Former Attorney General May Attend Dedication Here

JOHN BEN SHEPPERD

Former Attorney General of Texas, John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, has notified local members of the County Historical Society, that he will try to be here on Sunday, April 12, for the dedication of the two medallions and the memorial to Gustave Schleicher.

The medallions are to be placed on the county jail building and the Col. Black residence in the east part of the county; both structures are among the oldest in Schleicher County and were approved for medallions some time ago by the Historical Survey Committee.

Don McCormick, Mrs. J. F. Runge, and Tom Meador met yesterday afternoon at 2:00 in the office of County Judge W. R. Bearce to make plans for the program the afternoon of April 12th. The program will get under Sunday afternoon, April 12, at 2:00 p.m. on the lot just west of the county jail with State Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman as master of ceremonies.

Don McCormick will give a brief history of the jail building and the new monument to Gustave Schleicher, which is located on the parking lot, will be dedicated. The historical medallion will be placed on the county jail building.

The group will then go 35 miles east to the Col. Black ranch house for a continuation at 3:30 p.m. of the program in which the other medallion will be dedicated and placed on the ranch house.

Col. Black helped found the New York cotton exchange and came to this area in 1876, locating on 30,000 acres of land for which he paid 10 cents an acre.

He died in 1931 at the age of 88, leaving eight children. Mrs. Camilla Raggio, H. Leslie Jones, and Mrs. J. F. Runge are among the descendants who expect to be on hand for the program on April 12th. Further details will be given in next week's Success.

More About The Community Revival

Questions have come to the ministers of the Alliance about the Community-wide Revival announced for April 12th thru the 17th. We are happy to announce that all of our planning is taking shape and in the next issue of the Success we will have our revival advertisement and further information.

The churches have or will be sending out a special revival mailing to its members and friends.

Dr. Edmund W. Robb of Midland will be our evangelist and Mr. John Ed Carlson will be the song leader. Both of these men are well known in their respective fields. This six-night meeting is a "trial" project of the Ministerial Alliance. If the community will support it and if you want to try bigger plans for the future, the Ministerial Alliance is ready to lead. —C. M. Nyquist, secretary.

Mrs. Irvin Mund and daughter Becky had her son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mund and boys and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Browning and children of Van Horn as guests over the Easter holidays. The group attended services at the First Baptist church Sunday.

The Buddy Spicer family have rented one of Tom Alexander's houses in northeastern Eldorado.

Vaccination Of Dogs Set Saturday By Lions

The Eldorado Lions club will sponsor a mass vaccination of dogs against rabies this Saturday morning at the Eldorado Wool Company's feed store on South Main street, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

While this project is intended primarily for local people's dogs, cats and other pets may also be brought. The charge for each animal will be $2 for the vaccine.

Ray Boyer, chairman, urged that all dogs be brought in on a leash or rope.

Long's Variety Changes Hands

Closed for inventory last week on Tuesday and Wednesday, Long's Variety store reopened Thursday under new ownership bringing to a close for Mr. and Mrs. Long a 30-year period of service in the Eldorado business district.

The new proprietor is Buddy Spicer who has moved here from New Mexico where for the past five or six years he operated a Trading Post on a large Indian reservation. Mr. and Mrs. Spicer have two children, both under school age. Mrs. Spicer is a granddaughter of T. K. Jones and a daughter of the late John I. Jones.

Mr. Long's business career started in 1926 in Littlefield where he operated a variety store for eight years and came to Eldorado in February, 1934. In 1950 he built the building in which the business is now located. A land-owner and bank director, the Longs will continue to make Eldorado their home but they feel they have earned the right to "travel a little" and expect to do so in the months ahead.

Mr. Spicer was recently awarded a diploma from the Missouri Auction School at Kansas City, Mo., and is available as an auctioneer as a sideline to his mercantile business.

Phil George To Speak At Lions' Ladies' Night

Phil George, basketball coach at San Angelo College, is to be the speaker at the ladies night set for Monday night at 7:00 in the Memorial Building at which the Lions club will honor the boys and girls basketball teams.

Final arrangements for the banquet were made at the meeting yesterday of the Lions club at which C. J. Hahn presided.

Mrs. Louise Boyd will serve the meal and about 150 are expected. In addition to the speech by Phil George, the program Monday night will include installation of club officers for the 1964-65 year. Fred Watson heads the slate of incoming officers as president; vice presidents are Ray Boyer, Charles Wimer, and Bill Rountree.

The ladies night will take the place of the meeting next Wednesday of the club.

At yesterday's meeting, J. D. Williams of General Telephone in San Angelo presented a program showing slides on satellite communications.

Ray Boyer reported plans complete for the vaccination of dogs Saturday morning and Don McCormick reported that $740 was taken in on the recent Broom Sale.

Guests included Max Brown of Ozona and Ed Wiggins of San Antonio, here with the Baptist revival; Ralph Rohatsch, San Angelo; E. L. Otis, Kilgore; Joe Charles Christian, Texas Tech, Lubbock; and Frank O'Banion and Buddy Spicer, both of Eldorado.

Eddie Etheredge, George Sofge, and Ray Lewis Ballew are local students attending Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos. They were home during the holidays.

News of the Sick

Mary Leigh Tisdale returned to Sul Ross College at Alpine this week after missing two weeks of school while she underwent an appendectomy at the Clinic-Hospital in San Angelo and convalesced at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tisdale. She was taken ill at school and came home to have the surgery on March 14th.

B. E. Moore has returned home from the Golden Years Nursing Home at Christoval after spending three weeks there. Reuben Gonzales, a nurse, is assisting Mrs. Moore in caring for him at home.

Post Script

Local elections are right around the corner and since the Eldorado Success is the exclusive organ of Eldorado and Schleicher county, we feel that it is incumbent on us to take a fearless stand on the various candidates in the interest of good government. We yield to no one in our devotion to the welfare of our fair city and county.

So to begin with we survey the prospect of the school trustee election which comes off on Saturday. We wholeheartedly and without any mental reservation whatever, enthusiastically endorse the candidacy of Jo Ed Hill and Ford Oglesby, Jr., as trustees and recommend them to the favorable consideration of the voters who exercise their franchise by going to the polls this Saturday.

Incidentally they have no opponents.

Next comes the city election next Tuesday for aldermen. You have already been informed that there are six men out for the three places on that ballot—Davidson, Luman, Harris, Waldron, Farris, and Phillips.

They are all good men and we hope each and every one will buy us coffee between now and next Tuesday. Now if we were to give our endorsement to three out of the six, we know very well what would happen. Indignant readers would want to know to just who does he think he is—telling ME how to vote, and they would go to the polls on Tuesday and scratch hell out of every one of our boys just to show their independence. We sure won't want to hurt our favorites so we are keeping it secret.

It will be another month yet before we get around to the Democratic Primary, but there we're having a similar situation in the race for Commissioner in Precinct No. 1. Four dedicated, public-spirited citizens striving for an opportunity to serve in interest of good government without any prospect of personal gain. Do you think we want to black-ball our favorite? Hell no! He's going to win with flying colors in the runoff, because we believe the electorate in their solemn judgment will recognize his sterling qualities. Just wait and see! In the meantime we're not going to pass up his offer of coffee either.

We don't vote in Precinct No. 3 so I don't see how we can have much influence there, but we are wholeheartedly endorsing Joe Wagley who is running unopposed. (Hope this doesn't bring on a write-in.)

Then there is the sheriff—Orval Edmiston re-election. We're for him 110 per cent. He has a lot of irritating things to put up with, and has been doing a good job. You can learn about it by reading the fine print on the back of his cards.

Did you hear this one about the sheriff?

He was walking down the street the other day when an unchin ran up and grabbed him by the sleeve.

"Mister Sheriff, you gotta come to our house quick; Paw and Maw is a-fightin' again!"

"Why son, who is your Paw?"

"Oh that's what they're fightin' about!"

Yessir! Edmiston has the endorsement of the Eldorado Success, the only newspaper in the world that gives a darn about Schleicher county!

We noticed that Sonora and Mason and a few other area towns conducted fund drives for the Red Cross during the month of March, which just closed.

March has traditionally been the time for a Red Cross drive following the March of Dimes in January, the Heart drive in February, and coming ahead of the Cancer campaign in April; but no Red Cross drive has been put on here several years. There has been an undercurrent of antagonism toward the organization on account of their World War II record, a feeling which many veterans of that conflict have had, and they have been inclined neither to forgive nor to forget. And it's a feeling prevalent even today, although the War has been over for nearly 20 years.

Serving as local fund drive chairman for the Red Cross was a thankless job and several chairmen merely made the announcement that they were receiving funds but that no canvass would be made. People wishing to mail or hand in their contributions could do so, but not even that kind of Red Cross drive has been conducted here in some years.

Did the Red Cross people sell coffee and doughnuts on the front lines? Some service men said so, adding that Salvation Army workers were there too. GIVING such refreshments away. That same claim has been voiced by veterans of World War I who served overseas. Other real or imagined instances of wrongdoing still crop up occasionally.

In time of disaster, whether wartime or peacetime, the Red Cross has stood ready to help wherever they could. In wartime, especially, under trying conditions there is more chance for goods and services to be misappropriated. That, presumably, would be the Red Cross's answer to the questions regarding their war record.

Maybe what we need is a disaster, such as the earthquake which befell Alaska last week, to really see how the Red Cross and other such organizations really work.

For more than 35 years, the open book with "Holy Bible" inscribed on it has faced the street from atop the facade of the First Baptist church, to welcome worshippers.

This week, workmen continued building up the new enclosed porch at the front and have covered the inscription with a gabled roof.

So the front of the Baptist church will present a quite different appearance in the future. Work is continuing at a rapid rate on the enclosed porch which will include a steeple on the top, and the new annex building to the east of the main church building.

One month from today, on May 2nd, the First Democratic Primary will be held here and over the state of Texas.

Edwin Jackson, the Democratic chairman of this county, delivered copy for the ballot to us last week and we expect to have the ballot printed and delivered to the County Clerk's office in plenty of time for the start of absentee voting later in the month.

Locally, the only race is for Commissioner of Precinct 1. Incumbent Halbert is opposed by Peters, Speck, and Kinser. All four have had candidate cards printed and will be distributing them in the month ahead.

Dorsey Hardeman, bidding for re-election to his State Senate seat, can claim he is the "best man in the race" since his challenger is Miss Juanita Camfield of San Angelo.

It was a surprise to us that again this year, the New Frontier Democrats here in the 21st Congressional District failed to field an opponent for O. C. Fisher, who is completing 20 years in that office.

In the governor's race, John Connally is again challenged by Don Yarborough. Those two had a close race two years ago.

There are four candidates for governor, the other two being M. T. Banks of Jefferson county and Johnnie Mae Hackworth of Washington county. They just might poll enough votes over the state to throw Connally and Yarborough into the run-off primary early in June.

Yarborough, with his usual liberal backing, is already running a campaign in his second attempt to replace Connally in the governor's chair.

Other state-level races, for lieutenant governor, U.S. Senator, and U.S. representative at large, are quiet as of now, along with the total political picture, but things should warm up soon.

The new water pump is being installed this week at the cemetery with Foxworth-Galbraith Lbr. Co. having the contract for this job.

Mrs. Emily Ann Wolfe and her three children of Dallas spent the Easter week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Harper; her sister, Mrs. Norman Cash and other relatives.

Revival Continuing At First Baptist Church

Max L. Brown of the First Baptist church at Ozona is evangelist at the Revival services continuing through this week at the First Baptist church here in Eldorado.

Ed Wiggins of San Antonio is in charge of the music.

Breakfast is served at 7:00 a.m., followed by morning services at 7:30, and evening services start at 7:30 p.m. This schedule will continue through the remainder of this week.

Kenneth Vaughan, pastor, and Frank O'Banion, music and education director of the local church, are also helping with the Revival. A choir is at work on some special selections being rendered during the week.

Except for the slight inconvenience of the congregation having to enter the church through the side doors while the front entrance is closed off during the current remodeling and rebuilding project, this Revival is reported going well and attracting good crowds.

Mrs. Kreklow Heads Local Cancer Drive

Mrs. Vida Kreklow will be central chairman here in Schleicher county for the Cancer Crusade which is getting under way over the state of Texas and will continue throughout the month of April.

Mrs. Kreklow pointed out that in April of 1963, Schleicher county people gave nearly $800 in the Cancer drive and for this all time high total, this county received a certificate from the state headquarters in Austin.

Mrs. Kreklow stated that the drive will be under way locally through the entire month of April; workers in various areas of the county will be announced later. It is hoped that local people will be as generous in the Cancer Crusade this year.

The designation of April as cancer control month by Governor John Connally has officially opened the 1964 Crusade of the American Cancer Society in Texas. The educational and fund-raising drive by more than 90,000 Texas volunteers will aim at reaching every Texas family during the month.

In his official proclamation, Gov. Connally noted that one-half of the 24,000 cancer patients who will be diagnosed for the first time in 1964 could be saved with present scientific knowledge and medical skill, through earlier diagnosis. One of three are presently being saved.

He also pointed out the need for the greater intensity of research which will be needed to save those for whom there is now no cure available.

"Through collective efforts of volunteers of the American Cancer Society," and broad programs of research, education, and service," he said, "significant gains are being made in the fight to bring final victory over cancer. Every such gain immeasurably benefits our families, our economy, and our state."

More than half of the funds contributed during the current Crusade will be spent for cancer research in Texas institutions, and for public education to increase the saving of lives. Additional amounts which will be spent for professional education and for service to cancer patients will help bring the total to be spent in Texas to more than one dollar of the dollar contributed.

State Attorney General, Waggoner Carr, member of the Texas Division Board of Directors and Executive Committee, will head the 1964 Campaign as State Crusade Chairman.

Can cancer be cured? There is no cancer cure-all, but early diagnosis and treatment saves lives. In between regular physical examinations watch for the seven danger signs of cancer: unusual bleeding or discharge, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, a sore that does not heal, persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing or a change in a wart or mole. If any of these signs continues for two weeks, see your doctor to find out if this means cancer or not.

Easter Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Horn were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Speck Jr. and three children, and Mrs. Henry Speck Sr.

Alaska Relatives Reported Safe

Several people in Eldorado were concerned when news of the big earthquake in Alaska came over the radio and T-V last week.

Staff Sergeant and Mrs. P. A. Olson were located in a military establishment near Anchorage.

Mrs. Olson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Dudley of Eldorado and a sister of Mrs. Ed Meador. The family here received direct word from the Olsons on Tuesday that they were o.k.

Mr. and Mrs. Toby Fish were located at Kenai on the Kenai peninsula where he is an employee of Rowan Drilling Co. Toby is the son of Clarence Fish of Eldorado.

As soon as communication could be set up Rowan Drilling sent word to relatives of their crew men reporting that they were all safe. Another call came to Mr. Fish here Tuesday confirming the earlier report. The Rowan drilling rigs are located out in the water between the peninsula and the mainland where Anchorage is located. The rigs were not damaged, according to the report. Mrs. Toby Fish is a daughter of John D. Phillips of Junction.

Burley McCarley who is located on a Crosby ranch in this county was concerned over the fate of his sister, who with her husband was located some 25 miles out of Anchorage.

As of Tuesday Mr. McCarley had no word from his sister, but it is likely that she was located somewhere where communications were not available.

Latest press reports indicate that comparatively few lives were lost in the Alaska quake although it was one of the most severe in history, said to surpass in intensity the 1906 quake that leveled San Francisco.

Masons Set Move To New Temple

Orval Edmiston, chairman of the Masonic Lodge building committee, reported this week that the contractor is expected to be finished by this Friday with his work on the new Masonic Temple north of the court house.

A work day will be held Saturday for Masons and Eastern Star members to get the new hall ready and to move the furniture from the old hall to the new one. The furniture has been refinished and is reported ready to go.

The move Saturday will culminate the many months of work on the part of the building committee and by other members of the Lodge and the Star chapter.

There will be quite a bit of work involved in the moving job. A winch truck will be provided to move the piano from the old hall, but all other furniture should make the move more easily.

Henry Speck Jr. is currently worshipful master of the local Masonic Lodge. The lodge meeting a week from tonight will open in the old hall, and then recess to the new one to officially put it into use.

Plans will be announced later for a Grand Lodge official to come here for the formal dedication of the new temple, possibly in the summer.

Says Income Is Up From Texas Crude

Austin.—Texas crude oil currently is selling for more dollars than any year since the Suez crisis in 1957. Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon reports.

Langdon said this should be welcome news to the people of Texas because the Texas oil and gas dollar pays for 42% of the state's cost of public education; and almost 60% of the state's cost of teacher retirement, oil-age assistance, blind assistance and aid to dependent children.

He stated that oil production is up 3% over the previous year, and "an even more encouraging" jump is expected for 1964.

Langdon said the fact that the Texas petroleum industry was in such a healthy state after more than half a century of intensive development could be laid to two factors: (1) There was a lot of oil to begin with; and (2) it has not been wasted promiscuously.

Critics of the way the Railroad Commission has regulated the oil and gas industries disregarded the Commissioners' duty to guard the public interest. When they talked about allowables and production, they ignored the fact that natural gas has in recent years become an important energy source replacing to some extent oil; and that Texas was more dominant in gas production than in crude oil production.

Langdon is the newest member of the Railroad Commission, having been appointed last spring. Now he is seeking the voters' approval to serve the remaining four years of a six-year term. He resigned as chief justice of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals to accept the Railroad Commission post.

Shannon Ratliff Engaged

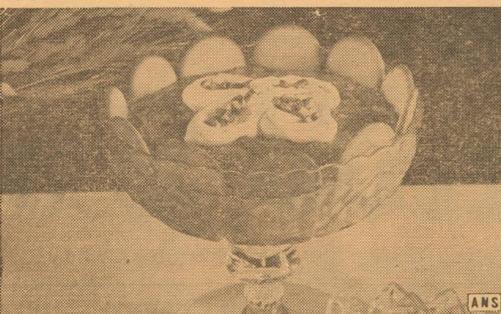

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick David Kokernot, Jr., of Victoria and Gonzales announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha Gay, to Shannon Harrison Ratliff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ratliff of Eldorado.

The couple plan to be married June 6 in Grace Episcopal church in Cuero.

The prospective bridegroom is completing his course at the University of Texas law school.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wimer and their daughter, Mrs. Bill Gunstead, and Gwendolyn and Billy Charles, left Friday evening to spend Easter with the Tom Stewart family in Pampa. They left Monday to visit with other relatives in Oklahoma and southern Kansas and are expected home today, Thursday.

Coffee-Chocolate Dessert Made Ahead

THE WONDERFUL FLAVORS OF COFFEE AND CHOCOLATE are combined in this easy-to-make dessert. Make it early in the day when you're having people in for bridge or to watch a special TV program . . . it serves eight generously. Serve hot decaffeinated coffee black, or with cream and sugar, as the perfect accompaniment.

REFRIGERATOR DESSERT

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|--|
| 1 square unsweetened chocolate | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 2 egg whites | 1-1/2 cups unsifted confectioners' sugar |
| 1/4 cup unsifted confectioners' sugar | 3 tablespoons milk |
| 2 egg yolks | 1 teaspoon vanilla |
| 1/4 cup unsifted confectioners' sugar | 1 cup chopped pecans, toasted |
| 1/2 cup butter | Vanilla wafers |
| 1 tablespoon Instant Sanka Coffee | Sweetened whipped cream |
| | Additional toasted chopped pecans |

Melt chocolate over very low heat. Cool. Meanwhile, beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add 1/4 cup of the confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well after each addition; continue heating until peaks will form. Beat egg yolks. Add 1/4 cup confectioners' sugar; beat until well blended.

Cream the butter. Sift instant coffee, salt, and remaining 1-1/2 cups confectioners' sugar. Add to butter and mix well. Blend in chocolate, milk, and vanilla. Fold in egg yolk mixture and pecans. Fold in egg white mixture. Pour the chocolate mixture into a serving bowl. Chill until set—about 3 hours. Arrange wafers around sides of bowl. Garnish with whipped cream and additional pecans. Makes about 3-1/2 cups, enough for 9 servings.

Highway Sign Irks Backers Of U. S. 290 Route

(From The Austin American, and Menard News)

A privately-maintained highway sign far out in West Texas is ringing alarm bells in President Johnson's tourist-conscious home country and elsewhere along US 290.

Some bold, imaginative outlanders are trying to steal old route 290's tourist thunder.

And, judging by the reaction building up, apparently they are doing a pretty good job of it.

With a countermove being plotted, a battle of the signs is in the offing with the perplexed traveler in the middle.

The brash new sign is out in the big country where State Highway 29 bumps into US 290 between the lonely hamlets of Bakersfield and Sheffield.

With the highly questionable claim of "shortest route east" it entices the wayfarer to forsake US 290 for the pleasures of State 29.

The journeying one who takes the lure will thereupon be lost to the business interests of Ozona, Sonora, Junction, Fredericksburg, Stonewall, and Johnson City.

He will be gained by Iraan, Eldorado, Menard, Mason, Llano and Burnet.

The one who strays from the old established route could even be lost by Austin and won by Georgetown. He would be if he sticks with State 29 all the way, thus bypassing Austin to Georgetown's delight.

The State Highway Department caused this latest ruckus of the signs by recently extending State 29 to its meeting with 290 west of Sheffield.

The intersection is so new it doesn't show on most maps.

First to react to the threat was the Chamber of Commerce at Ozona. The chamber president there, rancher Troy Williams, has sent out warning letters to the chambers in the cities sharing the peril of lost tourist income. And he has called a meeting for Friday at the appropriately named city of Junction to lay plans for a counter-attack.

A rival sign, or signs, is almost sure to be the result. And no doubt they will point out in large letters that US 290 is the route to the LBJ Ranch.

Sterling City Restaurant Observing 2nd Anniversary

Henry and Ruby Zettler will observe their 2nd anniversary at their restaurant here Saturday, March 28. On that day they will serve free coffee and doughnuts to their friends and customers all day.

Melissa Sutherland Marries James O'Harrow

MRS. JAMES HAMILTON O'HARROW

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Sutherland of Monahans announce the marriage of their daughter, Melissa, to James Hamilton O'Harrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim O'Harrow of Eldorado.

The couple exchanged vows Monday, March 31, at 3:00 o'clock in a double ring ceremony at the First Methodist church in Monahans. The Rev. Ray Baker officiated.

An arrangement of pink asters, violet gladiolas, and white lilies were placed at the altar railing to carry out the simple, pure lines of the communion altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful champagne brocade after-five dress. Her hat, given to her by Mrs. O'Harrow, was a beautiful dainty gold satin cap with gold net and gold bows in back. The bride wore white satin heels and gloves. Her only jewelry was a small silver rose shaped locket with a small diamond in the center. This was given to her by the bridegroom.

She carried a beautiful white orchid nestled in the midst of a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Frostie Feaster attended as maid of honor. She wore a blue and white linen suit and her corsage was a small white orchid.

Best man was Richard Sutherland, brother of the bride. Soloist, Gayle McFarlin, sang "Always." The organist was Peggy Bellamy. Mrs. Sutherland, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue flowered silk dress with navy accessories. Mrs. O'Harrow, mother of the groom, wore a rose pink suit with a rose pink flowered hat and rose pink accessories. Each mother wore a gardenia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland entertained the couple and guests with a reception in the church parlor. The four-tiered wedding cake, topped by bride and groom and accented by pink rose buds, was encompassed by 2 antique crystal candelabra and pink candles. Beside the cake was a white lily plant and opposite was a family heirloom punch bowl.

Shirley and Stella Hubble served the cake and punch. Mrs. Harold Nabors registered guests.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim O'Harrow, Mrs. W. D. Hubble, Stella and Billy Hubble, Mrs. Jim Harris, all of Eldorado;

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Sutherland, Gary, Trena, and Ricky Sutherland, all of Andrews; Mrs. Luke Robinson of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Smith and Tana of Iraan; Orinea Fay Foster and Don Petty of Colorado City; and Mrs. Earl Lasiter, Mrs. Howard Lasiter, Cindy Lasiter and Marcy Lasiter of Grandfalls.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Harrow will reside in Lubbock where they plan to continue their studies at Texas Tech College.

The bride graduated from Monahans High. Mr. O'Harrow is a graduate of Eldorado High.

BROWNIES MET TUESDAY

The Second and Third Grade Brownie Troop No. 153 met at the Corral Tuesday. There were seven girls and two leaders present.

The girls toured the Success shop. We appreciated the Gunsteads kindness to us and really enjoyed it.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Vonda Maness. —Rep.

Lynda McGinnes was among the college students home for the holidays. She attends North Texas State at Denton.

Methodist Notes

Large Attendance

Church on Easter Sunday, even with several of our regular church-going families out of town, was a pleasant surprise. At the Sunday School hour the rooms were filled with children and that is the way it should be every Sunday morning. We were happy to have several visitors.

At the morning Easter worship, the sanctuary was well filled, and seven new members were welcomed into the church fellowship; 4 by baptism and profession of faith; 2 by profession and one by transfer of membership letter.

Next Sunday both morning and evening sermons will be post-Easter messages—"The After-glow of Easter." —C. M. Nyquist, pastor.

Miss McCalla And Mr. Pennington Married Friday

Mrs. SIDNEY VAN PENNINGTON

Miss Genelle McCalla became the bride of Sidney Van Pennington during a ceremony Friday at the Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McCalla, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Pennington of McGregor.

Mr. Reuben Stanley, Church of Christ minister, officiated with wedding music furnished by an A Capella Choir of Abilene Christian College.

Miss Jan Powell of Abilene attended the bride as maid of honor with bridesmaids being Mrs. Gene Powell of Irving, Miss Beth McCalla and Miss Mary Lyn McCalla, sisters of the bride.

Serving the bridegroom were Billy Zacharias of Giddings, best man. Groomsmen were Charles Weiss and Gary Pennington, brother of the bridegroom, both of McGregor, and Mike Magill of Abilene.

Seating guests were Harold Wheeler of Ft. Worth, uncle of the bride. Candle lighters were Bill Jarrett and Lee Jarrett.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white braided satin. The fitted bodice featured a scooped neckline and long tapered sleeves. The corded waistline came to a point in the front and back with a white satin bow accenting the back point. The neckline was trimmed with re-embroidered lace. The bell skirt fell into a chapel length train.

She carried an arrangement of camellias and feathered carnations. The three-tiered veil of nylon tulle was attached to a pearl tiara accented with tear-drop pearls.

The bridesmaids' dresses were of orchid chrystapough with the same bell skirt and bodice as the bride's. The bride's chosen color of orchid was carried out in the decorations.

Following the service a reception was held in the Memorial Building.

The House Party included Miss Fran Wheeler and Miss Eva Wheeler of Ft. Worth, Miss Pauletta Verette of Abilene and Miss Katherine Harrington of Corpus Christi.

Out-of-town guests included Bill Whitefield, Martha Mahurin, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bedicheck, Jackie Qualls, Melinda and Martha Qualls, Cindy Drennon, Pam Drennon, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Powell, Miss Pauletta Verette of Abilene;

Miss Kathryn Harrington of Corpus Christi, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Powell of Irving, Mrs. Edith Wheeler of Weatherford, Mr. and Mrs. Max Wheeler of Bay City, Mr. and Mrs. John Pennington of Rockdale, Mrs. E. R. Roberson, Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Jo Lee Sears and Jimmy, Mosheim; Mrs. Ada Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Lindberg, Mrs. Elbert Baker, Mrs. Bradley Cox of Valley Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Abbott and son of Del Rio; Mrs. L. D. Christian, San Angelo;

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zacharias, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ramsey of McGregor, Mrs. P. W. Horner, aunt of the groom, Poplar Bluff, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wheeler, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wheeler, Marsha, Nancy and Diane, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Thornton, Doug, Ricky and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Berry H. Burnett, Kathy and Tom, Mr. and Mrs. Jamey Duncan, Frankie and Mike, Eva Wheeler, Fran Wheeler, Harold Wheeler and Miss Gloria Bell of Ft. Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Pennington honored the wedding party with a luncheon at Java Junction at 1:00 p.m. on Friday.

Mr. Pennington is a 1963 graduate of Abilene Christian College and is teaching at Travis Elementary School in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Skages of Galveston were here over Easter visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hext.

HELLO, ELDORADO

Having bought from Mr. and Mrs. Long their Eldorado variety store business, we invite their many old customers to come in and get acquainted.

From now on the business will be known as "Spicer Variety Store."

We have moved here because we felt it is a good place to live, and as we take our place in the Eldorado business district you will find us prepared to support those civic enterprises that tend for the betterment of the community.

Good Neighbor H. D. Club Meets

The Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting Tuesday, March 24th, in the home of Mrs. E. H. Dannheim.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. C. Parks, and the following club members were present: Mmes. Duane Branhams, E. H. Dannheim, Fred Gillaspay, Ben Hext, Bethl Jeffrey, T. C. Stanford. There were three visitors, Mrs. Moore, mother of Vida Krelkow, Gladys Cheek and Mary Harvey.

At this time the club decided to send Mrs. Truett Stanford as THDA delegate to council and if elected there she will go to Kerrville on May 7th.

Mrs. Vida Krelkow, Home Demonstration Agent, talked and demonstrated hats in making some from new straw braid on forms for shaping them. Others were old hats turned inside out, steamed and re-decorated. She stressed that any old hat can be made beautiful with a few points on knowing how to start.

Another thing of great importance Mrs. Krelkow stressed was that perspiration can be taken out of arms of dresses by holding over steam of tea kettle.

The meeting adjourned, refreshments of coffee and cake were served, and the next meeting will be April 28 at 2:30 at Mrs. T. C. Stanford's. —Rep.

Holiday guests of the R. L. Ballews and Mrs. F. M. Bradley were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Barker and little daughter, Jamie Lyn, of Cuero, and Ray Lewis Ballew of Southwest Texas State College, San Marcos.

Thank You

After thirty years we have sold our variety store business in Eldorado and take this means of saying "Thank You" to the people of Eldorado and Schleicher County for the patronage and good will we have enjoyed during that long period.

With Mr. and Mrs. Spicer as our successors we feel we are leaving the business in competent hands and we trust that you will be as generous to them with your patronage as you have been with us.

Again we say "Thank You."

Car AirConditioning

Your air conditioning system is an expensive accessory and must be serviced periodically to prevent failure. Working parts of the system are oiled by the circulation of freon and oil in the system. If a leak has occurred during the off season, and they often do, the system can be badly damaged in just a few minutes of operation.

Let us check your air conditioning NOW at the beginning of the season.

Report Given On FHA 1963 Loans

Credit to purchase livestock and equipment and meet other farm operating costs assisted many families in increasing their income in 1963, Mr. Bill McWhorter, chairman of the Farmers Home Administration Area Committee serving Schleicher, Crockett, and Sutton counties reported this week.

Mr. McWhorter stated that the San Angelo office unit of the Farmers Home Administration, which also serves Tom Green, Sterling, Irion, and Reagan counties, made loans totaling $229,600 in 1963; repayments by borrowers from the seven county unit were $300,500.

Loans are made only to farmers who are unable to obtain credit from conventional lenders. They may be used to buy machinery and equipment, livestock, feed, seed, and fertilizer, to pay other farm and home costs, and to refinance debts. Interest is 5 per cent on operating loans which are to be repaid over a period of from one to seven years.

Mr. McWhorter reported the FHA operating loan program in 1963 was of particular benefit to three groups of farmers in the seven county unit:

(1) Farmers who need credit to make major changes in their farm operations to do a successful job of farming

(2) Young farmers who have an opportunity of taking over the farming operations of older farmers wanting to retire, and

(3) Farmers working full or part-time at another job who need operating credit to realize the maximum return from their limited farming operation.

FHA makes operating loans to eligible farm families who cannot obtain credit from other sources. Borrowers are also assisted in planning and reorganizing their farming operations to produce the highest return.

Applications for an operating loan may be made at the FHA office in the Cactus Hotel in San Angelo, or on the first and third Wednesdays from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon at the County Agent's office in Eldorado.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN
by Tiny Godwin
Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Three soil testing laboratories are operating by Texas A&M University's Agricultural Extension Service.

Farm profits depends upon higher acre yields and the value of following recommended practices, including soil testing and using fertilizer, especially where producers are irrigating.

Using fertilizer on dry land in the county depends upon sub-soil moisture. When there is sub-soil moisture then the use of commercial fertilizer should be a must. It will make soil moisture go farther and should rains come, increase yields.

A soil test costs only $2 and when recommendations are followed with adequate moisture will pay $2 to $10 for each dollar spent.

Soil sample sheets with instructions are available at the County Agent's office.

Your soil analysis with recommendations for each crop will be back from the soil testing laboratory in one week. Cost: $2.

A. L. Novasad, pasture specialist, Texas Extension Service, met with producers who are interested in bermudagrass production at the Pat and Wallace Joiner farm in the morning and at the Parker farm in the evening. Mr. Novasad stressed these points for maximum production and quality forage.

(1) Apply the recommended amounts of fertilizer with the first irrigation as recommended by soil tests; (2) gains are highest in the spring, utilize the pasture as soon as practical; (3) bale hay during the hot summer months, increasing fertilizer rates; (4) leave good growth with the first killing frost for some filler during winter and (5) plant elbow rye or small grains only when complete dormancy is reached so the bermudagrass will not be in competition, securing a good stand of small grains or rye. Some set back could be noted in the spring on the bermudagrass but manage livestock accordingly.

Mr. Howard emphasized testing the hay for protein content. This service being available through the Extension Service of AM University, at a cost of $2 per sample.

When the going seems easy, check and make sure that you are not going down hill.

Livestock producers must take precaution in handling their livestock if they do not want screw-worm flies to spread across the state.

Spring is an ideal time for screwworms, because of the mild, moist weather. In addition such activities as shearing, marking of lambs and calves and routine surgical operations provide thousands of wounds that are open to invitation to screwworm cases in the county.

To prevent this from happening livestockmen should inspect livestock frequently, treat wounds and infestations, collect larvae samples, and report cases immediately so that emergency measures can be taken—sterile flies will be dropped.

Protect your livestock and your investment in screwworm eradication by using four ways:
1. Inspect
2. Collect
3. Treat
4. Spray.
Complete screwworm eradication depends upon the producer. The best possible location for the garden by many has been selected as to convenience, good soil, water supply, lay of land, adequate light and freedom from competition of ornamental shrubs, and shade trees.

If you have worked in organic material at least six weeks before planting with phosphates you can expect an excellent yield with care. In obtaining this yield varieties are important. Select them with care and consideration.

Lettuce, onions, potatoes, turnips, cabbage, English peas are recommended to be planted 2-4 weeks before the last killing frost April 10-20.

Varieties recommended after frost free date.

Snap beans, bush type: Top Crop, Tendergreen, Pearl Green.

Snap beans, pole: Blue Lake, Kentucky Wonder.

Corn, sweet: Aristo Gold, Ban Tan, Evergreen.

Cucumbers: Earliest of All, Ohio MR 17.

Okra: Louisiana Green Velvet, Clemson Spineless.

Radish: Scarlet Globe, White Icicle.

Tomatoes: Texto 2, Firestem, Porter, Summer Prolific.

Squash: Early Prolific, Straight Neck, White Bush Scallop.

Cantaloupe: Rio Gold.

Watermelon: Charleston Gray, Tendersweet, Pride of Texas.

Marriage is a committee of two on ways and means. One has her way and the other provides the means.

Conservation is acting upon a recognition that everything we eat, everything we wear, our shelter, our implements, our conveniences, and our luxuries—all come from the land.

It is a fascinating analysis of the simple terms of man's existence, of the interdependence and interrelationships of all things on earth, including man.

It is a social imperative of paramount importance—based on the belief that no individual or group has the moral right to waste our resources or to use them unwisely.

It is a feeling of personal obligation to transmit the gifts of our heritage to those who shall succeed us.

It is a way of living that appreciates and enjoys the out of doors.

It is a philosophy that projects itself into service looking ultimately to the presentation of the human family.

Since education in conservation is fundamental to life: it is the obligation of everyone to practice and to pass on its precepts. But our democratic society has the right to expect those dealing in education to point courageously at society's faults and to propose remedies for those faults. It is education's business, not to tell people what decisions to make, but to educate them so they will make the right decisions in the light of complete information and with the proper attitudes, insight, and understanding.

Three things seldom seen on the road nowadays: running boards, rumble seats and common courtesy.

Homemakers Banquet Held Last Week

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet of the Future Homemakers of America was held in the school cafeteria March 25th with 114 in attendance.

Eileen Kent, president of local organization, was the master of ceremonies. Martha Sue Page gave the invocation; Helen Tuckness greeted the guests and Mrs. Bill Rozean gave the response along with a reading, "What is a Family?"

The dinner plate of salads was prepared by the homemaking II class and served by Joan Griffin, Cecilia Dockal, Vickie Shore, Amy Fuller and Elena Garza, all non-members of the club.

Entertainment included an original poem, "Tribute to Mother" by Barbara Johnson; a duet acting number "What Takes My Fancy" by Alice Dyer and Deanne Hext, and then the ten officers presented the emblem ceremony. This portrays what the organization means, its purpose, its symbols and the motto.

Such an occasion as this entails much planning, preparation and committee work. Experience of lasting value as well as present enjoyment are merits earned by the club. Miss Owens, sponsor, was presented a lovely gardenia corsage by the 62 members of the local FHA chapter.

EASTER DINNER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whiteley Sunday was the gathering place for all members of the family for Easter Sunday dinner. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whiteley of Brady; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carroll and Karin of Ozona; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Carroll and Mark and Tim of Maric, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grenberry and Cindy of San Antonio; Herman Carroll of San Angelo; also the Eldorado families, Mr. and Mrs. Laman Hazelwood, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hozelwood and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Carroll.

Among those calling in the afternoon were Walter Taylor of Eldorado, and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Gartman of Sanco, Texas. Mrs. Gartman is a cousin of Mrs. Whiteley and it was their first visit in 51 years.

Mrs. Louise Boyd was called to McGregor over the week end where she attended the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. Fred Johnson. Mrs. Boyd was accompanied to McGregor by her daughter, Martha, who is now employed in San Angelo. McGregor is about 19 miles from Waco, where Mrs. Boyd formerly lived.

PLEDGES HONORARY GROUP

Lubbock.—Texas Tech's chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, scholastic honorary for all schools of the College, has announced the pledging of 124 students for Tech's six schools for the spring semester, 1964. Pledges from the School of Arts and Sciences include Edna M. Faught of Eldorado.

Homemakers Week Set For April 5-11

Over one-half million Future Homemakers of America in states throughout the nation observe National FHA Week April 5 to 11, Eldorado president Eileen Kent announces.

The 62 members will celebrate the week by the following activities: Sunday, attend church together; Monday, Mirror in Hallway to encourage good grooming; Tuesday, Teacher appreciation day; Wednesday, wear red and white; Thursday, wear a household article; Friday, wiener roast after school.

Future Homemakers are home-making students in junior and senior high school. Members of this organization, now in its 19th year, work toward the over-all goal of helping individuals improve personal, family, and community living.

A national program of work guides the activities of individual members and chapters. Projects on this year's program are (1) You and Your Values; (2) Focus on family friendship; (3) Marriage calls for Preparation; (4) Stay in School; (5) Action for citizenship.

FHA is sponsored by the Home Economics Education Branch of the U. S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association.

Mrs. Paul Nixon Jr. Honored With Gift Tea

Mrs. Paul Nixon Jr., nee Brenda Posey, was honored with a Gift Tea in the club room of the Memorial Building on Tuesday, March 17, from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were used in the decorations. The table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an all-white arrangement in a blue container.

Miss Judy Deaton served the cake while her sister, June, presided over the punch bowl. Miss Vicki Shore registered the guests in the bride's book. Some 30 guests registered.

Hostesses were Mrs. Floyd Deaton, Mrs. Jimmy Daniels, Mrs. Leroy Hanusch, Mrs. Lester Nixon, Mrs. E. H. Nixon Sr., Mrs. E. H. Nixon Jr., Mrs. J. C. McCoy, Mrs. Dee Shipman, Mrs. Ted Yocham, and Mrs. George Williams.

First Baptists Visit Christoval Nursing Unit

As a community missions project of the WMU of the First Baptist church sponsored by Mrs. Arch Mittel, community missions chairman, a group visited the Golden Years Nursing Home in Christoval last Thursday afternoon.

Rev. Kenneth Vaughan presented a devotional and Frank O'Banion led group singing after which they visited each inactive patient in his or her room and presented brief programs.

A tour of the new part of the home was made.

Local Woman's Mother Dies In San Angelo

Mrs. J. G. Pfluger, 43, of San Angelo, mother of Mrs. Ronnie McLain of Eldorado, died about noon Friday from a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Funeral services were held in the chapel of the First Baptist church at 3 p.m. Saturday with burial in Fairmount cemetery.

Mrs. Pfluger was the former Delle Bates of Ballinger and Miles. She graduated from Miles High school and attended the Shannon School of Nursing.

She married Joseph Gilmore (Gilly) Pfluger on Jan. 1, 1942. Mr. Pfluger is manager of the Pfluger farm west of Eldorado. Mr. Pfluger was at the farm at the time of her death and was contacted by the police there shortly after his wife's body was discovered.

Survivors include her husband, a daughter Mrs. Ronnie McLain of Eldorado; another daughter, Mrs. Jerry Castleberry of Houston; a son, Gary Pfluger of San Angelo; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bates; two sisters, Mrs. D. L. Roach and Roy Starr, all of San Angelo; and two grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Ardis Cansler of San Angelo spent last week in Eldorado visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. W. "Rusty" Gibson and Eldra. Mr. Cansler is Mrs. Gibson's brother. Mrs. Cansler is the former Johnnie Griffin, a former Eldorado resident.

Mrs. Joe Rider of Austin spent the Easter holidays visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don McCormick.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Mittel and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Mittel spent the holidays in El Paso where they visited Lt. and Mrs. Wm. H. Harrison Jr. Mrs. Harrison is the former Margo Mittel.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Low and children of Lamesa spent the holidays in Eldorado visiting Mrs. Low's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGinnes and brothers, Albert and Elton and families.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hamby and children, Keith, Ann and Brenda of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Speir and children, Debra and Ronnie of Lake Jackson, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blakeway and David of Eldorado, were Easter guests of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Thompson.

Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bryant were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Rogge of Farmington, New Mexico; their grandchildren, Carolyn, Lassie Joe and Bob Rogge of Farmington and Montie Wayne and Kirk Allen (Pete) Bryant from Alpine, Texas.

Visiting the "Shorty" Davis family over the holidays and returning home Monday afternoon were their daughters and their families, Mrs. Dan Allred of Pasadena, Texas, Mrs. Leroy Medford of Colorado City, and Mrs. A. H. McGinley of San Angelo and friends Benny Muller, Gary Allred, and Tommy Bitz all from Haskell.

Joe Charles Christian left yesterday to return to Texas Tech at Lubbock after spending a week here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Christian.

B. F. Hartgraves of Eldorado recently sold two registered Angus cows and an Aberdeen-Angus bull to L. E. Smith of Knott, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLaughlin and two-year-old daughter of San Antonio, visited here over Easter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin, Sr.

Jody and Joyce Whitten and their three children of Houston spent the week end here in the Lum Burk and Whitten homes.

Buren Whitten Jr. and Buddy Mercer were home for the Easter holidays, visiting their parents and friends.

Visitors over Easter in the E. H. Topliffe home were their daughters, Myrta Ann who is employed in Abilene and who visited also in Ozona, and Martha Ellen, a sophomore at Sul Ross College.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wheeler recently were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Kirk of Austin. Mrs. Kirk is the former Ellen Wheeler. Also visiting here were Mr. and Mrs. Harris Napier and family of Tyler who also visited on the Henderson ranch and with the Napiers in Menard.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kennedy of Ingram, and the Bob Davises of Big Lake visited the Buren Whittens over the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McCutcheon of Austin were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will L. Isaacs.

Preston Bailey of Santa Anna was visiting here Monday morning.

Misses Brenda and Ann Hamby of Dallas and Miss Debra Speir of Lake Jackson visited Miss Mary Bruton Saturday and Sunday of this last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Boyer were here over the week end from San Angelo visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boyer and Danny.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen returned home last week after spending several days in Dallas and East Texas where they visited relatives and friends. Mrs. Van Dusen's mother, Mrs. W. L. Reed of Yantis, Texas, returned with them and is visiting for a few weeks. Others visiting during the holidays were their boys, David Lawrence of Odessa, Johnny Lawrence from the University at Austin, and Billy Van Dusen from Sul Ross College, Alpine.

Miss Carolyn Glynn and a cousin, Eldie Glynn, both of Bronte; David Kuykendall from San Angelo College, and a friend from Menard enjoyed a barbecue supper in the backyard of the home of Mrs. Allan Kuykendall and daughter Louise, last Saturday evening. Miss Glynn and David continued their visit until Sunday afternoon when they went to Bronte to visit Miss Glynn's parents before they returned to their separate schools at S.A.C. and Hardin-Simmons, at Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Wright from Fort Worth, daughter of the Buren Whittens, visited with them and other relatives over the Easter holidays.

Austin.—Top finance officials of the state now feel reasonably sure the next fiscal year for Texas governmental operations will dawn with an unfamiliar general revenue surplus on hand.

Texas' hard-pressed general fund has been in almost constant deficit for more than six years. As of March 25, it still was $36.6 million in the red.

However, budget-makers are impressed with optimistic U. S. Treasury reports that the income tax cut is going to boom state and local revenues by putting more money in circulation. (Theory: more money spent, more sales taxes collected.)

"There will be a surplus. The question is how much," commented one veteran finance observer. Ideas on "how much" stretch all the way from a relatively modest $35 million—estimated by the comptroller's office—to upwards of $90 million.

While the feeling is general that the Legislature will begin its budget writing next year with prospects of money on hand, the surplus likely will not be big enough to avert a new tax bill.

Public school teachers are campaigning for a $405 annual pay raise which would cost the state $68 million for the next biennium. Texas Commission on Higher Education has endorsed a program which totals $86 million additional spending for the college and university system for 1965-67.

Other state agencies are continuing to grow and few have been known to ask for less money.

The surplus should provide a protective cushion. However, governmental finance experts feel that taxpayers won't get by the 1965 legislative session unscathed.

Loan Regulations Proposed

The terms "easy payments," "no red tape," and "repayment in easy installments" are considered misleading advertising by money lenders under regulations proposed by Francis A. Miskell, regulatory loan commissioner.

Miskell served notice of his first four "rules of practice and procedure" for lenders and scheduled a public hearing on them for May 8. Regulations cover books, files and records; advertising; insurance and collection practices.

Under other proposed advertising rules, almost any "comparative" term such as "new reduced rates" or "new type of service" must stand a rigid test of accuracy. Miskell also proposes to ban business solicitation by such devices as "credit cards" and "letters of credit," claiming the borrowers have an established credit standing.

Strong-arm collection practices would be strictly prohibited. In fact, under the rules, lenders could not solicit payment from anyone other than the borrower, members of his immediate family or signers of the note. Employers could be called on to help collect by their own consent.

Miskell gave the loan firms until May 1 to submit their written views on the rules.

The regulatory loan agency, set up by the Legislature last year to regulate loans up to $1,500, just now is moving into full scale operation.

Asks Ruby Moved Here

Jack Ruby's new lawyer, University of Texas Professor Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, wants the accused slayer of Lee Harvey Oswald moved to the Austin State Hospital for more lab tests.

Smith has indicated he will rely on the university's law-science institute to determine whether Ruby suffers from any form of brain damage.

Smith is both attorney and doctor. He holds degrees from Harvard law and medical schools.

First Texas Travel Ads Booked

Texas begins its first official advertising of its vacation attractions in national publications on April 5.

Initial ad shows a pretty girl on a Texas beach and boasts of Texas fishing, scenery, golfing, and horseback riding. It will appear in the spring vacation and travel section of the New York Times. Same ad will run in the Chicago Tribune's travel section on April 12.

Texas Tourist Development Agency plans a number of advertisements in out-of-state newspapers and magazines this spring and summer.

Funds for the travel and tourist promotion, first ever appropriated to the state, were provided by the 58th Legislature.

Faster Cars For Game Wardens

State Parks and Wildlife Department is replacing some six-cylinder cars used by game warden with modern motor mounts called "Police Specials."

Department's executive director, Weldon Watson, said the new V-8's are faster and "will help to overcome a serious handicap to our warden force."

Short Snorts

Sen. William T. Moore of Bryan was named to the Texas Legislative Council (research arm of the Legislature) to replace Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso, who resigned.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr announced the filing of 10 additional civil penalty suits for alleged slant-hole oil well activities, making a total of 91. Gov. John Connally's Committee on Education Beyond the High School agreed on need for expanded use of educational television and year-round use of existing campuses.

Court of Criminal Appeals scheduled April 8 arguments on Billie Sol Estes' second appeal from an eight-year prison sentence for swindling.

Kiwanis Clubs all over the state are raising money to furnish a Prayer Room in the State Capitol which was provided by the last Legislature.

Dr. J. S. Wiseman, State Health Department Entomologist, says diseases transmitted by insects have been on the wane since DDT was first used in 1939. Commercial Bank and Trust Company of Irving has applied for a charter from the State Department of Banking.

Burt L. Risley of Austin, formerly of Asherton, was appointed executive-secretary-director of State Commission for the Blind, replacing veteran Lon E. Alsop, who is retiring after 22 years service.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Emerick expect to leave this week end for California to attend their son's wedding.

Texans have been invited to participate on April 4 in a special commemoration of the Red River Campaign, including the Battle of Mansfield, in Louisiana.

The invitation has been issued by the Texas Civil War Centennial Advisory Committee and the Louisiana Civil War Centennial Commission, joint sponsors of the observance.

The Red River Campaign was the most serious threat to Texas during the war and more than 80% of the Confederate forces there were Texans.

John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, chairman of the Texas Civil War Centennial Advisory Committee, said that "more than 20,000 descendants and relatives of Texas soldiers participating in this campaign are still living in and around East Texas, and at least that many more are scattered over the rest of the state. Descendants and relatives will be guests of honor, and we urge all to come to Center and Mansfield for the observance."

A Texas muster of descendants will be held at 9:30 a.m. in Center on April 4, Shepperd said. A pancake breakfast will be served on the courthouse square at 7:30 that morning and programs to follow will include a Rebel Yell Contest and the firing of the old Val Verde cannon—the same one used in the battles 100 years ago and which, for the past several decades, has been mounted on the courthouse square in Fairfield, county seat of Freestone County, Texas.

The old cannon has been fitted out with a new carriage and will be transported to the Mansfield Battle Park for the ceremonies. Following the Texas Muster Saturday morning, a special caravan of bands, cars and a Confederate uniformed cavalry unit will proceed to Mansfield, Louisiana, for a parade. Descendants' cars will have plaques designating their ancestors' Civil War unit and all descendants will wear special badges, Shepperd said.

At 2 p.m. at the battleground, Texas Lt. Gov. Preston Smith will dedicate the state marker for Texas units participating in the Battle of Mansfield and the Red River Campaign. Shepperd said the marker is the first to be erected outside the state and that Louisiana Governor Jimmy Davis and other Louisiana state officials will be present for the program.

Speaker of the House Byron Tunnell of Tyler and State Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, will be guests for the program.

And A. H. Plummer, curator of the Mansfield Battle Park Museum, has just notified this writer that Prince Victor Mansfield De Polignac, only son of General Polignac who commanded a Texas Brigade and at the death of General Mouton became a division commander in the Battle of Mansfield, is to be present for the Centennial observance, accompanied by the Princess who was an American citizen.

Recommended Reading for This Week: We have culled our books this time in order that we might recommend some of the better references on the Red River Campaign and the Battle of Mansfield for interested readers who will want to "read up" on the events of 100 years ago before going to Mansfield.

One of the most comprehensive coverages of the entire Campaign is Ludwell H. Johnson's "Red River Campaign" published by Johns Hopkins University Press.

John D. Winters has written for Louisiana State University Press a comprehensive account of the entire participation of his state in "The Civil War in Louisiana."

The part played by New Orleans in the War is interestingly told in "The Night the War Was Lost," by Charles L. Dufour, published by Doubleday; and in Hans Louis Treffouze's "Ben Butler, the South Called Him BEAST!" published by Twayne Publishers.

The part played by the Union navy is well depicted in Volume Two of Virgil Carrington Jones definitive history in three volumes published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston under the title, "The Civil War at Sea," and in H. Allen Cosnell's "Guns on the Western Waters," published by Louisiana State University Press.

Edward Cunningham, in his "The Port Hudson Campaign, 1862-1863," published by Louisiana State University Press, has told for the first time the important role of this Confederate port in the overall war effort as it relates to the Red River Campaign.

And a final volume that Texas readers will appreciate is "Brokenburn, the Journal of Kate Stone, 1861-1868," edited by Jr. John Q. Anderson of Texas A&M and published by Louisiana State University Press.

An Invited Guest

The Average family looks forward with real pleasure to the arrival of an invited guest. The welcome sign is out and there's a real desire to make him happy. But when that second cousin you never did like rolls up two minutes before dinner with a couple of fellows you never saw before — and hope you never see again — there's apt to be a slight coolness in the reception he gets.

The home newspaper goes into the family circle as an invited guest and an old friend. Its visits are looked for and appreciated . . . and its advertising is never a rude intrusion.

The advertiser who has his message in the columns of the home newspaper shares in this reception. He benefits by being in good company . . . among friends.

EXPLAINS WEST TEXAS BOY'S RANCH WORK
Railroad Commissioner Jim C. Langdon, right, tells Attorney General Waggoner Carr about the West Texas Boy's Ranch (near San Angelo) program. Because of his interest in juvenile problems and how they can be solved, Carr is enthusiastic about the program. As a reward for his interest, Judge Langdon, who is a ranch director, gives him two tickets to the ranch's annual rodeo on Saturday, May 23. Carr plans to attend.

Farmers and ranchers of today have many things in common with the farmers and ranchers of long ago. One of the main concerns of the farmer and rancher of long ago and those of today is crop production. To produce good crops there are some things they must do to make this possible.

The use of the land according to its capabilities and treating it according to its needs, has always assured the farmers of the best production attainable from his land. The misuse of the land has always resulted in low production. Continued misuse can eventually result in such low production that farming ceases to be economical.

Farmers throughout the Eldorado Divide S.C.D. are concerned about what this year's crop yields will be. The farmers' concern of today, April 1964—should also be, "What can I do now to attain the highest production in years to come?" By thinking about this matter seriously he will find that there are several things that should be done to attain this objective. One of the main problems would be, what can be done to keep the soil from blowing away? The evidence that this is a problem is plentiful. The fences practically covered with soil, bar ditches along roads full of top soil, and grass in pastures covered with several inches of top soil, is concrete evidence that soil erosion caused by wind is a problem. Now is the time to do the things necessary to prevent wind erosion next year and to improve the condition and fertility of the soil.

This year is in past years, farmers participating in the grain program will have the opportunity to plant a crop for soil protection and soil improvement on their grain program land. The cost of seed, labor and other expense to plant and maintain a cover and soil improving crop, is minor as compared to the benefits.

Each crop that is planted and removed from a field removes plant food elements that are essential in good crop yield. Cotton uses approximately 75 pounds of nitrogen, 30 pounds phosphorus and 50 pounds of potash, when 1500 lbs. of seed cotton is produced per acre. To produce 60 bushels of grain sorghum and including the three tons of stalks per acre, approximately 115 pounds of nitrogen, 75 pounds of phosphorus and 110 pounds of potash is needed. The replacement and building up of these major plant food elements can only be accomplished by planning and applying soil improving crops or by applying the needed fertilizer. Soil management for improvement and protection should come before the proper management of machinery, livestock, or cash crops produced on agriculture land. This is true since each farming operation or piece of farm machinery is dependent on the ability of the soil to produce enough to make them economical to use.

District cooperators that have used crops for protection and improvement on grain program land have experienced increased yields on crops that followed. In 1959 Clemens Sauer's yield was 383 lbs. of lint cotton per acre on land that was benefitted by a crop used as a soil improving crop. The yield from a field that was in grain sorghum the previous year was 213 pounds of lint cotton per acre. The 170 pounds more per acre at 29 cents per pound was $49.30 per acre. From Sauer's experience, along with others, it is very evident, "Soil improving crops don't cost, they pay."

Numerous crops can soon be planted for soil protection and improvement. Small grains, grain sorghums and legumes have been used in this area and good benefits attained. Guar and field peas, are the two summer legumes that can be used. The legumes normally add more nitrogen to the soil than non-legumes.

The Stanford boys came in for the holidays and to visit their parents, the Truett Stanfords, and their wives' parents. Sonny and family were here from Chickasha, Okla., to visit them and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mace; Jack and his wife from Wichita Falls, who also visited Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Humphries; and Joe Ray and Nancy from Waco, who visited Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jackson also.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mace for Easter included their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Stanford from Chickasha, Okla., and their children; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Otis of Kilgore, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Travis Perry and two daughters from San Angelo; and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spurgers and four boys of Clyde. Mrs. Otis is Mrs. Mace's sister.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

By now I'm sure that it's no secret to you that some of my finest and best friends are children. It isn't so much that I understand them—I think actually that it's that they understand me. I love their talk, their thinking, their brightness and their responsiveness.

This all brings me to the following statement made by safety experts at Texas A&M University which has directly to do with some of the "smart" things we can teach children. Read on—it could be your child or grandchild involved. I quote from Bobye Riney, a friend who has written these stories.

Small children should know and trust the telephone operator as much as they do the corner policeman, and should turn to the operator in the event of an emergency.

Extension Service specialists at Texas A&M University say that although pre-school youngsters cannot be expected to memorize long telephone numbers, they can be taught one rule: If an accident happens, dial zero, tell the operator what is wrong, and she will help you.

A child should be taught, however, that he is to dial zero only in emergencies, say Bobye Riney, Extension rural civil defense specialist, and Patsy Reynolds, family life education specialist.

One five-year-old's plaintive message to the operator was "My Mommie's asleep and won't wake up—and there's a fire in our house." After a little prodding, the operator learned the boy's name and address and called the fire department. Firemen rushed to the address, found the house on fire, and the mother knocked out by sleeping pills. Both survived, thanks to the child's action and the operator's help.

Another youngster whose mother fell through a floor and was trapped, went directly to the telephone and dialed zero. He couldn't remember his daddy's name or where he lived, but he rattled off the name and address of his grandparents. The operator called them, got the child's address and had a doctor on the way in minutes.

Although operators are ingenious in tracing calls from small fry, such procedure is a waste of precious time. Encourage your child to memorize his name, his father's name and address, the specialists recommend.

And may I introduce another friend, Mr. A. F. DeWerth, who is head of the Floriculture Section of the Soil and Crop Sciences Department of Texas A&M University. Mr. DeWerth has this to say about pruning trees, shrubs, or other plants...

"The cardinal rule of pruning is, if you have no good reason for pruning a plant, put the tools away. The primary purpose of pruning is to remove unwanted growth, whether it be for the plant's health, appearance, safety reasons or for disease control.

In dealing with shade trees, corrective pruning is sometimes needed to prevent formation of weak V-shaped crotches and limbs in the future. On older trees, removal of many small branches is more desirable than removal of a few large ones. When large branches or portions of the tree need to be pruned, an expert should be contacted.

Trees may be pruned at any time, but spring is excellent for pruning because of the rapid healing of wounds which occurs at this time. Pruning ornamental shrubs and small flowering trees depends on growth habits and blooming characteristics of the plants. Most shrubs and small trees which bloom during the spring produce their flowers on growth made in the previous year, therefore, these plants should not be pruned until they have finished blooming."

Additional information on pruning may be obtained from the county agent. Ask for bulletin B-977, "Modern Pruning Methods."

luncheon was held and as I have reported before, we fared exceedingly well. One dish served is of Italian origin, easy to prepare and entirely satisfactory from many angles. Unexpected company hold no threats to the person who has a few staples such as these on her cabinet shelves.

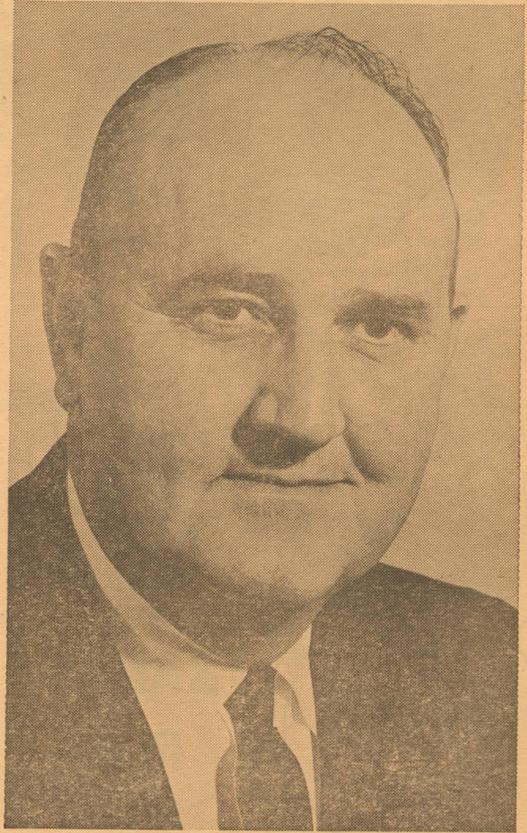

Try this. Don't be like some one was the other day at Mora Lee's. I made a recipe of the cracked wheat relish, which recipe I had run in the column the week before. Somebody dunked a frito into the dish of relish and said, "Is this that cracked wheat relish?" and when I said yes, they in turn said, well, it sure didn't sound that good.

So—o—sometimes they taste better than they sound. Try the Tonnerelli—it's good.

Tonnerelli (For Four)

- 1 pound package very fine egg noodles;
 - 1/2 cup slivered left over ham (you may omit);
 - 1 4-oz. can mushrooms
 - 3 tablespoons butter
 - 1 cup cooked peas;
 - 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese.
- Cook noodles until tender. Drain but do not wash. Slice the mushrooms; if fresh, saute in butter. Add to the hot noodles with butter, ham, peas, and the cheese, and toss until everything is well coated with the cheese. I have had guests ask if there were left-overs to take home. So—it must be good.

Challenger Warns Of Sales Tax Hike

Austin.—Don Yarborough, Democratic candidate for governor, warned Texans that they can expect a raise in the sales tax from 2 to 4 per cent if the present governor is re-elected.

"The present governor must raise the sales tax and extend it to food and medicine in order to pay the bills for the state," Yarborough said. "As the population increases money must be found to pay for necessary services, and his record last time clearly indicates that he would not dare to tax his cronies in the big corporations."

"In the last session of the legislature the present governor pushed through tax cuts for his corporation friends totaling $20 million dollars. However, he made up the money by extending the sales tax to work clothing. He tried to get the legislature to tax farm implements but this time even the lobby dominated legislature would not go along with him.

"It is not strange that Connally should be making sure that his lobbyist friends are not bothered with taxes. For 20 years he was a lobbyist himself for one of the state's biggest oilmen, making up to $80,000 per year.

"Connally is interested in only two things, getting re-elected and helping the big Eastern corporation lobbyists who control him. There is no question that he has done all he could to help his friends. However, I believe that when the people of the state find out what this man has done to them, not for them, his dreams of re-election will go up in smoke.

"The people of Texas who see their state ranking near the bottom in education, personal income and aid to the needy will not stand for another two years of the famous Connally treatment. They will cast aside the do-nothing leadership and restore the Governor's office to the people and bring a new day for Texas."

Mrs Ochsner Back Home After Visit In Colorado

Mrs. L. D. Ochsner returned home last Thursday night after a six-weeks visit to Colorado and in Midland with her children and families.

In Colorado she visited her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon B. Shelton of Glenwood Springs on the Western Slope. She enjoyed going to the ski-runs to watch the skiers. She reported the heaviest snowfall of the season, about 19 inches falling while she was there and that it was very pretty. She went to Denver and various places sight seeing.

At Colorado Springs, she visited her late husband's aunt, Miss Grace Congdon.

On returning home, Mrs. Ochsner spent the Easter holidays in Sonora with her daughter, Mrs. Harold Scherz and family.

Among the college students home for the holidays were Johnny Lawrence, Pamela Calk, Linda Sauer, from the University of Texas; Pat Rogers, Hardin-Simmons; Terry Phelps, from Baylor; Peggy Spencer, Martha Topflike and Billy Van Dusen from Sul Ross.
