County To Average Over Half Bale To Acre Cotton Crop

With a total acreage of 6500 acres, Schleicher county cotton farmers will be required to gin 3250 bales this year to come up with a county-wide average of one-half bale to the acre.

The yard here is full of loaded cotton trailers each day waiting to be ginned. Working round the clock Mike's Gin is turning out over 100 bales a day and late Tuesday night had passed 2855 bales processed. By the time this paper reaches its readers the total here will pass the 3,000 mark.

Conservative estimates now are that the crop will be somewhere between 3500 and 4000 bales, which will be well over half-bale to the acre on a county-wide basis. Reports have already been made of some dryland cotton making a bale to the acre, and some maintain that dryland cotton is "turning out as good as irrigated cotton," which is more expensive to raise.

Farmers have been fortunate in another area this year that weevil and worm infestation has been at a minimum. Travelers stopping here Tuesday reported heavy rain showers at Sonora and on southwest. Skies were cloudy here Tuesday but no rain fell. Any visitor at the cotton gin had only to remain 15 or 20 minutes before another loaded trailer pulled in on the scales.

If dry weather continues, George Mike's expects the cotton harvest to start slowing down soon. Several farmers have already reported all their crop in and each succeeding week will bring more. A hard freeze would speed up defoliation on the remaining crop. The gin man, of course, would be happy to get the entire crop in, in as short a time as possible.

School Honorees Are Presented

The Rankin Red Devils met the Eldorado Eagles here for the final home game last Friday night on Eagle Field, and Beth McCalla was introduced in pre-game activities as Football Sweetheart.

At half-time of the game, Karen Griffin was named Band Queen.

At the Halloween Carnival Saturday night, Larry McGinnes and Kaye Harkey of the Senior class were the king and queen. The penny-a-vote campaign was conducted throughout the school with each class putting up nominees.

First Baptists Elect New Choir Director

Mr. Dale Ellis, a Senior student at Howard Payne College, has accepted a call from the First Baptist church to be the music and youth director. Dale is a native of McCamey and will graduate from Howard Payne at mid-term. He is 24 years old and single. He will direct the choir program and youth activities, and will arrive on Saturday afternoon each week and stay over the week-end.

Eaglets Overun Yellow-jackets By Score 22 to 6

The Eaglets got off with a bang with a long touchdown run by Wayne Doyle, with Mickey Clark adding the points after, at Menard last Thursday night. Joe Musquiz made an outstanding run as did Mickey Clark. Keith Williams did his usual good playing by intercepting a pass and running a good 15 yards.

The second quarter was much the same with Wayne Doyle adding another 6 points to Eagle's score-board with Bob Page adding the two points after.

The 3rd quarter was much the same as the 1st and 2nd with W. Doyle adding another touchdown. Fourth quarter finds the 7th grade taking over for the Eaglets and doing a good job but Menard finally tallied with 6 points late in the 4th quarter.

Statistics:
Yards rushing: W. Doyle, 117; M. Clark, 70; J. Musquiz, 86; and K. Williams, 34.

The Eaglets will finish the season with Ozona Nov. 4th (today). The Eaglets are coached by Tom Sikes and Nelson Word.

Seniors To Conduct Advance Ticket Sale

The 1966 Senior class of Eldorado High will put on their class play, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," a week from tonight. Curtain time will be 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Nelson Word is directing the play, by John A. Fuller. It is a comedy in three acts.

Tickets will be printed and delivered to the class members by this week end, and an advance sale will be conducted in the Eldorado business district and over town. Adult tickets will be 75c and student tickets 50c.

Proceeds of the play will go into the class treasury to be used for the Senior Trip about the time school is out next Spring. The class will also put on other money-raising projects through the year.

CLARKS MOVING TO TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Clark are expecting to be moved into town at any time now.

Delta Gulf has purchased a lot from Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Ramsay just north of the Ramsay residence. The lot is all ready for the house, which is now located across from the Sinclair plant in Huldale, to be moved onto it.

Mrs. Clark is expecting the movers any day.

Operation EYE - SORE

Under this heading will be recorded activities of a new civic committee which has been formed for the purpose of cleaning up and beautifying the city of Eldorado.

This committee met Monday with Bud Davidson as chairman, along with the following members: Bob Bradley, Ben Keel, Kenneth Vaughan, Mrs. Howard Derrick, Mrs. Bob Sykes, and Mrs. Paul Page.

The purpose of the drive, of course, is to encourage and persuade property owners to improve their own property. Kenneth Vaughan, as spokesman for the group, stated that they will recognize, through this column, those who make noteworthy improvements.

So now if you want to get your name in the paper, get busy and improve something which the committee will notice.

Post Script

The old Murchison house on the Sonora highway is another landmark structure which is falling under the wrecker's hammer.

Fred Watson is having the house torn down and will salvage the lumber and materials.

The landmark four-room structure, of box-and-strip construction, is one of the oldest houses here.

Earl Parker increased his Rambler sales by 25% for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1965.

M. E. Lee from American Motors Sales Corporation office in Dallas, was here Wednesday and presented Mr. Parker with a Longines watch for this achievement.

The Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a meeting tonight, Thursday, on the upcoming deer hunting season.

Game Warden Bill Works will be on hand to discuss hunting permits, and present any new game hunting laws.

The meeting will start at 7:30 in the Memorial Building and refreshments will be served.

A man from the Social Security office will be at the court house Friday, from 1:00 to 2:30 p.m., to answer questions any local residents may have, and help them file claims.

Mr. and Mrs. George Long returned home over the week end from a visit with relatives in Illinois. In Missouri and Illinois they heard reports that crops were exceptionally good but farmers were having trouble harvesting on account of excessive rains.

Driving through countless towns they noted one common feature that distinguished them all—they all had many empty business buildings. This seemed to be true everywhere except in the state of Arkansas, where there seemed to be an industrial boom going on. All the small Arkansas towns seemed to be thriving with new small industries.

Texas Voters Reject Four-Year Terms

Schleicher county voters went along with the rest of Texas in the special election Tuesday in rejecting the proposed amendments to the State Constitution which would have provided four-year terms for the Governor and other top state officials, and for State Representatives.

About 275 local voters turned out at the polls. They rejected Amendment 4 by a vote of 196 to 72, and Amendment 10 by a 205 to 60 vote.

Here were other local returns: No. 1. Financing College Buildings: 167 For, 95 Against.

No. 2. Veterans Land Fund: 178 For, 92 Against.

No. 3. Aid to Needy: 165 For, 102 Against.

No. 5. Teachers Retirement Funds: 145 For, 119 Against.

No. 6. Texas Opportunity Plan (loan fund for college students): 166 For, 103 Against.

No. 7. Hospital Tax Exemption: 107 For, 155 Against.

No. 8. Judges' Retirement: 152 For, 113 Against.

No. 9. Salaries (Lt. Gov. and Speaker): 71 For, 193 Against.

Turn-out of voters over the state was around the predicted 400,000 in this "off year."

Main interest was centered in the No. 4 and No. 10 amendments for the four-year terms.

Over the state of Texas, five of the 10 proposals were approved.

Those receiving the voters' nod were for Financing College Buildings, Aid to Needy, Teachers' Retirement Funds, Texas Opportunity Plan, and Judges' Retirement.

The other five were rejected, although the No. 2 proposal, Veterans Land Fund, lost by only about 10,000 votes.

$103.80 Collected For Overseas Relief

The Trick-or-Treat canvass for C.R.O.P., conducted last Saturday by High School boys and girls, resulted in a total collection of $103.80.

The money collected will go toward helping free people from hunger throughout the world. C.R.O.P. means Christian Rural Overseas Program.

This program has been for several years an annual project of the local Ministerial Alliance, conceived as an effort to help local young people to make a Christian use of Halloween.

MIDNIGHT FIRE

Fire which completely destroyed a small dog house at the B. L. Blakeway house about midnight Friday, also peeled and scorched the siding of the residence. The blaze of undetermined origin was quickly put out on arrival of fire equipment.

Siding on the scorched area will have to be replaced and painted.

Comment:

Only one punter to date has looked anything like a rival for Eagle Fullback Charlie Nixon who this past Friday night kicked five times and averaged 45 yards per boot. Big Lake's Don Childs kicked a prodigious one in the Big Lake-Eagle game but nothing like this for an average. Nixon, a senior, has suffered a troubled season, having dislocated both shoulders as well as other misfortunes a young fellow should not have to encounter so soon. But he survived and had a fine night for his return to the Eagle lineup.

Eagle Schedule For '66 Is Announced

B's To Close Season At Ozona Tonight

Coach Jack Bell will take the "B" football team to Ozona Thursday night (tonight) for their last game of the season. So far this year the team has won three and lost three so they will be seeking win number four.

Such boys as Pat Childers, Pinky Dempsey, Lonnie Gibson, Buff Whitten, Jimmy Mann, Jimmy McGinnes, Jimmy Robledo, Mickey Pennington, Ray Lewis Lozano, Kirk Jones, Steve Whitten, Ross Whitten, Allan Corbell, Albert Torres, Chris Faulk, David Nixon, David Lloyd, Weldon Green and Jesse Bosman have done a good job for the "B" Eagles.

To date the "B's" have scored 85 points with 924 yards rushing and 305 yards passing. The game tonight will follow the junior high game.

The Eldorado Eagles close their 1965 season tomorrow night in Sanderson, one of two division points on the Southern Pacific Railroad between Del Rio and El Paso. The bit about the railroad is quite apropos since the Sanderson football team occupies the District 8A cellar.

Not much has gone right with the Sanderson Eagles this 1965 season. It might be the aftereffects of the destructive flood which wrecked the town this past summer. Their troubles started early in September when a bitter rival, Alpine, gave them a thorough shellacking. And every succeeding dreary Friday, somebody has repeated the shellacking process except this past one. Reason for no shellacking is that Sanderson had a scheduled bye. It is for sure that those bruised, weary, and hopeless lads appreciate even so brief a respite from their season's ordeal.

It looked as if Sanderson might come up with a fair team; but their best prospect, 160-pound Tommy Weigand, moved away; they changed coaches; and nothing but grief has been their lot. And the coaches' lot too.

This is the fourth year of 8A competition for Sanderson. Eldorado has won all three previous encounters: In 1962, 49-8 in Eldorado; in 1963, 58-18 in Sanderson. Last November 4, in spite of Sanderson's posting their best record to date, Eldorado crushed them 38-6 on Eagle Field. Each year Coach Barnett has played everybody but the cheerleaders trying to extend mercy.

Now, this is all very well; but one thing shouldn't be forgotten. It will be rough for somebody to be in the way when Sanderson finds their muscles. They won't know how or when to let up on anything or anybody. It would not be nice for this to happen tomorrow night.

Offensive formation favored by Sanderson is sometimes called the "open T." But when some old timer looks on it, he will probably mutter something to himself that somehow it looks like "Old Notre Dame Box Right and Left" or at least "sorta" that way. Sanderson keeps the line balanced but shifts the backfield over either right or left. In each instance, the end away from the backs slides out a few yards—hence the open end. Their QB Travis Harkins apparently starts to run and as an afterthought passes, favorite targets being Left End Simon Fuentes and Wingback Roy Adams.

Defensively, Sanderson employs a seven-man line, a two-man secondary, and a two-man tertiary. Such an arrangement has been called a "7-box."

Examination of the Sanderson starting lineup doesn't give the impression of impotence. Facts are that getting overconfident with Sanderson would be like using a dud artillery round for firewood. It is liable to go off, and when it does—imagine the pent up frustration, resentment, and hurt pride simmering in this football team. Handle such teams gently but with great care.

Their starting lineup goes like this:

No.	Name	Pos.	Wt.
22	Simon Fuentes	LE	150
75	Don Deaton	LT	160
72	Gene Hope	LG	160
50	Billy Golden	C	201
64	Bobby Allen	RG	160
88	Tom Gray	RE	170
20	Roy Adams	wingback	130
30	Andrew Reiss	RHB	147
33	Roman Gonzales	FB	165
10	Travis Harkins	QB	145

The offensive lineup will probably be as follows:

No.	Name	Pos.	Wt.
81	Donald Rogers	LE	170
76	John Mayo	LT	205
75	Cap. Jim Belk	LG	170
55	Chris McCravey	C	155
66	Steve Blaylock	RG	160
77	Cap. Joe Phillips	RT	200
81	Danny Richardson	RE	160
44	Cap. Sam Henderson	LHB	155
21	Jay Halbert	RHB	145
31	Charles Nixon	FB	170
11	Danny Halbert	QB	150

The Sanderson game will not be just another game for some nine Eagles. They are seniors and this is the end of the high school football road for them. It is indeed a big wide world outside the playing field these days where these lads must transfer next June. They are Captain Scott McGregor, Fullback Charles Nixon, Center Bob Lester, Guard Steve Blaylock, Guard Wayne McGinnes, Guard Captain Jim Belk, End Danny Richardson, End Phillip Montgomery, and Captain Sam Henderson, a halfback.

Because of the distance involved, some 160 miles, the Eagles and Bandmaster Eddie Pace's Eagle band will make the trip by automobile rather than by bus. Blockers for the convoys to take out the deer on the road have not been assigned to date.

(Rudolph Baumgardner is a Texas 4-H club boy who is studying and working in Germany this year. His reports have been very interesting and this one on the food and eating habits of the German people is especially interesting to me. I think you will find this letter worth reading. IFYE stands for International Farm Youth Exchange.)

Dear Friends,

This past month my IFYE experiences brought me to the southern part of Germany to the land of Bavaria. My host family has a modern and well-mechanized 125-acre farm in a level and fertile area south of Augsburg. The main crops are wheat, barley, and sugarbeets. The 45 acres of pastureland support 20 head of Brown Swiss milk cows and about 25 head of calves and yearlings.

Since the grain harvest had been delayed about three weeks because of the cool, rainy weather, we still had some wheat to cut during the middle of September. Although most of it had fallen down, our 8-foot combine did a surprisingly good job of picking it up. The yield which was considered well below normal, was about 45-50 bushels per acre. My main job was baling straw and stacking it in the barn. Practically all of the straw is used to bed the animals in winter.

In this report, I would like to discuss a topic which I have found very appealing—that is, the German food. Although it is difficult to generalize very much because eating habits vary from family to family and in the different parts of the country, I have made a few general observations. For one thing, many families have as many as five meals per day. This was the custom on the farms in earlier times, and many still hold to it. Such a schedule consists of the main meal (and usually the only warm one) at noon with two meals in the morning, one in the afternoon, and one in the evening. However, as a result of better farm mechanization, thus a shorter working day and a reduction in the number of workers, many farm families today have only four or sometimes three meals per day.

The main component of the cold meals is bread. The most popular kind, and also the one I like the best, is a dark, fairly dense bread which contains about 10-20% rye flour. It usually comes fresh from the neighborhood baker in round or oval, three to four pound loaves. It is sliced as it is needed, often with a built-in bread slicer at the table. The light, pre-sliced and wrapped bread that we have in the United States is practically unknown here.

The meals (or meal) in the morning usually consist of buttered bread, some type of fruit preserves or jelly, and coffee or sometimes hot milk. At two families, we had cocoa. When there were two meals in the morning, sliced sausage and cheese was sometimes served in addition to the preserves at one of them. In one family, however, we had corn flakes for the first breakfast. When on the two breakfast schedule, the first one usually comes about 7:00-7:30 and the second at about 10:00 in the morning.

The noon meal as a rule is the main and only warm meal of the day. Often it begins with a soup of some sort. It can be a broth soup—the variety is very large; at one family we even had rhubarb soup several times. The main course then usually includes a meat. It can be roast pork or perhaps roast beef if the housewife wants to be a little extravagant. But meat is rather expensive here, so the cheaper cuts are generally more popular. Potatoes, almost without exception in northern Germany, are included in the noon meal. They are most often steamed, but sometimes mashed. In southern Germany, noodles or rice occasionally take the place of potatoes. When the meat is not served in a sauce or gravy, there is usually a gravy for the meat and potatoes.

The noon meal also very often includes another vegetable. The season of the year tends to influence the vegetable served, since most vegetables come fresh either from the garden or from the market. Among the more popular are asparagus, spinach, green beans, peas, carrots, cabbage, and cauliflower. Very few canned vegetables from the store are consumed, at least not in the summer. One interesting finding for me was that the asparagus here is completely colorless, as it is cut before emerging from the ground. The 8- to 10-inch spears are usually served in a butter or cream sauce. Also, corn for human consumption is almost unheard of.

Salad is also often a part of the noon meal. The word Salat is German for lettuce; and that is what the salads here usually consist of. In northern Germany I found that the lettuce is usually served with milk and sugar over it; in southern Germany, usually with oil and vinegar. It is not unusual to have tomatoes and sliced cucumbers also.

Often there is a dessert, and this is almost always a fruit of some kind. It can be canned apples, pears, plums, or cherries, or fresh strawberries, gooseberries, currants, rhubarb, or grapes. Sometimes pudding is served. As a rare treat on Sunday, ice cream may be on the menu. But I have heard several people say that ice cream is unhealthy because it is so cold.

There is usually nothing to drink with the noon meal, perhaps because of the abundance of sauces and gravies. Also, there is usually a minimum of spices and seasoning and usually very little salt. Thus, most of the foods retain their natural flavors. Often there is no salt or pepper on the table.

The meals in the afternoon and evening also vary some from family to family. Usually the afternoon meal is served about 3:00 to 4:00 p.m. and the evening meal comes about 6:30 to 7:00 p.m. Bread with butter is the main component at both. Sliced sausage, cheese, sometimes soft-boiled eggs, and preserves or jam accompany the bread. Fresh tomatoes, pickles, and radishes are often on the table. The sausage, however, is very important, and there is a spectacular variety of sausage here. There is everything from blood sausage, liver sausage, several similar to bologna, to what is called butcher's sausage which is smoked and cured. The list is endless. Usually sausage is quite a bit cheaper than fresh meat, so much is consumed.

The drink with these two meals can be any of several things. It can be coffee, tea, milk, or peppermint tea; and for the evening meal, it can also be beer. Water is considered something to wash with and to water the hogs and cattle with. As a result one never sees water fountains in any buildings or anywhere. This perhaps comes from the time when not all water was safe to drink. However, today almost all communities have safe public water systems.

Sunday afternoon is a time when company can be expected, so there is usually coffee and several kinds of cakes and fruit tarts on hand. The German pastry is very good and often very rich. It is often accompanied by a generous amount of whipped cream on the top. Usually everyone is expected to try at least one piece of each kind.

This is the way I have found the eating in Germany from my experiences with my host families. It is probably somewhat different in the urban areas. It is possible that the housewives in the city use more pre-processed, ready-to-cook foods from the store. But on the farms I have observed that the housewives use very little canned foods. It is considered the sign of a poor housewife, I am told.

Well, I have only one more host family left now. This last family is in the southwestern part of Germany in the edge of the Black Forest. I am looking forward to my stay there.

Hope things are still fine back home in Texas.

Sincerely,
Rudolph Baumgardner

Miss Woodruff Bride Of Robert Williams

The sanctuary of the Church of Christ in Wolfe City was the scene of the wedding of Miss Carolyn Sue Woodruff and Robert Williams, at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday the 2nd of October. Gary Montgomery, minister of the Wolfe City Church of Christ, was officiant for the double ring service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodruff, Rt. 1, Wolfe City and Mrs. J. Tom Williams and the late J. Tom Williams, Rt. 1, Eldorado, Texas.

The altar setting noted an arched candelabra entwined with greenery, white mums and white satin ribbon bows, flanked with branched candelabra and pots of ferns.

The wedding music was presented by the Boles Home wedding group. The songs were, The Wedding Pledge, Because and the Wedding March.

When given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a white peau de soie and chantilly lace frock designed with white batteau neckline and elbow length sleeves.

The lace jacket was also encrusted with cultured pearls. The bell shaped skirt extended to a train which featured appliques of lace and seed pearls at the hemline.

The elbow length veil of illusion fell from a crown overlaid with chantilly lace, sequins and pearls. The dress was designed and fashioned by the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Woodruff Jr. Long white opera length gloves and a cultured pearl pendant completed her ensemble. She carried a cascading bouquet of frenched carnations with a white orchid.

Miss Cathy Woodruff, sister of the bride was maid of honor and Miss Joan Gardner of Wolfe City was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of sky blue peau de soie, featuring batteau necklines, and bell shaped skirts. Sky blue tulle fell from large blue bows to form the hats. They carried cascading bouquets of carnations.

Billy W. Williams, brother of the groom, was best man and the groomsman and ushers were Richard Runge of Menard, Texas, James Ballard of Wolfe City, and John Lee of Emory.

Jay Lynn Williams, nephew of the groom, and Joe Woodruff, brother of the bride, lighted the tapers.

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of the wedding reception. The bride's table was centered with the bride's bouquet.

The three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom was decorated in pale blue roses. Punch was served from a milk glass punch service. Mrs. John Lee served the cake, Miss Gayle Wallace was at the punch bowl, Miss Mary Kathleen Williams and Miss Lynda Lytal passed rice bags, and Miss Glynda Lytal was at the bride's book.

The bride is a graduate of the Wolfe City High school. The bridegroom is a graduate of Eldorado High School and of Texas A&M University. He is now employed with Ne-Tex Cooperative Oil Mill.

The couple will make their home in Wolfe City.

mission for Blind: Mrs. Alfred A. Ratner of El Paso, Woodrow Wilson Sanderfer of Houston and Frank Robertson of San Antonio. They succeed James R. Curtis of Longview, Burt Risley of Austin and W. Reginald Taylor of Columbus.

Connally reappointed Zeb Fitzgerald of San Marcos, Ed DeLeon of Cuero and Edward Reese of Gonzales to the board of directors of the Gualalupe-Blanco River Authority.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith picked Joe E. Ward of Wichita Falls as his layman appointee to the Interim Committee on Faculty Compensation in State Supported Colleges and Universities.

A Beaumont banker, I. F. Betts, was elected chairman of the Texas Research League at the annual meeting in Austin. Betts replaces Tom Sealy, Midland attorney. The League is a privately financed governmental research agency.

John W. Burcham, chief of insurance for the Texas Employment Commission since 1958, has been named the Commission's general counsel effective November 1.

Pollution Studies

Strong moves to abate present pollution of Texas streams and to prevent further contamination are being made by state agencies.

Texas Railroad Commission continued its series of moves to pinpoint oilfield salt water pollution and outlaw it. Latest was an order giving oil and gas operators in Lipscomb county until May 1 to quit using surface pits for disposal of salt water.

Texas Water Pollution Control Board had a show-cause hearing on seven sewer plant operators in the Clear Lake Basin of Harris and Galveston counties. Plants failed to come up to standards ordered by the Board to protect the NASA center area watercourses from pollution. They were given until February 1 to comply.

Tight rules for the Houston Ship Channel also were proposed by the Pollution Control Board. On December 1, a hearing will be held for suggestions before the regulations are put into effect.

A legislator-citizen committee on pollution, headed by Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo, also held two days of hearings. Committee called in 18 operators of sewer plants in Galveston, Harris and Bexar counties to see what their problems are and what new laws might help improve things.

All of this activity has as its background the new federal law, giving the states until June 30, 1967, to adopt and make plans to enforce purity standards on all their streams. Otherwise, the Federal government will set up its own anti-pollution measures.

Insurance Rate Cut

State Board of Insurance approved an average decrease of 2.9% in Texas workmen's compensation rates, effective December 1.

Annual savings on premiums are estimated at $4.5 million a year. There are about 600 categories of compensation coverage. Some will be increased, some decreased sharply, but the overall average cut will be 2.8%.

Married Men Face Draft

State draft boards in December will be authorized to draft any childless married man, regardless of when he was married, to fill Texas' largest draft call in 12 years—1,714 men.

New policy pertains to men 19 through 25 years old, according to Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director.

Attorney General Speaks

Licensed beauty operators cannot legally work in barber shops, shampooing, tinting or styling hair of male patrons, says Attorney General Carr. Barbers and beauty operators, he cautioned, have separate state licensing laws and regulatory boards.

In other opinions, Carr concluded that the Dallas Junior College District has no authority to tax intangible assets or rolling stock of railroads; and that a "pour and shake" flour is prohibited from sale because it does not meet standard measures and is not designed for "special or limited use."

Second Conference

The second annual conference of the Central Texas Industrial Development Council will be held November 12 at Baylor University in Waco, the Texas Industrial Commission announced here.

Council is comprised of Central Texas community leaders actively engaged in industrial development programs. It is charged with attracting industry to the area and encouraging the expansion of existing industry.

Business Index Down

Texas business activity index dropped 6% during September from an August high, according to the U. T. Bureau of Business Research.

Index still was 7.9% above September of 1964.

Biggest monthly drop was in Dallas (14%). Fort Worth and Houston had small declines and San Antonio a 6% increase.

Business for the first three quarters averaged 12% above the same period for 1964.

Short Snorts . . .

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White proposes strict enforcement of egg laws aimed at off-quality eggs from out-of-state.

Attorney General Carr filed suit for injunction and $3,900 in penalties against O. J. McCullough of Houston for building a dam across the San Jacinto river near Conroe.

Biggest library construction program in Texas under matching funds provision of the Library Services and Construction Act ($175,000) got under way at Brownwood November 4.

Bowie, Carson, Crosby, Ector, Garza, Hill, Jackson and Midland counties received distinguished service awards of Texas State Historical Survey Committee for interest in local history and marking landmarks.

Texas Highway Commission will initiate a study of the Highway Beautification Act bill to determine the manner in which its provisions may be effected.

Governor Connally has approved Neighborhood Youth Corps projects in Olton, Orange, Slaton and Paducah.

College officials and the Texas Education Agency conferred in Austin over the week end on the need for training methods to turn out teachers capable of meeting modern-day requirements of the growing school systems of Texas.

Dr. James E. Peavy, State Health Commissioner, has been named president of the American Association of Public Health Physicians.

Wealthy Houston tobacco dealer, Mair J. Schepps, is being tried here on charges of multi-million cigarette tax fraud.

Austin.—Texas law enforcement officers are urging Gov. John Connally to call a special session of the Legislature to repeal the controversial new Code of Criminal Procedure before it becomes effective January 1.

Texas Police Association has petitions circulating among lawmen in 60 police departments, calling on Connally to do something about the code.

Many lawmen fear forthcoming changes in the statutes will hinder them in combatting crime in Texas. They feel new procedures tend to molly-coddle criminals.

Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr is continuing a series of seminars over the state to explain provisions of the new code. A conference at the University of Texas on November 11-13 will explore it in depth.

State Bar Association, which assumed leadership in putting across the changes after years of study, received praise for its efforts from Civil Liberties Union.

Commented Austin Police Chief Bob Miles, past president of Texas Police Association:

"To be perfectly frank, the more we read of the new code . . . the less encouraged we feel."

Appointments Announced Governor Connally named three new members to the State Com-

STOP! Do You Know Your Bible?

Q. Can the mystery of the Godhead be understood

A. For the invisible things of him from creation of the world are clearly seen, being UNDERSTOOD by the things that are made, even His eternal power and GOD HEAD;
so that they are WITHOUT EX-CUSE. (Rom. 1:20).

Q. Was God ever formed so that he could be seen in person?

A. Before me there was no GOD FORMED neither shall there be any after me. (Isa. 43:10). No man has SEEN GOD at any time (John 1:18). Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor SEEN his shape (John 5:37).

Q. How can we see the Lord God who sent him?

A. Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me but on him SENT me. And he that SEETH me SEETH him that SENT me? (John 12:44, 45).

Game With Rankin Eagles Win Close

It probably isn't very hard to "fire up" the Rankin football team after considering their name and its association. Certainly the Red Devils were in a very competitive frame of mind last Friday night and managed to make a nerve wracking night of it before being humbled 14-12 by the Eldorado Eagles.

The Red Devils racked up 110 yards passing while the Eagles got only 11; but the Demons managed only 118 yards rushing to the Eagles 155. Total yardage shows what a struggle the Red Devils staged.

The first quarter was a scoreless affair which saw Eagle fans becoming somewhat apprehensive; but their fears were allayed in the second quarter when Eagle Fullback Charlie Nixon broke over the right side of his own line from near Rankin's 45-yard stripe and with the help of some good blocking slid past three layers of Rankin defenders and set sail for the Demons' goal line. He was hauled down some eight yards short of the coveted territory as his blocking sputtered a bit on his cruise and fleet Rankin defenders stopped him and then settled down to present a rock-like goal line stand. But the Eagles wouldn't be denied and Captain "Sudden" Sam Henderson zipped over for the first tally about three minutes before the half. Captain Scott McGregor's educated toe sent the ball neatly between the goal posts and the Eagles were out front 7-0 at the end of the first half.

As a result of the first half's showing for the Red Devils, Eagle fans sat back for a bit of well earned relaxation and watched Bandmaster Eddie Pace's Eagle marching band demonstrate how a band should perform the intricate gyrations both bands went through.

The third quarter saw Rankin receive and march across the Eagle goal line in six plays which featured some crunching off tackle ground excursions combined with a 27-yard pass from Red Devil QB Larry Whitesile to Demon end Jerry Lacy for their first score. It had taken them five minutes and 13 seconds to illuminate their side of the score board. But then they "boo-boomed" by trying to run the extra point over for two more glittering points. The Eagles would have none of this and the score stood 7-6 Eldorado.

It stayed that way until the last two minutes and 30 seconds before the end of the game when Eagle Linebacker Chris McCravey earned himself some glory by capturing a Red Devil fumble near their 11-yard line. The Eagles started pounding away for the score and Rankin obliged by drawing a five-yard offside penalty scaled down to two or three because of proximity to the goal line. It gave the Eagles a first down with very short yardage for the touchdown; so Eagle QB Danny Halbert slipped over for the tally and the score stood 13-6 for the Eagles.

As before the place kicking team made up of Jay Halbert and Captain Scott McGregor with the wonderful toe accurately sent the ball between the goal posts for the second extra point.

Before the remaining 150 seconds passed, these two extra points were to be the margin of victory in the old ball game.

The Red Devils came back furiously after receiving the kickoff and drove down the field with their powerful off-tackle slants until Red Devil QB L. Whiteside launched his second "bomb" to Halfback Jim Pettit, the pass-run combination amounting to 37 yards and Rankin's second touchdown.

Again Rankin "went for broke" and two points in an effort to tie up the game; but Messrs. Bobby DeLong, Captain Joe Phillips, and others crushed the effort and the score stood 14-12 for Eldorado.

It had taken the Red Devils only 71 seconds to score their second touchdown; but they now faced a hopeless situation; they were forced to kickoff to Eldorado and the Eagles would have only 82 seconds to kill with the ball in their possession to win the game. This they did although with some ups and downs including a nearly intercepted pass some five seconds before the final horn was due to sound.

However, it just wasn't in the cards for the Devils to win; and the "Good Guys" racked up what could be the final game and fittingly a final victory on Old Eagle Field against a stubborn and capable foe.

Game statistics reflect the truth of this observation:

Letters From Readers

Dear Mr. Editor:
 I am writing this letter to you in the hope that every voter in Schleicher county will be interested in the opportunity that will be theirs on Nov. 9th.

Too many times our voters go to the polls without knowing the facts pro and con about what they are voting for. Since this is the case, the Eldorado P-TA will have at their next meeting a presentation by our School Board members of the proposed changes for our school that will be voted on in the near future.

The P-TA is sponsoring this program so that the public will be adequately informed about every phase of this question. In other words they are not necessarily advocating at this time that the changes be made, but as an obligation vitally interested in our school system, they want everyone to know what the proposals are, and the alternatives, so that each voter will be able to make up his own mind as to his vote.

This meeting will be held in the High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m., and I would like to stress again, you do not have to be a member of the P-TA to attend. Our sole purpose is to inform and we will welcome any and all who will come.

Sincerely,
 Mrs. Ed Meador
 P-TA Program Chairman

P-TA Carnival Held; $775.46 Taken In

The Parent-Teacher Association held its second Halloween Carnival Saturday night at the high school, and it was a howling success.

Supper was served in the cafeteria, booths were set up both inside the school and on the back lawn, and a talent show was held in the auditorium.

Highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Halloween kings and queens. Kaye Harkey and Larry McGinnes were queen and king of high school. Elementary king and queen were Milton Fitts and Judy Hanusch.

P-TA officers said, "We would like to thank everyone who helped to make our carnival a success, and we especially are indebted to Mrs. Bill Maness for the fine job she did in organizing the whole thing."

The P-TA made $775.46 on the carnival which will be used to carry out projects for the year.

It was added, "We'd like to urge EVERYONE in our county to come to our next meeting, Tuesday, Nov. 9 at 7:30 in the high school auditorium. The School Board will conduct a tour of needed school facilities and present the proposed improvements with a time for discussion or questions. The proposed changes will be voted on sometime in the near future."

Cotton Report From Abilene

After a week of little activity, the cotton harvest resumed at a fast pace as several thousand acres of desiccated cotton became ready for machine stripping. The area from Jones county south to Schleicher county was the main source of cotton samples for the Abilene Cotton Classing Office, according to B. B. Manly, Jr. Harvesting in the remainder of the classing area is expected to be slow for a few weeks and probably until after a killing frost, says Manly.

Last week 17,698 samples were classed at the USDA office and the season total rose to 59,518. About 11,000 unclassified samples are on hand. Two additional classers will be added on November 1st which will keep classing more current with sample receipts.

Sample receipts from Schleicher, Tom Green, and Concho counties totaled 3,450 last week. The grades of cotton from the three counties declined slightly but held up remarkably well considering the rains of two weeks ago. Grades and their percentages looked like this: 1% Strict Middling, 27% Middling, 2% Strict Low Middling, 10% Strict Middling Light Spotted, 61% Middling Light Spotted, and less than 1% in the Strict Low Middling Light Spotted and Middling Spotted grades. That is 29% white and 71% light spotted compared to 35% white and 65% light spotted for the previous week.

Staple lengths also declined with 5% 7/8 and shorter, 51% 29/32, 41% 15/16, and 3% 31/32 and longer. Only 49% stapled 29/32 and shorter for the previous week and the average length declined from 29.49/32 to 29.41/32.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced last week that micronaire readings will be a quality factor for 1965 Upland Cotton placed in the Commodity Credit Corporation Loan after October 31, 1965. Last week in District 7, 2% of the samples miked 3.3-3.5, 89% went 3.6-4.8, 8% 4.9-5.1, and 1% miked 5.2-5.4. As an example, the average premium per bale based on the premiums and discounts for the Commodity Credit Corporation Loan would be about 12 points per pound or 60 cents per bale on last week's cotton.

Pressley readings on all cotton classed last week at Abilene were: 2% 70-74, 10% 75-79, 47 per cent 80-84, 26% 85-89, 10% 90-94, and 5 per cent 95 and above. The 76-85 readings are rated as average, 86-95 is strong, and 95 and above is very strong.

Eaglettes Prepare For 1965-66 Cage Season

With the first game a little more than a week away, Coach Jack Bell's Eaglettes are hard at work getting ready for the 1965-66 basketball season.

The Eaglettes have been an offensive power the last three years and a portion of that power still remains. This year, however, Coach Bell feels that defense will be the key factor.

Although the talented Christy Moore has graduated the Eaglettes will have two senior forwards to carry the load. Karen Griffin, a two-year letterman, was all-district last year and scored 343 points.

This group rounds out the 1965-66 team. Other girls from the "B" team will play from time to time on the varsity at home games.
