Season's First Blizzard Closes Schools, Roads

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first major snowstorm of the season slammed into the nation's midsection today. The driving blizzard hampered road and air travel, closed schools in Wyoming and drove temperatures below freezing across most of the Rockies. At least two deaths in Wyoming were blamed on the storm.

The Wyoming Highway Patrol closed all roads out of the capital city of Cheyenne because of heavy snow. Winds with gusts up to 65 miles an hour caused huge drifts on streets and highways.

Traffic was at a standstill in Cheyenne and schools were closed generally throughout southeastern Wyoming. The Warren Air Force base west of Cheyenne was marooned with no road traffic possible in the area.

A man was killed in a car-truck collision on a snow-slushy highway near Lyman in southeastern Wyoming. Another man died from a heart attack while putting chains on his car near Lander, Wyo.

Snow drifts were up to eight feet deep in Cheyenne. Planes were unable to take off or land at the Cheyenne Municipal Airport.

At last 27 schools were closed on the eastern plains as the storm swept southward into Colorado. Numerous cars piled up in the ditch on Monur nt Hill between Denver and Colorado Springs.

The sugar beet and dry bean crop harvests were in full swing when the storm hit Wyoming and Colorado. Some crop damage was reported.

A total of 17 inches of snow had piled up at Lander, Wyo., by early morning.

The mercury took a nosedive in the Rockies, dropping to 8 degrees at Cut Bank, Mont. The low reading of 16 at Ely, Nev., equaled the lowest in Weather Bureau history there for so early in the season.

More than a foot of snow fell on ski resorts in Utah. Snow continued along a long belt from Montana to Utah and Colorado. Some snow also was reported in western Nebraska.

LBJ Sees Soviets As Peace Seekers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is holding open the possibility that the Soviet Union may play an active role in ending the war in Viet Nam.

At a news conference Thursday he spoke optimistically about improved relations with the U.S.S.R. generally and, significantly, appeared to include the Soviet Union among nations seeking peace.

All the while Johnson emphasized that the United States will not withdraw from the conflict — or even pause militarily — unless "the enemy" does the same.

And he did not forget the political wars at home, salting the 40-minute session in the White House East Room with criticism of Republicans.

"There are only two governments in the world that now appear opposed to ending the war and achieving the peace," Johnson said. He did not name the two, but evidently he referred to Communist China and North Viet Nam.

The Soviet Union repeatedly has turned down appeals that it join Britain in reconvening the 1954 Geneva conference, but the hope persists in some diplomatic quarters that Moscow yet will take steps to try to bring about a negotiated settlement of the war.

Last Monday, Johnson conferred for two hours with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Thursday, the President called the session fruitful and said he believes "it will be productive."

The President said he had told Gromyko the United States "would welcome a visit by the leadership of his country to this country, that we welcomed his people coming here in the exchange programs, and we wanted to know them better."

The President jumped into the nationally televised and broadcast conference less than an hour after his return from a political whirl into New York and Delaware — and without lunch, he pointed out. His mood was confident, relaxed, even ebullient.

But he spoke firmly and seriously about his intentions to keep the United States in the war in Viet Nam until "the aggressor" yields.

Ruling out a unilateral pause in U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam, Johnson said this had been tried twice with these results:

"Our boys sat there and watched the enemy. He didn't pause. He kept up his bombing. He threw his hand grenades. He lobbed his mortars into our troop encampments and killed our Marines, our airmen, our Army soldiers."

Would Burn Mail To Relieve Jam

CHICAGO (AP) — A troubleshooter for the postmaster general proposed today to destroy large amounts of third-class mail to relieve a critical jam in the Chicago post office.

The unprecedented move was decided upon by William Hartigan, deputy assistant postmaster general for transportation, head of a team sent from Washington to solve the enormous backlog problem.

Henry W. McGee, acting Chicago postmaster, said the tie-up had stalled 113,000 sacks of third-class mail, 5,600 sacks of parcel post, and 9,600 sacks of second-class mail as of late Thursday. First-class mail was not significantly affected.

Superintendents in charge of postal substations in Chicago were instructed to set aside outdated circulars in the third-class mail category and telephone senders for permission to destroy them. Hartigan said no mail would be destroyed without senders' permission, and that postage refunds would be made. He said the refunds would cost less than sorting the mail.

The crisis in the Chicago post office was blamed by McGee on a "high rate of absenteeism, an unusually large volume of pre-Christmas advertising matter and the difficulty of recruiting new employes."

Close Vote Due On Slum Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House heads today for a vote — expected to be close — on President Johnson's program for massive physical and social rehabilitation of slums in selected cities.

But before reaching a final vote the House must dispose of a variety of amendments — including one which would knock out the proposed $900 million authorization for operating funds in the next two years and leave only $24 million for planning.

Debate on the demonstration cities bill has been marked by charges and denials that the proposed program contains projects to hasten racial balance.

As Congress continues its push for adjournment, the Senate prepared to go into session three hours early in an attempt to dispose of three major pieces of legislation and avoid a Saturday session.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield called for action first on a House-passed bill authorizing $820 million in new public works projects across the nation then on a $2.3 billion appropriation bill for the State, Commerce and Justice Departments.

Mansfield also hoped for action today on the House-passed bill suspending two major incentives to business spending — a key portion of the President's anti-inflation program.

The incentives which Johnson wants suspended for 16 months are a seven per cent tax credit on business spending for plant and equipment and favorable depreciation provisions on construction of industrial, commercial and apartment buildings.

House members, meanwhile, were showing a strong inclination to jump the gun on Johnson's recommendations for Social Security increases. Johnson suggested that the next Congress vote higher benefits to start on Jan. 1, 1968 but members of the House Ways and Means Committee talked of making the proposed hike effective Jan. 1, 1967.

In a surprise move that could lead to action by Congress before adjournment, the Ways and Means Committee ordered legislation drafted for study.

2 Children, Mother In Death Plunge

NEW YORK AP) — An African Diplomat's screaming wife threw their two children from an 18th-floor window today and then followed them to death in a courtyard below. Police said it looked like "a bloody battlefield."

Police identified the victims as Mrs. Olive M. Mwalilino, 24, and her children, Kotoki, a one-year-old boy, and Janet, a girl three months old.

The woman's husband is an official of the Malawi delegation to the United Nations, police said.

Her husband is G. T. K. Mwalilino a second secretary of Malawi's mission to the U.N.

The incident occurred at 535 E. 86th St.

A television antenna installer, Gerald Cristodero, working on a nearby roof, told police he saw the woman throw the children to their death then follow them.

Cristodero, 24, said the woman stood at the window screaming at the top of her voice. She threw something out.

He said he could not tell what was thrown, but a few seconds later the woman threw something else out — and this time he could tell it was a child.

Mrs. Mwalilino then put her legs out the window and sat on the window ledge for a short time, still screaming, the witness told police.

She let herself down until she was holding onto the ledge with her fingers. Then she let go and fell screaming to the courtyard below.

Fronts To Bring Freeze To Panhandle

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Weather Bureau predicted today that the coldest weather so far this fall is on its way to Texas with two fronts moving into the state.

The bureau said freezing temperatures could be expected tonight in the upper Panhandle.

The first cold front struck upper Texas about 3 a.m. and is expected to pass through Texas during the night.

Skies were clear in the Panhandle and South Plains, but the front was expected to set off showers as it moved deeper into the state.

A new surge of Canadian cold air was forecast for the Panhandle during the afternoon and over all the state Saturday.

By 6 a.m. the mercury had dropped only to 48 degrees at Dalhart and 59 at Amarillo. By contrast, it was down to 32 at La Junta in Southeastern Colorado.

Behind the norther lay up to 17 inches of snow at Lander, Wyo., and snow was falling across much of Colrado, Utah and Montana.

Winds gradually shifting to the north were expected to accent the cool snap by late in the day, and forecasts called for overnight lows down to 36 in the Panhandle and the 40s over the rest of the state's northern half.

It was clear to partly cloudy with no moisture reported anywhere in Texas.

Arrival of the cool snap was due to be particularly noticeable after temperatures Thursday ranging up to 96 degrees at Cotulla—the top mark in the nation—and 95 at Mineral Wells. The coolest spots with highs of 83 were Alpine, El Paso and Galveston.

Scattered showers were expected into tonight over southern areas of the state. Forecasts promise still colder weather in northern sections, with the chill spreading into the south by evening.

McNamara Claims Red Efforts Blunted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned to Washington today from what he termed "a very productive visit" to South Viet Nam and declared U.S. forces have blunted a Communist effort to cut the Southeast Asian country in half.

McNamara speaking briefly with newsmen, said the Communists have been unable to mount their monsoon offensive planned for the bad weather between June and October this year—"an offensive designed to cut the country at its narrow waist."

The enemy, he said, has suffered heavy casualties in that unsuccessful drive.

He reiterated, as he said in Saigon during his eighth visit to the country since 1962, that he sees no reason "to expect any significant increase in the level or tempo of military operations in the foreseeable future."

And he said there is no basis for speculation on an increase in the rate of deployment of U.S. troops to Viet Nam, now totaling 328,000 — or 1,000 more than were stationed in Korea at the peak of that war in 1953.

McNamara declared U.S. military commanders had requested no increase in the rate of deployment and he added that there is no basis at present to anticipate the call-up of Reserve or National Guard troops.

In the past 12 months, the United States has sent troops to South Viet Nam at the rate of about 15,000 a month, but McNamara declined to project any figures.

A continuation of the 15,000-man monthly rate would give the United States about 450,000 men in Viet Nam next summer and over half a million by the end of 1967.

Viet Commitments To Go Higher

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States now has more men in Viet Nam than were stationed in Korea during the peak of that war, and officials leave little doubt that the commitment will go higher.

U.S. manpower in South Viet Nam hit 328,000 this week, 1,000 more than the number of American troops deployed within Korea in June 1953.

This milestone in the Southeast Asian struggle virtually passed unnoticed until the Pentagon's statistical branch, in response to questions, provided figures showing the Korean in-country strength was 327,000 at its height.

The over-all U.S. force involved in the Viet Nam war, including out-of-country support elements, still is about 60,000 shy of the peak over-all Korean commitment of 472,800.

The surpassing of the Korean in-country mark came as Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was touring Viet Nam.

Ending his eighth visit there, the Pentagon chief told newsmen in Saigon the military effort was going "very satisfactorily" and he foresaw no substantial change in the rate of deployment of U.S. troops to Viet Nam in coming months.

Pentagon officials took this as a sign that the U.S. input of men will continue at about the same rate as the past year — some 15,000 men a month. This would mean a year-end level of around 370,000.

In Congress Thursday Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., predicted American strength would reach 500,000 by the end of next year. A continuation of the 15,000-men-a-month input for the next 12 months would put U.S. strength in Viet Nam just over the half-million mark in 1967.

Some top military officials have said they think 750,000 U.S. troops will be required to end the war.

Klan Chief Sentenced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert M. Shelton, imperial wizard of the United Klans of America Inc., was given the maximum sentence—one year in prison and a $1,000 fine — today on conviction of contempt of Congress.

Shelton, 36, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., was convicted by a U.S. District Court jury Sept. 14 on a charge of refusing to produce books and records of the Ku Klux Klan at a hearing last October before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

After Judge John J. Sirica pronounced the sentence, Shelton was permitted to remain free on bond pending his planned appeal.

Six other klansmen were indicted along with Shelton. It is likely their trials will be delayed until Shelton's case has been decided on appeal.

UN Political Panel Gives Top Billing To Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Disarmament got top billing in the U.N. General Assembly's main political committee today with a glimmer of hope that the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over a treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons may finally be loosening.

Bolstered by expressions of optimism from both President Johnson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, the 119-nation committee decided to lead off its agenda with debate on the proposed nonproliferation pact.

Agreement on the agenda was reached Thursday at a meeting of U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, Soviet Chief Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko and others.

A State Department spokesman said earlier this week that "some of the misunderstandings" preventing agreement on a nonproliferation treaty had been removed. He did not specify what they were.

The CORE of the U.S.-Soviet disagreement has been the future role of West Germany in the nuclear defense of the North Atlantic alliance. Moscow contended that the treaty draft the United States presented in Geneva talks contained loopholes that would permit West Germany to obtain nuclear arms.

The committee debate will open on a resolution, drafted by the Soviet Union with the United States as a cosponsor which appeals to all nations not to do anything that might hamper agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

Elsewhere in the United Nations:

The 12-nation Arab bloc accused Israel of calling for a Security Council meeting in order to set the stage for massive aggression against Syria.

The council meets today to debate Israel's charge that Syria is trying to stir up a new war between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

Romanian sources said their delegation was starting a campaign to get Romanian Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu elected president of the next General Assembly. If elected, he will be the first Communist to hold the job.

Conferees Agree On Apporpriations

WASHINGTON (AP)— House-Senate conferees have agreed on a compromise $979,570,000 appropriation bill to finance military construction projects.

The total is $38,770,000 under the amount voted by the House and $6,948,000 below that okayed by the Senate.

It also represents a reduction of $135,377,000 from the amount budgeted by President Johnson for the year which started July 1.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Tonight my heart aches for my 13-year-old daughter who once again attended an after-school dance without an invitation to dance one dance.

When her older brother was that age and popular with the crowd I always encouraged him to ask the not-so-popular girls to dance, impressing upon him how much it could mean to a girl who might not otherwise receive one invitation to dance during the entire evening.

I was proud that he followed my advice. I wish other mothers would tell their sons the same thing. Will you help me, Abby? It could mean so much to the girls.

A MOTHER IN KENT

DEAR MOTHER: You bet I will. An ounce of thoughtfulness can case a ton of heartache.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a 38-year old bachelor who lives with my mother to help out as much as possible. For the last three years my brother, who is a school teacher, has lived in our town with his family. They are over at our small place more than in their own home. They come here for supper every night, and when there are dishes to be washed afterwards they break the 4-minute mile getting away.

My mother claims it is HER house and I am not allowed to say a word. She says if I leave she can have the law bring me back because she is a hardship case. I would consider Thanksgiving in Viet Nam a blessing. Is there any escape?

HELPLESS

DEAR HELPLESS: Anyone who would consider Thanksgiving in Viet Nam a blessing would have a tough time passing the physical, so forget it.

There is no law that can force a man to live with his mother even though she is a hardship case, so if you don't like the setup there, move, and contribute to your mother's support some other way.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I just went thru a bankruptcy so you know what kind of financial shape I am in. When my wife left me five months ago I agreed to support her.

Now that I went thru bankruptcy am I still obligated to support my wife? She can't get blood out of a turnip.

BANKRUPT

DEAR BANKRUPT: Yes, you must support her. She knows she can't get blood out of a turnip, and maybe she'd rather have blood than nothing. What does your lawyer say?

Death Claims Veteran Actor Clifton Webb

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Imperious dignity and an urbane, witty style were actor Clifton Webb's trademarks in a career that spanned singing as a child, dancing, Broadway, intimate comedies and countless movies.

Webb, 69, died Thursday night of a heart attack at his home.

Webb's secretary, Helen Matthews, said she was with the actor when he died. She said he suffered for some time with a heart condition.

Webb was born in Indianapolis, Ind., and in recent years gave his birthdate as Nov. 19, 1896.

However, record books indicate the date may have been as early as 1893, which would have made him 72.

His real name was Webb Parmelee Hollenbeck. He seldom talked of his father and legend had it that his stage-struck mother left her husband when their son was 3 to enter show business.

Webb started on the stage as a child singer and aimed for a classical career, but one night he was waltzing with a dinner companion in a New York night club when he was spotted by a professional dancer, Bonnie Glass.

She proposed a partnership, and they began a dancing career at Murray's Roman Gardens in New York. Soon he was dancing in Broadway shows under the name of Clifton Webb, which he had chosen after a series of other names.

Webb's Broadway shows included "Oliver Twist," "Meet the Wife," "As Thousands Cheer" and "You Never Know."

Webb later shifted from musicals to drawing room comedies, including those written by his close friend Noel Coward, "Blithe Spirit" and "Present Laughter."

In 1944, Webb made a brilliant motion picture debut as the acid-tongued critic in "Laura."

He followed his success with "Dark Corner" and "The Razor's Edge," then made his greatest hit as the imperious babysitter, Mr. Belvedere, in "Sitting Pretty."

The actor, who never married, managed a convincing performance as the father of 12 in another hit, "Cheaper by the Dozen."

They advertised reductions in prices of 2,327 items, calling them new low "Miracle Prices." (AP Wirephoto)

Mexico Finds More Bodies

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP) — Mexico's death toll from Hurricane Inez rose to at least 65 today following the discovery of about 50 bodies in mud and flood waters of two villages northwest of Tampico.

Gov. Praxedis Balboa of Ta Maulipas state ordered the decomposing bodies buried without identification to avoid the danger of an epidemic.

The bodies were found in the Manuel-Gonzalez area where the hurricane hit Monday morning. The find raised the unofficial toll for the 18-day hurricane to 293 dead.

The danger from flooding in Tampico eased as the Tamesi and Panuco rivers leveled off.

Suffers Gunshot To Protect Her Dog

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Virginia Stark took a bullet in the thigh Thursday rather than see her dog wounded or killed.

Mrs. Stark, 42, was working alone in a gas company office when two armed men entered and told her to open the cash register.

The dog bit one of the bandits, who turned to shoot it. But Mrs. Stark stepped in front of the gunman, and suffered the thigh wound, police said.

Rumors Say Reds Plan Space Feat

MOSCOW (AP)—Unconfirmed reports are circulating in Moscow that the Soviet Union will try soon to put several men in space in the largest manned satellite ever launched.

Some versions of the reports say the launching might come next week. Other versions say by the end of this year. There was no official information available.

In the last 15 months the Soviet Union has launched three unmanned Proton satellites each weighing about 13 tons.

Objects of this size could be used to sustain several men in space for a number of days, providing the kind of "manned orbital laboratory" which the United States has talked about launching.

Premier And Cabinet Resign At The Hague

THE HAGUE (AP) — Dutch Premier Jo Cals and his cabinet resigned today after his own party turned against him. Political circles said the crisis probably would force election of a new parliament.

The coalition cabinet was forced to quit after the premier's Catholic People's Party, Holland's biggest, repudiated him in a dispute over financial policy by ramming a censure motion through the 150-member lower house of parliament.

FOR THE PRESIDENT

Journey To Stir War Memories

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson says his "sentimental journey" to New Zealand and Australia next week evokes happy, sad and frightening memories of his World War II days there.

He went to that South Pacific area in what he calls "my young man days." He was 33, as a lieutenant commander in the Navy on a survey mission as personal representative for President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He returns at age 57 as commander-in-chief of American armed forces, as President.

"I've always wanted to go back," Johnson says, recalling the Australians as courageous wartime buddies. He says they "have the pioneer spirit — like Texans." And as an American serviceman, he says, "they made you feel wanted, made you feel liked, made you feel cared for."

Johnson added Thursday at a news conference:

"For me, the trip to Australia, especially, and New Zealand — is somewhat a sentimental journey to places that are vivid in my memories from World War II days. Twenty-four years ago I was there as a very low-ranking set of eyes and ears for another President."

Among his experiences in the South Pacific in the spring of 1942 was a brush with death on a bombing raid. For his part in the mission he earned a Silver Star, personally bestowed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Johnson and two veteran officers with him decided to try to go on a mission from Australia that was to be the first major coordinated air strike against the Japanese at Lae Airdrome in New Guinea.

Over MacArthur's reported objections, Johnson went as an observer aboard the B26 bomber "Heckling Hare."

According to his Silver Star citation, the bombers were intercepted by eight enemy fighter planes. And the "Heckling Hare" developed mechanical trouble and had to turn back, "representing a favorable target to the enemy fighter, but he evidenced marked coolness in spite of the hazard involved.

"His gallant action enabled him to obtain and return with valuable information."

6th Grade Choir Sings At Central

Mrs. Patsy Elliot's sixth grade choir sang a special arrangement of "America" in their musical performance for the Central Elementary PTA on Oct. 10 in the auditorium. Boy Scout Troup No. 1 presented the colors.

Pictures will be taken of the students at Central next Monday morning, Oct. 17, according to the vice president, Mrs. Jean McCormick.

Mrs. Keith Collier, social chairman, served refreshments as members arrived for the regular meeting. The centerpiece featured a harvest arrangement.

Mrs. Pat Whittenberg announced that Mrs. Preston Wilson will serve as the special committee chairman for the annual Hallowe'en Carnival to be sponsored by the Central PTA on Saturday evening, Oct. 29.

All mothers as well as the home room mothers are asked to work with the various projects in each grade.

Mrs. Martha Floyd was appointed chairman for the poster contest and an award will be presented to the room that creates the best poster about the Hallowe'en Carnival.

Mrs. Hazel Buswell, of the teacher representatives on the executive council, and Mrs. Whittenberg were elected delegates to the state convention in Austin to be held in Nov. Mrs. McCormick is alternate.

Mrs. Delia McPherson was given a belated award for her first grade room's hundred percent membership when Mrs. C. D. Cotton, membership chairman presented the attendance cups to Mrs. Pearl Walker's and Mrs. Edwin Phy's rooms.

Mrs. Wade Davis announced that the homemaking girls from Travis Junior High will serve refreshments to the younger children in room one during the afternoon meetings this year. She also reminded the group of the chicken supper to be held Friday by the Humble Smith School.

Mrs. Forrest Beavers, publications chairman, urged that everyone become acquainted with the study outlines in the organization's current program.

National Parks Topic For Altrurian Meeting

"Today and Tomorrow" in Our National Parks" was program theme of Altrurian Club when they met Friday afternoon at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with 15 members and one guest, Mrs. S. G. Philp, attending.

Mrs. R. L. Gray and Mrs. Minnie George presented the program and began by noting the farsightedness of two men in the year 1912, Franklin K. Lane, soon to be appointed Secretary of Interior by President Woodrow Wilson, and Gilbert H. Grosvenor, editor of the National Geographic and a stalwart conservationist.

Combining their efforts these two men and a group of farsighted men in Congress, in government, and in private life set to work and drafted the National Park Service Act of 1916, the key to safeguarding the national wonders. National parks have grown from 11 at that time to 32 together with a vast system of national historical parks, monuments, memorials, scenic riverways, seashores, parkways and the national recreation areas. Without the National Park Service many of the irreplaceable treasurers would have been lost long ago to the chain saw, the shovel and bulldozer. The program was presented in an informal manner with participation by all members.

Mrs. Dolen, president, presided during the business meeting at which time the club voted to send a contribution to the Mesquite District Scholarship Fund.

Report of the State Board meeting in Austin Oct. 3-4-5-was given by Mrs. Dewey Odom, Mrs. J. W. Leftwich and Mrs. Dolen.

Mrs. Dolen urged all members to attend the District workshop at Stamford Oct. 15.

A program on Fine Arts will be presented by Mrs. Edith McKanna at the Oct. 21 meeting of Altrurian.

Grabbers Got Yazoo

YAZOO — Law and Politics in the New Republic. By C. Peter Magrath.

Land speculation, with varying degrees of honesty, has been an American pastime since the early days of the republic.

In 1795 a few of the boys got together, formed land companies, bribed the Georgia legislature wholesale, and got millions of acres of the state's western territory — the Yazoo lands — at a bargain price.

A few years later, goaded by reformers (or, possibly, the merely envious) the legislature rescinded the grant and ceded the area to the federal government. For the next decade, the bereft landowners fought tenaciously for compensation, which they eventually got.

But not before Yazoo became a warm political issue in the Jefferson administration and the Supreme Court, under Chief Justice Marshall, handed down a landmark decision in Fletcher v. Peck. This held that the original sale, no matter how clouded, was a contract which the state had no right to abrogate.

Magrath's readable monograph deals with Yazoo in all these (and other) ramifications. While the volume is perhaps more for the specialist than the general reader, the latter will find it an interesting sidelight on American history.

Batter Up For Fall

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

THE FRENCH call them beignets. Americans call them fritters — those small pieces of meat, poultry, fish, vegetables or fruit dipped into a batter and deep-fat fried. French cooks use a flour batter; American cooks have created their own classic variation by adding cornmeal.

These vegetable fritters are encased in just such a batter, and they come out of the frying kettle crisp, crunchy and delicious. Of course the deep-fat frying takes time. If you're new at this task, you may want to test your mettle by cutting his recipe in half the first time around.

VEGETABLE CORNMEAL FRITTERS

1 medium (abut 1 pound) eggplant.
3 medium (about 1 pound) firm green tomatoes
1 small head (about 1 pound) cauliflower
1 cup unsifted regular flour (stir well to aerate before measuring)
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon white pepper
1½ teaspoons onion powder
2 cups enriched white cornmeal
2 eggs
2 cups milk
Hot shortening for deep-fat frying.
Cheese Sauce, if desired

Pare eggplant; cut into strips about 3 inches long and ½ inch wide. Slice tomatoes medium-thick. Separate cauliflower into small flowerets.

In a medium mixing bowl thoroughly stir together the flour, salt, pepper and onion powder. Stir in the cornmeal. Add the eggs and milk; beat until smooth.

Dip vegetables into batter and fry a few at a time in hot deep fat (375 degrees) turning as necessary, until golden brown — this will take only a few minutes for each batch; do not crowd frying kettle or temperature of fat will be reduced. Drain on brown paper or on several thicknesses of paper toweling. Keep batter - fried vegetables warm in a shallow pan in a low oven until all are fried. Serve as a main course for lunch with Cheese Sauce, or as an appetizer without the Sauce. Makes 6 servings as a luncheon course or 12 servings as an appetizer.

CHEESE SAUCE

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne pepper
2 cups milk
½ cup (⅛ pound) graded sharp cheddar cheese

In a 1-quart saucepan over low heat, melt the butter; stir in the flour, salt and cayenne. Add the milk; cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly. Off heat, stir in the cheese until melted. Cover and reheat gently (do not boil) at serving time. Or, make the sauce in the top part of a double boiler over direct heat and then keep hot, covered, over hot (not boiling) water.

RECIPE NOTES

1. Pare the eggplant only a few minutes before it is to be used, so it won't turn brown.

2. Use small sharp knife to separate the cauliflower into flowerets — they should be quite small.

3. It's a good idea to stir the cornmeal batter each time before dipping the vegetables into it. Toward the end of the frying time, the batter will be quite thick and you may thin it with a little milk.

4. Use your kitchen tongs for manipulating the vegetables in and out of the batter and the frying kettle.

5. When small bits of batter accumulate in the frying kettle, scoop them out with a slotted spoon.

6. If the vegetable fritters are served as an appetizer snack, you may want to sprinkle them lightly with salt when they come out of the kettle.

7. Canned cheddar cheese soup may be used as an accompaniment for the fritters when they are served as a main course; the soup may also be used as a dip when they are served as a snack. Follow the directions on the can for turning the soup into a sauce.

Asparagus Divan

1 package (10 ounces) frozen asparagus spears
1½ tablespoons each butter (or margarine) and flour
1 cup milk
Salt and white pepper to taste
3 servings sliced cooked chicken (white meat)
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
Paprika

Cook the asparagus according to package directions; drain, cover and keep warm. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour and milk, adding salt and pepper. Arrange the asparagus in a deep 8 - inch glass pie plate; cover with chicken. Pour sauce over chicken; sprinkle with Parmesan and paprika. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until bubbly — about 20 minutes.

The Novels Of Mexico

MEXICO IN ITS NOVEL, by John S. Brushwood (The University of Texas Press, $6)

A friend who is multi-lingual contends that there is no language as beautiful as the Spanish. A novel of course, can contain beautiful language and still be a terrible book. Or the language can enhance it.

This seems to be the viewpoint at which John S. Brushwood finally arrived after studying for 20 years and then writing "Mexico in Its Novel" just published by the University of Texas Press.

It is a book of literary criticism and thus largely of interest to scholars.

Brushwood finds that Mexico's novels from colonial times to now, although following the format of Continental novels, were preoccupied with Mexico's constant striving for social revolution, something which has not reached its climax by any means. Only now is a world outlook peeping through.

Brushwood is professor of Spanish at the University of Missouri,

YOU HAVE TO UNDERSTAND THOSE THINGS!

Many States To Decide On Constitutional Amendments

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A question asked often since enactment of the draft law is: If a young man of 18 can be required to fight and maybe die for his country, shouldn't he also be allowed to vote?

Michigan voters give their answer in the Nov. 8 elections, voting on a proposed constitutional amendment to lower the voting age in that state from 21 to 18.

Only four states now have a minimum voting age below 21. In Georgia and Kentucky it is 18, in Alaska 19 and in Hawaii 20.

The proposed Michigan amendment is one of several hundred questions to go before voters in various states in November, either as constitutional amendments or referenda. Nearly all states have one or more issues on the ballot.

Also in the field of voting laws are questions arising from the increasingly mobile nature of the United States population.

One result of this shifting about is that on election day, thousands are unable either to vote in the state they left or to meet the residence requirements of the state they have moved into.

Florida will vote on a proposal to amend its one-year residence requirement to allow otherwise qualified persons who have moved into the state to vote in national but not in state and local elections. The state reports its population increased by 2,000 persons a week last year.

North Dakota has up for decision a proposal to let new residents vote for president and vice president.

In Washington, one of a number of constitutional amendments to be passed on would permit otherwise qualified citizens to vote for president if they have lived in the state at least 60 days. The residence requirement now is one year.

Wisconsin has this referendum question: Shall the residence requirement for voting be reduced from one year to six months?

In Texas, a proposed constitutional amendment to be passed on by the electorate would allow members of the Armed Forces to vote in Texas upon satisfying the residence requirements applicable to Texans in general.

This would bring the Texas provision in line with a 1965 Supreme Court ruling that members of the armed services who had become bona fide residents of Texas must be enfranchised. The prior Texas practice limited voting by members of the armed services to those who had entered the service from Texas.

Junior Editors Quiz on CALORIES

QUESTION: What is a calorie and how is it measured?

ANSWER: Calorie comes from the Latin calor, heat. It is a term used to measure an amount of heat. Used in chemistry, it means the amount of heat energy needed to raise the temperature of one gram of water by one degree centigrade. (Centigrade is a different scale of temperature from the one used in household thermometers, which is Fahrenheit.) Calories used in this way are called small calories.

The most familiar meaning of the word calorie refers to a unit of measuring heat energy in food. This is the large calorie, the approximate amount of heat needed to raise the temperature of one pound of water four degrees Fahrenheit. It is said that about 100 such calories would give a person the energy to climb a hill about 1,640 feet high. This energy comes from certain foods such as carbohydrates and fats which act as fuel in the human body. The heat is produced by the union of the food with oxygen. A list of the foods supplying this heat energy would include cornstarch, sugar, flour, butter, margarine, lard and various oils.

FOR YOU TO DO: Use some of your calories to take a good long walk — but don't try climbing rock faces like the trained mountaineers in our picture. 10-14

(Thomas Rouleau of Beverly, Mass., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper.)

Petula Makes Echoes In The Bank

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It is hard to figure whether Petula Clark was born—or minted.

Every time the teentsy-weentsy strawberry blonde British singer lifts her voice in song she makes echoes in the bank.

She sang first at the age of 7, and a quarter of a century later she has become a one-woman international hit parade. She has sold 25 million records throughout the world, more than any other woman vocalist in history.

"I'd really rather not think about it—it makes me sound like a factory or a sausage machine," said Petula.

"I'm very much interested in the artistic side of music, and leave the rest to others."

Wearying of being called "the English Shirley Temple," Miss Clark moved to France and became an instant success there. A multilinguist, she has had top-selling records in Denmark, Germany, Switzerland Holland and Italy. During her present three-month night club tour in this country, she also will be featured on variety programs over the three major U.S. television networks.

Petula is pretty, petite and perturbed, but not at all petulant, prissy, or pontifical. She is perturbed by her size. She has big, big voice but she is only 5 feet 2 and weighs only 108. And although she is the mother of two daughters, even in a mink wrap she still looks like a little girl who has lost her teddy bear.

"I have a complex about being so small," she admitted. "I have a feeling that when people meet me, they are disappointed. Because I have a big voice, they expect me to be a big person."

Her husband-manager is Claud Wolff, a French recording executive.

Petula isn't sure just how she should be classified musically.

"My mother was Welsh, and all the Welsh are natural singers. She never had a lesson, but she taught me.

"I don't think of myself as a rock 'n' roll singer. I have a rocking mezzo-soprano voice, I suppose, if there is any way to describe it at all.

"I like to sing modern-popular music. But Barbra Streisand is a pop singer, too, and we're not at all alike.

"Trying to put people in little boxes is rather dangerous."

Despite her experience, Petula suffers from "spotlight terror" before each performance, but feels "this nervousness is necessary to me — as a king of stimulant.

"I am more me on stage sometimes than in real life. It is a marvelous kind of therapy."

Dwight Eisenhower Marks 76th Birthday

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower celebrated his 76th birthday today quietly on his farm, located near the site of the historic Civil War battlefield.

Indications were he planned to spend part of the day, as usual, at his office at the Gettysburg College campus.

Helping him celebrate will be his wife of 50 years, Mamie, some of his staff and his immediate family.

The Japanese celebrate an annual "National Photography Day." Individual and group honors are heaped on those who have advanced the art of taking pictures during the year.

Bengals Host Lobos In 2nd District Match

The Levelland Loboes take their share of the District 3-AAA football lead to Snyder Friday night and put it on the line against the Tigers. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p. m. in Tiger Stadium.

It will be the second district tussle for for both teams. Coach Harold Barrett's Lobos opened on a happy note last week with a convincing 14 - 0 verdict over Sweetwater while Snyder dropped its initial league test, 41 - 6 to powerful Lamesa.

Levelland was favored to win the district last season and finished way down the ladder with an overall 3-6-1 record. A 13 - 12 Snyder upset last year was partly responsible for the tarnished Lobo record last year, and you can bet Barrett would like to even the score.

Overall, Snyder holds an 8-7 edge over the Lobos in a series that dates back uninterruptedly to 1951. The Bengals were pre-season choices to contend Lamesa for the crown, and Levelland was relegated to a cellar role.

However, the Lobos have as many lettermen returning as the Bengals and sport a better record for the year. Levelland is 2-2-1 in 1966 while the Tigers are 2-3.

Levelland probably will come out passing against the Tigers. In senior quarterback Jerry Pinner and another newcomer, Merced Puente, the Loboes have one of the deadliest passing combinations in the district. Both are ranked among the top 20 in the state in passing and receiving respectively.

Pinner also has other capable receivers, including letterman end Ronnie Fite and veteran backs Mike Stephens, Mike Pynes and Gaylan Seagler. Stephens is one of the better power runners in the loop, and the Loboes also have experience in the line.

Returning numeral winners in the line, besides Fikes, are tackles James Holland (171), Dale Williamson (175), guard Doug Russell (170), and centers Jack McCutchin (166) and Mike Hart (154).

With more experience in the line, better passing, and as much backfield know-how, the Lobos should be considered slight favorites.

But Snyder has returned home from an unsuccessful road trip and would like to win for a change--especially before the home fans.

Given their share of breaks, the Bengals should win a high-scoring match.

Snyder Coach Keith Miles has made a few changes looking for the right combination. Mitch Rambin, a fine running back, was promoted from the "B" team to add depth to the attack.

Lonnie Gilstrap, defensive halfback may get a shot at the wingback spot on offense, and Mickey Almond, substitute quarterback, may be employed as a safety on defense.

Probable starters:

Offense) — Ends, Frankie Grimmett and Mike Flynn or Bobby Clardy; tackles, Tim Mebane and Ronnie Shields; guards, Larry Wadzeck and Dennis Harmon; center, David Wilson; quarterback, Murry Bowden; wingback, Lonnie Gilstrap; fullback, Mario Tavarez; and, tailback, Curtis Clay.

(Defense) — End, O. L. Cooper; tackles, Frankie Grimmett and Tim Mebane; guards, Joe Breeden and Craig Bell; monster, Rob Golden; linebackers Curtis Clay and Murry Bowden; halfbacks, Lonnie Gilstrap and Max Boydstun; and, safety, Mickey Almond.

A SWITCH — A change in plans finds Mickey Almond (left), substitute Snyder High School quarterback, opening at safety on defense against the Levelland Lobos. Lonnie Gilstrap, a regular defensive halfback, is slated for action as an offensive wingback. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

Travis 8th Holds Off Goliad, 8-8

Travis 8th grade put on a magnificent goal line stand in the fourth quarter at Junior High stadium Thursday night to preserve an 8-8 standoff with Goliad Junior High of Big Spring.

Late in the fourth quarter, Goliad marched from its 33 to within the Blue Devil five. But the aroused Travis defenders were equal to the ocasion. They hit the Goliad fullback so hard he fumbled. Travis took over and ran out the clock.

The Blue Devils had put on a great rally in the second half to catch Goliad, moving 82 yards in 13 plays following the kickoff. Johnny Matta took a pitchout and went 24 yards around right end for the payoff, and Loyd Pinkerton rumbled over left tackle for the tying points. The touchdown play was the first one of the fourth quarter as Travis maintained possession through the third frame with superb ball control.

Goliad tallied on a 60 yard run over right tackle by Vasquez, and Parkinson added the bonus points with a short scamper over the middle.

Matta, Stewart Sims and Pinkerton looked like "gang - busters" for Travis on offense as they took turns lugging the leather in the 82-yard touchdown drive.

Sims, Parmer and York were outstanding on defense for the Blue Devils.

Travis, Goliad 9ths Tie, 20-20, In Grid Thriller

A whirling Dervish posing as a 9th grade Goliad football player struck for a quick touchdown on an 85-yard run in the final 69 seconds of play on the Junior High turf here Thursday night as the visitors gained a 20-20 tie with a determined Travis 9th grade crew. Tommy Ryan was the name used by the imposter.

Travis held the Dervish motionless long enough for the official to blow his whistle on a fullback try for bonus points. Goliad had lost its chance for victory after making a sensational comeback.

Ryan's run came on a kickoff return following a Travis touchdown that put the Blue Devils ahead with 1:09 showing on the clock. Trailing 12 - 14, Travis thrust 50 yards in 4 plays to take an 18 - 14 lead. The payoff was a 1-yard leap over left guard by Ricky Glasscock. Merce Hernandez then romped around left end to make it 20 - 14.

The late Travis tally was set up by a 27 - yard completion from Jim Patrick to Wesley Bishop and an interference call that placed the ball at the one. A Goliad defender tripped one of the Blue Devil receivers in the end zone to prevent a certain touchdown. As things turned out, it only delayed it.

Following Ryan's TD on the kickoff return, Travis reached mid-field on a pass from Patrick to Hernandez, but an interception ended Travis' last hope for victory.

It was a wild fourth quarter. Trailing 12 - 6, Goliad drove 78 yards in 19 plays in the final two frames with the goal crossing coming in the fourth quarter on a one-yard plunge by Ryan. He also jumped over left guard to put the Big Springers ahead, 14 - 12.

There was no scoring in the third quarter, but Ryan put his mates back in the game in the second quarter with a 40 - yard pass and run play after the Blue Devils had jumped ahead, 12 - 0, in the first quarter. With less than two minutes remaining in the first half, Ryan went down and to his left, then cut back over the center. He took the pass at the 20, lost the safety with a great fake, then scrambled on over. The run for points was stopped.

It was all Travis in the first quarter. The Blue Devils struck 41 yards in 5 plays after recovering a Goliad fumble. Quarterback Mark Gilstrap rolled out left from the 12 and sailed on across after Glasscock had gained 28 yards in three runs. The visitors stopped the run for points as Travis took a 6-0 lead.

The right side of the Travis line did some fine blocking springing Glasscock loose on the runs that set up the TD. and the Blue Devil back made the most of his opportunities.

Hernandez set up the second TD a few minutes later with a splendid 57-yard broken field run. He made some great moves on this run. Gilstrap added one, then Glasscock scooted through left guard for the touchdown. Hernandez tried to pick up the conversion points on a pitch out to the left, but the defenders were waiting for him.

Goliad's Basco returned the ensuing kickoff 92 yards across the doublestripes, but a clipping penalty nullified the maneuver.

This game had everything. For sheer thrills, it couldn't be beat — just like the two participants.

Lamar Ninth Fights Big Edison To Wire

SAN ANGELO — Lamar Junior High's 9th grade Texans, pushed around in the first half by San Angelo Edison's Crimson Tide, came back in the second half to dominate the game, but saw victory escape by the margin of conversion points Thursday night, as Edison preserved a 22-20 triump.

Down 6-22 at intermission time, the Texans roared back to score twice in the third period and then the Crimson Tide held them off inside the 10 yard line on two occasions late in the fourth period.

Edison took the opening kickoff and moved quickly to a touchdown. Scott Wiginton got the 6-pointer on a 33-yard run. Quarterback Gary Lacy got the two extra points and the Tide led, 8-0. Early in the second period, Edison was knocking at the door again and Arthur Ornelas finally got the touchdown on a 2-yard plunge. The conversion attempt failed.

Lamar then cranked up its offense and moved 62 yards for a touchdown, with runs by Lynn Wilson, Randy Levens, Billy Bowden and Alex Tavarez eating up most of the yardage. The touchdown came on a pass from Lee McNair to Phil Ator which covered the last three yards. The try for points fell short.

With less than two minutes until half - time, the Crimson Tide struck with a 42 - yard touchdown pass from Lacy to Wiginton. The 195 - pound Edison fullback plucked the ball out of the air on the 18 yard line and galloped across the goal line. Lacy again ran for the extra points and Edison had its 22-6 half-time lead.

In the third period, Lamar quickly set out to close the gap, moving 55 yards for a touchdown on its first possession. Larry Greene scored the 6 points on a 13-yard pass from McNair, who then ran over for the extra points.

A few moments later, McNair recovered an Edison fumble on the Edison 47 yard line and in three plays the Texans had another touchdown. It was Greene again, this time on the receiving end of a 37-yard pass from McNair. The try for extra points failed, leaving Edison with its 22-20 advantage.

Most of the fourth period was a defensive battle, but Lamar got two chances to pull ahead when Howard Shifflett and Randy Levens each recovered a fumble deep in Edison territory. The Tide halted the Texan ground attack inside the 10 and a fourth down pass for a first down was nullified by a penalty to halt one surge and an intercepted pass in the end zone stopped Lamar again.

Tulsa Hosts North Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Surprising North Texas puts its perfect record on the line against Tulsa's defending Missouri Valley football champions Saturday at Tulsa. The winner probably will go on to the Valley championship.

Tulsa has lost only to Arkansas in three games and ranks No. 1 nationally in pass offense. North Texas' Vidal Carlin is tied for third place nationally in passing and the team ranks among the leaders.

The two clubs are likely to match pass for pass and it could go down to the wire in 40,235-seat Skelly Stadium.

Other Valley teams will play outside foes Saturday night.

Louisville, playing at home, rates at least an even choice against Drake, another passing club. Wichita will be the underdog at New Mexico State. Cincinnati is rated a couple of notches below Tulane, 3-1, at New Orleans.

North Texas Coach Odus Mitchell, in his 21st and final season at Denton, built a vastly improved defense in just one season witth big, strong transfers and sophomores. The Eagle line and secondary can handle itself in any company. The Carlin-to-John Love pass combination is among the best.

Tulsa, however, appears to have an edge in depth. Coach Glenn Dobbs has two good passers at quarterback in his son Glenn Dobbs III, and Greg Barton, plus a bevy of excellent pass receivers. The Tulsa defense, too, is loaded with good athletes. It was outstanding at Colorado State.

New Mexico State, 4-1, is led by tailback Jim Bohl, the nation's leading rusher with 618 yards Wichita may be in for a long night.

Cincy looked improved against Xavier last week, although the score of 13-25 didn't show it.

Astros Swap Three Minors

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Astros reported today the trade of three minor league players for three men from the Atlanta Braves organization.

The Houston Club traded away catcher John Hoffman and infielder Ed Pachecol, both of Amarillo in the Texas League last season, and outfielder Gene Ratliff, who played with Salisbury in the Western Carolinas League this year.

In return, they got infielder Lee Bales and left-hand pitcher Dan Schneider, both on the Braves team the last month of the past season, and Tom Dukes, a right-hand pitcher.

Bales and Schneider will be on the Astros' major league roster and Dukes will go to Oklahoma City of the Pacific Coast League.

Aerial Tilt At Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — The footballs are expected to fly here Saturday night when a couple of teams relaxed and carefree from defeats — Texas Tech and Florida State — hook up in an intersectional football game.

If the boys go according to their previous performances this season, more than 60 passes will be thrown, since Florida State has averaged 37 per game and Tech more than 24.

Co-ringmasters of the Seminoles are Gary Pajcic and Kim Hammond, who between them have thrown 108 and completed 51 for 618 yards.

The bomber for Texas Tech is John Scovell, who has attemped 104 and connected on 48 for 581 yards.

Both teams have high-powered offenses. Florida State has rolled up a 329 yards average total offense in three games. Texas Tech shows 272.8.

Records of the two teams are not impressive, Tech having lost three out of four and Florida State two of three. Florida State's losses have been close, 21-12 to Houston and 22-19 to Florida. Tech beat Kansas 23-7 and dropped to Texas 31-21, to Texas A&M 35-14 and to Texas Christian 6-3.

Florida State is a mild favorite but the records show Texas Tech hasn't lost an intersectional game since 1962. The Red Raiders have taken 11 straight.

Football coach Jess Neely is in his 27th and final season at Rice.

Ted Williams Is Divorced

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Ted Williams Hall of Fame baseball star who made $100,000 a year before retirement from the Boston Red Sox in 1960, has been divorced by his wife Lee, a former model.

Williams, 48, did not contest the decision, handed down in Dade County Circuit Court Thursday. He waited throughout the hearing in his lawyer's office.

Cowboys, Cards In NFL Showdown

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The fired-up Dallas Cowboys, with quarterback Don Meredith stoking their air-minded offense, challenge St. Louis for the National Football League's Eastern Conference lead Sunday in a battle of unbeatens.

In the American League, the Houston's Oilers attempt a last-ditch stand, hoping to prevent a New York runaway in the Eastern Division race, when they host the streaking Jets.

The Cowboys would seem to have a better chance at succeeding than their neighbors from Houston. Dallas (4-0) is a four-point choice over the Cards (5-0) while the Oilers, who lost to the Jets 52-13 in their first meeting, are 4½-point underdogs against New York.

Meredith runs the NFL's most explosive offense. The Cowboys lead the league with 183 points in four games — an average of 45.8 per game. They have scored 10 of their 25 touchdowns from farther than 20 yards out.

Mercurial Bob Hayes and Dan Reeves, the NFL's leading scorer with 48 points, are Meredith's favorite targets and the veteran quarterback has pitched for 14 touchdowns, tops in the league.

The Cardinals, who have won five straight, have rallied after half time in four of their victories. Billy Gambrell has been quarterback Charley Johnson's top receiver lately with four touchdowns in the last three games. But Sonny Randle and Bobby Joe Conrad are just as dangerous.

The Oilers (2-3) must depend on veteran quarterback George Blanda to pull them out of a three-game tailspin. But New York's front four of Verlon Biggs, Jim Harris, Paul Rochester and Gerry Philbin gave Blanda fits the last time these two teams played.

Blanda and Kansas City's Len Dawson lead the AFL with 13 touchdown passes, four more than New York's Joe Namath. But the high-priced Jet pitcher hurled five of his TDs against the Oilers in that first game.

New York is 4-0-1 and already holds a hefty edge over Boston (2-2-1), Buffalo (3-3) and Houston in the Eastern race. Miami is 0-5. Another Jet victory could make the lead too much for the others to overcome.

Elsewhere in the AFL Sunday, Oakland plays at Kansas City, San Diego visits Buffalo and Denver is at Miami.

In the National League, Detroit takes on Baltimore, Green Bay visits Chicago, Los Angeles is at Minnesota, Philadelphia plays at Pittsburgh, San Francisco visits Atlanta and Washington is at New York.

Kansas City, at 4-1, is tied with San Diego for the AFL's Western Division lead.

Lee JV Wins, 50-8

MIDLAND — The Lee Rebel "B" team blasted Snyder's "B" team, 50 -8, here Thursday night with a smooth aerial attack.

Lee struck from far out for all of its touchdowns, scoring two of them on passes that spanned over 50 yards distance.

Snyder made a game of it in the second half and actually outscored the hosts, 8 - 7. The young Tabbies drove 58 yards in five plays with David McGinnis hitting Jerry January on an 11-yard TD pass. Big play in the drive was a 40-yarder, Joe Greer to Charlie Johnson, on a reverse play. Joe Greer added the extra points for Snyder on a run.

Tom McDorman, who was moved from guard to halfback, did a good job in his new role.

Michigan Gunning For Rose Bowl Trip

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

For Michigan, the football season does not begin until Saturday, but if the late start is successful, it could mean the Wolverines will be playing in January — in the Rose Bowl.

Michigan actually has played four games, losing two, including a 20-7 defeat by Michigan State, but the Wolverines hopes for a bowl bid are tied to their clash Saturday with Purdue, another bowl hopeful.

"As far as the team's concerned," says quarterback Dick Vidmer "this year's season begins Saturday."

"We're still in this thing to go to the Rose Bowl," said linebacker Frank Nunley. "If we beat Purdue, we think Michigan State can beat them too. We have to win all the rest, though."

Michigan and Purdue are the most serious of the Rose Bowl contenders, although Michigan State, ranked No. 1 in the country, is the pick to grab the conference championship. But the Spartans went to the bowl last year and are ineligible this season.

Purdue, No. 9, is 1-0 in the conference and Michigan 0-1 but the Boilermakers must meet the Spartans a week from Saturday.

The meeting is not the only one Saturday that could lead to a bowl bid. Alabama, ranked third and gunning for a third straight national championship, opposes probably its toughest competition in Tennessee, which has eyes on the Tide's Southeast Conference crown.

Ken Stapler, the nation's hottest passer with 25 completions in 32 tries for 348 yards and five touchdowns, will try to crack the Volunteer defense that has allowed only nine points on three field goals. Tennessee also can throw with Dewey Warren, who has completed 47 of 76 passes for 538 yards and five scores.

Arkansas and Texas hold their annual struggle in the Southwest Conference on regional television with Arkansas's back against the wall after a 7-0 loss to Baylor. The Razorbacks need a victory to keep alive hopes for a third straight title.

The rest of the Top Ten teams in action are heavy favorites: Michigan State at Ohio State; Penn State at UCLA, No. 4, at night; Southern California, No. 5, at Stanford; Kansas State at Nebraska, No. 6; Georgia Tech, No. 7, and Auburn at Birmingham, Ala.; and Florida, No. 8, at North Carolina State.

The unbeaten Spartans will be aiming for a fifth straight victory against disappointing Ohio State, 1-2, before 84,000 at Columbus; Notre Dame, No. 2 entertain North Carolina and Southern Cal visits Stanford.

In other regional telecasts, Duke is at Clemson in the East; Northwestern at Wisconsin in the Midwest, and Colorado State at Utah State in the West.

In a game tonight, Georgia, 2-0 in the Southeast Conference, goes out of the league to the Orange Bowl to battle Miami.

Many Workers Remain Exempt

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm workers are being brought under the minimum wage law, courtesy of a new act of Congress. But only a fraction of the nation's farm hands will be affected, thanks to numerous exemptions in the law.

The law is expected to apply to about 1½ per cent of all farms and ranches and to about 390,000 workers, or 12½ per cent of all farm workers.

The farm as well as the individual must meet certain eligibility rules. Generally speaking, only large farm operations are covered.

Exemptions as to coverage are set fourth in the statute President Johnson signed Sept. 23, to become effective next Feb. 1. Backers of the legislation say they would like it to go further; opponents say it places an unfair burden on the farmer as it is.

The new legislation amends the Wage-Hour Act, which heretofore has not been applicable to farm workers. The amendments provide $1.40 an hour minimum for non-farm workers initially, with a boost to $1.60 on Feb. 1, 1968. For farm and ranch workers the minimum is to be $1 an hour in the first year, $1.15 in the second, and $1.30 an hour after the beginning of the third year. There are no overtime provisions for farm workers.

Specifically, the law as it now applies to farm workers provides:

That an employe shall not be covered if he is (1) "the parent, spouse, child, or other member of the employer's family," or (2) if he is hired to work on a piece rate basis, commutes daily from his permanent residence to the farm and has been employed in agricultures less than 13 weeks during the preceding calendar year. This would exempt large numbers of college students and others who work only in summers.

Sheep herders and cowboys are exempt. The exact description of those who qualify under this exemption for those "engaged in the range production of livestock" is yet to be drawn up by the secretary of labor.

An important section of the law which results in exemption of the majority of all regular farm hands provides that it shall not apply to any worker if his employer — the farm where he is hired — did not use more than 500 man-days of agricultural labor during any calendar quarter — three-month period — of the preceding year.

A "man-day" means any day during which an employe performs any agricultural labor for not less than one hour. In determining the 500 man-days, the employer does not have to count the time worked by his wife, children, parent or other exempt individuals.

Congressional committee staffers said that the 500 man-days is roughly the equivalent of hiring seven or eight full time workers.

Escalation Might Bring Price Control

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The "earthly reason" that would make the Johnson administration consider price and wage limitations is a sharp escalation of the war in Viet Nam.

Arthur Okun, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, used the term this week in criticizing the idea of economic controls because of shortages or inflationary pressures caused by war.

The very fact that the topic arose suggests the administration has seriously considered the earthly reasons — and that perhaps all Johnson's aides are not agreed.

Shortly before Okun spoke, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor cautioned that controls could come unless consumers and business "acted sensibly," though he said there were no indications "at this time" that they would be needed.

Controls would serve at least two purposes: They would restrain inflationary pressures at home, and they would assure proper allocation of effort and goods to prosecution of the war.

Controls always exist. Supply and demand is a control. The mere threat of rigid controls is, in itself, a mild control. Persuasion, such as used by the Johnson administration, is another. Wage and price guideposts are controls.

At the far end of the scale are artificial, rigid controls on wages, prices, rents and the use of commodities. And in between are taxes. Not long ago we lowered taxes. Now there is talk of raising them — to control inflation.

It would be difficult to believe that an administration committed to full employment, prosperity and the "Great Society" domestically could permit a dangerously uncontrolled economy, or that it would permit domestic demands to limit the war effort.

In the Korean War we did have rigid controls. But the economy then produced only $265 billion worth of goods and services a year. Our productive power, our Gross National Product is now more than $700 billion.

At the peak of the Korean War, the United States devoted about 13.5 per cent of its Gross National Product to defense. The figure now is about 8 per cent.

Some shortages have begun to show in the economy, Connor told the American Ordnance Association. He said "some disruptions in the civilian economy" may become worse in the months ahead.

The Office of Emergency Planning, of course, has a blueprint for action in the event of a serious threat to national security. And it does, of course, include the use of rigid economic controls.

Such rigid restraints may be a long way off. And they may never come. Their use is distasteful politically and economically. And, as Okun said, they have defects, including red tape, poor planning, inept administration.

The chances are with Okun that we will not need them. But the possibilities are with Connor — that rigid controls could be used.

Sister Takes Episcopal Teaching Job

LITCHFIELD Ariz. (AP) — Sister Elizabeth Ann Mahoney in a move of ecumenical significance, has laid aside her Roman Catholic religious garb and is teaching at St. Peter's Episcopal Church school here.

Her decision has the approval of Catholic and Episcopal Church officials. It was suggested by her Mother Superior of the Sisters of Charity at Seton Hill College, Greensburg, Pa., after she had read of the Episcopal school and that it features a modified Montessori system of teaching.

Sister Elizabeth, suffering from arthritis, had asked for a one-year leave, was delighted by the chance to go to Arizona.

"I believe this is the beginning of a move in which many sisters may help in Lutheran, Methodist and Episcopalian schools which are without a woman to set the pace for the spiritual life of the school," she said.

Sister Elizabeth earned a bachelor's degree in education from Duquense University and a master's from Xavier University. She completed an academic year at the International Montessori School in Washington, and taught for several years in the Pittsburgh diocese.

The other Sisters of Charity at Greensburg made a new wardrobe for Sister Elizabeth consisting of a blue suit, several white blouses, skirts in black and colors, a tiny white headband, and black utility pumps.

Her pupils range in age from 2½ to 7 years. The other teachers say Sister Elizabeth already is a hit with the youngsters.

Said one boy the other day: "You are the most beautifulest sister. I want my mommy to get clothes like yours."

"He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth." Psalm 46:9.

Seldom does anyone near or far
Admit to himself he likes a war.
Even Adolph Hitler used to say
He hated war in a special way.
Wisdom not hatred can make war cease.
Forget us not now, oh Prince of Peace!

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers arrived early today to make arrangements for President Johnson's visit Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

War Leaves Viet Town Untouched

By ROBERT D. OHMAN

QUI HOA, South Viet Nam (AP) — It is a story-book village. Immaculate cottages made of multicolored tiles, sparkling like rock candy, line palm-shaded streets.

This is Qui Hoa, a village of 900 beside the China Sea 265 miles northeast of Saigon.

The war that has raged through Viet Nam 20 years has left Qui Hoa completely untouched — perhaps because the Viet Cong consider the inhabitants untouchables.

They are all lepers.

At an outpost overlooking the valley where the Qui Hoa leprosarium is located, three soldiers of Korea's Tiger Division check all vehicles. Once through the checkpoint, the war falls behind.

A smiling Vietnamese patient opens the gate into the leprosarium and then pedals away on his bicycle to find one of the 11 Franciscan sisters who run Qui Hoa.

The leprosarium was founded in 1929 by a French missionary of the Roman Catholic Church, the Rev. Paul Maheu. Three years later, sisters of the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary arrived to continue the work.

When Mother Superior Marie Charles Antoine came to Qui Hoa in 1955, the leprosarium consisted of a chapel, a few huts and a small hospital. There are now 250 modern cottages — built by the patients, costing about $500 each — a beautiful chapel, modern hospital, outdoor theater and various shops. The Mother Superior designed the buildings "because we could never afford an architect," one sister said.

Nine of the sisters, who are French, Vietnamese and English, work in the hospital-dispensary. A doctor from the Vietnamese military hospital in Qui Nhon is available at any hour.

American troops arrived in Qui Nhon more than a year ago and their presence has had an impact on nearby Qui Hoa. Their donations have provided building materials for 15 cottages, each marked with a tile plaque. An example:

"In memory of Lt. Joseph D. Pellegrino who died in action May 17, 1966. Fifth Special Forces Group, Airborne."

Rotary Hears Five Youths

Snyder youths who attended Boys State gave their impressions of the American Legion sponsored conference held in Austin last summer, at the Rotary Club meeting held in the Fellowship Hall of the First Mehodist Church Thursday.

Frank Stephenson introduced Rickey Rhodes, Bob Ray, Bill Taylor, Mike Kenner and David Faulks, the five youths who attended Boys State.

President of the club Don Browning, introduced as guests, Jack Hardin with the US Marines, Elmo Weyel and Lyle Deffebach, both of Snyder, J. D. Roberts of Welch and Rickey Hall student Rotarian of the month.

Dr. Robert Clinton led the group in singing and the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

President Browning concluded the meeting by offering tickets to the members for the benefit spaghetti supper to be given by the Scurry County Retarded Children's Association prior to the football game Friday night.

House Leans To Earlier Benefit Hike

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members are showing a strong inclination toward seeking Social Security benefit increases a year earlier than recommended by President Johnson.

In a surprise move Thursday, the House Ways and Means Committee ordered legislation drafted for study today. And both Republicans and Democrats on the committee talked of starting additional benefits to pensioners Jan. 1, 1967.

Johnson's proposal for higher benefits and other added features was suggested for congressional consideration next year — to become effective on Jan. 1, 1968.

One source said the Ways and Means Committee would vote unanimously for an early start if Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., indicated he would favor sending a bill to the House.

Mills made no comment. But the senior Republican member of the committee, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, said he is gratified that the committee has "seen fit immediately to consider legislation to provide increases in Social Security benefits to offset increases in the cost of living before the adjournment of Congress."

One version of the draft legislation, prepared at Byrnes' request, would provide a prompt 8 per cent increase in Social Security benefits. Byrnes said this could be financed without increasing taxes, and Congress could consider Johnson's broader proposals — and any taxes they involved — at leisure next year.

All sides recognized the political pressures surrounding the eleventh-hour consideration of Social Security legislation by a Congress eager to adjourn and get on with campaigning for the Nov. 8 elections.

Blast Kills Five In Montreal Plant

MONTREAL (AP) — A chain of explosions and fires tore apart a chemical plant on Montreal's outskirts Thursday night, and police said at least five men were killed and 10 others injured. Four others were missing.

Ken Molyneaux, personnel director at the Monsanto Canada Ltd. plant where the blast occurred, said the cause of the explosion would not be known for several days and maybe not for weeks.

The explosions, which broke windows more than a mile from the scene in suburban LaSalle, occurred in a group of tanks containing chemicals believed used in the manufacture of plastics. About 30 workers were in the plant at the time.

WHAT a tragic figure this man makes! But he never intended to make this picture. The first mile of this road did not look like this. But a great Teacher in the long ago warned him and us that we must choose the path on which we enter. There is one way that looks hard at the first but it "leads to life, and those who find it are few." So many are attracted to 'the other way' that is easy at first, but it leads to destruction, and those who enter it are many.

How necessary that we older folk shall guide wisely the young feet! Shall I "go to heaven" as the goal of my living? Look at my feet this very moment. Which way are they pointing? "Heaven is being on the way to heaven" and heavenly people are journeying there together now. Will my "last mile" be one of pathetic regrets and of sorrowful steps? Shall I leave grief and sorrow in the hearts of those who love me? Now is the time to answer that question. For "Despair is being on the way to despair." Which way did our feet move yesterday? What is the goal we have set before us this day? Your Church Can Help You.

THE last drink will not destroy us, if we had not taken the first. The 'last mile' of hatred and malice will not come to us if we do not allow unkindness and jealousy and envy to creep along with us through the first miles. The end of the way will not be vulgar and vicious unless we have forsaken the path of decency and of integrity further back. Every one of us is choosing this day the road we shall take. "But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" and do His will. May this be our resolve today.
