THE HOG MARKET

TODAY'S QUOTATIONS:

Choice sorted	$5.50@5.75
Mixed packers	5.25@5.45
Light	5.25@5.50
Choice pigs	5.50@6.00
Stags and roughs	4.00@5.00

Receipts of hogs today were only moderate. Six cars on the opening market, of 409 head, with none reported. Total receipts for the day were estimated to figure close around 450, against 538 for last Tuesday, and 679 for the corresponding day last month.

The quality of today's offering was about on an average with yesterday's supply, with the total weight of the run averaging close around 210 pounds.

The moderate run gave salesmen courage to ask higher prices, but while there was a healthier demand from both packers they were not disposed to pay any great advance, and balked for a while.

It did not take buyers and sellers the usual length of time to get together today, and trading soon became active, and all hogs were sold and weighed within a short time, with sales steady to strong compared with yesterday's trading.

The top today was $5.60 for 77 hogs averaging 212 pounds, with the bulk of the sales from $5.50@5.55.

Choice sorted are quoted from $5.50@5.70, with mixed packers $5.25@5.45, light grades $5.25@5.50, choice pigs $5.50@6.00, and boars, stags and roughs from $4.00@5.00.

Babies or Dogs.

No one with the proper sensibilities can help a liking for some form of dog. It is equally true that a duly organized mind has always a fondness for some kind of child. It is not the fair thing to care so much more for the dog than for the child as to subject the human to the assault of the canine creature, either deliberately or from indifference to the luck of the baby in escaping the contact without loss of life.

Wonderful Bird Flight.

The most wonderful bird flight noted is the migratory achievement of the Virginia plover, which leaves its Northern haunts in North America, taking a course down the Atlantic, usually from 400 to 500 miles east of the Bermudas, reaches the coast of Brazil in one unbroken flight of fifteen hours, covering a distance of 3,200 miles, at the rate of four miles a minute.

HORSE AND MULE NOTES.

Mr. Stanley McNorton is on the market today for mules. Mr. McNorton comes all the way from West Virginia, having heard that the Fort Worth market could supply him with the kind of mules he wanted. He comes from Fayette county, in the western part of the state.

"We want mules for use in the coal mines," said Mr. McNorton. "The demand is for animals 13½ to 15 hands high. We need a good many for that work. It is pretty hard, and generally a mule won't last long. Sometimes, however, a mule will work for three or four years, and then again three or four days work will kill him. We have been getting our mules at St. Louis and Kansas City, and I thought I would come down to Fort Worth and see what you have. The mules here are suitable to our business, but I find it costs a good deal more to get them home than from St. Louis or Kansas City."

Mr. Lee Crenshaw was at the horse barns today, from Montague county. He has some mules that are about ready for the market. He had the misfortune to lose four barns and three good jacks, not long ago, by fire, but that hasn't driven him out of the mule-raising business.

Devil's River News: Eric Cloudt of Telegraph sold 20 head of horses and mules to Bangarden & Thompson of Brady at $40 round.

Feed for Horses.

The United States army feeds its cavalry and artillery horses 12 pounds of oats and 14 pounds of hay per day per thousand pounds of weight, and its mules 9 pounds of oats and 14 pounds of hay. The Wyoming station feeds its driving horses 21.25 pounds of alfalfa and 3.2 pounds of straw and its carriage horses 10 pounds of oats and 12 pounds of hay per thousand pounds of horse per day. The Boston fire company feeds its horses 3.38 pound of grain and 18 pounds of hay, and the Chicago fire company feeds 4 pounds of oats and 15 pounds of hay, per thousand pounds of weight per day. The Richmond, (Va.) Express company feeds its horses 4.67 pounds of corn, 5.33 pounds of oats, 8 pounds of bran, 4.16 pounds of oats, corn meal and 15 pounds of hay. The Jersey City Express company feeds 2 ounds of corn, 19 pounds of oats, 1.15 pounds of bran and 9.5 pounds of hay, and the Boston Express company feeds 12 pounds of corn, 5.25 pounds of oats and 20 pounds of hay. The Wyoming station feeds its farm horses 13.75 pounds of alfalfa and 2.25 pounds of straw per day. The Utah station feeds its farm horses 25 pounds of alfalfa and 10 pounds of bran, or 22.8 pounds of timothy hay and 10 lbs. of bran. It will be noticed that at all these western stations alfalfa hay is a preferred feed for farm horses. At Chicago the daily ration of the draft horses of large companies is 75 pounds of hay, and in South Omaha 15 pounds of oats and 12 pounds of hay.

SQUEALING FOR HOGS.

KANSAS CITY BEWAILS HER LOSS OF BUSINESS.

Hogs Coming to Fort Worth in Spite of Premiums Offered on That Market.

Kansas City is squealing for lack of hogs. The Drovers' Telegram is driven to say:

"A good deal has been said in these columns of late about the relative high prices current on this market for hogs as compared with other Western markets. It is a source of surprise to many in the trade that these market conditions have not increased receipts at Kansas City and enlarged the territory from which supplies are drawn to a greater extent than the records show have been done, but it only exemplifies the truth, well known in the general business world, "that it is much more difficult to regain ground in any line of business than to lose it." One of the resultant evils of the flood was uncertain markets, and while packing operations were fairly readjusted, uneven prices were paid which drove a good many hog shippers to seek other outlets for their consignments. At this season of the year packers begin to look for as many hogs as their houses can possibly handle, and locally have for some time been paying a strong premium in the hope of building up the supply, which has been falling below requirements. To an outsider it looks very much as if only part of the amount of money spent as premiums already the last six weeks in this effort would have been needed at the critical period following the flood to have preserved that equilibrium between this and other markets which would have held a large part of the trade at that time diverted, and which is now needed to bring supplies up to a value commensurate with the demand, and which, thus far, has failed to bring them."

Fort Worth pleads guilty to getting most of the Oklahoma hog business from Kansas City. We did it by paying shippers prices that brought the hogs here because they netted more than at Kansas City.

It calls for a bigger premium than Kansas City has been paying to get back this lost trade. Complaining of the flood and hard times wont turn hogs that way, when better prices are paid at Fort Worth. "Business is business," and the best market wins.

SHORTHORNS AT ABILENE.

Abilene, Tex., Oct. 10.—We learn that Col. B. C. Rhome will send some of his fine Hereford bulls out to Abilene to be sold at auction on the last day of the West Texas fair. These, with the ten head of Shorthorn bulls to be sold for Mr. Burrus of Columbia, Mo., and the 35 head of Herefords put in by Mr. Jno. R. Lewis of Sweetwater, make an aggregation of good useful cattle that ought to draw out the Southwest Texas buyers in strong force.

It was never more strongly forced upon the attention of every one, that none but good cattle can pay in growth and increase for the grass they eat.

TEXAS CATTLE IN CHICAGO.

The Chicago Live Stock World of Thursday says: "Receipts in Texas division were light, the only considerable lot of steers being 16 loads of the Jennings & Co. cattle that averaged 990 lbs. and sold at $3. The market on Texas steers is in a demoralized condition as it is on western or the cheap grades of natives, and these sales at $3 today are around 75 cents lower than three weeks ago."

CHICAGO'S LIVE STOCK EXPOSITION

The leading agricultural and live stock educators of the United States and Canada are paying tribute to the value of the International Live Stock Exposition to the country in almost every current issue of the agricultural and live stock press. A word, therefore, as to the arrangements for the 1903 exhibit will no doubt prove of value to your readers.

The board of directors have issued a statement regarding the new coliseum, and while it is regretable that we will not have our entire buildings at our disposal this year, nevertheless with the old building, provided with greatly increased stall room and with better arrangements for pens for the hogs and sheep, we will be able to handle the show more advantageously than any of its predecessors. Temporary facilities will be constructed to secure ample room for each department to prevent any branch crowding the other.

The program will be arranged to give each and every breed and kind full benefit of all that the show implies to the exhibitor.

The live stock people have shown their earnestness in the welfare of the International by taking memberships in the permanent organization, yet a more general membership is looked for to insure continued success. In this connection there is no change in the rules or regulations of the Exposition. The awards are open to the same competitors as heretofore, whether exhibitor is a member or not, so that whether your application for membership is filed as yet or not, your relationship so far as being an exhibitor is concerned is the same as at former shows.

The entries and inquiries received indicate a greater interest and larger exhibit than at any of the previous expositions.

The railroads have given the same rates for visitors, with earlier selling dates for exhibitors, as published each previous year, and additional special excursions will be run this year by several of the lines reaching Chicago. Every thing points to a big event November 28 to December 5 at Chicago.

W. E. SKINNER.

TO EQUALIZE CATTLE RECEIPTS.

Chicago Commission Men Try to Avoid the Glut on Monday.

The dumping of cattle on the market on certain days of the week has become so serious in Chicago that the commission firms of the stock yards there are moving for a reform. They have addressed the following petition to the Live Stock Exchange:

"We, the undersigned buyers of cattle in the market at the Union Stock Yards, realizing by experience the inconvenience and difficulty of properly handling business, caused by the fact that as a rule the receipts of cattle at the Union Stock Yards are each week largely on the market Mondays and Wednesdays, receipts on other days being much smaller, and on some days hardly enough to make a market, and believing that if the receipts of cattle at this market were distributed more equally through the week, it would enable the Stock Yards company to handle them in a manner more satisfactory to all parties, and would also enable the commission men to handle their part of the work better and the buyers to purchase cattle when they had orders for them on days other than Mondays and Wednesdays, which is now hardly practicable, respectfully ask in the interest of the Chicago Live Stock Exchange and of this market as a whole, comprising those connected with the trade in any way, that you will take this matter up and endeavor to get the receipts of cattle distributed more equally through the different days of the week and in any effort you make to accomplish this end, we shall be pleased to render our best co-operation."

It would be better for the shippers if they could have their cattle land on the market more evenly through the week. Monday is a big day on all markets, when receipts are more than can be handled comfortably. The first three days generally bring in the bulk of the run at the Fort Worth yards. Last week Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday brought in 8,398, and the rest of the week only 3,216.

LOUISIANA TABASCO SAUCE.

Avery Island, Where the Fiery Condiment is Raised and Manufactured.

New Orleans States: Captain John A. McIlhenny is in the city from Avery island, looking very much as if he had been on a long military campaign, judging from his rugged, sunburned appearance. He is now paying very close attention to his tabasco sauce manufacturing business, and at the present time a large new factory is going up. He said:

"Tabasco sauce was first made on the island in 1868 by my father, who thought he could make a sauce from the peppers which grew there equal to Maunsel White. At that time there was no post-office at Avery island, and the label was made with New Iberia on it, which has been allowed to remain ever since.

Avery island is perhaps the most delightful spot in the state, high, dry and healthful during all seasons of the year. As Captain McIlhenny states, tabasco has been regarded and written about as one of the distinct products of Louisiana for more than half a century. It is almost impossible to go into any first-class hotel or restaurant anywhere in the United States without finding among the condiments tabasco sauce. It is not, however, a sauce that can be used in large quantities. It is put up in very small bottles and a single drop on an oyster is all that one can relish. Many funny stories are told of people who enter the New Orleans restaurants and try tabasco on raw oysters for the first time. They will insist on putting about a teasponful on an oysters and gulping it down, and then the fireworks begin. Such a dose causes the eater to see all the stars in the firmament. A teaspoonful of tabasco would be enough for a dozen of the largest oysters.

Much to the surprise of those who have so long been familiar with tabasco sauce, all of the supply of the world's market is raised on about 100 acres of land. But the manufactured product of this 100 acres is perhaps the most valuable of any of a like area of land in the United States, if not in the world. It has been said by those who thought they were in a position to know, that the annual net revenues from tabasco manufacturing was no less than $150,000.

Coolie Power Car Line.

A curious street car line is that between Atami and Yoshihoma, two coast towns in the province of Izie, Japan. The road is seven miles long, the rolling stock consists of a single car, and the motive power is furnished by a couple of muscular coolies, who push the car along wherever power is necessary.

Newfoundland.

Newfoundland, according to the census of 1901, has a population of 220,984. The main industry is fishing. The seacoast along which most of the people are settled is the most sterile and unproductive portion of the island, where only potatoes, turnips, cabbage, hay and oats are raised.

Especially Flap Doodle.

The Great American Hen.

It will astonish not a few people to be told that the most valuable of our crops, excepting only corn, wheat and hay, is eggs. The lay of the American hen is worth about $200,000,000 a year. All the cattle and hogs slaughtered in the country are worth less, and so is the country's total yield of both gold and silver.

Which Ray Is Responsible?

X-ray operators at Guy's hospital, London, where the most extensive use has been made of x-rays in the treatment of disease, suggest that the severe disturbances reported by Mr. Edison as coming from the X-rays are really from the ultraviolet rays, for in their large experience in the application of X-rays in skin diseases no such accidents have occurred.

NOT AT ALL ALARMED

Thirty-Five New Cases Do Not Lead to Fear by Doctors.

INDICATIONS OF END.

There Were No Deaths at Laredo on Monday and This Circumstance Causes Physicians to Feel Hopeful.

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 13.—Up to Monday night there has been a larger number of yellow fever cases than on any day since the outbreak of the epidemic here. The physicians, however, are not surprised at the large number of cases, and concur in the opinion that it may be but the beginning of the end. The official bulletin of the health department issued Monday night is as follows: New cases 35; deaths, none; total number of cases to date, 245; total deaths to date, 10.

Conditions similar to those in this city prevail at Minera. The official report from that place, received Monday, shows that there have been twenty-five cases Sunday and Monday, with no deaths. The total number of cases to date at Minera is sixty-one, with three deaths. The doctors are working unceasingly in their efforts to stamp out the disease, and the increased number of cases, which is looked upon as a favorable sign, seems to indicate that their work will be crowned with success.

No report beyond the fact that the condition of United States Consul Alonzo P. Garrett is much improved, was received from Nuevo Laredo Monday night.

Dr. Tabor received word from Beaumont that an oil company would donate a car of crude oil for use in placing on stagnant pools here, and was also informed by the railroad companies that they would transport same to this point without charge.

It is understood a subscription list has been started in Houston and Galvestion in order to obtain money for the relief of Mexicans of the poorer class, who are badly in want, as a result of the enforced idleness, due to many firms doing practically no business since the beginning of the epidemic.

Reports from Monterey regarding the fever situation have been delayed for several days, but reports from that point received Monday indicate that affairs have taken a serious turn. During the past week there have been many deaths from yellow fever, and many new cases have developed.

Warren was accused of assaulting an eight-year-old girl. Acts of this kind have occurred several times in Berwyn within the last fortnight, and the crowd that pursued Warren was highly exasperated. He led them a chase of about a mile before he was caught, and during the run the excitement of the crowd had increased. When Warren was captured he was handled very roughly, and a proposition to lynch him met with approval. Two police officers, however, managed to get him away. GOT A HEAVY PENALTY.

Sentence Equal to Fifteen Years in Jail for Insulting Ladies.

Claud Doyle is a young man who will not, for a good while at least, repeat the offense that has just got him in trouble. He will serve the county of Tarrant for about 15 years, unless he gets his sentence reduced.

Doyle went to the Free Fall Festival in Fort Worth, one night last week, and mingled with the crowds on the streets. He took advantage of the opportunity to make himself too free with a number of ladies, two of whom filed complaints against him, and he was arrested. The complaints alleged assault, but that was only technically correct. Upon being arraigned in the county court, he pleaded guilty, and Judge Milam gave him the extreme penalty allowed, a fine of $1,000 and two years imprisonment in the county jail in each case. This gives him four years imprisonment and $2,000 fines to pay. If he has not the money to pay the fine, and has to stay it out in jail at the rate of 50 cents a day, he will be in jail or on the county road 1,000 days, and that is about eleven years. This, added to his 4 years of imprisonment, gives a total of 15 years.

"DEVIL'S AUCTION."

Manager Charles H. Yale announces three new grand ballets for the 22nd edition of his "Everlasting Devil's Auction," which come to Greenwall's opera house tonight. For the first act a new divertisement will be offered in "The Fantastiques," in the second act a gorgeous Chinese ballet, rich in color and costumes entitled "The Feast of the Mandarins," while in the third act a novel "card" divertisement will be introduced.

Elena Bossi, a famous Italian premiere danseuse assoluta, who makes her first American appearance, and Fraulein Jennie Prager, a very clever German premiere, head a bevy of pretty secundos and ballerine, who under the direction of Madame Alice Phasey, the noted English ballet mistress, willl illustrate the "poetry of motion."

"THE LAND O' COTTON."

There seems to be some peculiar fascination to the dramatist in a plot that deals with the South. There is a quiet and stimulating charm that is irresistible. "The Land o' Cotton," which comes to Greenwall's opera house, Wednesday, matinee and night, Oct. 14, is said to be one of the most oddly unique and charming stories of Southern life that the stage has given us in recent years. It was written by John Crittenden Webb, a man who chose a field that he knew as he knew no other, and that he knew as very few others have known it. Into the heated atmosphere of modern drama, where machine-made plays vie with each other for a few weeks fame, "The Land o' Cotton" comes as a cooling breeze blown across wild meadows. With a well defined plot, characters drawn to life, a love story fascinating in its genuineness and simplicity, enough sensation to make it interesting, with fine fidelities under it all, it is a welcome variation from the regulation melodrama of the times. An exceptionally clever cast has been selected to portray the different roles and the scenic equipment is unusually massive and appropriate.

TWO MILLION DOLLARS

Conservative Estimates Place Losses at These Figures.

WORK IS IMPOSSIBLE

Thousands of Men, Women and Children Gathered at Paterson Factories to Resume Labor, but to No Avail.

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 13.—Nearly two entire wards, taking in the manufacturing sections, have been under water since last Friday. Monday morning thousands of men, women and children employed in different mills and factories found they could not go to work on account of those places being shut down. A great many of these people have also been driven from the upper floors of homes and have neither food nor shelter. The heaviest damage in Paterson was to manufacturers. At present it is impossible to give an accurate idea of the total loss, but conservative estimates are about $2,000,000.

Police and firemen have been steadily engaged since Saturday morning in the work of rescuing families from upper floors or roofs of houses in the flooded districts. Monday rain continued to fall and there did not seem to be any chance for further damage being done unless another severe storm should set in. There are still many blocks under water and an examination of flooded districts can not be made until the water disappears. Health authorities have a difficult task before them devising means to prevent an epidemic of sickness in the flooded territory. People who were forced to leave will not be allowed to return until the districts are put in sanitary condition.

Better at Passaic.

Passaic, N. J., Oct. 13.—Flood conditions are much improved in this city and vicinity. The total loss by the flood in this city is estimated at $2,000,000, with no insurance. This does not include loss of time to workmen and manufacturers. Nearly every mill is closed.

One Million Dollars.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 13.—Flood damage here is estimated at $1,000,000.

FROM MANILA.

Some Interesting News That Has Been Sent From There.

Manila, Oct. 13.—Eight Ladrones have been sentenced here to b changed and to twenty-five years' imprisonment by Judge Sweeny. These men captured Bulucan and other provinces adjacent to Manila.

A second body of Ladrones in the island of Panay have attacked the town of Ibajay and killed thirteen inhabitants. There is only a small police force there.

Lieut. Velasquez and thirty men of the constabulary were attacked recently by 500 head hunters at Naova Viscaya and lost two men after killing fifty-three and wounding a large number of head hunters. The enemy were armed with rifles and bolos.

Constabulary under command of Velasquez are reported to be suffering from a disease similar to cholera.

As the result of an investigation by Customs Collector Shuster, Governor Taft has issued a requisition upon the Chinese authorities at Shanghai for the extradition of W. D. Ballantine, inspector of customs, arrested there Sunday.

When last heard of Herman and Johnson, the fugitive defaulters from the constabulary service, were on their way to the island of Cagayanes. They had abandoned their tugboat at Asya, a small port in the Negros Occidental, and had gone to Guimbald, on the southeast coast of Iloilo, where they secured a large vessel for their trip to Cagayanes. One of the native constabulary is said with them, the others having left at different places en route. The shortage in cash of the commissary department amounts upon investigation to $10,000.

IS SIGNIFICANT.

Publication of Berlin Dispatch by Official Paper at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.—Significance is attached here to the fact that the Official Messenger and Journal de St. Petersburg prints the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger dispatch relating to the movement of the Russian fleet and coincident landing of Russian and Japanese troops in different parts of Koren. Several newspapers publish reviews of apanese military and naval strength. Cancellation of the projected visit of the czar of Russia to Rome is said to be due to the attitude of Italian Socialist press and Social deputies.

WHAT MINISTER SAYS.

Japanese Representative to Court of St. James on Situation.

London, Oct. 13.—Deprecating rumors of the Japanese ultimatum to Russia, Baron Hayashi, Japanese minister to Great Britain, in an interview, said he had no information of such character, adding that had Japan taken this action "the Anglo-Japanese treaty would have necessitated my being immediately notified," so he might inform the British government.

Reached a Crisis.

Berlin, Oct. 13.—Relations between Japan and Russia have reached a crisis, according to an official view.

Hanged Himself.

Columbus, O., Oct. 13.—Hugo Schultz, manager of the Terry Engraving company, committed suicide by hanging himself in the engraving plant. Worry over financial matters was the probable cause. He was forty-two years old and unmarried. Schultz came here from Chicago.

WORLD'S FAIR PRIZES.

Larger Than Combined Prizes of Fourteen State Fairs.

The cash prizes offered in the live stock department of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition aggregate almost 30 per cent more than the total premiums of twelve leading state fairs and the international and American royal shows combined.

This comparison was made at the recent meeting of the American Association of Live Stock Herd Book secretaries in a paper on "Live Stock Exhibits at the World's Fair," read by Hon. Geo. W. Stubblefield. Mr. Stubblefield took for comparison the amounts of money offered in 1902 by the state fairs of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, Texas and Wisconsin, and of the International Exposition at Chicago and the American Royal show at Kansas City. The total live stock offerings of these fourteen great shows, compared with those of the World's Fair at St. Louis, read as follows:

	State Fairs	World's Fair	Difference
Horses	$ 49,488	$ 93,640	$44,152
Cattle	84,623	64,030	20,593
Sheep	23,906	45,500	21,593
Swine	24,477	32,186	7,709
Poultry	13,329	15,770	2,440
Totals	$195,824	$251,126	$55,301

HOGS IN SOUTHWEST TEXAS.

There seems to be some hogs left in Southwest Texas. We take the following report of sales made in Sonora county, from the Devil's River News: "John Hedin bought hogs from the following parties: R. T. Baker, Chris Wyatt and Berry Baker 150; from Wiley Adams 60, J. W. Reily and W. A. Luckie 60, from Dock Simmons 50, John Robbins 50, and about 200 more from different parties at private terms."
