Shallowater Pair Beaten To Death

SHALLOWATER, Tex. (AP)—A Texas Tech student came home early today and found his father and mother beaten to death in the bedroom of their home, officers reported.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Brown. He was 52 and she was 51. Brown was a prominent Shallowater farmer and insurance agency owner and ran for county commissioner last year but lost.

Their son, Jack, 25, said he had been with friends until the early morning when he returned to the farm home about 4 miles northwest of Shallowater near Lubbock.

Clyde (Mose) Fowler, a brother - in - law of Jack, told newsmen he received a call about 4 a.m. from Jack and quoted the son as saying, 'Mose, something has happened out here. I think mother and dad are dead. You'd better call an ambulance and the sheriff's office." Fowler said Jack appeared to be crying.

Fowler said, "It looked like Brown confronted someone in the hall, and he was hit there and dragged back into the bedroom." Both victims were in their night clothes.

Sheriff's officers questioned whether robbery was a motive. Brown's billfold, still containing money, was found in the bedroom.

Z. Glover, chapter chairman; Alfred Kohl, disaster chairman; Bill Seale, vice chairman; Gene Merrifield, publicity chairman; and, Odis Glasscock, first aid.

Peace-Talk Proposal Offered By S. Viets

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam offered anew today to talk peace with Communist North Vietnam and proposed that both sides pull back their forces from the demilitarized zone and de-escalate the war.

A U.S. spokesman said the South Vietnamese government discussed its proposal with U.S. officials before issuing it and the U.S. government welcomed the offer.

The South Vietnamese proposed peace talks amid continuing clashes in the northernmost provinces below the demilitarized zone and as 1,500 Saigon government troops launched a new drive in the Mekong Delta 42 miles southwest of the capital.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported 90 of the enemy killed by ground forces and helicopter gunships in clashes near the northern border and about four miles from Hue, the old imperial capital. U.S. losses were three killed and seven wounded, a spokesman said. Government casualties were reported light.

A Vietnamese spokesman said government forces killed 15 Viet Cong guerrillas in the initial hours of the new drive in the Mekong Delta while taking no casualties.

Along the central coastal plains, the spearheads of two South Korean divisions neared a linkup in a drive from the north and from the south to open up a long stretch of the vital coastal Highway 1.

Advance elements of the Korean Tiger Division, driving southward from Song Cau, were reported about to join up with units of the White Horse Division pushing north from Tuy Hoa.

The linkup will close the 27-mile stretch between the two coastal cities and extend the central coastal stretch in allied hands to a distance of 235 miles from Qui Nhon to Tan Lam.

The drive, the South Koreans' biggest operation of the war, started March 8, and some 10,000 Korean troops from the two divisions were deployed in it. The Koreans have claimed killing 830 Communist troops and capturing 417.

The South Vietnamese peace offer was contained in a communique from the Foreign Ministry which welcomed peace proposals put forth April 11 by Canada. The communique broadly paralleled the four-stage Canadian proposals.

The Vietnamese government said it welcomed "all efforts to bring about peace in Vietnam and proposes specific courses of action such as the pullback from the demilitarized zone, inspection by the International Control Commission, further de-escalation of the conflict and talks, secret or otherwise."

"The government of the Republic of Vietnam," the communique said, "stands ready at any time to meet with or contact the Hanoi authorities either directly or through the good offices of a third party such as Canada."

The Canadian proposals called for "some disengagement, possibly in the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam, together with a cessation of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam and of Communist infiltration of the South, (2) freezing military action in South Vietnam at the present level, (3) cessation of all hostilities, and (4) withdrawal of forces on either side of the 17th Parallel.

FUND SET UP FOR DISEASE VICTIM

Friends of E. P. Owens, Snyder resident who is suffering from Hodgkin's disease, have established a fund for him at Snyder National Bank.

Owens, a former employe of Arrow Construction Company, became a victim of the disease after recovering from a fractured leg recently. He is a patient in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Dallas. His wife is staying in Dallas to be near him.

Marion B. Floyd, 2003 Avenue Z, and a friend of Owens, said that anyone wishing to contribute to the fund may do so by sending money to the Snyder National Bank in care of Mrs. Owens.

Commissioner Of Higher Education To Speak Here

Dr. Jack Williams, Commissioner of state-supported Higher Education in Texas, is coming to Snyder to address teachers and their guests Friday night.

The occasion will be the annual banquet of the Snyder Classroom Teachers Association and the Scurry County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association. The banquet is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Snyder High School Cafeteria. Tickets are priced at $2 each and they may be purchased from Ollie Peek, ticket chairman, at Snyder High School. All persons interested in education have been invited to attend the event.

Dr. Williams was named to his post as commissioner of higher education following formation of the Governor's College Coordinating Board. A native of Galax, Va., he holds a bachelors degree from Emory and Henry College and the masters and doctor of philosophy degrees from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga. He also has done summer graduate study at the University of Kentucky and the University of Virginia.

His work experience in education includes high school teacher and a high school principalship in Virginia; two years as a graduate teaching fellow at Emory, and 17 years in teaching and administration at Clemson University.

At Clemson Dr. Williams became Dean of the Graduate School in 1957, Academic Dean in 1960, and vice president for academic affairs and Dean of the University in 1963. In August last year he began his duties as Commissioner of state-supported Higher Education in Texas.

The Texas system currently includes 53 universities and senior and junior colleges, and additional units are planned. The Texas Legislature in 1965 es-

Surveyor 3 Nudged Back On Course

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 3, fired back on the track in a crucial space maneuver, zeroed in on the sun and stars today in America's first try at digging the moon.

The spacecraft, equipped with spindly, arm-like shovels, is aimed at the moon's Sea of Storms, the probable lunar landing site for future U.S. astronauts.

Touchdown for the 2,283-pound moon device, the most complicated yet developed by the United States, is about 7 p.m. EST Wednesday.

No problems developed during the first half of the 237,000-mile journey, said scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at California Institute of Technology.

A midcourse trajectory correction was completed at midnight Monday by a series of rocket bursts and the spacecraft locked back onto the sun and star Canopus for guidance moments later.

"The vehicle quickly regained the sun," a spokesman for the control agency said "and this was very crucial."

He said 12 more hours of tracking were needed before the maneuver could be termed a complete success "but all indications are it was."

Liquor Issue Faces Do-Or-Die Ballot

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—The 60th Legislature's hottest issue, sale of liquor by the drink, had a do-or-die date with the House Revenue and Taxation Committee today.

Most legislators expected the mixed drink bill to get committee approval—by voice vote—and advance to the House calendar for full debate in the near future.

The Senate was scheduled to take up another touchy question—an annual voter registration measure that has some features of the opposing permanent registration plan.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said the voter registration measure which resulted from a summer-long study by a special election law study committee, would be first on the Senate debate calendar.

The 2:30 p.m. session of the House Tax Committee attracted so much attention because of weekend compromise talks over the governor's plan to legalize sale of liquor by the drink then tax the cocktails to the tune of $15 million in new revenue.

The bill was heard by the House Tax Committee several weeks ago and has been in a subcommittee ever since. Late Monday, Rep. Ben Atwell, Dallas chairman of the subcommittee and of the entire tax committee, said the full committee would act on the subcommittee's recommendation.

House sponsors of the bill, Reps. Dick McKissack and John Field, both of Dallas, said they expected the measure to be recommended by the subcommittee and approved by the full committe in much the same form as originally asked by the governor.

However, McKissack and Fields said the governor has agreed to an amendment that will be offered during floor debate and is expected to remove much of the opposition. The amendment would make legalization of liquor by the drink possible only after voters in a precinct or county had a chance to express themselves on the issue in a local option election.

Cool Front Brings Showers To Area

A cool front brought showers into the Snyder area late Monday and early today.

While the mercury dipped to 50 degrees, light showers were producing an official total of .17 of an inch of moisture up to 7 a.m. today.

The Weather Bureau indicated that more showers were likely today and tomorrow.

Wild Weather Brings Deluges

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wild weather boiled up in Southwest Texas during the night and swept across the state with drenching rains, turbulent winds in some areas and occasional hail.

It was early this morning before the mixture of unruly thunderstorms and showers finally tapered off in Northeast Texas.

As much as 5 inches of rain soaked into thirsty range land near Ozona in the west and 3.85 at Big Wells, southwest of San Antonio.

A rural resident too excited to give his name telephoned Longview police to tell about a dark funnel cloud writhing on the ground in the Gum Springs community and a roaring sound punctuated by snapping timber.

Sheriff's officers from Marshall checked the area and found no damage. Gum Springs is between Longview and Marshall.

Lightning started a $1,500 fire in the home of Kilgore policeman Tatum Brown which is eight miles north of Henderson. Similar blazes destroyed an oil tank and caused minor damage to several homes in the Longview vicinity.

Sizeable amounts of small hail piled up and there was wind damage in parts of Tyler.

Back toward the starting point for the storms, winds gusting up to 50 miles per hour flailed Uvalde as nearly 2 inches of rain poured down. Power failed in the north part of Uvalde and numerous television antennas were blown down.

Warm air pouring inland from the Gulf of Mexico collided with a southbound cool front to generate the turbulence.

Numerous showers developed across South Texas north of the dissipating front, which by early morning lay along a line stretching westward from Lufkin to San Antonio and Eagle Pass.

Forecasts called for shower and thunderstorm activity to continue nearly everywhere in the state except the extreme west through Wednesday.

Some of the heavier overnight rainfalls included Batesville in far South Texas 3.20 inches, Rocksprings 2.40, Waco 1.38, Longview 1.33, Leakey 1.25 Tyler 1.17, Winkler 2.12, Wortham 2.90, Crockett 1.56, Hondo 2.22, Dilley 1.16, and less than an inch at many points in roughly the southeastern two-thirds of the state.

Landmark Destroyed By Night Blaze

A Scurry County landmark, the old homestead of the late R. E. Joyce, burned to the ground Monday night.

The frame house, now owned by George Vicary, principal of Hermleigh High School, was located three miles south of the Midwest Baptist Church off the Roby Highway.

Flames of undertermined origin swept through the structure about 11:45 p.m. last night. The house was a complete loss and smoke still was rising from the ashes this morning.

A family of farm workers had been living there.

Vicary said the fire apparently was caused by defective wiring. The flames began in the attic and spread quickly throughout the house. It was built about the "turn of the century" with lumber brought into the county from Colorado City.

The owner was asleep at his home about half a mile away when the fire was discovered.

City Firemen from Snyder answered the call, but the fire was well underway by the time they arrived and they could not save the old landmark.

LANDMARK DESTROYED — Fire of undetermined origin burned the old homestead of the late R. E. Joyce to the ground Monday night. Built around the turn of the century, the house was located three miles south of the Midway Baptist Church.

TIPRO Asks Probe Of Trend Toward Foreign Oil

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

AUSTIN Tex. (AP) — Texas independent oil operators have asked Congress to investigate trends they say are increasing the nation's dependence on foreign oil.

A resolution adopted by the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association also calls for congressional directives to assure effective controls over oil imports and to offset economic advantages held by such imports.

"There is only one approach and that is to try every way we can to get some committee of Congress to conduct a hearing on the facts" L. A. Douglas, the association's imports policy committee chairman from San Antonio said Monday.

Douglas expressed hope such an investigation can be held in conjunction with hearings on an extension of the Trade Expansion Act that expires in June.

"We have to have a tariff, stronger restrictions, or an incentive plan to bolster domestic drilling," Douglas said.

The Douglas committee said that unless stricter imports controls are ordered it may be necessary for independent oilmen to seek imports quotas so as to obtain funds to stimulate a lagging search for new domestic petroleum reserves.

The Texas resolution drew support from Tom McAdams Bristow, Okla., president of the Oklahoma Independent Producers Association.

"I think our best recourse is through the Congress," McAdams said. "We need to come to some conclusions as to what we desire our Congress and executive branch to do. Oklahoma independents say they will support any incentives plan that will help the independent."

Elmer Hoehn, administrator of the Interior Department's mandatory oil imports program, was among those listening to the criticisms of the program. He agreed that domestic petroleum reserves have declined and that drilling programs have slumped sharply.

"I think something has to be done about the declining reserves pictures in this country, to insure the discovery of new reserves, and to get drilling back on the road again," Hoehn said. "I admonish you not to quit your fight but to keep on telling your story. Maybe some day you'll get your story across."

DEAR ABBY: I am employed by a professional man who speaks a foreign language that I neither speak nor understand. Altho he and his wife both speak English very well, when she calls him at his office and I am sitting there working he will very often switch to that other language. This is most irritating to me.

I told him once that I would be glad to step out of his office when he is conversing with his wife, but he said it wasn't necessary. I am not interested in what they have to say to each other but I think this is very rude, don't you? What should I do?

IRRITATED

DEAR IRRITATED: Unless you are deliberately trying to tune in on his conversations with his wife (which you obviously are), what he says (and in whatever language) is none of your business. Eavesdropping is also "rude" — no?

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have a son, my only child who is the proud owner of a very beautiful home.

When my son lived alone he gave me the key to this home and I often entertained my friends there. Since he has married, I have continued to do so when my son and his wife were out of town.

His wife has now told me that she would "rather" that I did not use her home in this way. I feel that she has no right to forbid me, as it is my son's home, and as his mother I am entitled to be there whenever I please.

Shouldn't my son insist that his wife say no more about it?

INDIGNANT

DEAR INDIGNANT: No. Now that he is married, it is his wife's home as well as his. If you wish to remain on friendly terms with your son and his wife, don't ask your son to "insist" on anything. Entertain your friends in your own home, Mother and say no more about it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am 45 and unmarried and just started to work in a factory. All the employes eat their lunches together. They don't have a lunchroom where we can BUY anything; we all bring our own lunches and they give us a lunchroom to eat in.

I noticed a very nice looking man about my age looking at me. (I'll call him "Romeo.") I asked about him and was told he was a "great guy" and not married. I would like to know Romeo better but I don't want to ask anybody to introduce us because they might start teasing me — or him. How can I get acquainted?

JULIET

DEAR JULIET: Next time you pack your lunch, give the thermos an extra hard twist. Then come lunchtime, be sure Romeo sees you struggling to open it. And if he doesn't offer to open it for you (while opening a conversation at the same time) my name isn't ABBY.

Adenauer Reported Growing Weaker

BONN, Germany (AP) — Former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer grew weaker today after passing a quiet night at his home in the village of Rhoendorf.

A medical bulletin said the 91-year-old statesman's "over-all condition and that of his lungs has weakened."

The reference to the weakening of the lungs raised speculation that Adenauer's illness—flu and bronchitis—had progressed into pneumonia. He became ill last Wednesday.

Informants said there is grave concern for his life.

Cruelty Case Delayed

WESTLAND, Mich. (AP) — Examination of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Coffman of nearby Rockwood on charges of child cruelty has been postponed for one week by municipal judge Douglas Craig.

The Coffmans are accused of having tied their 11-year-old daughter, Debbie, to her bed and of having given her only cereal in one cold meal a day.

Police said the child was kept in tatters, forced to eat off the ground and otherwise mistreated. Debbie and her five well-cared for brothers and sisters were placed in a children's home by authorities.

"Debbie is eating like a horse," an official at the home said Monday. "She is more interested in eating than anything else."

The Coffmans stood mute at their arraignment last Friday.

Police quoted relatives as saying the Coffmans treated Debbie's five brothers and sisters with love and kindness, and that the harsh treatment of Debbie began shortly after two Coffman children died within a week about four years ago.

Police said Mrs. Coffman's only explanation of her treatment of Debbie was that "she was different."

Marchers Give Aid To The Opposition

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Leaders of open-housing marchers asked all the demonstrators to fill out card with their names and addresses Monday night.

A leader explained that bail bondsmen had gotten demonstrators and hecklers mixed up when some of each were arrested Friday night, and inadvertently had provided bond for two of the hecklers.

A lawyer for the demonstrators did the same thing. He obtained a continuance of the cases of two other hecklers in police court.

Rescuer Saves Three

JACKSONVILLE, Tex. (AP) — J. E. Sprayberry, city marshall of the little community of New Summerfield, was driving his school bus home after letting off all his pupils when an automobile crashed through a bridge rail.

Sprayberry leaped from his bus on U.S. 79 and found a 2-year-old boy, 3-year-old girl and their grandmother, Mrs. Grace Walker, 55, trapped in the submerged car. Sprayberry freed the boy, the girl and then pulled Mrs. Walker from the car with help from another passerby.

The accident Monday happened on Pine Hill road near the intersection of U.S. 79 outside New Summerfield, a community between Jacksonville and Henderson in East Texas.

Investigators said the three likely would have drowned had it not been for Sprayberry's quick rescue.

Slight Mix Up In Plaque's Description

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's government has created a new award for achievement, the Order of Canada. The medals will bear the Latin inscription "Desiderantes Meliorem Patriam" — "They desire a better country."

The words are from Hebrews 11:16. But an announcement from Pearson's office Monday said the source was Hebrews 12:16.

That verse reads: "Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright."

China Grove News

By MRS. N. F. HALL

The housewarming given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Cotton of Dunn Friday night was attended by approximately 42 families. They were from Dunn, China Grove, Snyder, Ira, San Angelo and Eastland. Refreshments of cookies and punch was served by the hostesses Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. Martin Murphy, Mrs. T. J. Webb, Mrs. Houston Cotton and Mrs. N. F. Hall.

The Dunn Canasta Club had its regular meeting in the Dunn community center Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Clarence T. Merritt was hostess.

Mrs. Martin Murphy visited Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Murphy of Snyder Tuesday afternoon.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Brown were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hall of Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Merket of Colorado City, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Brown and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown and family of China Grove.

Mrs. Joyce Harlow of Colorado City recently visited Mrs. Donna Mize.

Mrs. Gladys Duncan of Coahoma was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Pete White.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Leslie and Allen of Eastland were weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Hall visited Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Stone and Stonie of Colorado City Saturday night.

Hollis Mize Jr. of Goldthwaite spent the weekend with his family.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Hall were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hall and children of Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Mize Jr. and Naomi. The occasion celebrated the birthday of Lonnie Hall three-years-old.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady White spent the weekend in Abilene.

Slightly Curried Shrimp

2 tablespoons each butter and flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery salt
½ teaspoon each curry powder, paprika and Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1¼ cups milk
2 cans (each 4½ ounces; deveined shrimp, drained and rinsed

In a 1-quart saucepan over low heat melt the butter; whisk in the flour, salt, celery salt, curry powder, paprika, Worcestershire and chili sauce. Add the milk; over moderately low heat cook and stir until thickened and bubbly. Add shrimp and reheat but do not boil. Serve with rice, peanuts and chutney. Makes 4 servings. (Make up the shrimp dish at least an hour before serving, cover and allow to stand off heat so flavors will blend. Reheat gently at serving time.)

Altrurians Hear Musical Program

Mrs. C. T. McLaughlin was hostess to the Altrurian Club for the annual "Music Day" Friday at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Mrs. W. P. King presided at the business session and the treasurer reported that all commitments have been met for community affairs.

In contrast to the usual custom of inviting guest artists to bring the program, the directors, Mmes. R. L. Gray and A. C. Preuitt, planned a day of participating music. All members joined in singing the choruses as did the guests present.

With the gracious permission of the church, the program of piano and organ familiar favorites was given in fellowship hall of the First Methodist Church, with Mrs. Gray at the piano and Mrs. Preuitt at the organ.

The following program was presented: "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "The Rosary," "Minuet In G," "Because," "America The Beautiful," "Voices Of The Woods,' "Sundown," "Souvenier," "To A Wild Rose," and "How Great Thou Art."

Latins At Punta del Este Met A Subdued President

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It sounded like a call to a new life, to a fresh beginning, and the very manner of the man gave that feeling.

In the White House the Latin-American diplomats stood listening as the young president proposed that their republics join the United States in a 10-year, 10-point program.

Its goal, he said, would be "to build a hemisphere where all men can hope for the same high standard of living — and all can live out their lives in dignity and freedom."

He suggested that the various American nations could transform the continent and make it "an example to all the world that liberty and progress walk hand in hand."

That was in March 1961, and President John F. Kennedy stirred the Latin Americans as they hadn't been in years. From that moment he became a shining figure to this country's southern neighbors.

Even the disastrous American-backed rebel invasion of Cuba just a month later didn't spoil the Kennedy image in Latin America, for later in the year the Alliance for Progress was created at Punta del Este in Uruguay.

Now it's almost six years later. Has there been progress under the alliance? Those who are delighted at any sign of forward movement in Latin America will say yes. Others, more pragmatic, think the alliance has just been stumbling along.

Last week another president, a different kind of man, with a different manner, Lyndon B. Johnson, went to another meeting at Punta del Este, this time for a meeting with 19 Latin-American presidents to get more action for the future and in more ways.

He operated in low key, standing in the background pretty much, avoiding any flamboyance or suggestion of dominance as the conference because he represented the Western Hemisphere's dominant force, the United States.

At the opening session he yielded his own speaking time to the others and did what was more natural for him since he had been doing that kind of thing most of his life: he talked privately with the individual presidents.

His ability as a speaker had never equaled his ability as a negotiator.

And when he did speak to the assembled group he left out the big flourishes, avoided flat promises of help, said instead he would do his best to get Congress to agree to aid the Latin Americans in various ways.

The next 10 years, he suggested, should be called the "decade of urgency." And he told his fellow presidents the dream of the alliance and of progress can come to pass only if "your hearts and minds become committed to it."

In short, Johnson did not try to compete with the image or memory of Kennedy. He was tougher, under the pleasant words. He acted as a friend but a rather stern one behind the smile.

He managed to get across the message there will be less babying of Latin Americans and the help they get from this country will depend pretty much on their own willingness to pitch in and do for themselves.

There was more than just his own thinking in what he said. He was reflecting a hardening of the American attitude toward aid abroad, perhaps because of weariness from years of aiding, perhaps because there is less sense of urgency and emergency than there used to be.

But Johnson's whole performance seemed to go beyond just the need of the moment and the circumstances. What he did, and how he did it, seemed to be part of a decision in and about himself.

It is one more example of the change which apparently began late last year. For example: Just try to remember how many times you have seen Johnson on television since the first of the year.

Junior Editors Quiz on AMERIGO VESPUCCI

QUESTION: Where did America get its name?

* * *

ANSWER: America is named from Amerigo Vespucci, who was born in Florence, Italy, and later moved to Spain, where he met Columbus. Columbus had not realized that he had discovered a new continent. He thought he had found Japan and the East Indies. When Vespucci sailed as a pilot with a Spanish expedition, and his ship touched the mainland of South America, he also believed this coast was part of the fabulous East, which all these explorers were trying to find. On another trip, in 1501, Vespucci reached the Brazilian coast and sailed south. Here something important happened: he realized at last that this was not the East, but a whole new continent. Back home, he was able to convince others of this. In 1507, a German mapmaker suggested the New World be called America because Amerigo Vespucci had been the first to realize it really was a new world. At first, the name America was only given to South America, but was later extended to North America as well.

Comments Of Sidewalk Socrates

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments by a sidewalk Socrates:

What would happen if actress Jayne Mansfield were given an injection from the brain of the late mathematician, Dr. Albert Einstein?

Might it help make her figure better?

This and many another conjecture has been raised by two scientific experiments which indicate that specific information can be transmitted from one creature to another by brain extract injections.

The experiments at Baylor University's College of Medicine and Queens College of the city of New York were done on mice.

The problem for the mice was to learn their way out of a maze. Evidence was found that beginning mice solved the problem quicker when given injections of brain extract from other mice who had earlier learned the best way out of the maze.

Naturally, if this be true on a broad scale, it is too good a technique to limit to mice. If it helps them get out of a maze why can't it also help people solve the problems of the human rat race?

Parents by the thousands will drag their churlish, reluctant children to scientific laboratories with such requests as:

"I want my son, Irving to be a doctor. What do you charge for three injections of medical brains? Better yet, make him a specialist. How much for 10 injections?"

"Our little boy is fine in nursery school in everything but group attitude. His teacher says he is far too aggressive. Would you recommend perhaps an injection of mice brains to help give him a meeker personality"

There are no end to the possibilities, of course.

A husband with a wife chronically unable to balance her bank account could well threaten her with divorce if she refused to be injected with brain extract from an obliging accountant.

A wife with a husband unable to earn her a decent living might want to mortgage their small home to raise funds to inject him with extract of a millionaire's brain.

There is also the probability that criminal syndicates would get into the act. They could start selling brain extracts of famous people on the black market and secretly water them down with brain extract taken from Bowery bums and broken-down horse players, eager to make a fast buck.

Aside from the threat of chicanery involved in creating a mass brain extract market to help everyone achieve instant wisdom, there is a practical limitation: There aren't that many brains around. And most of the people with good brains aren't about to dilute them for the benefit of others. They choose to keep them for their own use.

As Euclid said long ago, "There is no royal road to learning."

Despite what science may do with mice, people will have to go on learning with the brains they were born with.

Scurry Concert Association Begins Membership Drive

AT HEAD TABLE — Seated at the head table at last night's Scurry Concert Association kickoff dinner were from left, Mrs. Claire Spry of United Audience Service who is here to coordinate the drive; Dr. Robert Clinton, association president; Mrs. Jack Patchell, drive chairman, and Mr. Patchell; Mrs. Virgil Mott and Rev. Mott; Mrs. Glenn Barron and Mr. Barron.

WORKERS IN THE CONCERT ASSOCIATION membership drive got their instructions during the complimentary dinner session last night at the Snyder Country Club.

Munich Symphony Signed

Sixty-three persons received membership drive kits at the Scurry Concert Association's kickoff dinner last night and simultaneously it was announced that two outstanding attractions already have been booked for the local series beginning next fall.

Persons who join the association already are assured of hearing the Munich Little Symphony from Germany, and the Tucson, Arizona, Boys Choir. At least two other attractions will be added to the 1967-68 series here, association officials said.

Dr. Robert Clinton, president of the association, was master of ceremonies at the complimentary dinner for membership drive workers last night at the Snyder Country Club. He reminded the workers of the importance to the community of an organization such as the Scurry Concert Association. The association makes available in the community itself high caliber entertainment which otherwise would be seen only in metropolitan areas, Dr. Clinton said.

Workers in the drive also were reminded that the size of the membership roll determines the amount of funds available for booking outstanding artists.

Mrs. Jack Patchell, membership drive chairman, urged each worker to make an effort to contact prospective members as soon as possible. The drive for membership will close Saturday.

Season memberships are required of persons who attend Scurry Concert Association programs. No single-performance tickets are sold for any of the attractions.

Headquarters for the membership campaign is located in the community room of the West Texas State Bank. Adult memberships are $9 each and student memberships are $5 each. A family membership costs $23 for the season. Telephone number of the campaign headquarters is HI 3-4501.

MR. AND MRS. RALPH WESSON and Karl Mawhorter were among those going through the serving line of the buffet dinner for workers in the Scurry Concert Association's membership drive.

SOME OF THE 63 WORKERS who took campaign materials are shown at the dinner meeting last night which launched the Scurry Concert Association's annual membership drive. The drive will continue through Saturday.

Cardwell Leads Mets Past Pirates, 9-6

By ROBERT A. OBKIN

PITTSBURGH (AP) — New York Met pitcher Don Cardwell is giving his old Pittsburgh Pirate teammates something to remember him by—headaches.

Cardwell frequently the butt of jokes by Pirate fans for his inability to complete more than one game last season with the Bucs, went 7 2-3 innings Monday night and was credited with a 9-6 victory over the Pirates.

What's more he slammed a home run over the 406-mark in left center, driving in two runs.

"I like to beat anybody, not only the Pirates," said the 31-year-old right-hander when ask if he received any particular kick in beating his former teammates.

Cardwell expressed some bitterness when he was traded to the Mets last December after four seasons with the Bucs, saying Pirate Manager Harry Walker didn't use him right last year.

"There's no longer any animosity between Walker and me," Cardwell said. "I said something and it was my opinion."

Last year Cardwell appeared in 32 games, started 14, completed one and wound up with a 6-6 record with the Pirates who finished third in the National league race.

Although it's early in the season, the veteran pitcher seems stronger on the mound as evidenced in Monday night's performance and in his season opener last Wednesday, also against the Pirates.

In that game, Cardwell pitched like a winner, but the Mets played like losers, committing five errors. He held the Pirates at bay until the ninth inning when they broke a 3-3 tie and won 6-3, handing Cardwell the loss.

The story was reversed Monday night with the Mets jumping off to a 9-3 lead at the end of five innings. The Pirates, tabbed by the oddsmakers as the National league team to beat this year, committed four errors in those five innings and over-all used five pitchers who gave up 11 hits.

Cardwell's homer, the 15th of his career, came in the second with Jerry Grote on with a double.

Willie Stargell smacked a two-run homer in the eighth off Cardwell. Ron Taylor came on in relief to preserve the victory despite giving up a pinch— hit homer to Manny Jiminez with two outs in the ninth.

The game was the only one played Monday in the majors. The others, Chicago at Philadelphia, Washington at New York and Cleveland at Minnesota, were rained out.

SUN — YES RAIN — NO

Barring rain, the Little Olympics will be held today at Tiger Stadium. The Meet for athletes in the City's elementary schools was to begin at 4:15 p.m.

The Little Olympics originally had been scheduled for last week, but was postponed until today because of a sandstorm.

"Unless it rains," said Athletic Director Keith Miles, "we'll go ahead with it." He made the announcement at 9 0'clock this morning while the skies were overcast.

Sonics Take Loop Lead

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Amarillo's Sonics have run up a two-game lead in just four days of the Texas League season and at that rate would go off and hide from the rest.

But there's trouble brewing tonight because the Sonics are through for the time being with their "cousins" at Dallas-Fort Worth and take on El Paso, a club that has won half its games.

Amarillo whipped Dallas-Fort Worth for the fourth straight time Monday night with Lefty Don Arlich limiting the Spurs to three hits and making possible a 3-0 victory.

Bo Watson, Nate Colbert and Mike Sinnerud hit singles to give Amarillo a 1-0 lead in the second inning. That was all the Sonics needed since Arlich had the Spurs eating out his hand.

WINS MIDDLE CROWN

Nino De-Thrones Emile Griffith

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing had a new Golden Boy today in handsome Nino Benvenuti, Italy's first world middleweight boxing champion on his decisive upset of Emile Griffith in a spectacular 15-round fight.

"Sure, I'll be happy to fight him again," said the 28-year-old as he left Madison Square Garden Monday night with the resounding cheers of the pro-Benvenuti crowd of 14,251 still ringing in his ears after his unanimous decision victory.

"We'd like to put on the return bout in the Garden in July," said Harry Markson, the Garden's director of boxing who was pleased with the $141,799 gate for the televised fight.

"It was a sensational fight and should be a complete sell-out. There's a handshake agreement between the managers for the return fight but I'd like to get it on paper."

Benvenuti, called The Intellectual in Italy because he likes to read books and talk about them, certainly had the book on the 29-year-old Griffith.

The fast-punching Italian, taller by 3½ inches and heavier by 5½ pounds-159 to 153½, dropped the 13-5 favored champion in the second round with a short right and was floored himself by a long right in the fourth.

Nino used his weight, height and reach — 75 inches to 72 — advantages effectively, spearing his foe with stiff left jabs, snapping left hooks and right and left uppercuts to the head. When Griffith tried to storm in, Nino met his rushes with well-timed blows to the head.

The pro-Benvenuti crowd roared "Nee-no, Nee-no, Nee-no" as the challenger finished with a flourish, taking the final round with a determined attack even though he had the decision wrapped up.

Referee Mark Conn and judge Leo Birnbaum each had Benvenuti the winner on rounds, 10-5. Judge Al Berl had it 9-6 for Nino. The Associated Press scorecard had Benvenuti in front, 10-5.

The challenger was nicked on the bridge of his nose in the second round and cut deeply in the same place by an accidental butt in the seventh round. Griffith's left eye was half closed and he was lumped under the right eye.

LOBOS HOST TIGERS TODAY

Play ball!

That'll be the cry at 4 p.m. today when Snyder's Tigers tangle with Levelland's Lobos there in a District 3-AAA baseball tilt.

Snyder and Lamesa are tied for the loop lead with 4-1 records while Levelland is runnerup with a 3-2 mark.

On the hill for the Tigers will be Dink Foree.

Coach Speedy Moffett said he probably would be relieved about the 4th inning by Roy Hunter.

The Tigers have another tilt on tap this week — going to Lamesa Friday for a 4 p.m. battle with the Tornadoes. Snyder does not return home until Tuesday, April 25, when Brownfield comes to town.

Volleyball Tourney Set

AUSTIN (AP) — The opening day for the Texas Interscholastic League's first state Schoolgirl Volleyball Tournament is Friday April 28.

The place and championship games—to determine five state titlists—will be played Saturday, April 29. The schedule:

Friday:

Class B, 3 p.m., Klondike of Lamesa vs. Leon of Jewett and Byers vs. Kyle; 8:30 p.m., Eula of Clyde. Klondike-Leon winner and Rochester vs. Byers-Kyle winner.

Class A, 3 p.m., Plains vs. Malakoff and 4:15 p.m., Tidehaven of Elmaton, vs. Munday.

Class AA, 4:15 P.M., Gregory-Portland of Gregory vs. Anahuac and Crane vs. Groesbeck.

Class AAA, 7:15 p.m., Lavaca, of Waco vs. Lamesa and Lamar of Richmond-Rosenburg vs. San Marcos.

Class AAA, 7:15 p.m., San Antonio Harlandale vs. Spring Woods of Spring Branch, and 8:30 p.m., Abilene Cooper vs. Arlington Sam Houston.

Saturday:

Consolation games begin at 9:30 a.m., and championship games start at 1:30 p.m.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico will meet the United States in the second round of the American Zone Davis Cup playoffs in Mexico City May 19-21 after eliminating New Zealand 4-1 in the northern section of the playoffs Monday.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP) — Funeral services will be held Wednesday in Des Plaines, Ill., for Marvin G. Thomson, a member of the American Olympic ice skating team in 1940 and 1948. Thomson, 44, died Monday in this Chicago suburb after a long illness.

SO NEAR, YET SO FAR — Bill Rohr, the Boston Red Sox left hander who nearly came up with a no-hitter against the New York Yankees in his first major league game, goes into his delivery at New York's Yankee Stadium. Elston Howard connected for a single in the ninth inning with two outs to spoil the 21-year-old Rohr's attempt, but the Red Sox won, 3-0. (AP Wirephoto)

Rains Give Texas Farmer Needed 'Shot In The Arm'

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) Rains this week are giving Texas agriculture that needed the "shot-in-the-arm." After the drought in some areas rains ranging from light showers to "chunk - floaters," have been widespread this week.

Most rains are not considered "drought - breakers," but they have made a real dent in some sections, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, at midweek. We hope they will continue, he added, until the entire state is covered.

Stock water supplies have been helped a great deal in Central Texas and in parts of the Rolling Plains (Vernon). Ranges throughout the rainfall areas will get an immediate lift, Hutchinson said.

Reports from the district farm agents said the moisture will boost planting and help crops already up, the director said. But, he added, the rains have varied and general ground soaking moisture is still needed.

Showers spotted the Panhandle and moisture is still very short. Greenbugs caused concern in wheat. Onions and potatoes are being planted in the Hereford area. Preplant irrigation is on. Despite the below average condition of ranges livestock are in fair to good condition.

Scattered showers dotted the South Plains (Lubbock), but basically the area still is short to very short on moisture. Early potatoes are coming up. Onions made good progress. Most sugar beets are up to a stand. If the weather continues warm, cotton planting will start soon. Ranges and livestock are in average condition.

Tuesday night's rains in parts of the Rolling Plains were of the "chunk - floater" variety. Moisture is still needed in most counties. Wheat was poor to fair with some greenbug damage. Livestock are still getting feed but ranges are beginning to improve. Cattle are in fair to good condition.

Rains of from .50 to 2.50 inches covered North Central Texas and everything is looking much better. Oats and wheat are heading but the plants are very short and prospects are for a short crop. Most grain sorghum and corn have been planted and much is up to a good stand, he noted. Some cotton has been planted in the southern Blackland counties of the area. Grazing prospects are improving and most feeding has stopped. Stock tanks were filled in the heavier rainfall areas.

Moisture is below normal in Northeast Texas bust most corn and sorghum is up. Cotton planting has started. The oat crop is poor.

Far West Texas still needs general rains for range improvement and dryland crops. Irrigated small grain made excellent growth and was heading. Cotton planting has started and irrigated vegetables look good. Feeding is continuing.

Moisture is short to very short in West Central Texas. Grain prospects were poor except in irrigated sections. Many fields are being grazed out. Pecans are blooming and need moisture. A good peach crop is being set. Livestock feeding is heavy since range forage is below average but stock are in fair to good condition. Good calf and lamb crops are reported. Goat shearing is about over and sheep shearing is underway. Labor is generally adequate.

Rains north and west of Waco have been heavy but to the south, amounts have been light and general moisture is still needed in Central Texas, District Agent John Burleson said at midweek from Stephenville. Some areas are still too dry to plant and seedling cotton and sorghum are dying. Much acreage is yet to be planted. Livestock are being fed in many counties.

Plug The Leaks

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Snyder Daily News is sponsoring a Dale Carnegie course as a means of training and developing community and area leaders. This article is one in a series written by Warren Quinlan, director of the Dale Carnegie Training Program in West Texas.)

By WARREN QUINLAN

Fatigue more often is caused by frustration, worry and resentment, than physical exertion.

Worry and frustration, like eating and sleeping, are habits. Like all habits, fatigue starts as a small cobweb and gradually builds into a strong, rigid cable which can lead to serious emotional and physical problems.

One look at John and you would have known he was exhausted. His eyes had the hollow look of a well - used ping pong ball, and he appeared to be one who was pre-occupied, tense and dejected.

Over a period of years John had burned enough energy for three men. His desk was stacked with correspondence reports, and projects which reminded him over and over he had too much to do in the time available. Like many of us John attempted to crowd 30 hours into a 24 hour day. His record testified he lacked a system to get things done on schedule.

John traced his problems to a tight - schedule. "When I'm caught up, I'll feel like a new man." The only problem with this thought is John is no closer to being "caught up" now than he was six years ago. Energy leaks in the form of headaches, indigestion and poor concentration were taking their toll. John's inability to relax concerned his family and friends.

At the start, John was not receptive to suggestion. Like others who maintain a high degree of self-sufficiency, he resisted help. The only way to approach John was to plant a seed for thought, and let him think it was his idea. The direct approach does not always apply. Too often we develop an "immunity" to those who are closest to us, and false pride steps in, blocking all efforts to help. When we asked John his opinion on joining a recreation club for exercise, he set the example and scheduled two afternoons a week. Later when we showed him an article on office administration, he added a few thoughts of his own, and adopted the idea of doing the hard jobs first. When John started this practice, he cleared his desk in record time.

Shortly after we interviewed a young man for a position, we suggested he talk to John and ask him about the opportunities in the industry. As John expressed his feelings, his tired batteries received an unexpected recharge.

If you met John now, you would be impressed with him. His energy is contagious, his eyes are clear, and he has acquired the ability to relax and motivate himself. You would notice a man who budgets his energy.

John has conquered the habit of fatigue. Recreation orderliness, and job interest were the right plugs for his energy leaks. Each of us can overcome our fatigue problems when we take the time to be trained in the area of mental housekeeping.

Killed In Hotel Blaze

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fire broke out in a downtown Miami hotel this morning, killing one woman and severely burning an elderly man.

Police said the top floor of the three-story Haven Hotel burst into flames about 1:50 a.m., trapping more than a dozen sleeping guests in their rooms.

Officers said when they arrived some were hanging from window sills and others screaming for help. Firemen picked the people off the walls with ladders, said a police sergeant.

"It's unbelievable that there were only two casualties," he said.

Police withheld identification of the dead woman pending notification of relatives.

In fair condition at a Miami hospital is Charles Foster, 68, a resident of the hotel. Hospital officials said he suffered burns over 30 per cent of his body, including his face and hands.

Police said the screams of the top floor guests routed about 25 other sleeping people on lower levels.

Residents and guests of an adjoining hotel were also evacuated.

Gives Up Idea Of Marriage

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Elizabeth Freedman says she isn't accepting any more marriage proposals. She already has more than 300 of them.

The 19-year-old sophomore at the University of Pennsylvania also says she has given up the idea of getting married as a means of getting out of a dormitory which she shares with some 150 other girls.

Miss Freedman placed an ad in the college newspaper last week seeking a husband as the only means to get out of the dorm. She claimed the girls were a distraction to her studies.

Only married coeds, or seniors, are allowed to live outside the dorm.

A college spokesman Monday described Miss Freedman as "an exhausted girl" and said she is in seclusion and not accepting any more phone calls.

The spokesman, however, relayed this comment from her: "I think we can work out a solution less drastic than marriage."

Child's Rites Held

Funeral service was held Monday in Sweetwater for Jimmy Barton, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barton. The child, who died Saturday, was the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Barton of Snyder.

CONVICTED, CONDEMNED —Richard Speck, shown in this 1966 photo, was found guilty in Peoria, Ill., of the murder of eight students nurses last July in Chicago. The jury of seven men and five women found Speck guilty and recommended he die in the electric chair. The judge will rule on the sentence later. (AP Wirephoto)

Revenue Man's Safe Tough To Crack

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The income tax people are tough nuts to crack — and so are their safes.

Somebody made an unsuccessful try Monday and all he — or they — accomplished was to twist the safe's dial into a cockeyed position.

Anyway, the money was in the other safe, Internal Revenue Service officials told Miami police who investigated.

Girls Watchers Guidelines For This Molting Season:

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — It's molting season for both birds and girls and so the American Society of Girl Watchers issued guidelines today for its 5,000 members.

They are:

Don't ogle.

When passing a girl going the same direction, don't turn the head around and stare.

Don't use binoculars — except at races.

Don't whistle, pinch, whisper or commit any other overt act.

Maintain eye-ball control at all times.

"We don't have any particular season," said Don Sauers of Eastchester, N.Y., founder of the society. "In fact, some of our best card-carrying members think ski pants in Vermont are sexier than bikinis in Miami or miniskirts in Los Angeles.

"But this is the molting season when the girls all take off their heavy over clothing and get closer to nature. Our spring season starts the middle of April. At this time Fifth Avenue —between 42nd Street and Central Park — becomes the girl watchers' paradise of the world."

The society started as a gag out of the head of Sauers and grew into an institution.

Sauer 44, father of five, was sitting around at lunch with some Madison Avenue pals about 10 years ago and a hip-swinging miss swung by the window. Sauers was suddenly struck with an idea.

"Bird-watchers have their own organization — the Audubon Society. I suggested there are more girl watchers than bird watchers. Girls are more fun to watch. They all agreed."

The society now occupies quite lush, four-story headquarters on 38th Street just off Park Avenue. It has members in 451 states and several foreign countries.

It has its own guide book, authored by Sauers; its own theme song, "Music to Watch Girls By," a popular ditty used by a soft drink firm; a lapel pin, just like the Elks, and a nine-article constitution.

The society is an affiliate of the Professional Sports Management Corp. "After all, there is no greater sport than girl watching," says the current president, Ray Baur, 40, of Westport, Conn., father of six.

Sauers says the purpose of the organization is to improve the climate of girl watching.

"A survey shows that the girls, 100 per cent of them, like to be watched," the founder added.

Sauers said one of the rules is not to watch girls in restaurants. "That's like watching birds in a zoo," he said. "They should be watched in their natural habitat — walking on the streets."

Lands In Cop's Arms

STOCKPORT England (AP) — Ronald Williams stole some lead from the roof of a house, slid down the drainpipe and landed in the arms of a police officer who was dressed in turquoise pajamas.

The police officer, Joan Wallace, 23, told a court Monday she saw a figure crouched on the roof across from her window as she prepared for bed.

"Hey, boy what are you doing up there?" she called.

Williams, 24, slid into her arms.

He pleaded guilty to stealing the lead and was jailed for six months.

"We are supposed to make an arrest whatever the time or circumstances," said Miss Wallace. "I suppose that includes when you are in your pajamas."

Beauty's Enrollement Completed Quickly

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Mrs. Francis Kirby, admissions clerk at Oklahoma City University, explained to the pretty coed at the counter that the girl could not enroll early for next September's classes.

But, the girl protested, she had received permission for the early enrollment because of her heavy schedule.

What heavy schedule? Well, all those appearances around the country.

Mrs. Kirby, somewhat embarrassed, then realized she had not recognized OCU's most famous student — Jane Ann Jayroe, Miss America of 1967.

The early enrollment was completed quickly.

The Smithsonian Institution held its first kite festival on the four Saturdays of March. The event was climaxed with a grand flying of kites iver the Mall between the Capitol and the Washington Mcnument.
