Hasan Alawnih, one of the Jordanian airmen who visited in Snyder about a year and a half ago while stationed at Big Spring, is back in the United States (in Florida), has visited here again and has written the newspaper to express his enthusiastic thanks to his hosts here. He visited Mr. and Mr. Cliff Hale and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby James.

"On behalf of me and my wife and my three little girls in Jordan, I am writing these words to thank Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hale, 2215 Forty-second Street and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby James, 3006 Forty-second Street, for their hospitality and friendship," the Jordanian wrote.

"Before about 18 months I been here, to their houses as a guest, and they were so kind and so friendly to a point I can't explain, but is feeling more than word you can write," he declared. "And this year I came again from Jordan to the States and exactly to Florida. So I insist to visit them again and I did at Thanksgiving holiday. This time they were more than anybody can imagine, they make me feel alive after I have been mostly dead for two years."

Hasan regards the two local couples who were his hosts as "very good representatives to their country and their town Snyder." He hopes he will be able to reciprocate sometime in the future at his home in Jordan.

Representatives of Jacksonville, Fla., one of the 22 All - America Cities finalists, were challenged on their claim to the title of "largest city in America" during the hearings at New Orleans early this week.

More recently, I learned that Jacksonville is indeed the largest city in the country and will be so designated in the new World Almanac. The size refers only to geographic area, not population. Jacksonville has wrested the title from Oklahoma City, which had claimed to be the largest with an area of 631 square miles within its corporate boundaries. Jacksonville has 827 square miles. Oklahoma City took the title away from Los Angeles several years ago. The California smog center has an area of 454 square miles.

DRAFT TO EXPAND

Some Reservists To Be Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced today it will release about 20,000 National Guardsmen and reservists from active duty about five months early and that draft calls will be increased to replace them.

About half of the Guardsmen and reservists who were mobilized last May will be returned to civilian life by Oct. 31 next year and the other 10,000 by Dec. 15, 1969.

At the same time, the Army said, "draft calls will continue to be adjusted by an amount sufficient to cover those releases" so that the demobilization will not lower the readiness of the active forces.

The announcement provided no figures on increased draft calls, but sources said the boost will amount to about 3,000 men a month.

These sources said that draft calls will rise starting several months ahead of time so that regulars will be ready to fill the manpower spaces left by the departing Guardsmen and reservists.

The announcement indicated that a Vietnam war settlement might speed the demobilization.

"Should conditions in Vietnam permit," the statement said, "consideration can be given at a later date to a final release of all Army Reserve members and Guardsmen earlier than Dec. 15, 1969."

Army officials calculate it takes about five months to put a man through basic and advanced individual training, and give him leave, before he can be assigned to a unit.

The Army said there will be "sufficient leave time to make sure that trained men are available to replace the Army Reserve members and National Guardsmen at the time of their release."

Less than a month ago, Nov. 18, the Army announced that 30 basic combat training companies at Ft. Bliss, Tex., and 18 advanced individual training companies at Ft. Dix, N.J., would be eliminated.

Since then, sources said, it was decided to set a target and get prepared for release of the 20,000 guardsmen and reservists ordered to active duty last spring to supply support troops for Vietnam and to plug some holes in the Army's forces in the United States.

The January draft call has been set at 28,800. It was not known immediately whether

Red Gunners Shell 37 Bases Of Allies

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese gunners shelled 37 allied bases and South Vietnamese towns Thursday night and early Friday in the heaviest rash of such attacks since the halt in the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1, military spokesmen reported today.

The spokesman said from 300 to 400 mortar and rocket rounds were fired. A total of 27 South Vietnamese were reported killed and 104 wounded in the shellings and in three terrorist attacks.

The majority of the rocket and mortar attacks came in an arc northwest to north of Saigon. Enemy troops in that area also rampaged through a hamlet, killing 11 persons, wounding another 22 and burning 25 houses despite the presence of thousands of American and South Vietnamese troops in nearby areas.

It took South Vietnamese reinforcements two hours to move less than two miles to the aid of the lightly defended hamlet, which is 60 miles north of Saigon and just outside the heavily defended provincial capital of An Loc.

By the time the reinforcements arrived, the attackers had pulled out and their casualties, if any, were not known. A government spokesman in Saigon said he did not know the reason for the delay in reinforcing the hamlet, which was defended by 30 militiamen.

Five of the rocket and mortar attacks were within one to four miles of An Loc, against U.S. Air Cavalrymen in night bivouac, South Vietnamese infantrymen and the An Loc district headquarters.

The American Command also announced that two U.S. helicopters were shot down within 10 miles of An Loc on Wednesday and Thursday, killing all eight crewmen aboard. The losses raised to 950 the number of American helicopters shot down over South Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

U. S. headquarters said the shelling of U.S. bases caused light casualties and damage, and artillery and helicopter gunships were employed against the suspected enemy firing positions with unknown results."

In 28 of the attack the targets were 10 provincial capitals and district towns and 18 South Vietnamese military bases, a government spokesman said.

The government said that since the halt in the bombing, there have been 115 shellings of provincial capitals and district towns, with 56 civilians killed and 498 wounded.

Registration Of Garment Workers

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce is setting out to register all experienced sewing machine operators who have worked in the garment industry and who would be available for jobs in a garment factory if one should be established here.

Karl Mawhorter, chamber manager, said the organization frequently is in contact with possible prospective new establishments in this field and that the question of definite figures on experienced personnel always arises.

Those who have such experience are asked to come by the Chamber of Commerce office in the city hall and fill out registration forms. These are not job applications, Mawhorter emphasized, but they could conceivably amount to the same thing if a garment industry should take them for use in establishing a plant here.

Mawhorter said some highly recommended prospects in the garment manufacturing field have been in contact with local representatives from time to time and they always are interested in definite figures on experienced sewing machine operators, as well as potential operators available for training.

Pair Held Here In Bomb Threat

A 20-year-old Snyder man and a 15-year-old youth were taken into custody by City Police yesterday afternoon in connection with a bomb hoax committed Thursday morning at Travis Junior High School.

Both suspects signed statements in connection with the incident. Bond of $3,000 for Carlos Rangell II was set in Justice of the Peace J. P. Billingsley's Court this morning, and the suspect was remanded to county jail. The youth will be turned over to Juvenile Authorities, officers said. A felony offense for giving a false report to law enforcement agency was filed against the adult.

In substance, Chief of Police Stephen Clark related the following details concerning the bomb threat.

Someone telephoned the Junior High School at 9:15 a.m. Thursday and told Principal Jack Gorman, "There is a bomb under your school that will go off at 11 a.m."

The principal notified City Police and they and City Firemen conducted a search of the gymnasium without finding a bomb. Students and faculty then were told to go to the gym while a search was made of the main building. They were told officers and firemen were looking for a burning wire so as not to alarm them. The group remained in the gymnasium from 10:50 a.m. until 11:15 a.m.

Another call was received at 11:55 a.m. and the threat was repeated. Police, following the first call, had alerted Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., and a live wire locking device "locked in" the second call. It was traced to a house near the school.

Followup investigation by City Police resulted in the arrest of the two suspects.

Police said that apparently the calls were made "just for kicks."

New Front To Bring More Cold

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One cold front threatening to tread on the heels of another reminded Texans it was overcoat weather over a good part of the state today.

Subfreezing temperatures nipped northern areas and it was foggy with a few showers near the coast, where readings were in the 50s and 60s.

The moisture occurred mostly ahead of a weakening front which early morning lay just north of Beaumont, Houston and Victoria, extending westward to a little south of Laredo.

Except for partly cloudy to cloudy skies in coastal areas, it was mostly clear across the state.

Official obervers looked for a new norther to reach the Texas Panhandle by evening and spread still more cold air through other sections by Saturday, possibly also bringing a little snow in the Panhandle.

Fair weather was expected to continue except for occasional clouds in the northwest and south central portions of the state.

The mercury climbed Thursday afternoon to 81 degrees at McAllen and 69 at Brownsville on the southern tip of Texas, making them the warmest spots in the nation. Amarillo, Dalhart and Lubbock registered highs of only 43.

Readings before dawn today included Amarillo 20, Dalhart 21, Lubbock and Midland 23, Wink 24 Abilene, Childress and El Paso 26, Mineral Wells, San Angelo and Wichita Falls 27, Big Spring 28, Fort Worth 29 and Dallas, Denison and Sherman 31.

US Troops Move To Bolster NATO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 15,500 U.S. troops and four jet fighter squadrons will be sent to West Germany for maneuvers in January and February, the Pentagon announced today.

The Army and Air Force units involved were withdrawn from Germany last summer and returned to the United States in a move to reduce the balance-of-payments problem.

Their airlift return to Europe for exercises was moved up to an earlier date as one of a series of U.S. military moves designed to bolster the readiness of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in the face of the Soviet-led occupation of Czechoslovakia and increased tensions in Central Europe.

The Army units, including two brigades of the 24th Infantry Division, will return to the United States after completing the exercise, the Pentagon said.

Officials said they do not know how long the maneuvers will last.

The four squadrons, flying F4 Phantom fighter-bombers, "will remain temporarily in Europe to complete additional training before returning to their bases in the U.S.," the Pentagon said.

This indicated that, for the time being at least, the United States intended to strengthen its tactical air power in Europe. Other NATO nations also have agreed to shore up their defenses and contributions to the alliance.

DIFFERENT STRAIN EACH YEAR

Flu Virus Is Formidable Foe

By LAURA FOREMAN
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Doctors are having a hard time fighting the Hong Kong flu because the flu virus changes from year to year, area to area, even case to case.

That is why vaccine being developed to prevent this year's variant of the Asian flu remains an unknown quantity, doctors at the National Communicable Disease Center said. They expect Hong Kong flu to reach epidemic proportions in the United States this winter.

"We're lucky in most years if a vaccine is 60 to 70 per cent effective," Dr. Bruce Dull, assistant director of the center, said. "Our biggest problem is trying to educate people to understand that flue is different from all other infectious diseases."

The difference lies in what scientists call the "antigenic drift."

An antigen is a substance that causes the formation of antibodies. In all viruses except the ones causing flu, the antigens do not change. Therefore, a vaccine once effective against a virus-caused disease is always effective.

Scientists do not know why, or even exactly how, but flu viruses are different. This change or mutability usually is so small that a vaccine developed for one strain will have at least a limited effect on a newer type.

Occasionally, however, flu virus antigens will show a more marked difference, as in the case of Hong Kong flu, and a new vaccine is needed.

A new vaccine has been developed, using fertile chicken eggs to grow the virus strain used in innoculaton. But nobody knows yet how effective it will be.

Dr. Walter R. Dowdle, chief of the center's respiratory virus infections unit, reported on tests now under way to find out.

A test group in Orange County, Calif., was innoculated about three weeks ago, he said, and a lab team from the center is in the county now "specifically to draw blood specimens to be sent to the lab." The specimens will show how effective the vaccine is in eliciting antibodies."

In addition, lab teams have innoculated inmates at the U.S. penitentiary in Atlanta and at Georgia's state prison at Reidsville. Dowdle said nose washes taken from the inmates at the time of vaccination and three weeks later will help tell scientists what to expect from the vaccine.

"The Hong Kong virus grows very well," Dowdle said, "Much better than the original Asian flu."

DEAR ABBY: How does one answer the church community as to why one's husband does not attend church with his family?

I have been married for almost 10 years and have two school - aged children who attend church with me, but their father does not. I have tried to persuade him to go to church — if only to set a good example for our children, but no amount of coaxing will move him.

I am not happy with the idea that my husband is a heathen, but there is nothing I can do about it. So what do I tell those who ask, "Why doesn't your husband go to church with you?"

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Those who would ask such a question don't deserve an answer. If you don't want to tell them it's none of their business — which it's not, inquire, "Why do you ask?" If that don't stop them, follow thru with, "Why don't you ask my husband?"

DEAR ABBY: Who said, LUCKY IN CARDS, UNLUCKY IN LOVE?"

DEAR "ING": Probably some sorehead who always loses at cards.

DEAR ABBY: I am a career woman in my thirties, have an assured steady income and am desperately in love with a married man in his fifties. His wife has been on the fence about giving him a divorce for the past 5 years, knowing that her husband has been more mine than hers. She has used one excuse after another to hold him. There is only one child left at home now — a boy who will soon be of college age. I offered to pay for the divorce, pay any alimony agreed upon, or even a lump sum settlement if she preferred. I even agreed to pay for the boy's college education. She turned it all down!

Abby, what is wrong with a stubborn, prideless, unloved creature who would enslave a man with a piece of paper?

WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Maybe she loves him anyway, and is also "waiting" — for the day he regains his senses.

DEAR ABBY: I am an AVID ABBY fan who sympathizes with downtrodden, laughs with the ridiculous, and weeps for the pathetic, but this time I am boiling!

I will trade her my scars and empty chest for her "sag" any day. She should be grateful she isn't qualified to sign her name "LOPSIDED LIZ" — as I could. Please just sign me that quota will be raised or whether the increase will show up in later months.

A total of 38,000 Army, Air Force and Navy reservists and guardsmen were mustered in the wake of the enemy's winter offensive in Vietnam and a flareup of tensions in Korea stemming from the seizure of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo.

The Air Force already has started freeing 16,127 reservists and guardsmen. All of them, in fighter-bomber squadrons now in South Vietnam and South Korea, are due back in civilian life by June 30.

Mobilized pilots and navigators will be replaced from the Air Force's regular training output and what it calls its "personal management."

The Navy also has replaced some of the 1,600 reservists it ordered up earlier this year.

Most of the 13,600 Army guardsmen and 6,400 Army reservists were ordered into uniform last May.

Some 7,600 of them have gone to South Vietnam in 76 units, mostly company and detachment-size outfits performing transportation, medicinal, ordnance, signal and quartermaster work.

Included are two artillery battalions from New Hampshire and Kentucky and a combat engineer battalion from Idaho.

These units began arriving in Vietnam late in August. They are expected to finish their one-year overseas tour before demobilization.

An undetermined number of Army guardsmen and reservists have been sent to Vietnam as individual replacements in regular Army units.

Blames Adults For Young Law Violators

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston lawyer says the disrespect of law shown by today's youths "is due to the behavior of their elders in disregarding laws and court orders on the ground of so-called civil disobedience."

Leon Jaworski, a member of the president's crime commission and the later commission on the cause of crime and violence, said Thursday the example set for young people by deliberate law violators cannot fail to have terrific impact.

Addressing the Houston Assembly of Delphian Chapters, Jaworski said the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. committed "a grave mistake" when he defied court orders and refused to follow legal procedures.

"When the rule of law is gone," Jaworski said, "there is no yardstick to govern the conduct of society. This nation will lapse into general chaos and disaster from which there well could eventuate a dictatorship."

Stressing that he was speaking only as a "deeply concerned private citizen" and not as a member of the national crime study panels, Jaworski expressed admiration for Dr. King.

"I want to take nothing away from the accolades that have been his, but I cannot discuss the subject of law as the only guide to an orderly society without pausing to comment on the grave mistake this prominent man made in defying court decrees and in announcing, shortly before his tragic death, that he would violate a federal court order prohibiting his march in Memphis," Jaworski said.

"What are we to expect of our young boys and girls when they hear a Nobel Prize winner defy a court decree because, according to him, it does not agree with his conscience?" Jaworski asked.

Jaworski also said the church had failed to provide moral leadership in respect for the law when their church not only fails to champion such a course of conduct but still worse, winks at violations on so called grounds of conscience and in other instances openly condones or supports them?" he asked.

Jaworski said the lack of both parental and church guidance places the burden on moral teaching on the schools.

"To place this burden on our already overburdened schools is to be regretted," he said. "But the house is on fire and we can not tarry longer."

2 Mishaps Are Logged

Actor Dies Thursday

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fred Clark, a veteran character actor who played the explosive boss or a neighbor with a slow-burn, died of a liver ailment Thursday night after a month's hospitalization.

An accomplished dramatic actor, he first became known to millions as the television neighbor of Burns and Allen, showing uncontrolled indignation at the late Gracie Allen's antics.

Clark, 54 was a California native who went into acting with a scholarship award by the American Academy of Dramatic Arf. By the 1950s he was a firmly typed actor.

Tall and bald, with a brush mustache, he was a hit in "Don't Go Near the Water," "The Mating Game" and many others.

A spokesman at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica, where Clark was admitted Nov. 7 for treatment of a back spasm, said the actor was suffering from "back derangement and a liver ailment."

Clark costarred with Red Buttons in a TV series called "The Secret Life of Henry Phyfe."

In the Burns and Allen series on TV, his wife was played by Bea Benaderet, who died earlier this year.

SAYS PRINCETON NEWSPAPER

Coeds Prude-Promiscuous

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The editors of Princeton University's student newspaper, in a guide to girls' colleges, says Vassar coed "run the spectrum from the prude to the promiscuous." Some Vassar girls agree.

Marylee Hardenbergh, a 20-year-old junior, laughed and said, "It's probably accurate. You can find that anywhere. That's a pretty safe description."

Then she added, "It would be Princeton that would come up with that remark. It sounds like a weekend-oriented type mind."

But a description of Wellesley coeds in the book titled "Who the Girls Are" drew a negative response.

It said most Wellesley girls "have tried both grass (marijuana) and sex once. They didn't like either one."

"I don't think that's true," snapped a Wellesley student who asked that her name not be used.

The 112-page book is devoted primarily to giving brief biographies and snapshots of 1,500 coeds at eight women's colleges.

Peter G. Brown, a junior from Erie, Pa., who edited the volume, said, "This little book does no less than spell the demise, the defeat, the absolute abolition of that atrocious anachronism, the blind date."

"Wow!" said Louise Harris, whose picture is in the book. "I never thought they'd pick me in a 100 years." Louise is a Skidmore freshman from Upper Montclair, N.J.

Lisa Vandermade of Montclair, N.J., a Smith freshman who does "quite a bit of blind dating," said she hoped having her picture in the book would help her in that line.

Lisa Connor of Morristown, N.J., another Smith freshman, said, "I don't like people just to judge someone on looks, but it does let anyone who knows me at Princeton know that I'm at Smith."

"Every girl in my dorm sent a picture because the fellows at Princeton have promised to do our student handbook," she added.

"Who the Girls Are" is a sequel to Princeton's 1965 publication, "Where the Girls Are," which was much ridiculed but became a bestseller in campus bookstores.

"Who" gave capsule descriptions of Bryn Mawr, Goucher, Mount Holyoke, Skidmore, Smith, Sweet Briar, Vassar and Wellesley—and some Barnard coeds didn't like it that their school was left out.

"I think they're making a big mistake," said Elizabeth Riley, a Bernard freshman from Glenview, Ill. "We're better than everybody else, probably we're too good for them"

And some students at the listed colleges also fired back.

Marian Howell, 19, a Vassar sophomore, said, "Among my group we consider the Princetonian a typical college slob who thinks he's really cool."

Clark Says Report Not Rewritten

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark described today as "pure fabrication" a published report that the Justice Department rewrote the special report on violence during the Democratic National Convention.

Clark acknowledged government attorneys received advance copies of the report, but said the department's only suggested changes involved deletion of comments on cases under investigation.

"The department did not suggest the change of even one word in the summary," he said.

The Chicago Tribune said today that Daniel Walker, who headed the task force that prepared the special report for the President's Commission on Violence, brought advance copies to Washington.

The Tribune said Clark was not satisfied and, at his direction the report—particularly the summary—was substantially rewritten.

Walker report's summary blamed a "police riot" for triggering the bloodshed in the streets of Chicago last August. It said policemen, faced with vile and severe provocation by demonstrators, reacted with unrestrained and indiscriminate violence.

Clark said, "If the facts offend the Tribune, it should suffer them silently rather than try to change truth."

He said he had never met Walker although by reputation "it is clear that he is an outstanding lawyer of unquestioned integrity."

And he added in a statement, "The Chicago Tribune story is a pure fabrication."

He said the report was submitted to the department a few days before its public release for review by attorneys to guard against violating rights of persons involved in the federal investigation still under way into the bloody street battles.

Some Progress In Prelim Talks

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam were reported today to have reached agreement on at least six procedural points, but delay still loomed for the start of expanded peace talks.

A sticking point is the shape of a table for the negotiators, seemingly trivial but highly significant for South Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, who will join the talks for the first time.

The allies want a rectangular table, with the United States and South Vietnam on one side and North Vietnam and the Viet Cong on the other. North Vietnam wants a square table to show the independence of its protege, the Viet Cong. South Vietnam recognizes the Viet Cong only as part of the North's delegation.

In Saigon, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, discussing the forthcoming negotiations, declared in a radio-television address: "There is no reason that we shall let the Communists achieve through negotiations their dream of domination because of a minute of weakness on our part.

"Our delegation will come to the conference table neither to wrestle for any advantage nor to force the opposite side to concession. We will only demand that there be reasonableness, equality and rationality."

In two private meetings earlier this week, the United States and North Vietnam agreed on a number of points, including the room and the language to be used at the outset of the conference.

Despite the squabble over the shape of the table, U.S. sources said agreement has been reached on six or seven other points and they still hope for the first procedural meeting to be held next week.

They added that one of the most important agreed points is that there shall be four speakers at the opening session, one for each of the groups attending the conference. This implies an acknowledgement that the conference is four-sided.

Corn Dish Makes Main Course

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you're interested in a corn-pudding recipe from around New Orleans, here it is.

This is corn pudding with a difference; in order to make it a real main course, instead of just a side dish, shrimp is added — the handy canned shrimp from the pantry shelf.

A friend of ours who lives in Louisiana dreamed up this dish, and very good it is. When we tested it at our house in time for noontime lunch we offered it with a crisp tossed salad. A fresh berry pudding made the dessert. This menu would be as good for supper as it is for lunch.

One note about preparing the corn for the pudding and the result you can expect:

Don't score the corn kernels on the ears of corn; just cut them off as is. Then take the dull side of a table knife and press out the milky juice without removing any of the husk. Measure the corn kernels and milky juice together to yield 2 cups.

As to the kind of pudding this is: corn kernels and shrimp layer themselves at the bottom of the casserole leaving a smooth-as-silk custard top.

LOUISIANA CORN PUDDING

3 large eggs
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups uncooked corn kernels, cut from fresh corn (about 5 medium size ears will be needed)
¼ cup finely groated (1 small onion, pulp and juice
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Cayenne pepper to taste
1 can (4½ ounces) deveined shrimp, rinsed with cold water and drained

In a medium - size metal bowl beat eggs enough to blend yolks and whites; add flour and milk; beat to blend.

Add butter; place over low heat until butter melts. Remove from heat. Stir in corn, onion, salt, sugar, nutmeg, cayenne and shrimp.

Turn into a well-buttered 1½-quart baking dish — a round glass casserole that is 7½ inches in diameter and 2½ inches deep is fine.

Set casserole in a shallow pan of hot water; have water come at least half way up casserole. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a knife inserted in center of pudding comes out free of custard — about 1 hour.

Let stand at room temperature about 5 minutes before serving.

Makes 6 servings.

Note: Louisana cooks are likely to give this pudding peppery flavor by adding as much as ¼ teaspoon cayenne.

FROM LOUISIANA — A corn pudding with shrimp that's hearty enough to make a delicious and satisfying main course.

Designers Waiting For Choice Of Nixon Styles

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — As the Lyndon Johnsons clear their closets of LBJ hats, Hickey Freeman suits, Mollie Parnis and Adele Simpson dresses, the American fashion industry ponders what new styles will replace them.

It matters to formalwear manufacturers whether the new president elects to be a boiled shirt fan or a black tie and tux man. Not only Washington but the nation will literally follow suit.

It matters to the families of hatmakers whether the top man covers his thinning curls with a topper. And it matters to furriers whether Mrs. Richard M. Nixon abandons her "good Republican cloth coat," as her husband describes it.

It matters to dress designers which of their labels the new First Lady chooses to hang in her wardrobe.

Whether their style is imitated, the fashion choices of the First Family are equivalent in prestige to the British crown's court appointments.

Although the Nixons are not as handicapped in following the Johnsons as the Johnson ladies were in following the elegant Mrs. John F. Kennedy, they will necessarily develop a greater fashion consciousness.

"I've never known a First Lady yet who did not become more aware of clothes," says Mollie Parnis who has known and dressed the ladies of four administrations. "She becomes more conscious of how clothes walk or sit down, or wrinkle, or whether the press might be critical of them."

"In the early days of the Johnson administration, the cattiest of the fashion press meowed at what it considered the plain, slightly overweight, and dowdily dressed teen - aged girls and their mother. Soon enough they were purring with praise for the suddenly slimmer and prettier trio who had wisely submitted themselves to make up and fashion expertise.

As her husband's political star has risen, Pat Nixon's tastes have evolved from fussy little lace debutante dresses with corsages on the shoulder to simple and sophisticated garments in the $150 to $200 class.

On the whole, the garment district is pleased with the 56-year-old, size 10 Mrs. Nixon and her Eastern boarding school-type daughters, Julie and Pat.

"Her daughters will keep her on her toes, keep her with it," observed Vince Monte-Sano, president of the New York Couture Group.

The dean of American couturiers, Norman Norell was delighted that Mrs. Nixon has appeared in several photographs wearing the same suit, a classic little thing with cross tabs on the shoulders.

"That's good," Norell said. "She's putting fashion in its proper perspective. A First Lady should not be so enthralled with fashion that she has to wear something different every day."

Although flowers, veils and straw sailors used to cap the once brown now blonde tresses of Pat Nixon, today she seldom covers her casually curled, sometimes teased coiffures.

"I doubt if she would have much influence on the hat wearing habits of women anyway," mused a spokesman for the Millinery Institute. "You have to have a very strong personality to be a trend-setter."

But as Monte-Sano points out, "Jackie had an ethereal quality which was hers alone. The average woman could admire that. Still, they could not really identify with it.

"Mrs. Nixon's good looks are basic. Actually, they are much more attainable than the glamorous Jackie's."

Perhaps the heaviest fashion penalty Mrs. Nixon was said to have paid for her husband's political ambitions, was to give up the public luxury of a fur coat.

As a result of Nixon mentioning her "good Republican cloth coat" in his 1952 television defense of his campaign funds, Mrs. Nixon went without furs — at least publicly — for years. However, she now has an Afghanistan broadtail coat made from pelts obtained during a visit there, and recently she became the owner of a blond mink.

Though President Dwight D. Eisenhower inspired the military jacket, and by example President Harry S. Truman provided the courage to wear gaudily flowered sports shirts, men in public office have not been looked upon as style pacesetters and therefore were fairly free of fashion criticism.

But like his wife, John F. Kennedy cut such a dashing figure that he changed all that. When hatters blamed a growing bareheadedness on the Kennedy's disdain for a hat, he obliged by carrying one. On the other hand, he did not give in to the howls of formalwear manufacturers over his refusal to wear white tie and tails.

Johnson's favorite suit was a dark charcoal worsted with a hint of pinstripe. Always a tiny inch-high triangle of a handkerchief peeked out of his breast-pocket. But Johnson has firmly insisted on an elephantine cut of his trousers despite a 15-year trend for slimmer trousers. The next president is not likely to be caught in his shirt sleeves, photographers on his campaign trail discovered. They tried hard to capture Nixon's image "more humanly," as they explained it to his campaign managers. But the subject refused to loosen his tie or peel off his jacket.

Like choosing basic solid grays or blues with medium lapels, cuffed trousers, slimmer than Johnson's, Nixon presents a stable, upper middle class image, one he has not departed from in his rise in Republican ranks.

"I wish I could say he is with it," sighed a spokesman for the American Institute of Men's and Boyswear. "All I can say is he dresses correctly for statesmanship."

Many leaders in the men's wear industry are hoepful that relaxing in Key Biscayne will thaw out Nixon's inhibitions about sportswear, much as Key West put Truman in the mood for floral sports shirts.

Nevertheless, the fashion industry views the Nixon administration as a return to formality — good for the traditionalists, but a real challenge to those who would like to see the peacock revolution culminating in glorious feathers for the president.

P. Bailey Grew With Faith

THE RAW PEARL. By Pearl Bailey.

Onstage or inside this book, Miss Bailey radiates sentimental warmth as distinctive as her vocal style.

More inspirational in tone than strictly biographical in detail, the narrative sums up the pressures, tensions and the circumstances that haunt every talent on the way to the top.

"There are people who could really be hurt if I went into too much detail about my past," she says. "We should deliver no pain."

With simple - hearted candor, Miss Bailey weaves her discreet memoirs into a comforter of perhaps unfashionable but persuasive religious faith.

"Between the dressing room and the stage I have what I call my moment with God," she asserts amid other unaffected avowals; it is a terse, good-natured breviary that contrasts strikingly with more contemporary success stories.

The star talked her like at tape - recording sessions, and the printed document was edited by Wendell Shackelford and Hiram Hayn. The tone and feeling are indelibly her own.

WALL STREET TRIUMPH

Market Nears "Dow 1000"

By ED MORSE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cheers will ring and champagne corks will pop when the Dow Jones industrial average hits the 1,000 mark.

It came close two years ago and has built up to the point—it started the week at 985—where it could hit 1,000 before the end of the year.

The attainment of "Dow 1,000" will actually be more of a psychological triumph than a real achievement in terms of an economic or financial goal.

The market came very close to making it when the average closed at 995.15 on Feb. 9, 1966. But then came one of the most horrendous drops in history as the Dow sank 250.83 points to a low of 744.32 by Oct. 7.

After jagged ups and downs, the market has won back its lost ground. This year, as it neared the historic peak of 1966 once again, fears were expressed that the market might repeat its dismal performance of that year by shying away from "Dow 1,000" and taking another nose dive.

To really understand what emotional impact "Dow 1,000" has on many Wall Streeters you have to know where they've seen the market go.

Plenty of oldsters in the Street remember when the whole nation was stock market crazy in 1929 and the Dow industrials reached a peak of 381.17. Then came the great crash in October '29, followed by the depression. The Dow industrials scraped to a bottom of 41.22 in 1932, the blackest pit of the depression.

It took the Dow industrials 25 years to come back to the record of 1929. That was 1954 when the Dow topped the 400 level. This prompted a U.S. Senate investigation of why the market should reach such a dizzy height while the economic news was bad.

It also prompted a stock analyst, Benton W. Davis, to write a book entitled "Dow 1,000?"—with a question mark in the title. It looked to many as if Ben Davis had "dreamed the impossible dream" and he had to have the book privately printed. Nine years later, with the Dow over 800, he had no trouble finding a publisher of an expanded version of "Dow 1,000"—this time with no question mark.

Davis' theory was based on a mathematical concept of "exponential growth" which seemed to be followed by all growing things "from yeast cells to civilizations," an accelerated pattern based on the "S curve" which looked just like that on a chart.

The basis for the stock market, Davis noted, was made up of such rapidly growing things as population, money and credit, productivity, prices, earnings, national income and so on. The market had to reflect this.

The Dow idustrials, made up of 30 blue chip companies, including General Motors, Du Pont, U.S. Steel and Woolworth, has lagged behind other market indicators in reaching historic highs. Since autumn 1967 the New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks and Standard & Poor's 500-stock index have reached a series of historic peaks.

If AT&T had not been substituted for fast-growing IBM in 1939, Fortune magazine noted, the Dow industrials would have topped 1,000 in December 1961.

The Dow reached 900 on Jan. 2, 1965 and those next 100 points were hard to get.

And now? Dow 1,100? 1,200? 1,400? All seem possible to Wall Street.

Junior Editors Quiz on SQUIRRELS

QUESTION: What animal family do squirrels belong to?

• • • • •

ANSWER: Squirrels belong to the large order of rodents, or gnawing animals, which have four large front teeth called incisors. These incisors are kept very sharp because they overlap and rub against each other. With such teeth, squirrels can eat hard foods like nuts, and beavers can cut down trees. The squirrels form a family within this order of rodents, a family with the Latin name of Sciuridae. It is surprising to find the large heavy woodchuck classified in the squirrel family, for the big sluggish woodchuck seems very different from the lively bustling squirrels we are all so familiar with. The squirrel family is divided into ground dwellers and tree dwellers. Ground dwellers (left) include woodchucks, prairie dogs, ground, mantle and antelope squirrels; while the tree dwellers (right) include the gray squirrel, chipmunk, fox squirrel and flying squirrel which we illustrate. There are a number of other tree squirrels, such as the tuft-eared and chickaree squirrels for which we did not have room. Although classified as a tree squirrel, the chipmunk is more often seen on the ground.

Denison Chamber Has Young Member

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — The Denison Chamber of Commerce has enrolled the youngest member of its history.

There is the further angle that 19-year-old Albert Lee Cox, a high school student, was too young to join the Junior Chamber of Commerce (Jaycees). This organization has a 21-year minimum age rule while the senior group has no age restriction.

"I believe teenagers should take an interest in community affairs to be in a better position to carry on after they become adults," Cox said. "I want to help instead of protest," he added.

Cox is a member of the school Distributive Education Club and works part-time in a grocery.

Today's Life A Search For Identity

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Life today has been called a quest for identity.

Many people seem to be going around in circles plaintively inquiring of each other, like treble—voiced lost birds, "Are you actually you?" and "Tell me the truth now, am I really me?"

Others simply cling at every passing lapel and plead "Please help me find out who I am."

Yes, the search for identity has become one of the most popular parlor guessing games of our day. But if one is going to play a game at all well, he should begin at the beginning. Instead of starting off by demanding to know who they are, the players should first ask what they are.

"Am I animal, mineral, vegetable or human?" That should be the initial question.

How can one tell if he is really a human being? Here is a simple fill-it-out-yourself questionnaire that might provide the answer.

On a rainy night do you think everybody in the world deliberately jumps into a taxicab just so you won't be able to get one?

Do you throw an uneasy glance over your shoulder now and then because you have the feeling that you are being followed by someone other than Father Time?

Do you secretly hate injustice even though you know you are benefiting from it?

Do you owe more than you are worth but still feel that you are worth more than you owe?

Can you lose your head while all those about you are keeping theirs screwed on real tight?

When you are standing in a bank waiting for a friend to make a deposit or draw out some money, do you have the feeling that the guard is eyeing you suspiciously? And, as a matter of fact, aren't you actually at the same time wondering how hard it would be to rob a bank?

Naturally, like every other decent person, you are offended by the low moral tone of many modern movies, but don't you find yourself standing in line more often to see one of those films that don't admit anyone under 16?

If you had your life to live over again, are you honest enough to admit to yourself that you'd probably make an even bigger mess of it?

Doesn't your conscience mildly pang you now and then because you know you are getting away with something that you shouldn't? But you also still hope that you can go right on getting away with it, don't you?

If your answer to all these queries is a resounding "yes," then the verdict is clear. You're too normal to be inhuman. You are a very human being.

Now that you know what you are, you are ready for the next step in the game. Who are you, all kidding aside?

Colts Are Favored Over Packers By 6

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers are gathered around the campfire for the last stand. The old fort is tottering and the enemy is swarming in for the kill.

The Colts from Baltimore, still bitter about the disputed field goal in the 1965 sudden death playoff, would like nothing better than to push the Packers off the cliff Saturday afternoon.

Can Ray Nitschke, Willie Davis, Jerry Kramer and the old champs put together one last big effort? Can Bart Starr make it? Will Saturday mark the end of the Green Bay era?

Tune in Saturday. It should be a war.

After last week's 9-4 count the season record is 98-39-5 with 60-24-4 in the NFL and 38-15-1 in the AFL and two weeks to go. Let's try again. All games are Sunday unless otherwise noted.

NFL

Baltimore 20, Green Bay 14 (Saturday) — Colts on six-game win tear with three shutouts in last five games. Packers sagged against 49ers after Starr was hurt. If Bob Jeter is still out, count on Colts to zero in on sub cornerback. This is last shot for Packers unless Bears and Viking also lose. Much depends on physical condition of Starr who listed questionable.

Los Angeles 24, Chicago 9—The flu bug forced George Allen to cancel practice Tuesday after Rams' impressive handling of Vikings. Los Angeles can't afford to miss a step before next week' big finale with Colts. Bears still hanging in there despite flood of injuries but don't have offense to shake that sturdy Ram defense.

Cleveland 30, Washington 14—Browns can start tuning up for Dallas if they can smother Sonny Jurgensen and beat Redskins. It should be no probem for Leroy Kelly to run on 'Skins and Bill Nelsen should have all time he needs to throw the ball. There's only one problem—that fellow Jurgensen.

New York 24, St. Louis 21—Cards know they have to win to stay alive and even that won't help if Cleveland wins. Loss of Dave Williams tough blow to St. Louis' passing game. Giants seem to have knack of handling Cards but the offensive line must keep those rushers off Fran Tarkenton's back.

Dallas 35, Pittsburgh 14—Cowboys without Pete Gent and Pettis Norman may decide to go with Craig Morton and let Don Meredith rest for more important work later against Cleveland or St. Louis. Steelers usually die in second half and Dallas rush should put heat on Dick Shiner.

Minnesota 23, San Francisco 21—We're picking an upset here despite 49ers' win over Green Bay. Vikings don't have much air punch but they can take it to you on the ground and that defensive line can eat a quarterback alive. If Vikings win, all they have to do is beat Philadelphia to get at least a tie in the Central Division. John Brodie may make this look like a bad dream but the Vikes are desperate.

Detroit 14, Atlanta 7—And how do you figure this kind of a game? Both are coming off shutout defeats. Lions winless in seven (two ties) showed nothing against Eagles in mud. Give Lions a slim vote because they do have a defense.

New Orleans 17, Philadelphia 13—Flip a coin. Win at Detroit has to help Eagles and the Boycott Day might even make them mad. Could set a record for intercepts with Norm Snead and Billy Kilmer at the controls.

AFL

Houston 21, Buffalo 17 (Saturday)—Last game for the Bills and will they be happy when this season is over. Houston beat them 30-7 on Oct. 27 in Buffalo. Ed Rutkowski gave Oakland fits on Thanksgiving Day but they still have lost seven straight.

Miami 28, Boston 14—A mean-nothing game for all sides. Dolphins whipped the Pats 24-10 in Boston, Nov. 24 when Bob Griese threw three touchdown passes. Patriots snapped five-game losing streak against Cincinnati with biggest point plurge of season, 33.

Kansas City 27, San Diego 24—The big game of the day in the league. Chiefs won first meeting 27-20 at home and now must repeat on road while defending against John Hadl's bombs to Lance Alworth.

Oakland 31, Denver 14—Raiders should be able to ease home against Broncs who were blasted by Chargers last week 47-23. Oakland won handily at Denver 43-7 in first meeting with George Blanda at controls.

Super Oaks Rip Nets 139 To 122

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Super Oak Rick Barry struck again . . . helping Oakland take another step toward turning the American Basketball Association's Western Division race from a rout into a fiasco.

Barry poured in 30 points as the Oaks ripped the New York Nets 139-122 Thursday night for their 18th victory in 21 games. The triumph gave Oakland a full seven-game lead in their division.

Meanwhile, Denver survived a 53-point showing by Connie Hawkins to upend Minnesota's Eastern Division leaders 119-118. Indiana stopped New Orleans 118115 in the night's other game.

Barry collected 17 points in the fourth period after Oakland opened up an early lead and never was headed. Gary Bradds contributed 30 points to the Oaks' attack, which utilized the rebounding of Ira Harge and the playmaking of Warren Armstrong.

Walt Simon topped New York with 29 points. He also was involved in a shoving match with Bradds in the opening quarter.

Denver's Byron Beck turned off a Hawkins-led rally in the closing seconds when he pulled down a rebound of Connie's forced shot, then held onto the ball until time ran out.

Hawkins' production was four points shy of his ABA record.

The setback snapped Minnesota's winning streak at seven games, but the Pipers hold a commanding five-game edge in the Eastern race.

Larry Jones led the way for the Rockets with 34 points and teammates Billy McGill and Julian Hammond each netted 26.

Indiana almost blew a 22-point lead in knocking New Orleans out of second place in the Western Division.

Bob Netolicky, who paced the Pacers with 32 points, fired in a pair of quick baskets to give Indiana a 98-76 command in the final quarter. But then New Orleans rallied and pulled to within three points in the final minute.

However, a 40-foot hook shot by Red Robbins that would have forced an overtime fell short as the horn sounded.

Jimmy Jones led the Bucs with 32 points. The rugged game produced two casualties. Indiana's Mel Daniels was knocked out in a collision with Jack Moreland of New Orleans. Moreland needed six stitches to close a gash under his left eye.

Dr. Fager Top Horse

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Fager, who thrilled horse racing fans with his performances on the track, has his due—the Thoroughbred Racing Associations' Horse-of-the-Year award.

The good doctor was recognized Thursday night at a dinner which closed the TRA's 27th annual meeting.

Mrs. James H. Binger of Minneapolis accepted the award on behalf of her father, William L. McKnight, who owns 75 per cent of the colt, and trainer John Nerud, who holds the other quarter.

"On behalf of my father, I thank you very much and I wish you all could have had as great a thrill of a lifetime as we've had in owning a horse like Dr. Fager," Mrs. Binger said.

But race goers all across the nation did have many great thrills in watching the 4-year-old son Rough 'n Tumble-Aspidistra.

Dr. Fager won seven of eight starts in 1968—his only loss being to Damascus in the Brooklyn Handicap—and his career record is 14 wins, a second and a third in 17 starts, with earnings of $1,002,642, making him the ninth thoroughbred to top $1 million.

IN GYM TONIGHT

Kitten Quintet Faces Tough Foes

The Snyder "B" basketball team will be up against some stiff competition tonight in the first round of the Basketball Tournament in Tiger gym.

Coach Jerry McLeod's Kittens and Seminole are the only Class AAA junior varsity teams in the tournament. All of the other teams are from AAAA schools.

The Kittens tangle with Midland Lee at 8 p.m. today. If they win, then they meet the winner of the Big Spring-Lubbock High tilt at 12:30 p.m. Saturday. The Big Spring-Lubbock contest will begin at 6:30 p.m. today.

Upper bracket tilts today pitted Abilene Cooper against Plainview at 3:30 p.m. and Lubbock Monterey against Seminole at 5 p.m. Other games in the winner's bracket Saturday include a second round tilt at 11 a.m., the battle for third place at 6:30 p.m. and the finals at 8 p.m. The Consolation finals is on tap for 5 p.m. Saturday after second round Saturday tilts at 8 a.m. and 9:30 a.m.

Coach McLeod's team is undefeated after three starts. The probable starting lineup includes junior Ronald Ward (6-1) and sophomores Glenn Rambin (5-11), Bruce Almond (6-1), Danny Farmer (6-2) and Jeff Stewart (6-4). Junior Ronal Gladson also is available for duty as are sophs Johnny Mata, Billy Kay, Harvey Pinkerton, Dennis Breedlove, Bid Cooper and Tony Breedlove.

There will be three "sessions" of the tournament beginning at 3:30 p.m. Friday, 8 a.m. Saturday, and 5 p.m. Saturday. The price of admission for each session is 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Prep 11's Meet In Playoffs

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's sweaty palms time again in Texas' fast-closing schoolboy football championship race. The quarterfinals are on tap this weekend.

The prime games tonight are in Classes AAA, AA and A. Only one Class AAA game is set, but it's a good one with two highly ranked clubs—Galveston Ball and Houston Washington—tangling at Rice Stadium in Houston.

The top AAA tilt has Plano, last year's Class AA champion, meeting the top-ranked Henderson Lions, who feature the runs of Joe Wylie. The teams will meet at Highland Park Stadium.

In other AAA games, Alvin and Silsbee tangle at Beaumont, and Refugio and Mission play at Alice. Lubbock Estacado meets Kermit in Kermit Saturday.

Top-ranked Iowa Park of Class AA collides with Big Lake at Abilene tonight.

Other games tonight are San Saba and Daingerfield at Arlington and Klein and San Antonio Randolph AFB at El Campo. Columbus and Lufkin Dunbar play Saturday night.

Defending champion Tidehaven puts its Class A hopes on the line against the top-ranked Poth Pirates at Cuero tonight. Sudan plays Sonora at Odessa, Ranger and Clifton meet at Waco and White Oak faces Rosebud at Corsicana in other games tonight.

The big schools of AAAA play Saturday. Defending champion Austin Reagan, winner of 26 games in a row, tackles San Antonio Wheatley in Austin. Dallas South Oak Cliff, ranked No. 1, meets Houston Smiley in College Station and Irving travels to Odessa to engage tough Odessa Permian.

Frogs Take Hot Tilt

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southwest Conference basketball teams won two of three games Thursday night, but Texas Christian's 160-pound Jeff Harp lost a bout with a black belt expert in karate.

Harp tangled with 6-foot-8, 245-pound Garland Williams of Southwestern Louisiana in a 75-58 Horned Frog victory. Harp got clobbered good.

"Someone pushed him down, but it wasn't me," said Harp. "I never did see who it was or I would have gone the other way."

Both benches erupted as tempers flared. Williams was tossed out of the game and Southwestern Louisiana coach Beryl Shipley drew two technical fouls in the non-conference game at Fort Worth.

The win gave TCU a 2-0 record. Rick Wittenbraker of TCU led the scoring with 20 points and James Cash pulled down 23 rebounds.

WHITE, GRAY TRIUMPH

Travis White and Lamar Gray were victorious in their first basketball tilts of the season in the Lamar gym yesterday afternoon as the 7th grade program got underway.

The White team was leading 25-8 going into the final frame, but the Red rallied with 15 points in the last stanza to pull within eight points.

Lamar Gray trailed 4-5 after the first period, but a 12-point spree in the second period propelled the Gray into a 16-11 halftime lead and they outscored the Blue in the final two periods.

Widgeon Emerson and Mickey Gonzales paced the White attack with eight points apiece. Steve Talbott pitched in eight points for the Red. Richard Gorman sparked the Gray attack with 11 points while Hubert Crayton connected for 11 for the Blue.

WHITE (31) — Emerson 4-0-8; Miller 0-1-1; Braziel 3-0-6; Gonzales 4-0-8; Roberson 1-0-2; Watts 2-0-4; Mosier 1-0-2; totals 15-1-31.

Junior 5's Put Titles On Line

Lamar and Travis Junior High Schools will be out to defend their titles at the annual Big Spring Junior High School Basketball Tournament which begins today.

Lamar won the 9th grade division last year, and Travis copped the 8th grade crown.

Travis 8th was to meet Big Spring Goliad in the Goliad gym at 2:30 p.m. today, followed by a 5:30 p.m. tussle between Lamar 8th grade and Sweetwater.

The 9th grade slate finds Travis 9th meeting the Big Spring Brahmas at 4 p.m. and Lamar 9th grade testing Sweetwater at 5:30 p.m. today. Both games will be held in the high school gym.

Gorillas, 'Birds Vie Tonight

The Class B regional football title goes on the line at 7:30 p.m. today in Tiger Stadium when Trent's Gorillas and Jayton's Jaybirds collide.

If one discounts five 1-0 forfeit losses, the Gorillas will go into tonight's affray seeking their 12th straight victory of the year. Jayton has won eight of 11 contests.

With a better defensive record and a better aerial game, the Gorillas are solid two touchdown favorites. Trent has allowed only 37 points in its 11 outings. That's only 3.3 points per game on the average. Jayton, on the other hand, has yielded 125 points.

Trent defeated Jayton last season by one touchdown, and the Jaybirds would like to even the score.

"We'll be ready for them," declared Jaybird coach Bob Coleman. The Jayton attack features the strong running of fullback Joe Alvarado, a 195-pound senior, and Martin Garcia, a fleet 145-pound junior tailback, who has scored 180 points this season. Garcia has gained 1,988 yards and Alvarado has collected 1,123 paces.

They operate from an I formation behind an offensive line that averages 184 pounds per man. Jayton overpowered Amherst 34-12 in bi-district after trailing 12-7 at halftime. The Birds also can move the ball through the air if they have to. Sophomore quarterback Kim Nichols, a 170 - pounder, has thrown nine touchdown passes. His favorite target is Rickey Hall, a 155 - pound junior. A cousin of Ricky's, 140 - pound junior wingback Randy Hall, also is adept at lugging the leather.

Jayton employs a "52" defense with a rover back.

The tough Gorilla defense features a "monster 5" led by nose guard Tim Riggan, a 150-pound senior, and Stan Hicks, 190-pound senior, who is the "monster." Both inside linebackers — Si Acuna and Ted Simpson—are quick and tough.

Hicks doubles on offense as a tight end, and he's the leading scorer for the Gorillas with 127 points. Included are 19 receptions for touchdowns. Gaylon Brnovak, 155 - pound senior quarterback, manns the launching pad for Trent. He's completed 25 touchdown passes and is considered a good college prospect despite his size.

Coach Charles Russell's Gorillas operate from a winged offense with the right end split. Sometimes, both ends are split. Riggan, the nose guard, also handles the fullback chores, and Acuna, one of the linebackers, operates from a halfback post. The "other" halfback is Pat Carriker, a 155 - pound senior. So explosive is the Gorilla attack that Trent upended Fort Hancock in bi-district 58-6.

Trent is blue and gold, and Jayton's colors are black and gold. Tickets can be obtained at the gate at the rate of $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Probable starters:

JAYTON

Tiger Cagers At Irving Tonight

Snyder High School's varsity Bengals will be out tonight trying to get back on the victory trail at the Seventh Annual Irving Invitational Basketball Tournament.

After winning their first two tilts at Andrews and Levelland, the Tigers sustained a 74-54 setback at the hands of Odessa Ector in the comfortable Coliseum. Their attempt at a comeback could be difficult considering the fact that the Tigers are the only Class AAA team in the tournament at Irving.

Coach Ned Underwood's crew will meet Irving MacArthur at 8:30 p.m. today in the first round. If they win, then they tangle with the Richardson-Western Hills winner at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. Should the Tigers drop the first tilt, they'll tangle with the loser of the Richardson - Western Hills tussle at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Other teams in the tournament include host Irving, Richland Hills, Paris and North Dallas. The battle for third place is on tap for 7:30 p.m. Saturday with the consolation finals set at 6 p.m. and the championship slated to begin at 9 a.m.

Underwood still was undecided Thursday afternoon about who will be in the starting alignment. He said Benny Ward, 6-1 senior, and Jim Patrick, 6-2 junior, will probably operate in the front court along with either Wesley Bishop, 6-0 junior, or Jerry January, 6-1 senior. One guard spot probably will go to either Jodi Williamson, 5-8 senior, or to Lee McNair, 5-11 junior. Bill Hood, 5-10 senior, could draw the other guard assignment.

Also ready to defend the Black and Gold honor are senior Randy Rushing (6-2), and juniors Dennis Wolfe (6-3), and Dennis Carlton (6-3).

Cougar Golf Team Leads

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston golf team held a two stroke lead today in the second round of the Forest Cove Intercollegiate Invitational Golf Tournament.

The five man Houston team wound up with a three over par 363 Thursday after the first 18 holes. Stephen F. Austin was second with 365 followed by North Texas State, 369; Sam Houston State, 384 and Texas A&I 395.

Bill Powell of North Texas State and Sparky Cartwright of Stephen F. Austin fired first round two under par 70s to lead the individual competition. Jim Simons and Bob Wazel of the University of Houston each had a 71.

Santa and the HIPPIES

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Edgar sends Ding Dong to Santa Land where Mrs. Claus prepares to feed him all the things she thinks a hippie would like to eat.

CHAPTER 6

DING DONG TRICKS SANTA

DING DONG tried to eat the pizzas and chocolate pies that Mrs. Claus laid out for him on the kitchen table. The more he tried the greener he got.

"Oh, my!" clucked Mrs. Claus. "You don't look well at all."

She dumped a teaspoonful of green medicine into a glass of water. "Drink that quick!" she ordered. Before Ding Dong knew what he was about he'd swallowed the dose.

Immediately he felt better.

"Hippies need to be taken care of same as anyone else though they may not think so themselves," grumbled Mrs. Claus.

Ding Dong saw to his horror that she was fetching a large washtub from under the kitchen sink.

"Oh, no!" he thought. "Not a bath!" What would his friends in Hippieville say to that? He leaped to his feet and charged out the kicthen door before Mrs. Claus could turn from the sink.

He ran down to the fields where Santa's reindeer were being fed by a crew of elves. The deer were friendly and full of life."

"Can they really fly?" asked Ding Dong.

"Try one and see," said an elf. He boosted Ding Dong onto a reindeer's back. The deer sprang off the ground and soared into the sky.

Ding Dong felt as though he were riding the wind. He had never felt so free and happy. When the ride was over he took the reindeer back to the barn. He rubbed him down with towels and covered him with blankets so he wouldn't catch cold and not be able to ride on Christmas Eve.

Then he remembered that no reindeer would fly on Christmas because Santa would be a prisoner in Hippieville and he himself would be the one to capture Santa.

He felt badly about the whole thing. But what could he do now? The hippies were counting on him.

He wandered over to the toy shops where the elves were feverishly working on the toys children had asked for Christmas.

"Can't stop a minute," apologized an elf. "If we do, some child's order won't be filled."

Ding Dong felt worse than ever. Was it wrong to take Christmas away from everyone just because the hippies wanted to do as they pleased? Ding Dong decided he wouldn't capture Santa after all.

Just then Santa came into the shop. "I've finished my letters. Now what can I do for you?"

"Nothing," muttered Ding Dong.

"What! You came all this way to ask for nothing?"

"I've changed my mind," said Ding Dong, shamefaced.

"That's too bad," said Santa. "I'd like to help you if I could."

Ding Dong thought, "If the hippies could see that Santa isn't really a 'square' they'd feel differently about things."

So Ding Dong made up a big story. He told Santa that one of the boys in Hippieville had fallen into a well and could not get out.

"We thought you could come and save him," said Ding Dong, not daring to look Santa in the eye.

"Of course I'll come!" exclaimed Santa. "I shouldn't take the time because there's so much work to be done. But a boy in trouble comes first. We'll go at once."

He hurried Ding Dong off to a tiny airplane standing behind the shop. Santa climbed into the cockpit. Ding Dong squeezed in beside him and they zoomed off to Hippieville.

Tomorrow: Hesekiah

"I can't stop a minute," apologized an elf."

Knudson Speaks To Fort Worth C Of C

FORT WORTH (AP) — S. E. Knudsen, president of Ford Motor Co., said here Thursday that Americans "must not let either the complexity or the magnitude of our common problems blur the need for each sector to do it's own thing."

Knudsen referred to government, industry and the public, and said there must be a neat dovetailing of responsibilities in our interdependent society.

Knudsen spoke to the 86th annual dinner of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Texas.

In a news conference earlier in the day, the auto executive said his company's gains are running ahead of the industry's in general in the Fort Worth-Dallas area.

Reggie Smith of the Boston Red Sox started the 1967 baseball season in grand style. His first time up he hit a 400-foot plus home run against Whitey Ford in Yankee Stadium.

Revolution Brews As Priest Fired

By EDWARD MAGRI
Associated Press Writer

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Don Enzo Mazzi, rebel priest and hero to the Florentine poor, was in hiding today after being dismissed from his parish Thursday. But his parishioners held the key to the church and were setting up a revolution promotion center next door.

Two other Florentine priests expected expulsion from their duties in the bitter dispute between Don Mazzi and his working-class flock on one side and Ermenegildo Cardinal Florit, the archbishop of Florence on the other.

The priests were Don Sergio Caciolli, a pastor in one of Florence's poorest districts and a close associate of Don Mazzi's, and Don Paolo Gomiti, 28, Don Mazzi's assistant.

"It's my turn now," said Don Caciolli Thursday night. "I've been waiting for it for years. I knew it was coming as soon as Don Mazzi was fired."

Don Mazzi was hidden in a private house while his parishioners continued to control the church of Mary of the Graces in the Isolotto district.

They scheduled meetings through Saturday night to decide what stand to take against the archbishop. In rooms adjoining the church parishioners were making posters and turning out mimeographed bulletins.

Don Mazzi had been their pastor 14 years. For the last 10 years he and his associates had been writing a children's catechism that made Cardinal Florit bristle and sent shock waves into the Vatican.

The just-published catechism depicts Christ as a revolutionary leading the poor against the privileged and wealthy. The cardinal censured the catechism and forbade his priests to use it. Don Mazzi said the cardinal told him: "Resign or I'll fire you." The priest made no move to resign, and on Thursday his dismissal was announced.

Pupils in two elementary schools walked out of classes in protest. They had their teachers' approval. Thousands of Don Mazzi's parishioners, including many cripples, marched in silence across the Arno and massed outside the cardinal's residence, waving placards demanding that he restore Don Mazzi to them.

The Vatican newspaper upheld the dismissal and called it a sad but predictable end to the episode. "Meetings, yes; discussion, yes," said L'Osservatore Romano. "But at a certain point one must recognize the rule of the legitimate pastor.

"No one contests the good intentions of this tenacious priest. But obedience to a bishop is always the boundary in every clerical or lay activity."

Dunn Methodist

Worship will begin at 9:30 a.m. and Dunn United Methodist church. "Something's Coming!" will be the sermon topic of the pastor, Bobby J. McMillan. who'd want a new dress if it were just like your old one?

How much fun would be left in fashion if all style were standardized? This system would cut down on shopping time. But it would also cut down on your individuality.

In turn, standardization would cut down on advertising, there'd be a cutback in production. And if we worked hard to do so, we might wreck the economy.

Wouldn't we be better off to leave things the way they are? Today's advertising is already policed by the world's smartest detective . . . the American consumer.
