There are some 36 shopping days left before Christmas and it has been a hundred years since Charles Dickens, who liked to write about Christmas, died. Dickens is known today in every land where Christmas is celebrated.

He particularly liked to write about the food of the Christmas season — such things as pies, punch, turkeys, geese and sausages. He also was reported to be fond of coffee, but the coffee people say he seldom could afford the real thing. They say coffee was even higher priced then than it is now and that poor Dickens had to be content with roasted corn, which was used in his day as a coffee substitute.

Whatever your feelings about Charles de Gaulle, you will have to admit that he was a 100 per cent patriot. France was his everything and he never was reluctant to let it be known. And that country probably is fortunate that it never had to pay De Gaulle what it owed him. Some observers doubt that France still would be in existence today if Gen. de Gaulle had not been on hand in the turbulent post-World War II years.

Harper's Magazine, apparently galled over the success of the University of Texas football team, sent someone named James Toback, whose credentials are topped by being a "Harvard graduate," to Austin to try to discredit Darrell Royal and Co., and especially Frank Erwin, chairman of the UT board of regents. The result is a piece in the November issue of Harper's which is one of the crudest pieces of pseudo-racism to break into print in some time.

Speaking of Darrell Royal, his observation on Austin hippies, as reported by Toback: "They're promising one hundred per cent for nothing. But in the end the only thing nothing will get you is nothing."

TO PAY TRIBUTE TO DE GAULLE

World Leaders Flocking To Paris

PARIS (AP) — Headed by President Nixon and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, leaders of some 80 nations converge on Paris today to pay funeral tribute to Charles de Gaulle.

The presence of the world's great at the memorial service in Notre Dame Cathedral Thursday will mark the towering stature in history of the former army officer whose unshakable faith in France and stubborn will twice rescued his nation from humiliation.

The monarchs, presidents and other leaders will attend a Mass of simple liturgy, devoid of pomp and circumstance in accordance with De Gaulle's instructions in a letter he wrote in 1952.

Four hours later will come the simple funeral which De Gaulle decreed for himself. It will be held in the village church at Colombey les Deux Eglises, 100 miles east of Paris, where the former president died Monday night of a heart attack.

De Gaulle's body lay in state there today in his tightly guarded home, La Boisserie. He was dressed in the uniform of a two-star general, covered by the tricolor flag of France, in his hands a rosary given him by Pope Paul VI, and at his feet the Cross of Lorraine, symbol of his fight to free France in World War II.

President Georges Pompidou and Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas were to call there today after attending the annual World War I Remembrance Day ceremonies in Paris, this year overshadowed by the national loss.

The family admitted few persons to the house Tuesday to pay their respects.

There were unconfirmed reports from Moscow that Kosygin would make the pilgrimage to Colombey today as a personal gesture to the man who tried to make France a bridge between the East and West blocs.

Nixon is arriving in Paris around midnight, bringing with him in Air Force One De Gaulle's eldest grandson, another Charles, who had arrived in New York only a few days ago to begin a work-study program with a law firm.

Other foreign leaders coming to Paris included West German President Gustav Heinemann and Chancellor Willy Brandt; Prince Charles, the heir to the British throne, and Prime Minister Edward Heath.

GARY NAMED TO LAMAR POST

Air Conditioning Survey Of Schools Is Proposed

Snyder School Trustees last night heard proposals for surveys to determine costs for air conditioning school buildings and approved appointment of John Gary as assistant principal at Lamar Junior High School.

J. D. Hinton presented proposals for architectural and engineering work which would be needed in any construction project and in air conditioning the school buildings. With Hinton at the meeting was Norris Fanning of the Lubbock office of Zumwalt and Vinther, an engineering firm with headquarters at Dallas, which has handled engineering work in connection with air conditioning projects in Dallas Public Schools, at Texas Tech University and at the University of Texas at Austin.

The board, which launched the air conditioning studies following receipt of petitions from two groups several weeks ago, took the proposals under advisement and indicated that it would study them at a special meeting in the near future.

JOHN GARY

Gary's appointment, as assistant principal at Lamar will become effective as soon as a replacement for him can be found as physical education director at West Elementary School. For several years an athletic coach at Lamar, Gary will fill the post left vacant when Fred Beard was appointed prinicipal following the death of R. E. Cooper in a traffic accident on Oct. 12.

The school district's annual audit was formally accepted after it was presented by Joe H. Morren, CPA, and his fee of $3,073 was approved.

The board authorized participation up to $100 in a community brochure which is being prepared by the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, the City of Snyder, the Scurry County Coliseum and the Scurry County Industrial Foundation. Supt. Bill J. Hood said the schools could use an estimate 750 of the brochures over a two-year period in its teacher recruiting work.

Junior high football programe were discussed briefly with Athletic Director Wayne Tyrone and Principals Jack Gorman and Fred Beard of Travis and

UAW-GM Agree On Contract

By STEPHEN H. WILDSTROM
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. announced today they had reached tentative agreement on a new labor contract that could lead to the end of an eight-week-old strike against the giant automaker.

"Agreement on all national economic and contract issues has been reached between General Motors and the UAW," the company and the union said in a joint statenent.

"The three-year agreement covering all GM plants in the United States is subject to ratification by the UAW's membership in GM plants in the United States."

The two sides said details of the contract would not be released until after a meeting of the union's 350-member GM council later in the day.

Sources close to the negotiations, however, said it included these items.

—A union demand for a return to an unlimited cost-of-living wage escalator under which workers wages ride upward with increases in the Consumer Price Index.

—Retirement at $500 a month for workers with 30 years at age 58 in the first year of the contract, age 56 in the second year and age 55 the third year.

—A compromise wage increase in the first year of the contract somewhere between the union's last demand for an additional 61.5 cents hourly and the company's last offer of a 38-cent boost.

—Four weeks vacation after 20 years service.

UAW President Leonard Woodcock met briefly with reporters before going to union headquarters to present the package to the union's 25-member International Executive Board.

Woodcock did not reveal any details of the pact but emphasized that it covered only national issues in the United States.

He said he was "certain" the union's board and the GM council would support any locals which could not reach local agreements and wanted to strike.

Local pacts, which supplement the national contract, have been reached at 83 out of 162 GM bargaining units in the U.S. and Canada.

Woodcock also said that bargaining is continuing on a separate contract covering 22,100 GM workers in Canada.

Prize Winner Misses One

It required a near-perfect entry to win in last week's Snyder Daily News Football Contest.

Jimmy Roemisch, Route 1, Hermleigh, had it. He missed only one selection to take the first prize for the week. His only error on the week's list was in picking Georgia to defeat Florida.

Eight others missed only two selections. Since there was a multiple tie for runner-up, the second prize money carries over again until next week.

Finishing in a tie for second with only two misses were Terry Hayley, Route 1; Michael H. Ezzell, 3009 Crockett; Mrs. R. B. von Roeder, 2207 Forty-fifth; Mrs. Bill Boles, 202 Thirty-third; Leslie Bilberry, 106 Browning; David Thompson, 2803 Thirty-third; L. B. McCravey, 3741 Avenue V; James Hood, 300 Thirty-fourth.

Another contest begins today. The list of games may be found in sponsors' advertisements on the football contest page of this issue of The Snyder Daily News.

'Drug Awareness' Workshop Is Set

Snyder area adults, especially parents, are being encouraged to plan to attend a "drug awareness" program next Tuesday night in the Snyder High School Cafeteria.

John Short, Snyder High School Counselor, and Fred Beard, Principal of Lamar Junior High School, who are coordinating the drug awareness activity in the public schools, said that participation of adults is urgently needed.

The Tuesday night session will be a workshop-type program, with those attending divided into groups for discussion. Questions will be raised and each group will be asked to study these and seek answers.

The drug awareness program in the schools fulfills requirements of House Bill 467, adopted at the last session of the Texas Legislature. It is commonly referred to as the "crime prevention and drug education" bill and it requires all public schools to develop such programs.

Short, Beard and several students attended a workshop put on by the district media center several weeks ago. They in turn, have held workshops at the two junior high schools. The session for adults Tuesday night has been scheduled to extend involvement into the community and to acquaint parents with the program. Ultimately, the "drug awareness" program will be carried throughout the school system.

The state requires that students be made aware of the physical, mental and legal problems associated with the use of drugs. All school districts this year are required to develop their own programs for implementing this project, and the experiences this year must be the basis for an outline of plans for next year. The outline for drug awareness projects for 1970-71 must be submitted to the Texas Education Agency.

Board Reduces Interest Rates

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board has chipped away a fraction from its discount rate in a decision carrying more psychological impact than direct pressure on easing interest rates.

In cutting the rate Federal Reserve Banks charge their member banks for money from 6 per cent to 5¾ per cent, the board Tuesday carefully characterized its action as only a technical move.

It said, in effect, that interest rates on the market have come down already—and it was acting only to bring the discount rate into line.

Nevertheless, it was the first reduction in the rate in more than two years and appeared to signal a slight decline in the current 7½ per cent prime interest rate, the amount banks charge their biggest loan customers.

If that happens, it would mean a slight lowering of interest rates generally.

A spokesman for President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers said the decision is a bigger help psychologically than anything else.

He said the reduction "totally reflects the generally favorable trend of the credit situation .... It is a further easing of the credit strain."

The board said the cut was "made within the framework of the moderately expansive monetary policy that was initiated earlier this year."

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, said the reduction was a step in the right direction but noted one-quarter of one per cent was small.

"Even this decrease should encourage the banks to lower the prime rate and more importantly the interest rates to the consumer and small businessman," Patman said.

Economists said the board's move would not have a dramatic effect on the nation's financial markets.

The board last cut the discount rate in August 1968, when it dropped from 5½ to 5¼ per cent. Since then, it has been raised twice, the last in April a year ago when it moved from 5½ to 6 per cent.

In Canada, the Bank of Canada continued a five-month string of reductions in the lending rate.

Canadians Are Not Affected

TORONTO (AP) — Larry Gough, public relations director for General Motors Canada Ltd., said today "the settlement in the United States does not necessarily mean a settlement here," but he expressed optimism on the prospects for a Canadian settlement.

"It will probably be some days following a final settlement over there before we have a settlement here."

There are 27,000 auto workers at General Motors plants in Canada.

Soviet Moonship Launched

MOSCOW (AP) — Another unmanned Soviet rocket, Luna 17, was on its way to the moon today and expected to arrive Saturday or Sunday. Soviet scientists apparently plan for it to scoop up some of the lunar surface and return to earth with it, as Luna 16 did nearly two months ago.

Luna 17 will test new equipment and "carry on further scientific exploration of the moon and near-moon space," Tass said. "According to telemetered data, the on-board systems and units of the station are functioning normally."

The Soviet news agency said the moonship was launched Tuesday afternoon and set out for the moon from an earth orbit. Its destination on the lunar surface was not announced. Luna 16 brought back 3½ ounces of soil from the Sea of Fertility in September, Russia's first successful attempt at collecting moon samples.

At 1 a.m. EST today Luna 17 was 86,000 miles from earth, Tass said.

After the success of the U.S. manned lunar landings in 1969, the Soviet space program got a considerable boost in prestige from Luna 16, the first robot craft to bring material back from the moon. Although its payload was minute compared with the 132 pounds of rocks and soil collected by the astronauts of Apollo 11 and 12, Soviet scientists claim such unmanned exploration is cheaper and safer than manned flights. Many Western scientists agree.

Experience gathered from the Luna series will be used for round-trip attempts at Mars and Venus "probably within this decade," Soviet scientists have said.

'Girlie show' got hubby in doghouse

By Abigail Van Buren

(c. 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of married men going to a "girlie show" where the girl dancers are completely naked and they dance VERY close to the tables? By the way, only men can get into these places. My husband plans to go with some men friends of his soon, and he is really looking forward to it. He doesn't know how furious I am about this. I did tell him I didn't see why a married man would even want to go to such a p'ace, but he kind of laughed it off.

Do you think I am being foolish for feeling as I do? Maybe I should pretend I don't care so I won't be thought a jealous, possessive, nagging wife. What would you do in this case? Tell him he can't go? By the way, my husband is 25 and I am 23 and we've been married for three years.

JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: You have already expressed your surprise [and probably disappointment] that your husband would want to go to such a place, and having done that, there is nothing further for you to do. Don't tell him he "can't" go. [He'll go if he wants to.]

DEAR ABBY: To ease the heart of the lady who kept finding fresh flowers on her husband's grave from an "unknown donor" and was hurt because she had thought him so faithful, please tell her this:

We had a dear old relative whose vision wasn't too good. After her husband died she went almost every day to place fresh flowers on his grave, and since it kept her busy, nobody interfered. One day, I went with her and discovered that she had been putting the flowers on the wrong grave.

I didn't have the heart to tell her, thinking it couldn't possibly make any difference to anyone. So for the rest of her life, that dear little old lady never knew she was going to the wrong spot. It never occurred to any of us that such an error could cause heartache to anyone until I read that letter in your column. So, this lady's husband was probably the wonderful, faithful person she remembers, but somewhere there could be a feeble myopic mourner who is visiting the wrong grave. Hope this helps.

BETTY IN L. A.

DEAR ABBY: Re the widow who wrote that a mysterious person kept putting fresh flowers on her husband's grave, and she was heartsick.

It is possible that in her grief and shock, this widow when making the funeral arrangements signed for an automatic flower service. This means the grave site is perpetually provided with fresh flowers.

This happened to a friend of mine. She was so numb at the time she made her husband's funeral arrangements she signed with a florist for such a service.

When she was sent a bill one month later for "perpetual flower delivery" she said she had never even heard of such a service—and she certainly didn't recall signing for it.

So tell that poor lady that she may be going thru all this for something she herself agreed to pay for.

JEAN IN LOMPOC

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NO SWINGER" IN MISSOULA, MONTANA: Dancing can be a very intimate business, and I don't think you are even a little bit square for wanting to dance the "slow, cheek-to-cheek" ones only with your own husband.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Lamar Junior High Schools, respectively. Interest was expressed in modifying the eight grade football program. The two principals and the athletic director will study the program and make a recommendation to the board.

A request by Ruby Butts, county home demonstration agent, for use of a school bus for a Home Demonstration Club tour in the county was approved.

A leave of absence until Jan. 4 was approved for Mrs. Lillian Jones, high school teacher, and an indefinite leave for health reasons was approved for Mrs. Floy McNaughton, teacher at North Elementary School.

John Short, Snyder High School counselor, gave an oral report to the board on the school system's "drug awareness" program; a new activity required by statute for the first time this year. He urged board members and others to attend a special community workshop on this project set for the night of Nov. 17 at the high school cafeteria.

UT Regents Reject Plan

AUSTIN (AP) — University of Texas regents rejected a plan Monday which they claimed would reopen a school cafeteria to "street people."

The regents reversed a recent vote by the directors of the Texas Union Building to open the Chuck Wagon cafeteria to all persons on a one-month trial basis starting day.

Snyderite's Painting Shown At Shreveport

An oil painting titled "YARA" by Jay Huckabee of Snyder was selected to be included in the 48th Regional Jury Exhibition sponsored by the Shreveport Art Guild and the City of Shreveport, La.

Artists from an eight-state area were eligible to submit entries for judging by Norman Kent, nationally recognized artist, author and teacher. "YARA" is on loan from the Diamond M Museum here for the current show at the R. S. Barnwell Memorial Garden and Art Center in Shreveport.

Earlier this year, two of Huckabee's watercolors were included in the 21st Annual Texas Watercolor Society Jurored Exhibit at the Witte Museum in San Antonio.

Huckabee is a member of the Texas Watercolor Society, Big Country Art Association, Texas Fine Art Association and the Snyder Palette Club.

Norther Hits In Panhandle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fresh norther whipped into the Texas Panhandle this morning, hitting up to 40 miles per hour in gusts, and with it came light rain and occasional snowflakes.

The moisture, barely heavy enough to wet the paving, first developed around Dalhart and Perryton. Weather Bureau observers looked for it to spread in a hit-or-miss pattern into other parts of Northwest Texas.

Near dawn the leading edge of the new and rather weak cold front reached as far south as Lamesa and Vernon. Skies behind it were partly cloudy to cloudy. It was nearly clear in other sections.

The cooler air was expected to push all the way to the plains opposite the Upper Texas Coast and into southern areas of the state by evening. Forecasts promised overnight temperatures as low as 25 in Southwest Texas, 27 in the Panhandle and the middle to upper 30s in other sections.

By early morning the temperatures ranged down to 38 degrees at Wink, 39 at Lufkin, 40 at Perryton and Texarkana, and 41 at Dalhart while it was still 62 at Brownsville and McAllen.

Tuesday's top marks covered a 15-degree spread from 66 at Texarkana to 81 at McAllen.

George Meany Turns Down Nixon Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany has turned down a Nixon administration appeal for labor unions to reduce their wage demands.

"Our people are going to continue to push for wage increases to make up for what inflation is robbing them of," the 76-year-old Meany said Tuesday.

President Nixon's chief economic adviser, Paul McCracken, had asked industry to hold down prices and unions to cut back wage demands which he said are averaging 9 per cent a year.

Second Drug Workshop Is Held Here

The second local student drug workshop was held Nov. 5 at Travis Junior High School with Jon Short, Snyder High School counselor leading the discussion.

The second workshop was held to further discuss and plan the ideas brought up in the previous workshop.

At this workshop Texas Education Agency beliefs about drug education were brought out. These were as follows: total community involvement; unique needs of own school district; limitation of crime and drug abuse; affective behavior changes; carefully planned program; authentic facts; careful selection of staff; laboratory methods necessary.

Bobby Goodwin, city chief of police, and Joe Carroll, local attorney, were guest speakers.

Goodwin informed the students and teachers that the policemens' job is to detect, apprehend, and assist with prosecution concerning drugs.

Carroll explained the process of law taken when minors and adults are apprehended in the possession of drugs.

The members of this workshop expressed concern over Snyder's drug problem. It is heped that others in the community will take an interest in the situation and will attend the Public Awareness Night, Nov. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

New House Members Younger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average new member of the House will be about 11 years younger than the member he replaces, incomplete statistics indicate.

The figures show newly elected Democrats averaging almost 15 years younger than their predecessors and Republicans between four and five younger.

The average age of all House members apparently will not change much. It was estimated at 57 years plus when the present Congress took office. Of the incumbents, 3[illegible] were elected and they, of course, are two years older than in 1966.

Fifty-five newcomers have been elected and one race is still in doubt.

Executor To Publish Novel

LONDON (AP) — The late E. M. Forster, British writer best known for "A Passage to India," was the author of a novel with a homosexual theme which his executor plans to publish.

Forster died in June at the age of 91. His executor, Prof. Emeritus Walter Sprott of the psychology department at Nottingham University, said the novel was written between 1905 and 1913 and that Forster had shown it only to close friends.

"He did not want it published in his lifetime because he thought there would be some stir about it and he did not want to be involved in that," Sprott said.

Angela Davis Is Indicted

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Black militant Angela Davis has been indicted on murder, kidnaping and conspiracy charges stemming from a courthouse shootout here Aug. 7 which was fatal to four persons.

In an eight-page indictment Tuesday, the Marin County grand jury charged the 26-year-old former UCLA philosophy teacher began plotting as early as last Feb. 16, the day three black prisoners at Soledad Prison, nearly 100 miles south of here, were indicted on charges of killing a white guard.

The state alleges the courthouse incident was part of a plot to take hostages and force the release of these three prisoners.

Miss Davis was not accused of being at the scene of the shootout, but California law holds accessories to such crimes equally guilty with participants.

Miss Davis is in a New York jail fighting extradition to California on a Municipal Court warrant charging murder. She was on the FBI's 10 Most Wanted List until her arrest Oct. 13 on a federal warrant for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Earlier Tuesday, Miss Davis issued a statement saying "there is no evidence whatsoever" for what she called "the framed up charge" against her.

"Hundreds upon hundreds of American revolutionaries have been confronted with a fate no different from mine," said the self-avowed Communist.

The new charges levied in the indictment said she plotted the seizure of hostages with Jonathan Jackson of Los Angeles, 17-year-old brother of George Jackson, one of the three accused in the guard's killing at Soledad Prison.

The three, who have become known to black militants as the Soledad Brothers, were transferred to San Quentin from Soledad last July 9. A national campaign has been started to raise funds for their defense.

The indictment charged Miss Davis gave young Jackson two guns she had purchased earlier and which were used in the shootout here in which the youth, two convicts and Judge Harold Haley, 65, were killed.

It said that Miss Davis and Jonathan Jackson attended a rally in Los Angeles June 19 and there advocated openly "release from lawful custody" of the Soledad Brothers.

Thereafter, the indictment adds, they purchased a third gun in Los Angeles, and two days before the shootout bought a fourth gun in San Francisco.

The indictment said Miss Davis and young Jackson drove to the Marin Civic Center the day before the shootout to look it over and plan the escape and taking of hostages. The hostages were to be held at an unnamed place in Marin County for exchange of the Soledad Brothers, it claims.

Erwin Blasts Alliance

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A well-scrubbed, clean-shaven group called the Young Socialist Alliance is society's most effective enemy, the chairman of the University of Texas system regents said Tuesday.

Frank C. Erwin Jr. said members of the group never wear beards, use drugs or get arrested, and they number no more than 50 to 60 in Austin.

But they furnish the brains "for all the disruptions we have," he told the San Antonio Bar Association.

Erwin also expressed concern about marijuana, saying its use is widespread in the University of Texas system and up to 50 per cent of freshman girls have smoked marijuana in high school.

Turning to the moral code, Erwin said, "I regret to tell you that young people at the university pay no more attention to moral standards than figs. They no longer frown on girls who regularly spend the night in boys' apartments."

The great majority of students "are fine people, but the minority is far too large for us to ignore," Erwin said. He asked listeners to join him in assuring that radical students don't take over education.

Speaking for the Young Socialist Alliance, Derik Jeffers in Austin disputed Erwin's statement that the organization is an enemy of society.

Jeffers said the alliance is "the No. 1 enemy of the violent protesters of the status quo—including Frank Erwin, who spouts their rhetoric."

Teacher Demand Dwindling

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department says young people, especially women, planning on becoming teachers in the 1970s should think instead about jobs in other fields.

In a once-in-a-decade forecast released Tuesday, the department noted the dwindling demand in education, a field entered by two out of three women college graduates in the past, and warned those who pursue that aim could wind up in unemployment lines.

But, the report said, state and local governments will offer 52 per cent more jobs by 1980, services and professions 40 per cent more, construction 35 per cent, finance, insurance and real estate 24 per cent, trade 23 per cent, manufacturing 11 per cent, and transportation, communication and public utilities and the federal government 10 per cent each.

Mining jobs will fall 9 per cent and agriculture 23 per cent.

The document said the elementary and secondary teacher job decline will bottom out by 1973. But it stressed that applications could increase even as jobs dwindle unless young people recognize the slackening demand.

"The situation calls for careful appraisal in making career decisions," it said.

"The outlook particularly suggests broadened career opportunities for women."

The department's forecasts, in the form of a graph-packed, 28-page booklet called "U.S. Manpower in the 1970s," will be distributed to 100,000 leaders in business, labor and education in the hope of prompting private-sector planning for coming changes.

The report, much of it a summary of already published statistics, forecasts a U.S. work force of 100 million by 1980, a 10-year growth of 15 million. It will include bigger shares of blacks, women, young people, white-collar workers, and part-time workers.

The number of teen-agers entering the job market will grow much slower than in the 1960s, but the number of black teen-age job seekers will jump 43 per cent compared to 9 per cent for whites.

Park Land To Be Purchased

AUSTIN (AP) — The state Parks and Wildlife Commission has decided to negotiate with Mrs. Sam E. Wilson Jr. of Corpus Christi for a large tract of undeveloped beach on Mustang Island for a state park.

Mrs. Wilson had offered the land for $1,100 an acre.

Chairman Pearce Johnson said the commission voted to "buy as much as we could within the money available" of the nearly 7,500 acres.

He indicated he opposes the decision and said he did not join the other two commissioners for the vote, adding: "I hate to break the (state park) bond fund."

He said the state can get only $1 million in 50-50 matching money from the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, but there is a chance of obtaining additional money from the secretary of interior's contingency fund.

Johnson said the commission told its executive director, Robert Singleton, that if he has not acquired the land in 10 days, to "let us know and we'll do something."

He said the agency plans to start its purchase at the north end of Mustang Island, at the boundary of a state-owned tract and "go south as far as we can go."

He said people "are not using Padre" (the Padre Island National Seashore area) and I don't know if they will use this one or not."

"Some say 'buy it so nobody will develop it' but we could use that philosophy and buy up the whole state of Texas," Johnson said.

Commission Salesmen Need Higher Rates

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — This is a story about a group of men, most of them over 40, who have not received a basic increase in their rate of pay in 25 years and who claim it could lead to the death of their craft.

They are the commission salesmen, independent and unsalaried, working for 5 per cent or a bit more of the money they bring in by representing small and medium size manufacturers of fabrics, plastics, furniture and so on.

"This was once one of the most rewarding careers of all," said Marvin Leffler, chairman of the National Council of Salesmen's Organizations, which claims to speak for 40,000 salesmen in 59 separate organizations.

"Ten years ago a man might have an income of $20,000 to $25,000. At best, that average is now 10 per cent higher, and that's not enough of a gain to offset inflation. There is a crisis of compensation."

But, Mr. Leffler, although the rate of return may not be any higher, certainly the volume is. Doesn't this offset his higher costs?

"No," Leffler answered emphatically. "Hotels cost more, meals cost more, entertaining customers costs more, gas and oil cost more, cars cost more, the borrowed money to pay for the cars costs more..."

Yes, Mr. Leffler, you have sold the point. Anybody will buy that.

The average salesman, Leffler added, marshalling his statistics for the coup, "has reported to us that his costs of doing business have increased about 17 per cent in the past 12 months."

In less inflationary times the commission salesman merely worked longer and harder to offset higher expenses, But persistent inflation has him dog tired, discouraged and maybe even beaten,

Moreover, the spate of mergers and acquisitions has hurt badly. Many of them involve the small manufacturers served by the commission man, who then must seek to acquire another account or accept a lower standard of living.

The National Council therefore has begun a campaign to gain recognition for the salesman's plight. As a beginning, letters are being sent to manufacturers throughout the country who use commission men rather than maintaining their own sales forces.

"This is not a union approach," Leffler comments in the letter. "Our intercession is one of good will. We simply ask you to recognize that what we do together will bear heavily on the future of the selling profession."

It is the nature of the salesman, Leffler said in an interview. "He's independent. And the psychology of selling means that he always must put his best foot forward. If he's bleeding he won't wear a bandage. He won't fight as an individual."

If compensation is not improved the Council feels that good men will be driven from the field, new ones will be discouraged from entering, and the job will fall to lower caliber personnel who will do an inferior job.

"We want to break the ice," said Leffler. "If some go for the higher rates, all will. Compensation will become a competitive factor. The best men will be attracted to the best money."

Things That Make Life Worthwhile

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

Pay day Fridays.

Sunrises, sunsets and rainbows.

Being asked by the girl you want to marry if you'd please rub the back of her neck.

Overhearing your kindergarten teacher say that you can gallop to piano music better than any other boy in the class.

Getting back from a pay telephone three times the amount you put in.

Becoming a teen-ager.

Outgrowing the teens—at long last.

The animal delight—and later human conscience pangs—over bagging a rabbit on your first hunt.

The lifetime-lasting wistfulness of an adolescent love affair with an older woman who is hardly aware that you are alive.

Landing a summer job as a drugstore soda squirt, which means you can eat ice cream by the gallon—as long as the boss doesn't catch you.

Tasting caviar for the first time and deciding that, no matter how highly others might prize it, beef stew was better for your own immortal soul.

Dancing with a girl, and feeling pleased because she had her eyes closed and her breath felt warm against your cheek.

The sight of an old-time schooner, fully rigged, setting out to sea.

Holding a beach shell to your ear and listening to the far away lapping waters of all the oceans on earth.

Standing empty-pocketed at the entrance of a circus, then being unexpectedly given a ticket by a passing benefactor.

The feel of corduroy, the fragrance of a wintry hearth fire, the fairyland vision of trees lacy with ice, the flavor of hot bean soup upon coming in from the cold.

Realizing, after your own children start arriving, how much your own parents sacrificed for you in their time.

Converting an old enemy into a new friend.

Opening a Chinese fortune cookie and finding a message which reads: "You should be content that you are loved."

Of these, and other things, is earth sometimes made like unto heaven.

Escapees Recaptured

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — Freedom lasted less than 12 hours for three prisoners who choked a jailer and escaped from the Bell County jail Tuesday.

Two policemen recaptured them at gunpoint in Temple and they were back behind bars here before midnight.

Temple patrolman P. A. Fernandez and a fellow officer who was off-duty, Jack Brown, caught the fugitives hiding under a hedge outside a real estate office.

The policemen were alerted by an employe of a drive-in food store, Wayne Pyburn. He said he became suspicious after seeing two of the men walk past while the third came inside and bought beer, bread and lunch meat.

The prisoners are Billy Allen DeVoyle, 34, of Killeen, who is appealing a life sentence for murder; Carlee Edmond, 27, of Temple, held on an assault to rape charge, and John William Blalock, 22, a Ft. Hood soldier held on charges of forgery and swindling by worthless check.

They escaped about 11:30 a.m. by overpowering Jailer Nick Jiminez, taking his keys and locking him in a cell.

Deputy sheriff Wayne Oldham and state patrolman Sam Bartholeme took custody of the trio and returned them to Belton.

Cousin Disputes Report

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Amelia Earhart's third cousin said Tuesday the famed aviatrix is dead and that speculation to the contrary is merely a publicity stunt to promote book sales on the subject.

"I believe she was either shot down and killed in the plane crash on Saipan or was executed by the Japanese," said H. W. Earhart. "I was on Saipan and I know the Japs didn't let too many prisoners loose, especially during the early part of the war."

There have been persistent stories over the years that Miss Earhart was on a secret mission for President Franklin Roosevelt to map any Japanese airfields and other suspected installations in the Pacific when she disappeared in 1937.

Joe Klaas and Joseph Gervais, authors of a new book on the mystery, said in a New York news conference Monday that Miss Earhart is alive and living in New Jersey under the name of Mrs. Guy Olam.

Junior Editors Quiz on 'WALKING' HORSE

ANSWER: This question is usually asked when someone mentions the Tennessee Walking Horse, since, as everyone knows, all horses can walk. This is true, but the Tennessee Walker walks in a different way from the others. This unusual breed, developed in central Tennessee over 100 years ago, is a combination of the Standardbred, Morgan, Thoroughbred and American Saddle Horse strains. It was developed because of the need on Southern plantations for a gentle, comfortable horse which could also move rapidly. Some of the Tennessee horses had a faster, smoother walk than others, a kind of running gait which gave the effect of gliding and was very pleasant to the rider. Horses with this gait were deliberately developed, until a special breed had been created. Notice the long stride of the Walking Horse as shown in the picture. Over the years, the comfort and smooth ride of the Tennessee Walker has made the breed appreciated in many parts of the United States.

(Cynthia Frogley of Shawnee, Kans., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Texas Hall Of Fame Elects 4

DALLAS (AP) — A long-time baseball star, two former Southwest Conference coaches and the trainer of three Kentucky Derby winners have been elected to the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

The four new members, who increase the honor list to 72, are Ernie Banks, who rose from Dallas schoolboy ranks to fame with the Chicago Cubs; Byron (Buster) Brannon, who developed championship basketball teams at Rice and TCU; Jess Neely, successful coach at Rice for 27 years; and the late Max Hirsch Sr. who earned a reputation as thoroughbred racing's leading trainer.

Banks, Brannon and Neely will come to Dallas for the annual Hall of Fame luncheon Dec. 31 that has become a highlight of the Cotton Bowl week in Dallas.

The luncheon is co-sponsored by the Texas Sports Writers Association, which governs the Hall of Fame, and the Salesmanship Club of Dallas.

Banks went to Chicago in 1953 and in his first season hit .314. He was named the National League's most valuable player in 1958 and 1959 and was placed on the Sporting News' all-star major league teams as a shortstop in 1955, 1958, 1959 and 1960.

He has established these major league records: Most consecutive games played from start of major league career (424); most home runs by shortstop for a season (47); highest fielding percentage by a shortstop for a season (.985) in 1959 and fewest errors by a shortstop for a season (12) in 1959.

An athlete blessed with confidence and color, Brannon played on the famed Athens High School basketball team of 1929 that won the National Schoolboy Tournament in Chicago in which 38 states were represented.

He earned five letters at TCU, three in basketball and two in football. He won all-SWC honors as a basketball guard in 1932 and 1933 and captained the senior team. He was a left-handed quarterback and punted on the 1932 TCU football team that won the Southwest Conference championship.

Brannon started his collegiate coaching at Rice and his 1940 team won the SWC crown and finished third in the NCAA playoffs. His 1942 team also won and lost to NCAA champion Stanford in the playoffs. At TCU, his 1952 and 1953 teams won outright championships as did his 1959 team. His 1950 club tied Texas A&M and Texas for the title.

Neely, a star end and halfback at Vanderbilt, graduated with a law degree, but turned to coaching in high school to pay some school debts. Forty years later, he retired from coaching including 27 years at Rice.

He holds the most SWC victories as a head coach (86) and the most non-conference and conference victories (144). Two of his players, Weldon Humble and Froggie Williams, were inducted into the National Hall of Fame and seven of his teams played in major bowls.

Hirsch was born July 30, 1880 in Fredericksburg and began his racing career as an exercise boy at the age of 10, became a jockey at the age of 14 and won 123 races before, at the age of 22, he turned to training.

His Kentucky Derby winners were Bold Venture in 1936, Assault in 1946 and Middleground in 1950. Assault also won the Preakness and the Belmont for the Triple Crown. Hirsch trained many other great horses, most of them for the King Ranch.

Red Gymnasts Seek Prestige

WINNIPEG (AP) — Men and women from the Soviet Union left little doubt after the first day of the six-nation World Invitational Gymnastics Tournament Tuesday that they intend to regain some of the prestige lost during last month's World Championships.

After completion of preliminaries, the Russians were leading in four of five events, with Japan holding a narrow margin in the fifth, the men's floor exercise.

Canada, the United States, France and Yugoslavia make up the other countries represented here.

McCutchen, Jones Honored By AP

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Doug McCutchen can appreciate being The Associated Press' offensive player of the week because the hard-running Texas Tech Red Raider was a fourth teamer as recently as spring training.

He ripped off 204 yards against Texas Christian and the week before got 147 through the Rice Owls.

"On the first day I was on the third team," McCutchen recalls about spring practice when new coach Jim Carlen took over. "I didn't see how things could get much worse.

"On the second day I found out how bad things could get because the coaches put me on the fourth team."

McCutchen, a sophomore from Bronte Pop. 999, battled his way back to the second team. And on his first two carries he gained 40 yards and then scored a touchdown.

Under Carlen's system, he goes with the back that's having the "hot" hand. It's either Miles Langehenig, Larry Hargrave, Danny Hardaway or McCutchen.

Right now Mr. Heat is McCutchen. He's the No. 1 ball carrier for Tech with 837 yards on 184 carries. He broke 27 tackles, for example, in the 22-14 victory over TCU by Tech.

Other offensive players receiving mention were Arkansas quarterback Bill Montgomery and SMU tailback Gary Hammond.

Baylor's David Jones, a senior linebacker, is The AP's defensive player of the week for his inspired play in Baylor's 21-14 loss to Texas.

He admits he tries to emulate Chicago Bear all-pro linebacker Dick Butkus.

He has a pinup photo of Butkus hanging in his room.

"I believe in the way Butkus psyches himself up for a game," said Jones. "You know how it works. He's the most feared man in pro football. I just like him."

Jones had 17 tackles against Texas—10 unassisted. He deflected a pass and blocked a punt that resulted in a Baylor touchdown.

Jones—like Butkus—starts getting ready for a game Monday.

"I like to get alone and think about the man who'll be in front of me," Jones said. "You've got to whip the guy in front of you before you can do anything else. I usually start on Monday by looking at films and by Wednesday, I'm pretty psyched up."

Baylor coach Bill Beall says "David doesn't have a shut off valve ..."

Jones said the close loss to Texas "Helped us in feeling like we can stay with anyone. It gave us a lot of confidence. I think it really started something. If we can win our next three games, I think our program will be well on its way to being what we want it to be."

Others receiving defensive nominations included Baylor end Roger Goreer, Baylor's Ray Penn, and Texas defensive backs Danny Lester and Alan Lowry.

Crawford Praised

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ready or not, here comes Bob Crawford, who's always ready.

The University of the Pacific linebacker was ready and waiting for unbeaten, nationally ranked San Diego State last Saturday and almost pulled off the upset of the year—single-handedly.

The 5-foot-10, 204-pound senior from Oxnard, Calif., made 24 tackles, 11 of them unassisted, as the unheralded Tigers dropped a heart-breaking 14-13 decision. That performance earned Crawford National College Lineman of the Week honors from The Associated Press.

And a heart-breaking defeat it was. Not only did Pacific hang right in there with the mighty Aztecs after losing their star quarterback early in the game, but just before San Diego's winning touchdown Crawford intercepted a pass in the end zone only to see the theft wiped out by a penalty.

"Without Crawford we would have lost badly. He's the best linebacker I've been around in my coaching career," says Homer Smith, the Tigers' head coach. "He's smart, quick, tough, dedicated, all the usual adjectives. He's a great leader, too, and our defensive captain.

"He always wants to hit and he bores right in for the center of gravity. And he's always perfectly ready for game competition. With Bob, there's no funny stuff at all the 48 hours before a game.

"He's even led us in pregame and postgame prayers several times and they've been things of beauty. I wish I had taped them."

Crawford probably is too small for pro ball, but Smith is trying hard to get him in some postseason all-star games. A physical education major—he was wrestling captain at Camarillo, Calif., High School and honorable mention junior college All-America at Ventura J.C.—Crawford is planning a coaching career.

"It's a shame he's too small for the pros," says Smith, "but he's just right for college."

Bo Hagan Resigns

HOUSTON (AP)—Buffeted by his fourth straight losing season, head coach Bo Hagan announced Tuesday he was quitting at Rice University.

Hagan, 45, said his resignation will be effective Dec. 1, after the close of the Owls' season.

Rice has won only two of seven games and will play Texas A&M, TCU and Baylor to wind up the season.

By his own admission, the Owls were due to put their best team on the field in years in 1970. But Rice is 0-4 against Southwest Conference competition and the Owls were shut out by SMU and Texas Tech.

Only last spring, a group of alumni demanded Hagan's resignation. He was given a vote of confidence by the faculty committee for outdoor sports.

It is believed that Hagan never had a written contract. His predecessor, Jess Neely, coached at Rice for 26 years with a verbal year-to-year contract.

Hagan told his team he was quitting at the end of Tuesday's practice session, then released a written statement to the press.

"Obviously this is a difficult action for me to take," Hagan said in the statement. "But I want to do so immediately for the best interest of the university so the administration can have maximum time to select a successor.

"We set certain goals for our football program and they have not been reached. I have a strong desire for Rice to be successful in football and to have an outstanding all-around athletic program. I hope the future will bring out these aims and pledge my support to help my successor in any way I can in the future."

Rice President Dr. Norman Hackerman said the decision was Hagan's and no pressure had been applied to him to quit. Hackerman will pick a successor.

Hagan's four Rice teams have won only nine of 37 games and tied one. His 1967 team was 4-6 and 1968 was his worst year with Rice winning only one game. Last year Rice had a 3-7 record, winning two of its last three games.

Rice hasn't won a road game since its 20-17 upset of Texas in 1965 on the tailend of the Jess Neely era.

However, the Owls' problems didn't begin with Hagan. Rice has been in a slump for almost a decade. Going into the 1970 season, the Owls had six straight losing football teams.

The 1960 and 1961 Owls finished with 7-3 records and lost to Ole Miss in the Sugar Bowl in 1960 and to Kansas in the Bluebonnet Bowl the next year.

Thereafter, they've had but one winning season, a 6-4 year in 1963.

Even so, Rice, which plays in one of the finest stadiums in the nation, has not show any indication of de-emphasis in athletics.

The board of governors approved of a $500,000 stadium improvement program last spring. The costliest item was an Astroturf floor in the 70,000-seat stadium.

Hagan, a World War II veteran, graduated from the University of South Carolina in 1950.

He joined the Georgia Tech staff as freshman coach, then left for an assistant's job at SMU in 1954.

In 1956 Neely lured Hagan to Rice where he was offensive backfield coach until he assumed the head job when Neely retired. He was Neely's choice.

"My future plans are indefinite for this time," Hagan said in his resignation statement. "But my family considers Houston as home and we would enjoy remaining here. Any decision regarding continuance of service to the athletic department by members of my staff will rest, of course, with my successor."

Eatacado Is Tough

Coach Larry McNair, who gave the scouting report at the Tiger Booster Club meeting last night, said that Estacado, the next Tiger foe, has plenty of natural talent, speed and a good defense.

Offensively, the Matadors, who are leading the District 3-AAA race with a 4-0-1 record, employ the I formation, and they also run several plays from a true pro set.

Estacado can throw the ball well, McNair observed. He said the Matadors use a 7-diamond defense and sometimes go into a "27" defense.

Coach Milton Ham, who monitored films of the game with Lamesa, said the contest with the Tornadoes was one of the "most rugged" games he has ever seen.

The only Tornado touchdown in the game came when the Tors caught the Bengals stunting the wrong way. The film revealed that both teams played tough defensively.

The meeting was held in the high school cafeteria.

Travis-Lamar Clashes Set

The annual Travis-Lamar battle will be held Thursday in Tiger Stadium.

Eighth grade teams from both schools will clash at 5:30 p.m., followed by the 9th grade tussle at 7:30 p.m.

Travis 8th is 6-1 for the year with the best record among local teams. Lamar 8th is 4-3.

Travis 9th is 5-1-2 for the campaign while Lamar 9th grade is 5-3.

Mel Pender, Army captain stationed at West Point, is assistant Army track coach. He was sixth in the 100 meters in the 1964 and 1968 Olympics. He won a gold medal with the sprint relay team in 1968.

Considering A Job Offer

(Second of Three parts)

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

If you're considering a job offer which involves moving to another city or state, analyze how that better job adds up in net income improvement.

SALARY. Although the offer looks good or you wouldn't be considering it, try to determine the going rate in the new locale for the type of job you're being offered. You can check newspaper want ads, private employment agencies and the State employment service. You can also write or call civil service offices (city, county or state), and if you find your job classification in a government job, you can use the salary range as a guideline.

Some companies expect their executives to spend enough to present a prosperous image in the community, and you should evaluate whether "success" costs will be more than offset by the new salary. For example, a woman who is a department store copywriter generally will need to make a larger wardrobe investment if she becomes a store advertising director. Can you think of hidden costs which apply to your situation?

A SECOND INCOME may be lost. An ex-Chicago reader wrote that she has been unable to find a job in the small Wisconsin town to which she and her husband relocated so that he could accept a better job. A net loss of income resulted. A working mother who moved from a middle-sized community to Chicago said her child care expenses had tripled.

FRINGE BENEFITS. According to a nationwide Federal Labor Department study, fringe benefits amount to about 25 percent of earnings. For example, if you earn $10,000 a year, your benefits equal about $2,500 on the average. However, fringes in a small company may be skimpy or nonexistent, and your salary should make up the difference. Even in large companies which offer a good package of benefits, the mix may not be the most helpful to you. Lower premium group car insurance, for instance, has more appeal to young males than to middle-age workers, but the young employee would not necessarily share the older worker's enthusiasm for cheaper group life insurance.

Would you prefer to have more holidays and vacation time, a credit union, health insurance, accumulated sick leave, or something else? Judge fringe benefits in the light of how well they are tailored to fit your particular needs.

LIVING COSTS DIFFERENTIAL. As a rule of thumb, expect living costs to rise if you move from a small to a large community, or from the South or Midwest to other parts of the country. You can get detailed information on variances in living costs by reading the "Consumer Price Index," which covers representative cities. (For a free copy, write to the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, Washington, D.C. 20212.)

Don't overlook a variety of potential budget-busters, such as medical and dental bills. To illustrate, a New York dentist told a friend of mine that his bill would be $1,350 for certain dental work; the friend had the dentistry done in the Midwest for $360. Medical costs are reputed to be much higher on the East and West coasts.

While homeowners have much to think about in relocation dollars, so do apartment dwellers. Will you have to pay considerably more for a comparable apartment in the new area? (Incidentally, make sure that the job transfer clause in your apartment lease includes changing jobs at your option, so that you don't get stuck with the balance of a lease.) Remember, too, that there are a raft of odds-and-ends costs (shopping at more expensive stores initially because you don't know where to find bargains, new car licenses, new school uniforms for the kids if necessary, replacing aerosol cans and inflammable products you couldn't move, etc.). In fact, it may take several months to a year to financially catch-up if the pay differential is not substantially higher.

Mamie's Agent Pleads Guilty

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mamie Van Doren's former business agent has pleaded guilty to bilking the shapely blonde actress out of $7,000.

Kenneth Kip Tracy, a 66-year-old accountant, entered the guilty plea to one count of grand theft in Municipal Court Tuesday.

He also was charged with another count of grand theft for $9,465. The second charge will be disposed of at his sentencing Dec. 1, officials said.

The district attorney's office said an audit of Miss Van Doren's books showed a loss over the past three years of $46,000. Investigators said, however, that part of that amount may have gone to Tracy as legitimate wages.

Margarine was invented about 1870 by a French scientist, Hippoyle Mege-Mouries, as a result of a contest sponsored by Napoleon III. The new product won the contest.

Nixon Sees End Of Vietnam War By Next Election

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top White House aide says President Nixon has declared flatly that the Vietnam war will be ended by 1972.

The statement is in a memorandum by presidential Counsellor Robert H. Finch, in which he summed up Nixon's post-election comments last week to a meeting of Cabinet and ranking staff members.

In reporting an optimistic Nixon outlook for the next elections two years hence, Finch's notes contained the passage that "... the war which is being wound down will have been ended."

Finch sent copies of the memo to newsmen Tuesday.

His account of the President's analysis included:

"In 1970, the high hopes of the national Democrats hinged on a single issue—the dislocations of an economy moving from inflation to stability, from war to peace.

"By 1972, that issue will be gone. As a result of doing what was right, 1971 will be a good year economically and 1972 will be a boom year.

"By 1972, the inflation that is being cut back will have been controlled; the war which is being wound down will have been ended."

"The Republican party will run on the peace and prosperity issues—which no Democratic administration has been able to do since the start of World War II.

"In 1972, we will have in office a President who did something about the crime crisis the opposition ignored for a decade; we will have a President who checked the inflation the opposition could not control; we will have a President who ended a war the opposition could not end."

The flat statement that the Vietnam war will be ended before the next election ran counter to the account given Monday by Ronald L. Ziegler, the White House press secretary. He denied that the President had said the war would be over.

Ziegler quoted Nixon as saying he felt that by 1972, the situation in Southeast Asia will be under control and will not pose the problem it has for the past six years.

The account sent out over Finch's signature was the latest in a series of administration and Republican party assessments claiming victory in the off-year elections.

Welfare Worker Charged

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A U.S. commissioner bound a former welfare worker and his sister over to the grand jury Tuesday after a witness testified about an alleged scheme involving food stamps.

Charged with illegal possession of food coupons are Margil Vale, 27, and Sylvia Vale Morris, 37, both of San Antonio. They posted bond and went free.

Vale was identified at a hearing before commissioner John Giles as a former case worker with the local food stamp program.

Robert Cooper, 33, also a former food stamp case worker, testified that Vale and Mrs. Morris referred clients' names to him and that the clients later met him in the local food stamp offices.

The clients would say they had six or more children and needed food stamps, Cooper testified, and he would fill out forms to qualify them for $180 worth of stamps.

Cooper said he understood that a client would then give all but $50 worth of the stamps to a contact man.

A government witness who has not been charged in the case, Cooper testified he has given federal officials the names of about 60 clients whom Vale referred to him.

Cooper said he received cash for a share of the stamps turned over by the client. He testified Vale and on one occasion Mrs. Morris paid him.

Work Started On Cemetery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Work has started on the Arlington National Cemetery gravesite for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. A 32-foot reflecting pool and an inscribed wall will mark the site just south of President John F. Kennedy's grave.

The Kennedy family will provide $566,000 of the $747,000 cost for the gravesite. The federal government will pay the remainder.
