Funeral Services For McDonald Being Held Today In Llano, Tex.

A military funeral for Lt. Col. Raymond N. McDonald will be held today (Thursday) at 2:00 p.m. at the First Baptist church in Llano. Officiating will be the Rev. D. C. DuBose of Eldorado and Elder Curtis Ripley of Goldthwaite. Interment will be made in the Llano cemetery.

Lt. Col. McDonald, 40, and two other crew members were killed in a fiery crash of a B-47 jet bomber about 50 miles north of Boise, Idaho, last Wednesday. The bomber was operating out of an Air Force base at Tucson, Arizona, a routine flight.

Lt. Col. McDonald was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan McDonald of Eldorado.

In a report to the Success this week they reported that they had been listening to the news early Thursday and heard of the crash of the B-47 bomber. "We just had a feeling," they said and they phoned the base in Tucson, where it was confirmed that their son was one of the crew members. It was hours later before news came back that all three had lost their lives in the crash. McDonald was plane commander.

Raymond McDonald was born in Melvin, Texas, and was graduated from Brady High school. He attended A&M and entered the Air Force in 1943 and was active in the Pacific during World War II. He was making a career of military life and had been stationed at the Tucson air base for about eight years.

His wife, Mary, is originally from Iowa. They have three children, Paul, Marla, and David. One older daughter, Donna, by his first wife, is a resident of Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Nolan McDonald moved from Brady to Eldorado in 1946 and have resided here since that time. Recently they bought a place at Kingsland, near Llano, and are planning to move there on retirement in a few months. They have one other son, James McDonald of San Antonio.

Col. Ryerse of Tucson will accompany the bereaved widow, Mary McDonald and her son from Tucson to Llano for the funeral, and will be joined by one of her friends, a Mrs. Harlow from El Paso.

A Col. Nunnally from Tucson will accompany the body as military escort from Boise to Llano.

Over the past week end the McDonalds here traveled to Tucson to be with their son's family and returned Monday. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Nolan McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald of San Antonio and Donna of Big Spring.

A large delegation of relatives and friends from Eldorado are expected to be in attendance at the Llano funeral today.

Casbeer Youth Buried

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in the First Baptist church here in Eldorado for Robert Markam Casbeer, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Casbeer. The boy died Monday morning in Shannon hospital.

Interment was made in the Ozora cemetery under direction of Johnson's Funeral Home of San Angelo.

Pall bearers were Troy Cooper, Clovis Taylor, Jimmy Ballard, Sammy Hodges, Harry Mercer, and Paul Alcorn.

The boy was born Sept. 24, 1953, in San Angelo.

Survivors include his parents; two sisters, Berry Casbeer of San Angelo and Shirley Jane Casbeer of Eldorado; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Tom Casbeer of Ozona; and his maternal grandfather, J. E. Scott of Lometa.

Post Script

We attended as a guest the family night meeting of the Reynolds H. D. club last Friday night. Since the crowd was made up wholly of folks engaged in agriculture, the talk throughout the visiting hours was farm talk.

There were certain things on which there was unanimous agreement . . .

The cotton crop is a disappointment all around.

Irrigated cotton not much better than dryland.

"Nobody wants to work anymore."

All disgusted with the bracero program and the labor department.

"If there were any other money crop, I'd never plant another stalk of cotton."

Those carrying on irrigation operations were talking up the idea of coastal bermuda grass as a possible change from cotton. It is a crop that has to be irrigated and fertilized, but provides tremendous yields . . . can be used for grazing or cut for hay. And the hay is described as "just as good as alfalfa."

Pat and Wallace Joiner have already started on a coastal bermuda project. Lloyd Johnson of the SCS office said that the Joiners have already "started sprigging" it. He explained that the stuff is planted from roots—not sod. Parker Bros. are rigging up their irrigation system and will be going in to the project too.

Among others who are seriously studying the grass deal are Jene Moore and Billy Jack and Bob Reynolds, but they aren't fully committed at this time.

—ps—
And as the drought continues, ranchmen are getting apprehensive about winter feeding problems. One made a statement which shows their train of thought: "I bought a load of alfalfa hay last week for $34 a ton. Now they're asking $38 for it."

Scattered Rains Visit The County Last Week

Big, vicious-looking storm clouds riding in on a cold norther, sent hopes rising for a big general rain last Friday night. But the spectacular display turned out to be more advertising than anything else.

There was no measureable rainfall in Eldorado, and on west to the Reynolds community the situation was just about the same.

However, some parts of the county did get some rain, and where it fell it was greatly appreciated and will go a long way to help the fall grazing situation.

Way out in the northeast part of the county, Carrol White reported a generous 2½ inches and Jim O'Harrow got about 2 inches. From there it tapered off toward Christoval and on east to the McGregor ranch where only about a half inch fell.

There were some good showers, too, in Bailey Ranch community. Parker Bros. got about 1½ inches and Whip Faulk about the same.

There was a good rain at Edgar Spencer's home place, but it tapered off to about a half inch west of there on the J. C. Wells place. Wayne Mikeska got one-half.

While local showers are welcome any time, it is agreed that with the county-wide drought situation it will take a lot more than local showers to put the area back in good condition.

Receives Degree

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ratliff went to Lubbock Saturday to attend commencement exercises at Texas Tech, in which her son, Odie B. Faulk, received his doctor's degree. They spent the night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hodges, Mr. Ratliff's niece. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Smith of San Angelo Sunday afternoon.

Ministerial Association Makes Plans For Fall

The Eldorado Ministerial Association met last Friday morning at the West Texas Cafe for a breakfast meeting with President C. M. Nyquist presiding. Several community wide projects were discussed and some completed.

First—four churches agreed to sponsor a visit of the leaders of the Business Men's Bible class of San Angelo in a Sunday evening evangelistic program at 8:00, Sept. 9th, in the Methodist church. We invited other churches and the folk of the community to join in this effort. Also under consideration is a two-week community revival in a tent with an inter-denominational evangelist. Laymen—speak to your minister about this and it will help us decide whether or not to undertake this sort of a meeting. The ministers agreed to sponsor the Trick or Treat Hallowe'en Youth project again this year. Last year the Methodist youth gave the leadership and this year the Baptists will be in charge.

Plans are in the making for a bigger and we hope, even better, Union Thanksgiving Service than we had last year.

More details about the September 9th meeting in next week's issue of the Success.

The P-TA needs you! Be ready to join on the first day of school.

Reynolds H. D. Club Stages Family Night

The Reynolds Home Demonstration club put the "big pot in the little one" last Friday night when they staged a community get-together with a pot luck picnic supper.

Between 85 and 100 attended the event which was held on the grounds of the superintendent's residence at Northern Natural compressor station.

The crowd which was made up of club members, husbands, and other guests, assembled at 7:00 p.m., just about the time that the blue northern struck.

The threatening weather did nothing to dampen the spirit of the occasion since everyone present was wishing it WOULD rain. Rain didn't come after all and the party proceeded without interruption. The party was concluded with a showing of travel slides taken during the Kreklows' trip to Europe and the Moores' trip to Mexico.

On The Screen . . .

'Big Red' Is Fine Family Entertainment

Entertainment for all the family is promised in "Big Red," which is in Technicolor, and which is being shown tonight and Friday night at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre.

Walt Disney has a genius for creating as much off-screen drama in his production projects as he does in what is actually shown to the movie-going public.

"Big Red" is a case in point. First to establish the story: An orphan boy is given a job by a crusty Anglo-Canadian, a dog-breeder whose chief interest in his canines is financial. The breeder, embittered by the loss of a son in World War II, regains his warmth and humanity through the antics of his orphan employee and the affection which develops between the boy and the breeder's champion Irish setter.

The story line sets up three chief characters, for the dog would most certainly become a "star" in such a story filmed by Disney.

For the crusty old gent, Disney sent out a call for veteran actor Walter Pidgeon.

"We need a man who is dignified but not aloof—a man of strong character whom you can sympathize with without feeling sorry for . . . by the way, what is Walter Pidgeon doing now?"

This was Disney's reaction when he read the script written by Louis Pelletier from the novels of Jim Kjelgaard. Disney sent the script to Pidgeon and the actor immediately agreed to take the role and go on location in his native land of Canada (he was born in New Brunswick) for his acting debut with Disney.

The dog, which had to fill the Disney formula of near human intelligence for his canine stars, is Champion Red Eye Scraps, trained for his exacting role by William B. Koehler.

It is in the selection of the boy that the Disney touch really comes out. Since this was to be a movie of adventure and suspense in the French-Canadian wilds, Disney wanted a boy who would fit into the story and went to Canada on a talent search.

He enlisted the aid of Canadian actor Emile Genest, who had a starring role in the producer's "Nikki, Wild Dog of the North." Actually, 300 youngsters were tested before the choice fell on 14-year-old Gilles Payant of Montreal.

Give Walt Disney a boy, a dog and some magnificent scenery and the old master of family films knows just what to do with them.

The cast:
James Haggin-----Walter Pidgeon
Rene Dumont-----Gilles Payant
Emile Fornet-----Emile Genest
Terese Fornet-----Janette Bertrand

The crop year 1962 is fast approaching the time of harvest. This is the time of the year that all farmers look forward to from the time the land is prepared for each crop. Whether already harvested or still in the field, most farmers already know fairly close as to what their crop yield will be. Most farmers expect their crop yield to be low this year due to lack of moisture.

Crop yields are effected by many factors. Some are always changing, like the amount of rain and the warmth for plant growth. These are factors that cannot be changed. However, something can be done to properly conserve and use the rainfall received. Others are fixed, such as depth of soil, the texture and size of soil particles, and the way they are put together. Of the fixed factors there is little that can be changed with the exception of soil depth. Soil depth can be decreased by excessive erosion by wind and water.

Other factors of production are the amount of plant food present, the organic matter content, and the soil condition. These are things that help make the difference between a quarter bale and one bale cotton on dryland; one bale and two bales per acre on irrigated land, and 1,000 pounds and 3,000 pounds of grain sorghum on dryland.

What the yield from next year's crops will be is unknown. However, some of the things that effect the yield of crops can be taken care of before the next crops are planted. The first thing that most people think of is more rain. Since the amount of water received from rainfall cannot be controlled by man, the next logical thing is to conserve all the water where it is received.

Level closed end terraces and contour farming will hold the average rains received in the Eldorado-Divide S. C. D. However, the maximum amount of water can not be made available for plant use with terraces and contour farming alone. This fact has probably never been more apparent than this year. Crops that had fairly good moisture available in the soil as late as the 10th of July, will not yield nearly what most farmers expected them to produce. High temperatures through July and August, caused a big part of the moisture to be lost by evaporation.

The number one conservation ieved only by applying and maintaining all the needed soil, water and plant conservation practices. The agronomic practices that can be applied now are crop residue use and cover crops. By leaving all the stubble from grain sorghums, after the grain is harvested, fields will have some protection against soil erosion and water loss. Fields that have been planted in clean tilled crops for several years, such as cotton, should be planted to a cover crop for soil protection and improvement.

Land is like farm equipment in some respects. Without proper maintenance they both become worn out and are unprofitable for use. Since there is a good supply of new farm equipment, worn out machinery can be replaced. With land this is not so; no more land is being made. The only alternative, then, is to treat each acre of agricultural land in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement.

Assistance in planning, applying, and maintaining the needed soil, water and plant conservation practices on all agricultural land, can be received from the Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the district.

P-TA dues are $1.00 per member. The first meeting will be held September 18th. Watch for further announcements.

NAMED WAGON BOSS FOR BOYS' RANCH DRIVE
Howard Derrick is serving as wagon boss here in Eldorado for the livestock drive being conducted for Boys' Ranch at Tankersley. Ranchers wishing to donate livestock for Boys' Ranch should take them to Hartgraves yard. Also all area auction rings are co-operating. Livestock designated for this cause should be turned in no later than Sept. 4, Mr. Derrick stated.

RODEO WINNER
Tony Allen Clark was selected as all around cowboy at the Crane Junior Rodeo. He won a saddle and two silver buckles. Mickey Clark won 2nd in roping and 2nd in flag racing.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Clark and family spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Westfall at McCamey and attended the rodeo at Crane.

LOTS SOLD IN SUNSET ACRES
There have been some recent transactions involving building lots in Sunset Acres, reports Howard Derrick, who with Paul Page is one of the promoters of the development. Ed Meador sold his lot near Wilson Page's to Norman Cash of the Detroit Tigers.

Other recent buyers of lots have been Jim Cauley of this county and Morty Mertz of Big Lake.

practice, in most cases, should be to hold all the water where it falls. Next in importance would be to get the water into the soil as soon as possible. This is necessary to prevent moisture loss by evaporation and to prevent damage to crops by water staying on the surface too long. Last, but not least, the soil should be kept in a good condition whereby the water is available for plant use and not lost by evaporation. These conditions can be achieved

THROUGHOUT THE CENTER OF THE SOUTHWEST IN CONTROL ROOMS LIKE THIS, THERE'S AN . . .

INCREASING FLOW OF ELECTRICITY

The demand for electricity in our service area is growing rapidly. The reason is simple — there are more people, more businesses, more industries coming here into the Center of the Southwest.

That is why we are investing millions in new electric generating capacity and in new distribution facilities to keep pace with this area's exciting growth.

But of more significance, this fact explains why we are planning vast additional expenditures in anticipation of even greater growth to come.

Because the Southwest is growing 25% faster than the Nation, we are convinced that our service area — the Center of the Southwest — faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.

Bailey Ranch Mail Route Patrons Hold Gatherings

Last Spring a few of the Bailey Ranch citizens met with the Commissioners Court to see if they could get a new road opened up in order for us to get the mail route extended. The Commissioners went to work and in a very short time the road was ready for use. Then our postmaster, Bernard Carr, and mail carrier, Billy Frank Blaylock, began to put forth their efforts to get the route extended. We were all informed afterwards to get busy and put up our mail boxes. When "the day" came for our mail to be delivered to our doors, we all met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hext to greet the mail carrier. We served cake and coffee. After Billy Frank had gone on his way we decided to give the commissioners and their families, the postal employees and their families, and Judge Bearce and wife a barbecue supper to express our thanks to them for making our mail route possible.

We had the barbecue supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kent. Everyone reported a very enjoyable evening. The new members decided to make these meetings a monthly affair. The second one was also a barbecue supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Shaw. Everyone reported a very enjoyable evening. Then August rolled around and with the extreme heat we all decided an ice cream supper would be in order. We met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stevens.

We had plenty of ice cream and delicious cake for all those who don't count calories. We would not say who ate the most ice cream and cake but we all had fun. The Peyton Cains and the Myrl Sudduths were our guests.

Our next meeting will be in September at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hext. This will be a covered dish supper.

We have to visit yet in the homes of the Weatherly Kinsers, Vernal Sudduths and Bob Faughts, and then we will have made our round of all the new mail route members.

We have all enjoyed these get-togethers and we thought some of the other communities might like to try something like this. We get to visit in each home and learn to love and know each other better. We are not a selfish bunch so if anyone would like to join us we would be most happy to have you. We have had fun and all are closer together now. —Rep.

Our mohair market, which has been relatively sluggish the past year, remains uncertain due chiefly to continued lack of interest being displayed by foreign importers.

At the same time, USDA reports indicate the world outlook is favorable for continued consumption, which in recent years has been increasing steadily.

Increased production is noticeable in all mohair-producing countries. In the U. S. it has jumped from 14 million pounds in 1955 to 26.4 million last year. In Turkey it increased during the same period from 16.4 million to 19.6 million. And in South Africa production went up from 5 million to 10 million pounds. Total world production last year was 57.2 million pounds.

Most of our domestic fleeces are exported. Between 1957 and 1961 exports have averaged 75% of production, with the U. K. taking between 55 and 65%. The Netherlands, Belgium and Japan are our order.

The USDA reports that future demand will depend largely upon foreign economic prosperity, and fashion trends; also upon price, as man-made fibers can be substituted in apparel fabric, which is at present mohair's principal use, to achieve similar results.

Beef imports are up. This year they're taking almost 12% of the U. S. market, compared with 7.9% in 1961, 5.9% in 1960, 8.6% in 1959, and 3.9% in 1958. It is estimated that at times imports have depressed cattle prices as much as $2 per cwt.

This electronic age is giving some people the jitters. A West German court recently sentenced a mechanic from a village near Nuremberg to three years in prison for attempted witch burning. In an attempt to rid himself of a witch who brought bad luck whenever she appeared, he tried to burn down her house. At the trial the burgomaster testified that even he believed in witches, and a physician asserted that the belief in witches was widespread and growing as a result of the magic that technology made manifest every day.

The U.S.A. is now producing about 52% of the world's automobiles, but Italy, West Germany and France each export more of them each year than we do. At the beginning of last year there were 127 million motor vehicles registered in the world, of which the U. S. had 73,928,000 of them. We averaged 2.4 people per vehicle; the Soviet Union registered 3.9 million, or 52 people per vehicle.

BELGIAN HORSES STAR AT 1962 STATE FAIR

Mighty Belgian horses will be one equine attraction at the 1962 State Fair of Texas, October 6 through 21. The huge draft horses — each weighing in at over 2,000 pounds — will appear nightly in the spectacular Torchlight Parade of Nations. They will also be on view daily at the Dr Pepper Belgian Horse Fair, part of the State Fair's new Circusland exhibit. Standing over 6 feet tall at the shoulder, the Belgians are descended from horses bred to carry the weight of medieval knights in armor.

Austin.—Very few cars and trucks in Texas are taxed through the ad valorem tax program.

Some counties, cities and school districts tax them, but close to 80 percent of the vehicles go untaxed. So the Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy proposes that something be done about it. An amendment to the constitution is their recommendation. They suggest an amendment exempting motor vehicles from the property tax, but allowing the Legislature to tax them.

Plan is to have the Legislature set up a procedure by which a state board would determine the value of all makes and models of motor vehicles. Then the county tax assessor & collector would collect a tax at the rate of $1.50 per $100 of market value when license tags are purchased.

Under this suggestion 40 percent of the $52,000,000 annual take would be divided among the school districts of the counties. Balance would go to the cities in accordance with their populations. The county's share would be that portion represented by population outside cities. Counties and cities would be required to spend the money only on road and street work.

Before the commission decides whether to recommend this procedure, a public hearing will be held sometime this fall.

Socialized Industry

A study committee on the Cost of Government is exploring the possibility of using convict labor to produce more of the products used by the prison system.

State spends about $3 million a year for merchandise such as soap, paint, tobacco, tires, mattresses and furniture for the prisons.

In the past, organized labor and business groups have been able to keep the state from using convict labor in competition with paid labor. But the farmers have not been so successful. Prison farms produce much cotton and other products.

Safety Drives

Two more safety drives were launched by Gov. Price Daniel. He proclaimed September as Home Safety Month, asking Texans to "live, think and drive safely thru-out September." Also outlined was a campaign to prevent some of the 30 traffic deaths the Department of Public Safety predicts will occur over the Labor Day week end.

Highway Department got into the act, too, due to U. S. Army's planned maneuvers for October. Highway workers will erect signs calling motorists' attention to tank and convoy crossing areas along state highways.

Carla's Force

Texas Water Commission engineers have calculated the kinetic energy released by Hurricane Carla. They figure the energy exerted over a 24-hour period is equal to 8,700 20-megaton nuclear devices. In other words, it amounted to a 20-megaton bomb exploded every 10 seconds for 24 hours.

State engineers agreed that man can do nothing about the wind involved in such great force. But they felt that man can protect the land from tidal waters. Galveston county engineers proposed that the island's city seawall be raised six feet.

STATE FAIR'S FESTIVAL OF FALL FASHIONS

A home sewer's delight: the sixth annual Sewing Fashion Festival October 6 through 21 at the 1962 State Fair of Texas. Daily free fashion shows will feature costumes by the Singer Sewing Machine Company and Talon Zippers. Other new designs will include a Simplicity patterned two-piece dress (above left) in Cohama's rayon and acetate fabric; Butterick's pattern for dress and jacket (center) shown in textured beige wool from Botany; and a daytime dress (right) with ringlet scarf, an Advance pattern shown in Burlington fabric.

More Taxes?

Legislators and citizens who thought the state's money problem was solved by the sales tax, which took effect a year ago, may have another think coming.

Budget requests of state agencies predict another huge increase in public school and college costs in the two-year period starting September 1, 1963. Laws already on the books will divert about $55 million a year more from the State Treasury to the public schools, without any new legislative action.

College and university administrators, expecting a new flood of high school graduates, say they need $40 million a year more to take care of them. This includes $10 million a year for the University of Houston, which will be the state's second largest university when it joins the state system in 1963.

So budget makers are thinking in terms of another tax law of some kind. Only a fast upturn in business conditions, bringing new cash into the treasury from existing taxes, can relieve the situation.

Legislators, campaigning this fall, will have a chance to offer voters their suggestions. Some think the exemption on groceries, medicine and low-cost clothing should be taken out of the new sales tax law.

Polio Cases

Doctors and health workers are pushing polio immunization drives. The 1962 polio epidemic in Texas, now at 176 cases, is small compared to pre-vaccine epidemics, but one case is too many.

Six cases of paralytic polio reported last week were all in West Texas, with one each in Ector, Ochiltree, Potter, Randall, Tarrant and Taylor counties.

Back-to-school booster shots were urged by the State Health Department.

New Target Date

Construction on the 3,027-mile Interstate Highway System in Texas is progressing so rapidly that the completion target date has been moved up a full year to 1971.

Texas Highway Department also points out that the state now has completed and opened to traffic 1,090 miles, or 36 per cent of the total.

Fudging For Beer

Minors who fudge on their age are the biggest headache to Texas Liquor Control Board agents and the beer industry in Texas.

They "qualify" themselves as beer purchasers by changing birth dates on drivers licenses and raising their ages to 21 on other identification. But the tight liquor control act is unreloading, say the Liquor Board agents, it punishes both the seller and the buyer when they are detected.

Liquor Board agents reportedly nab most underage beer buyers by watching for unusually large gatherings of the youngsters at taverns and drive-ins where the beverage is sold.

Battle Clouds

Legislative battle clouds already are looming on the horizon, anticipating an early combat baptismal for the many new members of both houses.

Hearings before various state agencies and legislative committees are forerunners of pitched battles over the proposed consolidation, under a separate agency, of overlapping services now being rendered by numerous departments.

For example, the Texas Highway Department carries on the tourism effort. State Parks Board attracts tourists by providing recreational facilities for them. And the Game and Fish Commission lures visitors to fields and streams. The Highway Department supervises pleasure-boating activities of a million people, while the Game and Fish Commission regulates and taxes shell used as road building material.

At least six agencies lease state oil and gas rights, yet the Railroad Commission deals with oil production.

Suggested as possible solutions: expand and consolidate the Game and Fish Commission and the State Parks Board; or make it all a division of the Highway Department.

Political repercussions may surpass all previous legislative battles combined. Economies and efficiencies, in the opinion of some legislative committee members, would justify the effort.

Flu Shots Urged

Health department has issued a warning to pregnant women and persons over 45 that it's Asian flu time. Department is urging adults over 45 (particularly senior citizens over 65), pregnant women and persons of any age with heart trouble, lung, kidney, or metabolic diseases to make immediate arrangement for flu shots.

Widespread outbreaks of Asian influenza are predicted for the coming winter.

A-strain flu occurs every two to three years.

Two doses of influenza vaccine, two months apart, are urged for people not previously immunized. Both should be administered prior to December, starting point of the cyclical onset.

ROYAL SERVICE PROGRAM

W.M.U. of First Baptist church met for a Royal Service program on Central America: Guatemala, Honduras and Costa Rica.

Mrs. Wanda Rodgers was program chairman, and Mrs. Hoover was program leader. Mrs. DuBose Mrs. T. P. Robinson and Mrs. Granville Hext had parts on the program. Refreshments were served to about 20 members.

Evelyn and Mickey Pennington spent part of last week in Fort Worth visiting with relatives, and took advantage of the occasion to attend the Casa Manana and the Six Flags Over Texas. It was the first week of her annual two-weeks vacation at the Co-Op.

Free-Time Home Is Fun-Time Retreat

It used to be that people talked about their "second" car. Nowadays, they point with pride to a second or "Free-Time" home. Thousands of young American families and the growing number of retired persons will build a vacation or weekend home in mountains, near lakes or beaches this summer.

Following this trend toward outdoor and leisure-time living, some American lumber manufacturers are offering pre-cut and packaged homes. This means that once you purchase the plans and order the pre-cut material, the construction is fairly simple.

The pre-cut "Free-Time" homes come with windows in. This makes the job easier for the do-it-yourselfer, or whom-ever he hires. Most plans allow for eventual expansion of living space — even the addition of a fireplace.

Financing plans now are generous for "Free-Time" homes. Some plans even allow loans up to $7,500 with nothing down.

Shown above is an example of a one-bedroom "Free-Time" home, a pre-cut cabin that can be erected for $995, plus freight. The floor plan has 320 square feet plus a front deck 20 feet wide by 6 feet deep. Foundation is easily-laid concrete

New Reserve Rules Affect Young Men

Particularly appropriate for young men in the Edwards Plateau area is the following news story from VIII Corps United States Army Headquarters at Austin, Texas, dated 23 August 1962.

Local officials of the Army Reserve said the plan should be of considerable interest to high school senior boys and their parents since all are affected by Selective Service regulations this year.

The Army Reserve has a number of vacancies for Reservists in home town units throughout Texas and New Mexico, according to Col. T. L. Eastmond, VIII U. S. Army Corps adjutant general. VIII Corps, with headquarters in Austin, supervises the activities of more than 96,000 Army Reservists in the two-state area.

Under a recent directive, young men enlisting in the Army Reserve now have the opportunity to apply for admission to Active Army service schools where various technical and administrative courses are offered.

"This is a rare opportunity for a young man to receive valuable occupational training," Col. Eastmond said. "He must first take an aptitude test to determine his ability to learn the technical subjects desired. If qualified, he may enlist in the Army Reserve and not only receive this special schooling, but at the same time receive credit toward completion of the military service obligation established under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955."

Under the provisions of this Act, every young American male faces a minimum six-year military service obligation. This is true whether he enters the Armed Forces voluntarily or is drafted. Col. Eastmond said there are special provisions under the 1955 Act for men desiring to spend the minimum amount of time on active duty.

Called the RFA '55 (Six Months Active Duty for Training) Program, it has two special plans for those who volunteer. Either gives a young man a unique opportunity to plan his future without lengthy active service in the Armed Forces. He also has the option of volunteering for attendance at one of the Army service schools if he is qualified and volunteers to remain on active duty until completion of the course," he said.

Still Some Confusion As Sales Tax Completes Year

Just one year ago in its edition of August 31st, the Eldorado Success had a headline, "Today Is Final Day To Beat The New Sales Tax" as the newly enacted measure was going into effect on September 1, 1961. Now, as Texans complete the initial year with the tax, there is still some confusion among merchants and shoppers in regard to items exempted from the tax.

Texas adopted the sales tax some three decades after a number of other states adopted it as a Depression-era measure.

It was adopted in the Texas Legislature following much bitter wrangling among factions who wanted to increase selective sales taxes on specific items already being taxed, and by others who wanted the more general sales tax with potential as a "growth" tax. The state adopted a 2% tax with major exemptions to include food purchased for home consumption, farm equipment and fertilizer, outer clothing costing less than $10, and sales to churches and governing bodies.

The Legislature was seeking new revenue a year ago following a long period of deficit financing in the state government. The sales tax was adopted to retire the deficit, allow for an $800 a year teachers' pay raise, and provide additional funds for burgeoning state needs and services in general. Many legislators said at the time that the 2% levy with its exemptions would be adequate for present and future state needs.

But now comes word from several sources that the present tax may be inadequate for future state needs. This may bring up the question of either doing away with the exemptions provided under the present setup, or upping the 2% levy to 3% or even to 4% which is the tax rate in several other states, including California and Illinois.

The sales tax can be said to have had an influence in this year's Governor's race in the Democratic Primary. Attorney General Will Wilson ran on a platform which included reducing the 2% levy to 1%, and placing it across the board on all transactions. Texans apparently don't want the tax "across the board" on "everything" because Wilson ran rather poorly and did not even make the run-off.

Governor Price Daniel was a long-time opponent of the sales tax and finally allowed it to become law without his signature, but because it was adopted while he was governor, he caught much of the blame for it in the minds of many voters. "A Penny For Price," was heard occasionally during campaigning, so that Daniel failed in his attempt at re-election, a bid to become Texas' first four-term Governor.

Alone of the six men in the Governor's race, liberal Don Yarborough came out for repeal of the sales tax and he went into the run-off against John Connally. Connally won, taking 51% of the votes against Yarborough's 49%, a close race.

One phase of the tax is still going through the courts. As originally adopted, the tax was to be paid by merchants on gross sales under 25c. In a recent suit brought by vending machine operators and others, that tax was ruled invalid. But Comptroller Robert Calvert has warned merchants to continue to pay the tax until it is definitely settled by higher courts.

At the time it was adopted a year ago, it was estimated that the sales tax would cost the average Texas family $30 to $80 per year, and would add $125 to the cost of the average $12,000 house.

It is still rather confusing to the housewife when she shops in the super market because edible items, in general, are tax free, while other things are taxed. She gets faster service at the check-out counter if she puts all taxable items together so that they can be checked out all together and the tax rendered.

On the eve of the first anniversary of the general sales tax, it can be said that it has won few friends during its initial year, but that Texas citizens are by now resigned to it.

Fall started this morning. It doesn't make any difference as to what date the calendar shows and it may get back to 105 degrees again, but fall is here. This morning, Monday, the sun came up with a misty softness, the air was cool and a few yellow leaves fell and settled idly in the grass. There is always one day that marks the beginning of everything.

If "Let them eat cake" is a slogan of yours concerning the family desserts you will be more than interested in this cake mix recipe which is coming up next. Just make one half the recipe on the first try, then if you like the results, make the full amount the next time. This mix costs just about one half as much as the commercial mixes—and that's about what you'd expect; somebody must be paid for putting it all together and putting it in that nice little box.

A Home-Made Cake Mix
Shortening: 3 1/3 cup
Sugar, fine granulated, 7 2/3 cups
Salt: 2 tablespoons
Cake flour: 12 3/4 cups
Baking powder: 5 tablespoons.
Cream the shortening, in the large bowl of a mixer, at medium speed for about one minute, pushing it from the sides with a rubber spatula. Add half of the sugar gradually and cream well.
Measure the flour and sift once; then sift 3 times with the other half of the sugar, the baking powder, and the salt. Add to the above. Store in a closely covered container in a cool place.

Cake—Using Home-Made Mix
Mix: 4 1/2 cups plus two tablespoons
Eggs: 2
Vanilla: 1 teaspoon
Milk: one cup.
Put the cake mix into the large bowl of a mixer. Add the unbeaten eggs, vanilla, and half of the milk. Blend at low speed, and beat one minute at medium speed. Add the remaining milk and blend at low speed, then beat two minutes at medium speed.
Divide the batter evenly between two 9-inch layer pans which have been lined with waxed paper. Bake for about 35 minutes in a moderate oven—350 F.

Broiled Frosting For The Cake
Cream together 1/4 cup butter or oleo, 2 tablespoons cream and 2/3 cup brown sugar. Add one cup chopped pecans or coconut, pinch of salt. Place on top of cake and place under broiler and heat until golden brown.
Tastes as good as a hard to make frosting.

The Reynolds Home Demonstration club and community picnic was great fun last Friday night in spite of the wind, dirt and absence of rain. The Charles Wimers were hosts and without any show of trouble at all shifted the picnic tables from the spacious and beautifully kept yard to the garage when the effects of a gathering cloud finally hit. Even though the weather was threatening no one stayed at home because of it. There was once a time that none of us in the community would have dared leave home with even a hint of rain in the air—unless we wanted to spend the night. In those days there were no all weather roads and a quarter inch rain could put you in the ditch for the night.

It took a little time to serve, but when the final count was taken, about 95 people had gone through the line.

What about washing those feather or down pillows while they can still be dried in the sun. It's really an easy job and is done like this:

Do two pillows at once in a washing machine. Before putting pillows in the machine rip the tightly woven ticking a few inches on opposite seams. Baste or overcast the openings with large, loose stitches. This allows the suds and rinse water to surge through. Wash and rinse pillows as any load of clothes would be done.

Warning! Don't forget to restitch the openings in the ticking before putting in the dryer or on the line. A dryer full of feathers could be a little hard to handle, by yourself.

Mark Wolf, the 6-year-old grandson of Ruth and S. D. Harper, has been visiting with his grandparents this summer and one of the fun things they did was to go to a rodeo. Mark missed his grandfather and asked Ruth where he was. She told him he was getting the tickets. "Getting the tickets!" he said in some alarm, "Grandmother, I didn't know we had been speeding!"
