62ND YEAR

ELDORADO — SCHLEICHER COUNTY — TEXAS THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1963

NUMBER 30

School Will Open On September 3rd

The Schleicher County schools will open for a full day of operation on Tuesday, September 3, for the 1963-64 session, according to A. M. Whittis, superintendent. The faculty is complete as of the present date and organizational activities are progressing according to schedule. The school board is to be congratulated on a gradual reduction of the $1.75 tax voted as an emergency measure in 1961. In 1962-63 the tax was lowered 5 cents, and in 1963-64 the tax will still be lowered 5 cents. The school board has kept its promise to the community that it would lower the tax, until now it is $1.65. Practically one third of the faculty has been in summer school taking advanced work in their fields, and some have had short vacations, and some have had summer recreational jobs.

It took Sonny Liston just two minutes and 10 seconds Monday night to knock out Floyd Patterson in a return bout for world's heavy-weight championship, which was held at Las Vegas, Nev.

It was just about a repeat of their first bout held last September when Liston gained the championship in two minutes and six seconds.

Fight fans are now looking forward to a match between Liston and one Cassius Clay, who has been going around for months bragging about what he will do to Liston. Tentative plans are for a match in Philadelphia on Sept. 30.

C. A. Wimer has bought the Albert Tisdale house in Glendale. The house was built about 12 years ago by Ray Tisdale. The sale was arranged by James Williams Real Estate.

Highway construction is creeping closer and closer to the center of town. Yesterday it had passed the Methodist church where there is now a "canal" three feet deep. They dig out the old road bed and haul it away; then fill in with new caliche base. It's that way now, all the way from Shugart's apartment in Glendale up into town. By the time you read this the canal may be opened to Whitten's Gulf station.

Tuesday: Grass fire no. 3— In the alley behind the Bert Page residence, grass fire started near trash barrel. Quickly put out. 5:00 p.m., Wednesday: No fire alarm today. That's news, in a way.

Eldorado is sorry to lose a group of Service Pipe Line men, whose departure is scheduled soon. They have all been regarded as good citizens and will be missed from the places they have occupied in the civic life of the community.

The residences they vacate will undoubtedly be quickly snapped up and re-occupied since housing is in short supply here. We predict it will cause a chain reaction, with lots of moving going on during August.

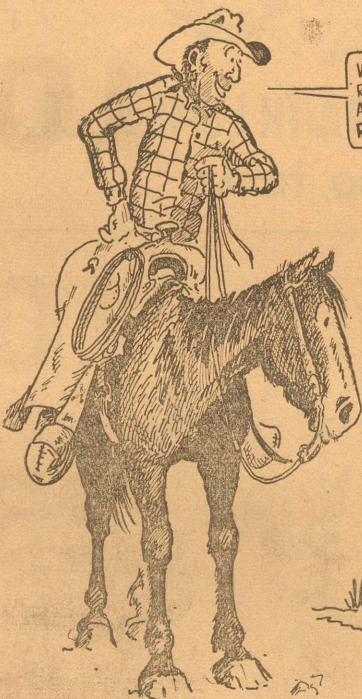

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weeks and daughter Susan of Sterling City were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen Wednesday.

The other members of the crew were interviewed for jobs with Colonial Pipe Line Co., in Snyder Tuesday, and unless they are placed with Colonial they will be transferred to Post, Texas. Landis Lee has elected to exercise his bumping rights and will go to Port Sulphur, La., unless accepted by Colonial.

Coaches Mull Over Prospects of Eagles As '63 Season Nears

By Peyton Cain

They say "Old Fire Horses" get extremely nervous at the sound of a fire alarm; but their uneasiness is nothing when compared to that of a Texas high school football coach along about mid-July beginning at the first cool morning. It gets so by August, some coaches sit upright in their sleep when a noise sounds like the "thunk" of punter's foot makes when he lays his boot to a football. Certain Eldorado citizens feel these "psychic phenomenon" and the time of year is right for them to occur. Also, about this time of year high school boys begin talking in their sleep mumbling odd remarks like "slots," "red dog," "umbrellas," and "shift."

And it's getting that time of year for the Eldorado Eagles who, to the dismay of all Eagle fans, have been already tagged with a big "bull's eye" by a Waco sports-writer—he picks them for District 8A winners. Now fans and coaches know that this is a sort of kiss of death as its puts every other team in District 8A in the "underdog" role and makes it certain that the Eagles will meet each other team at its peak of competitive spirit.

It's true that the Eagles were "District runnersup" in 1962, and lost only one game in ten starts which is above average for the usual Class 1A Texas high school. Five of the sturdy lads who won't be back are Ray Lewis Ballew at end, Dennis Jureck and Ellis Loden at tackles, Bill Lester at guard, and durable John McGregor at quarterback. The determination, leadership and experience in possession of these young men will be sorely missed, four of them earning all-district honors last year.

Six defensive starters will be missing also; these being Ray Lewis Ballew, Clyde Thackerston, Corky Hodges, Dennis Jureck, Ellis Loden, Bill Lester, Jim O'Harrow and John McGregor.

When queried, Coach Earl Barnett seemed most concerned about the Eagles' defensive posture while he conceded that a casual look at the replacements coming up, although heartening, could not be regarded as the full answer to the problem. He continued that a number of players may assume new positions in order to strengthen the Eagles both offensively and defensively.

He spoke cheerfully of the "B" team lads coming up who could provide competition for veteran Eagles remaining. He listed these lads with a one-word summation of each: Scott McGregor, a sophomore back, and "sharp;" David Whitten, a junior back, "scrappy;" Ronnie Griffen, a junior back, "speed;" Sam Henderson, sophomore back, "tough;" Monty Montgomery, junior back, "smart;" Charles Nixon, sophomore back, "rugged;" Richard Preston, six-ft.

four-inch junior tagged as "the receiver;" Roy Lynn Love, a promising junior back slated for study in a new position, "most improved;" Phil McCormick, junior lineman, "great potential;" Jimmy Belk, sophomore lineman, "meanest;" Steve Blaylock, sophomore, "good movements;" Roy Swain, junior lineman, "hustler;" John Phillips, sophomore lineman, "a new man;" and Wayne McGinnes, sophomore lineman, "size."

He listed returning lettermen as follows:

Lynn Meador, all-district offense and defense, a two-year letterman with speed and savvy. Offensively he will operate from left half or possibly quarter back. Height 5'10" and weight 155 pounds. Jackie Mackey, honorable mention all-district for sterling defensive play in latter part of 1962 season; big, weighing 210 pounds at 6'1". Could develop into best Eagle lineman; one-year letterman.

George Draper, honorable mention all district as an offensive guard. A three-year letterman and a real fireball on the field. Slated for more defensive action than usual. Height 5'8" and weight at 165 pounds.

Mack (Mauling Mack) McAngus, a two year letterman, a devastating fullback with power and speed. Carried the ball more times than any other back in 1962, and he will have the same role this year. Height 6'-0, and weight 130.

Larry Blair, a one-year letterman 5'-10" tall weighing 165 lbs., a good blocker, pass receiver, and defensive corner back; steady and dependable.

Gary Whitten, one-year letterman, 5 ft. 10, weighing 150 pounds. Last year's performance hurt by a broken hand suffered early in the season and other minor injuries. There should be a difference this go-around.

Ronnie Williams, a one-year letterman, 6 ft. tall, weighing 150 pounds, a speedy half-back who may be moved to strengthen his team this fall.

Then there are Bobby Halbert, 5 ft. 10 at 160 pounds; Tip Finley, 5 ft. 10, 160 pounds; and Rex McCormick, 5 ft. 10 and 180 pounds; all three one-year lettermen, who saw some action last fall and who are ready to mix it with the best of them this fall.

Coach Barnett concluded that individually this group looks as good as any. The biggest task facing the Eagle coaching staff is to mould a team and not field eleven individuals. The staff intends to accomplish this between August 19, when University Interscholastic League rules say Class 1A high schools may start football practice and September 2, the day before the date Schleicher schools open their doors and two-day workouts perform end.

The Eagles will undergo physical examinations on August 9, beginning at 7:00 o'clock with Dr. E. L. Dyer. Currently Coach and Mrs. Barnett and daughter are visiting and will return on August 9, after coaching school and in time for the physical examinations.

(Next week will feature discussion of schedules for the Junior High team, the B team and of the Eagles who open in Eldorado against the tough Rock Springs Angoras.

PASTURE FIRE SATURDAY

The fire department was called out for a grass fire late Saturday afternoon to the S. D. Harper ranch some 12 or 15 miles out on the Mertzon highway.

When the firemen got there neighboring hands were already on the job fighting the blaze, which was put out after burning over a few acres.

Orval Edmiston has been attending the State Sheriffs' Conference in San Antonio this week. He is expected home today, Thursday.

Austin. — Gov. John Connally says Texas is making a lot of progress on civil rights without demonstrations and disturbances. He urged Texans to avoid the trouble which is plaguing other states.

Roy Evans, secretary of Texas State AFL-CIO, indicated mass demonstrations are needed in Lower Rio Grande Valley to improve working conditions of Mexican workers. Connally commented such statements are irresponsible and inflammatory.

Governor also rejected labor's appeal for a special session of the Legislature to abolish right-to-work law and enact state minimum wage, saying he saw "no, need, emergency or desirability" for such a session.

Evans said labor's traditional role is to try to inflame people against injustice, and he intends to keep on trying to do that.

Quick Change

From one of the unpaid boss jobs to a $16,500-a-year assistance is the story of Dr. J. B. Copeland of San Antonio.

When the Legislature created the new job of deputy commissioner of the Health Department, Dr. Copeland resigned as chairman of the State Board of Health to accept the job of deputy commissioner. He had been Board Chairman for the past ten years.

Governor Connally named Dr. N. L. Barker of Paris to replace Dr. Copeland. He reappointed Dr. Elmer Baum of Austin and named Dr. John M. Smith of San Antonio and I. D. Flores of Floresville, a pharmacist, to the Board of Health

Appointments

Connally made other appointments. A mong them:

S. A. Kerr of Huntsville and Dr. Joe A. Nelson of Weatherford, reappointments, and David A. Kimbell, Wichita Falls, to the board of regents of North Texas State University.

Ed Minor of Austin and W. R. Board of Pharmacy.

Sister Mary Brian Sherry of San Antonio and Mrs. Martha McClellan Davis, Beaumont, to Board of Nurse Examiners.

Dr. Richard T. Weber of Austin and Dr. James E. Makins, Lubbock to Board of Dental Examiners.

Judge Otis Dunagan of Tyler, former Atty. Gen. Grover Sellers of Sulphur Springs and Judge James H. Moore, Nacogdoches, to the new 12th Court of Civil Appeals at Tyler.

Judge Stephen F. Preslar, McCamey to the 8th Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso, replacing Justice Jim Langdon, whom he had named to the Railroad Commission Charles Sherrill, Fort Stockton, to replace Preslar as district judge Judge Howard P. Green of Cuero, Paul Nye of Corpus Christi and T. Gilbert Sharpe, Brownsville, to the new 13th Court of Civil Appeals in Corpus Christi.

Mayor Joe E. Kelly, Victoria, to replace Green as district judge.

Eugene R. Hoyt of Orange, Jack Pierce of Nacogdoches, Warren P. Cunningham Jr., of Houston, Arthur C. Leshar Jr., of Houston, as district judges.

Ward R. Burke of Lufkin, Dr. George Andrew Constant of Victoria and C. E. (Sonny) Bentley of Abilene, to Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools.

George Christian of Austin, who was administrative assistant to former Gov. Price Daniel, as Governor's press secretary, replacing Wilbur Evans, who went to sports press relations.

Loans

Frank Miskell of Austin, who headed up the Texas Legislature's studies on the loan shark problem, will be the administrator of the new law which regulates licensed lenders.

Miskell was chosen by the State Finance Commission to be the first Regulatory Loan Commissioner. He will assume his new duties in August 23.

Dry and Wet

Texas is spotted with drought and flood points.

Texas Water Commission found that reservoirs declined a little in June. They wound up the month 76 per cent full, so there's room to store more floods when and if they come. In general, Northeast Texas reservoirs are full, while those in South Texas are shrinking

Roads

Highway construction is one thing dry weather helps.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer reported that contractors on state and federal projects completed $24,073,319 worth of work during June.

But there's plenty yet to do. They hold contracts which total $382,872,803 and another $25,000,000 worth of contracts will be issued this week.

Do Fence Them In

Texas Highway Department has endorsed the idea of building "median rails" on busy urban expressways. Rails—heavy duty fences which keep traffic from careening into opposite lanes—have been or will be installed around Houston, Fort Worth and Austin.

Also under development by highway engineers is a woven wire mesh fence—similar to backyard chain-link jobs—to reduce headlight glare and to prevent pedestrians from crossing the freeways.

Oil Holds Up

Despite recommendations by several major oil buying firms that Texas production be cut in August the Railroad Commission held the line. Production will continue at the July rate of 28.5% of capability of the wells. Independents praised the action.

Higher Education

Texas Committee on Education Beyond the High School has selected one of its members as paid executive director. He is Dr. A. B. Martin, president of Amarillo Junior College. He will co-ordinate all staff work for the big study. The committee has one year to finish its study and report to the Governor and Legislature.

Sadler Active

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler continues to be much in the news. Sadler disagreed with Governor Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr of seriousness of a state-federal dispute on reclaimed lands in the tidelands; swapped hot wires with ex-Sen. Bob Baker after Baker accused him of impeding Padre Island Seashore project; and insisted that Carr get Supreme Court concurrence on Carr's ruling that a new law reorganizing the School Land Board is valid.

Pollution Question

Texas Water Pollution Control Board granted a permit to discharge thousands of gallons of "treated effluent" in to the waters of Copano and Aransas Bays in connection with plans for a big new resort motel and marina at Lamar Townsite, Aransas County.

Objections voiced at public hearings led to the Commission's action in instructing backers of the project—American Liberty Oil Company—to extend the point of discharge 500 feet farther out into the bay area.

State School

Dr. James Turman, director of the Texas Youth Council, defended his council's action in either firing—or retiring—Supt. O. F. Perry of Gatesville State School. Perry and his supporters claim too much interference from Austin, too little discipline of boys. Youth Council denies this, contends policy differences caused the dismissal. M. B. Kendrick was named to replace Perry.

Short Snorts

Texas Game and Fish Commission, Department of Public Welfare, Board of Plumbing Examiners, Board of Professional Engineers, Board of Pardons & Paroles, Department of Agriculture, Department of Banking, and Building Commission are moving into the new John H. Reagan State Office Building.

Dr. Dorman Winfrey, director of the Texas State Library, announced that the Val Verde County Library recognized in December as one of the "Ten Best Small Libraries in the U. S.," also has been cited for its "top-flight public relations program."

Rep. Robert H. Hughes of Dallas will resign from the Legislature on September 1 to accept appointment as domestic relations court judge in Dallas.

Gettysburg, Pa.—The visitor to the Gettysburg Battlefield is at first overawed by the long lines of cannon ringing the city about. He is overwhelmed by the great number of markers and plaques describing the battle and the events which took place at the site of the markers and monuments. Everywhere he looks, a battery of silent cannon points at him from the edge of a wooded hillside.

His first thought is "I'll never be able to grasp the full significance of all that went on here because it's just too big and too much."

It is big and there is more than one can absorb in a short time. The battlefield covers 16,000 acres. There are 2,390 monuments. All told, 415 cannon ring the battlefield; some Union and some Confederate, pointing at each other from their approximate positions of a hundred years ago. There are 26 miles of paved avenues.

In addition, there are perhaps a dozen museums; restored homes, and buildings which figured in the battle that was calculated to help the visitor better understand what took place here. The Cyclorama, the Wax Museum, the Diorama, the Jennie Wade House, General Lee's Headquarters Building, General Meade's headquarters, the National Cemetery, the Lincoln museum in the building where Lincoln stayed before delivering his immortal Gettysburg Address—all of these and more the serious visitor will want to see.

But perhaps the best place for the visitor to go first of all is to the Electric Map in the Gettysburg National Museum. The map, by means of tiny lights which come and go, explains the battle in a way that even a small child can understand.

After seeing the map, the visitor is then in better position to understand the significance of the crucial battle whose story cannot be told in a few words. Devil's Den, the Wheatfield, Bloody Angle, the Peach Orchard, Little Round Top, Pickett's Charge—each is a story in itself, a story of heroic charge and bloody repulse, of uncommon courage and intense suffering by the men of both North and South.

Pickett's glorious charge across the open fields from Seminary Ridge and up the slopes of Cemetery Ridge—if such horrible carnage can be called glorious—truly marked the "high water mark of the Confederacy" for never again was the Civil War's final outcome in real doubt.

This writer and his sons were participants on Wednesday, July 3, in a symbolic re-enactment of that famed charge—a charge which saw 15,000 men under General George E. Pickett march nearly a mile across open fields into the mouth of Federal cannon and riflemen entrenched on Cemetery Ridge. Almost half of those who began the charge failed to return.

The symbolic re-enactment saw 500 gray-clad men in 11 separate brigades jump off from Seminary Ridge under cover of a smoke screen and march with regimental flags flying across the same fields crossed by Pickett's men toward Cemetery Ridge where 500 Union troops waited. Battle sounds were emitted by a loud speaker system for the benefit of the several thousand spectators, but the Confederates could not hear the sounds for the Rebel yells of their own men.

Eleven men from all over the South were chosen to lead the 11 brigades and to portray the part of the men who led them in the actual battle. This writer was chosen to portray Brig. Gen. Joseph Davis of Mississippi, a nephew of Jefferson Davis who commanded the 4th Brigade, 2nd Division, 3rd Corps, Army of Northern Virginia in the battle.

Our brigade was made up of the 11th, 2nd, and 42nd Mississippi regiments and the 55th North Carolina. The major portion of these regiments were filled by men of the Mountville, Pennsylvania, VFW Honor Guard which is called Civil War Co. A. The Pennsylvanians were commanded by Lt. Robert S. Keck and Sgt. Eugene M. Sheppard and we've never seen a finer outfit in today's army. Immediately upon our arrival at the campsite of this outfit, we were told that we "had a bunch of Pennsylvania Rebels on our hands."

The men were dressed in Confederate uniforms with arms and equipment of the period and really took the symbolic re-enactment seriously. This was not, however, the first such re-enactment in which they had participated. They had been at Manassas, Hanover, and other places where sham battles had been fought.

Corporals Mark Keisler and Philip M. Bryant of Lexington, South Carolina, along with several others from that Southern state were also members of our brigade and were sharp soldiers.

We'll not soon forget "serving" with these soldiers of the South who in their Confederate units are carrying on the traditions of the lost cause.

Nor will two of my youngsters forget marching in Pickett's Charge carrying the flags of the 42nd Mississippi and the 55th North Carolina and the other two will long remember being soldiers for a little while in the Confederate High Command's "Army of Northern Virginia."

The whole Confederate army at the symbolic re-enactment of the famed Pickett's Charge at Gettysburg was under the command of General Donald A. Ramsay, founder, organizer, and sustainer of the Confederate High Command.

WHAT BIRD IS THIS?

Among the most beautiful of our summer birds are the two species of Orioles which commonly inhabit our countryside and town. The Bullock's Oriole is the larger of the two. He is about 7½ to 8½ inches long, orange and black, with large white patches in his wings. The female Bullock's is yellow and green with a splash of whitish coloration across the middle of her belly. She, too, has white patches in her wings.

The smaller Orchard Oriole appears to be more numerous in most parts of the county than the Bullock's. The male is burnt orange with black, and thus is not so brilliantly colored as the male Bullock's Oriole. The female Orchard Oriole looks much like the female Bullock's, but she is smaller and lacks both the white wash on the belly and the white wing patches. Immature birds of both species resemble the females of their respective species but for minor points of difference.

The Bullock's Oriole (Icterus bullockii) and the Orchard Oriole (Icterus spurius) belong to the family Icteridae, of which there are 88 world members. Of these 88 species, 18 are to be found in Texas and 9 in Schleicher County. Our nine are the Western Meadowlark, the Yellow-headed Blackbird, the Redwinged Blackbird, the Orchard Oriole, the Baltimore Oriole, the Bullock's Oriole, Brewer's Blackbird, the Common Grackle, and the Brown-headed Cowbird. Of these nine the Western Meadowlark, the Red-wing, and the Cowbird are permanent residents; Yellow-headed Blackbird is a migrant; the Brewer's Blackbird is a winter resident; the Common Grackle is a winter visitor; the Baltimore Oriole is a rare migrant; and the two other Oriole species are summer residents. Due to the extreme variation within this family, it is difficult to point to common traits among the members of the group. Only their rather long, sharp bills seem to give them a common characteristic; but there are many species of other families with similar bills.

Both of our orioles breed commonly throughout the county. The nest of the Orchard Oriole is only about as deep as the diameter of its opening, but the Bullock's nest is very deep. Like other orioles, these two species build a woven sack of grass stems and other appropriate materials. The nests are hung at a distance of 12 or more feet from the ground in the limber branches of a tree's outer growth. On our rangeland these nests are usually to be found in mesquite trees, never in catclaw or other stiff, stubby rangeland trees. They may also be found in lawn trees of various sorts. Both species can be found here from April through September. The Orchard Oriole winters from Mexico to northern South America and the Bullock's from Western Mexico to Costa Rica.

The food of the oriole species consists largely of insects with only about 16% vegetable intake. The Orchard Oriole thrives on plant lice, small caterpillars, flies, and wasps. The Bullock eats similar insects, especially the caterpillars.

There is not a great deal that is outstanding about the orioles' habits. They are better known for beauty, but beauty after all is nature's most important gift. It matters little what one knows of nature, unless he apply that knowledge to the observation and preservation of beauty. A student of nature needs to be purely scientific in his identifications and studies of organisms. But all is pointless unless such study lead to an enrichment of human life through a deeper appreciation of nature. It is thus that our orioles represent a special gift of nature; for it is impossible to overlook the beauty of an oriole.

Gift Tea Honors Mrs. Kenneth Hicks

A gift tea honoring Mrs. Kenneth Hicks was held Saturday, July 20th, at the Memorial Building. In the receiving line with the honoree was Mrs. L. B. White, her mother, and Mrs. Ed Hicks.

Mrs. Colleen Hook was at the register. Beth McCalla served cake and Mrs. Margaret Alderman poured punch.

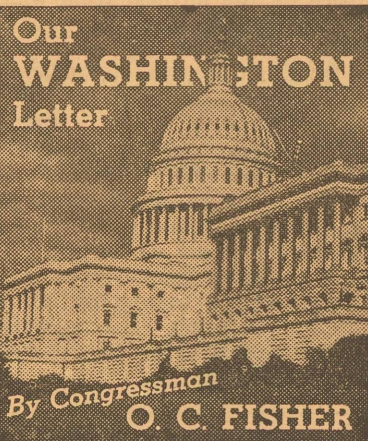

The table was decorated with two heart-shaped cakes and a bowl of orchid dahlias.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. James Alderman Mrs. Bill Hook and daughter of San Angelo, Mrs. White and Tommie, Mrs. Smith, and Miss Connie Carla of Blackwell.

Mrs. Vertis Murray and daughter, Joan, of Corpus Christi, visited her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen and family from Saturday until Tuesday. While here they toured the Sonora Caverns.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffin went to Houston last week end and brought their children, Johnny, Joan and Karen, home from a visit with their brother, Dan Griffin and family. They stopped in Boerne and picked up Zelma Griffin, and she is visiting them and with other relatives here this week.

Another questionnaire has been sent to voters in the 21st district. This one covers some of the more pressing issues of the day. The results should reflect a fairly accurate cross section of public opinion in our area.

This is the best way—and the only way—I know of for gauging the composite thinking of my constituents on the subjects covered. The success of the effort depends, of course, upon the extent of cooperation of the people who are willing to express themselves.

Polls like this are becoming increasingly popular in Congress.

... has been spent recently for industrial construction in our service area.

Even today, $28,000,000 is a lot of money. But a survey shows that this vast amount has been spent recently for construction of new industrial plants in our service area, and for expansion of existing ones.

The figure is evidence of two things. One is that our service area is becoming more and more industrialized. The other is that when we say "The Center of the Southwest" is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions, we have the facts to back it up.

The industrial figure is one fact. The commercial and civic improvement figures are others. Day by day we become more than ever convinced that this region faces growth unlimited.

... more proof that the Center of the Southwest is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions.

West Texas Utilities Company

There have been about 50 samplings taken by Congressmen this year. This practice has attracted considerable attention, and is being recognized as a fairly accurate barometer of public opinion.

This sampling technique was initiated by me on Capitol Hill some 10 years ago, and the idea has caught on. In the areas covered it is admittedly more accurate than the Gallup Poll. The results are known to be analyzed at the White House and by political par-isans as a way of learning how the public is reacting to programs that are being advanced.

When returns are complete, they will be tabulated and the results published in the Congressional Record. Because so much interest is being shown these days in what is going on in Washington, this seems to be a particularly good time to invite all the people to express themselves.

The U. S. submarine fleet is steadily growing. Equipped with Polaris missiles that are fired from submerged positions, this technique is becoming a vital factor in our over-all defense build-up. It is becoming one of our most powerful deterrents.

In a letter to me, from "At Sea, Gulf of Mexico, 16 July, 1963", Adm. H. G. Rickover informs me the USS BARB, our 18th attack type submarine has just completed all tests.

"In addition to the 18 attack nuclear subs," the Admiral added, "we also have 13 Polaris type submarines in operation. When all nuclear submarines are completed, the U. S. will have 41 Polaris and 47 attack submarines."

Pipeline Being Built To Ozona Gas Field

R. H. Fulton Construction Co. of Lubbock, contractors on the Northern Natural Gas Co. 35-mile pipeline from the Hunt-Baggett gas field in Crockett county, south and southwest of Ozona, to the company's compressor station near Eldorado, began laying pipe last week, starting from the Schleicher end of the line.

Right-of-way work and ditch digging has now crossed U. S. 290 east of Ozona bearing in a south-westerly direction toward state 163 south of Ozona.

Spokesmen for the company stated that work was progressing well with only the usual hitches developing from time to time. The company's work force on the job rose to 130 men last week as the project began to get into high gear.

The 35.2 miles of line now under construction is of the 12" major line with gathering system of smaller lines yet to be begun on the south end of the project.

The line now being laid runs south from the Eldorado Compressor station on the Sprayberry line and will end in the Hunt-Baggett field about 17 or 18 miles south of Ozona.

Every furnished apartment, or house or room for rent in Ozona was reported taken last week as the influx of workers continued even though a number of unfurnished houses were still available.

Reports indicated that all three tourist courts and both hotels were at capacity both Monday and Tuesday nights of last week, even tho the pipeline was not responsible for all of the people seeking housing. —Ozona Stockman.

GENERAL TELEPHONE OF THE SOUTHWEST

C. C. McLaughlin To Retire After Serving As Telephone Company Local Manager

Fellow employees will honor Charlie C. McLaughlin July 31 upon his retirement from General Telephone Company of the Southwest. Friends from Eldorado and Schleicher County are invited to attend the retirement reception to be held from 3 to 5 p. m., Wednesday, July 31 in the Memorial building.

Plans for the affair were announced this week by R. R. McCullough, district manager for the telephone company and long-time co-worker of McLaughlin. Telephone officials from the district and division and general office in San Angelo will attend.

McLaughlin would complete 37 years of service with General and its predecessor on September 1 of this year. In 1961 he was awarded a pin set with three diamonds in recognition of 35 years of service.

McLaughlin, and his wife, Eva J. who retired last year after a long time telephone career, have resided in Eldorado since 1935.

He and his wife reside in what was once the telephone office—a fact which further points up McLaughlin's claims that he's from a telephone family. At one time his father, his three brothers and his wife were all associated with the telephone company.

McLaughlin recalls that when he first came to Eldorado there were 210 magneto telephones in service and two long distance circuits between Eldorado and San Angelo. By the time Eldorado converted to dial in October, 1948, there were 575 telephones. At that time, McLaughlin says that a magazine article claimed that Schleicher county was the first county in Texas with 100 per cent dial service.

Today, there are over 923 telephones served by the Eldorado exchange and 10 long distance circuits. Twenty telephones have been gained this year.

A member of the Lions Club since moving to Eldorado, McLaughlin says he has held every office in the club. He was a charter member of the Volunteer Fire Department, but resigned after World War II "so some of those younger fellows who could run faster than I" could fill the membership quota.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin have two children, Mrs. Max Henry of Groves, Texas, and Charles, who, with his wife will graduate from Southwest State Teachers College in San Marcos this month.

The McLaughlins plan to continue to reside in Eldorado.

Lions Club Launches 1963-64 Year With Meeting Of The Board Of Directors Last Thursday Night

C. J. Hahn, manager of the local West Texas Utilities office, and new president of the Eldorado Lions club, presided at a meeting of the board of directors last Thursday night in the West Texas Cafe. The board made preliminary plans for the upcoming 1963-64 club year.

The club year just closed was highlighted by the 35th anniversary of the club which was observed in May with a ladies' night, and by a barbecue which the Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce gave last month in honor of the fire department.

The year closed on a rather depressing note when retiring president, W. R. (Dick) Bearce, was stricken with a stroke while attending the Lions International Convention recently in Miami. Bearce attended the convention with Mrs. Bearce and with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Trigg and after resting for a period in a Miami hospital and undergoing treatment there, was flown home to Eldorado where he is continuing to make satisfactory recovery.

Included on this year's slate of officers in the Lions club is Fred Watson, first vice-president. He is in charge of Attendance, Constitution and By-Laws, Audit, Finance, Membership, Program and United Nations.

Ray Boyer is second vice-president and he has charge of Boys and Girls, Citizenship and Patriotism, Convention, Greetings, Lions Information, Sight Conservation and Blind.

As third vice-president, C. A. Wimer has charge of Agriculture, Civic Improvement, Community Betterment, Education and Athletics, Health and Welfare, Publicity and Safety.

Other officers include Bill Rountree, secretary-treasurer; Rev. C. M. Nyquist, Lion tamer; and Rev. Kenneth Vaughan, Tail Twister.

Directors are Roy Phelps, Elton McGinnes, C. T. Humphries and Bill Gunstead. E. C. Hill is International Counselor, Louis D. Carothers is district governor, and Percy J. Pace is deputy district governor.

Among the projects discussed Thursday night was the promoting of a United Fund drive in October. This has been discussed and proposed in the past but has never been really promoted on a big scale here in Eldorado, so far as is known.

The revising and reprinting of an informative pamphlet on Eldorado and Schleicher county was also discussed. This would be available for mailing out to people who write to the Chamber of Commerce secretary or the Lions club secretary asking for information about our town. The Lions club had such a pamphlet printed some years ago.

The Lions club plan to stage a ladies' night in September again this year honoring the school administrators and faculty. Later on, the club will have other ladies' nights and events through 1964.

The Eldorado Lions club is the long-time sponsor of the Boy Scout and Girl Scout programs.

During its first year, the local Lions club was promoting street lights for Eldorado and building of a sidewalk from the business district to the school block. That was away back in 1928-29. Now, as the 36th year gets under way, other projects will claim the attention of the officers and members.

State F.F.A. Convention Held In Lubbock

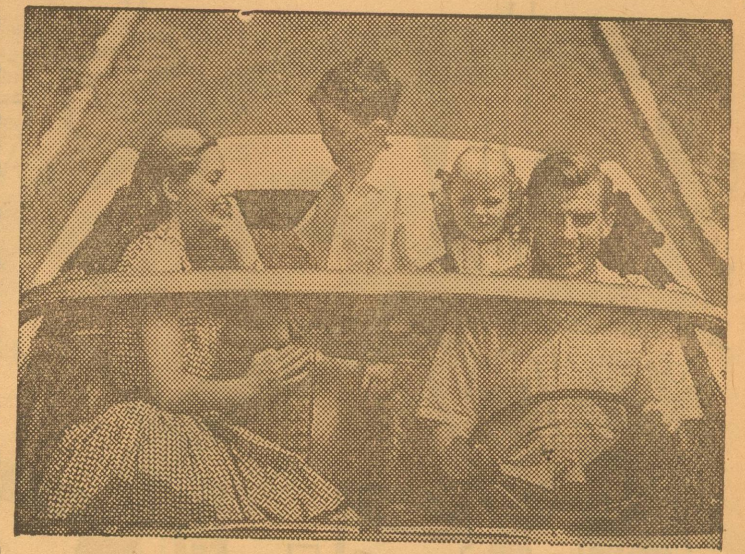

Some 3700 representatives from all 10 areas of the Future Farmers of America met in Lubbock last week for the 35th annual convention of the organization. The convention was held in Municipal Auditorium.

94-YEAR-OLD MAN RECOVERS FROM BROKEN HIP

Mrs. J. C. McWilliams has been spending a lot of time in Menard at the bedside of her father, John Low, since June 17th when Mr. and Mrs. Low both fell, resulting in Mr. Low breaking his hip and Mrs. Low breaking three ribs.

Since Mr. Low is 94, doubts were held as to his surviving the operation required to set his hip, but he stood the surgery well. However, other complications set in and he was very ill for a time. Mrs. Low recovered quickly from her injuries. They are both at their home in Menard now and recuperating nicely. Mr. Low is able to be up in a wheel chair an hour or so each day.

In addition to his daughter, Mrs. McWilliams, he has a niece, Mrs. Sam McGinnes, who lives in Eldorado.

Local Explorer Scouts To Participate In Race

As announced in last week's Success, a team of local Explorer Scouts will participate in the canoe race near Austin which gets underway August 4th. The three-man team will probably be selected this week end, according to Paul Johnson, advisor of Post 318, and Jim Runge, assistant advisor.

The Highland Lakes Canoe Race, an Explorer Scout participation event of the 1963 Austin Aqua Festival, has had to close the entry list. The full compliment of 50 entries has been reached. In fact, according to Scout officials in Austin in charge of certifying entries, more Explorer Posts had applied to participate than could be accommodated.

Aluma-Craft Corporation of Minneapolis, Minnesota, the manufacturer supplying the canoes for the race, has notified Aqua Festival officials the canoes will be shipped in plenty of time for the race which begins at Black Rock Park, on Lake Buchanan, and comes down the Highland Lakes chain to conclude on the East Sand Beach Reserve, Friday, August 9, as the first official water event of this year's Austin Aqua Festival.

Another phase of the arrangements of the Canoe Race, that of feeding the contestants their evening meal, is now completed. The size of the problem becomes apparent, because each of the canoes will have a crew of three Explorer Scouts, so meals are being arranged for a minimum of 150 boys at each meal.

Beginning with a barbecue at Black Rock Park, the Buchanan Dam Lions Club will provide a free meal for the contestants. Weldon Buck, of the Buchanan Lions Club has issued an invitation for everyone to come out to the barbecue and help send the boys off on their five day canoe race. Tickets for the barbecue, for other than the contestants, will be $1.

The Buchanan Dam Lions Club has also undertaken to provide the breakfast for the Explorer Scouts on Monday, August 5, just before they begin their 125-mile race through the Highland Lake.

That evening, August 5, the first overnight stop will be at Kingsland City Park. The Kingsland and Llano Chambers of Commerce have combined to provide and serve the Explorer Scouts the evening meal.

Vice Commodore Tex Wright of Kingsland, in overall charge of the Highland Lakes Canoe Race, already has arrangements made for this stop.

Tuesday, August 6, the overnight stop will be at Kempers Korner, Marble Falls. Ben Hartgraves, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has everything lined up for this stop.

Wednesday, August 7, the overnight stop will be at the new Lakeway Inn on Lake Travis. George Bogrand, resident manager is in charge of the Lakeway arrangements, and the Scouts will have an evening meal, a bivouac area for sleeping, and breakfast the next morning, provided by the Gulfmont Corporation, developers of Lakeway.

The last night out, the Explorer Scouts will stay in City Park on Lake Austin. Victor Nardecchia, president of the Austin Restaurant Association, has given the Aqua Festival officials assurances that the Restaurant Association will provide the Scouts their evening meal on that occasion.

After the conclusion of the Highland Lakes Canoe Race, all of the Scouts who have participated in the Canoe Race, all 150 of them, will be guests of the Commodore Perry Hotel in Austin. Spencer Lloyd, General Manager, has stated that the winning race crew will be in the Governor's Suite in the hotel, as recognition of their winning effort.

Breakfast on Saturday morning, August 10, will also be furnished by the Commodore Perry Hotel, and the Explorer Scouts will be released at 10:00 a.m.

The cooperation of everyone along the Canoe Race route has been very cooperative with the Aqua Festival officials, according to Vice Commodore Tex Wright, and appreciation of the help and assistance will make the Highland Lakes Canoe Race one of the most outstanding events of the 1963 Austin Aqua Festival.

Post 280 at Laughlin Air Base near Del Rio, and Post 136 of Rankin, are the only other two teams from the 23½ counties of the Concho Valley Council entering the race, in addition to the team from Eldorado.
