Teddy Sees Majority For Morrissey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says there are more senators ready to vote for confirmation of Francis X. Morrissey as a federal judge than there are opposed.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen says he expects all 32 Republicans and more than half a dozen Democrats to join him in voting to send the nomination back to committee.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield once again has put aside the controversial appointment even though the session is growing shorter.

Kennedy, Massachusetts Democrat who is Morrissey's chief sponsor, said Tuesday night a large number of senators have told him a new FBI report on the Boston municipal court judge "cleared up any question they had and they are now fully prepared to support the nomination."

"There are more votes in favor of the nomination than opposed," he said.

Kennedy issued the confident statement after Dirksen renewed his attack on President Johnson's nomination of the old friend of the Kennedy family to be a U.S. District Court judge in Massachusetts.

Kennedy, said Dirksen, is using the nomination "for partisan political purposes."

Following a meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, Dirksen described Morrissey as unqualified by intellectual capacity and legal training and experience for the federal bench.

He said he thinks all 32 Republicans would vote to send the nomination back to the Judiciary Committee for further consideration. "I know of no defectors," he said.

And, Dirksen added, half a dozen or so Democratic senators are prepared to speak against Morrissey's confirmation and even more Democrats can be expected to vote for returning the nomination to committee.

Senate approval of a presidential nomination requires a simple majority — 51 if all 100 senators vote. Similarly, a simple majority of those voting can send a nomination back to committee.

New Attacks Are Costly For Viet Cong Forces

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong launched two big attacks on government troops in South Viet Nam's central highlands during the night and suffered heavy casualties.

A U.S. Army helicopter was shot down during one of the battles and the four Americans aboard were killed. An estimated 150-200 guerrillas were killed in the two actions.

Supported by heavy air attacks, a force of 300 mountain tribesmen and 10 American advisers was holding off hundreds of guerrillas laying siege to a Special Forces camp at Plei Me, about 17 miles from the Cambodian border.

The Viet Cong had lost an estimated 60 to 100 men but kept up their attack throughout the day. Casualies among the defenders were reported light.

U.S. advisers said government troops beat off attacks by two Viet Cong battalions in a fierce battle in the Ba Long valley, about 400 miles north of Saigon near the North Viet Nam border.

The advisers reported 94 Viet Cong bodies had been counted and "they're still counting." Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

"You know they were hurt badly when they left so many of their dead lying around," said one American. "You can rest assured they carried some more away."

Guerrilla bodies were strewn in the mud and barbed wire around the government outpost.

The Viet Cong tried to cross a moat with a bamboo bridge but a mine detonated from the main outpost stopped them.

The government forces also took one wounded captive, a regular North Vietnamese soldier who told intelligence officers that he was with the Viet Cong 800th Battalion which rendezvoused two days ago west of Hue. He said he came from North Viet Nam six months ago with other Hanoi regulars to fill out the battalion.

A large store of Viet Cong weapons was seized, including seven Chinese antitank weapons, four machine guns and a rocket launcher.

The American helicopter was shot down during an attack by 200 to 500 Viet Cong on the Plei Me Special Forces camp, 25 miles south of Pleiku.

Other U.S. planes pounded the enemy. Twenty Viet Cong bodies were counted on the barbed wire around the camp, and a U.S. observer said 60 to 100 guerrilla bodies were sighted in the general area.

Casualties among the tribesmen were described as light, but there were fears for a small village just outside the camp where many of their families lived.

A patrol which set out from the camp Monday had not been heard from and its position was not known.

It was the first Communist attack on the camp since it was set up two years ago. The camp lies on a flat expanse surrounded by low hills.

A U.S. Air Force B57 bomber, believed to have been on a mission to Plei Me, crashed on the outskirts of Pleiku. One crewman was injured.

LBJ Cleared To Go Home

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson got word from his doctors today that he can leave the hospital any time after tonight.

Presidential secretary Bill D. Moyers said that Johnson will remain at Bethesda Naval Hosital tonight and he will have further word later on when the President plans to leave.

The doctors gave the word after examining the President late Tuesday night and this morning.

Moyers reported they found "everything was in very good order."

Johnson underwent a gall bladder operation and removal of a kidney stone Oct. 8. This was his 13th day in the hospital. Doctors had said earlier that the average time for a gall bladder patient to remain hospitalized was 10 to 14 days.

Word of the clearance for Johnson to quit the hospital came after the chief executive had signed into law in his hospital room a bill to fight air pollution and require exhaust controls on all cars beginning with 1968 models.

A delegation of about a dozen congressmen, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and secretary of welfare John Gardner looked on as the President signed the measure.

Johnson read a brief statement saying that since the industrial revolution "we have been systematically polluting our air," with automobiles alone now discharging enough carbon monoxide every day to pollute the combined areas of Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey. He said this poses a health problem "that is national in scope."

The legislation also creates a federal program of research and technical aid to seek ways to disposing of the millions of tons of solid waste that the nation generates each year.

Hints For Viewing The Comet

PASADENA, Calif. (AP). — Scientists say this is the way to get the best view of the comet Ikeya-Seki tonight, when it is expected to whip around the sun.

—Look in the direction of the sun tonight just after sundown—and at sunrise Thursday. If the comet is visible, it will be south of the sun at sunset and north of the sun at sunrise.

—Even if the comet's head isn't visible, you may be able to spot its 10-million-mile tail of frozen gases stretching halfway up the sky.

—Be careful, however, not to look while the sun is above the horizon, because direct sunlight can cause temporary or permanent eye damage.

—Regardless of your geographical location, you may be able to see the comet or its tail at sunset or sunrise. The actual swing around the sun will be visible only from the Pacific side of the earth.

Klan Wizard Invokes The 5th Amendment

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Klan leader Robert Shelton was confronted today with cancelled checks indicating he received $4,000 from the Dixie Engineering Co., Mobile, Ala., and refused to answer when asked whether this was payment for political influence.

For the second day, the Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America invoked his constitutional rights in declining to tell congressional investigators:

Where the Ku Klux Klan money goes.

Whether he asked for a hardship discharge from the Air Force during the Korean War, on grounds he had to help his mother and father run a grocery store, but instead went to work for a tire maker a month after his discharge.

Whether he applied for a citizens band radio license, saying the equipment would be used for "rescue work", and whether it was in fact used for Klan activities.

After the $4,000 of checks relating to the Dixie Engineering Co. were produced, Chairman Edwin E. Willis D-La., of the House Committee on Un-American Activities asked:

"Isn't it a fact you received at least $4,000 from this company because you knew your way around and because of your ability to exercise political influence?"

When Shelton made his standard answer, refusing to reply, Willis commented: "It is my impression the payments were made by rather unwilling victims."

Shelton also declined to answer when asked whether he failed to report the money as personal income.

He was asked about the purchase of a Cadillac, about money spent in a jewelry shop, about an insurance company, and about checks drawn on the Klan account.

To each query, he gave the same response he had to questions Tuesday about his United Klans of America.

He read from a card: "I refuse to answer on the ground that my rights guaranteed to me by Amendments 5, 1, 4 and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America."

Shelton was again accompanied by some of his grand dragons when he came to the second session of the hearings by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

He was wearing a label button with the single word "Never" on it.

He refused to tell newsmen about the button. When Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., asked him to explain it, Shelton replied that he must refuse because his answer might tend to incriminate him.

UF Drive Progresses

The business and employe division of the Scurry County United Fund Campaign was well underway in its contact work today and reports of "fair share" firms were beginning to trickle in.

The business and employe division, headed by Jay Rogers, kicked off its drive Tuesday at a breakfast session at the First Methodist Church. A total of 80 workers attended the kickoff session and they began work immediately.

The list of "fair share" establishments already logged this morning included A&C Motel, Chamber of Commerce, Chapman Standard Station, DeLuxe Cleaners Franks Service Station Hoyt Furniture Co., Miller Standard Station, Neal Machine Shop, Sportsman's Headquarters, Star Dust Motel, Stokes Insurance Agency and Strayhorn Motel.

Dominican Astir As Rumors Fly

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Rumors flew in Santo Domingo today that the Dominican Republic's provisional government is threatened with overthrow.

Lights burned late in government offices following fresh bursts of fighting Tuesday in the heart of the capital. Three persons were killed and seven wounded in shooting between rebel snipers and army troops before fighting subsided in the afternoon.

President Hector Garcia-Godoy held an emergency Cabinet session and met far into the night with his staff in an effort to stem the upsurge of violence.

He also met with the former rebel chief, Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, and appealed to him to try to halt the rebel sniping.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, top trouble-shooter for the Organization of American States, hurried back to Santo Domingo from Washington. He played a key part in the agreement under which the provisional government was established in early September to end the April rebellion.

An aide to Garcia-Godoy described everything as normal at the president's home. But the president postponed a radio-television appearance after army units ringed the government's Radio Santo Domingo and prevented transfer of mobile television equipment to the National Palace.

Garcia-Godoy had planned the broadcast to announce a system for collecting weapons still held by civilians. Informed sources said army leaders wanted to examine the plan before it was made public.

In an effort to prevent inflammatory broadcasts, Garcia-Godoy ordered all radio stations except the government's and one operated by the OAS shut down.

The armed forces secretary, Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero, conferred into the night with his chiefs of staff at navy headquarters.

He said the army had 3,400 men and 42 armored vehicles waiting in the suburbs if the rebels renewed the fighting.

No shooting was reported during the night.

Dominican troops were ordered into the rebel zone late Monday after rival union leader Jose Ramirez was slain in a battle with a rival group. A battalion of tank-led antiguerrilla specialists moved into Ozama fortress, overlooking the rebel zone, to protest troops guarding docks.

The bulk of the rebel army, about 1,200 men, is quartered in a military camp across the river from the business

Inter-Club Council Due

Letters are going out from the Chamber of Commerce to Presidents of all service clubs and other organizations here urging them to have representation at a meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Nov. 2.

Purpose of the meeting is to establish an inter-club council of all organizations in Snyder which would be an instrument for coordinating efforts of the various groups in community-wide activities.

The meeting will be held in the community room of the Snyder Savings and Loan Association.

SINGLE WINNER AGAIN IN FOOTBALL CONTEST

Red hot competition continued last week in the Snyder Daily News Football contest, but most of the battle revolved around the runner-up spot.

Once again there was a clear-cut winner. Frank Overton, Route 1, Snyder, took the top prize, missing only three selections in 20 tries. He stumbled on the Alabama - Tennessee tie, Sweetwater's narrow loss to Brownfield and Kentucky's defeat at the hands of Louisiana State.

There was apother multiple tie for second place, with five contestants missing five selections each. Deadlocked for the runner-up spot were Terry Holt, Mrs. Naida White, Nita Holder, Opal Robinson, and R. Z. Bratton.

Another contest gets underway today and the list of games may be found in sponsors' advertisements on the football contest page of this issue of the Snyder Daily News.

Politics Said Big Factor In World's Petroleum Picture

FORT WORTH (AP) — An Interior Department official said today the United States, if required, could supply the petroleum needs of the world.

Rear Adm. Onnie Lattu, director of the Office of Oil and Gas, said the nation currently has a reserve capacity of 2,800,000 barrels a day.

He also outlined long term prospects which he said could supply billions of barrels of new liquid hydrocarbon reserves.

Lattu told the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association however, there has been a steady erosion of management control formerly held by privately owned oil companies [illegible] operating overseas.

Such a trend, he said, has [illegible] by a shift [illegible] from economic to political considerations as the determining factors in world petroleum supply and distribution.

"This is the background with which the United States is required to carry out its commitments to Free World defense," he said.

Dr. Charles Jones of Houston, Humble Oil & Refining Co., told the oilmen there is no justification, despite frequent scare headlines, for modern industry to fear automation.

He said automation is a major reason the gross national product is expected to more than double by 1985 while the nation's labor force is expected to increase less than 50 percent [illegible] by a shift [illegible]

"Over the long pull, automation creates jobs, increases our standard of living and helps us meet the needs of a rising economy," Jones said. "But higher skills and levels of education will be needed everywhere to meet the needs of this changing world."

Lattu said the nation's excess oil producing capacity currently is greater than the production of any non-Communist nation except Venezuela.

"It is somewhat more than we could move to tidewater and more than our spare refining capacity could accommodate," he said, "but it represents a [illegible] asset on which we could build and enhance the other [illegible] Nations if it became necessary [illegible]

Rhodesia Pleads For Independence

By RTHUR L. GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Ian Smith appealed anew to Britain today to grant Rhodesia independence and strongly indicated his government otherwise intends to break away the Central African colony on its own.

Smith cabled Prime Minister Harold Wilson from Salisbury that his cabinet has reached a decision on "what our next step should be." But he did not specify what that decision was.

The Rhodesian leader, who heads an all-white government in a territory where Africans outnumber whites about 16 to 1, told Wilson it would be "reasonable and just" for Britain to grant Rhodesia independence on the basis of the existing constitution, drawn up in 1961.

This constitution covers your five principles if only you will admit it," he said. "They are enshrined there for all to see."

The five principles were [illegible] by the British government as the only acceptable basis for independence for the colony. The principles are designed to ensure majority rule for the population of Rhodsia where about 4 million Africans are governed by 250,000 Europeans.

Smith then argued that if the British only agree to trust the Rhodesians by granting them independence now, a settlement would be attainable. And he added that if the Rhodesians ever were to breach their promise to abide by the five principles, "that would be the appropriate time for the British government to take whatever steps it thought fit."

Smith's message was in response to a letter Monday which the British Prime Minister had termed his 11th hour appeal on the independence question.

A British official suggested it "locks no doors."

Wilson summoned members of the British Cabinet's overseas committee to consider all the implications.

In Salisbury, Smith told news[illegible] in principle. Details were withheld until after the crisis was delivered to Wilson.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our servicemen are now on what is called the "honor system." They no longer make out allotments for their families. They are issued full pay, and put on their "honor" to see that their families are taken care of. Well, I am very sorry to say that some of our servicemen don't have much honor. Mine included.

Abby, it took me seven months before I was able to get money out of my husband to feed my family. I finally found out how to go about it, and I hope you'll publish my letter because there are a lot of other wives with the same problem.

Write to the ADJUTANT GENERAL, T.A.G., U.S. ARMY (or whatever branch of service your husband is in), Washington, D.C. Tell him what your problem is, give him your husband's full name, rank and serial number. Make four copies of that letter. Keep one yourself, send one to your husband and one to your husband's Commanding Officer. THEY will remind the serviceman that his family back home must eat. I got results!

SKIP MY NAME

DEAR SKIP: Thank you for your willingness to share some valuable information with other wives who might need it. If you'd have written to your CONGRESSMEN, you could have accomplished the same results. And possibly sooner.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old girl with a problem — my father. He's really a doll, and I don't have any of the problems my girl friends seem to have with their fathers about make-up, hair styles, curfews and the kind of boys they date. But the one thing that bothers me is my father's staying up and waiting for me to come home from a date. If he'd only sit in the dark somewhere in the house, I wouldn't mind so much. But the minute the car pulls up, the front door pops open, and there's Daddy. Of course this kills my chances for a good night kiss. How can I let my father know I'm not a baby any more?

NO KISSES

DEAR NO: He knows. That's why he's waiting up for you.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am planning to marry a man who has been married before. We are both Unitarian. He has four children by his first wife. Abby, I have always dreamed of announcing my engagement in the paper, having a large church wedding and wearing a beautiful white gown and veil. But someone told me that I will have to forego that dream because the man I am going to marry has already been through all that. Is that so?

BRIDE-TO-BE

DEAR BRIDE: No. It doesn't matter how many times your fiance has been married or how many children he has. If this is your first trip to the altar, you may realize your dream.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO LILY, WHO'S DEPRESSED: If a man is forever looking behind doors, it's a good bet that he has stood behind a few himself.

Policy Protests Comfort To Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam's Communist leaders believe the protests in the United States against American involvement in Viet Nam may force the United States to quit the war, informed sources said today.

The Communists are deriving "undue comfort" from the protests, said one recent visitor to Hanoi who spoke with officials there.

"They have become victims of their own propaganda," he said.

Despite the massive U.S. military buildup in South Viet Nam, the Communists apparently feel the U.S. government may back down on its commitment because of opposition in America to the Vietnamese war.

Many in Saigon regard this as one reason why North Viet Nam has refused to be drawn into peace talks and has appeared to stiffen its resistance to negotiations.

Some observers see signs that the North Vietnamese interpret the demonstrations as indications that President Johnson may be losing popular support for his Vietnamese policy, or never had this support.

"It is easy to understand how this can happen," said one source. "The people in North Viet Nam have been cut off from the rest of the world for years. They are told only what the government wants them to know."

Another observer said the North Vietnamese are equating the opposition in the United States with the wave of antiwar feeling that swept France before the French pulled out of Indochina in 1954. He said the North Vietnamese believe that the opposition at home played a major part in France's defeat.

U.S. officials play down the demonstrations, saying they express the views of only a small fraction of Americans.

Houston Officers Issue Warning

HOUSTON (AP) — Police issued a warning and a plea Tuesday night for help on the rape-slaying of a pretty high school girl.

Officers suspect the man who killed Joyce Osten, 18, may be the one sought for four attempted rapes in the last eight months. Each intended victim was accosted in a parking lot.

Miss Osten was last seen alive at 11 a.m. Monday when she stopped at a shopping center to let out her mother, a saleslady at one of the stores. The girl planned to seek part-time employment at the same store after parking their car.

In appealing to the public, detectives said they particularly want to talk with anyone who may have been in the vicinity then. They cautioned women drivers to be on guard when alone in parking lots.

Miss Osten's father reported her missing Monday night. Half an hour later he found the car in the same parking lot.

In the other four cases the would-be attacker used the victim's car and it was found later in the lot where he nabbed her at gunpoint. Each woman escaped usually by screaming and struggling.

Police say the attacker is of average height, weighs 150 to 160 pounds, has brown eyes and light hair. He is in his 20s and may be driving a red Chevrolet Corvair, they said.

Miss Osten's father found undergarments and hose in the back seat of their car.

A hunter notified officers Tuesday after spotting cosmetic articles the day before in a pasture west of Houston. Mounted sheriff's deputies found the body, lying face upward and clad only in a brassiere.

The dead girl had been struck on the right eye, raped and shot in the back of the head several times with a 22 caliber weapon.

Several fingerprints were found inside the car, but a heavy rain Monday afternoon washed away any tracks left near the body.

WOMEN

GOLDEN WEDDING—In honor of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Scrivner, their children invite all of their friends to visit them during open house, from 2 to 5 o'clock Sunday Afternoon, October 24th, at the Snyder Savings and Loan community room. Everett married the former Virgie Stringer on October 26th, 1915 in Snyder. They have two children, W. C. Scrivner of Ozona, and Mrs. Herman Elkins of Snyder.

Brighten Your Life With Flowers

If you are one of the increasing number of single and married women who spend five days a week working in an office, life can be beautiful there every day if you will only make it so.

One of the quickest, simplest, and most soul - satisfying ways to brighten and beautify the "corner" of America you occupy 40 hours a week is with fresh and dried arrangements of autumn flowers and with living green plants.

Furthermore, in your office world of work deadlines and other pressures, flowers as nature's tranquilizer will ease the tensions of eye and mind and revive the spirit when at low ebb.

As an old proverb says, "If thou hast two loaves of bread, go sell one, and buy hyacinths for the soul." Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, spearheading the "Beautify America" program put it just as clearly when at the launching of Project Head-Start to give culturally deprived children the experience and social skills they need in school, she declared:

"We must give these children not only bread, but beauty."

There are few swifter, surer, or less expensive ways to bring beauty into our everyday lives — at home as well as at the office — and into the lives of our business associates, friends, and families, than with flowers.

Hyacinths indeed are "bread for the soul." And so are the gold and bronze glow of chrysanthemums and pompons, the heady colors of autumn foliage, the soaring shapes of dried flowers, grasses, and seed-pods, and hope and promise of growing green plants in a world of winter.

Make it a point to visit your local florist shop. You'll discover some brand new horizons in the flower world; you'll see the fascinating things that can be done easily with flowers and plants to make your office corner a more pleasant place to work, and your house a nicer place to come home to.

Just a small planter of greenery — placed on your office desk for instance — to which a few fresh seasonal flowers may be added for a change of pace, can work wonders for you.

In the Great Society — whose "Beautify America" program is awakening citizens to the need for beauty in their everyday living — no one need suffer from lack of beauty or malnutrition of the soul — not so long as there are flowers.

Art Display Viewed By Altrurians

The members of the Altrurian Club were entertained by a most enjoyable and enlightening program presented by the leader, Mrs. C. T. McLaughlin, Friday.

The program was given in the Art Center of the Diamond M. Building. The art treasures of oils and bronze belonging to the Diamond M. Foundation were viewed and explained. Two pieces formerly belonging to the estate of President Chester A. Arthur were among the most recent acquisitions. Mrs. McLaughlin then told of her hobby of collectingn music boxes, describing many of these pieces and displaying one, a miniature which may be worn as jewelry.

To the delight of the club members, Mrs. McLaughlin displayed many of her wine glasses which is another collection she has taken much interest in. The glasses represented purchases made in many parts of the United States and several countries in Europe. Her displays emphasized that treasure hunting is a well of delight.

Roll call was answered by the members telling of their collections or of objects of art.

Following the program the members went to Martha Ann Woman's Club for a brief business session and social hour with Mrs. J. C. Ezell hostess.

Mrs. Enid Irwin was welcomed as a new member.

Fluvanna 4-H Club Meeting Held Recently

The Fluvanna 4-H Club met at the HE building. The meeting was called to order by June Stansell president.

Gwen Stansell called the roll and read the minutes. Discussion was held on having a bake sale to raise money for the club. After business, the group made fudge. Mrs. Sam Shoemake gave a program on the "Do's and Don'ts" of eating candy.

Members present were Lynda Hall, Carla Shoemaker, June Stansell, Rebecca White, Helen Bilano, Danita Jordan, Gwen Stansell, Pam Shoemaker, Renetta Jordon, Ann Smith, Donna Parks, and Maria Angel Pesina. Leaders present were Mrs. Sam Shoemaker, Mrs. Bob Jordan and Mrs. Bill Stansell.

Members entering exhibits at the county fair were Carla Shoemaker, Pam Shoemaker, Donna Parks, Gwen Stansell, June Stansell, Renetta Jordan, and Danita Jordon.

MRS. EARL LANE, the former Blanche Bruns, was honored with a bridal tea recently in the tea room of Trinity Methodist Church. The honorees chosen colors of pink and white were carried out in the decor. Mrs. Lane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bruns of Huffman Avenue, Snyder. Mr. Lane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Lane of the Union community.

Trophies Given At Square Dance Tacky Evening

The Country Cousin Square Dance Club met at the armory for their regular third Saturday night dance. Tips were called by Darrel Boen of Goldsmith, Cliff Smith and Chris Sellars, members of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bolling of Midland judged the "tacky dress" of the dancers during the grand march. Trophies enscribed "The Tackiest Square Dancer — 1965" were presented to Janice Sellears and Robert Erwin.

Refreshments of cookies and coffee were enjoyed by several visiting couples from Midland, club memers and their families.

The next dance will be November 13th at the armory with A. B. Lewis of Coahoma calling.

A flower arrangement always should have a focal point. It is usually lower in a container, made of a group of form flowers — such as mums, carnations, roses — that are heaviest, brightest, and darkest.

Surprisingly good as a sandwich filling on brown bread: chopped raisins, chopped green olives (plain or pimiento - stuffed) and mayonnaise or mayonnaise type salad dressing.

Snyder Garden Club To Conduct Yard Project

The Snyder Garden Club today announced the "Yard of the Month" as its Civic Project for the 1965 - 1967 club year.

The "Yard of the Month" selection for October will be made on Saturday, Oct. 23rd. A Viewing Committee headed by Mrs. Jay Huckabee and Mrs. Gene Best, chairmen of the project, is now evaluating yards in the city. All residents, except members of Snyder Garden Club are eligible to be considered; no applications are necessary. The only requirement for this month's selection is a well maintained yard, both front and back, which is aesthetically pleasing.

In keeping with goals set by the State and National Council of Garden Clubs and President Johnson's Beautification and Conservation Program, Snyder Garden Club hopes to stimulate interest for yard beautification among Snyder residents.

The "Yard of the Month" award will be made during September and October, March, April and May for the next two years. Residents are requested to plan ahead so that yards may be at their best during the spring and fall months.

The plaque designating the "Yard of the Month" will be prominently displayed. Visitors will be welcome to visit the yards during specified hours.

Stuffed tomatoes make a fine luncheon salad. Cut out the pulp from the tomatoes and rid it of juice and seeds; dice and mix with cooked green peas and mayonnaise. Return this mixture to the hollowed - out tomatoes and serve on salad greens with sliced hard - cooked egg.

Ever add chopped toasted almonds and chopped chicken chutney to minced chicken and mayonnaise for sandwiches? This is an especially delicious combination. Make up this filling just before it is to be used so the almonds will not get soggy.

WARM-UP FOR THE BIG CLEANUP!

Revolutionary Changes Face American Labor Movement

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American labor movement is heading into a period which may well bring the most revolutionary changes in a decade.

First will come the belated move by the AFL-CIO to gently but firmly ease the "nine old men" — retired or ousted union chiefs — off its powerful executive council.

They will be replaced by some of the new breed of labor executives gradually pushing aside the old guard of labor bosses who cut their teeth in the rough-and-tumble organizing battles of the 1930s.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, long reluctant to brush aside venerable associates of half a century, is reportedly determined to go through with it in December at the AFL-CIO's convention in San Francisco.

In replacing one-third of its vice presidents with younger blood, the AFL-CIO hopes to stir dynamic new policies to recoup some of labor's lost ground in the nation's dramatically shifting work force.

Although total union membership edged upward in the past few years, it has dropped from 33 per cent to 29 per cent of the nation's growing labor force over the AFL-CIO's 10-year history.

Rapid shifts in technology and automation are creating an increasingly more difficult organizing problem for labor unions. So is the sharp increase in service jobs, outstripping manufacturing in recent years.

"There will never again be any mass organizing campaigns as in the 1930s," said one labor spokesman.

The problem now is a more patient, persuasive approach to organizing small units of white collar workers operating automated office machinery — many of whom cling to a traditional resistance to unions.

The flood of youths into the work force with no memory of depression days when labor won its place in the sun is another problem for union organizers.

Just how the revamped AFL-CIO executive council will seek to meet these and other labor goals will not become apparent until the council's meeting in Honolulu next February.

An even more dramatic — but by no means certain — labor prospect in the months ahead is the possibility of the giant Teamsters Union rejoining the AFL-CIO.

It all depends on what the Supreme Court does with Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa's appeals of two criminal sentences — eight years for jury tampering and five years for defrauding the union pension fund.

Reliable labor sources say the 1.7-million-member Teamsters would be invited back into the AFL-CIO if Hoffa is forced to step down and go to prison.

The impending changes in the AFL-CIO power structure in December are expected to ease out labor leaders such as David J. McDonald, ousted Steelworkers president, and fiery little James B. Carey, who quit as chief of the International Union of Electrical Workers when the Labor Department declared his re-election fraudulent.

I. W. Abel, new Steelworkers president, is almost certain to replace McDonald on the AFL-CIO executive council, but who will fill the eight other vacated seats is sheer guesswork.

The only word from informed sources is that they will be younger, active union presidents.

The average age of the nine slated for forced retirement is just under 69, although federation spokesmen insist age has nothing to do with it.

Meany — who at 71 doesn't like to talk about age — will run for a new two-year term as president of the 13-million-member federation without opposition.

In addition to McDonald, 62, and Carey, 54, other ex-union presidents slated to be shunted off the executive council to an unofficial advisory role are:

Harry C. Bates, 82, bricklayers; William C. Birthright, 78, barbers; A. J. Hayes, 65, machinists; O. A. Knight, 63, oil workers; William C. McFetridge, 71, building service employes; Lawrence M. Raftery, 70, painters; and Emil Rieve, 73, textile workers.

The Straight Dope On Unwed Males

By ROBERT E. MILLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The unmarried American male too often is portrayed by his married friends as the playboy — the guy who has everything.

It is time the record was set straight.

What he really is, you married guys, is what you would be if you were not so lucky as to have found the Little Woman. You should know this unless you've forgotten about the Dirty Apartment Society.

The DAS still is going strong, offering housekeeping employment opportunities which have gone virtually untapped in this country's bid to drive out poverty.

Employment agencies say it is hard enough to meet demands of reliable domestic help for normal, established households — let alone the errant bachelor.

Yet some of us are lucky. Another newsman and I who share half of a suburban duplex have a faithful cleaning lady who shows up with clock-like precision every other Tuesday for "Operation Passageway."

She's the boss, and knows it.

One thing we learned quickly is that when she arrives, it is time to abandon ship. This is an unspoken ultimatum delivered with one piercing glance through her dark-rimmed glasses.

She has a habit of leaving notes to tell what she needs.

Not just one note in a specified place, but two, and sometimes more, stuck in obvious, eye-level spots around the house.

"Get some rags," demanded one on the bar. A bathroom mirror note called in big block letters for "a new dust mop." Still another on a kitchen table listed various cleaners and detergents. She's specific about brand names, and openly resents any substitute.

Yet there is a maternal instinct about her. You can tell by the way she always leaves the beds turned down, neatly hangs the scattered clothing, and stacks magaines on a bedside table.

We have no doubt that her bimonthly venture into this jungle of overrun ash trays, beer bottles, and dusty corners is something of a sacrifice.

The unmarried male definitely is one of those animals who despises to see anything thrown away. So after a while, anything he owns is owned in abundance.

The bachelor's life isn't all bad, however, and there is that freedom you married guys all cry about. But for the love of pete, the next time you reach for those pipes and slippers, don't kid yourselves about your old fraternity brothers.

Junior Editors Quiz on NAILS

QUESTION: Why are different-sized nails called by pennies?

ANSWER: Your father might say to you 'run down to the hardware store and get me two pounds of 4-penny nails.' This wouldn't mean you'd pay four cents for the two pounds of nails. The clerk would go to the bin where 1-1/2 inch nails were kept, pick up a handful and weigh out two pounds of them to give you. You can see from this that 'penny,' as we use the term, refers only to length — although the longer nails are naturally heavier. Our illustration shows the penny names with lengths in inches.

Originally, the term penny had a different meaning. Nails began to be widely sold in England in the 1400's, and the sizes were spoken of by what price a hundred nails of each size should be. The price for a small nail about an inch long would be two pennies for one hundred, so they called it a two penny (or as the English would say, tuppenny) nail. Larger sizes were 3-penny, 4-penny, 5-penny and so on. 'Penny' also referred to the weight of the nail, for about a thousand penny nails made up one pound, and if you bought a pound of 4-penny nails, there would be about 400. As manufacturing processes became standardized, the exact length of the nail became called by the penny name, rather than the number you could get by spending a certain number of pennies.

FOR YOU TO DO: Memorize this principle used by carpenters: to nail two boards together, use a nail long enough to go through the first plank and a bit over half way into the bottom one. Try this out with a couple of pieces of board. 10-20

Princess' Appearance To Be Social Coup Of The Year

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movieland's social coup of the year — Princess Margaret at the WAIF Ball Nov. 8 — fell right out of the royal blue.

The princess herself asked to be invited, says Jane Russell, founder of the World Adoption International Fund group.

The actress said: "We owe it all to Sharman Douglas, a charter member of WAIF. She has been telling the princess for years that if ever she came to the United States, she should attend our ball which is really a fun ball.

"We always try to have visiting royalty as guests of honor but we never held any hope of getting the British royal family. Then a few months ago, the British consul-general here called Mrs. Bill Welsh, who is president of the local chapter. He said that Princess Margaret wondered if she might attend the ball on her visit to the United States.

"'You know she can,' were Mrs. Welsh's enthusiastic words."

Sharman Douglas is the former ambassador to Britain. As a child, her London playmates were the future Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret. They have remained friends and Sharman will travel with the princess on her 20-day tour of the United States.

The ball will be held at the Hollywood Palladium, home of Lawrence Welk and his television champagne bubbles.

Lyle Wheeler, movie art director who won an Oscar for "Gone With the Wind," will redo the big dance hall for the occasion. Jack L. Warner is loaning the big chandeliers used in the ball scene of "My Fair Lady."

The actress said the princess is very much interested in the worldwide work WAIF has done in placing 15,000 orphans in good homes.

The actress founded WAIF in 1955 after she and former football star Bob Waterfield adopted the first of their three adopted children. Tommy, the first, came from London.

Since then WAIF has taken up so much of her time that her current film, "Johnny Reno," is her first movie in eight years.

Injuries Are Fatal

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)— Bill Kincaid of Bonham died at a hospital Tuesday of injuries suffered in a collision near the edge of Sherman. Two passengers in Kincaid's car and the other driver were dismissed after first aid.

In 1805, the White House Christmas party was so gay that Thomas Jefferson was moved to play lively tunes on his violin.

Backlash Building From Protests

By The Associated Press

A ground swell of American reaction is developing against demonstrations protesting U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

The reaction began building after the anti-Viet Nam demonstrations reached a crescendo this past weekend. Organizers of the movement vowed more protests, including a march on Washington.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday he had been asked to take part in one effort to counteract the demonstrations.

He said the protests "do our country a disservice," but declined to say immediately if he would participate.

College students — from whose ranks most of the peace marchers sprang — are planning programs to show their support for American combat troops. Among them is a blood drive at Washington State University.

The national Jaycees are planning a massive program to counter the anti-Viet Nam demonstrations.

The 2,500-member Huntsville, Ala., Post 2702 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has launched "Operation Sweet Tooth" to show American fighting men that folks back home care.

Plans for a parade down Fifth Avenue in New York City are being mapped by the newly formed Citizens Committee to Support American Viet Nam Efforts.

Eisenhower, visiting a cattle sale in Culpeper, Va., at first declined to discuss the demonstrations.

Then he said: "I will say this: they were very silly and based on ignorance without knowledge of the continuing threat of communism to this country.

"Now, I believe in free speech, but these people do our country a disservice and, as I have said before, I support the President and his policy in Viet Nam."

An organization of about 75 students at Michigan State University, headed by William Webb, a junior from Detroit, has launched a drive to get 15,000 student signatures on a petition supporting President Johnson.

"There are only about 80 students opposing the war in Viet Nam," he said. "We want to show how many support it."

Petitions are also being circulated at West Virginia State College. Student Council President Glen Knapp said he hopes to get 1,800 signatures supporting the American fighting men.

"Operation Sweet Tooth" is a drive organized by the Huntsville, Ala., VFW to send packages of homemade cookies and candy to servicemen in Viet Nam.

James Skidmore Jr., national director of the Jaycees, said in Detroit a program is being worked out to counter the peace demonstrations.

He said the program calls for such action as "packing" college meetings opposing the war, publicizing Jaycee-compiled background information on leaders of the demonstrations, and sending speakers to college campuses to defend the U.S. position.

The executive council of the United Church of Christ termed "highly immoral" the efforts to "induce young men to 'beat' the draft."

These attempts "undermine the moral fabric of our nation," the council said, and should "not be countenanced under the cloak of free speech."

New Plane Is Damaged

DALLAS (AP)— Ling-Temco-Vought officials blame a propeller which prematurely reversed during a routine landing for damage to their vertical lift plane, the XC142A.

The accident at the LTV Aerospace Corp. airfield Tuesday damaged three of the propellers, the left wing and part of the fuselage. The pilot and copilot were not injured.

Officials said the No. 1 propeller's sudden reversal sent the plane into a spin, taking it off the runway into a soggy field.

Propellers usually are reversed a few seconds after the craft touches down. Officials said they had no idea what triggered the premature reversal.

They emphasized the accident had nothing to do with the vertical lift feature of the plane, one of five built under a $100 million research and development contract.

Plane Is Tested

FORT WORTH (AP) — The sixth variable sweep wing F11, formerly the TFX, stayed up 40 minutes in its first test flight Tuesday. Officials at the General Dynamics plant where it was built said the craft flew 12 days ahead of schedule.

"FALL WINDS"

bring "WINDFALLS". You can surely classify this three bedroom, den, two bath brick in the highly regarded Colonial Hills Addition as a "WINDFALL". It is centrally air conditioned; has a fireplace; den and kitchen are completely paneled; fenced; double garage, and, is F.H.A. appraised for $18,900.00 or assume conventional loan; and, owner would consider a large trade-in in west or southwest.

JUST FAR ENOUGH

but not too far from town) about 3½ miles from east circle, 240 acre farm that is "nearly perfect" for raising your family (all it needs is a house); minerals, leasing rights and half of royalty go with the place, a real find in this county. If you want to move your family to the edge of town, this is the place you have been looking for. Or, invest now and build later.

Senate Allots Funds For Water Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — The massive Trinity River canal program and seven other Texas projects were allotted a total of $108 million Tuesday by the Senate.

They are included in a bill covering 140 water projects in 41 states. A total authorization of some $2 billion was approved on a voice vote.

The measure now goes to the House, where passage of all the Texas projects is expected.

The Trinity River improvements, projected to cost $911 million, calls for a barge canal from the Gulf of Mexico to the Dallas-Fort Worth area following the general route of the stream.

This project was not in the original Senate bill but was put into the omnibus bill by the House Sept. 22. A Senate-House conference committee approved the bill Oct. 15.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., called the Trinity project's approval "the beginning of the fruition of a dream of generations of Texans."

The undertaking "will open up East and North Texas to water transportation and bring vast economic and industrial development to those areas" and "open the way for future growth of Texas," he said.

The Texas projects and the money now authorized for them:

Trinity Rover, $83 million.

El Paso, for arroyo flood control, $12,493,000.

Taylor's Bayou, Southeast Texas, $5,004,000.

Highland Bayou, Galveston County, $3.5 million.

Buffalo Bayou near Houston, $1.8 million.

Chocolate Bayou, Southeast Texas, $1,254,000.

Houston Ship Channel, Green Bayou, $470,000.

Pat Mayse Reservoir, Lamar County, codification, $10,000.

Other Texas members of Congress expressed hope that the House would pass on the Trinity project today.

Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., the principal Trinity sponsor, said he expected the project to ride through all right.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., said he also looked for approval of the measure. It will go to the President if the House approves.

"The comprehensive and admittedly broad gauge project will help meet the expanding needs of this rapidly growing area from Galveston Bay through Liberty County and on to the Dallas-Fort Worth area," Brooks said.

Brooks noted that the omnibus bill also includes authorization for the Taylor's Bayou project, which affects drainage of more than 60 per cent of Jefferson County.

"It will provide drainage necessary to remove the constant threat of flooding in much of Jefferson County," he said.

Driver Killed In Cattle Truck Crash

HAVANA, Ill. (AP)—A New Mexico cattle truck driver was killed, a Texas man critically injured and about 50 cattle destroyed in a truck crash near here Tuesday.

Larry Whittington, 27, of Fort Sumner, N.M., died in the crash. His helper, Waynen Graham, 36, of Eustace, Tex., was in critical condition at a hospital here.

Investigators said the truck plunged into a ditch after hitting a bridge abutment.

Money Guides May Be Revised

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Guidelines have become a key ingredient in today's mix of government, business and labor activities. And the guidelines may be in for revision. They certainly have brought conflict into the open on several fronts in recent days.

Both government and business appear of late to be reconsidering their stands — or at least their methods of living with the guidelines. Labor sometimes has ignored, at others deplored, application of the guidelines to its wage policies.

Government guidelines, now some three years old, are mainly in these fields:

1. Pricing of industry's products, with government interest spurred by increased fear of late of future inflation.

2. Wages, with the federal administration striving to discourage big pay scale boosts that could set off another wage-price spiral.

3. Interest rates, with Washington anxious to hold them down to encourage further business expansion and consumer buying, and the banks openly chafing now because soaring demands for loans are running up against rising costs of luring more savings into their vaults with which to meet the loan demands.

4. Corporate investment overseas, with the government urging business to bring back as many dollars as possible and to cut back spending of new dollars abroad.

5. Bank loans to foreign governments or individuals, with government proposing a definite limit to this outflow of U.S. dollars.

The conflict in each interest is both practical and theoretical.

In the realm of theory, businessmen, bankers and labor leaders tend to join in opposition to the government interfering in the conduct of their affairs. Most say they prefer to stick to open market activity involving supply and demand and collective bargaining. The government's theoretical stand is that the public interest must be protected and that only the government can do that.

In the realm of practice, business tends to challenge both the arithmetic of the guidelines and the chances of obtaining through them the goals the government says it seeks. For example, several industries contend that the pressure to hold down prices is crimping profits to the point that investment for future expansion will be limited or unattainable.

Guidelines for prices and wages are tied to government estimates of the year-to-year increase in the output of goods per man hour of labor. Business ideas of the size of this increased productivity are usually quite different from those advanced by the government. And labor's ideas differ sharply from both.

Lobos Are Tough But Tigers Put Out Top Effort

Horrace Bostick, head football coach of the Snyder High School Tigers, told members of the Quarterback Club Tuesday night he thinks the boys are "putting out a good effort and will do their best again. Our kids try and they hit hard."

The former TCU player said everyone on the squad is in good health with the exception of Jimmy Wilson, who may be lost for the season due to back problems.

He said the Tigers limited Lamesa to only 37 yards gained rushing and should have won the game, but mistakes and fumbles were costly.

Bostick praised the offense of this week's opponent — Levelland, but observed "everybody has scored on them."

Tommy Echols, coach of the Lamar 9th grade team, gave the scouting report, saying the defense of Levelland impressed him. He pointed out a punt return and an intercepted pass accounted for two TD's against Lamesa.

Clay Krueger, Levelland's 6-foot, 7-inch end also came in for praise by the Tiger scout. "He can catch the ball," said Echols, adding that Levelland has a "fine passing club." Joe Tubb, the Lobo quarterback likes to pass the ball.

Echols also observed that the Levelland team is in fine physical condition. "They do calesthenics for 20 minutes before every game," he explained. They like to whip their opponents man for man.

The biggest all-the-way threat in the Lobo camp is David Whitsett, a 164-pound halfback, who has the speed and maneuverability to go all the way in a broken field. He is a fine ball carrier and an outstanding defender.

Levelland also has size and good overall team speed. With 13 returning lettermen, they have as much experience as anyone else in the league. However, Keith Yeager, the lading ground gainer and an outstanding fullback, probably is out for the season. He sustained a back injury in the Hereford game and has not suited out since then.

Other coaches in the school system gave reports on last week's games and the prospects for this week.

Notre Dame Is Favored

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Why can't these scientists invent something to cure a head cold and a split-screen television set so recuperating football fans can watch both Southern California at Notre Dame and Michigan State at Purdue simultaneously?

Last week's clear-eyed predictions lowered the season's average to .730.

Here are this week's picks:

Southern Cal at Notre Dame. A year ago, the Trojans wrecked Notre Dame's perfect season in the final quarter of the final game. This year it will be different. Southern California has Mike Garrett, but the Irish have Bill Wolski, Nick Eddy and Nick Rassas.

Michigan State over Purdue: Michigan State's defensive line held Michigan and Ohio State to a total of minus 70 yards in the Spartans' two outings. It is doubtful if Bob Griese, Purdue's competent QB, can find the key to open the door.

Nebraska over Colorado: The Cornhuskers will find a way to contain Wilmer Cooks.

Arkansas over North Texas State: Hardly a workout for the team that beat Texas a week ago.

Texas over Rice: The Longhorns are weary but fresh enough to beat Rice.

Louisiana State over South Carolina: The Tigers' Joe Labruzzo became of age against Kentucky a week ago.

Kentucky over Georgia: Bob Taylor, Georgia's best back, is out for the season with a broken leg.

Crockett Is AP Lineman

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a good thing Bobby Crockett doesn't wear a coonskin cap like Davey did. The Arkansas end would have had plenty of trouble keeping it on with all the tumbling he did in the Razorbacks' 27-24 victory over Texas last Saturday.

Crockett's sparkling catches in Arkansas' late drive for the winning touchdown against the Longhorns made him The Associated Press Lineman of the week.

The 6-foot-1, 195-pound senior caught five passes in Arkansas' 80-yard march downfield — the last one a 14-yarder that left the ball on the Texas one. Arkansas scored the winning touchdown on the next play.

Over-all, Crockett caught eight passes for 102 yards and one touchdown.

SPORTSCUTTLE

By BUCK SITTON

The Snyder Tigers may be taking on one of the best offensive teams in the district when they line up against Levelland Friday night, but the Lobos will face one of the toughest defensive units in the league.

What happens when a good offensive team meets a good defensive team?

That question was partly answered earlier this season when the Tigers took on the Mustangs at Sweetwater. The result was a scoreless tie.

But we think Sweetwater has has a far better defense than than Levelland. The Lobos have given up an average of 23.6 points per game against five foes. It's true the competition was tough, but it was no tougher than the teams Snyder has faced.

So, we conclude that Snyder will be able to move the ball on Levelland.

The Lobos, on the other hand, should be able to move the ball against the Tigers since they they have averaged 19 points per outing. However, the score of their last game (28-26 against Lamesa) may be misleading. Only one of those touchdowns came as the result of a drive (and a short drive at that) as the other four were scored on spectacular plays. David Whitsett, undoubtedly one of the better running backs in the district, returned a punt 75 yards for one touchdown and he ran an inter-cepted pass back 61 yards for another. A third TD resulted a long pass. The drive covered 34 yards following a fumble recovery.

In summary, we think it's easier for an average offense to score on an average defense than it is for a strong offense to score on a strong defense. It wouldn't surprise us if both teams score two touchdowns with the victory going to the team that scores the most extra points.

There are some figures to to back up this belief: The Lobos have not scored less than 13 points in any of their games nor have their opponents failed to post at least 16 points.

Only fantastic bad luck has prevented the Tigers from scoring in their last three outings. Usually, a good defense will get a touchdown during a football game. Perhaps Lady Luck will cast her glance at the Tigers this week.

Now Lobos, please heed the law of averages.

Zuckert, LeMay Being Considered

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Several new names have come up in baseball's search for a new commissioner, The Associated Press learned today.

The major league club owners, eager to elect a successor to retiring Ford Frick before the annual baseball convention next month, have narrowed the field of candidates to five men.

Three of the names have never been mentioned publicly before. All are outside baseball.

These men, who most regarded as among the leading candidates, are Eugene M. Zuckert, Secretary of the Air Force; Curtis E. LeMay, former Air Force chief of staff and head of the Strategic Air Command, and G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

Another new name, said to be a real dark horse should baseball decide to pick one of its own is Louis Carroll, the attorney for the National League.

The fifth is an old face, American League President Joe Cronin, who according to one source, "has been getting an awful lot of 11th-hour support."

Under this plan, the commissioner would surround himself with administrative assistants in charge of radio, television, pres , player relations and the pension plan.

None of the 20 owners, including the two-man screening committee, John E. Fetzer, president of the Detroit Tigers, and John Galbraith president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was in position to say whether the new commissioner would come from within or outside baseball.

The general feeling was that the next commissioner would not be named at this meeting, despite the drastic reduction in the list of candidates. The field, narrowed to 18 at the last meeting in July, has been trimmed to 10 and then five within 24 hours.

Walter O'Malley, president of the Los Angeles Dodgers, was among those who believed that at least one more meeting at some future date would be necessary before a commissioner would be elected. A total of 14 votes, seven from each league, are necessary for election.

"I didn't expect them to name a commissioner when I got here," O'Malley said, "and I still don't expect one now. However, a lot has been accomplished. More than I expected."

Before getting down to the business of selecting a commissioner, baseball Tuesday signed a new radio-TV contract with the National Broadcasting Co. for a whopping 30.6 million. That includes TV rights for the World Series and All-Star Games as well as Game of the Week.

Baseball received 5.4 million last year for the Game of the Week from ABC, which elected not to renew its option for 1966.

'B' Game Cancelled

The Snyder High School "B" team football game with Colorado City this week has been cancelled, according to Coach Bill Hartsfield. He said the game was called off due to a large number of injuries on the Wolf varsity squad. Coach Truman Nix had to call up several boys from the "B" team to replace the injured boys.

Non-Grid Injury Fatal

Father Davis said X-rays showed the rupture.

The boy collapsed while sitting on the bench during a game with St. Gerard's Saturday. He never regained consciousness and died Tuesday.

Jennings had complained of headaches for several days prior to the plunge.

The body was sent to his home in Chicago by bus.

Bulldogs, Panthers Both Have Powerful Offenses

Who is going to win the District 4B "football game of the year" at Ira Friday night?

A study of comparative scores is interesting.

Each team has faced four common foes. Ira beat Mertzon 30-0 the first week of the season and Hobbs thumped the same team 40-8 in the third week. Ira clipped Lueders, 36-12, in their fourth game after Hobbs had disposed of the same foe, 36-14, in their opener. Both of these comparisons indicate the squads are about equal.

However, Ira appears to have the upper hand if you consider the O'brien game. The Bulldogs bumped the O'Brien eleven, 81-18, while the Panthers of Hobbs managed only a two touchdown victory, 24-12. Also, Ira whacked Paint Creek, 70 to 18, whereas Hobbs won, 40-7.

In its only other game, Ira turned back Wall, 63-28, but Hobbs was more impressive in its 38-16 decision over previously undefeated Weinert.

The Bulldogs have racked up an impressive 56 point scoring average per game while limiting the opposition to 15.2 points. Hobbs has averaged 35.6 points per game on offense while giving up only 11.2 points per game.

HOGS WILL HATE LOVE

DENTON (AP) — Heart of North Texas State's offensive is John Love, a 181-pound flanker who will be the chief threat to Arkansas Saturday night at Little Rock.

Love has accounted for 569 yards and all but 36 of it has come from pass-receptions. This is more than one-third of the Eagle offense.

Despite double coverage week after week, Love remains the prime mover of the Eagle attack.

"Everyone has to respect this guy," says Coach Odus Mitchell. "He's just too big a threat."

In last week's wild game with Tulsa, Love set a school record of 10 catches for 102 yards and a touchdown.

He already has caught 38 passes. This also is a school record.

Love averages 14 yards per catch, with a total gain of 533. He also has picked up 36 yards on three rushing attempts and returned six kickoffs 146 yards.

Five of Love's catches have scored touchdowns. He also has kicked 10 of 13 extra points for a total of 40 points, which ties him with Howard Twilley of Tulsa for the Missouri Valley Conference scoring lead.

Mitchell says: "I wouldn't trade him for Twilley. He's not quite the pass catcher Twilley is in a crowd, but Twilley is more experienced and that's not taking anything from John's ability to hang onto the ball. Love is a much bigger threat. He has great speed and is amazingly quick. Get him the ball in open country and he's gone."

And Bob Way, coach of the offensive line, says Love is one of the best blockers on the team.
