U. S. Supreme Court says the present line-up of congressional districts is unconstitutional. But the day for redistricting still is far away, according to Gov. John Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner

Texas' 22 Congressional districts have the greatest variance in size of any state, ranging from 214,000 to 980,000 population. This, the high court said, is not fair and it must be corrected. Because the 1964 elections already are under way the Supreme Court allowed Texas 30 days in which to ask a three-judge Federal court in Houston to delay the effectiveness of the order.

Governor Connally is sure the court will recognize the fact that absentee voting will begin on Apr. 12 and that filing deadlines already have passed. He insists that the major legislative surgery required cannot be done in a 30-day special session of the Legislature and that it should be left to the regular 140-day session which starts Jan.
12. He felt the Court would agree that it now is too late to redistrict for 1964 elections.

Trains Going

Passenger trains continue to disappear from the Texas scene. Lat est moves are by the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Co., and the Fort Worth & Denver Railway. They want to do away with the Fort Worth to Houston run of the Twin Star Rocket.

Texas Railroad Commission will hear this proposal on May 12 in the Dallas City Hall.

Salt Water

Texas Water Pollution Control Board agreed, after three public hearings, to outlaw the use of unlined surface pits for disposal of oilfield salt water in eight South Plains counties.

il and gas operators were given until September 1, to make other arrangements for disposal of their brine. Water users in the area, which contains the greatest irrigation section in Texas, had complained that the oilfield salt water was seeping into the fresh water strata known as the Ogallala formation. Covered by the no-pit order are Bailey, Cochran, Dawson, Hale, Hockley, Lynn, Swisher and Terry counties.

Court Speaks

Texas Supreme Court, in a decision with far reaching consequences, has ruled that holders of paid political office are ineligible to run for the Legislature during their present terms.

Specifically, the Court ordered Taylor County Democratic Committee to remove the name of 104th Dist. Atty Tom Todd from the ballot as a legislative candidate. State Democratic Committee Frank Erwin Jr., said copies of the opinion will be sent to all county chair men for their guidance. Erwin earlier had advised of the inel bility of paid officials to run for the Legislature.

Supreme Court also ordered a new trial in a case hinging on the question of whether newspaper carriers are independent merchants or employees of the publishing company.

Suit was brought by Gerald Witt Love against Newspapers, Inc., and the newspapers, following an auto collision. Lower courts found for trial jury. Love. However, the new decision held the independent contractor issue had been improperly submitted to the jury. Earier decisions time as a company doctor is not have supported the position that an employee of the company. a newspaperboy or carrier is an independent agent and not an employee of the publication.

Mayor Proclaims Girl Scout Week

The Honorable Eldon T. Calk has proclaimed March 8-14 as Girl Scout Week in Eldorado, it was announced today at City Hall.

The proclamation pays tribute to Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. on its 52nd aniversary for continuous service to community and country since the organization's founding on March 12, 1912.

In the proclamation, Mayor Calk highlights the theme of Girl Scout Week, "Girl Scouting—A Promise In Action." The Girl Scout Pro-mise "to do my duty to God and country, to help other people at all times and to obey the Girl Scout laws," is made by the more than 31/2 million girls and adults in Girl Scouting.

Mayor Calk calls upon all citizens of Eldorado, especially parents, to give to Girl Scouting, now and in the future, "their continued interest, cooperation and support so that increasing numbers of girls may benefit from the splendid program of training in citizenship which the Girl Scout organization

Girl Scout Fund Drive Is Now Under Way

Money used to promote cons tructive youth activities is well spent. Girl Scouting—a Promise In Action. Girl Scouting-Fun, Learning, Adventure. These are the themes which describe the aims of youth workers who take time to be concerned with the young people of the community.

No door-to-door drive to collect money will be made, but we are asking all citizens who are interested in the young girls of Eldorado to drop in at McCormick's Drive-In where Hollis has a jar on the counter for all contributions.

This money will be spent for-1. Leaders' magazines. (Each registered adult receives one every month.)

2. All types of films, books, pamphlets, magazines which are available for all troops. 3. To pay the salary of one paid worker in this Council. All other workers are volunteers. 4. A council newspaper received by each registered adult. 5. To pay for council-wide activities such as-A. Brownie Playday held in Eldorado for all Brownies. B. Camporee for all Girl Scouts at Camp Sol Mayer.

C. Arts and Activities Show held at Scout House in Angelo. 6. To establish and maintain our regular summer camp. 7. All training courses are open to all registered adults.

J. A. Pelt, principal, invited Mrs. Kreklow to talk to the five home economics classes about "Your Says Only Aircraft More than 65 students made up the audiences who heard that 65,000 trained home economists will be needed in the United States by 39,000 high school teachers, over 10,000 teachers of adults, 6,000 home demonstration agents, over 5,000 college teachers or researchers, 2,000 home economists in business, 1500 hospital and institution dieticians, and more than 1,000 social and health workers will be among the 65,000 needed.

'You will always win with home economics," Mrs. Kreklow said and continued to say that home economics training taught what every woman should know anyway-how to make a home. She said that today nearly 40% of the women of the U.S. work outside the home and the predictions are that 80% of the women will be working by

Posters like this one, in full color, are appearing across the country this week (March 8-14) as the nation celebrates Girl Scout Week and the fifty-second anniversary of the organization. Emphasizing the Girl Scout Promise of "duty to God and country," the poster displays the American flag flanked by the flag of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts (left) and the official flag of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. More than three and a half million girls and adults are Girl Scouts.

Scheduled For Tuesday

The regular monthly meeting of the Eldorado P. T. A. will be held Tuesday, March 17th at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The program topic is The Family; Cradle of Spiritual Strength? Rev. Kenneth Vaughan is the program leader. The program speaker will be Dr. Richard W. Crews, pastor Paula Mace. of the First Christian Church of ing and informative speaker.

For the student participation part of the program, there will be an interesting demonstration from the Interscholastic League participants of the Speech department.

Effective For Eagles

By Cong. O. C. Fisher A report by a task force, appointed by Secretary of Interior Udall, on Golden Eagle depredations upon livestock in the southwest, made public last week, confirms the basis for complaint that has been lodged by a number of us during the past year. The Secrefor permission for the use of aircraft in protecting livestock against this predator.

The task force, composed of five experts in the Fish and Wild Life branch of Interior, was appointed by the Secretary to study the facts in the field after Congressman Poage and I protested the Secretary's policy in a conference with

The Report was dated last April, but was not made public until last week, and then only after our repeated demands. The Report completely agrees with our contention—that the only effective means of fighting the eagle menace is by the use of aircraft. The Task Force spent some 10 weeks in the field, holding public hearings, observing and investigating people. the problem. It confirms the seriousness of the eagle depredations craving for knowledge on livestock, was factual, fair and inpartial. After Secretary Udall received the report he proceeded to appoint another Task Force, composed of College Professors, which he labeled an "Advisory" Commission, to make another similar investigation of predators. report of the Professors is expected momentarily, and can be expected to disagree with the findings of the first Task Force. To us it has the earmarks of a loaded committee, since some of the mem bers of it are known by their prior statements to be opposed to the findings of the first Task

The second Task Force includes no one from the livestock industry no public hearings have been held by it, and its findings must be based largely upon hearsay and

As a result of a committee hearing last week, during which Dan Auld of Kerrville appeared and gave very convincing evidence concerning the seriousness of the problem, it is hoped the Secretary will change his attitude regarding the use of aircraft. We are continuing to urge that be done.

A Challenge

"I ask you to pause and contary last January announced he sider how you as individuals can Karen Griffin and Marsha Mund, would not approve any application prepare yourselves for service to both sopohomores. our country and to mankind.

This was the challenge the late President John F. Kennedy issued to the 8,500 Girl Scouts who attended the Girl Scout Senior Roundup in Button Bay, Vermont, in the summer of 1962.

The campers discussed the President's challenge throughout the 10 days of Roundup. At the end of the encampment, they submitted to the President this personal commitment:

"We will re-examine the Girl Scout Promise and Laws and work harder to use them as principles to live by.

"We will keep an open mind in order to learn from our experiences, from situations, and from other "We will develop in ourselves a the traditional Girl Scout Promise. But the 8,500 girls who were Roundup campers in 1962 will remember also the promise they made to the late President. Both promises are pertinent in today's tense and confused world.

The observance of Girl Scout Week reminds each of us that this is a time to re-examine our own values—and the values we are passing on to our children. This is a time to re-affirm our own beliefs in "God and country," and to support organizations like the Girl

A marker calling attention to one of the most unusual activities in Texas during the Civil War is due to be erected soon near Salado in Bell county.

The marker, which will be erected as a part of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee's Civil War marking program, will call attention to Alexander's Distillery which operated during the War on Salado Creek.

The seventeen lines of the inscription on the 18 x 28 inch marker tell an unusual story of how a Wartime need was met by the distillery owned by William R. Alexander.

Apparently already in operation at the outset of the War, the distillery. along with all others in Texas, was ordered closed on May 28, 1862, by Governor Francis R. Lubbock in an effort to save grain. Soon, however, the Confederate Army began to make calls for medicinal liquor to be used for opiate and stimulant purposes and Governor Lubbock ordered a few of the distilleries, including Alexander's, reopened.

The distillery, thereupon, began operation to meet the Wartime need of the Confederate Army and apparently continued operation for some time thereafter.

The inscription also calls attention to the fact that Texans rallied to meet such Wartime shortages as that supplied by the distillery, as well as supplying bandages, sewing silk, lint, Polk weed, peach bark, barilla and other home aids which they sent to the various military units of the Confederacy.

This department has been gratified at the response to our request last time that those who have clipped the column over the years let us borrow them in order that we might make copies.
