Hurricane Bertha Aims Deadly Punch At Gulf Coast Area

By The Associated Press

The Weather Bureau told residents of low areas on the Texas and Louisiana coasts Friday to get out ahead of Hurricane Bertha.

The 10 a.m. advisory called Bertha a hurricane for the first time. Earlier it had been called a storm.

Tides 5 to 6 feet higher than normal were expected in the area of Galveston and Sabine, Tex. Tides 3 to 5 feet eastward to Vermilion Bay in Louisiana, the Weather Bureau said.

The high tides, said the bureau, may begin Friday afternoon.

The center of the hurricane was expected to reach the coast before midnight.

Winds at 10 a.m., said the bureau, were 75 miles per hour, up from 65 miles an hour at 7 a.m.

At that time, the hurricane was 140 miles southeast of Lake Charles near latitude 28.6 north, longitude 91.9 west. Gales extended 100 miles from the center.

The storm pattern was following closely that of Hurricane Audrey, which killed more than 530 persons June 27 in the region of Cameron, La.

Survivors of the Cameron area fled during the night at the first word of the storm's approach.

The Continental Oil Co. reported higher winds than those reported by the Weather Bureau.

The company said winds reached 90 m.p.h. Friday morning and already were affecting Grand Isle, La.

Hurricane Audrey took 11 lives in Texas, and caused damage estimated by the Texas Department of Public Safety at six million dollars.

Civil defense authorities and the Weather Bureau said they expected the center of Bertha to strike between Galveston and Vermilion Bay, La., which would include the area damaged by Audrey.

Residents of Cameron, La., where Hurricane Audrey took more than 530 lives June 27, fled during the night.

This contrasted with the Audrey situation, when many residents ignored warnings.

Offshore drilling rig crews left their little steel islands in the Gulf Thursday. More than 1,800 men were evacuated.

Light aircraft at Ellington AFB at Houston were moved out of the storm area Friday morning.

At Orange, over which the eye of Audrey passed, skies began clouding by 8:30 a.m. and winds began to rise.

Civil Defense units were alerted from New Orleans westward.

G. L. Allen, a New Orleans Weather Bureau forecaster, said Bertha's present movement would take it inland on the Texas coast, but added, "There is nothing to keep Bertha from veering to the north and hitting Louisiana or to the south and back into the Gulf."

The Louisiana coast began feeling the winds about midnight. Winds of 30 to 40 m.p.h. were reported from the mouth of the Mississippi River to Vermilion Bay, 100 miles west of New Orleans.

The New Orleans bureau said, "People in this area should be ready for quick action today in case it becomes necessary to change the hurricane watch to hurricane warnings."

Cameron residents lost no time in leaving after Sheriff O. B. Carter gave the word.

The hurricane wary residents fled to higher ground at Lake Charles and Sulphur. Carter said evacuation was 98 per cent complete within hours after deputies ranged throughout Cameron Parish to spread the warning. Remaining residents sought safety of the modern courthouse that rode out Audrey.

Residents of neighboring Pecan Island also wrecked by Audrey joined Cameron citizens in fleeing.

HERMLEIGH FIRE—Snyder firemen are shown above spraying water on a weed and trash fire in downtown Hermleigh about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The fire seriously threatened a group of gasoline tanks at the Panhandle gasoline warehouse, but citizens of Hermleigh keep the fire from spreading to the tanks until city firemen arrived and put the fire out. Two trucks were sent to the blaze. (Lee Watson photograph)

Rayburn Calls For House Approval Of Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Rayburn of Texas called today for House acceptance of the Senate civil rights bill. He said, however, that he would be agreeable "if necessary" to a compromise narrowing the controversial jury trial provision.

At the same time, House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts again demanded defeat of the Senate jury trial bill. Martin made public a letter from Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers asserting it would cut in on the authority of all federal courts.

Backstage House moves, meantime, were directed at a compromise solution which would limit jury trials only to criminal contempt cases involving voting rights. Rayburn's stated willingness to accept that solution strengthened its prospects.

The House originally passed a bill allowing the Justice Department to move in on court enforcement for civil rights generally. It made no provision for jury trials in contempt cases growing out of violations of judges' orders.

The Senate cut the Justice Department authorization down to voting rights cases. It also wrote in a requirement for jury trials in criminal contempt cases. Government lawyers say the language is so broad it would require juries not only in civil rights cases but in contempt actions under a great variety of federal laws including antitrust and labor statutes.

Criminal contempt generally covers cases in which a court undertakes to punish for failure to comply with an order, as distinguished from civil contempt in which a person may be jailed until he does comply.

Hardly had Rayburn made his position known at his morning news conference than Martin declared the Senate bill "would defeat the purpose of the President to assure the voting rights of all Americans."

He released a seven-page letter from Rogers quoting extensively from legal rulings that the courts are clothed with authority to force obedience through contempt action.

He also cited views from federal regulatory agencies like the Atomic Energy Commission and Securities and Exchange Commission holding that a jury trial provision in injunction and contempt actions would seriously hamper their efficiency.

Rogers wrote that the Senate bill would require jury trials upon demand in all criminal contempt actions in all federal courts, including the courts of appeals and the Supreme Court.

"The practical effect, if adopted, will be to hamper not only the enforcement of the civil rights bill itself, but also to make it much more difficult to enforce federal law and policy in other vital areas involving the public interest," Rogers said.

Similar administration objections had been advanced previously.

Nevertheless, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) told the Senate today he has "every confidence" the revised bill "will become law."

"The heat of partisanship is ebbing," the Democratic leader said, "and the effect of the propagandists is dying."

He added there is a growing realization the Senate bill "represents a substantial advance."

"Last minute partisan efforts to jettison any progress bear within themselves the seeds of their own destruction," Johnson said.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) concurred in the hope that the bill will be passed. In some respects, he said, the bill now is stronger than the one originally offered by the administration.

Some of the original's features, Smith said, might have made "an impossible situation between the North and the South."

Rayburn said the fate of the bill in the House rests largely with the Republicans.

SPOT MUSE

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE agricultural committee is standing by waiting for the grower of the first bale of 1957 cotton in Scurry County to claim his reward. Chamber directors authorized a premium of $250. The rules in the contest are simple: The bale must be produced and ginned in Scurry County, and it must produce a minimum of 450 pounds of lint.

LOOKS AS IF boys in the area of the new park in south Snyder will get to use the swimming pool only a short time before cold weather closes it. W. J. Ramsey, county park superintendent, said today that M. C. Butler, architect for the county on the new park, told him yesterday that fixtures for the bathhouse might be here in time for installation next week. Also, seepage found in the swimming pool is to be repaired early next week. The lighted baseball field in that park has been in use for several days.

REPORTS ARE that most men who were guessing at the 1957 cotton crop for Scurry County a few weeks ago are now wanting to revise their estimates and make them higher. While some were guessing as low as 7,500 bales earlier and some as high as 37,000 bales, it seems that most now want to get into the 30,000-plus class on their guesses. Barring catastrophe with insects and a too-early frost, Scurry County should have quite a crop on its 54,000 acres of cotton land this year.

Water Rising Along Coast

GALVESTON (AP)—Rising waters caused some trouble along the upper Texas Coast today where the Coast Guard reported it was asked for assistance by stranded motorists.

The Coast Guard Station at Galveston sent a vehicle to help a car and house trailer stranded by high tides, and the Freeport Coast Guard Station pulled several cars to higher ground early today.

The tug Whiteman reported heavy seas in the Gulf of Mexico and sent out a distress call saying it had a disabled rudder and was unable to anchor. The 165-foot patrol boat Nike from Gulfport, Miss. answered the call.

Dividends Are Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Cash dividends paid on common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange during the first half of 1957 topped four billion dollars for the first time in history, the Exchange said today. Total payments were $4,220,501,290, compared to $3,268,721,350 in the first half of 1956.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Abel Is Arraigned

NEW YORK (AP)— With all the calmness of a man resigned to fate, accused master Russian spy Rudolph Ivanovich Abel was arraigned in U. S. District Court in Brooklyn today on charges which could bring his execution. A plea of innocent was entered for him by the court.

Abel, looking somewhat haggard and disheveled in dress, was held without bail when arraigned before U. S. Dist. Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo.

The judge inquired whether Abel had obtained a lawyer and Abel said he had not.

Asked how long it would take him to get one, Abel replied: "I really don't know."

Abel said he would like to be given time to secure an attorney before further proceedings and the judge complied. The judge then set a hearing in the case for Aug. 13.

Abel, alleged to be a colonel of the Soviet secret police, was indicted by a Brooklyn grand jury on charges he headed a Russian spy ring sending U.S. military and atomic secrets to his homeland.

The 55-year-old prisoner appeared in unpressed clothes for his arraignment and obviously was in need of a haircut. His face showed a slight shadow of a beard. He was baggy eyed and spoke in soft tones, with a rather deep voice and a trace of a foreign accent.

While he obviously was under some tension, he kept his hands clasped in front of him as he stood before the judge's bench and gave his answers to the judge's questions in a calm tone.

Asst. U. S. Atty. William P. Tompkins, addressing the judge when the matter of possible bail was raised, described Abel as the head "of a most elaborate and intricate espionage" ring.

He said that Abel was "skilfully trained in the practice of espionage, skilfully trained in the art of avoiding detection and skilled in the use of aliases."

Tompkins pointed out Abel had employed at least four aliases.

He opposed granting bail for the defendant, saying Abel was a national of the Soviet Union, had entered this country illegally, concealed his presence here and "illegally obtained" secret information relating to our national defense.

He said there was nothing to insure that Abel would appear for trial if released on bond and he urged "the highest possible security" be given to assure the defendant's presence at the trial.

Cotton Men Are Urged To Attend Meet

Ginners and interested cotton farmers have been urged to attend the meeting in Lubbock Monday of the American Cotton Congress.

Oscar Fowler, county agricultural agent here, said he would go to the meeting and invited those here who will go to contact him on sharing rides to the meeting.

The meeting will open at 9:30 a.m. Monday in the ballroom of the Lubbock Hotel and will adjourn at about 4 p.m. The meeting is open to the public.

Included among those on the program will be three farmers from West Texas who will discuss farming practices. They are Earl Laney of Male Center, Virgil Hill of Kress, and Frank Gray of Lubbock.

Also on the program will be Charles C. Wilson, director of research for West Point Manufacturing Co.; Burris C. Jackson, official of the American Cotton Congress; Lavon Ray of the Lubbock Experiment Station, who will discuss harvesting for quality; V. L. Stedronsky, director of the Southwest Ginning Research Laboratory, who will talk on ginning for quality; D. C. Prince, secretary of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, who will talk on marketing plans for cotton; and George W. Pfeiffenberger, executive secretary of the Plains Cotton Growers Association, who will discuss the proposed cotton program.

Conference Panel Reaches Compromise On Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was presented today with a $3,366,000,000 foreign aid program embodying a first step toward a long-range program of economic help abroad.

President Eisenhower has urged such a program.

Senate and House conferees agreed last night on a compromise foreign aid bill, slashed $498,410,000 below the $3,864,410,000 Eisenhower asked for military, economic and technical assistance abroad. In doing so, the conferees just about split the 500½ million House totals.

The totals may be cut even deeper in a later appropriations bill, to finance the spending for which the foreign aid bill sets ceilings. But the compromise measure represents a partial congressional acceptance of the long-range concept.

House conferees agreed to two-year authority for Eisenhower's proposed fund for making loans to underdeveloped countries for long-range economic development. The original House bill had limited the proposed fund to one year.

Senate conferees, in turn, agreed to drop their insistence on a three-year fund, and to accept the House version on how the fund should be operated.

Under the compromise bill, the President would be empowered to establish the fund within the International Cooperation Administration. The measure would authorize a 500-million-dollar appropriation for the fund this year, plus an additional 625 millions for the fiscal year starting next July 1. This would mean the administration would have to come back to Congress next year for actual money to run the fund in its second year.

The two-year authority would enable fund administrators to help finance longer range projects than now are possible under the year-to-year authority the ICA has.

Eisenhower had asked—and the Senate approved—a 500-million-dollar fund authorization for this fiscal year, plus authority to borrow another 1½ billions from the Treasury over the succeeding two years. The House had approved only 500 millions for a single year's operation.

Sen. Green (D-RI), chairman of the Senate conferees, called it a "fair compromise" and one that he said "takes the first step" toward a long-range program.

The conferees also agreed on authority for a $1,600,000,000 program of military assistance and 700 millions in economic supports to enable some allies to maintain defenses. This would be for the 1958 fiscal year which began July 1.

The Senate abandoned a provision of its bill to authorize 1½ billions in military aid and 710 millions in defense supports for the 1959 fiscal year.

But the conferees agreed to a change under which unspent balances which may be left over at the end of this fiscal year will continue to be available for spending next year. The vote was a partial administration victory.

The administration had sought continuing authorization for military aid and defense supports with a view to making them a part of the defense budget next year. But it opposed any ceilings.

Pair Sentenced On Spying Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—Jacob Albam, 64, a former Brooklyn tea and spice dealer, and Mrs. Myra Soble 52, were sentenced to 5½ years in prison each today for spying for the Soviet Union.

Her husband, Jack, 54, a third member of the espionage ring, was to be sentenced later. He was not in court.

All three had pleaded guilty.

Albam and Mrs. Soble appeared shocked when Federal District Judge Richard H. Levet pronounced the sentences.

Throughout the preliminaries, the blonde Mrs. Soble wept softly. Albam, bespectacled and balding, had stared nervously at the floor, walls and the ceiling.

The reason for not sentencing Soble immediately was not disclosed.

Courtroom spectators were tense as Mrs. Soble and Albam entered the room. She was wearing a gray, herring-bone patterned cotton dress and nervously fingered a handkerchief.

Pacing a corridor outside the courtroom was the Sobles' 17-year-old son, Lawrence, who repeatedly has expressed faith in his parents.

At the time of their arrest last January he said he was "more than 100 per cent certain" they were not spies. After they pleaded guilty last April, the youth said:

"Whatever they did it was to protect the lives of my grandparents or other innocent persons."

The Sobels and Albam all came to the United States as European refugees.

Penney Co. Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—J. C. Penney Co. reported today a 6 months net income of $18,341,499 compared to $17,159,376 last year.

Funds Are Key To TEC Office Here

Snyder's chances for getting an office of the Texas Employment Commission are good if the TEC's funds are adequate for this budget year.

C. A. Shoemake of San Angelo, district TEC director, said during a visit here yesterday that the TEC operates both on federal and state funds and that the agency does not yet know what its federal appropriation will be this year. Last year, there was a 10 per cent cut in the budget.

Only if there are additional funds can Snyder get a TEC office, but additional funds will not mean necessarily that an office will be established here. There are several cities in Texas now showing a need for an employment office.

The required labor force in a community before the TEC will consider placing an office there is now 10,000, and the labor force here is now about 12,000, Shoemake said, adding that these figures will not be more than one per cent wrong.

Several cities in Texas are eligible for a TEC office, and it will be up to the agency's board which cities get offices, if any do.

In connection with the application for a TEC office here, the Chamber of Commerce will, in September, make a request for a complete TEC labor survey. The survey would include the available labor supply, type, sex, and nationality, as well as average income and other data.

Should an office be established here, it would be a four-employe office, Shoemake said.

There are now TEC offices serving smaller areas than this, but they were established before the TEC raised its standards for offices.

Texas Family Dies In Crash

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — All four members of a West Texas family were killed last night when their light plane smashed into a farm house near Dundas, five miles south of here.

They were Arthur Ward, 30; his wife, Delores, 23, and their daughters, Nannette, 2, and Kathy, 1, of Morton, in Cochran County.

A coroner, Dr. A. W. Nuetzman, said the family apparently left Morton, where Ward operated a farm and feed lot for his father, yesterday morning to visit Mrs. Ward's ill mother at St. Paul.

Witnesses said Ward apparently was trying to land in a field at the Fred Shrader farm but struck a tree at the edge of it and the plane sliced into the house.

Texans End Long Voyage

NEW YORK —Three Texans, exhausted by lack of sleep and rough water, arrived today in a 17-foot open fiberglass boat, ending what was believed the longest trip ever made in an outboard motorboat.

"All things considered, we're satisfied," said Henry Barnhouse, 38, a linotype maintenance man on the Austin American-Statesman and owner of the boat. "We don't think anybody can beat our time."

Barnhouse left Houston July 29 and came by way of the Gulf of Mexico, inland canals through Florida and up the East Coast. He was accompanied by William Cloud, 50, a linotype operator on the American Statesman, and Charles Neill, 45, an American-Statesman printer.

Civil Defense Is Set For Hurricane

Midwest Fair Opens Today

ROBY (Spl.) —Several hundred persons were on hand today for the annual meeting and electric fair of the Midwest Electric Cooperative, which covers a nine-county area.

During most of the morning, visitors viewed exhibits of many dealers showing their wares at the fair, while the children visited the concessions and rides.

Afternoon activities were to open with the singing of the Stamps Quartet of Dallas, which also sang during the morning.

Also during the afternoon, members of the co-op were to elect directors for the coming year.

Nine girls were entered in the Miss Midwest Electric beauty contest, and the winner will go to San Antonio Aug. 29-30 to compete in the state contest. The state winner will be among those trying for Miss Rural Electrification at the national meeting in Dallas in February.

Fluvanna Farmers Make Insect Study

FLUVANNA (Spl.) —Between 35 and 40 farmers, most of them from the Fluvanna area, turned out for a meeting here yesterday on insect identification, problems, and control methods.

Ray Herring, agriculture teacher at the Fluvanna schools, was master of ceremonies. Talking to the group and working with farmers on a field trip was Oscar Fowler, county agricultural agent.

The group first met at the school and held a short discussion on cotton control methods, insecticides, safety precautions, and other things dealing with insects. Fowler showed a set of film slides owned by Darrel Sims which showed various cotton insects, both beneficial and harmful.

The group then visited the farms of Burl Belew and Don Jones. Individuals found what insects they could and identified them. Any who had trouble with identification received aid from Fowler and others.

Fowler said that a farmer must be able to readily identify all cotton insects so he will know the difference between those which are beneficial and those which are harmful. Also, they must know the difference in the harmful insects so they will know what methods to use in killing them.

Fowler said other such meetings will be held in various communities of the county if residents of the communities indicate a desire for them.

Claim Reds Sent Arms To Yemen

LONDON (AP)—Britain charged today that Russia and Czechoslovakia have made substantial deliveries of arms, including tanks and airplanes, to the Arab kingdom of Yemen.

A Foreign Office spokesman told reporters that six or seven shiploads of arms have arrived in the Arab country bordering the British-ruled Aden protectorate.

The Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said today a Soviet arms shipment purchased by Yemen had arrived.

Quoting reliable sources, the paper said Yemenite Crown Prince Seif el Islam Badr supervised unloading the Red Sea port of Salif, 40 miles northwest of Hodeida.

Earlier, the London Times reported six shiploads of Soviet arms had reached Yemen.

Yemen is across from the Sultanate of Muscat and Oman where British troops and warplanes are helping put down a rebellion against their friend, Sultan Said bin Taimur. The British have voiced the suspicion that the rebel leader, Iman Ghaleb bin Ali, is receiving modern arms from Saudi Arabia.

Yemen and the Aden protectorate are strategically situated at the southwest corner of Arabia at the entrance to the Red Sea. Oman and Muscat guard the entrance to the oil-rich Persian Gulf.

Queen, Prince To See Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — Britain's Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip will take in an American football game on their visit to the United States Oct. 16-21. They will see the Maryland-North Carolina game at College Park, Md., Oct. 19.

The visit to the Maryland campus was a surprise addition to the list of formal engagements for the royal couple, announced today by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty and G. D'Arcy Edmondson, director general of British Information Services in the United States.

Otherwise the schedule includes the usual state events and previously announced visits to Williamsburg and Jamestown, Va.

Maryland Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin will be host to the royal couple at the football game.

Soil Conservation Program Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House notified Texas congressmen today it has approved and sent to the Senate and House Public Works Committees plans for a soil conservation program for the Sulphur Creek watershed near Lampasas, Tex.

After approval by the committees, the program is in line for release of any available funds by the Agriculture Department to build small water run-off retardation projects.

Strike Called Off

PARIS (AP)—The French News Agency reported today that Moroccan workers employed on American airbases near Rabat have called off a strike scheduled to start Monday.

26 Criminal Cases Filed

A total of 26 criminal cases were filed in county court during the month of July.

Of those, only 10 are still pending. Of those, nine are cases of swindle by worthless check and one is for driving while intoxicated.

Cases which were filed during the month now disposed of include one for illegal transportation of intoxicants, one for carrying a pistol, two DWI, 10 swindle by worthless check, one driving with licenses suspended, and one for theft.

In disposition of cases filed during the month, fines assessed totaled $708, while there were nine of 16 days of jail time given.

Fine collections during July totaled $708, while there were nine days served out in lieu of fine. Collections for the year so far total $5,088. Assessments, however, were somewhat higher.

Collection figures on fines and costs, as reflected by the county court receipt book, are $542.50 for January, $392 for February, $1,490 for March, $746 for April, $903 for May, $360.50 for June, and 708 for July.

During that period, a total of 70 days of jail credit has been given in lieu of fines, or about $210 worth.

Bids Issued To Americans

MOSCOW (AP)—Some Americans at the Moscow youth festival are reported bidding strongly for the chance to tour Red China despite a U.S. State Department ban on travel there.

Foreign delegations are receiving numerous offers of trips to other Communist nations. Ten Americans have been invited to Red China but more than that number are reported willing to defy the ban if they can join the tour.

"There's a big squabble because so many of our group want to go to Peiping," one American said.

Some Americans have also been invited to visit Bulgaria, another country put off limits by the State Department, after the Moscow festival ends.

Pilot's Fall Put On Film

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Science has obtained a motion picture study, perhaps the first of its kind, of a man tumbling almost four miles downward inside the cockpit of an airplane that is spinning wildly out of control.

The victim — John McGuyrt, former chief test pilot and now manager of flight operations for Chance Vought Aircraft at Dallas —amazingly survived.

McGuyrt's F7U3 Cutlass suddenly became uncontrollable at 20,000 feet, while the pilot was conducting research some months ago on a flight phenomenon know as post-stall gyrations or incipient spin.

A motion picture camera installed in the cockpit especially to record pilot actions kept grinding away as McGuyrt's head and shoulders jerked and tossed helplessly within the tight grip of his safety harness and head supports.

The pilot finally managed to pull the release mechanism and eject himself at 5,000 feet. The film was recovered intact.

Tab Hunter Shuns Role As Witness

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines and their alleged Hollywood agents resumes today, with actor Tab Hunter trying to avoid being called as a witness.

Hunter, once the subject of a Confidential article, has filed a motion to quash his summons as a defense witness.

Before the prosecution calls more witnesses, Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker will hear arguments on the motion.

Gilbert D. Seton, attorney for Hunter, said that Mr. Hunter about Hunter is not among those on which the state is basing its charges of conspiracy to publish libelous and obscene matter. Therefore, Seton says, anything Hunter might testify would be immaterial.

Hunter is among more than 100 movie celebrities subpoenaed by the defense.

In addition to Confidential and Whisper, defendants are Publisher's Distributing Corp., and Hollywood Research, Inc., and its operators, Fred and Marjorie Meade.

Among prosecution witnesses expected to testify today is Howard Rushmore, former editor of Confidential. He testified before the county grand jury which returned the indictments.

Another major witness on the prosecution lineup is Hollywood playgirl Ronnie Quillan, who testified before the grand jury that she sold stories about movie stars' indiscretions to publisher Robert Harrison of Confidential and Whisper.

The prosecution has introduced copies of Confidential and Whisper as exhibits in the trial. It intends to read to the jury of seven men and two women, stories about Maureen O'Hara, Dorothy Dandridge, Dick Powell, Robert Michum, Corinne Calvet, Mae West, John Carroll, Mark Stevens, Frank Sinatra and Alan Dale.

Dominant Role Of Women In America Appalling To Briton

LONDON (AP) — A British newsman came up today with the appalled finding that "American womanhood has got American manhood firmly pinned down by the ears."

Edward N. Connor, columnist for the Daily Mirror, said he reached that pained conclusion after close observation of the "formidable darlings" during a recent tour of the United States and from talking with American women tourists in London.

"All this talk about the 'dominant male' just ceases to be true when you sail past the Statue of Liberty," reported Connor.

"The American gal is more pampered, petted and pursued than any other female on earth," the columnist declared. "Not only have they got the poor sucker in a headlock of inextricable moral superiority that will break his neck if he tries to get free, but these Yankee Amazons are growing physically bigger every year.

"The average American woman gains an inch in height every 10 years and now is a half head taller than she was 50 years ago. Come the year 2,000 the average honey chile will be topping 6 feet 4 inches in her nylons and looking askance at any Romeo from Dallas, Denver or Des Moines who weighs less than 250 pounds and can get under a six-foot door without stooping."

Letting go at the American woman and matters financial, Connor declared: "She spends eight billion dollars a year on clothing her nakedness and considers that if she hasn't at least one car she is a cripple and that if she hasn't a refrigerator, television set and washing machine, she might as well live in a cave.

"She buys four times as much goods as the man who provides her with the money to do so and—the most fatal statistic of all—she outlives her husband by an average of seven years."

Furthermore and moreover, the Britisher deposed: "She knows exactly what her husband earns and actually strips cash off him when he arrives home on pay day. He exists on an allowance.

"She believes in 'togetherness' which, in her appalling jargon, means that when the old man comes home limp as a plastic spongebag after belting it at the office, he is expected to play with the kids instantly."

"It is a wonder," Connor concluded, "that the race doesn't die out."

COOL AND LANGUID — Her toilet water spray mist helps keep her cool on a hot day.

Don't Let Heat Melt Your Charm

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

THE MOST attractive girl in summer is the one who manages to look cool and languid even when the sidewalks seem to be melting. If you'd achieve that appearance, you must plot out your day to keep on the cool side of the thermometer.

Start the day in a leisurely fashion, rather than dashing for the 8:15 with a mouthful of toast, whipping up perspiration before the day has begun.

Arise in time to have a cooling bath or shower. Add fragrance to the bath if you'd like a double whammy on the heat. One foam bath essence perfumes and bubbles the water at the same time. It's wonderfully relaxing to soak for five or 10 minutes in a tepid bath.

Pat yourself dry and then pat on dusting powder, applying it generously to all those areas that become sticky when you perspire—legs, hips, under arms.

It's a good idea to eat a light lunch as it will help keep you cooler. Heavy foods will put you in a dull mood for the afternoon, cutting down your efficiency.

Carry toilet water in your purse to give your spirts a lift. Some perfumers suggest keeping colognes, toilet water and other light fragrances in the refrigerator for a cooling respite during the day if you are a housewife or vacationer. Just mop your brow with it or sprinkle it over your hair to get a quick pickup at any time.

It is refreshing too, used after a dip in the pool or shower or dabbed on the hair just before leaving for that date on a summer evening. There is something delightfully dainty about fragrance in summer, and every girl should treat herself to a few fragrant pick-me-ups.

Carrot Juice And Love

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Maybe there's something to this mixture of carrot juice and love as a potion for eternal youth after all.

I've just had lunch with Jonnie Lee Macfadden, the electrically charged blonde widow of the late health faddist Bernarr Macfadden, who was a disciple of carrots, muscles and sex up to his death at 89.

Whatever the reason, Jonnie Lee at 52 and with three grandchildren could pass for 29 at 10 paces. She sparkles like a 16-year-old, has nary a line in her face and possesses a figure that evokes wolf whistles. She's also a recent bride. Her third husband is Martin Kingsley Ferguson, New York engineer. And she still gives lectures on how to corner the fountain of youth.

Her new husband does not object to the fact that she keeps the name Macfadden for professional appearances, because, she explains, "he shares my feeling that Macfadden was a great benefactor of mankind."

Despite the fact that her marriage to Macfadden ended in a stormy separation several years before his death, Jonnie Lee says she harbors no ill feelings, and intends to continue to spread the Macfadden gospel of "long-lasting youth, beauty and peace of mind" achieved through "physical and mental health, happiness in love, financial security and self-expression."

Jonnie Lee was 41 and Macfadden 75 when they were married. Says she: "About the only things he thought about were health and sex."

Jonnie Lee says there are 10 things a man wants in the woman he loves: spontaneity, affection, sincerity, glamor, the illusion of beauty, companionship in his hobbies, interest in his business, a noncritical attitude, not too many in-laws and the ability to handle money wisely.

A woman also wants 10 things in her ideal man, to wit: appreciation, love, constant expressions of affection, willingness to share his free time with her, financial stability, thoughtfulness, an interest in religion, protection and fidelity.

She believes devoutly in carrot juice instead of alcohol for a pick-me-one and takes regular exercises to keep in shape.

Staff Willing Guinea Pigs For Cooking

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — At the ringing of a ship's bell, staff members of the Fish and Wildlife's Home Economics Unit at the University of Maryland gladly drop everything and head for the new taste treats of the test kitchens.

Chemists, bacteriologists, secretaries — they're willing "guinea pigs" serving on the unit's palatability panel to test recipes for new and different ways of preparing and serving fish. Proven recipes are used in Fish and Wildlife's Test Kitchen Series on fish preparation. They are on sale at the Government Printing Office at from 10 to 20 cents at copy. The most recent in Test Kitchen Series 12 containing ways to prepare canned salmon.

Normally the home economists under the direction of Mrs. Rose Kerr, chief of the unit, prepare two recipes at a time. Each has the same basic ingredients but vary according to seasonings, cooking time and in other small details.

Panelists who answer the bell are given score sheets and grade the samples according to flavor, texture and appearance.

"The one with the highest score is usually the one we think the better and the one we use in the recipe booklet," Mrs. Kerr said. "There is also a place for comments such as 'too salty, too peppery, dry or goopy'. As economists we try to improve the recipes and always test them twice."

The second testing is usually mist, usually one of the experts at Fish and Wildlife's test kitchen on the University of Washington campus at Seattle. Recipes developed in the Seattle kitchen are sent out for re-testing at the Maryland campus.

A three-way testing system likely will go into effect when the bureau's newest test kitchen designed for southern fishery products goes into operation at Pascagoula, Miss.

"The object is to come up with something Mrs. Joe Doaks will find helpful," Mrs. Kerr explained.

Generally the same 10 or 12 people make up the palatability panel. Testings are usually at 11 o'clock in the morning, or at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Since each recipe is designed to serve six people, the portions the panelists get are on the small side and Mrs. Kerr says there's little chance the tastings will spoil anyone's appetite for lunch or dinner.

"No one's every suffered indigestion from our recipes," she says. "As for putting on extra weight, that's a debatable question."

Fur Hat Is Needed For Winter Wear

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

FUR FASHIONS start at the top this fall, and the woman who faces winter without a fur hat is going to feel definitely under-privileged.

This may be construed as a break for husbands and fathers who foot the bills, because the girls probably are going to be satisfied to ask for a fur hat instead of a fur coat this year. Plain cloth coats and winter suits with fur added in small doses in the form of accessories are going to be seen in many fashionable spots, come fall. They look new, exciting and flattering.

Fur hats come in all shapes, sizes and pelts in the fall collection of Sally Victor, but the favorites of this pint-size designer are caps in infinte variety. She shows African caps with pointed backs, worn far back on the head in the manner of belles of the African Gold Coast, with white broadtail and dark mink the favored makings.

Sometimes the caps grow to king-sized berets, dramatic in leopard with giant handbags to match. These may be worn in any number of ways, to suit the taste and type of the wearer.

Among the furs that will be seen on fashionable heads this fall are: silver fox, red fox, leopard, ermine, cheetah, broadtail and all mutations of mink.

Ampibious Drills To Reach Climax

HONOLULU (AP) — A weeklong amphibious maneuver involving 12,000 Marines and sailors in Hawaiian waters reaches a climax tomorrow with an air-sea invasion of the Garden Island, Kauai.

Some 7,000 Marines of the 1st Brigade and 5,000 Navy men are engaged in the military exercise. It includes use of the latest atomic-age surprise and dispersal tactics.

SPORTS

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

IF HISTORY REPEATS itself the North will take the South in the annual Texas schoolboy all-star game tonight in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

What we're referring to in the above statement is that no ex-Tiger has ever played on a losing team in the all-star classic. Only two, however, have been chosen in the past with Milton Ham, who'll play in the game tonight, being the third.

Raymon "Bubu" Bynum played in the 1946 game of which the North won, 20-13. Then Jack Spikes became the second Tiger to play in the game, last year, when the North romped to a 32-13 victory.

From all indications, the North has the superior offense and the South the superior defense for tonight's game.

With Abilene's Glynn Gregory being slowed by a pulled muscle, the South will have a little better chance of halting the high-geared North offense.

North Still Potent

But the North still has Stamford's Mike McClellan and Arlington Heights' Harry Moreland in the secondary and it isn't likely the South line can corral both of these fine running lads.

Then if the North is forced to take to the air, there's one of the state's greatest passers, Larry Dawson of Stinnett and one of the finest receivers in Milton Ham.

The North currently holds an edge in the overall all-star series, winning 10 to the South's nine. Three have ended in ties.

Our first 1957 season prediction is this:

North 19, South 7.

There has been some question whether or not Ham would start tonight's game. In a wire story Wednesday, Ham wasn't listed as a starter. Previously, however, he had been listed as a starter.

Then yesterday, Coach Chuck Moser of Abilene who is tutoring the North team, told an Abilene sports scribe:

"Ham is the best end on the North squad."

Whether he starts or not, you can rest assured Ham will see a lot of action tonight and if opportunity presents itself, don't be too surprised if Milton doesn't win the "Outstanding Lineman" award in the game. Ham is one of the greatest "oportunists" in the game.

Major League Flavor

Two of our local youth have been involved in one way or another with major league or ex-major league players recently.

Harley Bynum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Bynum, 1909 Fifteenth St., is now attending the Mort Cooper Baseball School at Schreiner Academy in Kerrville. Cooper, you'll recall, was formerly a star pitcher with the St. Louis Cardinals. Several other ex-major leaguers are in Cooper's staff.

Then Bill Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weaver, 3730 Austin Ave, has just returned home from a vacation trip through the midwest with his parents, one of the stops bein,, St. Louis, Mo., home of the Cardinals.

Weaver personally met Alvin Dark of the Cards and got autographs from most of the Cardinal players.

Weaver played with the Phillies in the Snyder Pony League during the past summer.

HERE TOMORROW

The Scurry County Swimming Pool will be the scene of a Boy Scout swimming meet tomorrow.

The Lone Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold a swimming meet starting at 10 a.m. here tomorrow.

Snyder's Pony Leaguers In Finals

Breck, Borger Fall To Locals

By BUCK FRANCIS

ABILENE, Aug. 9 — A game bunch of Snyder Pony Leaguers battled their way into the finals of the District VI tournament here last night by sweeping a double-header, 19-4 over Breckenridge in the opener and 11-9 over Borger in the nightcap.

Snyder thus knocked both Breck and Borger out of the double elimination tournament. The Snyder lads now are pitted against Abilene in tonight's finals.

To win the tournament, Snyder must beat Abilene twice. Abilene will carry a 2-0 tournament record into the game as compared to Snyder's 4-1.

First game tonight will begin at 7:15. If Snyder wins the opener, then a second game will follow immediately.

Snyder used the same path to the finals as they used last season, losing its first game and then battling back through the ranks to reach the finals.

Manager Bill Valentine of Snyder has just about used up his pitching for tonight's championship tilts. Only three on the Snyder staff will be eligible to pitch tonight and one of them, John Weaver, ace of the staff, has only four more innings of tournament eligibility left.

The other two pitchers who will be available tonight are Bob Pena and Ben Greenfield. Pena saw action in one of the games last night but did not use up his eligibility.

Abilene, on the other hand, will have all members of its staff available.

Bubba Fleming and Charles Gladson pitched the Snyder lads to last night's twin-victories. Fleming went the distance to defeat Breckenridge with a four-hitter.

Gladson blanked Borger on four hits through four innings of the nightcap but weakened in the late stages and had to get help from Pena in the seventh when Borger erupted for five runs to narrow the gap to the final two-run margin.

John Weaver led Snyder to victory over Breckenridge with a perfect four-for-four including a three-run homer. Weaver's homer featured a big second inning Snyder rally that netted 8 runs. Breck led, 1-0 when Snyder broke the game wide open in the second.

Snyder followed up with six runs in the third for a 14-1 lead and then coasted in. The game was called after six innings on the 15-run lead ruling.

Weaver drove in a total of six runs against Breck. Butch Niedecken and Jesse Crawford contributed three hits apiece to the 18-hit Snyder attack.

In the Borger game, Snyder broke a scoreless deadlock in the third when Larry Patterson tripled Ronnie Wylie home and then they poured three runs across in the third and seven big markers in the fourth for a what appeared to be a comfortable 11-0 lead.

Borger kept pecking away at the lead until they pulled to within two runs of catching up but Pena put out the fire in the 5-run Borger 7th. A grandslam homer by catcher Durwood Williams featured the 7th inning Borger rally.

Tommy Minton with two doubles and Crawford with two singles led the Snyder attack against Borger.

Both of Minton's doubles came in the 7-run fifth inning that iced the decision.

Sun Downs Hermleigh Nine, 6-4

On big inning was enough for Sun Oil to mark up a 6-4 victory over Hermleigh and lengthen its lead in City League play last night.

Sun used five hits, two of them doubles, plus a base on balls to score six runs in the third inning, and for all practical purposes that was the ball game.

Hermleigh had taken a one-run lead in the top half of the third on a hit and two Sun errors. The Hermleigh nine managed two more in the fourth and one in the sixth, but the damage had been done and they could not overcome the Sun lead.

The victor gives Sun a 5-0 won-lost record in second half play.

North Is Favored In All-Star Game

DALLAS (AP)—The All-Star football game—blue ribbon feature of the annual Texas Coaching School—goes on tonight with the North expected to triumph through the most terrific ground attack the series has known.

Unlike the All-Star basketball game, in which the North holds a 9-4 margin with its 43-42 victory last night, the South could pull even by thumping the North. In the all-time standings the North has won nine games, the South eight and there have been three ties.

But the North is a 12-point favorite to trim its rival, thus winning three times in the last four years. The other one was a tie.

Coach Chuck Moser of Abilene has a set of backs that feature track stars like Mike McClellan of Stamford, Harry Moreland of Fort Worth Arlington Heights and Frank Jackson of Paris. And he also has George Johnson of Sonora, one of the great scorers of football history. Then he can call on his own Glynn Gregory, considered the finest back in all Texas.

Gregory, though, is slated for limited action on offense because of a pulled muscle.

South Coach Bill Stages of Corpus Christi Ray appears due to depend on passing as an equalizer. And he has at his command such talented throwers as Bob Hanson of Beaumont and Alvin Hatmen of Rio Hondo. Stages also thinks he has the better line. So the game is expected to be close.

With passes failing to get the job done, Stages can still call on some excellent runners on his squad. These includ Bobby Gurwitz, streak of fire from Three Rivers, and Hartman.

The crowd is expected to reach about 15,000, which will look pretty small in the Cotton Bowl.

Starting lineups:

NORTH: Ends—Caddell, North Dallas and Ham, Snyder; Tackles—Young, Amarillo Palo Duro and Bronson, Midland; Guards—Lang, Wichita Falls and Seay, DeKalb; Center—Earnest, Borger. Backs—Newman, Phillips; Jackson, Paris; McClellan, Stamford and Few, Midlothian.

SOUTH: Ends—Crow, Giddings and Glusing, Corpus Christi Miller; Tackles—Christian, Corpus Christi Ray and Boatman, Alice; Guards—Kristynik, Bay City and Weiss, Austin; Center—Laughlin, Baytown; Backs—Hanson, Beaumont; Sims, Houston Austin; Gurwitz, Three Rivers and Landrum, Port Arthur.

North Holds Mastery In Cage Game

DALLAS (AP)—The North continued its mastery over the South in the Texas Coaching School All-Star basketball game last night but Coach Clifton McNeely of Pampa could thank his lucky stars for having one of his own boys—Jerry Pope—on the team.

Four times the Pampa all-stater pulled the North from behind with his brilliant jump shots and the last one—in an overtime—paid off with a 43-42 victory.

Pope, voted the game's most valuable player, scored 12 crucial points as the North ran its superiority to nine victories against only four for the South in the 12 years of the All-Star contest. One year two games were played with the North, incidentally, winning both of them.

A crowd of 5,500 watched a dull, poorly played game erupt into a thriller in the final minutes. The North had pulled ahead by five points and with 2:40 to go appeared to have the game in the bag.

But Steven Smith, the Marlin all-stater, got a rebound and sifted through for a field goal. Bob Brown of Clear Creek landed on another jump shot for a field goal and Jim Sharp of Port Arthur stole the ball from a North stall and dribbled the length of the court for what appeared to be the tying points.

However, the field goal was erased by an out of bounds. Then Brown intercepted a pass and sped under the basket for a layup with one second to go.

So the game went into overtime and John Hoggard of Waxahachie connected on a free throw to put the North ahead. The ever-present Brown, however, flipped in a long one to give the South a 1-point lead. Thus the stage was set for Pope to pull it out of the fire.

Coaches End School Today

DALLAS (AP)—The gigantic Texas Coaching School ends today with an all-time record enrollment in the books—2,675. That bettered by 674 the previous high.

Milburn (Catfish) Smith of Longview was elected president of the Texas High School Coaches Assn., sponsor of the coaching school, at the annual business meeting yesterday.

Gordon Wood of Stamford was named vice president and will be in line for the presidency at next year's meeting.

Final lectures on football were given this morning by Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee and Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma while Hank Iba of Oklahoma State University and Milton Jowers of Southwest Texas State talked on basketball. Oliver Jackson, coach of Abilene Christian, was down for a final lecture on track.

Logjam In National May Be Breaking Up

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

What are those other National League contenders trying to do, lure the Milwaukee Braves into a false feeling of security?

Any way you look at it, the scramble suddenly has opened up and the Braves are on top with a "hopping" 2½-game lead—their largest of the season. They made it as Cincinnati rolled over again, 5-3, yesterday and the seventh-place Chicago Cubs bopped the second-place St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 for a three-game sweep.

Third-place Brooklyn is five games back, skidding with a 12-3 clobbering from the New York Giants. Cincinnati and Philadelphia now are tied for fourth, seven games behind, after the Phillies defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 while the Redlegs lost for the 11th time in 12 games with Milwaukee this season.

If this is the breakup in the NL log jam, the Braves should know by Sunday night—after a three-game set at St. Louis.

In the American League, Washington made it two in a row over New York 6-1 and trimmed the Yankees' lead to five games as Chicago's second-place White Sox defeated Kansas City 7-4.

Baltimore regained fifth place from Detroit by defeating Boston 3-1 while the Tigers lost to Cleveland 3-1.

Red Schoendienst, the second baseman who was supposed to have brought the Braves the pennant along with his bat and glove when the Giants traded him to Milwaukee June 15, got the job done yesterday. He lined a two-run single in the eighth, breaking a 3-3 tie and bringing Lew Burdette his 10th victory.

Ex-Brave George Crowe hammered his 24th home run and Frank Robinson swatted his 18th in the eighth to junk a 3-1 Milwaukee lead. Reliever Raul Sanchez lost it, loading the bases with two walks and a hit batsman ahead of Schoendienst's hit.

The Cubs won six in a row for the first time since 1955 with a two-run seventh against southpaw Wilmer Mizell that cracked a two-all tie. Singles by Moe Drabowsky, the young right-hander who won his eighth, and Bobby Adams brought in the runs. Dave Hillman blanked the Cards after relieving Drabowsky when a walk and two singles gave the Cards a run in the eighth. Del Ennis had a two-run homer for St. Louis while Stan Musial had two singles and regained the bat lead at .334.

The Giants completed a sweep of the last three games in the four-game set with the Dodgers by scoring four runs in the first against ex-pal Sal Maglie. They had 14 hits in all, counting home runs by Willie Mays (26) and Hank Sauer (16). Ruben Gomez won his 12th with a seven-hit job.

Philadelphia gave Curt Simmons a 6-0 lead with three runs in the sixth, two on Gran Hamner's home run, but the southpaw needed relief help in the ninth to win his 11th. Bob Miller nailed it, after Bob Skinner's home run triggered a three-run Pirate rally. Vern Law lost it.

Russ Kemmerer had given the Yankees only five singles and led 6-0 going into the ninth. Then a single, walk and Enos Slaughter's double saved New York from what would have been its second shutout of the year. Art Ditmar lost it.

Billy Pierce, the AL's only 15-game winner, gave way to Gerry Staley when the A's scored one in the fourth and cut Chicago's lead to 6-4. Staley blanked 'em on five hits the rest of the way for a 3-0 record. Earl Torgeson, 3-for-4, drove in five runs and hit a pair of homers—the first a three-run shot in a five-run third against winless Jim Coleman.

Billy O'Dell gave up Dick Gernert's home run in the seventh and needed relief help because of a sore arm, but joined Pierce, Cleveland's Don Mossi and Yankee Bobby Shantz as the only left-handers to beat Boston this year. Tito Francona's RBI triple capped a two-run third that clinched it for the Orioles against Mike Fornieles. Ted Williams had two of Boston's six hits, hiking his bat mark to .390.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR RENEWAL OF SEASON TICKETS

Holders of season tickets to Snyder High School's home football games last year were reminded today that Aug. 15 (next Thursday) is the deadline for renewals.

Until that date, those who had season tickets in 1956 have an opportunity to reserve the same seats in the local stadium. There are four home games on the schedule. So, a season tickets will cost $6.

Those who want to reserve the same seats they held last year should forward payments to the school administration office, said A. T. Nicholas, director of business services for the school system. The tickets can be picked up on Aug. 19 at the Chamber of Commerce office, or later at the school administration building.

After Aug. 15, the remaining reserved seats will be placed on sale on a first come, first served, basis.

Snyder All-Stars, Coahoma Win Tilts

The Snyder All-Stars and Coahoma set the stage for a match in the semi finals by capturing victories Thursday night in the Girls Softball Tournament.

In the opener of last night's twin-bill, Snyder All - Stars sidelined the Hermleigh All - Stars, 16-7. Jean Fisher was starting pitcher for Snyder, while June Osborne came on in relief in the fifth inning to get credit for the decision. Etheridge was the Hermleigh pitcher.

In the second game, Coahoma ousted the Snyder Colored Girls team, 6-0.

Snyder All - Stars and Coahoma will tangle in the second game tonight in the semi finals. In tonight's opener, the Snyder Texettes will meet Bronte, with starting time set at 7 p.m. in the Little League park.

Winners of tonight's games will meet in the tournament finals Saturday at 8 p.m.

Hart 7-5 Favorite Over Akins Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Although third-ranked Virgil Akins is six notches above Sugar Hart in the most recent Ring Magazine welterweight ratings, Hart has been established as a 7-5 favorite for their televised bout tonight in Cleveland's Public Hall.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins thinks the oddsmakers are going against the experts because of Hart's frequent and impressive TV battles. Tonight's 10-round bout will be on NBC radio-TV at 9 p.m., EST.

Rancher Unhappy With Compromise

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—Pioneer rancher John Prather has received from a federal court the right to live out his life on a 15-acre tract from which the Army sought to evict him.

Prather isn't happy about his partial victory over the Army yesterday. He wants all of his 27,000-acre ranch—now part of a missile range—and he wants title to it.

"I have not gone back on my promise to keep this ranch for my children," the 82-year-old rancher said. "I want this land for them when I die. I shall continue my fight to keep it from military possession.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Joseph R. McNeany said Prather still does not have title even to the 15 acres adjoining a missile range. It would be possible for the military to seek another eviction proceeding through the courts, but the Army has conceded it won't. Instead, it will harness it's missiles so Prather won't be endangered.

Edward A. Bacon, deputy assistant secretary of the Army, wrote Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM) the Prather ranch buildings and the 15 acres are still required to obtain maximum use of the McGregor missile range.

Bacon said the Army "will have to reduce the width of the impact area about 1½ miles" to allow Prather to live out his days in the ranch home he built more than 50 years ago. Bacon told Anderson he hoped "that this humanitarian action . . . will rebound to the best interests of the government."

Prather and other ranchers in the area lost title to their lands when a "declaration of taking" was filed by the Army March 15 in a move to expand the McGregor missile training range.

Prather said his battle is far from over. He offered to "give them any kind of lease they want for the use of my land, and I'll waive responsibility for any damage they might create."

The federal court order, handed down by U.S. Dist. Judge Waldo Rogers, was an amended order of possession and a partial suspension of a writ of assistance issued earlier this week.

The original writ ordered the U.S. marshal in Albuquerque to put Prather from the ranch, by force, if necessary. Three deputy U.S. marshals went to the Prather ranch Tuesday, talked with the armed and stubborn Prather and returned here empty handed.

The aged cattleman offered to settle the dispute in the old Western way. He suggested to one of the three deputy marshals that they each take a gun, step back, draw and fire. None of the marshals accepted Prather's order.

The new order grants Prather the right to live on the 15 acres which contain his ranch house and access to a road connecting the ranch home on the missile range to other ranch land outside the range.

WILL NOT GIVE UP RANCH—John Prather, who owns a ranch near Alamogordo, N.M., has defied U.S. Marshalls and the Army who want to take his ranch for a missile range. The 82-year-old Prather, told the Army officials and U.S. marshalls, that he was not leaving the ranch alive.

Final Tribute Paid To Hollywood Comic

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Friends from Movieland pay a final tribute today to Oliver Hardy, 65, the fat funnyman of the slapstick era, who died Wednesday. Hardy's old partner and friend Stan Laurel won't be able to attend the funeral services. Laurel, 67, is too ill.

Masonic services at 1 p.m. will be followed by cremation and inurnment in the Garden of Hope at Valhalla Memorial Park, North Hollywood.

Pioneer Men Called Myth

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The popular conception of the American pioneer as a hardy specimen of near physical perfection is largely a myth, a Tampa history teacher maintains.

"A formidable number of the pioneers . . . were miserable, sickly creatures," Dr. J. Ryan Beiser of the University of Tampa said.

The vigorous, broadchested men and blossoming women of novels and movies give a far from acurate picture, Beiser said.

"Frequent accidents, the effects of exposure, decaying vegetables, swamps, poor food habits, lack of sanitation and hygiene, and inadequate knowledge for prevent and cure of disease" outweighed the natural health benefits of an active outdoor life, he added.

He expressed his views as a guest columnist for the Tampa Times.

'Scoutnic' Scheduled Here Tomorrow In Towle Park

Several hundred persons are expected to be on hand tomorrow for the annual Scoutnic, a day of events in Towle Memorial Park which will be climaxed by a picnic in the picnic pavilion.

Scouts, scouters, parents and families, and all other persons have been invited to participate in the Scoutnic events.

The day will open with a swim meet for Boy Scouts and Explorers at 10 a.m. at the Towle Park pool, while a Cub and parents meet-rally and a Scout and Explorer district rally are set for 5 p.m. in the park. The picnic is set for 7 p.m.

Those attending have been asked by reserve tables in the pavilion by units. Those who desire to make reservations have been asked to call Mr. or Mrs. Ray Devers at 3-5982.

Families or units attending the picnic are to take their own basket lunches, plates and cups, and silverware, as well as drinks.

During the picnic, winners of the Cub and Scout - Explorer meets will be recognized and given neckerchief slides. Winners of the swim meet will get ribbons.

Reports will be made on the National Scout Jamboree by those who attended, and the Explorer trip to Philmont Scout Ranch. There will also be reports on district roundup plans and other reports on plans for the fall months in scouting, as well as community singing.

The Cub and parents field meet rally will include events like the three - legged race, obstacle race, discus throw, hammer throw, shoe scramble, nail driving and ball throwing for mothers, clothes pinning and football kicks for dads, cracker eating relay, and horse and rider contest.

The Scout-Explorer meet will have numerous events. In the water boiling contest, teams will use one piece of wood, two matches, and a No. 2 can, and the team getting water to boil first is winner, with points to be awarded according to how long it takes.

In height judging, individuals will judge and patrols will average their stimates for the patrol estimate. Points will be given according to the nearness to correct. In blanket rolling, patrols form teams, and one blanket must be rolled and passed along to the next member to be rolled again until the relay is complete. Points will be given according to the time taken for the patrol.

In the chariot race, the patrol has one driver, with four members serving as horses. The "chariot" circles a designated point after driving and returns to the starting line. Points will be awarded according to times. Fire by flint and steel will also be patrol competition, with points awarded according to time consumed in making the fire.

The knot relay involves patrol action, with each member having a piece of rope. At the signal, the first scout runs to the post, draws the type of knot from the judge, ties it around the post and returns to touch the next man. The relay then proceeds. Knots will include the square, bowline, two half hitches, clove hitch, taut line hitch, sheep bend, slip knot, and timber hitch. Points are awarded according to patrol times.

There will also be other events in the Scout-Explorer meet.

OLDER THE BETTER

Raccoons Return To Three R List

By INEZ ROBB

In the up-dated college curriculum, the Three Rs have been changed to reading, writing and raccoons. And, of the three, raccoons are the MOST.

But for a lucky happenstance, I might have gone to my grave never knowing that the GREATEST thing to hit higher education since the two-platoon system is the raccoon coat. The hottest thing — and no pun intended — in college circles is the revival of the vintage 'coonskin coat that came into its fairest flowering in the Scott Fitzgerald era.

Now I am privy to this vital trend on campus because I arrived at Lord and Taylor, Fifth Avenue emporium, to raid its August white sale just as its doors opened for business the other morning. But I never got near the sheets and pillow cases for the good and sufficient reason that I was caught up in a mob of wheeling, dealing collegians and carried off, willy-nilly, to the store's campus shop.

Boys and girls together, and a sprinkling of anxious parents mixed in, they carried everything before them as they swept down the Lord and Taylor field to scramble for their pick of a rare collection of ancient 'coonskin coats carefully collected by the store and now sale-priced at $25.

Such screams and joy, such coos of sheer delight as I have seldom heard issued from Ivy Leaguers and Daisy Chainers alike as they fell upon battered 'coonskins, years past their prime. It was a sight comparable only to cats let loose in a creamery or Aunt Hattie in a bargain basement full of Chinese Chippendale and Adam mantels (no relation to Mickey).

Somehow, fighting for life, I scrambled to safety on the sidelines. From that vantage point, I discovered that a 'coon coat, to qualify for recirculation on the campus today, must be old and look it. The more beat up, the better. That's what makes it chic in '57. A brush with moths is a help.

"Look!" cried an ecstatic coed, pointing to a rip in the back of the shapeless coat she was trying on. "There's the most DIVINE tear!"

Beside being in the last stages of decomposition (at least in mature eyes), a 'coonskin coat to be TERRIFICALLY WONDERFUL and acceptable in the Ivy League today must under no circumstances fit the wearer.

"Good heavens, don't tell me it fits!" shrieked a campus queen near me, as she tore off the coat she was trying on. "If it fits, it is utterly, horribly impossible!"

A sudden, wild yowl of triumph and jubliation exited from a crew-cut type who looked like a varsity fullback.

"It's a genuine Brooks Brothers, 1903!" he exulted and dozens surged to look at this ancient gem with the reverent air of art lovers suddenly confronted with a newly found Leonardo da Vinci.

I finally cornered the head of the college shop to seek some explanation for this madness, on a par with goldfish swallowing and panty raids. She said the revival of 'coonskins began last winter. She scented a trend in the Ivy League and set out to corner the market in vintage coats.

Where she found them is a state secret. Does Macy's tell Gimbels? Or Lord and Taylor tell Saks Fifth Avenue? But apparently she scrounged thrift and hock shops, Salvation Army stores, and fur storage warehouses until she cornered the market.

Hundreds — she wouldn't say how many — were sold in the first rush. She expects, she said smugly, to have a steady supply at $.25. Kids cry for them.

The church was orgnaized in 1954 with 69 charter members. Its present membership is 392.

The Sunday school started with 87 enrolled and now has 523, while the training union, which started with an enrollment of 70, now has 316 on the rolls.

The church has 417 additions during the three yeers.

The Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor, has been pastor of the church since its beginning.

Another Try Made To Settle Strike

DALLAS (AP) — Another attempt was being made today to settle the month-long strike at the Trinity Portland Cement Co.

Federal mediator Walter White said he would confer with union and management officials.

The strike by members of the United Cement, Lime & Gypsum Workers started July 11. The union has demanded a 13.6 cent hourly pay boost, retroactive to the old contract date. The company has offered 10 cents.

Pope Unlikely To Heed Racial Plea

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII is "most unlikely", to heed a plea by a group of New Orleans Roman Catholic laymen that their church halt racial integration, Vatican sources said today.

These sources pointed out that the 81-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church has frequently referred to the equality of men, regardless of color. However, there was no information that he had ever spoken directly upon the subject of segregation.

The sharpest criticism ever expressed here against segregation was that of L'Osservatore Romano on Oct. 17, 1955, when it declared that racial exclusion is a sin against the nature of Catholicism.

Vatican sources said that the Vatican newspaper's words doubtlessly reflected, in general, the attitude of the Pope. L'Osservatore, at the time, was commenting upon the impeding of a Negro priest from celebrating Mass in a mission near New Orleans.

L'Osservatore described the action by the Catholics as a sacrilege and praised the intervention of Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel of New Orleans in the Negro priest's behalf as being "prompt and admirable." Archbishop Rummel suspended Masses at the mission.

Vatican sources here, therefore, saw little chance that Pope Pius would support the New Orleans group's requests that Archbishop Rummel be asked to "take no further steps" toward integration and that the papacy decree segregation is not morally wrong and sinful.

Another reason why the Pope is not expected to take such action is that such decisions usually are within the province of the local bishop or archbishop.

Vatican sources said the letter from the New Orleans Catholics had been received and was being examined by the secretariat of state before being forwarded to the Pope.

Seventh Set Of Twins Is Just Routine

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (AP) — Birth of their seventh set of twins in 14 years to the James Big Crows was so routine their father didn't even bother to go to the hospital to pace a corridor.

"It wasn't any surprise; the doctor said it probably would be doubles again," said Mrs. Marcella Big Crow. "You sort of get used to it after a while."

Big Crow, a temporarily unemployed farmhand, was philosophical about Tuesday's arrival of the new twins, who round out a family of 15 children.

He was concerned most about finding room for them in the two-room shack where the family lives at the edge of the Pine Ridge Indian reservation.

Altogether, Mrs. Big Crow has had 18 children but three, including a girl twin, have died. The newest arrivals, as yet an unnamed boy and girl, join Gerald and Geraldine, 11; Joyce and James, 10; Theresa and Timothy, 9; Elizabeth, 7; Corliss and Colleen, 5; Walter and Raymond, 3; and Oliver, 2.

Robert, 13, first of the Big Crow twins whose sister died, has been adopted by another family.

Mrs. Big Crow, 34, conceded that the tiny cabin sometimes gets pretty crowded. But not all the 15 children are at home at the time. Eight are in school and the older ones usually spend quite a bit of time "just visiting around" with relatives or neighbors.

Scouts Tell About Trip To Jamboree

Three Boy Scouts who were among those from here attending the National Scout Jamboree last month at Valley Forge, Pa., described the trip and events of the Jamboree yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club.

They were Joel Hamlett, who acted as master of ceremonies, Joe Davis, and Darrell Rains. With them was Earl Stubbs, who was scoutmaster of a group of 37 West Texas boys while at the Jamboree.

There were 10 boys from Snyder and two from Gail included in the group going to the Jamboree.

Hamlett told the group some of the things about the Jamboree's size and events during the huge encampment. There were 55,000 boys and 17,000 tents at the Jamboree. The boys consumed 559,750 quarts of milk, or what would take one cow more than 153 years to produce. There were 509,192 eggs, which would take a hen more than 1,395 years to lay.

The Texas boys, who already had Texas pride, gained much national pride at the Jamboree, Hamlett said. Each boy had leadership training through responsibilities at the camp. While at camp, the boys visited Philadelphia, where they went through national shrines. The also visited all the shrines at Valley Forge. Vice president Richard Nixon was among the speakers at the encampment, as was Ralph Yarborough, Texas senator, and Bob Feller, well known baseball player.

Davis told of the trip to the camp and some of the places visited on the way and while there. The group left Colorado City by train. In St. Louis, there was about one hour's time to see the town. At Washington, D. C., the group was met by Congressman George Mahon. The boys saw many sights in Washington, including the White House, toured the Senate and House chambers. They visited Mount Vernon and Lincoln Memorial. Later, on a trip to New York, they saw a musical comedy at Radio City, toured the United Nations building, and saw the Statue of Liberty. At Philadelphia, they toured the naval yards.

Rains told of the return trip. The boys went by way of Niagara Falls, through a part of Canada to Detroit, and then back through St. Louis and home. At Detroit, the boys saw the Ford plant and other industries.

Dog Objects To Speeding Ticket

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Motorcycle Patrolman Eugene Scoville waved Mrs. Lulu Mae Johnson to the curb after clocking her at 34 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

"Let me see your driver's license," he said, reaching in the car window.

The woman's French poodle Billy Echo grabbed the officer's arm and "I thought he never was going to let loose," Mrs. Johnson said.

In the excitement Scoville almost forgot the speeding charge.

Then Mrs. Johnson got a ticket, Scoville got his arm treated and Billy Echo got 10 days under observation for possible rabies.

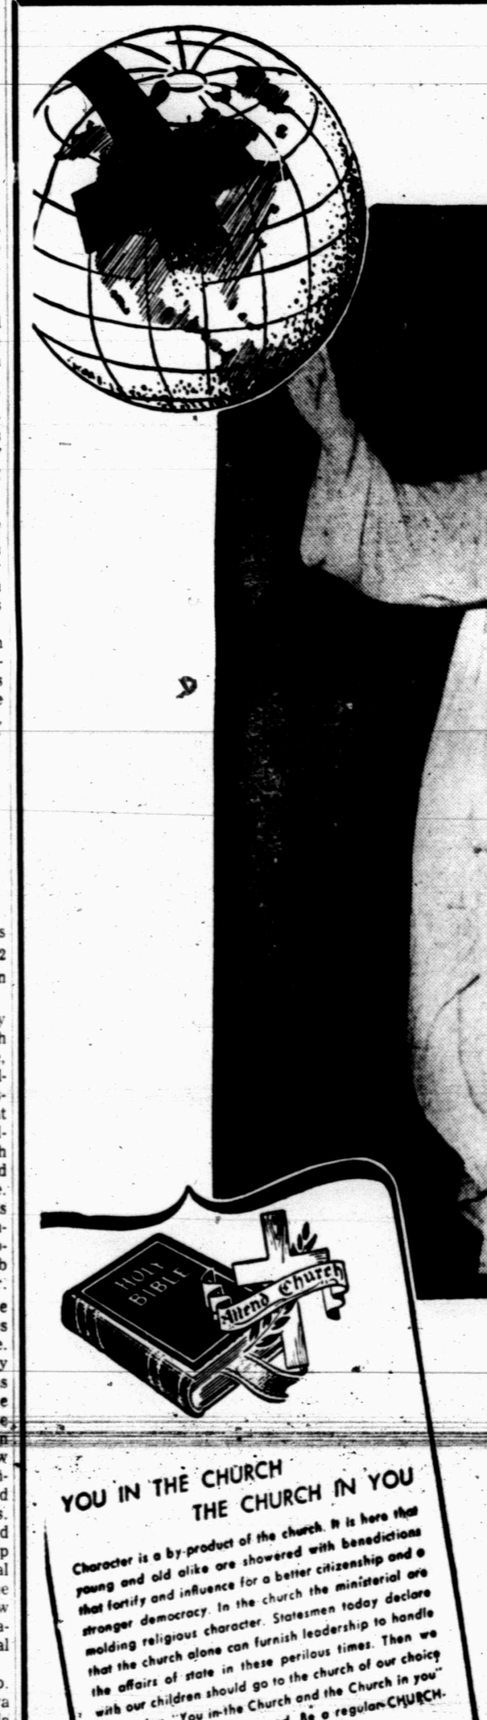
Japan Feels Trade With Reds Vital

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese Foreign Minister Aiichiro Fujiyama said today Japan is seeking to expand trade with Communist China as a matter of "economic necessity."

"Our government is planning to take the needed measures in this respect," Fujiyama told a meeting of the America-Japan society.

He said Japan will not relax its ban on the export of strategic commodities to the Chinese mainland and added:

"I hope there will be no misunderstanding on the part of Americans regarding our trade policy toward Communist China."



The Public Spirited Firms and Individuals On This Page Bring You This Weekly Message In The Hope That It Will Point To A Better Way Of Life And Be An Inspiration To Everyone.

Today the 'Great God of Nations' is pleading for unity of mind, for brotherly love between men and for peace on earth. Jesus the greatest of teachers presented to men truths, which were then as they are now, of great importance to all mankind. His utterances, without revision, are most pertinent to modern life and make universal appeal. In them are heights which no man has scaled; depths which no man has sounded; reaches of length and breadth which no man has explored. Universally the need for blessings from the great 'God of Nations' has never been so great. He commanded men to learn of Him and promised to show them the way.

Pastors, Priests and Rabbis are pooling their interests in an effort to challenge All Nations to an understanding of the term 'Peace.' Prayers from millions of earnest seeking, warm hearted, religious people, go up to the great 'God of Nations' every day for those men who are entrusted with our destinies.

Millions are now saying of Jesus: "There was the true light, even the light which lighteth every man, coming into the world." Whether judged by subject matter, the method of its presentation, or its effectiveness in influencing life... Jesus enjoys preeminence among teachers. If men would but seek out His will; if world leaders would but ask His guidance when difficult, international problems arise... then solving them would not be such a surprise, for in Him men of faith find all things possible.
