On Arms Negotiations...

Carter Denies 'Freeze' Report

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter, pledging to push aggresively for a new arms limitation agreement with the Soviet Union, today denied a published report that his administration has effectively frozen the arms negotiations.

Carter called the report damaging to the country and to his own credibility.

The president took the unusual step of summoning reporters on short notice to his Oval Office in the White House to deny the report in today's Washington Post. The report, quoting authoritative government sources, said the administration "has effectively frozen the strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) for the time being."

Carter said "this story is totally inaccurate," and added: "It damages our country; it damages my credibility; it damages the prospects for the continuation of the basic policy of our government, which has not changed since I came in office; that is to proceed aggressively with SALT discussion."

Carter said it is his objective "to conclude to SALT treaty as early as possible, without delay because of political considerations and to make sure that that treaty, when concluded, was in the best interests of our country."

Carter, who ignored attempts by reporters to ask questions, said the possibility of a freeze in SALT negotiations has never been discussed, "even informally."

He said at the outset he understood that "inadvertent inaccuracies" sometimes would creep into news accounts and added that he accepts that.

"But this morning," he said, "there was an example that I think was serious enough to warrant a direct appearance before you by the president of the United States."

Referring to the Post account, Carter said:

"Before this story was published the reporters were informed that the story was totally inaccurate. The editors decided to go ahead with it anyway."

Inquiries about the Post story brought denials from officials who ordinarily would be considered to be informed about such matters.

Terrorists Kill Three

MADRID, Spain (AP) - Three terrorists believed to be Armenian vengeance-seekers pumped bullets into the windshield of the Turkish ambassador's limousine at a stoplight in downtown Madrid today, killing his wife, brother-in-law and a chauffeur, police said.

The ambassador, Zeki Kuneralp, was in the nearby embassy when the three young men, all dressed in jeans, opened up with pistols on his beige Mercedes, which was bound for the Prado museum.

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

Whenever there is a traffic accident, you can bet the drivers involved have an explanation for what happened. Lynn Brisendine of the Brownfield News says a reporter who combed police records and quoted verbatim the actual descriptions of the cause of accidents came up with these observations:

Woman Driver: Coming home, I drove into the wrong house and collided with a tree I don't have.

Man Driver: The other car collided with mine without giving warning of its intentions.

Man Driver: I thought my window was down but found it was up when I put my hand through it.

Woman Driver: I collided with a stationary truck coming the other way.

Man Driver: A truck backed through my windshield into my wife's face.

Woman Driver: A pedestrian hit me and went under my car.

Man Driver: The guy was all over the road. I had to swerve a number of times before I hit him.

Man Driver: I pulled away from the side of the road, glanced at my mother-in-law and headed over the embankment.

Woman Driver: The gentleman behind me struck me on the backside. He then went to rest in the bush with just his rear end showing.

Man Driver: In my attempt to kill a fly I drove into a telephone pole.

Woman Driver: I had been shopping for plants all day and was on my way home. As I reached an intersection a hedge sprang up obscuring my vision. I did not see the other car.

Man Driver: I had been driving my car for 40 years when I fell asleep at the wheel and had the accident.

Man Driver: The accident occurred when I was attempting to bring my car out of a skid by steering it into another vehicle.

Man Driver: The other car attempted to cut in front of me so I, with my right front bumper, removed his left rear tail light.

Woman Driver: I had been learning to drive with power steering. I turned the wheel to what I thought was enough and found myself in a different direction going the opposite way.

Man Driver: I was backing my car out of the driveway in the usual manner when it was struck by the other car in the same place it had been struck several times before.

Man Driver: I was taking my canary to the hospital. It got loose in the car and flew out the window. The next thing I saw was his rear end and there was a crash.

Man Driver: I was on my way to the doctor with rear end trouble when my universal joint gave way causing me to have an accident.

Man Driver: As I approached the intersection, a stop sign suddenly appeared in a place where no stop sign had ever appeared before. I was unable to stop in time to avoid the accident.

Woman Driver: To avoid hitting the bumper of the car in front, I hit the pedestrian.

Man Driver: My car was legally parked as it backed into the other vehicle.

Man Driver: An invisible car came out of nowhere, struck my vehicle and vanished.

Man Driver: I told the police I was not injured but on removing my hat I discovered that I had fractured my skull.

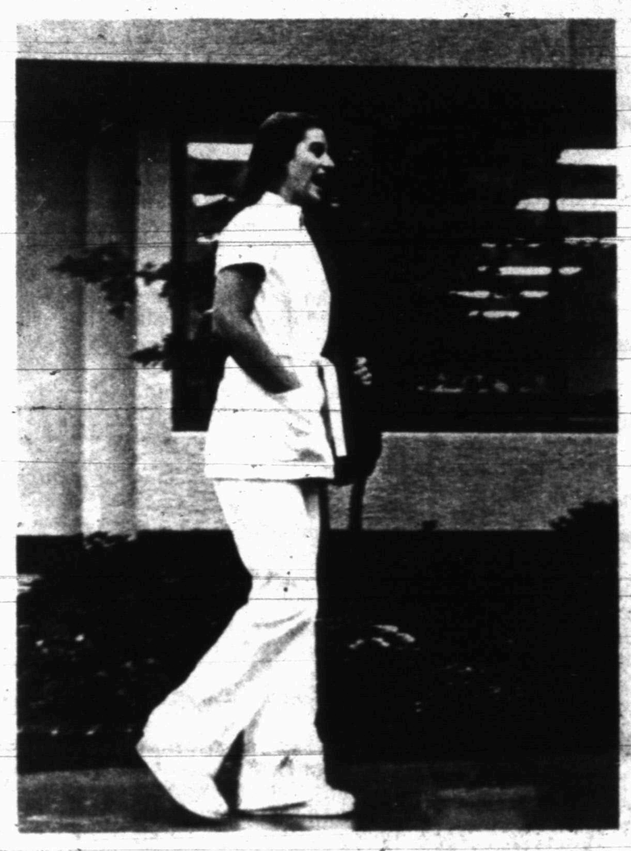
Woman Driver: I was sure the old fellow would never make it to the other side of the roadway when I struck him.

Man Driver: When I saw I could not avoid a collision I stepped on the gas and crashed into the other car.

Woman Driver: The pedestrian had no idea which direction to go so I ran over him.

Man Driver: The indirect cause of this accident was a little guy in a small car with a big mouth.

Man Driver: My girlfriend kissed me. I lost control and woke up in the hospital.—WACIL McNAIR



RAIN AGAIN! — Annette Leach, cosmetology student from Rotan, found the courtyard at Western Texas College damp again when she headed for class this morning. Light rains moved into the area again as WTC launched its summer session. (SDN Staff Photo)

Area's Rainy Season Endures

The rainy season continued another chapter in the Snyder and Scurry County area this morning as thunderstorm activity was reported over much of the state.

About .30 inch had been reported by 11 a.m. at the Lake J.B. Thomas dam, and up to that time most showers in this area appeared to be light. The Colorado River was reported still flowing a trickle into the lake from earlier showers, but still had not produced a significant amount of water for the lake.

Light rains began falling here shortly after 8 a.m. as thick clouds moved in from the west. Heavy thunderstorms had been reported throughout West and Northwest Texas, the National Weather Service said, with high winds and golfball size hail in some areas.

Some minor flooding was reported in Midland streets after the storms moved across that city, but the water receded quickly. Heavy thunderstorms had been reported earlier at Odessa. Street flooding was reported in Odessa after thunderstorms dumped several inches of rain on an area from Sweetwater to Big Lake and from south of Wichita Falls to Throckmorton. Some cars were reported stalled.

The National Weather Service issued a tornado warning and special marine warning for the area north of Corpus Christi after a funnel cloud was reported in that area. Heavy thunderstorms also broke out offshore from the upper Texas Coast and scattered showers fell inland.

The Coast Guard at Cameron, La., reported three waterspouts in thunderstorms about 15 miles from Sabine Pass on the border.

Christian To Be Committed

AUSTIN (AP) - State District Judge Hume Cofer today granted a defense motion to commit John Christian, 13, to the Timberlawn private mental institution at Dallas in connection with the killing of his junior high school English teacher.

The state did not oppose the motion, following two hours of testimony by a psyschiatrist who said there was some real danger that the youth might kill himself. The youth's father will pay the total costs for his son's treatment.

Wiretap Found At Embassy...

Damage Is Assessed

WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. officials, after discovering sophisticated electronic spy equipment in a chimney of the Moscow embassy, are assessing the damage it did to American security and puzzling over how the gadgetry works.

One official called the Soviet's use of the espionage equipment a "serious penetration of our embassy," but said the electronic gear would have to be analyzed before deciding if it had caused a major security breech.

The official, who asked not to be named, said the equipment was apparently maintained by Soviet technicians who snuck into the embassy by crawling through a tunnel, which originated on nearby Soviet property, and then climbed up the chimney.

The discovery last week also raised questions about the equipment's possible link to other mysteries involving the Moscow embassy - such as why the Soviets have beamed microwaves at the building for years, worrying U.S. officials about possible health hazards.

Thomas Reston, the State Department's associate spokesman, said Thursday the devices were discovered May 25 and that a protest was lodged with the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

Reston declined to give details about the devices or how they were found.

However, another official said the electronic gear - including a large antenna - was discovered during a routine security search.

He said U.S. officials followed a cable from the equipment down the chimney and through the tunnel. They then constructed a barrier in the tunnel to "keep the Russians out," he said.

"There was regular physical penetration of the embassy by Soviets without the knowledge of the United States," the official said. "They would come through the tunnel and up the chimney."

Bus Crash Injures 20

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)-A bus crashed into the rear of a trolley during the morning rush-hour in a tunnel beneath Harvard square today, and 20 persons were injured, officials said.

A Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority spokesmen said it was not immediately known what caused the crash, or whether the trolley had stopped or was slowing down.

Ambulances rushed the victims to hospitals, where authorities said most of the injuries did not appear serious.

The buses and trolleys load passengers in a tunnel next to the Harvard Square subway station. The trollys run on rubber tires and are powered by overhead electric cables.

The accident occurred at 8:12 a.m. at the station that is a busy transfer point for commuters on their way to work in Boston.

Sunday Paper To Be Delayed

The Snyder Daily News will delay its press schedule for Sunday's issue so that results from Saturday's Democratic Party runoff primary election may be published in that issue.

Home delivery customers who usually receive their Sunday paper on Saturday night will get their Sunday papers later than usual.

Democrats Vote In Runoff Tomorrow

Scurry County Democrats go back to the polls tomorrow to mark a ballot considerably shorter than the one which confronted them on May 6.

Tomorrow's runoff will decide party nominees in three state and district races along with one county commissioner's post in Scurry County.

Ted Billinglsey and Hollis Ward are in the runoff for commissioner in Precinct 4, a post being vacated by Jess Everett who did not seek re-election. Billingsley led the field of four candidates in the May 6 first primary with 571 votes. Ward was second with 342, while Roy Cole had 133 and Rudolph Norwood 103. Voters who cast ballots in the Dunn, Hermleigh and Southeast Snyder boxes will have the commissioner's race on their ballots.

Other voting boxes in the county will have only the state and district races to decide.

Holding considerable interest here is the race for Congressman for the 17th District. Charles Stenholm of Stamford and A.L. "Dusty" Rhodes of Abilene are in the runoff after running neck-and-neck in the first primary, with Stenholm holding a slight lead. In Scurry County, Stenholm received 1,596 votes and Rhodes 1,423 in the first primary.

Another district race will fill a seat on the 11th Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland. Bob Dickenson and J. Neil Daniel of Abilene are in the runoff. Dickenson carried Scurry County in the first primary with 1,810 votes, compared to 926 for Daniel. A third candidate, Joanne Hawkins Strauss, received 1,011.

The only state race on the ballot is for a seat on the Texas Railroad Commission. John Poerner, now serving by appointment, is in the runoff with Jerry Sadler, a former Railroad Commissioner and State Land Commissioner. In the first primary, Sadler received 1,770 votes and Poerner 1,175 votes in Scurry County.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. in the

May Wholesale Price Hikes Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)- The inflation outlook brightened slightly today when the government reported that wholesale prices rose 0.7 percent in May, about half of the amount they shot ahead the month before that.

Wholesale food prices were up again as usual, but by the smallest amount this year, the Labor Department said.

While the overall increase in wholesale prices was about half of the 1.3 percent gain in April, they were still well ahead of the average monthly increases for all of last year.

Wholesale prices of foods just before they reach grocery stores increased 0.5 percent in May, after a 1.9 percent jump in April. However, analysts cautioned that it takes more than one month to establish a trend.

Meanwhile, the department said unemployment rose frm 6 percent to 6.1 percent in May, although total employment increased by 310,000.

The department said unemployment climbed because more people decided to start looking for work. The total work force, including both people with jobs and those looking for them, passed 100 million for the first time.

The department's wholesale price report measure the prices that slaughter houses, wholesalers, warehouses and others charge just before a product reaches the retail outlets. Consumer prices rose 0.9 percent in April, but the May figures are not available yet.

In its report today, the department said wholesale prices turned down for fruit and vegetables, rice and coffee. The May prices rose less than in April for flour-based mixes, dairy products and most processed foods.

miller looks better

Economic conservatives who viewed with considerable apprehension President Carter's determination to follow through with a campaign promise to replace Federal Reserve's long-time chairman Arthur Burns have been agreeably surprised with the performance of successor G. William Miller. In some respects he appears to be more of a realist than Burns.

In retrospect it is now apparent the Burns bite was often less vicious than the bark. He had a way of talking tough in advance of a developing emergency only to back down slightly when the time arrived for action. To the surprise of many Miller has shown less inclination to concede something to political expediency than his predecessor did, at least during the last year of his term. It became quite obvious as the date approached for filling this important job Burns was hoping he might get a renewal of his commission as chief of the Federal Reserve System.

The new Fed chairman is a sound money man and realizes that next to the Presidency his position is most important in trying to bring some semblance of order to a fiscal system that has been grossly mismanaged over the years.

This was clearly shown in a statement issued a few days ago that the Federal Reserve Board may have to take restrictive action that will slow expansion in the money supply if the Government doesn't take steps to correct the foreign trade situation and weakness of U.S. currency in world money markets.

Made clear was that Miller realizes this type of action might slow economic growth and could even produce a recession. The refreshing thing about the declaration is the notice it serves on the Carter Administration that present policy of allowing things to drift must come to an end.

Refusing to panic at the thought of a possible slow-down in economic growth is something new. It is apparent that the Federal Reserve boss believes cooling the fires of inflation is the number one priority among national objectives.

It would be interesting to know what the reaction will be among Administration strategists. In any event it is apparent that the new Fed chairman has no intention of going along with the big spenders. The question is: did the President misjudge his man?

rear end advice

There's not much news in bumper stickers these days. It seems that everything socially significant and remotely witty has already made this particular road show.

But the New York Times did find something to print on the subject the other day. It noted having observed a sticker urging: "Save a Job -Buy American."

It was affixed to the rear of a Japanese-made car.

"I'm waiting to see which ones are for cleaning up the mess they made proclaiming they were all for cleaning up the government."

at wits end

by erma bombeck

Basically, I am a person with a great deal of faith and literally put myself into the hands of the Deity.

I feel if God does not want me to make fattening yeast rolls, He will let the expiration date on my yeast expire.

If he does not want me to bake a three-layer chocolate cake from my favorite recipe, He will see that I do not have three squares of unsweetened chocolate on my shelves.

The other morning, I awoke and said, "Lord, if you do not want me to go on a diet and get sick, give me a sign."

The sign couldn't have been more obvious. It was posted over the lettuce in the produce section of the supermarket and read: LETTUCE 98 cents.

I don't need a bolt of thunder and a flash of lightning to fall on me. How could I possibly have a lettuce orgy at 98 cents a head?

The omen held true all up and down the produce aisle. The price of celery was exorbitant. Spinach was a luxury item. And when I viewed the price of tomatoes, I didn't know whether to buy three of them or make the house payment.

To some of you who never diet, you will fail to see the ramification of this piece. In simple language, it means to me that God has taken a side--the side of the dieters. The thousands of men and women who face famine daily--who jog, sweat, groan, exercise, are pounded, patted, steamed, who count calories, pop pills, take shots and who lust...don't forget lust. Who wake up every morning knowing that they will never see gravy again.

The sticky little buns rolled in caramel and nuts hadn't gone up in price at the supermarket. Neither had German chocolate, French garlic bread, pasta, or sour cream dips.

When I told my friend, Mayva, she said, "that is the most ridiculous reason for falling off a diet you have come up with to date. I don't for a minute believe these orders came from that big spa in the sky."

I'm used to doubters. I took her to the supermarket and placed her hand on the head of lettuce marked 98 cents and said, "Now do you believe?"

At the checkout, I grabbed up a candy bar which had not gone up one penny in price. Wickedness never tasted so good!

Lurid facts and figures follow:

Your doctor prescribes pills "to be taken after meals and at bedtime."

"Hey, doc," you protest, "that's more than 10 gross (1,400, to be exact) of the little jobbies per year. Is this forever?"

"Probably — just like the other medicines, solid and liquid, that I've prescribed. I hope you're taking all of them faithfully," he adds.

"Doc, I'm a walking pillbox," you exclaim. "More than 4,380 doses per year!"

The medic shrugs. Then he hands you a bill and a Medicare form.

"This form is for the visit," he reminds you. "You know Medicare doesn't pay for the prescription drugs."

The cost for drugs and drug sundries for the elderly in fiscal 1976 was $2.78 billion. About 86 percent of that amount — a bitter $1.99 billion — came right out of the pockets of the elderly themselves.

Americans over 65 make up only 10 percent of the population. But we account for about 25 percent of all drug expenditures.

Medicare, which was created to give older citizens a hedge against the cost of health care, provides no outpatient prescription drug coverage. As a result, some older citizens spend almost half their incomes for needed drugs.

But cheer up! We seniors can correct the situation with help from our champions in Congress.

In the House of Representatives, we're getting help from our beloved contemporary, Rep. Claude Pepper, The Florida Democrat, chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging, has introduced the Drug Benefits for the Aging Act, HR-9816.

The Pepper bill will provide free, comprehensive drug coverage for Americans age 65 and over.

This would not be part of Medicare; instead, a separate office would be established within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to administer the program.

The HEW secretary, assisted by a prescription drug benefits council, would recommend drugs for the benefits list and set reimbursement levels. A centralized, automatic data processing system would enable the department to monitor prescription patterns across the nation.

There's more to the bill, of course. And it all works in favor of older Americans. Every major senior citizens organization has endorsed the legislation.

"The time has long since come to assure older Americans of full and complete access to the benefits of our remarkable health-care system," says Pepper. "But we have failed to make good on that promise.

"One of the most vital elements of health care remains outside the parameters of our principal medical assurance program. We can, and we must, rectify this omission."

We say a devout amen to that.

Some 25 of Pepper's House colleagues have co-sponsored his bill. And a companion measure has been offered in the upper house by Senators Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Strom Thurmond, R-S.C. The number of the Kennedy-Thurmond bill is S-2144.

Both bills are currently sitting in committee — HR-9816 in the Health and Environment Subcommittee of the House Commerce Committee, S-2133 in the Health and Scientific Research Subcommittee of the Senate Human Resources Committee. Hearings have not yet been scheduled on either bill.

The best way to speed action on the legislation is to write letters of support to subcommittee members.

On the House side, the men to contact are: Subcommittee Chairman Paul Rogers, D-Fla.; David Satterfield, D-Va.; Richardson Preyer, D-N.C.; James Scheuer, D-N.Y.; Henry Waxman, D-Calif.; James Florio, D-N.J.; Andrew Maguire, D-N.J.; Edward Markey, D-Mass.; Richard Ottinger, D-N.Y.; Doug Walgren, D-Pa.; Harley Staggers, D-W. Va.; Tim Lee Carter, R-Ky.; James Broyhill, R-N.C.; Edward Madigan, R-Ill.; Joe Skubitz, R-Kan., and Samuel Devine, D-Ohio.

Senate subcommittee members are: Chairman Edward Kennedy; Claiborne Pell, D-R.I.; Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.; William Hathaway, D-Maine; Jacob Javits, R-N.Y.; Richard Schweiker, R-Pa., and John Chafee, R-R.I.

Be sure to send copies of your letter to your own senators and representative, as well.

Simply address your letters in care of House of Represenatives, Washington D.C. 20515 or Senate, Washington D.C. 20510.

If you can, use your letter to document just what the proposed legislation would mean to you in dollars and cents. And persuade your friends and relatives — young and old — to write letters of their own.

With enough of us pushing for the legislation, we can win this one hands down.

Higher Food Prices Are Defended

WACO (AP) - Consumers are "going to have to adjust" to higher food prices because of increased cost of production, says Texas Farm Bureau President Carrol Chaloupka.

Chaloupka acknowledged the sharp rise in food prices pointed out Wednesday in the federal government's cost of living index.

The Dalhart grain farmer and cattle producer defended the prices as being "very necessary" because "the cattle industry has suffered a four-to-five year disaster."

Chaloupka doubted that the producer was realizing the full benefit of the retail price increase, saying the processors and distributors pass price increases "whenever there's an opportunity."

He said the farm bureau would opposed any move relax limitations on beef imports to slow the price rise.

WASHINGTON (NEA)-If the federal government functioned the way it is supposed to, members of Congress could spend their time writing laws. That, after all, is the constitutional role assigned them by the Founding Fathers.

The Founding Fathers, however, never envisioned a bureaucracy so huge and hidebound that it often fails to function at all until and unless some U.S. senator or House member blasts a pathway through barricades which ordinary citizens find insurmountable.

The task of dynamiting a route through governmental red tape is called "case work" on Capitol Hill, and it consumes an inordinate amount of time, energy and taxpayers' money in every congressional office.

What is so aggravating about this case work is the fact that most of it would be unnecessary if civil servants performed their jobs with a modicum of civility, concern and common sense in the first place.

Consider, for instance, the experience of two California schools which applied to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare last fall for a couple of very modest grants.

In the first case, a high school in rural Delano, Calif. (population 15,350) spent months preparing its very first government grant request, in which it asked for $310,000 for a bilingual education program.

The application was put in the mail and duly postmarked on Nov. 9, 1977 - six days before the deadline for submission. Thanks to the Postal Service's "efficiency," it arrived at HEW on Nov. 17 - two days after the deadline. The bureaucrats promptly rejected it, returning it unopened and unread.

A week earlier, the same HEW office had likewise summarily rejected a $132,000 grant application from San Francisco State University, which hoped to set up a training program for personnel teaching handicapped children.

San Francisco State hadn't made the error of entrusting its application to the tender mercies of the Postal Service. To insure that its request reached HEW by the 4 p.m. deadline on Nov. 9, the university sent it by commercial air express.

There was only one problem. During the 3,000-mile trip, an engine on the airplane caught fire, forcing an emergency landing for repairs in El Paso, Texas. The application arrived one and a third business hours late.

Both schools naturally appealed the arbitrary HEW rejection of their applications, and even went to the trouble of providing sworn affidavits from the Delano postmaster and officials of the air express company attesting to the "acts of God" or the Postal Service) which caused them to miss the deadline.

But their appeals fell on deaf ears. So they enlisted the aid of Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., who happens to be the Senate's majority whip and a very busy legislator as well.

Cranston, after checking the facts in the two cases, fired off an angry letter to HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. last Feb. 22 protesting the "icy blast of federal hauteur" the California schools had encountered.

Califano was out of town when Cranston's letter hit HEW. So was his deputy, Undersecretary Hale Champion. Zip - away it went, into the maw of the bureaucracy. Phone calls followed from Cranston staffers. Lots of phone calls, each one angrier than the one before.

On May 5, the matter finally reached Califano, who promptly hit the ceiling. Six months after it was submitted, the Delano High school application is now being processed by HEW. But San Francisco State? No dice - they shouldn't have waited until the last day to submit their request, Califano ruled.

Cranston isn't satisfied, but his staff is worn out. "We're not sure what more we can do," an aide said. The frustration is understandable, but a .800 batting average isn't bad for case work. There's always the next time, anyway. "Cases like this happen quite frequently," the Cranston staffer noted.

culprits know

NEW YORK (AP) - We're back to double digit inflation, as if that's any surprise, and everyone from the President to the most insignificant consumer is acting as if somebody else is the culprit.

But there's no mystery about inflation, and the culprits know it, they being the wasters, the handout promoters, the budget-busters, the loafers, the over-regulators, the spendthrifts, the greedy.

You can be even more specific than that. You can call them the President, the Congressman, the consumer, the farmer, the manufacturer, the union leader, the doctor, the lawyer, the banker....

Culprits, and victims too, fighting for survival in some instances, seeking at other times to gain a relative edge, feeding the spiral that eventually winds itself into a vacuum that sucks energy from everyone.

But a large percentage of those who complain aren't as helpless to do something as they might claim.

True, millions of Americans on fixed incomes - the very poor, retirees, the handicapped among them - already are living on poor diets and still are forced to pinch more in order to survive.

But many times their number have adjusted to a living standard that does indeed leave room for adjustment. What kind of adjustment? To a lower living standard, unAmerican as that might sound.

And what, for example, might be cut? Beef. It isn't a necessity of life, at lest not in the amounts consumed by Americans. Nor, in fact, are other meats consumed in large amounts.

Gradually but persistently, Americans have been adding more meat to their diets. In 1920, they consumed on average 136 pounds of beef, veal, lamb-mutton, and pork. By 1970 the figure had grown to 186.

Many Americans already have reduced beef consumption, often substituting less expensive poultry, whose consumption since 1940 has tripled to more than 110 pounds per capita.

Other adjustments also are possible. If Uncle Sam's big budget deficits and free spending contribute to inflation, why accept 6 percent on U.S. Savings Bonds that take five years to mature?

One alternative is to buy bank savings certificates yielding more than 7 percent. Or, if you have $10,000, purchase U.S. Treasury bills returning more than 7 percent, or six-month savings certificates yielding up to 7.8 percent.

The stock market also offers opportunities, with many solid stocks now paying 7 or 8 percent, and in some instances more than 9, and offering also the possibility of capital appreciation.

Some old-fashioned consumer techniques, often forgotten during comfortable times, also can be put back into use. Such as delaying a vacation until after the busy season, when prices are at their peak.

Off-season buying of goods also provides bargains. During June, for example, furniture sales are fairly common. Department stores often stage warehouse clearances in July. Clothing buys are common in August.

This well-known safety play has appeared in this and other columns for years. A story goes with it.

Some 40 years ago an attractive young lady started to play rubber bridge at the Cavendish Club in New York. She won the spade lead in her hand and promptly placed the ace of clubs on the table. West's king dropped and it was a simple matter for her to score two club tricks, game and rubber.

West was indignant. Turning to the girl he said, "You should learn the correct play which is to go to dummy, lead low and stick in your ten."

She thanked him politely. A couple of months later she made the same ace play with a similar hand. Again she collected the two tricks she needed for her contract. This time the former West was North.

He said, "Lucky again. I guess you'll never learn."

That ace play was a perfect safety play that would guarantee two tricks in the suit against any combination of adverse cards.

The young lady was Helen Sobel Smith the greatest woman player of all time and she didn't have to learn. She knew.

Ask the Experts

A California reader asks if any winner of the Morgan Howard trophy for players below the rank of senior master has ever gone on to win many major tournaments.

George Rapee won it in 1936. Eric Murray in 1949. Each has achieved international prominence since.

Allen's Death Adds To Political Confusion

By SCOTT SHEPARD
Associated Press Writer

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) - The unexpected death of U.S. Sen James B. Allen has added more uncertainty to the already confusing political landscape in Alabama.

The 65-year-old senator died Thursday after suffering an apparent heart attack and tumbling down the stairs of a coastal resort condominium at Gulf Shores, Ala.

That created a rarity for Alabama politicans: For the first time in this century there are clear shots at two vacant U.S. Senate seats.

Fellow Democratic Sen. John Sparkman has already announced that he will not seek re-election this year.

And Gov. George C. Wallace, nearing the end of his third term, dropped a political bombshell that surprised even his closest aides earlier this month when he said he had changed his mind and would run for Sparkman's seat.

Wallace can make a temporary appointment until a successor to Allen is elected in a special election.

In theory, Wallace could step down and ask his successor, Lt. Gov. Jere Beasley, to appoint him. However, a Wallace spokesman said Allen's death would not change the governor's plans to step out of politics, at least for the time being.

Wallace's press secretary, Billy Joe Camp, said it would be some time before Wallace considers appointing a successor to Allen, who would not have come up for re-election until 1980.

A special election is required by law since Allen's death came more than four months before the next general election.

Most state politicians declined to comment Thursday on whether Allen's death would alter their plans in this year's upcoming elections, saying political speculation would be inappropriate and discourteous so soon after Allen's death.

Meanwhile, flags flew at half staff today in Alabama to mourn Allen's passing.

Wallace called the senator's death a "deep personal loss." Allen had served as lieutentant governor under Wallace from 1963-67.

And from Allen's present and former Senate colleagues came praise for his skills as a parliamentarian.

Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd said Allen "commanded respect with his mastery of the rules and his courtesy on the floor."

Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., who often found himself on opposite ends of an argument from Allen, said the senator was "perhaps the greatest parliamentarian ever to sit in the United States Senate."

Because he frequently held the senate floor for hours during debate on the treaties, Allen's voice became known to millions who listened to the live broadcast of the proceedings on National Public Radio.

His voice was already familiar in Alabama, where his political career spanned more than three decades.

Funeral services were planned Tuesday at Gadsden, Ala., Allen's hometown.

WITH A HELPING steer from his mother, this Minnesota youngster is mastering the art of keeping his tricycle on the sidewalk. In just a dozen years or so, the boy will probably be learning to keep the family car between the white lines on the street. Let's hope Mom will still be smiling.

City Group To Attend Institute

Several city officials will go to Galveston this weekend to attend the Mayor, Councilman and Commissioner Institute sponsored by the Texas Municipal League.

Those planning to attend the institute include Mayor John Fagin, Mayor Pro Tem Milton Ham, Councilmen Vernon Rannefeld, Rod Waller and Jerry McWilliams, City Manager George Patterson and City Engineer Jim Dower.

Fagin, Patterson and Dower will return via Austin where they will attend a hearing Wednesday by the Texas Water Commission on the Colorado River Municipal Water District's application for a new lake. The CRMWD has asked for a permit to construct a dam on the Colorado River in Concho County. The application is being opposed by interests along the Colorado River in Central and South Texas.

Suspect Held On DWI Count

Police arrested a man on a DWI charge and investigated a minor accident Thursday.

At 11:18 p.m. a man was arrested on 21st Street and booked into city jail on a charge of DWI. He was also charged with resisting arrest.

Cash Food Market on 25th Street was the scene of a minor accident. A 1976 Mercury driven by Glendall Lee Treat of 2207 O'Neill hit a parked 1975 Dodge owned by Russell Armstead of San Angelo.

Police also investigated the theft of a bicycle by a juvenile at Stanfield Elementary. The bicycle was valued at $30.

A juvenile was taken into custody at 12:38 this morning on the Old Lubbock Highway and booked for fleeing to elude a police officer.

Marketbasket Price Up 7%

Grocery prices continued their steady climb in May and shoppers today are finding prices that are more than 7 percent higher than they were a year ago, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows.

The increases reflect, in part, smaller supplies of beef and had been predicted by industry and government experts who watched cattlemen cutting the size of their herds last year.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973 and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month. One item, chocolate chip cookies, was dropped from the list at the end of November 1977 because the manufacturer discontinued the package size used in the survey.

Among the highlights of the latest survey:

-The average marketbasket bill at the checklist stores was 7.3 percent higher at the start of June than it was a year earlier; the bill was 5.3 percent higher than it was at the start of the year.

-During May, the marketbasket bill increased at the checklist store in eight cities and declined in five. The average increase was 1.9 percent and the average decline was 1.7 percent. On an overall basis, the bill increased by half a percent during the month.

-Meat items were responsible for a disproportionate share of the price boosts. Meats represent 21 percent of the items in the survey; they accounted for 44 percent of the increases during May.

-On the bright side, egg and coffee prices went down again. The average price of a dozen, medium Grade-A eggs at the start of June was 65 cents compared to 76 cents at the beginning of January. Coffee prices declined during May at the checklist store in nine cities.

The Agriculture Department had been estimating that food prices alone would rise 6 to 8 percent this year compared to a 6.2 percent boost in 1977. Now, however, the department has revised its forecast to predict an 8 to 10 percent boost.

The Labor Department reported Wednesday that the price of food purchased at grocery stores went up 2.4 percent during April contributing to a nine-tenths of a percent increase in the Consumer Price Index.

The AP did not attempt to compare actual prices from city to city - to say, for example, that eggs cost more in one area than another. The only comparisons were made in terms of percentages of increase or decrease - saying a particular item went up 10 percent in one city and 6 percent in another.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, milk, frankfurters and granulated sugar.

Jury Acquits Defendant In County Court

In county court yesterday, a jury found James Wesley May not guilty of a charge of assault causing bodily injury.

Serving on the jury were Opal Lee Noble, Ted Floyd, Horace Walker Jr., M.H. Hanson Jr., Mrs. Ted Crenwelge and Karen Buchanan.

There were several pleas of guilty.

Donald Howard Scruggs was sentenced to three days in the County Jail and fined $100 for DWI.

Garry Mark Rhodes was fined $100 and received a 30 day sentence probated six months for DWI.

Carlos Navarez was also fined $100 and issued a 30 day jail sentence probated for six months for DWI.

Gary Lynn Welsh was fined $100 and sentenced to three days in the county jail for a DWI offense.

YOU DECIDE

On June 3, Texas voters will elect one of two men as the Democratic candidate for Railroad Commissioner:

Jerry Sadler, 70, is a twice-defeated former Land Commissioner. Here's what three of the state's leading newspapers have to say about him:

The Austin American-Statesman: "Voters deserve to know whom they will be choosing between in the runoff June 3. Poerner is not a household name; Sadler is. But Sadler has a sorry record in state government. He is the only person ever censured by the Texas House of Representatives (for failure to cooperate with an investigation). He became notorious for attempting to choke then-State Rep. Jake Johnson. He was defeated at the polls in 1970 and lost to Jon Newton in a race for Railroad Commissioner in 1976. And now he's back again."

The Dallas Times Herald: "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision."

The San Angelo Standard Times: "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

IS THERE REALLY ANY CHOICE?

The Railroad Commission regulates the oil, gas and transportation industries in Texas. Our energy and utility rate problems demand vigorous and responsible leadership. We need John Poerner to fight for Texas and protect what is rightfully ours.

John Poerner, 45, is a respected businessman and rancher. John Poerner was elected to three successive terms in the Texas House before being named Executive Director of the Governor's Committee on Aging and Director, Education Resources of Texas.

His honors include being named "Citizen of the Year" in his hometown of Hondo, receiving a "Distinguished Legislator" award from the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association, and being named to the "Agriculture Hall of Fame" at Southwest Texas State University.

He was recently appointed to the Railroad Commission by the Governor.

"Poerner is a solid, competent individual with a record of 10 years of dedicated public service," says the Houston Chronicle. "(We urge) his election."

PresbyterianChoir In Special Service

The choir of First Presbyterian Church will conclude its performing year Sunday with a special service of music beginning at 10 a.m.

The music program and worship will consist of favorite anthems the choir has sung over the past year. Selections will include Mozart's "Ave Verum" and "Alleluia," "What Wonderous Love," "The Cleansing Wave," "My Lord What a Morning," and "The Savior Is Waiting."

The Presbyterian Choir was formed last October when Verna West was hired as organist and choir director. Mrs. West had previously served in the same capacity at the Calvary Baptist Church in Hopewell, N.J. Mrs. West said, "It was a pleasant surprise to begin working with a small choir of six to 10 people and see all the talent that has emerged. I am looking forward to working with the choir again next year."

The service will be followed at 11 a.m. with a special "Church Life" program to be presented by the young people of the church. During the summer months, the Presbyterian Church will hold regular services at 10 a.m. with Church School to follow at 11 a.m.

SING AT FIRST BAPTIST — Jerry Wayne Bernard and his daughters, Robyn and Crystal, will sing in both worship services Sunday at First Baptist Church in Snyder.

Bernard Trio To Sing At 1st Baptist

Jerry Wayne Bernard and daughters, Robyn and Crystal, will participate in both worship services Sunday at First Baptist Church. They will present several selections in the 11 a.m. service and then, at the Sunday night service, the trio will present a full concert featuring gospel music and testimonies.

Jerry Wayne Bernard prepared for his ministry at Baylor University. He has conducted over 800 crusades and concerts in the U.S. and in more than 20 foreign countries.

The two daughters have been a part of the trio since early childhood. They attend Houston's Spring Branch High School where they are active in extracurricular activities. The family attends First Baptist Church in Houston.

The public is invited to attend the services at First Baptist Church and hear the Jerry Wayne Bernard Trio at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

DAY CARE PROGRAM — Youngsters enrolled in the Colonial Hill Baptist Church Day Care Program gather around Mrs. Ron Lyle as she leads them in an activity. Registrations for the coming fall are being accepted now.

REV. MONTE JONES

Ordination Of Rev. Jones Set Saturday

The Rev. Monte Jones, vicar of St. John's Episcopal Church in Snyder, will be ordained to the Episcopal Priesthood at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

The Rt. Rev. Willis R. Henton, Bishop of Northwest Texas, will ordain Rev. Jones in the Episcopal Church of St. Mary, the Virgin, in Big Spring.

Rev. Jones has just completed a year of clergy internship, or deacon, under the direction of the Rev. Harland Birdwell, Rector of St. Mary's.

Rev. Jones will continue to serve the churches in Snyder and Colorado City following his ordination to the Priesthood.

Preacher for the ordination service will be the Very Rev. Urban T. Holmes, dean of the school of theology, at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn.

Church Sets New Schedule For Summer

By action of the church council, Grace Lutheran Church, 5500 College Avenue, will move to a summer schedule for its Sunday worship schedule, effective this Sunday, June 4.

During the months of June, July, and August the regular weekly hour of worship will be moved to 10 a.m. with no regular weekly Sunday School classes.

"The adjustment of our schedule is in response to certain seasonal realities," stated the Rev. Jonathan Jensen, Pastor, "and it is hoped that the earlier time will provide our families with a more suitable time, as well as help to reduce our expenditures for air conditioning."

This will be the first time in recent years that the congregation has adopted a summer schedule.

Special Services Set At Knapp

The Knapp Baptist Church will be the site of interdenominational song and testimonial services today and Saturday, beginning at 7 p.m.

D.W. Copeland and his band of gospel singers from Gatesville will be featured guests. All are welcome.

Lutherans Holding Annual Convention

The Texas-Louisiana Synod of the Lutheran Church in America will be assembled in annual convention this evening through Sunday at Texas Lutheran College in Seguin.

Grace Lutheran Church in Snyder will be represented throughout the proceedings by the pastor, the Rev. Jonathan Jensen, and the appointed lay delegate, Charles R. Anderson of Snyder.

In addition to concerns of operating budget of the Synod for 1979 and the filling of positions in the operating committees and administrative offices, the convention will consider two proposed social statements for recommendation to the Ninth Biennial Convention of the entire denomination to be held July 12-19 in Chicago.

A proposed statement on the aging and the older adult states in part, "This church, both through the daily lives of its members and through its corporate actions, seeks changes in society toward a more positive image of aging and greater justice for the elderly."

The proposed statement on human rights includes the following declaration: "This church commits itself to the policy goals of full employment and-or adequate income, decent housing, health maintenance and care, and nutrition as fundamental rights of every citizen of Canada and the United States."

Action on these resolutions would take the form of recommendations to the upcoming convention of the entire denomination.

REV. STENBERG

Union-Ira New Pastor Moving Soon

The Rev. Douglas J. Stenberg, newly-appointed pastor of Union-Ira United Methodist Churches, and his family plan to move here by June 10 and his first service in his new charge will be on June 11.

The oldest of four sons of John and Elaine Stenberg of Waterloo, Wis., Rev. Stenberg came to Texas in 1968 and was stationed at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene. While there he met and married Stephany A. Bedford, daughter of David and Betty Bedford of Abilene. The Stenbergs are parents of twin daughters, Christine and Anna, 14 months old.

Rev. Stenberg and his wife both are graduates of McMurry College and he received the master of divinity degree from Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Ky. Although he held a three-charge appointment while he was enrolled in the seminary, the Union-Ira charge is his first full-time appointment.

Camp Springs Homecoming Set

The Camp Springs Community Homecoming has been set for Sunday at the Northeast Community Center.

The homecoming will be an all-day event and everyone is invited to attend.

Sing-Song Set At NE Center

Persons interested in A Cappella singing are invited to a community-wide sing-song the second Thursday of each month at the Northeast Community Center on the Camp Springs Road.

The first singing will be June 8, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Organizers emphasized that the singing would be of particular interest to those who enjoy A Cappella singing. The public is invited.

Manila Governor To Leave Post

MANILA, Philippines (AP)-Imelda Marcos is about to relinquish her job as governor of Manila. But Philippines President Ferdinand E. Marcos has seen to it that his wife will be gaining political power rather than giving it up.

Marcos Thursday named his wife to head a new cabinet post giving her administrative powers over the islands' cities and towns, including Manila.

The constitution requires her to leave the Manila gubernatorial post in order to sit in the interim National Assembly, to which she was elected in April. The full nature of her new position was not immediately made clear.

The Dead Sea - despite its name - is not a sea but a landlocked lake.

Clayton Endorses Poerner

AUSTIN (AP) - Railroad commissioner John Poerner said Thursday he has been endorsed for the Democratic nomination by Speaker Bill Clayton and more than half the Texas House.

Clayton issued a statement saying Poerner "has earned the respect and attention of officials in every level of government."

"He has built a career as a successful businessman, rancher and farmer. I am glad to join with my fellow members of the House in urging Texans to vote for John Poerner on June 3," Clayton said.

Poerner said it made him "feel very proud and humble to receive this recognition from responsible people who are judging me from personal knowledge." OK

Gen. Brown Is Retiring

WASHINGTON (AP)- Gen. George S. Brown, who fought many political and military battles in a 37-year Army career, has been fighting a battle against cancer since February and now is retiring as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff on full disability pay.

Brown will leave the service June 20, about 10 days early. His four years as JCS chairman expire June 30.

Day Care Plans Being Made Now

Colonial Hill Baptist Church Day Care Program is urging parents that plan to use their facilities next fall to contact the day care center now.

Registration requirements and program objectives will be discussed with each parent planning to use the program when school begins after the summer break.

The center will be open for nine hours daily Monday through Friday caring for children from ages one-month to five years. After school care to 14 years.

Parents interested in their children attending the classes only may schedule them for either five, three or two mornings each week.

For additional information about the Colonial Hill Day Care Program, contact Mrs. D.V. Merritt, Jr.

Work Day Set At Cemetery

FLUVANNA - There will be a workday Monday, June 5 at the Fluvanna Cemetery.

All interested persons are urged to be there around 8 a.m.

NBA Playoffs Resume; Sonics Feel Confident

SEATTLE (AP)-Tonight was the night the Seattle Super Sonics figured they'd win it all.

Instead, they find themselves deadlocked with the Washington Bullets in their best-of-seven National Basketball Association championship series and another trip to Landover, Md., ahead of them.

The Sonics held a 2-1 lead in the series entering Game 4 Tuesday night at the Kingdome. If the Sonics had won that game, they'd have been playing for the title tonight.

But the Bullets spoiled those plans when they rebounded from a 15-point third-quarter deficit and outlasted the Sonics in overtime for a 120-116 victory that squared the series and snapped Seattle's 21-game home win streak.

So now it's down to a best-of-three series with Game 5 set for tonight in the Coliseum, the Sonics' regular home court, and Game 6 on Sunday at the Capital Centre in Landover.

The seventh game, if necessary, would be played in Seattle on Wednesday night.

"We're ready to go," said Sonics center Marvin Webster. "The loss won't change the outcome of the series, only delay it. I'm still confident. We know we can beat this team."

"We wanted to end it here. We just had to postpone it a couple of days, that's all," said Seattle guard Fred Brown. "Tuesday night was just a minor setback."

A minor setback for Seattle, maybe, but a major step in the right direction for the Bullets.

Zarley Leads Kemper Open

CHARLOTTE, N.C.-Kermit Zarley shot a 6-under-par 66 and gained the first-round lead in the $300,000 Kemper Open golf tournament.

Arnold Palmer, who carded a 5-under-par 67, finished play 1 stroke back.

Tied for third place, 3 strokes off the pace with 69s, were Wayne Levi, Artie McNickle, Mark Hayes, Mark Pfeil and Howard Twitty.

Stone Sets LPGA Pace

TORONTO-Beth Stone fired a 7-under-par 66 to take the first-round lead in a $100,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament.

Susan O'Connor finished 1 shot back with a 67.

Tied for third with 3-under 70s were Canadian Sandra Post, Sharon Miller, Mary Dwyer and Judy Rankin.

Rookie Sylvia Ferdon scored a hole-in-one on the par-3, 175-yard 16th.

Yavapai To Face Ranger In Finals

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)-First baseman John Lee had a pair of home runs, driving in four runs, as Yavapai defeated Meramec of St. Louis 9-1 in the Junior College World Series Thursday night.

The Prescott, Ariz., school meets Ranger College of Ranger, Texas, in the championship game tonight.

Lee's first roundtripper came in the fourth inning with Pete Otero and David Manad aboard. Lee got his second in the seventh inning and catcher George Goahde followed with another on the next pitch from losing hurler Terry Bartley.

USC Sets Well In Tennis Ranks

SAN ANTONIO (AP)-Southern California entered the semifinals of the U.S. Tennis Association's national collegiate women's championships today with a 12-point edge on the field, second-seeded Stacy Margolin in the singles and at least one doubles team in competition.

Margolin breezed by Anne Etheredge of Mississippi University for Women Thursday, 6-2, 6-0, but two other USC leaders were eliminated.

TAG Tourney To Thin Some Lines

WALDEN ON LAKE, CONROE, (AP)-Second-round play in the 69th Texas Amateur Golf tournament today will reduce a field of 125 to below-60s scorers and ties in preparation for championship matches Saturday and Sunday.

Bob Gibbons, the only player to break par in opening round play Thursday never won anything as a member of the Texas Tech team "except a couple of West Texas partnerships."

The 23-year-old graduate student at the University of Texas at Dallas went around the 6,720-yard track in 33-37. He birdied holes No. 2, 5, 7 and 9, chipping in from 20 feet at No. 5. He got only one front-side bogey at No. 3 where he lost time in the trees off the tee.

Jimmy Adams and Reagan Brown tied for second place with par 72s while five others posted 1-over 73s.

LITTLE LEAGUE

LITTLE LEAGUE

Cardinals 8, Yankees 3

Raymond Valadez and Chris Wiman doubled and Paul Tate singled as the Cardinals whipped the Yanks 8-3 yesterday. Winning pitcher Tate fanned 13 batters.

Single-hitting for the Yanks were Bobby Velasquez, Jerry Garza and Jimmy Velasquez. Garza struck out 11 batters but was saddled with the loss.

White Sox 11, Braves 2

Norman Malone apparently pitched a one-hitter for the W-Sox last night, grabbing 13 strikeouts over the Braves. Kenneth Gardner got the lone Brave hits in the first inning.

Greg Mitchell slammed a triple, double and a single to aid the Sox. Malone added two doubles and a triple and Mike Adams had two singles. Geoffery Chamblee snapped a single.

FARM LEAGUE

Yankees 17, Cardinals 12

Yankee pitchers allowed only three hits last night, but 15 walks took a toll. The Yankees won the contest however, as David Jackson slapped a triple and two singles and Pat Malone added two doubles to pace the group. Single-hitting were Herb Ashley, Freddy Howard, Mike Bryon, Gary Gladson and Brian Sitton.

Abel Saenz, Robert Freeman and Jimmy Sanders collected base hits for the Cards.

Braves 11, White Sox 7

No hits were indicated in this contest held yesterday evening as the Braves outlasted the White Sox.

GIRL'S LEAGUE

Bad News Babes 20, Sweetwater 1

Karen Littlepage blasted a double and two singles and Eva Rich knocked another two-bagger as the Babes battered Sweetwater yesterday. Ann Beuerlein and Sharon Halford knocked three singles each and Shelly Nutt and Becky Costillo connected for two apiece. Single-hitting for the Babes were Teresa Dennis, Andera Kelian, Trudy Hataway, Sherry Stewart, Tammy Ashworth, Josie Rios and Shari Cotton.

Gloria Franbler hit two singles for S-Water. Cathy Cabren, Ruth Torrez, Phyllis Roberts and Sarah Torrez connected on singles. Josie Rios was awarded the victory. Cathy Cabren took the loss.

Snyder Sparklers 6, Grape Apes 5

Shanda Wiman blasted a trio of singles, Melanie Smith, Rosie Pena and Jennifer Goodwin knocked two each, and Sandi Stone and Rebecca Stansell slapped one apiece as the Sparklers ripped the Apes by a point yesterday.

Tammy Gray, Tracy Hicks, Rhonda Johnson, Chenelle Reeves, Tonia Robinson, Cherisse Reeves and Teresa Beuerlein grabbed single-hits for the Apes.

Blazing Red Hots 11, Pacesetters 10

The Red Hots found six runs in the seventh inning to edge the Pacesetters here Thursday. Becky Hernandez powered a triple, a double and two singles to lead the 'Hot' hitting. Sheri Sturdivan, Becky Gray and Renee Fulford knocked one double apiece. Gray also added a single as did Michelle Killian, Sabrina Robinson, and Michelle Pinkerton. Dora Hernandez connected on three singles and Mary Warren, winning pitcher, grabbed two.

For the Pacesetters, Vicki Lopez knocked a triple, a double and two singles; Becky Pylant hit a double and two singles; Charlene Sutton socked a double; Laura Stephens slapped three singles; Jana Jackson, Lisa Waller and Johnna Jackson drilled two singles; and Vera Lopez, Tina Cowen and Kayla Cross added one base hit each.

Rednecks 14, Gold Diggers 12

Robyn Harlin was the winning pitcher as Bunny Roe drilled a triple and a double to fire up the Rednecks last night. Tracy O'Day slapped a double and two singles and teammate Nancy Zajicek added a double and a single. Sam Halford knocked three singles, followed by two from Robin Harlin and one each from Donna Halford, Pam Gray and Carla Gist.

Belinda Fuentez knocked a triple and two singles and Billie Owens slipped in a double for the Diggers. Kim Harlin added four singles and Jill Kidd and Lauri Self knocked two apiece while Laurie Eppling added one.

Blue Angels 10, Tigers 4

Robin Sharp, Robbie Merritt and Nicole Williams each hit a double yesterday as the Angels defeated the Tigers. Angela Williams knocked three singles and Kim Edminson added two, while Kristi Neil, Teresa Leatherwood, Merritt and Sharp garnered one each.

Susie Bollinger, Kathy Leach and Toby Stevens slapped a base hit apiece for the Tigers.

TEENAGE LEAGUE

Buffs 12, Dodgers 2

T. Gressett allowed only two hits as the Buffs bombed the Dodgers 12-2 Thursday night.

J. Davis slapped a double and Devin Donelson, B. Davis, G. Edminston and Gressett connected on singles.

Jeff Stewart slammed a double and Steve Tate, losing pitcher, knocked a single for the Dodgers.

Oilers 7, Rebels 4

D. Boone racked a double and a single and J. Wilson added two base hits as the Oilers defeated the Rebels yesterday. M. Roemisch was the winning pitcher.

Also hitting for the Oilers were D. Hicks, M. Roemisch and K. McClain with one single each.

R. Burrus paced the Rebels with two singles. D. Jenkins, Kris Seale and Sy Tabor belted a base hit apiece. Jenkins took the loss.

Harrah Slaps Up Ranger's Victory

ARLINGTON (AP) - Texas third-baseman and former All-Star Toby Harrah still has a long way to go before he can comfortably declare his current hitting slump ended.

But Harrah, hitting at a meager .201 clip this season, says the key is swinging his bat at more strikes and fewer bad pitches.

He slapped a 2-2 pitch over the left-field fence for a three-run homer Thursday night that propelled the Rangers to a 10-7 American League victory over the Minnesota Twins.

"I think it was a slider," said Harrah of the pitch from Minnesota reliever Mike Marshall. "It was a good pitch and it felt good when I hit it."

It was only the second homer this year for Harrah, who hit 27 of the long balls last year and entered this season with a .262 career batting average.

Harrah's homer capped a four-run Ranger rally in the seventh inning and helped rookie relief pitcher Steve Comer get his first major league victory.

Comer started in the seventh inning with the game tied after the Twins had rallied from a 6-1 deficit with a five-run explosion in the sixth inning.

Comer got in trouble quickly as Butch Wynegar and Glenn Adams hit consecutive doubles, with Wynegar scoring to put the Twins ahead 7-6.

Stan Ford's three-run homer over the 400-foot sign in dead center field capped the Minnesota sixth inning rally to tie.

The Rangers fell behind 1-0 after one inning but scored two runs in the third, one in the fourth and three more in the fifth to build their 6-1 advantage.

Palmer Shuts Out Yankees, Rumors

By The Associated Press

Jim Palmer says rumors that the Baltimore Orioles might trade him are grossly exaggerated.

In fact, Palmer, who tossed his third straight shutout Thursday in a 1-0 victory over the New York Yankees, says he's the source of those rumors.

"I started most of the rumors, so it doesn't affect me," he said. "I called rumor control last night, and they said if I keep pitching like this there's no chance of a trade."

Palmer, now 7-4, yielded only two hits to the Yankees, weak singles by Lou Piniella and Chris Chambliss, in securing his 201st major league triumph and 49th career shutout, one more than San Diego's Gaylord Perry to take the lead among active pitchers.

Rookie Jim Beattie, 2-1, who had beaten Palmer earlier in the year, allowed four hits in seven innings.

There were no games in the National League Thursday.

Tigers 4, Brewers 3

Ron LeFlore drove in two runs with a sacrifice fly and a single, and bullpen ace John Hiller came in to bail out Jim Slaton, 5-2, who got Detroit's third consecutive victory after seven straight losses. Hiller got his sixth save.

Sal Bando hit a two-run homer in the first inning and Robin Yount hit a sacrifice fly in the second to score Sixto Lezcano for Milwaukee, but Slaton settled down. Slaton gave way to Hiller in the eighth after yielding a triple to Paul Molitar and a walk.

Royals 10, Mariners 0

Dennis Leonard, 4-8, who lost five straight games in May, tossed a six-hit shutout that boosted Kansas City into first place by four percentage points over Oakland in the AL West.

Darrell Porter doubied home three runs for the Royals in the second inning, and George Brett also had three RBI on a pair of doubles in Kansas City's 14-hit attack.

Tom House, 3-4, the first of four Seattle pitchers, took the loss.

Here's what JUDGE JIM LANGDON says about JOHN POERNER

JUDGE JIM LANGDON JOHN POERNER

candidate for the remaining term vacated by Judge Langdon on the Texas Railroad Commission:

"I wholeheartedly endorse John Poerner in the June 3 run-off primary. He is serving by appointment as my replacement on the commission and is running for the remaining two years of my term. I know him as an honest, hard-working and capable official. He has an excellent background in private business and in public office. I will vote for him on June 3 and urge all my friends to do likewise. The importance of the work of the Railroad Commission makes it vital that we nominate the best possible man. John Poerner is that man."

Jim C. Langdon

ABOUT JIM LANGDON:
He practiced law in West Texas for several years following work with the FBI and service as an officer of the U.S. Navy in World War II. He was appointed 112th District Judge by Governor Allan Shivers in 1954 and served Kimble, Sutton, Crockett, Upton and Pecos counties until he was named by Gov. Price Daniel in 1959 to serve as chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso. For the third time a Texas Governor, John Connally, picked Langdon to fill a vacancy on the Texas Railroad Commission in 1963, serving until December 31, 1977, when he resigned to enter private practice of law in Austin.

Bob Dickenson is the only candidate with a law school education. His training and experience qualify him to protect your rights under the law.

You need Dickenson if you ever have to contest a lower court decision for custody of your child or a juvenile trial or insurance claims
or settlement of an estate or a property settlement or any other common civil matter.

A fair decision from the Court of Civil Appeals is a right you must be guaranteed.

Dickenson graduated from SMU law school and taught law at Baylor University before coming to Abilene in 1960. Dickenson has practiced civil law for 20 years. He has a thorough understanding of the law and its applications. He is better qualified to protect your legal rights in court.

He has the courage to make decisions based on the law, not emotion.

You can be sure that when Bob Dickenson is judge the law will be upheld. He can write strong legal opinions and set precedents if necessary. The Court of Civil Appeals works with pure law. Bob Dickenson believes a judge needs a complete knowledge of the law, wise and mature judgment and the courage to do what is right.

A man who knows the law, a man who has taught the law, a man who has practiced the law, a man with the heart and courage to protect your rights under the law—that's Bob Dickenson.

McGlaun Named Camp Chairman

Jack McGlaun has been named 1978 Camp Chairman for the Snyder Salvation Army Service Unit. The announcement came from Service Unit Chairman R.C. Patton, manager of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. in Snyder.

McGlaun will be in charge of selecting eight boys from ages 8 to 14 to attend the Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle at Midlothian July 9 - 16.

All Texas communities are invited to send selected youths who would not otherwise get a chance to attend a summer camp. The Camp Chairman is responsible for selecting the boys. The Service Unit furnishes them with any clothing, toiletries or other items they might need, arranging medical examination and providing them with $5 in cash. It also arranges transportation to and from the camp for them.

The Snyder Service Unit guarantees local expenses in getting the boys ready. The Texas division of The Salvation Army pays all costs of the camp itself, which offers swimming, hiking, athletic contest and many groups activities in each of four one-week sessions.

Billie Sol Estes Claims Blackmail

DALLAS (AP)-Paroled swindler Billie Sol Estes says federal prosecutors are using "blackmail" tactics in attempts to get him to plead guilty to charges which could lock him up again.

In a copyright story in Thursday's Dallas Times Herald, Estes said he has learned through a long-time lawyer-friend that the government is threatening to portray to a grand jury an alleged conspiracy to recreate the same kind of paper empire that crashed down around Estes in 1964.

"I've made many mistakes. The first time I was guilty," the newspaper quoted Estes as saying. But he denied any of the charges he said federal prosecutors are preparing now. He described himself as "broke, and not too proud to admit it."

NOTICE OF INTENT TO CHANGE RATES

The LONE WOLF ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC. has filed an application with the Texas Public Utilities Commission, Austin, Travis County, Texas, for a rate increase applicable to each class of service available to its consumers. This rate increase is proposed to become effective on the first day of July, 1978 or the date of approval by the Texas Public Utilities Commission, whichever is later.

The proposed increase in gross revenue that the Cooperative expects the rate to produce is 13.7 percent.

Hemorrhoid variations

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - My problem is hemorrhoids. I am embarrassed to discuss them with anybody. They bleed a great deal at times. I have used local preparations for years but nothing seems to help. I am afraid to have an operation because of bad reports I have heard about it. My brother-in-law had his removed by a doctor who used rubber bands. No operation, not hospitalized, no anesthesia, no pain. He is still very happy with it two years later.

My surgeon just passed it off with "Oh, that's an old-fashioned method. We get too much scar tissue that way." I'd rather have scar tissue than hemorrhoids. Do you recommend this method.

DEAR READER - Hemorrhoids are simply varicose veins of the rectum. They pop out because the veins are overstretched. Anything that exerts pressure on the veins around the rectum can cause this. An extreme example is the pressure of the fetal head as it passes through the pelvic area during birth. Constipation with straining at the stool is another major cause. Obesity contributes to the problem, as do other factors that increase the pressure inside the abdomen and prevent drainage of the veins from that area.

There are internal hemorrhoids - which bleed - and external hemorrhoids which cause pain and itching. The pain fibers are in the external area, hence the internal hemorrhoids often do not produce any symptoms until one day a person bleeds.

You should never ignore rectal bleeding because even if it is from a hemorrhoid the pressure behind the vein causing the hemorrhoid may be a tumor. Let your doctor decide what is causing the bleeding. Cancer of the rectum is too common to ignore such an important sign.

Yes, rubber bands can be used to tie off internal hemorrhoids. It is an office procedure but cannot be used in all cases. It depends a lot on the extent of the hemorrhoids. And despite your brother-in-law's glowing report and equally misleading reports in popular lay magazines it is not always painless. The internal hemorrhoid is grasped by a pair of forceps and pulled into the instrument used. The tight rubber band is slipped over the hemorrhoid. It may cause pain for six to seven days, and you have to be on the lookout for bleeding for about two weeks afterward. Only one hemorrhoid at a time is operated upon.

You might ask to see a proctologist. Your family doctor could send you to one. Your own case will have to be evaluated before it can be determined if it would be suitable to do this in your case or not.

Injections are also used in some cases to scar off the offending vein or veins.

You may get by with a change in habits. Improved bowel habits and the use of stool softeners often decrease the pressure and hence the bleeding and other problems that occur. I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-1, Spastic or Irritable Colon and Constipation, to provide some tips on good bowel function. This should be helpful with or without hemorrhoids.

Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. But remember before you can choose the right course your doctor will need to review exactly what your own problem is since there is a world of difference in hemorrhoids.

Plans Have Various Impacts

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Congressional Budget Office says alternate plans for dealing with the glut of sugar in this country would have widely varying impacts on consumers.

An Agriculture Department plan to establish a target price program would likely mean stable sugar prices, the CBO said Wednesday.

De la Garza's plan would use import quotas to maintain domestic market prices at 17 cents a pound.

It also would authorize import fees if quotes prove ineffective.

The administration plan would pay producers the difference between a minimum market price or the average market price, whichever is higher, and a target price.

But a proposal by a Rep. Kika de la Garza, D-Texas, would cost consumers an estimated $4 billion over the next five years, the budget office said Wednesday.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It's fine to go out on the town today, but you don't have to spend an arm and a leg to have fun. Pick pals and places you can afford.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) In your fervent effort to accomplish your aims today you could be accused of being selfish and dictatorial. Try to use a softer approach.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're much too hard on yourself today to draw any positive conclusions from self-analysis. Don't dwell on debilitating thoughts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Attention should be centered today on discharging an old obligation. Do so quickly and cheerfully. You'll save yourself a lot of anguish.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In making an important decision today you might not be able to bypass a strong-willed person. His cooperation will be needed to get an answer.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) The whole day could slip by, without accomplishing a thing if you allow yourself to be overwhelmed by what needs to be done. Tackle one task at a time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Being around a depressing, moody individual today will rub off on you. Beat a hasty retreat if you encounter such a person.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't bring up an issue that's been difficult for you and your mate to see eye-to-eye on today. It'll prove embarrassing if there are others around.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Behaving unbecomingly or getting sarcastic over chores that should have been done by others will gain nothing but an argument.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Being either too tightfisted or too loose with your finances will bring about the same consequences — poor value for your dollar.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A family flare-up could occur quite easily if you resurrect an old unresolved problem.

Chinese Communists Rehabilitate Confucius

By JOHN RODERICK
AP Special Correspondent

TOKYO (AP) - After a decade of abuse, the Chinese Communists have rehabilitated Confucius, another demonstration of the change since the purge of the party's radical wing.

Long branded an ultra-reactionary and defender of the establishment, China's greatest sage now is to be criticized on his merits, giving him credit for the good with the blame for the bad.

Historian Ting Wei-chih spelled out the new line at a four-day forum of nearly 100 scholars and researchers held by the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences in May. The Peking Review, which arrived in Tokyo this week, gave an account of the conference.

Ting said the radicals, led by Mao Tse-tung's widow Chiang Ching, marked off "forbidden zones" in the study of historical figures.

"As a result," he said, "some historical personages were defiled while others were demonized."

One of the "demonized" was Confucius.

Ting agreed that this philosopher, who lived 25 centuries ago, should be criticized, but he asked: "Does criticism mean simply knocking him down with curses?

"Since Chairman Mao instructed us to make an appraisal of Confucius, why can't we examine his ideas with an approach of "one dividing into two?"

The Chinese hold that all things break down into two opposing components - good and bad, black and white, sweet and sour, hot and cold.

"Otherwise, how can we explain the fact that Chairman Mao quoted so many remarks by Confucius, such as 'To be insatiable in learning,' 'to be tireless in teaching others,' and 'inquiring into everything,' and told us to do the same? In criticizing Confucius for his erroneous ideas, we must not circumvent these questions."

Ting insisted it is "necessary to get rid of the bad habit of deception, break down metaphysical conventions and faithfully describe historical personages as they were during their lifetime and in the proper context, for such is the Marxist scientific approach."

Frankie Laine Is Hospitalized

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)-Singer Frankie Laine has been hospitalized after becoming ill while performing at a downtown hotel.

Laine, who has been appearing this week in the Showroom Lounge of the Executive Inn, was listed in satisfactory condition Thursday night at Welborn Hospital where he was admitted to the cardiac care unit for observation.

Laine had been singing about 30 minutes and had just finished a selection when he suddenly sat down and asked whether there was a doctor present. He was escorted from the lounge and taken to Welborn.

Texas Trucker Dies On I-80

PAXTON, Neb. (AP)-A Texas truck driver was killed in a two-vehicle accident on Interstate 80 two miles west of here Thursday.

Leonard H. Peters, 32, of Fort Worth, Tex., was dead on arrival at an Ogallala hospital.

The Nebraska State Patrol said his westbound semitrailer struck the rear of a farm truck as it tried to pass and both vehicles went into a ditch. The semitrailer overturned and Peters was pinned inside.

The driver of the farm truck, Thomas Hendricks of Ordway, Colo., escaped serious injury.

THANK YOU FOR THE SUBSTANTIAL LEAD IN THE 1ST PRIMARY

★ Work and Experience constitute the record of Judge J. Neil Daniel. He refused to neglect his court while campaigning for promotion.

★ In the 1st Primary --the people, where the candidates live and work, gave Judge Daniel a majority of the votes cast. Judge Daniel's run-off opponent ran third.

★ Qualification is the only issue, and it covers many factors: Background - Integrity - Diligence - Ability for hard work - Education - Training and Experience.

★ Judge Daniel had extensive trial experience prior to becoming District Judge and as District Judge has heard and disposed of more than 4356 cases.

★ Judge J. Neil Daniel is the only candidate with Judicial experience. He knows the law and he knows the courts.

★ The record speaks -- there is absolutely no substitute for Judicial experience.

★ Promote Judge J. Neil Daniel to the Court of Civil Appeals.

TO: J. M. Heflin, if living and if deceased, the legal representative of said named defendant, and the unknown heirs of said named defendant, the legal representative of the unknown heirs of said named defendant, if the unknown heirs of said named defendant are dead, the unknown heirs of said named defendant, if the unknown heirs of the unknown heirs of said named defendant are dead; and the unknown owners or claimants of interest in the property described hereinafter; GREETING:
You are commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A.M. on the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 3rd day of July, A.D., 1978, at or before 10 o'clock A.M., before the Honorable 132nd District Court of Scurry County, at the Court House in Snyder, Texas. Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 17 day of May, 1978. The file number of said suit being No. 12,348. The names of the parties in said suit are: T. J. James and wife, Jean James, as Plaintiffs, and J. M. Heflin, as Defendant.
The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit: A trespass to try title suit regarding the following described property; All of Lot One (1) and the East Fifty feet (E 50') of Lot Two (2); Block Number Three (3), of the Grayum and Nelson Heights Addition, a Subdivision of Scurry County, Texas, and an Addition to the Town of Snyder, Scurry County, Texas, according to the plat recorded in the office of the County Clerk of Scurry County, Texas.
Subject to any and all valid subsisting covenants, restrictions, easements, reservations, and right of ways properly found of record.
That defendant unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiffs therefrom and unlawfully withholds from them the possession thereof. Plaintiffs pray for judgement for title and possession of said land and other and further relief to which they are entitled as is more fully shown by Plaintiffs' petition on file in this suit.
If this Citation is not served within 90 days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.
Issued this the 18th day of May A. D., 1978. Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Snyder, Texas, this the 18th day of May A. D., 1978.
Polly Underwood, Clerk
District Court
Scurry County, Texas

On Tuition Credits...

House Vote Short That Needed For Override

By Edmond Le Breton
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)- President Carter may still have his way despite House passage of sweeping tuition tax credit legislation strongly opposed by the White House.

The 237-158 House vote approving the bill Thursday was 27 votes short of the two-thirds majority that would be needed to override a presidential veto, expected if the measure finally clears Congress.

The legislation, which provides credits against college, elementary and secondary school tuition, now goes to the Senate, which has shown itself even more favorable to tuition credits than the House.

The House-passed measure would allow a taxpayer to subtract directly from his income tax 25 per cent of his tuition outlays, within limits.

The maximum credit in the case of college or other post-secondary tuition would be $100 this year, $150 in 1979 and $250 in 1980, for each student. At the lower educational levels, the maximum would be $50 this year and $100 in each of the next two. The program would end after three years unless Congress renewed it.

Pending in the Senate, with the approval of the Finance Committee, is a measure providing credits up to $500.

House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill said he does not think a veto could be overridden.

He said House leaders might bring up a bill embodying Carter's proposal to expand existing college aid programs by $1.2 billion and making families with incomes up to $25,000 eligible for some benefits.

The House, which unlike the Senate had never before passed a tuition tax credit bill, not only did so Thursday, approved the measure after first broadening what had been only a college tuition credit to include tuition at the lower educational levels. That change carried by only 15 votes - 209 to 194.

Because the credit would apply to private and parochial elementary and secondary schools, the House action raised a constitutional issue about which Carter has expressed particular concern.

The president has said that he was inclined to veto any tuition tax credit measure that was costly and unconstitutional.

The House measure, which appears to fit that description, would cost in lost taxes an estimated $635 million in its first full year and $1.2 billion in two years.

And an opinion by the Justice Department says that a measure including elementary and secondary tuition credits would probably be declared unconstitutional.

Small Boats Can Attract Lightning

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rough water and winds aren't the only storm hazards for boaters, according to government weather experts who say small boats can attract lightning like chum attract fish.

"If you or any of your passengers present a higher profile than does most of your craft, there's a good chance of being struck by lightning" during a thunderstorm, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration reports.

According to NOAA more than 100 deaths each year are caused by lightning, more than the average toll of tornadoes or hurricanes over the past thirty years.

Outriggers, a flying bridge or even the tip of a fishing rod can become the beginning of a deadly journey for 100 million volts of electricity. If you're between it and the surface of the water, it can kill you, NOAA experts warned.

The agency urged all boaters to pay close attention to National Weather Service forecasts and not to put out in small craft if thunderstorms are in the offing.

If you're out in your boat and hear a thunderstorm forecast or detect the approach of a storm through "eyeball meteorology," make for shore immediately, NOAA said.

The agency said that if you can't make it to port before the storm strikes, get below decks if possible and don't use the two-way radio, it's mast is a natural lightning rod.

In a small boat with no overhead protection, keep low as you head for shore. If you can see clearly to navigate, sit on the bottom of the boat with most of your body below the gunwales.

The agency added that lightning strikes are not always fatal, so if someone in your boat is hit give first aid, artificial respiration for those not breathing.

Persons who are unconscious but breathing will probably recover on their own, officials said. But they added that professional medical attention should be sought as quickly as possible for anyone struck by lightning.

Xavier Cugat Is Improving

LOS ANGELES (AP)- Bandleader Xavier Cugat is improving after several days of observation for high blood pressure, a hospital spokeswoman says.

"We don't know when he'll be released. The doctors are considering that now," said Virginia Bohannan of the Cedars-Sinai Medical Center community relations staff.

Cugat, 78, was taken to the hospital from his Wilshire District home on Sunday suffering breathing difficulties.

Rose Kennedy Helps Charities

NEW YORK (AP)-At 88 years of age, Rose Kennedy continues to lend her name and presence to charities.

The Kennedy family matriarch joined daughters Jean Kennedy Smith and Patricia Kennedy Lawford at Mrs. Smith's East Side home Thursday to publicize the Very Special Arts Festival for handicapped children to be held next week in Madison Square Garden.

Mrs. Smith explained that the family's interest, in part, stems from "growing up with Rosemary," a retarded sister.

Most Californians For Proposition 13

By BOB EGELKO
Associated Press Writer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) - Backers are portraying an initiative to drastically cut California property taxes as a boon to middle-class homeowners. But an Associated Press survey shows the heralded relief for homeowners is dwarfed by the potential savings for big business and the possibility these savings might not be passed on to consumers.

Polls show the initiative has been gaining favor with voters steadily. The latest California Poll released Thursday by Mervin D. Field said 57 percent of those surveyed favor the initiative and 34 percent oppose it. The rest are undecided.

Specifically, the measure would limit taxes on property to 1 percent of its market value, with an additional ¼ percent allowed temporarily to pay off outstanding bonds.

The AP survey of 13 of the state's biggest property owners found that the initiative, Proposition 13 on Tuesday's ballot, offers them a tax cut of at least $431 million.

Three companies alone - Pacific Telephone, Pacific Gas & Electric, and Southern California Edison - would get a $280 million cut, while the average homeowner's property tax cut would be $870, according to a legislative committee's analysis.

Most of the 13 companies are publicly neutral on Proposition 13 but Southern California Edison and Southern California Gas oppose it, saying they fear possible new state taxes and the initiative's potential effect on the overall state economy.

Howard Jarvis, sponsor of the initiative, cites the lack of big corporate support as proof his measure would not be a giveaway to big business. He contends business tax savings would be passed along to consumers.

But the AP survey indicated that a relatively small portion of the big companies' tax cuts would be reflected in lower prices and utility rates.

The survey showed that for utilities some of the property tax savings would be eaten up in lost federal income tax deductions while other utilities already have rate increases pending that are far larger than their projected tax savings.

For large companies like Standard Oil, no consumer savings at all were forecast, because the tax break probably would be divided among shareholders and worldwide operations.

Proposition 13 would cut property taxes by about $7 billion statewide but state officials say homeowners would get only 35 percent of that total, their share of overall tax payments. The rest would go to business property, including apartments.

The 13-company total of $431.4 million in savings is only a rough appoximation. The actual total is likely to be higher, however, because only partial estimates were available for two of the companies, Standard Oil and IBM.

Officials Miffed Over Property

CLAYTON, Mo. (AP) - City officials are a bit miffed. A county judge says the city of Kirkwood can't run that fancy $212,500 swimming pool and 14-acre tennis club it just bought.

"Kirkwood has the right to purchase the property," St. Louis County Judge Drew W. Luten Jr. said Thursday. "However, it does not have the right to create, maintain or operate a public recreational facility or swimming pool" because of a city ordinance.

Kirkwood city officials say they will appeal.

Don't Keep Mum About Violence

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1978 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Please reconsider your answer to DEBATING, who asked if she should tell the woman her ex-husband was about to marry that he had beaten her up. (You said, "On the chance that she'll bring out the best in him while you brought out the beast in him, keep mum."

My sweet young niece was married only three months. No one would have believed that the man she married was capable of such violence as he later evidenced. If only someone would have warned that gentle, unsuspecting girl, she might be alive today. She suffered such a beating at the hands of that monster, the undertaker was sickened at the condition of her bruised and battered body.

Wife-beaters sometimes kill. I hope you will change your advice, Abby.

HEARTSICK AUNT IN CALIF.

DEAR AUNT: Thank you for protesting my answer. You are right. My "give 'em another chance" philosophy should not have been applied to a matter as potentially dangerous as wife-beating. I should have emphatically recommended that wife No. 1 warn wife No. 2. I contritely stand corrected.

DEAR ABBY: In regard to LADY PREACHER IN IOWA, she needs to read First Corinthians, Chapter 14 (King James version):

Paul says, "Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the law."

The 35th verse goes on to say, "And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church."

I am a fan of yours, Abby, and hope that even though you are all for women's rights, you will be fair and print this anyway. Sign me . . .

23-YEAR-OLD PREACHER, KINGSPORT, TENN.

DEAR PREACHER: Although the printed word remains unchanged, over the years even Scripture has been interpreted in a variety of ways. It is no longer considered a "shame" for women to speak in many churches, temples and synagogues.

DEAR ABBY: I just finished crying my eyes out over something that is not my fault. A very nice boy from school started dating me and I was on cloud nine. I was never popular, and he was like an answer to my prayers.

Well, he just called me up and told me he couldn't date me anymore because his parents have forbidden him to. The reason was they heard that my older sister had a baby out of wedlock. (She did; but, Abby, I have never done one thing out of the way, so why should I have to suffer for something my sister did?) I have even had girlfriends tell me they couldn't go around with me anymore because of my sister's reputation.

I am not like my sister, and I don't see why people should hold this against me. How can I prove that I am a "nice" girl when I have this against me?

NICE GIRL IN RHODE ISLAND

DEAR NICE: Don't try to "prove" anything. People who aren't willing to judge you on your own record aren't worth having as friends.

Who said the teen years are the happiest? For Abby's new booklet "What Teenagers Want to Know," write Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose $1 and a long, stamped (24 cents), self-addressed envelope, please.

Budapest Fares Rise 50 Percent

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) - Bus and streetcar fares have gone up 50 percent in Budapest to help the government transport company get out of debt.

A bus ride will now cost 10½ cents, regardless of distance. But monthly tickets will be sold to students and military conscripts, enabling them to ride for less.

The company's deficit this year is estimated at $70 million.
