Construction of Pipeline From Velrex Field to be Started Soon

Making 22 Barrels a Day

A gathering system for the Velrex field and a pipeline to Mertz gas processing plant—a project which has been in the mill for several months—is about to get under way.

Dr. Wm. Dow, vice president of Brooks Gas Corporation of Houston was here last week on Thursday and reported at that time that construction would start in about a week.

Ed Meador's oil properties office in Eldorado has been instrumental in securing right-of-way for this project.

Wells included in the Velrex field, now capped, are—Bright & Schiff No. 1 Roach Meadco No. 1 Meador Texaco (formerly TXL) 3 wells on R. L. Henderson

In the meantime Standard is testing out their No. 1 Henderson.

Another prospector for the Velrex field was announced last week. Meadco Properties, Midland, will drill their No. 2 T. C. Meador 467 feet from the south and east lines of Sec. 1200, GC&SF. It will be 3/4 mile northwest of the same firm's No. 1 producer in survey 1212 in lower Canyon sand. Tucker has the drilling contract.

The No. 1 Meador was finished May 16 for 11.5 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 12,400-1, through perforation between 6,666-683 feet.

22-Barrel Pumper

The Texaco No. 1 J. T. Jackson shallow well has finally been completed for a daily pumping potential of 22.16 barrels per day. That's all oil and no water from a depth of 850 feet. Location is about 3 miles west of Eldorado.

James Gouras of San Angelo, one of the operators in the Dyer well, was here Tuesday checking on the progress of the well which is being dug by O. C. Proffitt. At that time the driller was down to about 500 feet.

Chambers & Kennedy have abandoned their No. 1 Wagley as a dry hole and are starting a new test on Blaylock.

Schleicher Re-Entry

Thomas & Saxon Drilling Co., Abilene, will re-enter and clean out to 4,779 feet, the old total depth, and attempt completion attempt as a Strawn sand discovery at a Schleicher county wildcat failure, 25 miles northeast of Eldorado and 3 1/4 miles northeast of Strawn production in the Camar and Fort McKavett multipay fields. It is the No. 1 Ferol McInnis.

Originally drilled by Fletcher Oil & Gas Drilling Corp., as the No. 1 Treadwell, it was abandoned Dec. 21, 1960. It recovered 10 feet of slightly oil- and gas-cut mud and 95 feet of salt water on a test between 3,677-87 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the south and west lines of 53-John H. Gibson survey.

Post Script

Eldorado citizens and especially the court house crew are undoubtedly aware that a measure is threatening in Austin providing for election of county commissioners at large in sparsely settled areas.

In Schleicher county Eldorado is the only town in the county and it is located fairly well in the center of the county. Here it would be easy to have all precincts corner in town and the idea has been kicked around for over 12 years.

Mitchell county commissioners solved the problem on their own initiative recently and Monday's Standard-Times has this to say about it:

"With an open mind and without litigation or legislative prodding, threatened now in a measure at Austin providing for election of commissioners at large in sparsely populated areas, the Mitchell County commissioners have set some sort of a precedent for this area. They have redistricted the county in order to bring population and road miles into better balance.

"Redistricting has been accomplished on unanimous ballot of the four commissioners.

"Mitchell County has become an example for other commissioner courts. What has been done there on a voluntary basis is being done at the legislative and congressional levels by order of the court. Ultimately precinct redistricting may become compulsory on a population basis as well."

A check made at the county tax collector's office here reveals the following paid poll taxes in the four precincts here:

Precinct 1	385
Precinct 2	68
Precinct 3	48
Precinct 4	88

Several of the "Miss Wool" contestants who came through Eldorado last month have written requesting that the people of Eldorado know how very much they appreciated the cordial reception extended and especially the nice wool ruans given them by various local individuals.

They all apologized for not being able to spend more time here, it was stated by Joe M. Christian of the West Texas Woolen Mills.

Mrs. Bruce Burton and son Bill were visiting relatives in Quitman and Lufkin the last of the week and attending to business. Bill had the misfortune of wrecking his truck recently near Greenville, but escaped serious injury.

Bids Being Called For On Schleicher Road Construction

The Texas Highway Department announces that it will open bids in Austin on May 17 for construction of 8 1/2 miles on Highway 277 in Schleicher county—this being from Murchison Avenue in Eldorado and on north for the 8 1/2-mile distance.

Plans and specifications are available at the office of Robert McCulloch, Sonora resident engineer, according to the official notice published in this issue on page four.

McCulloch, who was here Monday, reported that contractors have already been here looking over the job.

Included in the plans are specifications for running curbs in the city out to the city limits.

The first part of the job here, according to McCulloch, will be building detours to take care of traffic in and out of Eldorado.

Austin.—If the 58th Legislature's final version of a loan shark law is that which passed the House, folks who do business with the money men still would pay charges up to 500 per cent on the smallest, shortest-term loans.

Small-small loans—those under $100—would be regulated by an amendment to Corpus Christi Sen. Bruce Reagan's bill which provides that on loans from $19 to $35, the lender could collect a flat 10 per cent charge plus a $3 handling charge for each month of the loan up to no more than two months.

In addition to this, lenders also could collect $3.50 per month up to four months on loans between $35 and $70, and $4 per month for up to six months on loans from $70 to $100.

The over-$100 clause sets these rates per year per $100: $19 up to $100; $16, from $100 to $200; $13 per $100 between 200 and $300. This is scaled to the rate of $7 per $100 on loans between $1,000 and $1,500.

Rep. Joe Canon of Mexia called the House-passed bill "a Robin Hood in reverse bill—it robs the poor and gives it to the rich."

A work-out on the measure—which carries 19 Senate amendments and 23 by the House—is expected in a Senate-House conference committee, but it won't take long if Gov. Connally and Speaker Byron Tunnell have their way. Both want a loan bill passed this session, and neither wants an extended—or a special—session.

College Bills
Governor Connally, Speaker Tunnell and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith all are anxious to see the Pan American and San Angelo college bills passed. Bills finally were pulled out of the House State Affairs Committee, chaired by reluctant Rep. John Allen of Longview.

Allen threatened to resign over the pressure (committeemen kept him from doing so) because he couldn't see the money in sight to support the 20 colleges already in the state family.

No Tuition Hike In Sight
Dallas Reps. Ben Atwell and Dick Morgan's college tuition increase bills may never come out of the House Tax and Revenue Committee. This, even though Atwell is chairman and Morgan is a member of the committee.

Atwell proposed a doubling of state college tuition, as endorsed by the Commission on Higher Education. Morgan offered a compromise of a 50-per-cent increase.

But word already had come "from above" that there will be no tuition hike this year. That virtually ended it.

No Monument For The 49th
A Senate resolution to place a monument honoring the 49th Armored Division of the Texas National Guard on the State Capitol grounds was all but killed by the House State Affairs Committee, after Alpine Rep. Gene Hendryx called it "a disgrace to every veteran who ever served overseas in every war that Texas ever participated in."

The former Marine said, "The greatest battle this organization ever fought was the battle of the canteen at Fort Polk, Louisiana."

Seguin Rep. John Traeger defended the 49th, but the resolution was defeated by a vote of eight to seven.

However, a spark of life remains, since Rep. Ben Atwell used a device by which the resolution may be called up for another vote.

Railroad Commission Change Proposed
A plan to take the railroads and trucks away from the Railroad Commission has been proposed by Rep. Henry Grover of Houston, who told the House:

"Recent developments indicate that the Railroad Commission is overworked, and has more to do than it can handle."

Grover inferred that these indications are the slant-hole oil well scandals and the conflict-of-interest resignation of former Commissioner William J. Murray Jr.

Grover introduced H. B. 1041, to ease some of the workload by removing the commission's authority over the transportation industry, and leaving it with just oil and gas regulatory authority.

The "Texas Commerce Commission", to regulate railroads, bus lines, truck lines, and so forth, would be made up of three $15,000 a year commissioners.

Railroad Commission was set up in 1891 to regulate the railroads. But authority over oil and gas, since 1917, has caused most of its time and attention to turn in that direction.

Congressional Redistricting
A crowd of witnesses from the late Speaker Sam Rayburn's 4th Congressional district is due to oppose the Congressional redistricting bill which would abolish the old 4th, and relocate it in South Texas.

Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall succeeded in delaying Senate committee action on the measure to May 7, so the opponents can come to Austin.

House passed the bill to the Senate, over protests from Rep. Don Hefton of Sherman. Delay on the hearing may put the redistricting proposal, authored by Rep. Rayford Price of Frankston, in jeopardy.

Governor Connally has said he saw no need for Congressional redistricting this session. He thought it could be handled in 1965.

Meanwhile, U. S. Congressman Ray Roberts, who now represents the old 4th, doesn't seem worried about losing his job. He's looking for a press liaison man for his Washington office.

At-Large Elections Suggested

Eighty Texas counties, in which two county precincts or more, represent a fraction of the total county vote, would be affected if a constitutional amendment by Rep. Lindsey Rodriguez of Hidalgo ever comes to a favorable vote by the public.

Under Rodriguez' plan, if a total number of votes cast in two or more commissioners' precincts amount to less than 20 per cent of the total vote cast in the election of all four commissioners, the commissioners would be required to run on a county-wide-at-large basis.

Rodriguez described the most extreme example of a situation he's trying to cure—that in Kleburg county where two of the county's four commissioners' precincts "are behind locked gates" on the King Ranch, where 80 voters reside.

Witnesses from around the state appeared in favor of Rodriguez' proposal.

But Gaines County Judge Charles Lawrence said the County Judges and Commissioners Association is opposed.

Lions Ladies' Night Attracts Ninety-Eight

With Judge W. R. Bearce as president of the Lions club presiding and Carroll Ratliff as master of ceremonies, 98 people turned out Monday night at the Memorial Building for the Lions club ladies night and banquet in observance of the 35th anniversary of the founding of the club.

Ed Blanton of San Angelo, who was one of the group of Lions from that city who helped organize the local club, was on hand at the meeting Monday night as a special guest, along with Mrs. Blanton.

Following invocation by the Rev. Dan Sebesta, the banquet was served by Fred and Flora Riley with a group of helpers. The meal ended with serving of the large especially decorated cake with purple and gold icing carrying out the "35th anniversary" theme.

Several 1928 copies of the Eldorado Success, one of which told of the organizational meeting of the Lions club, were displayed on one wall.

International Counselor Buzzie Stokes of Sonora was a guest. Pre-dinner music was rendered on the piano by Joe Kreklow.

Carroll Ratliff presented Monarch awards as follows: Robert Nixon, W. H. Hale, 10-year; Charlie Trigg, John Stigler, Roy Andrews, 15-year; Jimmie West, Perry Mittel, Tom Ratliff, Charlie Hahn, 20-year; W. G. Godwin, 25-year; E. W. Brooks, W. O. Alexander, A. M. Whitis, 30-year; and Don McCormick, J. E. Hill, Ernest C. Hill, 35-year.

Don McCormick was the only one of the latter group of three charter members of the club on hand to receive his 35-year certificate.

A telegram was read from Lions International headquarters in Chicago congratulating the club on its anniversary celebration. It was signed Curtis Lovell, International president.

Since the Lions club has long been the sponsor of the Boy Scout work in this county, J. B. Morris was on hand to present charters for the Cub Scout pack, The Scout troop, and the Explorer post. He also presented a Certificate of Appreciation from the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America to the Eldorado Success "in recognition of service to American youth."

The club observed a moment of silence for Henry Speck, member who died this past year.

A trio consisting of Mrs. Vernon Rogers, Mrs. Billy Frank Blaylock and Mrs. Roy Phelps sang "Tenderly" and "There Are Such Things" accompanied by Joe Kreklow.

Deputy District Governor Percy Pace introduced David "Doc" Ellis of Midland as speaker for the evening. Mr. Ellis discussed the aims and objects of Lionism and complimented the club for past accomplishments, and reiterated goals for the future.

Dr. Steve Shannon, deputy district governor from Midland was also on hand.

The trio closed the program by singing "My Task."

E-Club Fishing Trip

Friday afternoon the members of the "E" club and several adults left Eldorado for the Devil's River and their annual fishing trip.

The "E" club members on the trip were Sam Henderson, Mike McCravy, Bobby Halbert, Richard Preston, Tip Finley, Ronnie Williams, George Draper, Lynn Meador, Larry Blair, Buzz McCormick, Dennis Jurecek, Corky Hodges, John McGregor and Ray Ballew.

Adults were: Messrs. Jack Halbert, Nick Jurecek, Ed Meador, George Draper, Raymond Mittel, Orland Harris, Robert Jay, Douglas Jung, Sam Henderson, Hal Whitten, Earl Barnett, Guy Whitaker, and Mr. Wilford Harris of Henderson, Texas.

It was a very successful trip with many good sized fish being caught by everyone. The largest fish was a 25-pound catfish caught on a trotline by Coach Whitaker and Mr. Jay. A good time was had by all.

We would like to give special appreciation and thanks to Mr. Henderson, who let us use his fishing lease and grounds for a campsite, to Mr. Harris who cooked all of our meals, and to all of the men who took pick-ups to carry the gear and the boys.

School Drop-Outs Face Bleak Future

Austin.—During the next five years, about 325,000 young Texans will walk out of school between the ninth grade and high school graduation, a state school official estimates.

In dollars and cents, this step represents a loss of close to $75 billion in lifetime income.

Some startling facts about the dropout problem are reported in the April issue of the "Texas Outlook," the Texas State Teachers Association magazine.

Out of every five pupils in the first grade in 1949-50, only two were graduated from Texas high schools in 1960-61. There were 208,452 in that first grade, and only 85,102 of them received a high school diploma.

The graduating class of 1965 was in the eighth grade in 1960-61, and there were 176,988 of them. Education officials already are predicting that 70,000 of these boys and girls won't be at graduation ceremonies in 1965.

The transition from the ninth grade to the tenth grade is considered the first really critical point. Most boys and girls become 16 years of age that year, and the compulsory attendance law no longer applies to them and their parents. Moreover, they are moving from junior to senior high school, with a stiffer curriculum.

Dropouts face a dead end in a world where education and its skills in the employment field are becoming a necessity, the "Outlook" article states.

Automation is eliminating the menial kinds of jobs which these kids can do," says Victor Sumner of the Texas Education Agency research division, who made the dropout estimate.

"People in the employment field tell me that the hard core of unemployment now is composed of dropouts from 20 to 30 years ago."

Education authorities hope to approach the problem in one direction by focusing on a research study of the migrant child and his education. The State Board of Education authorized the study last year and a report is expected soon.

The bafflement of the dropout story is finding the causes early enough, the "Outlook" reports.

Before moving from McCamey to Eldorado several months ago, Mrs. Emerick was president of the women's auxiliary at McCamey and continues to hold that post.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerick joined a number of McCamey friends at the Odessa meeting and accompanied them to McCamey for a visit after the close of the convention.

The two-day session featured business meetings, inspirational addresses, lunches and recreation. All enjoyed a good time and the Emericks returned home late Sunday night.

V. F. W. district convention is scheduled for June 26-29 in Lubbock.

Work Week End Set At Camp Sol Mayer

In order to prepare Camp Sol Mayer near Fort McKavett for the upcoming summer season, the Concho Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America announces that a work camp will be held there this week end.

Scouters, men who work with Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, or Explorers, will gather from all over the 23 1/2-county council area Friday night for a fun and fellowship period. Three meals will be served all hands Saturday.

The projects Saturday will include painting, building camp facilities, plumbing, roof repair and building eight new patrol shelters on several of the troop sites; and repair of the council fire ring; also other work projects to be announced.

The work camp will close with breakfast early Sunday morning.

Vincent Hobbs, new executive of the Concho Valley Council, has charge of arrangements for the work camp.

Armed Forces Day

The Department of Defense celebrates the 14th annual observance of Armed Forces Day during the period May 11-19 when the Armed Forces invite the public to view and inspect this nation's defense capabilities and military readiness.

Armed Forces Day symbolizes the purpose of unification of the military services by demonstrating their close personal relationship in progressively maintaining this country's unity and strength in support of the world order and justice.

In San Angelo active and reserve units of all services are planning a week-long celebration beginning with an Open House on Saturday May 11, at Mathis Field and closing with a downtown parade and a luncheon at the Good-fellow Officers' Club at which Maj. Gen. Richard P. Klocko, Commander, USAF Security Service, will be principal speaker.

Ever since Walt Disney's epic production last fall of "Johnny Shiloh," almost any youngster can tell you who the youngest soldier of the Union Army was. But how many know the name of the youngest man to serve in the Confederate Army?

We don't know for sure, but if information obtained a few days ago is correct, it may have been Charles D. W. McNeill, the great grandfather of Mrs. Truett Williams of Salada.

Mrs. Williams, a native of Galveston, showed us a medal handed down from her late father, Mr. Charles P. Eidelback, that we believe to be an authentic one worn by McNeill who after the War became a dentist in Port Lavaca and Matagorda. The medal is undoubtedly one worn by McNeill as commander of a Confederate veteran's organization, probably a local chapter of the U.C.V. (United Confederate Veterans).

The bar across the top of the medal by which it is pinned to the coat, reads "Sutton Camp No. 1404." The second bar carries the word "Commander," and small round disk suspended from the second bar reads "C.D.W. McNeill, youngest soldier of the Confederate Army, Age 13 years, 5 months, 21 days, Co H., 4th Georgia Inf. Sta., enlisted 1861, paroled 1865.

Mrs. Williams said the medal had been in her family ever since she could remember and recalled the esteem in which it was held by her father and grandfather. "Every once in a while, my dad would get out the medal for us to see and would tell us again that it belonged to his grandfather," she said.

"Once I was allowed to take it to school during a time we were studying the Civil War and remember how proud I was of it," she recalled.

Mrs. Williams has done some research on her great grandfather but has turned up very little regarding his Civil War service. She did learn that his wife was Cornelia Hardin, a daughter of A. B. Hardin who was a signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence.

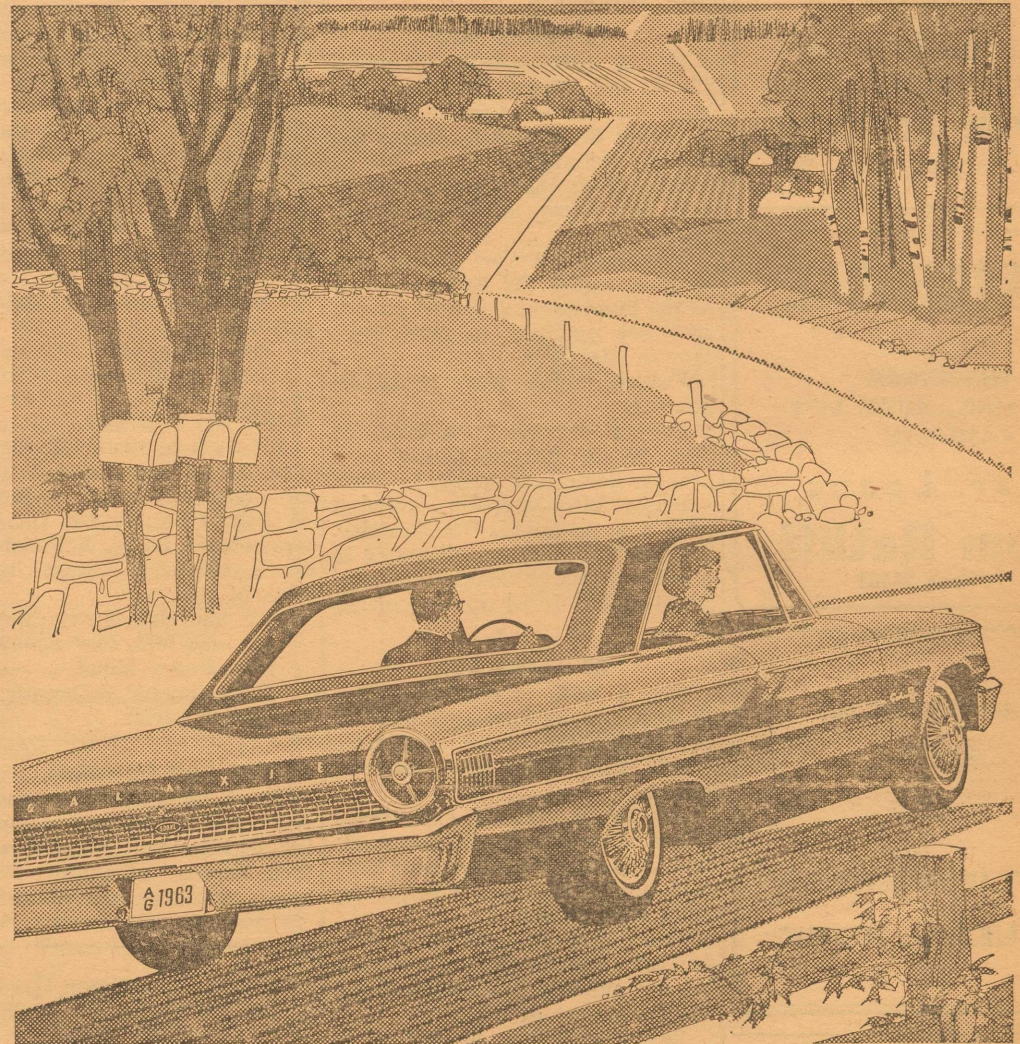

Anyone knowing where information on McNeill can be located, is invited to write this columnist.

Recommended Reading for This Week — Ashley Halsey, Jr., who wrote a series of true untold stories for the Saturday Evening Post, has now put these stories together in WHO FIRED THE FIRST SHOT? which Hawthorn Books has published. Here between covers are some of the finest stories to come out of the Civil War—and recreated by a master story teller who loves his subject. This is sure to catch on with buffs and others interested in the War.

Chilton Book Company of Philadelphia has three Civil War books that are still available in first editions, each of which covers a subject that has long needed a writing about. These are REBELLION IN MISSOURI: 1861 by Hans Christian Adamson, the story of how General Nathaniel Lyon and his Army of the West took Missouri for the Union; LINCOLN'S SECRET WEAPON by Winifred E. Wise, a well-written biography of Anna Ella Carroll who is credited with planning some of Lincoln's campaigns; and INFERNO AT PETERSBURG by Henry Pleasants, Jr., and George H. Straley, the heretofore untold story of Union Lt. Col. Henry Pleasants and his incredible tunnel under the center of the Confederate lines at Petersburg.

These latter three volumes should focus attention on these three little-known phases of the Great War.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500/XL SPORTS HARDTOP

IF YOU KNEW WHAT HE KNOWS...YOU'D BE DRIVING THE 1963 TOTAL PERFORMANCE FORD

Ford is traditionally the nation's Number One police car. The reason: Total Performance!

When it comes to cars the police don't take chances. Put yourself in a State Trooper's shoes. Every day you must patrol hundreds of miles in your cruiser. Mileage and time grind into a man and his machine, but when the bell rings you've got to be ready. Chase. Turn. Corner. Quick stop. You've got to be able to do it all if you're going to do your job.

Listen to a trooper list the reasons why he prefers a Ford and you realize how difficult it is for any car to measure up to his standards. The car must be strong... it has to stand up to big mileage. It must be silent... when you practically live in a car a rattle can sound like a kettle drum. It must be swift... powerful enough to catch any car on the road. It must be sure... dependable even in the face of the unexpected. Strong. Silent. Swift. Sure. A four-word outline of total performance. The police demand it. That is why they choose the total performance Ford. Why should you settle for anything less?

Whatever your special demands and needs, the total performance Ford is the car most likely to satisfy you all the way down the line. You can prove this for yourself.

First, look at Ford's astounding record in open competition this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's, and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance could roll up so many impressive wins.

Second, before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery—if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

4-H's Shine Up House For Spring

Home Improvement Program Teaches Latest Methods

Hard working 4-H Club members throughout the state are helping with Spring cleaning and dressing up their homes. They are quite adept at painting, papering, and refurbishing just about any area in the house.

They have learned these skills in the 4-H home improvement program which annually attracts hundreds of girls and boys. Their ingenuity and perseverance add beauty and comfort to their homes.

Public Library Modernized Usually other members of the family are involved because any major project requires cash and parental approval of changes to be made.

Sometimes a 4-H home improvement project benefits the community. Such was the case last year in a small southern Kansas town. There 4-H'er Nancy Davey submitted modernized plans for the Mulvane City Library. They were approved and used in remodeling the structure.

One example of family enterprise in a California project was that of the Ervin Williams who purchased a home in Visalia. It needed a thorough going over.

Daughter Patricia, 19, through her 4-H home improvement training and learn-by-doing experiences made a major contribution.

Patricia helped with the planning, interior rebuilding and decorating. What's more she selected colors for walls and draperies, chose fabrics and sewed both draperies and curtains.

Home is Showplace

The Williams' home became a showplace for home improvement 4-H Clubs in the area. Patricia's reward was pride of accomplishment and saving her folks money.

Next fall the state winner named by the Cooperative Extension Service will receive a $150 scholarship. This award comes from the Sperry and Hutchinson Company through arrangements made by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

To purge or not to purge. That question is being discussed by political observers and writers.

This refers to a report that certain democratic political leaders plan a purge movement against conservative democrats in south who do not go along with the New Frontier in Congress. It is reminiscent of the FDR abortive purge efforts of New Deal days when the President openly attempted to induce the voters to retire such men as Senator George of Georgia, Senator Tydings of Maryland and others who did not go along in those days.

The recent flare-up stemmed from some high level meetings between the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE), and Charles D. Roche, deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee. The latter, a close associate of Bobby Kennedy, is supposed to reflect the views of the Attorney General. President Kennedy has disclaimed any active part in the plan, and so has John M. Bailey, the Democratic National Chairman.

At a series of political meetings in March, held in Tennessee, Little Rock and Houston, Roche was present along with top level COPE political leaders. Although publicity was avoided, the New York Times wrote a story detailing the plans that were advanced at those sessions. According to the story, it was agreed that a score of southern democrats would be purged next year, plus others to be added later. The idea was for the Roche-COPE combine to help find, support and finance opponents for those of us who have not followed the party line in Congress.

It was revealed that some such efforts were pushed during the last election year, with limited success. Charles E. Hooten, Jr., a Harvard classmate and close friend of Senator Ted Kennedy, and also a buddy of Bobby's, opposed conservative democrat Bob Casey of Houston in the primary last summer. During that campaign, the Democratic National Committee paid $300 to Lou Harris and Associates of New York in May of 1962 for a pre-primary poll in Casey's district, evidently for the purpose of helping Hooten's chances. Casey, however, won handily.

This incident is being cited as an indicator of steps the National Committee can be expected to take, along with others, in promoting opponents against sitting Members who are on the conservative side.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

Let's face it. We simply have no legitimate excuse for not knowing our nutritional facts today.

I know that nutritional news is not the most exciting reading making the rounds today but it's important—so for your sake take a minute or two and read the following statement:

Calories Do Count . . .

Calories do count, despite all you may have heard otherwise, says Louise Mason, Extension Service food and nutrition specialist.

Technically, a calorie is a heat unit designed to measure the amount of energy or heat released by various foods as they are utilized by the body, she explains.

"Both the energy you supply in the food you eat and the energy you need for all you do is measured in calories," Miss Mason adds.

The balance between the energy supplied and the energy needed is important to growth and weight in youth and especially to weight in the adult. You need to supply enough calories to meet the body's need but not more than your body can use.

When you eat food that gives more calories than your body uses for energy, the excess or leftover will be stored as fat. Nature is frugal and does not want to waste anything. The extra fat will likely be stored where you want it least and where it shows the most. Thus, a balance of intake of food and output of energy is needed to maintain weight, the specialist points out.

Choose your calories by the company they keep. It is extravagant and nutritionally unwise to spend a large share of your calorie allowance without getting the nutrients you need. Thus, we must know something more about foods than just calorie values. What are the nutrients in the various kinds of foods.

Well-chosen calories come from foods in the four food groups—milk, meat, vegetables and fruits, and breads and cereals. No one food can supply all the nutrients your body needs. Choices should be made from a large variety of foods every day. And beware of "empty calorie" foods—they may fill you up, but you likely will not be well fed, the specialist adds.

News memo to Joe Christian: The following report came directly from the Washington office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

Wool Blankets Are Warmest

If you're thinking of buying a new blanket during the spring sales, here's some information that may prove useful.

Textile researchers at the Minnesota Agricultural Experiment Station—who recently tested blankets composed entirely or in part of wool, acrylic, rayon or nylon fibers—found that blankets made of just one fiber were generally better than those made of fiber blends.

All wool blankets ranked highest in warmth. After repeated launderings, wool blankets retained their thickness better than any other fibers.

The rayon blends were soft and fluffy when new, but reacted poorly to launderings and were highly flammable.

Washing in an automatic washer, the researchers found, was satisfactory for all blanket types—if the recommended washing procedures were followed.

That's what you said in the first place—wasn't it Joe?

There is much being said about learning today. We insist that our boys and girls yet in school learn all they can. The body of Knowledge to be learned even by an ordinary person is growing so fast we can't keep up with it. We give various excuses to ourselves and friends as to the reasons why we don't study and try to keep up any more; sometimes we fool them and sometimes we don't.

So, since learning is increasing in its necessity some work has been done on what makes us learn. These are some of the things educators have found out:

People learn what THEY want to learn; not what we want them to learn. People learn what they understand.

People need to be taught with patience, gentleness, but with firmness.

People learn more by what is right than what is wrong.

Recognizing one's improvement has a positive effect upon learning.

People learn more in a friendly atmosphere than any other kind.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen and son, Johnny Lawrence, visited their son and brother, David Lawrence and family in Odessa over the week end. While there Mr. and Mrs. George Cales, former Eldorado residents, visited them for a while. Mrs. Cales had just returned from a two weeks visit in Dallas with her daughter, Janice Ann.

To Attend Boys State

LYNN MEADOR

Selected as this year's representative of the Bev McCormick Post of The American Legion to the Boys State meeting in Austin in June was Lynn Meador, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Meador.

Each year the local post sponsors a boy from the Junior class to attend Boys State, which is sponsored by the Department of Texas of The American Legion.

The young men selected from schools over the state can put their leadership abilities into use during their Senior year in high school. At Boys State they spend several days putting parliamentary procedures into action, since the setup is modeled along the lines of the State Legislature.

Lynn is president this year of his Junior class and is president-elect of the Student Council for next year. He has been on the Student Council for two years, and lettered in football two years, in track two years, and in basketball two years. He was named to the National Honor Society this year.

George Draper is alternate delegate from here to Boys State.

PERFORM IN CONCERT

Denton.—Judy Sue Hext and Lynda M. McGinnes, both of Eldorado, performed Tuesday, April 16, in a joint concert by the North Texas State University Women's Chorus and the Percussion Ensemble. The program included three sections of songs by the 35-voice chorus and six numbers by the 10-member ensemble.

Dr. David C. McGuire of the NTSU music faculty directs both groups.

A freshman music student at NTSU, Miss Hext sang with the Women's Chorus and also served as accompanist for the choir. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack N. Hext of Eldorado.

Miss McGinnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton A. McGinnes, is a freshman music education major. She is a member of the Women's chorus.

LEAVING ON TRIP

Mrs. Joe Garvin leaves tomorrow for San Angelo where she will visit in the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sheaffer. They will all leave over the week end for York, Nebraska, to visit in the home of the Sheaffers' daughter, Mrs. Larry Larson and family.

On the return to San Angelo they will be accompanied by Mrs. Larson and her two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene McCalla were in Abilene April 20th where they visited their daughter, Genelle, on Parent Day at Abilene Christian College.

Ed Meador had new curbing installed across the front of his home lot in Glendale last week, adding much to the appearance and drainage of the street in front of his house.

Solicitors Sell False Yellow Page Ads

R. L. Cole, district manager for General Telephone Co. of the Southwest, recently wrote Mayor Eldon Calk of Eldorado:

"We have received reports that a group of solicitors are moving through the country selling what they call yellow page advertising. They canvass in towns just prior to a regular telephone directory advertising campaign and leave an impression with the telephone customers that their advertising will appear in the next telephone directory.

"A particular publication of this type was recently produced by South West Directory Company of Abilene but is not associated in any manner with the Southwest Bell Telephone Company's regular directory.

"This information is passed to you in order that you may alert the business people in your community and avoid involvement in any possible misrepresentation by outsiders. It is suggested that businessmen request credentials if approached by directory representatives with whom they are not acquainted."

THE SECOND GRADE

Brownie Troop hiked from the Memorial Building to the roadside park Tuesday for a wiener roast. Fifteen girls and four leaders were present.

Judy Davidson and Norma Kay Mund taught the girls some new Scout songs and told stories.

This was the last troop meeting this year. —Rep.

LIVE MANNEQUINS CREATE INTEREST IN AUSTIN

The Colony, a fashion shop on 25th street in Austin, used coeds as mannequins in their window to model sportswear recently, creating quite a bit of excitement when one of them moved.

Miss Pam Calk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Calk, was one of the models and according to an article from the Austin Statesman, created quite a bit of excitement when she smiled and waved at the passers-by while wearing a two-piece bathing suit. Some even made U-turns on the Drag.

The Texas relays were going on at the time so there was quite a crowd in Austin. It was said that one fellow with a sack lunch had parked himself across the street for six hours.

CALKS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yancy and four children of Austin spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Calk and family. Mr. Yancy is a pharmacist and has relieved Mr. Calk several times for vacations when he lived in San Angelo before moving to Austin.

Several other pharmacists from San Angelo came down Sunday and went on a prairie dog hunt out on a ranch, and had assembled at the Calks' home for a patio supper when Mrs. Harold Gearhart, wife of one of the men there called and said that Paul Hudman, Mr. Gearhart's partner, had died of a heart attack in San Angelo. The others on hand were George Shelton, a pharmacist at Concho Drug and Jack Landis, a salesman for Wyth.

FIREMEN GO TO BIG LAKE

Several Eldorado firemen including the chief, Palmer West, went to Big Lake Tuesday night and met with the Big Lake fire department. Members of the Big Lake department are interested in changing from their association to the Hill Country Association, and are impressed by the interest the Eldorado department has shown in the work. Members of the Sonora department will visit with them next Tuesday night. About 20 members of the Big Lake department were present Tuesday night to greet the visiting firemen.

Eldon Calk and Johnny Lawrence were in Austin last Thursday and visited with Pam and at the University.

Claude Doyle went to Irving last week end and brought Mrs. Doyle home after she had spent a week visiting her daughter, Mrs. Billy Jack Etheredge, Mr. Etheredge, Jackie Susan and new grandson, Billy Gregg. She reported all of them were doing fine so she decided to come home, and they drove through stormy weather all the way from Fort Worth, where it was really rough, to Brownwood.

Corvair Monza Club Coupe

Who needs muscles?

Do you know how easy it is to take a corner with a Corvair or park one? Turn this newspaper sideways and it will give you a pretty good idea. The wheel handles just about that easily.

The Corvair's engine is in the rear, for not only greater traction, but more balanced weight distribution. And that's what makes the steering so completely effortless.

The engine is air cooled, too. No radiator. No water or antifreeze. No boiling over or freezing up to worry about. It takes the weather and the terrain as it comes.

AT YOUR CHEVROLET DEALERS

So think about those trips to the beach this summer, those bright sunny days and balmy moonlit nights. And besides, looking at it from a very practical point of view, it's Trade 'N' Travel time right now at your Chevrolet dealer's. He's got some beautiful buys.

But you had better hurry before somebody muscles in ahead of you. Spring's here. Summer's coming fast. And with these sporty good-looking Corvairs selling the way they are, he who hesitates will want to kick himself.
