The SDN Column

Sun got back in our mid-day stock column yesterday, and it was none too soon. It had been in there for a long time until about a month ago when it suddenly disappeared. Some of the Sun people around here tolerated the omission as long as they could and complained about it to us. We in turn complained to the Associated Press in Dallas, who, in turn, assured that they would take the matter up with the proper authority.

We got a call Monday morning from Dallas, advising that Sun was scheduled to be back in the morning stock column as of that date. It seems that it got dropped somehow during a reorganization during which the word "oil" came out of its name. It is no longer Sun Oil Co., but just plain Sun Co., it was explained.

Anyway, Sun is back.

While the inquiries about Sun were going on, we also got a request that Chevron be included in our morning stock list. So, we passed that along at the same time the complaint about Sun was made. And we have been assured that an effort will be made to get an addition to the morning stock list. It will not list the name "Chevron," but rather it will be Standard Oil of California, which is the parent company.

Anyway, our Associated Press people in Dallas have assured that they will try to get the people in New York to add Cal Standard to the list. We hope they are successful.

Why all the interest here in these oil company stocks? Well, we have a lot of people around here on their payrolls and many of these employes own some stock in the companies they work for.

We wonder from time to time when we hear the "big" corporations put down as the guys in the black hats if any of their critics know who actually owns these companies. Most of the large corporations have hundreds, or even thousands of stockholders, and many of them are just ordinary "Joes" and "Janes". In fact, we suspect that many of the critics of a given corporation may be stockholders in others and perhaps have not realized that the shoe could actually be on the other foot.—WACIL McNAIR.

Hurricane Winds Damage Graham

By The Associated Press

Winds of 110 miles an hour ripped the city of Graham today, causing an estimated $1 million in damage to homes and buildings. There were no reported injuries.

Doyle Duke, Graham city manager, gave the damage estimate shortly before the Northwest Texas city was all but isolated with telephone and power lines down.

The hurricane-force winds were accompanied by hail the size of tennis balls.

Hail was more than a foot deep in nearby Mineral Wells, where windows were shattered at the Palo Pinto General Hospital and two convalescent centers. Patients were moved into the halls to protect them from the falling stones.

Fog engulfed the Graham area during the storm, cutting visibilty to zero.

Authorities said high tension lines snapped by the vicious winds whipped across several streets, causing danger to motorists and pedestrians.

The storm smashed the city equipment building, delaying the movement of machinery to clear roadways cluttered with glass, debris and broken trees.

Many glass fronts in downtown stores crumbled. The lobby of a bank was filled wth bits of glass.

During the height of the storm, pieces of metal slashed through the air like shrapnel.

Children were sent home from several schools in the city of 8,000.

More than 2½ inches of rain pelted Mineral Wells, with some areas of Palo Pinto County recording up to 5 inches.

Lightning killed a man at San Angelo and hail inflicted damage at many points as thundertorms ranged across West Texas Monday night.

Rain fell at such a rate that visibility dropped to zero around Amarillo at times. There also were light showers in far West Texas and parts of Central Texas.

David Sanchez, 33, of Miles was struck and killed by lightning Monday evening while playing baseball at a family reunion in San Angelo.

Widespread turbulence caused the National Weather Service to place 55 counties under a tornado watch, but it expired without word of any twisters hitting. At one point radar spotted an apparent funnel cloud 10 miles west of Tahoka on the South Plains.

Castro Is Withdrawing Troops From Angola

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — Fidel Castro has written Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme that he is withdrawing Cuban troops from Angola at the rate of 200 men a week, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today.

"We want to check the report independently," Kissinger told newsmen on his plane as he flew from Stockholm to Luxembourg. "If it turns out to be correct, we consider it a positive development."

A senior American official aboard Kissinger's plane said Castro also told Palme he was not sending troops anywhere else in Africa or in Latin America.

An official of the Swedish Foreign Ministry said Castro wrote Palme half the Cuban force in Angola would be withdrawn by the end of the year. The official said there was no indication when the rest would be pulled out.

"A partial withdrawal does not meet our requirements," said Kissinger, whose government has refused to deal with the new Angolan government as long as the Cuban troops who helped put it in power remain in the former Portuguese African colony.

But the senior American official on the plane said a timetable showing systematic progress would be acceptable to the United States. He added that Washington also might not object to a small force of about 500 Cuban technicians remaining in Angola.

Current U.S. estimates put Cuban strength in Angola at between 13,000 and 15,000. But it was learned that it takes at least four weeks for the Central Intelligence Agency to detect and confirm Cuban troop movements to or from the African nation.

Castro's letter was sent to Palme via the Soviet government on May 21, two days before Kissinger arrived in Stockholm, with a note saying it should be shown to the secretary of state. It ostensibly was in response to an article written by Palme criticizing the Cuban intervention in Africa.

Kissinger said the letter was read to him but was not shown to him. However, he said the Swedish government was to send him a copy.

Kissinger flew today to Luxembourg for a brief visit to the smallest member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and then was going on to London. He told the Swedes during his two-day visit that their neutrality depends on the strength of the United States and its allies.

"The neutrality of some is made possible by the strength and commitment of others," Kissinger said Monday night in a toast at a dinner given for him by Foreign Minister Sven Andersson.

He told a news conference Monday afternoon: "Sweden could not defend itself by itself without the existence of NATO."

Questioned repeatedly by the newsmen about the Vietnam war, Kissinger acknowledged that "in retrospect, grave mistakes were made" by the United States in Southeast Asia.

But he said successive American administrations waged the war with the support of the American people "in the belief that the freedom of other people depended on it." He pointed out that 50,000 Americans died in Vietnam and added: "It was perhaps more painful for those directly involved than for those who have the advantage of perspective" gained by distance and time.

SIX STATES HOLDING PRIMARIES

Ford Passes Halfway Mark; Carter Has Chance Today

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer

President Ford has passed the halfway mark in his quest for the Republican presidential nomination and Democrat Jimmy Carter has a chance to reach the same milestone as six states held presidential primaries today.

In addition, Missouri Democrats were to select 54 delegates in district conventions tonight — more delegates than were at stake in any of the individual six primaries. Carter was expected to get at least 40 delegates, but none of the delegates will be legally bound to any candidate.

Early voter turnout was mixed in the three Southern and border states holding primaries — Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky. In the West, where polls opened later, it was too early to determine voter turnout.

The only unexpected development was a spate of requests for paper ballots for write-ins in Nashville, Tenn., where election officials said they were at a loss to explain the requests.

"I've had to send out more ballots," a spokesman for the Nashville Metro Election Commission said.

There was no write-in campaign by any candidates in Nashville. Among the major Democrats, only California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. and Hubert H. Humphrey were not on the ballot. Both Ford and challenger Ronald Reagan were on the GOP ballot.

Early reports indicated a moderate turnout in Tennessee. Skies were clear in most areas.

In Arkansas, the weather was mild and early turnout was reported moderate to heavy. One official pointed out, however, that it was difficult to judge the turnout since there had never been a presidential primary in the state before.

It was also the first presidential primary in Kentucky, where early voting was reported light. Weather in the state was not unpleasant — sunny in some areas, cloudy in others — but officials had predicted a light turnout.

"Judging from the voter interest, we think we will have a very light vote," said B. C. VanArsdale, a member of the Jefferson County Elections Board.

Ford's delegate strength was pushed over the halfway mark on Monday when 119 previously uncommitted New York delegates threw in with the President at the urging of Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Carter, meanwhile was predicting he would win 100 or more of the 191 delegates being contested in today's primaries in the Southern states and in Idaho, Oregon and Nevada. With the 740 he already has, that would push him past halfway to the 1,505 needed for the nomination.

The addition of the New Yorkers gave Ford 701 delegates to 544 for Reagan and means Reagan would have to score a virtual sweep of the 176 GOP delegates at stake in today's primaries to pass up Ford again. Reagan had held the lead after winning Indiana, Alabama and Georgia on May 4.

Although Ford's 701 is more than half the 1,130 needed for the GOP nomination, he faces a much tighter race than Carter does. Carter's nearest rival is Rep. Morris K. Udall with 292.5 delegate votes.

Humphrey Addresses Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said today meaningful reform of welfare programs cannot be achieved unless there is a sharp reduction in unemployment.

"Welfare reform and full employment are closely dependent on each other and must be considered as such," the Minnesota Democrat said in an address prepared for the National Leadership Conference on Welfare Reform.

"Many people have expressed grave doubts about our nation's ability to finance a broad income maintenance program and comprehensive health insurance," Humphrey said.

"If we continue to pursue policies that leave us with unemployment at 6, 7 or 8 per cent," he added, "these critics are correct."

Humphrey said the staff of the Senate-House Economic Committee, which he chairs, has estimated that each percentage the unemployment rate is reduced, trims federal welfare costs by $1.5 billion to $2 billion and saves $2.5 billion to $3 billion in unemployment compensation benefits.

Turning to proposals for federal assumption of all welfare costs, Humphrey said, "While I am impressed with this proposal and the growing and diverse sources of support for it, I do have some concerns.

"I believe we must focus very carefully, he said, "on the reduction in benefits that some families would be forced to endure in some states under this proposal."

At the same time, he added "if benefit levels were adjusted to support income at the highest level prevailing in any state or municipality, the increased costs to the federal government would be enormous ... We must develop, in consultation with state and local governments, an equitable way for maintaining income standards in all states during a transitional period."

ON MISTRESS CHARGES

Hays Requests Immediate Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne L. Hays today called for an immediate and thorough investigation by the House ethics committee of allegations that he kept a woman on the congressional payroll solely to serve as his mistress.

The Ohio Democrat's request came as informed sources said the public integrity section of the Justice Department's Criminal Division was looking into reports of Hays' alleged relationship with the woman.

Hays, 64, chairman of the House Administration Committee, has denied the claim of Elizabeth Ray that her duties as a $14,000-a-year subcommittee staff worker consisted of having sexual relations with Hays.

"While I respect the right of any woman to lie about her age, I think the rest of her life must be laid bare, not only to clear my name, but more importantly, to protect the integrity of the United States House of Representatives," Hays said in a statement.

The congressman said he decided Monday afternoon — one day after Miss Ray's allegations were first published — to call for an ethics committee investigation. "I was able to reach Chairman (John J.) Flynt in Georgia to inform him of my request for the investigation," Hays said.

Other sources said a formal complaint against Hays was being prepared for filing with the committee when the congressmen made his own request.

Flynt could not be reached for comment but a committee spokesman said the panel probably would grant Hays' request.

Hays called Miss Ray "a very sick woman" and accused the Washington Post, which first published her allegations, of conducting a personal vendetta against him. In a statement, he called the article "malicious" and said he was considering filing suit against the paper.

Jaycees Take On July 4 Project

Snyder Jaycees have taken on the responsibility of coordinating Independence Day activities involving the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

Directors of the Chamber yesterday accepted the offer submitted by Clyde Ferguson, Jaycee President, for the Jaycees to assume an active role in overseeing various events during the celebration this year, which will include Bicentennial activities.

Mickey Nunley, who resigned as Chamber manager to become vice president of the Roscoe, Snyder and Pacific Railroad, had been coordinating plans for the July 4th activities. A full weekend of celebration is planned this year in connection with the nation's Bicentennial and the Scurry County Centennial observance. July 4 falls on Sunday, and Bicentennial and Centennial events on Saturday will be at the Scurry County Coliseum. On Sunday, July 4, the celebration will shift to Towle Memorial Park, the traditional site of the annual Independence Day event here.

Chamber President Jimmie Joe Key said the organization is looking into the possibility of moving up the fireworks display from Monday night, July 5, to Sunday night, July 4. An announcement on definite plans will be made as soon as details are worked out.

Meanwhile, the Chamber of Commerce is accepting applications for the position of manager. A committee will begin screening applications tomorrow. Chamber of Commerce officials and members of the Board of County Development are working together on the study of applications, since the Chamber manager has been serving as consultant to the BCD.

Splash Day Is Set Saturday

Splash Day has been set for Saturday at the Towle Memorial Park Swimming Pool.

The summer season will be launched that day, with the Splash Day hours from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m., said Kenneth Plumlee, who will serve as manager of the pool this summer.

Elementary Transfer Plan Under Study

Parents of elementary school pupils interested in participating in a study of a porposed new transfer plan have been reminded that applications must be submitted this week.

The local schools are asking that parents who desire that their children attend an elementary school in a district other than the one in which they reside fill out an application, which is available at all principals' offices, and turn it in by Friday of this week. These will then be studied and school officials will determine whether such a plan is feasible.

The proposed plan would enable parents to transfer pupils from one elementary district to another during a specified period, with the parents being responsible for providing transportation to the school their children attend.

Also, it was announced that school buses will make their afternoon runs at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday and Friday this week, the last two days of school in the current term. Report cards will be issued at 3 p.m. Saturday in the various schools to those who wish to pick them up in person.

Father 'to Blame' for Sex of Child

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: You keep saying that the male determines the sex of a child. I suppose you know what you're talking about, but can you please explain it without getting too scientific and technical so the average person can understand it?

Thank you.

WANTS TO LEARN

DEAR WANTS: All right, here goes: The sex of a child is determined when the male sperm fertilizes the female's egg.

The male sperm contains "X" and "Y" chromosomes in equal numbers while the woman's eggs contains only "X" chromosomes. When the "Y" chromosome is in the sperm that fertilizes a woman's egg, a male is produced. When the "X" chromosome is in the sperm that fertilizes a woman's egg, a female is produced.

So if the father isn't happy with the sex of the child his wife has produced, he has only himself to blame.

Strike another blow for Women's Lib!

DEAR ABBY: I am a senior in high school and am quite popular because I'm very good at sports.

I am going with a beautiful girl (I'll call her Cindy) who is also very popular and well-liked. We've been going steady for five months, and here is the problem: Cindy wants to go all the way. We've done pretty much everything except that.

I love her very much, but I have a scholarship to a great university and a reputation as being an all-around high-class kid with my parents, faculty and peers. A baby would wreck my education, sports career and my life maybe.

Cindy keeps bugging me to go to bed with her, but I keep putting her off. I'm afraid if I don't give in I'll lose her, she'll spread rumors, and the guys at school will think I'm a queer or something.

What should I do?

A LIMIT ON LOVE

DEAR LIMIT: Tell Cindy that you aren't ready for that kind of relationship. (You aren't.) And if Cindy were to tell her peers that you refused her offer of sex, HER reputation—not yours—would be damaged.

Hooray for you. You are all man—and then some.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 32-year-old woman who has been divorced for six years. I have two children, and we live with my parents.

My mother is home all day, which makes it possible for me to work. Having my own place would put a strain on my budget, and in my line of work, I have to dress well and own my own car. (I do pay for our room and board.)

My father is narrow-minded, domineering and unreasonable. My mother is afraid to speak up to him. If I'm not in by midnight, he comes looking for me. He has burst into places, insulted my escorts and literally dragged me home. My friends are respectable, but after such a scene, they never call again.

I don't want to move out, as it's very convenient having my mother look after my children, keep house and cook for us, but I can't live this way, either. What would you do?

BIG PROBLEM

DEAR BIG: Which do you want more—the convenience of a live-in cook, cleaning woman and 24-hour baby-sitting service? Or the freedom to live your own life? Obviously, you can't have both. If I were you, I'd choose the latter. And the longer you wait, the more difficult it will be.

Austin Man Injured In Mishap

City police reported four traffic accidents and an act of criminal mischief.

An Austin man, Boyce Michael Archer, was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital and later transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock after he was involved in a major one-car accident yesterday afternoon on West U.S. 84.

Boyce, driving a 1969 Toyota, left the road and crashed into a culvert yesterday at 1:08 p.m. Approximately an hour and a half after being taken to Cogdell, he was rushed by ambulance to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

The car had to be removed from the scene by a wrecker.

A hit and run mishap occurred Friday afternoon in the 2500 block of Avenue B resulted in numerous damages. City police reported that a tractor struck a power line, a television cable, a telephone line and a trailer house, and then left the scene of the accident. Electrical service was temporarily interrupted as a result of the incident.

A minor traffic accident occurred shortly after noon yesterday when a 1965 Chevrolet driven by Joe H. Anderson was involved in a collision with a 1971 Ford driven by Eugene Ainsworth of Fluvanna. The mishap occurred in the 2600 block of Avenue M.

Another minor traffic accident occurred yesterday at 2:50 p.m. at the intersection of Thirty-third Street and Avenue C. A 1975 Pontiac driven by Brenda Botts was involved in a collision with a 1964 Rambler driven by Erma Cox of Abilene. A wrecker had to be called to remove the Rambler.

Ernie Shifflett reported that someone had shot out the back window of his 1970 tractor. The act of criminal mischief is believed to have occurred sometime between 2:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. in the 200 block of O'Neil. Damage is estimated at $90.

More Complain About Noise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although a new Census Bureau study shows that crime ranks sixth among Americans' complaints about their neighborhoods, a bureau analyst says that doesn't necessarily mean people consider the other problems to be more serious.

A census study released Monday showed that in the 1974 annual housing survey, the most frequently cited inadequacy in neighborhoods was noise. Nearly half the households complained about noise, while only about a third complained about crime.

Charles Elkins, top noise-control official at the Environmental Protection Agency, said the findings were consistent with EPA's impression that people's awareness of noise is increasing, even though the volume isn't going up that much.

Arthur F. Young, chief of the Census Bureau's Housing Division, said the figures indicate "there's an awful lot of Americans who live in neighborhoods where crime is not a problem."

But the mere statistics don't necessarily tell the whole story, he said. Crime affects fewer people than noise but victims of both would consider crime to be the more severe of the two problems. "This is a subjective problem," Young said. "Noise is never as severe to anyone as when their car or house is broken into or they're held up."

Despite that qualification, though, Young said the report "may open the eyes of public officials" who have been too narrowly focused on the crime problem in their cities. "But then they're still going to have to decide how to spend their money."

Of the households living in the nation's 70.8 million occupied housing units in 1974, here are the most frequently cited complaints: noise, 49.2 per cent; inadequate public transportation, 37.8 per cent; heavy traffic, 31.4 per cent; inadequate street lighting, 21 per cent; streets in poor repair, 19.4 per cent; crime, 17.1 per cent; inadequate shopping facilities, 13.4 per cent.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Jerry Cook of Austin; a sister, Mrs. Elma Barnhart of Tyler; a brother, Otho Cook of Graham, and two grandchildren.

Names Added To Quilt List

The Pins and Needles group of the Scurry County Centennial Celebration has advised that some names were inadvertently omitted from the list who embroidered quilt blocks for the county's historical quilt. Not listed in the story in Sunday's Daily News were Mrs. J.B. (Mamie) Patterson and her two daughters, Mrs. Ted (Renee) Floyd and Mrs. Albert (Retha) Cannon.

14-Year-Old Arrested In Burglaries

Numerous coin machine burglaries and thefts have apparently been solved following the arrest of a juvenile, Chief of Police William Stone announced.

The juvenile, who is 14 years old, was taken into custody Friday night after a man found the juvenile in the garage of his house in the 2700 block of Avenue G. During police investigation, it was learned that the juvenile had been involved in a string of minor burglaries and thefts.

The youth is believed to have been involved in burglaries of coin operated machines at the White Star Laundry, the Minute Market, and the Post Office, and is also suspected, Stone said, of entering garages and taking bicycle parts.

The juvenile has been released to the custody of his parents.

Israeli Airport Blast Kills Two

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — A bomb concealed in a suitcase exploded in a sheet of flame today at Israel's Ben Gurion airport, killing at least two persons, officials said. Two other booby-trapped suitcases were found and detonated by police.

There was no immediate indication who had rigged the suitcases.

Witnesses said at least nine persons were injured by shattered glass when windows in the terminal burst from the blast.

Several of the wounded were carried out on stretchers and some were flown to hospitals by helicopter. Many were cut and bleeding and one was reported in critical condition from severe burns.

Airport officials said the first suitcase exploded in a section of the arrival terminal where passengers and baggage are checked for smuggled weapons. Police said the suitcase exploded as it was taken off a conveyor belt for inspection.

Witnesses said a blond man next to the baggage was blown to pieces. Hospital doctors reported the second person killed was a woman, believed to be a security guard who had been checking the suitcases.

A doctor at Tel Aviv's Tel Hashomer Hospital said the woman's body was "so badly crushed that it is impossible to identify." He said one wounded man was in grave condition with burns on 60 per cent of his body.

Airport officials first said the booby-trapped suitcase arrived on a flight from Vienna. But they later said it may have flown in on an El Al flight from Iran.

A police communique said the first bomb exploded at 2:45 p.m., or 8:45 a.m., EDT. The second was found a half-hour later and it went off while being dragged to a security pit. Almost two hours later a third suitcase-bomb was deliberately detonated in a security pit.

The last two bombs caused no damage or casualties.

"The explosion went off with a flash of fire and smoke," said Tim Selby, a Canadian tourist from Saskatchewan, describing the first blast. "The big glass partition shattered and people were cut by the glass."

Police evacuated hundreds of passengers and airport workers from the arrival lounge as the big room filled with smoke.

Stolen Auto In Oklahoma Head-On Crash

A 1974 Lincoln Continental that was stolen from the Weldon Halford residence in Snyder on May 14 was recovered by law enforcement officials last night in Oklahoma City after it was involved in a head-on collision with another car.

Snyder Police Detective Lonney Payne said that the driver of the vehicle, Alfred Lee Holden, is being held in the custody of the Oklahoma City Police Department.

Three persons had been taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Oklahoma City following the 9 p.m. head-on collision last night. Payne said that both occupants of the other car were critically injured. Holden was treated and released to officers.

The Halford residence in the 200 block of Twenty-third Street was the scene of a car theft and house burglary during the afternoon of May 14. Taken in the house burglary were several shotguns and rifles. Payne said that detectives in Oklahoma are searching for the guns.

Extensive damage was reported to the recovered Lincoln Continental.

Auxiliary Donates Neonatal Unit

The regular monthly business meeting for the Women's Hospital Auxiliary to Cogdell Memorial Hospital was held May 20 in the Conference Room of Cogdell Memorial Hospital with President Lois Greer presiding. Monthly reports were given by the chairmen of each department. Mrs. Greer introduced and welcomed Mrs. Tommy LaRoux as a new member. Mrs. Skipper Joyce displayed a beautiful plaque with brass insets of names and years served by each president of the Hospital Auxiliary since the Auxiliary was organized in 1958. The plaque will be displayed in the hospital.

Clyde Ferguson, respiration therapist, and Dr. David Ray, of Cogdell Hospital were introduced and gave a very interesting program on "Systems Approved to Neonatal Intensive care". A unit designed for complete control and monitoring of a well or premature infant. With this unit the infants temperature can be controlled, also keeps a watch on the respiratory rate, heart rate and oxygen control. The unit is designed to immediately let the personnel know if anything goes wrong with the infant.

Mr. Tom Ludwig, with Puritan Bennet, from Kansas City, Missouri, a factory representative, was on hand to explain the operation of the unit. Cost of the unit $4500.00. The Auxiliary voted to donate $4500.00 to the hospital for the purchase of this unit.

Opening lead — Q ♥

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Let's take another look at the short club as used by experts. There are three "nevers" here:

1. You never open a two-card club suit.

2. You never open a three-card club suit when you have a five-card suit somewhere else.

3. You never open a three-card club suit when your hand meets all requirements for an opening bid in notrump.

The corollary to the use of the short club is that you tend not to open four-card major suits, but you should not go as far as some do and refuse to open four-card majors at all.

South has 4-3-3-3 distribution and definitely should open one club, not one spade. He plans to pass if partner raises to two clubs or one notrump; raise a spade response and bid one spade if partner responds with a red suit.

The bidding in the box shows how North and South can reach the proper contract of five clubs after a club opening. After a spade opening they will almost surely land in three notrump which goes down when West opens a heart.

Ask the Jacobys

A Tennessee reader asks, "What club should I play from Q 10 9 6 3? The contract is three notrump. My partner opens the deuce of clubs. The king and one appear in dummy and the king is played."

The answer here is that you play the 10 as an encouraging card. This is the highest card you can spare.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

NCAA Media Seminar Being Held In Lubbock

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Is big-time football doomed? Is the tail wagging the collegiate dog? Will a super conference emerge? Should the NCAA reorganize?

Such are the topic of discussions and debate being kicked around during an NCAA media seminar probing with great candor the problems confronting collegiate athletics.

Perhaps the lone area of agreement is this: Economic pressures are mounting and ways must be found to reduce costs.

At least superfically, the queston was, "Should the NCAA reorganize into four divisions?"

Eddie Crowder, director of athletics at Colorado, and Andy Geiger, his counterpart at Penn, led the discussion.

It was moderated by Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA.

Crowder favored reorganization, although not necessarily in the form proposed by the NCAA's classification committee and calling for creating Divisions I and IA in football.

Although most everyone shudders at the term, Division I is the "Haves." Division IA would be the "Have nots."

The "Haves" include I Oklahoma, Notre Dame, Michigan, Ohio State, Texas, Southern Cal, Penn State, Arkansas, Alabama, LSU, Nebraska, etc.

The "Have-nots" remain nameless, but it's no big mystery.

"I think reorganization is in trouble," said Geiger, admitting that Penn and the Ivy League may not be willing to make the committment to "big-time" football but they sure don't like the second class label.

But he said they do not favor restrictive legislation for "major majors."

Byers, saying "it's too early to tell," would not forecast reorganization winning members approval anytime soon but defended the proposal as a "serious and sincere" effort by the council to meet the needs of the majority.

"I'm not quite that pessimistic about reorganization," said John Fuzak of Michigan State, president of the NCAA. "I think there is a chance. It's not a whole loaf, but it's a half loaf for several groups."

At the heart of the issue, some say, is simply money. Some have it and some don't. Some fear that less prosperous members would like to impose regulations that would achieve equalization by downgrading the "major majors." Others are afraid that a so-called super conference or newly formed Division I would strip away all regulations, such as those governing scholarships, thus becoming even more powerful.

Crowder, who favors reorganization on a much grander scale than proposed, said, "We're not going to go behind closed doors and strip away all restrictions. Everyone is concerned with costs ... I think that's an overreaction of concern that need not exist."

Somewhat wistfully, he added, "I don't think reorganization like I'm proposing has much chance of passing."

But he agreed with Byers that the threat of the super powers pulling out of the NCAA to form their own conference "is very unlikely to occur."

He said it would take passage of "some extremely emotional legislation to trigger such a reaction."

And one thing Byers stressed repeatedly in response to questions was that there is no attempt on the NCAA to "immasculate" or jeopardize "big-time" football.

"I don't think the current movement is designed to hurt football," he said. "But we still have to address the problem of cutting costs."

Tim Foli Finds Range For Expos

By The Associated Press

Tim Foli spent his first five years in the major leagues just warming up. This year he's found the range.

"A trivia question: Who's leading this club in home runs?" asked Montreal's Nate Colbert after the Expos defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 Monday night.

"The answer," Colbert said, "is Foli with four."

In his first five years, the Montreal shortstop hit a grand total of five roundtrippers, his biggest season prior to this being 1974 when he had three.

In other National League games Monday, Philadelphia downed the New York Mets 7-1, San Francisco stopped Houston 5-1 and San Diego blanked Los Angeles 2-0.

Foli's fifth-inning homer came one pitch after Pittsburgh pitcher John Candelaria walked Larry Parrish. That tied the score at 2-2 and Montreal catcher Barry Foote untied it an out later when he lined his first home run of the season over the left field fence.

"Candelaria was giving us a lot of fast balls, and we just happened to get two home runs off him," said Foote.

The Expos added a single run in the seventh to give pitcher Woody Fryman his sixth victory of the season against two losses.

Phillies 7, Mets 1

"I was a lucky pitcher," said Philadelphia's Larry Christenson after he scattered seven hits to beat the New York Mets. "I was just throwing the ball over the plate and challenging them to hit it at somebody ... I'm not here to be a strikeout pitcher. I'm here to win. And that's all that counts."

Greg Luzinski's first inning two-run homer gave Christenson a quick 2-0 lead, and the the Phillies added four more in the second — all unearned because of an error by Mets loser Mickey Lolich, 2-6.

The Mets' lone run came in the ninth on John Milner's triple and Joe Torre's RBI single.

Giants 5, Astros 1

Rookie Larry Herndon belted his first major league homer and scored twice to lead San Francisco to its victory over Houston. Herndon had a leadoff walk that triggered a three-run first inning off loser Mike Cosgrove, 1-3, then smacked his roundtripper in the second. The hot-hitting rookie finished with three hits to lift his average to .471.

Investigator Surprised No Action Taken By SWC

DALLAS (AP) — The head of the investigative firm which reported on Arkansas' recruiting of Roderic Gerald says he is surprised and disappointed that the Southwest Conference took no action against the Razorbacks.

"I don't know in my 15 years of investigating collegiate athletics when a report with results as clearcut as this received no action," Walter Holloway told the Dallas Morning News in today's editions.

Faculty representatives from the nine conference schools cleared Arkansas of any wrongdoing at their spring meeting this past weekend in Waco.

"My reaction was a mixture of some surprise and a lot of disappointment. I'm of the opinion now that the Southwest Conference or any other conference is not going to do anything about enforcing their rules.

Conference executive secretary Cliff Speegle would not comment to the News on Holloway's statements.

"The only thing I can say is Walter Holoway is a citizen of the United States and he can make any statement he so desires. That's all I feel I can say."

The SWC had asked Holloway Associates, a Dallas investigative firm, to look into Arkansas' recruitment of Gerald in the spring of 1975. Gerald was then a senior at Dallas South Oak Cliff High School.

He signed a SWC letter of intent with Arkansas but later signed a national letter of intent with Ohio State, where he ended up.

Holloway told the News he turned in a six-month report to the conference before its winter meeting in December. The report included substantial testimony of key witnesses and also polygraph tests.

However, the SWC decided to re-investigate, using the firm Bob Musser & Associate of Houston.

Holloway told the News he was not aware of the conference ever re-investigating a case his firm has handled.

"Yes, I was surprised when I heard they were re-investigating," he told the News. "I was told someone was dissatisfied with our investigation. I don't know who that would have been, unless it was Arkansas."

Holloway Associates' contract with the SWC expired in December and was not renewed after a 15-year working relationship.

Holloway said the ending was a gracious one.

One faculty representative told the News that Holloway's age — in the 60s — and the fact that one of his top investigators, Jim Owens, quit to go to work for the city of Dallas, were the reasons that the SWC switched agencies.

SWC officials will not say if the two investigative reports conflicted.

Holloway said polygraph tests were given to Arkansas Athletic Director Frank Broyles and two others representing Arkansas athletic interests.

Holloway told the News Broyles passed his test.

But he said that the other two, an assistant coach and an alumnus, "did not pass our exams."

"I know one told me he wanted to take another test," Holloway said. "Whether he did or not, I don't know."

Holloway said, "The actions on the part of the NCAA and its conferences speak a lot louder than their lip service on the rules do. The prevalent attitude of today is that we must produce a winning football program and whatever it takes to do it should be done."

Ali Discusses Retirement After 5th Round Knockout

MUNICH (AP) — The knockout came as promised following the new svelte look, the dancing and the mocking Frankenstein lockstep. But Muhammad Ali has changed, even slipped, and he says so in his own elliptical way.

Ali had just knocked down Richard Dunn five times to score a fifth-round knockout at the stroke of 4 a.m. in Munich Tuesday, and he had gotten through the ritual talk of greatness, amazement, and miracles.

Then he got around to saying what seemed increasingly evident. "I've got just enough to carry me through the year and destroy Norton. Then I'm going to retire."

Frankly, he said, "I'm nowhere what I was a while ago."

There was the Ali of the right-hand lead and left hook who sent the red-haired Briton to the canvas three times in the fourth round and twice in the fifth, before the fight was over with 55 seconds to go to the bell. There was the Ali who signaled that Dunn's time had come at the start of the final round, and the Ali who walked wooden-legged toward the Englishman, his arms stretched out in front of him like a Frankenstein monster.

Yet Ali was changed — "a totally different Ali," he said himself — a harder puncher than before, perhaps, but a fighter increasingly rooted in the canvas.

It was also an Ali who frequently crossed his legs awkardly during the first three rounds, took a series of stiff right jabs from the left-handed Englishman in the third round and seemed markedly slower and less mobile than the fighter who floated like a butterfly and stung like a bee.

"He's missing; the reflexes have gone back; he should retire," said Duane Bobick after he saw Ali in training. Bobick won his 36th-straight fight in the Olympiahalle, just before Ali's victory, knocking out Bunny Johnson of England.

But Ali didn't seem to be paying any immediate attention. He insisted on talking about new trick karate punches and promised to jog five miles Tuesday, preparing for an exhibition in Tokyo next month and the fight against Ken Norton in Yankee Stadium next September which should bring him $9 million.

Through Dunn, Ali showed that he could erase the memory of the fat, sluggish 34 year old who nearly lost a month ago against Jimmy Young, a fighter who had knocked Dunn out in 1974.

The champion weighed 220 pounds, down 10 from the Young fight, and his body had some of its old muscle tone. Even so, Ali was breathing hard after the first round, and he found Dunn a much tougher fighter than he imagined.

"He was right in on me, making me work and do my best," Ali said of the Englishman. "I did the rope-a-dope a couple of times, and it came in real handy, because it saved me some work.

"Dunn was much better than I thought he was, but at the pace we were going I knew he'd fade out after 10 or 11. I'm still 34, finished and washed up and over the hill. He's 31, and he had a little more pep."

Royals Outscore Rangers, 14-11

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Dennis Eckersley gave up one hit too many and one walk too many. But some of the fans leaving Baltimore's Memorial Stadium were saying that Cleveland Manager Frank Robinson made one move too many.

It was the old argument of whether or not team success should play second string to individual accomplishment. Robinson, who is paid for victories, cast his vote for the team. So relief pitcher Stan Thomas got the final three outs to preserve Eckersley's one-hitter, as the Indians blanked the Orioles 4-0 Monday night.

"He was tired after the seventh but I let him go back and he got them out in the eighth," said Robinson. "But when he walked the first batter in the ninth, it looked like he was struggling."

Eckersly's ninth-inning walk to Al Bumbry was the Cleveland righthander's fourth walk of the game.

Thomas then walked Mark Belanger, but put his stamp on Eckersley's one-hitter by striking out the next three batters.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox beat the Detroit Tigers 3-0; the New York Yankees downed the Milwaukee Brewers 5-2; the Kansas City Royals outscored the Texas Rangers 14-11; the Chicago White Sox beat the California Angels 5-3, and the Oakland A's whipped the Minnesota Twins 12-7.

Red Sox 3, Tigers 0

Rick Wise stopped Detroit on a two-hitter for his second victory in five decisions.

Alex Johnson singled in the first inning and Ron LeFlore extended his hitting streak to 26 games with a single in the third for the only Detroit hits.

Royals 14, Rangers 11

"It was just the worst game we've had all year," said Texas Manager Frank Lucchesi after the Rangers committed a club-record seven errors to help Kansas City score six unearned runs.

George Brett, Hal McRae and Frank White blasted solo homers in the first inning to start the Royals off right.

Yankees 5, Brewers 2

New York scored five times off Jim Colborn in the first inning on RBI singles by Chris Chambliss and Graig Nettles plus Oscar Gamble's three-run homer.

Ed Figueroa tossed a seven-hitter for his fourth victory in seven decisions.

White Sox 5, Angels 3

Brian Downing belted a two-out, three-run double in the eighth inning to rally Chicago over California, extending the White Sox' winning streak to eight games.

Pete Vuckovich, 2-1, fired a seven-hitter, struck out eight and walked four.

A's 12, Twins 7

The adventurous A's stole seven bases, five by Bert Campaneris, and ended an eight-game losing streak by blasting Minnesota with a seven-run fifth inning.

Claudell Washington's two-run double keyed the rally, which turned a 5-1 Minnesota lead into an 8-5 Oakland advantage and helped the A's end their worst slump since they moved to Oakland in 1968.

More Arrests May Follow Slaying Probe

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Authorities say more arrests are expected "in the near future" in the brothel slaying of Argentine heavyweight boxer Oscar Bonavena.

A spokesman from the Nevada Division of Investigation and Narcotics also said late Monday that Cheryl Ann Rebideaux, who recently married Bonavena in a civil ceremony here, had been located at her mother's home in Sparks, Nev.

But the spokesman said she has refused to answer questions on the advice of her attorney.

The marriage was annulled when it was found that Bonavena had a wife in Buenos Aires.

Storey County Sheriff Robert DelCarlo identified Miss Rebideaux, 20, as a former employe at Mustang Ranch, where Bonavena was killed Saturday by a single rifle shot.

A brothel guard, Willard Ross Brymer, 31, of Sun Valley, Nev., was booked for investigation of homicide.

A state investigator said that as the result of cooeperation of the Argentine federal police and the Los Angeles medical examiner's office "we anticipate other arrests in the very near future,"

He did not elaborate.

Bonavena's brother, Vincente, was expected to fly the heavyweight contender's body to Los Angeles Tuesday, then to Argentina.

Big Foot Abduction Said Hoax

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — A young woman reported abducted in rugged mountains by a hairy, ape-like creature known as Bigfoot has shown up screaming outside a rural resort, apparently unhurt.

"She's not in too bad a shape," Humboldt County Sheriff Gene Cox said Monday night, adding that he believed the whole affair had been a hoax.

Cox said Cherie Darvell, 23, of Redding, Calif., had some minor scratches and bruises on her arms, and told a nurse her left arm hurt. She was taken to Humboldt Medical Center at Hoopa for examination shortly after she was found late Monday night.

Miss Darvell appeared outside the Bluff Creek Resort, about five miles from where she was reported abducted on Saturday, Cox said.

She was mumbling, "They wouldn't stop and pick me up," he said.

One of her tennis shoes was missing, but her clothing was clean and she smelled of perfume when found, Cox said.

He reported that when investigators asked her if she had been abducted by the legendary monster, she began to scream and refused to answer any questions.

"I still think it's a hoax," said Cox. "I still don't believe that she was abducted by Bigfoot."

Miss Darvell's friends said she was an unemployed beautician who also used the name Cherie Nelson.

She was one of five members of an independent film crew trying to photograph Bigfoot.

Dr. Lamb

High uric acid can cause gout

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I have been reading everything I can get my hands on about gout. My mother was told that she has uric acid. She does not drink or smoke. She eats well but she doesn't overeat. She works very hard but has all her life.

Her doctor has told her that she will have to have a blood test every three months. In all of the reading I have been doing, I have never seen mention of a blood test. Mother had a diabetic test and was told she was not diabetic, but that she does have a high uric level which means gout. I'd like to hear about this blood test as my mother is very upset over it.

DEAR READER—Everyone has uric acid in the blood stream. It is a byproduct of the normal reproduction and replacement of cells. Doctors become concerned only when there is more uric acid in the blood than there should be. That usually means an excess production of it.

It's true that women may have high uric acid levels and never have any associated joint involvement such as the red hot inflamed toe that causes such severe pain or gouty arthritis.

Nevertheless a certain percentage of women with high uric acid eventually develop joint difficulties. That is what your mother's doctor is concerned about.

The high uric acid level seems to be an inherited trait or at least to be an inherited tendency. The women in the family may have high uric acid levels and the men will have high uric acid levels with the joint involvement of classical gout.

It may not be fair to label a person with a high uric acid level as having gout as long as he has never had any involvement of his joints. Nevertheless, it is essentially the same disease. The joint involvement is merely a complication of the high uric acid level.

You may be interested to know that many famous people have had high uric acid levels and its complications, gout. That's why it was referred to in medical history as the king of diseases and the disease of kings.

There is a great deal which can be done today with medicine to control gout. A person with high uric acid levels who is willing to follow good medical supervision can usually have it controlled and avoid the complications that so often occurred with gout in the past. Those who want more information on gout can send 50 cents for The Health Letter, number 2-3, Gout, Uric Acid. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Gout is often associated with an increased incidence of heart and vascular disease. It can also cause kidney damage and, of course, it may lead to arthritic changes aside from the acute painful joints it is renowned for. Most of these complications can be prevented.

The diet is not as important in terms of lowering the uric acid as it once was because much more can be accomplished by available medicines. However, the diet is very important in terms of preventing heart and vascular disease. The best diet for most gout patients then is the same one that is used to prevent heart disease, a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet with calories limited to the point to prevent or eliminate obesity.

HOUSE PANEL TOLD

Sales Tax Should Pay Education

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — A legislative committee looking into the problems of public school financing has been told that sales taxes on non-essential items—not the property tax—should be used to pay for education.

The House Committee on Alternatives to Public School Financing held a public hearing at West Texas State University Monday.

Clarence Mason, a Muleshoe farmer, said taxes should first be levied on non essential items and activites rather than food and clothing.

Mason suggested taxes on non-commercial vehicles, travel trailers, recreational equipment such as tape decks, boats, hunting and skiing equipment, alcohol, tobacco or "anything you don't have to have."

Mrs. Carol Pack, wife of a Hutchinson County farmer, suggested taxing agricultural land on its productive value rather than market value.

She also suggested taxing motor vehicles or natural gas.

"The prices paid for land right now in our area are not realistic...It would wipe us out in agriculture to try to pay for land at that price while making a living in farming, " she said.

House committee members attending the session included Chairman Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, Bill Heatly, D-Paducah; Frank Hartung, R-Houston; Mrs. Wilhelmina Delco, D-Austin; and Ruben Torres, D-Port Isabel.

Reps. Bob Simpson, D-Amarillo, and Bob Close, R-Perryton, also sat in on the hearing.

James Fortenberry, a Parmer County resident, presented the committee with a resolution calling for financing school education through the retail sales tax. The resolution, presented on behalf of several Parmer County educators, said the sales tax would have the advantage of taxing all residents, not just property owners.

The tax, the resolution said, should then be returned to individual school districts on the basis of average daily attendance, the number of teachers and administrators assigned to those districts and other criteria used for measuring educational needs.

Fortenberry also suggested that revenue raised locally through the school land fund should be counted toward local enrichment rather than being included as part of a state allocation for that district.

He said any "'mandated state programs should be financed 100 per cent by the state."

Midwest Art To Be Displayed

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Paintings and sculpture by 61 Midwest faculty artists will be on display at the Indiana University Art Museum through July 3.

GOP Won't Challenge Texas Code

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Republican Chairman says the GOP will not challenge the Texas Elections Code by nominating a candidate to oppose Don Yarbrough.

The decision was reached for several reasons last Friday, Hutchison told a news conference Monday, including the damage he said it would do to the party.

Yarbrough, a Houston lawyer with nearly the same name as Houston lawyer Don Yarborough, who ran for governor three times, won the Democratic nomination May 1 for a seat on the Texas Supreme Court. The Republicans ran no candidate, and the election code prohibits nomination after the February filing deadline.

Yarbrough reportedly is the defendant in at least 15 law suits. A grievance has been filed before a Harris County grievance committee, and the state securities commissioner is investigating a gold and silver business deal involving Yarbrough.

Hutchison said the Republicans would not challenge the election code in the Texas Supreme Court because, among other reasons, "We would be placing the court in a very, very difficult position. The court would be called on in essence to determine the question of one of its own members."

Democrats, as well as Republicans, have asked Hutchison to put the GOP behind a challenge in order to keep Yarbrough off the court.

But "many people believe that would be a very coarse and ill-advised course of action," he said.

Asked if he thought Yarbrough was qualified to sit on the bench, Hutchison said, "I wouldn't vote for him."

TV SETS IN STOCK—Mrs. Pauline Strickland is shown standing beside two out of an estimated 50 television sets in stock. Strickland's TV handles only famous Quasar television sets. It has the set that you've been looking for at a price you can afford.

Strickland's TV Services All Makes And Models Of Televisions

In an age in which many professional men do not make house calls, isn't it refreshing to have a dealer in town who will? Hoyle Strickland, owner of Strickland's TV, will service almost all makes and models of televisions.

Strickland was a TV serviceman before he opened up his own shop and became a dealer. Therefore, he knows which companies produce the best television sets. Strickland knows that the Quasar television set that is produced by Motorola is the best television set that money can buy.

In its television line, Strickland's TV deals only in fine Quasar sets. Mrs. Pauline Strickland, manager of the store, said they have about 50 television sets in stock. The sets range in size from 12-inch diagonals to 25-inch-diagonals. All of the sets are color and all feature fine Quasar quality. All the sets are reasonably priced.

A new remote-controlled color television that is regularly $599.95 is now sale priced at only $549.95. A 19-inch portable color television set that is usually $479.95 is now sale priced at only $399.95. A small 12-inch television set sells for the low price of $325 with trade-in. The 12-inch television sets are excellent for campers and individual rooms of a house.

All of the television sets carry famous Quasar guarantees. The parts and labor on all console nd most portable models are guaranteed for a full year after purchase. Should the need for repairs arise, Quasar features the famous "works in a drawer" approach to television design, making repairs simple and inexpensive.

Strickland's TV also carries a line of used televisions. Featured in that line is a remote-controlled, 21-inch, color television for the low price of $350. Also available is a 12-inch used color television for $150.

Not only does Strickland's TV carry television sets, it also has Tappan micro-wave ovens and Kitchen-Aid dishwashers and trash compacters. Four different models of the micro-wave ovens are in stock. Prices start at a low of $299.95.

Strickland's TV also has several Kitchen-Aid dishwashers and trash compacters. Both are great time savers for the working housewife. And both come fully guaranteed.

Strickland's TV, located at 2413 College Avenue, has free delivery and installation anywhere in town for any of its products. It is open from 9 a.m. till 5:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Drop by and shop there today, you'll be glad you did.

Snyder Farm And Ranch Supply Is One-Stop Center For This Area

Snyder Farm and Ranch Supply, located at 1607 Twenty-fifth Street, is the one-stop supply center for area farmers and ranchers. Byron Hedges, owner and manager of Snyder Farm and Ranch Supply, has been involved in farming and ranching all his life. He knows what farmers and ranchers need in their work and he keeps his store well stocked. Hedges, a native of Big Spring, carries a full line of chemicals, seeds, and fertilizers.

In the line of chemicals, Hedges carries Igran, Caparol, Treflan, Prowl, Pramitol, Milogard, Caprock, Roundup, Sandcap, and Atrazene. He also carries a full line of aerial sprays.

In the line of seeds, Hedges has Tamcot SP21, Tamcot SP37, Paymaster 909, Stripper 31 Pettigree, Northern Star No. 5, and Northern Star R4-A. He also has a new variety of seed, QM 52, which is similar to the Tamcot seeds except it is faster maturing.

In grain sorghums, Hedges has in stock large supplies of Growers Seed, Northup King, Brownie, Highland and the much coveted Highland HD-348. Highland HD-348 is a medium-late variety of seed with a 120 day maturity. In Texas A&M variety tests, Highland HD-348 yielded 8,007 pounds per acre. It was the second highest yielder in the agricultural tests, Hedges said.

In fertilizers, Hedges has in stock 16-20-0, 21-0-0, 45-0-0, 18-46-0, and 0-46-0. Available at no charge is a bulk spreader.

Snyder Farm and Ranch Supply also carries a full line of garden supplies and house pet feeds. Whether you are farming a backyard garden or section of land, Snyder Farm and Ranch Supply has the supplies you need. No order is too big or too small.

Snyder Farm and Ranch Supply is open from 7:30 a.m. till 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday and from 7:30 a.m. till noon on Saturday. Eddy Rollins and Ann Hoback, the two employes, will be happy to help you with your needs. You can find whatever you need in farming and ranching supplies at Snyder Farm and Ranch Center. It is the one-stop supply center in Snyder for agricultural supplies.
