Probe Charge U. S. Ship Took Armor to China

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP) —A former member of the crew testified today that the Isbrandsten lines 'Flying Cloud' delivered radio tubes, steel plates, steel wire, and other materials to a Communist China port after a run from Japan.

The testimony was given to a Senate Commerce subcommittee by Calvin F. Bonawitz, of Reading, Pa., who said he was the assistant electrician aboard the ship.

He said several thousand drums of oil were removed from the ship before it reached Communist China after he had asked Army Intelligence officers if such shipments were proper.

Bonawitz was revealed as the seaman who wrote a Naval officer last September saying he was on an American merchant ship that was "blockade running" from Japan to Communist China.

Senator Magnuson (D-Wash) got a copy of the letter and read it to the Senate on Sept. 22. That touched off the Commerce Committee investigation which led to today's hearing.

"I wrote the letter," Bonawitz replied in answer to a question from Senator O'Conor (D-Md), acting chairman of the subcommittee. But Bonawitz hastened to add that "many corrections needed to be made in the letter."

He also testified he was writing about the flying cloud, identifying the ship publicly for the first time. about the Flying Cloud, identifying number of Isbrandsten line ships which were attacked by Chinese Nationalists late last year and early in 1950 in waters off Shanghai. The Flying Cloud was hit by a shell from a Nationalist warship off Shanghai last Nov. 15.

Bonawitz said in his letter that the ship was carrying oil, gasoline and steel armor plate, as well as other materials, from Japan to Communist China.

But in making "corrections" in his letter, Bonawitz told the Senators that no gasoline was aboard the Flying Cloud. He said he had mistaken another inflammable material for gasoline.

He also said that some "mild" steel plate, rather than armor plate, was loaded on the ship at Kobe, Japan. He described it as a medium quantity.

HowardCounty Wildcat Set In Northwest

York and Harper Inc. of Midland No. 1 J. J. Jones, is to be a 10,000-foot wildcat in extreme Northwest Howard County, three-quarters of a mile northwest of the town of Knott. It will be three-quarters of a mile northwest of Brinkerhoff Drilling Co. No. 1 Jones, flowing discovery from the Pennsylvanian Lime.

The York and Harper prospector is to be 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 14, block 34, T&P survey, T-2-N.

Roads are being built to the location and operations will be started as soon as the rotary tools can be moved in and rigged up.

Brinkerhoff No. 1 Jones, located 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 18, block 34, T&P survey, T-2-N, is now drilling plug on five and one-half inch casing which was cemented at 9,465 feet.

Corrected total depth is 9,501 feet. That point had previously been reported as 9,499.

After the plug is drilled and the hole conditioned, operator will make a production test. This wildcat had flowed oil from the section at 9,460-89 feet, and a core at 9,489-99 feet had shown good porosity and oil saturation. It is expected to make a producer and a new field opener.

DEEPEN FAILURE

Humble Oil & Refining Co. filed application to continue drilling on Lela Knight and others, reef failure on the extreme south edge of the Salt Creek field of Northwest Central Kent County.

Operator recovered 1,600 feet of salty water on a drillstem test at 6,480-6,528 feet. On a previous test at 6,478-6,495 feet, the project recovered 45 feet of slightly oil-and-gas-cut mud.

The No. 1 Lela Knight topped the reef at 6,476 feet on a minus datum of 4,367 feet.

Operator has asked permission to drill to 8,000 feet to test the Ellenburger.

Location for the prospector is 365 feet from the north and 467 feet from the east lines of section 115, block G, W&NW survey. It is now drilling below 7,257 feet.

TWO KENT WELLS

General Crude Oil Co. and Percy Jones staked location for their No. 4-193 D. R. Coleman and No. 5-193 D. R. Coleman in the Salt Creek field of West-Central Kent County.

Both these projects will be drilled with rotary tools to 6,850 feet, be-

President Rhee Will Abide By UN Directives

By O. H. KING
And BILL SHINN
(Associated Press Staff)

SEOUL, Oct. 17. — Korean President Syngman Rhee said today he will abide by any United Nations directive but he thinks the future of his government should be determined by Koreans.

A resolution by the United Nations Commission on Korea (UNCOK) would limit Rhee's powers to South Korea until a country-wide election can be held. That brought an expression of shock from Rhee, whose election was UN supervised, and "serious concern" to members of his government.

The 75-year-old president told reporters:

"I can not believe this is the policy of the UN Commission. The whole structure of the plan is impossible for the Korean people to accept."

Foreign Minister Cho Chung when advised the Korean delegation in Lake Success, N. Y., of concern felt here.

". . .The Republic of Korea (ROK) finds these proposals unacceptable as being wrong in principle and untenable in practice," Cho cabled the delegation.

He said sovereignty of the Republic of Korea was being disregarded.

Truman Works Over Tonight's Address, Avoids Politicians

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17. (AP)—President Truman took extraordinary precautions today to provide a completely non-partisan backdrop for his major foreign policy speech tonight.

Closely following his momentous mid-Pacific conference with Gen MacArthur, the speech is expected to reopen a concentrated campaign to force Soviet Russia to talk peace in realistic terms.

Every effort was made by the President's aides to keep Democratic candidates away from his quarters in the Fairmont Hotel, after his arrival aboard the presidential plane, "the Independence," from Honolulu yesterday.

TRUMAN POLICY

Mr. Truman apparently was operating on the theory that no politics is the best politics for the administration during this critical period in world affairs.

His major foreign policy pronouncement is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. (11:30 p.m. EST) in San Francisco's opera house — where the charter of the United Nations was drafted during the final campaigns of World War II.

The President spent a good part of last night in conference with top officials on the wording of the address, which will be amplified in a talk before the UN General Assembly in New York Oct. 24.

He went over rough drafts with W. Averell Harriman, special assistant for foreign affairs; Charles S. Murphy, special counsel and principal speech-writer; Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross; Administrative Asst. George Elsey, and others.

OVER WORLD

President Truman's week end conference with Gen. MacArthur on tiny, scrubby Wake Island furnishes the background for the address which will be beamed by the Voice of America throughout the world and carried by the major radio networks in this country.

These points are expected to be emphasized:

(1) The United States is primarily interested in bringing to the Korean people something of the living standards of the American people —by reconstruction and rehabilitation;

(2) Improvements advocated for Korea will serve as a pattern for what the U. S. would like to do for other countries in need of American aid;

(3) The U. S. wants neither special consideration for military installations in Korea and would like to get its troops out as soon as it is safe to do so; and

(4) There must be no let-down in congressional support of heavy spending for defense at home and for allied nations abroad so long as the threat of Communism imperils any spot in the world where an invasion could explode into another world war.

Airliner Crash Leaves 28 Dead

LONDON, Oct. 17. (AP) — A twin-engined airliner smashed into a London suburb today, killing 28 of the 29 persons aboard.

British European Airways said an engine failed shortly after the plane took off from London for Glasgow. The plane, a Dakota, was attempting to return to London.

The air line said it carried 24 passengers, including one infant, and a crew of five.

"As far as we know all have been killed except one adult, either passenger or crew," a spokesman said.

The survivor, a man, was taken to Edgware General Hospital.

One report said the craft caught fire in the air, hit a house top, then plowed through a wall into a garden. One wing still teetered atop a house.

Stormy Session Of Chamber To Open in Paris

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 17. — France's parliament goes back to work today after a 10-week vacation to see what can be done about strengthening French arms against Communist threats in both Europe and Asia.

Premier Rene Pleven may make a statement today on his government's plans in the face of serious reverses French troops have suffered this month in North Indochina. It is believed, however, he will leave things vague until the return of Jean LeTourneau, minister for Indochina, and trouble-shooting Gen. Alphonse Juin. They left for a quick trip to the French Far Eastern outpost Sunday night.

The 621-member national assembly is scheduled to convene at 4 p.m. in the ornate hall of the Palais Bourbon on the banks of the Seine.

The actual session is overshadowed, however, by a conference scheduled shortly before by heads of the numerous clashing political parties. This group will gather in the office of aging Speaker Edouard Herriot to fix the order in which the deputies will debate issues.

High on the list will be the question of extending the period of universal military training from one year to 18 months. The Communists, with the largest single delegation in parliament, have been waging a noisy campaign against this measure. But since they lack a majority it is almost certain to pass.

The new conscription term is only part of the wider question of rearmament. With the pledge of American aid behind them, Pleven and his ministers expect to win a majority on this issue despite Communist dissent.

Eisenhower's Hat In The Ring Raises 3 Difficult Problems

(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower once again has become a presidential possibility for 1952 and the big threat to all other would-be candidates, Republican or Democratic.

That is true despite the general's statement that he has not changed his mind about staying out of politics.

RESULTS

To Washington political experts it is apparent that the plug Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York put in Sunday for Eisenhower as a 1952 Republican presidential candidate has three important results:

1. Whether he likes it or not, Gen. Ike definitely has been shoved into the 1952 political picture and will stay there unless and until he takes himself out just as definitely.

2. Dewey's pledge to work for the popular soldier-educator makes it rough on any other Republicans who may be hopefully eyeing the White House. Dewey lost as the GOP presidential candidate in 1944 and 1948, but he still is head of the Republican Party and still has a lot of influence in it.

3. President Truman now would find it more difficult to pick Eisenhower to command a proposed international army to defend western Europe against communism. There has been much speculation that the Columbia University president might be called back into uniform for this assignment. But if Mr. Truman sent Eisenhower to Europe now he might lay himself open to charges he was trying to get out of the country the man who might be his most dangerous political rival in 1952.

ON ACTIVE LIST

As a five-star general, Eisenhower still is on the Army's list of active officers. Now 60, the former supreme commander of allied forces in Europe could be put on duty at any time.

Eisenhower has said over and over for more than two years that he is not a candidate for public office, that he is a man without political connections or ambitions, that he has a job to do at Columbia.

Ordinarily a person wouldn't have to repeat it every week to convince people he meant what he said. But Dewey's support for Eisenhower created an exceptional situation.

DEWEY STRONG

Nobody of Dewey's stature in the Republican Party had come right out before and said he would back the general for the presidential nomination in 1952. At the same time, Dewey said he himself would not try for the nomination for a third time, although he is seeking a third term as governor after saying he wouldn't.

Obviously, his endorsement called for some statement from Eisenhower. The general said only that he was complimented, grateful for Dewey's good opinion of him, and:

"As for myself, my convictions as to the place and methods through which I can best contribute something to the cause of freedom have been often expressed. They have not changed."

Strengthened Forces In Far East Planned

By RUSSELL BRINES
(Associated Press Staff)

TOKYO, Oct. 17. (AP)—American forces in the Far East will be strengthened considerably as a result of agreement between President Truman and Gen. MacArthur at Wake Island, informed sources reported today.

They said Mr. Truman expressed agreement with MacArthur's outline of the Asiatic situation and his insistence that any further Communist thrusts must be blocked with military power.

The U. S. Eighth Army, normally stationed in Japan, and far eastern naval and air forces will be maintained at much greater strength than before the Korean campaign, the sources said.

METHODS

They reported the major emphasis of the Wake conference was on methods of building up American strength in Asia.

The informants indicated that some of the three American divisions sent to the Korean campaign from the United States might be retained in the Orient. But they did not disclose plans for their deployment.

IN AGREEMENT

The conferees agreed to remove American troops from Korea as quickly as possible, entrusting security problems to the South Korean Army. The reason is to avoid irritating the sensitive Koreans and not necessary to reduce available forces in Asia.

They added there was no discussion of cutting down Far Eastern forces in order to build up American strength in Europe.

MacArthur told the President that, having won the Korean battle, the United States could not afford to allow the Communists to conquer other and richer areas such as Indochina. The sources said Mr. Truman agreed.

ON FORMOSA

The general discussed both Indochina and Formosa in general terms during his outline of the Asiatic situation. He repeated his previous contention that Formosa in unfriendly hands would seriously threaten the American defense line in the Far East.

The sources said Mr. Truman then outlined the administration policy concerning Formosa and the political complexities surrounding it. There was no voiced disagreement over this debatable island, the informants added, but it was not clear here whether its discussion would produce a chance in American policy.

Stassen Says Pacific Meet Was Political

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Harold E. Stassen wants President Truman to say tonight whether he has decided to accept Gen. Douglas MacArthur's views on Pacific problems.

If he has not, the Republican president of the University of Pennsylvania declared last night, the people are justified in regarding Mr. Truman's dramatic flight to Wake Island to confer with MacArthur as "a sinful political escapade."

Stassen, who unsuccessfully sought the GOP presidential nomination in 1948, was chosen by the Republican National Committee to make an advance reply to the President's speech from San Francisco tonight. It was broadcast free of charge by NBC.

STASSEN CHARGE

Stassen declared that since the end of World War II Mr. Truman's administration and the State Department "have endeavored to undermine and weaken Gen. MacArthur." Stassen served under the general's overall command during the war.

He called on the President to name MacArthur as supreme commander of U. S. forces in the Asiatic-Pacific area and said such action would result in a plan for Asia which would do for that area what the Marshall Plan has done for Europe.

"Such action would immediately make it clear to the Communist rulers in the Russian Kremlin that they can no longer look to profit from the blunders and weakness of American policy in Asia," Stassen said.

Dewey on Spot As Charges Of Pay-Off Hurled in New York

ALBANY, N.Y., Oct 17 (AP)—Democrats today cited a letter by New York's Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley to support their charge that he had been paid off to step aside as a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in favor of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and become instead the party's candidate for U. S. senator.

The letter, which the 74-year-old Hanley himself released here late yesterday, said that "if I will consent to take the nomination to the United States Senate, I am definitely assured of being able to clean up my financial obligations within 90 days."

ASKS PROBE

At Rochester, Frank Gannett, publisher of a group of newspapers and long a prominent Republican, called for a grand jury investigation.

Gannett, who said he lent Hanley about $19,000 to help finance his pre-convention campaign, said "the letter reveals corruption in political affairs, and the penalties for these are severe."

Hanley denied to newsmen that there was anything illegal or morally wrong with any financial arrangements he had made.

In New York, Gov. Dewey told a news conference he had never discussed Hanley's "debts or his private situation with him" but that he had assured Hanley "that his job in the state government remained sure."

Dewey said "it looks as though someone"—presumably a Democrat—"is trying to work his way into Dannemora or Matteawan (state prisons) by making the most violently false charges alleging crime, none of which occurred."

NOTHING

Asked if he planned to investigate the situation, Dewey said:

"There is nothing to investigate; it's all clear as day."

Rep. Walter A. Lynch, Dewey's democratic-liberal opponent for the governorship in the New York state election Nov. 7, charged that Hanley had been bought off to give up his candidacy for the top gubernatorial nomination and to accept the senate nomination as a substitute.

The lieutenant governor had been assured of the gubernatorial nomination until Dewey changed his mind about retiring and announced Sept. 4 that he would seek a third term.

The political bombshell exploded at a news conference, at which Hanley labelled "absolute falsehoods" reports about his finances and other matters.

Later, his secretary released copies of the letter, which Democrats said was addressed to Rep. W. Kingsland Macy of Suffolk County on Long Island.

ON OUTS

Gannett, once a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, and Macy, former Republican state chairman, are generally understood in political circles to be on the "outs" with Gov. Dewey.

How a copy of the letter got into Democratic hands remained a mystery.

The New York Times said the letter was "one of the worst kept major political secrets of modern times" and reflected bitterness within the Republican Party over Dewey's continued leadership.

Macy was reliably reported to have photographed the letter and sent copies to his friends, the Times said. His motive was to show that the Dewey "draft" was not genuine but could have occurred only with the governor's own pressure on Hanley, the Times added.

The Times said one story current in Democratic circles was that a copy of Hanley's letter had reached a Republican sympathetic to the presidential aspirations of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and that it was from this source the Democrats received their copy.

Civilian Boss For Rebuilding KoreaEconomy

By STANLEY JOHNSON
(Associated Press Staff)

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 17. — The United States proposed today that the United Nations appoint a supreme civilian boss to direct Korea's multi-million dollar economic rebuilding.

He would be known as the UN "agent general." His functions would be equivalent in the rehabilitation of Korea to those Gen. MacArthur has exercised in the military sphere.

The proposal is embodied in a U. S. resolution submitted to the UN economic and social council today by U. S. Rep. Isador Lubin.

An American spokesman said the U. S. has no one in mind for the job, but there was considerable speculation here that the job might be offered to MacArthur himself. The spokesman said he could not say whether the plan had been discussed with the general.

Amid the talk of MacArthur as a possible choice, however, there was no indication of how his present military status might be reconciled with the announced U. S. idea of giving the agent generalship a civilian character.

The agent general would deal with rehabilitation and would not have any authority over Korea's political future. That already has been entrusted to another UN commission.

He would head a new organization known as the "Korean Rehabilitation Agency," would be completely independent of all other United Nations commissions, and would have complete control of Korea economic rebuilding.

Southern Florida Evacuated As Hurricane Winds Approach

MIAMI, Oct. 17. (AP) — South Florida began to batten down in earnest today as a powerful and still growing tropical hurricane containing 110-mile winds approached the area.

The hurricane's center only 100 miles offshore was expected to thunder across the Florida keys about nightfall. On a path approximately the same as that followed by the disastrous hurricane of 1935.

That storm of 15 years ago was the most violent ever recorded in the western hemisphere. It killed several hundred persons, most of them World War I veterans in a roadbuilding camp. It wrecked the overseas railway built at great expense by Henry M. Flagler, and isolated Key West.

Hurricane warnings were flying from Palm Beach, over the necklace of island forming the Florida keys, and on the Gulf Coast to Fort Myers, a palm-lined resort city once the winter home of Thomas A. Edison and Henry Ford.

Storm warnings flew elsewhere along both coasts of the Florida peninsula from Jacksonville to St. Marks, and porth of Jacksonville to Charleston, S. C.

The slowness with which the South Florida area began its emergency precautions alarmed storm warning headquarters, but by noon preparations for the blow were in full swing. Acres of plate glass disappeared behind shutters, loose objects were taken indoors, and builders nailed down lumber piles and fastened tiles and other materials securely.

STEADILY GAINS

The weather bureau reported the storm was gaining steadily in velocity as it approached the South Florida coast. Center was expected to cross the coast line in the vicinity of Key Largo, the northernmost of the Florida Keys, late today.

Rain squalls of increasing strength whipped the area, but the slowness with which residents prepared for the approaching blow disturbed officials.

"They're taking their time about boarding up," Miami police reported. "They'll probably do better as the winds increase."

Small boats paraded up the Miami River by the scores, seeking safe anchorage.

PLANES TAKE OUT

Planes thundered out of Miami's International Airport in a steady stream for evacuation to points north and south.

The storm hit Cuba last night. The important city of Camaguey was battered, and communications between there and Havana were interrupted. Preliminary reports indicated, however, that winds of hurricane force and gusts considerably higher than 75 miles an hour did no great damage.

No loss of life was reported.

Pyongyang Fall Expected To End War

But Mop-Up Operations Against The Guerilla Forces Will Continue

TOKYO, Oct. 17. (AP)—American and South Korean columns slashed tonight through shattered Communist remnants within 12 miles of the Red Korean capital, Pyongyang.

Just over a month after the allied tide turned on the landing at Inchon, the war was running swiftly toward victory for the United Nations.

The U. S. First Cavalry and the Republic of Korea (ROK) First Divisions were racing each other for the Red capital. Each wanted to be first to level the knockout blow.

12 MILES AWAY

A field dispatch said the South Koreans plunged to within 12 miles southeast of Pyongyang Tuesday night before stopping to rest. A spokesman said the South Koreans expected to reach the Communist capital Wednesday.

AP Correspondent Don Whitehead, with the Americans, reported the capital is certain to come within range of allied big guns in 24 hours or less.

Military circles in Tokyo say the fall of Pyongyang almost certainly will end the Korean war except for mop-up operations against guerrilla forces.

30-MILE COLUMN

AP Correspondent Hal Boyle reported the Americans were driving on Pyongyang in a 30-mile long column.

The foot troopers were forging ahead Tuesday night through disrupted Red defenses. Boyle said they might reach Pyongyang by Wednesday.

ROK officers had trouble restraining the weary but eager South Korean troops from running along the road to Pyongyang.

Many of them had not stopped to rest for two days. They had fought back after a shattering military defeat—when the Reds invaded their southern half of Korea June 25—and the taste of victory was on their lips.

The South Koreans Tuesday drove from Suan to Sangwon, only 20 miles southeast of Pyongyang.

LINK-UP

They smashed through the town another two miles, after linking up with another South Korean column.

There was no attempt to stop the drive at darkness.

In airline distance the gain was 20 miles. But it was much farther actually along the winding mountain road.

The U. S. First Cavalry Division smashed nearly 30 miles from its kickoff point at Sohung. It bypassed Sariwon, 35 air miles south of Pyongyang, and drove over a secondary road into Hwangju, only 23 miles south of the Red capital on the main highway.

Then it swung northward so swiftly that the foot troopers seized a bridge before the surprised Red forces could blow it up. The foot troopers were within 20 miles or less of Pyongyang.

Both the Americans and ROKs were swinging along in open country along the flatland approaches to Pyongyang.

Resurfacing Several Blocks on 26th Street

City workmen this week are resurfacing a portion of Twenty-sixth Street near the Snyder Hospital, eliminating many cracked places which would otherwise cause seeping water to freeze during the winter and damage the street seriously.

The resurfacing will also prevent many chug holes from starting.

Just how much of the street will have to be resurfaeed is not yet known, an official of the city said this morning, but the operation will probably be at least from Avenue F to Avenue M.

Workmen last week completed a similar repair job in the 1900 block of Thirtieth Street, where about 150 feet of the street was resurfaced.

Where resurfacing is not considered necessary, the cracks are often repaired and chug holes filled with asphalt topping.

Fine Dogs, Abandoned By Families Leaving City, Are Available

More than 50 dogs, many of them apparently pedigreed are available at the city dog pound for those who will pay their vaccination and licensing fees, $6 for females and $7.50 for males.

J. T. Hillyard, city dog catcher, said many fine dogs have been abandoned by trailer families leaving town, and he is reluctant to kill the dogs because they are such fine specimens.

The city ordinance on unlicensed dogs required the pound to keep them only three days, but Hillyard said there were several which he had kept for two months.

Persons interested in having one of these dogs for the vacinnation and licensing fees can see Hillyard at the corner of Avenue T and Twenty-third Street.

Snyder Automobile Dealers Are Dissatisfied With Credit Curbs

Is the new government restriction on credit purchases of cars within reason?

That's what car dealers and customers in Snyder were asking as a new federal law went into effect yesterday requiring at least one-third down payment on automobiles and cutting the payment period for the balance down to 15 months.

This naturally means higher monthly payments unless the purchaser makes a larger down payment, and the average working man cannot stand either, dealers here say.

Some dealers — but only a few — believe the new restriction will not change matters as far as sales. Most dealers believe the majority of buyers will go to used car dealers and find an older, lower-priced car because the new model is beyond their means.

HIGHER PAYMENTS

Under the new law, which reduces the term of payment from 21 months to 15 months, the purchaser is forced to pay a much larger monthly payment, $80 or more on a new low-priced car.

Most dealers say that the working man could hardly afford to make payments when they had 18 to 24 months. Most seem to think it would have been alright if Congress has placed an 18-month limit on payment time, but they think 15 months just won't work.

The new restriction, dealers say, leaves the new automobile for sale mostly to those in higher income bracacets, those who have high enough monthly salaries to meet payments or those who can pay cash for a car.

This will send the average wage worker to the used lot to buy an older car which cannot last long on the road, although he really needs a new car as much as anyone else.

PAYMENTS DIFFICULT

Dealers say that a man always can dig and save for his down payment, but that the monthly payment has to come out of the same fixed income which is paying the rent, grocery bill, taxes, and so forth.

This is especially true in Snyder, where food and particularly rent take such a large percentage of a man's salary, dealers complain.

Furthermore, they state, restrictions should have been applied to prices of food and rent before they were put on cars.

Even if restrictions cut down on the sales of cars, Snyder dealers are doubtful that this will reduce the prices of new automobiles. Labor costs are high and factories cannot reduce their expenses, they state.

So, the local dealers think, this regulation will not help the dealer nor the customer. The only thing left is the finance company, which will have more security on sales, but will not have as many sales on higher-priced autos.

Dissatisfaction with the law is widespread among dealers. As one salesman said about Congressmen: "They'll either fix this thing up or not get re-elected."

Charles Henderson, Miss Ima R. Jordan

A candlelight ceremony Sunday at the First Methodist Church united Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hubert Henderson. The Rev. W. W. Adcock performed the ceremony. Mrs. Henderson is the former Miss Ima Reed Jordan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jordan, 2805 Avenue U. Mr. Henderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Henderson of Hermleigh.

The bride wore an aqua satin street length dress with a high queen's collar, a small black velvet hat and other black accessories. She carried a white Bible with a large bouquet of pink carnations and pink streamers.

Wayne Pitner played "Because" and "Always" at the organ. Ruth Adcock lighted the candles over the altar.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jordan and Miss Charlene Jordan, Miss Veda Scroggins, Miss Jean Gordan, Darwin Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Wolf, and Wesley Pison.

Mrs. Jordan attended high school in Snyder. Mr. Henderson is a native of Hermleigh. After a brief wedding trip, they will be at home in Hermleigh.

Sgt. E. H. Devers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Devers, is now stationed with an anti-aircraft artillery unit in the Far East. He is assigned as supply sergeant in his unit. Before entering the service, Sgt. Devers was bookkeeper at his father's grocery store.

Coaches Love To Contradict Their Pre-Game Statements

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

DALLAS, Oct. 17. — Football coaches jibe at the sports writers for making rash predictions and trying to foretell the results of football games.

Coach H. N. (Rusty) Russell of Southern Methodist is always telling me — AFTER a football game —that "I could have told you so-and-so wouldn't win."

Trouble is, the coaches won't say that until the game is played and then it does ho good in guidihg you.

But coaches have little grounds to talk about the statements sports writers may put out. Here are some dillies I collected during the past two weeks:

Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, before playing Texas A&M: "A&M will be much tougher to beat than Texas." Score: Oklahoma 34, Texas A&M 28.

After the Texas A&M game: "Texas will beat us by several touchdowns." Score: Oklahoma 14, Texas 13.

Athletic Director Matty Bell of Southern Methodist before the Southern Methodist-Oklahoma A&M game: "I will be satisfied to win by one point. Those Aggies are tough." Score: Southern Methodist 56, Oklahoma A&M.

Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian before the Arkansas game: 'W'e haven't got a chance against Arkansas with its 220-pound line and some of my little boys out with injuries." Score: Texas Christian 13, Arkansas 6.

* * *

THE ADVISORY COUNCIL OF the Texas Interscholastic League will meet at Austin Nov. 5 and 6 to consider five proposed changes in the constitution.

They have to do with supervision of junior high school athletics, preventing high school faculty members from working with any all-star game not sponsored by the Texas High School Coaches Association, prohibiting gifts, gifts being accepted from the fans by the coaches, preventing high school boys from playing basketball on teams other than their own and admitting parochial schools to the league.

Obviously the measure that would mean sponsorship by the league of junior high school football and basketball is aimed at all-star games that have now cropped up for boys of junior high school age. One of these is, of course, the Milk Bowl at Gause.

The league argues that athletics in junior high scools should be supervised by experts in care of boys of that age.

WE IMAGINE THIS PROPOSAL will get some quick comment from operators of the Milk Bowl at Gause. They'll probably say that nobody before ever thought of doing something for the kids below senior high school, that the Milk Bowl is doing something for them and the Interscholastic League shouldn't start horning in now.

The Girls High School Basketball League of Texas said the same thing when the Interscholastic League proposed last year to sponsor girls high school basketball. But there now are 662 girls high school basketball teams enrolled in the Texas Interscholastic League program.

Army Is Firm In No. 1 Spot

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. — Army's all-conquering Cadets clung to their position as the nation's No. 1 college football team today. At the same time, once-invincible Notre Dame dropped out of the top ten for the first time in nearly a decade.

Chopping down a strong Michigan eleven last Saturday, 27-6, for their third straight triumph, the unbeaten West Pointers strengthened their first place grip gained a week ago in the Associated Press poll.

Coach Earl Blaik's Black Knights, unbeaten in their last 23 starts, drew a total of 124 first place ballots among the 275 voters cast by sports writers and sportscasters.

Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, who a week ago saw their 39-game non-losing skein snapped by Purdue, again failed to impress despite their 13-9 victory over Tulane Saturday. That showing helped push the Irish from 10th to 11th place.

Notre Dame has finished no lower than ninth since 1941 and almost always has been high up in the running during the season. For the first time in years not a single voter gave Notre Dame a first place ballot. The best the Irish got was a third. Their point total was 295.

Army recieved a total of 2,427 points to lead a field that included 47 colleges. Oklahoma wrested second place from Southern Methodist, moving up one notch on the strength of its 14-13 victory over tough Texas. It was the 24th straight win for the Sooners. The air-minded Mustangs slipped into third place despite their 56-0 cakewalk over Oklahoma A&M.

The big three were followed by 4—Kentucky, 5 — California, 6—Stanford, 7 — Texas, 8 — Maryland, 9 — Ohio State, 10—Washington.

Notre Dame was not the only team to fall out of the first ten. Its conqueror, Purdue, almost dropped out of sight, catapulting from ninth to 33rd. The Boilermakers received a dose of their own upset medicine when they bowed to unheralded Miami University of Florida, 20-14.

Miami vaulted from 37th spot to 14th with 170 points. The Hurricanes received 14 first place ballots. Other teams to gain No. 1 recognition included Maryland (5), Washington (5), Clemson (4), Cornell (2), and Wake Forest (1).

The top teams (number in brackets is first place votes); points figured on a basis of 10 for first, 5 for second, etc.)

Top ten:

1. Army (124)	2,427
2. Oklahoma (47)	2,315
3. Southern Methodist (63)	2,312
4. Kentucky (9)	1,191
5. California (10)	1,130
6. Stanford	850
7. Texas	788
8. Maryland (5)	552
9. Ohio State	492
10. Washington (5)	430

Benners To Be Tough On Rice This Week End

HOUSTON, Oct. 17. (AP) — Fred Benners, the Southern Methodist pass specialist who is the big worry of Rice Coach Jess Neely this week, once came pretty close to being a Rice Owl himself.

In fact, it was Herman Morgan, now the SMU freshman coach, who recommended that Rice coaches talk to Benners about the Houston school.

Morgan then was Benners' coach at Highland Park High School, near the SMU campus in Dallas.

But, for one reason or another, the lanky kid went to SMU. Now he is the number one headache Neely's staff faces while preparing to send their undefeated Owls against the unbeaten and fast scoring Mustangs here Saturday night.

Morgan drew the SMU assignment to scout Rice for the all important Southwest Conference tilt.

SEWANEE FIRST

After watching Rice defeat Pittsburgh Saturday, Morgan told the Benners-Rice story this way

"When I was at Highland Park in 1946 I wrote to Joe Davis (Rice line coach) and told him about Benners. Joe was interested and we corresponded several times. He invited Fred to visit Rice.

"But somehow or other Fred decided to go to Sewanee. I believe there was a close family tie there.

"He went to Sewanee a year and didn't like it. So he came home for a visit and I noticed he had grown several inches and had put on about 20 pounds.

"He lives only three doors from the SMU campus. He started dropping around. The coaches liked what they saw and offered him a scholarship."

But even after his year at Sewanee Benners still was interested in Rice.

PICKED SMU

He and his father visited the Rice campus, talked with Neely, then went back to Dallas and made a decision—Southern Methodist.

Benners leads the Mustang aerial show. He has completed 35 of 67 passes for 554 yards and five touchdowns. That's an average of 16 yards per completion. There has been only one interception.

Houston fans figure Rice's chances of defeating SMU rest upon its stopping Benners.

Attendance In Southwest Up

DALLAS, Oct. 17. (AP) — Southwest Conference football attendance is well ahead of last year with the biggest games to come.

A little more than one-third of the home games have been played and the total for the seven member schools is 415,847.

Rice, Southern Methodist and Arkansas are ahead of last season with Rice, which built a 70,000-seat stadium to replace one that held 30,000, showing the greatest gain.

Rice has packed in almost three times as many fans. Arkansas has played three games compared to two last season but is ahead in the average attendance.

Not only is overall attendance up more than 60,000 but per game attendance is over 7,000 ahead of last season.

Thirteen home games had been played at this time last year. This season there have been 12.

Twenty-three are yet to be played, among them at least six that should produce sell-outs of from 56,000 to 75,000.

Rice, for instance, already has a sell-out of 70,000 for the Southern Methodist game next Saturday night and only a few tickets for the Rice-Texas game remain. The Texas-Texas A&M game always is a sell-out. This year it's at Austin where 66,000 may be accomodated.

The average per game this year has been 34,653. Last year it was 27,304.

Southern Methodist has drawn the most fans—130,847 for two games compared to 114,359 for a like number last season. Rice has pulled in 120,000 for two games. Last year two games drew 43,597. Arkansas has registered 56,000 this year for three games compared to 34,200 for two games last season.

The attendance by schools (number of home games in parentheses):

SCHOOL	1949	1950
Baylor	22,800 (2)	18,000 (1)
SMU	114,359 (2)	130,847 (2)
TCU	49,000 (2)	34,000 (2)
Arkansas	34,200 (2)	56,000 (3)
Rice	43,597 (2)	120,000 (2)
Texas	52,000 (2)	37,000 (1)
Texas A&M	29,000 (1)	20,000 (1)

They figure that if the Owl line can exert sufficient pressure on Benners by rushing him hard and the good defense secondary of Rex Proctor, Gene Silver and Teddy Riggs comes through, Rice has a chance.

Parliament To Convene Today

LONDON, Oct. 17. (AP) — Britain's parliament reconvenes today after a four-week layoff in which all three major parties held national conferences.

Although business will be mainly routine during the two weeks which will end the current session, the tories are expected to press any opportunity to unseat Prime Minister Clement Attlee's labor government.

The Jaberite Daily Herald predicted today Winston Churchill's conservatives would make the first such attempt tomorrow, offering an amendment to censure the annual report of the British transport commission.

With the government's effective majority down to six because of the death of a labor member last week, the tories and laborites each have sent out urgent calls for members to attend.

Patty Berg Seeks 3rd Hardscrabble Victory

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 17. (AP) —Patty Berg of Minneapolis will seek her third straight Hardscrabble women's open golf championship.

The tournament begins at Hardscrabble Country Club today. The finals are carded Saturday.

Among the chief threats to Miss Berg are Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kan., and Mariene and Alice Bauer of Midland, Tex.

Leading amateur contenders include Betsy Rawls of Austin, Tex.; Pat Garner of Midland, Tex.; Betty MacKinnon of Dallas and Mrs. George Noble of Dallas.

It's important to drain deep-fat fried foods well; lift them out of the fat with a slotted spoon, drain a few seconds over the kettle, and place on absorbent paper. The paper absorbs the excess fat and the food should be crisp and dry.

McMurry Ace, Rowland Rolls Up Big Record

ABILENE, Oct. 17. (AP) — Brad Rowland, McMurry mighty man, nears the end of his college football career with one of the greatest records ever assembled.

The little All-America has rolled up 2.6 miles of ground rushing and passing in three and one-half varsity seasons and has an average of better than 40 yards kicking.

If Rowland didn't also play defense all the time, too, he would undoubtedly have compiled an even greater record.

"That's what I like about Rowland," says his coach, Wilford Moore. "He is not a specialist; whatever the assignment — run, punt, pass or block—Brad's ready."

Rowland in his career at McMurry to date has a total offense of 4,596 yards.

Best known as a runner, he has accounted for 762 yards passing.

He has scored 234 points and three years in a row was unanimously selected all-Texas Conference. Two times he was picked as the conference's most valuable player.

One professional scout said of the 6-foot, 192-pound star last year that he would rate only Florida's Charlie Hunsinger above Rowland.

Brad's teammates believe that the pros could make good use of him as a punting specialist only. Rowland has kicked at a 40.3 clip in games without working at it during practice.

Charles Bout Set In Cincinnati Nov. 28

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP) — Ezzard Charles will fight as a 14-karat champion for the first time in his career when he defends his heavyweight title against Nick Barone in a 15-round bout at Cincinnati Nov. 28.

Jake Mintz, Charles' manager, made the announcement yesterday.

All Games Will Be Conference This Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

Southwest Conference football teams will hit their first Saturday of full conference play with the teams generally in better physical shape than any other time this season.

Two perfect seasonal records are at stake, and only one will survive.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs, high in national prestige, open their conference schedule against Rice Institute, also undefeated and untied.

Rice first stringers took it easy yesterday. Fullback George Glauser, who injured a leg in the Louisiana State game Oct. 7, will be ready for action and the rest of the squad is in good shape.

LIGHT DRILL

The Mustangs rambled through a light drill yesterday minus the services of Defensive Tackle Charles Chambers, who injured an ankle in the Oklahoma A&M game last Saturday. Coach Rusty Russell said Chambers is a doubtful starter against Rice H. N. Russell, Jr., the starting quarterback, also is favoring a rib injury and may not play.

In the other two games there will be battles for first division ranking.

Texas, still smarting from the Oklahoma defeat, faces Arkansas, downed twice this season. Texas A&M, with one loss, also credited to Oklahoma, faces Texas Christian, a one-loser.

Five Texas Aggies not in the game against Virginia Military Institute last week will be ready for TCU. They are Tackles Russ Hudeck and Sam Moses, End Clinton Gwin and Halfbacks Charley Royalty and Billy Tidwell. Long scrimmages are scheduled today and tomorrow.

TCU's lineup this week may include three sophomores who made good in the Texas Tech game last week. In offensive scrimmage yesterday Center Carlton McCormack, End Bob Blair and Left Halfback John Harville lined up with the No. 1 squad.

TCU Quarterback Bartosh and Fullback Jack Floyd, bruised last week end, operated under full steam.

Coach Blair Cherry said the morale of the Texas Longhorns is good despite the narrow victory gained by Oklahoma. He said none of the Steers had injuries that would keep them out of the Arkansas game.

Light exercise in sweat suits was all of yesterday's practice session.

HOGS WORK HARD

Arkansas is working on offensive maneuvers which they hope will give them their first win over Texas since 1946. Coach Otis Douglas said the Razorbacks' defense against Baylor was "great" but the offense was far from satisfactory.

Halfback Sammy Furo, out for two weeks with a knee injury, worked out yesterday. All other players are in top physical condition, Douglas said.

Coach George Sauer at Baylor is optimistic over his injury list, gradually clearing up after reaching lengthy proportions last week. He said sophomore Guard Bill Athey may be used on offense as well as defense in the Texas Tech game Saturday. Another player unheard of this year may see action—Quarterback Claude Kincannon who starred at Waco High School year before last.

Cardinal Spellman Is Donor To Korea Relief

WITH U. S. SEVENTH INFANTRY IN KOREA, Oct. 17 (AP)—Maj. Maurice Powers, U. S. Army Seventh Division chaplain, said today he had received a check for $1,000 from Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, to be used toward the relief of Korean war needy.

The check was sent to Maj. Powers, the senior Roman Catholic chaplain in the Seoul area, during the division's participation in the liberation of Seoul, the southern capital.

The cardinal requested that the money be used to "aid the poorest of the poor in the Seoul vicinity."

Maj. Powers said the money will be turned over to the Rev. Paul W. Roe, vicar apostolic of Seoul and bishop of Korea at Pusan.

To Ask Parcel Post Rate Hike

By JACK ADAMS
(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Postmaster Gen. Donaldson has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to exercise one of its little-used powers to bring about an average 25 per cent increase in parcel post rates.

Donaldson asked the ICC to approve a prompt hike in the postage charges for fourth class matter. That covers ordinary parcel post packages, catalogues, books and printed advertising matter in bound form.

Donaldson estimated the increases he seeks would yield about $105,000,000 a year in new revenue and would make the parcel post service self-sustaining.

He has been attempting for more than a year to persuade Congress to increase virtually all postage rates, last revised in January, 1949. However, the House and Senate have never gotten together on a bill to effect the revision sought.

In a letter to ICC dated last week and made public yesterday, Donaldson called attention to a 1925 act which provides that parcel post charges may be changed either by Congress or by the postmaster general if (A) he certifies that the parcel service is being operated at a loss and (B) the commission approves.

Donaldson said that an appropriation bill passed by the current Congress, just before it recessed last month, directed him to go to the ICC for parcel post rate hikes.

Rescue Work Does Not Keep Youngster From Getting To School

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17 (AP)—When George Hewlett showed up for his sixth grade classes with dripping clothing, his teacher asked "how come?"

George, who is 11 years old, explained yesterday that he had paused on his way to school to rescue eight-year-old Evelyn Earl when the little girl fell from a bridge into Pennypack Creek.

Evelyn was taken to Nazareth Hospital suffering from shock, while George continued on to school.

His teacher sent the school boy hero home for some dry clothes.

Poor eating habits formed in childhood are often the reason for food preferences and choices that lead to overweight in adult life.

Mint Workers Favor Overtime For Coins

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17. (AP) — Employes of the Philadelphia mint are working overtime to meet a shortage of pennies and other coins.

Edwin H. Dressel, superintendent of the U. S. Coin Factory, said yesterday the stepped-up operations have been going on for the last two weeks and will continue indefinitely.

The demand for coins, especially pennies, "came up so quickly," Dresse lsaid, the mint wishes it had a much larger work force than its appropriation permits.

Quick Action Saves House From Flames

HOLTWOOD, Pa., Oct. 17. (AP) — Farmer Robert McKinley didn't need a thermometer to tell it was hot in Holtwood yesterday.

McKinley reported the sun's rays heated a bottle of turpentine standing in a carton box on his porch. The turpentine reached the flaming point and the box caught fire.

Charles Miller, a rural mail carrier, spotted the fire and tossed a bucket of water on the bottle, the cool water cracked the bottle and the flaming turpentine set fire to the porch.

A group of Pennsylvania Water and Power Co., workers tore down the porch and prevented the flames from reaching the rest of the house.

Liver contains five times as much iron as muscle meat, and kidney and heart twice as much. If you include one of these high iron meats in your family's diet once a week, or at least several times a month, you will help your family to maintain the normal iron content of the blood necessary for good health.

Mahon States Position On Child Labor

A letter from George Mahon of Colorado City, representative of this district in Congress, to Ross Williams, president of the Scurry County Farm Bureau, states that Mahon has asked the department of Labor for relief from provisions of the child labor legislation as it applies to the cotton harvest.

Mahon's letter states: "I have asked the Department of Labor to declare an emergency and state that in areas where the schools are running at full capacity and therefore there is no chance for the migrant laborers to go to school that such migrant laborers be given free rein in such areas to proceed with the cotton harvest."

INVESTIGATING

The Congressman also said "I have also talked by telephone with Congressman Steve Pace of Georgia who is chairman of the Labor Committee of the House Committee on Agriculture. He and his committee are now investigating farm labor problems.

"I urged Mr. Pace to do everything possible to help meet the emergency.

"The child labor provision is only a very small part of the long and complicated act known as the Fair Labor Standards Act. Many of the provisions of the labor act are good, but the provisions with respect to child labor in agriculture should never have been passed. They were passed over the opposition of members of Congress from agricultural areas.

FAVORS REPEAL

"I would like to see the farm child labor provisions of the law repealed, but those of us favoring repeal would be in a minority in Washington.

". . .There are not adequate school buildings, rooms and teachers to take care of this transient labor. It is not possible for more than a very few of these migrant laborers to go to school in West Texas. We just don't have enough room for them.

"Moreover, the Department of Labor failed to give adequate notice to migrant laborers and to the farmers. Also, we are faced with an emergency situation. The farmer needs to harvest his cotton and in view of the world situation. It is important to the government that the cotton be harvested."

Texans Pledge To Continue Fight For Coastal Oil Fields

WAHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Texans pledged anew today to press for congressional action next year to nullify a Supreme Court decision giving the federal government control over the marginal seas along the coast of their state.

Their avowed resentment was precipitated by the high court's refusal yesterday to rehear claims by Texas and Louisiana to ownership of the oil-rich belt, often called the tidelands. Thee court reaffirmed its June decision giving the federal government paramount rights over the property.

SECOND PETITION

In Austin, Texas Atty. Gen. Price Daniel promised to continue the fight. Announcing that he will file a second petition for rehearing, Daniel said:

"I am shocked at the court's complete disregard of the undisputed errors pointed out in Texas' petition for rehearing and at the court's refusal to hear evidence before making a factual determination."

Several Texas members of Congress bitterly criticized the court's action and pledged they will work for legislation to wipe it out.

Three years ago Congress passed legislation giving the states title to the submerged coastal lands, but the bill was vetoed by President Truman. A similar bill was approved by the House Judiciary Committee this year but never reached a vote in the House or Senate.

Sen. Connally (D-Tex) expressed "serious disappointment" at the latest Supreme Court ruling and added:

"Congress will be called upon to exert its power and authority in behalf of state ownership. We shall gird for the contest in the hope that we may succeed.

NO QUESTIONS

"Texas without denial or question for over 100 years owned in fee the tidelands adjacent to its coast. No federal court nor any other federal authority challenged our ownership or our rights. For the federal government now to challenge them is an act of usurpation and transgression of our title. . ."

Rep. Pickett (D-Tex said:

"In my opinion, the court action is further evidence that it is reaching decisions that are based on political and economic philosophies rather than on the laws of the land."

POAGE'S STAND

And Rep. Poage (D-Tex) declared:

"Refusal of the Supreme Court to grant a rehearing was an unpleasant reminder that when members of the Supreme Court are candidates for political office we may expect political decisions.

"In this case the court refused to allow Texas to introduce evidence, and evidently the candidate for President, Mr. Justice Douglas, who wrote the original decision, did not read the record. . ."

Rep. Teague (D-Tex), said:

"I feel sure that we have enough votes to approve legislation guaranteeing ownership by the states of this disputed land, but I am not at all certain that we have enough votes to override a presidential veto."

France Urged To Make Indo-China Allies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The United States is urging France to give a bigger role to the three newly formed Indochinese states which are helping fight Communist forces in Indochina.

Secretary of State Acheson, it was learned today, has urged the French to follow this policy as a means of countering Communist propaganda that France is trying to reimpose colonial rule on the area.

The United States has consistently favored raising the associated states in Indochina to the status of full-fledged allies in the common fight to stop the advance of Communist armies led by Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh.

ACHESON STAND

Informed officials told a reporter that to back up this view, Acheson has insisted in current defense talks with the French that a substantial part of U. S. arms scheduled for delivery to Indochina in the next few months must go directly to the expanding forces of the three states—Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

Twelve battalions of native troops were supplied with American arms only last month. The French have presented plans to Acheson for adding 18 more battalions, plus 40,000 irregulars, during 1951.

But, because of the immediate crisis brought on by Communist gains in northern Indochina, they have felt that scheduled shipments in the next few months should go almost entirely to the 150,000 French troops who are doing most of the fighting.

Sacrifices For Nation During Rearmament

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP) — The man in charge of mobilizing the nation for the huge rearmament program says it will mean that Americans must work longer hours, pay still higher taxes and endure "cuts and sacrifices" in their living standard.

And while it may be possible to avoid general wage and price controls if scarce buying slacks off, W. Stuart Symington said last night, "we are now getting organized. . .for such price and wage action as may be needed."

NO CONTROLS

An assurance came today from a top Agriculture Department official that there is no need at present for price controls on farm commodities.

Ralph S. Trigg, the department's production and marketing administrator, said in an address prepared for delivery in Atlantic City, N. J., that "we most certainly do not want to put on any controls which are not absolutely necessary."

Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, has been designated by President Truman to co-ordinate the mobilization program. In an interview with the magazine, U. S. News and World Report made public last night, he reiterated administration warnings against any let-down in the national effort.

AUTO CUTBACK?

A hint that some cut-back in automobile production may be forthcoming came from William H. Harrison, chairman of the National Production Authority (NPA) and one of the top men under Symington.

After meeting yesterday with leaders of the auto industry, Harrison said they showed a "willingness to absorb any necessary impact on production that military needs might require."

New York Sees Opportunity Of Unseating Vito Marcantonio

By ROBERT C. JENSEN
(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N.Y., Oct. 17.—Five close fights for congressional seats are in prospect this fall in New York State if 1948 election figures are an indication.

The hottest is in the 18th district—Manhattan's upper East Side. There Vito Marcantonio faces his toughest fight for re-election since he went to Congress 14 years ago. For the first time the leader of the Leftist American Labor Party (ALP) faces a coalition of Democrats, Republicans and Liberals backing former Democratic State Sen. James G. Donovan.

CLOSE BATTLE

In 1948 Marcantonio defeated his nearest opponent by a handful over 5,000 votes. The combined total of his opponents would have beaten him by nearly 26,000.

Donovan, a 51-year-old lawyer, also has the backing of New York City's United Labor Committee, a federation of AFL, CIO and Independent Labor leaders.

In another Manhattan district, the 21st, Rep. Jacob K. Lavits (R-LIB) may face a fight. Two years ago he skimmed through by a 1,873 margin over Paul O'Dwyer, brother of former Mayor William O'Dwyer, who was running with Democratic-ALP support. This year the democrats have declared a ban on accepting ALP nominations.

The ALP has nominated William M. Mandel, and JAVITS' Democratic opponent is Bennett I. Schlessel, 47-year-old lawyer and civic leader.

FOURTH DISTRICT

In the 4th District, in ueens, Republican Gregory McMahon is trying to regain the seat Freshman L. Gary Clemente took away from him two years ago. In 1948, Clemente, running on the Democratic ticket, beat McMahon, a one-termer, by 3,998 votes. This year Clemente is running with Liberal Party support.

Rep. John C. Davies of Utica, the first Democrat to be elected from the 35th District, faces a fight for re-election in the normally Republican district.

In 1948, Davies won by 138 votes—closest numerical count in any district in the country.

He defeated incumbent Republican, Hadwen C. Fuller. This year Davies faces William R. Williams of Cassville, sheriff of Oneida County and former Republican assemblyman.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester is running against Democrat A. Roger Clarke, 31-year-old World War II Navy veteran, in the 40th District.

In 1948 Keating won by 5,000 votes over Democrat George F Rogers, who was ill and died shortly after the election.

Hollis Fields was taken yesterday to Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, where he is reported to be undergoing surgery today. Mr. Fields, the owner of the Snyder Steam Laundry, has been away from his business three weeks due to this illness.

Midland Man Finds 2 For 2

DENVER, Oct. 17. (AP) — Ralph Lowe, a Midland, Tex., oil operator, must think the Rocky Mountain region is the promised land for the wildcat driller.

So far, Lowe has gambled just twice in the mountain country. His score: two jackpots.

The Texan's first well, in the South Cole Creek region of Converse County, Wyoming, struck oil in the Dakota sand. Last week, his second well, drilled in partnership with B. A. Goodall and Clark Seargeant in the South Glenrock area of Converse County, began flowing a strong, steady stream of "black gold" from the muddy sand.

Lowe isn't the only wildcatter who has been blessed by lady luck in Wyoming. In the past few years, the rate of oil and gas discoveries in that state has been the highest in the nation.

The General Petroleum Corp. is making final tests of an Embar sand discovery well at Slick Creek in Washakie County, Wyoming. Last week, the well flowed 768 barrels of oil in 15 hours.

Two other oil finds and one gas discovery were chalked up in the region.

Schedule Dedication For Borger Building

BORGER, Oct. 17. (AP) — Borger's tallest building, the seven-story Hotel Borger, is to be dedicated today as a part of the city's week-long "know your own strength" celebration.

Gov. Allan Shivers will be guest of honor.

Gen. J. Leslie Kincaide will be principal speaker at a formal banquet in the dining room of the new hotel.

The celebration opened yesterday with a parade and the coronation of Miss Betty Frith, 18, as Miss Oil Progress.

Film of Antelope And Elk Hunt Shows At Meeting in Fluvanna

A motion picture film of a recent elk and antelope hunting trip by five Scurry County men was shown at a Parent-Teachers Association meeting in Fluvanna last night.

The film was shown by Phil Burns, who took the pictures while hunting in Wyoming last month with Joe Parks, Ben Weathers, Marvin Key, and Nolan von Roeder. Both Burns and Bentley Baize attending the meeting with their families.

Shown in the film were some elk herds, shots of bears in Yellowstone National Park, several park scenes, and the game killed in the hunt.

Yellowstone Lake, Yellowstone River, and a house made of elk horns were photographed in the 20-minute film.

The hunting trip netted the hunters more than a ton of dressed antelope and elk meat.

Texas To Build Two Mental Hospitals At About $2 Million Each

AUSTIN, Oct. 17. (AP) — Two 150-bed psychiatric hospitals will be built by the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools.

The board voted the construction yesterday in an attempt to provide facilities for cure of mental patients before they become permanent state wards.

To be financed from the fund created by the last legislature in raising the cigarette tax a penny a pack, the two institutions are estimated to cost between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000 each.

Locations are to be decided at Houston were suggested by Dr. the next board meeting. Dallas and Walter Goddard of Austin, on whose motion the action was taken.

The board also voted to use a state hospital at Kerrville for care of seniles instead of a cerebral palsy institution. Setting up recently of a cerebral palsy center at Galveston was considered by board members as filling mandate of the last legislature which made reference to only one such center.

Weaker Sex Is Apathetic On Safety Problem

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (AP) — The nation's women are giving only "token support" to the problem of accident prevention, says a National Safety Council official.

"It is sad but true that the sex is the weak spot in safety," Paul Jones, the Council's information director, told women delegates yesterday at the group's annual convention.

"The irony of it is that, as any man knows, it is not the weaker sex at all, but the greatest potential force safety could have. We have failed utterly to arouse in women the crusading spirit that sends them into other worthy causes with a zeal that makes victory undeniable.

"This strange reluctance to participate more actively in safety is all the more surprising when you consider that the basic maternal instinct is supposed to be a protective urge."
