21st county fair now open to public

With the Scurry County Fair now open, fairgoers can expect the annual flower show exhibits, a herd dog demonstration and a chicken flying contest Thursday afternoon and night.

These will then be a warmup for two full days of fair activity Friday and Saturday in the Scurry County Coliseum and its adjacent ag annex.

With the fair in full swing, the only entries still expected will be the junior livestock division--to be accepted from 8 until 10 a.m. Friday--and the baked goods category.

Junior livestock competition will include steers, lambs and heifers with judging to take place Saturday morning.

Baked goods will be accepted at the coliseum from 5 until 9 p.m. Friday with judging slated Saturday morning also.

For individuals more interested in "seeing" than "competing," however, Thursday and Friday will offer a range of attractions.

Thursday, the herd dog demonstration is due at 6 p.m., followed at 7 p.m. by the "Fly or Fry" chicken flying contest.

Beginning at 8 p.m., entertainment will be provided at the coliseum stage area by Ira singer Richard Long and the Prairie Fire Band.

Friday's schedule is equally full with the fair to run non-stop from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. Featured Friday evening in the ag annex will be the annual Mule Show and competition.

This event includes halter and western pleasure plus such events as the bloomer race, ring race, balloon bust and the "parade of jacks."

A pull competition will end the show with animals pulling a weighted sled a distance of 10 ft.

Cash prizes will be offered the winners plus awards for individual mules.

Friday will feature also three performances of Flower the Clown, who will entertain youngsters at the stage area at 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 7 p.m.

At 5 p.m. Friday, a fashion show of fair entries is due at the stage area also.

Ask Us

Q. — I was told that our local law enforcment agencies have access to drug dogs and other personnel to test and educate in our schools for free. Is this true?

A. — Scurry County Sheriff Keith Collier said that drug sniffing dogs "might" be available for use in Snyder on an occasional basis through either the U.S. Air Force or other police agencies in the state. He added these could not be brought here on any type of regular basis.

Pests threaten '86 crop

The 1986 Scurry County cotton crop, in many cases hampered by a late spring planting and a second spell of wet weather at summer's end, is now showing signs of boll worm damage.

County Entomologist Deanna Myers said worms are now being sighted in all areas of the county. The extent of the pest in county fields varies from 15 to 80 percent, she said, adding, "We have some pretty serious stuff out there right now."

The unusually wet and cool conditions are likely at the heart of the boll worm problem, she said.

"We have cotton that is very lush, and this is attracting the moths which lay the eggs. The cotton is also still trying to put on squares."

Myers said farmers should scout their fields now for the cotton-destroying pest.

She recommended that those noting an infestation should consider a spray treatment if they also have cotton bolls large enough to still mature before the first frost.

Regarding the size of bolls, she said any "as big around as a quarter" are likely large enough to still mature and open.

For the lucky farmers, some bolls may be advanced far

TAKING A RIDE — As the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train arrived in Snyder Wednesday afternoon, local woman Paulyn Eaker joined the processional. She is shown seated next to assistant wagon master and stage coach driver Ken Sheffield of Austin. The train, now down to three wagons and a stage coach, is some 1,008 miles into a trek which will end Nov. 30 in Austin. Train members will be camped at the Scurry County Coliseum until Friday morning. (SDN Staff Photo)

Planes attack

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Israeli warplanes attacked a Palestinian refugee camp on the outskirts of the southern port city of Sidon today, police said.

They said they had no immediate reports on casualties or damage.

The air strike on the Mieh Mieh refugee camp followed a pre-dawn advance by Syrian-backed guerrillas into Israel's self-designated security zone in south Lebanon.

The Israeli-supported South Lebanon Army militia said its fighters engaged the Syrian-backed guerrillas and eight SLA militiamen were killed in the clash. The guerrillas reportedly suffered 30 casualties.

The air attacks began at about 3 p.m. (8 a.m. EDT), police said.

Response set

PARIS (AP) — Premier Jacques Chirac today said France's response to a wave of terrorist bombings, including one the previous day that killed five people and injured 52, would be "crushing and without weakness."

Chirac spoke to reporters hours after a bomb exploded outside the Tati clothing and textile store in the Montparnasse quarter of the Left Bank. It was the fifth terrorist attack in the French capital in 10 days.

"All those who manipulate the bombers must know that they will not shake the calm, the firmness and the determination of the French," Chirac said.

Bus line operations undergo change here

Eddie and Cathy Williams, owners of ABC Rent-All, are now the new operators for service with TMN&O Bus Lines.

The couple took over the service Monday from Randy and Deborah Rodgers, who operated the business for nearly seven years.

"We thought it would be a good addition to our store," Mrs. Williams said. She added that the pair began business with ABC in January. They added U-Haul rental service two months ago to their location at 1300 25th St.

Currently four buses operate through Snyder. Buses from Abilene to Lubbock leave the city at 8:25 a.m. and 9:45 p.m. daily with buses from Lubbock to Abilene and Dallas/Fort Worth scheduled at 12:15 p.m. and 3:50 a.m.

Mrs. Williams noted that riders can make connections to cities served by TMN&O and other bus companies in Lubbock and Abilene. Persons needing to catch a late bus must purchase tickets during store hours from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., she said.

Indications are the old bus station, located at 2011 25th St., will be sold at a later date.

Exes welcomed...

Homecoming parade today

After a bonfire which kicked it off Wednesday night, 1986 Homecoming activities for Snyder High School moved into a full schedule Thursday with a 5:30 p.m. homecoming parade set.

The parade's route was to go down College Ave. to circle the square. To be featured were the SHS Pride of the West Tiger Band, floats, the homecoming queen nominees and decorated bicycles.

A pep rally at the west side of the courthouse was to end the parade.

Friday, a pep rally is slated in the SHS gym at 2:05 p.m. with the public invited to attend.

The All Sports Booster Club has scheduled a barbecue from 5 unitl 7 p.m. in the SHS cafeteria. The meal, catered through The Shack, will be $6 for adults and $5 for children under 12.

The matchup between SHS and Fort Stockton--the hometown opener for the Tigers to begin at 8 p.m.--will be the featured event Friday.

At halftime, the announcement of this year's homecoming queen will be made.

Candidates this year are Seniors Allison Adams, Kristi Neill and Leslie Light; and Juniors Christi Comer, Kirsten Miller and Ashley Miller.

Following the game, the SHS National Honor Society will sponsor a coffee reception for exes in the high school library.

Also after the game is a dance sponsored by the student council in the student center. Admission is $2 per person and may be purchased at the door.

All students and exes are invited to the dance. It will end at 12:30 a.m.

Theme for this year's homecoming, conducted every two years at SHS, is "The Year of the Tiger," following the traditional Chinese calendar.

Supper set

The Fluvanna Volunteer Fire Department will have an ice cream supper and bake sale Saturday, Sept. 27, at 7:30 p.m. at the community center. Entertainment will be provided.

Leader event

A reception sponsored by its alumni association is planned Thursday for the 18 new members of the county leadership class.

The Leadership Scurry County Alumni Association will sponsor the event beginning at 7 p.m. All former class members are invited.

Hearing resumes briefly

District Attorney Ernie Armstrong and defense attorneys Frank Conard and Peter Sheridan of Sweetwater finished the presentation of evidence in the pre-trial hearing for capital murder defendants Dorsie Lee Johnson Jr. and Amanda Lynn Miles just before noon Wednesday.

Testimony regarding the "voluntariness" of statements given by the defendants started last Wednesday morning, and continued through Thursday night when Judge Gene Dulaney called a recess.

Court reconvened on the matter Wednesday morning with Armstrong finishing his cross examination of defendant Miles and

The Dallas Times Herald has a new owner, and the fellow in the thick of the big-city newspaper race is a West Texas boy that we first met when he was a hired-hand at the weekly newspaper in Clarendon.

Dean Singleton never tried to do anything unless it was first class. He later acquired and operated the Azle News just outside of Fort Worth. It was from Singleton that our group later acquired the Azle News.

We remember a press convention in El Paso some 15 years ago when Singleton boasted that he would soon purchase the defunct Fort Worth Press and become a major competitor in the metroplex market.

Most of us scoffed at the idea and were not surprised when the Fort Worth Press folded a few months later. We scoffed again when Singleton left for Washington to join the Washington Star. Singleton became associate publisher and soon it was Singleton who was having the last laugh.

As president of Media General, Singleton has his hand in a number of Texas newspapers--including his recent acquisition of the Big Spring Herald.

It was Singleton who led his company to purchase the Times Herald from the Times Mirror. Having just taken over, Singleton has pared his staff by 109 persons.

It's always been a newspaper battle in Dallas, and it's going to be interesting to watch in the months to come.

Over the weekend, we read that the Dallas Business Courier is ceasing operations after 73 weeks. It was said that the 25-member staff was shocked by the decision.

Some would-be job seekers were surprised as well. In the paper's final issue, there were two ads seeking applicants for a media sales position.

One ad read, "As a sales professional, you want to work in a company that believes in professionalism of sales, long-term employment and no lid on earnings."

Longtime drugstore is closed

Hall Drug Store, a fixture at 606 East Highway since 1948, officially closed Monday. Customer accounts have been purchased by Robert and Maria Patterson, owners of Snyder Drug.

Opened in 1948 as a partnership between Emory Hall and Elmo Crowder, Crowder-Hall Drug operated until 1950. At that time, Hall purchased Crowder's interest in the enterprise and changed the name to Hall Drug.

Joining his father's firm in 1960, Larry Hall inherited the business after his father's death in 1970. Although he will work part-time for Snyder Drug, Hall noted he sold his store in order to "pursue some other interests."

Oil imports at six year high

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. imports of crude oil and refined products hit the highest level in six years last month because of plunging prices, increased demand and shrinking domestic production, an industry group reports.

Last month, the United States imported an average 6.85 million 42-gallon barrels a day of crude and refined products, 48.8 percent more than the 6.89 million-barrel combined total in August 1985 — and just under the previous high of 6.89 million barrels in June 1980, the American Petroleum Institute said Wednesday.

Refined products include gasoline, kerosene jet fuel and heating oil.

So far this year, total imports have been 21.9 percent more than in the comparable eight-month period of 1985, the Washington-based organization said.

Oil prices had dropped from more than $30 a barrel late last year to levels between $7 and $10 a barrel in early August, as members of the 13-nation Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries opened the floodgates in an effort to secure a "fair share" of the world petroleum market.

At that time, OPEC announced a two-month joint production cutback agreement, Beginnning Sept. 1, aimed at bolstering prices by reducing aggregate output by about 3 million barrels daily to 16.8 million barrels a day.

The market since responded with prices rising to levels between $14 and $16 a barrel.

In its latest report, the API said Americans used 3.2 percent more gasoline in August — or 7.5 million barrels a day — than they did in August 1985.

When other major refined products are included, the demand difference was 3.5 percent last month over the year-ago equivalent.

In the first eight months of 1986, the increased demand for major products totalled 2.2 percent, the report said.

The industry group also said that domestic crude oil production continued to decline in August, to about 8.7 million barrels daily. This was 1.7 percent less than the 8.8 million barrel-a-day output of August 1985.

In the eight-month period, U.S. domestic production averaged nearly 8.9 million barrels daily, down 1.1 percent from the comparable 1985 period, it said.

"Lower prices have greatly reduced the drilling of new wells and the maintenance and servicing of existing ones, with consequent results on crude production," the API report said.

Robertson is waiting for a sign

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Pat Robertson is waiting for a sign from 3 million registered voters to tell him whether to seek the 1988 Republican presidential nomination.

"If by Sept. 17, 1987, one year from today, 3 million registered voters have signed petitions telling me that they will pray — that they will work — that they will give toward my election, then I will run," he told a rally Wednesday night.

The 56-year-old television evangelist said the nation has been under "an assault on our faith and values" and added, "We have taken the Holy Bible from our young and replaced it with the thoughts of Charles Darwin, Karl Marx, Sigmund Freud and John Dewey."

The loudest, most prolonged applause came when Robertson said, "For the sake of our children, we must bring God back to the classrooms of America."

At the end of his talk, Robertson asked ushers to pass out petitions, which said the signers, "who love America and believe in the traditional moral values upon which our Founding Fathers established this nation, hereby urge M.G. "Pat" Robertson to declare his candidacy for the nomination of the Republican Party to the presidency of the United States of America."

The petitions also included a "personal gift form" which allowed for $100 or $200 contributions, payable by check or credit card.

In 1954, India and China agreed on peaceful coexistence and non-aggression against Tibet.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You will be justly compensated today in proportion to the efforts you expend. If you're performing work for another, don't expect a week's salary for a day's labor.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You can make a good time for yourself today, but you can't buy one. Just because a certain activity is expensive is no assurance that it'll be enjoyable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You have a low kindling point today and things that normally don't disturb you could fan the flames of anger. Laugh them off as you usually do.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) When dealing with others today, you could read more into their actions than they intend. Instead of looking for hidden meanings, take people at face value.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your companions will have a strong influence over your spending patterns today. If you pal around with high rollers, you could blow more than you should.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't take anything for granted in important career matters today. The opposition could develop into something stiffer than you anticipate.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Conditions look fruitful for you today where your finances are concerned, but there's a possibility something unpleasant could ensue with an associate.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try not to make mountains out of molehills today. You may be a trifle too sensitive with pals and treat minor infractions too seriously.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You can advance a personal ambition today, provided you act free from the restraining influences of others. Be your own person.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Allocate your time wisely today so that you will be able to participate in pleasurable pursuits without ignoring your responsibilities.

Dear Abby

Five Minutes in Closed Car Is Matter of Life and Death

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Recently a mailman approached my car, concerned for my infant son who had been left alone in his car seat. I had parked my car in a shaded spot and was within six feet of it, maintaining visual contact while I was on the phone getting directions to my doctor's office. I saw this mailman starting to open my car door when I yelled at him! That's when he told me never to leave a child in a closed car — that he could die in this Arizona heat. I was almost hysterical anyway, then defensive to get a lecture like that! Me — an educated person.

Last week I heard in a newscast that two children had died after being left in a closed car for what their mother said was "only a few minutes." The newscaster went on to say that in a hot climate, the temperature can rise to 200 degrees within minutes, and a child — or a pet — can be dead within five minutes.

Thank God and that mailman I didn't have to learn the hard way. Abby, warn other readers, but please don't use my name. I'm a school teacher and people might think I am irresponsible. I'm not. I was only ignorant.

ARIZONA READER

DEAR READER: I have warned my readers about this danger several times, but I'll repeat it for those who may have missed it: On a hot summer day, the inside of a car heats very quickly. On an 85-degree day, for example, the temperature inside your car — with the windows slightly open — will reach 102 within 10 minutes. In 30 minutes, it will go up to 120 degrees. On warmer days, it will go even higher! A child can easily be overcome by heat exhaustion in such conditions. So please do not leave a child or a pet in a closed car — ever, for even a few minutes. Should you be detained for any reason, those "few minutes" could run into 10 or 20 minutes, and the delay could be tragic!

DEAR ABBY: Will you please add this to your collection of letters complaining about the misuse of the English language? This is not a grammatical error, it's a moral one. I would like to begin a campaign against the use of the expression "killing two birds with one stone."

Abby, why would anybody want to kill even one bird with a stone? I can hear the retort: "But it's only a figure of speech." That's not true. I'm a great believer in the theory that language reflects our values, so if we nonchalantly talk about killing two birds, how far are we from actually doing it? Couldn't we just say, "Do two things at the same time"? It means the same thing.

As a bird lover, I find that expression very offensive. Thanks for providing a forum for us complainers.

A BLEEDING HEART LIBERAL VEGETARIAN

DEAR VEGETARIAN: Although I'm guilty of using that expression, I would never kill a bird. But now that you've called my attention to its offensiveness, you'll never hear a peep out of me.

DEAR ABBY: Here's a new one. Is it possible for a woman who is past childbearing age to have a fertile egg implanted in her womb and be able to nourish and deliver a normal, healthy baby?

Doesn't that sound exciting for all the grandmothers like me with eight children and 10 grandchildren? Wow!

HOPING IN OTTAWA

DEAR HOPING: Alas, it's not possible, so enjoy your grandchildren, and leave the childbearing to your children. It's their turn to propagate.

Reagan stumps Louisiana for GOP Senate candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan returns to Louisiana today in an effort to elect Rep. Henson Moore as the state's first Republican senator in more than a century and give Reagan a leg up in his drive to retain GOP control of the Senate.

Shifting from a strategy aimed almost exclusively at raising money to one that will concentrate on turning out Republican voters, Reagan planned to address an outdoor rally in a New Orleans park and attend a fund-raising luncheon for Moore. Then he was to travel to Alabama to spur the re-election campaign of Sen. Jeremiah Denton.

Reagan's chief political adviser, Mitchell E. Daniels Jr., acknowledged Wednesday it is "unlikely that Moore can win outright" in Louisiana's unique open primary nine days away. There are 14 candidates in the race to succeed Sen. Russell B. Long, who is retiring after 38 years in office.

Moore is regarded as the front-runner in the Sept. 27 contest, but he probably cannot draw the 50 percent needed to claim the seat. Daniels and many political analysts expect a runoff Nov. 4 between the GOP congressman and Democratic Rep. John Breaux, a protege of Gov. Edwin Edwards and a seven-term veteran in the House.

Reagan is concentrating his campaign effort this fall on the Senate, where a few setbacks could return control of the chamber to the Democrats and ensure the president lame-duck status his last two years in office.

Noting that the Republicans need to win 19 of the 34 Senate seats up for election this fall, Daniels told reporters Wednesday, "That is a very tall order," particularly when historical trends suggest the president's party is more likely to suffer setbacks in the sixth year of a presidency.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

GENERAL ELECTION

NOVEMBER 4, 1986

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 15 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among the counties in which the property of the railroad is located for purposes of property taxation, and would delete the requirement that the Comptroller participate in making the allocation. To comply with both statutory and constitutional law, the apportionment currently is being made by the State Property Tax Board in conjunction with the Comptroller.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among counties for purposes of property taxation."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 33 proposes a constitutional amendment that would replace the constitutional requirement that the subject of a bill be expressed in its title with a mandate that each house of the legislature adopt rules of procedure that would require the subject of each bill to be expressed in its title in a manner that gives the legislature and the public reasonable notice of that subject. Determining compliance with the rule would be the responsibility of the legislature. Currently, a law is invalidated if a court finds its caption is defective. The amendment would provide that past and future enactments may not be held void on the basis of an insufficient title.

The amendment also would eliminate the suggestion that the state's laws be revised every ten years, and instead would provide for continuing revision of state laws.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment requiring each house to include in its rules of procedure a rule that each bill contain a title expressing the bill's subject, and providing for the continuing revision of state laws."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the Legislature to authorize any county, city, town, or other political subdivision to use public funds or credit to pay insurance premiums on nonassessable life, health, or accident policies. Due to the prohibition in the constitution against the lending of credit and granting of public money, political subdivisions currently are prohibited from becoming shareholders in associations such as mutual-insurance companies, in which policyholders are shareholders. A nonassessable mutual insurance policy does not allow a company to raise capital by assessing the policyholder an extra amount on a premium. This amendment will allow mutual insurance companies and stock companies to bid for life and health group policies of political subdivisions. Public liability will be limited to the payment of premums specified in the contract.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing political subdivisions the opportunity to engage in and transact business with authorized mutual insurance companies in the same manner as with other insurance companies."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would repeal the prohibition against branch banking by state banks and would allow state banks and national banks domiciled in this state to establish and operate banking facilities at locations within the county or city where they are domiciled. The amendment would also authorize the Legislature to permit a state bank or a national bank domiciled in this state to engage in business at more than one place if it acquires a failed state bank or national bank domiciled in this state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide that a bank may offer full service banking at more than one location within the city or county where its principal facility is located, subject to limitations and restrictions provided by law."

Estos son los informes explanatorios sobre las enmiendas propuestas a la constitución que aparecerán en la boleta el día 4 de noviembre de 1986. Local Poetry Society meets

The Scurry County Poetry Society met Monday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bryant. Society president, Garnet Quiett presided and Christene Killgo gave the invocation.

Society members enjoyed various literary successes during the summer months.

Dorothy Cox wrote an article published in a church publication and also helped compile a cookbook which is now at the publishers.

Janelle Burk spoke to the Brownwood Historical Society promoting her book, "The Fritter Tree and the Honey Pond."

Sherry Bryant read some of her poems to the congregation at the First Assembly of God Church.

Garnet Quiett sold an article to "Mature Living" magazine entitled "The Path to School."

Mrs. Burk presented the special program Monday with "How to Turn an Idea into a Poem." She pointed out that a good poem uses good diction, meter, sound, rythm and imagery all organized to make up a unified whole. Every poem must have a central thought, keep the tone the same all the way through and make the meaning of the poem clear to the reader. She suggested writing down the idea for the poem and working from that idea.

The members enjoyed a poetry reading session where members presented some of their own works. Refreshments were served.

Betty Swaim and daughter Notosha were visitors with Betty joining as a new member.

The next Society meeting will be Oct. 21 at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burk. Visitors and new members are welcome.

Musical Coterie opens club year

Musical Coterie began its new year Saturday evening at Martha Ann Woman's Club. Opening the evening, students from Bethel's Studio of Music played dinner music for members and guests.

Those performing were Alicia and Brooke Kubena, Laura Hamby, Mystele Malone, Dora Jean Rumpff, Pamela Bowlin, Amy Armstrong and Michelle Holmes.

Emily Hataway, Monette O'Day and Barbara Perkins sang the N.F.M.C. benediction, "Bless Us O God" by Glad Robinson Youse. The trio was accompanied by Lynn Bethel.

June Brock, president, recognized guests and presented the year's upcoming events.

Mort Ewing, Chamber of Commerce manager, welcomed members and guests. His opening comment was, "An organization like Coterie is fabulous for a town like Snyder." He remarked that Coterie brings people together within the community. Music brings communities, countries and the world together. Music reaches beyond languages and cultures and it brings us together in the sense of a community.

Mort said in closing, "Harry Truman once said that 'beauty lifts us up and ugliness brings us down.' This organization lifts us up."

Following the welcome, Kay Hopper, special guest and new member, entertained by singing "Silver Threads and Golden Needles," "The Sweetest Thing," "Don't It Make My Brown Eyes Blue," and "Fallin' in Love with You" among other selections.

Concluding the meeting, members and guests sang "Bless Us O God."

Women are owning more businesses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Women own almost 25 percent of American businesses, excluding large corporations, according to the U.S. Census Bureau.

This is up from 5 percent a decade ago, and projections show women will own 50 percent by the year 2000.

Look before you limp

By James Jacoby

Do you ever wonder how the play of a simple hand can get really fouled up? Certainly it has to do with psychology and with all the human weaknesses that can inhabit the mind. Look at today's deal and imagine what might happen to you if you played just a little carelessly. That queen of spades opening lead would be out there in your face, and you would probably first notice that there was a finessing position in the trump suit. It might well be that you would instinctively win the first trick in the South hand, intending to take a heart finesse. But then, a little late, you would realize that should the heart finesse lose, East would return a spade and that would give you four losers, one in each suit. So you would shift gears and play a club immediately. That would be fine if East were kind enough to grab the first club, but what if he holds off? If he takes the second club and returns a spade, you have no quick entry to your hand and therefore won't be able to immediately shed dummy's losing spade on the king of clubs.

The right line of play is not that difficult. You have to win the first trick with dummy's ace of spades. You can now force out the club ace and have the spade king as an entry to your hand. You will then be able to cash your club king and pitch a spade from dummy before you take the trump finesse. Is there a rule to guide you in these situations? Yes, if you'll remember it. Plan the play at trick one. Better still, plan the play before you play to trick one.

Yarn turned to profits in courthouse ladies' lounge

SULLIVAN, Ind. (AP) — In Sullivan County's courthouse, the commissioners have their meeting room, the treasurer has a desk — and Alma Ridge has a dresser full of yarn.

Six days a week as she has done for dozens of years, Mrs. Ridge settles into a worn leather library chair in one corner of the ladies' lounge, pulls out her needles and colorful yarns and starts her work.

From 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., the 83-year-old woman trims dish towels, dish rags and face towels with crocheted borders, rarely looking up from her work.

"I see the cars go by, that's about all," she says, peering over a windowsill adorned with silk flowers and a blooming geranium.

But when a woman passes through the lounge, Mrs. Ridge perks up, adjusting the heart locket on her dress and fingering her red silk corsage. Always curious, the women stop and within moments, Mrs. Ridge has driven a hard bargain for 50 cents or a dollar.

"I sell them as fast as I make them," she says. "I'm busy all the time."

Secretaries in the courthouse bring Mrs. Ridge her breakfast and lunch from a newsstand across the street.

Most of her meager profits go toward small gifts for her friends, courthouse workers say.

No one knows for sure how many years Mrs. Ridge has crocheted in her courthouse corner — not even Mrs. Ridge. Courthouse workers can vouch for Mrs. Ridge's long tenure, however.

"I've been here since 1955 and she's been here at least since then," said county treasurer Barbara Anderson. "She just feels like this is her job."

Mrs. Ridge's husband obligingly drives his wife to "her job" every day.

Mrs. Ridge has become something of a local legend. For dozens of years, she walked around the town square, selling her dainty dish towels and hand-trimmed potholders.

But when her legs started feeling the effects of old age, Mrs. Ridge retired to her corner of the courthouse and sold her wares from there.

Ischemia points to other problems

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What is ischemia? Is it treatable by diet? I'm not overweight and do not have diabetes or hypertension, but occasionally my heart will skip a beat.

DEAR READER — Ischemia refers to lack of oxygen in certain body tissues. It is a symptom, not a disease. Ischemia of any body part can cause malfunction or death of tissue. For example, myocardial (heart) ischemia causes angina or heart attack; skin ischemia often produces ulcerations or sores; brain ischemia may be caused by stroke; leg ischemia can be seen as cramps, weakness and loss of muscle.

In this country, ischemia is often the consequence of arteriosclerosis — the tendency of arteries to plug up over time, causing disease in the organs served by those arteries. Therefore, most people can be helped by methods to retard arteriosclerosis, such as lowering cholesterol in the diet, stopping smoking and obtaining regular exercise. Medicine, to improve circulation, can be used. Surgery, particularly the bypass type, is often helpful in bridging blocked and diseased arteries to allow resumption of bloodflow to ischemic areas.

Skipped heartbeats are common to all people, young or old, ill or healthy. If, after a medical examination, your doctor discovers that your heart skipping reflects myocardial ischemia, you may need to consider medicine or surgery to re-establish proper bloodflow and oxygen supply to your heart.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Can you explain the surgical removal of sweat glands to treat excessive diaphoresis that is unrelated to a medical problem?

DEAR READER — Sweat glands exist in most of the skin's pores. Therefore, for surgery to be effective, it must involve the removal of many pores — that is, large areas of skin. This seems to me to be a fairly drastic solution to a common and harmless health problem. I'd advise against the procedure unless the diaphoresis (increased sweating) is confined to a small area and the surgeon feels confident that an operation would be curative without being disfiguring.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Our daughter suffered from ringing in her ears. Finally, an ear, nose and throat doctor sent her to a dental specialist, who discovered an unevenness in her bite. He ground off the uneven spots and her problem stopped. I thought you might like to suggest a visit to a dentist for your readers with tinnitus.

DEAR READER — Thank you for writing. Dental problems can produce tinnitus, and you are on target in pointing out that correction of malocclusion (abnormal bite) sometimes can end ringing in the ears.

It's important that you find a doctor who suits your needs — and Dr. Gott tells how in his new Health Report, CHOOSING A PHYSICIAN: MAKE A DECISION FOR GOOD HEALTH. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to mention the title.

Reagan gives Aquino installment on aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, praising Philippines leader Corazon Aquino's economic revival plan, is handing over more U.S. aid while cautioning her against trusting communist guerrillas at the bargaining table.

Mrs. Aquino, the U.S.-educated widow of former opposition leader Benigno Aquino, is trying to hold together a faction-ridden, impoverished government. She was heading to Capitol Hill today to address a joint meeting of Congress and seek more U.S. financial support.

After Reagan and Mrs. Aquino met at the White House on Wednesday, her counsel, Teodoro Locsin, quoted Reagan as telling her, "I've had experience dealing with communists, and you have to be careful."

At the same time, Locsin told reporters that Reagan appeared to accept Mrs. Aquino's plan for dealing with the insurgent New People's Army, which has picked up wide support in the poverty-stricken rural regions of the Philippines.

Her strategy calls for a good-faith government effort to settle the war by negotiations, economic reforms that might dissolve peasant grievances and ultimately — but only if necessary — tough military action.

Locsin said both leaders "have the same cynicism about the hard-core guerrillas coming down from the hills," but that Mrs. Aquino feels a need to exhaust peaceful means before invoking military options.

Talks between representatives of the government and the guerrillas began this summer, but no progress has been reported.

A U.S. official, eager to dispel any suggestions that the administration is dissatisfied with Mrs. Aquino's performance, said the United States is solidly behind the strategy. "We are completely in accord," said the official, who spoke only on condition he not be identified.

At a black-tie dinner at the State Department Wednesday evening, Secretary of State George Shultz told the Philippine leader, "We are on your side. Our partnership makes an irreplaceable contribution to stability in the Pacific."

In response, Mrs. Aquino cautioned Shultz that in the "new, mature relationship" between the two countries, the Philippines would sometimes be difficult to deal with, but she said, for the United States, a democracy, "this should be a virtue, not a vice in your eyes."

Mrs. Aquino's visit with Reagan for 45 minutes in the Oval Office and at a White House luncheon was the first official meeting of a nine-day trip to the United States and it was the first time they have met.

Speaking to reporters afterward, Reagan said "her efforts to reconcile all elements of her society and bring them into the democratic process are applauded here."

Mexican government shows off its rebuilding efforts

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Government officials, showing off what they call a successful reconstruction effort, said Wednesday those left homeless by last year's killer earthquake would have new residences in the next five months.

A bus tour organized by President Miguel de la Madrid's office took about 50 journalists to neighborhoods struck by the Sept. 19, 1985, quake, showing rebuilding efforts in housing, hospitals and schools.

A highlight of the trip was a stopover at the Children's Hospital, where officials showed off a group of 14 toddlers who as new-born infants a year ago were rescued from the rubble of the Juarez and General hospitals.

A year later, they smiled and ran around a playground and shared a cake fashioned in the shape of a bunny.

"All the children are perfect and developing normally; maybe even a little better because of the constant attention they have been receiving," said Dr. Luis Torregrosa, hospital director.

The health sector was among the hardest hit by the quake that registered 8.1 on the Richter scale. About 5,000 hospital beds, or about 30 percent of the total in the metropolitan area of 18 million, were lost.

An estimated 1,500 patients and medical workers lay injured, dead or dying when the Juarez Hospital's 12-story in-patient building fell along with the General Hospital's obstetrics-gynecology and residential towers. A plaque at general Hospital near where the towers once stood lists the names of the 100 doctors, nurses and health workers who died there.

The tour also included stops at several areas in the city where the government is building apartment complexes for those left homeless by the quake.

Government statistics distributed during the tour said 44,437 apartment units would be completed by next February for the homeless and that work is underway on about 80 percent of them. Of that, 29,695 units are being built from scratch while the rest are undergoing minor or major repairs.

Pedro Salgo, one of the government officials in charge of the reconstuction work, said about 25 percent of the apartments have been completed and have been occupied.

Under the program, the government expropriated deteriorating, rent-controlled buildings, many of them one- and two-room homes built around a communal patio. Some who lived in buildings that were not expropriated are to be assisted under another program.

House passage likely of tax overhaul bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional tax-writers are preparing to submit a compromise tax-overhaul plan to their colleagues, and nose-counters say there is no question that they will have enough votes for House passage.

The first vote on the nearly 2,000-page package will come Tuesday or Wednesday in the House, and although its sponsors do not yet have enough commitments to assure passage, they say they are confident they will win.

"It won't be overwhelming but it will pass by a comfortable margin," Rep. Byron Dorgan, D-N.D., a member of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, said Wednesday.

A Senate vote would come before Congress adjourns around Oct. 3.

Following a closed caucus of House Democrats to drum up support for the bill, leaders checked their notes and could count only about 100 solid votes among the 252 Democrats. Rep. Jim Moody. D-Wis., a member of the task force pushing for passage, predicted about 100 of 180 Republicans will support it.

If all members of the House are present, it would take 217 votes to pass the bill.

But John Sherman, a spokesman for the House Ways and Means Committee, said sponsors are confident they have more than enough votes to win. He agreed with the count of only 100 solid votes, but said "we only count a member as solid if he signs his name in blood. If he even blinks, he's listed as leaning."

"We aren't there yet, but there is a great number of undecideds," said Rep. Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., a long-time advocate of tax overhaul.

There has been little enthusiasm for the compromise bill among members of either party, although few lawmakers are eager to work for defeat of a measure that President Reagan has put at the top of his agenda. Although there are many undesirable provisions in the bill, said Gephardt and Dorgan, most lawmakers will consider the package preferable to present law.

But the final votes won't be unanimous. House Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Texas, predicted the bill will bring in less revenue than backers are forecasting.

The bill, Wright said, "is like a swig of bad whisky. It may make you feel good right now but it'll give you a heck of a hangover tomorrow."

The bill would significantly reduce individual and corporate tax rates but make more income subject to tax by eliminating or repealing several deductions and exclusions. It would cut individual taxes by an average of 6.1 percent, although millions would pay more. Corporate taxes would rise by $120 billion over five years.

High school friends find out they're kin

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Chris White and Chris Yerby jokingly told people at school they were brothers.

They not only shared the same name. Both were tall, both played basketball at Carroll High School and they looked remarkably alike.

"People didn't believe us" when we said we were brothers, said Yerby, 18. "They said, 'How can you be brothers? You're both named Chris.'"

It wasn't until last month that the two learned that what seemed mere coincidence was much more.

They are brothers, adopted by different families at birth.

"When I first saw Chris Yerby, I couldn't take my eyes off of him," said Margaret White, mother of 16-year-old Chris White. "I had no doubt they were brothers. No doubt at all."

After an exhaustive search by their adoptive parents, Yerby and White learned they were brothers, born in Austin two years apart, given up for adoption at birth and reunited — by a quirk of fate — in a Corpus Christi high school.

"People say we look alike and that we even walk alike," White said, looking over at his older brother.

"Yeah," agreed Yerby, who is now a freshman at Texas A&M. "My mom now says we even laugh alike."

The two tall, dark-haired teens met last year at Carroll High School, where they both played basketball.

"On my first day at Carroll, these girls came up to me and said, 'Hey, we saw your brother working the other day,'" White told the Corpus Christi Caller-Times.

"And I said, 'I don't have a brother,' and they said, 'Yes you do. We saw him.'"

Slowly, Yerby and White became friends off the basketball court. The more the two told each other about themselves, the more the coincidences piled up.

White, now a high school junior, remembers the conversation.

"Chris said to me, 'I'm adopted,' and I said, 'Wow, I'm adopted, too.' Then when he said he was born in Austin, I didn't say anything. I just couldn't believe it."

Because they were both adopted and born in the same city, the two youths decided they wanted to trace the records. In January, they asked their adopted parents to trace their respective natural parents.

"We wanted to find the truth for them," said Mary Yerby, mother of Chris Yerby. "That's why it was important."

Mrs. White and Mrs. Yerby agreed they would try to find the boys' natural mother but not reveal her identity.

"They didn't want us to know who our natural mother was," Yerby said. "I really didn't want to know either."

The search took almost eight months, but late last month the parents finally confirmed what the boys had suspected — Chris and Chris were not just friends.

They were family.

"At first, I wasn't sure how to think of it," Yerby said.

8th grade home tonight; others play on the road

Snyder eighth grade gridders take the home field banner to Travis Field tonight while the local freshmen and junior varsity teams play on the road.

Action starts as early as 4:30 p.m. when the eighth grade B-squad entertains Big Spring at Travis. An A-team game is scheduled to follow at approximately 5:30 p.m.

Snyder freshmen will also play two games tonight with the Steers. Both are scheduled in Big Spring and will begin at 5:30 and 7 respectively.

The local junior varsity, originally slated to be open tonight, will instead take on Abilene Christian High School varsity at 7:30 p.m. in Abilene.

The road trip will be the second straight for the JV Cats, who play their first home game next Thursday, Sept. 25, by hosting Lubbock Coronado.

Both Snyder JV and freshmen teams are 1-0 for the season.

Snyder seventh graders do not play until Saturday, when they play in Big Spring at 10:30 a.m. and noon.

District 2-4A roundup...

Tigers set for homecoming; 2-4A battles kick off Friday

It's the first home game and homecoming, and Coach Dennis Tomlin says the Ragin' Tigers are looking forward to Friday night.

"We'd like to think this will help our football team - homecoming, our first home game and a sellout crowd," said the coach this morning. "We've been working hard for this. Our kids want to play well in front of the home crowd and we feel like they will."

The Tigers take on Fort Stockton at 8 p.m. in Tiger Stadium, kicking off another district season.

District 2-4A, reputed to be one of the toughest Class 4A football districts in the state, cranks up its intra-loop battles with its supposed top contender idle.

Sweetwater, defending state champion and ranked sixth in the state already this season, is open. The Mustangs, 2-0 and coming off of an impressive 40-14 win over 5A's Abilene High, will begin district play next week at Big Spring.

It will be the third straight major test in a row for Big Spring's Steers, who were blasted 56-6 by No. 1 ranked Lubbock Estacado last week and who open 2-4A play by facing Lake View in San Angelo this Friday. Big Spring, down from Class 5A this season, is 1-1. Lake View is 2-0.

Tigers vs Panthers
8 o'clock Friday
at Tiger Stadium

In a test of unbeaten teams, Pecos, 2-0, is at Monahans, 1-0. Meanwhile, two other teams look for their first wins of the season. Snyder, winless against 3A's 10th-ranked Tulia and a tough Levelland squad, celebrates its first home game and its homecoming by entertaining the 2-0 Panthers as already noted. And Andrews, which also lost to a pair of toughies - Hereford and Midland High - will entertain a 1-1 Lamesa Golden Tornado squad.

Snyder officials report the home stands are sold out for Friday's game except for student sections. A section of seating is available on the east side stands for Snyder fans. Tickets are available in advance through Friday noon at the athletic director's office at $3 for adults and $1 for students. All tickets purchased at the gate Friday night will be $4.

"We're really thrilled about pregame ticket sales," said Coach Tomlin. "We've played two games on the road now and we need to hear the roar of the crowd. We haven't had that feeling, yet. It will be good to be at home and in front of our own people".

Tomlin noted that the Tigers should be at full strength Friday. Toby Ubando, senior linebacker-fullback who missed last week's game with Levelland, has recovered from a sprained ankle.

When Browns meet Bengals...

Key Central Division game tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) - While it may be premature to predict a division winner, it's not too early to start worrying about making the NFL playoffs, says Cincinnati Bengals Coach Sam Wyche.

Wyche and the Bengals are in Cleveland Stadium tonight for a nationally televised game against the Cleveland Browns. Wyche thinks the game is critical to both American Conference Central Division teams.

"The two matchup games are going to be crucial, because that's the first tiebreaker (in determining playoff teams)," Wyche said.

The Browns and Bengals split their two games a year ago, each winning at home, and Cleveland wound up winning the division title with an 8-8 record. Cincinnati was 7-9.

The Bengals have been plagued by slow starts each of the past three seasons, going 1-4 in 1985 and 1-6 each of the previous two seasons.

"Our ballclub has not been concerned with what happened last year or the year before," Wyche said. "There are 14 or 15 new faces on this team and they don't know what went on before. We have not dwelled on the past."

Still, the Bengals' season-opening loss at Kansas City was followed by a scare against the Buffalo Bills last Sunday. Cincinnati quarterback Boomer Esiason ran two yards for a touchdown to tie the game with 12 seconds left, and the Bengals won it 36-33 on Jim Breech's overtime field goal.

"If we had lost this game, some of the younger players, myself included, would have been looking over our shoulders and asking what we had to do to win," Esiason said.

The left-hander, who has completed 39 of 70 passes for 515 yards in two games, was named AFC offensive player of the week for his performance Sunday. He has impressed Cleveland Coach Marty Schottenheimer with his ability to escape from the pass rush.

"He has that ability to come out of the pocket, not as a running threat, but to look upfield and find that receiver," Schottenheimer said.

Esiason, at 25, is three years older than Cleveland's starting quarterback, Bernie Kosar, whose development has given the Browns an opportunity to diversify their offense.

"The fact that they are able to produce in the air as well as on the ground is a problem," Wyche said. "Last year, if you stopped the run, you probably stopped their offense. But if you've got the threat of the pass that's equal with the threat of the run, you double your options."

Kosar's statistics through the Browns' first two games this season are not as impressive as his performances would have suggested. He has completed 34 of 66 passes for 469 yards and two touchdowns, with one interception.

Sideline glances...

Scurry not faring well so far in '86

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

Ouch! Scurry County isn't exactly making a name for itself in football so far this season. Last week, county varsity teams were outscored 111 to 3. Humbling.

The county has yet to win a varsity football game. Collectively, Snyder, Ira and Hermleigh are 0-5 for the season.

That will change this week. At least that's the prediction from this angle of the sidelines.

I'm not ready to admit Hermleigh can tackle Loop. The Cardinals have enough desire and effort, but two years without playing varsity ball has taken its toll. They are improving, though.

But Snyder and Ira should be ringing their collective victory bells late Friday night. Snyder entertains Fort Stockton and my guess is that a proud Ragin' Tiger team will make a strong showing at homecoming.

Ira entertains Klondike, and though the Bulldogs are also 0-2, Coach Mitch Lee is seeing improvement each week.

Besides, things have got to change. My high school predictions in the two week's of the season have been less than brilliant. In fact, if it weren't for some pretty good guessing in the pro ranks, I'd be batting pretty low. And that scares me, because usually the pros are the ones that bring my average down.

Last week's guesses were 29 right out of 39 or .744. For the season, I'm 55 right out of 76 for .724. Now, on with the picks...

Fort Stockton at Snyder- I know Fort Stockton is undefeated, but the Tigers have played tougher opponents and they want this home game - and first district game - bad. You'll miss it if you don't pick...SNYDER 21, FORT STOCKTON 7.

Pecos at Monahans- Snyder's next opponent, Pecos is also undefeated. But the Eagles will get their wings clipped this week...MONAHANS 28, PECOS 14.

Lamesa at Andrews- Andrews has been slugged by two tough teams in as many weeks. They should get a break this time out...MUSTANGS 24, LAMESA 7.

Big Spring at Lake View- Big Spring got welcomed to Class 4A with a 56-6 loss to Lubbock Estacado last week. Now they get welcomed to District 2-4A...LAKE VIEW 35, BIG SPRING 17.

Hermleigh at Loop- The Cards are improving, but fate hasn't dealt them the strongest deck...LOOP 43, HERMLEIGH 20.

Klondike at Ira- After two straight losses, it's time for the Bulldogs to bite back...IRA 40, KLONDIKE 28.

The collegians...

Pick 'em like this: Oklahoma 35, Minnesota 14; Michigan 24, Oregon State 10; Penn State 31, Boston College 21; Nebraska 45, Illinois 14; Texas A&M 52, North Texas State 14; Auburn 27, East Carolina 6; Ohio State 21, Colorado 7; LSU 35, Miami, Ohio, 10, Florida State 31, North Carolina 17; and UCLA 17, San Diego State 9.

In other games, pick Arkansas 28, Tulsa 18; Oklahoma State 24, Houston 21; TCU 28, Kansas State 17; Alabama 14, Florida 13; Washington 24, Brigham Young 21; Baylor 27, USC 24; Georgia 19, Clemson 17; and Notre Dame 21, Michigan State 20.

Also, choose Texas 17, Missouri 14; Arizona State and SMU to battle to a 14-14 tie; and Texas Tech 21, New Mexico State 20.

I see the pros this way:

Dallas will go 3-0 by defeating Atlanta 21-7. In others, it's Denver 23, Philadelphia 21; Houston 17, Kansas City 14; San Francisco 25, New Orleans 24; LA Raiders 19, NY Giants 17; New England 28, Seattle 24; LA Rams 20, Indianapolis 9; Miami 21, NY Jets 14; Minnesota 14, Pittsburgh 6; St. Louis 23, Buffalo 21; Detroit 19, Tampa Bay 14; San Diego 21, Washington 20; and tonight, Cleveland 30, Cincinnati 24.

With Gooden on mound...

Mets claim NL East pennant

by The Associated Press

Dwight Gooden admitted to being scared once it was over and rookie Dave Magadan was glad he didn't do anything to embarrass himself as the New York Mets won the National League East championship.

Gooden, who pitched a six-hitter as the Mets beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2, was nearly trampled when many of the 47,823 fans swarmed the field as Shea Stadium as second baseman Wally Backman threw to first baseman Keith Hernandez to retire Chico Walker for the final out.

"I got knocked down on the ground," Gooden said. "I didn't know who was on top of me. It was really a scary feeling. You don't know what's going to happen."

Magadan, who was pressed into service at first base when a touch of virus kept Hernandez out of the starting lineup, had three hits and drove in two runs, including the game-winner in the third inning.

"I was just concentrating so much on not screwing up," Magadan said. "You never know how you'll react in that situation."

Elsewhere in the NL, it was Houston 6, Cincinnati 1; St. Louis 8, Philadelphia 5; Atlanta 4, Los Angeles 1, and San Diego 5, San Francisco 4 in 10 innings. Montreal beat Pittsburgh 6-5 in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader. The Pirates won the nightcap 4-1.

Gooden, 15-6, struck out eight and walked five. He lost his shutout bid when Rafael Palmeiro hit a two-run homer in the eighth. But he was determined to finish the game.

"It was great to be out there," he said in the midst of a wild clubhouse celebration where the champagne that had been iced on-and-off since last Friday night, was finally uncorked. "I wanted to finish ... I wanted to be out there."

The Mets had lost four straight games on a road trip to Philadelphia and St. Louis before winning Tuesday night over the Cardinals to clinch at least.

Magadan, a .311 hitter before his recall from Tidewater of the International League, said "never in my wildest dreams" did he expect to play a major role in the clincher.

Astros 6, Reds 1

Houston's Jose Cruz wasn't impressed with his own performance, but when you haven't hit two homers in a game in the last two seasons you certainly have to be satisfied.

"I was lucky tonight," the 39-year-old Cruz said after hitting two home runs and driving in five runs as the Astros reduced their magic number to nine with 17 games remaining. Any combination of Houston victories and Cincinnati defeats totaling nine would give the Astros the NL West title.

Danny Darwin, 3-1, allowed just five hits as the Astros beat the Reds for the 13th time in 17 games.

Braves 4, Dodgers 1

Fernando Valenzuela wasn't about to blame his teammates for his failure to win his 20th game, but Los Angeles Manager Tom Lasorda was disgusted with the Dodgers' lack of runs.

"I was behind the hitters all the time," said Valenzuela, 19-10, who walked five and gave up 10 hits. "It was not one of my better games."

"The man pitches an outstanding game and we can't score any runs for him," Lasorda said. "This game pretty much indicates the kind of season it has been for us."

Cardinals 8, Phillies 5

Bob Forsch didn't think he pitched very well, but was thankful for the presence of rookie reliever Todd Worrell.

"I wasn't tired, I was just struggling," said Forsch, 14-6. "Todd did a great job."

Worrell, tied with Montreal's Jeff Reardon for the league lead in saves with 34, blanked Philadelphia over the last 1 2-3 innings.

Hobbs standout plays for Western's Dusters

Kayla Sue Thompson, a top talent from New Mexico, will play basketball for Coach Kelly Chadwick's Western Texas College Dusters this season.

Thompson, 5-8, averaged 20 points, nine rebounds and 13 assists for Hobbs High School last season. She also participated in volleyball and track, earning nine letters during her high school career.

"Kayla is a true point guard and, in my opinion, the top player to come out of New Mexico this year," said Coach Chadwick. "She comes from Hobbs, where they like to press and run the fast break. I think she can be a tremendous defensive player. She's a great leaper and may be as good an athlete as I've ever had."

Chadwick added, "She can score from inside and outside and has a fine pair of hands and a good understanding of the game. She has a tendency to play out of control sometimes and we're going to work on that. When she's under control she can be a very good point guard. She is extremely quick and extremely fast."

Boston 'family' triumphs to lower magic number to 7

by The Associated Press

Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd looks at the Boston Red Sox as "one big family right now." And with his help, the "family" is moving toward the American League East championship.

"He looks at it now as a team effort and not the 'Oil Can Boyd Show,'" said veteran slugger Don Baylor, who has been advising the pitcher in recent weeks. "He's a little more relaxed. He's not jumping around as much, but he sure is doing the job."

Boyd, who has been suspended twice this season - once without pay - pitched the Red Sox to a 4-1 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Wednesday night, lowering Boston's magic number to seven.

"We're all one big family right now, everybody pulling for each other," Boyd said.

And Boyd is doing it quietly, having cooled down his hyper act on the mound.

"The clubhouse is so much fun now," Boyd said after he scattered eight hits, struck out six and walked just one to match a career high with his 15th victory. "Every game we win now puts us that much closer."

In other AL games Wednesday, it was Texas 4, Oakland 0; Baltimore 8, New York 3; Cleveland 5, Minnesota 2; Detroit 8, Toronto 6; Chicago 3, Seattle 0; and California 3, Kansas City 1 in 10 innings.

Tigers 8, Blue Jays 6

Jack Morris scattered eight hits in 8 2-3 innings and pinch-hitter Larry Herndon hit a three-run homer during a four-run Detroit seventh inning that carried Detroit over slumping Toronto.

Orioles 8, Yankees 3

Rookie Eric Bell won his first major league start and Larry Sheets hit a two-run homer as Baltimore downed the Yankees in New York.

The victory snapped an Orioles' five-game losing streak and was just Baltimore's fifth in 25 games. New York's winning streak ended at four.

Indians 5, Twins 2

Pat Tabler's RBI single snapped a 2-2 tie and started a three-run rally in the sixth inning to give rookie Greg Swindell and Cleveland its victory over visiting Minnesota.

Swindell, 3-1, allowed two runs on seven hits, striking out four and walking one in seven innings.

Rangers 4, A's 0

Pete Incaviglia drove in three runs with two homers and fellow rookie Edwin Correa allowed six hits over 8 2-3 innings as Texas completed a three-game sweep, sending the A's to their sixth straight defeat.

Incaviglia snapped a scoreless tie with one out in the fifth when he hit his 26th homer of the year.

Angels 3, Royals 1

Brian Downing's two-run homer in the bottom of the 10th inning gave California its victory over Kansas City and reduced the Angels' magic number for winning the American League West to nine.

GOLF

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) - The United States, led by Rick Acton and Scott Bess, took a commanding 7-1 lead over Great Britain and Ireland in the opening round of the 13th International PGA Cup matches.

The U.S. team grabbed three of the four morning alternate shot matches played at the Knollwood Country Club.

Opening-round play was highlighted by a 150-yard hole in one on the par-3, 12th green by Scotland's Russell Weir, only the second in his career. Weir and his partner, Martin Gray, were defeated 3 and 2 in a best-ball match by the American team of Kevin Morris and Jim White.

EDINA, Minn. (AP) - William Hyndman III and Lewis Oehmig, who have won five championships between them, enjoyed easy victories in the first round of match play at the U.S. Senior Amateur Championship at Interlachen Country Club.

Hyndman, from Huntington Valley, Pa., who won the tournament in 1973 and 1983, defeated John Pottle of Linville, N.C., 6-and-4. Oehmig, from Lookout Mountain, Tenn., who won his third title last year to go with those captured in 1972 and 1976, beat Robert Greene of San Rafael, Calif., 5-and-4.

FOOTBALL

NEW YORK (AP) - Running back Walter Payton of the Chicago Bears and safety Terry Kinard of the New York Giants were named the offensive and defensive players of the week in the NFC.

Payton, the NFL's all-time leading rusher, went over the 15,000-yard mark for his career and scored his 100th rushing touchdown as he ran for 177 yards on 34 carries in Chicago's 13-10 overtime victory over the Eagles.

Kinard had two interceptions, a fumble recovery, three passes knocked down and six tackles as the Giants shut down San Diego's high-powered offense 20-7. He also had a third interception nullified by a penalty.

GENERAL

NEW YORK (AP) - Former New York Yankee slugger Joe Pepitone was convicted of misdemeanor drug charges but acquitted of more serious drug and weapon possession charges following a three-week trial.

Pepitone was convicted of possession of a controlled substance in the seventh degree, a misdemeanor, and also of criminally using drug paraphernalia in the second degree, which is also a misdemeanor. A misdemeanor is punishable by up to a year in prison.

He was acquitted on all other counts, including the most serious drug charge against him, possession in the first degree, and was acquitted of a weapon possession charge.

Rams acquire Everett rights from Houston

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The Los Angeles Rams have acquired the rights to holdout rookie quarterback Jim Everett from the Houston Oilers, according to a published report.

The Rams acquired the rights to Everett, the third player taken in this year's NFL draft, by trading Pro Bowl guard Kent Hill, their No. 1 pick in 1987 and other considerations to the Houston Oilers, the Los Angeles Herald Examiner reported today.

Another player, believed to be currently on the inactive list, is included in the trade. According to the report, it could be defensive end William Fuller, who tried out for the Oilers two weeks ago. Other possibilities are said to be inside linebacker Jim Collins, currently hampered by a shoulder injury, or unsigned wide receiver Henry Ellard.

Collins said he wasn't aware of a trade. Mike Blatt, Ellard's agent, also denied any knowledge of a trade Wednesday. And Fuller, the Rams' first pick in the USFL supplemental draft, couldn't be reached.

Everett, who starred at Purdue, was selected by Houston in April's draft. He was picked after Tampa Bay took Heisman Trophy winner Bo Jackson and Atlanta grabbed Oklahoma nose tackle Tony Casillas.

Western opens rodeo season this weekend

PORTALES, N.M. – Western Texas College, defending NIRA national champion, takes out of the chute gates tonight to open the 1986-87 collegiate rodeo season here.

Western Texas and other members of the Southwest Region will be competing in the four-day Eastern New Mexico University Rodeo.

Performances are scheduled nightly through Saturday at 7:30 MDT, with the finals or short-go at 1 p.m. Sunday. Competition will also be held as slack after Friday's show, and again at 8 Saturday morning.

Each school in the region may enter a men's team of six individuals and a women's team of three individuals. Only those students may earn team points. Other students who enter the rodeo can earn individual points but not team points.

Designated competitors for WTC's men's team at the ENMU Rodeo will be Mike Carrillo, Adam Brewster, Steve Roberts, Todd Danley, Scott Sharp and Keith Hudson. Women team members are Mistri Davis, Sandy Scott and Jessie Colburn.

Carrillo, Brewster, Danley Davis and Hudson - the defending national champion calf roper - are all sophomores. Roberts, a freshman from Quinlan, was the Texas high school champion saddle bronc rider in 1985. Sharp, also a freshman, was the Texas Youth Rodeo Association calf roping champion. He is from Waco.

Scott, a freshman from Cotton Center, Ariz., qualified to the national high school finals in goat tying and breakaway roping.

Colburn, a freshman from Bainbridge Island, Wash., has won various amateur barrel racing competitions in the northwest.

Other WTC students entering the rodeo are Troy Budvasson, Robert Fifer, Tom Figueroa, Joel Marr, Thad Springer, Heath Sims, Todd Small, Jeff Gilbert, Cleat Stephens, Paul Ivy, Clay Cass, Jo Danley, Jackie Horsfall, Tana Whatley, Stephanie Weaver and Wendy Lunsford.

"We don't have as much depth and the multiple-event hands as we've had before, but we've got some real good individual talent," said Coach Bob Doty. "Everybody is going to have to hit together."

Memphis State fires Kirk

MEMPHIS, Tenn.- (AP) - Coach Dana Kirk, who built a nationally ranked basketball program at Memphis State while earning a reputation for angry courtside outbursts, is out of a job.

Kirk, 51, was fired Wednesday by university President Thomas Carpenter.

Citing the advice of counsel, Carpenter declined to discuss his reasons for firing Kirk, saying only that the university wants "to change the leadership of the men's basketball program."

Carpenter said the university will buy out the remaining 30 months of Kirk's five-year contract for about $159,000.

Kirk was unavailable for comment and university officials said they didn't know how to contact him. Telephone calls went unanswered and no one answered the door at his residence.

For more than a year, Kirk's personal finances have been under review by a federal grand jury, but Carpenter refused to say whether that had anything to do with the coach's dismissal.

Family fighting deportation order

DALLAS (AP) — A woman whose husband has been deported to Iran says her 2-year-old daughter will die without medical treatment available in the United States if they are also forced to leave the country.

The woman's husband, Mohammad Reza Nia Youssefi, an Iranian citizen who owned an ice cream business in suburban Arlington, was deported last week.

But immigration officials do not know the whereabouts of Fahimeh Assad Amraji and her two children, said Ron Chandler, regional director of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service in Dallas.

"We think that they're still in town here," Chandler said Wednesday. "We were hopeful of bringing this to an equitable conclusion without having to go (to arrests)."

The woman told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram that Youssefi's father worked for the late Shah of Iran and was jailed after the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini assumed power. She said he was freed after friends paid for his release.

She and her husband will be killed or jailed if they return to Iran, she said.

In the United States on a student visa, Youssefi and his family were scheduled to leave the United States on Sept. 10 after they were ordered deported. But airline officials would not allow 2-year-old Salieh Assad Amraji to board because she is an American citizen and did not have proper documents to enter France.

Only French airlines are allowed to travel to Iran.

Immigration authorities ordered Youssefi and his wife to sign the documents so the child would have the needed traveling pass, but they refused, Chandler said.

Drugstore closes here the Pattersons purchased Snyder Drug from his mother Ruby. She helped her husband R.E. "Pat" Patterson open the store here in 1945.

Patterson noted that prescription files from Hall's store have already been transferred. Hall's telephone line has also been connected at Snyder Drug to give consumers easy access for prescription needs.

He added that a close-out sale at Hall's will be conducted within the next few weeks and the building will be sold.

Hearing again has testimony calling two witnesses in rebuttal to testimony from the defendants.

Due to scheduling conflicts for both the court and attorneys involved in the case, court was recessed just before noon with final arguments in the hearing to be scheduled for a later date.

Fair now open into Saturday

The night's featured Mule Show will begin at 7 p.m.

Other entertainment Friday is set at 8 p.m. at the stage area as Spanish dancers will demonstrate native dances.

On both Thursday and Friday, fair goers can enjoy the Kiddie Barnyard, the children's treasure hunt, the kid's wash, helicopter rides and the nightly attraction of carnival entertainment from Jest Amusement.

Two flee after afternoon wreck

An automobile driven by a Snyder woman was struck by two vehicles which then fled the scene Wednesday.

Struck in the three vehicle hit-and-run incident was a 1985 Pontiac driven by Renee Elizabeth Aycock of Rt. 1, Snyder.

The accident occurred in the 2500 Block of College Ave. at 4:05 p.m.

A second accident Wednesday was reported at 11:30 p.m. in the 1400 Block of 23rd St.

Involved in it was a 1975 Chevrolet driven by Nicolas Sanchez of the Clairemont Rt., which struck a city-owned trash dumpster at that location.

No injuries resulted from either mishap.

Missing bike report filed

Police are investigating a single misdemeanor theft report filed Wednesday involving a stolen bicycle.

Billie Able of 414 23rd St. told police at 9:25 p.m. her son's 20-inch BMX bicycle had been stolen while the youth was in the Skinny's Convenience Store on East Highway.

No value was estimated for the missing bike.

In other action, officers jailed one man for driving while intoxicated and one other for public intoxication.

enough that the boll worm wil not hurt them.

To determine this, she sug gested cutting a boll open with a pocket knife. A boll hard enougl to make it difficult to cut with a knife is likely safe from bol worm damage.

Until the end of September, she suggested farmers with the quarter-sized bolls should consider spraying.

She may be contacted through the county extension office for more information. The number is 573-5423.

Vic Feazell calls charges retaliation

WACO, Texas (AP) — McLennan County District Attorney Vic Feazell, who built his reputation on debunking confessions by self-professed mass murderer Henry Lee Lucas, says bribery charges filed against him are retaliation by those he criticized.

Feazell, 35, was arrested at the McLennan County Courthouse Wednesday on a 12-count federal indictment alleging he told certain defense attorneys to increase their legal fees and pass on a portion of the money to him in exchange for favorable settlement of their criminal cases.

But Feazell, who faces re-election in November, said he is innocent and that the charges were sprang from the Department of Public Safety for his criticism of the Texas Rangers work in investigating the series of killings claimed by Lucas.

"This is not the first time in history that a tough prosecutor who wants to do what's right has been retaliated against," he said.

"I believe I'm going to be vindicated on this thing. I think most people are going to see through it."

Bond was set at $100,000 and Feazell was released on personal recognizance after an appearance before U.S. District Judge Walter S. Smith Jr. He returned to his office, and said he has no plans to resign his position.

A hearing is scheduled Sept. 26, when Feazell is expected to enter his plea.

Feazell, a Democrat, was elected to the district attorney's post in 1982.

In July 1985, Feazell said he feared he might be murdered or wrongly indicted because he had criticized law enforcement agencies working on cases involving Lucas.

At the time, a federal grand jury was meeting in Austin to investigate allegations of corruption in Feazell's office.

Feazell termed the investigation a "witch hunt" prompted by the DPS after Feazell criticized a Rangers task force's handling of the Lucas cases.

A McLennan County grand jury investigated Lucas' confessions in 1985 and declined to indict Lucas in any of three Waco-area slayings to which he had confessed.

Lucas, who once claimed responsibility for hundreds of slayings nationwide, later recanted, saying he was trying to discredit law officers.

Col. Jim Adams, DPS director, has denied that the investigation or charges against Feazell were politically motivated.

The sealed indictment was returned by a federal grand jury in Austin after a lengthy investigation by the FBI, Internal Revenue Service and the DPS, officials said.

The indictment, which includes two racketeering counts and 10 counts of mail fraud, accuses Feazell of accepting 14 bribes ranging from $200 to $4,500 from May 29, 1984, to April 10, 1985.

No attorneys were named in the indictment. Affidavits supporting the indictment remain sealed.

But 21 names believed to be defendants or related to defendants handled by Feazell's office are listed.

The indictment also accuses Feazell of filing false sworn statements of campaign contributions and expenses, and false reports about case dispositions to law enforcement agencies.

If convicted on all counts, Feazell faces up to 90 years in prison and $560,000 in fines.

U.S. Attorney Helen Eversberg said law enforcement officials searched Feazell's office following the arrest.

"We attempted to make it as unobstrusive as possible so they can continue to conduct their business," she said.

Feazell's wife, Bernie, said agents contacted her at a coffee house about an hour after her husband's arrest and began searching the couple's house.

"They're going through everything, even negatives of his photographs. They're seeing a lot of baby pictures and things. I don't know what they hope to accomplish," Mrs. Feazell said.

No agreement reached on spending

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Gib Lewis says the present House-Senate compromise talks over 1987 state spending have caused him more worry than anything else recently.

"We're not getting very close at all," Lewis told reporters Wednesday about the 10-member conference committee named to settle House and Senate differences over 1987 spending.

"The lack of progress made in the conference committee on appropriations bothers me more than anything else in my last few years here."

The committee met briefly Wednesday then recessed until today after a series of speeches in which each side tried to show it was working harder than the other.

Lewis said there would be no tax bill voted out of a House committee until an agreement is reached on the budget cuts.

"They wanted to put on their dog and pony show, so we showed up," said Rep. James Rudd, D-Brownfield, head of the House negotiators, after the committee session.

"We got no new figures today. These are the same old figures we got before," Rudd said.

Retirement fund payments to be deferred

(AP) — The Senate has given preliminary approval to a bill that would put off until February the first payment this fiscal year of $860.5 million to the state employee and teacher retirement systems.

The proposal was approved 19-6 Wednesday, but needed another Senate vote to go to the House. Bill sponsor John Traeger, D-Seguin, said he would ask for final Senate approval today.

The proposal would become effective only if the current special legislative session enacts a tax bill.

Traeger described the five-month delay in payments as a "no-risk venture" that would not affect current retirement benefits.

The deferment of retirement payments is one of several measures designed to avoid state checks bouncing later this year as the Legislature tries to cope with a projected budget deficit of $2.8 billion.

State payments from February through August 1987 would be prorated for a 12-month period. At the end of that period, the state also would pay a minimum of 8 percent interest on what the payments would have earned in interest had they not been deferred.

Reagan puts conservative stamp on Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — William H. Rehnquist, survivor of a bitterly divisive Senate confirmation battle, will preside as chief justice over a new Supreme Court era bearing the conservative stamp of President Reagan.

Rehnquist, scheduled to be installed as the nation's 16th chief justice on Sept. 26, was confirmed by the Senate late Wednesday by a 65-33 vote. The court's 1986-87 term begins Oct. 6.

Rehnquist, 61, told reporters he was "delighted" to be the next chief justice.

He will be joined on the high court by Antonin Scalia, a conservative federal appeals court judge picked to fill a vacancy created by the retirement of Chief Justice Warren E. Burger. The Senate confirmed Scalia's appointment, 98-0.

Although Rehnquist's confirmation was never in doubt, he received the largest number of negative votes of any successful Supreme Court nominee in history.

The anti-Rehnquist forces were characterized as a "lynch mob" by Reagan, according to Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., who telephoned the president with the confirmation news.

"He's very pleased," Dole said of the president. "He characterized some as sort of a lynch mob, I guess."

In a statement released by the White House, Reagan blasted Rehnquist opponents for "political posturing," adding, "the attacks came from those whose ideology runs contrary to his profound and unshakeable belief in the proper constitutional role of the judiciary. I have no doubt that William Rehnquist will prove to be a chief justice of historic stature."

Repeated attacks on Rehnquist's integrity, honesty and commitment to equal rights could leave a damaging stain on the man and the nation's highest court.

Asked if the confirmation process had been arduous, Rehnquist said, "From my point of view, it has."

"They've done everything they can to destroy this man's reputation," said Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, one of Rehnquist's staunchest defenders. The Senate has been through "a Rehnquisition" marked by "distortions and misrepresentations," he said.

Opponents said the elevation of Rehnquist, the Supreme Court's most conservative member for nearly 15 years, casts a dark cloud over the future of justice in America.

"This vote will haunt this body," predicted Sen. Max Baucus, D-Mont.

Sen. Donald Riegle, D-Mich., said it was "a sad and disappointing choice, one that I think will damage our country."

Eleanor Smeal, president of the National Organization for Women, called the confirmation vote "truly a Pyrrhic victory with staggering losses in credibility for the Reagan administration."

Democrats sought in vain to line up enough votes to block confirmation. In the end, only two Republicans joined them in opposing the nomination: Sens. Chales Mathias of Maryland and Lowell Weicker of Connecticut.

Republicans control the Senate, 53-47.

In 1971, a Democratic-controlled Senate confirmed President Nixon's nomination of Rehnquist to be an associate justice by a 68-26 vote.

As chief justice, Rehnquist will serve as the nation's top judge and the "first among equals" on the Supreme Court. When voting in the majority, he will control who writes the court's opinions.

The Senate approved Reagan's only other Supreme Court nomination, that of Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, by a 99-0 vote in 1981.

Sgt. fired for seeking desk job

KAUFMAN, Texas (AP) — A 24-year-old police sergeant was fired after asking to trade her patrol car for a desk.

Lisa Lytle, who is two months pregnant, says her uniform, bulletproof vest and gunbelt no longer fit properly. And she was afraid for the safety of her unborn baby.

"All I'm asking for is a desk job — maybe dispatcher," Mrs. Lytle said after being fired Sept. 11.

"It's just not fair," said Mrs. Lytle. "A cop with a broken leg gets to sit behind a desk, but I have to keep going because I have what they call a 'condition.'

"I don't want to wait until I'm six or seven months pregnant because it could be too late then," she told the Dallas Morning News.

Police Chief Jack Lawley said he has only 10 officers, so it's not easy to move shifts around.

"We have a small police department and all I needed was a little time to rearrange schedules," he said in an interview published today.
