Police Hold Teen-Agers

By The Associated Press

Teen-age violence erupted at opposite ends of the country — Oregon and New Hampshire — over the Labor Day weekend, with hordes of youths storming through streets, hurling missiles and shattering windows.

At Hampton Beach, N.H., the National Guard was called out Sunday night to aid riot-trained state and local police using tear gas and dogs to battle some 10,000 teen-agers. Police were pelted with bottles, trash and stones for more than four hours, and the town's police station was stormed. Scores of windows were broken and fires reportedly were set in several buildings.

After being driven out of town with the aid of fire hoses, several hundred youths regrouped near a bridge early today. They threw rocks at passing cars and knocked down a utility pole, blacking out part of the community of 2,000.

Eight policemen and about a dozen youths were reported injured. More than 100 teen-agers were arrested. A 16-year-old boy was struck in the right eye by birdshot from a police shotgun. Doctors said the boy probably would lose the eye.

A year ago, several persons were injured and 70 arrested in a similar riot.

At Seaside, Ore., disturbances began Saturday night following street dancing, and wholesale arrests were made before police dispersed some 1,000 youths. No property damage or serious injuries were reported.

But Sunday night brought violence as an estimated 700 youths moved from the beach to Seaside's main street, shattering at least eight store windows and tearing apart a 30-foot wooden-plank fence, using the pieces as clubs. The National Guard was called out. About 80 youths were arrested.

It was the third straight year the Labor Day weekend was marked by violence in the Oregon coastal community.

At Grand Bend, Ont., several hundred youths roamed the streets of the Lake Huron resort Sunday night, singing and shouting at police.

It was the second disturbance in 24 hours. Fifty persons were arrested, early Sunday morning, but no arrests were reported in the nighttime ruckus.

GROWS HOURLY

Dora Eyes US Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Dora, a huge and powerful storm that grows by the hour, moved closer to the U.S. mainland today and made herself felt while still 700 miles out to sea.

Heavy seas already are increasing along the southeast Atlantic Coast and will continue to grow during the next two days, the U.S Weather Bureau said in its 5 a.m. advisory.

At that time, the storm's center was located about 700 miles east of Cape Kennedy.

Highest winds near the center were estimated at 130 miles an hour. Hurricane and gale force winds extend out as far as 300 miles to the northeast and 150 miles to the southwest of the center.

The storm now covers an area about 500 miles across and threatens to swallow up tropical storm Ethel which was centered at 5 a.m. about 760 miles to the east southeast of Dora's center.

Dora was moving toward the west northwest or west at about 10 miles an hour and will continue on that course for the next 24 hours according to the Weather Bureau advisory.

"The hurricane will continue large and dangerous. Seas are already rough over most of the southwest North Atlantic and will be gradually increasing along the southeast Atlantic Coast during the next two days," the advisory said.

The Weather Bureau said the present and predicted movement of Dora increases the threat to the southeast coastal sections of the United States.

"But since it is moving slowly, there will be little effect other than increasing seas through Tuesday."

Can Germans Really Buy Unification?

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Herald Tribune said today certain government and business circles in West Germany are preparing a plan to offer Soviet Premier Khrushchev a multibillion dollar credit - loan program in return for German reunification.

Khrushchev is to visit West Germany this winter.

In a dispatch from Berlin, Seymour Freidin, the paper's executive editor for foreign news said:

"There is no aura of official sanction to the project yet. But its sponsors are highly respectable and influential government and business people.

"They also have easily access to Chancellor (Ludwig) Erhard, who drafted a program of his own about four years ago that was rather similar in outline."

The dispatch said the present proposal still is in the drafting and study stage, but that it would "grant the Russians credits and technical know how in special fields up to 30 years and more."

"If the Russians reject the proposal, the sponsors are prepared to present a big but somewhat more modest credit-development plan to Russia's biggest Communist competitor —Red China."

Hootenanny Set Tonight

A big Labor Day Hootenanny will get underway at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the pavilion at Towle Memorial Park.

It will be the second such event to be sponsored here by the Snyder Chamber of Commerce Merchants Committee. However, tonight's show will be completely different from the first one.

There will be a variety of talent on hand, ranging from well-known recording artists to popular gospel singers.

Producers of the show are Jay Thompson and Joe Williamson.

Snyder merchants have invited all residents of the area to attend the Hootenanny as their guests. Sound trucks will be provided so that the music may be heard over the entire area of the park adjacent to the pavilion.

Luci Big Hit On Campaign Tour

NEW ORLEANS La. (AP)—Ignoring security precautions, Luci Baines Johnson, the 17-year-old daughter of the President, campaigned for her father with all the aplomb of a seasoned politician in Louisiana over the weekend.

Everywhere she went, she was cheered.

Luci flew back to Washington Sunday after christening a ship, seeing a pro football game and attending a festival.

She probably did her best to get Democratic Gov. John McKeithen to support her father. McKeithen has said that Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater seems to have the upper edge in Louisiana at present.

The governor's two oldest children — Fox, 17, and Rebecca, 16 — were Luci's companions for part of her weekend visit.

"She's so nice," said Rebecca.

Hundreds of teen-agers, crying, "Luci, Luci," rushed to the side of the younger daughter of the President Sunday at the annual Louisiana shrimp festival at Morgan City.

She put down her plate of boiled shrimp and moved into the crowd, shaking hands and signing autographs. Secret Service agents hovered in the background.

She cracked a bottle of champagne against the prow of the S.S. Louise Lykes and the cargoliner slipped down the ways at Avondale shipyards into the muddy Mississippi River. The 5,000 dignitaries and spectators cheered.

On arrival in New Orleans Saturday, she halted while going down an airport reception line to hug and kiss on the cheek two former Washington friends — Terence L. O'Rourke, 17, of Houston, Tex., and Sam Logan Jr. of New Orleans. She had met both when they served as congressional pages in Washington.

O'Rourke, in an interview in Houston Sunday night, described himself not as Luci's steady boy friend but "her steady good friend."

"That's one gal who wants to help her dad. I can tell you," O'Rourke said.

Buddhists Win Viet Concessions

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP)—South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Khanh reportedly is sending three leading generals abroad in another concession to Buddhist critics of his regime.

Informed sources said Khanh would announce that the generals are going abroad on diplomatic missions.

The three reportedly are Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, defense minister in the caretaker government and a close associate of Khanh; Brig. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the army chief of staff, and Maj. Gen. Do Cao Tri, commander of the 2nd corps, the largest military operational area in the country.

The Buddhists demonstrated their strength again Sunday by turning out about 150,000 persons in Saigon for the funeral of two Buddhist students killed during the recent Buddhist-Catholic rioting.

There was no new violence, but military air activity over Saigon was heavy as a crowd of several thousand Buddhists held an all-night rally at their headquarters. An air force spokesman said the planes were supporting operations against the Communist Viet Cong.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, returning to Washington to report on the new Vietnamese crisis, told newsmen at Saigon airport the recent political upheavals and riots in Saigon had no adverse effect on the war against the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

As for Khanh's present standing, Taylor commented: "obviously he is the head of the government and will be busily engaged in the next two months in the transition from the interim government to a provisional government which is contemplated."

Vietnamese military authorities claimed today that their forces had scored a major success against guerrillas in the province of Kiến Phong, on the Cambodian border. They said enemy casualties were heavy.

Rail Brotherhood Laments Job Loss

CLEVELAND Ohio (AP) — H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said today that the number of workers leaving the industry because of the elimination of the use of firemen is larger than the union had expected.

Gilbert said a recent survey showed that 9,564 men had been separated from their jobs since the arbitration ruling became effective last May 7 and that the railroads had paid $22 million in severance pay.

More Bombings Told In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — For the 75th time in the past 32 months, a bomb shattered a Chicago area business establishment Sunday.

None of the bombings have been solved. This time police say they have an eye-witness.

The latest explosion shattered the front of Leroy J. Simon associates, an interior decorating firm on the northwest side. Damage was estimated at $2,000, but no one was hurt.

California Police Evict Motorcyclists

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—An estimated 300 motorcyclists, most of them identified as members of a group known as Hell's Angels, have been ordered out of Monterey County while police investigate an alleged rape involving two girls.

The cyclists, who began arriving Saturday for the Labor Day weekend, were escorted from the county Sunday by sheriff's deputies and officers from the six city police departments in the county.

Firemen Search For Origin Of Fire

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP) — Firemen searched the ruins of an 82-year-old woolen mill warehouse today for a clue to the origin of a fire that forced about 100 persons from 23 homes either destroyed or extensively damaged.

Admirer Irks Krush

MOSCOW (AP) — Niki Khrushchev lost his temper today when a young Russian approached him at an exhibition and said he had been trying for seven years to meet the Soviet premier.

Khrushchev's bodyguards dragged away the well-dressed blond in his 20s as the premier, red-faced with anger, called after him:

"I was just going to greet you —you should be ashamed of yourself."

Khrushchev was walking through a British exhibition when the young man approached him.

"Nikita Sergeyevich, I have been trying to get a meeting with you for seven years," the man said.

Bodyguards grabbed him before he could get any farther and roughly hauled him off.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson will speak at the Midwestern governors conference opening Wednesday, Minnesota Gov. Karl Rolvaag, conference host, announced Sunday night.

Stevenson will speak at the state dinner Thursday evening.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for 26 years. I don't know how to word this and still get it in the paper, but I'll try. What I mean is, I still have the greatest respect and affection for my husband, and I do appreciate his many good qualities, but the thrill is gone. Maybe I am expecting too much out of married life at my age, but I don't think so. I am 47 and he is 50. But I read in the paper all the time that men who are 50 years old, and some older, get hauled into court on paternity charges and things like that. Is there some way of finding out if I should just resign myself to this way of living, or is there something I can do about it?

MISSING SOMETHING

DEAR MISSING: If you feel that you are "missing something," then you are! Maybe your husband's missing something, too. Make an appointment with your family physician for both you and your husband — and don't miss that!

• • •

DEAR ABBY: You always advise a husband or wife who has been unfaithful NOT to confess his unfaithfulness to his mate. I disagree with you. I think the wrong-doer feels much better if he can relieve himself of his guilty conscience. I am interested in knowing how you justify your point of view.

CONFESSED AND RELIEVED

DEAR CONFESSED: To confess unfaithfulness to a spouse in order to relieve one's guilty conscience is a selfish and cruel. Better to spare the mate the pain, and ask God's forgiveness. If the wrong-doer must carry the guilt silently he will be less apt to repeat the act. I have always doubted the motives of one who would confess an affair to a mate. It is usually done to let the spouse know that he (or she) can be physically attractive to someone else.

DEAR ABBY: I just returned from a wonderful vacation. The only thing wrong was that I almost caught pneumonia in the air-conditioned restuarants.

Why do restaurant owners think they are doing their customers a big favor by keeping their places like the inside of a refrigerator? You either have to sit there and freeze, or eat with your coat on, which is awkward and inconvenient. Please print this, Abby. Maybe some restuarant owners will see it, take the hint, and provide mink stoles for the ladies to wear in their mirage-like establishments. Thank you.

Solons Pledge Full Report On Kennedy Assassination

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS (AP)—Two Warren Commission members said Sunday that its report on the assassination of President Kennedy will be "a full report of all evidence and exhibits" uncovered during the investigation.

The statement was made by Sens. Richard Russell, D-Ga., and John Cooper, R-Ky., when they were asked at a news conference if the commission would withhold some of its findings when it issued the report.

Russell also said that the commission report would vary from published accounts about its contents and added "You newsmen will find some differences and plenty to write about."

The Georgia senator said he did not know when the report would be released but that it should be in the near future and before the end of the year. He told newsmen that "the work of the commission is over the hill and the end is in sight."

Russell, Cooper and a third commission member, Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., Sunday inspected the spot near the Texas Book Depository Building where the President was assassinated Nov. 22 and then met behind closed doors for five hours with Mrs. Marina Oswald, widow of the accused presidential assassin.

Russell said that the Russian-born widow of Lee Harvey Oswald provided additional information "to fill in missing places in previous testimony and to clarify some conflicting points."

While declining to discuss specifically her testimony, Russell said it was helpful but that it contained "no new shocking or startling information."

J. Lee Rankin, commission counsel, who accompanied the three members to Dallas, said that all of the panel have now visited Dallas and that in all probability no additional trips would be necessary.

For Russell and Boggs it was the first trip to Dallas as members of the commission, headed by U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren. Cooper had been here earlier in the year.

Secret Service men took the members on an extensive tour yesterday. They also saw the house where Oswald lived, the spot where Officer J. D. Tippit was killed, the theater in which Oswald was arrested, and the basement of the city jail where Oswald was killed Nov. 24 by Jack Ruby, Dallas night club operator.

Oswald, who had also been charged with Tippit's death, was fatally shot by Ruby before a nationwide television audience as the accused assassin was being transferred from the city to the county jail. Ruby is now under the death sentence for the slaying.

While at the assassination scene the commission members went to the sixth floor of the book depository building. They peered through the telescopic sight of a rifle which secret service men set up at the window from which the shots that killed the President were fired.

Venezuela's Quints Mark Very Festive First Birthday

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — The Prieto quintuplets bawled, wiggled and squealed through their first birthday festivities and doubled in better shape than their tired parents.

"It'll be good getting back to work," said Elias Lubin Prieto, 40, ruggedly handsome father of the five boys after a round of weekend partying during which they were showered with gifts, toys, cakes and baby foods.

The husky, bouncy quints were born a year ago today, but birthday festivities were held Saturday and Sunday because their father had to return today to his $10.43-a-day job operating an oil field drill.

The babies — Robinson, Otto, Juan Jose, Fernando and Mario — are growing and healthy. There is only a slight physical resemblance among them. Except for Robinson and Otto, they appear to have distinctive personality traits, according to their mother.

"They're no problem," said Ines Maria Prieto, 36. "They are never sick and eat well."

"They eat more than well, dear," interrected her husband, pointing to a cardboard box of 4-ounce jars of baby food. "They'll eat 48 of those in a single day," he said.

Baby food, milk and diapers are being provided free by local merchants.

The quints romp in separate cribs in the large, air-conditioned nursery of the Prieto's new three-bedroom home given them by Prieto's American employer, the Creole Petroleum Corp.

Robinson is the heaviest at 29.3 pounds while Otto, the most playful, scales at 27.5. Mario is the tallest at better than 30 inches and weighs 27.9 pounds. Fernando weighs 24.4 and Juan Jose 23.

They weighed less than three pounds each when they were born two months prematurely.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Amos Doyle, Rt. 3, are the parents of an 8 - pound baby boy born at 5:09 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 6, in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Since World War II, New York City has put up as much new office space as Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco combined. In 1963 alone, 9,080 buildings costing $900 million were completed.

SMALL WORLD—Mrs. Elizabeth Brinner, third grade teacher at West Elementary, attended a reading conference at Sul Ross this summer and while there purchased some illustrations. The teaching aids for the elementary grade teachers, all in beautiful color are designed to make their teaching job easier. As mothers registered their children last Monday, Mrs. Joel Griffin entered with her son, Joe Wayne (pictured above) and was elated when she saw the visual aids, as they were illustrated by Atrelle Dill, her cousin. Then to top things off, she noted they were designed by Roberta Warren Ross, who was Mr. Griffin's former school teacher. Ross and Dill are from Baird.

Note Of Color

To have a bright, cheerful kitchen the large appliances — stove, refrigerator or washer — do not have to be in gaudy colors. Many home experts recommend using bright color accents that contrast with the white appliances. For example, one way to add a bright note of color is real ceramic tile on countertops and backsplashes. Ceramic tile is now available in more than 250 colors and an infinite number of designs.

SHAMROCK

It's New! AT J's Super Market 2112 25th. St.

So TENDER you can cut it with a fork!

Chuck Roast you can broil like Sirloin! Pot Roast you can oven-roast like Standing Rib!

How this AMAZING NEW process works!

Swift's exclusive new Tendered Process is a method of tendering beef from within, developed and patented by Swift & Company, with the approval of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Natural enzymes in meat are supplemented by vegetable protein distributed throughout the meat tissue. (This is not a dipped or surface method.)

This new tendering method has no effect on the meat cuts until cooked in oven, grill, or broiler. Then it creates amazing new tenderness never possible until now.

What it means to you and your family!

Now you can broil or oven-roast most of the cuts you used to braise, stew, or pot roast. Thanks to Swift's amazing new Proten Tendered Beef, there simply aren't any more "tough" cuts that take hours of cooking.

Swift has perfected a tendering process that's remarkable. The new process gives tender, delicious steak time after time. Chuck and rump steaks and roasts cook quicker and easier than ever before! And every tender bite brings you a healthy helping of high-quality meat protein!

(Of course, you can still make delicious braised pot roasts. Martha Logan says to prepare as usual, but because Proten Tendered Beef is so tender, it takes 15 to 30 minutes less total cooking time.)

Look for the label "Proten Tendered Beef."

Grand Saline Salt Supply Said Virtually Inexhaustible

By JAMES W. MANGAN

GRAND SALINE, Tex. (AP)—Deep underneath this East Texas town lies a fantastic network of immense tunnels carved through solid salt.

The vast passageways dwarf the mining machines that work in them. Soaring as high as 80 feet, and reaching a width of 30 feet, the tunnels stretch out dimly in a gigantic checkerboard pattern.

Their hard floors, massive sides and vaulting roofs are solid, grayish-white salt crystal.

Large machines, looking strange in this world 700 feet underground, roll on rubber tires through the silent network, carrying endless tons of rock salt to conveyor belts.

Footsteps fall silently on the underground floors. Noise of machinery takes on a muted, soft sound. The air is salty, but easy to breathe. The temperature stays a pleasant 80 degrees year-round.

Salt—solid, broken, crushed—is everywhere. In places where it has been trampled by men and machines it takes on the consistency of sand at an ocean beach. In some sections it is hard as a rock and absolutely clear, with a diamond-like sparkle.

No foreign material is used to support the mine. About half of each mined section is left in place as support for the giant passageways. The rest goes out to the world in a variety of shapes and sizes for home and industrial uses.

The Grand Saline operation, known as a quarry mine, is operated by the Morton Salt Co. It probably never will be exhausted.

"This mine is only a little bite off a huge dome of salt," said mine Supt. Ray Rucker. "We cover about 70 acres with 11 to 12 miles of tunnels, but we're just beginning. The deposit goes down 22,000 feet, and we've gone down only 700 feet. There's enough salt here to last almost forever."

On an average day, the 18 employes in the tunnels produce 800 tons of rock salt. They use only a few machines to dig out this daily mountain of sodium chloride

The mining process is simple. An undercutting machine slices into the base of a solid wall of salt to a depth of about 10 feet. Then a double-barreled drilling machine known as a "jumbo" bores 1½-inch diameter holes in a pre-determined pattern. Explosives are tamped into the holes and electrically detonated. Several hundred tons of rock salt are blasted down from the wall face onto the mine floor, some in lumps weighing hundreds of pounds.

A loading machine dumps the blasted salt into a large transporter car, which carries it to the conveyor belt. It then goes through grinding, crushing and screening operations that separate it into severen different grades.

The final product is used in thousands of ways, from deicing streets and tanning leathers to preserving pickles and processing cheese.

Table salt is produced also in great quantities at the Grand Saline plant, but through an evaporative process, rather than direct mining. By pumping fresh water deep into the rock salt deposits, and drying the resultant brine, the company produces the refined salt so essential to the flavor of food.

The Grand Saline mine long has been open to visitors, who pass the word to their friends about the interesting sights to be seen. But the mine does not have sufficient facilities for handling the growing throng of tourists, and reluctantly has been closed to visitors.

A Junior Editors Quiz About SAHARA DESERT

QUESTION: What made the Sahara Desert so dry?

• • •

ANSWER: In a desert, sand replaces soil and few if any plants can grow. Usually this condition is caused by lack of rainfall. The Sahara Desert lies in the northern part of Africa. There was a time, long ago, when this region was not desert but a land of rivers and vegetation. At that time (upper left) ice sheets covered much of Europe and moisture from these was blown over northern Africa, giving plenty of rainfall to the Sahara region. But then, as the Ice Age ended, the ice sheets over Europe melted and disappeared (upper right) and, for the lack of rain, the land of the Sahara turned into hills and valleys of shifting sand. Yet the Arabs, especially those called Bedouins, made a remarkable adaptation to desert conditions. Living in tents, they made and still make great use of the camel to cross the desert country. These unique animals are able to go for a long time on a small amount of water, since they do not sweat as other animals do and so conserve moisture. Here and there in the Sahara underground, water bubbles out in the form of springs—around such an 'oasis' rich vegetation and palm trees grow, casting refreshing shade. Many travelers have reported the effect of coming across such an oasis as being like that of suddenly reaching paradise. 9-7

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the picture, trying to get the effect of the scorching desert by using yellow and orange, and the cool oasis with blues and greens.

Pro Teams Are Ready For Openers

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Professional football followers today looked anxiously toward next weekend's National and American league openers after a climactic flurry of pre-season activity that produced the year's biggest exhibition turnout and left the surprising Minnesota Vikings with the only perfect record.

The exhibition campaign wound up Sunday at Canton, Ohio, where Baltimore drubbed Pittsburgh 48-17 in the NFL's second Hall of Fame game after seven grid greats were inducted into the shrine.

The game drew a crowd of 10,600, boosting the league's record attendance figure for pre-season lay to 1,191,811 for 34 dates, including last month's All-Star classic at Chicago.

The year's top crowd—83,736—packed Cleveland's Municipal Stadium Saturday night to watch the Browns upend Green Bay 20-17 and Detroit humble the New York Giants 24-10 in an NFL bargain bill.

At Hershey, Pa., the Vikings won their fifth straight, nipping Philadelphia 21-20 in the closing seconds on a Fran Tarkenton-Bill Brown touchdown pass and Fred Cox's conversion.

Elsewhere Saturday night, Washington surprised St. Louis 17-10. Chicago whipped Dallas 21-6 and Los Angeles shaded San Francisco 21-17 in NFL conditioners. The New York Jets topped Buffalo 19-17; San Diego defeated Oakland 24-10 and Denver outscored Boston 28-17 in AFL contests.

Johnny Unitas passed Pittsburgh dizzy in the Hall of Fame game completing 13 of 24 for 242 yards and a pair of touchdowns. Rookie Tony Lorick bulled over for one tally and raced 25 yards for another as the Colts finished with a 4-1 exhibition slate.

Ed Healey, Jimmy Conzelman, Clarke Hinkle, Art Rooney, Roy Lyman, August Michalske and George Trafton were the Hall of Fame inductees.

At Cleveland, the Browns established themselves as No. 1 contenders for their first division title since 1957 behind the running of Jim Brown and the toe of veteran Lou Groza. Brown rushed for 130 yards and scored twice, sprinting 38 yards and bucking one-half yard. Groza booted field goals of 42 and 43 yards. The victory was Cleveland's fourth in a row after an opening loss.

Tom Watkins' two - yard plunge and Wayne Walker's 16-yard field goal gave Detroit a 17-10 halftime edge in the opener and the Lions' defense, led by 300-pound Roger Brown, contained the Giants in the second half. Reserve quarterback Earl Morrall completed the scoring with a 36-yard TD bomb to Jim Gibbons.

The doubleheader, brainchild of Browns owner Arthur Modell, attracted crowds of 77,683 and 83,218 in two previous years.

Minnesota's Tarkenton hit fullback Brown with a four-yard payoff toss in the final 16 seconds and Cox kicked the decisive point. The Eagles had taken a 20-14 lead behind rookie quarterback Jack Concannon, whose passing and running—he gained 110 yards on the ground—set up a touchdown and two field goals.

The Bears held Dallas to a pair of field goals and wrapped up their victory at New Orleans in the final period on Rudy Bukich's 30-yard scoring pass to Bill Martin and Dave Whitsell's 56-yard touchdown run with a blocked field goal attempt.

After San Francisco rookie George Mira had pulled the 49ers ahead with two scoring strikes, one a 71-yarder to Dave Parks, the Rams came back to win on a 32-yard payoff pitch from rookie Bill Munson to rookie Lester Josephson with two minutes remaining.

The Rams lost quarterback Roman Gabriel in the third period when he reinjured his right knee, previously hurt Aug. 15 in a game against Cleveland.

The Jets, whose only exhibition defeat was to Buffalo, overtook the Bills in the final two minutes on a Dick Wood-Don Maynard TD pass that covered 17 yards. Daryle Lamonica passed for both Buffalo touchdowns.

Tobin Rote hit Don Norton with 32- and 21-yard scoring flips in the first half that gave San Diego its margin over the Raiders. The Chargers' fourth victory in five games proved costly, with Ernie Ladd, Keith Lincoln, Lance Alworth and Earl Faison among seven casualties. Ladd has a twisted ankle, Lincoln a broken finger, Alworth a pulled leg muscle and Faison a bruised shoulder.

Jackie Lee, on lend lease from Houston, combined with Charlie Mitchell for a 76-yard pass-run for Denver's first touchdown and the Broncos went on to hand Boston its 12th straight exhibition loss. The Patriots wound up 0-5 this summer

TIED FOR LEAD—Two teams were tied for the lead in the partnership tournament being unreeled at the Country Club going into today's play. Tied with a score of 123 were (from left) Dr. Robert Hargrove and Lanny Wadleigh, and Paul Sizemore and J. D. James.

Zorro Leaves His Mark On Opposing Pitchers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Zorro has left his mark again.

The latest victim is Boston's Bill Monbouquette, who received the unkindest cut of all from Minnesota's Zoilo (Zorro) Versalles.

Versalles, who five days before got the only hit off Baltimore's Milt Pappas, deprived Monbouquette of a no-hitter Sunday, hitting a two-out, two-run homer in the sixth inning that sent the Boston right-hander down to a 2-1 defeat.

Versalles broke up Pappas's bid last Wednesday night with a two-out single in the eighth inning. He got started earlier against Monbouquette. After an error by first baseman Tony Horton enabled Minnesota's Rich Rollins to reach first, Versalles lofted a Versalles pitch 385 feet for a homer.

"The pitch was a big mistake," said Monbouquette, who now has a 9-13 record. "It was neck high and a little inside. It was a bad pitch."

It also was Versalles' 20th homer.

Versalles other victim, Pappas, proved that the wound heals quickly, posting his third consecutive shutout with a four-hitter as the Orioles defeated the Los Angeles Angels 2-0 and moved to within one percentage point of American League-leading White Sox.

The White Sox split with Cleveland, losing 2-0 to Jack Kralick's four-hitter before winning the nightcap 3-2 in the 13th inning on a pair of bunt singles, a walk and Pete Ward's sacrifice fly.

The New York Yankees, meanwhile, called on newly acquired Pedro Ramos to put down Kansas City in the ninth inning and preserve a 3-2 victory that lifted the defending champions to within 2½ games of the top.

In the AL's other game, Detroit walloped Washington 9-3.

San Fra[illegible] edged National League leading Philadelphia 4-3, second-place Cincinnati whipped Milwaukee 6-3, St. Louis nipped the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 11 innings, Pittsburgh shut out Houston 1-0 and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the New York Mets 4-3.

Pappas brought his record to 14-5, posting his fourth shutout against the Angels and his sixth straight victory. He hasn't lost since July 22. Pappas was locked in a scoreless duel for seven innings with Barry Latman, who left for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Richardson To Give Up Pro Baseball

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Second baseman Bobby Richardson, the heart and glue of the New York Yankee defense, is leaving baseball at 29 for a YMCA job in hs hometown after this season, The Associated Press has learned.

The deeply religious Richardson long has been active in youth work and reports of his quitting the game have come up often.

The Associated Press learned Richardson has signed a contract to manage the YMCA in Sumter, S.C., and informed the Yankee management of his decision to retire.

Contacted Sunday night after the Yankees completed a three-game sweep over the A's, Richardson said:

"I haven't made such a decision—there's nothing to it and I don't know how these rumors get started. It's well known that I plan to get a job working with young people after my baseball career is over. Right now I'm just thinking about helping the club win a pennant."

Partnership Tournament Ends Today

The Partnership Tournament winds up at the Country Club today with two teams tied for the lead in the championship flight.

After 36 holes of play, the team of J. D. James and Paul Sizemore was tied with Dr. Robert Hargrove and Lanny Wadleigh. Each team had a best-ball score of 123.

Earl Fish and J. P. Ward scored 126 to lead the president's flight. The first flight leaders were Dutch Stehley and Roy Childress. Their score was 130.

Awards will be presented tonight at the barbecue following the end of tournament play.

Betsy Rawls Has Lead At Inglewood

SEATTLE (AP) — Inglewood Open Golf Tournament became a two-girl argument for top money, $1,500, today between Betsy Rawls and Kathy Whitworth. Home-towner Ruthie Jessen was close enough, however, to overtake the leaders if she could conquer the obstinatz back nine of the long and hilly layout.

Inglewood's par of 72 frustrated the field for three days, with only three golfers able to shave it by even a stroke.

Miss Jessen matched par Sunday, blazing around the first nine in a three-under 34 and then losing her advantage by poor putting on three of the next four holes.

Diver To Try For Repeat In Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Webster, the high-diving specialist from Santa Ana, Calif., will get his chance to become the second man in history to win a second 10-meter platform title in the Olympics.

Webster, a 25-year-old Army PFC, won the spectacular high dive event at the Astoria Pool Sunday in the windup of the 16-day Olympic aquatic trials. But he admits that he'll need a lot of practice to attain the sharpness he had in winning his first Olympic crown, at Rome in 1960.

Pigskin Prevue Set For Tomorrow Night

The 1964 Pigskin Prevue will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 in Tiger Stadium. The event is staged annually and is sponsored by the Quarterback Club.

Local Fans will have the opportunity of seeing every football player and coach in Snyder High School and the two junior highs. The boys will be wearing their game uniforms.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

DO YOU HAVE A PROBLEM WITH ANTS?—Or maybe with roaches? Don't worry . . . it's so easy to say "I HAD an ant (or roach) problem", if you simply brush No-Roach across window and door sills, and around table legs. Ants will not cross the colorless, odorless, coating of No-Roach. Just spot brush No-Roach in cabinets, and on baseboards to get rid of pesky cockroaches, ants, spiders, silverfish, all crawling insects. No-Roach is a liquid that dries to form a colorless, odorles coating that stays effective for months. When you use No-Roach there is no need to move dishes, or to breathe vapors. It is the safest and most effective way to control crawling insects . . . yet is harmless to pets. You can obtain No-Roach at Furr's, Cash Food, Piggly Wiggly, B&B, Safeway, Rainbow & all grocery stores. Dist. by South Plains, Wooten.

Good Food Knows No Season At The 66 Restaurant Here

Today is Labor Day, the day which traditionally marks the end of summer and the beginning of fall.

The changes in seasons mean different things to different people. To the folks at the 66 Cafe, this change of season means that there will be somewhat fewer tourists stopping in, but more and more football activity.

Is the connection between football and a restaurant seem a bit hard to find? Not at all. In the first place, teams coming to Snyder to play, and teams going through Snyder on their way to games in other cities, try to plan their trips so that they can stop at the 66. They know that reservations for a meal at the 66 will be good, and that the service will be prompt. They also know that they will be dining in pleasant surroundings.

And what about the out-of-town visitors to Snyder who come to see games here? Before the game they need a good place to eat, and after the game, before they head for home, they need at least a snack.

If the visitors ask a Snyderite what they recommend as "a good place to eat," the chances are that the local person will tell them to try the 66 Cafe. People in Snyder know that it's that "good place to eat" that the visitors are looking for. And the Snyder citizen is glad to have a place that he can recommend where he knows the visitors will be treated well, and will leave Snyder with a good impression of our city even though the chances are their team lost.

It's these visitors to Snyder who have carried the reputation of the 66 Cafe far and wide across the country. In the tourist season which is just now slowing down, many guests of the 66 have told Mr. and Mrs. Hodges that the restaurant had been recommended to them.

Guests from several states, and folks from as far away as Chicago have told the Hodges that they were told to be sure to eat at the 66. Actually, it's not surprising that the reputation of the 66 Cafe is as widespread as it is.

Good food, quickly served in pleasant surroundings, is just what travelers and local citizens alike appreciate. And that's what they get at the 66 Cafe, whether it's a deluxe full Sunday dinner, or just a cup of coffee along with a delicious slice of the 66 Cafe's home - made cake or pie.

The hungry, thirsty person is a welcome guest at the 66, and he never goes away disappointed with the food or service there.

POPULAR SPOT—The 66 Restaurant on the East Highway is popular for many reasons. In addition to the always fine food and fast service, Snyderites and out-of-town visitors alike are impressed with the friendly atmosphere. The popular restaurant is open 24 hours a day, and has accomodations for group meetings. Local citizens are always proud to recommend the 66 to visitors to our city.

Latin Countries Forming Their Own Common Market

By ISAC A. LEVI

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) —Nine Latin American nations have taken giant steps toward a common market for 300 million Latin Americans by 1973.

They are Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador, Mexico, Paraguay, Peru and Uruguay — all members of the Latin American Free Trade Association (LAFTA).

Set up in February 1960 but not functioning until the end of 1961, LAFTA still is a long way from a trade zone like the European Common Market. Yet it has produced some results in 2½ years.

The nine countries — soon to be joined by a once doubtful Venezuela—have already slashed tariffs on 8247 products—from cocoa to shoes, electric shavers and locomotives.

Trade among the nine jumped 44.3 per cent — from $659 million in 161 to $951 million in 1963. And even more encouraging, LAFTA experts think, is that Latin America shows signs of beginning to look inward for untapped resources.

Regional commerce used to account for only 6 per cent of overall trade of the LAFTA countries. Last year it was up to 8.4 per cent. It may hit 10 per cent by next year.

Governments keep in constant touch through LAFTA headquarters in Montevideo, seeking ways of welding together budding industries in each other's countries.

Industrialists show a few signs of becoming "buy Latin American" conscious. There is increased buying of Latin American-made parts for the manufacture of cars and trucks, radio and TV sents and other products.

For LAFTA to survive, its members must achieve two things: Set up a common market by scrapping all their regional tariffs and trade barriers by 1973, and speed up Latin Latin America's industrialization by coordinating plans and individual industries.

Oregon Fishermen Are Real Promoters

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP) — Tourists who stop at Pier 2 in this commercial fishing center may end up with frozen tuna in their hands.

Longshoremen and truck drivers view any visitor who stops to watch the transfer of frozen fish from ships to trucks as a potential friend of the fishing industry.

If the visitor is carrying a camera, he is invited to have his picture taken with a fancy fish. Workers at the pier say no one yet has turned down the suggestion.

In southern Maryland, thieves recently neatly sawed and removed 17 walnut trees from a private woodland.

Socialism Issue In Swedish Vote

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Placards posted in Stockholm show a little girl sitting on the knee of an elderly and obviously contented man.

She asks: "Grandpa, what does security mean?"

This is part of the campaign of the Social Democrat party, which expects to see Tage Erlander continued as prime minister in Sept. 20 elections.

The party's slogan is "Security for All," and it stresses that Sweden has practically no unemployment; that every fifth Swede owns a car, and that the Swedes enjoy perhaps the world's most elaborate Social Security system.

Erlander, 63, seeks to extend four years his position at the head of Europe's oldest freely elected government — and to push ahead his policy of gradually socializing the economy. He has been in office since 1946, and his party has held power, with brief interruptions, since 1932.

The Liberal, Conservative and Center parties are challenging the Social Democrats for control of this strategic nation situated between the Western and Eastern power blocs. They want to reverse the trend toward socialization and institute a free-enterprise economy.

In a move that could have long-range consequences, the three non-Socialist parties have a common ticket in the powerful southern province of Skane. This followed the failure of efforts to mold a nationwide common front in an effort to break the Social Democrats' dominating position. If the coalition wins in Skane and the Social Democrats win elsewhere, the road to cooperation between the non-Socialist parties might be opened. This could result in a two-party system for Sweden as in the United States.

The Social Democrats hope to better their 1960 election showing that gave them a majority of one over the three non-Socialist parties in the second chamber of Parliament. The second chamber is elected by direct vote every four years. The first chamber is elected by the provincial assemblies for eight years, one eighth being elected each year.

"Every Swede knows that the Social Democrats are for security for all from the cradle to the coffin and are prepared to fight for it," the party proclaims.

Building In Texas Rises

AUSTIN (AP)—Large residential projects in city areas caused a steep rise in Texas construction during July, a new business survey says.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports nonresidential permits issued in July was $70,196,000—56 per cent over June.

Total new construction, including residential, was 21 per cent ahead of June, with permits valued at $140,627,000, compared with June's $1[illegible]198,000. Residential permits totaled $70,431,000, down one per cent from the $71,01000 worth of new homes and apartments authorized in June.

The bureau said apartment authorizations were valued at 12 per cent less than those of July 1963, and the number of new units fell 13 per cent.

Construction in 1964 is 2 per cent ahead of last year, the report said.

Texas Still On Upswing Businesswise

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas business reached a new high in July, and the end of the 3½-year economic upswing "is not yet at hand," a University of Texas business statistician says.

Dr. Francis May said Saturday the state's commercial and industrial activity rose 3 per cent in July, the 42nd month of the current cyclical upswing, to a new high. Business activity was 9 per cent above its July 1963 value, he said.

"This surge is ample testimonial to the continued strength of the state's economy," May said. He said 17 of 20 Texas cities had increases over June of from 1 to 13 per cent. Nineteen of the 20 were above July 1963 by percentages ranging from 3 per cent in Port Arthur to 21 per cent in Amarillo, he said, with Tyler registering a slight decline.

"As the current upswing gains maturity, each passing month brings new speculation as to its probably duration," May said. "An absence of countercyclical factors suggests that the end is not yet at hand.

"There is no speculative mania in real estate, stock prices, or any other market whose collapse might trigger a decline. Corporate profits are at good levels. Investment in new plant and equipment is at high levels. Gross national produce and personal incomes are rising.

"All of these indicate a continuation of a high level of business activity. Texas will continue to share this prosperity."

This Lady Is No Slow-Poke

LONDON (AP) — British hurdler Patricia Pryce got off to a flying start, caught her man and slapped his face.

"He stuck a pin in my bottom," said Mrs. Pryce today on returning from an international meet in Enschede, Netherlands.

The young woman, Britain's 80-meter hurdler for the Tokyo Olympics, said she and British runners Mary Rand and Ann Packer were walking down the street in Enschede when a group of Italians came up.

"They tried to link arms and then came the old trick of trying to pinch our bottoms," said Pat.

"But they stuck a pin into mine."

Mary Rand caught one of the pinchers with a stinging right-hander.

"I think I shocked this other man when I chased him and caught him," said Mrs. Pryce.

Mrs. Pryce showed good speed on the track, too. She won the 80-meter hurdles in 10.8 seconds.

Sec. Udall Tours Texas To Mend Fences For LBJ

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall began a two-day frankly political tour of three Texas Cities today, pointing to President Lyndon B. Johnson's accomplishments and pleading for unity within an often-split state party.

Udall spoke to a labor day gatherning here and was scheduled for a Labor Day dinner in San Antonio tonight. He plans a speech to the American Federation of Government Employees in Dallas Tuesday.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., also addressed the group.

Udall said in his prepared speech that all the Democratic ticket seeks election day "is an objective judgment by the people."

He asked the question, "don't you feel stronger . . . ?"

"That our defense posture is stronger than all other nations of the world . . . that employment is at an all-time high . . . that gross national product is $700 billion over 1960 . . . that factory pay is higher . . . that personal incomes are at an all time high . . . that Johnson emphasizes economy in government."

Talking of Johnson's well-known ability to bring warring sides together, Udall said, "One seeks accord not for the sake of consensus alone . . . but men of good will can always produce action out of controversy and results out of honest disagreement in the good of the country as a whole is ultimately put first."

The secretary credited Johnson's guidance for helping create what he called "the most productive and constructive Congress of any in a generation."

Pleading for unity in a state normally Democratic except for splits over the national tickets, Udall said fighting in the primaries is "honorable" but "now that the decision has been made, those differences are forgotten. There is no need for sulking or bearing a grudge.

"Should we quit our jobs, divorce our mates or leave our church because of differences of opinion? We differ, but we reconcile our differences; then—in politics especially — we support with voice and vote the winning candidates, the majority view."

Obviously aware of surveys indicating the Democratic ticket in the lead at this point, Udall declared, "in the coming election, we can't take anything for granted. Complacency is our greatest danger."

The Austin speech was the first of a series Udall says will keep him out of Washington most of the summer and fall.

His next stop after Texas will be Arizona, his home state as well as that of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee.

Udall predicts the Democrats will take all the 11 Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast states except Arizona may be in doubt. But he says Arizona is not being written off as lost by the Democrats.

Yarborough, in his speech, said Americans should resolve in the Nov. 3 election to cast a resounding vote of 'No' to the fear-mongers of extremism.

"Let us resolve to cast a resounding 'No' to all forms of extremism, whether wearing the clothes of the John Birch Society or hiding under a 'Bush,' imported from Connecticut."

UAW Schedules Round-The-Clock Bargaining Talks

By GENE SCHROEDER

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler and the United Auto Workers Union were expected to go into virtually round-the-clock bargaining sessions today in efforts to avoid a crippling strike of some 75,000 workers.

With a strike deadline only two days away, negotiators met throughout most of Sunday and into early Monday morning, but there was no word on what progress was being made — if any—on union demands for a new labor contract.

Under joint agreement, a news blackout was imposed Saturday to prevent leaks which might embarrass one side or the other.

UAW President Walter Reuther, who was to introduce President Johnson at a Labor Day rally in Detroit's Kennedy Square, planned to join the bargaining fable for an hour or so before catching up with the President downtown.

The fact that Reuther decided to stay with the negotiations rather than greet the President at the airport was interpreted as an indication that the talks were proving fruitful.

Chrysler has been singled out as the UAW's No. 1 strike target this year, with 10 a.m. Wednesday set as the deadline for a new agreement or a mass walkout.

The union's present three-year contracts with Chrysler, Ford and General Motors originally were due to expire at the end of August. By mutual agreement they were extended to Sept. 9.

All of the Big Three automakers offered the UAW virtually identical proposals last month calling for higher wages, improved holiday and vacation pay, larger pension payments, and other fringe benefits for about a half million auto industry workers.

The UAW rejected all three offers as inadequate in view of the record-breaking profits reported by the companies over the past 18 months.

Both Chrysler and the UAW expressed hope Saturday that a strike could be prevented by "hard, practical, give-and-take bargaining."

Reuther announced earlier that once a settlement is reached, the union then would turn its full attention to Ford, with GM coming last. Negotiations have been continuing at both companies on a secondary level.

Bargaining at American Motors, where the contract runs out Oct. 15, resumes this week.

US Cotton Exports To Japan Increase

State Employment Above Average

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Aside from farming, Texas employment has risen much faster than the nation as a whole since 1939, a federal labor report says.

Non-agricultural employment in Texas rose 151 per cent between 1939 and 1963, while the nation's recorded 86.7 per cent increase.

The Department of Labor's Statistics Bureau in Atlanta said Sunday that Texas leads the South in the total number of job holders. Texas ranks sixth among the 50 states.

The department gave these comparative statistics on Texas employment, with the 1939 figure given first and the 1963 total second:

Mining 65,500, 113,100.

Contract construction 69,500, 174,000.

Manufacturing 179,700, 514,600.

Transportation and utilities 136,200, 217,600.

Wholesale and retail trade 287,500, 670,200.

Finance, insurance and real estate 42,500, 151,500.

Services and miscellaneous 141,500, 378,300.

Government 148,300, 478,300.

Earnings of factory production workers in the state have increased on an average from $53.34 weekly in 1949 to $97.29 in 1963, a boost of 82 per cent, second highest among the southern states.

The bureau pointed out there is considerable variation in average earnings among states which reflect types of industry.

Texas, said the bureau, has a concentration of workers in high skill industries such as chemicals, petroleum refining, primary metals, machinery and transportation equipment.

States with a large percentage of laborers employed in the lower paying industries, such as textile and apparel, report smaller average earnings, the agency said.

The figures are from a new Bureau of Labor Statistics report of employment and earnings.

The report shows that in 1963, manufacturing employment averaged 107,600 in Dallas, 52,100 in Fort Worth, 93,800 in Houston and 23,800 in San Antonio.

In that year, factory production workers received gross average weekly earnings of $87.57 in Dallas, $102.24 in Fort Worth, $133.70 in Houston and $72.22 in San Antonio.

The average earnings in Houston were exceeded in only one other southern area, Baton Rouge, where they were $127.30.

Haiti Rebel Bands Threaten Showdown With Duvalier

By LOUIS UCHITELLE

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Two rebel guerrilla bands are operating in southern Haiti, possibly moving toward a showdown with the seven-year dictatorship of Francois Duvalier.

Their exploits last month included an attack on the southwestern coastal town of Port-a-Piment, ambushing an army patrol near the city of Jeremie, the downing of a fighter plane, attacks on three army posts, and purchasing of food from peasants at twice normal prices.

Rebels now total about 170 young and well-armed Haitian exiles who describe themselves as Social Christians and political moderates. They are sponsored by the "nonpolitical" Haitian Revolutionary Armed Forces, which claim to have raised money for guerrillas from public contributors.

Sixty landed June 29 at Saltrou 30 miles southeast of here. The rest came ashore Aug. 5 near Dame Marie, at the tip of a peninsula 140 miles west of the capital.

Road travel has been forbidden in areas where the guerrillas are operating and there is a curfew in Jeremie. According to reports, soldiers and the civilian militia have been unwilling to pursue rebels into the mountains.

Whether the rebels can topple Duvalier appears to depend on how much support they can win and whether they can spread the fight to this capital.

A third landing — forcing the government to fight on three fronts — might produce quick and dramatic results, many Haitians believe.

Port au Prince appears calm and normal. People go about their business as if they do not expect an immediate change. They discuss the rebels constantly, sometimes as if they were an academic question.

After nightfall, however, streets are nearly empty. Some night spots have closed. Lines no longer form at movie theaters for evening shows.

Arrests have continued. Informed sources say three entire families — perhaps 50 persons — have disappeared since mid-August. The families were suspected of having relatives among the guerrillas.

"There is a growing feeling that this regime's days are numbered," one Haitian said. "Perhaps it is wishful thinking.

"The rebels have made a good start, but they still must convince the people that they're here to stay and slowly build support to the point where people will join them. The fact is that they'll have to fight in Port au Prince to win."

Five hundred well-trained soldiers in two army units defend the capital.

The government's official attitude is that rebels are a nuisance.

"They are nothing," says Paul Bianchet, minister of information. "They will not succeed. They do not have the support of the people and they cannot succeed."

Says Jury Fee One Time Thing

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr held Saturday defendants in justice courts can be taxed only once for a jury fee regardless of whether the case is tried more than once.

The opinion was requested by Navarro County Atty. Jimmy Morris, who cited a case where a jury could not agree on a case and the defendant was convicted upon re-trial.
