Recession Predicted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's chief economic adviser says there is "a real risk" of a recession early next year as a result of the tax increase and federal spending cut.

"We do not have very much experience in curbing the inflation of an overheated economy without throwing it into reverse gear," Arthur M. Okun said in a copyright interview with "U. S. News & World Report."

"It will be an unprecedented victory if we come through with a cooling off that checks inflation without actually retreating on output, jobs and economic activity," Okun said.

"Nobody can be confident it's going to work that way," he said, "but I'm hopeful."

In approving Johnsons request for the 10 per cent income tax surcharge, Congress added requirements for a $6 billion cut in federal spending.

"We got more restraint than we asked for, Okun said, "and more than we wanted."

The chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers said the tax increase — spending cut is the biggest swing toward restraint in 20 years — a $20 billion swing in the budget — and could overslow the economy.

"However, let me emphasize that a slowdown is desirable, he said. "We need a shift from hot boom to cold prosperity."

$6 MILLION WORTH OF PLANES DESTROYED

Infiltrators Hit Air Base

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong infiltrators in loincloths attacked a U.S. air base today and blew up $6 million worth of planes.

The attack on the Tuy Hoa air base, on the central coast of South Vietnam 295 miles northeast of Saigon, was the third on an American air base in Southeast Asia in three days. It raised U. S. aircraft casualties since last Monday to the unusually high total of 12 planes lost—including nine downed over North or South Vietnam—and four badly damaged.

Air Force officers at Tuy Hoa said about nine Viet Cong got into the base and all were killed. One American was reported wounded.

Reports from Tuy Hoa said the Viet Cong slipped into the base under cover of a brief mortar and rocket attack shortly after midnight. Firing rocket-propelled grenades and hurling satchel charges, they destroyed two four-engine C130 transport planes and badly damaged an F100 Supersabre fighter-bomber. Several other transports were slightly damaged, U.S. officers said.

Tuy Hoa is the home of the 31st Tactical Fighter Wing, an outfit of about 100 Supersabres. Among its five squadrons are two Air National Guard units which arrived in Vietnam in June, the 188th Tactical Fighter Squadron from New Mexico and the 136th from Niagara Falls, N.Y. Neither unit had any casualties.

On Friday night, infiltrators got into the Udorn air base in northern Thailand and badly damaged two planes, while a rocket attack on the Da Nang air base destroyed one jet fighter-bomber and badly damaged another.

The raid at Udorn was the first on one of the six American bases in Thailand, from which 85 per cent of the bombing missions against North Vietnam originate. The U.S. Embassy said defenses at the bases were being strengthened, and patrols around the bases were being enlarged.

Other aircraft losses announced during the weekend included a Navy A4 Skyhawk downed southeast of Vinh, in North Vietnam, and an F100 Supersabre downed off the coast of South Vietnam. The Skyhawk's pilot is missing, but the two crewmen of the Supersabre were rescued.

The Skyhawk was the 873rd American warplane lost in combat over the North. The cause of the Supersabre downing has not been determined.

Navy, Air Force and Marine pilots reported destroying or damaging 232 supply boats on waterways in North Vietnam's southern panhandle Saturday, "the largest bag of boats for the war," said one U.S. spokesman. The American pilots also reported the destruction of 46 enemy trucks and silencing 10 antiaircraft sites.

In 118 missions over the panhandle Sunday, U.S. pilots reported smashing another 152 supply boats for a total of 477 reported destroyed or damaged over the past four days.

Air Force B52s, continued their daily pounding of enemy base camps along the Cambodian border west and north of Saigon. From noon Sunday to noon Monday, 30 of the eight jet Stratfortresses bracketed three vulnerable South Vietnamese towns with 1,500 tons of bombs in efforts to keep Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops from pushing in. One of the raids was only six miles from the outskirts of Tay Ninh, a provincial capital 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

Also in the war—

Another 1,500 men of Thailand's Black Panther infantry division arrived in Saigon to be added to the capital's defenses. An advance party of 1,500 men arrived a week ago, and the other 9,000 troops in the division are expected by the end of the year.

Informed sources said the U.S. Command is expected to issue an official report soon confirming that the numerous reports of enemy helicopters operating around the demilitarized zone in mid-June were due to misreading of radar signals from allied ships operating just offshore.

The misinterpretation of the radar signals triggered attacks by U.S. planes on the American cruiser Boston, the Australian destroyer Hobart, two U.S. Navy patrol boats and a U.S. Coast Guard cutter.

Steel Talks Are Delayed

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A top level bargaining session of steel labor negotiators today forced a one-day delay in a meeting of the United Steelworkers' Executive Committee.

The 33-man committee had been scheduled to meet this morning, reportedly to consider a secret industry offer, but the session never got started. It was put off until Tuesday.

Union President I. W. Abel sent word that he was tied up with R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the 11 major steel firms involved in the new contract talks for the nation's basic steelworkers. The top level meeting between Abel and Cooper came as time began running out on the current contract, which expires at midnight Wednesday.

UMW Vice President Joseph P. Molony, who brought word of the renewed talks, told newsmen as he rushed back to Abel's side that "things look better now — they're looking up."

An afternoon meeting of the 600-member Basic Steel Industry Conference, which has the power to accept or reject any industry offer, was still scheduled for this afternoon.

But Paul Hilbert, director of the union's District 15, said that sessions most likely will be delayed to Tuesday.

Molony said Abel and Cooper were meeting in the U.S. Steel Building, which is only a half block from the William Penn Hotel where the bulk of the bargaining has been going on.

Whether there will be a nationwide steel strike Thursday or a settlement along the pattern of the can, aluminum, copper and auto industries is hanging in the blance this week.

The Basic Steel Industry Conference has not only the power to accept or reject an industry offer, but also could order a strike.

LIGHTNING SWEEP — U.S. Soldiers move out of helicopters to begin another lightning sweep against the Viet Cong who are said to be refitting and supplying for a third offensive against Saigon, capital of South Vietnam. Allied troops have intensified patrols and troop movements around the capital and along suspected infiltration routes in an effort to blunt any such attacks. (AP Wirephoto)

Roscoe Man Killed In Robbery

ABILENE (AP) — A service station attendant on the job his first night was killed early today—shot and bludgeoned. The cash register with an estimated $300 was missing.

The slaying occurred at Trent, 15 miles west of Abilene.

Officerw said the victim, Joseph Weldon Mayes, 55, of Roscoe, Tex., appeared to have lived for a brief time and sought to crawl to a dog tied nearby for unknown reasons.

Taylor County Sheriff's Investigator George Hooker said a truck driver found the body when he drove into the station at 6 a.m. Mayes apparently had been dead about three hours.

Mayes was found lying face down in a pool of blood. A crescent wrench wrapped in a sock was found nearby and officers at first thought he only had been beaten to death.

Yet when the body was examined at an Abilene hospital it was found that Mayes also had been shot.

The estimate of the loss was made by Marion Dupose of Merkel, the owner.

REPORTS CHALLENGED

Riot Commission Books Close

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders went out of business today—one year, several hundred thousand words and $1.5 million after President Johnson created it.

Sniper fire still whined in the streets of Detroit on July 29, 1967 when Johnson convened the 11-member commission at the White House and charged it with trying to learn "what happened? What can be done to prevent it from happening again and again?"

The commission, headed by former Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner and representing nearly all the colors of the political spectrum, issued its first report last March.

Another report was released over the weekend and said new studies show rioters to be representative of urban Negro youth and not just "riff-raff" and criminals.

The report also said that 18 per cent of ghetto residents take part in riots, a far larger percentage than originally estimated.

The latest report, expected to be the last bearing the commission seal, was a compilation of three studies by separate groups. It was issued without comment.

The original report ran some 240,000 words and was the work of 150 fulltime paid staffers as well as the 11 commissioned members.

A staff aide said Sunday that approximately $1.5 million was spent on the report which concluded that America was moving toward two societies, one black and one white.

The report called for a massive program to provide housing, education and jobs for the nation's Negroes.

The report sparked almost immediate controversy. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said it placed undue emphasis on the role of white racists while all but ignoring the guilt of rioters.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said the report "was open to challenge."

Shots Fired At Cincinnati Police

CINCINNATI (AP) — Shots were fired at police as they moved into the Millvale section early Sunday to quiet a disturbance. Three policemen were assaulted.

"At least half a dozen shots from a light weapon were fired" at about 18 policemen as they tried to disperse a crowd of 500, Capt. Stanley Grothaus said.

The shots apparently were fired from the crowd or its perimeter and no one was hit. Police did not report the arrest of anyone for the actual shooting.

Armed with shotguns, the policemen fired warning blasts into the air to break up the crowd which hurled rocks and bottles at them. Two negroes were hurt—not seriously—and six persons were arrested for disorderly conduct and resisting arrest in the incident about 2:30 a.m. in the Negro community.

Sgt. William Breckel, one of the first policemen on the scene, was mauled by at least four members of the crowd, but was not hurt.

A youth, who had been carrying a hay bailing hook, attacked patrolman Robert Kelly, 34, inflicting multiple scratches on Kelly's legs.

Police said the disturbance was started by an auto accident as the driver of a car that hit a parked auto got into a fight with one of the spectors of a crowd that began to gather. Actually police had been called out earlier as disorderly crowds were reported in the section.

Screwworm Infestation Up For Last Week

MISSION, Tex. (AP)—Texas' screwworm outbreak has reached 1,303 cases— 84 per cent of the national total—the screwworm laboratory reported today.

The laboratory said 145 screwworm cases were confirmed last week, the second worst week of the year.

Last year at this time only 123 cases had been reported.

Civil Disorders Spread In China

HONG KONG (AP) — Civil war has been raging throughout Red China's Kwangsi Province bordering North Vietnam in the past six months and some 50,000 people have been massacred, a purported Red Guard publication seen here today said.

Fighting between supporters and enemies of Chairman Mao Tse-tung has spread to 56 cities, counties and towns in Kwangsi, the publication said.

Both sides used "modern weapons and ammunition" said the July issue of "422 Magazine," purportedly published in Kwangsi.

It is impossible to determine the authenticity of the publication but many arrivals from China said most of the cities in Kwangsi were "off limits" to travelers.

The publication said agents of Mao's arch foe, president Liu Shao Chi, "a small minority of men in power and capitalist elements in Kwangsi are responsible for the mass massacre.

"They stole much needed weapons and ammunition for the People's Republic of Vietnam to kill Red Guards loyal to Chairman Mao Tse-tung."

The publication said most of the 50,000 killed were Red Guards. Some observers said if the report were true, the casualty number could be much higher.

Others believe that the publication deliberately exaggerated the casualty figure hoping the Red Guards could receive military help from Peking.

No Survivors As Globemaster Crashes

DOBBINS AIR FORCE BASE, Ga. (AP)—A C124 Globemaster carrying a crew of 10 crashed in South American jungles Sunday night, and the Air Force said there were no survivors.

The Globemaster was attached to a unit from Dobbins, and it is believed the entire crew is from the Atlanta area.

A spokesman said the four-engine plane crashed in mountainous jungles 47 miles northwest of Recife, the most eastern large city in Brazil. The plane was hauling freight from Zanderij Airport in Surinam to Recife.

PRAGUE'S INDEPENDENCE QUESTIONED

Historic Czech, Soviet Talks Begin

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
Associated Press Writer

PRAGUE (AP) — Leaders of the Czechoslovak and Soviet Communist parties met today for historic talks near the Soviet border on Russian demands that Czechoslovakia check its independent course down the Communist road.

The official news agency CTK said the talks opened in the Moscow delegation's parked special train at Cierna, a Czechoslovak railroad junction not far from the Soviet border.

A Czechoslovak traveler returning from the Soviet border reported that strong Soviet forces were maneuvering there with tanks and other heavy equipment.

Other units, which had stayed on in Czechoslovakia after last month's Warsaw Pact maneuvers, were officially announced as having scheduled their departure tonight from the area of Libava in Moravia.

About 40 Czechoslovak leaders, including party leader Alexander Dubcek and 11 members of the party presidium, arrived Sunday night by plane at Kosice, about 45 miles from the Soviet border. They continued by sleeper train to Cierna.

Soviet party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev led the 11-member Soviet Politburo that traveled to Cierna by train. There were two other Russians in the group. Among presidium members was Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, who is considered to favor a more moderate approach to the Czechoslovak leaders.

A strong police cordon was thrown around the area where the Soviet train was parked.

Expressed Soviet fears that the reformist movement may lead Czechoslovakia out of the Warsaw Pact alliance are most prominent on the agenda of the meeting.

Repeated Czechoslovak assurances that Prague's ties with Moscow are inviolable so far have failed to impress Soviet leaders.

The talks, which probably will last one or two days, will cover all the issues that have been raised by the Moscow-led five hard-line parties in their "Warsaw letter" earlier this month. They charged that Czechoslovakia is threatened by "counterrevolution," the same charge that caused Soviet tanks to crush the uprising in Hungary in 1956.

The main demands of the letter are that Prague take action against "anti-Socialist forces" and reinstate press censorship. But Prague leaders, riding the crest of a wave of national pride, have already made plain that the basic principles of their course of Socialist democratization are not negotiable. These include press freedom, they have emphasized.

DEAR ABBY: Norbert (made up name) used to come right home after work until about six months ago. Then the excuses started coming: "The clock at work was slow. I stayed to help a buddy. Car trouble. I had to stop at the hardware store."

Norbert is always anywhere from an hour to two hours late. I am afraid to ask him for the truth because I think there is another woman in the picture.

Abby, I love Norbert and he used to love me. We have three kids, and I don't want to lose him. I've been a good wife to him and I don't know where I have failed. We married young (I was 17 and he was 18). I was his first and only girl and maybe he is getting a taste of life he never had before. Please, tell me what to do. I have no proof and I'm afraid to ask him.

END OF ROPE

DEAR END: You MUST ask him. Fearing "the truth" won't solve anything. First, find out what went wrong with your marriage, then set about to correct it. You may need some counseling, in which case don't delay. Get it now.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Do you believe in love at first sight?

THEO

DEAR THEO: No. But I do believe in taking a second look.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: A woman who works with me says that you will not use a letter in your column unless it is signed in full by the person who wrote it. I say you will. And how about those letters signed, "DESPERATE, CURIOUS, MIXED UP," . . . etc? Do people really sign their letters that way, or is that your own way of keeping them anonymous?

Also, I'd like to know if you ever answer letters personally without putting them in your column?

LONG TIME READER

DEAR READER: Unsigned letters receive the same consideration for publication in my column as signed letters. If the writer asks that his name and location be kept confidential, I respect his wishes by signing his letter, "DESPERATE, CURIOUS, MIXED UP," . . . etc. But some letters are signed that way. All letters accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope are answered personally.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: These friends of mine went on a two-week vacation, and the lady left the key to her apartment with me so I could go there and check up on things while they were away.

Well, I went there a couple of times and decided that I would help her out by cleaning it up a little. (Abby, the apartment was filthy, but it's always that way.)

After I cleaned it up I got this awful feeling that maybe I shouldn't have, but I just wanted to give it a good cleaning to set an example for her. Do you think I did the right thing or not?

WANTS TO KNOW

DEAR WANTS: Since it is always "filthy," you probably should have left things the way they were.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Full Page Ad Thanks Mayor Stokes

CLEVELAND (AP) — A full-page advertisement saying "thank you Mayor Stokes—no lives lost Wednesday, July 24, 1968, black or white," appeared in the Cleveland Plain Dealer today.

The advertisement commended Stokes a Negro, for the "exceptional and courageous manner" in which he handled racial disturbances in the city's Glenville area last week.

More than a score of civil rights groups, religious and civic organizations sponsored the advertisement.

It praised Stokes for appointing a Negro peace keeping force Wednesday night to patrol the Glenville area where 10 persons—three of them policemen—were shot to death Tuesday.

The advertisment said Stokes had been criticized for his action in withdrawing white police and National Guardsmen from the area.

"When Mayor Stokes and leaders of the black community walked the streets after the death of Dr. Martin Luther King and kept the community 'cool', they earned city-wide praise. This is that same mayor who was so recently hailed," the advertisement said.

Funeral service will be held Tuesday at Midland for Ken Haught, 59, former Snyder resident, who died Sunday afternoon.

The hour for the funeral service had not been announced this morning. Arrangements are being made at Ellis Funeral Hme in Midland.

Mr. Haught is survived by his wife, Emma, a former teacher in Snyder Public Schools, and two sons, Mike and Ken, all of the home at 1911 Hughes Street in Midland.

Their tasks will include off-loading ships and handling supplies from razor blades to road-graders, aircraft fuel and lubricants and provisions of all kinds through the port of Danang and over beaches from the demilitarized zone in the north to Chu Lai in the south.

Good May Yet Get Job At Gas Station

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Bebe Merrill, 22-year-old coed at Hudson Valley Community College, may yet get the job she wants at a local service station.

Miss Merrill answered an ad for a station attendant but was told it was against company policy to "hire girls for that kind of work."

She took the matter to the State Division of Human Rights, which got the station to agree to consider her for a job when another vacancy occurs.

Miss Merrill said she had pumped gas for years at her uncle's station in her native Houston, Tex.

3 Fires Put Out

Two automobile fires and one grass fire were extinguished by the Snyder Fire Department over the weekend. The grass fire, reported at 4:10 p.m. Saturday, was two miles northeast of Fluvanna. The car fires involved a 1963 Oldsmobile in the 1800 block of Twenty - fourth Street, Saturday evening, and a police car on the parking lot early Sunday morning.

Nevada Fire Runs Wild

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — A 3,000-acre fire which threatened Nevada's capital flashed out of control today after burning within 600 yards of the governor's luxurious home.

It started in a Sierra forest Sunday afternoon on the western edge of Carson City destroying one house. One hundred other homes were evacuated.

"This is the worst fire since 1926," said Gov. Paul Laxalt, his face smudged and dirty after he and his wife, Jackie, removed some valuables from their $70,000 home.

Laxalt ordered 200 National Guardsmen to help fight the fire and prevent vandalism and looting.

The fire burned in timber at 7,000 foot elevation, too high and steep to be reached by bulldozed to fight it, although the U.S. Forest Service said it was 60 per cent contained.

Cinders from the fire fell on the capitol and state office buildings as well as homes. Many residents sprayed their rooftops with garden hoses.

Some Thermometers Hit Record Lows

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cool air mass brought clear but unseasonably chilly weather to the northeastern quarter of the nation today.

Early morning temperatures dipped into the 40s and lower 50s, establishing record minimums for the date in many areas.

Elsewhere through the nation the weather was sunny and warm, except along the western and southern edge of the cool zone where scattered showers and thundershowers lingered.

The moisture was the remnant of a line of severe rain and wind storms from the Rockies to the Carolinas.

RARE PRIZE — J. B. January of Snyder displays a new find of double edged rod wire that was given to a lucky member attending the third annual convention of the Texas Barbed Wire Collectors Association, held last weekend in the Scurry County Coliseum. The gift was made available by the American Barbed Wire Journal, a local publication edited by January and his wife, Nelda. Recipient of the new find is J. T. Womack of Andrews.

Barbed Wire Meet Ends

Boone McClure of Canyon was reelected president of the American Barbed Wire Collectors Association in a business meeting held in the Scurry County Coliseum Saturday afternoon. The meeting was held in conjunction with the state convention that was held in Snyder over the weekend.

Barbed wire enthusiasts from a wide area showed up in Snyder to buy, sell, trade, and show off their collections. Several hundred collectors from about a dozen states were in attendance.

W. T. Swink was named as the "Barb-Arian-of-the-year," an honor bestowed on someone in the United States, each year by the Texas association. He has been collecting barbed wire since 1924, and was one of the founders of the Barbed Wire Association and is one of its directors.

The site of next year's convention will not be chosen until a study of facilities is made. However, the city of Austin made a strong bid for the convention.

Four Firemen Go To Training School

Four Snyder firemen attended a Firemen and Fire Marshal's Training School at Texas A&M last week. They were Chief Alfred Kohl, David McIntosh, Tommy Gaynes and Darby Scott.

Kohl reported that not only was the training valuable, but that by sending representatives, Snyder received a five per cent credit on its key insurance rate, which will eventually help on local fire insurance.

Wallace Is Willing To Debate

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — George Wallace says he is willing to debate both the Republican and Democratic nominees for president once they have been chosen. He wants equal television time for his third party's national convention.

"I would be happy to debate either one or both," Wallace said Sunday. "But I'm not issuing any challenge. If the networks ask me to debate, I would accept."

Wallace said he expected the television networks to provide coverage of his American Independent party's convention.

Wallace travels to Washington Tuesday for a speech to the Association of County Officials before heading west with stops scheduled for Montana, California, New Mexico and Texas.

Wallace was asked how much his campaign might cost.

"I don't know. It's not going to cost us $200 million, because we don't have access to $200 million," Wallace said. "Ours is truly a grass roots movement and frankly we're not going to need the money that the national parties are going to need. They are going to need to do a selling job."

Replying to questions, Wallace said Cuba's Fidel Castro rose to power because of "liberal, left wing aid that he got in this country." As to what action he would take, if elected, Wallace said he would have a policy statement drafted at his party's convention.

"I'm running against this group of folks in this country that brought Castro to power," he said.

Wallace said the outflow of U.S. gold should be lessened by reducing foreign aid and cutting back on "some of the poverty programs that bring no return."

GUNSMOKE IN THE REDLANDS, By Joe F. Combs (Naylor $5.95)

One of the wildest parts of Texas was the eastern section even after the Old West region had been tamed. But it has not been made the locale of fiction like the West.

Perhaps this is because the events there were not well recorded by newspapers and were not the subject of talk. For one thing, few people would talk about the troubles and never could be persuaded to testify against the various gunmen.

Brief references to the Redlands feuds appear here and there. Now Joe F. Combs has researched the events and written a book about them.

Combs is a veteran newsman with the Beaumont Enterprise and actually was present now and then toward the end of the troubles which lasted from about the time of Texas' independence into the 20th Century.

The area centering in San Augustine was not particularly peaceful under the best of circumstances.

Away was the Neutral Strip btween Louisiana and Texas where the lawless were perfectly safe. No legal authority exercised jurisdiction there.

Then the area had long tradition of lack of laws where the hastily-organized vigilante bands handed out their own form of justice in case of trouble.

It was in this climate that the Wall-Border families began feuding. It all started between the children of the two prominent families and eventually involved the adults and their friends.

The Wall boys were bullies, in Combs' version, but the Border children, although no physical match for the Walls, soon found that gunpowder was the great equalizer.

Over the years, the families killed off each other, or their friends did the slayings, until no one was left except some who simply had decided the game wasn't worth it and left the area.

The author describes another feud, that of the Conner family, as well as several other major instances of violence. Much of this is recorded in court documents.

The Texas Rangers at some points were called in to stop the trouble but were helpless; for the warring parties could disappear into the forests where even today inhabitants are careful about going.

The feuds and other violence in this part of Texas had all the elements of a western story—wide-open saloons, beautiful woman, duelling in the streets, hired killers, fast horses. It still is a mystery why the East Texas situation never became as well plowed in fiction as the West.

Combs' story is fast-paced, clear and dramatic without all the entangling and unnecessary side trips which sometimes encumber writing about Texas.—The AP.

SAN ANTONIO'S MISSION SAN JOSE, By Fr. Marion A. Habig (Naylor $7.95)

The Mission San Jose is one of the "must" places for any tourist in San Antonio.

It has been labeled "Queen of the Missions" for reasons which are not too clear but at any rate it is a place of prime interest. The label has been with it a long time.

San Jose was founded two centuries ago, declined as did most of the missions because of government actions, Apache raids, disease, soldier depredations and inability to bring in sufficient Indians as converts.

For a long time it was abandoned and became a crumbling ruin. It was restored, beginning in the 1930s, by the Catholic Church, individuals, societies and Bexar County. Now it is one of the most impressive of the old missions and has been designated a Historic Site by both the state and national governments.

Fr. Marion A. Habig is the author of several previous books, largely history and biography.

In his new book he details the rise of San Jose Mission, its decline and fall and its restoration.

Any discussion of San Antonio churches and missions must eventually lead to a discussion of the Rose Window of San Jose. We feel that the interest largely is manufactured and we fail to find anything outstanding about the window.

Perhaps it is the legends that give it added interest. There seems no question but that it was created by a man named Huizar—or Huisar or Huicar. His first name is in dispute.

He is variously described as a native of Madrid and of San Jose itself. His legend is filled with various romantic stories. But there is good evidence that he was a stable, businesslike surveyor who for reasons really not known created the window.—The AP.

POPE BANS USE OF CONTRACEPTIVES

Encyclical Issued On Birth Control

By GERALD MILLER
Associated Press Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP — Pope Paul VI today banned the contraceptive pill and all other mechanical and chemical means of birth control for the world's half a billion Roman Catholics. He also indicated that the rhythm method should not be employed as a regular practice.

"Every matrimonial act must remain open to the transmission of life," the Pope declared in a key sentence of his long-delayed encyclical letter on one of the most controversial issues facing the church today.

"To destroy even only partially the significance of intercourse) and its end is contradictory to the plan of God and to his will," the pontiff declared.

This appeared to rule out the possibility of any future acceptance by Pope Paul of contraception for any reason and seemed to imply disapproval of the constant use of the rhythm method of periodic abstinence, the only method of birth control previously sanctioned by the church.

Although demands for liberalization of the church's policy have grown steadily in recent years, the Pope's decision to continue the past policy had been predicted and was generally expected.

The Pope's decision rejects the view of the majority of the 75-member commission he appointed to advise him on birth control policy. The majority recommended in June 1966 that the ban on contraception be eased, and the Pope named another commission to investigate some more.

The Pope's conservative conclusion is expected to touch off a new explosion of worldwide controversy among Catholics and non-Catholics.

Surveys and reports from priests show that millions of Catholic couples already use the pill and other birth control devices. Many prominent theologians have insisted that despite any stand the Pope takes, birth control remains a matter of personal choice for each couple.

In the non-Catholic world there is enormous pressure for Catholicism, the world's largest Christian faith, to sanction birth control as a means of easing the population explosion in starving parts of the world.

The encyclical, the seventh of Pope Paul's five-year reign, is titled "Humanae Vitae (Of Human Life)" from the first words of the text. It is dated July 25, 1968, the feast day of St. James the Greater.

It was presented at a news conference by Msgr. Ferdinando Lambruschini, a member of the Pope's birth control commission and the Vatican's leading moral theologian.

In the encyclical, the Pope referred to previous documents on birth control issued by his predecessors and said that in the name of the continuity of papal teaching, he cannot change the teaching.

Msgr. Lambruschini told the news conference: "To the new trends, the Pope has opposed the rigorous reaffirmation of the traditional stand, even realizing that this would displease many."

It was considered especially significant that the Pope made his announcement prior to his trip in August to Latin America, the continent with the largest Catholic population.

Many progressive priests and bishops there had been expected to urge the Pope in person to liberalize the birth control policy to help in fighting the enormous social and economic problems afflicting Latin America.

While ruling out pills as a means of birth control, the Pope approved the use by women of pills to cure physical disorders, even if they also happen to be birth control pills. This has been acceptable in the past.

The Pope stated:

"Excluded is every action which either in anticipation of the conjugal act or in its accomplishment or in the development of its natural consequences proposes whether as an end or as a means to render procreation impossible.

"The Church on the contrary does not at all consider illicit the use of those therapeutic means truly necessary to cure diseases of the organism even if an impediment to procreation which was foreseen should result therefrom, provided such impediment is not for whatever motive directly willed."

Despite his strong restatement of the obligation of Catholic couples to obey the traditional teachings on birth control, The Pope urged priests to show understanding to them in their problems.

The Pope said that Christ "was indeed intransigent with evil, but merciful toward individuals."

"May married couples always find in the words and in the heart of a priest, the echo of the voice and the love of the Redeemer," he added.

Theologians took this as a rejection of the so-called "French line" of thought—that while practicing contraception is objectively a sin, in individual cases, depending on circumstances, allowances must be made.

This is the position followed by many priests in confessionals when confronted with couples who practice birth control.

Escapee Recaptured

MADISONVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Madison County sheriff's deputies captured an escapee from a Houston jail ward early today after an all-night search spanning several Southeast Texas counties.

Officers identified the prisoner as Curtis Gayle Doby of Houston. Doby was being held on charges of robbery by firearms and narcotics violations.

Police said the 33-year-old inmate overpowered a guard and apparently fled in a stolen automobile with a hostage.

The hostage was identified as Harris County Deputy Eddie Bundick. Bundick was found before dawn gagged and handcuffed behind a vacant house in Houston. He was listed in fair condition at a hospital.

The escape-kidnap plot occurred at the jail ward of the Ben Taub City-County Hospital where Doby was admitted Saturday with a leg injury.

Disorders Blamed On Negro Gangs

By GARY GREENBAUM
Associated Press Writer

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Police Chief James Hilton today blamed dissension among Negro youth gangs for two nights of disorders in Gary's Central District.

"The situation is still highly volatile and may erupt at any time," Hilton said adding that the destructive mood of the gangs has spread to the city's militant groups.

The disorders began early Sunday with firebombing, sniper fire and looting, and flared again Sunday night before police with rifles and shotguns brought quite to the four-block area with a caravan of 10 patrol cars.

Six persons were injured Sunday morning, including a fireman wounded by sniper fire while battling a blaze. No injuries were reported Sunday night.

A total of 110 Negroes were arrested and police said all would be charged with resisting arrest.

Ninety members of the Cook County Sheriff's Department riot squad, who were requested by Hilton and helped establish calm, were replaced at midnight Sunday by 90 riot-trained Indiana state policemen.

Hilton said 550 Indiana National Guardsmen were standing by at armories in Gary and nearby Valparaiso. Hilton said he would need the permission of Gov. Roger D. Branigin to use the guardsmen.

Hilton told a news conference he knew there would be trouble because of the arrest of two members of the Negro Sin City Disciples gang Saturday night during an investigation of a rape charge involving a Gary white woman.

He said the disorders started with stoning of a mail truck, followed by the smashing of business windows, sniper firing and looting.

He said lack of personnel prevented him from heading off the troublemakers. Hilton said he would like to expand the size of his police force from the present 272 to 400 to handle the city's 185,000 population, 55 per cent of which is Negro.

The City Council met in special session today to give Mayor Richard G. Hatcher power to grant a curfew on his own and to end sale of liquor and gasoline for any period of time.

The vote came five hours after Hatcher had imposed a 7:30 p.m. curfew and banned sales of gasoline and liquor for an indefinite period.

Hatcher called the council meeting because he said it was pointed out Indiana law does not permit mayors to impose curfew.

Hole-In-One Triggers Win For Massengales In Odessa

By MIKE COCHRAN

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — "I knew it was a good shot, but I didn't know if it was going to be the right distance... then I saw it disappear."

So spoke Rik Massengale, whose 150-yard hole-in-one lifted him and brother Don from the brink of defeat and carried them Sunday to their second straight Odessa Pro-Am golf championship.

"That's about the best one I ever hit," smiled the University of Texas golfer from Jacksboro, Tex., who had made three holes-in-one previously.

"We'd just gone two down and it looked like it was going to be pretty tough to catch up. Suddenly it wasn't."

The ace, struck with a six-iron, cleared the flag at No. 12 on the fly, but the backspin brought it back into the cup. The roar from the gallery echoed across the windy, Odessa Country Club Course.

Rik went on to birdie the next hole and move a shot ahead of leaders Marty Fleckman and Ken Newell.

The two pacesetters then exchanged birdies, Fleckman at No. 16 and Don Massengale at No. 17, and the one stroke margin stood up for the top prize of $8,000.

"I knew Don would be there when I needed him," Rik said of his brother's 20-foot birdie putt at the Par 5 17th.

Fleckman, the Port Arthur pro and semi-sensation of the PGA last week, and Newell, a junior at the University of Houston, collected $5,000 for second place.

After a bold approach shot at 18, Fleckman missed a six-footer that would have forced a playoff.

The Massengales closed with a 65 for a four-day card of 64-69-67-65—265, 23 under par for the 6,600-yard Par 72 course.

Fleckman and Newell closed with a 66 for 266.

In third place at 29 were Dallas pro Earl Stewart and Son, Chip, who shot a 70 after entering the final round with a one shot lead. Third place paid $3,000.

Seven teams shared fourth place and collected $1,114 each at 270. They included Charles Coody-Richard Patton, Jacky Cupit-Hal Underwood, Rocky Thompson-Dick Prater, Jake Bechtold-Ray Stoker, Rex Baxter-John Farquhar, Buddy Weaver-Arthur Russell and Gay Brewer-John Paul Cain.

SMU Goes "All-Out' To Sell Tickets

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist University has gone "Madison Avenue" in its campaign to sell season football tickets.

A flyer sent out by the school heralds "SMU Excitement '68." It reads "A Season of Explosive Football" for $20.

A luncheon will be held Tuesday for volunteer workers. A 20-minute feature film on SMU football will be shown. The film opens with football as it began at SMU in 1915 and progresses through the 20's and 30's. It shows the Doak Walker-Kyle Rote era and its conclusion features the explosive play of Jerry Levias, second team AP All-American last season.

Levias, a flanker, returns this season.

"The fans of this area are going to find the college game as played by SMU this fall explosive and exciting," sad Coach Hayden Fry. "We're going to put the ball in the air, and I believe our advertising and sales campaigh will throw as many 'passes' to the public as our team throws on the gridiron this fall."

There's little doubt the Mustangs are competing with the Dallas Cowboys for the entertainment dollar.

One release from SMU says the Mustangs threw more passes last season "than any team in Dallas County."

Pitcher Wins Game With Grand Slam

HERSCHEL NISSENSON — Associated Press Sports Writer

It's got to be a great day for a pitcher when he survives a 13-hit attack by the National League leading St. Louis Cardinals, beats them 7-1—and also hits a grand slam home run for good measure.

But it could have been even better for Pittsburgh's Al McBean. Much better.

"I didn't know the bases were loaded when I hit the home run," McBean said Sunday. "I knew there were runners on base and was figuring I could help myself by getting a hit.

"But if I had known when I hit it that it was a grand slam, you really would have thought I'm a hot dog. I probably would have been jumping in the air when I passed first base and would have gone around the bases hopping like a jackrab bit."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Chicago Cubs beat the Los Angeles Dodgers twice, 8-3 and 1-0, Philadelphia stopped Atlanta 3-0 on Larry Jackson's three-hitter, Jim Maloney and Clay Carroll combined to hurl Cincinnati to a one-hit 5-3 triumph over the New York Mets and Juan Marichal singled home the winning run and gained his 19th victory as San Francisco outlasted Houston 4-2 in 11 innings.

In the American League, Baltimore turned back Detroit 5-1, Cleveland took two from the New York Yankees 3-2 and 4-1, Boston outslugged Washington 10-8, Oakland edged Minnesota 4-3 and the Chicago White Sox nipped California 2-1.

McBean got his grand slam with two out in the fifth inning. After a single by Roberto Clemente and walks to Manny Mota and Jerry May, McBean hit the first pitch from Larry Jaster over the left field wall.

The Pirates had taken a 3-1 lead in the second on Clemente's triple, Donn Clendenon's ninth homer, Mota's double ad Maury Wills' single.

The Cubs' sweep of Los Angeles put them in a virtual tie with San Francisco for fourth place and came before a home town crowd of 42,261, largest in 20 years, lured by a streak that has seen the Bruins win 17 of 23 games.

Billy Williams doubled to touch off a four-run fourth inning off Don Drysdale in the opener and then slammed a fifth-inning homer. The eight runs were the most scored against Drysdale in more than two years.

Ken Holtzman struck out 10 and hurled a four-hitter in the nightcap. The Cubs scored in the fifth on Al Spangler's single and Randy Hundley's double.

The double defeat dropped the Dodgers deeper into ninth place. They have lost 31 of 44 games since a seven-game winning streak put them in second place June 9.

Jack Fisher, a 37-year-old right-hander, pitched hitless ball for 5-2-3 innings as the Phillies shut out Atlanta for the second straight day. Tony Taylor paced the attack with three doubles and scored twice.

Maloney gave the Mets a first-inning run on a walk to Larry Stahl and Cleon Jones' double—their only hit. But Cincinnati jumped on Tom Seaver for two runs in the second on a double by Tony Perez and singles by Tommy Helms, Woody Woodward and Pete Rose and knocked the All-Star hurler in the third when Lee May socked a two-run

May homered again, his 14th, in the eighth after the Mets had closed to 4-3 in the sixth on three walks, an error and an infield out. Carroll relieved with bases loaded and none out and pitched hitless ball over the final four innings.

Marichal singled home the tie-breaking run with two out in the 11th inning after Jim Davenport singled and moved to third on a sacrifice and ground ball. A walk and Ty Cline's single provided an insurance run.

Davenport tripled in the fourth and scored on Bob Barton's single and Willie Mays doubled home a run in the fifth. But the Astros tied it with runs in the seventh and eighth, the latter on Julio Gotay's pinch single.

Snyder Wins Two Firsts

The Snyder summer track team took two first places in the state TAAF track meet held in Ft. Worth Friday and Saturday.

Jimmy Don Dyess won first in the high jump in the junior boys division with a leap of 5 feet 4 inches, and Marcia Shields took first in the high jump of the junior girls division with a height of 4 feet 7 inches.

The Snyder group also garnered several other places in the meet, which had representatives from all areas of Texas.

In the junior boys, Bobby Burleson placed 5th in the 50 yard dash and Gary Patterson took 6th in the high jump. Mary Moss came in 6th in the junior girls' high jump and Jessica McMullen placed 6th in the 50 yard run in the midget division.

Also competing for Snyder, Kellye Crenshaw in the 50, and Cydney McDonald in the 50 and 100, both in the midget division; and Christy Suttle in the 50 in the junior division.

Hollye Crenshaw and Janis McMullen did not get to run because of a limit placed on the number of competitors from each district.

Barbara Schiebel is the coach of the Snyder team.

Falls, Phillips To Compete At Ft. Worth

Snyder will have two boys in the state TAAF Tennis tournament that will be held in Ft. Worth next week. Max Falls and John Phillips qualified in both the singles and doubles at the regional meet in Amarillo this past weekend.

The two boys teamed up to take first place in the doubles of the 16-year-old division. They also qualified by taking the first two places in the singles division. They were to meet in the finals, but since this was a qualifying tournament, and the first two places were eligible to compete at Ft. Worth, they did not play for the championship

Texas Football League Sells Stock

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Football League has agreed to spend $15,000 to underwrite a drive to sell stock at Tulsa.

Alex Phillips said the club would open training this week.

The eight-team league also announced that six players have been conditionally sold to AFL-NFL clubs. Fort Worth sold tackle Faust Parker, fullback David Smith and linebacker Mike Bratcher to NFL clubs. Parker went to Atlanta and Smith and Bratcher to San Francisco.

Tulsa sent Nick Czbuenko, a tackle, to Chicago. San Antonio sold fullback A. C. Lex and tackle George Geiser to Denver.

Sikes Likes That Winning Feeling

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Dan Sikes may not be clairvoyant, but he had that winning feeling even before the tournament started.

At any rate, he had a lot going for him the past week, which he climaxed with a one-stroke victory Sunday to win the $20,000 top money in the Minnesota Golf Classic.

The big payday pushed Sikes' earnings for the year to $76,046 and enabled him to leap from 17th to seventh on the PGA money standings for 1968 — ahead of such luminaries as Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Frank Beard, who chose not to compete here.

Sikes, from Jacksonville, Fla., beat young Ken Still with a 12-under par 272 over Keller Golf Course, which plays to a par 71. Still, who won $12,000, was tied for the lead until he took a bogey on the 15th hole of the final round Sunday. It was the fifth tournament in which the Tacoma, Wash., pro has been the bridesmaid.

Sikes had a final-round 64, while Still shot a 68 for his 273.

"On the plane coming here," Sikes explained after his victory, "I said I felt I was building up to where I could win a tournament. You can feel it building up."

However, Sikes admitted he needed a lift—and he got it in a torrid first nine holes Sunday. He shot seven birdies and one bogey for a six-under 30 on the first nine.

Sikes was four strokes behind co-leaders Pete Brown and Lou Graham starting Sunday's last round.

Still, who continues to find that big pot of gold elusive to capture on the pro tour, was happy with his $12,000 second-place money. "That will pay the bills," he quipped. "Actually, I'm not too upset. In a tournament this close, it was bound to be decided by one stroke."

Tom Weiskopf matched Sikes' final-round 64 for his best tour round and won the $7,500 third-place money at 274. That put him ahead of Billy Casper, who also did not compete here, as the leading PGA money winner this year. Weiskopf now has won $136,686 and Casper $135,935.

Tied for fourth at 275 and winners of $4,266 were Brown, defending champion Graham and Bob Dickson. Dickson shot a 68 and Brown and Graham both had 71s Sunday.

A half-dozen more were locked at 276 and won $2,750 each. They were Tommy Aaron, Steve Oppermann, Billy Maxwell, Phil Rodgers, Bob Stanton and Dale Douglass.

FIELD OF CASH INVESTMENTS

Churches Expand Activities

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Churches are putting their money to work in the slums to expand the opportunities of minority groups in business, employment and housing.

They are spreading their activities from the spiritual, charitable and educational to the field of cash investment.

Protestants, Catholics and Jews have become increasingly active in using their funds for deposit in slum area banks and providing capital directly for businesses and housing projects.

One of the newest developments is the decision of the Episcopal Church Executive Council to deposit a portion of its funds in slum area banks. So far it has deposited $675,000 in 45 such banks and savings and loan associations in 32 cities.

Charles Bound, a member of the Episcopal Council and a vice president of Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, is directing the program.

"Our deposit of $15,000 in each of these banks doesn't sound important but it is a relatively large deposit for a small financial institution.

"Our intention is to help build an economic base for minority groups so they can carry their own ball and become independent.

"We are hoping that our dioceses all over the country and businesses will join in depositing their funds. One large corporation has deposited $2 milion."

The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. last May approved lending $9 million of its funds at low interest rates to high-risk business and housing enterprises in low-and middle-income areas.

The National Council of Churches says other denominations, including the Disciples of Christ and the Unitarians, are engaged in similar activites.

The council has set up an investment committee with a fund of $200,000 to invest in slum businesses. It has helped finance a savings and loan association consumer cooperatives and a small industrial plant.

The Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York has a sizable amount of money on deposit in the Negro-owned Freedom Natinal Bank in Harlem.

A group of New York apparel manufacturers, working through the American Jewish Committee, has set up a $20-million credit pool to help Negro merchants stock new clothing stores in nonwhite areas of New York City. Their goal is 500 new stores.

The various faiths are working together in the program. For example, in Harrisburg, Pa., the American Jewish Committee and Catholic and Protestants groups have joined in sponsoring 175 units of low-cost housing.

In another approach to slum problems, organizations from the three major faiths pledged this month to spend their millions of dollars in building and purchasing funds only with companies and unions that have nondiscriminatory employment practices.

Among the groups joining in the nationwide "Project Equality" were the Catholic archdiocese of New York, the American Jewish Committee and the National Council of Churches.

Companies To Merge

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A plan to merge MCA, Inc., a producer of movies and television programs, into the Westinghouse Electric Crop. has been announced by the presidents of the companies.

D.C. Burnham, president of Westinghouse, and Jules C. Stein, chairman of MCA, said Sunday the merger is subject to approval by the boards of both companies and MCA shareholders as well as a favorable tax ruling.

They said that MCA will continue operating under its present management if the deal goes through.

In addition to movies and TV shows, MCA makes phonograph records and owns the Universal City Film Studios, Columbia Savings & Loan Association of Colorado and Spencer Gifts, Inc., a mail order distribution house.

Westinghouse, a giant in the electrical equipment industry, also operates a group of radio and television stations.

Simple Way-- Just Inherit Your Money

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—At last a man has come up with a simple formula for getting rich in America.

"Inherit money," is the crisp advice of author Ferdinand Lundberg.

"The way that most people become rich in this country today is by sitting and listening to the reading of a will. Between 60 and 70 per cent of the individual wealth today is inherited wealth."

This is one of many contentions made by Lundberg in a controversial new best-selling book, "The Rich and the Super Rich," which has proved so fascinating to many of the upper crust that they read it aloud to each other at the dinner table and let their caviar go untasted.

His other major theses are that U.S. wealth is largely family centered and that, at least as recently as a decade ago, one-half of one per cent of America's adult population held 25 per cent of its riches.

In his opinion a nation may be in danger if the few own to much and the many own too little.

"My own view is that the maldistribution of wealth in this country is historically ridiculous and unnecesary," he said. "Thirty per cent of the country's population is impoverished. Another 15 to 20 per cent is near poor.

"The country can do whatever it wants to about the situation for all of me," he remarked. "As the newspapers say, we give them the facts."

Lundberg, long a bloodhound on the spoor of the American dollar, is a tall, white-haired former financial writer for the defunct New York Herald Tribune. He is also an economist, social philosopher and educator.

In 1937 he provided President Franklin D. Roosevelt's aging New Deal with a new handbook of impetus by writing, "America's 60 Families," in which he first advanced his idea that the nation's political power is flexed chiefly by the firm fists and fingers of a comparatively few clans. The giant corporations they control, he believes, are the instruments of that power.

Some three years ago he took leave from a teaching post at New York University to find out what had happened to money in the last three decades. The result is a three-pound opus, heavily documented, running to 812 pages, and costing $10.

Lundberg denies any personal animus against wealth or the wealthy.

"My point isn't that the rich are particularly sinful, but that they have too much political power.

"It is true that there are 25 million stockholders in America, but, going by the record, the big companies are controlled by very few people."

Lundberg said it wouldn't bother his conscience if his book made him wealthy, but doubts that it could, no matter how many copies it sells.

Junior Editors Quiz on WINDS

QUESTION: Where do winds come from and why are they so gusty at times?

* * *

ANSWER: When air is warmed by heat radiated from sea or land, it expands, becoming lighter and rising. At the same time, heavier, colder air is flowing down to replace it. This circulation or movement of air causes wind. Wind varies in direction and strength for many reasons, such as the uneven heating of earth and sea and the earth's rotation. Wind gusts come partly from this uneven heating but can also be caused by the various obstacles on the earth's surface which interrupt the flow of wind. The upper right diagram shows air suddenly forced up one side of a mountain, then blowing down in irregular gusts on the other. A bit of plowed land is also shown, which heats up more quickly than the forest next to it, helping to make gusts by uneven heating. Although gusty shore winds will often blow over land waters, such as lakes, the wind's force and direction will tend to be more steady when one gets out to sea away from the land. This is because the sea tends to heat up or cool down evenly over large areas.

Humphrey Vows To Restore Peace

By GEORGE ZUCKER
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today his first task if elected president "will be to restore peace in Vietnam."

He told a Town Hall luncheon in a prepared speech America must seek to strengthen the alternative to conflict "and in Vietnam that alternative is clear."

South Vienam's affairs, he said, "should be run by the people who live there, not by Washington or Hanoi."

Humphrey said this course means free elections "in which all people participate, free of coercion, with guarantees against force and intimidation."

And he added, "it means being willing to accept the results of these elections."

Humphrey arrived here Saturday on a four-day campaign visit. He moves to San Francisco Tuesday.

While he met privately Sunday afternoon with the state's 74-vote Democratic delegation pledged to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, an antiwar rally was staged outside the hotel.

Many of the protestors, estimated by police at 3,000, carried signs boosting the candidacy of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

The demonstration was organized by the Peace Action Council, the same group that protested an appearance at the hotel of President Johnson on June 23, 1967, when about 50 persons were arrested and an equal number injured in clashes with police.

Disputes Coming Early In Planning Of Model Cities

By JACK R. MILLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early planning in the Model Cities program has been marked by widespread disputes—and some outright power struggles—between city officials and residents of neighborhoods involved, the program director acknowledges.

But H. Ralph Taylor, assistant secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, says in most cases it's been a healthy conflict.

"There are tensions," Taylor said in an interview. "But remember, you're starting from a background of suspicion on both sides. This has been a very healthy thing."

Taylor said that although some of the disputes have turned into outright struggles for control of the programs, only in two of the 75 cities selected so far—Newark, N.J., and Oakland, Calif.—have city hall and the neighborhood failed to reach an acceptable agreement on how to divide authority.

The government withholds planning funds until it is satisfied with the arrangement.

The Model Cities program, begun nine months ago with selection of 63 cities, is attempting to make a single poor neighborhood in each city an attractive place to live.

While local governments have ultimate responsibility for the program, residents of the chosen neighborhoods must be given "maximum" participation.

Taylor said struggles for control have occurred in some cities where either the mayors or the neighborhoods wanted to run the whole show.

Asked whether the Black Power movement has contributed to such struggles, he said "yes, it has."

Officials in some cities have given complete authority to the neighborhoods, Taylor said. But he said that approach isn't likely to succeed.

"It takes political leadership of a high order to make this kind of a program work," he said. "A neighborhood just can't do it on its own hook."

City Hall alone, he said has the power to bring into the project the cooperation of such elements as schools, the welfare agency, the housing authority and the police department.

Many federal programs to date have lacked such unity, Taylor said, so they become a series of projects, with everyone looking for dough."

ALONG SAIGON CANAL

New Homes Springing Up

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent

SAIGON (AP) — "It's a mad, mad war," the sergeant said. "First we bop 'em down, then we build 'em up again."

The sergeant, from the 46th Engineering Battalion, was peering into a surveyor's transit along the bank of Saigon's Kinh Doi canal, where U.S. troops were erecting new houses amid the rubble of buildings thoroughly battered down in the second wave offensive against Saigon.

The new homes were rising from the ruins at the rate of 40 a day. Two months ago, when U.S. helicopters and tanks blasted out Viet Cong snipers holed up in the densely populated eighth district across the Y bridge, the old homes were crumbling into ruins at the rate of a hundred a day.

A little farther down the busy canal, U.S. 9th Division Engineers were rebuilding a wall and putting a new roof on the La Son Catholic school, which 9th Division shells and rockets had ripped apart a few weeks before.

Kids who hadn't been to school since the war came to Saigon in late January were all over the place, helping repair the desks and bedeviling the GI engineers for a ride on the front loader.

"These guys are bridge builders," said Sgt. Earl Blough of Belpre, Ohio, section chief of Echo Company and the chief pusher on the job. "They've never worked on a school before. Even with all the kids underfoot, they get more of a kick out of this than anything we've done."

In the deserted ghost villages of suburban Gia Dinh Province, Navy Seabees were building a new settlement of clapboard houses in hopes of luring the people back. Most had fled to refugee camp or moved into Saigon's teeming slums since the second wave assault early in May spilled over them in a fury of devastation. The sound of hammers had a hollow ring in the deserted streets, echoing back from the lush line of banana and coconut trees, where a battalion of South Vietnamese rangers in full battle dress stood guard over the construction site day and night. The setting sun east shimmering heat waves over the rusting carcass of a burned out tank.

"It gets pretty spooky around about curfew time when we knock off," admitted Seabee 1st Lt. [illegible] O'Neil of Rochester, N.Y., who in addition to his own men had to supervise a work gang of 45 Vietnamese women carpenters and laborers. "But in a week or so upwards of 1,000 people will be living here."

There was a similar pounding of hammers and whirr of rip saws in the battle-scarred back alleys of Cholon, the incredibly overpopulated Chinese section of Saigon, where U.S. Air Force Red Horse construction crews and ARVN engineers were rushing completion of several hundred more prefabricated housing units.

Conceived as one of the final acts of outgoing U.S. commander Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Dong Tam represented a startling change in GI civil action projects. For the first time U.S. troops were committed directly to reconsruction work, doing the actual labor, instead of just giving out advice and materials to the Vietnamese on a self-help basis.

The Chesapeake Bay's 48 principal rivers with 102 meandering branches and countless creeks provide cruising grounds to last a yachtsman a lifetime.

DELICIOUS TASTE — Hershel Hinshaw, who operates Hinshaw's House of Flowers, 2804 Avenue S with his wife, Pat, displays an attractively gift-wrapped box of world famous Flora Mir chocolates. They are available now at Hinshaw's in a variety of assortments, including creams, jellies, caramels, etc. drenched in pure chocolate. For quality candy or flowers, simply dial 573-9600.

You Can Say It With Candy, Or Flowers From Hinshaws

Hinshaw's House of Flowers, 2804 Avenue S, has a well-assorted supply of the world famous Flora Mir chocolate candy.

Flora Mir is a product with a long tradition of excellence. Its chocolate is thick and rich, fragrant and good—unlike much of the chocolate today that is mass produced with a synthetic blend of chemical ingredients and additives.

Hinshaw's has an assortment for every taste — exotic nuts for the nut lover, hand-carved mints for after - dinner, five layer truffles, hand-dipped cocktail cherries, smooth marshmallows, tropical fruits, creams, jellies, caramels — all drenched in Flora Mir's pure chocolate.

For the past 40 years Flora Mir chocolates have been available only through company-owned stores in New York City. Flora Mir presently is awarding exclusive franchises to a limited number of stores in the United States. Flora Mir enjoys an international reputation as one of the finest chocolates produced in the world today.

If you can't say it with candy, then say it with flowers. As always, Hinshaw's House of Flowers has all kinds of fresh flowers for all kinds of occasions. Many people have discovered that sometimes it's really appreciated when you send flowers for no special reason — just simply to show that special person that you care especially for her.

For quality — both in candy and flowers — visit the House of Flowers at 2804 Avenue S. Or, if you're in a hurry, just dial 573-9600 for prompt delivery.

Pair Held For Smuggling Marijuana

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Webb County officials held two persons today on charges of smuggling 37 pounds of marijuana into the United States from Mexico.

Charged and held in lieu of $15,000 bond were Mary Tessie Pierce, 24, of Jackson, Miss., and Phillip Gene Osborn, 23, of New Orleans.

Judge Orders Probe In Ray Case

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A contention by attorney Arthur J. Hanes that an international Communist conspiracy is at work against James Earl Ray appears to have brought a reaction from the judge who will hear the Ray case.

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle named eight attorneys Sunday to check for a possible violation of his order limiting publicity in the case of Ray, who is charged with murder in the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Hanes, the former Birmingham, Ala., mayor who is acting as defense counsel for Ray, met with his client Saturday, then called an airport news conference at which he also asserted Ray's rights are being violated in Shelby County Jail.

Hanes disagreed with U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark's statement that the April 4 slaying of King was carried out by one man.

"There is a giant conspiracy here and my client is being used by the conspiracy," said Hanes, who said he would disclose details of the plot when Ray's trial gets under way on Nov. 12.

He said the number of threats against his family and their 70-year-old maid are increasing.

"There are forces at work in this country that do not want to see this man tried," said Hanes, "and they will use any means, in my judgment, to see that neither he nor I appear in the courtroom."

Less than 24 hours after the news conference, Battle appointed the eight-man committee to probe possible infringement of his order issued the day Ray was returned here from London.

The order originally prohibited attorneys, officers, witnesses and anyone else connected with the Ray case from giving "interviews for publicity" or making "extrajudicial statements."

He revised it Wednesday to forbid only interviews "prejudicial to a fair trial by an impartial jury."

Home State Of Hopefuls No Barrier

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has never had a president and vice president from the same state, but the reason is more political than constitutional.

Strategists for both Democrats and Republicans agree that the constitutional barrier to having both candidates from the same state is easily overcome.

They're guided more by the idea that a ticket should be geographically and ideologically balanced in order to have the widest political appeal.

The question is getting more than usual attention this year because of talk in both parties of nominating presidential and vice presidential candidates from the same states.

There have been suggestions that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, if he wins the Democratic presidential nomination, should pick rival Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy as his running mate.

Although both are from Minnesota, the two represent opposing wings of the Democratic party on the key Vietnam issue, and a union might help to unify the party for the November election.

There also have been suggestions that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican front-runner, pick New York Mayor John V. Lindsay as his running mate. Nixon lives in New York.

The Constitution deals with the situation in the 12th Amendment. It states that when the presidential electors meet Dec. 15—well after the election—they shall "vote by ballot for president and vice president, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves."

In other words, the 10 Minnesota electors, if a Humphrey-McCarthy ticket carried the state, could not vote for both Humphrey for president and McCarthy for vice president.

They could split the votes, five voting for Humphrey for president and five for McCarthy for vice president, or divide them any way they wished.

In the other 49 states and the District of Columbia, Democratic electors would be free to vote for the Humphrey-McCarthy ticket.

However, the problem could easily be solved by having Humphrey, switch his official residence from Waverly, Minn., to Washington, D.C., where he has an apartment. McCarthy, being a Minnesota senator, would presumably stay there.

Nixon Has Clear Lead

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Republican rank and file clearly favors Richard M. Nixon over New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the GOP presidential nomination, the Gallup Poll reported Sunday.

Nixon held a 5-2 edge over Rockefeller, with California Gov. Ronald Reagan running a poor third, in the nationwide sampling of Republican voters taken last week.

The former vice president was preferred by 60 per cent of the Republicans polled. Rockefeller was the favorite of 23 per cent, and Reagan was the first choice of 7 per cent.

George Gallup announced this would be the last survey of its kind before the Republican convention at Miami Beach next week.

He said that since 1936, the candidate favored in his final preconvention sample has gone on to win the Republican nomination with one exception.

That was in 1964 when William Scranton, then governor of Pennsylvania, was the 2-1 choice over Barry Goldwater in a head-to-head matchup.

The results of Gallup's last preconvention GOP survey are markedly similar to the last time regular Republicans were polled in March. Then, Nixon had 60 per cent, Rockefeller 25 and Reagan 6.

GOAL IN SINGAPORE

Building A Rugged Society

By LEWIS M. SIMONS
Associated Press Writer

SINGAPORE (AP) — Stripped to white gym shorts, the sweating schoolboys trotting in formation around a soccer field are doing what their prime minister asks of them: building the "rugged society."

The "rugged society," as Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew sees it in this island city-state, is a vital, pulsating, intermeshed society of hard working, sacrificing young people.

"If we were a soft community," he said recently, "then the temptation would be to leave things as they are and hope for the best. But we are not an easy-going people."

Lee's estimation of the multiracial citizens of Singapore seems to be borne out by the people themselves. Parents as well as school children take seriously the cult of lean, hard bodies and a lean, hard life.

But the sacrifices that 44-year-old Lee asks go beyond sweating it out on the playing fields and the parade grounds.

In a bill he is driving through Parliament he would order workers to drop the 39-hour work week and substitute a 44-hour week. He would eliminate four public holidays, slash overtime payments and open more industries to round-the-clock schedules.

Incredibly enough, labor appears to stand with Lee and his get-tough bill. "We need economic expansion," said one union leader, "therefore we must create a healthy investment climate. Even the ordinary workers now realize that investors must have profits."

The need to attract foreign and local investors towers behind Lee's fist - pounding appeals to his countrymen to sacrifice. A dominant theme, hammered home regularly by Lee and his Cabinet, is that once the British abandon Singapore in 1971 the fate of the tiny nation is in its people's hands.

Labor Minister Sinnathamby Rajaratnam told a parliamentary session: "The best we can hope for if our economy collapses would be that some kind-hearted nations will send us food parcels and castoff clothing to avert mass starvation.

"And in an island like Singapore, where we can grow no food or plant cotton and where one square mile has to keep alive and sustain 8,000 Singaporeans, a stagnant economy would mean starvation."

Some 50,000 workers of the island's 550,000-member work force are unemployed. Between now and 1971, when the British military withdrawal will be completed, 30,000 workers directly employed by the British will be out of jobs.

Each year, 15,000 to 20,000 students graduate from school and go onto the job market. Only an estimated 5,000 jobs in industry are created a year, sometimes at a cost of $10,000 a job. To create work, young men and women replace parking meters, collecting fees from drivers at the curb side.

Lee says the new labor legislation will have its most direct and positive effect on unorganized workers.

Unionized, white collar workers will "have to make some adjustments" downward in their scale of living, he allows, but most unorganized workers will benefit.

To workers who are organized, Lee has cautioned that their unions must not protect "the weakest and the slowest."

He thinks a revitalized work force will become a major attraction to potential investors. An aide pointed out that manufacturers who might have set up shop in Singapore a decade ago often were frightened off by the wild labor climate: as many as 400 strikes a year during the middle '50s.

Discovery Boosts Alaska's Hopes

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — The discovery of a third area with tremendous potential has bolstered Alaska's hopes for becoming one of the world's great oil producing regions.

Early estimates of crude reserves in a relatively small Arctic slope area dwarf most recent discoveries except for Middle East and North African strikes.

Alaska had no important oil production a decade ago but a bright future was patterned by discoveries in the Kenei Peninsula and Cook Inlet areas. Production moved past the 100,000 barrels a day mark last year, now is averaging 186,000 a day, and is expected to exceed 332,000 next year.

Costs have been tremendous, however, and have restricted development to a rather slow pace.

Even before the new discovery on the Arctic slope, the petroleum industry was spending 2½ to 6 times as much on Alaskan operations than for similar work in California or the Louisiana and Texas coastal areas.

Through 1967, the industry had spent $1.2 billion in Alaska and received only $286 million from sales.

The first two wells in the Arctic slope explorations in the joint venture by the Atlantic Richfield Co. and the Humble Oil & Refining Co. had test flows ranging from 1,152 to 2,415 barrels of oil daily. Both had healthy oil-gas rations and one tested at a rate of 49 million cubic feet a day.

The two wells are seven miles apart and a consultant has estimated from 5 to 10 billion barrels of reserves as a reasonble expectation from the 90,000-acre block of leases. The discovery was termed as potentially one of the largest known oil accumulations.

Commercial development is expected to require a minimum of three to four years.

Transportation problems probably will be much greater than for the Kenai and Cook areas in that the leases are 390 miles north of Fairbanks.

Alaskan consumption now requires only about 30,000 barrels of crude oil a day and most of the Kenai and Cook production, after relatively short pipeline movement, is taken by tanker to California.

An offcial of the Union Oil Co. of California recently told Alaskan legislators the cost of laying a foot of offshore pipeline in Alaska is 3 1-3 times greater than in California and nearly six times greater than offshore Louisiana.

K. C. Vaughan, Union's senior vice president, estimated that a mile of Alaskan offshore pipeline costs $618,000, compared to $185,000 for California and $106,000 for Louisiana.

Vaughn said all other phases of Alaska oil operations also are very costly.

He estimated that drilling costs for the Cook Inlet platforms have averaged $114 per foot of hole, compared to $39 for similar operations in California, $31 for Louisiana and $26 for Texas.

Wildcat costs in Alaska, Vaughn said, have averaged $159 a foot. He said the average wildcat had cost about $1,600,000 compred to $670,000 in California.

Of the 197 wildcats drilled since 1957, he told the legislators, 149 were dry holes.
