CONSUMER PRICE HIKE IS SMALLER

Inflation Rate Still Slowing

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices rose three-tenths of a per cent in October, the government said today. It was the smallest increase in seven months as the nation's inflation rate continued its moderating trend.

The increase in the Consumer Price Index followed a rise of four-tenths of a per cent in September and monthly advances of five-tenths of a per cent during the June-August period.

The Labor Department said October's price increase was the smallest since a two-tenths of a per cent rise last March. Over the past 12 months, retail prices have risen 5.3 per cent, marking the smallest increase since the 12-month period ending in April 1973, when they rose 5.1 per cent.

In a separate report, the department said the purchasing power of the average worker's paycheck rose last month after declining in August and September.

Today's economic reports were bright spots in an otherwise bleak picture of high unemployment and slow economic growth.

Wholesale industrial prices, which are influential in setting the over-all inflation trend, have been rising steadily since May. However, these higher wholesale prices have not yet shown at the retail level.

In October, the consumer price index stood at 173.3, meaning that a market basket of goods and services costing $100 in 1967 now costs $173.30. The index is not adjusted to discount seasonal influences, as are the percentage increases.

Alan Greenspan, President Ford's chief economist, tended to discount the wholesale price trend in a speech Thursday to the Rubber Manufacturers Association. He said "There is just no corroborating evidence" to support the idea of a new outburst of inflation.

Greenspan said the long-term inflation rate is slowing down and, in what appeared to be a warning to President-elect Jimmy Carter, predicted that the downward trend will continue if the government reduces its budget deficit by following "sensible fiscal and monetary policies."

The seasonally adjusted three-tenths of a per cent increase in over-all prices last month reflected higher costs for new cars, gasoline, natural gas, electricity, transportation services, fruits and vegetables and some foods, the Labor Department said.

Food prices rose an adjusted three-tenths of a per cent last month after showing no change in September. Fresh vegetable prices rose sharply for the third straight month, while prices for beef, poultry, eggs and fresh fruits also increased after declining the previous month.

Coffee and dairy products also rose but not as much as in recent months. Prices for sugar and cereal declined and pork prices droppped for the fifth consecutive month.

Prices for nonfood commodities rose four-tenths of a per cent last month, matching the September increase but less than monthly rises of six-tenths of a per cent from April through August.

UAW, GM Okay Pact

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers and auto giant General Motors Corp. reached agreement on a new national contract today, about 12 hours after 80,000 workers began an unprecedented "ministrike" at 16 key GM plants, the union announced.

The settlement must be ratified by the union's rank and file. Based on the industry's pattern agreement set at Ford Motor Co., the GM pact was announced at 12:30 p.m. EST by UAW President Leonard Woodcock and Vice President Irving Bluestone.

New Russian Plane?

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Military intelligence specialists believe the Russians are working on a new tanker plane that would enable the Soviet Backbomber to strike targets in the United States and return home.

The new tanker, a varient of Russia's big four-engine 1176 commercial cargo plane, may be ready for use by the Soviet Air Force in 10 months, according to U.S. intelligence estimates.

The supersonic Backfire is one of what President Ford last month called "gray area weapons systems -- creating some problems" in negotiations toward a new U.S.-Soviet agreement limiting strategic nuclear weapons.

Applications Pour In

WASHINGTON(AP)—Job applications are pouring into President-elect Jimmy Carter's office here at the rate of more than a thousand a day, but most of the applicants are going to be disappointed.

Matthew B. Coffey, 35, director of Carter's personnel office here, said Thursday his office is overwhelmed by mail and a "steady stream of walk-ins, modestly and immodestly offering their services" to the new administration.

Small Bell Hike Urged

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—An economist, testifying on behalf of a House committee, said today the Texas Public Utilities Commission should allow Southwestern Bell Telephone a rate increase of only $17 million.

Dr. Jack Hopper's recommendation contrasted with Bell's request of $298.3 million and a recommendation by the commission staff for $49.76 million.

Hopper testified on behalf of the House Committee on Social Services. He was advisor to committee chairman Lane Denton, D-Waco, in Denton's unsuccessful race for the Railroad Commission this spring.

Hopper said in written testimony that Bell' parent company, American Telephone and Telegraph, has more than doubled its assets since 1970 and has the highest ratings on its common stock and bonds.

Carter Names 11 Advisers

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Jimmy Carter named 11 persons today who will advise him on Cabinet and other high-level appointments, then turned his attention to national security and foreign policy as he prepared for the presidency.

George Bush, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was flying to Plains to give the President-elect what Press Secretary Jody Powell called "a major over-all scene-setting briefing." Vice President-elect Walter F. Mondale planned to attend.

Both Carter and Mondale will be briefed Saturday by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who will visit this tiny southwest Georgia hamlet to talk about foreign affairs.

Powell told reporters today that Carter's appointment advisers are "representative of the types Gov. Carter and Sen. Mondale are depending upon" in making their key appointments. The advisers include no elected officials.

They are: The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame University; Lucy W. Benson, former director of the League of Women Voters; Lane Kirkland, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO; Vernon Jordan, executive director of the Urban League, and Carol Foreman, executive director of the Consumer Federation of America.

Also Marian Wright Edelman, a black woman who heads the Childrens Defense Fund; Robert Strauss, chairman of the Democratic party; Hank Lacayo, director of the Hispanic Division of the Carter campaign; Owen Cooper, a Jackson, Miss., businessman and former moderator of the Southern Baptist Convention; Irving Shapiro, chairman of the board of E.I. duPont and deNemours Co, and Patricia Harris,

Water Utilities Assn. Elects Officers Here

New officers were elected in a meeting held last night in Snyder by the Permian Basin Water Utilities Association.

Elected president of the association was James Powell of Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock. Powell succeeds Robert Helm of Coahoma to the presidency. Other new officers include Harold Jones, of Brownfield, president-elect; D. W. Overman of Big Spring, vice president; Paul Newton of Big Spring, secretary-treasurer, and Gene Smith of Big Spring, assistant secretary-treasurer. The new officers will assume their posts in January.

BOND POSTED

Patty Is Wisked Out Of Prison

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Patricia Hearst was wisked out of a federal prison here in the dead of night, an official at the Metropolitan Correctional Center said today.

Her destination was unknown, but with $500,000 bond posted by her family to free her while awaiting trial in Southern California, she needed only the approval of a San Francisco judge to be free for the first time in more than a year while she appeals her bank robbery conviction.

The official at the correctional center, who declined to have his name used, said Miss Hearst was driven away by two federal marshals about 4:50 a.m. EST.

Members of a television camera crew stationed at the prison said they saw a black-and-white car speed away in the darkness.

U.S. District Court Judge William Orrick, who in September sentenced Miss Hearst to seven years in prison, was expected to rule today on a request that the 22-year-old newspaper heiress be released in her parents' custody under a secret security plan.

Orrick must decide whether she is still a flight risk. She had been ordered held without bail after her capture in September 1975.

The only other obstacle to Miss Hearst's freedom was removed on Thursday when her father and uncle signed a $500,000 personal surety bond on pending Los Angeles charges of kidnap, assault and robbery.

Miss Hearst faces a January 10 trial in that case involving a wild shooting at an Inglewood, Calif., sporting goods store that occurred while she was a fugitive member of the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army.

PATTY HEARST

Her father, Randolph A. Hearst, president of the San Francisco Examiner, and his twin brother, David, president of the William Randolph Hearst Foundation, pledged their assets to obtain Miss Hearst's release.

Attorney Albert Johnson asked Superior Court Judge William Ritzi to reduce the $500,000 bail, but the judge said he would wait to see whether Orrick sets bail.

"If she is released by the San Francisco court, and if bail is substantial in that case, I certainly would consider reduction in bond," he said.

Miss Hearst, now imprisoned at the Metropolitan Corrections Center in San Diego, has spent 14 months behind bars, including time served during her celebrated trial for the 1974 $10,050 robbery of San Francisco's Hibernia Bank.

Orrick told her during sentencing: "Miss Hearst, the violent nature of your conduct can not be condoned. Violence is unacceptable in our society and will not be tolerated."

Miss Hearst, who had been kidnaped by the SLA on Feb. 4, 1974, was defended in an eight-week trial by famed criminal lawyer F. Lee Bailey. She was convicted last March 10 of armed robbery and use of a firearm.

The SDN Column

We've been experimenting with our format here at The Snyder Daily News for the past few weeks while "breaking in" our new publisher, Roy McQueen. We are not finished with it (the format) yet, and will not be reluctant to try more new things now and then, we hope.

Generally, comment has been highly favorable, and we appreciate advice we have received from time to time from readers. We have even tried to follow up on some of it.

And most of the suggestions, or advice, we have received from Snyder readers certainly is more objective than some reported recently by Don Richards of the Springtown Epigraph. He said a frustrated publisher up in Oregon made a survey, and came up with these answers when he asked readers what they wanted most to see in their home town newspaper. It went like this:

1. My name.
2. A front page article showing how crooked the city government is most of the time.
3. My wife's name.
4. A feature article showing 25 ways to cheat on income tax forms.
5. My kids' names.
6. A local news item about the affair my neighbor is having.
7. A classified ad offering a new home for sale for $4,000.
9. More news about lawbreakers.
9. Less news about lawbreakers. I was picked up last night and I should not have to pay a fine.
10. An editorial condemning high school teachers for being too liberal with Fs.
11. A wedding picture of the groom instead of the bride when he is more handsome than she is pretty.
12. A sports picture of me when I bowled 183.
13. More advertisements on things that merchants are giving away.
14. A front page picture of my neighbor being hauled out of the bar by his wife.
15. A front page spread about the deadbeat who lives across the street from me who just had his car repossessed.
16. Forget the last one. I just got word from the finance company and they're coming after my car.
17. More letters to the editor naming crooks we have in town.
18. A full page of local news, a page of national news, several pages of sports and comics, one page on divorces and three pages on all the domestic troubles we are having in town.
19. Less stuff about how cute everybody else's kids are. My kids are better looking than those you rave about.
20. A complete biographical sketch about the "most important citizen in town" and be sure you spell my name right.

Of course advice is one of those things which truly is easier to give than to receive.—WACIL McNAIR.

L. L. (Pat) Moore Dies; Rites Set

L. L. (Pat) Moore, 72, a former Scurry County Commissioner, was dead on arrival at Cogdell Memorial Hospital at 7:45 a.m. today, after he was stricken at his home at Ira.

Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Saturday at the Ira Baptist Church, with the Rev. June Middlebrooks, pastor of Ira Church of God, and the Rev. Jim Mosley, Baptist minister, officiating.

Masonic rites will be conducted at the graveside at Ira Cemetery, and burial will be under direction of Bell-Seal Funeral Home.

Mr. Moore is survived by his wife of the home, a niece and two nephews.

Mr. Moore was a native of Dallas County, but moved to Ira with his family in 1910. He attended Ira High School and grew up in that community before entering the drilling business in 1924. At that time he moved to South Texas and on June 14, 1938, at Alice, he was married to Miss Foye Pierce.

He moved back to Scurry County in 1953 and went into the ditching business at Ira. He was elected County Commissioner in Precinct No. 3 in 1952 and held that office for eight years, being re-elected three consecutive times.

Dissatisfied with retirement, Mr. Moore opened an oilfield supply business, Petroleum Equipment Pipe and Supply Co.,

which he shortened to "PEPSCO." He sold this business some two years ago, but soon became active again when he opened his Specialty Order Co. at Ira.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge No. 934 at Ira and the Suez Temple Shrine, having served as president of the Snyder Shrine Club back in the early fifties.

Mr. Moore was honored by his neighbors last June 18 when he was presented the Outstanding Citizen award by the Ira Bicentennial Committee.

AM Works On Seepage Problem

The American Magnesium Plant southwest of Snyder is working on a solution to a seepage problem involving wastewater from the plant, spokesman said this morning, following a 90-day extension of a temporary order by the Texas Water Quality Board yesterday in Austin. The seepage problem which first came to light last spring, involved storage of wastewater in open ponds which were discovered to be leaking and leaching wastewater into the ground.

Some surface waters in the area were contaminated, but there was no significant hazard to ground water quality, TWQB staff people indicated.

The ponds in question were used prior to use of a disposal system through an injection well. However, the ponds are said to have enough waste material in storage to cause a seepage problem during periods of heavy rainfall.The TWQB recommended that the ponds used for storage of incoming brine or plant effluent be pumped dry and filled with soil.

Ray Engelhardt, AM superintendent, was enroute back to Snyder from Austin this morning after attending the TWQB hearing Thursday.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be careful with whom you involve yourself today. The wrong companion could cause you some problems both costly and embarrassing.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't resurrect old domestic grievances today. Digging up ancient skeletons will only serve to spoil the day for you and your mate.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Something you've swept under the rug may pop up to haunt you. Dispose of it early in the day. You could still have a pleasurable evening.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be sure you get exactly what you want if making an important purchase today, or you'll be unhappy every time you look at it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't lean too heavily today on persons over whom you have authority. Underlings will resist strong methods and production will nosedive.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're a little too negative today. Your keen imagination sees only the shadows unless you strive diligently to let the sun in.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're kind today, except when you have to dip into your purse. You could be too stingy and offend someone who has been generous to you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Vanity and pride go before a fall. You'll take a tumble today if you take yourself too seriously.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You have enough responsibility without taking on the problems of others. Don't try to be a good guy and get into something you can't handle.

OPENING TONIGHT

Children Important In Snyder High's Musical

"The most enjoyable part of the show has got to be the children," exclaimed co-director of the "Sound of Music" Jerry Worsham.

Tonight, the Snyder High School Fine Arts Department's production opens in the SHS auditorium at 8 o'clock with nine local youth portraying the Austrian von Trapp children.

Next in line is Scott Marlar. He is a freshman at the high school and will appear as Friedrich, a 14-year-old.

Providing some of the real antics of the presentation, though, are the "imported" children. Charlie McCormick, a second grader at West Elementary and Michelle Krueger, a fourth grader at the same school, were recruited to perform in the show.

Jeanne is active in choir and church activities. Scott also enjoys singing.

Laquita is a member of the choir, as is Gary. He was recently named as an All-Region singer.

IMPORTANT ROLES—Children are in the limelight in "Sound of Music," which opens tonight in the Snyder High School Auditorium. Included in the cast are these, Michelle Krueger, Charlie McCormick, Gary Martin, Laquita Reaves, Sherilyn Campbell, Scott Marlar, Jeanne McCormick and Terry Robinson.

The curtain rises tonight at 8 o'clock in the SHS auditorium for the "Sound of Music."

A few reserved seats are left and cost $3. They can be purchased by calling 573-6301. General Admission is $2, and spectators can purchase these seats at the door or from any SHS choir or drama student.

The "Sound of Music" will run tonight and tomorrow night.

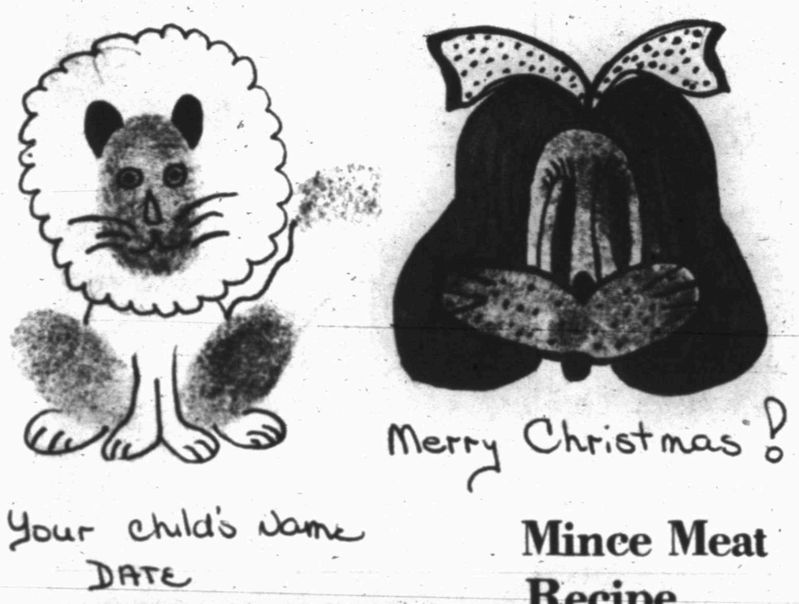
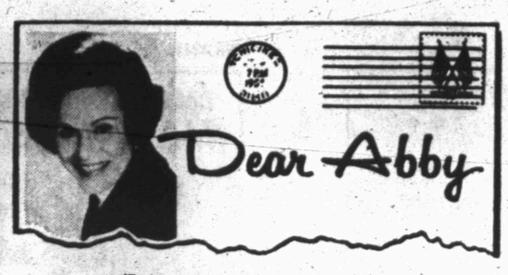
MAKE THUMBKINS—The Christmas Bazaar for the West Texas Rehab Center has an added attraction this year. Members of Amitie Study Club will be on hand Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to make "Thumbkins". If you don't know what a thumbkin is, just bring your child and have their thumb print made and transformed into a delightful cartoon character. The prints will be made on ceramic plaques and will make unique Christmas tree ornaments or wall hangings. Every grandparent will be delighted with one of these unusual "Thumbkins" and will treasure it more each year. Little Miss Mitzi Engelhardt gets in on the practice as Amitie members Peggy Engelhardt (left) and Linda Cox make the "thumbkins" in a trial run before the bazaar. The price of each ornament is $1. Pictured below are two of the finished "thumbkins."





Neighbor Delivers a Heart to Heart

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING, concerning a neighbor who was wearing out her welcome, is similar to the problem I encountered. This neighbor would pop in on me often, and always without notice. Sometimes I was entertaining a relative or another friend, and frequently I had a lot of work to do and no time for a social visit. I became frustrated and didn't know how to tell her without hurting her feelings.

Finally, in desperation, I took this nice neighbor into my bedroom and closed the door. Then I explained that I really liked her and valued her friendship, but there were times when I wanted to be alone with my friends or family, and as a favor to me to please phone to see if it was all right to come over.

She was very understanding, and thanked me for being honest with her. Now she visits me less often and always phones first. Today we are the best of friends.

Abby, if we would all speak our minds honestly and with love, we could accomplish much.

G. S. IN VA.

DEAR G. S.: Read on for a letter from a woman who lacked your compassion and lived to regret it!

DEAR ABBY: I am a recently retired woman who once enjoyed a successful and fulfilling business career. I've remained single by choice.

I live alone, but I'm far from lonely. I have all the friends I want. I like my privacy and have never encouraged visitors to drop in.

The high-rise in which I live has excellent security, and no one gets into the building without being screened.

One evening about 7:30, there was a knock on my door. I wasn't expecting anyone so I asked who was there. It was a widow who lives on my floor, and with whom I had had only a nodding acquaintance. She said she was "lonely," and didn't know what to do with herself, and asked if she could come in and visit for a while.

I told her politely but bluntly that I was busy, and didn't approve of visitors dropping in without phoning first. (I have an unlisted phone number, which I did not give her.) She apologized for bothering me and left.

Abby, I've always felt that people who intrude on others should be treated with the same lack of consideration they give those upon whom they intrude. I felt quite proud of myself for not getting trapped by a bore who would probably be difficult to get rid of.

The next evening a friend telephoned to ask if I knew the woman in my building who had committed suicide the night before.

If you have already guessed that she was the woman who knocked on my door, you are right.

Mince Meat Recipe Correction

In the recipe for Green Tomato Mince Meat in yesterday's paper an ingredient was inadvertently omitted. The recipe called for 5 pounds of sugar, which was not printed in the recipe. The recipe, submitted by Lcille Bynum and Bess DeLoach, should read as follows:

GREEN TOMATO MINCE MEAT

1 gallon chopped green tomatoes
5 pounds sugar (one half brown sugar if desired)
2 gallons chopped apples (do not peel)
Measure after chopping
2 pounds raisins
1 quart vinegar
1 pint molasses
1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
1 tablespoon grond allspice
1 tablespoon ground cloves
½ tablespon ginger
2 pounds angel flake coconut

After chopping green tomatoes sprinkel ½ cup salt over them, and cover with boiling water. Let stand while chopping apples. DRAIN SALT WATER OFF TOMATOES. Add apples and all other ingredients. Cook slowly one hour. Makes 9 quarts.

When making a pie add 2 tablespoons flour and ½ stick butter to a quart of mince meat and pour into unbaked pie shell. Cover with top crust and brush with canned milk. Bake at 350 degrees until crust is golden brown.

Plastic Braces Tooth-Colored

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Timid adults who have shied away from the glare of metal braces on their teeth now have something to smile about — tooth-colored plastic braces.

Atlanta dentist Dr. Marvin C. Goldstein told the American Dental Association convention here Monday that increasing numbers of adults are getting the plastic braces rather than letting their dental health wane for the sake of vanity.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

South's whole problem in today's hand is the club suit. He has to win two tricks there and the odds are against him.

As a practical matter and forgetting about singletons and special 5-2 breaks he is sure to succeed if West holds the ace-queen and 10. He is equally sure to fail if East holds the queen.

He can make it if West holds ace-queen or queen-10 provided he guesses which of those two combinations he holds.

West wins the first two tricks with the king and queen of hearts. He leads a third heart to East's ace.

South ruffs and draws trumps with two leads. Then he cashes his ace, king and queen of diamonds just in case some sort of elimination play might develop.

Finally, he leads a club and West plays low. If South had no clues at all he does have one little thing going for him. West did hold the king and queen of hearts. If he also held both ace and queen of clubs he might well have gotten into the bidding.

Hence, it appears to South that his only hope is to find West with both queen and 10 of clubs. He plays the nine from dummy and loses just one club trick.

Ask the Jacobys

An Ohio reader wants to know if notrump was ever scored at 35 points a trick.

The answer is that in the original game as invented by Mike Vanderbilt notrump was scored at that, but with the first law change that five-point nuisance was eliminated and we now have it scored 40-30, etc.

Stamford, Post Clash For Bi-District Title

A close contest is expected when the Stamford Bulldogs, champions of District 6-AA, tangle with the Post Antelopes, co-champions of District 5-AA, in a Bi-District schoolboy football playoff game at 7:30 tonight in Tiger Stadium.

Both teams are 7-2 for the season. Post has scored 188 points and yielded 97 to the opposition. Stamford has tallied 161 points and given up 88.

Coach Bill Anderson of Stamford says defense is the strong point of his team. "They have been consistent all year," he said.

Both teams employ a "52" defense. Stamford operates on offense from the Winged T, and Post will be in the T formation on offense.

The Bulldogs have an outstanding quarterback in Bryan Tabor, 158-pound senior. He has completed 49 of 123 passes for 821 yards this season. The Bulldogs also have a talented runner in tailback Don Earl, 172-pound senior, who has gained over 600 yards this season, although he missed the first three games.

Standouts in the Stamford offensive line are center Burney Herman, 168-pound senior, and Mark Lundgren, a 166-pound senior tackel. Defensively, the Bulldogs have been led by end David Nicholson, a 156-pound senior, and tackle Gary Miller, a 175-pound senior. The Stamford secondary is experienced and talented. They've intercepted nine passes this season.

Coach Jackie Brownd of Post says all of his running backs are about equal in ability. They include fullback Randle Wyatt, a 150-pound senior; right halfback Randy Baker, a 165-pound junior; and, left halfback Jimmy Dorland, a 150-pound senior. Dorland probably makes more big plays than the other backs. Guiding the Antelope T attack is quarterback Brad Shepard, 140-pound junior. The Antelopes seldom resort to the forward pass.

This is Post's second straight appearance in the playoffs, while Stamford has been in the playoffs several times previously.

The winner in seven of their games wasn't decided until the final minute of the play, and Stamford won six of those games.

Brownd, the Post coach, formerly coached in Snyder. He was here last year, and then won the right to represent District 5-AA in the playoffs in his first season as head coach at Post.

In the JV game, Jayton took a 20-5 lead in the first quarter. The deficit was just too much to overcome. Garcia and Hahn pitched in 29 and 20 points respectively for Jayton while Tanya Boydstun roped 17 for Snyder.

Odessa Hosts Tigers; Coahoma Here Tomorrow

The Snyder High School varsity boys basketball team opens the season at 8 o'clock tonight at Odessa. The program begins at 4:15 p.m. with the sophomore teams of both schools meeting, followed by a junior varsity contest at 6:30 p.m.

Coach Jack Stephenson of the Tigers has only four lettermen returning from last year's team, and all of them are starters tonight. However, none of them started last year. The four include guards Lucious Jeffery and Robbie Moore, forward Randy Courtney and post Brad Browning and Tony Cobb. Jeffery is a 5-9 junior. Cobb is a 6-2 junior. Courtney is a 6-3 junior. Browning is a 6-3 senior. Moore is a 5-9 junior.

Stephenson said he plans to run a high-low post and stock on one side with a one guard front.

Stephenson also said he plans to send in three other lads for four minutes of every quarter. The three are Kirk Johnson, 6-1 senior guard; Anthony Lewis, 6-1 senior forward; and, Bobby Doe, 5-10 senior guard.

Other boys carried on the varsity roster are Earl Clayton, 6-2 junior post; Richard Willis, 6-2 junior post; Ronnie Farmer, 6-7 junior post; Russell Sutton, 6-0 senior guard and forward; Larry Huddleston, 5-9 junior guard; and, Kerry Young 5-9 senior guard.

Coach Stephenson said Odessa opened their season the other night against Monahans. Snyder scrimmage Lubbock High last Monday and Lubbock held the upperhand. They also scrimmaged Denver City Thursday afternoon and looked better.

Stephenson said strong points of the Tigers this year are desire, good shooting and good rebounding. He said Courtney, Cobb and Farmer can jump with anybody.

Asked how the Tigers will fare this year, the coach said: "It depends on how quickly we can get some experience."

Stephenson said he plans to use a man-to-man defense 80 to 90 per cent of the time.

"We'll be a pressing team," he said, "And could use a full court press for 32 minutes of the game.'

He said the Tigers will run a zone only when he thinks it's called for.

"We'll fast break every chance we get and make it a rapid game. We'll run and press."

The Tigers will host Coahoma at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Scurry County Coliseum. The junior varsity game will begin at 6:15 p.m.

Westerners Whip San Jacinto, 97-54

HUTCHINSON, Kan.—The Western Texas College Westerners boosted their record to 2-0 here last night with an impressive 97-54 triumph over San Jacinto Junior College.

The Westerners took a 14-4 lead early, then went ahead by 35-16. Then, WTC tallied 18 straight points while holding San Jacinto scoreless to build a 53-16 halftime lead.

"It was an outstanding performance," said Coach Mike Mitchell. "We played so well it was almost unbelievable," he said. "Based on the workouts, most of the coaches here thought they would beat us. I was pleased with our players. I thought it was a great effort. Our effort is reflected in the way our boys dominated the game."

Lawrence Butler sparked the WTC attack. He pitched in 42 points and fouled out with 10:20 remaining. He hit 20 of 25 from the floor.

"Everything we did was right, and everything they did was wrong," Mitchell said.

The Westerners started out in a man-to-man defense, then switched to a 1-3-1 zone, then back into a man-to-man.

WTC hit 63 per cent from the field and put in 11 of 14 free throw.

Darryl Smith contributed 18 points, and Butch Person put in 12. For San Jacinto, Oliver Mack and Arthur Ross were high point men with 18 and 16 points, respectively.

WTC plays Hutchinson, Kansas at 8:45 tonight in the secound round of the Blue Dragon Classic.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles hope they have picked up some left-handed hitting punch in a deal that brings outfielder Pat Kelly from the Chicago White Sox in exchange for catcher Dave Duncan.

Kelly, 32, and the brother of former National Football League running back Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns, hit .254 with Chicago last season. He also has played for Minnesota and Kansas City.

Duncan, 31, came to the Orioles two years ago in a trade from the Cleveland Indians for Boog Powell and Don Hood.

ACORNS TO ASHES

The winter storm howled through the night; with dawn it stole away, leaving the cleanup to us mortals. Sadly we chopped a broken oak to the ground and saved the trunk for firewood.

For 50 years it had shaded us and in our childhood, had held our swing on one of its arms. Now we sat around the fireplace and felt its warmth again as it burned to ashes before our eyes. From acorn to ashes, the tree had fulfilled its purpose for being. In honor, dignity and integrity it had lived out its entire life.

I was moved to remember the Psalm, "He shall be like a tree, planted by the rivers of water . . . his leaf also shall not untimely wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper in the eyes of his maker."

I whispered to the brightly burning log, "Goodby, old friend. I thank God for you. In life and in death you honor your maker. What else could be expected of any of His creations?"

Grace Lutheran

Christ The King Sunday signals that another year has culminated according to the ancient traditional calendar of the Church Year. Next Sunday, Nov. 28, will mark the beginning of a new church year with the season of Advent. Continued observance of this time-honored calendar is based on the conviction that its seasonal themes provide, not just a means of measuring the passage of time, but a kind of "psychological model" for organizing our own experience.

The observance of Christ The King Sunday at Grace Lutheran will begin with the gathering of the learning community at 9:20 a.m.

Christ's kingship will be proclaimed in worship through the Serice of Holy Communion at the regular 10:30 a.m. hour. Hayden's "O Worship The King" will be the musical prelude, featuring a brass ensemble of Eric Marble, Steven Wheeler, and Valeta Wheeler in accompaniment with regular organist Pearl Wheeler. Pastor Jonathan Jensen's sermon, "Kingship," will continue to focus on the theme for the day, contrasting styles of kingship evidenced in Jesus' encounter with Pontius Pilate in the day's Gospel text, John 18:33-37.

Assisting in worship, in addition to those already mentioned in the ministry of music, will be Joan Marble, Bob Eime, Ken Gusta, Michael Carter, and Kelly Tolbert. Joan Marble will assist in the service. Bob Eime and Ken Gusta are the ushers. Acolyte will be Michael Carter. Kelly Tolbert will supervise the nursery.

Christ The King worship embraces all those who may wish to celebrate together with the worshipping community at Grace Lutheran. Policy for Holy Communion admits all to the altar who believe in the true presence of Christ in the Sacrament, with the decision left up to the conscience of the individual himself. The invitation to share in celebration also extends to all which those at Grace church have in Christ.

Marine Sergeant Joel T. McCright, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.S. McCright of 3100 Ave. V, has been promoted to his present rank while serving at the Marine Corps Air Station, New River, Jacksonville, N.C.

A 1972 graduate of Snyder High School, he joined the Marine Corps in December 1972.

Electric Holding Firm Challenged

AUSTIN--West Texas Utilities Co. (WTU) and Central Power & Light (CP&L) should be removed from the control of the Central and South West Corp. holding company, Texas Electric Service Co. President W.G. Marquardt said here today.

If they are not, he said, the result could be less reliable electric service, unnecessary high costs for area power consumers; and the drain of Texas fuel supplies out of the state.

"We firmly believe that the public...would best be served if Central and South West is ordered to divest itself of West Texas Utilities and Central Power & Light," Marquardt said in testimony before the House Energy Resources committee.

WTU, based in Abilene, serves electricity to customers in parts of West Txas. CP&L serves the Corpus Christi area. Both are owned by Central and South West Corp., a Delaware based holding company.

Central and South West is currently battling to maintain its permission from the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) to exist as a holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

"Holding companies are only allowed if the Securities and Exchange Commission determines that their existence is in the public interest," Marquardt told the committee. "This means that the member companies must be capable of economical operation as a single interconnected and coordinated system."

But Central and South West's four subsidiaries are not an integrated system, Marquardt pointed out. In addition to WTU and CP&L, the system includes Public Service Co. of Oklahoma (PSO) and Southwestern Electric Power Co. (SWEPCO). The four companies form a horseshoe-shaped arc extending from South Texas north to Oklahoma, across Oklahoma to Arkansas, and back down into northeast Texas.

"Central and South West knows this type of operation is not efficient, economical or reliable," Marquardt said.

Since Central and South West's holding company status has been challenged before the SEC, the company has proposed to integrate its system by connecting the two sides of the horseshoe using the Texas Utilities Co. (TU) system. (Texas Utilities Co. is made up of Texas Electric, Dallas Power & Light, and Texas Power & Light.)

Marquardt, speaking on behalf of the three Texas Utilities system companies, said they oppose that plan.

"The reasons are simple," he said. "It would cost our customers a lot of money and threaten the reliability of service within Texas with absolutely no corresponding benefits."

In addition, he said, the out-of-state connections would expose fuel supplies secured for Texas Utilities customers to use in other states.

In a statement filed with the House committee, Marquardt explained that connection with the Central and South West system would place the Texas Utilities companies into interstate commerce. That would subject the companies to Federal Power Commission jurisdiction, resulting in Texas Electric and other TU companies being connected to a vast system of electric utilities covering the entire country east of the Rocky Mountains.

The vast size of that system would greatly hamper reliability, Marquardt said, because large amounts of power would flow into the state from throughout the country if a generator went out in Texas.

Texas transmission lines couldn't handle that flow, Marquardt said, and the result could be a cascading effect of transmission lines being overloaded--resulting in widespread power outages like the New York blackout in 1965.

"To compensate for this situation, the transmission system inside Texas would have to be redesigned, at a cost of hundreds of millions of dollars," Marquardt said. "These are costs our customers would have to bear—with absolutely no benefits."

He added that "maintaining permanent interstate connections greatly increases the risk that we would be required to ship large amounts of power out of the state to areas of the country that haven't planned well for future fuel supplies."

Marquardt said a Central and South West study showing their plan would save money was an example of "engineering economics"—the company figured out the cost of its plan, compared it to the worst alternative, and called the difference a "savings."

"Central and South West pretends to be acting in the public interest when their true motive is very transparent," Marquardt said. "That is, to preserve their holding company by using our power system." He pointed out that testimony before the SEC showed the Central and South West study was begun with the precondition that the holding company be preserved.

"If we want to look at the public interest, let's not look at it in the narrow confines of preserving Central and South West Corporation as a goal," Marquardt said.

Out-Of-Place Whooper Worries Wildlife Officials

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP) — Out in the desolate West Texas countryside where the coyotes roam there may also be a maverick whooping crane.

And the probable presence of that rare bird near here greatly worries U.S. Fish and Wildlife officials, who fear the out-of-place crane might be shot by sandhill crane hunters.

Barbara Ely, a spokesman for the federal agency's Southwest Regional office in Albuquerque, N.M., said Thursday the whooping crane apparently is hanging out with a flock of relatively common sandhill cranes around West Texas lakes.

The nearest flocks of the whooping cranes, one of the most endangered bird species in the United States, are wintering more than 450 miles from West Texas.

A flock of 66 cranes is wintered near Port Aransas on the Texas coast, while four "foster" cranes are living with another species of sandhill cranes south of Albuquerque, N.M.

Officials speculate the wandering whooper, which is larger and lighter in color than the sandhill cranes, probably came from one of those flocks — but they can't be sure.

"We're missing three birds from the flock on the Coast and one from the New Mexico flock, so it could be one of those," said Ely. "We really don't know for sure."

"The bird has been sighted with the Texas sandhill cranes around area lakes at least five times," she added. "Two of those sightings we consider very reliable."

It is legal for Texas hunters to kill the relatively common sandhill crane, described as a gray bird, about three and a half to four feet tall with about a five and a half foot wingspan.

Ely said the whooping crane is white, is about four to four and a half feet tall and has a seven foot wingspan. She added that the difference was "very noticeable."

Any unfortunate hunter, however, who fails to discern that difference and shoots the rare bird could face up to two years to prison and a $5,000 fine. The whooping cranes are protected under federal law.

"There is a possibility that more than one whooper is in the area, but we are thinking in terms of one," said Ely. "We want to locate it and see how it is faring before we decide what to do with it."

The whooping cranes wintering near Port Aransas migrate each year from Canada, while the four living with the New Mexico sandhill flock migrate from Idaho.

Five whooping cranes were hatched in New Mexico last year by foster parents — the sandhill cranes — after officials placed the eggs with them in an experiment.

Dr. Lamb

Fat deposits can affect brain

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Is it possible for a person to have hardening of the arteries and very good blood pressure? My husband is constantly told his blood pressure is excellent and yet he has spells of not being himself - like those I attribute to senility. What would cause a person to be two entirely different persons and fluctuate from one to the other?

If he is ill I'll stick with him, but if it's just plain cussedness, I'm not so sure.

DEAR READER—Unfortunatley people can and do develop fatty-cholesterol deposits in the arteries even though they have normal blood pressure. That is one reason why apparently healthy people may suddenly have a heart attack or stroke despite a recent medical examination which is entirely normal.

The deposits can affect the brain. This can cause personality changes and symptoms of senility.

Of course a person may have emotional problems, or psychiatric illnesses that also affect the personality. These people are just as ill as if they had diseased arteries.

When a personality problem is a matter of concern for either mate it is a good idea for both to have a complete medical examination and tell the doctor what the major problem really is. After that if is is a psychiatric problem it deserved to be treated just as much as if it were a disease of the arteries. Using newer medicines much can be done to help people with the problems similar to those you describe in your husband.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-7, Perpetual Youth, Aging. Others who want this issue can send 50 cents for it with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Just send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am 13 years old and I started menstruating at age 12. Once two other girls and I had to talk to a teacher about it. She was very understanding and didn't seem to mind at all but I did. I was beet red the whole time we were in the room.

When I get up or I'm in the hall I have a friend walk behind me to make sure it doesn't show or to see if there is anything on my clothes.

There are only two girls I can talk to about this. In P.E. I always get there first so no one will know and I always hesitate in undressing. I thought about getting some help but our counselor is a man. I even dread having my mother know I have my period. It's a great thing to have but is it normal to be so self-conscious?

DEAR READER—I'm not sure why you are so self-conscious. As you realize every girl goes through this and you are in no way unique. It is certainly a change in life to know that you are becoming a mature young lady and can one day be a mother.

Perhaps you are frightened about sexuality. Many young people are, even though it is just part of normal living, despite the miracle of life. You will need to overcome excessive shyness in this area.

Also, you need to know how to take care of yourself so you needn't fear always that others will know that you are menstruating.

Try to talk to the school nurse about it if you have one or perhaps if you have a teacher for P.E. who is a woman she can talk to you. I hope you can feel close enough to your mother to share your growing up with her. Mothers can be very helpful and all of them have had the same experience.

BALD ISN'T BEAUTIFUL.

Given a choice, most of us prefer hair, that's why Jojoba Super Shampoo has been an instant success. Excessive hair loss, dandruff, dull hair, swimmer's hair and a variety of other hair and scalp ailments are helped through its use. This remarkable new product contains the same jojoba (pronounced ho-ho-buh) bean oil that southwestern Indian tribes have used since pre-Columbian days to promote a luxuriant growth of hair. In most cases, users of Jojoba Super Shampoo notice a big improvement in the appearance and condition of their hair within a week to ten days.
