County Goldwater Group Organized Last Week

A Goldwater rally held in the Lions Club room of the Memorial building here Friday night started off quietly after a hot, humid day but generated increased enthusiasm before it closed after an hour and a half session.

The crowd, which nearly filled the Lions club room, became vocal and dedicated once the preliminaries had been disposed of and the meeting opened for discussion from the floor.

Do you want a county organization for Goldwater for President?

Yes! Definitely—was the reaction of the crowd, and in quick succession they elected David Powell as county chairman of an organization which was to be named "Conservatives for Goldwater," and Mrs. John Gilmore was elected as secretary - treasurer. Martha Lee Meador was elected as campaign manager.

From then on pledges and volunteers came thick and fast. The unoccupied Wiedenmann building was offered as a location for the county headquarters, and Chairman Powell was authorized to appoint a finance chairman in each of the four precincts of the county. After the meeting adjourned the crowd remained milling around, with some writing checks for their initial subscriptions.

The meeting was opened by Ford Oglesby, Jr., county Republican chairman, who had announced previously that a rally for Goldwater would be held. Mrs. Charles F. Browne of Sonora, who was a delegate to the national Republican convention at San Francisco, was introduced and told of her experiences at that convention.

The Goldwater rally Friday night followed a Home Demonstration annual picnic also at the same location which caused the political rally to start a little late.

David Powell who was unanimously elected by voice vote as chairman of the county organization, is a young rancher in the west part of the county and is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Powell. He said he expected to recruit workers in all four county precincts.

Eastside Baptists To Start Revival Sunday

Revival services will start Sunday at the Eastside Baptist church and continue throughout the week.

Dr. Joe Self, pastor of the Belmore Baptist church in San Angelo, will be evangelist.

Others who are to help will include Duane Branham, song leader; Mrs. Kenneth Cheek, pianist; and L. R. Higginbottom, pastor.

Morning services will start each day at 10:30 and each evening at 8:00.

The public will be welcome at any and all of these services, it was stated.

Bowen To Head Speech At Central High School

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowen were here this week making arrangements to move to San Angelo where both have accepted new teaching positions. The Bowens have been Eldorado residents and teachers here since the fall of 1957.

Mr. Bowen will be head of the speech department at Central High School. Mrs. Bowen will teach English in Edison Junior High.

For the present, the Bowens have arranged to move to the Chateau Beuregard Apartments.

New Teacher Hired

Supt. A. M. Whitis reported yesterday that Miss Lena Rose Nelson, who is graduating this week from Howard Payne College at Brownwood, has been hired as new history-speech teacher in the local high school.

Miss Nelson expects to move here next week. She is replacing Bill Bowen as speech teacher here.

Mr. Whitis reported at noon yesterday that the only current vacancy on the faculty is the 6th grade position where Mrs. Bowen has taught.

In launching the Schleicher county Goldwater drive, Chairman Powell submits the following statement for consideration of the voters:

"The Conservatives for Goldwater Committee is a bipartisan political organization who support the ideals and principles of Senator Barry Goldwater. The purpose of this committee is to present the unbiased opinions and undiluted facts concerning Mr. Goldwater to the citizens of Schleicher county.

"This organization is composed of local people in which all donations shall be spent on a local level. Anyone desiring to mail their contributions to this committee may do so, by sending their letters of support to Mrs. John Gilmore, secretary-treasurer of the Conservatives for Goldwater. We shall be most appreciative to all contributors to our cause of returning responsible and dedicated leadership to our government.

"Those of you who wish to have Campaign Literature may contact Mrs. Ed Meador, Campaign Chairman.

From a personal standpoint, I am a Democrat for Mr. Goldwater and I challenge anyone to present the complete and factual political records of either Presidential Candidate to be examined by the residents of our community." —David Powell.

Season Ticket Sales Are Now Under Way

Saturday was the initial day for the sales of season football tickets at the school. That first day, 155 were sold at $7.50 each. Ten more were sold Monday morning.

The center grandstand was painted to allow for 346 season tickets, and the sale is continuing.

More tickets are expected to be sold between now and the first home game, September 11th.

Dan Griffin Takes Over Gulf Service Station

Dan Griffin this week announced the purchase of the Gulf Station at the intersection of the Menard and San Angelo highways from Buddy Spicer, who had operated it since last Spring.

Mr. Griffin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffin and he and his wife and two-year-old son recently moved back to Eldorado from Houston where they had lived for the past two years, and where Mr. Griffin was employed.

The family have rented the Sam McGinnis house located about two blocks west of the station which was rented until a few months ago by the Boynton family, who have moved to Richmond, Virginia.

Dan states that he plans to operate a first-class service station under the name of "Griffin's Gulf Station," and that he will provide the usual washing, greasing, oil change, tire service, and all other services associated with a modern station.

Season Tickets Are Still Being Sold Here

High School Principal Guy Whitaker reminded local residents that there are still plenty of season football tickets available in his office for purchase.

The tickets are being sold for $7.50 each and are good for all five home games.

Sales started Saturday, and "There are still plenty of choice seats available," Whitaker said this week.

Hales Move To Iraan

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hale moved Monday to Iraan where he has been working since April with Marathon, following the closing of that company's office here in Eldorado.

The Hales moved to a three-bedroom brick house in Marathon's camp on the northwest edge of Iraan, and their son, Mike, is enrolling as a Freshman in the high school there. High school principal at Iraan is Jack Black, former principal of the high school here in Eldorado.

T. R. Spence has purchased the Hales' three-bedroom house here in western Eldorado.

Mrs. Hale resigned her long-time position as nurse in the local schools.

The Hales have been active here in civic and church work. He was president of the Lions club and they have been active in the Methodist church.

Funeral Today At 4:00 O'clock

Death Comes To A. T. Wright, Pioneer Eldorado Merchant

A. T. (Archie) Wright, pioneer merchant and publisher, died at his home in Eldorado early yesterday (Wednesday) morning at the age of 87 years and 9 months. He had been in increasingly frail health for some time and when a member of the family called at his room yesterday morning it was found that he had passed away.

Funeral services will be held at the First Methodist church here at 4:00 p. m. Thursday (today) conducted by the Rev. C. M. Nyquist. Interment will be in the Eldorado cemetery under direction of Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home. The body will lie in state in the church from 3:00 to 4:00 p. m.

The closing of A. T. Wright's general store in October last year marked the end of a business career that extended back almost 60 years and which included both the newspaper and mercantile lines.

Mr. Wright's newspaper background stretched back to his early years. His father owned and operated the Guadalupe News at Seguin, Texas, and also operated a little farm. It was here, on November 6, 1876, that Archie was born. He was the second of three sons.

His father died when Archie was 2½ and the mother moved with her children and her father to Ben Picklin in Tom Green county. In 1880, she married George Holland, an old friend of the Wrights. The family eventually included two half-sisters and six half-brothers.

Mr. Wright was a survivor of the Ben Picklin flood which occurred 82 years ago.

Archie started his education in a little three-months' school for which tuition was $1.50 a month. Later he attended public school. After he quit school he farmed for three years and put in some time as a ranch hand at Half Circle 6 ranch.

He came to what is now Eldorado in 1900 to work for W. B. Silliman, for whom he broke wild horses. This county was attached to Menard county then, and Archie helped agitate for a separate county organization. He voted in the election which put it over in 1901.

It was back in 1906 that Mr. Wright bought the local weekly newspaper from R. L. Carothers. Mr. Carothers had established it in 1901 as the "El Dorado Paper" and after Mr. Wright bought it, he changed the name to "The Success" and operated it for a number of succeeding years. Several times he sold the newspaper and had to repossess it.

The year 1906, too, was when he married. On October 28 of that year, he married Mabel Foley, a life-long Methodist, formerly of Junction. The couple have remained county residents during all of the succeeding years.

Into Grocery Business

A grocery store operated by his brother on the hotel corner lot was taken over by Wright when the brother died, and moved to the present location. The enlargement of the store took place to accommodate the stock—and later dry goods and other commodities were added. He operated the newspaper along with the store, his children assisting him as they grew up. In 1928 he bought a Linotype to eliminate some of the handsetting of type. While he owned the Success, he had opposition weekly newspapers here on three different occasions.

Community Service

Mr. Wright has served the community in many ways. He was on the school board, was secretary 11 years, and donated money to help build every school in the county. He was mayor when the City of Eldorado bought the water system and installed the sewer system.

He served many years as steward of the Methodist church, a position now known as member of the Official Board. He was Sunday school superintendent and a long-time teacher.

He served as church treasurer for many years back when salaries were small and money was scarce and hard to collect.

Wright's store was an anachronism in this day of cash and carry. Mr. Wright was a firm believer in credit. When he started in business the whole economy of the county was based on credit—people sold their stock once a year and then went around paying off their debts.

The Wrights have four children: Eula, Mrs. L. T. Barber, San Angelo; Agnes, Mrs. Agnes Crosby, San Angelo; Taylor, a Navy captain who retired last summer and is continuing to live in Washington, D. C., and Beatrice, Mrs. W. A. Montgomery of San Angelo. There are also 5 grandchildren and 2 greats; also a half-brother, Robert Holland of Christoval.

This picture was published Nov. 1, 1956, on occasion of Wright's Golden Anniversary and 89th birthday. He was still active in business at that time, but the 7½ intervening years brought a steady decline in his strength until his death occurred yesterday morning in his sleep at the age of 87 years.

Mrs. W. B. McCutcheon of Austin was here recently visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Will Isaacs and other relatives. Her son, Wm. B. McCutcheon Jr., and wife of Dallas came in and joined the party and they all visited the Sonora caverns.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McDonald and Dwight, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McDonald, and Mrs. Myrtle Wade spent the week end at Kingsland and were met there by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Schuller, Butch and Susie of Lufkin. They also visited with the Marion Wades of Tow,

County Gets General Week - End Rains, But More Needed

Rains which ranged over a wide section of West Texas during the week end included Schleicher county where the precipitation is described as "general" although the amounts varied greatly from one farm to the other. For instance, Truett Stanford is reported to have received 2½ inches while Peyton Cain's gauge showed nine-tenths.

In the city of Eldorado the two rains totaled about 1½ inches with half of it falling Saturday evening and the other Sunday afternoon. While the rains were too late to help the cotton crop they will be a god-send to pastures but at the same time all agree that "we need a lot more."

It is also hoped that the unexpected rains would signal the breaking of the extreme hot spell, but Monday afternoon temperatures climbed up to the hundred mark again.

Junior Rodeo At Big Lake

A parade will kick off the 8th Annual Reagan County Rodeo and Horse Show tomorrow afternoon (Aug. 14) at 5:00 o'clock. The parade, which will form on South Depot Avenue and proceed north to Twelfth Street and on to the rodeo grounds in the northeast part of town, will be headed by the rodeo queen, Miss Glenda Jameson.

Rodeo performances are slated for both Friday and Saturday nights. —Big Lake Wildcat.

Colored School Closing At Sonora

Operation of the Colored Elementary School in Sonora was discontinued by vote of the Board of Education in their regular meeting Monday.

"The Board, by a unanimous vote of those present, voted to abolish the Colored Elementary School and require the colored children to attend the school in the zone in which they reside," stated Rex Lowe, superintendent of schools.

Eight pupils in four grades attended the Colored Elementary School last year. Mrs. Zelma Hudson was teacher. —Devil's River News, Sonora.

Van Horn To Make Annexation Try

The Van Horn City Council readied plans to extend the city limits by a half mile in all directions at its regular meeting Monday night.

The proper procedure has been secured from the Texas Municipal League and the metes and bounds of the proposed annexation have been obtained. The 1/2-mile extension can be annexed into the city, only with approval by a majority eligible voters (not just land or property owners) within the proposed annexation area in an election. This election can be by signing of a petition either "for" or "against."

The council intends to begin circulation of the petition as soon as it is drawn up in proper order. —Van Horn Advocate.

Santa Anna Seeking Dentist

An effort is being made to obtain a dentist for Santa Anna. A young dentist who has just finished his military service is very interested, and a final decision rests mainly on whether the city can provide rent-free offices for the dentist for the first six months, while he is building up his practice. This would be a very important step forward for Santa Anna, and it is hoped that mutually acceptable arrangements can be made. —Santa Anna News.

Austin.—All available money and manpower of the Texas Water Commission is being dedicated to a long-range state water master plan.

Gov. John Connally authorized the agency to transfer money already appropriated by the Legislature for other purposes. Existing state plans, in Connally's opinion, "fall short of satisfying the water needs for all of Texas." In 1961, the Commission produced a plan for meeting Texas water needs to the year 1980.

Both the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, are coming up with their own long range plans covering parts of Texas. They propose diversion of water for surplus areas like the Sabine to water-shy areas like the Nueces.

Connally said the federal government is considering a water pollution control bill which would supplant state authority in the field. He urged the Commission to explore "all reasonable alternatives," including those contained in preliminary reports of U. S. agencies.

The Governor indicated he will authorize other state agencies to cooperate in the crash program. He also pledged his help in any way possible and to commend to the Legislature "necessary funds to fulfill this important responsibility."

Stiff Gun Law Urged

Pressure from prosecuting attorneys is beginning to sift through to legislative candidates who are being urged to pass a gun registration law during the 1965 session in an attempt to reduce the crime rate and help police solve crimes. Latest of the recommendations along this line comes from Dallas' District Attorney Henry Wade. Gun registration is on the list of the most controversial issues a legislature can tackle and proposals on the subject frequently are skirted.

Textbook Protests Pile Up

About 500 individual letters and 39 petitions bearing some 3,398 signatures concerning three high school biology books have been received by Governor Connally, Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar, and the State Board of Education. And more are arriving every day.

Most protests claim three of the eight biology books being considered for public school adoption by the State textbooks committee have "an excessive amount of evolution in them."

All letters and petitions are being filed for the State committee to review, since Connally, Edgar and the State Board have no say on textbooks selection.

The 15-member committee has the task of picking five books each in 18 subjects from the 226 books under consideration. Public then will have an opportunity to make formal complaints about the biology texts, as well as any others which are considered objectionable before the committee's selection list is submitted to individual school districts.

Sales Tax Raise Suggested

A Texas State Teachers Association spokesman last week suggested the Legislature raise additional funds for education through increasing the sales tax rate or removing present exemptions.

L. P. Sturgeon, TSTA public relations director, said a half cent increase would raise $50,000,000 a year and an across-the-board would bring another $61 million. TSTA is driving for a $45 a month increase in teachers' pay.

If Texans paid the same amount of taxes as citizens of neighboring states, argued Sturgeon, Texas would have enough money for public school and higher education improvements.

New Ranger Named

Toliver H. Dawson of Del Rio was named a Texas Ranger by the Department of Public Safety.

Dawson, who first served as a highway patrolman at Alpine, will be stationed in the Carrizo Springs area. He succeeds the late Wiley Williamson of Gonzales on the 62-man force.

Shrimpers Reminded of Deadlines

Texas shrimpers were reminded by the State Parks and Wildlife Agency of the August 15 opening of the shrimp season in coastal bays. Also called to their attention was the August 31 deadline for renewing commercial licenses.

September 1 to August 15 has been designated as the fall shrimping season in Sabine Lake.

A new regulation to prevent bait shrimp from being sold on the commercial food market also was announced for Gulf waters of Jefferson and Orange counties.

Hunting 'On the Cuff'

Almost one out of every three Texans hunt "on the cuff" or without having to buy a license, according to Weldon Watson, executive director for the Parks and Wildlife Department. Watson said that last year 230,000 of the 740, 000 Texans licensed to hunt secured exempt licenses without cost to them. Others paid the usual $3.15. On the exempt list are persons 65 and older; those under 17; and those who can show they are hunting on their own land and live on that same property.

Watson said 2,350,000 licenses for hunting, fishing and commercial fishing uses now are available from 2,800 official deputies of the Parks and Wildlife department.

Airport Funds

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr advised the Texas Aeronautics Commission's director, Frank W. Raymond Jr., that the Legislature could amend the state law to authorize the State to appropriate funds to incorporated cities for construction of airports and navigational facilities without violating the constitution. The Commission is expected to seek a legislative sponsor for this type of bill.

Short Snorts

Governor Connally reports that 531 historical markers will be erected along State highways during the next 30 months.

Attorney General Carr says his office won 320 cases, lost three, and disposed of 58 in some other manner during the month of July. State General fund was $22,500,000 on the black side of the ledger at the end of July, reports State Treasurer Jesse James.

H. D. Supper Held

A good crowd turned out Friday evening for the annual Home Demonstration picnic which was held at the Memorial Building.

The picnic supper was served, and Mrs. Vida Kreklow, H. D. agent, introduced several 4-H girls who modeled dresses that they had made. These included Melody Davidson, Patsy Prater, Paula Prater, June Alexander, Nan Sauer, Connie Speck, Arlene Hartgraves, Mary Lynn McCalla, Claudia Meador, Beth McCalla, and Kathy Carlman.

'V.I.P.s' Stars Burton and Eliz. Taylor

The movie that by all reckoning should have been the quickie, fast-buck, dog of the past year, is—quite conversely—perhaps one of the most dramatically entertaining.

"The V.I.P."—which stars Both of Them—will delight the audiences who view it tonight and Friday night at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre. The movie is in color.

Those initials could easily stand for Very Important Picture, and its stars are Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor.

Sort of a "Grand Hotel at the London Airport," the Metro release that was hurried into production after the completion of "Cleopatra" traces four groupings of jet passengers who are finding their lives drastically changed by a fog that has grounded their aircraft before takeoff.

As a land-locked "High and Mighty," it is no less tense—superbly plotted by Terence Rattigan and expertly directed by England's Anthony Acquith.

It is to the everlasting credit of the new Burton-Taylor corporate image that the pair realized it's nice to have a plot and excellent supporting actors along when you strike out on your own to reap some of the box office profits from a clandestine romance.

The idea for "The V.I.P.s" was generated by Anatole de Grunwald who produced the picture for Metro. For some time, De Grunwald had toyed with the idea of a remake of "Grand Hotel," that film hit of the early 1930's about a group of men and women whose complex problems become entangled when they were brought together under one roof in Berlin.

And, in its early development, "The V.I.P.s" was titled "International Hotel."

De Grunwald tried to interest Terence Rattigan in undertaking the "Grand Hotel" rework, but the author was only mildly interested. Then De Grunwald happened to be fogbound himself at the London airport and a new-application of the "Grand Hotel" idea was born, a story in which the lives of nine people find their own private worlds threatened when a jet airliner must delay its departure from London to New York because of the fog. This idea Rattigan went for—and his is the screenplay from which the new movie is made.

With the idea settled, Metro went all out to assemble a cast of topline performers. Along with Miss Taylor and Burton, the cast includes Louis Jourdan, Elsa Martinelli, Margaret Rutherford, Maggie Smith, Rod Taylor, Linda Christian and Orson Welles.

In the situation of the story, the nine passengers themselves are scarcely aware of one another, but the audience gets to know them well as they sit out the delay, first in the V.I.P. lounge of the terminal and later in a nearby hotel.

Miss Taylor is leaving her husband (Burton) to run away with Jourdan, a family friend. After saying goodbye, he returns home to find her note telling him of her plan. She, of course, had thought to be in flight by the time Burton reads the note, but he hears of the delay on radio and returns to the terminal.

The other personalities are also involved in situations equally dependent on the clock for satisfactory solution. Welles is a bombastic movie director who must be out of England by midnight or face paying a ruinous income tax. Rod Taylor must be in New York for a board meeting or lose his company.

Then there's England's grande dame, Margaret Rutherford, as the frumpish, blithering duchess, who has the problem that she doesn't want to leave her native land, and doesn't want the fog to lift, doesn't want to lace her bulk into a jet with one of those infernal straps.

It is Rod Taylor who turns in the most compelling performance, a study in underplaying as the tycoon who finds himself back on fish and chips because of a fog bank. Maggie Smith, as his plain but obviously adoring secretary, offers one of the most sympathetic portrayals of the year.

Burton, whose Shakespeare still is showing, does a fine job in the unfamiliar role. Whether he obtains audience sympathy depends on how far he can inject the viewer into the role, and away from the front page.

Miss Taylor, whose waistline is showing, has her moments of acting flashes and tenderness, showing the sobbing Burton a fade-out concession she didn't accord to Eddie Fisher.

It's in color, never lags, always sings with singable dialog, and is an enjoyable drama.

Attends Course In Kansas

Garnett, Kansas.—W. F. Edmiston of Eldorado enrolled as a student last week in the Graham School for Cattlemen (Beef and Dairy), Garnett, Kansas, for a week of intensive training in artificial insemination of cattle and in herd management.

The Graham School was founded in 1909 by Frank B. Graham, Master Breeder, and has attained world-wide recognition as a school for the training of herdsmen and breeders by visual demonstrations and actual "on the farm" methods of instruction.

Classes are held the second full week of each month. All students are given individual help and instructions and are provided opportunities to work with live animals and warm carcasses under the supervision of instructors who have had many years of experience and training with cattle.

The school permanent headquarters in Garnett is completely equipped to make full use of both scientific and practical demonstrations, and students are transported by the school's bus to the near-by Graham Farm and Ranch for the actual working experience with live cattle.

Since cattlemen come from all parts of the United States, as well as from other countries, Mr. Edmiston had many opportunities for an exchange of ideas relating to all phases of the cattle business.

The CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL
By Dayton Kelley
Mary Hardin-Baylor College
Belton, Texas

After 1865 and the close of the Civil War it was not difficult to find a youngster named after the popular and beloved Confederate leader, General Robert Edward Lee. Even today, parents still may name one of their children for the famous soldier who turned educator when the Confederate cause failed. Mr. Stern is a well-known and respected author of Civil War items and we've never seen a book more lovingly put together. Respect and admiration for his subject shows in every one of the more than 80,000 words of text and in the choice of the more than 350 illustrations which depict Lee as more than just a Civil War soldier. In fact, even the ancestral home of the Lee family in England, which we wrote about in this space many, many months ago, comes in for its share of attention as does Lee's Texas sojourn and his post-war years. A second "Lee volume" is Dr. Albert J. Russo's "Lee's Command," a poetic history of the Civil War published by Exposition Press. Written with a "Southern Exposure," the little book "sings" of the War years in a touching and nostalgic way. We are in the process of securing a number of copies of a pamphlet entitled "The Noble Lee," published by a Rhode Island manufacturing concern and will send copies of the pamphlet to readers who want one and will send a stamped-addressed envelope for it. Bee stings are less annoying to seasoned beekeepers than mosquito bites as most beekeepers build up an immunity to their effects.

Democratic Convention To Start Monday

LYNDON B. JOHNSON

Once again politics will preempt all television channels and radio stations as the Democratic National Convention gets underway Monday in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

The re-nomination of Texas Lyndon B. Johnson to head the Democratic ticket as President is a foregone conclusion, but there is still some conjecture as to who his running mate will be for vice-president.

The Republican convention was held last month in San Francisco and Goldwater and Miller were nominated.

With passing of the Democratic convention next week, the political campaign will go into high gear during the months of September and October, culminating in the General Election itself on November 3rd.

Absentee voting will take place during the period of October 14 to 29.

A final word: During this coming Democratic convention the commentators will be saying now and then that if you want to vote you should be sure to "register." That has no application here in Texas.

You must either have paid your poll tax last January, to be qualified to vote this year. OR you must have registered during the special period set last spring for qualifying yourself to vote for federal officials only.

We had five or six voters in this county who registered then and whenever they vote they are given "bob-tailed" ballots with just the federal races on it.

If all this sounds complicated, it was brought about when the amendment to the national constitution was approved outlawing the poll tax as a pre-requisite for voting in federal elections.

But the mechanics of voter registration are still left up to the individual states, including Texas, and our state still, for practical purposes, has the poll tax.

'Frontier Round-Up' To Launch Scouting Year

The Concho Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America recently notified all unit chairmen and unit leaders of Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Posts of the Twin Mountain District that this year the theme of the fall Round-up is "The Frontier Round-up" which is an ideal time to extend invitations to new boys and to bring back old ones, to recruit good men and women to assist as leaders with units.

There is something in the air in September and October which makes boys want to join Scouting, so the Twin Mountain District wants to take advantage of this desire to serve more boys, it was stated by J. Fred Mc Cleery, district commissioner of the Twin Mountain district which includes this county.

"In order that you may know more about the details of our Frontier Round-up plans, the Commissioner Staff of our district is having a Hamburger Fry on: Tuesday, August 25th, at 7:00 p.m. at Troop 36 Cabin (located in the last block on No. Washington St., San Angelo). There will be a 25¢ fee per person to help defray expenses," Mr. Mc Cleery stated in a recent letter, which also said:

"The first step in making the Frontier Round-up successful for your unit is to name a committee-man or a Scout Dad as your unit round-up chairman and bring him to the Hamburger Fry. Your unit leader isn't eligible for this position as it would add an extra burden on him."

Post Script

One evening last week, about dusk, I drove around to the gin and got there just as Clifford Schooley was coming in with two pick-up loads of cucumbers, and I stayed while Sam Gausemeier put the grading machine in operation and watched them run the two loads through the grader.

This was Clifford's first picking and he said they gathered about two-thirds of his 5-acre patch and he expected that it would produce a heavy percentage of culls, which it did.

The Brown-Miller Co. buys cucumbers in grades 1, 2, 3, and 4. Clifford got 22 baskets (bushel baskets) of those 4 grades and just about as many baskets of culls. They were going to haul these culls back home. Cattle will eat 'em, they said, and sheep will, too, under certain conditions.

Hogs will eat 'em, of course—they'll eat anything.

We listened to the men talking about it and they agreed that the smart thing to do was to avoid bringing the culls to town in the first place. You could leave 'em in the field, they said, and plow 'em under for fertilizer or you could feed 'em to livestock.

Clifford concluded that the first picking had scarcely paid wages for him and his boys, but that from there on they expected to have a larger percentage of marketable cukes. It seems that you've got to get those large culls pulled and get them out of the field so new little ones can come on. Clifford said he believed the field had to be picked over every other day.

Schooley apparently wasn't taking anything for granted either. He already knew about the other cucumber growers in the county and their problems with salt in their soil. He mentioned that some of that "white stuff" was showing up in his field and maybe the plants would die, but someone else advanced the opinion that the "white stuff" was the fertilizer they had applied and that it was not the salt problem at all.

Time will tell. In the meantime you've got to give these boys credit for getting in there and trying something new.

If the cucumber project was a disappointment this year, can you tell us of any other program that wasn't?

Later this week we learned that last Wednesday's loads were the last that Schooley brought to the grading station. The grading machine has since been moved away marking "finish" to cucumbers as a commercial crop for this year. There are still cucumbers in two or three fields and a few are being gathered for local consumption.

As the W. H. Hale family were preparing early this week to move to Iraan, Mrs. Hale had a good word to say for the advertising power of the local newspaper.

In last week's Success she advertised a dining room set for sale. "I sold it before noon, Thursday," she said, going on to state that she had inquiries by phone for about three more days.

A card received this week by one of their Eldorado friends carried this message from Mr. and Mrs. George Long, who are touring the Northwest: "We have been to Mt. Ranier National Park, Victoria and Vancouver, British Columbia, and so many interesting places and beautiful scenery. The flowers are just unbelievable. —The Longs."

Our First National Bank is having a little problem.

Plans for their new building included a new telephone system which would also call for a new telephone number. They made arrangements for the change about the time contract was let for construction, but they won't get the new system or new number until the new addition is completed.

In the meantime the Telephone company has issued a new directory and it is carrying the number the bank will have some time out in October. The number then will be 2-3601.

If you want to call the bank now you still need to dial the old number which is 2-2661.

If you can't remember that, just look in last year's directory.

This week the Success office received a letter from M. G. "Gene" Snyder, Congressman from the 3rd District in Kentucky, stating that the "Does History Repeat?" item in the July 16th Success issue had been read into the Congressional Record on July 23rd. Apparently, that copy reached Mr. Snyder's office by a round-about route.

Mrs. Robert Frost of Arlington, Virginia, is a subscriber to the Success and she works in the national headquarters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, in nearby Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Frost, the former Margaret Bradley of this place, showed the July 16 Success to one of her co-workers there and the co-worker in turn gave it to her son who works in Congressman Snyder's office.

In his letter to us, Mr. Snyder said:

"I was given a copy of the July 16 Success with the 'Does History Repeat?' article in it. I found it most interesting and read it into the Congressional Record as well as including it in my August newsletter.

"However, one point has come up that I would like you to check with the person who researched the item. I want to know where the information came from, particularly the section on Mr. Lincoln's secretary who was named Kennedy. I would appreciate any help you could give me on this matter."

We copied the article for our July 16 issue and the same paragraphs, in substance, turned up shortly afterward in several other publications, including a recent issue of Time magazine.

And we also received a letter from Tom Gattis at Pilot Point saying in part, "Thank you for mentioning my visit there in 1929. . . . Would really enjoy another visit to Eldorado, but I guess most of loved ones that I knew are gone now. It is now 54 years since I lived there.

"My writing is so hard or I would write of some of the early days there, before there were any cars or trucks or roads. Everything had to be hauled by wagon from San Angelo. If you would care to print it I would tell of some very early life there. Guess I was one of the first to put in cotton in Schleicher county. I put in 25 acres to cotton; made 25 bales. I hauled it all to a gin at San Angelo. Some of my experiences would make history. Would love to tell of a noted character named Bud Douglas. . . . Tom Gattis."

Mr. Gattis observed his 82nd birthday at Pilot Point on May 3rd and he and Mrs. Gattis had their son, Tom Jr., and four of their six daughters on hand to help him celebrate.

Mrs. Gattis was 78 on June 17th. The Gattises have lived at Pilot Point since 1919.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

One screwworm case was reported in the state last week, in Irion county. Here is the number of cases at this date since the program has been in operation, 1962-1,283, 1963-13, 1964-1.

With the coming of general rains Saturday and Sunday, producers of the county are asked to make thorough inspections and if screwworms are detected send them in to Mission, Texas, at once.

Plenty of vials are available at the County Agent's office.

Whether a cow is bred or not will be the difference between profit and loss in a livestock enterprise. The table below gives some cost figures that bear close study. The top figure represents lbs. calf produced; the bottom cost per lb.

Production cost; lb. beef $70; low operating cost;

Weaning weight lbs. 500, 450, 400, 350;

Cal. crop % 90; 450, 15.6; 405, 17.3; 360, 19.4; 315, 22.2;

80; 400, 17.5; 360, 19.4; 320, 21.9; 280, 25.0;

70; 350, 20.0; 315, 22.2; 280, 25.0; 245, 28.6;

60; 300, 23.3; 270, 25.9; 240, 29.2; 210, 33.3.

If calves sell at 20c lb. you will observe a break even point at 90% calf crop and 400 lb. weaning weight, 80% at 450 lbs. and 70% at 500 lbs. It's about as simple as that.

No accurate thinker will judge another person by which the other person's enemies say about him.

A range tour was conducted August 12 for the state ASCS committee in cooperation with the local ASC office manager, Ronnie Mittel and Bill Rountree, work unit conservationist and the Extension Service. The purpose of the trip, being to observe first hand brush control with and without deferred grazing.

State officials making the trip were Mr. David, state executive director of ASCS, Lester Young, ACP practices head, Jim Goad, state committeeman and Weber Pool, state committeeman.

SCS officials making the tour were Mr. R. Smith, C. A. Reckintine, from state headquarters of office, Temple, Texas. "SI" Richman, area conservationist from San Angelo, also accompanied the group.

Others making the tour: G. O. Hoffman, range specialist, Extension Service; J. F. Runge, chairman, local board of supervisors; Ben Hext, ASCS chairman; Ronnie Mittel and Bill Rountree and Mr. Steward, district supervisor, ASCS.

The group viewed brush control on the ranches of Gerald Hartgraves, Jess Koy, Gerald Nicks, Figure 3, Jimmie Powell and Howard Derrick.

The group being met by Mr. Keng, work unit conservationist, and Clint Langford, county agent, Sutton county, at Fort McKavett they were conducted to the Range Experiment Station between Sonora and Rocksprings.

With the coming of general rains and the sharp rise in cattle and sheep prices makes for a most happy occasion. May the rains continue, the frost be late, the fall warm for vegetation be at its maximum going into the winter.

Based upon rainfall actually received for the last 48 years the average is 19.87".

Average or normal rainfall seldom occurs. All parts of the county can expect more years below average than above with 25% below normal occurring 38% of the time.

The economics of the above supported data is as follows:

If a rancher is stocked on a basis of expected grass production from rainfall 25% above normal he will be short of needed feed 36 years out of 48. On the basis of the average he will be short 24 years out of 48. At 25% below normal he will be short 7 years out of 48.

With a little excess grass, even not harvested by livestock within the year is never marked up as a loss but rather as a dividend that can be used later if the rains come and livestock prices are right.

Stocking on the vegetation present of carrying capacity possible as the land will support, should be considered and receive the highest consideration under the word, management.

Putting land, labor and capital to its highest valued use applying allocative efficiency to take place over a period of years, the putting together of all resources at command, both natural and land, labor, and capital, could lower the unit cost per ranch or acre.

The question "How can I utilize costal bermudagrass after I have established a good cover?" can be summed up in one word, management.

Do's and don'ts:

Do not let costal bermudagrass get too high and tough before you graze or cut for hay. Fourteen to 16 inches height is when the protein count is highest.

Apply fertilizer as recommended by soil test. At least one cow and calf per acre with normal irrigation from May until the first freeze should be an average.

Leave 4-5 inches of top growth on costal during the winter. This top growth has food value that feeds the roots when the costal puts out in the spring.

Bermudagrass is drought and disease resistant and responds fast to fertilization.

Congratulate yourself when you reach that degree of wisdom which prompts you to see less of the weakness of others and more of your own, for you will then be walking in the company of the really great.

Editorial Comments From Our Neighbors

What Conservatives Favor

It was our privilege the other day, while attending the annual convention of the West Texas Press Association in Midland, to hear a talk by a young man named Ed Foreman.

Foreman is a Republican congressman, but it would do every American a mite of good to listen to what he had to say to us West Texas newspaper people.

He did a good job of outlining what conservatives are for: Private enterprise free from government competition, local control of public schools, government economy and less spending, local medical care by local organizations, voluntary prayer and Bible reading in public schools, and a few others.

"Federal aid to education," he said, "should start with the teaching of arithmetic in Washington."

He accused a good many of his colleagues in Congress of checking their brains at the door of the House.

"America and the world need more men and women of every race, color, religion and creed who will say 'No!' to Socialism and Communist aggression, and who will say 'Yes!' to individual initiative, fiscal responsibility and freedom.

As Foreman himself noted, his hard-hitting message is not popular with a good many people. But it is popular with many others who are concerned over the erosion of freedom which is occurring in the country.

I predict that Ed Foreman will have a bright future. And if we heed his words, so will America.

Junk Mail . . .

Little noticed in the furor surrounding that Long Island postman who apparently squirreled away two tons of letters in his garage, most of them junk mail, is the absence of complaints from homeowners.

The post office reports that 450 residents along his route, not one asked during a three-year period why more curculars weren't clogging the mailbox.

The retired gentleman, Lorin F. Shipper, is safely past the deadline when he might be prosecuted for his selective screening service.

And the government has decided that while the few first-class letters he stored away will be delivered, the rest will simply be thrown out.

We have a hunch that if Mr. Shipper ever wants a new job, there are a good many firms who would hire him to do what he does so well, weeding out unsolicited, unwelcome, unnecessary mail. —Van Horn Advocate.

Looking At Lyndon

A book recommended for reading is J. Evetts Haley's "A Texan Looks At Lyndon."

The book not only quotes incidents, but gives footnotes quoting the source of information so that it may be verified by the reader if he wants to go to as much effort as did the author.

The book is also an insight into higher political circles in this nation of ours and is an X-ray to one of the causes of moral decay because of the corruption in national figures.

The reader doesn't have to believe all that he reads in the book, but his thoughts will be challenged, to say the least!

There are those, always, who believe what they want to believe, with or without foundation of fact. And there are those who tell things for facts sometimes in hopes of finding a believer.

Regardless of whether you may agree with Mr. Haley's political philosophies, you must admit, after reading the book, that if what he has authored is not the truth, then he is subject to one of the best cinches in a libel suit that can be imagined.

We don't believe Mr. Haley would mind our attaching the designation "extremist" on him in our efforts to describe how far he has gone in revealing certain things in the political life of our president. —Sanderson Times.

Iraan Organizes Chamber of Commerce

The Iraan Chamber of Commerce is in business, as of Tuesday night. A crowd of about 55 were on hand for the organizational meeting and the election of officers. The forming of the Chamber of Commerce marks another milestone in the relatively short history of Iraan. It was only four years ago that the Iraan State Bank was formed.

Cecil Watson, longtime Iraan resident and civic leader of the community and operator of Watson Builders Supply Co., was elected charter president of the C. C. —Iraan News.

Addresses State Meeting Of Electric Co-Ops

U.S. SENATOR
RALPH YARBOROUGH

"By the preservation and improvement of rural America, you have done so much to strengthen the free enterprise system. But political propagandists portray you as enemies of free enterprise," U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough told nearly 800 representatives of Texas rural electric cooperatives meeting in Austin August 14.

The right of rural electric cooperatives to generate their own power was stressed by another speaker as essential to the continued development of rural areas. He is Norman Clapp, head of the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington, D. C.

Theme of the annual meeting of members of Texas Electric Cooperatives, state-wide association of rural electric, was "Helping to Build Texas." And speakers agreed that this job—as it relates to rural Texas—has just begun.

"The lines to you and your fellow member-owners signify only the beginning—only the start of a new vitality for rural Texas," J. R. Cobb, general manager of Texas Electric Cooperatives, said.

"Let's say loud and clear to all the people in Texas that our rural electric cooperatives—born and raised in adversity and operating even today in areas of receding population—pledge that electric power will continue to be available in ever increasing quantities on a reliable basis, at reasonable rates, through our locally-owned electric cooperatives," he urged.

The convention delegates approved several resolutions expressing specific support of the theme of the convention, "Helping Build Texas." One resolution pledged support of the war on poverty and continued support of a "vigorous rural areas development program." Another expressed appreciation to the Farmers Union, Farm Bureau, State Grange, Sheep and Goat Raisers, and other farm and ranch organizations for their support of electric cooperatives and of rural development.

The delegates expressed strong opposition to the Supreme Court ruling requiring reapportionment of both houses of state legislatures on a population basis, and urged Congress to act "to return to and leave the question of apportionment of state legislatures for determination by the states themselves."

Don McCormick, manager of the Southwest Texas Electric Co-Operatives which has headquarters here in Eldorado, attended this state meeting.

Mason Votes Wet

Voters of Precinct 1 in Mason county turned out in near record portions Tuesday to cast a total of 856 votes in the local option election for the off premises consumption of Beer.

The election passed by a margin of 90 votes with the total number of 473 votes being cast for and 383 votes cast against.

The result of the election means that for the first time in more than 60 years there will be alcoholic beverages sold legally in the county. Mason has been dry since 1905. —Mason County News.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Parker and two children of Casper, Wyoming, have been visiting here recently with his mother, Mrs. Mabel Parker.

Markers To Be Erected Here

The Texas State Historical Survey Committee has announced that two "Historical Markers in City" signs will soon be erected in Eldorado.

Eldorado is one of 125 Texas cities in which these two reflectorized signs will be placed. They are authorized by the State Building Commission, which recently signed the contract for their manufacture.

These markers, designed to inform tourists of historical sites in Eldorado, will be placed on the city limit sign-posts on U.S. 277 North and U.S. 277 South by the Texas Highway Department. They measure 24 by 24 inches and are made of steel with white reflective letters reading "Historical Markers in City" on a black background.

Town selection was determined by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee according to Official Texas Historical Markers previously erected there.

The program also calls for the erection of 260 Official Texas Historical Markers in three sizes to relate the history of Texas in the Confederacy. These markers will be made of cast aluminum with Swedish steel effect.

The Texas State Historical Survey Committee recommended the marker topics, determined locations, researched and wrote the inscriptions.

The erection of these four types of state markers is part of a five-year plan of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee and its affiliate, the Texas Historical Foundation, to record, appreciate, mark, preserve, and survey Texas history. "RAMPS," as the plan is called, plans to place 5,000 Official Texas Historical Markers over the state in this period. The markers are to be sponsored through joint efforts of the state, counties, local groups and individuals.

75th Anniversary Set For Coke County

It was announced this week that John Ben Sheppard of Odessa has accepted an invitation from the city council to be present and appear on the program at Bronte's Labor Day celebration of Coke County's 75th anniversary. Sheppard, former attorney general and president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, is presently engaged in the oil business.

Bronte Jaycees also announced this week their plans to participate in the Diamond Jubilee celebration. They will sponsor a beauty contest and a queen mother contest.

The Labor Day celebration in Bronte has grown each year since it was started, and it was decided this year to combine it with observance of Coke County's 75th birthday. —Bronte Enterprise.

Prescott-Vacation Headquarters

Situated in Southwest Arkansas, the bustling city of Prescott is the center of many scenic attractions. Eight miles away is ARKLA VILLAGE, an authentic re-creation of a typical frontier town of the mid-1880's, where there's fun for all the family. In another direction you take a ride on the Possum Trot Line of the READER RAILROAD driven by an old-fashioned steam engine. Go another way to a real DIAMOND MINE where, for a small fee, you can dig for your own diamonds (one woman found a $15,000 stone). Then there's OLD WASHINGTON, a famous roadside inn, which around 1830 was the last outpost before reaching the wilderness of the West. To these attractions add NARROWS and WHITE OAK lakes, and you have a wonderful vacation spot — another of the many places to go and things to see in General Telephone Country.
