If you purchased automobile license plate No. FDZ 360 at the Scurry County Tax office, Tax Assessor-Collector Don Adams hopes you will contact him.

"We think he inadvertantly took the county and state copies of the receipt for this set of tags," said Adams. "Consequently, we have no record of who purchased these plates.

Most of the license plate transactions are being conducted this year by a new system. Car owners several weeks ago received the applications, which become receipts when validated at the tax office. These receipts were mailed from Austin, and their purpose is to speed up and simplify the car tag distribution, since the local tax office does not have to type up the receipts. Those who do not have the receipts sent from Austin must present their car titles and last year's receipts to obtain plates.

The new applications also permit mailing of license tags. Adams reminded that the deadline for mailing in applications for car tags is March 1, one month earlier than the deadline for obtaining the plates in person at the tax office tt the county courthouse.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reports that Texas deer hunters in South Texas Counties harvested larger animals than those in other regions of the state during the past deer season.

This was determined from a sampling of 555 bucks taken in 12 counties. The biggest deer checked by department biologists was a 165-pound animal in Jim Wells County.

The Parks and Wildlife Department also has a story about a mixed up mourning dove, which "quite likely hasn't read the books that say most doves migrate north to south, or south to north, in their migration flight."

This particular dove was banded last July 10 near Peck, La., and was felled by a hunter on Sept. 18 near Brownwood. It had migrated approximately 600 miles due west. Perhaps it had read the works of Horace Greely, rather than the dove migration mannual. —WACIL McNAIR

Genocide Treaty Fight Is Mapped

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is mapping a fight to break a 20-year logjam that has made the United States the most conspicuous holdout against an international treaty banning genocide.

His first step, it has been learned, will be an effort to reserve American Bar Association opposition to the treaty, a direct outgrowth of German extermination of 6 million Jews during World War II.

Nixon probably will come out for Senate ratification later this month, sources said, timing his statement to coincide with consideration of the treaty at the ABA's midwiner convention Feb. 23 in Atlanta, Ga.

This will be in tandem with a lobbying effort at the ABA convention itself.

A tough battle is looming, with opponents of the treaty marshaling arguments that ratificaion could open the United States to international trials on genocide charges raised by Black Panhers, North Vietnam and others.

The treaty makes an international crime acts of mass destruction of racial, religious or ethnic groups. The ratifying nations agree to punish individuals for acts of genocide. Individuals —or countries—could be punished by the United Nations.

Though the United States signed the treaty in 1948 under President Harry S. Truman, it has withheld ratification since —largely because of opposition by ABA spokesmen, some Southern members of Congress and the late John Foster Dulles, secretary of state, to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Now, in the expectation that a new generation of bar leaders has emerged after two de ades, sources indicate administration forces will join hands with ABA President Bernard G. Segal and other top lawyers to try to win endorsement by the association's House of Delegates.

The State and Justice departments already have given their clearance to ratification.

"We anticipate a hard core of opposition which has existed for 20 years," said Mrs. Hauser in a telephone interview, "but we feel the developments in the last 20 years in the field of international human rights are going to produce a change of minds in the current membership of the American Bar Association."

However, it won't be easy. Several former ABA presidents are lined up to speak against ratification.

Others opposing include Eberhard P. Deutsch, a prominent New Orleans lawyer who is chairman of the ABA's treaty law committee.

US Policy Makers Eye Mideast War

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. policy makers are deeply worried about the increasing Israeli-Arab violence, but sharply discount the chance of a general Middle East war in the months ahead.

The most serious danger in the situation, as it is assessed here, is the pattern of attack and counterattack will continue to grow; more advanced arms gradually will be introduced by outside powers, and eventually —unless the process can be arrested—there will be real peril of drifting into a full-scale war.

But at present, U.S. officials believe Israel has successfully frustrated, at least for the time being, the war of attrition Egypt has been waging for about a year and is in a relatively strong position.

Egypt, in the U.S. view, has suffered a series of reverses in recent months and has neither the will nor the resources to launch full-scale operations against Israel.

The United States Thursday condemned an Israeli attack on a steel mill near Cairo. Egypt claimed at least 68 persons were killed in the raid and 98 were wounded.

Undersecretary of State Elliot Richardson presented the U.S. protest to Israeli ambassador Yitchak Rabim by telephone.

The Thursday attack was the 10th Israeli strike in the Cairo area since Jan. 7.

Officials said while the United States is worried about creeping escalation and seriously concerned over the possibility of mounting civilian casualties, its diplomatic pressure on both the Israeli and Egyptian governments is directed toward a cease-fire.

Israeli spokesmen have said they would accept a cease-fire if Egypt would abide by it. Arab leaders, however, recently stressed their determination to go on with the conflict until the lands occupied by Israel in the 1967 war, chiefly Egyptian territory in the Sinai Peninsula, have been cleared.

Egypt declared in March 1969 it would no longer be bound by the United Nations-arranged cease-fire when the Israelis fortified positions on the east bank of the Suez Canal. It was then that Arabs began to talk of waging a war of attrition.

The United States called on Britain, France and the Soviet Union at a private meeting of ambassadors at the U.N. Thursday to join in a concerted effort to re-establish a cease-fire.

It was learned that envoys of all three countries said they would refer the U.S. appeal to their home government, none rejected it out of hand.

Missile Removed From Wreckage

BRENHAM, Tex. (AP) — Rocket experts lifted a potentially dangerous Polaris missile booster from an overturned trailer truck and sent it to Bergstrom Air Force Base today.

While officials had discounted the threat of an explosion, they said the missile's 20,000 pounds of solid propellant fuel posed an extreme fire hazard if exposed to intense heat.

Winches hoisted the 24-foot long missile motor and its metal case into another vehicle for a 90-minute ride to Bergstrom, at Austin. There it was to be disengaged and inspected by specialists.

Removal of the missile unit permitted the reopening of a five-mile stretch of highway closed because of the hazard.

Champions Gather For FCA Event

The long-awaited Weekend of Champions, sponsored by the Fellowship of Christian Athletes with the cooperation of 17 participating churches, began this morning with FCA teams making whirlwind tours of local and area schools.

The visits were made by two teams of Christian athletes, coaches, ministers, and businessmen. Their purpose was to provide entertainment, give inspirational talks and boost the Banquet of Champions that will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Several famous and outstanding athletes are expected in Snyder during the weekend. A few were here in time for the combined service club luncheon at noon today in the Coliseum. Included among the group of athletes expected are John Niland, Pettis Norman and Dave Manders of the Dallas Cowboys, and Kent Kramer of the Minnesota Vikings. In addition, several talented college athletes were expected for the banquet and other activities Saturday.

David Holt, former Tiger football star who now looms large in gridiron plans at TCU next season, was here this morning along with FCA national directors and Rev. Logan Cummings, former Tech athlete, who is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Brownwood. They joined local athletes, coaches and businessmen in the FCA-organized school tours this morning.

Connie Alexander, the "Voice of the Southwest," will be master of ceremonies for the banquet. Connie replaced the late Kern Tipps as the Humble Company's official "sportscaster" of Southwest Conference events.

Grant Teaff, former Tiger football star, who now is head coach at Angelo State University, will be present for the banquet. The program will include entertainment by Ray Hildebrand, national staff member of the FCA and former athlete at Howard Payne; and Bunny Martin, the world's "yo - yo champion," who entertains regularly before church and civic groups.

There are "Dogpatch Olympics" and other activities planned for local and area athletes Saturday morning and afternoon at Lamar Junior High.

Several of the sports personalities were to be introduced at halftime of the Snyder-Lake View basketball tilt tonight. Activities for the weekend will conclude Sunday with appearances of several of the athletes at local churches for morning worship services.

A list of college athletes who will appear here follows:

Grand Jury Urges Check Of Literature

The Scurry County Grand Jury met again yesterday and made a special report concerning what it termed "objectionable" literature that has been on display and offered for sale in Snyder.

The report also contained recommendations for self-censorship by vendors and surveillance by law enforcement agencies. The report was signed by Rex Fields, foreman of the Grand Jury.

Part of the text follows:

"It has come to our attention that there is objectionable literature on book shelves and magazine racks in the stores in Scurry County where books

MORE CONTRACTS EXTENDED

New School Calendar Okayed

Snyder School Trustees last night extended contracts of system - wide administrators and approved an expanded school calendar for the 1970-71 academic year.

The new school calendar meets the new state requirements of 180 days of instruction and 10 days of in-service training for teachers. Basically, it extends from Aug. 24 this year through May 29, 1971.

Holidays for pupils will be much the same as for the previous year, except for a week of spring vacation that will go through the Easter weekend. Teachers, however, will have a two - day in-service training activity during that span.

Contracts of Pat Falls, assistant superintendent, and E. D. Flynn, business manager, were extended to June 30, 1972, and the contract of Wayne Tyrone, athletic director, was extended to July 31, 1972. All of these represented one-year extensions from their existing contracts.

Contracts of Ray Peveler, tax collector; George Melot, maintenance director, and Opal Spikes, cafeteria director, were extended a year to June 30, 1971.

Board members present for the session voted unanimously for the contract extensions, except in one case in which Kenneth Wilson opposed extension of the athletic director's contract. Other board members at the session, which was presided over by the vice chairman, Max von Roeder, included Ted Crenwelge, Harold Lacik and William J. Schiebel. Absent were Dan Cotton, board president, and Dillard Teal.

The annual trustee election was set for Saturday, April 4. Terms of Lacik and von Roeder expire this year. Deadline for candidates to file is March 5.

Following a detailed progress report from principals and teachers involved, the board approved plans for continuing the Engelmann first grade program in three elementary schools and to advance the present first-grade program to the second level in four schools now using this program for certain students. A pilot program at West Elementary will advance to the second level, as will the current first level classes at Northeast, North and Central. The latter three schools also will begin new first-level classes next fall.

Teachers and principals gave the Engelmann first grade program enthusiastic endorsement.

The program is specially structured for the purpose of enhancing learning progress by primary pupils who have specific problems and handicaps, such as language barriers, etc.

The board formally approved a spring trip for Mrs. Joye Loyd and her special education students to Garner State Park and to the Six Flags Amusement Center. The group has its own funds for the expenses.

Contract with Pritchard and Abbott, valuation engineers for the school district, was extended two years, with an increase in fee from $17,000 to $19,000. Wilson Hunt, who has handled the Snyder School District oil and industrial tax rolls for many years, presented the proposed new contract for Pritchard and Abbott.

The board also approved conveying of title to land at the former Ennis Creek School site to original owners, following receipt of a request. The land, according to the agreement at the time it was conveyed to Ennis Creek Common School District, was to revert to the donors when it ceased to be used for school purposes.

A request for a leave of absence submitted by Haskell Beard, Lamar Junior High mathematics teacher, was granted. Mrs. Charlotte McAllister will take Beard's class this semester. Beard was reported making good progress in recovering from a serious illness.

Also appoved was a request from Scurry County Boys' Club to borrow the scoreboard and clock at the Child Development Center. The equipment has not been used by the schools for the past three years.

This couple needs counseling!

By Abigail Van Buren

[© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: My New Year really started off well! New Year's Eve my boyfriend admitted to me that another girl is going to have his baby in about five months.

We tried to break up because of this but we just couldn't. John [not his real name] and I love each other too much, Abby. We've gone steady nearly a whole year.

John said he ran into this old girl friend of his a few months back and they both had too much to drink, and it just happened. He says she doesn't mean anything to him anymore, and she knows it.

Now John tells me that this girl plans to give up the baby for adoption, and, Abby, I want it! It's John's baby, and we planned to be married next year, but if we could adopt this baby, we'd get married sooner. John is all for the idea.

The girl says it doesn't matter to her who gets the baby as long as she's giving it up. John would pay all her expenses. What do you think? JOHN'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: How old are you? And how old is John? Have you discussed this with your parents? And with John's? Is the girl mature and stable enough to let you adopt the child without causing trouble later? You had better get some counseling from your local clergyman, or from someone who sees the total picture clearly and objectively before making such an important decision. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: In his explanation of the derivation of the word "cop" [slang for police officer] your correspondent made an error. He stated that "cop" came from the Latin word "capare."

There is no such word in Latin. However, there is a word, "capare," a verb of the third conjugation which means to seize or to capture. Perhaps that is what he meant. LATIN TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER: Thank you [and many, many others] for pointing this out. Latin may be a "dead" language, but there are plenty of living Latin scholars.

DEAR ABBY: My sister became disenchanted with her husband of nearly 10 years, and confided in me that she was going to get a divorce. She complained that her husband was dull, never sent her flowers, never said, "I love you," and had a nasty disposition.

I am quite sure she is correct on all four counts, but in his defense I must say that he was not a drinker or gambler, and he didn't chase women. He provided her with a de luxe apartment and the best of everything.

She contacted an attorney who advised her to snatch the furniture while her husband was at work, and since their savings were in both names, she should draw out all the money, which I'm sure runs into a considerable sum.

My question: Would a reputable attorney give such advice, and would a decent woman do this sort of thing? JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: In my opinion, no reputable attorney would give such advice, and no decent woman would do this sort of thing. Furthermore, the wife's "possession" of the furniture and money would not confirm her right to it.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Mrs. Bess Truman Is 85 Today

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Bess Truman is 85 today.

So far as any outward, public sign is concerned it will be just another day in the life of the wife of former President Harry S. Truman.

There was a firm, but pleasant "no pictures; no interviews" word from the big white Victorian house on Delaware Street.

Associates of the Trumans say both Mrs. Truman and the former president are in good health and active. Truman will be 86 on May 8.

1970 Camaros And Corvettes Displayed

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet placed its delayed 1970 model Camaros and Corvettes on display at a preview today. The new cars get their first public display at the Chicago Auto Show Feb. 21 and go on sale Feb. 26.

The Camaro is longer, wider and lower, but its wheelbase remains 108 inches. The convertible model is dropped and only a two-door hardtop model is offered.

The new Corvette sportster offers a wider choice of engines, with options ranging up to 460 horsepower. A bright precision-cast grille below a full width, wraparound bumper is front end feature.

The Camaro is a four-seater; the Corvette a two-seater.

John Z. DeLorean, General Motors vice president and Chevrolet general manager, described the new Camaro as "a totally new second stage, equipped to become the sales leader among all sports cars."

The Camaro has undergone its most significant changes since it was introduced in 1967 as a competitor of Ford's Mustang. Chevrolet dealers have sold 650,000 since.

"Its new long hood, expensive looking body and highly improved handling, ride and sound isolation create a completely new car," DeLorean said.

It comes in three versions: Rally Sports, Camaro SS and Z-28. Front disc brakes are standard equipment for the first time and engine horsepower ranges from 155 to 360. Fifteen colors are available.

Last fall Chevrolet said the 1970 Camaro was being delayed to bring out an entirely new car. It said Corvette deliveries had fallen behind because of a strike and 1969s were being continued to permit quicker filling of pending orders.

The 1970 Corvette is offered in two Stingray models with a steel-reinforced fiber glass body, a convertible and so-called semi-convertible with a removable hard roof.

Corvette headroom is increased an inch, but the wheelbase remains at 98 inches.

The Corvette was introduced in 1953. Chevrolet claims it has surpassed the number of two-seat sports cars built under any other single nameplate in automotive history.

Tear Gas Cannister Tossed In Tech Dorm

LUBBOCK (AP) — A tear gas canister tossed in a men's dormitory on the Texas Tech campus sent students spilling from the building Thursday night.

School officials said the canister exploded on a landing between the first and second floors of Gaston Hall. About 300 occupants of the dormitory were sent to a campus cafeteria nearby.

Three students—Donald Salm, Philip Sterrett, and Jeff Stephens — were treated and dismissed. They were in rooms near a corridor which filled with tear gas.

Two young men were seen running from the dormitory shortly before the canister exploded, officers said.

CHEER BURN VICTIMS — The sixth grade class of Mrs. Sidney W. Johnson at Stanfield Elementary School planned to brighten the day for Judy and Martha Ledman with gifts, Valentine cards and refreshments. The Ledman girls are members of a Delithi, Ind., family that were burned in an accident east of town Feb. 6. The sixth graders were to visit them today.

Pupils Plan Party For Burn Victims

Two girls of a Delthi, Ind. family that were burned in an accident here Friday, Feb. 6, will have a brighter, happier Valentine's Day due to the concern of Mrs. Sidney Johnson's sixth grade class at Stanfield Elementary School.

The class, hearing of the plight of the girls, voted at a recent council meeting to do something to help them. After considerable discussion, it was decided to take them gifts and send them Valentine cards. The students made the cards themselves, using newspapers they got at home. The cards and gifts were to be presented to the accident victims at 2 p.m. today.

Recipients of the gifts are Judy and Martha Ledman. They and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ledman of Route 1, Delthi, Inc., are still hospitalized at Cogdell Memorial Hospital where they were taken following an explosion and flash fire in their trailer on U. S. 180 about 11 miles east of town Feb. 6.

"They're doing just fine," said hospital authorities. "It just takes time for injuries of this nature to heal."

One member of the family, William, a boy of 15, was released from the hospital Tuesday. Another son, Kenneth Ledman Jr., was not injured.

Judy is 12, and Martha is 6.

The money to buy gifts for Judy and Martha was won by the Stanfield class for having the most parents present for a recent P-TA meeting.

The sixth graders also planned to share their Valentine refreshments with the Ledmans. Class members include Mitzi Autry, Cathy Chambers, Connie Ellis, Scott Clark, Myra Grant, Pam Head, Charles Hammond, Mike Freeman, Mark Leavell, Doylene Scott, Shirley Glasscock, Patsy Stanley, Stephen Rottler, Steve Perryman, Vance Voss, Jackie Womack, Jane Ann Womack, Debbie West, Susan Sears, Mary Spivey, Vickie Guynes, and Debbie West.

Number 90 Limit For March Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stepping along at the rate of 30 numbers a month, the draft will probably call men holding lottery numbers up to 90 in March, an informed source says.

Although the March limit is still unofficial, the source said it has been virtually decided to make it number 90.

Since January, draft boards have been calling men for military service on the principle of lowest-number-first, according to the Dec. 1 lottery that gave each man a number from one to 366.

But many low-numbered men —originally counted on in Pentagon calculations—will not really become available until they lose deferments later this year.

If draft boards were required to meet rigid quotas before these men become available, they might have to take high-numbered men to fill the gap.

To avert that prospect, officials of the White House, Pentagon and Selective Service decided to set lottery-number limits that would let the boards climb the lottery list at a uniform rate. This would hold down the numbers until the deferred low-numbered men are available.

Fires Extinguished

City Firemen extinguished three fires yesterday.

They answered a call to a grass fire on West Twenty-third Street at 9:15 a.m., then extinguished a fire in a 1961 Chevrolet dump truck 1½ miles south of town on the Colorado City Highway at 10:40 a.m. Another grass fire occurred at 7:40 p.m. Wednesday at Seventeenth Street and Avenue Q.

Adventure In Pancake Rolls

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

This recipe for Pancake Rolls is for adventurous souls who have never made crepes and want detailed instructions. You need the crepes—thin tender French pancakes—to enclose the Pancake Filling.

The recipe for the crepes is lengthy but once you catch on, you'll find they can be assembled quickly. It's best to read the recipe several times before you start the actual preparation.

PANCAKE ROLLS

3 tablespoons butter
½ cup unsifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 large eggs
2-3rds cup milk
Pancake Filling, see recipe below
1 container (½ pint) commercial sour cream
Grated Parmesan cheese

In a small saucepan over low heat melt the butter and keep ready, along with a heatproof pastry brush, at side of range.

Into a small mixing bowl turn the flour and salt; add eggs. Beat until smooth. Gradually beat in milk, scraping bowl and beaters a few times and keeping smooth. Stir in one tablespoon of the melted butter (from the saucepan); don't worry if butter clots. Place bowl of batter at side of range; put a three-table spoon ladle in it.

Place a sheet of wax paper close to the range on which to turn out the pancakes.

Heat a heavy black iron skillet (about 8 inches across the top) until a few drops of water sprinkled on it sizzle and evaporate. With pastry brush butter skillet twice with some of the remaining butter in the saucepan. Use a pot holder to hold the skillet handle because it will get very hot as you make the pancakes.

Fill the ladle almost full of batter. Holding the very hot buttered skillet off heat, pour the ladle of batter into it and immediately swirl batter so that it covers bottom of skillet—it should be hot enough so that bottom of pancake begins to set.

Return skillet to moderate heat and cook until pancake is browned on bottom and top is set enough so that your finger is clean (but moist) after you touch it—about a minute. With a small metal spatula loosen edge of pancake and with the help of the spatula, slide-lift it onto the wax paper so that browned side is down. With spatula flip it in half to save space; pancakes won't stick.

Continue this process—batter will make eight pancakes. After the first pancake is made you should not need to heat the skillet before buttering it because if you work fast the skillet will stay hot.

On the wax paper, open a pancake flat and, aiming toward the lower half of it, dump 1-3rd cup of the Pancake Filling on it. Flip the end of the unfilled side of the pancake over the end of the filled side so you have a roll; holding the pancake with both hands, place it seam side down in a three-quart oblong glass baking dish (13½ by 8¾ by 1¾ inches) or similar utensil. Repeat process with rest of pancakes and Filling, placing pancakes in a single layer. Spoon remaining sauce into empty spaces in dish. Cover tightly with foil and refrigerate—overnight if you like.

Before serving, preheat oven to 400 degrees. Without removing foil, place baking dish of pancakes (straight from the refrigerator) in the oven and bake until thoroughly hot—25 to 30 minutes. Remove foil and serve at once. Pass sour cream and Parmesan as a topping.

PANCAKE FILLING

3 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed chicken broth, undiluted
½ cup heavy cream
2 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
1 can (3 ounces) sliced mushrooms, thoroughly drained
1 can or jar (7 ounces) pimiento pieces, thoroughly drained

In a medium saucepan over low heat melt the butter; remove from heat; stir in the flour. Gradually stir in the chicken broth, keeping smooth. Over moderate heat, stirring constantly, cook until thickened and boiling; stir and boil for a few minutes. Remove from heat; gradually stir in cream. Stir in chicken, mushrooms and pimiento. Use as directed in Pancake Rolls recipe.

Note: Smoked turkey is also delicious in this recipe.

Food For Thought

MR. SAMMLER'S PLANET By Saul Bellow. Viking. $6.95.

Bellow's new book is to be read not as a story, but as a novel of ideas. It is a novel of intellectual substance, well above the usual run of tinsel narratives, or the gibberish of the experimentalists.

Mr. Sammler, now beyond the age of 70, is a Polish Jew who between the two world wars was a correspondent in London; he mixed with its authors and became an Anglophile. On a business trip to Poland in 1939 he was caught by the war. Miraculously, he survived a Nazi massacre and later, Polish terrorism. He was fished out of a camp by an American relative, Dr. Elya Bruner, who brought him and his daughter Shula to America and became their benefactor.

Now Mr. Sammler lives on Manhattan's upper West Side—not with the looney Shula (who scavenges in trash baskets and attends senseless free lectures), but with a widowed niece. He is always being plagued into listening to the confidences and confessions of the bizarre characters around him. Among them are Bruner's sexually promiscuous daughter Angela and Bruner's disoriented son Wallace.

The plot contains little action. Dr. Bruner lies dying, and the misguided Shula, supposing it would help her father, filches a manuscript from a visiting lecturer, the Indian scientist Govinda Lal. There are absurd confrontations about the missing manuscript, and meanwhile Wallace engages in a couple of madcap adventures. Just once, in a long, intellectual dialogue with Lal, does Mr. Sammler spill out things that have been boiling within him.

In Bellow's "Herzog" his protagonist was trying desperately to cope with his world. In the present work his protagonist must suffer with people who are unable to cope. Mr. Sammler's planet is a scroungy place which may have to be abandoned in the future, but at his age he isn't ready to leave for the moon.

The novel has its flaws: Its characters are sharply etched, but are manipulated in contrived fashion. The writing has some passages that are too purple, and sometimes the author plays games with his symbols and allusions.

But this book has something to say. Whether or not you savor it, and even though its message often is communicated too obliquely, there is a basic plea for values that have been cherished in the past. It offers food for thought, which is a rare commodity these days.

THE UNHAPPY NARCISSUS!

Corporations May Begin Pushing Spinoffs Sales

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Peter Hilton, a New York business consultant, has detected what he feels will become a growing corporate trend during the next two years: spinoffs, or sales of products and product lines.

Many of the products to be sold, he says, were acquired during the rash of acquisitions in 1968 and 1969. Entire companies, not just their product lines, were bought up by corporations in those years.

Now, with inflation forcing businesses to cut costs, and with new accounting methods exposing unprofitable operations, dozens of big blue chip corporations have unwanted product lines for sale.

The products aren't only poor ones. Some are profitable but are in marketing areas that do not suit the company's long-range goals.

Adding to the availability of products is the truition of corporate research and development programs that result in a steady stream of new products that a company cannot, for various reasons, market by itself.

The chief pursuit of Hilton, who heads Corporate Diversifications Ltd., is products, product lines and technology that might fit into his clients' operations. He is paid to search out existing products that can be bought.

In his searches, Hilton says, he is finding a growing number of companies which are unwilling to let technology remain idle — companies which no longer desire to carry products merely for the sake of tradition.

"The climate today," says Hilton, "suggests that sometimes the way to increase profits is to cut back sales rather than increase them. If there ever was a stigma attached to spinning off products it no longer exists.

"On the contrary," he suggests, "product spinoff is interpreted in business circles as an indication of aggressive, scientific management."

The companies which purchase the spinoffs, Hilton says, also are learning the beauty of acquiring marketable products that specifically relate to their goals rather than entire companies with their unprofitable accretions.

The acquiring company can be far more selective; it doesn't have to buy what it can't use. And perhaps more important, it doesn't get involved in prolonged hassles with regulatory agencies and stockholders.

JP Asks Removal Of Post

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — A Justice of the peace who claims his term has two more years to go, has asked that the post be removed from the May 2 Democratic primary.

Incumbent Justice of the Peace A. L. McGuire filed a petition Thursday in Dallas for a writ of mandamus to remove his office from the Democratic primary ballot.

McGuire said he is not required to run for re-election until 1972 because he was elected in 1968 to a four-year term.

He ran for a four-year term in 1960, 1964 and 1968 and said he was not planning to file this year.

Until 1967 there were two justices of the peace in Sherman, McGuire said, but the place two job was abolished.

He said on Jan. 13, 1969 the technicality of holding an election came up, but he was not informed until this January.

In the meantime, three other candidates filed for the office to oppose McGuire in the May primary.

The case is to be heard next Thursday by a Dallas Court of Civil Appeals.

Waiting Room Magazines Explained

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — For years, like most patients, I had idly wondered while sitting in the waiting rooms of doctors and dentists why they were stocked with old magazines from three months to 50 years out-of-date.

There must be some reason that current issues of any periodical were rarely, if ever available. I decided to find out why.

After consulting the musty and dusty dens of several magazine dealers, I was referred to a Mr. Irving F. Teetlebaum, whose shop was in a third-floor walkup near Times Square.

"Mr. Teetlebaum," I said, "I understand you are a specialist dealing in back issues of magazines to be sold to doctors and dentists."

"I'm the biggest in the world," he said. "Tell me how big your office is and I'll tell you how many you need."

Teetlebaum looked bitterly disappointed when I told him I was no customer but merely wanted to know why doctors and dentists keep old rather than new magazines in their anterooms.

"If they kept new magazines, their patients would steal them," he said. "And doctors and dentists are like everyone else—they have a distinct aversion to giving away something for nothing."

The explanation was so obvious that I felt let down. Then I noticed his face wore a crafty expression. Suddenly I reached out and grasped him by the throat.

"Teetlebaum, you're lying. I shall not release you until you tell me the full truth."

"All right," he said, as I let up a big on my grasp to permit him to talk. "I'll do it, even though it will ruin me. But as I was going to retire next month anyway, I might as well tell you the secret."

"Go on."

"Well, the real reason doctors and dentists keep only old magazines around is because it saves them from embarrassment."

"Why is that, old man?"

"The new magazines have articles about the latest drugs and newest medical treatments, things a busy doctor hasn't yet had time to find out about. If a patient starts asking the doctor about them, he doesn't know what the patient is talking about. That doesn't make him look so good.

"On the other hand, if the patient has read a health article in a magazine 10 years or more old, the doctor or dentist isn't so likely, to be surprised by the information in it. Most medical men, however, prefer magazines from 20 to 50 years out of date."

"Where do you get most of these magazines?"

"Some come from the cornerstones of old buildings being torn down. But most of them I buy from old doctors when they quit their practice. Those most in demand are back copies of the National Geographic. Most health articles it carries are about native witch doctors, and a modern doctor can pooh-pooh their theories."

"Is it a profitable business?"

"Guaranteed. Every year thousands of doctors and dentists graduate, and none can open an office safely without a good supply of old magazines. The only reason I'm retiring is that I'm old and tired myself."

"Teetlebaum," I said, releasing his throat, "You don't need to retire. What you need is a young partner. How about me?"

Junior Editors Quiz on INDIAN DYES

QUESTION: How did the Indians make dyes and paint?

* * *

ANSWER: The Indians used both dyes and paints to make themselves look ferocious when they went on the warpath (upper picture). Paints were also used for decorating hides, pots, and so on, and they were applied with brushes made from reeds. Dyes, that is, colors in liquid form which could stain the skin, were made from plant juices. Pigments used for painting were made from various earths and minerals ground between flat stones and then mixed with grease or saliva. Many iron-bearing minerals were used as well as ochres and other ores and stained earths. The colors produced were brown, red, green, blue, yellow, orange and purple. White came from Kaolin, from which porcelain is made, as well as from linestone and gypsum. Black was made from graphite, powdered coal, charcoal or soot. Green and blue were from copper ores, carbonate of copper, phosphate of iron, and oxide of iron.

Was Guard Suspension A Boner?

LUBBOCK (AP) — Texas Tech security officer Henry Jackson suspended briefly after handcuffing TCU basketball player Evans Royal during a game fight Tuesday, says he was slapped by TCU coach Johnny Swaim and kicked by TCU players.

"Ridiculous," said Swaim today from his office in Fort Worth. "If these are his statements, he has the greatest imagination in the history of any man."

"Every side of the story has come out except mine," Jackson told Texas Tech's University Daily after he was reinstated by the school.

The story was an eight-column banner on page one of the school newspaper. It carried the signatures of Donnie Richards, Editorial assistant.

Swaim said, "I did not hit him or slap him. I never touched the man."

The TCU coach said, when asked if he saw any TCU players beating Jackson, "Absolutely not."

"I felt it was my duty to stop the fight and I went about it in the only way I knew," the student newspaper quoted Jackson.

Jackson said he was trying to control a fight among the spectators when he noticed players fighting on the floor.

"I never even saw the start of it," he said. "When I ran to the side of the court I noticed that Jerry Turner (of Tech) was on the bottom and was taking what I would call a severe beating. I then stepped in to try to break it up."

Jackson said he was told later that he should have left the players' fight alone. He said he was told it was the job of the referee and the coaches.

Tech won the game 75 to 60. Less than a minute was left to play when Royal was handcuffed and ejected from the game by the referee. The cuffs were removed shortly.

Jackson said he first tried to pull Royal of TCU off Turner but could not restrain him.

"I grabbed him (Royal) and tried to talk to him and get him to settle down. When I turned loose he belted me in the head and knocked me over. Then several TCU players joined him and started kicking me in the side and hitting me and hollering, 'Hit the ...; kill the ...' I was a little groggy but I managed to grab Royal and pull him a little over to the side.

"I thought maybe I could talk to him because he is black and I am black, but he was like a crazy man and wouldn't listen to me. I held on to him to try to settle him down but he pulled loose and hit me in the mouth and split the inside of my lip. All the time I was trying to hold him and calm him, the TCU coach (Swaim) kept slapping me but I never passed a blow.

"Out of the whole deal I received two knots on my head, a busted lip, some badly bruised ribs and was put on suspension with the loss of a day's pay. All for trying to do my job, saving a player from serious injury. I don't understand it."

Louisville, Drake Share Lead In Missouri Valley

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The tie at the top of the Missouri Valley Confereence is still intact today but Friday the 13th almost came a little early for Drake.

The Bulldogs needed a second half rally capped by Rick Wanamaker's basket with 25 seconds left to play to beat underdog Bradley 68-65 Thursday night.

That kept Drake tied with Louisville for the MVC lead. The Cardinals had an easier time maintaining their share of first place with a 77-67 victory against over-matched Tulsa.

Meanwhile, streaking Cincinnati won its seventh straight game, walloping Wichita State 84-57 to stay two games back of the conference co-leaders.

Elsewhere Army, the nation's leading defensive team, whipped Iona 60-34, Georgetown battered New York University 94-72, Marquette took St. Louis 66-54, Niagara downed Fordham 77-68 with Calvin Murphy scoring 25 and Villanova defeated St. Peter's 108-91.

Also, William and Mary defeated The Citadel 79-74, Centenary whipped Miami, Fla. 107-86, Utah whipped Arizona 92-75, Brigham Young downed Arizona State 97-91, Colorado State topped New Mexico 64-57, and Houston belted Hardin-Simmons 109-91.

Drake, 17-5 for the season and 10-1 in the MVC and playing at home, was down by 10 points early in the second half against lightly regarded Bradley, which has won only three of 11 conference games this season.

But Wanamaker and resereve Carl Salyers came off the Drake bench to bring the Bulldogs back. Bradley rallied again to tie the game with just over one half minute left before Wanamaker's bucket sent the fans home happy.

Wanamaker had 15 points and Salyers 12 while Al Williams led Drake with 19 and 15 rebounds. Rich Schultz led Bradley with 20.

Larry Carter's 18 points led a balanced Louisville attack that had four players in double figures and carried the Cardinals past game Tulsa.

Tulsa, playing at home, got 22 points from Ron Carson and staged a second half rally before Louisville pulled away for the victory.

Marquette, ranked 12th, got a scare in St. Louis before pouring it on in the second half to batter the Billikens.

Dean Meminger poured in 26 points to lead Marquette, which trailed at halftime against fired-up St. Louis. But the Billikens managed only four field goals in the second half, shooting a paltry .190 for the final 20 minutes as the Warriors stormed to the victory.

Cincinnati, hanging on in the MVC race, hit two-thirds of its shots in the first half and stormed past Wichita State, running its record to 16-4 and 8-3 in the conference. John Fraley and Jim Ard led the Bearcats with 17 points each.

Army allowed the opposition 34 points for the seceond straight game, whipping Iona handily. The Cadets, who defeated the Coast Guard 85-34 on Tuesday, got 16 points from Jim Oxley and allowed the Gaels just 12 field goals.

Murphy, stunned by an errant elbow late in the game, came back to pace Niagara past Fordham. He threw in 12 of his 25 points in the last seven minutes as Niagara wiped out a 10-point Ram lead to win.

Howard Porter poured in 37 points and grabbed 32 rebounds leading Villanova over St. Peter's. In addition, the 6-foot-8 junior blocked at least a dozen St. Peter's shots. Villanova's 60 per cent shooting accuracy proved the difference.

Vikings Sign Hamlin Boy

NACOGDOCHES, Tex., (AP) — Stephen F. Austin quarterback Robert Pearce must have made a good impression on the Minnesota Vikings.

The 5-foot-11, 190-pound native of Hamlin has signed a contract with the Vikings for a reported $16,000.

"I'm real satisfied with the contract," said Pearce. "It's a good bonus contract which also contains a couple of incentive bonus clauses."

Pearce said he will get a bonus if he makes the 40-man squad next fall and another one if he appears in at least two games.

Pearce completed 121 of 236 passes for 2,104 yards and 19 touchdowns last fall.

Harlem Stars Die In Crash

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Three members of the Harlem Stars, a basketball organization, died today in a collision of their car and a truck.

Three other players suffered critical injuries.

Investigators identified the dead as Curtis Williams, 27, of Los Angeles; Lyndall Conaway, 27, of San Antonio; and Morris Ray Reece, 20, of Texarkana, Tex.

Williams and Conaway were dead at the scene and Reece was dead on arrival at Parkland Hospital in Dallas.

The injured were Thomas Bennet, 22, of Dallas and O. B. Gray, 35, formerly of Lubbock, and Pratt Lyons, 23, of Dallas.

The accident occurred on Interstate 30 about eight miles west of Greenville, which is 50 miles northeast of Dallas.

The team played an exhibition game Thursday night in Hooks, Tex., and was en route to Dallas when the collision with a truck loaded with chickens occurred about 5:30 a.m.

The 1971 Senior Amateur golf championship of the United States will be played at the Sunnybrook Golf Club, Plymouth Meeting, Pa., on Sept. 20-25.

Associated Press Golf Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — It's a putter's course," said Lee Trevino.

"It's a putter's course, definitely," said Bob Murphy.

And Billy Casper, considered by many to be the putter of them all, was just one stroke back of the leading Trevino and Murphy going into today's second round of the $100,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

Murphy and Trevino matched six under par 66's—Trevino with a double bogey six on the last hole—Thursday on the flat, wide open Tucson National Golf Club course.

The steady Casper and Dudley Wyson, an 8-year tour veteran who hasn't won in four years, were just one stroke back at 67.

The group of eight at 68 included 49-year-old Julius Boros, Mason Rudolph, Tom Shaw, and J. C. Snead, nephew of Sam Snead.

Frank Beard, last year's leading money winner, was in a large group at 69 and U.S. Open title holder Orville Moody had a par 72 in the near perfect golfing conditions—warm, sunny weather with virtually no wind.

Casper, one of only three men to reach $1 million in winnings and the winner of the Los Angeles Open earlier this year loomed as a definite threat.

He had six birdies including long putts of 25, 14, 20, and 25 feet, and a single bogey, three putting the last green.

Both Murphy and Trevino said the flat course is made for the good putter.

"You can miss the fairways and still hit the green," Trevino said.

Trevino, who scored his last victory in this tournament a year ago, was extremely annoyed with his double bogey on the final hole.

"It's as much my fault as it is my caddie's," he said. "Except one thing. I'm going to kill him."

He was eight-under-par when he stepped to the last tee. He had to wait a couple of minutes while "two ladies walked down the middle of the fairway. I guess they were out for their Sunday stroll. I waited because I didn't want to hit anyone. But if I knew I was going to take a six, I'd have hit them."

His caddy handed him a driver.

"I wasn't thinking," Trevino said. "The wait had broken my concentration. The caddy's supposed to think for me. He knows I'm charged up. He's been with me for two years. So he hands me a driver. I'm eight under with out of bounds on one side and water on the other and I shouldn't have been playing for anything but a five and he hands me a driver."

Trevino promptly put the shot in the water.

He had seven birdies, three after irons left him five-foot putts, the others on putts ranging from 10 to 30 feet, and he eagled the par-five 11th after a three-wood shot put him eight feet away.

Murphy bogied the first hole but birdied three of the four par-fives, had a pair of deuces and reeled off a string of three consecutive birdies coming home. But he said a 12-foot par saving putt on the ninth was the key to his round.

Chiefs Challenge Tigers Tonight

Snyder's Tigers close out their regular 1969-70 basketball slate tonight with a chance to put some polish on their maneuvers in preparation for the district basketball tournament to be held next weekend.

Tonight's foe is the Lake View Chiefs — a team that should provide the Bengals with as stiff a warmup test as they should desire. In their first meeting, the Tigers had to rally in the second half to claim a 65-58 decision.

Leading the Indian invasion will be seniors Joe Keel, Manuel Munoz and Raymond Zamarippa. Joe and Manuel both stand 6-3 and both are tough under the boards. Raymond, when he's "on," can push the ball through the net with amazing accuracy from 25 feet away and further.

Coach Ned Underwood's Tigers put the finishing touches on their workouts at the Coliseum yesterday. Probable starters include Ronald Ward and Jim Patrick at twin post with Lee McNair, Wesley Bishop and Bruce Almond on the outside.

Snyder will be trying to boost its final regular season record to 17-9 while Lake View will be going for a 13-14 mark. The Tigers already have clinched a berth in the district tournament with a 6-2 zone record and can boost it to 7-2. The Chiefs are 3-4 in zone play.

The SHS junior varsity will be seeking its 20th victory of the campaign against only three losses. Kitten Coach Bill Bundy probably will go with Sam Baker, Ronnie Morse, Jackie Murray, Dubby Preston and Kent Horsley.

Tipoff is on tap for 6:15 p.m. with the junior varsity clash to come before the varsity action at 8 p.m.

Cougar Golfers Hold Big Lead

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston golf team held a 14 stroke lead today going into the second round of the fourth annual L. R. Goldman Invitational Golf Tournament.

The Houston team posted an 18 hole total of 430 Thursday. The University of Texas was second with 444 followed by Louisiana State with 446 and Texas Tech with 455.

Erike Lietzke of Houston and Jim Whitteker of Texas Tech tied for first day individual honors with two under par 69s.

SWC Loses Grid Prestige

NEW YORK (AP) — Of the seven major conferences, the Southwest Conference finished next-to-last during the regular 1969 football season in non-conference play.

The SWC's record in intersectional competition was 8-16 or a dismal 33 per cent.

The Southeastern Conference was 33-9 or 79 per cent. It is tops in the land. Only one conference had a poorer non-conference slate than the SWC. The Atlantic Coast Conference had a mark of 7-23 or 23 per cent.

In the last four years, the SWC is 36-52-5 for a 40 per cent figure, which also trails the SEC, Big Eight, Pacific-8, Western Athletic Conference, and Big Ten.

Ira Teams Slate Tilts

IRA — The Ira Bulldogs will tangle with Loraine at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Roscoe High School gym to determine the double round robin winner in District 10-B basketball competition.

Admission will be 25 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

There will be a District 10-B Tournament Feb. 19-20-21 in the Scurry County Coliseum with the winner of the tournament to meet the winner of the double round robin play for the title. Should the same team that won the regular season competition also win the tournament, then no playoff would be necessary.

The Ira girls team will meet Meadow at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Tahoka to decide the Bi-District championship. The Ira girls won district with a 13-1 record. The Ira boys and Loraine both have 13-1 records in district play.

The Seattle Pilots will play an 81-game home schedule in Sicks' Stadium, Seattle in 1970. They open April 7 and close the home season Sept. 23.

Girl Fails To Land Page Job

By DILLON GRAHAM
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After writing letters to President Nixon and every member of the House of Representatives, a 16-year-old Miami high school girl apparently has failed in her bid to enter the all-male world of congressional pages.

House patronage committee says no change currently is anticipated in the policy of hiring only young men to fill water glasses, carry messages and run numberous other errands that keep pages busy when the House is in session.

Seemingly dashed by Sisk's words are the hopes of slim, blonde honor student Wendy Green who had written the representatives asking them not to hold her sex against her because "some of the greatest people in the world started out as girls."

Sisk told a reporter none of the House members are antifemale but that Washington is no place to turn a teen-age girl loose on her own.

He said, however, there are plans to eventually build a dormitory for pages, where proper protection could be provided.

"When the facilities are available I think we'll have some girl pages," he said.

"Ridiculous," was Rep. Martha W. Griffiths' response to Sisks' reasoning. "It's just custom. We could arrange to get the girls home," the Michigan Democrat said. "Girls would make good pages. I really don't see why they're segregated here."

But another congresswoman, Democrat Patsy Mink, said she wouldn't sponsor a girl page from her state of Hawaii.

"I would be the first to insist on equal employment opportunities for girls but I would have to agree that the nature of a page's work and circumstances involved in the living situation makes it almost impossible for girls to qualify," she said.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y. 82 years old and dean of the House in seniority, said that "on principle, I don't see why we can't have girl pages."

Regarding Wendy, Celler asked "Does she wear a miniskirt and is she attractive? Then I'd have no objection to her as a page."

Wendy also carried her campaign to the White House. Answering her letter President Nixon wrote, in part, "The members of my own family long ago convinced me that women can bring exceptional talents as well as understanding to the business of government."

Nixon said, however, he considered it inappropriate to comment on congressional housekeeping policies.
