GOP Trims Democratic Majorities

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans cut slices off the heavy Democratic majorities in Congress today, posing a question mark over the future of President Johnson's "Great Society" programs.

They also racked up spectacular individual victories across the nation, including a smashing governorship triumph for ex-actor Ronald Reagan in teeming California.

All told, they had scored a net gain of seven in governorships, making the lineup 24 to 24, with two races unsettled.

Returns from Tuesday's elections — a ballot-box showdown studded with portents for the GOP presidential convention in 1968 — showed that:

While Reagan was inundating Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown in the Golden Gate State, a new GOP star was rising in industrialist Charles H. Percy of Illinois, a moderate who unseated Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas, old warhorse of liberalism.

The name of Gov. George Romney of Michigan became increasingly a name to conjure with in GOP presidential speculation. He won a third term in a breeze, flying coattails apparently made of sturdy broadcloth. Aboard that vehicle, Republican Sen. Robert P. Griffin and much of the party's state slate swept in also.

As for Congress, where the Democrats had ruled 295 to 140 in the House and 67 to 33 in the Senate, the count today was:

Democrats elected 244 and Republicans 183. Of the still undecided contests, Democrats were leading in six, while Republicans were ahead in two, the potential GOP gain was 45.

Thus the Republicans went somewhat beyond the average gain of 20 seats scored by the out-of-power party in off-year elections in recent decades.

This gave Johnson food for serious thought, because the margin for financing such things as demonstration cities projects and rent subsidies already is razor thin.

In the Senate, where only approximately one-third of the membership comes up for election every two years, the Republican inroads were smaller. Their gain of three was chalked up in victories for Percy in Illinois, retiring Gov. Mark O. Hatfield in Oregon, and Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee, son-in-law of Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader in the Senate.

The Republicans could point to impressive gains in governorships, which are historically power bases in president-making.

With two of the 35 contests still undecided, they had won control of 22 statehouses, taking the governors' chairs away from Democrats in nine states. The Democrats won in two states where there had been Republican governors, and retained control in nine other states.

Thus, with races in Alaska and Georgia still undecided, the lineup of governors is an even split — 24 for each party. Before the election the Democrats held a 33 to 17 majority in governorships.

Tower Tops In Borden

GAIL — Borden County voters supported Sen. John Tower over Attorney General Waggoner Carr in the U.S. Senate race Tuesday by an unofficial count of 158 to 123.

Gov. John Connally rolled up 193 votes compared to 68 for T. E. Kennerly, while Preston Smith defeated Kellis Dibrell in the lieutenant governor's race by 219 to 76. For attorney general, Borden voters favored Crawford Martin by 205 to 76 over Robb Stewart, and for agriculture commissioner John White led Jack Garrett by 207 to 77. Jerry Sadler was the Borden County choice for land commissioner over Albert Fay by 221 to 63 and Robert Calvert led for state comptroller over Rudy Garza by 225-58. Jesse James was favored for state treasurer over Lawrence Gilmer by 222 to 60 and Byron Tunnell was favored for Railroad Commissioner over David R. Clark by 249 to 7.

Borden voters favored 12 of the 16 state constitutional amendments. They rejected No. 3, the Arlington State College financing provision; No. 4, the amendment on conservation directors; No. 5, the county employe retirement amendment; and No. 13, the amendment on county-wide governments for large cities.

'Cong Arms Cache Taken

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Only light, sporadic ground fighting was reported across Viet Nam today, but American infantry men turned up a rich booty in Communist arms and supplies in Tay Ninh Province, the scene of almost a week of hard fighting near the Cambodian border.

U.S. 1st Division infantrymen combing Tuesday's battlefield that had been part of a regimental command post. In it they found a "massive array" of supplies and equipment and 95 bodies, while nearby they uncovered a mine factory with 450 claymore-type mines.

In another tunnel complex the men of the "Big Red One" found eight submachine guns, 11 machine pistols, 3,000 hand grenades, 1,000 rifle grenades, and large quantities of ponchos, ammunition pouches and other equipment.

The U.S. military command said 865 enemy have been killed by ground fire and air strikes since Operation Attleboro began in Tay Ninh Sept. 14. Most of the casualties have been recorded in the past six days.

As the ground action slackened, U.S. planes flew 132 multiplane missions against North Viet Nam Tuesday and 481 single-plane sorties in the south, while the Vietnamese air force reported 261 sorties.

The American air attacks included four on targets in the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam. One B52 strike was reported today, against a Viet Cong staging area in Quang Ngai Province about 350 miles north of Saigon.

In Operation Geronimo, near the coast about 240 miles northeast of Saigon, the 1st Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division reported light contact while sweeping a mountain area northwest of Tuy Hoa. The paratroopers said they had destroyed nine enemy base camps in the past 24 hours, and enemy casualties for the operation now are 41 killed.

Big City Vote Spells Win For John Tower

By TOM JOHNSON

Massive pluralities in the big cities spelled the margin of victory for Sen. John Tower Tuesday in his rout of state Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

Tower even managed to increase his metropolitan figures over what they were when he beat out William Blakley in a 1961 runoff election to fill Lyndon Johnson's Senate seat.

There were indications that organized labor did not go at all strongly for Carr, the Democrat candidate.

Heavily unionized Jefferson County, for example, was in the Tower camp early today by a 25,098 to 13,844 margin. The county went for Blakley five years ago.

A smaller than expected voter turnout also contributed to the Republican's victory. Political observers had said the smaller the vote the better for Tower. Of an anticipated 1.75 million ballots, only about 1.4 million were cast.

The shape of the big city vote can be seen by a comparison of the midnight figures with the 1961 totals, comparable in size.

The state's four largest counties — Harris, Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant — gave Tower 348,000 votes 224,000 for Carr.

In 1961, the same counties gave Tower 200,755 votes, which constituted 44.8 per cent of his statewide total.

Complete, unofficial returns for the four big counties were:

Dallas: Carr, 57,845; Tower, 106,146.

Harris: Carr, 94,106; Tower, 143,791.

Bexar: Carr, 43,767; Tower, 51,468.

Tarrant: Carr, 29,219; Tower, 47,029.

These four counties gave tower 47 per cent of his statewide total of approximately 740,000 votes.

Tower also led in these other metropolitan areas:

Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Galveston, Corpus Christ, San Angelo, Midland, Odessa, Abilene, Amarillo, Austin and the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Carr held the lead in Waco. He scored the most lopsided county victory with a 3,381 to 193 margin in Duval County.

Tower again ran well in the Panhandle and West Texas, as he had against Blakley in 1961.

Electronic vote analysis reflected that 56 per cent of the state's rural voters cast ballots for Carr, but it was not enough to offset the metropolitan landslide.

Among urban voting groups, the analysis indicated these patterns:

Negroes, 93 per cent Democratic; whites, 65 per cent GOP; Latin American, 78 per cent Democratic.

High income groups, 77 per cent GOP; middle income 59 per cent GOP; lower income, 69 per cent Democratic.

Scurry Goes For Tower

Scurry County voters followed state-wide trends Tuesday by giving Sen. John Tower, a Republican, a comfortable margin over Attorney General Waggoner Carr for the U.S. Senate seat.

The complete, unofficial count in the senate race in Scurry County showed 1,406 votes for Tower and 1,176 votes for Carr.

In other contested state races, Scurry County gave Gov. John Connally 1,867 votes to 464 for Republican T.E. Kennerly, 7 for the Constitution Party's Tommye Gillispie, and 16 for the Conservative Party's Bard A. Logan; Lt. Gov. Preston Smith received 2,051 votes to 492 for Kellis Dibrell and 14 for William A. Johnson; Crawford Martin received 2,010 votes for Attorney General, to 544 for Robb Stewart and 9 for John C. Williams; John C. White received 1,952 votes for Agriculture Commissioner to 590 for Jack Garrett and 8 for Derek C. Bownds; Jerry Sadler received 2022 votes for Land Commission to 536 for Albert Fay and 9 for Joseph L. Tiller; Robert S. Calvert received 2064 votes for State Comptroller to 453 for Rudy T. Garza and 15 for Wilma McDaniel; Jesse James received 2,044 votes for State Treasurer to 478 for Lawrence Daffan Gilmer and 9 for Jesse Lee James; Byron Tunnell received 2,265 votes for Railroad Commissioner to 74 for David R. Clark of the Constitution Party.

Local Woman Is Wounded

A 34-year-old Snyder woman remained in fair condition today after sustaining gunshot wound in the chest about 11:42 p.m. Tuesday.

Wounded was Mrs. Billie Mae King, 34, 2509 Twenty - ninth Street. Investigating officers determined that the woman had gone into the bathroom at her home after her husband had retired for the night. Shortly thereafter, the husband and three children heard a gunshot.

They discovered Mrs. King on the floor of the northeast bedroom. The husband called Snyder Ambulance Service, then decided to take her to the hospital by car prior to the arrival of the ambulance.

The wound was inflicted by a .22 caliber pistol. Mrs. King was transferred to Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene this morning.

Big Demand For X-Rays

Heavy response in the schools likely will delay chest X-rays for adults tomorrow, but the mobile equipment sent here by the West Texas Tuberculosis Association will remain here an extra day, it was announced this morning.

Heavy demands for X-rays were encountered at the schools this morning as junior high and high schools students were getting the tests.

"It may be noon Thursday before the unit can move to the square and begin tests for adults, said J.M. Kayser.

However, the unit will be here through Friday so that at least a day and a half will be available for adult X-rays. The unit will move to the square as soon as it completes tests at the schools Thursday. The hour might be anytime between midmorning and noon, and adults who want X-rays should watch for the unit on the square.

Guinea Retaliates With Evictions

DAKAR, Senegal (AP) — President Sekou Toure has ordered the U.S. Peace Corps and Pan American World Airways out of Guinea in retaliation for Ghana's seizure of a Guinean delegation from a Pan American plane.

Toure's announcement, broadcast Tuesday by Radio Conakry, took State Department officials in Washington by surprise. The day before, the department reported that harassment of Americans in the Guinea capital had ceased.

Radio Conakry said the Peace Corps personnel had to get out within a week, Pan Americans landing rights were being revoked, and the airline's office in Conakry was being closed.

Ghanaian officials removed 19 Guineans, including the foreign minister, from a Pan American plane Oct. 29 when the plane stopped in Accra en route to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, for a presummit conference of the Organization of African Unity. Toure accused the United States of complicity because the airline is American.

Anti-American demonstrations broke out in Conakry and the U.S. ambassador to Guinea, Robinson McIlvaine, was confined to the embassy for 24 hours.

The U.S. Stae Department repeatedly denied involvement in the affair and protested the harassment of Americans.

In Washington, the State Department said it would withdraw the 72 Peace Corps volunteers, staff members and dependents.

Three Share Prizes In Grid Contest

Three entrants with fabulous scores share last week's Snyder Daily News Football Contest prize.

Missing only two selections and finishing in a tie for the top spot were Brenda Jackson, Box 147 Ira; Kenneth Foree, 108 Milburn, Snyder; and Frank Overton, Route 1, Snyder.

Two college upsets figured heavily in the week's scores. Frank Overton and Kenneth Foree would have made perfect scores if Georgia had not upset favored Florida and Washington had not derailed high-ranked UCLA. The demise of UCLA also was a stumbling block to Brenda Jackson, along with Littlefield's victory over Lamesa in the high school ranks.

The trio will share the first and second place prize money for the week.

No less than 16 other entrants last week finished in a deadlock for runnerup honors, missing only three selections each.

Another contest gets underway today, and the list of games may be found in sponsors' advertisements on the Football Contest page of this issue of The Snyder Daily News.

Panhandle Chilled By Wintry Winds

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry air whipped through the Texas Panhandle toward the southeast today with a promise of occasional snow flurries and scattered showers for some areas.

The Weather Bureau issued cold wave warnings for the north and central sections of Northwest Texas, and it predicted the norther would sweep across the state into the Gulf of Mexico.

Wind gusting up to 35 miles per hour whipped the chill through Dalhart shortly before 2 a.m., dropping the temperature from 52 to 27 degrees. At Perryton on the opposite side of the Panhandle the mercury sagged to 25.

The norther reached Amarillo at 4:10 a.m. and thermometers nosedived from 51 to 31.

At the same hour the reading at Brownsville, on the state's southern tip, was 72.

Behind the cold front lay fresh snows in Wyoming and Colorado. It also was snowing in New Mexico and Arizona.

Official observers looked for little more than brief snow flurries in the Panhandle while a few showers were due to accompany the front's advance downstate.

By 7 a.m. an area of scattered showers stretched along a line from 45 miles south of Mineral Wells to Waco and on to 30 miles northwest of Tyler, also extending northward into Southern Oklahoma.

Even colder weather was in prospect overnight, with readings early Thursday down to 17 in the Panhandle, 32 in North Central Texas and 38 in Northeast and Southwest Texas.

Six Elected To Chamber Board

Votes in the organization's annual election were canvassed Tuesday afternoon by Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors.

The election was held to name six men to two-year terms on the chamber board.

Elected were Charles Blakey, John Thomas, Ernest Sears, Hugh Boren Jr., Bill Dryden, and Rex Robinson.

During the regular business session, several projects were discussed.

H.F. Clark and Jay Rogers, reporting on work of the banquet committee, reported that a speaker had been contacted for the annual membership banquet and the committee now is awaiting confirmation of dates.

Meanwhile the screening committee, which is interviewing prospects for the manager's post, reported that another interview had been conducted and the committee is continuing its work.

Meanwhile, during the period in which the organization is without a manager, the funds earmarked in the budget as the manager's salary will be applied to debt service, the board decided. The chamber is in the process of paying off an obligation for city Christmas decorations.

The program of work committee reported that recommendations would be made soon for committee chairmen for the coming year.

Herb Reed and Ed Dickerson were named co-chairmen of a committee work on possible invitations for high school football playoff games here.

Marie Weber, secretary, gave the board a report on the businessman-teacher banquet which was held Monday night.

Study Of Future Budgets Launched By School Board

Snyder School Trustees discussed topics ranging from future school budgets to air conditioning at their regular meeting last night.

There were few items on the agenda which required formal action. However, the discussion of future budgets led to definite plans for additional study and a prospective session with major taxpayers. The objective is to keep the taxpayers informed and to chart school requirements for three years or more in advance so far as possible.

The discussion of air conditioning stemmed from an advisory committee report which recommended that the board look into the possibility of providing cooling facilities in school buildins. Robert Frias, a consulting engineer from Odessa, conferred with the board on that subject. He estimated that air conditioning of all school buildings would require some 1,570 tons of air conditioning equipment. He estimated that the cost likely would be around $450 to $600 per ton, depending upon the type of equipment selected.

Frias said that a detailed survey of the buildings would be required before firm estimates could be made. He offered to perform such a service for $350. The board indicated that it would ponder the situation for a few more weeks before making another move.

Several visitors attended the session, including three members of the Classroom Teachers Association, the first such delegation to attend since the board extended an invitation last month.

The CTA delegates included Alice Birdwell, Elizabeth Odom and Haskell Beard. Others attending were Mrs. Chris Detrich, Eddie Don Floyd, B. E. Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schattel, Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Camp and Harold Garner. The latter six sought information on new policies on athletic awards in the school system.

The new athletic award plan, as developed by the athletic department as an administrative policy, provides for certificates of letter or participation in 7th grade sports; a gold charm, such as football, basketball or track shoe, costing not over $3 each, for 8th grade; sweater for 9th grade; sweater for B team; jacket for juniors and below, and blanket for seniors, except that seniors may choose either blanket or jacket if it is their first letter.

Camp, who was spokesman for the visiting group, said all

Voters Oust Poll Tax In Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texans decided Tuesday to keep the old look in voting but give it a new name.

By a wide margin voters approved an amendment that deletes the state poll tax voting requirement from the Constitution and substitutes annual voter registration.

Voters will be required to register once a year in the same places and much the same manner as they did in getting $1.75 poll tax receipts. The one big difference is that registration is free.

Although the annual voter registration provision was not printed on the ballot, it was included in the bill approved last spring at a special legislative session after federal courts outlawed the state poll tax.

Much of the session was spent in a fight between proponents of annual registration and those for permanent registration. Under the permanent plan, registration is renewed automatically every time a person votes.

Only one of 16 proposed amendments was defeated—a proposal for directors of conservation and reclamation districts to serve six-year instead of two-year terms. Little was said about the amendment prior to the voting and its defeat puzzled many observers.

These amendments, argued pro and con before Tuesday, were among those approved.

A requirement that farm land on the fringe of a city be taxed only on its agriculture value, rather than the commercial worth.

Authority for several counties to enter into agreements to finance regional airport authorities.

Authority for the state to increase the issuance of water development bonds from $200 million to $400 million.

Increase the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to five judges and eliminate the court's three-month summer recess as presently required by the Constitution.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am nearly 17, a senior in high school and a straight "A" student. I went to a drive-in movie with the same boy three Saturday nights in a row. Each time I was home at the time my parents set for me—12:30. After the third date they calmly told me I couldn't go to the drive-in with this boy any more. Their only reason was they thought I might do something I might regret.

When they told me this I cried all night. In the past you have always told kids if they listened to their parents and obeyed their rules, trust would come. Well, I've been doing it for nearly 17 years and you can see where it got me. Don't you think my parents are being unreasonable?

NOT TRUSTED

DEAR NOT: Yes, but worse yet they are being unrealistic. Were you bent on doing something you might regret, denying you permission to go to a drive-in movie with a boy wouldn't stop you.

Teen-agers who have demonstrated good judgment, integrity, and respect for their parents' rules should be rewarded by being given added privileges. They've earned it. In the meantime, do as you are told, and I think eventually your parents might see the error in their decision.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law asked my husband to give her the money he was going to spend on my birthday present and "together" they bought me something SHE picked out. A fire engine red wool coat with a low belt all the way 'round. I am 5 feet 3 inches tall and weigh 155. She has excellent taste when it comes to selecting her own clothes. What would you say happened in this case, and how would you handle it?

BOILING OVER

DEAR BOILING: There are two possibilities. She either did it on purpose or she didn't. But regardless, I would handle it very carefully while placing it in its original box to return it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have no automobile. Most of our friends do. When we go out for an evening of pleasure and they park the car in a pay parking lot, is it our part of the evening's participation to pay for at least one-half of the parking expense?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: There is no "law" or rule covering situations such as this one. Abide by the "Three C's:" Common sense, consideration and courtesy. If you believe the other couple to be on a limited budget, and you can gracefully pay for the parking, I'd say pay for ALL of it in return for the chauffeur service.

Astronauts Will Miss Sun Eclipse

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Grounded 24 hours by a faulty rocket part, the Gemini astronauts today took advantage of their extra day on earth to further study their flight plan, which has been stripped of a glamorous scientific experiment.

Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. now are set to take off Thursday atop a Titan 2 rocket at 3:55 p.m. EST, 99 minutes after an Atlas rocket has boosted an Agena satellite into orbit as a rendezvous target for Gemini 12.

The postponement means that the astronauts will be unable to photograph an eclipse of the sun on Saturday. The original launch time had been calculated so that Gemini 12 would be in position high over South America for man to obtain his first look at a total eclipse from space.

Aldrin had planned to open his hatch to obtain clear pictures of the phenomena. But now Gemini 12 will be too far away at the time of the eclipse.

Any chance of a launch today was wiped out when a power failure developed Tuesday in a system which feeds electricity to the Titan 2 secondary flight-control system.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the difficulty was associated either with a gyroscope or an automatic pilot. Both parts were replaced.

The trouble later was traced to a short circuit in the gyroscope package.

Gemini 12 will close out America's Gemini series and will open the way for the Apollo man-to-the-moon project. The first earth orbit flight of a three-man Apollo ship is scheduled early next year, hopefully leading to a manned lunar landing in 1968.

The four-day flight is to end Monday afternoon with a landing in the Atlantic.

Surgery Date Undecided For Johnson

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson will not undergo surgery this week, the White House announced today, and no date or site has yet been decided upon.

Johnson had spoken hopefully of being operated on either Friday or next Tuesday at Brooke Army Medical Center here. But no date was mentioned in today's announcement.

Assistant press secretary George Christian said the President still was conferring with his doctors before a final decision is made on the operations to remove a polyp from Johnson's throat and to repair a hernia in the incision from his gall bladder operation of a year ago.

There was no indication when a decision would be reached or announced.

The President was busy at his ranch desk this morning, and Christian said he had no immediate presidential comments on the election results to relay to newsmen.

Johnson had watched election returns by television at his ranch part of Tuesday night. Asked if the President had any election comment, Christian said "No. I think he feels that the Democrats lost a couple more in the Senate than he thought they would."

But, as far as the general picture was concerned, Christian referred reporters to the President's comments when he voted in Johnson City Tuesday that he thought whatever changes occurred in the House would not be far above what is usually expected for an off-year election.

Christian said he did not know of the President communicating with any of the candidates—winners or losers—after the election.

Johnson, meanwhile, was continuing the business of his office and planned to sign additional legislative bills today, Christian said.

Polish-Born Citizen Loses Status

WASHINGTON (AP) — Polish-born Beys Afroyim emigrated to the United States in 1912. He was 19.

Thirteen years later, he realized a dream held by hundreds of thousands of refugees to these shores: he became an American citizen by naturalization.

Today at age 73, however, Afroyim is no longer a citizen, although he claims allegiance to the United States. The reason is that while in Israel in 1951, he voted in an election for the Knesset, Israel's legislative body.

Afroyim's situation is by no means unique.

From 1961 through 1965, the State Department ruled 5,173 U.S. citizens had lost their citizenship because they voted in foreign elections. And the same thing happened to another 425 in the first six months of this year.

The State Department felt authority was clear, for a section of the 1940 Nationality Act says:

"A person who is a national of the United States, whether by birth or naturalization, shall lose his nationality by voting in a political election in a foreign state."

The New York Civil Liberties Union, acting on Afroyim's behalf, has won Supreme Court review of the constitutionality of this law, after two lower courts upheld the State Department.

The Supreme Court in recent years has shown itself increasingly reluctant to strip a man of his citizenship, some of the members contending that such a vital right is too precious to lose for anything less than compelling reasons.

At the moment, the government has the power to take away citizenship in six general areas. In addition to renunciation of citizenship or voting in a foreign election, they are:

Obtaining naturalization in a foreign country, serving in the armed forces of a foreign country, under certain circumstances working for a foreign government, and taking an oath of allegiance to a foreign government.

Wilson Baker Wins In Sheriff's Race

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Wilson Baker, a veteran law enforcement officer who disagreed with the mass arrest of Negroes in Selma during the Civil Rights struggle in 1965, has finally won his race for sheriff.

Baker defeated the present sheriff, James G. Clark, in Tuesday's election despite a write-in campaign which brought Clark thousands of votes. Returns from the county's 81 boxes gave Baker 7,249 votes and Clark 6,742.

The former Selma City safety director who took issue publicly with Clark's mass arrest policy had won the Democratic nomination for sheriff last May after a federal judge intervened.

Two Vehicles Are In Collision Here

City Police investigated a two-car mishap at Avenue E and Twenty-third Street at 5:27 p.m. Tuesday.

Involved were the 1963 Model Plymouth of George Vestal Rogers, 104 Milburn, and the 1959 Model Chevrolet of Ramino Leyve, 2400½ Twenty-fourth Street.

Damage to each vehicle was set at $100.

No Decision On Ruby Rehearing

AUSTIN (AP)—With or without oral arguments by the prosecution, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals was scheduled Tuesday to consider the state's motion for rehearing in the Jack Ruby case.

Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said Tuesday his office would not use the 20 minutes allotted for prosecution argument. The court then offered Wade 45 minutes. A spokesman for Wade's office said Wade would let the court know by early today whether he would accept.

No decision was expected on the motion today. The court rarely rules on a case the same day it considers it.

The court reversed Ruby's death-sentence conviction Oct. 5. Ruby shot Lee Harvey Oswald before television cameras in the basement of the Dallas Police Headquarters Nov. 24, 1963, two days after President Kennedy's Assassination. The Warren Commission identified Oswald as the assassin.

Only the losing side is allowed to make oral arguments on a motion for rehearing. But the loser may decide to rely entirely on the motion and briefs.

Court observers doubted that Wade would send anyone to argue because both the motion, filed Oct. 20, and a brief in support of the motion, filed Tuesday, are highly critical of the court.

—Dallas Police Sgt. P. T. Dean should not have been allowed to testify on remarks made by Ruby after his arrest, such as Ruby's alleged statement that he decided to shoot Oswald after seeing Oswald's "sneer" on television. These remarks were made at least 10 minutes after Ruby's arrest and were therefore not spontaneous, as they must be to be admissible, the court said. The state relied upon the remarks to prove premeditation, necessary for a first degree murder conviction.

—The trial should have been transferred to another county because of what the court called prejudicial conditions in Dallas.

Wade said in his motion that the appellate court made four errors:

Throwing out the police testimony.

—Permitting and "condoning" defense counsel after the Oct. 5 decision to "brain wash" prospective judges and jurors in any new trial into believing the state can get only a murder-without-malice conviction without the police testimony.

—Ordering any new trial to be held outside Dallas County.

—Holding that Ruby did not receive a fair trial because of prejudicial conditions in Dallas.

were interested in encouraging more boys to participate in school athletics. However, he said he believed that rumors about the new awards policy, some even to the extent that there would be no more awards of any type in junior high school, had been detrimental to the program. Camp said boys in the junior high school had not been informed of the new awards policy.

Dr. Robert Clinton, superintendent, said that failure to advise the boys was "a definite fault," and that it would be taken care of immediately.

There also were complaints about cold hamburgers for meals for junior high teams on out of town trips.

Camp said the group had no complaint on the awards program, now that they knew what it would be. However, he said he believed that failure of the athletic department to keep the boys informed had resulted in a detrimental psychological effect that had damaged the program.

In two items requiring official action, the board authorized transfer of some funds from the capital improvements account for special education to the instructional supplies budget in that department so that some new instructional materials may be purchased; and agreed to release Mr. and Mrs. Larry Roberts from teaching contracts at mid-term Mrs. Roberts, who teaches English in the senior high school here, will teach at Levelland, and he will become director of physical education at South Plains College there. Roberts is now physical education teacher and coach at Travis Junior High School.

Dr. Clinton reported to the board on an inspection of vocational training facilities at Andrews. The superintendent said that he and High School Principal Ben Brock also planned to go to Big Spring soon to look over its vocational program. Vocational training centers are being provided in larger school systems with the Texas Education Agency sharing cost of installation and facilities on a 50-50 basis with local districts. The state agency also makes a preliminary occupational survey at no charge, and the Snyder District plans to have such a survey made to aid in future studies on vocational training.

PUBLIC NOTICE

AN ORDINANCE GRANTING TO LONE STAR GAS COMPANY, A CORPORATION, ITS SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS, A FRANCHISE TO FURNISH AND SUPPLY GAS TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC IN THE CITY OF SNYDER, SCURRY COUNTY, TEXAS, AND THE ENVIRONS THEREOF; PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF A FEE OR CHARGE FOR THE USE OF THE STREETS, ALLEYS AND PUBLIC WAYS, AND PROVIDING THAT IT SHALL BE IN LIEU OF OTHER FEES AND CHARGES, EXCEPTING AD VALOREM TAXES.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SNYDER, TEXAS:

Section 1. That the City of Snyder, Texas, hereinafter called "City," hereby grants to Lone Star Gas Company, hereinafter called "Company," its successors and assigns, consent to use and occupy the present and future streets, alleys, highways, public places, public thoroughfares and grounds of City for the purpose of laying, maintaining, constructing, operating and replacing therein and thereon pipelines and all other appurtenant equipment needed and necessary to deliver and sell gas to persons, firms and corporations, including all the general public, within the City's corporate limits and the environs thereof, said consent being granted for a term of twenty-five (25) years from and after the date of the final passage and approval of this ordinance.

SECTION 2. Company shall lay, maintain, construct, operate and replace its pipes, mains, laterals and other equipment so as to interfere as little as possible with traffic and shall promptly clean up and restore to an approximate original condition, at its cost, all thoroughfares and other surfaces which it may disturb. The location of all mains, pipes, laterals and other appurtenant equipment shall be fixed under the supervision of the City Council or an authorized committee or agent appointed by said Council.

SECTION 3. When Company shall make or cause to be made excavations or shall place obstructions in any street, alley or other public place, the public shall be protected by barriers and lights placed, erected and maintained by Company; and in the event of injury to any person or damage to any property by reason of the construction, operation or maintenance of the gas distributing plant or system of Company, Company shall indemnify and keep harmless City from any and all liability in connection therewith. Company shall repair, clean up and restore to an approximate original condition all streets and alleys disturbed during the construction and repair of its gas distributing system.

SECTION 4. In addition to the rates charged for gas supplied, Company may make and enforce reasonable charges, rules and regulations for service rendered in the conduct of its business, including a charge for services rendered in the inauguration of natural gas service, and may require, before furnishing service, the execution of a contract therefor. Company shall have the right to contract with each customer with reference to the installation of, and payment for, any and all of the gas piping from the connection thereof with the Company's main in the streets or alleys to and throughout the consumer's premises. Company shall own, operate and maintain all service lines which are defined as the supply lines from the Company's main to the consumer's curb line when mains are located in the streets and to the consumer's property line when mains are located in the alleys. The consumer shall own, operate and maintain all yard lines and house piping. Yard lines are defined as the underground supply lines extending from the point of connection with Company's service line to the point of connection with consumer's house piping.

SECTION 5. Company shall not be required to extend mains longitudinally on any street more than fifty (50) feet for any one consumer of gas, nor shall Company be required to connect consumers to intermediate or high-pressure lines.

SECTION 6. Company shall be entitled to require from each and every consumer of gas, before gas service is commenced, a deposit of twice the amount of an estimated average monthly bill, which said deposit may be retained by Company until service is discontinued, and all bills therefor have been paid. Company shall then return said deposit to the consumer, together with six percent (6 percent) interest thereon from the date of said deposit up to the date of discontinuance of service. Company shall be entitled to apply said deposit, with accrued interest, to any indebtedness owed Company by the consumer making the deposit.

SECTION 7. The rights, privileges and franchises granted by this ordinance are not to be considered exclusive, and City hereby expressly reserves the right to grant, at any time, like privileges, rights and franchises as it may see fit to any person or corporation for the purpose of furnishing gas for light, heat and power to and for City and the inhabitants thereof.

SECTION 8. Company shall furnish reasonably adequate service to the public at reasonable rates and charges therefor and Company shall maintain its property, equipment and appliances in good order and condition.

SECTION 9. Company, its successors and assigns, agrees to pay, and City agrees to accept, on or before the 1st day of March, 1967, and on or before the same day of each succeeding year during the life of this franchise, a sum of money which shall be equivalent to two per cent (2 percent) of the gross receipts received by Company from the sale of gas within the city limits of said City (expressly excluding, however, receipts derived from the sale of gas to industrial users and consumers within city limits of said City) for the preceding calendar year, which annual payment is hereby fixed and determined to be the reasonable, adequate and complete value, compensation and rental for Company's right to use the streets, alleys and public ways of said City. And it is also agreed that insofar as City has the legal power to so agree and provide, the sums of money paid and to be paid shall be in lieu of supervision, license and inspection fees, street or alley rentals or charges, franchise or easement fees, levies or charges, or any other license fees, street rentals or charges, franchise or easement fees or charges of whatsoever kind and character and howsoever levied which City may impose or hereafter be authorized or empowered by law to collect, excepting the usual general and special ad valorem taxes which City is authorized by law to levy and impose upon real and personal property. Should City not have the legal power to agree that the payment of the foregoing sums of money, in the manner hereinabove contemplated, shall be in lieu of supervision, license and inspections fees or charges, street or alley rentals or charges, easement on franchise fees or charges, or any other supervision, license, inspection, easement or franchise fees or street rentals or charges of whatsoever kind and character which City may impose or hereafter be authorized or empowered by law to collect, then City agrees that it will apply so much of said sums of money paid and agreed to be paid as may be necessary to satisfy Company's obligations, if any, to pay any such supervision, license and inspection fees or charges, street or alley rentals or charges, easement or franchise fees or charges of whatsoever kind and character which City may impose or hereafter be authorized or empowered by law to collect. City and Company agree that the amount of such gross receipts payment may be reviewed every five years during the life of this franchise and may be changed by mutual agreement, in any event if the laws of the State of Texas should be changed so as to increase the maximum amount which may be charged for use of the City streets and alleys, City shall have the right and option to request that such increased payments be made in lieu of the next payment becoming due hereunder, and Company shall pay such amount.

In order to determine the gross receipts received by Company from the sale of gas (expressly excluding the sales of gas to industrial users and consumers) within the corporate limits of City, Company agrees that on the same date, as provided in the preceding paragraph, it will file with the City Secretary a sworn report showing the gross receipts received from the sale of gas to its domestic and commercial consumers within said city limits for each respective calendar year preceding the respective date of payment. City may, if it sees fit, have the books and records of Company examined by a representative of said City to ascertain the correctness of the sworn reports agreed to be filed herein.

"Industrial users or consumers," as herein used, are those generally and commonly classified as such by Company.

The payment herein provided shall be for the period January 1 to December 31 of the respective year that the payment is made.

SECTION 10. This franchise shall take effect upon the expiration of sixty (60) days after its final passage at the second reading of this franchise ordinance in accordance with the provisions of the charter of the City of Snyder; and shall continue and remain in force for a period of twenty-five (25) years thereafter. Company shall file with the City its written acceptance of this franchise ordinance within sixty (60) days after the date this franchise becomes effective.

PASSED AND APPROVED on first reading on this the 6th day of September, A.D. 1966.

FINALLY PASSED AND APPROVED on second reading on this the 7th day of November, A.D. 1966.

Winner Takes All In Politics Game

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Running for public office has become one of the most popular forms of exercise in America.

But thousands of candidates who woke up today were trying to figure whether it was really better to have run and lost, than never to have run at all.

Some of the losers suffered from head colds caught by kissing sniffling babies. Some had talked themselves hoarse. Some had spent themselves to the edge of bankruptcy or beyond in fruitless wooing of a fickle electorate.

Whether they ran for dogcatcher or senator, however, the thing that probably annoyed them most was having to congratulate the man who beat them.

The great game of politics is a winner-take-all game. To the victor belongs the spoils. All the loser usually gets in most races is a one-way ticket to limbo. His only souvenirs are a flattened wallet and a few holes in his thumb from tacking up his campaign placards on telephone poles and backyard barns.

So why should he congratulate the winner, when his heart can't possibly be in it?

He does it because it is part of the game. Politics, as practiced in the United States, is as ceremonial as tea drinking in Japan. One of its oldest rituals is the ritual of the graceful loser.

Everyone expects him to be a good sport about it all, let bygones be bygones, smile manfully and issue some unctuous statement such as:

"The people have spoken. I congratulate my opponent on his splendid triumph. It is now time to close ranks and march confidently together into a great future."

Nonsense, piffle and banana oil. That kind of tired pap fools nobody and bores everybody.

Political campaigns would be more interesting if we could start a new tradition — the tradition of the sorehead loser, the guy who is counted out with his mouth full of sour grapes.

As the television cameras in his headquarters train on the losing candidate to catch his brief speech conceding defeat, they find him weeping.

"This wasn't an election, it was a robbery!" he shouts, shaking a fist at the unseen audience.

"I said during the campaign that my opponent was an underhanded bum, and the only difference in him that I can see now is that he's a lucky bum. As for the people who voted for him, they can't be much better.

"At this time it is customary for a candidate to thank all his supporters who labored so long and earnestly in his behalf. Frankly, I don't think I had any. Most of my fair weather friends must have gone fishing on election day, and it appears that all the creeps who were supposed to be working for me spent their time in ginmills with my so-called campaign manager, whoever he was.

"My opponent should give them all jobs. He couldn't have won without them.

"I have been asked to say what my future plans are. My plans are first to stop by my friendly neighborhood psychiatrist and get my head examined for ever deciding to run for a public office in the first place. After that, I plan to go home, kick my dog, and slap the wife and kids around until I feel better.

"And now I have one final word for you all —BAH!"

Wouldn't you like to hear a speech like that from a defeated candidate? But, reluctantly, you'd have to come to the conclusion that it probably was a good thing he lost.

No guy that honest really belongs in politics.

Intrigue Stories Serve To Spice Up Business News

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the most fascinating detective stories of the year have spiced business news of late.

One involves an alleged international plot to blow up a bridge needed to transport copper from the landlocked African nation of Zambia, and thus drive up the red metal's price.

The other involves a search for two radioactive capsules of radium that vanished in shipment, forcing federal authorities to hunt for pill-size objects on a continental landscape.

The copper caper was related this week by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Copper prices have fallen recently although a lot of "experts" had bet they would remain high. Demand was great. Even government officials of some copper producing countries felt high prices would continue.

On the London Metal Exchange, where copper traders meet, a price of 98¾ cents a pound was quoted this spring. By late summer it was one-half that. It is still only 60 cents a pound, meaning a lot of money has been lost.

Speculators purchase "advance" contracts of copper and other metals. That is, they bet on the future of the market. On Nov. 9 they are willing to contract for a supply of copper scheduled for delivery Jan. 1. Why?

On Jan. 1 they hope the price for copper is higher. If it is they can sell their contract at a profit. If their betting is wrong — if prices fall — they're in trouble.

A copper speculator who invested last spring figured that his control of a tiny share in the wealth of Zambia, the free world's top exporter of copper, would grow in value. It didn't.

Zambian copper prices haven't soared, of course. For various reasons — nationalistic, political, industrial, military — the stress on demand lightened. The bridge is intact.

The radioactive incident centers on the U.S. Public Health Service. For months its agents have searched for two radium capsules shipped to New York, one from Fort Worth, Tex., the other from Seattle, Wash.

The Fort Worth capsule had been used by an industrial concern, the Seattle radium by a physician. If properly packaged, they should have arrived safely at a chemical company here.

Little question exists about what happened. The packages in which the capsules were contained simply broke open and lost their radioactive cargo.

What followed was no casual search. Although the radioactive matter could cause little trouble from brief physical contact, it could cause death if inhaled or swallowed.

Federal officials had little choice. The odds against contamination of an individual were enormous. The chance of finding the vials was even smaller. But, of necessity, the search began.

A device sensitive to radiation was placed aboard a train running from Dallas, Tex., to Kansas City, Mo. Although it was supposedly capable of detecting any radiation whatever, it turned up nothing. Other searches also turned up nothing.

No trace either was found of the capsule sent from Seattle. And so, both capsules presumably exist today as deadly dangers. Federal agents now have turned their efforts toward preventing such accidents in the future.

QUESTION: Where do giant pandas come from and what do they eat?

• • •

ANSWER: There is a large group or order of animals which eat mostly meat. These animals are called carnivores. Pandas belong to this group, as do cats, dogs and bears. The giant panda is certainly one of the oddest of animals. With his round white face, startling black rings around his eyes and funny black ears, he looks more like a huge teddy bear than a real animal. Giant pandas in zoos seem to know they look funny and like to clown and play. These bear-sized animals are found in mountainous regions in India and China. They resemble bears in appearance and also in adding fruits and different vegetable substances to the customary meat diet of the carnivores. Pandas are actually related to the raccoons. Most species are much smaller than the giant panda, being only a little larger than a cat. They are reddish brown with black underparts. The face is white. These smaller pandas also come from India and China and like fruits and vegetables.

FOR YOU TO DO: Keep an animal scrap book. This would be a good article to cut out and paste in it. 11-9

Both Boys Club Teams Wax Lamesa

The Snyder Boys Club football teams socked Lamesa in a "doubleheader" there Saturday afternoon. The 11-12 year-old team won, 26-0, and the 9-10 year-old unit came out on top, 16-6.

Gardner passed to Waters for a 64-yard TD for the older boys and David Tyrone scored on 47 yard and 34 yard running plays. The other tally followed a 6-yard run by Bobby Burleson. Gardner sneaked across for the extra points following one of the scores.

Larry Beard and Don Burns scored on 6-yard and 4-yard runs respectively for the younger boys. Aaron Hartsfield ran over two conversion points, and he teamed up with Ralph Lewis for a safety. John Boren did an outstanding job punting and Tom Clayton was impressive on defense.

Lamesa's touchdown resulted from a two-yard run.

The Snyder All-Stars will play here Saturday afternoon. Kickoff in the 9-10 year-old game is set for 2 p.m.; and the older boys will clash at 3:30 p.m. Lamesa again will provide the opposition.

Tigers To Put More Zip In Grid Offense

Keith Miles, head coach of the Snyder Tigers, told members of the Quarterback Club Tuesday night that he was putting a few new wrinkles in the offense for the season finale against Sweetwater here Friday night.

He pointed out that injuries and mistakes hurt the Bengals in their clash with Brownfield last week. Monitoring a film of the game, Miles praised the play of Lonnie Gilstrap and Frankie Grimmett, and he called Ronnie Shields "the most improved player on the team."

The film revealed that Brownfield has a fine football team with perhaps the best running back in the district in Sterling Cox, son of the Cub coach.

Discussing this week's game with Sweetwater, Coach Miles said in one recent game Sweetwater ran a different type of offensive play on every down in the first half.

"They are versatile and have one of the best quarterbacks in the district," he added.

Bill Herrington, who has scouted Sweetwater, recalled that the Mustangs scored 21 points in the last quarter against Littlefield, the team that can sew up a playoff berth this week with a win over Levelland.

Various coaches gave reports on their respective teams. All of the local teams close out their schedules this week with contests in Tiger Stadium, beginning Thursday with the annual Travis-Lamar battle.

Coach Ned Underwood told of prospects in the basketball race this season. The Bengal roundballers scrimmage San Angelo there next Tuesday night. Thursday week, Big Spring will be here for another scrimmage, and the Tiger quintet will return the favor the following Saturday with scrimmages scheduled for morning and after lunch. Post will be available for a scrimmage later. The season begins Nov. 28 with Colorado City invading Tiger gym.

Underwood said there will be 16 boys on the varsity. They are more experienced and should be better at rebounding.

"I hope we'll be able to compete with the other district teams," he concluded.

Since the formation of the Southeastern Conference in 1933, Alabama has had only five losing football seasons.

ALSTON SAYS SERIES PITCHERS NEED REST

By TED SMITS

TOKYO (AP) — Manager Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers — carefully avoiding any alibis — said today "one more day of rest between the close of the regular season and the start of the World Series would assure fans of seeing good baseball."

Normally the U.S. baseball season ends on a Sunday and the Series starts the following Wednesday. The Dodgers, here for an exhibition tour of Japan, clinched the National League flag on a Sunday, using their ace pitcher, Sandy Koufax. Then they started the Series against the Baltimore Orioles with Don Drysdale on the mound because Koufax had insufficient rest.

To the amazement of the baseball world the Orioles won the Series in four straight.

"Three days would be ample time to get your pitching staff in shape but even with one day we would have had ample time. The team that wins with a game to spare has the privilege of arranging its staff. If you battle down to the wire you forfeit that advantage.

"It speaks well for the league if you have to go down to the wire — but believe me that extra day would help.

"I was prepared to open the Series with Koufax but of course I couldn't.

"As it was we found all the different ways to lose," Alston continued. "We lost the first game because we didn't get good pitching and the second because of miscues (Koufax pitching) and the last two because we couldn't hit a lick.

"You know, it was a little bit like playing a hard series of games during the regular season, like with the San Francisco Giants. You don't have to give the team any pep talks for that kind of baseball. So you go in and win three out of four games.

"I thought we would make a better showing in the Series than we did. Even after we lost the first two games I thought, well, this was the way we did it the year before — but it didn't happen that way."

One Man Does Not Make A Team

Bobby Hull is in a scoring slump but the Chicago Black Hawks hardly miss his heavy artillery.

Hull was blanked for the third straight game Tuesday night but the Black Hawks, led by young Ken Hodge, breezed to a 3-1 victory over New York in the only game on the National Hockey League schedule.

Hodge, a second - year left wing, scored one goal and assisted on another as the Hawks increased their NHL lead over Montreal to three points. The victory was the sixth for Chicago in seven starts this season.

Cowboys Lead Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — There are days when you just can't believe the statistical tables as the Dallas Cowboys know. Tom Landry's Texans are first in both total offense and defense in the National Football League but second in the all-important won and lost figures.

The Cowboys had led the league in offense going into last Sunday's game at Philadelphia, but they were second in defense. They held the Eagles to a total of 80 yards and assumed the statistical lead but lost the ball game 24-23.

Dallas is first in total offense, pass offense, total defense and running defense. The Cowboys also lead the league in scoring with 289 points.

A pro statistics that doesn't get much attention in the weekly releases, but is vitally important, is the figure on yards lost trying to pass.

Green Bay has smeared the would-be passer 33 times for 264 yards, and St. Louis has creamed the quarterback 31 times for 269 yards.

As might be expected, Baltimore has given its passer the best protection. The Colts' opposition has been able to get John Unitas and Co. only 12 times for 76 yards. The Chicago Bears' passer has been had only 12 times, also, but for 100 yards.

Ira Girls Slip Past Highlands

IRA — The Bulldogs defeated Highlands in two girls basketball games here Tuesday night. The varsity girls thumped the visitors, 35-20, and the "B" girls won, 36-25.

Connie Sterling pitched in 14 points, and Linda Wiggins meshed 10 points to lead the varsity girls. They took an 8-4 first period lead, increased it to 20-14 at halftime, and maintained the distance by outscoring Highlands, 4-2, in the third quarter. The last quarter was one-sided as the Ira girls pitched in 11 points, compared with only 4 for the visitors.

Carolyn Rogers and Linda Autry paced the "B" girls with 16 and 10 points respectively. Highlands was never really in the game as Ira built up a 6-1 first quarter lead and a 16-7 halftime margin. The hosts scored 16 points in the third quarter while limiting their foes to 2 points.

Coach Roy Sallee said guards Dolly Clinkinbeard, Carole Sterling, Sue Sorrels and Pam James all turned in creditable performances.

None of the Highland varsity girls scored in twin figures, but Brown and Bond netted 13 and 12 points respectively for the visiting "B" girls.

Both Ira teams will be at Sands next Tuesday. Tipoff is set for 7 p.m.

IRA VARSITY (35) — Connie Sterling 3-8-14; Linda Wiggins 3-4-10; Pam Sallee 3-1-7; Debbie James 1-2-4; totals 10-15-35.

Houston Sets Offense Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston has replaced Notre Dame as the major college football leader in total offense, the latest figures compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau showed today.

The Cougars increased their total yardage to 2,824 for a seven-game average of 403.4 yards while trampling Tulsa 73-14 last Saturday. Notre Dame is second with a 401.4 average followed by UCLA with 392.4.

The Irish took the lead in scoring with a 33.9 points a game average although Houston's output enabled it to move from 11th place to second with a 33.1 mark. Texas Western is third with 33.0.

Harvard remained the pacesetter in rushing for the sixth straight week. The Crimson was averaging 284.9 yards on the ground. Texas Western took over first place in passing average with 270.7. Tulsa, the leader a week ago, slipped to second with 267.3.

Fems Test For Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Forty-three professionals and 12 amateurs move in for practice rounds Wednesday over the Pecan Valley Country Club course where the $12,500 Alamo Women's Open Golf Tournament will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Every one of the top 30 money winners on the Ladies Professional Golf Association circuit will be here for the 54-hole tournament.

This includes Kathy Whitworth, winner of the last two tournaments and the year's leading money-winner with $29,652, and Mickey Wright, whose all-time record of $31,269 is being threatened by Miss Whitworth.

76ers Win With Wilt

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wilt Chamberlain is ignoring the basket and staying on the ball.

The Philadelphia strongman blocked twice as many shots as he made Tuesday night while leading the 76ers past Detroit 118-100 in the opener of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at New York.

In the nightcap, Bill Bridges and rookie Lou Hudson sparked the St. Louis Hawks to a 135-121 victory over the Knickerbockers.

Buffs Trounce Noodle Twice

FLUVANNA.— The host Buffaloes trounced Noodle in two basketball games here Tuesday night. The "Buffalo Gals" won, 51-28, and the boys team won, 73-41.

Coach Geral Greene's lads jumped into a 17-9 first quarter lead and extended it to 37-14 at halftime behind the sharp-shooting of Bobby Hall, who captured scoring laurels with 37 points. The Buffs coasted in from there, running up a 57-24 third period advantage.

Barry Olive was high point man for Noodle. He dunked in 11 points.

Three of the "Buffalo Gals" hit in double figures: Rinda Bruner with 20 points, Sandra Stansell with 13, and June Stansell with 12.

After taking a 12-7 lead in the first quarter, the Fluvanna girls pulled steadily ahead to take a 26-13 margin into the dressing room. Noodle was never in the game as the host girls increased their lead to 39-21 going into the final frame. Fluvanna will host the Girard boys and girls next Tuesday. Tipoff is set for 6:30 p.m.

U.S. Netmen Fall Apart?

NEW YORK (AP) — Was U.S. Davis Cup Capt. George MacCall outfoxed by the Brazilians?

Did MacCall pull the year's prize boner in playing 19-year-old Cliff Richey of Dallas Tex., in the singles instead of the more mature Arthur Ashe?

Are American tennis players a bunch of high strung, spoiled cry babies who need a good spanking?

Is there any hope for U.S. amateur tennis, or is it going to sink lower in the doldrums?

These were some of the questions being bandied around today by tennis observers, shocked and disappointed at the American team's 3-2 loss to Brazil over the weekend in the Inter-Zone semifinals at Porto Alegre, Brazil.

"I can't second guess MacCall at this distance," said Harcourt Woods, the chairman of the U.S. Davis Cup Committee.

"I have always been worried about Richey's history for getting leg cramps."

Richey, an intense youngster, has repeatedly turned up with leg cramps in major matches. There was some surprise when he was picked for the singles over second-ranked Ashe.

One former Davis Cup captain of another era, who didn't wish to be identified, said he felt sure the Brazilians pulled a fast one on the Americans and encouraged them to use Richey over Ashe.

"I think they purposely didn't try too hard in the tournament at Buenos Aires won handily by Richey," he said. "That way they could get Richey into the line-up in place of Ashe, whom they feared."

Vic Seixas, former Davis Cup captain and a member of five U.S. Davis Cup teams, said he believed Richey got cramps because he worried too much before big matches.

Seixas was disinclined to attach too much blame to the captain and the players who lost at Porto Alegre.

"We have so many players of about equal ability," Vic said. "There's no one dominant player so any one is likely to beat any other. That's what happened here — plus the fact that the Brazilians had a big advantage of playing at home on their familiar clay surface."

Backlash And Counter Vote Figure Heavily In Elections

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — The white backlash and a counter to it — a marked shift of Negro voters to moderates on the racial question — figured heavily in the elections in seven states and possibly two others.

In the races in California, Illinois, Florida and Alabama, the backlash appeared to have been a major factor. Three of these were won by Republicans and the other by a Democrat, segregationist Lurleen Wallace, wife of Gov. George C. Wallace.

The backlash was thought to be an element in the overwhelming vote in New York City to abolish the civilian-dominated police complaint review board. Civil rights leaders and the major candidates had supported the review board.

But the "counter-lash" was clearly apparent in Maryland where Republican Spiro T. Agnew won the governorship over Democrat George P. Mahoney who had campaigned on the slogan, "Your home is your castle — protect it."

In Georgia, segregationist Lester G. Maddox fell behind Republican Howard (Bo) Callaway, who had moved toward moderation.

These statistical analyses across the nation were provided by the National Broadcasting Company Electronic Vote Analysis — EVA. EVA compared Tuesday's votes in selected precincts to the votes there in previous elections.

Around the country —

CALIFORNIA

In defeating Democrat Edmund G. Brown for governor, former actor Ronald Reagan won 64 per cent of the white vote compared with the 52 per cent that went to Richard M. Nixon in 1962 when he lost to Brown.

Brown's share of the votes in the Los Angeles area dropped from 52.5 in 1962 to 36.6 Tuesday. Watts, a section of Los Angeles, saw serious Negro riots two years ago.

Brown also lost ground among Latin-American voters, many of whom are resentful of Negro civil rights gains. He received 8 per cent fewer votes from them.

Conversely, Negroes gave Brown 96 per cent of their votes, three points more than in 1962.

ILLINOIS

EVA figures showed Republican Charles H. Percy, victor over Sen. Paul H. Douglas, receiving increased support over GOP figures for 1960 in selected socio-economic groups of voters.

Percy took 73 per cent of the high-income group, a gain of two points. In the middle-income group, he won 57 per cent, a gain of 16 points. Slavic voters gave him 46 per cent, 18 more than the GOP total in 1960. He showed smaller gains among Italian and Jewish voters and his labor vote was 11 per cent above the Republican figure for 1960.

At a late hour, EVA had not yet compiled a breakdown of white and Negro votes.

FLORIDA

Civil rights demonstrations and disorders involving Negroes in a number of Florida cities probably helped Republican Claude Kirk over Democrat Robert King High in the Florida gubernatorial election.

Across the state, High received only 38 per cent of the white vote compared with the 54 per cent won by retiring Democratic Gov. Haydon Burns in 1962. Kirk, the first Republican to win the governorship since 1872 — the era of Reconstruction after the Civil War—upped the GOP share of the white vote from 46 per cent four years ago to 62 per cent.

Negroes gave High, mayor of Miami, 93 per cent of their vote, 8 per cent more than Burns had received.

MARYLAND

EVA figures showed that 94 per cent of the Negro voters supported Republican Spiro T. Agnew in his victory over George Mahoney for governor. That was an increase of 54 per cent since the previous gubernatorial election. This was probably the biggest voter-shift in any election in the country.

GEORGIA

Maddox, who described himself as the "segregationist of all time," held a 2-to-1 lead over Callaway in the early returns. But then the Republican gubernatorial candidate began gaining and at an early hour today went into the lead.

Callaway also is a segregationist but is considered more moderate than Maddox. The Democratic candidate attracted wide attention when he closed his restaurant rather than serve Negroes two years ago.

MASSACHUSETTS

The question of whether a backlash ever existed in Massachusetts was never clear, although some qualified political observers in the state said the issue was there.

However, Atty. Gen. Edward M. Brooke, a Negro and a Republican, said he found no evidence of it during his campaign. He defeated Endicott Peabody, a former governor and a Democrat, for the Senate seat being vacated by Leverett Saltonstall. Peabody also championed Negro rights.

ALABAMA

Lurleen Wallace's election to succeed her husband as governor of Georgia may have set the stage for him to re-enter the presidential picture in 1968 as a segregationist champion.

In 1964, Wallace entered primaries in Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland and received a combined total of more than 500,000 votes.

KENNEDY COOK — Sharon Connors, above, 21-year-old Marygrove College economics major from Buffalo, N. Y., holds album of snapshots she assembled while cooking for the Kennedys at Hyannis Port during her summer vacation. Now back in Detroit and in school she said she was hired as assistant cook at home of Joseph and Rose Kennedy, parents and grandparents of Kennedy clan. Sharon said: "I had the most wonderful, most exciting summer ever."

Rockefeller Wins Big In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, overcoming a 3-2 Democratic registration edge and a strong Conservative vote, won a smashing victory Tuesday over Democrat Frank D. O'Connor.

The 58-year-old moderate Republican governor, promising to continue the progressive programs of his first two terms, called the victory "very gratifying."

New York City voters overwhelmingly voted to abolish a civilian-dominated board to review complaints of police misconduct, despite backing for the board by civil rights groups and most major candidates.

A proposal to authorize a statewide lottery, with the profits earmarked for education, appeared to be winning with New York City providing a large favorable vote.

In the gubernatorial race, the Conservative party's Paul L. Adams, an upstate college dean new to state politics, made a surprisingly strong race.

In the late tabulation, however, he fell behind Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., a Democrat running on the Liberal party ticket. Adams opposed the police review board, and Roosevelt was one of its strongest backers.

Cancer Unit Gets Report On Meet

The Scurry County Unit of the American Cancer Society met Monday afternoon in the community room of the West Texas State Bank. Dr. John A. English gave the invocation.

After a short business session the president, Mrs. A. D. Dodson, gave an informative resume of the State Convention she attended in Houston, Oct. 5-6.

She stated that "Cancer is a disease that is characterized by abnormal growth and spread of cells. If this is not controlled or checked, the patient will die. However, many cancers can be cured if detected early in their development and treated by surgery or radiation. As a proof of this statement one session was given over entirelyy to testimonies from patients cured of cancer. The important thing for the mass of people to realize is that cancer must be discovered early. It can be done by observing the seven danger signals. This in turn would do much to detain and cure the disease." She passed around helpful literature that she had obtained at the convention.

At this point, Jim Glenn, of Midland, Field Representative of District II, of which Scurry County is a part, gave a discussion of upcoming events that will enhance the work of the organization. A mobile display will be available for District II after the first of the year. This unit will display education materials of many kinds which are pertinant to the control of cancer. Movies will be shown on channel 2 and 4 with cancer coverage. Bob Gilbrath will be in charge of the presentations.

The public will be notified and is urged to view these informative presentations. A monthly "News Letter" will be sent to each board member beginning in January. The Field representative also presented the unit with a book entitled "The Truth About Cancer," with the hope that as many would read it as possible.

Sam Pliler, treasurer, reported that $602 had been received in the Memorial Fund. It was also noted that anyone wishing to contribute to the fund in memory of a loved one, or a friend, should send the contribution to Pliler at the Snyder National Bank.

Board members attending besides those mentioned were Mrs. Floyd Allmand, Mrs. H. B. Lemons, Mrs. Claudine Atwood, H. W. Cargile, Ross Williams, Ernest Sears, and Mrs. Travis Rhoades.

John Kerr, new coach of the Chicago Bulls, set a National Basketball Association record by playing in 917 straight league games.

Lovell Will Be Champ Astronaut

By RONALD THOMPSON
AP Aerospace Writer

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The minute James A. Lovell Jr., 38, sails into orbit aboard Gemini 12 Thursday, he'll become the world's champion astronaut by logging more time in space than any other human.

The Navy captain's only regret is that the mission is to last "just four days."

Relatively speaking, indeed it will be short — for him. Lovell currently shares the space flight endurance record with Air Force Col. Frank Borman. The two rode Gemini 7 last December for a grueling flight of 330 hours and 35 minutes.

Lovell has as his flying partner this time Air Force Maj. Edwin E. (Buzz) Aldrin, Jr., 36, a rookie at the controls of a spaceship but a veteran in the ground-based end of the nation's space program.

A former combat pilot, Aldrin holds a doctor's degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), writing his astronautics dissertation on how to rendezvous two satellites in orbit. He is considered an expert in the field.

This puts Aldrin under a little extra pressure when Gemini 12 rockets off a launch pad searching out a rendezvous with an Agena satellite. He wrote about such chases, helped teach them to other astronauts, and now, in essence, it'll be up to him to show he can practice what he preaches.

Aldrin graduated third in a class of 475 from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1951. After accepting an Air Force commission, he got his wings and went to Korea a few months before hostilities ended there.

He flew 66 combat missions, during which he got credit for shooting down two MIG15 jets and damaging another. He received the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with two oak leaf clusters.

Aldrin decided to return to college in 1960.

"In looking for a school, MIT looked like the place to go," he said. "May as well shoot for the best. Anyway, my father had gone there and gotten his doctor's degree in aeronautics."

He was awarded his doctorate in astronautics in 1963, a few months before he became an astronaut.

Nicknamed Buzz by his parents, Aldrin was born in Glen Ridge, N.J. but graduated from high school in Montclair. He stands 5 feet 10, some two inches shorter that Lovell, weighs 165 and has thinning, crew-cut blond hair.

Lovell, who also has blond hair, grew up in Milwaukee, Wis., after being born in Cleveland, Ohio, where he lived only one year.

It was as a teen-ager in Milwaukee that he developed his interest in rockets, though this interest once nearly proved disastrous. He and a friend narrowly escaped injury when one of their small, but volatile homemade rockets exploded on a backyard launching pad.

Lovell graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy, then became an aviator. He applied for an astronaut's job even before the original seven Mercury spacemen were named in 1959 and was among the second group picked in 1962.

Cairo Still Asks US Withdrawal

CAIRO (AP) — The American message on Viet Nam is being ignored or is not getting across in Cairo, one of the major capitals with ties to both East and West.

Official statements on Viet Nam and editorials in the government-controlled press invariably call on the United States to withdraw. There is no mention of reciprocal withdrawals by North Vietnamese forces the United States claims have infiltrated the south.

Nor is there any equation made between the somewhat analogous situation in which Egypt finds itself. Some 50,000 of its troops are in Yemen to support the republican regime of President Abdullah al-Sallal.

The apparent mistrust of U.S. motives seems to go beyond traditional resentment of U.S. policy toward Israel and to rest on a basic suspicion.

Egyptians, many of them young university graduates who presumably will play major roles in shaping this country's future, accuse the United States of being behind virtually every government turnover in the world that does not happen to come up leftist.

Some educated Egyptians argue passionately that the United States seeks to dominate the world through economic and military aid, which they claim is never given without strings attached.

Talking about the lapse of the last U.S. food-for-peace grant in June — an agreement which has not been renewed despite Egyptian requests for a new, long-term deal — a qualified Egyptian source said: "How can the United States link politics with bread? When the United States involves political pressure with wheat, I have to think: "This is my bread you're talking about."

Actually, the United States has not closed the door on wheat allocations. But new legislation in Washington basically has changed the old food-for-peace program under which wheat was supplied for 10 years through soft-currency agreements.

Future food grants are almost certain to be on a hard-currency basis but with provisions for long-term repayment.
