Keeping tab on our neighbors:

A highway speed of 55 miles per hour has not always been considered slow, reminds Charles Didway in the Post Dispatch.

"Reading again this morning about the 55 mile speed limit that goes into effect Sunday, I recall a barber shop discussion that took place many years ago about highway speeds," Didway noted. "The barber who was cutting my hair said 40 miles an hour was fast enough for anybody to travel. Of course, that was back in the days when we didn't have fast automobiles and good roads and when even haircuts were slow."

Come to think of it, haircuts did seem to take longer many years ago. But perhaps they only seemed longer. It is entirely possible that the time in the barber chair moved slowly for a youngster who was usually disgruntled to have more important pursuits interrupted in the interest of personal appearance. As the years pile up, however, that little rest a person gets in the barber chair often seems to pass much too rapidly.

Walter Buckel of the Lamesa Press-Reporter suggests that local merchants may find a silver lining to the energy shortage.

"With higher gasoline prices making out-of-town trips uneconomical, local merchants have completed record sales and record volumes of business. The shortage of fuel could mean that local firms could suddenly find customers back in their places of business that they haven't seen for years. And, for the merchant who adequately prepares for the increased number of dollars available, '74 could be a great year."

Sounds logical, and if that's the case in Lamesa, the same should be true in Snyder.

The Ballinger Ledger calls attention to the fact that Claude (Chena) Gilstrap of the University of Texas at Arlington will speak at the annual football banquet there next Tuesday. Gilstrap is a former coach and still is athletic director at University of Texas at Arlington.

This brought to mind that it was Gilstrap, in a speech here in Snyder several years ago, who divulged that he did not learn where the best sources of advice for coaches were until he had retired from the sidelines. His first game as a spectator was an eye-opener—or ear-opener—he indicated.

"I found out there were people up there (in the stands) who had a solution for every situation that could occur in a football game," Gilstrap said.

Oh, well. The best advice usually comes when it is obsolete.—WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Jan. 18, the 18th day of 1974. There are 347 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1788, the first English settlers arrived in Australia.

On this date: In 1534, the Spanish conqueror, Francisco Pizarro, founded Lima, Peru.

In 1778, the English explorer, Capt. James Cook, discovered the Hawaiian Islands.

In 1782, the American statesman, Daniel Webster, was born in Salisbury, N.H.

In 1919, the World War I peace conference opened at Versailles, France.

In 1943, in World War II, the Soviets announced they had broken the long German siege of Leningrad.

In 1952, anti-British riots broke out in Egypt.

Ten years ago: It was reported that the United States was speeding plans to build a sea-level canal in Central America because of disputes with Panama.

Five years ago: An airliner crashed into the Pacific off Los Angeles with a loss of 38 lives.

One year ago: A jury found Juan Corona guilty of murdering 25 migrant farm workers at Yuba City, Calif.

Benfield's Bond Set At $110,000

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Richard Benfield, arrested in connection with a series of Phoenix robberies and two Texas slayings, was ordered held on $110,000 bond Thursday.

Benfield, 25, of Kennott, Mo., was arrested Wednesday at a northwest Phoenix tavern, ending what police called its largest manhunt in years.

Benfield appeared before Maricopa County Superior Court Commissioner James McDougiall, who set the bond and scheduled a Jan. 21 preliminary hearing.

He was ordered held on four counts of robbery in connection with a Jan. 10 tavern robbery. Investigators said Benfield gave them a statement in connection with that robbery and those of nine other taverns in the city.

Texas authorities said Benfield was sought for two weekend slayings near Big Spring.

Scurry Is Eligible For RID Loans

Scurry County is one of 29 counties added to a list by the Texas Industrial Commission this morning as qualifying for rural industrial loans under the Rural Industrial Development Act.

Announcement was made by the TIC at a meeting in Brownsville, which also was discussing possible action the commission can take in recruiting new industry to the state.

Qualification for loans under the Rural Industrial Development Act is not expected to affect industrial development here immediately. Latest word was that no funds are available for such loans and when funds are available such loans would could be approved only if funds were not available for plant sites from other sources.

The counties approved today by the TIC, in addition to Scurry, are Andrews, Bandera, Callahan, Castro, Comal, Concho, Crane, Crockett, Deaf Smith, Glasscock, Hood, Irion, Jeff Davis, Kendall, King, Mason, Menard, Midland, Mills, Rockwall, San Saba, Shackelford, Sterling, Sutton, Terrell, Terry, Yoakum and Van Zandt.

Lawyer Quizzed On Tape Gaps

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An assistant special prosecutor asked a White House lawyer today about alleged new gaps in Watergate-related tapes turned over to a federal district court by the White House.

Assistant prosecutor Richard Ben-Veniste asked White House lawyer J. Fred Buzhardt if he was aware that a cassette recording of the President's recollection of a March 21 meeting with John W. Dean III ended in mid-sentence.

After objections from White House lawyer James D. St. Clair, Ben-Veniste agreed to refer to it as "an incomplete sentence."

Buzhardt replied that he was aware and that it was not unusual for such dictation to include incomplete sentences.

Then Ben-Veniste asked him if he recalled the dictation belt of presidential recollections of a June 20 telephone conversation with John Mitchell, a call that was not recorded on the White House taping system.

The presidential recollection on that belt was only 23 seconds long, court documents show.

Ben Veniste then asked Buzhardt, "Can you explain why the dictation belt picks up in the middle of a sentence" after a 38-second pause following Nixon's description of the Mitchell call.

"I was not aware that it did," Buzhardt replied.

The disclosures came on the final day of federal court hearings into what might have caused the 18½-minute gap in one of the subpoenaed tapes of White House conversations dealing with Watergate.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica announced he intended to complete taking testimony today even if it requires an evening session.

Butzhardt was recalled to testify about the index and analysis of the tapes, dictabelts and cassettes turned over to the court in November.

White House lawyers were to get a chance later in the day to ask six technical experts about their report that the 18½-minute gap in a subpoenaed tape could not have been caused by a single, accidental act.

Sawhill Sees March Shortages

By DAVID C. MARTIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's No. 2 energy man indicated today that even the most pessimistic projections show there will be no heating oil shortages before the middle of March.

Testifying before a House subcommittee, John Sawhill, deputy administrator of the Federal Energy Office, said that because of leakage in the Arab embargo, abnormally warm weather and public conservation efforts, heating oil inventories were about 200 million barrels, almost 50 per cent above last year.

"With a fully effective embargo and an abnormally cold winter," he said in a prepared statement, "spot shortages might occur by mid-March."

The inventory figures were contained in the latest data published by the American Petroleum Institute. Sawhill, however, acknowledged that "the information we now have to work with is not adequate and its reliability cannot be checked."

But, Sawhill added that "while many doubt the accuracy of the data being provided by industry, there is no doubt in my mind that we do indeed have a serious shortage."

Sawhill appeared at hearings investigating the credibility of oil data. Wednesday, two federal officials and consumer advocate Ralph Nader urged Congress to require more complete disclosure of energy data by oil, gas and coal companies.

Nixon Sets Energy Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today that he will make a live radio broadcast at noon EDT Saturday to lay out the government's energy program.

Nixon also announced that he will hold a bipartisan congressional leadership meeting Monday morning at which Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will brief the leaders on Middle East developments. Also there will be some discussion of the administration's energy legislative proposals.

Sitting down for an Oval Office meeting with Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott, R-Pa., the President outlined his plans when reporters and photographers came into his office for a picture-taking session.

Egypt Israel Ink Documents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Egypt and Israel signed military disengagement documents today, and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will fly to Damascus Sunday for talks on a separation of Syrian and Israeli forces, a U.S. official said.

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat will fly to Damascus also, on Saturday, for talks with the Syrians on disengagement of the Syrian and Israeli armies in the Golan Heights, the officials said.

"We will start the talks with the Syrians with the same dedication and good will" that was shown in Egypt, Kissinger said in Aswan, Egypt.

Egypt announced that Syrian President Hafez Assad already had authorized Sadat to begin talks with Kissinger on Syria's behalf.

Egypt and Syria were the main combatants against Israel in last October's Arab-Israeli war. Syria retook and then lost part of the Syrian Golan Heights captured by Israel in the 1967 war, and in addition lost new territory to the Israeli army.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban told newsmen his government is ready for a disengagement agreement with Syria.

"The ball is in their court," he said.

Israel has insisted it would not negotiate with Syria until the Syrians furnished a list of the Israeli prisoners of war they are holding and allowed the International Red Cross to visit them.

Israeli Premier Golda Meir signed a copy of an Egyptian-Israeli agreement in Jerusalem, while Sadat signed another at Aswan. Egyptian and Israeli chiefs of staff signed disengagement documents at a desert tent betweeen their forces on the west side of the Suez Canal.

Cairo agreed to cut its forces east of the Suez Canal to 7,000 troops and 30 tanks and to withdraw all antiaircraft missiles to a point seven miles west of the waterway.

The disengagement is known to call for Israel to withdraw from the west bank of the canal and to pull its army back 18 to 30 miles from the east bank to the Gidi and Mitla passes in the Sinai peninsula captured by Israel in the 1967 war.

The Egyptian-Israeli disengagement agreement could open the way for negotiations on finding solutions to the causes of three Arab-Israeli wars over a quarter of a century. The two countries will get their chance Jan. 24 when the Mideast peace talks resume in Geneva. The talks started last December but faltered because of old territorial disputes and claims of war atrocities.

Dino Jr. Charged In Firearms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Martin Jr., 22-year-old son of actor-singer Dean Martin, has been arrested and charged with illegal possession of firearms, federal officials said today.

A spokesman for the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Bureau of the Department of the Treasury said Martin was arrested Thursday at his home in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Martin was scheduled for arraignment later today in Los Angeles, the bureau spokesman said.

The spokesman said five machine guns, a .20mm cannon and a supply of ammunition were confiscated at Martin's house.

The bureau spokesman said the machine guns included an M2 cartine, a British Sten gun, a Thompson .45-caliber submachine gun and two Belgian FM machine guns.

The bureau spokesman said an undercover agent purchased an M16 rifle and a North Korean-made AK47 semiautomatic weapon from Martin for $675 on Wednesday. He said agents returned to Martin's house Thursday with a search warrant and made the arrest and confiscated the weapons.

The bureau spokesman in Washington said Martin was charged with unlawful possession of a machine gun.

Martin, a premedical student at the University of California at Los Angeles, is married to actress Olivia Hussey.

Young Martin gained fame as an entertainer in the mid-1960s as a member of the Dino, Desi and Billy recording group, in which he was partnered with the son of actress Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz.

Efforts to reach his father, who is in Tucson, Ariz., for the Dean Martin-Tucson Open Golf Tourney, were unsuccessful.

A veil of secrecy was maintained until early today after the arrest Thursday afternoon.

Mize Is Elected SNB President

Roger B. Mize will return to the position of president of Snyder National Bank following announcement that E.W. Schrader, president of the bank for the past five years, is moving to Corpus Christi to head another bank.

Mize, who had held the position previously, was elected to the president's post at a meeting of the board of directors Thursday.

Other officers elected by the Snyder National Bank board are Harrie Winston, chairman of the board; Rex Robinson, executive vice president; John Propst, vice president of data processing; Cecil Boren, vice president; Derwin Thompson, vice president and cashier; Edna Sells, vice president; Joe Jackson, assistant vice president; Nelda Allen, assistant cashier; Annie Faye Lopour, assistant cashier; LaNell Hogan, assistant cashier, and Leslie Williamson, assistant cashier.

Named to the board of directors at the annual stockholders meeting were Hugh Boren Jr., Scott Casey, G.B. Clark Jr., W.M. Fuller, John Jarrell, Theo Lamb, Mize, John Reed, Robinson, Max von Roeder, William H. Wilson Jr. and Winston.

In his annual report to the stockholders, Schrader said the bank had an increase of 18 per cent in its deposits over a year ago and a 19 per cent increase in its capital accounts.

The economy of the Snyder area remains excellent, Schrader said. Industrial growth college enrollment and retail sales continue to increase, it was pointed out. Also, it was noted that substantial price increases for petroleum products, cotton and cattle have contributed greatly to the area's economy.

Schrader succeeded Mize as president of Snyder National Bank in 1969 when Mize devoted his attention to other banking interests, including tenure as president of the Exchange Bank in Dallas and as an executive of the Roscoe, Snyder and Pacific Railroad. He had continued to maintain his home in Snyder, however, and continued as a director of the bank here.

Schrader Going To Corpus Bank

E.W. Schrader, President of Snyder National Bank for the past five years, has purchased an interest in the First State Bank and Trust Co. of Corpus Christi and accepted the position of Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of that bank.

The announcement was made Thursday at the annual stockholders meeting of Snyder National Bank.

Snyder National Directors elected Roger B. Mize to return to the position of president of the bank here.

Schrader said he planned to assume his new duties at Corpus Christi in the near future.

Schrader, a native of Victoria, came here in 1969 from Edinburg. He began his banking career with First National Bank in Harlingen as a trainee in 1949 and had advanced to the position of vice president and loan officer when he resigned in 1957 to become chief executive officer of First State Bank and Trust Co. of Edinburg.

While he was in Edinburg, Schrader helped organize and served as chairman of the board and president of Hidalgo Savings and Loan Association. He also served as chairman of the board and president of the Elsa State Bank and helped organize the Merchant Marine Bank of Port Isabel which he served as a director for seven years. He still maintains interest in those institutions.

In Snyder he has served as president and director of Snyder National Bank and as a director and substantial owner of Snyder Savings and Loan Association.

He served as chairman of the board and president of the Urban Renewal Agency in Edinburg and was finance chairman for Hidalgo County during the Screwworm Eradication Drive. He also served as president of the Edinburg Chamber of Commerce and as president of Edinburg's Industrial Foundation.

He has served as president of the Scurry County Industrial Foundation and at present is president of the Snyder Country Club. Schrader was chairman of the Scurry County Democratic Party Convention in 1972 and was chairman of the county's delegation to the state Democratic Convention. He also has held positions of leadership in Boy Scouts of America and the United Fund.

Good Adverse Neutral

All he has to do is to pass the word

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 26-year-old single black man. I played pro football for a few years, have a degree in business management and a good job.

I am 6 foot 5 inches, weigh 240 pounds, and have been told I'm handsome. I neither smoke nor drink, am in excellent health, and work out in the gym three times a week. I'm a good dancer, own a late model car, and have no skeletons in my closet. I know many young ladies, but some of the married ones are too friendly, and a relationship with a married lady is not my thing, so that's out. All the single chicks I know have boy friends, and I am not the one to break up a romance, so that's out.

I'm clean, well-dressed, polite, and use the mouthwash people hate, but I can't seem to get a girl. Why?

WANTS COMPANIONSHIP

DEAR WANTS: You must be kidding! Pass the word to your friends, [married or single] that you are interested in meeting a nice chick—object companionship, and you'll need the Pittsburgh Steelers to run interference for you.

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible for a man to love two women at the same time?

NETTIE

DEAR NETTIE: Yes, but it would be very tiring.

DEAR ABBY: "Piggy Bank Peggy" wrote to you saying she cured her husband of using objectionable language by getting a piggy bank and making him put a quarter in it every time he used a swear word, and a dollar every time he used a really dirty word.

Seeing as how I had the same problem with my husband, I tried it. It didn't work. He got mad, used a swear word, and asked me for 75 cents change, saying he had a "dollar" word in mind but used a 25-cent word instead.

LITTLE OLD CHANGE-MAKER

CONFIDENTIAL TO ANYONE FOR WHOM IT IS NOT YET TOO LATE: Don't make the mistake so many parents [who can afford it] make—giving their children expensive gifts instead of time and thoughtful guidance. The only real security children will ever have in this life will come from whatever ability they develop to get along with each other and to make their own way, not from material things.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Police Wait To Change Policy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas law enforcement officers didn't appear ready to change routines despite a blockbuster ruling by Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill keeping police reports from public examination.

Most police administrators and sheriffs responding to a sampling by The Associated Press said they did not plan to change policies of making reports available to reporters.

Several, however, said they would withhold any final decision until they received an actual text of the ruling issued Wednesday.

Traditional procedures continued at most agency headquarters.

Agencies approached in various ways the problem of complying with the ruling should it hold up in subsequent days.

Police Chief John Wilkinson of Baytown said it is possible that he will be forced to issue news releases rather than allowing newsmen to see the actual crime reports written by investigators.

But Wilkinson added, "I think this thing will be resolved. It's a tempest in a teapot."

Ed Heath, director of the Dallas Police Department's liaison division, said Hill's ruling simply gave police an option. "The Dallas Police Department intends to continue its long-standing policy of making offense reports available," he said.

Spokesmen for the principal law enforcement agencies in Marshall said they will continue cooperating with newsmen.

Several like Police Chief Harold Wallace at Midland said they do not expect any changes in informing the public through newsmen but still were awaiting the text of the ruling.

Police Chief Emil Peters at San Antonio said he is asking the advice of the city attorney.

Nueces County Sheriff Johnnie Mitchell said at Corpus Christi that the way he reads the attorney general's ruling it allows continued access to the offense reports.

Corpus Christi Police Chief James Avant said that until he sees the attorney general's ruling, "We will follow the same procedure we have been following."

Testimony Excludes Statement

By JIM BARLOW
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP)—A lawyer for Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, one of the accused in the Houston mass murders, says testimony of a Pasadena ex-policemen has washed out prosecution plans to use one of 10 oral statements Henley gave to officers.

Will Gray, the attorney, was asked if the testimony of William Moore Thursday would cause the exclusion of a statement concerning a box allegedly used to transport bodies, Henley made to officers the day after he was arrested.

"I would think so," Gray said. Dist. Atty. Carol Vance refused to comment.

Moore's testimony came during the fourth day of a pretrial hearing for Henley, accused in six of the deaths of 27 youths. The present hearing is on the admisibility of statements Henley made to police before he saw a lawyer. State District Court Judge William Hatten has delayed ruling on all the statements until the end of the hearing, probably late next week.

Gray said he plans to put Henley on the stand next week to testify about his mental condition when he gave the statements to police.

Vance has told the court the state plans to use 10 oral statements and a written confession in Henley's trial for the death of Charles Cobble, 17. The trial is now scheduled to start after the pretrial hearing. However Gray has said will ask for a six-month delay of the trial itself after the hearing is over.

Wednesday Vance said he will introduce into evidence a large wooden box found at the Pasadena home of Dean Corll, 33, the man police said was the mastermind of the homosexual torture-murder ring. Henley was first arrested last Aug. 8 after he telephoned police and told them he shot and killed Corll. The shooting was later ruled self defense.

The next day, on Aug. 9, Henley gave a written statement to officers, and he and another defendant in the case, David Owen Brooks, 18, led officers to 17 bodies buried in a Houston boat shed, four in East Texas near San Augustine and six on a Gulf of Mexico beach at High Island, Tex.

David Mullican and Sidney Smith Pasadena detectives, testified that it was on the trip to San Augustine on the afternoon of Aug. 9 that Henley told them about the box.

Smith told the court, "I asked Henley what would have happened if the Highway Patrol had stopped them while they were carrying a body to San Augustine.

"He said they wouldn't have seen anything but a box. Dean had a box he called the "body box" he used to transport bodies in the back of a van truck Corll owned.

Lt. Edwin L. Goad, supervisor of detectives in the Pasadena police department, today backed up Moore's statement about the box.

"There was an outbuilding outside the house and I went inside and found a plywood box. I took it out and checked inside, then ordered it loaded into a pickup truck and taken to a police department," Goad said.

Gray asked him why he had done so.

"I wanted it to be checked by the Houston crime lab for evidence.

Resolution Made To Clothe Topless

CHICAGO (AP) — Alderman Edward Burke has introduced a resolution that would require topless manicurists and shoeshine girls to put on their clothes.

There are places in the city where customers can get shoe shines and manicures from topless women for up to $11.

CONTEST WINNER—Miss Amber Walker (second from right) received a plaque and two $100 bonds as local and District 8 winner of the Voice of Democracy radio script writing contest, sponsored by Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 8231, and its Ladies Auxiliary. They were presented to her last night at a dinner held at Carlos' Little Mexico Cafe. Offering congratulations are, from left to right, Mrs. Nick Timora, representing District 8, VFW; Mrs. Weldon Brooks, VOD chairman for VFW Post 8231 Auxiliary; and, Joe Dupuy, VOD chairman for VFW Post 8231.

Delegates Wait On Citizens

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Constitutional Convention appeared to be running out of witnesses today but still made plans for night and Saturday sessions to hear from ordinary Texans.

Several of the eight committees either cancelled morning meetings or heard briefly from their staffs.

A law professor who said he was just representing himself, however, told the Finance Committee that one of the principal problems of property taxation "is the general hostility of the Texas court system to give the taxpayer a fair shake."

Mark Yudof added that the "rule of the judiciary is that the taxpayer always loses, and when he wins he doesn't win very much."

Even if a court rules that a taxpayer has had to pay too much, Yudof said, "it never tells the assessor-collector 'you're doing it wrong.'"

Legislator-delegates said Thursday they were concerned that no one might appear for the special hearings for those whose jobs or household duties tied them down during the week. They were on the lookout for a witness—any witness.

Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, scheduled a Thursday afternoon meeting of the committee on rights and suffrage on the basis of a second-hand report that a "real live citizen" had called his office wanting to testify.

The witness, whose name Schwartz did not know, failed to show up, and committee members drifted off.

One of the bonds was presented to her by Mrs. Weldon Brooks, chairman of the local Voice of Democracy radio script writing contest for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 8231 Auxiliary. The other one was presented by Mrs. Nick Timora, representing District 8 of the VFW. Amber was the winner of both the local and district contests.

Others present for the occasion were Jerry Worsham, Amber's teacher from Snyder High School; Joe Dupuy, chairman of the VOD contest for Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 8231, Ken Minyard, commander of VFW Post 8231, Mrs. Minyard, Weldon Brooks, Mrs. Dupuy, Bob Clifton and and Mrs. Buck Sitton.

Judges of the contest were Mr. and Mrs. George Chenoweth. Certificates of appreciation were presented to the Snyder Daily News, Radio Station KSNY and Snyder High School. Miss Walker also received a plaque.

She will compete in the state contest to be held Jan. 19 in San Antonio. The state winner will receive a $1,000 scholarship and an all-expenses paid trip to the national national contest in Washington, D.C. Winner of the national contest will receive $10,000. VFW Posts and Auxiliaries across the country are giving over $100,000 in scholarships to students who participated in this year's Voice of Democracy radio script writing contest.

County Court Pleas Heard

Several guilty pleas were entered in county court yesterday.

Roy Campbell Franklin, Pedro V. Martinez, James Vnoid Hall, Jose Carillo Robles and Florencio Lopez Valadez all pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated. Franklin and Martinez each received a $100 fine plus court costs and a 30-day jail term.

Norris Williams pleaded guilty to two counts of possession of liquor for sale in a dry area. On each count, he received a $500 fine plus court costs and a 90-day jail term. He was arrested Nov. 24 and Dec. 1 by Sheriff's Authorities.

Franklin, Martinez, Hall and Valadez were arrested by City Police. Robles was arrested by Highway Patrolmen.

IN SAIGON DEATH

Wife Of US Official Held

By TAD BARTIMUS
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The American wife of a United States government official drove her car through a crowd of angry demonstrators outside the U.S. commissary today, killing a Vietnamese man and injuring a Vietnamese woman, U.S. Embassy officials said.

Eyewitnesses said the woman tried to drive through a picket line out of the commissary compound in suburban Newport. She apparently panicked when the demonstrators stoned her car and jumped on it, they said.

American officials said the woman was Billie A. Stewart of Takoma Park, Md., wife of William Stewart, an accountant with the U.S. Agency for International Development.

South Vietnamese police took Mrs. Stewart into custody, and an Embassy official accompanied her as counsel. U.S. authorities said she would probably be granted diplomatic immunity.

Sources said the Vietnamese were demonstrating against a cut in their pay. They said the demonstrators massed before the main gate of the Newport commissary shortly before noon and blocked traffic. About 150 customers were inside.

The sources said the American woman first tried to inch her car through the crowd.

"The crowd became angered and started beating on her car," one source said. "She panicked and ran over a couple of them."

The sources said the South Vietnamese police fired into the air during the disturbance.

The demonstrators kept the shoppers penned up in the commissary compound for three hours while South Vietnamese police and troops and officials of the U.S. Embassy talked to them.

The crowd dispersed peacefully late in the afternoon, and the Americans drove out while the armed police and troops stood guard on each side of the road.

One of the demonstrators, 29-year-old Frenchman Albert Rene Blasius, said the woman driver and a companion had tried earlier to drive out of the commissary compound but found their way blocked.

Party Hit By Robber

An armed robber took between $4,000 and $5,000 at gunpoint from several persons who were having a party at the Beacon Lodge Wednesday night.

Sheriff's Authorities said the party involved several persons from area towns. The robber stuck a shotgun and pistol through an open window at the room where the party was held about 11 p.m. Wednesday, officers said. He told the people inside to sack up their money and hand it to him.

Sheriff's Authorities said the robber was wearing a ski mask. He escaped in a car. The theft wasn't reported until 11 a.m. Thursday.

Guilty Verdict Is Returned

A Scurry County jury rendered a verdict of guilty yesterday afternoon in the trial of Jack Cooper, who was charged with fraudulent sale of unregistered securities.

The jury brought in the verdict about 4 p.m. Thursday after deliberating for one hour and 45 minutes. Wayland Holt, presiding judge of the 132nd District Court, will assess the punishment today.

The case was prosecuted by District Attorney Pete Greene. Attorney James P. Neill, Jr. of Irving represented the defendant. Trial began Monday.

Baptists To Report On BSU Drive

A report on a drive to raise funds for a Baptist Student Union Building at Western Texas College will be made Sunday afternoon at a meeting scheduled at First Baptist Church in Snyder.

Southern Baptist Churches of the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association are in the process of raising $125,000 to construct the BSU building on the WTC campus.

Members of the finance committee, building committee and pastors of the churches are to attend the progress report session, which will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the college Building of First Baptist Church.

Moorer Admits Spying

By MIKE SHANAHAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, today acknowledged receiving some illicitly obtained documents from Henry A. Kissinger's National Security Council office.

But the admiral said he never closed off the irregular channel of information because everything he received was duplicated through normal contacts with the White House.

Moorer appeared on NBC's Today Show, making his first personal response to reports that the Joint Chiefs of Staff in 1971 had been spying upon the secret diplomatic moves of Kissinger, then President Nixon's national security advisor and now Secretary of State.

Women Talk Less And Doing More

By EVE SHARBUTT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Women are talking less and doing more about their own liberation, according to two feminist authors.

Susan Rennie and Kirsten Grimstad traveled 12,000 miles in less than three months compiling data about women's projects into "The New Woman's Survival Catalog." They call it a "woman-made" book because they, along with two associates, wrote, photographed illustrations, designed, typeset and pasted up the 223-page soft cover catalog.

"There's a tremendous ripple effect of the women's movement, a clicking happening all over in women's heads," said Ms. Grimstad. "Women from all backgrounds are focusing on their specific areas of agreement and working together, even if they deny being feminists."

The writers found women forming law firms and legal clinics; establishing businesses; running printing presses; starting credit unions, banks, art galleries and child care centers. They documented many of these activities for people who want to learn how to follow suit.

"Aside from providing an overall picture of interest for any woman from Boise to New Orleans, it offers tips on starting it yourself," added Ms. Rennie.

Genesis of the book was an interdisciplinary bibliography of women's studies which Ms. Grimstad was doing at the Barnard College Women's Center. She found that, to be consistent with her own values, she had to include activist projects along with established books. She sent thousands of questionnaires to women's organizations across the country, and was amazed by the replies.

Ms. Rennie was helping her proofread the bibliography, and was impressed with the tremendous energy that had spun off from what she termed movement rhetoric.

"So many people in New York at the time were saying that the women's movement was dying," Ms. Rennie added. "We'd say, 'Well, what do you mean? Do you know what's happening in Iowa or in California?' There was just no communication.

"We were deeply impressed with the activist projects that spun off from theoretical positions that were strong in New York. It is one of the healthiest phases of the movement."

Ms. Grimstad says women are integrating new feminist values into their lives along with new interests.

"It's a long, slow phase where women are getting it together. The self-help movement is incredible. And as more women get involved, oppression becomes clearer to them, and more realize what the feminist movement is and how important it is to them," Ms. Rennie added.

Susan Rennie, a native of South Africa, came to Barnard College on scholarship in 1958 and stayed.

"My mother said she knew once she saw me off on the boat that I'd stay," she recalled. "But that wasn't my first trip. When I was 14 or so, I wrote a letter to the mayor of New York, suggesting myself as an exchange student. He passed it along to the American Field Service and English Speaking Union, who wrote that they had no exchange programs with South Africa. But two years later there was an essay competition titled "The World We Want." I wrote and wrote and won, and visited New York then."

She has a doctorate in political science and was assistant professor at Columbia University, as well as the first woman appointed assistant vice president for academic affairs. She plans to join the faculty of the State University of New York at Purchase.

Kirsten Grimstad is a midwesterner who also attended Barnard, although she did not meet Ms. Rennie there. She has been a preceptor in Germanic languages at Columbia for four years, and has changed her dissertation to reflect a more feminist perspective.

Among chapters dealing with art, self-health, learning, work and money, the women agree that their favorite part of their book is the self-defense section.

"It is the issue that is most important to us personally, and the fastest growing women's issue in the country," added Ms. Rennie. "Rape rates are up catastrophically, and it appears unlikely that it is just an increase in reporting.

"The whole level of street violence is increasing along with rape and assault. Women interviewed around the country told us that men resent women's independence. In fact, two men went to a rape conference in one city and told women that rapes were increasing because 'women are so uppity these days!'" Ms. Rennie added.

The authors add that women should know basic self-defense tactics so that they can use good judgment in dangerous situations, not to harm anyone, but to get away.

"A scream, for example, can do many things. It might frighten an attacker away. It certainly helps get adrenalin going so you have energy to run away yourself. A study done on the West Coast found that women who scream can get away about 90 per cent of the time," Ms. Grimstad said.

The authors would like to devote all of their time to feminist projects, but have found, they say, that it is not financially feasible.

"We have enough material for another edition," Ms. Grimstad added. "We're gambling we'll have a chance to cover some of the areas we missed the first time around."

Make Entertaining Easy With Lemon Pie

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The custom of inviting friends to come early in the evening "for dessert and coffee" instead of for dinner started, as far as we can tell, about 40 years ago in the wake of the depression. Now because of the high cost of food and our increasingly busy lives, "Come for dessert and coffee at 8:30" is blossoming again. And nowadays — depending on budgets and serving habits — brandy or liqueur is sometimes offered after the dessert.

If you plan such a dessert party you may want to consider serving Lemon Meringue. It is moderate in cost and makes eight servings. It relieves the hostess of last-minute pressure because it calls for chilling from several hours to overnight. This stay in the refriggerator not only sets the filling but mellows the meringue.

If you're already acquainted with Lemon Angel Pie, don't expect Lemon Merinque to be the same although both desserts have a meringue shell and a lemon filling. The Lemon Meringue filling is thickened with both egg yolks and constarch and has a firm texture; the Lemon Angel Pie filling is thickened entirely with egg yolks and has a much softer texture.

LEMON MERINGUE

3 eggs whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
2-3rds cup sugar
Lemon Filling, see below

Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until soft peaks that tilt over slightly when beater is slowly withdrawn form. Gradually beat in sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time; continue beating, if necessary, until mixture is thick and glossy and stiff straight peaks form when beater is slowly withdrawn. Spread in a buttered 9-inch pie plate making a slight depression in the center. Bake in a preheated 275-degree oven for 1 hour; turn off oven and let meringue cool in closed oven for 1 additional hour. Remove to wire rack and let cool completely. Make Lemon Filling; turn into meringue shell. Chill several hours or overnight before serving. Makes 8 servings.

LEMON FILLING

1½ cups sugar
6 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup freshly squeezed lemon juice
3 egg yolks
½ cup cold water
2 tablespoons butter
1½ cups boiling water
1 teaspoon freshly grated lemon rind
1 container (8 ounces) heavy cream

In a 2-quart saucepan thoroughly stir together the sugar and constarch; stir in lemon juice. In a small mixing bowl beat egg yolks and cold water until blended; gradually stir into cornstarch mixture, keeping smooth. Add butter. Gradually stir in boiling water, keeping smooth. Cook over moderate heat, stirring gently but constantly, until mixture comes to a full boil; reduce heat and gently boil for 1 minute. Remove from heat and stir in lemon rind. Cover and cool until just warm to the touch. In a medium mixing bowl beat cream until stiff; fold lemon mixture into cream.

Committee Formed

Responsibilities of an Advisory Committee for the Retired Service Volunteer Program (RSVP) were outlined at a meeting of RSVP members held recently.

Thirteen members were named to the committee, and the third Wednesday of each month was selected as the meeting date.

The Committee will advise the RSVP director, Mrs. Betsy Ann Duncan, in all phases of RSVP activities. Part of their work will be to help promote understanding of RSVP services and opportunities by meeting with community organizations.

The Committee is also to help plan an annual recognition program and luncheon for individuals and organizations participating in RSVP. A written evaluation of RSVP activities is to be prepared by the Committee.

Persons over 60 years of age who would like to work as volunteers with RSVP are invited to call Mrs. Duncan at Western Texas College or to contact members of the Advisory Committee. Volunteer workers are needed for various community activities and new members may enroll at any time.

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

Two new vegetables, one providing the small garden family with a "keeper" squash, and six new flowers have won All-America Awards for 1974.

Bush Acorn Squash, Table King, earned a silver medal for the size of the dark, green fruit and the compact bushy habit of the plants. It was developed by the University of Connecticut. There are other varieties of bush acorn squash but the fruit has been small. Table King not only is larger, but it is earlier yielding, has fine flavor and a small seed cavity.

The other honored vegetable is Wax Bean Goldcrop, a bronze medal winner with long, slender, crisp pods. The pods grow high on the outside of strong upright plants, making them easy to harvest. The pods are round, smooth and straight, maturing in 60-65 days.

Goldcrop is recommended for freezing and for eating freshly cooked.

Flower Winners

The winning flowers are a bright lot — two hybrid zinnias, a dwarf triploid hybrid marigold, a plumed celosia, hybrid dianthus mixture and an eye-catching cosmos.

Cosmos Diablo, a gold medal winner, took our fancy in a trial planting in our yard. It blooms profusely, reaches about three feet tall, has an upright branching habit and filled the garden with color until frost. It is red-orange, with flowers about two inches across. For best results, sow it directly into the garden after danger of frost.

A gold medal winner is Zinnia Scarlet Ruffles, with fully double blooms on long stems, good for cutting. The flowers are not very large but the plants are strong and branching, blooming from early summer to frost. The plants are about two feet tall. They prefer a sunny spot.

Zinnia Peter Pan Orange, a bronze medal winner, has flowers up to four inches across. It joins Peter Pans Pink, Plum and Scarlet. First flowers appear when the plants are only six inches tall.

Celosia Red Fox is easy to grow, sown directly into the garden after frost danger. An All-America bronze medal winner, red Fox has bright plumes and fresh, green foliage — a fine contrast. The semidwarf plant grows two feet tall.

Dianthus Magic Charms, a bronze medal winner, is the first hybrid dianthus mixture. Scarlet, crimson, white, pink, salmon and speckled bicolor crimson-white and salmon-white, the flower petals are serrated. In most places the plants will winter over. It is an annual, however, and will grow easily from seed sown directly into warm soil.

Finally there is marigold Showboat, the first flower to win awards in All-American, All-Britain and Fleuroselect (European) flower trials. Triploid hybrid marigolds are crosses between tall American or African marigolds and dwarf French. They bloomed profusely for us for a long season. The yellow flowers are 2½ inches across, appearing about five weeks after seeding. They provide a mass of color as a border. We started them indoors and moved them into the sun.

Hot cling peach halves topped with a spoonful of ice cream is a simple dessert that can grace the most elegant dinner.

Mrs. Choate Offers Sewing Tips

"Making Men's Wear" is the topic of short course being offered for local people by the County Extension Service.

Wednesday, Jan. 16, the program was on making men's slacks. Mrs. Janis Choate, Mitchell County Extension agent who is teaching the short course gave pointers on how to fit your pattern, putting the the zipper fly, making welt pockets annd other steps of making slacks.

"Choose stable knits for men's wear for best results" Mrs. Choate said. "Stretchy knits can be used but you will have more problems."

Mrs. Choate showed the "windowpane" method of putting in welt pockets, and recommended soft, firmly woven fabric for pockets. She recommended cutting the piece of fabric for the hip pocket long enough to fasten into the waist band to prevent hip pockets from sagging when the billfold is carried in it.

She will be presenting a program on making men's jackets next Wednesday January 23 in the Community room of the West Texas Bank at 2 p.m.

The public is most cordially invited. Pre-registration helps to insure having enough chairs. To preregister, fill out a slip in most fabric stores or call Miss Ruby Butts, county extension agent. 573-3282.

ROCKETS' RED GLARE: 1974

Realists No Longer Feel Inflation Is Temporary

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you really believe that the fight against inflation will be completely successful? Or do you think the best that can be expected is a moderately successful holding action?

Ever since the mid-1960s, when a decade of relatively stable prices ended in the United States, the popular notion has been that the inflation is temporary, an economic disease that erupts now and then and must be quelled.

One or 2 per cent inflation a year generally has been considered inevitable, and therefore acceptable, but 3 or 4 per cent or more has long been considered a threat to economic progress.

But events of the past eight years or so have changed many minds. The malady has persisted for so long a time, and has seemingly become so immune to government efforts, that realists now consider it chronic rather than temporary.

The evidence is difficult to ignore. Every major industrial nation, and most other nations too, suffer from inflation in the range of 6 to 15 per cent, and there is little indication any of them know how to reduce it appreciably.

In the United States, the rate of increase in consumer prices was more than 8 per cent last year, compared with less than half that in 1972. And relatively few economists expect it to drop much, if any, in 1974.

All these nations are embarked on programs to upgrade their living conditions, and therein lies an explanation for the persistence, and the current worsening, of inflation.

Leaders of any country exposed to modern concepts now attempt to drive their economies to their absolute potential, and in doing so they often encourage demand far beyond their capacity to produce.

Eager to share in the material benefits of expansion, all these economies battle for a limited amount of the world's raw materials, for its food and energy and commodities.

This situation has produced some of the most amazing shifts of power and position that a political economist of 1945 could have imagined, such as the rise of Japan, U.S.-U.S.S.R. trade agreements, the emergence of Brazil as an economic power, the dependence of the developed world on those nations once pitied for their backwardness.

The latter is exemplified by the new-found power of the Arab nations, which fully realize the dependence of the world's most advanced economies on the energy beneath their Mideast deserts.

And as the industrialized economies of the world compete for raw materials to fuel and supply their factories and feed their populations, prices rise. Moreover, short of a worldwide depression, they are likely to continue rising.

Recognizing these trends, life insurance companies which once had a firm and unified position against inflation are now incorporating flexible yields into some of their policies.

The nation's accountants are studying proposals to prepare corporate reports in both fixed and current dollars because inflation has wrought such big changes in the values of numbers.

If you continue to believe that inflation is temporary you are probably an individual blessed with a big share of faith. Some of the most ardent believers have lost theirs.

Lady Wins Lottery

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hazel Johnston was under doctor's orders to take it easier. Then she found out she had won $1 million in the New Jersey State Lottery.

"I got home Monday after spending a week in the hospital. I'm shaking like a leaf. I just can't believe it," she said Wednesday after learning of her windfall.

Her husband Derril is the head of a contracting company.

Boyle's Desk Is Revealing

Editor's Note: During a recent illness of columnist Hal Boyle, a friend, who believes in keeping America beautiful, made a volunteer, one-woman crusade to clean up his desk, which has been described as "the greatest 18-square-foot mess of clutter in the Western world." Here are her conclusions.

By HELEN CAMP PALMER

NEW YORK (AP) — Things you'd never know unless you offered to do the impossible — clean Hal Boyle's desk:

That a man can be so gregarious with people in person, and so ungregarious with correspondence.

That Hal Boyle, in good journalistic tradition, favors motherhood and God, but gets better reader reaction when he writes about the former.

That in November 1963 Hal wrote in a column: "There's a lot of talk about landing a man on the moon by 1970. But I'm willing to eat the helmet of any man who gets to the moon and back by 1975." His public still sends requests to attend the banquet.

That he gets as many kindly offers from kindly ladies as most movie stars and probably collects almost as many prayers as a parish priest. His best offer was from a lady who said if he was "already promised" she'd take Lady Dottie, his daughter's cat. When he wrote about the trials of widowerhood, widows responded, naming particularly the chores of taking care of the family car. That lets Hal out. He never owned or drove a car.

That he is a sentimental slob and that the real reason he doesn't open his mail is that he is afraid people will write him about problems he can't help them solve.

That almost everyone writes: "Dear Hal. I call you Hal because I feel I know you so well from reading your column ..." That a cult of Pennsylvania women threaten never to write him again if he doesn't answer the letters they've been writing for five years.

That when you get down to the green top of the desk, you find a philosophical memo from Hal Boyle to Hal Boyle that says: "A clean desk is the sign of a frightened mind."

That among the readers who write to him are a great many very nice people, a few nasty ones, and an enormous number of lonely ones.

That he truly means to read all the letters, books and press releases he gets. That's why when office windowsills have to be painted, he moves his windowsill collection into cartons, and why coworkers build cardboard fences between his desk and theirs. One sign, rising slightly over the Himalayan hurup of Boyle's mail, reads simply: "Boyle Stops Here."

St. John's, Nfld., is one of the oldest cities in North America. It was discovered in 1497.

Junior Editors' Quiz on VULTURES

QUESTION: What can you tell me about vultures?

ANSWER: Vultures are large birds of prey found chiefly in Asia, Africa, Europe and America. There are six species of vultures that live in North and South America. These birds have long, broad wings, feebly hooked bills and feet with weak talons. The heads and necks of vultures are usually bare of feathers. Although they have wide nostrils, they possess a weak sense of smell. They have strong eyesight and can spot dead animals from great distances.

Vultures are ugly in appearance. Although they look clumsy and hunch-backed when perched, once in the air they are master gliders and have a graceful, soaring flight. They are gregarious and travel in flocks. The California condor and the condor of the Andes are exceeded in wingspread only by the wandering albatross and are among the greatest of flying birds. The turkey vulture, frequently seen in New England, lives in the southern United States and northern Mexico. It is called the turkey buzzard.

Westerners Shoot Down N. M. Military, 91-66

The Western Texas College Westerners flailed New Mexico Military Institute 91-66 here last night to boost their Western Junior College Athletic Conference record to 4-2. For the season, WTC is 13-4.

"We killed them on the boards," declared WTC Coach Mike Mitchell. "We controlled the boards on both ends of the court," he said.

The Westerners collected a season high 68 rebounds during the contest, led by Eugene Harris with 20. Harold Ward grabbed 12, and Norman Barnes had 10. The previous high was in the Blinn game when the Westerners collected 54 rebounds.

NMMI was ahead early in the game, but the Westerners soon took over and began to dominate play. They led by as much as 12 in the first half, but ended the half with only a nine poiunt lead, 41-32. They blew it open in the second half, leading by as much as 28 points. None of the WTC starters saw action in the final eight minutes.

"We used a man-to-man press in the first half and switched to a 2-1-2 zone in the second half," pointed out Coach Mitchell.

The Westerners hit a respectable 53 per cent from the floor, sinking 40 of 75 shots. However, at the line they only put in 11 of 25 for 44 per cent. Five Westerners were in double figures, led by Harold Ward with 16 points. Eugene Harris roped 14 points, Ken Fowler and Norman Barnes meshed 12 each, and Danny McDaniel put in 11.

For NMMI, Dave Otereo, Robert Smith and Robert Blue were high point men with 16, 11 and 10 points respectively.

The Westerners take on league-leading Howard College in Big Spring Monday night. The Hawks are 23-2 for the season and 6-0 in conference. They are riding a 16 game winning streak.

The Hawks were pre-season favorites to win the championship.

Travis 8th Triumphs

Travis Junior High School split a couple of basketball tilts with Lamesa here last night with the 8th grade winning 57-40 and the 9th grade losing 77-43.

Lamesa took a 12-9 lead in the first quarter of the 8th grade game, but fell behind, 26-24, at halftime. Travis 8th still led, 37-35, after three frames. Charles Cobb and Richard Willis led Travis 8th with 18 points apiece. Willis hit 10 of 11 free throws. Lucious Jeffery netted 12 points, and Tony Cobb meshed nine. For Lamesa 8th, McCurley and Martinez were high point men with 13 and 11 points respectively.

Lamesa took an 18-6 lead in the first period of the 9th grade game and easily breezed to victory. Four Lamesa lads hit in double figures. Blake roped 17 points, Spencer posted 14, Castillo pumped in 14, and Price netted 12. For Travis, Darrell Lester and Sam Kitching were high point men with 12 and 10 points respectively.

Travis 8th will meet Madison Junior High at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the Abilene High School gym in the first round of a tournament.

AT LUBBOCK
District Action Begins Tonight

Snyder's Tigers will be a slight favorite to upend Lubbock High at 7:30 tonight in the opening District 4-AAAA basketball tilt for both teams. The program begins at 4 p.m. with a clash between the sophomore teams of both schools, followed by a 5:45 p.m. junior varsity tilt.

Snyder has the better record with seven wins in 14 outings. The Westerners are 5-17 for the season and will be trying to break an 8-game losing streak.

Leading Coach Glen Hallum's squad will be Eric Felton, who is averaging 25 points per game. He will be joined by four of the following seven lads: Kelton Barnett, Billy Duffy, Danny Marrujo, Jesse Mojica, Danny Rogers, Chuck Harjes and Ricky Merritt.

Coach Bob Moore of the Tigers said he expects a "physical game" at Lubbock. He said he will use the triple post attack again, trying to score from inside.

Probable starters for the Tigers include post men Roy Lee Carter, 6-2 junior; Larry Johns, 6-2 junior, and Welton Cobb, 6-2 junior. Tim Jones, 5-8 senior, and Chester Cobb, 5-11 sophomore, will be at guard.

Others ready for service include Robert Alderete, 5-9 sophomore; Randy Gressett, 6-2 sophomore; Greg Gafford, 5-11 junior; Sid Perry, 5-11 junior; Greg Gary, 6-4 junior; Willie Tippens, 5-8 junior; Eric Schrader, 6-2 junior; and, Danny Brumley, 5-10 junior.

Lubbock Coronado is favored to win the district crown with Lubbock Monterey as runnerup. Hereford is considered the dark horse of the district. In other opening loop games tonight, Coronado travels to Plainview, and Monterey hosts Hereford.

Lamar 8th Wins, 9th Grade Loses

Lamar Junior High split a couple of basketball tilts here last night with the 8th grade beating Goliad 51-29 and the 9th grade losing, 65-63, in overtime to the Brahmas.

Lamar 8th outscored Goliad in each of the first three quarters and coasted to victory. Randy Courtney was high point man for Lamar with 25 points while Tracey Witherspoon and Clay Peterson each put in 10. For Goliad, Thompson was high point man with only seven points.

Lamar 9th took a 19-12 lead in the first period, but fell behind 25-32 at halftime. Lamar regained the lead, 49-44 after three frames, and the regulation game ended in a 61-61 tie. The Brahmas scored four points in overtime compared with two for Lamar.

Stribling, Arencibia and Kimble were the leading scorers for the Brahmas with 18, 16 and 10 points respectively. For Lamar 9th, Danny McCormack roped 18 points and Kerry Young posted 17.

GOLIAD (29)—Wilden 1-0-2; Thompson 3-1-7; Latia 1-1-3; Dunbar 2-0-4; Poss 0-1-1; Sharp 0-1-1; Vasquez 1-1-3; Mann 1-0-2; Ford 1-0-2; Worsham 1-2-4; totals 11-7-29.

Billie Jean Wins Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I couldn't do a thing with my serve," said Billie Jean King and slammed her fist into the wall outside the locker room.

"But I know what I was doing wrong. I was rushing into it," added the queen of women's tennis after beating Wendy Overton 6-4, 6-1 Thursday night in the quarter-finals of the women's $50,000 San Francisco Pro Tennis Tournament.

She planned a few hours of practice today to prepare for the semifinal match against Nancy Richey Gunter, seeded fourth, tonight. The biggest money winner in the history of women's tennis has lost none of her enthusiasm.

"I'm ready this year, physically and mentally. My attitude is much better," she explained.

The less demonstrative Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., whose goal is to unseat Ms. King as the world's No. 1-ranked woman player, will face Kerry Melville of Australia.

Hawks Rip Blazers

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

Atlanta Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons figures beating the Portland Trail Blazers was like stepping "over a little bit of a hill," and with composure, the mountain will be scaled, too.

Pete Maravich scored the first bucket of the game, and the Hawks never trailed in a 126-99 drubbing of the Blazers in a National Basketball Association game Thursday night. The victory snapped a five-game Atlanta losing streak.

"We'll try to climb a mountain tomorrow when we play Boston," Fitzsimmons said after the victory. "If we repeat tonight's performance, don't panic and are able to control the tempo of the game, we should be able to beat the Celtics."

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Capital Bullets breezed by the Cleveland Cavaliers 101-86, and the Golden State Warriors beat the Phoenix Suns 127-120.

In the American Basketball Association, the Memphis Tams defeated the Indiana Pacers 101-96, and the San Antonio Spurs beat the San Diego Conquistadors 101-97.

Maravich scored 34 points in the game. Portland played the game without starting center Rick Roberson who has bronchitis. In the second half, the Blazers also were without the services of Geoff Petrie who sprained an ankle.

Bullets 101, Cavs 86

Wes Unseld returned to the Capital lineup Thursday after being sidelined by arthritic knees to score 13 points and grab 17 rebounds on the way to the victory over Cleveland.

Warriors 127, Suns 120

Rick Barry scored 44 points — 22 in each half — to pace Golden State.

Tams 101, Pacers 96

Two centers, Randy Denton and Lee Davis, combined for 39 points for Memphis and the Tams escaped a 73-73 tie to take a 97-86 lead with two minutes remaining. Denton scored 21 points and Davis came off the bench to add 18.

Spurs 101, Q's 97

William "Bird" Averitt scored 35 points and guard James Silas added 30 to lead the Spurs. San Antonio led most of the game and never trailed in the second half. Dwight Lamar, who had 14 of his 21 points in the fourth quarter, tied the game for San Diego at 91-91 with 2:57 to play.

Howard Cosell Is Threatened

BUFFALO (AP) — An unemployed steelworker from nearby Lackawanna has been arrested on federal extortion charges and accused of threatening to blow up sportscaster Howard Cosell.

Marian G. Batko, 27, also known as Michael Batko, was arraigned Thursday before U.S. Magistrate Edmund F. Maxwell, who released him on $500 bond pending a preliminary hearing Feb. 5.

FBI agents said in an affidavit filed in U.S. District Court here that Batko mailed a postcard to Cosell with the threat written on it.

The postcard message read, "Howard Cosell — The Mouth. Why don't you drop dead ... I'll help you. There's a bomb in the Rich Stadium. It will blow you up at 10 Monday, Oct. 29 at Rich Stadium, Buffalo, N.Y."

The unsigned postcard was turned over to FBI agents, who traced it to Batko through handwriting analysis.

Johnny Miller Fires 10-Under 62 At Tucson

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "Ridiculous."

Johnny Miller had a big, broad smile stretched across his usually-expressionless face as he shook his head and repeated:

"Ridiculous. I'm playing so good it's ridiculous.

"I know it won't keep up. No one can keep on going like this — but right now the game seems awfully easy."

Miller, the current U.S. open title-holder and the only champion the pro golf tour has had this season, made it look easy Thursday as he casually ambled home with an eye-popping, 10-under-par 62 in the first round of the $150,000 Dean Martin Tucson Open.

Miller, who swept the first two titles on the pro tour this season, established a whopping, four-stroke lead in his bid to become the first man since Arnold Palmer in 1962 to win three consecutive American tournaments.

"I don't mean to sound cocky or anything like that," Miller said, "but if I use my head, don't start making mental mistakes, I don't think anybody can beat me this week.

"I'm 10 under par now. I don't see any reason I can't finish 15 under. And I think 15 under will win it."

Jerry Heard, a close friend of Johnny's, and Allen Miller, no relation, had 66 on the 7,305 yard Tucson National golf club course, six-under-par but a distant four strokes back in the chase for a $30,000 first prize.

Gary Sanders followed at 67 while the group at 68 included Orville Moody, Gibby Gilbert, Kermit Zarley, George Johnson and Roy Pace.

Rookie Ben Crenshaw had a 70 while defending champion Bruce Crampton of Australia and Lee Trevino were 11 strokes back with 73s. Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Tom Weiskopf are not playing.

Miller needed only 25 putts, missed only two greens and was within 20 feet of the flag on 14 holes. He had 11 birdies, missed an eagle when a chip shot stopped two inches short of the cup and took a single bogey.

It set a course record, kept alive his record of going under par in every competitive round this year, was the best score on the tour this year and matched the best shot all last season.

Snyder JV Wins Tilt

SEMINOLE—The Snyder High School junior varsity basketball team defeated Midland's JV 68-58 in the first round of a tournament here last night.

Midland led, 18-17, after one quarter, and 35-31 at halftime. Snyder went ahead, 50-49, after three frames and outscored Midland 18-9 in the last quarter. Three Snyder boys were in double figures, led by Danny Brumley, who sank 26 points. Greg Gafford roped 15, and Kelly Ragland pumped in 12. For Midland, M. Rice, Menefield and Hurst were high point men with 17, 12 and 11 points respectively.

The Snyder JV will be at Lubbock High tonight, then meet Lamesa at 1:15 p.m. Saturday in the second round of the Seminole Tournament.

Holtz Will Be Honored

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The Upper Ohio Valley Dapper Dan Club will honor Lou Holtz, North Carolina State football coach, as Man of the Year.

Holtz will be honored at an awards banquet Sunday, Jan. 20.

Among those who will take part in the ceremonies are Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes, Holtz' former boss, OSU All-American tackle John Hicks, American League umpire Larry Barnett and West Virginia University Coach Bobby Bowden.

FRIARS MAKE GREAT RALLY, WIN 77-76

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

"It was unbelievable," said Providence basketball Coach Dave Gavitt.

But seeing is believing — and Gavitt had just seen his seventh-ranked Friars come back from a 10-point deficit in the last 2½ minutes to beat Massachusetts 77-76 Thursday night.

"They didn't win it," snapped Massachusetts Coach Jack Lehman. "We lost it."

Even after the Redmen blew their big lead, they had a chance to win it, but didn't. They moved ahead 76-73, but missed the front end of a 1-and-1 foul situation.

And foul-plagued Providence was playing with a freshman and two sophomores at the end.

"To come back the way we did, with the kids we had playing, was just fantastic," said Gavitt, overflowing with superlatives.

Kevin Stacom's 18-foot jump shot with six seconds remaining gave the Friars their winning points, capping the drama-packed rally.

Elsewhere, No. 1 UCLA beat Iowa 68-44; No. 3 North Carolina State ripped Virginia 90-70 and fourth-ranked Maryland crushed Fordham 112-73.

Winning 71-61, Massachusetts buckled under a full-court press by Providence. The Friars went ahead 72-71 and then 73-72. But the Redmen, who had won their first nine games, scored four straight points and regained the lead at 76-73.

Freshman Bob Cooper then scored off a rebound for Providence and Stacom, who had been shooting poorly all night, made up for it with his game-winner.

UCLA's Bruins overcame a sluggish first half and beat Iowa for their 88th straight victory. The Bruins played without star Bill Walton. The UCLA center is recuperating from a back injury and the Bruins apparently wanted to save him for Saturday's big game with second-ranked Notre Dame.

Although they were never able to take the lead, the Hawkeyes gave UCLA some trouble, climbing to within four points shortly before the half. The Bruins took an eight-point lead at the half and never really pulled away until the last five minutes, when they had a 58-38 lead.

The contest was the second game of a doubleheader at Chicago Stadium. Oral Roberts hammered Chicago Loyola 105-90 in the first game.

North Carolina State dazzled Virginia, accelerating to a 28-4 lead behind Monte Towe's seven straight field goals. At one point, the outgunned Cavaliers hit only two of 16 attempts from the floor.

John Lucas and Tom McMillen scored 23 points apiece, leading Maryland over outmanned Fordham. The Terps rolled up a 57-25 halftime advantage and coasted.

Elsewhere in college basketball, Tulsa beat Oklahoma City 91-83; Indiana State downed the University of Pacific 75-74; Creighton trimmed Wichita State 65-63; Utah State stopped Utah 84-79; Hawaii held off Portland 57-52 and Duquesne bounced Steubenville 70-60.

Reaction Varied On Agreement

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Most of the Arab world was slow to comment today on the Israeli-Egyptian agreement to separate their armies along the Suez Canal. But Palestinian guerrilla sources condemned the pact.

One guerrilla source in Beirut said the movement was in contact with several Arab countries, including Syria, Libya and Algeria, to "strengthen the Arab rejection front" against the agreement.

The source indicated that the guerrillas feel the agreement tends to obscure their cause.

"What we are interested in in the current phase is to maintain our existence and the existence of a Palestinian national authority in the West Bank of Jordan," he said.

Yasir Arafat, the leader of the Palestinian Liberation Organization, met with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in Aswan on Thursday to discuss the disengagement agreement.

The Saudi Arabian oil minister, Sheik Ahmed Zaki Yamani, indicated that the military agreement, even though it provides for Israel giving up a small part of the Arab territory it captured in the 1967 and October wars, will not end the restrictions on production of Arab oil.

Yamani in a West German television interview said his nation, the Arab world's largest oil producer, will not increase production until Israel evacuates all Arab territories seized in 1967.

However, the Arab World, a Beirut digest of Middle Eastern news, said oil industry sources expect the United States to request an end to the oil embargo.

"As a result of Kissinger's success in bringing about military disengagement on the Suez Canal front, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat is expected to support the American request," it said.

The publication said Sadat would encourage Saudi Arabia and Kuwait to "lead a campaign in favor of lifting the oil embargo at the next meeting of the Arab oil-producing nations in Libya."

The government radios in most Arab countries announced the agreement routinely on their evening newscasts Thursday without comment. Only Cairo Radio interrupted a program with the news, and it carried no details of the agreement.

Cairo newspapers played the story with big headlines, and claimed the Egyptians had made no concessions in the agreement.

The Syrian government, which said earlier that Egypt should not conclude a disengagement agreement unless it also applied to the Syrian front, broadcast the news two hours late.

Damascus Radio said "the enemy radio at 1900 hours tonight carried the following announcement" and then quoted the Israeli radio's announcement.

The Jerusalem Post, the first Israeli newspaper to comment on the accord, said Israel's "experience of past agreements is sufficiently somber to warrant apprehension." But it said Premier Golda Meir and her ministers were not under so much pressure from Kissinger that they would "compromise Israel's vital security needs."

Some Israelis interviewed on the street were suspicious of any foreign guarantees that might be attached to the agreement.

Brando, Ex End Court Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Marlon Brando and his former wife, actress Anna Kashfi, have ended a 13-year court fight over their son with an informal agreement granting Miss Kashfi visitation rights.

Miss Kashfi, 36, through her attorney, dismissed a Superior Court petition Wednesday in which she claimed Brando had denied her visitation rights with their son, Christian Devi, 15.

She said with Brando's cooperation she had been seeing Christian during the past few months. Her son attended her wedding to Los Angeles businessman James Hannaford in Las Vegas last Saturday.

Brando and Miss Kashfi were married in 1957 and divorced two years later. She relinquished custody of the boy to Brando in a 1972 court proceeding.

Economy Sags, Inflation Soars

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans will be faced with a sagging economy and a high inflation rate of between 9 and 10 per cent in the months ahead, says a top administration economist.

But the economist, Sydney L. Jones, assistant commerce secretary for economic affairs, said Thursday he still hopes the country can avoid slipping into a recession in 1974.

The Commerce Department reported Thursday that the nation's economy as measured by the Gross National Product showed a real rate of growth of only 1.3 per cent in the fourth quarter of 1973, while inflation soared at an annual rate of 7.9 per cent, the highest rate in 22 years.

Jones said the economy probably will not grow at all — and may actually decline — in the first quarter of 1974.

That means a slowdown or even a decline in the number of jobs, personal income and corporate profits.

Jones said consumer resistance to higher profits could be a major factor in the fourth quarter economic slowdown.

"The consumer does seem to be withholding his spending," he said at a news briefing. "It may reflect the basic consumer mood, and he is rebelling against the kind of prices he finds in the market place."

He said business may have to shave prices from their present levels in order to induce consumers to buy again at the same pace as earlier in 1973.

The increase in the real growth of the GNP of 1.3 per cent in the fourth quarter compared with an increase of 3.4 per cent in the third quarter and was in stark contrast to the 8.7 per cent growth in the first quarter that caused administration economists to worry the economy was growing too fast.

Real economic growth for all of 1973 was 5.9 per cent above 1972 and inflation for the year, as measured by the GNP, was 6.1 per cent, compared with 3.2 per cent in 1972.

The total Gross National Product — or the value of the total output for the nation's goods and services — was $1,288.2 billion, including both real and inflationary growth.

Jones said the energy shortage was only partially responsible for the slower fourth quarter growth, possibly reducing the growth rate by 1 per cent.

Other factors besides energy, he said, are a 25 per cent drop in auto production, the depressed housing construction industry and declining consumer spending for goods of all kinds.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

The Texas Highway Department is planning to proceed with the development of the proposed highway improvements on U. S. Highway 84 from 1.0 mile North of Hermleigh to 4.0 miles Southeast of Snyder.

This project will be developed in cooperation with the Federal Highway Administration, therefore, FHWA's approval has been requested. The proposed improvements are on the old lane and consist of leveling the existing pavement and widening the shoulders with approximately 4 inches of asphalt stabilized base, overlaying the travel lanes and shoulders with approximately 3 inches of asphalt stabilized base and 1½ inches of asphaltice concrete pavement. Structures will be widened to connect to existing structures on newer lanes and to provide an outside 20 ft. safety zone. The improvements will be made within the existing right of way.

Maps, drawings showing geometric design, environmental studies and all other available data concerning the development of this project may be inspected and copied at the office of Mr. N. A. Billingsley, Jr., Resident Engineer, at 111 North Avenue V, Snyder, Texas.

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY IMPROVEME

The Texas Highway Department is planning to proceed with the development of the proposed highway improvements on U. S. Highway 180 from U. S. Highway 84, 1.0 Mile East of Snyder, East 4.4 miles.

This project will be developed in cooperations with the Federal Highway Administration, therefore, FHWA's approval has been requested. The proposed improvements consist of widening the existing travel lane to 26 ft. width with 8 ft. shoulders, adding approximately 7,000 ft. of climbing lane. Travel lanes and shoulders will be resurfaced with asphaltic concrete pavement. Structures will be widened from 42 to 66 ft. The improvements will be constructed within the existing right of way.

Maps, drawings showing geometric design, environmental studies and all other available data concerning the development of this project, may be inspected and copied at the office of Mr. N. A. Billingsley, Jr., Resident Engineer, at 111 North Ave. V, Snyder, Texas.

"Behold I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone." Isaiah 28:16.

We inherit many things its true:
Our eyes, our ears—are just a few.
But the traits of being Christian
we never do inherit,
And these we must build daily of a stone that's known as merit.
And each block of this stone holds minerals all dear and sometimes rare
Of faith, and hope, and courage with a bit of loving care.

Crosby Out Of Intensive Care Unit

BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP) — Bing Crosby has moved out of the intensive care unit and is back in his hospital room recovering from lung surgery.

He is able to sit up, walk around and eat a soft diet, a spokesman for Peninsula Hospital said Thursday. He added, 'This indicates he is really progressing very well."

Crosby, 69, has been a patient since Dec. 31.

Two-fifths of the singer's left lung was removed Sunday because of a growth which initial tests indicated was caused by a rare fungus. Pathologists have not identified the specific bacteria, the spokesman said.

Drilling Up In January

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The drilling of wildcat oil wells has gotten a headstart on last year, figures from the Texas Railroad Commission showed Thursday.

The commission said 18 wildcat oil wells were drilled from Jan. 1 through Jan. 15, compared to five in the first two weeks of 1973.

Six of the new wildcats were in the Houston district, four in the Lubbock district, three in the Kilgore No. 6 district, two in the San Antonio No. 2 district and one each in the Corpus Christi, Midland and Wichita Falls districts.

Ten wildcat gas wells were drilled through Jan. 15, compared to 12 at this time a year ago. There were three each in the Midland and San Antonio No. 2 districts, two in the San Antonio No. 1 district and one each in the Houston and San Angelo districts.

The commission reported that 232 oil wells were completed this year, 85 more than a year ago. A total of 121 gas wells were completed, an increase of 20 from a year ago.

A total of 516 wells were plugged Jan. 1-15, the commission said, including 164 dry holes.

The commission said Texas' average calendar day oil allowable as of Jan. 15 was 4,122,651 barrels, an increase of 18,931 from Jan. 1.

Alcoholism And Cirrhosis Linked

By WARREN E. LEARY
AP Science Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Researchers say they have directly linked alcoholism and cirrhosis, refuting some theories that the liver disease is related to poor nutrition instead of drinking.

In what they described as the first long-range alcohol study with advanced primates, baboons, the researchers said diet is not a primary factor in the progressive degeneration of an alcoholic's liver.

"We have shown that chronic alcohol consumption in the baboon, in the absence of nutritional deficiencies, is hepatotoxic and produces all the stages of liver disease clinically associated with chronic alcoholism in man," they said.

Drs. Emanuel Rubin and Charles S. Lieber, of the Mount Sinai School of Medicine of the City University of New York, said they also have established the baboon as the long-awaited model for studying alcoholism in man.

Rubin said during an interview Thursday that the baboon liver is almost indistinguishable from the human and the baboon's 10-15 year lifespan makes long-range study possible.

In human beings, liver disease normally progresses through stages.

When most people drink, fat globules accumulate in the liver, but this normally reverses when drinking stops. Studies show that some people with benign fatty livers who continue to drink get alcohol hepatitis, a serious inflamed liver condition in which cells begin to die.

Alcohol hepatitis generally is considered a forerunner to cirrhosis, an irreversible disease in which part of the liver dies and scar tissue builds up.

Rubin said it is unknown how all these stages of liver degeneration relate, but now that there is an effective animal model the answers should be found soon.

In the study published in the current New England Journal of Medicine, the researchers gave two 13-member baboon groups controlled, nutritious diets. But one group was fed varying amounts of alcohol for differing periods of up to four years.

The animals given alcohol all developed fatty liver. Four showed the chracteristics of alcohol hepatitis, one showed complete cirrhosis and another partial cirrhosis.

The researchers said the results appeared related to dose and duration of alcohol intake, as is thought to be the case in human beings.

"It has been said for many years that alcohol didn't cause cirrhosis, but that the real disease was nutritional," Rubin said. "But we have shown that alcohol itself is toxic and for the person who drinks excessively, a good diet won't protect him."

Friedrich Contract Approved

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Union and company officials have announced approval of the three-year contract between Friedrich Refrigerators, Inc., and Local 780 of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Tom Berg, Friedrich president, says two portions of the contract, which retroactive to Dec. 18, 1973, provides for an annual average wage increase of 8.6 per cent, or about $2 million for the 700-man work force.

Berg said a provision for company contribution to a jointly administered medical insurance fund for retired employes is unique nationwide.

Lady Bird Is Named Trustee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Geographic Society announced Thursday that Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has been named a trustee of the scientific and educational institution.

Mrs. Johnson, widow of the late president, replaces Leonard Carmichael on the board. Carmichael, former secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, died last year.

The 24 trustees meet regularly to guide National Geographic programs. Each trustee is elected to a life term.
