Cucumber Harvest Getting Under Way

About one hundred Mexican laborers were on hand at the Ben Keel place Tuesday morning getting ready to start harvesting 100 acres of the new cucumber crop which is being introduced commercially for the first time here this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Keel made a hurried trip to town to gather office supplies for bookkeeping purposes and remarked that "it was like a mad house" out at the farm as 100 laborers were getting set to start work.

Also on Tuesday the Brown-Miller company of Texarkana was setting up a grading station at the cotton gin yard to handle the crop as it came in.

The idea of raising cucumbers as a money crop was launched by Ben Keel in a meeting of farmers held here on May 8th. Present at the meeting was Tom Wells of the Brown-Miller company of Texarkana, who are the largest pickle processors in the nation. The company makes contracts with growers stipulating the price they will pay for the crop—so much per pound in various grades. They also sell certified seed to the growers and provide advice on handling the irrigated crop. Some of the points brought out at the meeting were:

1. With a favorable season Schleicher county land could be expected to produce 4 to 500 bushels per acre.
2. The Brown-Miller Co. would set up a grading and buying station in Eldorado, probably at the cotton gin grounds.
3. Every load is graded and paid for as received.
4. Standard labor scale is for the picking crew to receive one-half of the crop.

The following week six growers had signed up; seed was ordered and by May 15th planting was under way. The following growers and their acreage reported at that time were:

Ben Keel.....	100 acres
Johno Mayo.....	20 acres
Leonard Lloyd.....	20 acres
Bill Moore (Dyer).....	5 acres
Clifford Schooley.....	5 acres
Jack Hext.....	2 acres

Ten days ago growers reported that their cucumber plants were blooming and that harvesting would soon be under way. There is a distinct difference between this and other crops; the smallest cucumber brings the premium price.

It is up to the grower and his pickers to get them gathered while they are about the size of a person's thumb. If picking is delayed by rain or other reasons, the cukes keep on growing—the grade goes down—and everybody loses.

Mexican capitans from Ozona, Sonora and other points were contacted weeks ago and apparently plenty of labor is available as the harvest gets under way. No attempt was made to secure processed braceros from Mexico.

The six-week growing season seems to have been ideal and it is hoped that the growers who have gone into this new crop will find it profitable.

Gospel Meeting Set
With Virgil Scott of Eldorado, Ark., as preacher, a week-long Gospel Meeting will start Sunday at the West Side Church of Christ.

Meetings will be held each night at 8:00 and dinner will be served at the Memorial Building both Sundays at 12 Noon.

All are welcome, members state.

Mrs. Raymond Alsop of San Antonio spent last week with her mother, Mrs. A. E. Kent, who had returned home after spending a week in the Sonora hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kent of Midland were here for the week end.

News Of The Sick
Paul Page has been in the Shannon hospital this week where he underwent surgery Monday.

David Powell underwent surgery Monday morning in the Sonora hospital, and was expected to be confined for four or five days. He is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Powell.

Jumped The Gun

At 3:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon Ben Keel reported to Tom Wells at the grading station that he would be delivering about 300 pounds of cucumbers for grading that afternoon.

He also reported that the crop was not as ready as he had thought it was, and that volume harvesting would be postponed for several days. He thought they would be going full blast by Monday.

Tom Wells also said that he had been out to Johno Mayo's 20-acre crop, and estimated that it would not be ready for harvest until the last part of next week.

Funeral For Ray Jones Held Monday In Oklahoma

William Ray Jones, 60, automobile dealer in Eldorado until he moved to Oklahoma in 1955, died at a Stillwater, Oklahoma, hospital on Thursday, July 2, following a heart attack the week before.

Funeral services were held at the Olive community First Baptist church near Drumwright, Okla., at 10:00 a.m. Monday, July 6th. Interment was made in a cemetery at Stillwater.

Ray Jones was born at Tolar, Texas, August 15, 1903, the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Jones. On July 1, 1922, he was married to Odessa Nixon at London, Texas. The couple lived at Melvin, Texas, and later in Eldorado before moving to Oklahoma. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the American Legion, and was a city councilman while in Eldorado.

Mr. Jones became a member of the Methodist church in his early years and was a member of the Board of Stewards while in Eldorado. He joined the Olive First Baptist Church after moving to Oklahoma and was soon ordained a deacon by that church.

He is survived by his wife of Olive community and one son, C. F. Jones of Stillwater and five grandchildren. Also surviving is one brother, John R. Jones of Olive Community; two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Schuller of Lufkin, Texas, and Mrs. Marvin McDonald of Eldorado.

Attending the funeral from Eldorado were: Mrs. Marvin McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McDonald, and Mrs. Ovid Wade.

Republican Convention Gets Under Way Monday

Coverage of the Republican National Convention will pre-empt television channels when that event gets under way Monday in San Francisco. Newspapers and news-magazines will also give much of their space to it.

All 56 delegates from Texas are pledged to Barry Goldwater, the Arizona senator who is the front-running contender for the GOP nomination for President.

The state convention was held recently in Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Ford Oglesby Jr. attended as delegates from this county.

The Texas delegation will have two delegates and two alternates from the 21st Congressional district.

Mrs. Charles F. Browne of Sonora and Dr. Harry Claypool of Kerrville are delegates, and the alternates are Mrs. Gladys Wright and Ed Mayer, Jr., both of San Angelo.

Dr. Claypool will be on the ballot for the General Election in November as Republican nominee against incumbent Congressman O. C. Fisher. Fisher, a Democrat, has completed about 20 years in that office.

The Republican convention will keep people glued to their TV sets and radios.

The Democratic national convention will be held in August in Atlantic City.

Post Script

Five and six large truck loads of hay have been parked on the court house square most of the time during the past week.

We wondered just how much a big load of hay like that would cost—in dollars, and we checked it out with one of the truckers.

That particular truck had 18 tons of hay on it and they were asking $37 per ton. That would be $666 for that one load. The hay is alfalfa and was trucked here from New Mexico, where it is raised on irrigated land.

We asked the trucker if he had had plenty of "lookers" and he said, "Yes, but they all think it is too high." They had been parked there since Saturday and this was Tuesday. He went on and poked a hand into the bale. "Look here, this is all No. 1-A hay, bright and green on inside. Some of 'em said they bought hay for 29 and 30 dollars. They don't get hay like this for $30."

There were several truckers there in the group and they agreed that it was tough on the rancher to pay that much for hay, with cattle prices as low as they are, but they said they weren't making much either, when you counted the cost of irrigating, cutting, baling and loading. "It costs us $3.00 a ton just for gasoline to haul it down here."

In God's good time buyer and seller will have to get together.

"Getting Old."
"It suddenly dawns that you are getting old when you realize that there is a generation today who never heard of Hoot Gibson or a rumble seat, who never tasted homemade root beer or a cornsilk cigarette, never heard of Tarawa or Normandy Beachhead, cannot imagine gas rationing and bell-bottom trousers, care little about digging mayapple root or making rabbit traps, do not remember the before-television, kerosene-lamp days, never chased an ice-wagon for the chips, never had a haircut with hand-powered clippers, never wore a mustard poultice on the chest or an asafetida bag around the neck, never cranked an automobile, or enjoyed a moonlight excursion boat ride, cannot remember penny post cards or silent movies, never hitched up a horse, or carried in a bucket of coal, never chewed roofing tar or sassafras bark, never felt a depression or a shuck-tick bed."

"Ain't life been good to us old timers?"

Be Prepared For The Worst, Warns Fisher On New Civil Rights Bill

The Civil Rights Bill was steam-rolled through the House last week by a solid Republican and liberal Democratic coalition. Described as "the most liberal single measure ever enacted by the American Congress," the hodge-podge measure will undoubtedly change the pattern of American life in many respects.

As the measure goes into effect, we can only hope for the best but be prepared for the worst. Many observers believe the passage of the bill will trigger more racial unrest, more clashes, more mob action and riots, than ever. Already the civil rights racial agitators have set in motion reactions that have caused the bombing of a Negro church in Birmingham and the death of three innocent Negro children. Martin Luther King was the chief agitator down there.

These civil rights exponents have caused a civil rights leader in Jackson to be shot from ambush. In addition, on the wave of the agitation there has been a noticeable increase in crime by Negroes in many areas. Encouraged by this preferential treatment, law enforcement officials fear an increase in rapes, murders, robberies, and other crimes by this supposed beneficiaries of this new and radical civil rights legislation.

Many rights and privileges, always considered sacred under the Constitution, will be subverted.

Lions Club Meets

Ray Boyer presided at the meeting yesterday of the Eldorado Lions club.

For the program, Army Specialist James Lee Swain showed some slides he took in Berlin while stationed there. He was introduced by Roy Phelps.

Guests included Paul H. Davis of Cattanoga, Tenn.; Charles Henry, who was a guest of his grandfather, C. C. McLaughlin; and Dr. Ernest Vernezobre.

Bill Rountree presented a Key to Don McCormick and a new member's packet to Joe Wagley.

Rain Last Week

A generous half-inch of rain fell in Eldorado last Thursday afternoon in a brief, but heavy down-pour. Some gauges showed as much as three-quarters.

Where the rain really fell was in the east part of the county. Jess Koy reported 2 inches at the house and 2 1/4 over most of the ranch. The draws were all running there after the rain. The Page ranch got rain too but not as much as the Koy's.

The Josh Ewing ranch got even more—three inches reported over the place, and the ground still muddy early this week.

Reynolds community remained dry and a Bailey Ranch stock farmer said they didn't get enough to measure.

In town the rain was followed by 100-above temperatures which quickly dried out the moisture. The next day residents were back watering their shrubs and lawns.

White Sox Tied With Tigers Again

Thursday, July 2
The double-header scheduled for last Thursday night was rained out and no other games were played that week-end because of the July 4th holidays.

Cougars 10—Red Sox 3
As the second half of Little League season was resumed Monday night the Christoval Cougars redeemed themselves by defeating the Red Sox by a score of 10 to 3. It was the first victory for the Cougars this year.

Wild pitching was the principal trouble in this game. The Red Sox used two pitchers but they gave Cougars no less than 16 bases on balls which helped run up the Cougar score. Ricky Menchaca pitched all the way for the Cougars, but he, too, was somewhat wilder than usual.

Tuesday Night
It was the Tigers and White Sox here Tuesday night and the Whites humbled the high-flying Tigers to the tune of 9 to 4.

It was anybody's game for 3 1/2 innings White Sox got one score in the bottom of the third and the Tigers tied it with one in the top of the fourth. In the bottom of the 4th the White Sox got four bases on balls and also ran in 4 scores. Then they repeated the performance in bottom of the 5th.

In the 6th inning the Tigers started a pretty good rally, but they were snuffed out after three runs.

Austin.—Local governments in Texas may be the main benefactors if state government winds up the current fiscal period with an $80 million surplus as Gov. John Connally predicts it might.

Should such a surplus be reached, Connally told reporters, it is fairly certain he will recommend abolishing the ad valorem tax on property for state revenue purposes and leaving that source exclusively to local governments.

Connally said $20 million of the expected surplus could be set aside in a special fund to retire college building bonds backed by ad valorem tax contributions.

In predicting that the surplus will not be less than $35 million and probably will reach the $80 million figure, the Governor joined those who have contended all along that the general revenue fund will be so far in the black by 1965 that new tax problems will be eased if not erased. Connally also said he contemplates submitting to the Legislature in stages the recommendations of his Committee on Education Beyond the High School.

He still plans to call a conference on morals and ethics but said he has not picked a time. However he declined to say whether he would recommend fair employment and public accommodations legislation in order to maintain some state jurisdiction over civil rights under the new federal law.

Illiteracy Fight Stepped Up

A quiet campaign is under way to mobilize South Texas community facilities to combat an illiteracy problem which results in wasted lives and a damaged economy.

Fausto Toscano, an assistant to Governor Connally, is in South Texas determining what can be done at the local level to help stamp out the blight of illiteracy.

Toscano has visited seven South Texas counties attempting to establish local literacy centers to teach adults to read and write. He reports that in most counties in Southwest Texas illiteracy is far above the national average, and runs over 20 per cent in some counties. Texas Education Agency is engaged in the most intensive study of the problem ever undertaken in the state and the director of that study says the problem can be substantially solved in a few years by a concerted state and local effort.

Capitol Hospitality

Texas Highway Department now has a team of travel information officers in the rotunda of the State Capitol. They are stationed in an illuminated tourism booth. This information team has the task of acquainting the thousands of visitors to the Capitol with the State's other tourist attractions.

New Mansion Asked

Should Texas build a brand new $500,000 governor's mansion? That is a subject of debate in the capital city. Building Commission Director H. R. Nieman Jr., has recommended a new structure to replace the 108-year-old mansion. Budget Director Bill Cobb also has testified in favor of the proposal.

Connally, a member of the Building commission, supports the new mansion plan. But whether he will throw his full backing behind it depends on the state's financial condition when the Legislature convenes in January. If a new mansion is constructed, Connally suggested the existing one be turned into a museum supported by nominal admission charges.

Other structures proposed in Nieman's $8,084,330 budget request included a $3,600,000 state finance building to house state fiscal agencies and a $2,600,000 office building for legislators and their related services. Both would be located in the capitol area.

Good Neighbor Trip Planned

An August trip to Mexico City and to the four Mexican states adjacent to Texas is planned by Gov.

How Long Do We Support Him?

Connally, who said that much of this state's economic future is tied to lands south of the Rio Grande.

Connally hopes to improve relations with Latin leaders before the 1968 Olympics are held in Mexico City. Also he would like to link the Olympics with San Antonio's HemisFair which is scheduled for the same year.

Republicans Heading For The Golden Gate

Nearly 500 Texas Republicans, "irrevocably committed" to Barry Goldwater for the presidential nomination, will arrive in San Francisco this week end for the GOP national convention starting Monday, July 13, according to state GOP headquarters here.

Texas has 56 voting delegates, but state Republican headquarters reports 112 delegates and alternates have been named; 300 Texas guest tickets have been issued; and six pages, six assistant sergeants-at-arms, six assistant door keepers and 68 honorary assistant sergeant-at-arms from Texas also have their credentials.

Business Strength Maintained

Texas' 40-month business upswing is the longest of the post war era (except for the Korean War period), according to the UT Bureau of Business Research.

While the business activity index slipped two per cent in May, the average for the first five months of 1964 is seven per cent above the same period in 1963.

"It now seems reasonable to expect that before any adjustment occurs, Texas business will surpass even the 45-month rise from Oct. 1949 to July 1953," Bureau Director Dr. John R. Stockton predicted.

Mental Health

County Judge C. L. Abernathy of Plainview heads a statewide committee which is taking a long, hard look at what Texans are doing about mental health problems. The 112-member citizens committee expects to have its report ready by August. But comments at meetings have indicated strongly that the committee will tell Texans that mental health work should begin in the local community.

Judge Abernathy said the old concept of isolating mental patients far from home is far less effective than treatment in their home towns.

Fisherman's Heaven

Parks and Wildlife Department spokesmen expect the out sized

Amistad Reservoir, now being fashioned from the Rio Grande, Pecos and Devils rivers, to be a heaven for fishermen.

Aquatic biologist Larry Campbell predicts that when the 6-million acre feet reservoir is completed in 1968 it will boast blue catfish from the Devil and Pecos; large mouth bass from Lake Walk and Devils Lake, and flathead, blue and channel cat from the Rio Grande. Underway are conversations leading toward a joint management program for the $100 million reservoir project with the Mexican government.

SHORT SNORTS

Cigarette smokers are doing it again. Revenue from cigarette tax stamps increased $568,048 in June over June 1963 and more than $600,000 over May.

A gold-painted guard rail was installed along a $90,000,000 freeway section near Winnie in Jefferson County. Freeway connects downtown Houston with Beaumont. Highway Commission Chairman H. C. Petry, Jr., predicted it will save 21 lives a year.

Cotton still is big in Texas, Lt. Gov. Smith told the International Oil Mill Superintendent's Association. During the last 10 years the state has produced an average of 3,900,000 bales a year and more than 1,600,000 tons of cottonseed, with an average value of $715,000,000 a year.

State Hospital Board Executive Director Raymond Vowell has been appointed to two presidential advisory committees on mental retardation.

Governor Connally has named a planning committee of state officials to develop an administrative internship program in state government.

Republican candidates will attend a political school in Austin on August 20-22.

During the last week in June the State Securities Board okayed eight applications to sell $2,055,300 in securities in Texas. A total of $2,400,000 in additional applications were received the same week but not processed.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carroll here recently were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Power and family of Ozona and Herman Carroll of San Angelo. The Carrolls expect their son-in-law and daughter, S/Sgt. and Mrs. Johnny Awbrey of Sacramento, California, to arrive here about July 15th for a visit.

'Blue Dolphins' Wholesome Film For Entire Family

In a welter of sex films and spectacle epics, the Robert R. Radnitz production, "Island of the Blue Dolphins," is as refreshing as a cool Gulf breeze on a sultry August night in Texas.

The film, based on Scott O'Dell's popular children's novel of the same name, will have its second and final showing tonight, Thursday, at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre. The film is in color.

The true-life adventure of a young female Robinson Crusoe who lived alone on a sea-swept island is told with charm and natural appeal for all members of the family.

Celia Kaye, the lithe and pretty young actress who plays the Indian girl left on the island by accident when her tribe moves off, captures the spirit of the book's heroine and gives a performance so natural it is difficult to detect the techniques.

Miss Kaye, a newcomer, is required to etch in memories of her father, the tribal chief killed by a white hunter, and project her grief at the loss of the little brother killed by a wild dog, with either pantomime or dialogue that is of the soliloquy variety. It's a challenging assignment, and she gives a good account of herself.

Her success is especially remarkable because she is playing opposite a consummate scene-stealer, a 4-footed actor by the name of Junior, who is the son of Old Yeller and has inherited his old man's trick of getting audience attention. As Rontu, Junior, who is trained by Frank Weatherwax, gives a tremendous performance, first as the snarling wild dog, then when hurt by the Indian girl's arrow, suspicious and dangerous, and finally as the girl's good friend and companion.

After Rontu's realistic death scene from old age, Junior appears again as his own son.

Done in beautiful Eastman color, the film is artistically representative in many departments. The photography takes on the Arcadian mood of the island, a beautiful background for the human adventures in which Miss Kaye and the big retriever are ably assisted by Larry Domasin as the little brother and Ann Daniel as a friendly girl from another tribe.

There is a sweep and an honest realism about "Blue Dolphins" which give it an appeal for the family trade. There's a simplicity and natural poetic flow to the story and background that are compelling and absorbing. In a word: It's a wholesome true-life adventure set in an unexplored corner of American history.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Boyer of San Angelo spent Friday night here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boyer and Danny.

Wedding Set Saturday

The First Baptist church here in Eldorado will be the setting Saturday evening at 5:00 for the wedding of Miss Kathie Evans and Buren A. Whitten, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Whitten.

The Rev. Kenneth Vaughan, pastor, will officiate, and a reception in the church basement will follow the ceremony.

Friends of the couple are invited to attend the wedding, it was stated.

Methodist Notes

The Official Board met Monday night and E. C. Peters was elected chairman. Joe Gault is vice chairman and Mrs. Mabel Parker is secretary.

The new lighted brick-enclosed bulletin board has been installed on the front lawn of the church and the board voted to give the old sign to the Assembly of God church. The new sign is a memorial to the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McClatchy.

Sonora will be the scene of a combined Quarterly Conference meeting on July 19th.

Bennie Harkey's downtown Humble station has been given a new coat of paint this week.

B. L. Blakeway spent the Fourth fishing at Lake Buchanan and on the South Llano river.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

A Community Survey can chart the road to community development

Community development is one of the fastest growing activities in America today. Many communities, both large and small, are attacking the problems with new vigor and vitality.

While there is no easy road to success, no simple formula to follow, one thing is certain . . . a community must start with a thoughtfully planned and soundly developed Community Survey. It assesses and evaluates both favorable and unfavorable economic and civic factors which affect community growth, and discloses factors which can be used to solicit new business and industry.

To be fully effective it must be a continuing study, since conditions change as economic handicaps are eliminated and economic advantages multiply. The survey has the added value of helping to clarify a community's aims and objectives in the field of improvement, growth and development.

Such a community survey then becomes the PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

WTU's area development representatives will assist growth-conscious communities in planning a continuing community survey for economic development. This service is available on request through your WTU local manager.

Mental Health Is Undergoing Study

Austin.—With mental illness ranked as the nation's No. 1 health problem today, Texans are trying to do something about it.

A statewide effort to improve and modernize present methods of patient care and facilities, and State law on mental care, is nearing completion, according to Co. Judge C. L. Abernathy of Hale county, chairman of the general planning committee.

The new state plan for mental health services is being written by a 112-member planning committee made up of citizens throughout the state.

Judge Abernathy and others involved in the planning feel that Texas needs a new community-centered treatment plan to fit the varying needs of mentally ill citizens—from the first symptoms of disorder through the wide range of more serious illness.

"The new idea of treating mental illness in local communities is replacing old concepts of sending people far from home and isolating them from society," Judge Abernathy says. "We should focus on the community itself, because that is where we get the most effective results."

An estimated 77,000 Texans get psychiatric aid each year, but statistics indicate that Texas ranks last among the 50 states in per capita spending for maintenance of public mental hospitals and 43rd in the care and treatment of public mental patients.

The Texas effort to develop new ways and laws to cope with mental illness was inspired by former President Eisenhower and pushed forward by legislation during the Kennedy administration.

The actual planning work has been done by the statewide committee in four sessions in Austin, with the fifth and final session coming up Aug. 7-8. The committee is divided into 13 task forces on such matters as legislation, prevention of mental illness, diagnosis and treatment.

Serving with Judge Abernathy on the executive committee are:

'Insurance' for Survival Industries Take Steps to Meet Nuclear Threat

American industry continues to beef up its facilities and training programs to be prepared to survive and recover from the worst an enemy could throw at this Nation.

Accustomed to insuring against ordinary hazards, the managers of many industrial and commercial enterprises in this country have taken measures to assure that their company and its employees could also survive even a nuclear attack and recover from the disaster. Most unions have enthusiastically supported such emergency preparations. These measures are as varied as the American economy itself. Mostly, however, they fall into several categories:

• Fire fighting and disaster control to meet peacetime disasters and wartime damage on the fringe of a target area or in a zone affected by fallout.

• Shelters from fallout and sometimes blast for employees while at work. Frequently, civil defense survival information for employees' home use is provided.

• Secure locations, usually underground or in remote areas, for key personnel and records to assure that the company could continue after an attack and not suffer "corporate amnesia" caused by destruction of vital records.

Banks and insurance companies have been especially active among businesses in modernizing their records preservation procedures because of their utter dependence on records. An outstanding example is the Industrial Bank of Rhode Island, which built outside Providence an underground, self-contained, nuclear blast-resistant center to house its vital records and the computer for its centralized accounting system.

Underground operating center of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. at Griffin, Ga., is part of a special telephone headquarters for Georgia designed to maintain essential communications during and after a nuclear or other civil defense emergency. The fallout-shielded center has maps and records of all telephone facilities in the state to help in determining damage and how to repair it, a section to plot where and how long radioactive fallout might hamper repairs, an array of communications to other key outside points, and self-contained power, water, ventilation and living facilities.

Dr. James E. Peavy, state commissioner of health, chairman; Dr. Cyril J. Ruilmann, director of mental health and hospitals for the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, co-chairman; and Dr. Robert L. Sutherland, director of the Hogg Foundation for Mental Health at the University of Texas. Dr. Sutherland is vice-chairman of the general planning committee.

A steering committee of 17 educators and medical men are assisting the executive committee. Administrative arm of the planning effort is the Office of Mental Health Planning in Austin, headed by Dr. Moody C. Bettis.

Dr. Bettis is on leave from the Houston State Psychiatric Institute and Baylor Medical School, Houston, to direct the administrative work.

Judge Abernathy emphasizes that the statewide planning group is seeking public opinion on which to base its recommendations to the Governor and the Legislature. Persons wishing to obtain further information about the new State Plan for Mental Health Services are invited to write to the Office of Mental Health Planning, 410 E. 5th Street, Austin.

Officers Combine Forces To Check Night Traffic

Lawbreakers for the most part move under cover of darkness and take advantage of the limited numbers of law enforcement officers for success of their ventures.

But those who are thinking of an unlawful enterprise in this West Texas region had better reckon with a possible surprise from the law men.

For law enforcement officers in a six or seven-county area are pulling a little skulduggery of their own. These officers, sheriff's departments and special officers from Kimble, Sutton, Crockett, Schleicher, Concho, Menard, Reagan, etc., have formed an informal association for periodic and unannounced meetings.

These meetings are not the ordinary kind, however. The assembled officers form teams and set up road blocks, as many as possible, and check traffic. They don't stop every car, but they do stop anything that might be out of the ordinary or in the least way suspicious—and sometimes, maybe, some that are not even so.

The officers meet in different counties, work early evening, late night, or early morning. Thus they make their presence felt throughout West Texas among the nocturnal travelers and thereby to discourage forays by the criminal element in these parts.

Before or after the road block stunts, the officers get together in a fellowship meeting, with a barbecue or cafe supper. The group recently converged on Ozona and helped Sheriff Billy Mills and his crew in a check of nighttime traffic. —Ozona Stockman.

Bailey Ranch Club Held Meeting July 4th

It has been a long time since we have given a report to the Success on the Bailey Ranch community club. Some may have the idea that we have disbanded long ago, but not so. We are still a fine group of neighbors that enjoy being together. We had our regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hext last Saturday night July the 4th. This was a barbecue supper with all the trimmings and for dessert we had home made ice cream and cake. We heard someone make the remark that each meeting gets a "little better." After attending one of these social gatherings it will make one truly realize that the hospitality of the "ole west" hasn't died out in the Bailey Ranch community. It is an excellent way to be sure you have "chatted" with your neighbor at least once during the month.

We had 32 people to attend the supper. As guests we had Mrs. Ella Curry, Misses Gene Finley, Gloria Talley, Lori Lin Sudduth of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kent of Midland, Mrs. H. L. Patten of Eden, Mr. Jerald Hudson of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hext of our city.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Teele. It has been rumored that this will be a barbecue supper also. We will let you know later about this. —Club reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Neill visited recently with their daughter, Mrs. Spurlock and her family at Mineral Wells and the night of the Fourth they all attended the fireworks display at nearby Camp Wolters.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pennington of Austin spent the week end here visiting in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Blair and Mrs. Evelyn Pennington.

Livestock Checks Are Being Made

If you're hauling livestock down the road and an officer flags you to a stop, don't worry about it — provided they are your livestock.

Law officers and livestock association inspectors are making a series of spot checks of livestock being moved down roads and highways in many livestock-raising counties. Their purpose is to curb possible livestock thefts.

The roadblocks are being manned by sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, Texas Rangers, highway patrolmen

Buddy Calk To Leave Sunday For Jamboree

BUDDY CALK

With about 70 rattlesnake rattles in his gear to use for trading purposes, Buddy Calk will leave Sunday night with the contingent of Scouts and leaders from the Concho Valley Council for the National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America coming up at Valley Forge, Pa.

Buddy, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Calk of Eldorado, will board a DC-7 charter plane at Mathis Field at 10:00 p.m. Sunday with 95 other Scouts and leaders. The contingent of Jamboree Scouts is made up from the 23 1/2 counties here in Southwest Texas which comprise the Concho Valley Council.

Arriving in Dallas later that night, they will be joined by other Jamboree Scouts from the south end of our Council and make a night flight to Philadelphia, arriving there about 6:20 Monday morning. Gear will be unloaded for transportation to the Valley Forge camping site and G. H. "Buddy" Wyman will have charge of the gear.

The Scouts will then fly to Newark, N.J., where the "Ask Mr. Foster Travel Service" will transport them by bus to the Times Square Hotel in New York City.

Tuesday of next week, the Scouts will tour New York with points of interest to include Times Square, Herald Square, Greenwich Village, The Bowery, Chinatown, Wall Street, Lower East Side, United Nations Headquarters, Park Avenue, Rockefeller Center, and Empire State Building. They will see the Civic Center, ride through the heart of the busy financial and maritime districts, and view the Statue of Liberty.

Then comes the Jamboree itself on the Valley Forge grounds where George Washington's ragged army camped nearly 200 years ago.

Dates of the Jamboree are July 16th through the 23rd. Scouts totaling 50,000 will be on hand from all 50 states and many foreign countries.

On Friday, July 24th, Buddy Calk and the others from the Concho Valley Council will leave for Washington, D. C., where they will check in to the Ambassador hotel about noon.

Points of interest to be visited in Washington and adjacent area include Georgetown, Alexandria, Christ Church, Carlyle House, Ledbetter's Apothecary, Gadsby's Tavern, Wyse Tavern, Old Friendship Fire House and other highlight points that reflect life and times of George Washington. By Saturday, the 26th, they will be touring Mount Vernon for a complete tour of the house and gardens and the tombs of the Washingtons.

On Sunday, the 26th, the contingent of Scouts will depart Dulles airport at Washington and arrive back at Mathis Field in San Angelo at 4:45 a.m.

Contract For Building May Be Let In August

The architect is still at work on plans for the new office building for El Dorado Woolens, Inc., and they should be ready for contractors' bids by sometime in August.

That was the word this week from Joe M. Christian, manager of the mill which was re-organized this past January.

The new building, to face the Sonora highway on South Divide street, will house the offices, wool storage warehouse, and show rooms.

The new building will be located across the alley to the west of the present large mill building. The location has until recent months housed a trailer park, and was cleared off recently to make way for the new structure.

It is expected to take several months for the building to be built after the contract is let and the job gets under way.

This week, Carroll Ratliff's old frame building on South Main street was being cleaned out to provide some storage space for the El Dorado Woolens to use during the next several months. The building in the town's earlier days housed Humphrey Hardware.

Danger Lurks In Too Much Sunlight

Austin.—Without the sun we all would die. But use of sun, like anything else, can be carried to extremes.

The sun is necessary for growth processes of all—man, animal and vegetable. Sunshine is a source of vitamin D, as most people know. But what apparently is misunderstood is that ordinarily healthy people can get all the D vitamin they need through routine activities such as hanging out the family wash, mowing the lawn or walking to the store.

As some of our senior citizens will tell you, the skin hue of choice 50 years or so ago was a fragile, pale white. One elderly Texas resident tells how she never went to the barn or field without protection of a sunbonnet. And she tells of spending hours trying to bleach her skin with lemon juice and buttermilk.

Today, the skin hue of choice by many is a golden brown. And many a person sweats out a frequent sun bath to attain a coat of bronze.

Overdoing a good thing—trying to acquire a suntan in a day's time—is where the problem begins.

The sun, as a heat source, can give the body first, second and even third degree burns. The medical term for sunburn is "erythema solaris." It's the ultraviolet light in sun rays which does the damage. Since clouds don't remove all ultraviolet rays, it is possible to get burned even on overcast days in mid-summer.

There are other dangers, too. Ultraviolet is associated in many minds with cancer. The rays stimulate cells to divide, and sometimes the cells "forget" to stop, thus becoming cancerous. It's likely, they say, that this could happen from any ultraviolet source—either the sun or sun lamps. Of course, only a person subjected constantly to large amounts of ultra violet is in danger. For example, farmers who work under sunlight are frequent victims of skin cancer.

Ultraviolet may also harm the eyes—even when they are closed. The skin of the eyelids is the thinnest on the whole body, and the light can go right through causing sunburn of the eyes. Ordinarily, sunglasses offer some protection, but a thicker material—like cotton—offers more protection.

Bask in the sun, if you like, but do it with discretion.

ARMSTRONG BROWNING LIBRARY — Entrance to the McLean Foyer of Meditation in the Armstrong Browning Library. The Cloister of the Clasp'd Hands in this room contains Harriet Hosmer's cast of the clasp'd hands of the two poets.

In these days of speed and super highways skirting cities and towns, one is apt to by-pass some of the most interesting and worthwhile attractions our state has to offer.

Take Waco, for instance. Known in pioneer days as "The Athens of Texas," the city has long been famous for its educational, cultural, and religious influence. Its citizens are proud of its fine public schools, Baylor University and other educational institutions, and its more than 100 churches of every denomination.

Motorists heading for Waco have a wide choice of fine roads, including U. S. 77, 81 and 84, Interstate 35, and State Highway 6.

Baylor University is the oldest institution of higher learning in Texas, having been founded in 1845. Its Little Theatre presents outstanding productions throughout the year in a special "theatre-in-the-round."

The outstanding cultural attraction of Waco is the world-renowned Armstrong Browning Library on the campus of Baylor University. There is housed the world's largest collection of the works of British author-poet, Robert Browning, and his wife, Elizabeth Barrett. Dr. A. J. Armstrong, who was chairman of the English department at Baylor for 40 years, was responsible for gathering this collection of Browning mementos.

Gradually conceived and painstakingly planned, the present Armstrong Library Building, costing over 1½ million dollars, was dedicated on December 3, 1951.

The library contains more than 1,000 original letters and other manuscripts written by and to Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett Browning, as well as books, paintings, furniture, and the famous cast of the clasp'd hands of the two poets by Harriet Hosmer.

The building's bronze entrance doors are paneled, depicting ten of Browning's poems. Forty of the stained glass windows are designed each to illustrate one of the poems by Robert Browning or by Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Visitors are welcome week days from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., and from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.; until noon on Saturday; and on Sunday from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

By Dayton Kelley
Mary Hardin-Baylor College

When we wrote our recent story for this space about some of the more worthwhile projects emerging from the five-year observance of the centennial of the Civil War, we completely overlooked what we believe to be a worthwhile endeavor being carried out by the archives division of the Texas State Library at Austin.

During the past two years, the archives division has put into print four items heretofore not generally accessible to the public except in manuscript form in the State Archives. These are the journals of the Texas Legislature during the first years of the Civil War and include the proceedings of both the Senate and the House of Representatives for the regular session and the called session.

The Ninth Legislature, whose proceedings are covered by these four volumes, met in regular session at Austin on Nov. 4, 1861 and adjourned on Jan. 14, 1862. Gov. Francis R. Lubbock, however, issued a proclamation ordering a called session to be opened on Feb. 2, 1863. The called session was adjourned on March 7, 1863, and though the Legislature passed a resolution ordering the publication of the journals of both sessions, this was never done due to the shortage of paper, the lack of funds and the pressures of war.

Some 50 years later, the Texas Library and Historical Commission selected the journals for publication but only now—50 additional years later—has this been accomplished. Dr. Barnes F. Lathrop of the University of Texas Department of History writes in a foreword to the Senate Journal of the regular session that of the 11 states of the Confederacy, only "Texas, Arkansas, and Tennessee have not already printed their legislative journals of the war years." The other states of the Confederacy published their legislative proceedings during the war or shortly thereafter and most of these have become so rare that "their availability hardly differs from that of manuscripts."

These four volumes, Dr. Lathrop wrote, should make the Texas journals the most accessible of all.

Though the journals themselves may not appear to be exciting reading, the subjects considered by the Legislature, the problems of the state in wartime, the names of legislators who later became Texas heroes of the Confederacy—all combine to make these items intriguing and informative for Texans interested in the war years and the "home front."

Intriguing and informative too are the introduction and preface to each volume, all written by first rate Texas Civil War historians. In addition to the foreword to the journal of the regular session which Dr. Barnes wrote, the introduction to the journal of the called session of the Senate is by Cooper K. Ragan of Houston, former Governor Price Daniel contributed the introduction to the journal of the regular session of the House of Representatives, and Mary Lasswell of Brownsville wrote the introduction to the journal of the called session of the House.

James M. Day, the capable and energetic director of the State Archives who edited all four of the volumes, wrote the preface to each of the journals, in which he explains not only the contents but also the historical significance and the reason for including such illustrations as photographs of the state capitol in 1880, Austin in the 1860's, Gen. Richard M. Gano and other Civil War heroes such as Col. Benjamin F. Perry.

Day, who plans to bring out the journals of the Tenth Legislature which met in 1863 and 1864, had to put the "House Journal of the Ninth Regular Session" together from bills, committee reports, executive letters and newspaper accounts of proceedings because the original journal has been lost.

Readers of this column have responded overwhelmingly to our appeal for copies of the articles which have appeared here during the past four years.

We made the appeal following the fire at Mary Hardin-Baylor in February in which we lost carbon copies, printed copies, and most of our reference material. We asked readers to share with us any copies of the column they had clipped and saved or any other reference material they could spare in order that we might start our files all over again.

Among those who sent copies of past columns were readers in such widely-separated places as Dublin, Houston, Grapeland, Dallas, and Shreveport, La. Dallas readers who sent copies they had saved included Mrs. Ruth Riley Peavy, 3525 Turtle Creek Drive; and Talmage Main, 4564 Arcady; Mrs. Joe M. Hancock of Dublin, Mrs. Roy E. DeLafosse of Grapeland, Mrs. J. W. Langley of Houston and Warren B. Cochran of McKinney all sent columns they had clipped. In addition, reader Cochran sent a copy of the second volume of Doubleday and Company's proposed trilogy on the Civil War by Bruce Catton entitled "Terrible Swift Sword" which we consider one of the finest items published during the Centennial.

John Ben Shepperd, the former State Attorney-General who now lives in Odessa and is president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee and chairman of the Texas Civil War Centennial Advisory Committee of which we are a member, sent copies of more than 50 columns. Shepperd told us recently at a meeting in Austin that he had kept all the columns in a scrapbook and that he started keeping them even before the two of us knew each other.

We express our appreciation to all of these and others who have helped us to partially put back together our vast collection of both the columns and reference material we lost. These our most faithful readers will be among the first to receive copies of the materials and stories which have appeared in this space when they are put together in book form later this year or early next year.
