Heavy Snows Hit P'handle

By The Associated Press

Heavy snows struck the Texas Panhandle today, causing slick roads but caused very little hardship other than to motorists.

An Amarillo observer said the snow "is just sifting down."

By midmorning, Dalhart reported more than 5 inches of snow, Borger 3 and a trace at Amarillo. Swisher county measured a quarter inch.

Guymon, in the Oklahoma Panhandle, recorded 7 inches at that time.

The light snow at Amarillo caught maintenance workers without salt on the street. One man reported it took him an hour to get to work because of traffic jams caused by inexperienced drivers. Cars were stacked up for a mile at one point.

The Highway Department said snow fell throughout its Amarillo District and although all roads were open driving was hazardous.

Snow of around five inches at Perryton in the upper Panhandle caused cancellation of trips for eight school buses. However, classes were held there for other students.

Across the line in Oklahoma, schools at Beaver, Hardesty, Balko and Garrett were reported closed.

Rain fell at Dallas and rain and showers at many other places, but the Weather Bureau did not indicate snow that far south in its forecast.

The cold front producing this first real dose of winter for the season in Texas moved on downstate. By early morning its forward edge lay along a line from south of Tyler and Waco to north of Austin and southwestward below Del Rio.

Temperatures down to freezing and below were common behind the front. Readings remained mild farther south.

Generally colder weather was in prospect through Friday.

Junior Highs Accredited By Association

Snyder's two junior high high schools, Travis and Lamar, have been granted regional accreditation in the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Announcement of the accreditation was made in Louisville, Ky., at the close of a three-day annual meeting.

At the same time, a number of other Texas schools were accredited by the organization, including Arlington State College and Southwest Texas Junior College at Uvalde.

Dr. Robert Clinton, superintendent of schools here, said that Lamar and Travis Junior High Schools were admitted after meeting all factual requirements for membership. Such admission is accorded junior high schools in systems where senior high schools already are accredited, which is the case in Snyder.

The two junior high schools here are in the process of conducting their "self evaluation" in connection with Southern Association accreditation, and the team evaluation is scheduled for next October.

Five More Dead Found In Congo

By ROBIN MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — A mercenary-led government column penetrated further into the northeast Congo today in pursuit of rebels believed holding 500 whites as hostages. They found five more dead Europeans.

The rebels reportedly fled to Watsa, near the Sudanese border, as a government force of 30 mercenaries and 200 Congolese soldiers neared Bunia, 350 miles east of Stanleyville.

Bunia had a white population of 250, most of them Greeks, but the Congolese army found only two Roman Catholic priests there. The rebels were believed to have taken the other whites with them to join hostages already at Watsa.

Reports of the Congolese advance through rebel territory were fragmentary. Latest word said the government column was headed toward Paulis, southwest of Watsa, after passing through Poko and Zobia.

At Mambasa, south of Paulis, the mercenaries said that two Belgians, a Frenchman, a German and an unidentified missionary were found slaughtered.

The rebels are known to have killed 85 other whites. Belgian paratroops rescued about 2,000 others in airdrops at Paulis and Stanleyville.

In Khartoum, capital of Sudan, the self-styled rebel defense minister, Gaston Soumialot, claimed Wednesday that the Belgians rather than the rebels killed the whites in Stanleyville, his charge was contradicted by the account of every white survivor of the Stanleyville massacre.

Soumialot also charged that the United States was committing genocide in the Congo.

Soumialot, who arrived in the Sudan Tuesday with a force of 200 Congolese rebels, said he planned to go on to New York and tell the American people his version of the Congo story.

Sudanese Foreign Minister Mohammed Ahmed Mahgoub denied reports that his government planned to let the rebels use the country as a base for military operations in the Congo.

Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe left Paris Wednesday night and flew home to Leopoldville after three days of talks with President Charles de Gaulle and other French officials. Tshombe said the talks were profitable but there was no indication France had made any specific commitments of aid.

Brezhnev Slams Western 'Piracy'

By FRED W. COLEMAN

MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet Communist party chieftain, denounced today the Western paratroop landing in the Congo and also said the Soviet Union is ready to help North Viet Nam.

But, in reiterating stands already taken by the Kremlin, Brezhnev withheld any specific pledge of direct Soviet intervention in either area.

He called the paratroop landing in the Congo a "surprising example of imperialist piracy" and said Western aims there are doomed to failure.

On Viet Nam, he repeated the words of an "authorized statement" made a week ago by the official Soviet news agency Tass: "The Soviet Union cannot remain indifferent to the fate of a sister Socialist country and is prepared to render the necessary assistance to her." There was no elaboration by either Tass or Brezhnev.

Brezhnev spoke at a Soviet-Czechoslovak friendship meeting honoring visiting Czech President Antonin Novotny.

Brezhnev again denounced the proposed NATO multilateral nuclear force as "a dangerous game" to give West Germany access to nuclear weapons. Here he made his only mention of Red China, saying: "Recently the Chinese have joined this view."

Apparently he was referring to Peking's proposal for a world disarmament meeting made after Red China exploded its first atom bomb.

FOR SOVIET UNION

Pair Convicted On Spy Charge

By CHARLES K. SERGIS

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A Soviet chauffeur and an American electronics engineer were convicted Wednesday night of conspiracy to commit espionage for the Soviet Union.

The verdict could mean death. Their penalty will be decided by U.S. District Court Judge Anthony T. Augelli, who presided over the 36-day trial. No date has been set for sentencing.

A federal jury of eight women and four men deliberated 9½ hours before returning the verdict against the American, John W. Butenko, 39, and his codefendant, Igor A. Ivanov, 34.

Butenko and Ivanov were convicted of conspiring to relay secret Air Force information to the Soviet Union and of conspiring to violate the law requiring foreign agents to register with the State Department. Butenko also was convicted of acting as an unregistered agent for the foreign power — the Soviet Union.

Butenko, a bachelor of Russian descent, said nothing as the jury forelady, Miss Michilena M. Deluca, announced the verdict. But the strain of the gruelling trial showed on his face as he was led from the courtroom to be taken back to the Hudson County jail, where he has been held without bail since his arrest Oct. 29, 1963.

Ivanov, a crew-cut, blond Soviet citizen listened to an earphone linked to a translator as the verdict was announced. Ivanov, who worked as a driver for a Soviet trade agency in New York, is said to speak little English.

Both defendants kept their eyes on the jury as each member was polled at the request of a defense attorney. One juror said afterward that the panel had been in general agreement throughout the deliberations.

Tempers Explode In Bobby Baker Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bobby Baker hearings exploded into a shouting match today with special Rules Committee counsel Lennox P. McLendon calling Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a liar.

"You are absolutely, unalterably untrue in that statement," yelled McLendon, a white-haired 71-year-old attorney.

Williams had said that he had told McLendon he had additional information about government contracts handled by the McCloskey Construction Co. But, he said, McLendon was not interested in pursuing the information unless it involved Baker and other figures in the current hearing.

That's when the explosion came.

"Just a minute," shouted Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb. "This is an impertinence such as I have never before seen. This is the first time an employe of the Senate has called a senator a liar."

"He has disqualified himself," Williams interjected that he did, too, make such a statement on last Friday.

"I deny emphatically any word of it," McLendon said. "There is not an ounce, not an element of truth in it."

Curtis continued to demand that McLendon remove himself from his post as special counsel.

"I've got a right," said McLendon. "I'm not going to sit here and be publicly misrepresented."

Williams sat quietly while Curtis and McLendon exchanged sharp comments. During a lull, he commented that McLendon had a perfect right to state his understanding of the conversation.

Williams, who furnished much of the information that triggered the Baker probe, declared the Rules Committee might find it "very interesting" if it did look into various government construction projects handled by the McCloskey company.

The angry squabble took place while William K. Stewart, financial vice president of McCloskey Co., was testifying about procedures in figuring insurance premium rates.

Don B. Reynolds, a Silver Spring, Md., insurance man, testified Tuesday that a $35,000 overpayment by the McCloskey firm of an insurance performance bond was really a political payoff to the Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund. Reynolds said he was the "bag man" for Baker and contractor Matthew H. McCloskey in the deal.

Curtis and Stewart verbally tiffed over failure of the McCloskey company to provide records Curtis had requested through a government agency.

"They could do it better than we could," Stewart said of providing details on projects the McCloskey company had worked involving federal funds.

McCloskey, 71, former ambassador to Ireland, took the witness chair Wednesday and said Reynolds had lied.

"He hasn't told you the truth once," he said.

UC 'Sitters' Hauled To Prison Farm

By JOHN WOOD

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — More than 800 University of California students staged an all-night sit-in inside the school's administration building until they were arrested en masse today by highway patrol officers, police from nearby cities and sheriff's deputies.

A phalanx of police cordoned off the buildings—Sproul Hall—to sympathizers and onlookers massed during the early morning hours. Other officers took students—some protesting limply—to buses waiting to carry the rebels to the county prison farm. More than 100 police officers were involved.

The students refused Chancellor Edward Strong's plea that they disperse peacefully. The young men and women had gathered in Sproul Hall to protest the administrations' refusal that they give in to demands that charges be dropped against four students.

The students are leaders of the Free Speech Movement which has been demanding "full political rights" on the campus. The acknowledged leader of the movement, Mario Savio, was among those carted away to jail on the first bus.

The arrests were ordered by Gov. Edmund G. Brown shortly after midnight.

Growth Is Removed From Johnson's Hand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surgeons removed a small growth from the right hand of President Johnson today.

The operation was performed at the White House.

Presidential press secretary George E. Reedy said it was a thickening of the skin, caused by overexposure to the sun, and "this is a very minor thing."

Reedy said that there was "no suspicion of malignancy."

Exposure to the sun, at times, is credited with causing skin cancers.

Talks Boost UN Outlook

By LEWIS GULICK

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Negotiators worked behind the scenes at the United Nations today amid rising hopes for an agreement to clear away the world organization's deep financial and constitutional crisis.

Backstage talks being conducted by Secretary-General U Thant got an endorsement at a three-hour meeting Wednesday between the foreign ministers of the U.N.'s biggest antagonists on the issue, the United States and the Soviet Union.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk termed his conference with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko "constructive." U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who sat in on the luncheon meeting, was said to feel the talks were "useful and good."

With the Soviets for the first time showing interest in discussing the financing of U.N. peace-keeping operations — but not yet in accord with the United States on the matter — the initiative was turned over to Thant. U.N. financing is not purely a U.S.-Soviet affair and other nations must be heard from too, Rusk said.

A group of Asian-African countries promptly presented Thant a three-point plan. Informed sources said the Soviets and the Americans agreed to the plan in part but set conflicting conditions.

At the heart of the crisis has been the Soviet refusal to pay U.N. assessments for the peace-keeping operations in the Congo and Middle East. The Soviets contend they were illegal. The United States, the biggest contributor, says all must pay their share or the United Nations will founder.

FPC Favors Gas Sales Authorization

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Federal Power Commission examiner ruled Wednesday that 36 natural gas sales from fields in Texas Railroad Commission Dist. 3 should be authorized.

Examiner Harry Shriver said an initial price limited to 16 cents per thousand cubic feet should be authorized.

If no review is initiated within 40 days, the decision will become a final FPC order.

Contracts for all sales in the case were executed between Sept. 16, 1958, and Oct. 1, 1963. All the sales are being made under temporary commission authorizations at the initial prices proposed by the producers, which range from nearly 16.2 to 20 cents.

Only five of the temporary authorizations were conditioned to require refunding of amounts collected in excess of 16 cents. Shriver said refunds should be made under these contracts, plus interest at 7 per cent per year.

He referred to the commission the question of whether producers making the other sales also should be required to make refunds.

The gas is sold to four interstate pipelines — Florida Gas Transmission Co. of Winter Park, Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and Trunkline Gas Co., both of Houston, and Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America in Chicago.

Peron Whisked Back To Spain

SEVILLA, Spain (AP) — Juan D. Peron resumed his exile in Spain today after a brief and unsuccessful attempt to re-establish himself in South America for return to Argentina, the nation that cast off his dictatorship in 1955.

Brazil blocked Peron's plan and shipped him back on the same Iberia DC8 jet airliner that carried him from Madrid to Rio de Janeiro Wednesday.

The reaction of the Spanish government was uncertain. Peron's back-to-Argentina campaign could be interpreted as a violation of one of the terms of his asylum, a pledge to avoid political activity. But officials in Madrid said they understood he would be allowed to remain temporarily, "until a definite decision is reached."

Whatever the outcome, Spanish authorities seemed to be shielding Peron from public attention.

The airliner that carried Peron back across the Atlantic, scheduled for Madrid, was diverted en route to Sevilla, 250 miles southwest of the capital.

Informed sources said the Spanish government ordered the diversion to keep Peron away from more than 100 newsmen — Spanish and foreign — waiting for him at the Madrid Airport.

Peron, 69, got off in Sevilla and drove in a black limousine to a hotel, the Andalucia. The city's police chief was reported to have accompanied him. Police barred newsmen from the hotel.

There was speculation that after a few days in Sevilla, Peron would drive to the residence he has maintained in Madrid. It was to Sevilla that Peron came when he flew to Spain from exile in Panama in January 1960.

The visitors also heard a typical Kiwanis program of song. Plans were made for the club's pancake supper tomorrow night from 5 to 9 p.m. at the high school cafeteria.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a small problem compared to others, but it is still a problem. I play in the symphony orchestra, and a woman who has a season ticket sits in the front row at every performance. She is very careless about her position. Abby, The way she sits, I mean. This is very embarrassing to some of our orchestra personnel, and especially disconcerting during a concert. What can be done? I think someone ought to tell her. My wife says I should mind my own business. I'd like your opinion.

WOOD WIND

DEAR WOOD WIND: She may be a patron, so keep still. Or imagine she's a cello player without her cello. Or better yet, keep your eyes on the music. P. S. Your wood wind is sighing.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Re your advice to "EMBARRASSED," the woman who ditched the nude statues when she saw the preacher coming up the road: I don't agree with you. If the woman's son is an Art major, and got his sculpture in Italy, they might well be works of art rather than pornography. Was "EMBARRASSED" born in a corset? And did the preacher come into this world fully clothed? Some bare facts are cleaner than nasty minds fully clothed in ignorance.

ART FOR ARTS SAKE IN SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the Art Major's mother in Blytheville, Arkansas reminded me of this incident:

While touring Italy, many years ago, I bought a small, but splendid replica of Michelangelo's David. My wife's mother lived with us at the time. The poor inhibited little soul was terribly embarrassed at the sight of this magnificently formed, young, unadorned male body, so she KNIT him a "dress." And our David wore that knit dress for as long as my mother - in - law lived.

CHESTNUT HILL

DEAR ABBY: I met a nice gentleman through a friend and we have had many enjoyable dates. (I am over 40 and he is about 50.) Last night, when he brought me home from the theatre, he said: "I hope that you will have a new hair style the next time I see you." I was hurt and replied, "I don't tell YOU how to wear YOUR hair, do I?" My hair is always neat, Abby, but I don't go in for the latest hair styles.

I think he was wrong to comment about my hair, don't you? He is the most eligible bachelor in town, but if he is capable of such cutting remarks I wonder if I should tolerate it? I respect your opinion. What should I do?

HURT

DEAR HURT: Hie thee to the best beauty parlor in town and get a new hair style. Your friend was blunt, to be sure, but if you are wise (and interested in him) you'll accept his remark as constructive criticism and set about to remedy the situation. You could wind up thanking him.

Grand Jury Indicts 2

The Scurry County Grand Jury examined five charges yesterday, returning indictments in two cases and referring three to the county court for prosecution.

Andrew Wallace, Jr. was indicted for theft of tires from Bull Early.

Dalton Williams, a former resident, was indicted for forgery. District Attorney Wayland Holt said that Williams was presently under a probated sentence in Howard County, and had violated the terms of his probation. The effect of the indictment here would be that the probation would be revoked in Big Spring.

Transferred to county court is a charge of aggravated assault which had been filed against Pete Hoyle. Also transferred were two bad check charges, one against Wesley Floyd and the other against John David Rollins.

Here's Another One Who'd Rather Fight Than Switch

COMSTOCK PARK, Mich. (AP) — The State of Michigan is trying to shut off Nick Fink's water. But he says he'd rather fight than switch.

Fink runs the Comstock Park Service Corp., a private water system. It had 66 customers until the state said it was detrimental to good health.

"Unsanitary, my eye," growls Fink. "I've been drinking that water for 56 years and a lot of others have been drinking it a lot longer. We're still alive."

The water comes from a series of springs beneath rolling hills of this Grand Rapids suburb. There are no meters, pumps or employes. Water simply flows from the springs into a wooden reservoir built in the 1880s. Gravity pulls it along a cast iron pipe to customers.

A business can get a year's worth for about $22. Homeowners pay a flat $10.

Michigan Department of Health officials summoned Fink to Lansing last summer. Theodore Vandervelde, head of the water supply section, said an agreement was reached.

Under it, Vandervelde said, the system would cease operations when customers could tap into municipal lines. So far, 12 have.

"The ones that left tell me they haven't had a decent cup of coffee since," said Fink, who vows he will stay in operation no matter what. He promised to file suit, if necessary.

Fink said each customer owns at least one share of stock. Money from the sale of water is used to keep the spring clean and the pipes open.

Enough Hot Water

A water heater that's too small to meet the demands of the household will not last as long as an adequate-size one. Try to anticipate your future needs when buying a new water heater. For instance, if you do not now have an automatic dishwasher or recent model clothes washer, chances are you will want to buy them in the not-too-distant future, and you will want to have adequate hot water for them then.

Square Dance Club Elects New Officers

The Country Cousins Square Dance Club elected officers for the new year at a business meeting, Saturday night.

The following were elected to serve a six-month term: Cliff and Mary Smith, president; Bob and Barbara Sutton, vice president; Homer and Bobbie Stokes, secretary; Bud and Betty House, treasurer; Jimmy and Delores Minor, reporter; and Jackie and Nancy Grimmett, refreshments.

Following the business meeting, in which some of the by-laws to the constitution were changed, and the election of officers, the group enjoyed refreshments of coffee, pie and cake.

The next regular square dance will be held Saturday, Dec. 5, at 8 p.m. at the armory, with local callers. The public is invited to attend and call, dance or watch.

Pillow Talk

Whether your pillows are Dacron, Acrilan, feather or down, they will be softer and plumper after a brief session in your clothes dryer. Make sure the ticking is tight and the seams are secure so the filling won't fly during the tumbling at low heat. When washing and drying pillows, remember that Dacron and Acrilan will dry in half the time it takes feathers.

Revolving Stage Set For Show

The Fall drama production at Snyder High School will feature a new revolving stage. "The Importance of Being Earnest," Oscar Wilde's classic 1890 British comedy, will be staged on and in front of two 12 x 12 platforms, six inches high.

The platforms, which sit on the permanent stage, have an 8 foot revolving disc in the center, on these discs are placed the scenery and backdrops for the play. Three scenes may be set up at one time, and the scene change is made by revolving the discs. Several college and university theaters are now using this method of staging, chiefly because it permits a quicker and easier scene change.

Theatre goers attending the Fall production Friday and Saturday night, Dec. 4 and 5th, are invited back stage after the show to view the sets.

Maryland's Brayton Is Night's Star

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

All-America Bill Bradley of Princeton and Dave Bing of Syracuse displayed their basketball finesse to the nth degree, but the headlines went to Maryland's Neil Brayton.

Brayton flipped in a 40-foot, one-hand push shot with just four seconds left on the clock to give the Terps a 72-71 victory over Penn State. It was the highlight of Wednesday night's acton on collegiate hardwoods.

Maryland led by 70-67 with 29 seconds left, but Carver Clinton's basket and two free throws by Ray Saunders put the Nittany Lions ahead with 11 seconds to go. Then came Brayton's game-winning one-hander from near midcourt.

Bradley paced Princeton's Ivy League champs to an 83-74 triumph over Lafayette with 29 points. He got 10 of them in the last five minutes after the Leopards rallied to within one point at 68-67.

Bing tossed in 20 points and handed out 11 assists in leading the seventh-ranked Syracuse team to an easy 127-67 triumph over American U.

Kansas State, No. 8, the only other team in the pre-season Associated Press Top Ten to play, whipped Creighton 96-82 behind Jeff Simons' 22 points.

Tennessee, rated a title threat in the Southeastern Conference, and Texas Tech, favored to win the Southwest Conference, impressed in their openers. The Volunteers crushed Richmond 97-66 as Red Robbins scored 18 points. The Red Raiders walloped McMurry 114-70 behind Norman Reuther's 20 points.

Bob Trupin's 32 points led Yale to a 77-71 victory over Colgate and Ohio State routed South Dakota 86-54 on a 50 per cent shooting average.

Lads Survive Wild Chase

DALLAS (AP)— Amazed policemen found two youths escaped without a scratch Wednesday as a tire blew out on their car while the pair fled pursuing officers at 125 miles per hour.

A 28-mile chase started in Dallas when a patrolman tried to stop the cruising teen-agers for questioning. It ended with the blowout near Midlothian, in Ellis County.

The fugitives avoided capture for another hour, however, by concealing their 1961 model Pontiac amid cedars a short distance from U.S. 67. Officers finally nabbed them hiking across a field.

They said the two, both 17, readily admitted skipping classes at Adamson High School and displayed no concern over the hazards of the high speed chase.

PRETTY GOOD WITH A RIFLE, TOO—Harvey Haddix, Baltimore Orioles pitcher, poses with a buffalo he killed with a .22 caliber rifle after the animal went berserk. The animal was one of two owned by Haddix' neighbor, Gayle Locke, at Springfield, Ohio. Locke sought Haddix' aid after the animal went wild and threatened to kill some cattle. The buffalo was a gift from radio and television performer Arthur Godfrey to Locke. (AP Wirephoto)

Brown Named To All-State Team

FORT WORTH — Snyder halfback Leslie Brown has been named to the Fort Worth Star - Telegram's All - State Class AAA Football Team.

The Snyder star is one of two from District 3-AAA named to the newspaper's first team all-state lineup, joining Tackle Craig Jolly of Sweetwater on the mythical eleven.

George Wallace, Star - Telegram sportswriter who tabulated the all - state selections for the newspaper, noted that Brown "carries an impressive stack of credentials."

One other District 3-AAA performer, Quarterback Benny Pace of Sweetwater, received honorable mention in the selections.

Brown is part of an all - star backfield composed of Bill Bradley of Palestine at quarterback, Norman Bonner of Dumas at the other halfback post, and Duwayhe Kerbow of Deer Park at fullback.

Linemen named in addition to Jolly include Johnny Valentine of Clear Creek and Greg Beesley of Lancaster at ends, Don King of Wichita Falls Hirschi at the other tackle, Chris Smith of Weatherford and James Robinson of Vidor at guards, and Steve Gunn of Stephenville at center.

Brown was a unanimous selection for the 3-AAA all - district team selected by coaches of the district and announced earlier this week. He was named to both the offensive and defensive units of the two - platoon all-district lineup.

Arnie, Jack Face 'World' In Matches

KAANAPALI, MAUI, Hawaii (AP) — It was the defending champion United States, with Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, against the world today with the start of the prestige-packed Canada Cup golf matches.

Two-man teams representing 32 nations, plus twosomes from Hawaii and Puerto Rico, were set to tee off over the lush green acres of the Royal Kaanapali Golf Course, one that measures 7,215 yards, with par 36-36—72.

There will be 18 holes each day, concluding Sunday.

The Canada Cup, put into play first in 1953 as an emblem of international good will through the medium of golf, is the big prize. It is determined by the total scores of the two players.

The companion award is the International Trophy which goes to the low medalist.

Palmer and Nicklaus won the Canada Cup last year in Paris, and while Palmer has yet to capture the International Trophy, he sounded a warning Wednesday.

Arnie, with an abbreviated version of his famed army at his heels, broke the course record in the pro - amateur prelude with a seven-under-par 31-34-65.

Best-ball low-score honors, 62, went to Palmer and his amateur partner, Howard Clark of New York, president of the International Golf Association.

Nicklaus had an individual 72. Runners-up to Palmer were Bruce Devlin, Australia, 69, and at 70, Ted Makalena of Hawaii and Cheht Sayed of Egypt.

Kansas Firm Submits Low Bid For Bridge

GALVESTON (AP) — Massman Construction Co. of Kansas City, Mo., submitted the apparent low bid of $2,738,790 Wednesday for building a San Luis Pass bridge which will link Galveston Island with the Freeport area.

Galveston County commissioners said they probably will award the contract next week.

Other bidders were Brown & Root, Inc., of Houston, $2,876,947; Bridge Engineering Corp. of Galveston, $3,410,420, and George Consolidated of Houston, $3,998,590.

Full House Due For Game Here

A "full house" was regarded as a virtual certainty today for the Stamford - Denver City Class AA playoff football game tomorrow night in Tiger Stadium.

Ticket sales were moving steadily here, and both schools expected to sell their allotments of tickets. In fact, local ticket sales already had exceeded those for the Denver City - Iowa Park game on Thanksgiving Day, and this despite the fact that several other local activities are scheduled for Friday evening.

Tickets are being sold locally at the Chamber of Commerce office. They are priced at $2 each for adults and 75 cents for students.

The Denver City Mustangs are generally regarded as the favorite in the game with Stamford based on the records of the two teams so far. The Mustangs are unbeaten and untied with their latest success story being written on the Tiger Stadium turf last Thursday when they shellacked Iowa Park, 26-8.

Iowa Park administered Stamford's worst defeat of the year, whacking the Bulldogs by 26-0 early in the season.

However, Stamford has shown steady improvement and in play-off activity their stock has continued to soar. In fact, the Bulldogs have been rated as the underdogs in both of their play-off games, but have come through with victories, their latest being a 22-0 triumph over Dublin, a strong favorite.

Butkus To Sign Chicago Contract

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Butkus, one of the prime targets in the multi million-dollar pro football war, will sign with the Chicago Bears today and end several days of intrigue in which the New York Jets tried to lure him into the rival American League on a lateral from Denver.

While the National League won the struggle for Butkus' services, the American League pulled even in signing competitive first round draft choices when the Houston Oilers signed the league's No. 1 selection—Baylor pass-catching whiz Larry Elkins.

Butkus' decision to join the Bears—a major score for the National League in the battle for big names—came almost simultaneously Wednesday with the revelation that Denver had traded its rights to the standout Illinois linebacker.

At his home in Champaign, Ill., Butkus told The Associated Press:

"Yes, I definitely have decided to play for the Chicago Bears and definitely will sign with them."

In Denver, Bronco Coach Pat Cal Kunz said Butkus wanted to play in a big city "so Denver gave its rights to him to the New York Jets. I can't say anything right now about our deal with New York."

Butkus disclaimed any knowledge of the transaction.

"I really don't know anything about that," he said. "I have not talked with anyone from the Jets."

Butkus was a first-round selection of the Bears while the Broncos, who had traded away their No. 1 pick in the AFL draft, made him their first pick on the second round.

The Oilers, signing their No. 1 draft choice for the fifth time in six years, whipped the NFL's Green Bay Packers for Elkins' services while reuniting last year's sensational Don Trull to Elkins' passing combination.

Trull, now a rookie with the Oilers, was the Baylor quarterback in 1963. Besides Trull there were other lures for Elkins. According to the Houston Post, he signed a contract calling for a $35,000 bonus and three years at $30,000 a year — a $125,000 package.

Elkins' signing gave the AFL a 2-2 split with the NFL in the [illegible] drafted on the first round.

Deal Vetoed By Houston Owner

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Outfielder Frank Howard of the Los Angeles Dodgers was as good as traded to Houston when the principal owner of the Texas club stepped in and killed the deal, the Associated Press learned today.

Houston General Manager Paul Richards and Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi reached agreement on a trade that would have brought Howard to Houston for third-baseman Bob Aspromonte and pitcher Ken Johnson, The AP was informed.

But the informant, said Bob Smith, chairman of the board of directors of the Houston club, vetoed the trade because he didn't want to let Aspromonte go.

The minor leagues approved a pro-football-type draft of high school and college players at Wednesday's session of the winter baseball meetings. But trade rumors were still the principal conversation pieces.

It appeared there was still a fair chance the Los Angeles Angels would trade pitcher Bo Belinsky to the Philadelphia Phillies. But no one seemed to know which Philadelphia player or players might be involved.

The proposed draft of players with no professional experience was approved unanimously by the minor leagues and was to be considered today in separate meetings of the American and National leagues. It was expected to win approval.

Under the plan, there would be three drafts each year. The first two, in January and June, would involve college players and high school graduates not planning to attend college. The third would probably be held in August and would involve only American Legion and sandlot players.

Each major league club would be permitted to pick one player at each draft. Selections would be made in inverse order of the clubs' standings.

Should a player refuse to sign with the club that drafted him, he would become subject to selection again at a special draft session held prior to the next regular draft. He might then be picked by a club other than the one that drafted him originally.

One object of the draft is to put a brake on high bonuses [illegible] become effective in January.

Schoolboy Field Will Be Cut To 16 Teams

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The legions of schoolboy football dwindle to 16 teams this week to set up semifinals in four classes.

Amarillo Tascosa and Galena Park in Class AAAA, Andrews and Vidor in Class AAA, Denver City and Taylor in Class AA and Stratford and Hull-Daisetta in Class A appear to be the top teams left.

Which, however, is no certainty that they will be included in the field Saturday night when the smoke of 16 battles has cleared.

It is the windup of the upsettingest campaign in the 45-year history of the Texas Interscholastic League [illegible]

Tascosa and Galena Park are the last undefeated, untied teams in mighty Class AAAA. It is reasonable to assume that they are the tops. So, it is reasonable to assume that they will clash in the finals two weeks from now.

Tascosa must hurdle the upsetter of the far West—Ysleta. Its record isn't good but this is the team that beat Odessa 10-7 last week when Odessa was a smashing favorite.

Tascosa gets Ysleta in Amarillo, however, which is an advantage at the start. They clash Saturday afternoon.

In other quarter-final games, all scheduled Friday night, Fort Worth Paschal plays Garland at Fort Worth, McAllen invades San Antonio to battle San Antonio Highlands and Houston Jones tangles with Galena Park at Houston.

Andrews, conqueror of No. 1 ranked Dumas last week, puts its undefeated, untied record on the line against three-time loser Wichita Falls Hirschi in the feature game of Class AAA.

Hirschi looks dangerous to Andrews' chances. This is the team that knocked off favored Sweetwater last week.

Hirschi and Andrews tangle at Abilene in the only Saturday game.

The other three contests are scheduled Friday night with Bonham and Palestine meeting at Mesquite, Vidor and Lamar Consolidated trading touchdowns at Spring Branch and San Marcos, undefeated but once-tied, clashing with Kerrville at Kerrville.

Denver City runs into an old warhorse of schoolboy football—Stamford. It doesn't appear dangerous this year but recalling the past, when Stamford won four state championships and lost one of them via forfeit, there is the opinion that here may come the big upset of the year.

Denver City and Stamford play at Snyder Friday night.

Atlanta and Marlin clash at Nacogdoches and Palacios and Los Fresnos joust at Brownsville, both Friday night games, while Taylor and Port Acres get together at Houston.

Stratford, the Panhandle toughie that crushed highly ranked Springlake 35-0, battles Big Lake, which edged Seagraves in a scoring duel. They collide at Lubbock Saturday.

The other three games of Class A are all Friday night with Archer City and Clifton clashing at Arlington, Jefferson and Rosebud at Athens and Hull-Daisetta and Ingleside tangling at El Campo.

Class B also winds up for the season this week with the deciding of regional championships.

Wheeler and Robert Lee play at Shamrock Saturday night. The other regional finals, all Friday night, have Sundown and Ropesville clashing at Levelland, Saint Jo and Whitewright at Gainesville, Hawkins and Carlisle in Tyler, Mineola and Crawford at Corsicana, Eden and Pflugerville at Llano, Cold Springs and Danbury at Angleton and D'Hanis and Riviera at Kingsville.

Hitting only 15 of 32 last week, the average took a big slump. Perhaps these will bring it back up.

Class AAAA — Tascosa over Ysleta, Garland over Paschal, Galena Park over Jones, Highlands over McAllen.

Class AAA — Andrews over Hirschi, Palestine over Bonham, Vidor over Lamar Consolidated, San Marcos over Kerrville.

Class AA — Denver City over Stamford, Marlin over Atlanta, Taylor over Port Acres, Palacios over Los Fresnos.

Class A — Stratford over Big Lake, Clifton over Archer City, Rosebud over Jefferson, Hull-Daisetta over Ingleside.

Racing Car Driver's Condition Critical

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Bobby Marshman, who walked away from the flaming wreckage Friday in a racing car accident, was said still to be in critical condition today.

Marshman, 28, was flown to San Antonio Saturday for treatment of burns at the Brooke Army Medical Center. The accident happened at Phoenix, Ariz.

"He is burned very, very bad and is in critical condition," a hospital spokesman said.

Tigers Off To Seminole Tomorrow

The Snyder High School varsity basketball team will go to Seminole tomorrow to participate in a four - team tournament scheduled there Friday and Saturday.

The Tigers will face the Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen in the tournament opener at 7 p.m. Friday. Second game on the tournament slate will match host Seminole and Hereford.

Losers of the opening round games will play each other in the first game Saturday night, while the winners of Friday night's action will meet to determine the tournament champion.

The Tigers carry a 2 - 0 won-lost record into the tournament having won their season opener Monday night at Colorado City, 96-56, and following up with an 88-52 decision over Hamlin at Hamlin on Tuesday night.

INCREASINGLY TOUGH NEIGHBORHOOD

GOPs Still More Divided After Overwhelming Defeat

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans, repudiated in most of the past 32 years about as thoroughly as possible in American politics, are still confused and divided almost a month after one of their worst calamities.

They need more than some kind of agreement among themselves to end their intraparty strife. They need a policy and an attitude giving voters far more confidence in them than has been demonstrated these past 32 years.

Only in this way can the two-party system work, with voters willing to entrust control and direction of the government to either party at fairly regular intervals.

Otherwise, Republicans are doomed to remain a minority party in danger of disintegrating altogether.

The confusion and division were illustrated again this week when on the same day:

1. Sen. Barry Goldwater, defeated for the presidency in November, stood firm against any other Republicans' attempt to throw out his hand-picked chairman of the party's national committee, 38-year-old Dean Burch.

2. Charles H. Percy, the defeated Republican candidate for governor of Illinois, said he thought Burch no longer could successfully lead the party and called for a change in Republican policy.

Burch, fervent believer in Goldwater's brand of Republicanism, is inescapably linked with more than just the senator's disastrous 15-million-vote defeat by President Johnson last month.

The Republicans lost more than the presidency. In Congress, where they had been a minority party since 1954, they became even more of a minority by losing 38 seats in the House and probably two in the Senate.

If the Republican National Committee fails to give Burch a vote of confidence when it meets next month, this can be interpreted as a repudiation not only of Goldwater and his kind of conservatism but of those sharing his views.

Goldwater said the anti-Burchers on the 132-member committee don't have enough votes to get rid of the young Tucson attorney whom he chose to head the committee after his own presidential nomination in July.

At that time the committee elected Burch to a four-year term at $30,000 a year, which would seem to give him good reason for thinking he had a right to want to make the committee stick to its contract.

Nevertheless, it would be embarrassing for him, the party, and any hope of party unity if a majority of the committee gave him a vote of no confidence and he still refused to step down. However, he has indicated he would resign if the committee voted no confidence.

And this is only part of the soul-searching going on within the Republican ranks.

For instance: Republican governors meet this Friday and Saturday in Denver to examine the party wreckage and try to think of some way to put it back on its feet.

Republicans have had small success wooing the voters in the years since 1932 when Franklin D. Roosevelt won the presidency and Democrats got overwhelming control of Congress.

Here's How Cary Grant Stays Young

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — How does Cary Grant stay so young?

This is the question that, since he makes no secret of being 60, is most often asked this durable star of the Golden Age of the movies.

After making more than 60 films in 32 years, he has only a few touches of gray to mark the inroads of three decades in Hollywood.

Grant answers with a kind of half-embarrassed, bantering seriousness queries as to his own formula for keeping young in spirit and looking trim and youthful in face and body.

"I don't know that there's any trick to it," he said. "I try to live in truth — and keep relaxed.

"I don't try to follow any regular program. I ride a lot, like to swim.

"I try to do what I want to do at the time. I don't eat many fatty foods, but I really don't know whether that's important or not.

"I eat only when I'm hungry, and read when I'm not. Sometimes I don't sleep for three days. Other times I go to sleep for the whole blinking weekend."

A talk with Grant is a ramble through many fields as he is a man with sprightly enthusiasms, interested in religion, art, and human nature, and one gifted with some humor as to his own place in the scheme of things.

In his own words, here is how he feels:

"Life is just an occupation of time. It's all a matter of what you do between getting up and going to bed.

"I don't have a great respect for people who pick up lines of friction in living. It's best to keep an open channel to the powers that be. You have to learn to rest on the arms of God or creation, and then everything will be all right.

"Man is afraid of his own power and inhibits it.

"The happiest time of my life? About now, I suppose, although I hope it will be happier tomorrow.

"My life has become progressively happier, because I've got rid of a lot of the blows my ego got in childhood. You have to learn to forgive your parents the things they didn't know, and be grateful for what they did know.

"I used to carry some emotional torches in my youth, but I tried never to bore my fellow man with them. I'd rather torture it out alone.

"The most important thing in life is getting married well, and I haven't been very successful at that.

"You have to use some deceit in this world even to make a living. But paradoxically, you will last longer, have a better life and be more contented — if you relax and be yourself.

"I try to free myself as much as possible from hypocrisy and the need to ingratiate.

"I like people who express themselves easily, people who are able to use their full natural powers and not defeat themselves through fear. I mean people like Billy Graham, Howard Hughes, Jan Peerce, Frank Sinatra, Dave Bruebeck, Peggy Lee, Picasso and Ingrid Bergman.

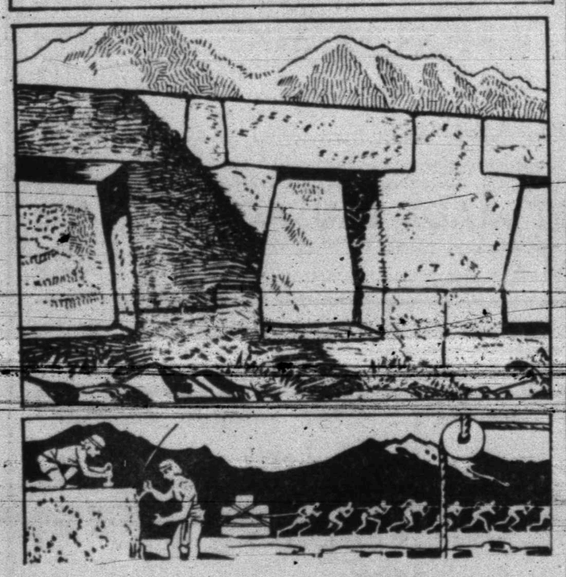
Junior Editors Quiz on INCAS



QUESTION: How did the ancient Aztecs and Incas build in stone without iron tools?

ANSWER: The Aztecs, in what is now Mexico, created some magnificent stone work, but that of the Incas of South America was perhaps more remarkable. It is said that an Inca chieftain, Mayta Capac, found a forgotten city and was so inspired by its stonework that he determined to create something even finer. The Incas cut and smoothed down huge stones many tons in weight and fitted them together, without binding mortar, so exactly that in many cases a knife blade can not be inserted in the cracks. Our illustration shows how the blocks were shaped so as to interlock and hold together. The Incas did not know about iron and steel, had not invented the wheel, had no strong draught animals to give power. How, then, had such work been possible?

The Incas had knives or stone picks of bronze or hard stone. Using these with water, it was possible to gradually chip a stone down. Smoothing and polishing could be done with sand — again using water. Stones could be moved by dragging, using ropes and great numbers of men. For lifting, stone crowbars and poles could pry a stone up, with a wall of small stones built underneath, this being repeated back and forth on both ends of the stone. The Incas had primitive pulleys, which also helped.

FOR YOU TO DO: Poke a pole or crowbar under a stone (not too big a one). Then put a little rock under your pole close to the stone. You will be surprised what force you will exert when you press the pole down, and you will begin to understand how the Incas moved rocks.

Determined Man Sets Diet Record

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Patrick J. McKenna, who trimmed his weight from 399 to 279 pounds on a 120-day starvation diet, said Wednesday he would do it again if necessary.

McKenna, 60, saw his waistline shrink from 64 to 50 inches and said he would repeat the performance despite the hunger he never lost and the desperate craving for salt he developed.

He admitted he fudged on his diet Thanksgiving Day but explained, "it didn't put any weight on me." He now weighs 265.

The Oklahoma City newspaper man lost the poundage under close supervision of doctors at the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation from May 3 to August 31. He ate no food during the four-month period.

After his release, he went on a "suggested diet" prepared by medical researchers and is still sticking to it. During confinement he subsisted on vitamins and non-food liquids such as tea, coffee and sugar-free soft drinks.

Dr. R. Palmer Howard, associate head of the foundation, said McKenna could have continued on the diet another week to a month.

"But he wanted to set a record and he did," Howard said. "He was having dreams about food."

The previous record is believed held by an ex-Wave in Los Angeles who dropped 116 pounds in 117 days before her starvation diet was ended by a severe attack of gout.

The four-man medical team that supervised McKenna said he was overweight just because he ate too much. They said he had no side effects from the weight loss except that he was slightly anemic and indicated he felt weak.

To pass the time during his starvation diet, McKenna worked on an autobiography and did other writing. Doctors said he became somewhat irritable.
