Kinser Winner In Commissioner Race

A light turn-out of voters in the run-off primary here Saturday gave the nod to Weatherly Kinser in his race with E. C. Peters for Commissioner of Precinct No. 1 by a narrow margin of 17 votes.

33 votes were cast in the absentee box and 453 in the Memorial Building box as follows:

	Peters	Kins.
Absentee	14	24
Memorial Building	223	230
Total	237	254

Kinser's victory Saturday puts his name on the General Election ballot in November in the Democratic column which is tantamount to election. The term of office is for four years beginning in January. The job at present pays $275 per month.

The commissioners race was the only local contest and it brought out 491 votes Saturday as compared to 510 votes in the first primary.

Congressman-At-Large

The only contest on Schleicher ballots was between Joe Pool and Robert Baker for Congressman-at-Large. This county gave Pool 327 votes and Baker 168.

Precincts 2, 3 and 4

Voters from Precincts 2, 3, and 4 were all invited to cast their ballots at the court house where one voting box had been set up for the one race of Congressman-at-Large.

Three workers, at a combined salary of about $45, were appointed in charge of this box. At the end of a long, boring day, they had taken in a total of 14 votes—8 for Pool and 6 for Baker.

Republican

The Republican party had a run-off primary, too, which was held at the school house. There was a contest between Bush and Cox for the Republican nomination as U. S. Senator. Thirteen voters showed up at the school house, with 8 for Cox and 5 for Bush.

The complaint about their treatment in Eldorado by a pair of anonymous tourists was very likely exaggerated according to the opinion of most Eldorado citizens who read the letter in this paper last week.

Sheriff Edmiston reports that he received a similar letter but since it was not signed it was promptly consigned to the waste basket.

The night in question was H. S. Commencement night and Edmiston reports further that he was with student groups that night until 3:00 o'clock in the morning.

Swiped from the Junction Eagle and Mrs. Fred S. Parker's "This and That" in the Roby Star-Record: Time and conditions do change things. The following are rules for teachers posted by a school principal in the year 1872:

1. Teachers each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys, and trim wicks.
2. Each teacher will bring a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's session.
3. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to the individual taste of the pupil.
4. Men teachers may take one evening a week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go to church regularly.
5. After ten hours in school, the teachers may spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.
6. Women teachers who engage in unseemingly conduct will be dismissed.
7. Each teacher should lay aside from each pay day a goodly sum of his or her earnings for his benefit during his declining years, so he or she will not become a burden on society.
8. Any teacher who smokes, uses liquor in any form, frequents pool or public halls or gets shaved in a barbershop will give good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity and honesty.
9. The teacher who performs his labors faithfully and without fault for five years will be given an increase of twenty-five cents per week in his pay, providing the Board of Education approves.

City Water Lines To Be Enlarged

The City Council in its meeting Tuesday night agreed to start a water department rebuilding program which will provide better service to water users in several parts of the city.

The major part of the job will take place in the Mexican district where a small three-quarter inch main line will be replaced by 4-inch line. This will be the most expensive part of the program since this is rock country and will require a contractor with equipment capable of cutting an 18-inch trench in that kind of ground.

One block of large water line will be laid in the alley behind the George Long and Lucille Doyle block to provide proper water pressure in that area; and another district to receive improvement is in the east part of town in the Paul Phillips neighborhood.

Right now city dads are working on the business of engaging a contractor for digging of the trenches.

Oil News

Ben L. Keys of Christoval last week built cattle guard, road and location for a test on the W. H. Parker estate about three miles northwest of Eldorado.

The well will be Delta and Pauley Petroleum No. 1 W. H. Parker and will be 1980 feet from north line and 1320 from west line of Sec. 40, block LL.

Drilling operations are under way this week with a spudder.

The Forward No. 1 Case well was recently tied in to the Brooks pipe line, and is now on production.

The Case (Canyon) gas field of Schleicher county was opened Feb. 27 with completion of Forward Oil & Gas Co., San Angelo, No. 1 H. J. Case, eight miles northwest of Eldorado.

It was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 11.5 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 26,400-1, thru perforations between 6,508-50 feet. Gravity of the liquid is 54 degrees. Location is 660 feet from the south and east lines of 9-TT-TCRR.

Gulf No. 1 Case has been flowing gas and water. Pressure has been increasing as it cleans itself out.

A rig is scheduled to move in this week to start work on the R. D. Johnson test. Dugger and Herring Drilling Co., of Abilene is the drilling contractor.

Commissioners Approve Extension To Landmark Jail Building

Elsewhere in this Success issue, the County Commissioners' Court is calling for bids for building a new one-storey addition onto the Schleicher County jail building, which is one of the oldest buildings in the county and which had a historic medallion placed on it earlier this spring following approval by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Adding to the jail building, which also houses living quarters on the lower floor for the sheriff, is a project which has been in the planning stage for some time. The addition will consist of two main rooms on the south side of the present building.

The south entrance to the present structure will open into a roofed-over drive-in parking area and immediately south of that will be a 16 by 18-foot "drunk tank" which will have its own bath room and shower.

Another room, 14 by 24 feet, will be an extension of the sheriff's living quarters with bedroom, walk-in closet, and bath.

The entire one-storey addition will be faced with stone to match the existing building as closely as possible.

When completed later this year, the addition will provide larger and more comfortable living quarters for the sheriff and his family as well as a more efficient system of confining prisoners, since it will no longer be necessary for lawmen to lead drunk prisoners upstairs.

The Commissioners are now calling for contractors' bids and will consider them at their July 13th meeting.

'Spartacus' Is Set In Ancient Rome

"Everything That Makes Entertainment Great" is billed in connection with the motion picture, "Spartacus" that will have a two-night showing Sunday and Monday at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre.

Raging Conflict, Human Drama, Blazing Intrigue, Earthy Humor, are all on the playbill, and the movie is in big-screen Technicolor.

"Spartacus" is the filmed story of the gladiator slave who challenged the might of Rome in a bold bid for freedom 2,000 years ago.

This film, which features a memorable cast of Kirk Douglas, Laurence Olivier, Jean Simmons, Charles Laughton, Peter Ustinov, John Gavin, and Tony Curtis, can lay just claim to the most expensive motion picture ever made in Hollywood, although certain of the battle scenes were made in Spain where it is easier to assemble the 8,000 extras needed to portray the bitter fighting between the slaves and the Roman legions.

"Spartacus" is based on the best-selling Howard Fast novel which has been translated into 45 languages and sold more than 3-million copies, was planned for a production schedule of six months at a cost of $6 million. Before it was completed, the cost had doubled and the shooting time had more than doubled to 13 months, and it garnered four Academy Awards.

Perhaps no greater cast could have been assembled to tackle this fresh plot concerning the gladiator rebellion against the Roman masters.

Douglas is the slave Spartacus who gets sent to the kill-or-be-killed gladiator training camp, commanded by wily Peter Ustinov.

The screen probably will never again have such a moment as when cherubic-faced Ustinov engages in eye-rolling conversation with cherubic-faced Laughton, each tossing off mumbled throwaway lines only to be topped by a muttered throwaway answer.

Laughton is the equally wily Roman senator, trying to promote the career of a fledgling Caesar, played by John Gavin.

Slave girl Jean Simmons is given to Douglas in his cage, with the proviso Ustinov and his sneering sergeant, McGraw, allowed to witness the proceedings. The sordid meeting develops into a touching love story that sustains the few mild passages of the picture.

For all its size, scope and grandeur, "Spartacus" is basically a warm story of people, their emotions, hopes, fears and courage in a struggle to be free. The central theme is the love that blossoms between Douglas as a gladiator and Miss Simmons as the slave girl.

The use of 8,000 Spanish fighting men makes possible battle tactics on a grand scale. The Roman formations are presented exactly as history describes the legions going to battle. Director Stanley Kubrick and his crew spent more than six weeks training his troops in the Roman maneuvers as well as the guerilla tactics of his slaves.

Perhaps the largest cadre of stunt men and athletes ever used in a film was assembled to star in the gladiator combat sequences filmed in Hollywood. The featured players trained alongside this cadre since no doubles were used in the gladiator contests.

Kirk Douglas, playing the title role, realizes the dream of all basic trainees who have ever been bullied by a boot camp sergeant.

He drowns Sgt. Charles McGraw in a boiling cauldron of soup, presumably minestrone since "Spartacus" takes place in ancient Rome.

But wait. "Spartacus" is not just another in a long line of sandal and toga biblical epics. It keeps the chariots parked on the parking lot, concentrates solely on pure entertainment and savage excitement and emerges as one of the finest action pictures of all time.

Show-time is now 8:00 o'clock at the Eagle Drive-In, and because of the 3-hour length of "Spartacus" it will have just one showing each night. The theater management urge everyone to come early and see it from the beginning. No advance in admission prices.

The cast: Kirk Douglas, as Spartacus, as fierce in his dream of freedom as he was gentle in his love.

Jean Simmons, the woman whose love inspired a rebellion . . . whose arms were Spartacus' refuge.

Peter Ustinov, a man of many talents . . . who could train a gladiator, steal a woman . . . betray an Empire.

Laurence Olivier, the General, dedicated to master Rome, to destroy Spartacus and possess his woman.

Charles Laughton, the Roman Senator, who ruled with wisdom and courage . . . bribery and blackmail.

John Gavin, as Caesar . . . skilled in using friend against friend . . . to further his own ambitions.

Tony Curtis, as Antoninus, the rebel who turned his back on luxury to take up the sword.

Miss Kokernot Bride Of Shannon Ratliff

In a ceremony Saturday in Grace Episcopal Church in Cuero, Miss Martha Gay Kokernot became the bride of Shannon Harrison Ratliff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ratliff of Eldorado.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick David Kokernot, Jr., of Victoria.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rt. Rev. Everett H. Jones of San Antonio, bishop of the Diocese of West Texas, and the Rev. Andrew Krumbhaar.

Entering the church with her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of candlelight silk peau de soie fashioned in the heirloom tradition. Pearls and crystals encrusted the re-embroidered English lace bodice and scalloped front skirt panel. The dome-shaped skirt cascaded to the back to form a chapel-length train. She wore opera-length pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

A full-length veil of imported English illusion was attached to a coil of silk rose petals and orange blossoms. She carried an all white bouquet of roses, calla lilies and stephanotis.

Serving his brother as best man was William Roark Ratliff of Fort Worth, and John Thomas Ratliff of El Paso was among the groomsmen.

After a wedding trip, the newlyweds will live in Washington, D. C., where Mr. Ratliff is briefing attorney for Justice Tom Clark of the United States Supreme Court.

A graduate of the University of Texas, Mrs. Ratliff was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority. The bridegroom, graduated from the University of Texas Law School, served as editor of the Law Review, chancellor of the Law School, friar, cowboy and member of Phi Delta Phi honorary law fraternity and served as president of Phi Gamma Delta, social fraternity.

Attends Boys State

Austin.—The American Legion Boys State commenced on June 4th as 718 high school boys from throughout the state began registration, Attorney General Waggoner Carr, chairman of the youth program, announced.

Registered from Eldorado was Bedford Peyton Cain, III.

He was sponsored by the Bev McCormick post of Eldorado.

Upon arrival at the University of Texas Campus, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties—the Longhorn or Pioneer. Each citizen then functions as a member of his party; he attends its conventions, caucuses and votes in its primary.

In Boys State, The American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing."

Highlight of Boys State was to be a trip to the Capitol on Wednesday morning where each elected Boys State Official was given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day, followed by the Governor's Ball Wednesday evening.

Outstanding speakers scheduled to appear were Department Commander John E. McKelvey, Electra; Dr. Harry Ransom, Chancellor, of

The University of Texas; Zollie Steakley, Associate Justice, Supreme Court of Texas; American Legion Auxiliary President, Mrs. Harold J. Cooper, Beaumont; National Vice Commander of The American Legion, Harry Wright, Mexico City; Robert W. Calvert, Chief Justice, Supreme Court of Texas; and Dave Shanks, of Austin American Statesman.

Boys State enrollment this year brought the total to 10,406 junior high school boys who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

HIS THIRD CADILLAC... HIS FIRST NEW ONE

This man is enjoying his first brand-new Cadillac—after becoming acquainted with the car's unsurpassed value by twice buying used Cadillacs.

He learned that a late model used Cadillac gave him more standard equipment and engineering advancements than most new cars.

First of all, while Cadillac's styling was continually refined, it never lost the clean, dignified look that says Cadillac and Cadillac alone. The smooth, quiet performance and complete reliability of his used Cadillac was a constant source of enjoyment. Then, too, he and his family enjoyed luxury and comfort to a degree reserved exclusively for Cadillac owners.

The pride of ownership of so distinctive a car was a never-ending pleasure, for he had the satisfaction—always—of knowing he drove the finest.

When it came time to trade his previously owned Cadillac for a later model, he found its value had held remarkably high . . . and returned a substantial part of his original investment.

So what could be more natural—or wise—than to make the eventual move to a new Cadillac?

New or used, there is no finer motoring investment than a Cadillac. And new or used, your authorized dealer has one to fit any budget. There's never been a better time to invest in the finest of them all.

Eldorado!

Austin.—State Democratic party leaders here have completed advance preparations for a June 16 Texas party convention which could turn into a donnybrook or go off smooth as silk.

Action will take place at Houston's big coliseum and the swank Shamrock Hilton Hotel, convention headquarters.

Delegates and alternate delegates who will cast the 2,834 authorized votes (some counties are sending up to 15 times their authorized strength) will be quartered in 27 hotels scattered all over Houston.

Big job is selecting delegates to the August national presidential nominating convention in Atlantic City and picking Texas national Democratic committee representatives.

Big argument is whether the convention will go on record as favoring the as-yet-unwritten national Democratic platform.

Gov. John Connally, who claims a two-thirds to three-fourths margin of control, prefers that delegates remain silent on the liberal national program. He wants to write his own party platform at the September state convention along moderate-to-conservative lines.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough and State AFL-CIO President Hank Brown argue the convention not only should pledge its support to President Johnson (there is no argument about that) but to his liberal program as well.

Some 26% of the convention's seats are in contest.

Austin Attorney Will D. Davis, chairman of a State Democratic Executive Committee sub-panel on credentials, has instructed heads of 14 rival delegations from seven counties to send him advance written briefings on their positions.

Hearings will begin Monday (June 15) at 9:00 a.m. in the Shamrock. Recommendations of Davis' group will be passed along to the full SDEC, which will decide in an 8:30 a.m. Tuesday (June 16) session which delegations will be seated. The convention opens at 10:00 a.m.

Rival fund-raising events are scheduled Monday (June 15). The pro-Connally SDEC will stage a $10-a-plate dinner to finance the convention. Yarborough's Gulf Coast friends have scheduled an appreciation dinner for the senior senator at the same time.

If President Johnson has any preference about how things should go, he apparently kept silent on them during his recent trip to Texas. Aides maintained to the end of the visit he did not discuss politics with his old friend Governor Connally, Senator Yarborough or anybody else.

Congressional Redistricting

Texas Legislative Council study committee has set three hearings to gather firsthand advice from the homefolks on how to form 23 Texas congressional districts of equal population. Dates are July 9, July 10 and July 17.

They will be held in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. Others apparently will follow.

Legislators, political party spokesmen, and the general public from counties where the meetings will be held and surrounding counties are invited to attend the sessions and give their views on how best to comply with federal court redistricting orders, said Committee Chairman Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr warned the committee that the 1965 Legislature must solve the congressional redistricting question.

Carr said, "The more you base it on any other considerations, the greater risk you run of having to go through the same thing again in the courts."

Loan Regulations Adopted

Small loan company advertising of such terms as "lowest costs", "quickest service" and "easy payments" is "misleading" under new state regulations. All advertising claims by lenders are subject to the test of absolute accuracy.

Regulations were adopted after public hearings here and go into effect on July 1. Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank A. Miskell has announced.

Miskell lists other regulations as: No strong arm collection practices permitted. Companies must keep detailed records showing all charges on loans. Borrowers must be furnished copies of insurance policies purchased in connection with loans. Money collected in premiums must be turned over to the insurance companies promptly.

Courts Speak

State Supreme Court in a Sweetwater case said cities, by ordinance, can establish compulsory retirement ages for policemen.

The high court also:

Held oil field truckers don't have to haul pipe at lower rates set by the Railroad Commission in 1962 until a court attack on the rates finally is settled.

Set arguments for July 8 on Dallas County Flood Control District's suit to keep the city of Irving from annexing district lands and on appeal of Dr. Daniel William Scott Jr. of Houston from revocation of his license by State Board of Medical Examiners order.

Court of Criminal Appeals was urged to reverse the murder conviction and death sentence of Carl Junior Hackathorn, 19, for slaying Mrs. Bobbie Jewel Nuttycombe, 18, of Dallas.

That court also was called on to order a $100,000 bond reduced to $10,000 on Samuel Spivey, another 19-year-old, charged with robbery by firearms in a bizarre Houston robbery-torture case.

The attorney general's asked federal court is dismiss state appeal of an interstate commerce commission order permitting higher passenger train fares in Texas.

State School Site

The big question of location of a newly-approved West Texas State School for the mentally retarded will not be settled until September, according to most recent reports from the Board of State Hospitals and Special Schools.

Board's site selection committee, made up of C. E. Bentley of Abilene, former Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul of Austin and Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe, has been visiting some 30 West Texas towns which are competing for the school.

Big Shopper

The idea of a $6,900,000 grocery bill would be enough to cause the average housewife (or her husband) to swoon, but that was the size of the state's grocery bill for fiscal 1963. When the overall item is digested, it points to thrifty shopping.

The $6,900,000 fed some 40,000 inmates of state eleemosynary institutions, such as state hospitals, special schools, medical schools and correctional institutions. Cost of feeding each person under state care is about $178.68 per person . . . and that shopping triumph should be enough to make the housewife green with envy.

State Board of Control, "Housekeeper for the State" and its purchasers have mastered the technique of conquering spoilage and waste problems to the point that it is looked on as a model by all the other states, Canada and Puerto Rico.

Purchasing Chief Sam G. Cook believes that inmates of Texas institutions are probably the best cared for and best fed of any in the country. He says it is because the state purchasing law lends equal importance to acceptance of the "lowest" and "best" bid from food wholesalers.

Airport Aid Sought

Texas Aeronautics Commission is seeking $450,000 in state aid to help build local airports during the next two years.

At budget hearings here Commission spokesmen and representatives of towns over the state argued for a program to insure at least one airport in all 254 counties. Thirty-five now have none.

Commission requests a $1,100,000 budget for the next biennium, including the airport program and $200,700 for an agency headquarters building at the Austin Municipal Airport. All funds except the building cost would come from aircraft fuel taxes.

Attorney General Decisions

Attorney General Carr has: Ruled that a county clerk should not accept for recording in the Deed Record a certified copy from another court of record where the seal of the court has not been affixed thereto;

Held state highway funds cannot be used to finance a Texas travel exhibit at sports and vacation shows under either the state constitution or current laws;

Concluded that the party whose candidate for governor received the most votes in the 1962 general election will have first spot on the general election ballot this year.

Highway Improvement Plan

State Highway Commission authorized a $166 million improvement program to get more safety and less congestion on 2,067 miles of primary and state highways.

Of the amount authorized, $151 million is earmarked for construction, and $15 million for right-of-way. About 65% of the cost is expected to come from state gasoline tax revenue and license fees and the rest from federal grants in aid.

Short Snorts

Latest reports from State Treasurer Jesse James shows a drop in cigarette taxes from $8,331,687 for May, 1963, to $7,299,642 for May, 1964. State unemployment dropped to 147,000 in April, lowest since October, 1959, reports Texas Employment Commission. Biologists for the Parks and Wildlife Department are urging increased harvest of deer (especially does) during the 1964 hunting season in the mid-coastal area because three years of drouth seriously have reduced the range-carrying capacity and caused death by starvation among many deer herds.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

What makes a community grow?

Our recent PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS ads have summarized basic economic development factors. The series continues as we advance to community development, which is made possible by sound economic development.

The West Texas community of Ballinger is a shining example. With organization, teamwork and sound planning, Ballinger has developed a $400,000 Memorial Hospital (pictured above) . . . 17 new commercial buildings . . . modernization of 16 others . . . 21 new businesses . . . a new community center . . . major park improvements . . . a frontier museum . . . and the adoption of a new city charter.

Ballinger is an outstanding PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

When such a community spirit seeks new industry, even more growth comes. National studies show payrolls from 100 basic new jobs increase local personal income by $660,000 . . . bank deposits by $229,000 . . . annual retail sales by $331,000 . . . add three new retail outlets . . . increase population by 359 including 91 school children . . . add 100 new homes . . . 97 more car registrations . . . and create 65 new non-manufacturing jobs.

WTU's area representatives will assist growth-conscious communities in planning for community development programs and activities. This service is available on request through your WTU local manager.

18-Year-Olds To Be Called For Exams
Austin.—The first official call directing the physical and mental examination of 18-year-old males by state draft boards is scheduled to be placed in the mail Wednesday, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said last week.
The quota, effective in July, directs the examination of 1,816 Texas 18-year-olds in that month. These youths will not be considered for armed forces service at this time, Colonel Schwartz pointed out. Normally, a man is not reached for draft induction until about age 22.
Instead, their examination is the result of President Johnson's action of January 5, announcing that he was ordering the Director of Selective Service and the Secretary of Defense to examine all newly-registered men who are out of school and otherwise available for service.
Men married at age 18 and those known to be continuing in school currently will not be examined under the program. Also, high school graduates whose draft files show they intend to enter college the following semester will not be ordered for examination. If a high school graduate plans to enter college this summer or fall, he should notify his draft board immediately.
The 18-year-olds going for the examination in July will be primarily those who registered with draft boards in January 1964.
"The 18-year-olds who will be sent for examination in July and succeeding months," Col. Schwartz said, "are those in class I-A, I-A-O and I-O who became 18 years of age on or after January 1, 1964, the oldest first."
The examination of these 18-year-olds is a part of the President's actions on manpower conservation, generally referred to as the "war on poverty." The 18-year-olds who fail the mental examination in July and subsequent months will be referred by draft board letters to local offices of the Texas Employment Commission, where they will receive advice and counsel on jobs and preparation for jobs.
The youths who get these letters will be under no compulsion to visit the TEC offices, but may go if they feel the government's offer to help will benefit them.

THE HIGH ROAD
L.W. PRENTISS
The New Attack on Highway Accidents

The accident rate on freeways with median strip dividing the highway and control of access is about one-third of the accident rate for all other highways, and this fact alone is a good justification for the construction of freeways. But it is a great oversimplification, of course, to think of freeways as "safe" and all other roads as "unsafe". As we all know, some sections of conventional highways are relatively free from accidents while other sections have accident rates substantially above the average. Every police department and every ambulance driver knows certain spots where accidents happen again and again.
President Johnson called attention to those hazardous highway locations in his recent letter to the Secretary of Commerce in which he called for a "safety priority program" to meet the urgent need to reduce traffic accidents.
In turn, Secretary Hodges wrote to the governors of the 50 States urging that they give high priority to programs of safety improvements to facilitate their completion "well in advance of the time they would be scheduled on the basis of general traffic needs."
And Federal Highway Administrator Rex M. Whitton has announced that the Bureau of Public Roads is adopting "as liberal an attitude as possible" in determining whether safety improvement projects recommended by the States are eligible for participation in the Federal-aid highway program.
Specifically, Mr. Whitton said that the Bureau of Public Roads will be receptive to project proposals on the Federal-aid systems involving the widening of narrow traffic lanes and narrow bridges, the installation of traffic control devices including protective devices at railroad crossings, the reconstruction of dangerous intersections for the better channelization of traffic, the flattening of side slopes and the removal of fixed roadside obstructions to provide a clear recovery area for vehicles out of control, reconstruction to improve sight distances on curves and hills, and the installation of guardrails, guide posts, delineators, highway lighting and fencing. Fortunately, practically all of these safety measures will be incorporated in any ultimate modification or major overhaul of the ABC roads.
The number of lives that can be saved through this program has not been estimated. Much will depend, of course, on the willingness and ability of the States to allocate highway funds to spot safety improvements. There are other highway needs which also demand priority attention.
But, as President Johnson put it, "In a society such as ours where human life and health is valued so highly, there is a special obligation to use our scientific abilities to bring this problem of highway traffic safety under control."

Mrs. V. G. Tisdale Is At Home After Tour, Visit

Mrs. V. G. Tisdale flew to San Angelo from Dayton, Ohio, last Saturday to return home after a bus tour sponsored by a travel agency. They reached the top by cable car.

Mike's winning speech, "The Age of Wisdom" was good for a cash prize of $100. The contest is sponsored by Ed Gossett, at attorney for Bell Telephone Co. and former member of the U. S. Congress.

While in Central High in San Angelo, Mike won a Texas-Oklahoma District Oratorical Contest and was awarded a two-week trip to the Inter-Nation Convention and a visit to the World's Fair in Seattle, Wash. In July, 1962, he won the Key Club oratorical contest at the National Convention in Long Beach, Calif. To Beat The Heat . . .

Austin.— Officially, summer doesn't arrive until the later part of June, but you couldn't tell it by the weather.

Hot weather is here for the summer, but if you follow a few simple health rules your summer can be a bit more bearable.

First of all, avoid heavy, fat-loaded meals. They are difficult to digest during hot weather. Emphasize fruit and vegetables on your summer menu rather than protein foods—eggs, fish and meat—which your body needs for fuel during winter months. Perspiration helps cool the body, but at the same time it drains the body of vital fluids. To replace these fluids, drink plenty of water or other liquids. Fruit juices are a pleasant way to make up the loss. But don't gulp down large amounts of ice water when you are overheated.

The body also loses salt through perspiration. Replace your salt loss at meals, or if your work or exercise causes you to sweat profusely, take salt tablets—about one every half hour with a glass of water.

Parents can place extra salt in children's diet with salted nuts or crackers plus a little salt added during meals.

Your clothing plays an important role in keeping cool. Loose, light clothing is highly recommended for summertime wear. Normal body temperatures are dependent on the evaporation of sweat.

Avoid wearing clothes that inhibit evaporation. Also, remember that white or light colors are cooler than dark ones, since they do not absorb hot sun rays so readily.

Exercise is an essential part of a well-rounded, healthy life, but it can easily be overdone in the summer. Use common sense and start gradually if you are initiating a summer exercise program. Also, confine any long periods of hard yard work or active tennis games to the cooler parts of the day.

Swimming is one of the best summer sports, provided the proper safety rules are followed— including not swimming alone, getting chilled, waiting at least an hour after meals and avoiding tiredness.

All in all, summer can be one of the most enjoyable seasons of the year—provided you use your head as well as your body.

Mrs. Ruth Finnegan expects her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thompson of Cuero, Texas, to come in today or tomorrow for a visit.

Reynolds H. D. Meets

The meeting place for the Reynolds H. D. Club was in the home of Mrs. H. A. Belk Tuesday, June 9th. As our program was on Vegetables—The Ordinary Made Glamorous, everyone was asked to bring a vegetable dish which turned out to be not only glamorous but delicious. The visitors that didn't have the recipes asked for them and Mrs. Kreiklow said she would gladly mail any recipes desired. Some of the vegetables that were devoured at noon were: rice and broccoli, corn relish, savory squash and sweet and sour carrots and herbed tomatoes. Dixie, our hostess, added much to the meal with oven fried chicken and home-made light bread. For dessert we had lemon squares, oatmeal cookies and apple pie. This wasn't exactly the place for anyone counting calories but you can always go on a diet the next day.

Several months ago when we met with Dixie the club had a program on color in the home. Dixie asked the group to help plan on draperies for her living and dining room. It was agreed upon that when she found material the club would again meet with her and we would have a drapery making workshop.

Fourteen women were present and assisted in making draperies for two of the six windows in the room. The draperies were not wholly completed but all the steps had been gone through. Each person taking part said she now felt she could make draperies.

After the workshop a short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. J. Tom Williams, the president. Mrs. B. J. Reynolds was elected as a club nominee to run for the position as county delegate to the state convention Sept. 16-17 in Houston. There were 8 members and 6 visitors present.

The visitors were: Mrs. Petree, Mrs. Jodie Minnick, Mrs. B. J. Russell, Mrs. Otis Deal, Mrs. Earl Lloyd, Mrs. Milton Faught.

After a very enjoyable and worthwhile day the meeting adjourned, with the next meeting planned to be on July 14th in the home of Mrs. Henry More.—Rep.

People are asking about—
How to freeze apricots, now, and soon peaches will be ripe.
The directions are simple: Wash apricots well, split to remove seeds. Apricots may be peeled if desired. If they are not peeled, heat them in boiling water for 1/2 minute to keep skins from toughening during freezing. Cool in cold water and drain. To prevent discoloration use 1/4 teaspoon ascorbic acid powder dissolved in 4 tablespoons cold water to each quart of fruit. (Many commercial anti-darkening preparations can be bought at both the drug store and the food store—use according to directions. Cover with sugar according to your taste and the use you intend to make of the frozen fruit. This varies from 1/2 cup to 1 1/2 cups sugar per quart of fruit. Cover fruit with sugar. Place in air tight containers and freeze immediately.

Would you like a bulletin on freezing? Call my office. I'll be glad to mail one to you.

These picnic specials are something to remember. Make them ahead and freeze them. They thaw quickly—in fact on the way to the picnic.

Picnic Specials
12 oz. luncheon meat or baked ham, coarsely chopped
1/4 lb. sharp Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons pickle relish
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 tablespoons prepared mustard.
Combine all ingredients and mix well. This amount will fill eight hot dog rolls. Cut rolls, most of them come cut these days, fill with meat mixture. Wrap each roll in aluminum foil; seal ends. Heat before serving. If outdoors, place wrapped rolls in hot ashes for 5 to 10 minutes. If heating in the home place in moderate oven for 20 minutes.

Rolls may be filled early in the day, wrapped and stored in the refrigerator until time to eat. Or, they may be frozen and then warmed for serving.

Have potato salad, sliced tomatoes and watermelon; it's a full meal.

These take the place of sandwiches in lunch baskets if a new note needs to be introduced.

This is the last word from the very careful American Medical Association about soap and water on the face. They say simply, "... there does not appear to be any reason for avoiding regular soap and water washing of the face."

To further emphasize its approval of soap-and-water washing, an AMA bulletin called Comments on Cosmetics states: "Cleansing removes oil secretion, sweat, epithelial debris, soil from the environment, cosmetics, and a certain number of bacteria. It can be most effectively carried out by means of water plus a mild soap or detergent." It might be added that suds are not only quick and effective, but are also the most inexpensive beauty aids known to woman!

Someone laughingly remarked not long ago that her oven had not been really cool since school was out. I said, laughingly but it was not funny to this woman who had children and company to cook for and 3 "squares" a day can bet to be a job.

Clean your stove as it gets dirty—and maybe some of these suggestions will be of help in keeping the stove clean even if it is never cool.

General Methods For Range Cleanliness

1. Use a dry cloth or paper towel to wipe up spills as soon as they occur. This is important because many foods contain acids which "eat" into the enamel if left on. Don't apply water while the enamel is hot as this may "craze" the finish, but when the surface has cooled, wipe it with hot soap or detergent suds and rinse water.
2. Wipe the top and slide-out crumb trays after each meal.
3. Think of the oven as a cooking "pan" which needs to be washed after use. When cool, remove all shelves and racks, and let these soak in a sink or wash-tub full of hot suds. This makes it easy to reach all inside surfaces, nooks, and crannies with a well-lathered cloth or sponge.
4. Wash the broiler after each use, pouring the grease off while still warm. When the pan is cool, soak it and the broiler grills in hot suds. Then scrub with a stiff brush, rinse, and dry.
5. To loosen stubborn greasy film, place a bowl of suds-and-ammonia in the oven or broiler overnight. Then wash away the softened grease with clean hot suds the next day.
6. Wash warming ovens and storage drawers the same way.
7. Wash doors with suds, both inside and out. If a door is removable, wash it at the sink with hot suds and rinses.
8. Use a well-lathered percolator brush, pipe cleaner, or cotton-tip swab to get around and in back of control knobs, handles, and switches.

Suds Thwart "Staph"

Surgeon Says Soap Combats Epidemic of Boils.
Just about everybody is aware of the respect the medical profession has for the dread staphylococci bacteria. Resulting infections have proved extremely difficult to cope with. So it is welcome news indeed when an eminent surgeon says that just soap and water are the most effective weapons against staph. Dr. Sumner L. Koch, of Chicago, refers specifically to checking the spread of boils and carbuncles that can run riot in a family.

This surgeon says staphylococci were undoubtedly the Biblical "Satan" which "smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown." He adds that "no sooner do hardworking scientists discover a new antibiotic to destroy him, than this ingenious devil shifts a few molecules to help protect himself from the new assault." However, in Dr. Koch's opinion, there is no need to burn the house down to get rid of the staph scourge. He advocates the simplest possible treatment: soap, water, and adhesive tape.

In an editorial printed by the Journal of the American College of Surgeons, he declares that when boils are prevalent in a family, each member must keep his finger nails cut short and must scrub his finger tips with soap, water, and a brush every evening at bedtime. Existing boils should be washed gently with warm soapsuds, and then a strip of one-inch adhesive tape should be laid over the boil when the skin has dried. Dr. Koch recommends that these precautions should be taken every 24 hours until the boil has disappeared. The nail-cutting and nail-scrubbing prevent staph bacteria from gathering under the nails. And the tape protects the boil AND the fingertips, so that infection cannot be transferred to other parts of the body—or to other members of the family.

So once again the praises of soap as a guardian of the family health are sung by medical men. Nothing could be more reassuring, of course, since soap is one weapon every household always has on hand.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

The Something-for-Nothing boys; the less-work-and-more-pay gentry; the government-owes-me-a-living crowd—all got a boost the other day when a group of economists, educators, union leaders and others proposed to President Johnson that the Government pay all Americans an "adequate" income whether or not they work.

No, this is not a joke. It actually happened.

"We are confronted with a paradox of managing an economy of abundance on rules devised for an economy of scarcity," a 29-page memorandum delivered to the White House said.

Distribution should be divorced from job-holding by "an unqualified commitment to provide every individual and every family with an adequate income as a matter of right", the committee insisted.

This guaranteed income would replace the present "patchwork of welfare measures", and stabilize the government's paternalism program, the group maintained.

The guaranteed income concept is the brainchild of economist Robert Theobald, and the statement was prepared by the "Ad Hoc Committee on the Triple Revolution", organized by Theobald and Robert L. Helstein, president of the CIO's United Packinghouse, Food and Allied Workers, at Princeton last October.

Maybe it was the heat that did it. But this new concept proves one thing—that this triple revolution idea is one jump ahead of anything yet proposed by the anti-poverty welfare staters. The Theobald-Helstein bunch would make pikers out of the timid souls who would be content with just passing out an occasional government check.

It's Tourist Time on the Potomac. There'll be 6 million Americans in Washington during the five-month vacation period from April through August. They will spend about $358 million, according to the local Board of Trade estimates. The number has doubled in 10 years. It is a wonderful thing that so many can now find it possible to visit their seat of government.

Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Dennheim and family have been visiting here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dannheim. He has been stationed near Dallas with the Navy and is to be transferred soon to Seattle, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Godwin are on a trip to Colorado where they will visit and do some fishing, and he will attend school for three weeks at Fort Collins.
