Oil Allowable Increase Set

By ERNEST STROMBERGER

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission ordered today that October oil production be held to 28.8 per cent of potential, the first September-to-October allowable increase in 10 years.

The commission set the October allowable at 2,944,109 barrels daily after hearing of major oil companies' plans to increase purchases next month.

The October percentage production factor is higher than all but three of the 13 nominations made by purchasers.

The commission had set September production at 28 per cent of capacity, providing an allowable of 2,864,660 barrels daily. October, 1964, production was held to 27.9 per cent.

Five of the 13 oil company spokesmen at today's hearing asked for an increase in the 28 per cent ceiling. Pre-hearing estimates showed October purchases would total 2,518,980 barrels daily, an increase of 28,429 over September.

The Bureau of Mines October forecast was for 2,745,000 barrels daily, an increase of 50,000.

Nominations by percentage:

33 — Texaco 148,000 barrels daily.

29—Gulf 212,900 and Shell 172,700.

28.5 — Pan American 253,070 and Humble 413,725.

28—Sun 107,311, Cities Service 67,000, Continental 27,000, and Standard of Texas 37,000.

27.5—Mobil 241,100.

27—Sinclair 99,300.

26—Atlantic 73,670 and Phillips 118,550.

Strike Is Called At NY Times

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Newspaper Guild, demanding job protection against automation and mergers here, struck the New York Times today.

Early editions of afternoon newspapers came out as scheduled however, as publishers withheld immediate action on their threat to close six other metropolitan dailies.

Negotiators went back into conference after a short recess from an all-night session.

In calling the late-morning meeting, Theodore W. Kheel, special mediator, said:

"Within the next few hours after we resume negotiations, we will reach an agreement. Both sides have a constructive attitude. The area of difference is now better understood."

The AFL-CIO Guild, representing 2,200 Times employes in the newsroom, advertising and commercial departments, and on the building services staff, set up a picket line at 8 a.m. Members of the nine newspaper craft unions did not cross it.

The strike hour, however, came at a time which would have little immediate effect upon production of the Times' next edition, the Friday morning papers. The first press runs for these editions comes in early evening.

Says Move Is 'Political'

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, Indi (AP) — India said today it will listen to peace appeals from President Johnson and accused Pakistan of playing politics in asking Washington to end the war on the subcontinent.

"We have already made a positive response to appeals by Johnson and others," a government spokesman said. "But Pakistan now is just engaged in political maneuvering".

President Mohammed Ayub Kan of Pakistan told a news conference in Rawalpindi Wednesday the United States can play a very definite role by telling India and Pakistan she will not stand for this struggle."

Ayub also for the first time showed some flexibility on the question of a plebiscite in the disputed state of Kashmir, saying "it's a matter that can be negotiated." Up to now Pakistan has insisted on a plebiscite in Kashmir within three months.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told the Indian Parliament today that Ayub is only trying to "beguile the world" with his talk of peace.

"The evidence is that Pakistan is intending to continue the fight," Shastri said.

He called on the Indian nation to "cheerfully undergo the hardships" necessary to stop what he called Pakistan's "naked aggression."

U. N. Secretary-General U Thant's peace mission failed "through no fault of our own," Shastri said, blaming Pakistan's insistence on a conditional cease-fire.

"Not one of these (conditions) is acceptable to us," Shastri said.

A comparative lull was reported this morning along the front in most sectors. An Indian defense ministry spokesman said there was fighting in the far north sector of Sialkot but combat had slackened almost everywhere else.

Nine Panels To Work On Trade Event

Nine sub-committees will begin work immediately on detailed plans for a big trade promotion event here Oct. 16, Jay Rogers, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Merchants Committee, has announced.

At the same time, it was announced by Bill Seale, Chamber of Commerce President, that a special board meeting will be held Tuesday night to develop policies and map a general program of work for the entire chamber organization.

Directors had agreed at their regular meeting Tuesday night to have a special planning-policy session prior to their next regular meeting.

General plans for the trade promotion event already have been drafted, but much detailed work will be required before Oct. 16.

Pickets Slow Defense Work

SEATTLE (AP) — Work slowed on some of the nation's vital space and defense programs today as picket lines were established at Boeing Co. installations across the country.

Pickets first appeared at Cape Kennedy at 12:01 a.m. EST when the company's contract with the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers expired.

By morning more than 34,000 production workers from the Cape to Boeing's main plant here had been affected.

Major points at issue are performance analysis, Boeing's method of classifying employes for promotion, demotion or discharge, union security and health coverage for dependents.

Kremlin Shakeup Rumors Persist

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — Rumors persisted today of impending changes in the Soviet hierarchy, but top Western diplomatic sources discounted reports of a power struggle.

One persistent rumor, widely credited in Western diplomatic circles, was that Anastas I. Mikoyan will retire as president on his 70th birthday Nov. 25.

It was the softest of the rumors to build up around the regime of Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev which took over last Oct. 14 after the ouster of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The Communist party Central Committee is scheduled to meet Sept. 27 and presumably any changes will be announced after it starts.

Among the rumors is one that Alexander Shelepin, a bright and ambitious leader, has been trying to engineer a takeover with the intention of seizing both the premiership and the party leadership. Khrushchev held both posts.

Another rumor is that the "government by committee" which Soviet spokesmen claim for the present regime, will proceed in an orderly manner to arrange the new leadership.

If the present leaders, Kosygin and Brezhnev, feel the hot breath of Shelepin on their necks, they have shown no sign of it in public meetings nor in their attitude toward Shelepin.

There is a fair number of diplomats who insist that Shelepin's reputation for aggressive, ambitious toughness is not merited, that he is ready to await his turn at command.

But there are others who think he is tough and ambitious and is the man for a takeover, if one is in the offing.

Camp Is Experiment In Friendship

FREEDOM, N.H. (AP) — Inez Eagleshield has returned to her reservation home on the Dakota plains. Eva Wolgers is back in Stockholm, Sweden. Molly Luethi is roaming the Alpine fields around Goldern, Switzerland. Denise Bruton is back in Washington.

The rambling old farmhouse where they and 28 other children spent the summer is deserted.

When next summer arrives, the house again will ring with the multilingual cries of children at play. And Freedom's International Camp will begin its sixth year of striving for "peace through understanding."

"We try to get children of as many different nationalities as we can," said Jurg Papritz, a Swiss teacher who heads the camp. "This year, for example, we had 16."

The nonprofit camp is privately financed through tuitions, donations and fund raising project, but does not cater solely to a paying clientele.

Search For Storm Dead

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Authorities continued a house-to-house search today for bodies in eastern New Orleans as flood waters from Hurricane Betsy — which unleashed its fury a week ago — slowly receded.

A similar operation was under way in neighboring St. Bernard Paris, where 3 to 4 feet of water remained in some low-lying sections.

Police sealed off a 300-square block area after Dr. Rodney Jung, city health officer, said it was necessary because "conditions have deteriorated to an alarming degree."

A nuseating stench permeated the area, which contained green scum, floating garbage and hundreds of animal carcasses.

Communications with the devastated regions of lower Plaquemines Parish, 60 miles down the Mississippi River from New Orleans, remained out and there was no late word on conditions. Earlier, Plaquemines officials said it would take 30-60 days alone to restore fresh water facilities.

The Mississippi River around Baton Rouge remained closed to shipping as a search went on for a barge loaded with 600 tons of deadly chlorine. The barge sank during the hurricane.

The list of known and presumed dead climbed to 68 in Lousiana with another 12 victims reported from Florida, Mississippi and Arkansas. In addition, the New Orleans' coroner had more than 100 names on a list of missing persons and there were still numerous persons unaccounted for in St. Bernard and Plaquemines Parishes.

The herculean task of cleaning up debris and repairing damaged homes and businesses was in full swing. Utility service was gradually being restored in all but the sections still under water.

Viet Nam Crash Takes 39 Lives

QUANG NGAI, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thirty-nine persons, including an American, were killed today when an Air Viet Nam C47 commercial airliner crashed shortly after take-off from Quang Ngai airfield.

The dead American was Jerry Rose, described as a free lance writer who also was a civilian adviser to the South Vietnamese government. His wife lives in Hong Kong.

Among the dead was the South Vietnamese minister of rural pacification, Nguyen Tat Ung.

US Seeks More Details On Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration has asked President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan to spell out what kind of U.S. intervention he believes would contribute to an end of the conflict between India and Pakistan over Kashmir.

Officials indicated today that President Johnson is awaiting a reply before deciding on any new moves in the search for a formula which could end the fighting. Any such steps, informants also said, would be within the framework of Johnson's policy of supporting U.N. Security Council efforts to restore peace.

U.N. Secretary - General U Thant has conferred with both Indian and Pakistani leaders in the past 10 days. Persons familiar with his preliminary report to the Security Council earlier this week said it had sharply defined the issue blocking a cease-fire.

According to the report as summarized here, Pakistan wants a cease-fire coupled with a program for final settlement of the 17-year-old Kashmir controversy. India is prepared to accept the cease-fire and negotiate any conditions associated with it such as where the cease-fire line should stand.

Singapore Talks Of Soviet Base

SINGAPORE (AP) — Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew threatened today to offer Russia a Singapore military base if the United States takes over the defense of Malaysia.

Lee, in another bitter anti-American outburst, declared: "If the Americans step into the shoes of the British, this place is lost."

He declared he could get the Russians into this newly independent island state "in a minute."

"I could make sure that the U.S. 7th Fleet could not use the Singapore Straits," he added.

The strategic Singapore Straits are the gateway from the Pacific to the Indian Ocean.

Lee made these remarks to newsmen during an interview at his official residence.

He said the British withdrawal from Malaysia and Singapore and their replacement by the United States "would be a disaster."

Russia's leaders are convinced that if the British withdrew from their bases here "the Americans would come in to protect them."

"And with the American record for picking the most vocal anti-Communists in Southeast Asia, I would be certain that the Malay leadership would use the Americans to preserve their position of control," he said.

Lee said he is convinced powerful Malay extremist politicians would try to use American troops to support Malay communal interests against the local ethnic Chinese.

Lee said this is why Singapore is now rejecting any suggestion that the United States might eventually have to assume British defense commitments in Southeast Asia.

He did not say who made the suggestion.

There has been no public offer by the United States to take over the defense of Malaysia.

Red Cosmonaut Tells Plans For Manned Moon Satellite

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Soviet Cosmonaut Alexei Leonov disclosed today that Russia plans to place a permanent manned satellite around the earth and try crew exchanges before landing a man on the moon.

Leoonov gave no timetable for this program, which differed from American plans for the moon. The United States hopes to shoot its Apollo-space ship to the moon before 1970. The Americans also plan a permanent manned satellite that would involve crew exchanges but U.S. Apollo plans are not dependent on the permanent satellite program.

By holding up their moon shot until permanent stations are established, the Russian [illegible] said. "Then there will be a spaceship for the moon, and a landing on the moon."

Since the Apollo is being launched from earth, its size will be limited by the launching capacity of its Saturn rocket. If a space ship for the moon is assembled in space, as the Russians appear to be planning, its components can be hoisted into space in several launches and its size need not be limited to the load capacity of a single rocket.

The Soviet cosmonauts had their day at the space congress, even as American spacemen L. Gordon Cooper Jr., and Charles Conrad Jr., arrived in Athens to begin a six-nation goodwill tour. The two, whose eight-day Gemini 4 trip set a record, also are guests of the congress.

Leonov, the first man to walk in space, indicated his own adventure was a rehearsal for an attempt at exchanging crews. He addressed a special plenary session of the International Astronautical Congress.

The Soviet cosmonaut and his space partner, Pavel Belayev, described their Voshkhod flight.

Leonov said a main goal of his space walk was to test his space suit and the air-lock on the space ship.

"In time there will be many space laboratories, with crews being periodically exchanged," he said. "Then there will would be able to shoot a bigger ship to the moon by assembling it in space. The American three-man Apollo will be fired from earth.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I went on a two-week vacation trip. We didn't want to take our three kids because they are all under five and hard to handle, so we left them with my mother, who is a widow and has nothing to do anyway. We also have a dog which we left in our back yard. It's fenced in and there is a dog house there in case the dog needs shelter. We asked my mother to run over every day to feed the dog and give it fresh water, then we locked the house up tight.

Well, my mother got nosey and she got into the house somehow, gathered all the dirty clothes, washed and ironed them and laid them on the bed. Now I say if ever my wife had a right to get mad at my mother, it was right then. Our dirty clothes were none of my mother's business. We only asked her to keep the kids and feed the dog. I was as mad at her as my wife. I wish you'd write something about nosey mothers who overdo the domestic bit. Thanks.

"NOSEY'S" SON

DEAR SON: A woman who would care for three hard-to-handle grandchildren under five years of age, and "run over" daily to feed a dog is, in my book, an angel! Next time HIRE someone to do what your mother did out of the kindness of her heart and you won't have to worry about her "overdoing the domestic bit." P.S. Your wife was probably ashamed of having gone off and left soiled clothes behind, and her shame turned to anger when she learned that her negligence was no secret to your mother.

DEAR ABBY: In 1958 I started going around with a well-to-do married man who told me he had nothing in common with his wife any more. He said he loved me and if I would wait we would be married someday. It was married at the time and had a seven-year-old son. I gave up my husband and son to be available whenever this man wanted to see me.

All this time he told me we had to be careful not to be seen together because if his wife ever found out she could take him for every dime he had. I would cook dinner for him in my apartment and we never went any place.

Suddenly he quit coming around. I just learned that he is NOT married and never was. Tell me, Abby, what protection does a working woman, who can't afford to hire private detectives, have against a snake like this?

BETRAYED

DEAR BETRAYED: None — and the next time you're tempted to "go around" with a married man, find out if he's married — and then forget it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: A few girls in the office in which I work, including myself, would like your opinion of the following.

Do you think it is right for an employer to expect an employee to lie for him? When he does not wish to be distrubed, or talk to someone or see someone, he asks us to say that he is "out."

Is there anything we can do about this? Naturally, an employee must follow orders, but this doesn't seem right.

GUILTY CONSCIENCE

DEAR GUILTY: Don't nitpick the boss's orders. He has his reasons for being "out" and they should be good enough for you.

• • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PROF" AT ANN ARBOR: Don't marry her if she doesn't "turn you on." She may have a fine mind, but you have to marry the whole girl.

Jury Still Divided In Trial Here

The jury in the second trial of Patricio Martinez resulted in another deadlocked jury this morning, but deliberations were continuing.

The first trial, which started Monday, resulted in a "hung" jury Tuesday. Judge Sterling Williams, presiding judge of the 132nd District Court, then ordered that a new trial begin as soon as a new jury could be selected.

The second trial was ordered rapidly because one of the witnesses had been brought here from the state prison.

Arguments in the second trial began Wednesday and the jury reported at 11:30 a.m. today that it was deadlocked. Judge Williams instructed the jury to continue its deliberations, with hopes that a verdict could be reached. The jury is comprised of 10 men and two women.

In other action in 132nd District Court, Thomas Lanham of Colorado City received a two-year suspended sentence after a jury found him guilty of forgery.

Another jury began deliberations this morning on the J. B. White case. White, a local pawn shop operator, is accused of receiving and concealing stolen goods. He pleaded innocent to the charge.

Top Art Auctioneer Lays Down His Gavel

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts Editor

NEW YORK, (AP) — The auctioneer whose little ivory hammer has knocked down more than $200 million worth of art, precious stones, antiques and other objects is practically through with the rostrum.

But that doesn't mean that Louis J. Marion is through with the fine arts business. He is just specializing in one aspect of it — appraisals.

This past week he stepped down as president of Parke-Bernet Galleries, America's foremost fine arts auction firm, where he has been senior auctioneer in addition to his other duties, which included appraisals. During the past year he has steered the firm through its first year as an affiliate of Sotheby's of London.

Now he is head of Louis J. Marion Associates Inc., his own organization for making appraisals for collectors, estates, banks, insurance companies and others. He will remain on the Parke-Bernet board of directors.

And he will be available as a pinch hitter on the Parke-Bernet rostrum, but his active career in auctioneering is over.

It would be hard to dispute the assumption that Marion is the world's No. 1 hammer-wielder. No one in the United States or Europe can match that $200 million figure, or the length of his career, and along the way he has set a good many records.

His biggest night, of course, was in November of 1961, when he sold the Erickson collection of Old Masters for $4,679,000 (a world record), including the Rembrandt, "Aristole Contemplating the Bust of Homer" at $2.3 million, still a record for a single painting.

But he also has sold many important collections of precious stones (his particular specialty), including the jewelry collection of Mrs. A. Hamilton Rice, for a record total in that category of $1,341,560.

It was at another jewelry sale, dispersing the May Bonfils Stanton collection, that he experienced what he believes was the tightest moment of his career. It involved a big diamond called "The Idol's Eye," on which the top bid was $350,000.

"It was a case of two simultaneous bids," he said. "I caught one from a Chicago dealer down front and one of our assistants caught the other from a man over on the right."

Usually such dilemmas can be solved by giving each bidder a chance to go slightly higher. In this bracket the bids were advancing in big leaps, but Marion asked merely for a modest $1,000 jump. He didn't get it.

About this time it dawned on him that the man on the right was a collector who also happened to be a stockholder and director of Parke-Bernet. And he saw the collector's wife shaking her head at him, obviously advising him to get out of the competition.

Next Marion asked for a measly $500 jump to break the tie. He was acutely conscious of the fact that people would talk if he even gave the appearance of favoring — or disfavoring — a director of the firm.

The collector refused to go another $500. So did the dealer. It flashed through the auctioneer's mind that the dealer must be acting for an absentee client, and had already reached — or slipped past — the client's top figure. A touchy stalemate.

"I had to make a decision," said Marion. "And then I remembered that years ago the late Hiram Parke had set a precedent in a similar situation, although that one involved less money.

"So I followed the precedent, and declared the bidder nearest the rostrum was the winner — the Chicago dealer."

The sandy-haired, 55-year-old Marion started four decades ago in the mail room of one of Parke-Bernet's predecessors, and began auctioneering in 1937.

As for the future of art auctions?

"For the big sales, the most obvious trend is toward trans-Atlantic bidding in two auction rooms, London and New York," he said. "Telephones have been used sometimes, but the best medium is television — the way we did it in our last big sale, with the television relay handled on the Early Bird satellite."

On that occasion, the chief auctioneer was at Sotheby's, but most of the major paintings went to Americans sitting before a big screen at Parke-Bernet.

Clubs Urged To Help Remove Barriers To Understanding

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The work of the General Federation of Women's Clubs is needed "to help remove barriers to human understanding among peoples of the world," Texas Secretary of State Crawford Martin told the clubwomen Thursday night.

Their board of directors ended its fall meeting today.

Martin welcomed the women to Texas on behalf of Gov. John Connally.

"We in Texas are especially grateful for the work of the federation in support of the Alliance for Progress," Martin said.

"The 10 libraries established in Peru last year by our Texas federation of over 1,000 clubs, the scholarships provided in the past to over 30 other promising students from various nations — these alone are outstanding achievements."

The women met at President Johnson's LBJ Ranch Monday.

The directors went on record Wednesday against admission of Red China to the United Nations and called the U.N. the only true world forum where every member is pledged to seek peace with freedom.

Speaking as director of the junior division clubs of the federation, Mrs. Thomas Houde described members' work to provide badly needed schools in rural Mexico.

The women raised funds for nearly five schools and hope to finance several more. The federation works through CARE, Inc., and Mexico's department of education to set up the schools.

Schools in the project accommodate about 50 children, cost $5,500 each and include teachers' quarters, lunchroom, kitchen and kindergarten facilities.

Even Hindsight Fails To Clear Dominican Muddle

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas has denounced the Johnson administration's handling of the Dominican Republic revolt while practically excusing President Johnson of blame.

This just adds confusion to a situation which was already a little foggy. And Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, admits he is talking from the benefit of hindsight.

But Fulbright might have made his complaint at all the Johnson critics could have waited for the benefit of hindsight before deciding it was necessary to send Marines into the Dominican Republic. Then he might have acted differently.

Briefly, this was the background:

A few days after the revolution began last April against a reactionary regime in the Dominican Republic, Johnson announced he was sending in Marines to protect American lives.

Shortly afterwards he gave established in the ... a preliminary to ... in about nine months ... ripped into Johnson's ...

... he said: "On the basis of information and counsel he Johnson received, the President could hardly have acted ... than he did. It is very difficult to understand however ... so much unsound advice was given him."

But Fulbright also said: "The ... for American intervention appears to be that very close to the beginning of the ... U.S. policymakers ... that it should not be allowed to succeed."

The senator offers no proof of ... charge although his statement will be widely read in Latin America and may antagonize ... Communist Latin Americans who wish to throw out reactionary regimes and provide better life for their people.

Fulbright said the "danger to American lives was more a pretext than a reason for the massive U.S. intervention."

Yet, while Fulbright says the evidence doesn't "establish" that the Communists at any time actually controlled the revolution, he said "there is little doubt that they had influence within the revolutionary movement, but the degree of that influence remains a matter of speculation."

By this statement Fulbright is acknowledging that even now it is not fully known how great a force the Communists were in the revolution at the time Johnson used troops to prevent their taking over.

Party Season Another Of Our Ordeals

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody talks about cocktail parties; but nobody ever does anything about them except to throw another one.

One of the ordeals of autumn is that it signals the start of a new cocktail party season with all its attendant perils to millions of American alimentary canals which have rested up during the summer.

Originally, the cocktail party was invented as a pleasant way of paying off small social debts en masse. But it outgrew that idea long ago. Now it is just another way to get even with folks.

One of the rituals about throwing a cocktail party is that there must be a reason for it, preferably a cute reason.

Such as:

"We'uns would like you'uns to attend a little shindig in our hut next Friday honoring our dog Roscoe, who has just graduated at the head of his class in obedience school. Hours: 5 to 7. Bring your own weapons."

"Oh, no, not another cocktail party!" moans each guest. But each guest shows up on the dot at the appointed hour. Everyone who attends cocktail parties says he hates them — but he wouldn't miss one for the world.

The more thoughtful guests bring gaily wrapped gifts for Roscoe, who lies in a corner snarling at all who come near. Roscoe has been to cocktail parties before. To him they are part of a dog's life he would rather dispense with.

At the start of the evening the guests, most of whom never heard of each other before and silently hope they never will again, are hard put even to exchange bare commonplaces of greeting. They stand there, shifting from one foot to the other, and pretending they are having a whale of a time munching on gummy fishballs and other gluey substances.

No one knows for sure who first started the custom of serving that kind of food at cocktail parties. No one is willing to accept the blame. Roscoe himself would starve rather than touch it.

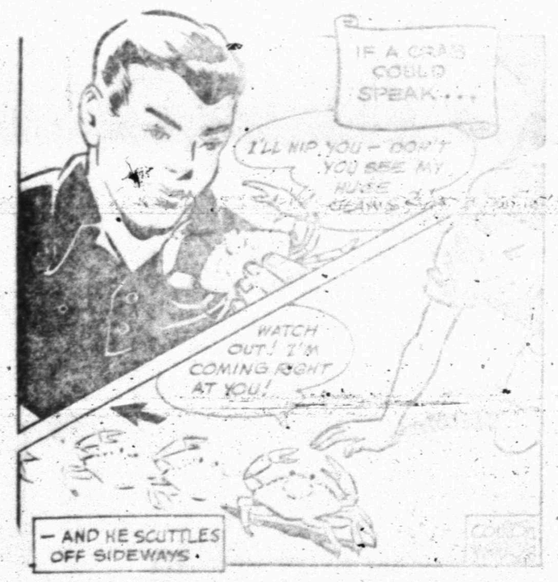
After a couple of hours, however, the different kinds of bubbly in the glasses have evaporated the inhuman chill. The guests who had nothing to say before now can't shut up. Holding on to each others' coat lapels they are engaged in eyeball-to-eyeball shouting matches.

No one hears what another says. Why should he? After all, he has a few things he wants to get off his chest himself. Undoubtedly thousands of brilliant bon mots have been uttered at cocktail parties. But who remembers ever hearing one?

By 9 p.m. the host's living room, which looked so lovely only four hours before, now reeks of smoke like an opium den. It couldn't be more disarranged if Geronimo had held a reunion of his tribe there.

At midnight wives are hauling reluctant husbands out the door and saying, "Give me the keys — I'll have to drive." Roscoe lies in wait, trying to give each a revengeful nip as they pass.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CRABS



QUESTION: Why do crabs walk sideways?

ANSWER: The ancestors of crabs appeared about 400 million years ago. The special way of life they developed was to crawl over the ocean bottom or beach looking for bits of decaying animal or vegetable matter. Since crabs are tasty little creatures, many animals preyed on them. The crab family thus had to develop different ways of protection. Some covered themselves with armor, others like the hermit crabs, concealed themselves in empty sea shells. In our picture, Mike is amused at how funny and dangerous a crab looks. He realizes that this is pretty stiff, useful for scaring some enemy away. In the bottom picture, Mike puts the crab on the ground to see what will happen. Almost as if he realizes his bluff has worked, the crab rises on the tips of his legs and scuttles off sideways. This movement is unusual among animals and it often helps a crab make a getaway. The crab's legs are joined to his body so that they bend toward, making it easier to move sideways than to the front. Nature is always trying out new things. If they work to help the species survive, nature lets them go on using them, so crabs will probably walk by sidewalks sideways for thousands of years to come.

High-Priced Rookie Pays Off For Angels

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rick Reichardt, baseball's Joe Namath, is nicknamed Jingles. But he's just beginning to ring the bell.

Reichardt, who received the biggest bonus in baseball history when he signed with California for an estimated $200,000 last year, hit the first homer of his major league career Wednesday night and also collected three other hits as the Angels split with Chicago.

The White Sox won the opener 8-1 but the Angels took the nightcap 2-1 in 14 innings.

The four hits lifted Reichardt's batting average to .321 since he was recalled from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, where he continued his unspectacular but steady climb without being shoved into the spotlight as much as Namath.

Reeling off their seventh straight victory, the Minnesota Twins reduced their magic pennant-clinching number to six by edging Kansas City 7-5.

Any combination of Minnesota victories and losses by Baltimore totaling six will bring the Twins their first American League pennant.

The Orioles rode Boog Powell's fifth homer in six games to a 3-2 victory over Detroit. Mel Sottlemyre posted his 18th victory as the New York Yankees defeated Washington 5-3 and Cleveland snapped a four-game losing streak by belting Boston 8-4.

In the National League, San Francisco edged Houston 3-2, the Chicago Cubs defeated Los Angeles 8-6, Cincinnati nipped the New York Mets 2-1, Milwaukee downed Philadelphia 4-2 and St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 7-3.

Trailing 5-1, the A's played catch up with the Twins on homers by Ken Harrelson and Larry Stahl before tying it in the eighth inning on a homer by Bill Bryan and Mike Hershberger's run-scoring single. But the Twins came through in the bottom of the inning with rookie pinch hitters Ted Uhlaender and Joe Nossek stroking run-producing singles.

Powell hit a two-run homer in the first inning and the Orioles never trailed. Willie Horton and Norm Cash connected for the Tigers, who were held to five hits by Dave McNally.

Stottlemyre checked the Senators on five hits while the Yankees broke a 2-2 tie in the fourth inning on Clete Boyer's homer.

The Indians tied the score 4-4 on Lou Clinton's homer in the seventh inning, then won it with a four-run eighth.

Spring Branch Player Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — A Spring Branch high school football player injured in practice died Wednesday night.

Hospital attendants said Bobby Thorpe, 15, a sophomore, suffered severe brain damage.

Sophomore coach Charles Dinhoble said young Thorpe made a tackle during a workout Monday and got up rubbing his head.

He was told to lie down and he began moaning but Dinhoble said he could not tell whether the youth was conscious.

Bobby was wearing a complete set of protective gear, including a helmet.

Dinhoble said the boy received a head injury playing football in junior high school but recovered and had a doctor's approval to play again.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thorpe of Houston.

Canned Beef Flown To Hurricane Area

News From SWC Camps

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Tech coach J. T. King awarded the fullback post to sophomore Andy Reed after a final contact drill Wednesday before the season opener here Saturday against Kansas.

King said he thought the Red Raiders' pass protection is improved but "we're a long way from being ready for Kansas."

WACO (AP)—A slowly healing ankle injury may keep Baylor guard Greg Pipes from seeing action in the Bears' opener Saturday at Auburn, coaches said Wednesday.

Baylor had its final workout today before leaving for Auburn.

FORT WORTH (AP) — Half the Texas Christian offensive backfield will be sophomores Saturday when the team goes against Nebraska, the nation's top ranked team, at Lincoln, Neb.

Sophomore Kenny Post of El Campo has landed the fullback post and Steve Landon of Waco will be at halfback.

There'll also be two sophomores on defense, E. A. Gresham of Graham at linebacker and Charles Harrington of Little Cypress at tackle.

COLLEGE STATION (AP) Texas A&M barred spectators Wednesday as the Aggies went over plans for Saturday's game with Louisiana State at Baton Rouge.

Coach Gene Stallings ordered secret workouts for the final days of the pre-game preparation.

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist coach Hayden Fry described his players as "determined but sloppy" after their last full drill Wednesday before the season opener against Miami in the Orange Bowl Saturday.

The Mustangs will leave Friday for Miami.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana State coach Charles McClendon planned a final light drill today in preparation for the Tigers' opener here Saturday night against Texas A&M.

"The squad will be able to bounce back quicker by holding light workouts," he said.

Jayhawker Coach Sings The Blues

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Injuries and illness have sidelined Kansas' top two quarterbacks and coach Jack Mitchell said he may have to call on punting specialist Wally Hinshaw to the job.

Bill Fenton, the Jayhawks' No. 2 quarterback, was treated for what Mitchell described as a "sort of a chest virus" at a hospital Wednesday. It was uncertain whether he'll be able to start in the season opener against Texas Tech Saturday at Lubbock.

No. 2 quarterback Bob Skahan pulled a thigh muscle last week and was able to run through only two plays Wednesday. Skahan will go to Lubbock with the team but it's doubtful that he'll play.

"If Hinshaw gets hurt, I guess we'd just play the single wing," Mitchell said.

Greenies At Austin

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane coach Tommy O'Boyle expressed delight Wednesday that his team still will be able to meet Texas despite Hurricane Betsy.

O'Boyle informed his players that the game, scheduled here Friday, has been changed to Saturday night in Austin.

"We realized the tragedy and disaster here makes it impossible to play in New Orleans," he said.

The team had a light, no-contact drill Wednesday. End Lanis O'Steen and tailback Jim Hutchison were standout pass receivers.

Giants Hold Lead, Take 13th Straight

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Linzy is a funny fellow. And he's helping the San Francisco Giants laugh all the way to the National League pennant.

The laconic rookie from Oklahoma with the snappy wit and the sinkerball to match proved again Wednesday night that he's one of the best relief pitchers in the business when he nailed down the Giants' 13th straight victory — a 3-2 squeaker over the Houston Astros.

Linzy replaced Bob Shaw in the eighth inning with one run in, one man on, none out and the score tied 2-2. He faced only five batters, recorded six outs, and finished the night with his sixth victory in a row on Willie McCovey's game-winning single in the ninth.

Willie Mays played a key role — an inevitable development in the Giants' spectacular drive. The Wondrous One singled in the game's first run in the fourth and scored the winner in the ninth, racing to second when his sizzler down the first base line got through Walt Bond for an error, then coming in on McCovey's liner off Bond's glove.

The win kept San Francisco a comfortable 2½ games ahead in the race for the flag. The Cincinnati Reds took over second place, beating the New York Mets 2-1 behind Jim Maloney's pitching, while the Los Angeles Dodgers dropped to third with an 8-6 loss to the Chicago Cubs.

Also in the NL — Milwaukee snapped its losing string at three games, downing Philadelphia 4-2 with the help of a throwing error by Bobby Wine; and Curt Flood rapped out five hits and drove in five runs as St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 7-3.

In the American League — Minnesota's first-place Twins made it seven straight, trimming Kansas City 7-5; Baltimore beat the Detroit Tigers 3-2; Cleveland scored an 8-4 victory over Boston; the New York Yankees defeated Washington 5-3; California and Chicago split, the White Sox winning 8-1 before the Angeles took the nightcap 2-1 in 14 innings.

Maloney, bringing his record to 19-7, also singled in the deciding run against the Mets as the Reds scored both their runs in the second inning. Four straight singles got the job done — by Deron Johnson, Johnny Edwards, Leo Cardenas and Maloney. Ed Kranepool hit a homer for New York's run.

The Dodgers took a 3-0 lead in the first inning, but the Cubs drove Don Drysdale from the mound in the second inning when he was hit in the foot by a line drive off the bat of Ernie Banks. Then they made the most of their errors and singles by Harvey Kuenn and pitcher Dick Ellsworth for three runs and a 5-3 lead in the fifth inning.

Tony Cloninger brought his record to 22-9 for the Braves, who scored three runs in the seventh inning. Two came in on Wine's throwing error and Hank Aaron doubled in the third. Wes Covington hit a homer for the Phillies.

U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi says golf scores are lower today because the game has more good players.

Prep Schedule Enters 2nd Week

By The Associated Press

Another 400-game schedule starts tonight in Texas schoolboy football with No. 1 sitting in a precarious position on the heads of at least two teams.

Especially is this true in Class AAAA, which had its top four teams beaten in the first outing last week.

Texarkana rides at No. 1 at this time, but the Tigers have an annual grudge game with Arkansas High coming up Friday night. Their reign could be short-lived although the Tigers will be favored.

Pharr-san Juan-Alamo, kingpin of Class AAA, meets the second AAAA team in a row as the Bears clash with McAllen. Pharr had all sorts of trouble last week in beating San Benito 7-0 but still held onto No. 1.

Alpine, No. 1 in Class AA, plays Pecos, an AAA outfit that didn't play like it last week in taking a 34-0 hammering from Carlsbad, N.M. So Alpine doesn't appear in much danger.

The only No. 1 team that can breathe reasonably easy this week is Three Rivers of Class A. It doesn't have a game.

Defending champion Garland of Class AAAA plays Dallas Adams, one of the rated teams, and it looks like a second straight defeat for the Owls.

Palestine, the 1964 winner of Class AAA, takes on Terrell Friday night. Palestine opened the season last week with a 27-0 strapping of Athens and extended its winning streak to 14 games. Terrell lost to Greenville last week and doesn't appear quite up to handling Palestine.

Palacios, the defending champion of Class AA, already has dropped two games and might make it three this week. The Sharks play Tidehaven of Class A. The latter whipped Wallis 31-0 last week.

Archer City, the Class A defending champion, is in the same boat as Palacios—it has lost two and plays Olney, which means it could also have three by Saturday.

The headline game of Class AAAA pits Port Arthur, now rated No. 2, against fallen Baytown at Port Arthur Friday night. This game should tell the story of whether Baytown is overrated or the opposition was better than expected when it lost.

IN COLONIAL TOURNAMENT

Osuna Faces Top Dallas Net Star

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Defending champion Rafael Osuna of Mexico faced Davis Cup veteran Ham Richardson of Dallas today in a key second-round match of the Colonial Tennis Tournament.

Richardson, 32, a stockbroker whose tournament appearances are now infrequent, was virtually unchallenged as he surged through Wednesday's opener with a 6-1, 6-2 trouncing of Costa Rica's Luis Rojas.

Osuna, seeded No. 4, and seven other seeded contestants drew first-round byes.

Foremost of this group was Roy Emerson, the magnificent Australian who meets the winner of a delayed match between U.S. Davis Cupper Frank Froehling and Ted Gorski of Fort Worth.

Emerson's Australian running mate, second-seeded Fred Stolle, was paired against Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis, who forged into the round with a 6-4, 6-2 triumph over Mike Estep of Dallas.

Third-seeded Dennis Ralston, the tempestuous Californian whose game has faltered in recent weeks, drew Jogguin Loyo Mayo of Mexico, a 6-2, 7-5 victor over Julio Rojas of Costa Rica.

Another top match sent Arthur Ashe, No. 6, the superb American collegian, against Donald Dell, who opened with a crushing defeat of Fort Worth's Don Walraven, 6-0, 6-1.

Fifth-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, who battled to the final of the U.S. Championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., last week before losing to Spain's Manuel Santana, took on youthful Butch Newman of San Antonio.

Newman advanced with a 7-5, 6-2 verdict over Art Faust of Dallas.

Dallas bomber Cliff Richey, seeded seventh, squared off with Vincente Zarazua, the young Mexican hopeful who clobbered Mike Liddle of Fort Worth, 6-1, 6-1.

Shortly before nightfall a helicopter soared onto the Colonial Golf Course to deliver Antonio Palafox from a Dallas airport. Nearly two hours behind schedule, Palafox switched into uniform and defeated spunky Tommy Howorth of Dallas, 8-6, 7-5.

The swift Mexican Davis Cupper was paired against eighth-seeded Chuck McKinley, who in 1964 was America's Davis Cup champion.

Four doubles matches also were scheduled today.

Landry Likes Dapper Don

DALLAS (AP) — Coach Tom Landry dumped cold water on a hot debate Wednesday when he said Don Meredith will be the Dallas Cowboys' starting quarterback Sunday when they start the National Football League campaign against New York.

There had been widespread conjecture that rookie quarterback Jerry Rhome, who engineered several Cowboy drives in an exhibition victory at Tulsa last Saturday night, would take over.

Not so, said Landry.

"Rhome is doing a terrific job," the coach said. "He has the most poise and confidence I've ever seen by a rookie. I would not be afraid to put him in any time. But he is limited on knowledge of the game, as any rookie."

Landry said NFL teams do some experimenting in exhibition games but once the season starts, "the other team has its 11 best men on the field all the time . . . so the quarterback must know all about the other team's defense and personnel, and this comes only from experience."

He still has confidence in Meredith, who has not been doing too well.

"I still believe he's a top quarterback," Landry said. He has quarterbacked in the three games in which the Cowboys have looked best.

Meredith always starts slowly because he gets a sore arm in training. He had a sore arm against Oakland but has won 3 have one Sunday against the Giants.

Scribes Pick Steers

DALLAS (AP)—Texas got the championship nod from a majority of the 19 sports writers and broadcasters who toured the Southwest Conference schools.

Texas was picked as the likeliest candidate by 13 and one predicted the Longhorns will tie for the title.

Four first place votes and one for a tie went to Arkansas.

Baylor was rated third and received the other first place ballot.

The rest of the teams were put in the order by the writers: Texas Tech, Southern Methodist, Rice, Texas Christian and Texas A&M.

Louisiana Oilfield Suffers Heavily From Hurricane

NEW ORLEANS (AP)— Hurricane Betsy struck right in the current bread basket of Louisiana's oil, gas and sulphur fields.

The production manager of Shell Oil Co. here, J. W. Pittman, told the Louisiana-Arkansas division of the Mid-continent Oil and Gas Association Wednesday that at least 8,000 producing wells were in the path of the storm.

"These wells account for more than 600,000 barrels of oil per day or about one-third of the total production of the state, much of which is still shut down today," Pittman said.

He estimated the damage from Betsy will be much more than the $100 million loss caused by Hurricane Hilda last year.

Pittman said many key supply bases were in the direct path of Betsy and several bases were destroyed or severely damaged.

"With these normal supply centers out of operation, and much of the industry's marine fleet beached and damaged," he said, "there will be unprecedented delay in getting back to normal production."

Gov. John McKeithen again estimated the bill for damages might be more than one billion dollars. Dave Pearle, state agriculture commissioner, said crop damage alone would exceed $60 million. The oil and gas industry reported hurricane damage would be well over the $100 million from Hurricane Hilda a year ago.

Southern Bell said its damage would be over $11.5 million. New Orleans school damage will run $8-10 million. Many people found extensive damage to their homes after thinking they had escaped with minor damage when superficial inspections were made immediately after the storm passed.

A 5-year-old harassed his mother and father with the constant question, "Why won't the television work?" She can't comprehend that power hasn't been restored in some areas.

A squabble arose over the role of Civil Defense in warning of the disaster. "It is incredible that people had only 20 minutes between the time they first knew water was rising and the time it reached a height over their heads to get out," said famed nuclear physicist Edward Teller.

Col. Charles W. Erdmann, city civil defense director, labelled Teller's comments preposterous and said Teller was "not in possession of all the facts. The people did have adequate warning. We were prepared even two days before."

Officials quickly leaped to Erdmann's defense. Gov. McKeithen told newsmen that Teller "is talking completely out of his field now. I understand he flew in and damned us all and then flew back to Los Angeles the same night."

Teller was in the city Tuesday night for a speech.

Masons Set Workshop

A workshop has been scheduled for officers and members of Masonic Lodges in this area at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 28. The meeting will be held at the Masonic Hall in Loraine. Officers of Colorado City, Snyder, Ira, Dunn, Hermleigh and Loraine Lodges are especially invited.

The workshop is part of a statewide, semi - annual program authorized by the Grand Master of Masons in Texas, J. Carroll Hinsley of Austin. The program is conducted for nearly 1,000 Texas Masonic Lodges with a membership of 250,000 men. The Masonic Order is the state's largest fraternal organization.

The purpose of the workshop is to enable Masons to study common problems of Masonic Lodges and their operations. The Workshop will be conducted by James H. Farr of Hermleigh, who is chairman of Masonic Workshop Area F-2.

Grand Master Hinsley stressed the importance of attendance by all Lodge officers and emphasized that other Masons are welcome.

Economy Bright As Autumn Nears

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Rarely have Americans greeted an approaching fall season with such general confidence in the economy.

Even some of the disquieting prospects—increased fighting in Asia and a probable rise in prices of some basic items as production costs mount—have a silver lining for those who expect prosperity to continue with a show of sober if gratifying gains.

The stepped-up shooting war in Asia is deplored for many reasons. But in the purely economic field it seems to promise a nudge upward for business activity, already at a record high in most sectors. The stimulant will come from growing spending for military hardware and manpower.

Expectation of rising prices, along with greater production of hard goods has led many in the stock market to count on still higher profits for corporations. Also some find stocks attractive as a hedge against the chance of any further inflation. Settlement terms of the steel strike were initially interpreted that way on Wall Street.

The general public confidence at the start of fall seems built on still other things.

One is the momentum of the long economic upswing, now in its 55th month, which promises to carry through for the rest of the year.

Another is satisfaction that this summer's performance was [illegible]

And a third is the evident strength of the economy. Most of the statistics will be bigger and better this fall now that the government has revised its methods of compiling them.

In economics, as in many other lines, quite often nothing succeeds like success. Its effect on confidence is well established.

And the optimists say the economy has too much muscle now to be easily upset.

They also count on Washington to prescribe a tonic fast if the muscles show signs of growing flabby.

They are far from that at the start of the fall season. The three mainstays of the economy are all strong.

First is consumer spending and confidence. With personal incomes and savings higher than ever, and with a record number of Americans at work, the wherewithal to buy the goods and services that industry produces is plentiful. The will to spend, or to go into debt, seems strong.

The second prop is business spending for capital goods, such as plants and equipment. That is expected to hit an annual rate of $53 billion in the three months just ahead, compared with just under $51 billion in the spring.

The third stimulant to economic growth is government spending. Total state and local government spending continues to rise to fill the needs or meet the demands of a growing population. Federal outlays will increase as the Viet Nam War grows more costly and the [illegible]

Cutting Cost Of Crops Stressed

Cutting costs of crop production will take the spotlight at 1 p.m. Sept. 21 as scientists at the South Plains Research and Extension Center hold their annual field day to show area farmers some of their latest findings that hold promise for increasing crop profits, according to County Agent Billy Roach.

Included on the program will be a field tour and discussion of six areas of research at the center, a machinery display and a chance to see educational plant displays in air - conditioned greenhouses. Guides at the field day will also tell about numerous other research projects as the tour - trailers travel through the center.

Roach said he will be at the event, along with the other county agents from the South Plains, to work with the 32 professional staff members at the center putting on the field day.

County agents attended a planning session in July to help the scientists pick the research projects that would be of particular interest to area farmers this year.

Special emphasis is being placed on agricultural chemicals, on cotton diseases and on water use and conservation, the agent said. Other areas included in the reports will be sorghum and cotton breeding, soil fertility, mechanization, and timing of field operations.

Displays in the greenhouses will show the characteristics of plants with certain diseases, fertilizer deficiencies and chemical damage. Researchers will tell a number of ways to reduce the loss from verticilium wilt, a disease believed to be cutting area yields about 40 percent.

Grain sorghum breeders will talk about a new hybrid, RS 671, which was developed at the center and recently released to breeders. It is a headsmut resistant, medium - late maturity variety that can be harvested earlier than later maturing varieties and should be able to get by with one less irrigation.

Another important part of the field day will be reports on water conservation and profitable water usage. Researchers will tell the benefits of various land forming practices and how limited irrigation water can be stretched to give maximum yields and prolong limited underground supplies.

The South Plains Research and Extension Center field day is open to anyone. Although of greatest benefit to farmers, business and professional men will find it an excellent opportunity to keep up with the progressive agriculture of the area, the agent said.

The center is located 7½ miles north of Lubbock on U.S. 87.

Housewife Appeals Bill For Water

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Eileen Markowski, a housewife, has formally appealed a three-month water bill for $23.89. That's the equivalent, she said, of 54,000 gallons of water.

What's more, Mrs. Markowski said, she lives in a row house with no lawn and during one of the months in question she was visiting in Florida.

A. Zabdiel Levy, supervisor of the City Water Bureau's consumer service division, contended the water meters are infallible. While the Board of estimates investigate the woman's complaint, Levy tacked an additional $1.19 late-payment penalty on her bill.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — The country has been full of summer tourists, June to September vavationers have been drifting in like pink clouds for the industry without chimneys (name they tagged on the tourist trade).

The latest drive to level things off has been launched by ex-president Miguel Aleman, now boss of the National Council on Tourism.

Mr. Aleman studies situations and decides what should be done. And his decision is that the entire country will be done up in ribbons for tourists.

Mexico is a big country with a good bit of everything for everybody. Consequently, Mr. Aleman has called together private enterprise and made some noteworthy suggestions. Sweep out small town inns and replace wash basins with regular plumbing. Get spray guns and declare war on flies in offbeat restaurants. Also, scrub the stove and plates and make things sparkle.

This shows up well with visitors. They go home and talk about it.

Until recently, Mexico (for the tourist) consisted mostly of placed like Mexico City, Cuernavaca, Taxco and Acapulco.

The average traveler considered it an airline or highway route from the border to Mexico City or Acapulco. About ten miles wide.

Then local gentlemen set up neat hotels and shops in places like Mazatlan, Guadalajara, Veracruz and finally made Cozumel an island paradise instead of leaving it an ex-pirate port. Monterrey has always been there. Mr. Richard Burton and Miss Liz Taylor got Puerto Vallarta firmly established on the map.

A few people discovered Oaxaca, the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, San Cristobal de las Casas and Zihuatanejo.

Merida got popular with travelers going to Cozumel and the Isla Mujeres.

But Mr. Aleman considered there was an awful lot of country left which was not getting a fair share of the trade.

"Load the big guns," he said, "and we will stir the entire nation into action."

A fleet of new hotels is scheduled to go up in new areas. Private gentlemen are now convinced the tourist buck is as good as any and they are eager to cooperate.

For it is a well known fact that when it comes to business matters, Mr. Aleman is a gentleman who can look into his crystal ball and make accurate forecasts of the future.

It is a heavy program that will take time to get the final coat of paint applied. But Mr. Aleman feels that Mexico consists of more than a few fur-lined tourist centers. To really get to know the place and the people, you gotta see it all.

This is precisely what he is setting out to accomplish. Innkeepers already report this is the biggest year yet. Summer, which often is spread thin with clients, is a flourishing season now. And during the Big Time — November to April — you have to scramble well in advance for hotel space.

All of which makes me feel extremely secure when I ponder about which room of our scatter to lounge in and watch Bonanza on television. With those crooning the bandits in perfect dubbed - in Spanish.

A fine encyclopedia is the one set of books most important for the home — an absolute necessity where there are school children or college students. And no encyclopedia in existence is finer than this one, or more useful, or better for family use.

Each volume has the contents of three ordinary books. The complete set contains SEVEN MILLION WORDS in all, in nearly ten thousand double-columned pages, covering over THIRTY THOUSAND different subjects embracing a condensation of all man's knowledge!

This newest Eldorado Deluxe Edition is really gorgeous, bound in creamy simulated leather, stamped in red, black and gold, with special end-papers, full-color frontispieces, thousands of photographs, drawings, and diagrams illustrating the text, and full-color maps of every country on the globe, comprising a complete World Atlas. Most beautiful of all, the page-tops of all the volumes are gilded, as only really expensive books are gilded, making the set a superbly luxurious ornament for any home.

US-Soviet Cooperation Bolsters Peace Hopes

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said today his expectations for the coming U.N. General Assembly have been reinforced by U.S.-Soviet cooperation in trying to halt the war between India and Pakistan.

The chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations said in an interview that the assembly's 20th session, opening next Tuesday, faces difficulties, but he declared: "I am optimistic."

He made these other major points:

The work of the 114-nation assembly will not be affected by the fighting in Viet Nam.

The United States continues to command majority support on major issues despite the flood of new Asian and African members into the world organization.

Settlement of disputes such as that between India and Pakistan takes time and patience. The American people must be patient if there are setbacks.

Red China is keeping itself out of the United Nations by its attitude of belligerency and there is no evidence of any change for the better.

Goldberg was interviewed in the 11th floor office of the U.S. mission, overlooking U.N. headquarters. He relaxed in his favorite rocking chair, which he prefers to the executive desk chair used by his predecessor, Adlai E. Stevenson.

Asked about the apparent deterioration of U.S.-Soviet relations over Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and U.N. financing, he said that recent Security Council meetings on the Indian-Pakistani war had produced "a very dramatic example of cooperation and unanimity."

And, he said, the United States and the Soviet Union had acted together "without any evidence of cold-war confrontation."

"This serves to reinforce my hope and expectation that, despite all difficulties, we will make progress here at the 20th assembly."

Goldberg, September president of the Security Council, declined to speculate on what steps the 11-nation body would take to follow up the apparent failure of Secretary-General U Thant's peace mission to Rawalpindi and New Delhi.

"I know," he said, "from a long 25 years of experience that a mediator in disputes of much less consequence does not ordinarily come out with a solution in a few days' time."

The security Council will meet Friday to consider Thant's report.

Goldberg was asked about the reluctance of the United States to have the council debate the Viet Nam question.

"We have never excluded Security Council consideration of Viet Nam," he said. "Rather, we have consulted with our colleagues at the United Nations here, and it has been a rather general point of view that the nature of the Viet Nam problem is such that a public confrontation would not lead to progress towards a solution."

He said it was a misconception, anyway, to believe that the U.N. Charter provided no ways to resolve disputes except by council debates.

"The charter in its various provisions calls for conciliation, mediation, good diplomacy," he said, "and this is what the United Nations is engaged in."

Bus Fares Hiked

HOUSTON (AP) — A 3-cent city bus fare hike went into effect today. It increases the adult fare to 28 cents and tokens now are nine for $2 instead of 10 for $2.

Ask Suits Be Dismissed

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The federal district court here has been asked by eight major oil companies to dismiss anti-trust suits charging the firms with fixing gasoline prices.

Price-fixing occurred, the government claims, in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Petitions filed Wednesday asked dismissal of all counts against American Oil Co. of Chicago, Atlantic Refining Co. of Philadelphia, Cities Service Oil Co. of Bartlesville, Okla., Gulf Oil Corp. of Pittsburgh, Humble Oil & Refining Co. of Houston and Sinclair Refining Co., Socony Mobil Co. and Cities Service Co., all of New York.

Atlantic, Gulf, Cities Service and Cities Service Oil were charged with conspiring to monopolize. They also asked those charges dismissed.

Killed In Mishap

NACOGDOCHES (AP) — Delbert Goodwin, 30, of San Augustine, Tex., was killed Wednesday when he came in contact with a high voltage power line.

Solons Challenge Fulbright's Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and Democratic Sen. George A. Smathers challenged today Sen. J. W. Fulbright's contention that the Johnson administration bungled the Dominican crisis.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the Senate Wednesday President Johnson was given "unsound advice", and that fear of a Communist takeover in Santo Domingo was based on misinformation and on "exaggerated estimates of Communist influence."

The Arkansas Democrat said "the danger to American lives was more a pretext than a reason for the massive United States intervention." He said, "In their panic lest the Dominican Republic become another Cuba, some of our officials seem to have forgotten that virtually all reform movements attract some Communist support."

Fulbright said Johnson, on the basis of the information and counsel he received, could hardly have acted other than he did. The senator said he had no objection to sending a modest contingent of U.S. troops to Santo Domingo to save American lives, but claimed there was "over action" by the administration in the dispatch of 22,000 men.

In a joint interview Dirksen and Smathers, secretary of the Democratic conference, disagreed with Fulbright's interpretation of the situation. Like Fulbright, they attended a White House meeting the night Johnson made his decision to send in troops.

Dirksen said he agreed with Johnson's decision then "and agree with it now."

"A good many people had already been killed in Santo Domingo," Dirksen said. "The Communists were building up their strength. The country could have been torn apart. The President had to act."

Smathers said those at the White House meeting were told there were available reports on 58 trained Communists already on hand in Santo Domingo who could be expected to attempt to take over leadership in the revolt.

"The consensus at the meeting was that we couldn't afford to have another Cuba," he said. "Nobody disagreed to the plan to send troops."

Fulbright told the Senate no American lives were lost in Santo Domingo until the Marines began exchanging fire with the rebels."

Of Communist involvement in the Dominican result, Fulbright said there is an important difference between Communist support and Communist control of a political movement.

"It is quite possible to compete with the Communists for influence in a reform movement rather than abandon it to them," he said.

Navy Steps Up Efforts In Recruiting

Chief Warrant Officer M. M. Jones, USN, called recently on Marvin S. Baker Jr., ATL, the Navy recruiter in Sweetwater, to acquaint him with the new stepped up efforts, as the Navy needs manpower and does not wish to turn to the draft to obtain it.

Jones said that there will be no change in the procedure of enlistment. After recruit training, the enlistee will still attend a selected Service School, as this advanced training is a must in operating and maintaining the complex equipment in ships and aircrafts of today's Navy.

The Navy's new CACHE program will still be in effect. This program allows a man to enlist in the Navy, but take up to four months before reporting to recruit training. However the four months spent at home will count towards enlistment time and also for pay seniority.

Jones said, "We in the Navy are very proud of our fine technical school programs and of all the young men who perfect their skills in them, but still their greatest reward is the opportunity to serve in our Navy in this time of need."

Jones is a veteran of 29 years of Naval Service, 25 of which have been spent with ships of the fleet. At the present time he is assistant to the Officer in Charge of Dallas Recruiting District.

Pecan Tour At Eastland Set Sept. 24

EASTLAND — Demonstrations of the new systemic insecticide — Di - Syston - to control yellow aphids and resulting honey dew will be seen on the annual fall tour of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association on Sept. 24, according to Oscar Schaefer, president of the group.

Several demonstrations using this new systemic insecticide have been held the past two years with startling results he said.

Six orchards are on the itinerary of the all day tour. They include Lynn Daniels and Doss Alexander, Pioneer, M. H. Montford, Weldon Fenter, C. E. Smith, and Carl Taylor, Rising Star.

The first four will be inspected prior to lunch at Rising Star. A business session will be held following lunch, Schaefer said.

The group will leave from the Elite Cafe in Rising Star at 9 a.m. to begin the tour.

A big crop of nuts is in prospect over the county but good rains are needed to fill them out, Schaefer reported.

Anyone in Eastland or neighboring counties interested in pecan growing, both men and women, are invited to come and participate on the tour.

All of the orchards to be visited during the all-day affair will be planted orchards on deep sandy soil, it was explained.

W. Winston Trophy To Scurry Youth

For the first time since the award was initiated in 1959, a Scurry County youth has won the Wade Winston Award at the West Texas Fair at Abilene.

Bob Daugherty of Fluvanna received the award Wednesday after he exhibited the grand champion Hereford female in the junior division of the fair's livestock show.

The Wade Winston trophy was donated in 1959 by Mrs. Scott Casey and Mrs. Sam Joyce of Snyder in memory of their father, the late Wade Winston. Mr. Winston was a pioneer rancher and registered Hereford breeder, being associated with his brother, Harrie Winston, in operation of the Winston Bros. Ranch.

Winner of the trophy at the West Texas Fair is permitted to keep it for one year, after which he receives a miniature replica for permanent possession and the big trophy is returned for presentation to the next winner at the fair.

BY WHITE HOUSE

Steel Pact Said Within Bounds

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — High administration sources still insist the steel contract negotiated in the shadow of the White House did not exceed government wage guidelines.

Some nongovernment estimates placed the cost higher than the guidelines would provide, leading to speculation of possible price increases.

But White House economists are sticking with their figures and the implication is that President Johnson will be closely watching for any steel price hikes he considers inflationary. A government source said industry negotiators came to the White House hoping for Johnson's tacit approval of higher prices in exchange for boosting its wage offer to end the strike threat.

But Johnson didn't give it to them, this source said.

The industry finally raised its wage offer, agreement was reached Sept. 3 and the contract was signed on Labor Day.

Johnson called the settlement "noninflationary." It was not clear what he might do if the industry imposes general increases.

Here's how the government figures it:

White House guidelines suggest that industry can afford to raise wages 3.2 per cent a year without increasing prices to offset the added labor costs.

This is based on government figures estimating that productivity — the amount a worker produces — increases by 3.2 per cent annually because of improved machinery and industrial efficiency.

Some estimates placed the cost of the steel settlement at about 3.5 per cent a year, but the difference is almost purely one of arithmetic.

It depends on whether the contract is figured as 35 months or 39 months long.

The contract runs from last Sept. 1 to Aug. 1, 1968 — a total of 35 months. But the over-all money package includes the 11.5- cent temporary wage increase negotiated previously in exchange for a four-month strike postponement from May 1 to Sept. 1.

Meat Imports Drop
