Syrian Charge Spurs Nasser-Kassem Feud

By WILTON WYNN

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—A new Syrian charge of Iraqi border violation added more fuel today to the burning feud between President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

In the third such accusation in a week, a spokesman for the United Arab Republic's 1st Army claimed that 30 Iraquis thrust across Syria's frontier Sunday and attacked two Syrian guards, wounding one.

Nasser predicted uprisings against the Iraqi premier would continue "as long as dictatorship and the heresy of communism continues" in Iraq.

In Baghdad, leftists called on Kassem to arm the people and purge the army and government of traitors. The idea obviously was to get rid of army officers and others sympathetic to Nasser's aim of Arab unity.

Some 50,000 students and workers paraded through the heart of Cairo Sunday in a demonstration against Kassem and Iraqi Communists. T. demonstrators, led by Cairo University students, denounced Kassem's regime and pledged support for Nasser's campaign against Reds in the Middle East.

Leaders of Nasser's National Union — the only political party permitted in the U.A.R.—called on Arabs everywhere to help topple Kassem's regime and "check the Communist cancer in the body of the Arab nation."

The latest Syrian border charge said the Iraqi troops crossed the frontier near Talhamar village, in the general area where U.A.R. officials claimed three Iraqi fighters strafed villages Saturday. Last Tuesday U.A.R. sources charged that Iraqi planes shot up the frontier hamlet of Hamoudiya and destroyed a house.

Cairo newspapers expressed belief the planes charged with Saturday's strafing were chasing rebel refugees from the northern Iraqi oil center of Mosul, site of last week's uprising.

The Iraqi government reported nearly a week ago that the rebellion was crushed, but reliable reports have indicated some fighting is continuing in outlying areas.

AP correspondent Stan Carter visited Mosul over the weekend and said the 100 or so foreigners there were safe. But he reported sizeable casualties in the fighting and many dead in a battle between fleeing rebels and pro-Kassem villagers on the road to Syria.

Taken on a tour of the city by the commander of a Baghdad battalion sent to restore order, Carter saw only a few scars of the bloody battle. The Mosul army garrison headquarters had a gaping hole where rockets struck the unoccupied office of Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, reported leader of the revolt. There was another hole in the conference room where Shawaf and his staff were conferring last Monday.

Iraqi army officers told Carter that Shawaf and his staff, wounded by rockets, had been killed by their own soldiers while being driven to a hospital.

Snow, Rain Fall Today In West Texas

By The Associated Press

Snow and rain fell in West Texas early Monday, and snow flurries were reported in San Antonio.

The snow was west of the Pecos Valley toward the Texas-New Mexico line.

The fall was heavy enough at Andrews, 40 miles from the New Mexico line, to cover the ground. The temperature, however, remained above freezing. At dawn it was 34 degrees.

Flurries of snow and hail also were reported uring the early morning at San Antonio, although the temperature was 53 degrees.

The Weather Bureau explained the unusual fall by saying the snow and hail originated from an 8,000 foot overcast and the ground temperature was not warm enough to melt the snow and ice before it hit the ground.

The hail was of small size and no damage was caused.

Skies were cloudy over most of the state but only partly cloudy along the Red River Valley and in the Texas Panhandle.

Temperatures were very chilly except in the extreme Lower Rio Grande Valley and ranged from Dalhart's sub-freezing 17 to Brownsville's comfortable 62.

Light showers also fell early Monday along the Gulf Coast.

A revised forecast for West Texas called for occasional snow or light rain continuing in the El Paso area and the upper Pecos River Valley Monday.

Warmer temeratures were expected elsewhere in the state Monday with chilly levels on tap again Monday night.

An extended forecast for the next five days called for temperatures near normal or slightly below with the only precipitation indicated near the coast at the end of the week.

TENDER LOVE—Here's a heart warming, heart tugging scene of the tender love of a brother and sister plagued with human tragedy. Brenda Lee Stills, 2½, Livermore, Calif., has an affectionate hug in cheek to cheek embrace with her 16-months-old brother, Michael, at Children's Hospital in Oakland, Calif. After a fall from an auto Feb. 17, Brenda Lee's right arm had to be amputated. Michael is suffering from what doctors describe as an incurable disease. Doctors said the tubes, little tubes leading from Michael's kidneys, do not function properly. The children have been dismissed from the hospital.

Takes Issue With Carr

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Price Daniel accused big gas companies today of trying to sabotage the administration's tax program.

"In a carefully planned campaign to place the burden of new taxes on hard - pressed family budgets instead of their own booming corporate profits, Texas' most powerful lobby in 20 years is fighting to delay every phase of the tax program I have submitted to the Legislature," Daniel said in a statement.

The statement had been scheduled for delivery Friday afternoon but the governor decided to postpone it until shortly before the public hearing this afternoon of his prime tax - revenue measure, a three per cent of value tax on contracted natural gas.

Daniel identified "Texas' most powerful lobby in 20 years" as principally the big gas companies.

However, his statement was an apparent slap at Speaker Waggoner Carr and the authors of at least two "across-the-board" tax bills favored by Carr. The speaker listed two "across - the - board" taxes which he did not consider general sales taxes. Daniel said today that the proposals, at least in effect, were either state income or sales taxes, which the governor has sworn he will not support.

"The issue is clearly drawn as to whether new taxes will be livied on the cost of living in accordance with the 'broad-base' theory of the corporation lobbyists, or upon the 'ability go pay' items I have recommended such as natural gas, corporation franchises, liquor and cigars," Daniel said.

"Gross income taxes or general sales taxes by any other name are just as objectionable as if properly designated for what they are."

Daniel said the proposal by Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock for an occupation tax on one half of one per cent of the gross receipts of every business in Texas "is in effect a gross income tax."

He said the bill by Reps. R. L. Strickland of San Antonio and Wesley Roberts of Lamesa, a four per cent tax on the first sale of goods manufactured or imported into Texas, was "clearly a general sales tax under another name."

"How any person who professes to be against an income tax or general sales tax can be for either of these bills is beyond my comprehension," Daniel said.

"I am confident that the authors of these new bills and the speaker of the House will never support them when they realize the full meaning and effect upon the nine million people of Texas."

Daniel did not mention a third bill that Carr spoke of favorably last week. The measure by Rep. W. T. Oliver of Port Neches also would put a four per cent tax on the first sale of manufactured or imported goods.

Earlier spokesman for the governor indicated Daniel would carry the fight for his tax program and other recommendations to the people with special radio and television speeches. No definite arrangements for such appearances have been made.

Trial Of Spurned Woman On Today

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Connie Nicholas, pale and tearful, went on trial today for the slaying of a wealthy drug executive who spurned her after 15 years for a younger woman.

The graying divorcee arrived with a jail matron a quarter-hour before the trial opened, dabbing her eyes.

She said she had slept only three hours since Friday and reported she was feeling nervous but "still optimistic."

She wore a gray suit. Her hands were in harnesses because of paralysis she has suffered since her near-suicide after the shooting.

All the 60 public seats in the little, dingy courtroom were filled. Curious spectators milled outside in the basement corridor in the ancient Marion County Courthouse.

Questioning of prospective jurors is expected to take several days.

Forrest Teel, 54, was shot to death last July in his parked Cadillac.

The state contends Mrs. Nicholas, 42, a divorcee, followed Teel and shot him three times with a small revolver after he returned to his car from a late night visit with the younger woman.

The defense claims the shooting was accidental and occurred during a violent struggle after Teel began beating Mrs. Nicholas.

Mrs. Nicholas told police Teel, executive vice president of Eli Lilly & Co., had promised to divorce his wife, Mary, 48, and marry her when his 14 year-old adopted son finished school. She said they carried on an illicit love affair for 15 years.

The younger woman, Laura Mowrer, 30, was a secretary at the Lilly firm. She moved to California shortly after the slaying and is not expected to testify. Mrs. Nicholas also met Teel while working at Eli Lilly.

The prosecutor's staff refused to say whether it will demand the death penalty for Mrs. Nicholas, who is charged with first-degree murder. Indiana has never electrocuted a woman.

Teel was still alive and conscious when police arrived, but refused to identify his killer.

Mrs. Nicholas was found about 20 hours later unconscious in her car after taking 75 sleeping capsules mixed with pineapple juice. She was in a coma for 2½ days.

Road Death Count Drops

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas closed its 1958 traffic death book today with 2,342 persons killed in accidents, the Department of Public Safety said today.

Department Director Homer Garrison Jr., said there were 197 less fatalities than in 1957, a decrease of 8 per cent. It was the lowest death rate since 1949 when 1,957 were killed.

The accident rate increased 16 per cent from 361,000 crashes in 1957 to 304,000 in 1958. Injuries increased from 122,000 to 127,000.

There were only five deathless days.

The worst day was Aug. 17, a Sunday, when 23 traffic deaths were counted. Christmas Day had 22 deaths.

Loving County continued its deathless record that began in 1939. Eight other counties reported no traffic deaths. They were Franklin, King, Lipscomb, Madison, Menard, McMullen, Real and Schleicher, the department said.

Savage Late-Winter Storm Sweeps Into Northeast U. S.

By The Associated Press

A savage winter curtain call of fierce wind, snow and rain storms howled across the Midwest during the weekend and swept eastward with undiminished fury.

At least nine deaths were blamed on the whiplash storms.

Fire deaths, always a major winter hazard, numbered more than 30. At least one multiple-death blaze was attributed to a carelessly - discarded cigarette, but blocked flues and stove accidents and overheating in cold weather took their toll.

The late winter storms left thousands of persons stranded for hours. Included were nearly 350 passengers on four Chicago and North Western Railroad trains which got stuck in 12-foot snow drifts in Wisconsin. All of the trains had sufficient fuel to heat the cars and all passengers had food during their enforced layovers, ranging up to 12 hours.

The last of the stalled trains, with 150 passengers aboard, was pulled free late Sunday night, eight hours after it was haited by huge drifts about 12 miles north of Green Bay.

The massive storm system maintained brisk winds this morning from the Great Lakes into portions of the Northeast although its center was over the James Bay region of Canada and moving northeast toward Labrador.

Striking as spring stood waiting in the wings for its seasonal debut on Saturday, the storms brewed tornadoes which killed three persons in Arkansas.

Elsewhere, the rigors of snow shoveling claimed two lives in Iowa. One person was killed on a highway Sunday in Michigan when a heavy snowfall reduced visibility. A pulp cutter died of exposure in his cabin in northwest Michigan.

In Cleveland Heights, Ohio, a man was killed when blown off a second-story porch Sunday during a windstorm which carried gusts up to 82 m.p.h.

More than a score of persons suffered injuries in the storms. Property damage was heavy.

The massive storm center, rolling out of the Rockies Saturday, dumped heavy snow on Wisconsin, Iowa and Nebraska. The vicious winds battered northern Midwest areas with gusts up to 78 m.p.h. in parts of Michigan.

Texan Only Civil War Veteran Left

HOUSTON (AP) — Col. Walter Williams' prediction came true today. He became the last survivor of the Civil War.

The frail, once - spry little man is 116.

John Stalling, 112, the only other survivor of the four million or so in Blue and Gray, died today in Kingsport, Tenn.

Williams' daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles, said, "He heard on the radio the other night that Salling was ill. He remarked to me how much he'd like to go see him if he could."

Mrs. Bowles did not immediately tell Williams of Stallings' death.

"I don't know if it's wise to tell him," she said. "He has his radio. I'm sure he'll hear about it."

Williams made the prediction in 1954 that he would be the last survivor. At that time his eyesight had failed and he had great difficulty in hearing.

For the last few years he has lived with Mrs. Bowles in Houston, where he is near medical care at the veterans hospital.

He spent most of his earlier life at his farm near Franklin, in east central Texas.

He now is bedridden and not aware of much that goes on around him.

His honorary title of colonel was awarded July 5, 1950, by the Texas governor.

The old soldier was born Nov. 14, 1842, in Adawoma County, Miss.

He joined the cavalry under Gen. John Bell Hood — Hood's Texas Brigade. But he saw no action. His duties consisted of seeking food for the other troops as 'forage master."

Hospital Leased As Nursing Home

Dr. Wilton N. Jones, Snyder physician who was former operator of the Snyder Clinic-Hospital, has announced the leasing of the hospital portion of the building to two men who will move here from Oklahoma City and open a nursing home.

Jones closed the arrangement recently with Jack Propps one of the men. Both have had many years of experience in operation of nursing homes, and Propps is now president of the Nursing Home Association of Oklahoma.

Jones and Dr. John W. Raines will continue their practice in the clinic portion of the building, separate from the nursing home.

The nursing home will be open April 1, the physician said, starting with 50 beds. A nursing home has nursing service for long-term patients, including senile patients and others who are not able to care for themselves and who require nursing service.

Jones and the Chamber of Commerce have been in contact with several prospective nursing home operators since the hospital was closed last fall.

More detailed announcements concerning the nursing home will be made later by the perators, Jones said.

Eight Killed In Collision

KINGMAN, Ariz. (AP)—A head-on collision 40 miles northeast of this northern Arizona city snuffed out eight lives Sunday night and injured four others, two critically.

Highway Patrol Sgt. Floyd Cisney identified these dead in one car:

Joe Williams, 32; John Collins, 32; Hattie Williams and Mary Collins, all of Peach Springs.

Peach Springs in on the Hualapai Indian reservation, two miles west of the accident scene on U.S. 66.

Killed in the other vehicle were Henry Manuel Goke, 38, of Albuquerque, N.M., the driver; Gertrude Chavez, 24, of Long Beach, Calif., and her infant son, Richard; and Josie Campbell, 2, also of Long Beach. Relationship of the Campbell child was not determined immediately.

Cisney said Williams strayed over the center line and smashed into the other auto.

Human Depreciation Allowance Favored

NEW YORK (AP)—The Liberal party of New York State has come out in favor of a tax allowance for human depreciation.

In its national legislative recommendations released Sunday the party argued that since tax laws allow for depreciation of plant and machinery, there should also be a special exemption for working people, to allow for wear and tear on the human organism.

Ike To Make Report Tonight

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reports to the nation tonight on the Berlin situation as he sees it.

His half-hour address from the White House will be carried by all the major radio and television networks, starting at 9:30 p.m. EST.

Advance indications were that Eisenhower would detail his charges that the Soviets, in seeking to force Allied military forces out of the onetime German capital, are trying to break solemn agreements entered into during and after World War II concerning the four-power status of the city.

He may emphasize this by showing his television audience some of the documents setting forth the occupation agreements.

He also was expected to reiterate this nation's intention to stand firm in Berlin, and to emphasize the senselessness of atomic war.

Informed sources described the speech as a restatement of the American position and an effort to put into perspective the cold war battle over Berlin that has been raging since last November. They said the speech would contain no surprises and set forth no new policies.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, suggested today that Eisenhower lay down the general terms the West will be prepared to consider in any Berlin negotiations with the Soviet Union.

"In this way his words would not only reach the people in the Democratic and uncommitted countries but would be carried into the Soviet Union and the satellite countries by the Voice of America," Mansfield said. "In view of the extreme gravity of the situation, they might even be carried in part on stations in the U.S.S.R."

Eisenhower will begin talks Thursday with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in a further effort to agree on a common stand among the Allies.

Macmillan is reported as likely to urge agreement on a summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to follow up a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers which has been suggested for May.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said in a weekend TV-radio program that the United States should be willing to take Berlin and other problems to a summit conference.

"We have to accept that fact that in the Soviet Union there isn't any second most important man," Fulbright said. "It's just the most important man. To them, a foreign ministers' conference is rather a waste of time because Khrushchev speaks for all of them."

Fulbright said that if a free corridor with uninterrupted access could be established and some form of international control of Berlin could be set up. "I think that might be an offer to be very seriously considered."

President Of Ireland Arrives For Visit

NEW YORK (AP) — Sean T. O'Kelly, president of Ireland, arrived by plane today for an official visit at the invitation of President Eisenhower.

The 76-year-old O'Kelly, first Irish president to make an official trip to this country, was accompanied by his wife.

O'Kelly and his party will remain in New York overnight, and then spend St. Patrick's Day as the guest of Eisenhower in Washington.

Jobless Pay Bill Due Quick Action

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fast House passage appeared assured today for a bill to continue temporary federal unemployment benefits for ome 300,000 jobless workers who would otherwise lose them April 1.

Although falling short of Democratic proposals, the three-months "tapering-off" measure had bipartisan support as about the best that could be passed before the present jobless pay law dies March 31.

To beat the expiration deadline, leaders sent the bill to the floor under procedure limiting debate to 40 minutes and requiring a two-thirds vote for passage. Its passage today would give the Senate two weeks to complete action.

The bill was opposed as inadequate by some northern Democrats from industrial areas still experiencing substantial unemployment. They called for a one-year extension of the existing program.

House Republicans, who have opposed anything but a sharply limited extension of the program, pronounced the bill acceptable to President Eisenhower.

Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis), chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, called it "a sound and humanitarian solution of the problem."

GOP Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana said it was in line with Eisenhower's position of opposing any permanent extension of the program under existing conditions.

What the bill does, in essence, is to postpone to July 1 the present April 1 cut-off date. Payment of federal benefits would be continued up to three months more to workers who are otherwise qualified to receive them and who have filed proper claims.

To ease last year's unemployment distress, Congress voted to pay additional benefits to workers who exhausted their benefit rights under the various state unemployment insurance laws. The program was limited to those states which chose to participate.

The cost of the additional benefit program is estimated at 49 million dollars.

The one-year program expiring March 31 is expected to cost 434 million dollars in jobless aid.

County Civil Defense Unit Is Created

A county civil defense unit was created this morning by an order passed by the county commissioners court.

Roy Dunlap, city manager, who is serving as city civil defense director, was appointed director of the county civil defense organization.

In creating the unit, the commissioners court's order called for an integrated and coordinated program with the city civil defense program. The city officially created a civil defense department in an ordinance passed last month.

The civil defense unit is designed to provide protection of citizens and property in the county in the event of attack or natural disaster.

Dunlap was given various duties as civil defense director, under direction of the commissioners court.

In other action this morning, the court employed the Snyder accounting firm of Deffebach & Yorgesen to perform the bienniel county audit for 1957-58 on the basis of a proposal made by the firm. The county will pay for the audit on a per diem basis, $50 a day for a senior accountant, $30 a day for a junior accountant, and $20 a day for secretarial work.

J. Ray Martin, county judge, read the court a letter from Marshall Formby, outgoing state highway commissioners, in response to a letter sent the highway commission from the commissioners court here several days ago asking that the widening program on Thirty-seventh Street be reactivated.

Formby said in his letter that he will be going out of office in a few days but that he is turning the Scurry County letter and information over to Herbert Petry, who will succeed him as chairman of the commission. Formby favored the Thirty-seventh Street project.

Reds Hold On In French Elections

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

PARIS (AP) — Returns from the final round in France's two-stage municipal elections showed today that the Communists held their own or forged ahead in most of the key town councils.

Voters in 17,760 communities turned out Sunday to finish the job they began a week ago under a new electoral system tailored to trim communism's grass roots hold on the electorate.

Despite a week of maneuvering alliances, the anti-Communists failed to cut deep into the Red representation.

A check of the largely pro-Communist working class suburbs of Paris indicated the Reds had recaptured 26 of the 28 local councils they controlled after the last municipal elections in 153. They lost one town hall and returns from the 28th were not yet available.

The Reds also picked up at least four seats in the council of the Seine Department, which embraces the entire Paris region. The Communists now will have 59 of the 150 members.

In France's 13 largest cities elections were completed last week with a proportionial 4—sentation system that gave the Reds a boost in total number of seats as well as the increased vote percentage they won. The Communists captured 160 seats as compared with 155 in the 1953 municipal elections.

About 20,000 communities using the two-round system also completed their election March 8 by giving the favored candidates a majority of all votes cast. Where no candidates got a first round majority, a second vote was necessary with the seats going to the top men.

Local issues and personalities dominated most campaigns. Non-Communist parties usually made alliances on either the first or second rounds to oppose the Reds.

Former Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, trying for a comeback after defeat for re-election as deputy, failed to win a seat as municipal councillor in Le Mans. Pineau is a Socialist.

Woman Refuses To Give Up Money

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—"Turn your back and walk to the rear of the store," the young gunman told market owner Mrs. Jere Ledet.

"I will not," snapped Mrs. Ledet.

"Where's your money?" demaded the gunman.

"I don't have much and you're not going to get it — I work 13 hours a day."

"Go ahead and shoot."

The gunman blinked at Mrs. Ledet and ran out of the store.

She told police: "I was scared to death, really."

PADDIE'S Peppermint Puffs

St. Patrick's Day Puff's Make Delightful Dessert

Crushed green peppermint candy and lightly-tinted whipped cream fill tender cream puff shells, topped with chocolate mint sauce. Sound delicious? They are! Sound difficult to make? They aren't!

Cream puff mix assures you that these dessert puff shells will puff. . and you need add only eggs and water. And melted semi-sweet chocolate pieces form the basis of your quick chocolate sauce.

Paddie's Puffs make a fine tribute to the patron saint of Ireland. March 17 is sometimes mistaken as St. Patrick's birthday. According to history, however, it was never decided whether he was born on midnight of the 8th or morning of the 9th, and for many years, some celebrated one day, some, the other. Finally a priest solved the problem by adding the two dates together — hence, the celebration on March 17!

Here's the recipe for this festive spring dessert, as developed by an Irish home economist.

Paddie's Peppermint Puffs

Make 6 large puffs according to directions on Cream Puff Mix package using one stick mix. Cool. Remove tops from puffs and fill (recipe below). Top each puff with a small dab of filling and a little crushed candy, if desired. Serve with Quick Chocolate Mint sauce (recipe below).

Filling: Beat 2 cups whipping cream until stiff. Fold in 1 cup finely crushed green peppermint candy, and a few drops of green food coloring.

Quick Chocolate Mint Sauce: Melt 6-oz. package semi-sweet chocolate pieces over hot water. Beat in 5½ oz. can evaporated milk and ⅛ tsp. salt. Blend in ½ tsp. peppermint extract (not oil of pepper mint which is much stronger).

New methods of processing prunes permit the cook to discard old-fashioned cooking methods and get plumper, more glamorous-looking fruit. Bring water to a rapid boil over a high flame. Pour the boiling water over the prunes, cover them and let them stand at room temperature for 24-48 hours. No cooking — and hardly any sweetening is needed for modern day prunes.

Grandma Keeps Busy With Crafts

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Antique hunters who comb the highways and byways for cast-offs would do well to investigate some of the contemporary handmade furniture being turned out by American craftsmen.

"They'd get more for their money and start a collection of the antiques of tomorrow," says Mrs. Vanderbilt Webb, founder and chairman of the board of the American Craftsmen's Council and the Museum of Contemporary Crafts.

Mrs. Webb, a tall, vigorous grandmother with 15 grandchildren, devotes most of her waking hours to furthering the cause of American handcrafts, with the result that there are now 125 affiliated craft groups in this country, with a membership of 30 to 40,000 craftsmen.

"Handcrafts had almost died out in this country, after the industrial revolution," she said. "People who once made their own furniture and bric-a-brac with loving care forgot their skills when they were able to order what they needed from a mail order catalog. We became a mass-produced nation.

"Then during the depression a few people found they could sell handmade articles, and eke out a living. This was the start of a revival in craftsmanship, which now is increasing every day."

Mrs. Webb first became interested in handcraft when she started a small shop called Putnam County Products, near her country home, for the benefit of neighbors hit by the depression.

Today there are hundreds of museum craft shows all over the country, and in almost every community men and women pursue hobbies which bring in supplementary income — or sometimes provide full support for a family.

"You can make a living out of handcrafts, if they are beautiful and creative in design," says Mrs. Webb. "Our council and the museum are helping educate both craftsmen and the general public in the beauty of crafts. We also advise people on how to design and market their crafts."

The greatest interest, she says, is in ceramics, weaving, jewelry and wood working.

Currently on exhibit at the museum is a collection of tapestries by modern French artists, with price tags running into five figures.

"People need to work with their hands," says Mrs. Webb. "They need to keep busy at something. That's what keeps you young."

OUR VIEW

Accident Injury Claims

THE CORPUS CHRISTI TIMES:

Plaintiff's attorneys all over the United States are viewing with misgivings a proposal advanced in California and being studied elsewhere to use the workmen's compensation concept for settlement of automobile accident injury claims.

Under this proposal specific awards for specific injuries would be provided and cases disposed of without a negotiated settlement between the insurer and the insured or by a jury trial. The justification advanced for this new approach is "exorbitant jury awards" for injuries.

In California, where the compensation method is under serious legislative consideration, a loud outcry has been heard from lawyers. The state bar association of California charges that the proposed new method of compensation would throw 70 per cent of their members out of work. Proponents argue that compensation awards would end "ambulance chasing" and the "evil" of contingent fees.

There is no indication that Texas legislators have seriously considered the compensation method approach to automobile injury claims. Nevertheless, at some point in the foreseeable future the steadily rising cost of automobile insurance, both for automobile damage and personal injury, may create a crisis in this field. Texas legislators have toyed with the idea of instituting a "merit" system whereby accident-free motorists will be given a much more favorable insurance rate than the general public and accident-prone motorists assessed on a steeply-rising scale. The merit plan, combined with much stricter laws uniformly enforced, may contribute to a solution to this insistent problem.

Dispute Uncovers Serious Questions

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Out of the intense soul searching forced on this country by the Berlin crisis have come self-confident revelations about the present and deeply troubling questions about the future.

These revelations—to give a total picture—have had to be fitted together from various statements by President Eisenhower and his top military advisers.

They might prove erroneous in case of war—since the Soviets then would have o be heard from—but here they are:

1. Eisenhower himself last week said we certainly won't fight a land war with the Soviets. They outnumber us on the ground. "Why in the world would we "Why in the world would we dream of fighting a ground war?" he asked. "You have got to have other means."

2. Earlier this month Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said we have "offensive superiority over the Soviets at this time."

3. Since we could not win on land but have offensive superiority then the only way we could fight a war is with planes using nuclear bombs.

Eisenhower has not ruled out nuclear weapons. McElroy has emphasized American dependence on its bombers.

But Democratic leaders—even though seeming to accept the idea of American superiority at present—question our ability to stay ahead.

They question Eisenhower's wisdom in not putting more money and effort into defense—looking years ahead—since the Soviets are pushing missile development and missiles may make bombers obsolete.

This is the troubling question implicit in their criticism.

Even though the Soviets may be afraid to start all-out war now what happens if and when they gain superiority? Will they blackmail us into one surrender after another?

Last week the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, which has been quizzing top military leaders behind closed doors, released some heavily censored portions of the testimony.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, chairman of this group and leader of the Senate Democrats, said the military chiefs agreed they had adequate plans and strength to meet the Berlin Crisis.

The Soviets have demanded the Allies pull their troops out of West Berlin and leave it a free city in the heart of Communist East Germany.

But Johnson, apparentnly accepting the idea this country is in adequate military shape now, said the adequacy applied only to the "immediate situation."

Then, trying to separate what we might be able to do now from what we might not be able to do in the future, he added: "Now and down the road are two different things."

The testimony of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, showed he agreed with Eisenhower we could not cope with the U.S.S.R. on the ground. He was asked if the only alternative to ground war is all-out war.

Although all-out war would mean nuclear war, "We must be willing to go all the way down the road," Taylor said. "We can't turn back at any point."

Even Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, appears to accept American superiority at this ime. He has spoken of this country's ability to devastate Russia in a war now.

It was George D. Prentis who observed: "If a woman could talk out of the two sides of her mouth at the same time, a great deal would be said on both sides."

Congressmen Can Write Headlines

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Never slouches at headline hunting, members of Congress are becoming proficient as headline writers.

Some interesting eye-catchers show up from time to time in the appendix of the Congressional Record, where members can publish almost anything and write their own headlines.

Some recent examples, and their authors:

Do Ducks Smoke?—Rep. A. S. Herlong (D-Fla), in an article about ducks, as well as cigarette smokers, being victims of cancer.

Can the Republican Elephant Be Whitewashed?—Rep. Ken Hechler (D-WVa), in an article critizing the Republican party leadership.

The Best Is Yet to Be—Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind), painting a rosy picture of the future of the United States.

God and Mr. Dulles—Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall (D-Colo), discussing foreign policy toward Red China.

GI Joe and Honest John—Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa), in an article asserting the need for foot troops in the missile age.

The Plot to Move Baltimore — Rep. Samuel N. Friedel (D-Md), discussing a proposal to remove a freight differential granted to Baltimore 82 years ago.

Poison in Your Water — Rep. John D. Dingell (D-Mich), in one of a series of articles on water pollution.

They're Stealing My Dollars, Robbing My Children, Grandchildren, and Great Grandchildren—Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich), complaining about inflation.

Refurnishing of the congressional press galleries has flushed some interesting items out of ancient file cases.

Among them:

A yellowed reprint of President Herbert Hoover's State of the Union message to the second session of the 71st Congress on Dec. 3, 1929. Among other things, Hoover called for a cut in income taxes to a maximum of 4 per cent on individual income and 11 per cent on corporate earnings.

An excerpt from House Speaker Sam Rayburn's maiden House speech on May 6, 1913, is being widely circulated in Congress. It has been photostated and reproduced on a photographed oil painting of Rayburn. The Texas Democrat had been in the House only a month and was 31 when he made the speech. The excerpt:

"It is now my sole purpose here to help enact such wise and just laws that our common country will by virtue of these laws be a happier and a more prosperous country. I have always dreamed of a country which I believe this should be and will be, and that is one in which the citizenship is an educated and patriotic people, not swayed by passion and prejudice, and a country that shall know no East, no West, no North, no South, but inhabited by a people liberty loving, patriotic, happy, and prosperous with its lawmakers having no other purpose than to write such just laws as shall in the years to come be of service to human kind yet unborn."

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

DESPITE THE FOUL weather, the 7th annual Canyon Reef Relays came off in grand style Saturday.

Competition for the team title was keener than it has been in the past meets.

It was indeed unfortunate that one of the teams had to go home "mad." Yep, San Angelo coach Bill Purser felt he got "rooked" when his mile relay team was disqualified for corwding an Amarillo boy off the track during the third lap.

We never did learn just what Purser based his protest on but the curve judge, Bill McLaughlin, called the foul the instant it happened and it was strictly a judgement call as to who was at fault. That's what the curve judges are for and if the coaches can't accept their decisions on such instances, then it's just too bad.

It was apparent that the San Angelo boy was at fault since the Amarillo runner was running on the inside track and the San Angelo boy in the next lane over. The San Angelo runner, trying to pass the Amarillo boy bumped shoulders with the Amarillo lad and forcing the latter off the track.

San Angelo went on to finish the race in second place while Amarillo was forced to drop out at the point of the foul. However, when the San Angelo relay team was disqualified, Coach Purser put up a howl.

Second Time For Bobcats

The bumping, without a doubt, was purely accidental but that still doesn't excuse the guilty party.

It was the second time in three years that San Angelo has been involved in a "Rhubarb" over a disqualification of one of its relay teams.

In the 1957 regional meet at Lubbock, San Angelo won first place in the 440-yard relay but the Bobcat quartet was disqualified for passing the baton out of the required zone on the final handoff.

San Angelo hollered loud and long over this call, too, but the relay point judge stood pat on his call. This was a more costly call than the one here Saturday as it kept the San Angeloans from qualifying for the state meet. And the Bobcats that year had one of the state's outstanding spring relay teams.

Plenty Of Help

As is the case in any big track meet it takes a lot of help to stage one and as in the past meets, the local meet Saturday had plenty of help.

Many of the fellows in charge of the various events have been performing their chores since the beginning of the Canyon Reef Relay affair. All of this help is voluntary, the workers doing their chores without pay.

Saturday's meet was run off without any delay between events and credit for this goes to the workers.

On a day like Saturday, the workers are especially to be commended for their efforts.

We're not sure just what effect the weather had on the discus throwers but never before has such outstanding performances been turned in during a track meet in Texas than the discus men turned in here Saturday.

Not one but two boys broke the existing state record in the discus throw, Spencer Johnson of Amarillo Tascosa winning with a prodiguous heave of 181 feet 8½ inches, and Emory Martindale of San Angelo second with 173-2¼ both of which bettered the state record.

The state record was 170-10½ set by the great Darrow Hooper of North Side of Fort Worth in 1949. Johnson's toss was less than three feet short of the National record. Al Oerter of Floral Park, N. Y., holds the National record of 184-2 ¾ set in 1954.

Busy Week Ahead For SHS Athletes

A busy week lies ahead for the local schoolboy and schoolgirl athletes this week.

The Bengal track squad, runner-ups in their own Canyon Reef Relays here Saturday, will compete in the San Angelo Relays Friday and Saturday at San Angelo.

The Tigerettes will play three volleyball games this week, going to Big Spring tonight for the week's opener. Then the SHS girls will return home tomorrow night to meet Lamesa in a District 3-AAA game at Tiger Gym. The Tigerettes will close out the week's schedule at Abilene Friday night.

The Tiger golf team will play its first home match Wednesday in a triangular match with Big Spring and Lamesa and then the linksmen will go to Odessa Friday and Saturday for the West Texas Relays Tournament.

In tennis, the Tiger netters, winner of their only start to date, will go to Sweetwater tomorrow for a dual match with the Mustangs and will then compete in the Midland Invitational Tournament Friday and Saturday.

The Snyder Junior High 7th and 8th grade track teams and the Tiger Freshmen will go to Stamford Saturday for Stamford's annual junior high invitational meet. It will be the season opener for the Snyder teams.

And winding up home activities this week, Lincoln High School will stage an invitational track and field meet Saturday at Tiger Stadium.

Track Coach Hit By Shot Put, Dies

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—A high school track coach hit in the head with a 12-pound shot died Sunday night.

Louis Finn, 40, father of four, had been in a coma since he was struck Friday at Pacific High School.

The iron ball was thrown in a warmup toss by an 18-year-old senior. The athlete yelled "Look out," but Finn, walking across the field, did not hear it in time.

Mantle, Larsen, Mays On Sidelines

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports writer

Three of major league baseball's top performers today stood ready to testify that play during the exhibition season is just as rugged as during the regular campaign.

Willie Mays, San Francisco outfielder sidelined with a split leg; Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, who spent valuable time on the bench with a shoulder injury, and the Yankees' Don Larsen, latest of spring training's major casulties, all have irrefutable evidence about the perils of play along the Cactus and Grapefruit trail.

Larsen, only pitcher to fashion a perfect game in the World Series, had to quit with a shoulder injury while the St. Louis Cardinals were rippling his pitching for a 10-3 victory over the world champions Sunday.

While throwing to Ken Boyer in the third, Larsen suddenly felt a sharp pain dart in his pitching shoulder. He concluded the inning — in which he gave up six runs— and then retired. It is uncertain how long Larsen will be shelved, but it's the same type of injury that made him ineffectual last season when he compiled only a 9-6 record and required long periods of rest.

Elsewhere, Cleveland's Indians were taking care of the last undefeated team, edging Boston 5-4. The Red Sox had won seven straight.

In other games, Los Angeles nipped Washington 2-1, Milwaukee thumped Cincinnati 11-5, Philadelphia bombed Pittsburgh 13-8, Baltimore defeated Kansas City 9-6 and Detroit edged Chicago's White Sox 2-1. The San Francisco-Chicago Cub game at Yuma, Ariz., was canceled due to high winds.

Cleveland won in the last of the ninth when Red Sox second baseman Pumpsie Green booted a double play ball, allowing Jimmy Piersall to score with the winning run.

The combined two-hit pitching of Danny McDevitt and Bill Harris gave the Dodgers their seven-inning victory over Washington in a game curtailed by rain.

The Braves won their third game in eight outings with solid clubbing by two supposedly light hitters. Felix Mantilla stroked two doubles and a pair of singles and batted in two runs while Billy Bruton accounted for three RBI's with three hits.

Valmy Thomas' three-run homer and Harry Anderson's four RBI's paced Philadelphia's 15-hit attack against Pittsburgh.

SMU 9 Only Perfect Team In SWC Ranks

By The Associated Press

The championship race begins this week in Southwest Conference baseball without the favorite's tag being bestowed on any one team.

Texas, the defending champion, hasn't been impressive in its practice games. Rice is an unknown quantity. Everybody else except Southern Methodist has been defeated.

Southern Methodist won four games last week in getting the season under way. There were two victories over Texas Christian and two over Sul Ross. These triumphs don't necessarily make SMU stand out over the others, however.

Monday, Southern Methodist plays Oklahoma at Dallas and that game should furnish some indication. Texas divided a series with Oklahoma, beating the Sooners 6-5 in the first game but losing the second 16-10.

Eight practice games are scheduled before the teams start the conference race Saturday with Texas A&M playing Texas at Austin, Baylor and Texas Christian clashing at Waco and Southern Methodist tangling with Rice at Houston.

Rice actually opens the season Wednesday, hosting Oklahoma state in the first of two nonconference games.

Tuesday, Texas and Sam Houston State play at Austin and Baylor and Houston get together at Waco. Wednesday Texas and Sam Houston State again play at Austin while Texas A&M and Houston battle at College Station.

Friday, Southern Methodist plays Sam Houston State at Huntsville.

Tenn. A&I Champs Again

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Tennessee A&I loses three aces that have carried the all-Negro team to the NAIA basketbal championship three years. But indications are the Tigers will be the team to beat again next year.

The hot shooting Nashville team, coached by John Mclendon, won its third National Intercollegiate championship Saturday night, beating Pacific Lutheran College 97-87 in the finals.

Tennessee A. & I.'s big three—Dick Barnett, John Barnhill and Jim Satterwhite—have completed their NAIA eligibility after three successful trips to the tournament. Barnett made 26 points against Pacific Lutheran to run his three-tournament total to 390 points, a meet record.

Mclendon said it would be two or three years before his school would get in the championship class against.

What Mclendon didn't mention, however, was that his holdovers will include 6-7 Ben Warley and 6 5½ Gene Werts, each a hero in this tournament, and Porter Meriwether, a speedy freshman.

Southwest Texas State of San Marcos nipped Fort Hays (Kan) State 87-80 for third place in the 6-day tournament that involved 32 teams.

MVC May Sweep Both National Cage Titles

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The alphabetical battle for college basketball tournament honors has come down to the NCAA and the NIT with the MVC bidding to approach a feat CCNY accomplished nine years ago.

Before you call in the FBI, let's explain it.

With the National Collegiate and the National Invitation tournaments left from the four scrambles annually winding up the college season, the Missouri Valley Conference is in a good position to nail both.

Cincinnati, the MVC champion, is one of the four semifinalists set for the NCAA wrapup at Louisville's Freedom Hall Friday and Saturday after knocking off Kansas State, the nation's No. 1 team, last Saturday.

Bradley and St. Louis, the two powers that spent the season chasing Cincinnati in the MVC, are among the six survivors in the NIT in New York. Bradley is top-seeded and St. Louis is seeded second, so they could wind up as opponents in the championship game Saturday afternoon.

If the parlay comes off at Louisville and New York, it would rank as a double approximating the grand slam City College of New York scored in the NCAA and NIT in 1950 when teams were permitted to play in both tournaments.

Cincinnati, despite its great Oscar Robertson and its victory over the K-State team voted the nation's best, is no shoo-in. The Bearcats face defense-minded California in Friday's semifinals and the Pacific Coast Conference champions have a 13-game winning streak after bagging the Far West NCAA regional over the weekend.

The other Louisville semifinal sends home-standing Louisville, the tournament giant - killer, against powerful West Virginia from the Southern Conference. Each can play in Cincinnati's class.

The same holds true in the NIT for Bradley and St. Louis St. Louis goes against slick Providence Tuesday night in a quarter-final test that could be a problem after the way the Friars from New England played in upsetting Manhattan last Saturday.

If the Billikens win that one, they'll face rejuvenated St. John's in Thursday's semifinal that also matches Bradley with Tuesday night's New York U.-Oklahoma City winner. Bradley and St. Louis are favorites, but the NIT has built a reputation as a tournament that thrives on upsets.

The two big tournaments were left in the basketball spotlight after Tennessee A&I wrapped up its third straight NAIA championship Saturday night in Kansas City and host Evansville won the NCAA small college tourney Friday night. Tennessee A&I rallied in the second half to topple Pacific Lutheran 97-87. Evasville's title came at the expense of Southwest Missouri State, 83-67.

Louisville, with a below .500 record at mid-season, and a mere 16-10 ledger entering NCAA play, had the biggest weekend of the survivors. Saturday night, the Cardinals of Peck Hickman whipped Big 10 champion Michigan State 88-81 in the mid-east finals at Evanston, Ill., after dropping defending NCAA champ Kentucky the night before.

Cicinnati, with Robertson turning in a brilliant all-around performance, broke away in the last two minutes to beat Kansas State 85-75 in the Mid-West finals at Lawrence, Kan.

West Virginia came from behind for the 14th time in its last 18 games for an 86-82 victory over Boston U. in the Eastern final at Charlotte, N.C.

And California blasted St. Mary's 66-46 in the Far West finals at San Frnacisco.

Bradley, which drew a first round bye, opened its bid for the NIT title with an 83-77 victory over hard-working Butler. St. John's which kayoed Villanova in the first round, joined Bradley in the semifinals with an 82-74 whipping of St. Bonaventure.

NYU and Providence scored their first round victories Saturday afternoon, NYU over Denver 90-81 and Providence over Manhattan 68-66 on Johnny Egan's 30-foot jump shot with six seconds left.

Harney Wins At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla., (AP) — Slender Paul Harney, the long hitting professional from Worcester, Mass., accomplished three major objective by winning the $15,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament.

His superb 19 under par 269 set a tournament record, virtually clinched an invitation to the Masters Tournament at Augusta, Ga., and assured him of a chance to play in the rich Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas.

The 29-year-old golfer's 69-65-75-70—269 was four strokes better than the tournament record of 273 set by Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., in 1957. It also won him 2,000 in prize money.

Harney has wanted to play in the Masters ever since he turned pro in 1954. He now leads the winter circuit by a comfortable margin and the two top players in the circuit are invited to the Masters.

Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., took second place and $1,500 with a 68-72-65-67—272. His two final rounds included 11 birdies and an eagle. The third round was rained out Saturday and all contestants had to play 36 holes Sunday.

Tied for third place were 45 year - old Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Na., and Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., each with 276.

Points To Remember When Filing Return

Editors note — Still puzzled about some points in your federal income tax? You may find the answers in this and succeeding articles which explain the subject in simple, understandable language. Today's instalment, first of five, deals with filing procedure and the income you must report.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is an ABC on filing your 1958 income tax return. The deadline is midnight, April 15.

Claim all the exemptions and deductions you're entitled to. They'll reduce your tax.

Report only taxable income, not the nontaxable kind. There's a difference, explained later. Example: Social Security benefits are nontaxable.

Other things to remember:

1. Attach to your return all the W-2 receipts given you by employers for tax withheld from you during 1958.

2. Many people from past years have refunds coming to them but can't get them because the Internal Revenue Service doesn't know who they are or where they live. Their names and addresses were illegible. Write yours clearly.

3. Be sure you have the instruction sheet which IRS is supposed to send every taxpayer. It is full of information.

It also has the tax-table and tax-rate schedule for figuring your tax unless you're one of those with under $5,000 income who uses form 1040A and lets the IRS figure the tax for you.

Who must file a return?

You must, whether or not you owe tax, if you were under 65 in 1958 — this includes children—and had taxable income of $600 or more.

A person over 65 — you could have reached 65 as late as Jan. 1, 1959 — must file a return if he had taxable income of $1,200 or more, whether or not he owes tax.

If you had income but it was under the amount required for filing —and if tax was withheld from you — you are entitled to a refund. But the only way you can get it is by filing a return and claiming it.

As noted above: a child who had $600 or more taxable income must file a return. The parent is responsible for seeing to it that this is done.

There's an exception to the rules listed above: a self-employed person must file a return and pay a self-employment tax (really a Social Security tax; if his net earnings were $400 or more in 1958.

Examples of the difference between taxable and nontaxable income:

1. John Jones, 66, received $1,000 in Social Security benefits, plus $400 interest on his bank savings. Total income: $1,400.

But Social Security benefits are not taxable and are not to be reported as taxable income. So Jones had only $400 in taxable income: his bank interest.

But a person over 65 doesn't have to file unless his taxable income was $1,200 or more. So Jones doesn't have to fil.

2. Tom Smith, World War II veteran, is under 65 but earned $6,000 last year. Part of the time he was out of work and received $120 in unemployment compensation. He also received a government pension of $300 for injury resulting from his active service in the armed forces total income: $6,420.

But unemployment compensation and that kind of government pension are nontaxable and don't have to be reported. So Smith's reportable, taxable income was $6,000.

Here are examples of taxable income which must be reported:

Wages, salaries, rents, bonuses, fees, interest on savings accounts and U.S. savings bonds, dividends from stocks (so-called dividends from building and loan associations on savings accounts are actually interest and must be reported as such), tips, gambling winnings, commissions, profits from sale or exchange of property, strike benefits paid by unions, profits from a farm, business or profession, income from estates or trusts, severance pay.

Here are examples of nontaxable income which doesn't have to be reported as income:

State or federal Social Security benefits; unemployment compensation paid by a state (although supplemental unemployment benefit payments from a company-financed supplemental unemployment benefits funds are taxable income); public assistance payments to the blind; life insurance proceeds paid because of the death of the insured (unless the policy was transferred to you for a valuable consideration); gifts in money or anything of value for which you performed no service; interest on state and municipal bonds; subsistence and rental allowances to members of the armed forces; veteran benefits from the Veterans Administration to veterans and their families; disability pay and pension pay received by veterans for service connected and nonservice connected disabilities.

Be sure if you have doubts about your income — to whether any part of it is taxable or non taxable — to call or visit your nearest IRS office.

Two C-C Panels Schedule Sessions

Meetings have been scheduled this week by two Cahmber of Commerce committees, both of which will be discussing their programs for the year.

The merchants committee, headed by Myron Roe, will meet at 3 p.m. tomorrow. The civic affairs committee, with D. R. Scott as chairman, will hold its meeting at 3 p.m. Wednesday, the meeting having been postponed from last week. Both meetings will be in the chamber office.

Also scheduled for discussion by that committee is the Thursday night shopping program, National Cotton Week, and suggested merchants holidays for the year.

The civic affairs committee will go over possible projects suggested in a recent survey of chamber members. Included in those suggestions were a new county jail, a civic center, and work toward a Texas Employment Commission office. The committee has already been working toward getting a permanent judicial district here, and a bill recently introduced by Rep. Renal Rosson of Snyder in the House asking for a permanent district has passed committee study and is ready for the House floor.

Long Challenges Proxmire Remarks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell Long (D-La) challenged today recent criticisms made by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) of Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex).

"I've never seen a man more completely in error than Sen. Proxmire," said Long.

For instance, Long said in a talk for radio broadcast in Louisiana, Proxmire complained that under Johnson's leadership the Senate doesn't have as many quorum calls to require the presence of senators on the floor as formerly.

It's a mark of "good leadership that you don't waste so much time trying to get somebody to come hear somebody else make a speech," said Long.

"Sen. Proxmire is wrong if he thinks you can require any senator to come listen to any other senator's speech. You can make a majority come in and answer to their names but what you do is see them come in and say 'here' and walk right out again."

Long said Proxmire also contended that the Senate doesn't spend as many hours in session under Johnson as it formerly did. But, said Long, Proxmire compared present sessions to 1950 and 1949 when there were long filibusters.

"Now if Sen. Proxmire is in favor of all this filibustering and thrashing around and achieving nothing...he can advocate it," said Long. "Personally I think the people got disgusted with the way Congress wasted so much time and got so little done in the years before Sen. Proxmire came."

Long said Proxmire "is a nice fellow and I like him" but "it's too bad he has consumed a lot of attention when we have so many other vital problems, and the things he has been discussing he really hasn't known much about."

VFW To Pick New Officers

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will elect officers at a meeting scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight at the Veterans Club.

All members of the local post are urged to attend the session. The post has about 330 members now, a gain of approximately 100 over last year.

Present officers of the post are Earl Chapman, commander; Harry Chapman, senior vice commander; Burnie Dunnam, junior vice commander; M. M. Mapes, quartermaster; Harold Brown, adjutant; Frank Stephenson, chaplain; Carroll Lock, service officer; Lowell Prince, officer of the day; Martin Lutkins, judge advocate, and K. O. Pitner and Ray Neidecken, trustees.

Graham Has His Biggest Congregation

MELBOURNE (AP) — Billy Graham closed his month-long crusade in Australia's second largest city yesterday with the biggest crowd of his career, more than 140,000 people.

Graham's previous record audience of 100,000 was at New York in 1957.

Australian clergymen said the evangelist's final local meeting was the greatest religious gathering in the country's history. Leaders of virtually every church, including Roman Catholics and Jews, praised the North Carolina Baptist's crusade.

During his month Graham has drawn audiences totaling nearly 700,000. Millions have heard him on radio.

Graham spoke from a platform in the center of the five-acre site of the 1956 Olympic games.

Graham opened his sermon by reading greetings from President Eisenhower. In his erligious message he said man could serve either self or God, but only by serving God could man attain heaven.

The Catholic Advocate paid tribute to the "great missionary effort which Dr. Graham and his collaborators have undertaken with a view to awakening the world to the vital truth and the all-importance of spiritual reality."

Graham flew to Tasmania today for two meetings. After a two-week holiday at the shore in Queensland, he will start a crusade in New Zealand in April.

Warns Tax Could Move Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, says that imposing a city tax on stock transfers — as proposed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner — might force the exchange to move out of New York.

Funston Sunday called the proposal a "totally unsound scheme to make investors throughout the country help solve the city's financial difficulties."

Once before, in 1933, the city was preparing to tax stock transfers. At that time the exchange acquired property and set up facilities in Newark, N.J. The tax proposal was dropped, and the facilities were never used.

More criticism of the proposal came from Edward T. McCormick, president of the American Stock Exchange. He said of the Wagner proposal: "I think it is stupid. The fact of the matter is that it is measures such as this that are driving business out of our city."

"They laughed

when I cleaned out the garage!'

They said all I'd get was a backache.

But I fooled 'em!

I found all that junk in the garage wasn't junk at all. It looked useless to us because we couldn't use it. But when I took a good look I found a lawn mower that was still good for a lot of miles of lawn mowing, a chair that wasn't nearly all sat out, a buggy that could still wheel a baby around many blocks . . . . lots of things that other folks could surely use and would probably like to buy at a savings.

So, while I cleaned out the garage, I made a list of all the things that were taking up space. And when I finished, I called The Snyder Daily News Want Ad Department at HI 3-5486. The nice girl who answered the phone helped me word my ad. It started the next day.

You know, all those things were sold in just a couple of days. The folks who bought them seemed real glad to get 'em at a good price, and I made a good bit of money myself.

Guess who's laughing now. I am!

Junior Editors Quiz on ESKIMOS

QUESTION: Do Eskimos wear sun glasses?

* * *

ANSWER: Yes — and they probably need them more than you do because they live in a land that is covered with snow for most of the year. People whose eyes are exposed to the sun's reflection off the white snow for a long period of time often get snow blindness, a temporary loss of vision.

Long ago, the Eskimos discovered how to make a very simple but quite effective pair of sunglasses. They took a curved piece of bone and worked it into the shape you see in the upper right-hand corner of the drawing. Then they cut narrow slits in the bone, large enough for them to see through but small enough to shut out most of the sun's glare.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a drawing of an Eskimo boy putting on his sun glasses before cleaning a fish he has just caught. Color the drawing, making the boy's fur suit dark brown and putting light blue streaks in the white snow.

* * *

Lewis M. Hiller Jr. of River Edge, N. J., wins $10 for this question. Send your question on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. Tomorrow: How long has smuggling been going on? 3-16

NAACP Will Try To Avoid Texas Suits

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People will seek to avoid lawsuits by urging local voluntary integration of schools in east Texas, an official of the group says.

Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins, New York, told delegates to the NAACP Texas State Conference Sunday the organization will wage a stepped-up campaign with that aim this year.

Plans also call for membership, poll tax payment and voting drives in observance of the 50th anniversary of the NAACP, Wilkins said.

Wilkins told newsmen integration must get under way in east Texas and that the collapse of Virginia's "massive resistance" against desegregation proves state law cannot avoid it.

Informed that the Houston School Board is drawing up plans for desegregation, Wilkins said his group favors such planning in its quest to "avoid lawsuits and arousing of feelings."

Wilkins also termed Sen. Lyndon Johnson's (D-Tex) civil rights bill as "deceitful and valueless." The bill would set up a conciliation service for civil rights problems.

Majorettes Are Banned

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Irish will have to get along without those pretty baton twirlers in the St. Patrick's Day parade Tuesday.

Wishing the parade all "the luck of the Irish," Mayor William Hartsfield today said a city ban on majorettes applies to all downtown parades.

The mayor said the city is trying to reduce the number and length of parades at the request of downtown merchants and traffic officials.

Hartsfield also said the order against downtown twirling had been prompted by "racial tension" and "the fact that these scantily clad teen-agers can't keep up with the line of march and are forced to fight their way through milling crowds."

Tom J. Griffin, parade chairman for Atlanta's Hiberian Benevolent Society, interpreted the mayor's action as "a kick in the pants to the Irish." He said, however, the parade will go on, with or without the twirling colleens.

Fire Put Out After Dog Sounds Alarm

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — It took firemen an hour to put out the blaze at the home of Elyira Luna after her year-old dog, Bimbo, alarmed the family with his barking.

Damage in the blaze was estimated at $400 and firemen said it would have been much more if it hadn't been for "just plain dog" Bimbo.

Mrs. Luna and her son, David 7, are not so concerned over the monetary loss.

Firemen said the blaze was started by children playing with matches in a storeroom, where Bibo was tied and died on his leash.

Relatives Gather When Child Is Born

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — A lot of the family was on hand when Boyd Braithwaite was born.

There was his 15-year-old mother, Clara Smith Braithwaite; his 30-year-old grandmother, Ida Smith; his 45-year-old greatgrandmother, Coral Mair; and his 80-year-old great-great-grandmother, Theda Ann DeHaven all of Ogden.

Mrs. Braithwaite, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Mair all were married at 14 and had children at 15.

Mrs. Braithwaite's 20-year-old husband, a construction worker, and 46-year-old grandpa Mair also were in the crowd.

Well-Known Artist Dies In California

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Lee Roy F. James, magazine and motion picture artist, is dead at 80.

James, who died Sunday at a rest home, was an illustrator for Colliers, Red Book, Ladies Home Journal and other magazines. He was a member of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer motion picture studio from 1935 until he retired in 1947.

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

MAKING CONTACT daily with farmers and ranchers in a wide area around Snyder are two employes of Herman Doak who distribute Gulf products here. They are B. Y. Lenoir, left, who has been with Doak 15 years, and Grady Suiter, an employe five years. (Lee Watson photograph)

Gulf Distributor Serves Many Farmers In This Area

A man who probably knows about as many farmers in the Snyder area as any man here is Herman Doak, Gulf products distributor.

Doak, whose offices and warehouse is at 1603 Twenty-ninth Street, has been Gulf distributor here 15 years, and throughout that time agricultural accounts have been among his biggest in distribution of gas, oils, and other needs for motor equipment.

Busy throughout the year making deliveries to farms and ranches, industrial accounts, and service stations here, Doak and his employes are due for their regular rush season which comes with farmers getting ready for heavy use of tractors and other equipments this spring.

Some tractors are in the fields now, and many more will be seen following the next moisture here.

To service agricultural and other rural customers, Doak and his employes drive many thousands of miles annually in their delivery trucks. Doak's service covers all of Scurry County and parts of Borden and Kent.

Taking care of most of the deliveries are two Doak employes, B. Y. Lenoir and Grady Suiter, who, like Doak, know practically every farmer in the area. Lenoir has been employed by Doak 15 years, Suiter about five years.

Most of the rural deliveries of Doak's agency includes the popular Good Gulf, used in the majority of his customers' tractors. Some, however, buy the better Gulf No-Nox.

Doak also has a line of Gulf tractor tires of all sizes, which include those to fit any tractor used in this area. They carry a guarantee for the life of the tire against defective materials and workmanship.

Used on farms also are many products from Doak's full line of Gulfpride and Gulflube motor oils, the multi-purpose gear lubricants, and the all-purpose farm grease.

Not all tractors use gasoline, of course, and Doak's agency also handles butane and diesel fuels, as well as kerosene and many other items used on the farm.

Also included in the Gulf products is a full line of insecticides, many of which are handy for farm and ranch use.

Doak invites farmers and ranchers in the area, as well as others needing deliveries on gas, oils, greases, and other motor equipment needs to call his warehouse at HI3-3832.

McAlister Service Makes Moving Easy

Are you planning to move to a new residence here or in another town soon?

If you have ever moved before, you know the drudgery connected with a move of your household furnishings and belongings if you attempt to do the moving, or any part of it, yourself.

A Snyder firm, McAlister Van Lines, Inc., can take all the drudgery out of the move for you—and at surprisingly low cost.

In one recent instance a family needed to move to a new address in a hurry, and called the McAlister office and asked to be moved early the next morning.

Members of the firm arrived just as the family was finishing an early breakfast.

"The family got up from the table when they finished, walked out and got into their car and left for their new home," members of the firm said.

"Our men washed the breakfast dishes, packed them along with everything else which needed packing, and loaded the van," Bob McAlister, manager here, said.

"When the van arrived at the family's new address everything was unpacked and placed in the cabinets and closets just as it had been in the former house," he said.

He emphasized that washing dishes is not one of the regular services offered by the firm, but is just one example of the variety of services the members of the firm will perform in assisting anyone in moving.

In each move the family has the choice of packing its own small breakable items, or letting members of the firm do it.

"If the owner does his own packing, he, of course, saves some time and money on the move, but much care must be used in proper packing to prevent any breakage," McAlister added. The firm provides large containers in which the family may pack its own valuables and the containers will be delivered to the family in plenty of time to provide complete packing before the move is to take place.

"We believe proper packing of all items, and proper easy handling of all furniture, and correct loading, padding and tying in the van is the most important part of any move," he added.

A complete warehouse service is also offered by the firm for anyone who wishes to store either an entire household of furniture, or just a few unused items.

With headquarters in Snyder, Sweetwater and Colorado City, the firm offers a complete service to this area. McAlister Van Lines, Inc., also has a branch in San Antonio, providing a state wide moving service, and moving to any point in the United States or the world.

Duncan Hines Dies Sunday

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Duncan Hines, 78, who made a business of advising people where to eat, died of lung cancer at his home here Sunday.

Hines published guidebooks which contain recommendations of restaurants, hotels and motels and vacation areas.

The Duncan Hines Institute, which publishes the guidebooks and two cookbooks at Ithaca, N.Y. said Hines traveled more than two million miles in his inspections of food and lodgings.

The Hines home contains one of the largest cookbook collections in the nation.

Hines helped found Hines-Park Foods, which licenses the manufacture of Duncan Hines baking mixes. Both the Duncan Hines Institute and Hines-Park Foods now are owned by Procter & Gamble.

Dinner Guests Are Robbed By Gunmen

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Twenty dinner guests thought it was a practical joke when three masked gunmen robbed them at a home in suburban Mission Hills, Kan.

The bandits escaped with an unknown amount of money and jewels during a snowstorm Saturday night.

"We thought it was a joke because we have some practical jokers in the crowd," said W. H. Hoffstot, a lawyer and one of the guests. "The robbers got perturbed because nobody paid them any attention."

The bandits finally got full attention by cracking Dr. J. A. Gorwdon on the head with a gun.

That's when "the joke became real to me," Hoffstot said.
