Farmers Urged To Attend

Irrigated Cucumber Crop To Be Proposed At Meet Tomorrow

With drouth conditions already making their appearance, farmers with irrigation facilities have been casting about and investigating the possibility of some new money crop.

Ben Keel and other producers have been studying the raising of cucumbers in the Lubbock area and have made contact with a pickle factory in Texarkana which is interested in promoting the crop in Schleicher county.

The company is the Brown-Miller Co., of Texarkana and they are sending their representative, Tom Wells, to meet with irrigation farmers here at 8:00 p.m., tomorrow at the Memorial Building. The company desires to make contracts for 150 to 250 acres of cucumbers here. Mr. Wells will be prepared to explain terms of the contract and to give advice on cost of production, labor and insect control.

Mr. Keel, who has spark-plugged the idea, is enthusiastic and proposes to set aside 65 acres for the crop if the plan goes over.

Remember — the meeting is at 8:00 p.m., Friday, May 8 — tomorrow — at the Memorial Building.

Funeral Sunday For O. L. Woodward, 71

O. L. Woodward, 71, well-known Schleicher county ranchman, died Friday, May 1st, at the Sonora hospital following a long illness.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p.m., Sunday at the Eldorado Church of Christ with interment in Eldorado cemetery.

Reuben Stanley officiated. Pall bearers were Gene McCalla, Cramer Sofge, Jo Ed Hill, E. H. Sweatt, and Gerald Hartgroves, all of Eldorado, and Henry Holden of San Angelo.

Mr. Woodward was born Sept. 18, 1892, in Dublin. He had been in the ranching business all his life and had lived in Schleicher county since 1933, moving here from Miles.

He was married to Iva McMullen in Brownwood Dec. 11, 1914.

Survivors include his wife, three sons, Burl Woodward of Wilcox, Ariz.; M. H. Woodward of Eldorado and Jimmy Woodward of Carlsbad, N.M.; three daughters, Mrs. Pauline Smith of Eldorado, Mrs. Ruth Taylor of Sonora and Mrs. Billie Jean McAlpine of San Angelo; two brothers, Oran Woodward of Fort Worth and Carl Woodward of Brownwood; three sisters, Mrs. Fred Powell and Mrs. Velma Kingstrom, both of Brownwood, and Mrs. Bob Bibb of Ashdown, Ark.; 26 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Ratliff Explains Plans For Run-Off Primary

TOM RATLIFF

Following a meeting with his county committee, Tom Ratliff has announced plans for the June 6 run-off primary as follows:

Ballots will be printed for Precincts No. 2, 3 and 4, having only one race, that of Congressman-at-Large. Voters from these three precincts will all cast their ballots at the court house.

Ballots for Precinct One will carry the Commissioner race as well as the Congressman-at-Large. Voters in Precinct One will cast their ballots at the Memorial Building.

Mr. Ratliff, as newly-elected Democratic Chairman of this county, will preside at the County Convention when it convenes Saturday afternoon at 2:00 in the county court room.

Little Local Effect In Postal Curtailments

The vast majority of the residents of Eldorado will not be affected by the recently announced adjustments in parcel post and post office window services, Postmaster Carr said today.

Mr. Carr explained his statement was prompted by some misunderstanding about the scope of these changes.

Recapping the local postal situation, the Eldorado postmaster pointed out that the only change affecting this office, for the time being, will be the closing of the window service lobby, Saturday only, at 12 noon instead of 1:00 p.m. The main lobby to your post office boxes and the mail deposit chutes will continue to remain open, as in the past. There will not be any changes in the service on the rural route. It will continue to serve the rural patrons as in the past.

Those offices that will be affected the greatest by this service adjustment will be at the larger post offices, where money orders will not be sold and there will be a curtailment of accepting of parcel post packages for mailing, through window service at the main post office. At such large offices where service is adjusted, you may obtain the usual service at contract, sub-station, principally located in suburban shopping center drug stores.

The Post Office Department wishes to encourage all patrons to transact all business, as far as possible, on week days, in order that this economy move will be effective to the fullest extent.

Please remember to use your ZIP code numbers in your return address and the correct ones for your addressees, on all of your mail. This includes packages as well as all other types of mail. The ZIP code program is a system that is speeding up delivery of your mail much more than you can realize. The use of the ZIP code numbers is a good habit to create. Not only will it speed up delivery of your mail, but you will begin to promote a system that will bring to you additional savings in your tax dollar. So create the habit of using the ZIP code numbers.

Where Was The Fire?

April 30, Thursday, shortly after midnight, refrigerator motor at Eldorado Drug.

May 2, Saturday, 4:20 p.m., grass fire at Fat Sweatt's.

May 3, Sunday, 8:50 p.m., out-building in Little Mexico.

No major damage reported as result of these fires.

Oil News

The Skelly No. 1 Jack Wade wild-cat test was plugged and abandoned last week.

Gulf Oil Corp. has started drilling on its No. 1 H. J. Case well about 8 miles northeast of Eldorado. It is located close to the Merton highway—just off to the northeast side.

Gulf No. 1 Case is 660 feet from south and east lines of 21-TT-TCRR and is contracted to 8500 feet, sufficient to test the Ellenburger.

What's going on here?

On Monday morning of this week we received a post card addressed to Eldorado Success and on the other side it bore this message:

"Ask James Williams and Bill Works about THE STAG FISHING PARTY May 16th at the Upper Lake."

There was no signature; only a question mark—(?).

Is there some kind of a mystery here or something? If it is all strictly on the up-and-up we invite these worthies to give us a story on it for next week.

The Sunday editions of the Dallas Morning News and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram carried the nearly-complete election returns from the primaries of Saturday, and both those papers had discussions in their editorial sections about the possibility of Texas going back to the scorching-hot elections of the past.

This is a matter which is expected to come up for consideration by the Legislature during the coming session.

Sam Kinch discussed the matter in the Star-Telegram:

"The candidates for state office in Texas are crying harder than ever this year about the early primary dates. They've been complaining in varying degree since 1960, the first year the nominating elections were advanced from July and August to May and June.

Air travel has become a requirement for candidates in statewide races who must attempt to hit all the key spots in a state as big as Texas.

But it is an unfortunate aspect of Texas weather that April and May are the months that spawn the tornadoes, thunderstorms and the slightly lesser forms of turbulence.

A well-intentioned candidate may make detailed plans to visit a city or an area. His staff members make numerous long distance calls to time each step down to the minute and to arrange for the local supporters who will escort the political figure and/or share the spotlight with him, as the case may be.

Then a severe weather alert is broadcast and the pilot—who has more to do with executing travel plans than the candidate himself—calls off the whole thing.

The cancellation disappoints the backers who were counting on the visit and had put out a lot of effort to get a crowd. Those who gathered to see and hear the candidate have a letdown feeling.

And, to make things worse, the bad weather frequently does not develop and the local supporters find balmy weather and sunny skies at the hour it was predicted to be stormy.

But the weather is just the most pressing complaint this year because it has bothered more candidates, and has done it more recently.

The earlier election dates were set in the so-called 'Lyndon Johnson Law,' which was passed to make it possible for the President to run for re-election to the Senate in 1960 at the same time he might be running for President or Vice-President. It applies to any statewide officer who might be running for either of the top two offices, but the bill was tailored to Johnson's particular needs at the time.

Quite possibly it could turn out some day to be just as harmful to a prospective presidential nominee. But so far it has hurt only the state candidates.

The early primaries automatically cut off volunteer help from college students and teachers.

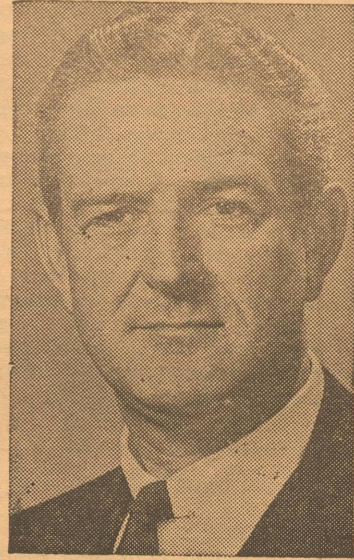

Lawyers, who make up the bulk of the local leadership in most political campaigns, are at their busiest time in April and May, whereas they are relatively free in summer months, when jury dockets are shut down in most courts.

Many housewives who could help in the summertime are unable to work in the earlier elections because they are tied down with end-of-school activities.

Lieutenant Governor

Peters and Kinser Emerge As Top Two

As far as Schleicher county is concerned there will be but two voting boxes here in the second primary—one at the court house and one at the Memorial building, where Peters and Kinser square away for commissioner.

The race for commissioner was the only local contest and it brought out 512 votes in the precinct which includes Eldorado. The total vote was:

Peters	173
Kinser	135
Speck	103
Halbert	99

Well over 600 Schleicher county Democrats turned out Saturday and voted with the rest of the state to keep incumbent Governor John Connally and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith in office, along with U.S. Senator Ralph Yarborough.

Connally polled over a million votes over Texas while his closest rival, Don Yarborough, took 467,000. The other two minor gubernatorial candidates, Banks and Hackworth, polled 24,000 and 11,000 respectively, so Connally will have the Democratic nomination without a runoff.

This county gave Connally 509 votes while Don Yarborough received 124.

The Second Democratic Primary, or run-off, will be held here and over the state of Texas on Saturday, June 6th.

Congressman at large Joe Pool will face former State Senator Robert Baker of Houston for Pool's Texas-wide seat in the U. S. House.

In the other races on the ballot it seems that Schleicher county followed the state trend. Governor Connally and Lt. Gov. Prston Smith both led by landslides.

Republican Primary Brings Out 35 Votes

For the first time in its history Schleicher county conducted a primary Republican election. There were no local candidates on the ballot and only a handful of voters were expected, but at that, 35 turned out to be counted, according to Ford Oglesby Jr., Republican county chairman.

Near the bottom of the ballot voters were asked to indicate their preference for the 1964 Republican nominee for President. In this tally Goldwater received 29 votes and Lodge 3.

Balloting was done at the school house with one box for the entire county. The precinct and county Republican conventions were held there that afternoon.

Mrs. L. D. Jones is assisting at the Court House in Abilene for about three weeks.

weather of the early primaries is a help, but even its value is not so great because most of the candidate's working hours now are spent in airconditioned halls or television studios instead of on hot courthouse steps.

All in all, the candidates don't care for the early dates but they don't want to complain too loudly—for they are politicians and want to continue in that line."

All day Tuesday, this area was treated to hot, humid weather, accompanied by extremely high winds which continued until well after midnight. If there was any moisture in the ground from recent showers it was "sucked out" Tuesday. At this advanced date in May drouth conditions prevail in this county and agricultural prospects are discouraging.

People with home gardens are finding them much slower to develop this year.

Eldorado Firemen At Llano Convention

State President Palmer West, Mrs. West and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zorn of Del Rio; L. D. Mund, Bob Ledingham, Delwood Blair, W. A. Van Dusen, James Alexander, and Edwin Martin Jackson Jr. attended the Central Texas Firemen's Associational 55th Semi-Annual Convention in Llano last Sunday.

The local firemen participated in a contest, the 6-man invitational pumper race. Nineteen men's teams were entered in the contest and five women's teams, with Brownwood winning the $50 prize with a score of 19.8 seconds. Eldorado's score was 23.1 seconds.

Mr. West will attend a convention at Imperial next week end.

IN GOLF TOURNEY

Mrs. Carroll Ratliff went to finals in the San Angelo Country Club Women's Golf Tournament last Friday before being defeated in the final round on Saturday.

Mrs. Ratliff and Mrs. Charles Darnell were third flight winners.

News Of The Sick

Mrs. Lum Burk is in Grand Prairie this week on account of her 12-year-old grandson, William (Cowboy) McRae, who was recently injured. Young McRae was struck in the eye by a football while playing with a group at the school ground and the mishap injured his eyeball. At late report, he was in a Dallas hospital undergoing treatment and observation.

S. E. Jones Jr. was released Sunday from the Sonora hospital and is continuing convalescence at his home from his heart attack.

W. W. Sudduth is in the Clinic-Hospital where he underwent surgery Tuesday.

B. E. Moore continues ill at his home.

Ernest Hill is improving in the Sonora hospital and hopes to come home in another week or so.

Ernest Finnigan continues as a patient in the Clinic-Hospital. It is reported that he has a good day and then a bad one.

Wins Hot Race

U. S. SENATOR
RALPH YARBOROUGH

One of the hardest-fought state races was that of United States Senator in which incumbent Ralph Yarborough, a liberal, was challenged by Gordon McLendon of Dallas county.

McLendon conducted a hard-hitting campaign in which it was charged that Yarborough had received large sums of money from Billie Sol Estes. Texas seems to have a habit of re-electing its incumbent senators and the voters apparently regarded the Billie Sol Estes stories as just so much "election talk" for they gave Yarborough a nice lead of over 200,000 over McLendon.

In Schleicher county, the vote was much closer in this race.

Seniors Planning Trip

Following the successful presentation of their play last week, the Seniors have plans about complete for their upcoming trip to the Texas Coast. They are to leave by chartered Kerrville bus at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, May 14th.

The trip is to be taken to Padre Island across from Brownsville.

Sponsors accompanying the Seniors are to be Messrs. and Mmes. Granvil Hext, Frank Kemble, Jerroll Sanders, Mitchell Bronaugh, and Raymond Mittel.

For a final money-raising project, the class is having a car wash and selling of barbecue this Saturday at Sam's Gulf Station. The barbecue will be prepared by Orland Harris.

JOHN STIGLER — JEWELER

Austin.—Gov. John Connally has moved into the plushest working quarters ever occupied by any of this state's governors.

Last week workmen put finishing touches to the first overall remodeling of the offices in 76 years. Until now Texas governors have been tending to state business in cramped and poorly arranged offices.

Construction has been under way since last January. Capitol visitors once again are welcome all day in the mirrored and flag-draped gubernatorial reception room.

The governor occupies a large, gold-carpeted, crystal-chandeliered office. He also has an adjoining conference room, small kitchen unit and shower cabinet.

Gold carpeting runs throughout the second floor suite. Modern ceilings, lighting and air conditioning have been installed, and the fine old woodwork sanded and refinished to its original state. Redecoration of the governor's downstairs offices will not be complete for 30 days. Meanwhile, part of his staff will continue to occupy temporary quarters on the Capitol's first floor.

Appointments

Mrs. Richard M. Kleberg Jr. of Kingsville and Dr. Hesequio Rodriguez of Harlingen were named by Governor Connally to six-year terms on the Texas A&I College board of directors. Connally reappointed John F. Lynch of Houston to a new term on the board.

Mrs. Kleberg and Dr. Rodriguez succeed J. H. West of Bishop and the late O. E. Van Berg of Mercedes.

Screwworm Eradication

The financial fate of the Southwest screwworm eradication program should be apparent by May 8. That's when the appropriation bill embracing eradication plans is supposed to come out of the agriculture subcommittee of the U. S. House appropriations committee.

Pierce Johnson of Austin, attorney for the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, says the bill was written to provide $2.7 million in federal funds, to be matched by local funds. But SWAHRF officials have asked Congress to put up all $5.5 million, since the screwworm has been eradicated in Texas, and maintenance of a barrier to prevent migration of screwworm flies from Mexico is an international program.

Sixteen Earthquakes a Year

The estimates of the damage done by the Good Friday earthquake in Alaska were still incomplete, at this writing. Property damage amounted to roughly $500 million, according to early reports. The death toll was much lighter than it might have been; less than 150 lives were lost.

The earthquake will almost certainly rank among the top ten news events of 1964. Alaska's economy has been prostrated. Much of the Alaska Railroad and the highway system will have to be rebuilt.

Property damage from highway accidents in the United States amounts to $8 billion annually—the equivalent of 16 Alaska earthquakes! In 1963, 43,400 Americans lost their lives in traffic accidents, an average of almost 120 fatalities a day. The Alaska earthquake death toll was little more than a normal day's highway fatalities.

As President Johnson said recently, "There is an obvious and urgent need for a program to improve our highway safety rapidly and significantly. As a nation, we cannot continue to tolerate the drain on our resources, and as human beings, we cannot continue to tolerate this terrible pain, suffering and loss of life."

There are three elements in safe driving—the driver, the vehicle and the highway. Probably the greatest opportunity for making driving safer lies in the highway element. We know that the fatality rate on modern freeways is only half the national average for all roads and that the freeway accident rate is two thirds less.

We can't make all of our roads into freeways, of course. But we know that our older highways have many hazards that should be removed—narrow bridges, steep grades, sharp curves, rail crossings at grade, dangerous intersections, skimpy or rough shoulders.

There is no such thing as a safe driver or a safe vehicle if the highway is unsafe. Most accident reports place the blame on driver error or driver carelessness, but there is no denying that the highway itself deserves a major share of the blame for many accidents.

President Johnson has asked the Secretary of Commerce to encourage and assist State and local governments in developing priority safety programs to remove hazards on highways with high-accident experience. Such programs should command the support of all citizens.

ico is an international program.

Mosquito Eradication Planned

First allotment of federal funds—$174,198—in a five-year $750,000 program aimed at wiping out the mosquito in Texas was received by State Budget Director Bill Cobb.

Texas State Department of Health will administer the program. The federal government, co-signee of a Pan American Health Organization agreement to stamp out yellow-fever-carrying mosquitoes, is underwriting the plan in a nine-state area, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Mosquito abatement and education teams now are being organized for assignment in key areas of Texas. Dr. James L. Goddard of the U. S. Public Health Service said the mosquito must be eliminated from the U. S. to prevent its spreading to other western hemisphere nations.

Building Boom Slacks

Despite a spring boom in apartment building, issuance of building permits in Texas in March dropped 8% from March, 1963.

UT Bureau of Business Research thinks a slump in non-residential construction accounted for the overall drop.

Tourism Expanding

Two Texas officials predicted tourism in the state is going to start booming.

Governor Connally said tourism will become the "fastest-growing Texas industry." He called the state's new advertising program "one of our soundest investments in the economic and recreational future" of the state.

J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department, said the fact that a Texan is President makes Texas more popular with visitors. Many of them want to know "how close such and such a park is to Johnson City," said Watson. He sees tourism and park use as having a "mighty impact" on the Texas economy.

Too Slow For Pension

Some long-time Harlingen firemen who recently decided they want to participate in the Firemen's pension plan waited too long, according to Attorney General Waggoner Carr.

Carr ruled that the 1957 Firemen's Relief and Pension Fund Act provides that a fireman forfeits his right to participate if he failed to enroll, and the 1963 firemen's pension law covering fully-paid firemen in part-volunteer departments embodies the same terms.

Goliad Memorial Planned

Governor Connally named a Texas committee to work with a Mexican group on plans and financing for a suitable memorial at Goliad to Gen. Ignacio Zaragoza. The general's victory over French forces on May 5, 1862, is celebrated throughout Mexico. General Zaragoza was born in Goliad.

The Texas Legislature in 1961 accepted the birthplace of Zaragoza as a state park historical site but provided no funds for developing it.

Good Neighbor Commission Director Glenn Garrett heads the Texas planning group. Other members are Parks and Wildlife Director J. Weldon Watson; Tourist Development Agency Director Frank Hildebrand; and Historical Survey Committee Director George Hill.

Courts Speak

Supreme Court in a 7-2 decision refused to direct that military servicemen who enlist out of state be permitted to vote in Texas.

The majority held servicemen have no "federally-protected right" to vote where they are stationed. El Paso-based Sgt. Herbert N. Carington, who enlisted in Alabama, brought the suit, challenging a state constitutional provision that limits servicemen stationed in Texas to voting in the county where they resided when they entered the service.

In a dissenting opinion, Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert and Associate Justice Clyde E. Smith said the ruling denies some servicemen the right to vote in all elections. They further contended the state constitution violates the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

Same issue is soon to be tried in federal court at San Antonio where two other servicemen have filed suit.

Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld district court ruling against an AFL-CIO suit charging Texas Employment Commission with "pro-employer lobbying." Court's new opinion said TEC members have a duty to advocate needed changes in unemployment compensation laws. Court also held former Commissioner J. J. Pickle (now congressman) acted within his authority in recommending amendments.

Supreme Court agreed with lower courts which nullified incorporation of Mavhill near Denton.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for ex-Railroad Commission engineer L. D. Murphy. He had been sentenced to two years on a charge of conspiring to bribe a fellow worker to make a false report on a slanted oil well.

Short Snorts

State cigarette tax revenues rose $321,498 to $7,360,299 in April State Treasurer Jesse James reported. State Securities Commissioner William King warned licensed securities dealers they may not handle secondary sales of stock of the Southwest Cattleman's Investment Co. in San Antonio. UT Bureau of Business Research statisticians predicted the federal income tax cut may lead to relief for cities suffering from too much detergent in their water systems, since manufacturers plan to put released funds into production of biodegradable detergents (one that won't suds so much). State Board of Education will appoint the 1964 State Textbook Selections Committee this week. State Hospital Board at a May 11 meeting will take up a progress report on an application for a $30,000 grant for planning in the mental retardation field and review budget requests of state institutions.

State Highway Department totalled low bids on $34.9 million worth of projects. State Health Department warned Texans to protect themselves against tetanus, reported dangerous spores are almost everywhere—in soil, dust and animal droppings, particularly in manured soil. Water Commission members approved the application of Merrill Connally of Floresville to build a 572-acre foot reservoir on his ranch for coastal Bermuda irrigation. COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Spring has come in like a lion. Telephone calls to the county agent's office indicate there are grubs in the lawn, thrips on the roses, termites in the houses, nut case borers on the pecans, and the grapes have chlorosis; and many other ailments of plants.

Use chlordane for the grubs either in fertilizer or spray or powder. Use malathion for thrips on the vegetables or flowers. For the yellowing of plants use "coppers" or aluminum sulphate.

For pecan borers, D.D.T. and toxaphene are recommended. The secret of saving pecans from borers is detecting that the borer is present. Spraying when the borer is not present will waste the spray material and not save the pecans.

Control of termites in the house; contract with a reliable firm, because the equipment needed for effective control, the average individual does not have.

The termite can be identified from the ant as there are little differences in size between the front and rear wings of a termite. Ants are constricted or "pinched in" at the waist line. Termites have thick waistlines.

Pat and Wallace Joiner have sufficient vegetation around the holding ponds for minnows to propagate. They are busy at present using an insecticide to control crayfish, fish lice, anchor worms, gill cope rods that injure minnows. 1 ppm. of insecticide is being used.

To grow tall spiritually, a man must learn to kneel.

The history of brush control, its steady gain the past 20 years, practices used in the past, with the latest research being discussed was one of the most informative meetings held this year at the Memorial Building recently. Then too, it is the county's number one economic factor.

Brush, primarily mesquite, has increased from 260,000 acres in 1940 to 590,000 acres in 1960. With the increase of mesquite, cedar, cactus and taujillo and others have increased also.

Research in thinking in terms of control, with herbicides by aerial spraying, basil control, or hand or power spraying, not over-looking kerosene for mesquite.

Suppose that mesquite can be flown for $2.50 per acre at contract price. A 20 - 80% kill is probable. The thing to remember is that suppose a 30% kill is actually recorded at the end of 3-5 years. Growth has been retarded on the whole enabling the rancher to get an increase in beef and lamb, wool and mohair to pay for the practice within a period of 18-24 months.

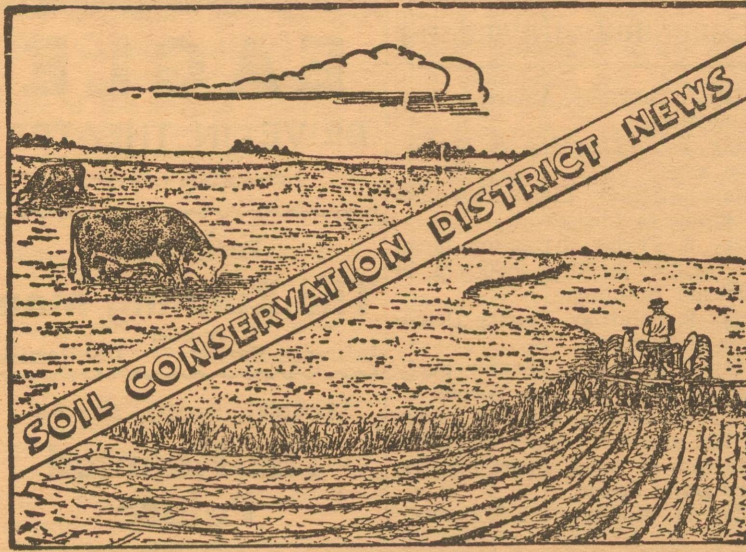

Ranchers with a 5-10% brush canopy coverage must realize that in a short time a 10-20% or more coverage will be present cutting income still further by having calves and lambs lighter plus maybe not the per centage calf or lamb crop, and increasing feed costs.

Brush control boils down to ranchers and farmers taking into study the economics of brush control. Brush costs ranchers on the average of $1.1 million annually. What does it cost me? What is my infestation of brush? Suppose you arrive at the figure of $1.50 per acre annually income that I lose by not controlling brush. Suppose you have 400 acres of 10-12% mesquite. You decide to control mesquite this 400 acres. It will cost at $2.50 per acre $1,000. You will have to pay the contractor. Now an increase of $1.00 for beef and $1.00 for lamb is very probable within 18 months and possible for each year afterwards. What you have been out was 50 cents per acre. Just one minute! I have not considered that I can get assistance up to 50% of the cost under ASC practices or the Great Plains Program. It hasn't cost, it has paid!

At the end of three to five years I will have to go over again the same acreage as I have new growth coming and only received a 30% kill. Again you can expect more income per dollar spent. Brush control sums up as a practice you can't afford to not consider.

In the immediate future it is hoped that adequate loans may be set up with banks, insurance companies at an interest rate that all can afford. This is possible as more research becomes available on brush control. This would enable more acreage to be done in a shorter time.

This year's Soil Stewardship theme, "To Each Among Us . . . A Share", underscores the necessity for man to look beyond today's horizons so he will be able, thru judgment and wisdom, to adequately fulfill his multiplying responsibilities as stewards of the soil, water and related resources.

To remind Americans of their responsibility to God and to society to conserve and wisely use these resources, the week of May 3-10 has been designated as Soil Stewardship Week throughout the nation and Puerto Rico. Some 2,940 Soil and Water Conservation Districts, through their state and national associations, are sponsoring the observance for the ninth consecutive year.

To help direct attention to the value of responsible stewardship, the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts has created soil stewardship materials for consideration and possible use by churches of all faiths.

The materials include booklets, church programs, bulletin inserts, and posters. All are prepared in cooperation with an Advisory Committee currently consisting of the Rev. E. W. Mueller, D. D. National Lutheran Council, Chicago; the Right Rev. John George Weber, National Catholic Rural Life Conference, Des Moines; the Rev. Harold Huff, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., Philadelphia; the Rev. Henry A. McCanna, D.R.E. National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., New York City; and the Rev. Lewis Newman, Southern Baptist Convention, Atlanta.

The Advisory Committee, the National Association, and Soil Conservation Districts throughout America are urging all people to seriously consider their responsibilities of stewardship of those resources so bountifully supplied by God for man's use.

Methodist Notes

The WSCS under the leadership of Mrs. Bradley is preparing a box of supplies for the Mission Home in San Antonio. This box is in the Fellowship Hall and we hope that all the women of the church will donate something new or used in the way of infant clothes and maternity dresses, etc. The pastor will take this box along as he goes to Annual Conference on May 18th.

DVBS May 25 — We are going to have our Daily Vacation Bible School beginning May 25th and continuing through the 29th. We will begin at 8:30 and close at 10:30 a.m. Marie McGinnes will be in charge. We will have Worship, Bible Study, Bible Pictures and a period of recreation and refreshments. On Tuesday when the children get their report cards in public school we will start at 9:00.

This Sunday is Mother's Day and let's honor her or her memory by being in church. Most of us are in the Christian fellowship because of her good influence. Sunday School is 9:45, morning worship is at 11:00. MYF's meet at 6:30 and evening worship is still at 7:00 pm.

Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet makes crooked roads feel like going straight Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension makes the crookedest S-curve seem on the level. With a double-acting shock absorber in each corner, it takes the jumps out of bumps. With 4-link leveling control, you get away with Jet-smooth acceleration. With built-in anti-dive control, you come to Jet-smooth stops. And with low-friction Ball-Race steering, you waltz over twisting roads as gracefully as a ballerina.

FOR THE GREAT HIGHWAY PERFORMERS

All seven Chevrolet engines are precision balanced for smooth operation. And because your Chevrolet has over 700 insulators and sound deadeners, you don't have to shout to have yourself heard.

It's Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's—the perfect time to try the Jet-smooth ride. Find the meanest stretch of road you can. Then see for yourself how straight a crooked road can feel.

Our WASHINGTON Letter By Congressman O. C. FISHER

Mexican workers who desire to enter the United States on immigration visas to work on farms and ranches, will find it increasingly difficult to be cleared for admission. Under the Immigration laws the Labor Department must determine that an applicant will be paid prevailing wages, enjoy working conditions comparable to domestic workers, and there is a labor shortage.

The Labor Department recently announced that before an alien will be admitted to work on a ranch he must be paid not less than $150 per month plus room and board, plus $1.00 per hour overtime in excess of 208 hours per month. The law does not require this, but the Labor Department does.

In addition, the Labor Department now requires an employer who offers work to a Mexican alien seeking admission, to first offer to pay any qualified available domestic worker in the U. S. at least $150 per month, etc.

The Labor Department also requires the employer to first advertise for domestic workers, use the USSES and other means of recruitment to fill the needs, and various other requirements.

MILLION-MILE SAFE DRIVING Halliburton 1,000,000 Mile Supper for employees of Eldorado who have driven 1-million miles without a recordable accident, was held recently.

Out of town guests were P. C. Mayfield, division manager; Bill Hinchcliff, assistant division manager; Ted Thornton, regional safety director; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simpson, district supt.; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Buie, assistant dist. supt.; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Buford, fieldman; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Holt, district warehouseman.

The Million-Mile Plaque was presented to Earl Yates by Mr. P. C. Mayfield.

—CARBON PAPER at the Success.

The Labor Department has decided too many Mexican aliens are being admitted, and has undertaken this crack-down to reduce, if not entirely eliminate, the admission of more Mexicans. The influx of Mexican nationals began about 10 years ago when the Labor Department made the contract bracero program unworkable with arbitrary conditions and restrictions. By being denied admission for temporary employment under contract, thousands of the Mexican braceros came in on immigration visas, on a permanent basis.

In fact, during a ten-year period, up to recently, more than 400,000 were admitted—most of them because the Labor Department would not allow them to be contracted on a temporary basis. Now they are here permanently.

The bracero (contract) program, already reduced to almost uselessness by the Labor Department is due to expire at the end of this year. This is certain to stimulate a vast increase in applications for permanent visas from south of the border. Now the Labor Department has decided to keep them out.

Thank You advertisement for Henry Speck, Jr., thanking voters for their support in the election.

THANK YOU advertisement for Weatherly Kinser, thanking voters for their support in the election.

Fatal Car Wreck Sunday Night

Dr. E. L. Dyer, Phyllis Montgomery, R. N., and Tom Ratliff were called out Sunday some time after 10:00 p.m.

Two men; also occupants of the car, received painful injuries and all were taken by Ratliff station wagon to Angelo.

The accident victim was identified as Carolyn Sanders of San Angelo and was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

The accident occurred a short distance north of Wagley's ranch house where a new section of road is being built...

By Tuesday, the mishap claimed its second victim when Dwayne Seagler, 28, native San Angleano, died in the Clinic-Hospital from injuries he received.

Seagler was in an executive training program with Lone Star Gas Co. and was a graduate of Stephen F. Austin College at Nacogdoches.

Suspense Plot In 'The Running Man'

The Eagle Drive-In Theatre here in Eldorado has scheduled a one-night-only showing Friday of 'The Running Man' which is in color.

The picture centers around Laurence Harvey's walking back from a fatal air crash, collecting his life insurance, and then spending the rest of the time fleeing the insurance investigators.

Harvey is an Australian sheep man, with blond hair, golden moustache and nasal twang accent.

An actor named Alan Bates, as the insurance man who spots the fleeing pair in Spain, does by far the best job in the picture.

Director Carol Reed filmed 'The Running Man' in Spain. Will there be a good ole chase on the Rock of Gibraltar? Nope, Reed will merely tease you with the thought as the magnificent sight looms in the background.

Even the symbolism of the rock being an insurance trademark is perhaps accidental. At the fadeout, when Harvey has had his comeuppance, Miss Remick is left outlined against the symbol—apparently quite free to spend her ill-gotten insurance gain without paying the usual cinematic price of getting her comeuppance.

Lions Have Program On Soil Conservation

Dan Sebesta was program chairman at the meeting yesterday of the Eldorado Lions club, at which C. J. Hahn presided.

Mr. Sebesta introduced Bill Rountree who presented the program on Soil Conservation and Stewardship. Mr. Rountree discussed the work of the Soil Conservation District, its aims and purposes, and its accomplishments since being founded over 20 years ago.

W. R. Bearce presented a plaque as outstanding conservationist to Mr. Shurley of Christoval.

Guests included Bill Works and Ben Hext of Eldorado, Dennis Paschall of Abilene, K. Anderson and Jack Travis, of San Angelo, and D. C. DuBose of Amarillo.

Buddy Spicer presented his membership certificate and pin.

Junior-Senior Banquet Held Saturday Night

The Junior Class of 1964 were hosts to this year's Senior Class Saturday night for the Annual Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom.

The decorations carried out a Polynesian theme, complete with palm trees, fish nets, orchids, tropical vines and flowers. Among the main attractions were a mural drawn by Jan Mobley and a vine covered bridge in the entrance of the Memorial Building.

Food for the banquet was prepared by the mothers. Main dishes were sweet and sour ham over rice, shrimp, fruit and vegetable salads, and sherbet. The food was served by 16 Freshman girls clad in 'mu-mus', and they were barefooted. This was their appropriate costume matching the Polynesian theme.

Entertainment for the banquet was arranged for by Miss Colleen O'Connor of Austin, who sang folk songs with her own guitar accompaniment.

Richard Preston, president of the Junior class, was master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by Mary Lynn McGinness. The welcome was given by Mike McCravey, vice president of the Junior class, and the response was by Lynn Meador, president of the Senior class.

Following the banquet Dan Reed and his orchestra played for dancing. Junior class members and several mothers worked much of the preceding week to convert the main room of the Memorial Building into a South Sea Island Paradise in connection with the Polynesian theme.

By Dayton Kelley Mary Hardin-Baylor College Belton, Texas

There has been a great deal of criticism aimed at the observance of the centennial of the Civil War, especially from those who have noted the deluge of less-than-average literature that has resulted from the Centennial.

In spite of the commercialization of the observance by many 'get rich quick' schemes, however, a number of valuable projects have emerged as a result of the five year observance. Among these are two which seem to us to be more than worthwhile but which may not be getting the support due them because they are not widely known.

These are the efforts of The Ulysses S. Grant Association, of Columbus, Ohio, the Jefferson Davis Association, of Houston, Texas, to bring together in some published form all the writings and correspondence of these two leaders. The work of the latter of these should be of special interest to Texas Confederates, first, because of the state's contribution to the Confederate cause, and second, because of the location of the Association's offices in Texas.

Each of these associations are non-profit corporations and each is dependent upon public support for their eventual completion. Both are under the direction of a group of the most distinguished Civil War scholars and historians available. So far, they are not yet receiving the support they need, but are going ahead with work of locating, microfilming, and cataloging all available materials written by or to either of the distinguished warriors.

The Ulysses S. Grant Association, already well on its way with its first publication, the 'Ulysses S. Grant Chronology,' a 40-page booklet which notes dozens of important dates in Grant's life, has as its director John Y. Simon of Ohio.

The Association was formed by representatives of the Civil War

Centennial Commission of Ohio where Grant was born, Illinois which gave him his first command of the Civil War, and New York where he spent the last days of his life.

The offices of the Association are in the Ohio State Museum at Columbus. Right now the group is in the process of locating Grant material and Executive Director Simon wrote to this columnist recently that a few Grant items were located at the University of Texas and one in the Rosenberg Library in Galveston.

Frank E. Vandiver of Rice University is president of the Jefferson Davis Association, which maintains offices at 1910 Chamber of Commerce Building in Houston. Present plans call for publication of all letters and documents written by the Confederate President and as many of those addressed to him as possible. Dr. Vandiver estimates that the complete edition may run to eight or nine volumes, and that as much as three years may be required to complete the task.

Vice-presidents of the Association are Palmer Bradley and Philip Dettleier, and Cooper Regan is secretary-treasurer. The Association offers membership to persons interested in the project.

Both these worthwhile undertakings, when completed, will prove to be valuable works for both the present and future generations of Civil War scholars and buffs.

A third project which we also believe worthy of public support is the indexing of the voluminous Southern Historical Society Papers, sponsored by the Richmond Centennial Committee. The Richmond Times-Dispatch has called this project 'one of the most exciting' of the Centennial.

For years now, scholars and researchers have had to thumb thru the Papers page by page in order to locate the valuable and original source material. With the completion of this project, their task will be much easier.

Eldorado Garden Club Tours McIntosh Gardens

The Eldorado Garden Club members were invited guests on April 21st to tour the lovely flower gardens around the spacious Southern-type home of Mr. and Mrs. P. K. McIntosh.

The garden was a riot of color with roses, peonies, iris, pinks, thirt, columbine and bluebonnets in full bloom, said to be the most beautiful it had been in 21 years.

An unusual feature of the garden was a cypress tree brought from East Texas years ago and kept watered by a constantly dripping faucet. The tree has grown to full height and is perfectly formed.

After touring the yard, Mrs. McIntosh served coffee and cake to the 10 Garden Club members and 10 guests who made the tour.

Lions Attend Convention

The District 2-A1 of Lions International held their annual convention last week end in Brownwood and Lions and their ladies from a wide area attended.

Deanne Hext, who was nominee from the Eldorado club in the queen's race, placed fourth in that event. Percy Pace of San Angelo was general chairman.

The convention was held starting with registration Friday morning at the Browntowner Motor Hotel and continued later at the Brownwood Coliseum.

About 400 attended from the 25-county area which comprises the District.

Louis D. Carothers of Big Spring, district governor, co-ordinated convention events.

The schedule included business sessions, judging the queen contestants, a memorial service, a buffet dinner, and a musical program, all of which highlighted the opening day Friady.

Saturday got under way with a breakfast at 7:00 a.m. for key members.

Separate luncheons for Lions and their wives were held at 12 noon Saturday, followed at 2:00 by business session, and election of district officers at 4:00 p.m.

Closing events were the governor's banquet at 6:30 p.m. and the governor's ball at 9:00 p.m., both events held in the Starlight Room of the Browntowner.

Winner of the queen's contest was Rebecca Bigby, 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. Walter Bigby of Ballinger who was picked from the field of 35 West Texas contestants.

The convention in May of 1965 will be held in Sweetwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Griffin and children returned to their home in Houston last week after spending 10 days visiting Dan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffin, while on vacation.

Runges Attend 50th A&M Class Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. J. Forrest Runge attended the 50th class reunion of the graduating class of 1914 of A&M College in Bryan last weekend.

The class met at a luncheon on Friday, May 1, at the Memorial Student Center. Thirty-one of the 67 graduates of 1914 were present, most of them accompanied by their wives. Jim Runge, a sophomore at the college, attended with his parents.

Members were present from California, Colorado, Oklahoma, Mexico City, and Florida. Mr. Runge had written over 100 letters to old classmates to inform them of this reunion.

After 50 years, all alumni hold reunions together and call themselves the Sul Ross Group, in honor of the founder of A&M.

This class was initiated into the Sul Ross Group after an afternoon tea that was held for the wives.

A banquet was held Friday night with all attending, and at which the Sul Ross group honored the 1914 class.

Saturday morning the group toured the 1,000-acre campus in buses after which the Runges accompanied by Jim went to Houston and attended a triangular track meet where Jim ran on the A&M team. There they were met by Houston relatives who also attended the meet.

Saturday night they went to Galveston to visit relatives returning to College Station Sunday night where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Spence. Mr. Spence, a 1913 class graduate, had attended the Sul Ross reunion also.

1st Baptist Brotherhood Entertains Association

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church of Eldorado was host to all the Brotherhoods of the Concho Valley Association with a banquet in the church last Monday night. This was the first time in several years that this church has acted as host church for the Brotherhoods.

Emphasis was on Royal Ambassadors. Some 30 or 40 R.A.'s were present and several gave testimonials on "What R. A. Means To Me."

Guest speaker was the Rev. Sam Coffey, pastor of the First Baptist church of Junction. He used as his theme, "Stewardship."

A men's quartet from Immanuel church, San Angelo, rendered the special music.

About 100 men, besides the boys, attended from the various churches of the association.

Garden Club To Install Officers

Mrs. C. H. Clark of San Angelo will act as installing officer when the Garden club meets on May 13.

Mrs. B. F. Hartgraves will identify plants on the conservation list.

Mrs. Leo Prater, who will be installed as president, for the new year, and Mrs. Jimmy Doyle, as vice-president, will report on the District VIII workshop they attended in San Angelo last Monday. Mrs. Prater attended a clinic on presidential duties while Mrs. Doyle attended one on programs and year-books.

FIRST BAPTIST CIRCLES

The Ruth Dickerson circle of the First Baptist church met with Miss John Alexander at 3:00 o'clock Monday afternoon with Circle Chairman Wanda Rogers presiding.

Mrs. C. N. Clark led the program on "Baptist beginnings" from Royal Service; Virginia Griffin, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Mrs. E. W. Brooks and Ruth Finnigan taking parts. Ten members and a guest, Mary Joiner, were served refreshments.

The Evelyn Smith circle met at the home of Mrs. Richard Cheatham, circle chairman and presented the same program with Mrs. Fred Watson serving as leader and assisted by Mrs. W. N. Ramsay, Mrs. Allan Kuykendall, Lois Wilson and Mrs. W. T. Whitten.

Frosted cokes were served to the nine members and one guest, Jewel Van Dusen.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fuller and Amy spent a few days visiting in Atlanta, Jefferson and Homer, La. recently. Amy visited her old alma mater at Jefferson while there. Mrs. Fuller's mother, Mrs. Sally Norris of Homer, La., came home with them to visit for a few weeks.

Methodist WSCS Officers Installed

Officers for 1964-65 were installed when the Woman's Society of Christian Service met Tuesday afternoon: Mrs. Frank Meador was the installing officer.

A worship setting constructed in three levels like stair steps was draped with gold cloth. On the top level was a cross, on the second level the WSCS emblem, and on the lower level a lighted globe of the world. Officers to be installed came forward in turn and formed a circle around the worship setting. Mrs. Meador handed the first officer a small cross to which was attached a long ribbon. As each officer accepted the "Challenge of the Cross" she handed it on, continuing to hold the ribbon, until it had completed the circle. Each officer, as she accepted the cross as her symbol of service, quoted a scripture passage which she would choose to guide her throughout the year.

Mrs. Meador closed the service by challenging the members to "take up your cross and pledge your support to these officers."

to guide him in the training of his children

These are not easy days for parents. There appear to be many conflicting forces outside the home that would nullify the good that parents hope to accomplish for their children.

Thousands of conscientious parents have turned to the truths in the Bible and in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy and have found comfort and guidance in bringing up their children.

Science and Health may be read or examined, together with the Bible, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Or it may be purchased at $3.

Pupils Participate In Auditions May 2

Sixteen piano students of Mrs. Florence Harris took part in the annual Auditions conducted by the National Guild of Piano Teachers last Saturday, May 2nd, in San Angelo. All of them received Excellent or Superior ratings.

Names of the students and the type certificate awarded are as follows:

Connie Sue Speck and Karen Hight, Gold Star National; Kathy Robinson and Judy Sallee, Blue Star National; Eva Stigler, Karen Thackerson, Ginger Wright and Debra Page, Red Star National; Genie Newport, Gold Star State; Jean Rountree and Sherwin Jackson, Gold Star District; Arch Nixon, Janet Oglesby, Sherri Fitts, Wally Joiner, and Wayne Joiner, Red Star District.

This is the fourth year Connie Sue Speck has won a National certificate; the third for Eva Stigler; second for Kathy Robinson and Karen Hight; and the first for the remaining National winners.

The certificates, and pins denoting membership in the National Fraternity of Student Musicians, will be presented at the studio's Spring recital to be held Sunday afternoon, May 17th, at the First Methodist church, Eldorado.

Names of the scholarship winners will be announced at the close of the recital. The policy of awarding a partial scholarship for the following school year was instituted last year. First place goes to the student making the highest score on a National program, and runner-up is awarded to the one making the second highest score on a National program.

Many Americans are concerned about the ease of life in our country today—and what it may do to our children. Will the "soft living" of our times bring a continuing decline in their physical and moral stamina? This could happen if our children aren't encouraged to develop their bodies as well as their minds. Parents should insist on a minimum of 15 minutes of vigorous activity each school day—for every boy and every girl. Tell your school officials about your concern. For information about a program that your school—any school—can put into effect promptly, write the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

One day you look at the calendar and it's the middle of January; months before school is out. And suddenly it's Spring and even more suddenly it's time for school to be out. It have not decided yet which creates the greatest furor; school's beginning or school's ending. Both can be hectic or, I suppose, by stretching a point, it could be a time for fun and pleasure.

I remember our country school closing with great clarity. Now this wasn't actually too long ago—it's just that I have a good memory.

At the end of school, usually of seven months length, all the country schools put on what we proudly called an "exhibition." All the men of the community came came on the last afternoon and built a stage, outside of course. Nobody worried about whether it would rain or not; I don't remember that it ever did.

The program allowed all of the rooms, three to be exact, in our school, a chance to show what they could do. These episodes flash back and I can see myself now in a pink cheese cloth dress, with a wide ruffled sash, in a flag drill. Now really, how long has it been since you've seen a flag drill? To me it was tremendously exciting. Why, when the two lines would be coming from opposite corners of the stage and meet right in the exact spot they were supposed to I was so proud I could hardly stand it. And the music was alive.

Then for the grown ups there was an outsiders' play. The outsiders were really not so but simply people in the community who had enough ham in them to consent to "get up" a play. It usually was a one act comedy. At least we thought it was terribly funny and I'm convinced it was comedy.

One pantomime still stays with me. I wasn't in this production but my younger sister was. Six little boys wore their overalls and six little girls wore their bonnets, country sun bonnets, and with great vigor acted out the actions to fit the words of "Work for the Night Is Coming." I can still hear those hoes and rakes scraping on that wooden floor.

We lived so close to school that we always walked. But on the last day of school my brother Henry was allowed to saddle his horse Prince and ride to school. All of a quarter of a mile, I'd say. All the big boys rode their horses that day. And the idea back of all this was for boys to make a daring ride to the country store—two whole miles away—during "dinner" and buy chewing gum and candy and come back to school and be "big men" by passing out these rare good things with the largesse of a Rockefeller passing out dimes.

Chewing gum was five cents a package then just like it is now and I was proudly horrified to learn that Henry had bought 20 packages of Juicy Fruit at one time!

But I got off the subject back up there some where and I really didn't mean to get all tangled up in memories.

What I meant to say was that I hope you are able to enjoy these coming days. I hope that as a parent you will be responsible for some memories which will be cherished by your children for many years to come.

This, I will not do. I will not get into a discussion about how much harder the mother of today works than the mother of the days I've been recalling. But I will hazard this statement. Stroke for stroke, yesterday's mothers outworked the mother of today but today's mother takes the ribbon for being in the middle of more chaos, of accepting more demands and yielding to more pressures. And I'll take the work any time, any time.

If one would do some things ahead maybe that would help. If you happen to be obligated for a great deal of activity which will take place in two or three weeks, why don't you start cooking and freezing now?

What to freeze? There are dozens of things such as: barbecued chicken, chicken and spaghetti, roast beef hash, roast beef, beef stew but be sure to leave the potatoes out as they don't freeze so well, roasted chicken, macaroni and cheese, all kinds of frozen breads, cakes, cookies, and most pies. I happen to just love red beans and corn bread and I keep a supply frozen all the time. Food doesn't have to be fancy to be frozen—just let it be good.

During the month of May all the Home Demonstration clubs are going to have programs on how to be better managers. You are invited and would you please help me with some thing that I don't seem to be able to answer by myself. The question is this—Are good managers born or made?

Well Known Artist To Lead Workshop

Mrs. Juanita Tittle Pollard, widely known painter and teacher, has agreed to conduct a two-week workshop in art in Sonora the last two weeks in June, according to Mrs. Armer Earwood, who is organizing the workshop.

Mrs. Pollard, who received a bachelor of arts degree from Abilene Christian College and a master of arts in painting and ceramics from Texas Woman's University, was head of the art department at Abilene Christian from 1938 to 1958, and has been head of the art department at Lubbock Christian College for the past four years.

Mrs. Pollard has studied at the Chicago Art Institute, the University of Southern California and has been a student in workshops conducted by Frederick Taubes, William Lester, Everett Spruce, Jacob G-tlar Smith, Abram Rattner and other noted artists.

During the past several years she has held art workshops in Hobbs, New Mexico; Brownfield, Littlefield and Lubbock, and has conducted a special course for advanced painters in Abilene.

A charter member of the Texas Watercolor Society and the West Texas Watercolor Association, Mrs. Pollard is affiliated with the Texas Fine Arts Association, the South Plains Art Guild and the Texas Art Educators Association. She has won a number of prizes in juried art competitions.

Solo exhibits of Mrs. Pollard's work have been held at the Lubbock Garden-Arts Center, the Abilene Fine Arts Museum, the San
