forced the Agriculture Department to cut 11 million bushels from its forecast of Texas' wheat crop prospects.

The latest forecast calls for a Texas wheat crop of 50,058,000 bushels. A month ago, the prediction was 61,185,000 bushels.

Some Texas wheat already has been plowed under or turned over to cattle.

Dry weather is also occurring in the Oklahoma Panhandle and in southwest Kansas and southeast Oklahoma, further reducing wheat prospects for the southwest.

But overall, the national winter wheat crop is expected to be 1,013,445,000 bushels, up 12 per cent over last year.

The 1963 Texas wheat crop was 40,618,000 bushels. The forecast as the first of this year was for 44,869,000 bushels.

The Agriculture Department said Texas should produce 630,000 bushels of peaches and 609,000 bushels of potatoes this year.

Some 230,000 boxes of Texas oranges are forecast, and 480,000 boxes of grapefruit.

Pity Poor Italian With The Phone Bill

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP) — William D. Hill, news editor of the Sedalia Democrat, received a telephone call Monday from Rome, Italy.

The caller identified himself in broken English as an old war buddy and began rattling off the good and hard times they had during the war.

Hill had a hard time cutting in, but finally told the caller: "You must have the wrong number, because I wasn't in the Army in World War II."

"But you are William Hill, aren't you?" the caller insisted.

"Yes, but there are at least three other William Hills in Sedalia, and heaven only knows how many others in the United States."

"Oh."

Thus ended a long, long-distance call.

Climbs Fast For Krush

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's champion pyramid climber streaked to the top of the Great Cheops Pyramid a minute faster for Soviet Premier Khrushchev than he did for Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

Chou gave him a fountain pen five months ago. Khrushchev gave him four kisses.

"A kiss is worth a thousand pounds," said the climber, Hefnawi Abdel Fayed. "Furthermore, I was happier to meet Khrushchev and I like him more."

Hefnawi's climb is a standard sideshow for visitors to the 481-foot monument.

As Khrushchev watched the 37-year-old Egyptian streak to the top in four minutes, he said to Field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer: "Give me a week to train and I will race you."

"I would need two years to get ready for that," joked Amer, 41.

"That's why I picked you," said the 70-year-old Khrushchev. "I always choose my competitors carefully."

Young Dallas Man Electrocuted Monday

DALLAS (AP)—Gerald Dean Lee, 26, of Dallas was electrocuted here Monday while working on a water cooler system in the basement of the South Oak Cliff Shopping Center.

Delegates Line Up With Barry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater appears to be piling up backlog support among publicly uncommitted delegates which could strengthen his bid for a first-ballot Republican presidential nomination.

If the Arizona senator wins the June 2 California primary and adds that state's 86 convention votes to his total, his strategists now believe he will come close to having 600 of the 655 needed for the nomination.

If the state-by-state roll call of the 1,308 delegates at the San Francisco convention indicates Goldwater is headed toward a figure only a few short of the magic total, his supporters believe there will be some quick shifts made in his direction.

They point to Wisconsin, far down the roll-call line, as a likely source of Goldwater support in such circumstances. The state's 30 votes are pledged to Rep. John W. Byrnes in a favorite son holding operation.

This served its principal purpose when it kept major contenders out of the state primary, in which Democrats could cross over. Goldwater delegates probably won't feel they have any further obligation to Byrnes if the Arizona senator needs them.

Kentucky also seems likely to offer Goldwater some additional votes if he moves up within striking distance of the nomination as the roll call proceeds.

Kentucky is expected to cast its 24 votes on the first call for Sen. Thruston B. Morton as a favorite son. But Morton said he will release immediately any delegate who might ask to change his vote. He said Goldwater had the support of about 15 Kentucky delegates.

The calculations of the Goldwater strategists are all built on the assumption that their man will bowl over New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the California primary.

They already have written off Oregon's Friday primary as a loss, with the expectation that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge will win that state's 18 votes.

The Goldwater strategists expect Lodge's backers then to appeal to the supporters of Lodge and other potential candidates to vote for Rockefeller in California in an effort to stop Goldwater.

Coalition moves of this nature haven't been very successful in other states and Goldwater's people are not worried on this score.

They are worried about the possibility that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower might be coaxed into making some statement that would damage Goldwater's chances in California. The weight of opinion is that Eisenhower won't take sides publicly at this point. But the Goldwater strategists can't be sure.

Demos Slate Meet To Canvass Votes

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Democratic Executive Committee meets today to canvass results of the May 2 primary and resolve one election problem.

The routine meeting is required by law. The party officials will certify winners of state and district races to the secretary of state and certify to county chairmen leading candidates who will meet in run-off elections June 6.

The only election dispute involves a northeast Texas race for the State Board of Education. Doyle Corley of New Boston won the election but the name of E. C. Brice, Mount Pleasant, was left off ballots in Red River County, one of 11 counties in the district.

Mansfield Threatens With All-Year-Long Session

WASHINGTON (AP) —State Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today Congress will be held in session all year if necessary to pass the civil rights bill and other parts of President Johnson's program.

Mansfield, talking with reporters after a breakfast meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with Johnson, said he had reported on the progress of the rights bill after 60 days' debate.

"We told him that the progress is nil," Mansfield said.

He promised that the bipartisan leadership of the senate "will do its very best to bring the bill to a vote, one way or another."

Asked whether this meant a move to cut off debate, Mansfield said the Senate will make this decision, and added:

"We are prepared to keep Congress in session all year if necessary to pass the President's program."

The people are entitled to an expression from Congress, Mansfield said. "We cannot dodge it, we have to face up to it."

He said the congressional leaders told Johnson that his "forthright explanations" of the rights bill recently have had marked effect on the public's understanding of the measure and on the Senate's approach to it.

The President has made it clear, he said, that civil rights is "not a partisan problem, and not a regional problem."

Southern senators will hold a strategy session later today to draft their version of a jury trial amendment.

This one gives the defendant in a criminal contempt action arising from the House-passed bill a choice: a jury trial and the possibility of a stiffer penalty over a nonjury trial with lesser punishment guaranteed.

The Dixie bloc bypassed a bipartisan, limited jury trial proposal that had been pending business — calling up Monday night the proposal of Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla.

This gives the Southerners another crack at reversing a one-vote defeat last week on a jury trial amendment proposed by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky.

Applies For License For Power Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Brazos River Authority has applied to the Federal Power Commission for a license for the proposed De Cordova Bend hydroelectric power project on the Brazos in Hood County, Tex.

The BRA also asked permission for a third generating unit to be installed at Morris Sheppard Dam in Palo Pinto County. The unit would be rated at 11,500 kilowatts.

De Cordova will have a generating capacity of 28,000 kilowatts.

Says Solons Not Immune In Bobby Baker Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., told the Senate Rules Committee today it has a responsibility to get to the bottom of the Bobby Baker case—and not treat senators as "a privileged class."

"No investigation of Bobby Baker can have any real meaning without an investigation of the relations of members of the Senate with Bobby Baker," he said.

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority after questions were raised about his outside business and financial dealings, in which he acquired a claimed fortune of more than $2 million.

Case said the Rules Committee, in its investigation of Baker's affairs, had given the impression that it wanted to "put an end to an unpleasant episode, to close the door, to push the whole matter aside in the hope that it will soon be forgotten."

"I suggest it is intolerable that we leave the matter in this sorry state," he said in testimony prepared for a closed hearing of the committee.
