$307 Reported In Heart Fund Drive

Mrs. Curtis Short, county chairman of the Heart Fund drive, reported Tuesday that a total of $307.79 had been deposited in the bank to the fund's credit.

This should be regarded as the close of the drive, but Mrs. Short said that a few checks were still dribbling in.

The high point of the drive was the week end of Heart Sunday (Feb. 23) when a canvass of the town was made by about 15 volunteer workers.

The Heart Fund is conducted nationally throughout the month of February.

Girls Lose To Canutillo Monday

Coach Jack Bell's girls' basketball team journeyed to El Paso Sunday and met the Canutillo girls Monday night for bi-district. The Canutillo girls' team topped our team 49-32, so it will be the Canutillo girls who go to Lubbock this week end for the regional Class A tournament.

The Eldorado girls took only four field goals in the game, and Canutillo came from behind in the second quarter with a 23-point performance, after trailing Eldorado early in the game.

High scorer for Canutillo was Margie Alderete with 25. For Eldorado, Christy Moore scored 21 and Susie Scott 6.

Score by quarters:
Canutillo	5	23	9	12-49
Eldorado	11	9	3	9-32

Former Residents Lose Grandson

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Potter, who now live at 917 Zarsky in Corpus Christi, recently notified the Success that their grandson, Nolen Thomas (Tom) Potter, had died of a brain tumor recently at the age of 20.

The M. L. Potters are former residents of this county and he served as County Commissioner while he lived here.

Tom Potter of Jacksonville died in a Little Rock hospital. He was a 1961 graduate of Jacksonville High school.

Survivors include his parents, Col. and Mrs. Nolen Potter of Jacksonville; three brothers, John Potter, Bill Potter and Bob Potter all of Jacksonville; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. (Muncie) Potter of Corpus Christi, Texas, and Mrs. T. R. Howard of San Antonio.

Following funeral services in the First Baptist church Tuesday in Jacksonville at which Dr. B. Franklin Bates officiated, the body was taken to the Howard cemetery at Devine, Texas, for interment.

Historical Society Sets Program Apr. 12

Mrs. J. Forrest Runge presided at the meeting last Friday afternoon of the Schleicher County Historical Society in the club room of the Memorial Building.

Those present voted to have a program on Sunday afternoon, April 12, to dedicate the Gustav Schleicher monument west of the jail building, and the historical medallions to be put on the jail and on the Col. Black residence in the east part of the county near Fort McKavett.

John Ben Sheppard and possibly others are to be invited to the dedication program. Further plans will be announced later as they are worked out.

At the same meeting, Tom Meador read some biographical data on the two dozen Civil War soldiers who are buried in the local cemetery and on whom he has compiled some facts by writing to the National Archives in Washington and other sources. Meador was also elected official historian of the local society.

The County Historical Society has been in the process of organizing itself with preserving historical sites of interest in the county, and with interviewing the "old-timers" who are left in order that their experiences may be preserved for future generations.

Fred Riley Will Manage Swim Pool

At their Feb. 24 meeting, the County Commissioners entered into a contract hiring Fred Riley to manage the county swimming pool this summer, and to operate the pool between June 1st and Sept. 1st.

The Court will pay Riley $400 on July 13 and another $400 on Sept. 14 for operating the pool in the 1964 season.

At the same meeting, the Commissioners hired Jerry J. Jones as a county road employee beginning Feb. 15 at a monthly salary of $350.

Post Script

You have already read about the Supreme Court decision which stipulates that voting districts must be laid out on an equal population basis.

Texas is one of the states that acknowledges that its Congressional districts are terribly unequal and will have to be redrawn. The question now is, will it have to be done this year or in time for the election two years from now. Most likely the state will be granted a reasonable time to bring about the change.

When the change does take place we will find that our (Fisher's) 21st Congressional will be about doubled in size in order to bring it in line population-wise.

The fundamental principle laid down by the Supreme Court is that one man's vote will be worth as much as another's.

We talked about this thing with Jim Nugent, our state legislator, when he was here last week, and we asked him if this principle of "one-man, one-vote" would eventually extend down to counties and its commissioner precincts. "Absolutely!" he said, "and you might just as well get ready for it."

We hereby pass the word along to our Commissioners Court that they start thinking about it.

In the last 15 years the idea has cropped up a number of times that all precincts should corner in Eldorado in order to give each precinct a nearly-equal number of voters. The proposal has always been dropped.

The commissioners themselves will be responsible for making the change. Better to do it voluntarily than wait until they are forced to.

Here is another inquiry that has come to the Success office in regard to an old timer...

Mrs. Joseph P. Adams writes from 6447 S.W. 14 Street, Miami, Florida 33144:

"May I thank you for sending me two copies of your very interesting paper. I was particularly interested in the article about Mrs. A. J. Garner. I was prompted to write you about your paper in the hope of tracing the Millard family. Several of the Millard children were born in the early 1900's in Eldorado, my mother being one. This is all I know of the family except of the fact that they were children of Fredrick Sips Millard and Lucy Woodard Millard and that they 'go back' to Robert and Henry Millard who came to Texas in 1826 and fought in the Texas Revolution. Henry Millard founded the town of Beaumont, Texas.

"If at any time you come across any information about the Millard family who lived in Eldorado at the turn of the century I should be delighted to hear from you.—Very truly yours, Molly S. Adams (Mrs. Jos. P.)"

It was a Millard who built the large frame house in western Eldorado that he later sold to the D. C. Hills. The Hill family still own the house and it is now occupied by Misses Miltia and Katherine Hill.

Anyone with further information on the Millards may write to Mrs. Adams in Miami.

In last week's Success issue, the Civil War column written by Dayton Kelley of Mary Hardin-Baylor College at Belton was placed under the heading of Tiny Godwin's county agricultural column, by mistake, as the printers were assembling the pages.

Mr. Godwin reported that two or three people now call him the "Old Civil War Vet" and that a few others remarked about it.

The Success crew regret the error in the make-up, and we didn't see it ourselves until last week's paper was printed and mailed.

Next week's issue of the Success will be our annual Girl Scout Edition with photos, write-ups, etc. pertaining to the theme of Girl Scout Week which will be under way then.

The sheriff's office reported Monday that as of that day only 4 voters had registered to vote for federal officials in the elections this year. Deadline for this special registration for voters who did not pay a poll tax is tomorrow, Friday.

Also Monday, the sheriff's office had sold only about 150 vehicle license tags for the new year. Less than a month is left for taking care of the matter before the April 1 deadline.

The basketball ballyhoo is over now for the season, but Eldoradoans can be proud of the fine showings made by both boys' and girls' teams. Now, students can await the end-of-school events.

Eagle Cagers Lose To Sanford-Fritch

The Eagle Basketball team left Friday, Feb. 23, for Lubbock to participate in Regional Basketball play. The group arrived in Lubbock at 2:00 p.m. and worked out in Texas Tech's old gym. Friday night they attended the basketball games.

Saturday morning the Eagles played Sanford-Fritch and lost 67-48. Sanford-Fritch won the regional title Saturday night and the right to play in the State Tourney in Austin.

During the first half Eldorado hit only 8 of 37 shots for 22 per cent. The Eagles led the floor 16 points behind at half-time. During the third period Eldorado closed the gap to 10 points, but Richard Preston and Lynn Meador fouled out and Sanford-Fritch increased their lead to the final margin. The Eagles closed the season with a 23-4 record.

Gasser Finaled For 11-Million Cubic Feet

The most encouraging oil news in Schleicher county came late last week when Forward Oil Co. of San Angelo reported figures on their two recently completed wild-cats.

Their No. 1 Keeney, a 2200-foot test a mile west of the Eldorado cotton gin was reported making 75 barrels of oil daily on the pump.

Forward No. 1 Case was completed for 11½ million cubic feet of gas per day and is now shut in. There is some speculation that Brooks Pipe Line will be extended from the Roach well down to provide an outlet for the Case well, but there is nothing definite on this.

A look at a county map shows that the Case well is about midway between the Roach and T. K. Jones gassers and no doubt there will be more exploratory tests in that area this year. But until pipeline outlets are provided oil companies are not likely to drill more wells than they have to.

Tucker No. 1 Schrank was plugged and abandoned last week. It was located southwest of Case a short distance from H. A. Belk's residence.

Tucker No. 1 Henderson east of Eldorado also plugged last week.

Tucker No. 1 Mittel drilling this week at about 2500 feet.

Standard No. 2 Henderson in Velvex field drilling near 4900 ft.

Midwest No. 1 Isaacs was drilling around 4900 at last report.

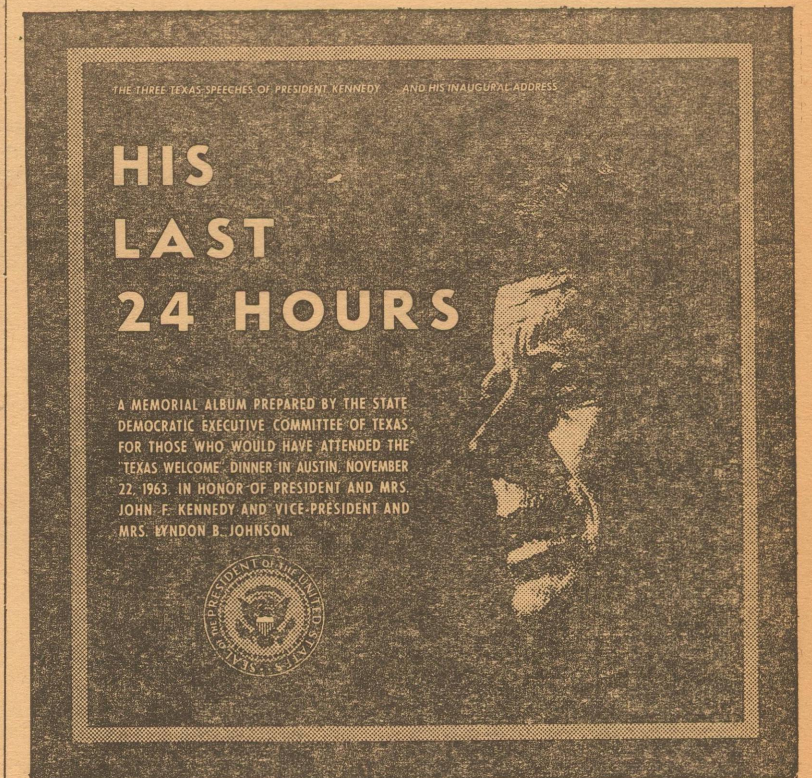

Hill And Oglesby On School Ballot

W. R. Bearce, county judge, reported Wednesday at noon that Jo Ed Hill had filed for re-election and Ford Oglesby, Jr., had also filed for a place on the ballot for the School Trustee election coming up early in April.

The terms of Jo Ed Hill and Mrs. J. Forrest Runge are currently expiring and Wednesday midnight was deadline for candidates to file for a place on the ballot.

Monday is deadline for nominees for City Alderman to file.

Martyred President Honored With Record

MEMORIAL ALBUM—this handsome record jacket, featuring a black, white and gold color theme, is part of the memorial packet now being mailed by the State Democratic Executive Committee of Texas in memory of the late President Kennedy.

Austin.—"His Last 24 Hours", an hour-long record of President Kennedy's three Texas speeches along with his inaugural address, is being mailed this week as part of a memorial packet prepared by the State Democratic Executive Committee of Texas.

The SDEC is mailing the packets to those holding tickets to the "Texas Welcome Dinner" which was scheduled in Austin for November 22. None of the packets are for sale.

The packet also includes a souvenir program, which would have been distributed at the dinner, and the complete texts of the speeches President Kennedy would have delivered in Dallas and Austin.

"His Last 24 Hours" includes on-the-spot recordings of President

Kennedy's speeches in San Antonio, Houston and Fort Worth.

The commentary begins with President Kennedy's arrival by jet in San Antonio and is climaxed by the introduction of the President's inaugural address. The narrative dialogue is printed on the back of the album jacket.

Carroll Abbott wrote the narration, produced the record and designed the album jacket, which features a copyrighted profile of President Kennedy taken by Gilbert Barrera in San Antonio.

Dick McGrew of Dallas was the production engineer. Dave Naugle of Fort Worth did the narration and the University of Texas Longhorn Band under the direction of Vincent R. DiNino, supplied the background music of "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

J. D. Huckaby Back From Corvaire Demonstration

J. D. HUCKABY is back on the job at Eagle Chevrolet Company after attending a spectacular mass drive-away of new Corvaire at Arlington, Texas sponsored by the Dallas Zone of Chevrolet Motor Division. Mr. Huckaby is shown accepting the keys to his 1964 Corvaire from Mr. W. A. McKee, Dallas Zone manager.

Along with 157 other Chevrolet dealers, Mr. Huckaby made an extensive tour of the General Motors assembly plant which recently added Chevrolet passenger car assembly to its responsibilities.

The factory inspection trip preceded a business session where the growing opportunities of the expanding youth market, multi-car families and the influence of women in today's marketing were reviewed for visiting dealers. The opportunities for Corvaire sales in these markets were stressed since it is the only economical, rear engine, fun to drive car made in America.

Ranching—Rainfall—Flexibility

Rainfall is of prime importance to the ranchman in that it helps determine how much range feed he can grow. Checking the rainfall records of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District for the past 10 years one can see the need for flexibility in ranching operations to keep from losing the cover on the range and keep production on a sustained basis.

The average annual rainfall thru 1963 was approximately 19.8 in the district. If this much was actually received each year, management would be relatively simple. This is not the case, however, as 60% of the years fall below the average during the past ten years. A few years receive average and above rainfall, and the remaining years below average. Therefore, if a rancher stocks on the basis of 19 or 20 inches of rainfall he will be short of feed over half the time. This is the reason our ranges at this time of the year look so barren a big part of the time.

Past history tells us that at least one-fourth of the years will fall below the 19-20 inch average. If history repeats itself, we can expect 25% of the years in the future to be drought years, receiving between 10 and 17 inches of rain. This only brings out the fact that droughts are a definite part of our climate and special adjustments and management is required to offset their damaging effects.

Won't Work

It will not work to base management on the wet years. If ranges are stocked for the wet years, severe overgrazing will occur 6 out of 10 years when less than average rainfall is received. This shows that droughts are a definite part of our climate and weather. This being the case we need special management in our ranch operations to protect our ranges against these below normal rainfall years.

A number of our conservation ranchmen have found that best results are received by basing management about 25% below normal. Extra forage grown in wetter years can be utilized by buying stocker animals in the fall, holding over calves and lambs or taking in livestock on a leased basis. Stocker animals can be sold off readily when dry weather occurs. Their system enables them to maintain a stable breeding herd and a reserve of forage for the dry years. This also permits ranges to improve and increase in production.

Like one rancher put it, "I can make a profit each year instead of making more one year and spending it all or more for feed the next."

Rainfall Months

Generally our highest rainfall months are April, May, and September. This is also the season of hard rains which produce high runoff and erosion of a grass cover is not present. Research has found that approximately 70% of the runoff and erosion takes place during April and May. This brings out the fact that we should wind up the grazing season in March with a good cover of grass left on the range. Ranges should be grazed so as to keep a good cover on them throughout the year.

To make our moisture go further we should use every possible proven conservation practice. As has been said, we receive our moisture generally in April and May. Then highest temperatures of the year during July and August with low rainfall. At this time management should be carried out so as to leave a good cover at this time to keep evaporation down and the soil cool. Bare soil at this time of year will reach 135 to 140 degrees. This causes high evaporation and weak plants. When soil becomes 130 degrees all available moisture is needed by plants for cooling rather than growth. Bacteria in the soil die at 140 degrees. Under good cover, soil temperature will stay 10 to 15 degrees below air temperature, causing low evaporation and making use of available moisture for plant growth.

Two-year droughts can be expected every eight to ten years, with more severe ones coming every 16 to 20 years. Ranges properly stocked, and managed properly in good condition can stand a short drought without much damage to vegetation and will not throw a rancher in a "tail spin." Droughts of longer duration should cause the range manager concern to the point that he would make quick reduction in livestock to prevent extensive damage to vegetation and soil. This can also save big feed bills.

Mrs. C. R. Keeney will be hostess Saturday to an all-day meeting of the San Angelo Porcelain Art Guild. She will have about 25 women as guests in her home.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

What the tax cut means to Schleicher county.

Schleicherites will have extra buying power for the remainder of 1964. By the sum of $98,000, or approximately $9,800 per month.

No one knows for sure what consumers will do with these extra dollars from the tax cut, but a well established pattern of recent years indicate that about 65% will be spent for consumer goods.

In all of Texas it amounts to about $320 million or $32 million per month. The average income in Schleicher is $220 more than the state average.

In 1965, another tax cut goes into effect which should increase the figure somewhat for each tax payer in the county.

Very often a fight for what is right turns into a quarrel for what is left.

Ronnie Mittel, ASCS office manager, has reminded producers that March 15 is the last day that an application can be made to request drought feed under the Emergency Livestock Program. According to Mr. Mittel the Emergency Livestock Program will expire on March 31st.

A profitable lamb by today's standards is one that will weigh at least 90 pounds at 120 days old, has a 2.5 square inch loin eye per 50 pounds of carcass, carries a fat thickness of 0.18 to 0.30 inches, will grade USDA choice, and has 50% liveweight in the carcass.

Farmers in the county who have not done so are advised to get familiar with herbicides such as atrazine, simazine, propazine and others that are on the market. The efficiency of these herbicides saves time by reducing cultivation, by killing weeds and grass. These herbicides can be applied in a band over the row as you plant, or plant and then broadcast. However, the herbicide will have to be tilled lightly or rain must carry it down to the weeds and grass root zone.

To get ready for this application will cost some $20. A few simple alterations to the sprayer will include 50-mesh or coarser screens in nozzles, in suction and inline strainers. A pump that will maintain 25-40 pounds of pressure per minute. In addition to the by-pass, another separate agitation line—equipped with a jet agitator, is essential, to assure proper suspension of the herbicide.

With the price of labor this another step in the production of crops in the county. About 3 3/4 pounds per acre should be used.

W. O. Faul of the County Crops Committee will demonstrate and is anxious for others to join him in the use of herbicides for grass and weed control in crops.

When the pessimist thinks he is taking a chance, the optimist feels he is grasping an opportunity.

This year the screwworm program is rolling with a record-breaking five week period with no infestations in the State of Texas. Sixty million sterile flies were released on the boundary between Texas and Old Mexico known as the Protective Zone.

Complete eradication will depend upon how prompt the few remaining cases are reported by ranchers. Then too, in the spring and summer spraying and treatment of wounds will be a big factor in eradication.

A halo only has to fall a few inches to become a noose.

Peace Corps Tests Set

The Peace Corps has announced that the next Peace Corps Placement Test, required of all applicants interested in serving overseas, will be given on Saturday, March 14, at approximately 825 locations in principal cities over the United States, including room 324, Federal Building, in San Angelo. The Test begins at 8:30, local time.

Over 5,000 qualified Volunteers are needed to begin training this summer, said Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps. The most critical skills in demand, he said, are in the fields of agriculture, health, engineering, construction and education—particularly math and science teaching. But the Peace Corps, he added, also needs people skilled in physical education, home economics, architecture, geology, social work, and several hundred other categories to fill additional requests from the 46 countries where the Peace Corps is now working.

The two required tests, the General Aptitude Test and the Modern Language Aptitude Test, take about one and a half hours to complete.

Heart Condition Is Determined By Exam

Mankind has always been faced with the riddle of life and death. This problem increases, as does age, along with maturity and broadening responsibilities.

Centuries ago, war, famine and infectious diseases plagued man and limited life expectancy to about 30 years of age. Now with social reforms and better health facilities, people are building their plans for lifespan of 70 to 80 years. Unfortunately, many of man's greatest hopes and dreams are swept away by sudden, unexpected death.

Although accidental death and suicide certainly account for many unexpected deaths in America, the greatest cause is heart disease. In Texas, as well as the nation, heart disease takes the greatest percentage of lives each year.

Presently, research personnel all over the world are trying to find the key that unlocks the gateway to a life free from coronary artery disease.

High blood pressure, elevation of the serum cholesterol, emotional stress, obesity, cigarette smoking and decreased physical activity have each been identified as factors increasing the risk of heart disease. Heredity is probably a factor of equal importance.

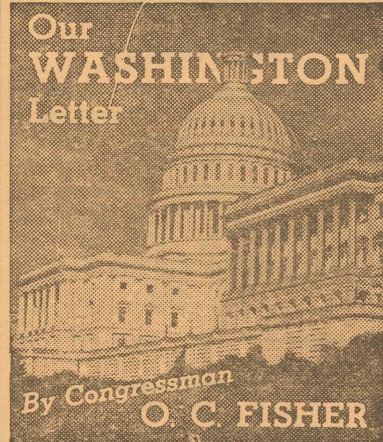

Just as diabetes requires people to take certain precautions to avoid serious trouble, it may be that people carrying a high risk of heart disease will one day choose to act accordingly. They could steer away from some enemies of a healthy heart such as inadequate exercise, overweight, and cigarette smoking.

Since emotional stress—call it worry if you like—may contribute to the risk of heart disease, don't do it: Have regular physical examinations instead. Your doctor can discover most forms of heart disease in their early stages, but only if you give him a chance to do so. More serious damage can usually be averted or delayed if the condition is found early and the doctor's instructions are fully carried out.

And if you have heart disease, do what your doctor permits—no more and no less.

Emergency medical care of a person having a heart attack may mean the difference between life and death. But if preventive measures are exercised earlier, you may avoid, or at least reduce, the chances of having a coronary artery disease. —from the State Department of Health.

Taxpayers got a break last week when the House voted down a bill, which had previously passed the Senate, to authorize $312 million for what is known as the International Development Association. This vote was taken the very next day after the $11.6 billion tax reduction bill was cleared.

This Association is composed of 17 nations, and has been in business for three years. Each member nation contributes money to it, and an international board then dishes the money out in the form of loans or gifts. Repayments would go into a revolving fund.

The current target is to raise $750 million in contributions, with Uncle Sam putting up the $312 million—or 41% of the total. Loans can be made, practically interest-free, with up to 50 years for payment. Since we would have to borrow the $312 million and start paying interest at about 4%, it was estimated by the time it is over the $312 million would, with interest added, cost the American taxpayers over a billion dollars.

Actually, this is a foreign aid program, pure and simple. By putting the $312 million additional into it, we would lose all control over how it would be spent. There would never be any repayment to us. Thirteen of the 17 nations that compose the Association, and that make contributions to the fund, now receive some form of foreign aid from us.

As I see it, if we are to dish out $312 million of the taxpayers' money we should at least keep control over to whom it is given and under what terms. Moreover, we cut a billion off of foreign aid last fall, and this is no time to be restoring that reduction.

I joined with eight other Texas members in voting against the bill; eight Texans voted for it, with 5 absent. The House defeated it by a majority of 208 to 188. If the recent tax cut is not to magnify our financial woes, the Congress must hold the line against this sort of nonessential spending. There will be many tests in the months ahead on who is willing to vote as well as talk in terms of belt tightening. This victory was not impressive, and we can expect some close battles between now and adjournment.

W.T.U. To Pass On Tax-Cut Savings

Savings resulting from the reduction in Federal income taxes will be passed on to West Texas Utilities customers according to plans for system-wide rate reductions announced recently. These reductions in rates will save customers about $1 million annually, approximately 2.8% at this time. Savings will be even greater as electric sales grow.

Charlie Hahn, WTU local manager, announced that the Company plans to pass on the full benefits of the tax reduction which it will receive under the new tax law. Under the new law the income tax on corporations will be reduced in two steps of 2% each. The corporate income tax will go from 52% to 50c in 1964 and from 50% to 48% in 1965.

"We are giving customers the benefit of both the tax reduction already established for 1964 and the tax reduction scheduled for 1965," Cal Young, WTU president said. "Passing this tax saving on to customers in the form of rate reductions will simply leave the company with the same rate of return it has been earning."

"Such system-wide rate reductions require extensive study," Young continued. "In addition, after the new rates are designed, considerable work will have to be done to adjust our IBM computer billing procedures to these new rates." Young added, "We expect to have the new rates in effect by mid-summer . . . probably July or August. Prior to the time the rates are placed in effect, they must be approved by each incorporated city."

"WTU has a unique record for any industry . . . one of which we are very proud," Young pointed out. "WTU has never raised a rate. Through the years we have consistently reduced the cost of service as plant efficiency and improved operations, together with increased customer usage permitted. This planned rate reduction is a continuation of that long-established policy."

WTU supplies electric service for Eldorado and 165 other West Texas towns and communities in 50 counties extending from the Red River to the Rio Grande.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

If a new hat will do the trick, we have quite a number of lifted spirits in and around our area these days. And—they do say that Spring hats will cure winter doldrums. It has all come about as a result of the hat making school which was conducted at the Memorial Building last week.

On Monday, February 24th, a rash of alarm clocks started going off at what seemed to some, at midnight, in Schleicher and neighboring counties. More than 30 women were members of the workshop and they came from all over. One came from Howard county, five from Tom Green county, one from Irion, and two from Menard. The rest were home folks but at that Fannie O'Harrow, Edith Hartgraves and Gladys Mittel couldn't sleep much later than some of the other commuters.

They actually made hats. From the top of the crown to the edge of the brim they created a real hat. And the hats were stunning, beautifully made. Everybody amazed each other with their creations.

The fun part of this kind of activity is that the teaching and learning goes far beyond the making of a hat just for this Spring. Women who attended the workshop will be able to make next winter's hat, a hat for next spring, a hat for a friend, a wedding hat a granddaughter's hat, a hat for all seasons.

Another nice angle to this activity is that just for once a person can beat the high price tag. Hats were made which cost 8 or 10 dollars and would have sold for twenty-nine, ninety-five. (No hat, or anything else for that matter, ever sells for an even figure.) Someone said the other day, "But I never buy a $29.95 hat." But—if you can make one for a reasonable price, you can own a $29.95 hat, at one third the price.

I had a nice letter from Mrs. Mae Mears, the workshop instructor from Fort Worth, yesterday and she thanked us all sincerely for making her stay in Eldorado so pleasant and satisfying.

Mrs. Mears teaches nearly 1,000 women each year and she said that we were one of the smallest towns she had ever worked in and that the school was one of the best she had conducted.

I was proud of everybody at the school.

Mrs. Cecil Williams accomplished an almost impossible feat. She took notes of such detailed clarity that anyone can follow her directions and make a hat now. Gertrude not only took notes—she made two very handsome hats. One, made of draped blue silk, material left from a dress, will cost about 75 cents or a dollar. But what I started to say was that Gertrude has offered her notes of directions to be mimeographed and if you would like a copy just give me a call.

These notes will be mailed to each member of the class without their requests.

Everybody remembers the Methodist cook book of several years ago. And they remember what wonderful recipes were in it and how impossible it would be if we set out on our own to gather favorite recipes from our friends.

Well, they are going to put out another cookbook. I had a note from Frances Peters, chairman of the committee from the Dora Lee circle, and she offers us all this chance to possibly become famous if we send in a recipe that might live longer than we do.

Frances says that the book will be divided into the food categories usually found: meats, vegetables, pickles and relishes, desserts, candies, cakes, cookies, pies, bread and salads.

Mail the recipes to Frances—Mrs. E. Peters, Eldorado, Texas. Check them for accuracy. I suppose the most common mistake happens when the abbreviations for teaspoons and tablespoons are mixed up. It does make a difference. Once I visited a friend, a bride of a few months and hardly any cook at all. She asked me to look at a chocolate pudding. We had to look at it. It was in no shape to be tasted. I asked to see her cook book, and sure enough—like we'd never guess—the book had made the mistake.

The recipe called for 2 cups of flour for thickening instead of 2 tablespoons. You and I would have known better but Margaret didn't. So—check your favorite recipe and mail it to Frances now. I'm going to give about a half dozen of them. It may be the only book I'll ever be in.

Jim Bob has changed his name. He says that from here on out he wants to be called "Clay McCord." He also added that this would be "forever" if he doesn't forget the name.

Pasadena, Texas, is a Spanish name meaning "Land of Flowers."

Summer Camp Plans To Be Launched In Angelo

Task Force '64 is the title of the summer camp promotion plan recently announced by the Concho Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America. Bob Warner, Twin Mountain District Camping and Activities chairman, stated, "We urge the troop committee chairman to bring his Camping Committeeman and the Scoutmaster, and his Senior Patrol Leader to this important meeting. A table will be reserved for each troop and a Task Force '64 Scouter will lead the table discussion."

Austin.—Courts are making the news these days.

Texas Supreme Court will hear arguments in an important test case which will determine whether holders of paid political offices can run for the Legislature during their present elective or appointive terms.

Truman P. Kirk, Abilene lawyer and legislative candidate, is trying to keep 104th Dist. Atty. Tom Todd off the Democratic ballot. Todd's term as D. A. runs through December 31, although he resigned effective November 1.

Present office holder is Rep. Allen Glenn of Abilene.

Court's decision will affect many local office holders over the state similarly seeking legislative places this year.

In earlier action the State Supreme Court lost little time in polishing off an attempt to ban, from jury service, all who saw telecasts of the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald.

High court refused a request, by Jack Ruby's attorneys, for permission to file a petition for mandamus to force Dallas Trial Judge Joe B. Brown to accept two televisioners as defense witnesses.

A day later the Court turned down another motion for leave to file a mandamus pleading. This was from Leroy Roach of Brownwood. Roach has tried unsuccessfully to get his name on the 64th District ballot as a legislative candidate. Area includes Brown, Coleman, Comanche and Runnels counties.

Roach's application arrived after the filing deadline, and was not sent by registered or certified mail. So the Democratic county chairmen rejected it.

James M. Bushnell, convicted of robbery in Orange county nearly 20 years ago, finally won a new trial. Court of Criminal Appeals said he was entitled to one under the recent U. S. Supreme Court ruling that every indigent person charged with a felony must have a court appointed attorney. Bushnell had no lawyer at the original trial.

THE HIGH ROAD

L.W. PRENTISS

Handsome Highways
Modern highways are designed to be efficient, long-lasting . . . and handsome. Highway engineers nowadays definitely have an eye for beauty.

Of course, the design engineer must also be cost conscious. He is sure to be criticized if his highway design calls for "frills." Fortunately, beauty and frugality in highway design are not incompatible. The engineer often uses his ingenuity to design a highway that is handsome at no extra cost.

For instance, the modern practice is to take advantage of the natural terrain to design long, easy curves that blend pleasingly into the landscape without sacrificing the motorist's clear view of the road ahead. Such a road is not necessarily more expensive to build than one that is constructed in long, straight slashes, and it is likely to pay dividends in safety because it is less fatiguing to drive on.

A small stand of trees in the median strip of a multilane highway not only is attractive but also shields motorists from the headlight glare of opposing traffic. The same safety advantage is gained when side-hill topography makes it possible to build the two halves of a divided highway at different elevations. Sometimes a small stream flows between the two roadways of a valley highway.

Because highway engineers now have stronger materials to work with, new bridges and overpass structures are likely to have the lightness and openness associated with modern architecture. Structures are simpler, more graceful.

By working with nature instead of against nature, designers beautify roadside slopes and at the same time minimize drainage and snow control problems, thus holding down maintenance costs.

No doubt there are many beauty aids for highways that are still undiscovered. The whole science of roadbuilding has advanced tremendously in the last ten years, and new engineering developments are coming thick and fast. There is a growing recognition that the design features that tend to reduce drivers' tension are important in accident prevention. In other words, good-looking highways are likely to be safer highways!

As highway construction technology continues to advance, we can look forward to safer driving on more and more good roads that look good.

Touring Texans
Two Texas tourists got home from Germany with high hopes they have been successful in interesting Germans in touring Texas.

Sen. Walter Richter of Gonzales and Walter Meyer of San Antonio made the trip as official goodwill envoys. They got to Dusseldorf in time for Meyer to ride in a carnival parade in full cowboy attire. Richter said many German children wear cowboy suits, and they hope to capitalize on their interest in cowboys to perk up Texas tourist business.

Tax Picture Brightens
If U. S. Treasury Department slide rule forecasters are right, the federal income tax cut will ease the revenue raising pressure on the next Legislature.

Treasury department officials say the income tax cut will put more money in circulation, which will mean more spending—and thus more sales taxes.

Furthermore, the federal tax cut is seen by state economists as encouraging industrial construction and having "an invigorating effect" on the Texas economy in general.

Overall effect could be to drastically alter the state and local tax picture in 1965.

New Scenic Attraction
State Highway Commission, which has authorized more than $128,500,000 worth of road construction in the burgeoning Houston area, discovered a new tourist attraction when a Comal county delegation asked for a 13.9-mile farm-to-market road to connect Interstate Highway 35 with Natural Bridge Caverns and Canyon Dam.

There is no road to Natural Bridge Caverns now. But the delegation elicited excitement from

Short Snorts
U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough has opened Austin campaign headquarters with Emerson Stone Jr., of Jacksonville as his statewide campaign manager. . . Don Yarborough Democratic candidate for governor also opened a campaign base here, naming Bill McIntyre of Navasota as his state operations manager. . . Governor Connally answered state capitol reporters' protest on closed door sessions of his Committee on Education Beyond the High School by saying he doesn't believe in government secrecy, but he defended the right of the committee to hold private meetings.

Several From Here Hear Paul Harvey

Paul Harvey, nationally-known radio broadcaster and commentator for the American Broadcasting Company, spoke to a near-capacity crowd last Friday night in the Civic Auditorium in San Angelo and a number of Schleicher county residents were on hand to hear him.

Mr. Harvey, a man most often described as "courageous" has had his remarks quoted by virtually every national publication. His comments have been reprinted in the Congressional Record innumerable times. His story is a love story—the story of a man with an undying love for his country.

Beginning his radio career as early as age 15, Paul Harvey has hammered hard at inadequacies in government and other fields, but always he says, he has been fighting "not against men, but against ideas which destroy men."

News coverage frequently takes Mr. Harvey to other lands in which case he spends as little time with "the brass" and as much time with "the people" as possible. He operates on the premise that "You can no more judge England from London than you can judge the U. S. from Times Square."

Mr. Harvey holds doctorate of letters degrees from Culver-Stockton College in Missouri and St. Bonaventure University in New York for distinguished service to his fellow citizens. In 1959 he received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from John Brown University, "to recognize your outstanding leadership in the broadcasting field."

He was voted the "man who contributed most toward preserving the American Way of Life" by the Sumter Guards of South Carolina.

Mr. Harvey's address Friday night was sponsored by San Angelo Conservatives, Inc.

He cited the fact that so many people are now on the public dole that no politician can now dare to vote cutting back public assistance since 8-million people are a sizable voting bloc.

He said both the Democrats and Republicans have a shortage of men capable of filling top-level jobs as nominees for President and Vice-President and that already they are having to cast about their groups of party hacks. The national conventions of both parties come up this summer.

Well-known for his conservatism, Mr. Harvey summed up by contending that each American could do his part to help his country get back on the straight and narrow by influencing those immediately around him, and by re-infiltrating politics at the grass-roots level.

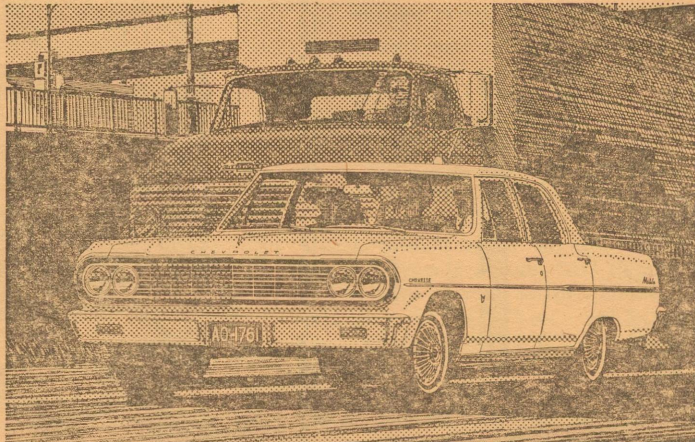

There is not now a need for more organizations but for revitalizing those organizations we already have, he stated.

Among those from here who attended were Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Dyer, and Messrs. and Mmes. Arch Mittel, Carroll Ratliff, Ronnie Mittel, Vernon Rogers, Ford Oglesby Jr., Bill Gunstead, H. A. Belk, and others.
