Youth's Arm Broken By Flying Rock

Rickey Jones, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richard Jones, has a broken arm, as a result of an unusual accident which occurred on the T. K. Jones ranch pasture Monday.

Rickey, accompanied by Johnny Ohlenburg of San Angelo, and Eldorado math teacher Mitchell Brannan were out at the ranch digging in what they believed was an old Indian grave. Some distance away contractors were blasting rock on the new right-of-way on Hwy. 277 which runs through the ranch. When an extra heavy blast was set off a lot of debris began falling where the boys were working. Rickey threw his arms up to protect his head and just as he did so his right arm was struck by a piece of rock with such force that the bone was fractured.

The broken bone was set at the Eldorado Clinic and young Rickey is now reported doing okay.

In announcing his candidacy, Shurley said, "A desire for sound, economic government has prompted me to seek office as your State Representative. From this week on it will be "Davidson and Blair" instead of "Yates and Davidson" as heretofore at the City Cleaners.

In a deal made last week Sybil Blair bought Doug's interest in the City Cleaners, according to information revealed Monday. Mrs. Blair has been employed in the shop for several years and is familiar with all phases of the business. We understand that Mr. Yates will stay on the job for several weeks, but he has not announced any plans beyond that time.

Women often make real good "businessmen" and we feel that Sybil will prove to be exactly that.

Vehicle Inspection Deadline Is April 15

"April 15th is the deadline for several things, one of which is having your motor vehicle inspection certificate on your car," warned Major Leo E. Gossett, commander of the 49 county West Texas region of the Department of Public Safety.

Captain R. M. Hammett, who heads the Vehicle Inspection Service for this area stated, "Our records show less than one-third of the vehicles in this area have been inspected since the new inspection year began September 1, 1963 and this means several thousand vehicles must be inspected in the two months remaining."

All motor vehicles are required to display a valid inspection certificate on or before the April 15 deadline. Those who fail to comply with this law are subject to a fine of not less than $1.00 or more than $200 and costs. "May we encourage our motorists in this area to go in now and have this safety inspection made as there are sure to be long lines waiting before the deadline," Hammett said.

Next week's Success issue will be the annual F.F.A. edition with photos, articles, etc., all pertaining to the Future Farmers here and in the state of Texas.

Lions Have Program On County's Economy

County Agent W. G. Godwin was program chairman at the meeting yesterday of the Lions club at which C. J. Hahn presided.

Mr. Godwin discussed the county's economy and how it is related primarily to agricultural production and our county population which is considered 100% rural.

He passed out questionnaire sheets to the Lions for their consideration; these related to county per capita income, oil and gas production, and our living standards in general.

Mr. Godwin pointed out that increased agricultural productivity had caused our farm population to drop in recent years while production of crops here and elsewhere remains high.

Just before the meeting, Boss Lion Hahn was surprised with a birthday cake and song by the club members.

Guests were Herman Harper of Abilene and Neil Tarvin of San Angelo.

The club is making plans for their annual Broom and Mop Sale to be held on Wednesday, March 18th.

Mrs. Dean Murr's mother, Mrs. Collingsworth of Brady, underwent surgery Monday morning in a Brady hospital. Mrs. Murr has been at her mother's bedside.

P-TA Schedules Speaker For Feb. 20

She will stress the cultural and educational background of her country and how it affects the family. This program will be of special interest to parents and students. Miss Dickie will also show slides of her home land.

TROUBLES CONTINUE TO PLAGUE KEENEY WELLS

PICTURED ABOVE is the storage tank for Forward's No. 1 Keeneey well located on the Big Lake highway, a short distance west of town. Operators continue to have trouble and the well is not responding as well as it was hoped for. Gas pressure was interfering with pumping and after that had been corrected other problems seem to have developed.

In the distance can be seen the rig which was on the 2nd Keeneey well one location west—the Holvey Enochs No. 1 Keeneey. This was drilled to contract depth of 2300 and failed to pick up a pay zone similar to Forward's, and was plugged and abandoned on Tuesday. There is a rumor that another try will be made at a location east of Forward's discovery, but at this time it remains a rumor.

It's just one more example of Schleicher county's tricky formations.

Visit Here From Canal Zone Recently

Sgt. Wilburn Clark of the U. S. Army stationed in the Panama Canal Zone the past three years, and his family were among the group of 3,000 residents and personnel evacuated within two days after the flag flare-up incident in the zone area Jan. 9. He is the brother of Mrs. R. E. Walton of Big Lake and Mrs. N. G. Hodges of Eldorado.

Sgt. Clark with Mrs. Clark and their two high school age children, Vickie and Jack, have been visiting relatives in Eldorado and Big Lake recently.

In the Army effort to evacuate all personnel except for essential operation of the canal, reassignment meant the move to Fort Ord, California, for the Clark family and a peaceful existence also, in comparing the strain of keeping the family together since that Thursday, Jan. 9.

Living in the Panamanian side of the Republic of Panama that fateful evening meant a trip by boat for Sgt. Clark to check on his son's visit to the bowling alley in the Zone area, according to Mrs. Clark. She had learned of the rising violence from a native school mate of her son Jack, along with the message that the agitators were looking for him and any other Americans that traveled freely through the Zone and the Republic of Panama.

The international incident was caused by a group of supposedly university students. It was insisted that the flag of the Republic of Panama fly over the USA school situated in the Canal Zone and that the U. S. flag be taken down. Only one flag pole had been at this particular site, however, over other places of government, churches, etc., the flags of both countries are prominently displayed. The request concerning the flag was only an excuse seized upon by known Communists of the Republic to create a political scene, according to the family. Friends of theirs who saw the agitators reported the participants as 40 and 50 year old experienced men, not young students, and the Guardia Nationale, the Panamanian Police Force, were still at last report holding at least 10 of the well-known Communists.

Bonafide university students came to the aid of the police force in tearing down the roadblocks and in trying to halt other measures of destruction continually attempted by the agitators.

According to Vickie and Jack, senior and junior students in the Colon High School, and Mrs. Clark, no previous warning of such violence was possible. They knew that they lived among some avowed Communists but paid small attention to their political activities.

In the Clark family, as well as in the news releases the discussion still continues on whether the Guardia Nationale hides some Reds. That question came up when the native police force was very late in coming to the rescue of American victims of the first roadblock. The practical viewpoint is that the police were outnumbered in the first well organized flare-up and it took time to get help, and the other opinion voiced the suspicion that Communists in headquarters could delay or forestall calls for police protection.

In the last several years more and more self government had been assumed by the Republic of Panama, a nation accustomed to army efficiency in many areas of cleanliness and sanitation. In the last year, according to the Clark students, their native classmates had been outspoken on the inefficiency of the Panamanian government and wished for a return of the rigid sanitation methods of the U. S. Army.

When first arriving the Clarks were unable to obtain housing in the Canal Zone where many of the personnel prefer to live. They rented a nice home in Colon, on the Atlantic side of the 10 mile wide and 50 mile long canal zone, and they enjoyed their locale and the schools and its activities. However, they are grateful to be in the states where they don't have to be worried about the safety of each other when separated.

Sgt. Clark's Army service has enabled the children to attend schools in Japan and in France, among other places.

While here, the Clark family were honored with a family reunion since it was his first visit in Eldorado in five years. Sgt. Clark and his family left Wednesday of last week for his new assignment at Fort Ord, California.

BROWNIES MET TUESDAY

The Second and Third grade Brownie Troop No. 153 met at the Corral Tuesday. There were nine girls and two leaders present.

The girls received their training in selling their Girl Scout cookies.

Mrs. Duncan Wilson and children accompanied Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Hope, to her home in Marfa and spent the week end.

West Texas Has Done It Again . . Now It's A Girls' Ranch at Midland

First, people who CARED established the West Texas Boys' Ranch, not for boys who were delinquent, but for those who, for want of a home, might easily become so. NOW, the same has been done for girls—the first of its kind in the nation!

It is called High Sky Girls Ranch and it is located about 3 or 4 miles northwest of Midland, Texas. The ranch was founded by the efforts, covering about a 3-year period, of Mrs. Joan Stocks Nobles, daughter of Mrs. L. H. Hicks who ranches near Ozona; and it was accomplished on a totally voluntary contribution basis—is not supported or sponsored by any particular religious or benevolent group—just West Texas people mostly, who again CARED.

The home was completed in June 1963 and the first girl was placed there on June 24, 1963. The writer has visited the Ranch, and it is a lovely, one-storey, ranch-style building, not elaborately but tastefully equipped; it can accommodate 20 girls in addition to the Ranch "parents", Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Miller. There are presently only eight girls in residence, with applications on file from many more who need to live there—but since it is new and not yet well-known, contributions are simply not enough to support all they have room for.

While the girls now living at the Ranch come from Midland, Odessa, McCombe and Dallas, and while West Texas girls will be given preference, applicants from the entire state and the nation will be considered as space and funds permit.

A large group of West Texas business men and bankers serve as directors for the physical administration and financial management of the Ranch. It is licensed by the State of Texas as a non-profit charitable organization, which means anything contributed to the Ranch is deductible as a donation to a charitable organization.

The Ranch "parents" (and they speak of the girls as "our children") are a young couple, one would guess about 35 or so, who have two children of their own, a boy who is 13 and a girl 9. Mr. Miller worked at the Midland YMCA for three years prior to his appointment to the Ranch, and Mrs. Miller was a teacher in the Midland Public Schools. The third and only other full-time staff member is Mrs. Mae Drake, a widow whose children are grown. She helps in the office and does anything else that needs doing. (The day we were there she was busily pressing some dresses!)

Several ladies in the area go to the Ranch a few hours each week to do any sewing, mending, etc., that is necessary. One Midland music teacher goes to the Ranch once a week and gives free of charge piano lessons to any of the girls who desire to study. There are four or five taking lessons now.

With this article are three snapshots of typical scenes at the Ranch. The girls accepted are from 10 to 18 years of age, and they may remain at the Ranch until they graduate from High School (all attend Midland Public schools) and until they are able to secure employment which will support them. It is the dream of the staff that someone will establish an endowment fund for college so that any of the girls who wish to continue their education beyond high school may do so.

Of course, as in any home, the girls have certain chores to do each day, such as keeping their rooms, the living room, and the dining room. What kind of girls are they? For most of them, their only future lies in this home. They come from broken homes; the parents may be alcoholics, or they may have been extremely brutal or negligent. One girl's mother abandoned her at the age of 2, and her father is now in a Veteran's Hospital. Another, when being interviewed said, "My parents are separated and neither of them wants me. I just don't know what I'm going to do."

What is the future of the ranch? It is up to us, all of us. The International Order of Eagles, upon learning of the Ranch, pledged that, when enough funds are available to provide the day-to-day upkeep, they will build a second unit like the first, thereby providing room for 40 girls in all.

Just like the Boys Ranch, there are many things they can use besides cash . . . such as: a shoe fund, a clothing fund, horses (they have two), and the girls enjoy them very much, steers, hogs, or what-have-you. They already have equipment for playing basketball, tether ball, volleyball, ping-pong, and croquet. They also have a Collie dog, a record player, a T-V set and a piano, all donated to them.

And these girls are appreciative. It is the first real home most of them have ever known. The older ones (several are in high school and one is a senior this year) want to get jobs this summer to help out, and they will be permitted to do so if suitable employment can be found for them.

So—let's get behind this very worthwhile endeavor. While the boys are the future leaders of this country, the girls are the future wives and mothers.

—Mrs. R. Q. Harris

S. C. D. Enters Goodyear Contest

Eldorado-Divide Soil (and Water) Conservation District has entered the 18th annual Goodyear competition to select the nation's top 52 conservation districts, according to J. Forrest Runge, Christoval, district chairman.

Activities of the district will be weighed against the performance of other districts in the state in determining the outstanding district in the annual event sponsored by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio.

Key agricultural leaders will serve as judges and will select the state winner. Soil conservation efforts from January 1, 1964 thru December 31, 1964, will be considered.

Grand award for the 52 districts selected nationally will be an expense paid, work-study trip to Arizona in December, 1965, for one member of the district governing body and the outstanding farmer-cooperator in each winning district. The 104 men selected will be guests at Goodyear Farms, a 14,000-acre general farm operation near Phoenix.

Eldorado Divide district has taken part in the competition 212 times in the past.

District supervisors are Otis Deal, Merton; Murton Shurley, Christoval; Doyle Johnson, Tankersley; Ben Hext, Eldorado, and J. Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

Pie meringues can cause occasional trouble for even the most experienced cook, as well as the newest bride. A friend of many years cooking experience remarked not long ago that she had completely lost her rabbit's foot when it came to making good meringue these days.

I asked her to try this recipe with these suggestions and it occurred that you might be interested too.

The best soft meringue, which is a pie meringue, is made by adding two tablespoons sugar per egg white plus 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar and a pinch of salt.

Method means much—

Let egg whites warm to room temperature for better volume. (It's cream that is chilled for whipping.)

Beat the egg whites until stiff but not dry, then begin to add the sugar, 1 teaspoonful at a time; beat well after each addition; beat until stiff peaks form. This process is a little tedious, takes a lot of patience, but is worth it after all because it is important to successful, tender meringue.

Spread the meringue on lukewarm filling. And this is a "must"—spread the meringue completely over the surface of the pie until the meringue touches the edge of the pastry all around. This "sealing" to the pastry is the one trick which protects against the danger of watering.

Bake the meringue-topped pie at a 350-degree temperature for 12 to 15 minutes, and then let the pie cool at room temperature. Never, never put the pie in the refrigerator until after it has cooled.

The amount of sugar, the manner of beating in the sugar, the spreading, the baking temperature, and cooking all make a big difference as to the quality of meringue.

One of the newest products on the market is powdered grapefruit juice. The new powder dissolves in cold water and makes a fresh flavored drink with all the nutritive value of the real fresh grapefruit. Tests of the new product will be made in certain parts of the country soon. If it goes well we will soon have it too. Keep a watch for it.

Well, what do you know? It says here that though scientists don't know why as yet, but that research at the University of Arizona shows that adding common aspirin to poultry rations causes hens to lay six per cent more eggs.

Austin.—Twenty-eight Democratic and 15 Republican candidates banged through the starting gate before last week's filing deadline in a dramatic beginning to a political year that opened with relative calm.
 A ruckus over the would-be U. S. Senate candidacy of McAllen Congressman Joe Kilgore, and Gov. John Connally's last-minute hesitancy about running for re-election, highlighted the filing-deadline spectacular.
 Kilgore decided not to run against U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough. Connally, acknowledging that he had considered retirement, went ahead and filed for a second term.
 Conservative Democrats boiled over the Kilgore incident, said it might result in a second Republican senator from Texas.
 Jack Cox, the GOP's 1962 candidate for governor against Connally, was a surprise entry in the Repub-

"Instant" Hospitals
 The State Health Department is keeper of some 92 storehouses of medical and treatment supplies (furnished by the federal government) which could be converted into hospitals almost instantly in the event of disaster.
 Eleven more "hospitals" are expected to be added to the list this month, and a master plan calls for 450 of these facilities eventually. The State Health Department is directing the Civil Defense Emergency Hospital program, and encourages local authorities to provide the needed storage space.

Appointments
 Governor Connally appointed Frank B. Appleman of Fort Worth a University of Oklahoma law graduate, to the Board of Regents of Texas Woman's University of Denton.
 He then picked Myrlin O. Johnson of Harlingen to preside over the 107th District Court in Cameron and Willacy counties. Johnson replaces Judge Hawthorne Phillips, who resigned to become Attorney General Waggoner Carr's first assistant.

Business Improves
 The 1963 index of Texas business activity was up 5.4 per cent on the average monthly level over the previous year, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.
 Austin, Amarillo and Beaumont showed highest gains. They were followed closely by Corpus Christi, Houston, Fort Worth, Galveston and Waco.
 No city showed a percentage decline.
 Bureau predicted that 1964 will be another good year as far as personal income and business activity in concerned if the federal income tax bill now in the Senate is passed.

county had been plugged without his approval.
 Texas State Teachers Association president, Mrs. Elizabeth Little of Corpus Christi, said public school teachers in the state this year will receive a salary almost $600 below the national average; teachers group has voted to fight for a salary increase when the 59th Legislature meets.
 Governor Connally authorized removal of the three remaining Confederate widows now housed in the Confederate Home for Women in Austin to a "first-class" nursing home, where he said they would receive better treatment and at less expense to the state.
 Banks in El Paso and Burkburnett were granted charters by the State Banking Board while application of Jacinto City State Bank was declined, and action again was postponed on bids for two new banks in Midland.

 Governor Connally got a new lighter cast on his damaged right arm, was pronounced in pretty good physical shape, but doctors said it will be six or eight months before he regains full strength.
 Excise taxes collected on cigarettes in Texas last month came to $7.3 million, up from $7.2 million a year ago, despite U. S. Health Service warnings about evils of smoking.
 Texas schools have been urged by the governor to give special emphasis to the state song, "Texas, Our Texas" during Public Schools Week, March 2-6, and Texas Historical Period, March 2-April 21.

Florida Celery and Peanut Butter Combinations for Lunch Box

CRISP, FRESH FLORIDA CELERY IS IN SEASON NOW. Add its distinctive flavor and texture to the nutty goodness of peanut butter and you've a winner. Peanut butter, so good nutritionally, is already a staple sandwich filling. Combined with celery, these two popular foods make a new addition to lunch box menus. Here are five ideas for peanut butter and Florida celery to sharpen up the lunch box.

1. Fill crisp celery stalks with smooth or chunky peanut butter. Wrap with transparent saran or aluminum foil. Include two or three stalks in each lunch box.
2. Spread two slices of raisin bread generously with smooth peanut butter. Sprinkle one slice with plenty of thinly sliced celery. Top, peanut butter side down, with other slice of bread to make a sandwich.
3. Mix peanut butter with equal parts of cream cheese, and a dash of salt. Spread mixture into crisp celery stalks. Chill. Slice into 1/2-inch slices and toss with grapefruit and orange sections and French dressing. Pack in a lidded paper container and include with a plastic spoon in lunch box.
4. Sauté 3 tablespoons peanut butter and 1/4 cup finely chopped celery in 1 tablespoon butter for 5 minutes. Stir in one can (10-1/2 ounces) cream of chicken soup and one soup can water. Heat. Pour into wide mouth vacuum jug and include with plastic spoon in lunch box. Makes 2 or 3 servings.
5. Fill crisp celery stalks with peanut butter. Sprinkle peanut butter with toasted coconut or chopped dates or chopped candied ginger for a treat, not too sweet. Wrap in transparent saran or aluminum foil.

Pineapple Stars in Pantry Casserole

This quick and thrifty casserole combines handsome canned pineapple slices with baked beans and corned beef hash. Many budget minded homemakers regularly stock cans of these popular items in their pantry. This supper favorite goes together in a few minutes and bakes brown and crusty in a hot oven in less than half an hour. Plan it on a menu with tossed green salad and hot rolls.

PINEAPPLE BEAN BAKE

- | | |
|--|--------------------------------------|
| 2 (1-pound) cans baked beans in tomato sauce | 1 (8 1/2-ounce) can pineapple slices |
| 1 tablespoon minced onion | 2 tablespoons brown sugar |
| 1 teaspoon horseradish | 1 tablespoon butter or margarine |
| 1 teaspoon prepared mustard | |
| 1 (1-pound) can corned beef hash | |

Combine beans, onion, horseradish and mustard in shallow baking pan. Slice corned beef hash into 8 slices; arrange with drained pineapple slices on top of beans. Sprinkle with brown sugar; dot with butter. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Miss Johnson Winner Of Homemaker Title

BARBARA JOHNSON

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, Miss Barbara Johnson of the Senior class is our school's 1964 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. She achieved the highest score here in a written knowledge and attitude examination given Dec. 3, 1963. General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the program, will award her a "Homemaker of Tomorrow" pin to signify her achievement and her test paper will be entered in competition for state honors.

The state Homemaker of Tomorrow will be awarded a $1,500 college scholarship and will be named a national finalist. Her school will be presented with a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica, awarded by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. The state's second ranking girl will receive a $500 scholarship.

In the spring, state Homemakers of Tomorrow, each accompanied by a school advisor, will enjoy an expense-paid educational tour to Colonial Williamsburg, Va., Washington, D.C., and New York City. The trip will be climaxed with the naming of the 1964 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. She will be chosen on the basis of her original test score together with personal observation and interviews during the trip. Her scholarship will be increased to $5,000. National runners-up will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

All-time highs in the number of senior high school girls and schools enrolled marked this, the tenth annual Betty Crocker Search program. More than 484,000 girls in 14,000 of the nation's schools participated. Since the program was launched, more than three and a half million girls have participated and scholarships approximat-ating one million dollars have been awarded.

The Betty Crocker Search is approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Judging is by Science Research Associates of Chicago, nationally known educational publishing and testing organization.

Glass Doors Can Be Danger To Unwary

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.

And they also should be aware it's necessary to slide open the glass door before walking briskly through it to the patio.

An estimated 40 thousand persons each year try to walk through glass doors, glass walls and picture windows. There are many more actually, but at least this number is injured so severely that they show up in accident records. Almost six thousand wind up in the hospital and some even die from severe cuts and loss of blood.

The problem of glass door accidents has become so widespread in this era of extensively used glass in new buildings and homes that many localities have adopted building codes requiring that safety glass be used.

Interestingly enough, over two-thirds of the glass door injuries occur to males. And children 5 to 14 years account for one-third of all injuries.

Analysis of glass door injuries show that over three-fourths of the injuries occur in the home—about three-fourths when the victim is passing from inside to outside.

Hurrying is the major cause, much more so than slipping, or crowding, or horseplay.

This doesn't mean that you should promptly brick up your sliding glass patio doors and picture windows. It does mean that some precautions are in order to avoid injury to yourself, your family or a guest.

Many newer homes have safety glass panels, and these won't shatter. Safety glass can raise a bump, but it won't shatter and cut.

Check your glass doors, and if you don't have safety glass, the first step is to call a family conference, with everyone present. The head of the household can brief the family on the dangers of severe injury from shattered glass.

Another safeguard is to attach decals or bright tape to the glass at eye level—eye levels for both children and adults. For added safety, you might install a safety bar or two.

Glass door injuries are almost entirely preventable, except in the rare instances of a stumbling fall. If you do live in at least a partially glass house, take the simple safety precautions to protect your family from severe, and perhaps fatal, injury. —Texas State Dept. of Health.

BERNIERE'S GREAT BURNING GLASS SHOWN GENERATING HEAT FROM THE SUN'S RAYS. FROM AN 18TH-CENTURY FRENCH PRINT.

FROM the beginning of time, man has striven to find a source of power to make life more enjoyable; to reduce his work load. Meager ideas have led to the greatest source of energy for turning dreams into reality... electricity. There is virtually nothing that electricity cannot do... faster and cheaper than any other form of energy.

America's growth to the dynamic and industrialized civilization that it is today stems from the country's utilization of electrical power to produce a better way of life, more products, jobs and services.

Electricity powers progress... something to think about during National Electrical Week.

West Texas Utilities, an investor-owned company, is proud to be a part of the Electrical Industry and to pay its respect to the Industry founders.
