"I wish I had registered."

That statement has been heard rather often around here the past few days by people who otherwise would be qualified to vote in the Nov. 22 junior college election, but now find themselves on the sidelines because they failed to get their voting credentials.

This is not unusual in an "off" political year. But the junior college proposal is another example of what can take place in these "off" years. Nobody around here, not even the Chamber of Commerce study committee, which guided the junior college application through the action by the State coordinating Board for Colleges and Universities, had any idea before mid-summer that a junior college election was a possibility here this year.

Next year is an "on" year (county, state and federal offices will be filled) at the polls and undoubtedly many more people will qualify themselves as voters. However, the time is here to do so, and prospective voters who have not registered should remember that you have to fill out an application form this time to get your voting credentials. The deadline is next Jan. 31.

Karl Mawhorter, former manager of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, who now is employed as Small Towns Specialist with the Division of State-Local Relations at Austin, got off a quick letter this week congratulating Scurry County on approval of its application for a junior college election.

Mawhorter was on a trip to Ohio when the college coordinating board approved the junior college application last week, and learned of the action when he returned to Austin.

"This certainly must be a gratifying experience to your junior college committee — not only to those now serving, but to the many members of past committees who have been interested through the years," Mawhorter observed. "Their's was the groundwork for this success. There is no need to tell you of the impact of such an institution on the economic, social, cultural and industrial aspects on your community." — WACIL McNAIIR

Beirut University Students Join Fight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lebanese troops and Arab guerrillas battled today across deep valleys and craggy ridges near the Syrian border while in Beirut, the capital, pro and anti-guerrilla student factions fought at the American University.

The renewed fighting between the guerrillas and the army units centered around Rashaya in eastern Lebanon. The Lebanese government has been trying to curb the guerrillas' attempts to use the country as a base for strikes against Israel, fearing painful Israeli retaliation.

The bark of heavy machine guns and the crunch of mortars echoed through the rocky defiles all day. The exchanges appeared to be from fixed positions, with no evidence of any movement by either side.

The Lebanese army is established firmly and in strength in a fortress which crowns the steep mountain on which Rashaya was built. The Lebanese flag continued to fly as proof that the guerrillas had failed to take the fortress when they launched a frontal assault against it Tuesday. They left half-a-dozen dead by the tunnel-like main gate before they withdrew two miles down the road to the villages of Aiha and Kfar Kouk.

These are only a couple of miles from the Syrian border, on the slopes of Mt. Hermon which rises majestically to 9,050 feet.

At the American University, in Beirut, about 200 students supporting the Lebanese government in the dispute with the guerrillas stormed the arts and science building, which had been seized and occupied by leftist proguerrilla elements.

Shouting "Lebanon and independence" and carrying a Lebanese flag, the attackers ripped down guerrilla posters and photographs of Ernesto "Che" Guevara, the Cuban revolutionary who has been lionized by the Arab guerrilla movement.

The proguerrilla students fought back and a number of students on both sides were injured. Riot police made no effort to enter the university. They guarded campus exits to prevent the violence from spilling into the streets.

In Israel, a swing to the right in Tuesday's national election strengthened that country's hawks and slightly weakened the position of Prime Minister Golda Meir's Labor coalition. Nevertheless, the vote represented overwhelming ratification of Mrs. Meir's uncompromising defiance of Israel's Arab foes and the condemnations of the United Nations.

Bank Robberies Continue In Texas

By KATHLEEN McCullough
Associated Press Writer

A bandit wearing a Halloween mask fled without any loot in Fort Worth this morning in another of a current wave of bank robberies and robbery attempts.

The would-be bandit was startled away when a teller at a drive-in window of the Seminary State Bank started screaming.

The teller, Peggy Johnson, said that when the man started to tell her something, she started screaming and dropped to the floor of the drive-in booth.

Another teller said the man, who was driving a red Pontiac station wagon, sped away.

Robbers have been knocking over a bank or two every week in Texas since Sept. 10.

Dallas saw the sixth and seventh attempted bank robberies in the last month Tuesday afternoon. A bandit drove away with $1,000 he took from a drive-in teller at the American Bank and Trust Co. of Dallas Tuesday afternoon.

A scream for help and a passing ambulance with sirens blaring scared a would-be robber into flight Tuesday morning at the Bank of Dallas. This was the second attenpt there. Mid-September a man and a woman drove away with $36,000 from the same bank.

The rash of robberies began mid-September in Houston, hit San Antonio and Lubbock and settled during October in Dallas where Tuesday's robberies were the sixth and seventh.

It's a new breed of robbers who have given up the method familiar to everyone who has seen a typical western or Chicago gangland movie.

The robber now drives up to a drive-in teller's window. That way he never has to leave his car, find a parking place or provide a driver for a getaway car.

Because drive-in teller's windows are sturdy and possibly bullet-proof, this type of robber threatens the jittery woman teller with a bomb threat.

No more trench coats, dark glasses and hats for today's robber. His gear varies widely. Two robbers wore western garb for a dual job Oct. 10 in which they secured $35,704 from the Northeast Houston National Bank and 70 minutes later an undeternined amount from the First State Bank of suburdan Greens Bayou seven miles away.

The robber's disguise was his own foible in Lubbock Oct. 4 when a woman teller became amused as his false moustache started to slip. She dropped to the floor of her drive-in teller booth and the robber drove away. Authorities filed charges against Jimmy A. Bryant, 29, of Lubbock in that attempt.

Three Share Week's Prize In Contest

It got a little crowded at the top last week in the Snyder Daily News weekly football contest.

When all entries had been checked, three remained in a tie for the week's prizes. So, the first and second prize money for the week will be split three ways.

Sharing in the week's prizes with four misses each were Jim Bowers, 1400 Twenty - fifth Street; Sue Carroll, 134 Milburn, and Dale E. Patterson, Box 804, Snyder.

There was only one common miss among the three winners. None foresaw Kansas State's romp over Oklahoma. And, of course the tie between Stanford and UCLA left all three with a standoff.

Another contest begins today and the list of games may be found in sponsors' advertisements on the football contest page of this issue of The Snyder Daily News.

Individual Tax Exemption Eyed

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee is taking up tax relief for individuals after weeks of struggling with more complex tax reform provisions.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said he would push at today's session for an increase in the personal exemption on the income tax from the present $600 to $1,000.

This would cost the treasury about $12 billion and probably would provide greater tax relief than the panel would be willing to grant.

The present $600 exemption has been in effect for 21 years, Gore and a number of other senators argue it is competely inadequate in view of the rise in living costs.

However, the Nixon administration strongly opposes any increase in the exemption.

Gore said his plan would be to substitute a boost in the exemption for two features of the House-passed bill—a low income allowance designed to knock millions of poverty-level families off the tax rolls and a cut in income tax rates across the board for all individuals.

These two features would provide $7.2 billion of the $9.2 billion of tax relief in the House version of the bill.

The House measure would grant $2.4 billion more in relief in addition to the $6.8 billion it gains through tax reform. A number of senators have contended their branch should try to narrow this gap, or at least not increase it.

But Finance Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., has said he would not be surprised if the Senate boosts the tax relief.

Long's committee appears well on its way toward meeting its goal of completing work on the mammoth tax bill by its Friday deadline.

A substantial part of the House reform package has been retained, but the Senate committee has made many changes in it.

The panel added a provision Tuesday which the Treasury said would correct a substantial abuse.

This would put close limits on amounts professional men, chiefly doctors, can put into tax-free pension contributions to corporate pension plans for their benefit.

But the committee softened greatly one House provision aimed at abuses by operators of tax exempt private foundations.

Nixon Returns To Political Wars

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has returned to the political wars after almost a year's lull, employing his standard campaign stance as though 1968 never ended.

Nixon, who flys to New Jersey tonight in behalf of that state's Republican candidate for governor, went into Virginia Tuesday evening to stump for the GOP gubernatorial candidate there.

Speaking before 5,000 or more at the Salem-Roanoke Valley Civic Center, Nixon drew cheers from the start when he simply stood at the rostrum and flung his hands wide in a gesture reminiscent of the 1968 campaign.

Not only were the gestures a replay of 1968; so were the issues he raised.

In an area long devoted to the cause of states' rights, Nixon said his administration finally is doing something about moving power out of Washington and back to "states and the people."

He also came out on the side of law and order and those who abhor narcotics and obscenity.

Nixon was accompanied on his Virginia foray by Patrick Buchanan, often labeled his "conservative" speechwriter. There was a possibility that Raymond Price, generally regarded as his "liberal" speechwriter, might go with him to New Jersey.

Nixon went to Virginia to campaign for Republican Linwood Holton who is facing Democrat William C. Battle in a tight race for governor.

Responding to the welcoming cheers—and indirectly noting a contention by Battle that Holton has been bringing in campaigners who have "no more interest in Virginia than a fly-by-night butterfly"—Nixon said:

"All I can say is that's quite a welcome for an outside agitator."

In 1968 it seemed Nixon had a personal local connection almost everywhere he went and it was thus Tuesday night. He told his audience that, except for California and the District of Columbia, he has lived longer in Virginia—as a federal bureacrat before his World War II Navy service and later as a member of Congress—than in any other state.

Air Defenses Cut Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today disclosed a sharp reduction in U.S. air defenses and retirement of the country's only supersonic bombers in connection with closing or curtailment of 307 military bases and other economy actions.

Some of the defenses against possible bomber attack will be shifted to the Air National Guard, which will be given better fighters.

Some of the deepest air defense cuts will come in Florida, where three weeks ago a Cuban MIG17 jet evaded the U.S. radar net by flying close to the ocean surface as its pilot defected to the United States.

Another area where air defense will be weakened is Alaska, where U. S. territory approaches closest to the Soviet Union.

Many of these actions will take place by January, as part of the Pentagon's forced-draft effort to save up to $3 billion this fiscal sear.

They follow Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's announcement Monday of curtailment of the military base program, including 280 bases in this country, details of which were announced today.

Homes Threatened By Earth Crack

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — A huge crack in the earth at a clifftop residential viewsite opened wider today, tumbling a expensive home toward the Pacific Ocean.

"The house is 30 feet down the cliff and still visibly moving," said a police officer. "It went that far in just 15 minutes."

The fissure's new expansion ripped out a water main at the edge of the block-long crack, two to three feet wide in places. Utility workers shut off water and electricity.

Residents had been evacuated and officers kept spectators behind safety lines. The fissure runs along scenic Paseo del Mar Drive at the top of a 200-foot cliff in this Los Angeles suburb.

City authorities estimate six other oceanfront lots and homes were slipping toward the sea at an undetermined rate. Officials placed the seaward slippage at three-sixteenths of an inch per hour on Tuesday, but thought it had speeded up today.

Another home of the seaward side of the opening was rated in precarious position. Three guest homes at other residential sites were given up for lost.

Just a hairline crack at first, it caused little concern until it opened into a gaping 300-foot-long fissure at dusk Sunday.

The area has a history of land slippage. Pacific waves eat at the base of the cliff and heavy winter rains have loosened blocks of earth along the top of the cliff in the past.

George Smith, whose home developed a huge hole in a wall when earth gave way under the foundation, says waves have eroded the cliff in the 16 years he has lived there and "neither the city nor the county could see any reason for building a retaining wall to stop the wearing." The Smith home was valued at $60,000 before the land opened up.

United Fund Total Grows

The Scurry County United Fund Campaign advanced beyond the $26,000 mark ths morning and figures from this morning's report session for workers were still being tabulated at noon.

All workers in the campaign had been asked to make progress reports this morning.

The Scurry County United Fund is seeking a total of $40,638 to support operations of nine agencies.

Pat Nixon Better

WASHINGTON (AP) — The condition of Mrs. Richard M. Nixon was reported improved today although a low-grade fever persisted as a result of what the White House called a 24-hour virus.

Her daughter, Julie Nixon Eisenhower, who had been stricken with the same ailment Monday evening, was said to have recovered at her home in Northampton, Mass.

Former Priests Wed

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The San Antonio Express reported Wednesday that two former local Roman Catholic priests were married Saturday in separate civil ceremonies.

Benjamin F. Bonnaza, a priest for 15 years, and Carlos Juenke, ordained three years ago, were married in Austin and Seguin, respectively the newspaper said.

New Records System For Motor Vehicles Explained

W. C. Beyer, district supervisor of the motor vehicle division of the Texas Highway Department, told county tax office employes from Snyder and area towns, local car dealers and other interested citizens that 7,000,000 vehicle registration records maintained by the state comptroller's office have been "computerized." He spoke last night in the Scurry County Coliseum.

"We're going to a new system for the first time this year," he said, "that should result in better service to the public and easier record keeping by the various counties and the state."

Beyer said about 6,500,000 vehicle renewal documents will be mailed out to vehicle owners in the state this year and in the early part of 1970. The documents will contain such information as the owner's name, weight of vehicle, description and annual registration fee.

Vehicle owners are urged to take the renewal document to their county tax office to obtain license plates. Possession of the document is proof of title and a 1969 license receipt. Thus it will not be necessary to have the vehicle title and license receipt when applying for plates if the owner has the renewal document.

There are certain exceptions to this rule. For instance, these documents are not being mailed to owners who need 72-hour permits, to owners of farm trailers or trailers with a gross weight over 4,000 pounds or house trailers with a gross weight in excess of 5,000 pounds. Owners of these type vehicles must apply for their plates in the usual manner, and they will be issued a universal form with the correct information concerning their vehicles on it.

If there is any incorrect information on the renewal document that is mailed to the owner, then he has to apply for a universal form at the tax office in order to receive his plates. However, receipt of the form through the mail is still proof of title and registration. The only exception to this rule is when only the address of the recipient is listed incorrectly. Then, tax office employes will simply make the correction on the form when the owner brings it in.

April 30 is the last day that the renewal document may be used. After that, owners must apply at the tax office for a universal form and plates. Owners who have received the document who have sold their vehicle are asked to destroy the form.

The universal form will have different colors for different types of vehicles.

Beyer also pointed out that, this year for the first time, owners may apply for their plates through the mail by sending in the renewal document to the tax office. Counties are authorized to charge $1 handling fee. March 1 is the suggested cutoff date for processing mailed applications since plates are required to be on vehicles by April 1. The only exception to this is when mail arrives from out of state or from servicemen stationed out of state or overseas.

Persons who desire personalized plates who do not receive the vehicle renewal documents through the mail may apply for them at the tax office.

Universal forms for unusual types of vehicles will be available at Post Offices throughout the state after Dec. 29.

Others who appeared on the program included John Parker, investigator for the Texas Highway Department out of Lubbock; Gene Dieterich, investigator out of Midland; and Walter Nelson, supervisor from the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Don Adams, Scurry County tax assessor - collector, was master of ceremonies. He introduced the employes of his office.

Pleas are Heard In County Court

Rudolph T. Sweet of Hobbs, N.M. and Anderson Davis, Jr. of Snyder both entered pleas in county court yesterday.

Davis pleaded innocent to a charge of illegal possession of beer, wine, whiskey and vodka. The offense allegedly occurred Sunday, and the suspect was nabbed by Sheriff's Authorities. He was released on $500 personal bond.

Sweet pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was arrested Tuesday by Highway Patrolmen. He was handed a $100 fine plus court costs and a 30-day jail term. However, the fine and jail term both were probated for one year.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How can my husband tactfully tell his father that he doesn't want anymore homemade haircuts? Due to the rising cost of haircuts, my husband and his father have had a reciprocal hair cutting arrangement.

My husband has been putting up with "bowl jobs" hoping his father would notice and heed his suggestion of going back to a professional barber, but it hasn't worked out that way.

We are now sorry we ever heard of "HOME BARBER KITS" and would be more than willing to pay the going price for a decent haircut. Please help us. My husband doesn't want to hurt his father's feelings, but he just can't take any more home barbering.

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: It's mighty sweet of your husband to be so considerate of his father's feelings, but there is a solution to his problem. He must say, "Look, Pa, you're a wonderful father, but a lousy barber. Let's stay out of each other's hair from now on. The barbers have to live, too."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our marriage is in serious trouble. Shortly after I married, I found out that my husband lived with a friend with whom he had a homosexual relationship. I didn't forgive OR forget, even tho he assured me that it would never happen again.

I worried myself sick every time he went out or came home late from work. We saw counselors, doctors, and a priest who said little other than it was something that he would have to fight all his life — like alcohol. That didn't comfort me much. Anyway, I don't think he has any more such "affairs," but he doesn't want much to do with me either. Bathing, perfuming, and looking sexy doesn't do a thing. After 11 years of practically no sex like I have been tempted to go out with other men, but that would be a terrible thing to do to my two children. My marriage is messed up enough already. Please give me some advice. Maybe some of your readers know more about this subject than I do. Sign me. . . .

"TROUBLED OUT WEST"

DEAR TROUBLED: My authorities on this subject tell me that homosexuality is "learned," and can be "unlearned" IF (and this is a big "IF") the patient is properly motivated, which most of them are not.

Your husband is bi-sexual, which need not preclude him from being a good husband.

Your words, "I didn't forgive or forget" leads me to suspect that your unforgiving attitude shows, and is driving your husband away.

Your only hope is to insist that he see a psychiatrist; otherwise your marriage doesn't have a very rosy future.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My Alvin and I haven't been married very long and now he has asked me for a once a week night "out" with the "boys." I will let him go if you say it is all right, Abby, but I wonder if maybe it could be dangerous.

ALVIN'S BETTY

DEAR BETTY: There is nothing dangerous about it as long as the "boys" ARE boys.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the lady who wrote to you about the engineer's wife who was so lazy that she left her dirty dishes in the oven. Thanks a million for the idea! I'd been leaving mine right out in the open for everyone to see until I read that.

ANOTHER ENGINEER'S WIFE

Car, Money Abandoned, Temporarily

City Police Patrolman D. Tullis discovered a money bag containing $567 in an abandoned car early this morning, but officers later determined the money was not stolen when the car owner returned later to claim it.

Chief of Police Stephen Clark said the car — a 1965 Model Ford — had apparently been abandoned in a ditch at the intersection of Huffman Avenue and the Old Lubbock Highway. Tullis spotted the vehicle at 6:15 a.m. today, Clark said, and went into the ditch to see if the vehicle was occupied. He opened the door and saw the money bag. It was a blue bank bag, and it contained the unusual amount of cash.

Police took possession of the bag, but later released it to the owner when he returned to Snyder to claim it. He was identified as J. E. Carlisle of Sweetwater.

"He said his car ran into the ditch, and he apparently forgot about the money," Clark said. He added that officers thoroughly checked the incident and determined that Carlisle is the valid owner of both the vehicle and the money.

No Decision In DWI Trial Here

The trial of Bobby Morris on a driving while intoxicated charge in county court yesterday ended in a hung jury.

The case stemmed from a collision Jan. 24 in the 2500 block of Avenue S. The case was heard by a jury of six men, who deliberated the proceedings an hour and forty minutes before concluding that they had reached an impasse.

Officials indicated the case may be set on the docket for trial at a later date by a new jury.

Morris had pleaded innocent to the charge.

Patrolman Killed In Accident

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — Sgt. Floyd W. Ethridge, 35, of the Texas Highway Patrol was killed Tuesay night when his state car slipped off a jack and fell on him.

He was working on the vehicle at his home in Palestine.

Ethridge, married and father of a son, 13, joined the Department of Public Safety May 16, 1957.

After graduation from the training academy he was stationed at Brownsville until his promotion to sergeant Dec. 1, 1965, and transfer to Childress. He was sent here last Feb. 1.

RIVER ROAD? — This 2-ton dump truck driven by Lana K. Powell, 104 Thirty-fifth Street, crashed through a bridge guard rail in the 1100 block of Twenty-fifth Street at 9:50 p.m. Tuesday and came to rest in the creek bed. She and her husband, Johnnie Powell, both escaped injury and damage to the truck was negligible. Damage to the rail was estimated at $200.

Drizzle Endures Across State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Drizzly weather hung on across Texas today as a fresh cold front headed into western areas of the state.

Arrival of the chilled air was expected to dispel a brief warm-up in all except South Texas, dropping temperatures several degrees below freezing in the upper Panhandle by early Thursday.

Light rain or drizzle was scattered through all sections except far West Texas around El Paso and along the coast in the vicinity of Palacios, where skies were clear this morning.

The added moisture served to keep moderate floods pouring down some streams in South Central Texas, where heavy rains the past two days swelled the Frio and Nueces Rivers past bankfull in places northwest of Corpus Christi.

Ban Put On Pesticides

By BILL STALL

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California's agriculture director said today he believed the use of the pesticides DDT and DDD would be eliminated from the state's fields, gardens and homes in two to three years.

"We have every expectation of phasing it out completely by then," said Jerry W. Fielder, who was an alfalfa hay processor in Dixon, Calif., before becoming state farm chief.

Fielder announced Tuesday a ban on the use of DDT and DDD on 35 food and forage crops, 12 seed crops and for control of flies and pests on farm animals, effective Jan. 1.

"This is a major step in our phaseout program of DDT and DDD in California," said Fielder. "When the new regulations become effective, we expect that the use of these two pesticides in California will be reduced by about 50 per cent."

Altrurian Program By Mrs. Odom

The Altrurian Club met Friday afternoon, Oct. 24, with Mrs. J. A. Eubank as hostess. The President, Mrs. Henry George, received the guests in the place of Mrs. Eubanks who was unable to attend.

In the business session the club voted to contribute to the musical scholarship for some Snyder school student as planned by Mr. J. D. Smith of the school musical faculty.

Also the club joined other clubs with a donation for the kitchen shower for Martha Ann Woman's Club, sponsored by the Snyder Garden Club. The Education Committee Chairman, Mrs. W. P. King spoke of the coming election for the Junior College and urged support of the project. Mrs. Nellie Smith of the Public Affairs committee gave some information on the taxes involved in the establishment of the college. Other committees reporting were Fine Arts, Texas Heritage and International Affairs.

The program of the day was brought by Mrs. Dewey Odom. She gave a most informative talk on the newly formed countries of East Africa, and showed beautiful pictures of some of the places she visited on a recent tour. Most surprising to most of her listeners was a showing of the huge parks which are animal preserves. Mrs. Odom proved herself an intrepid photographer with close-ups of lions, elephants, flamingoes, and many other animals which are being protected from hunters.

The cities of Rhodesia and Ethiopia were modern and opulent. The hotels equal or better than in most other countries. She showed several slides of the majestic Nile River and the Victoria Falls.

A dessert plate was served to 18 members.

C-City To Host Fall Meeting

Beta Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society will be hosts to the Alpha State Regional Fall meeting at Colorado High School, Colorado City, Saturday November 1.

Directors of the region will be in charge of the meeting. They are: Mrs. Whit Clark of Rotan, who is State Chairman of the Committee on Research, and Miss Sara Millia Hill of Eldorado, a past president of the State Delta Kappa Gamma Society.

Mrs. Clark is presently an English teacher at Rotan High School. She received her BA from Abilene Christian College and her MA from Hardin Simmons.

Miss Hill is a retired teacher, having taught art at Sul Ross for 25 years.

Mary Devenport, president of the Zeta Lambda chapter will head the list of members from Snyder who will attend the meeting.

Juice drained from canned fruit can be used for part of the liquid in making up packaged fruit-flavored gelatin desserts.

Teachers Installed At Meet

A Halloween motif was the theme when the Zeta Lambda Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Monday evening at the Union Community Center. Women teachers new to the Snyder system were guests at the salad supper. Smal tables set for four held varied Halloween decorations, and the buffet table was decorated with a large papier mache pumpkin filled with chrysanthemums.

Following the supper a skit was presented to the members and guests depicting the meaning of Delta Kappa Gamma. Members presenting the skit were Vestal Maner, as the judge, Pauline Turner, the bailiff, Bobbye Combest, defense attorney, Barbara Bigham, porsecuting attorney, Evelyn Boone, Miss Frumpy, Philomen Kelley, Mrs. Vanderbilt Van Snoot, Dorothy Miller, Mrs. Stan Pat, Marlbeth Vestal, Miss Innocence M. Mature, Georgene Galloway, Mrs. Delta Kappa Gamma and June McGlaun, Miss Zeta Lambda.

Following the program, two new members were initiated into the Society; Mrs. Margie McNair and Miss Alta Nations.

Hostesses for the meeting were Lillian [illegible], Pauline Turner, Elwanda Nall and Maydelle Burns. Thirty two members and guests were present.

'You Gotta Have Heart'

By ROLAND PRINZ
Associated Press Writer

SALZLBURG, Austria (AP) — Karl Boehm, one of the world's foremost conductors, urged modern composers to strive for more "inspiration and heart" to win over the majority of music lovers around the globe.

Boehm was in Salzburg rehearsing Richard Strauss' "Der Rosenkavalier," opening work of this year's Salzburg Festival.

Boehm, who was 74 Aug. 28, looked youthful and appeared unaffected by the laborious schedule of concerts and rehearsals in Vienna, Bayreuth and Salzburg. Asked about the evident slowness with which contemporary music catches on in Europe's main concert halls, the Austrian maestro said:

"What I fail to trace in many contemporary compositions is form. Music like any art is form . . . art without form does not exist. What is more, in many works today there is also a lack of 'heart.'

"The audience will invariably sense whether the artist — be it the recreating conductor or the creative composer — is involved with his very soul, or whether he isn't."

Boehm suggested that the most new-fangled tone patterns will not do if the music is too abstract, if the audience does not feel the immediate, captivating pull.

Boehm's excellence in interpreting the works of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart and his friend and tutor, Richard Strauss, has been praised from New York to Berlin and to Tokyo. He is guest-conducting in virtually all major concert halls and opera houses in Europe and America.

Those who regard him as the grand old master, solely attached to the works of Mozart, Strauss, Beethoven and Bruckner, are mistaken, though.

Boehm, who holds a doctorate in law from Karl Franzens University in his native Graz, also conducted some of the works of the most advanced exponents of modern music. In the late Twenties, the maestro was acquainted with Alban Berg and Paul Hindemith. It was Boehm who championed Berg's controversial operas "Wozzeck" and "Lulu," nowadays widely performed on the world's top opera stages.

Much of the blame for today's situation in modern music goes to overly tradition - minded concert goers, Boehm said.

"If you put the modern piece at the beginning, people will flock in after intermission; if you place it at the end they leave earlier. What you have to do is to sandwich it in between, as I have always done it," he said.

Misses the Brawls

What angers Boehm most is widespread indifference on the part of many concert goers and their reluctance to commit themselves for or against certain works and their composers.

"What I miss is the willingness to take a stand, to take sides. When I was a youngster hearing concerts from the galleries, Brahms fans would fight Bruckner fans and vice versa. They even kicked and slapped each other. When a Brahmsian extolled a certain work he got his ears boxed by a Bruckner fan."

Boehm says, "I am no clairvoyant to predict concert programs in the coming years. I know that it will be necessary to explore new ways. We cannot eternally thrive on the traditional substance. Nevertheless, I hope the day will never come when Bach and Mozart will no longer be played."

"But new ones must make their appearance — we need them badly, above all in the opera. . . What we need would be a modern Puccini . . . but where is he?" the maestro asked.

Boehm summed up what he feels modern music must develop to become universally accepted: "The Moderne must present something which attracts the audience. I imagine it must be something quite different, quite new which captivates people both through its form and through emotions it evokes."

Boehm was born in Graz, Austria, and first intended to follow in his father's footsteps as a lawyer. In addition, however, he received music training, first in Graz and later in Vienna.

At the end of World War One, two paths were open to him — he held a doctorate in law, and he had equal preparation in music. He did return to Graz where he became first conductor of the opera house.

A colleague brought his work to the attention of famed Bruno Walter, who summoned Boehm, then 27, to Munich were he stayed for six years. At the end of this period, he became general music director at Hamburg. Later he succeeded Fritz Busch at Dresden Opera.

From 1950 to 1954, Boehm presided over the German repertoire at the Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires, which, he says, had the best acoustics of all houses he conducted in.

After taking over the direction of the Vienna State Opera in 1955, Boehm resigned in 1956 to devote his time to guest appearances around the world.

Cats Leer Witches Jeer

The cats leer. The witches jeer. Spooks dance and goblins prance. It's time for Halloween!

If you don't give a hoot for Halloween parties, reconsider this year. Few occasions offer little children greater opportunities for plain old - fashioned merriment. And whether you are a mother or a grandmother, you will find full scope for using your own vivid imagination.

An early after-dinner gathering is an ideal time for a child's Halloween party. Especially so this year. The date falls on a Friday. There is no school next day, so youngsters can enjoy the luxury of staying up a few hours beyond their usual bedtime.

Light refreshments are usually more exciting to children than dinner, and certainly easier to prepare. If you plan a chapteroned stroll to show off costumes to the neighbors, serve apple cider and thickly-frosted cupcakes beforehand, and — if the night is cold — have a big pitcher of hot chocolate and cookies to serve when you return.

A spooky decor will add to the fun, such as a sideboard centerpiece featuring witches that appear to glide through eerie, leafless trees. The "trees" are made of driftwood and manzanita branches, the witches are small, inexpensive dolls with black felt robes, corn husk brooms and scraggly white hair.

At the base of this arrangement is a luxuriant combination of natural dried material in shades of orange, beige, and brown. Woodroses with their exquisitely thin, crackly petals, miniature star straw flowers, pinecone rosettes, and fuzzy grey-green safflowers with their jaunty orange tips reflect both the mood of Halloween and the beauty of fall. And all are in plentiful supply at florist shops this time of year.

A few days after the party, remove the witches from the driftwood or manzanita branches and the famiy will continue to enjoy the dried flower arrangements well into the fall.

Surprise the family with fresh flowers at breakfast time! There are few better ways to begin the day. Fill eggcups with daisies, and place one cup at each setting.

Grilled Cheese Sandwiches

Sliced bread
Sliced cheddar cheese
Long slivers of scallion (green onion), some green top included
Mayonnaise

Make sandwiches of the bread, cheese and scallion. Spread both outer sides of each sandwich with mayonnaise. In a heavy skillet or on an electric griddle slowly grill the sandwiches until golden brown on both sides and cheese has partly melted. Cut in half and serve at once.

Skillet Vegetables

2 tablespoons salad oil
1½ cups diagonally sliced carrots, (¼-inch thick)
1½ cups diagonally sliced celery, (¼-inch thick)
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
1 tablespoon butter
½ cup pitted ripe olives, halved

Heat oil in large skillet. Toss carrots and celery into skillet; coat with oil. Sprinkle onion on top. Cover and steam over high heat for about 3 minutes. Stir in butter and olives. Turn into serving bowl. (If using electric skillet, use 375-degree setting throughout cooking.) Makes 4 servings.

Nation's Auto Wreckers Accomplished Major Feat

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business AKNALYST

NEW YORK (AP) — A remarkable feat was accomplished last year by the nation's auto wreckers, For the first time in memory they disposed of more vehicles than were abandoned, a score of something like 9 million to 7.5 million units.

Dismantling, ripping, grinding, hacking, compacting, baling, burning and burying, some 15,600 companies employing 98,500 workers reduced the nation's incredible backlog of automotive junk to less than 30 million units.

If you think this is no major feat, consider what the odds must be in the junkyard battle:

Adding to the pile each year is the production of the world's largest, most automated and sometimes wealthiest companies. The big car companies have been turning out hundreds of thousands of vehicles for decades, In this year alone their production will exceed nine million units.

Trying to keep pace is a disposal industry made up of many small companies without production lines—17 per cent are one-man operations—often using primitive methods, poorly financed and often poorly managed, scrambling to "outproduce" Detroit.

Gradually, however, the odds might be changing for a preliminary draft of a study just completed by the Commerce Department shows that, surprisingly, the efforts of these small companies add up to a huge industry indeed.

Shipments by auto wreckers in 1967 totaled $5.3 billion, for example, a figure equal to shipments of aircraft engines and parts, and which exceeds by far the dollar value of radio and television receiver shipments.

Technology also is helping the industry become more efficient and productive and some companies, in fact, have installed production lines to dismantle vehicles for their individual parts or for sale as junk.

The study recommends, among other things, that:

The federal government consider a program of loans, technical research and grants to assist industry and local governments to build scrap shredders, balers and incinerators for processing automotive scrap.

—The federal government should study the technical, economic and national defense benefits which might result from stockpiling of motor vehicle scrap.

—States should enact legislation to protect auto wreckers from legal action or harassment resulting from picking up or accepting motor vehicles presumed to be abandoned or disposed of by owners.

A person who has deen forced to abandon his vehicle for next to nothing might receive a surprise to learn from the report that the average revenue obtained from a dismantled vehicle is about $587.

It is not unusual, the report states, for dealers to pay $500 to $1,000 for a late model junked vehicle with many salable parts, although the average price of all cars purchased for dismantling appears to be about $334.

Most of the wrecker's income is earned from selling parts rather than from selling the scrap metal, and facilities also are lacking for reducing the scrap to salable bales or shreds.

Mobile Homes Sales Increasing

NEW YORK (AP) — Five years ago the sales of motor homes were so small that no statistics are available. This year producers expect to turn out about 25,000 vehicles worth $375 million.

A motor home can be driven like a truck. It consists of a living compartment, replete with kitchen, dining area, lounge, sleeping quarters and a tub or shower, mounted on a truck chassis up to 30 feet long and equipped with its own engine and steering mechanism. Price averages around $8,500.

A mobile home differs from a motor home in that the mobile home is towed and is generally mounted on a foundation for year around living. . .

The motor home industry credits increased prosperity and leisure time for its dramatic surge in business.

Winnebago Industries, Inc. of Forest City, Iowa, claims to have been expanding at four times the rate of the industry as a whole.

The company has been doubling its sales every year since 1965 when revenues were $2.9 million. For the first half of the company's current fiscal year which ended in August, sales were $26.4 million, not too far behind Winnebago's total fiscal 1968 sales of $33.4 million.

Winnebago is in first place in motor home volume with about a fourth of the market. Its sales exceed those of the next three largest producers — Explorer, Tavco and Lifetime—combined.

The corporation said it is first in profits—with earnings of $2.4 million in 1968.

Winnebago's president, John Hanson, 56, was a furniture owner 11 years ago when a producer of house trailers in Forest City failed.

Hanson let his wife mind the store and he entered the trailer business.

The turning point came in 1965 when Hanson took Winnebago into the motor home business. He had not done any formal research into the market before he made his move.

"We always went into our own backyard to see what people wanted," Hanson recalled.

For four years, the company has been enjoying a seller's market. Winnebago and other manufacturers say they have been unable to meet the demand for motor homes.

That situation, however, is changing, Hanson said.

"We are just switching over to a buyers' market," he said.

Meeting Underway In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico Atty. Gen. David Franco Rodriguez has told a U.S.-Mexican delegation in Mexico City that "Mexico will not stand by with its arms folded waiting for other countries to come and solve a problem that falls under Mexico's jurisdiction,"

Rodriguez referred to the problem of controlling illegal drug production and traffic between the two countries.

A meeting is underway in the Mexican capital to try and come up with a solution to what is considered a major problem:

The Mexicans are still perturbed about the United States' Operation Intercept, a 20-day affair last month designed to halt the flow of narcotics into the United States by tightening border inspections.

Mexicans say Intercept was merely a means to force Mexico to work on stopping the production of drugs and marijuana.

Jumping To Conclusions With Boyle

By HAL BOYLEL

NEW YORK (AP — Jumping to conclusions:

The wearing of boots is popular today with both young men and young women, and probably this reflects a feeling of frustration about our present society common to both sexes. They seek peace of mind, but the boots symbolic their unconscious, aggressive desire to stomp on whatever is bothering them and crush it.

Many people now are turning much or more than it used to, but the inflationary spiral won't really reach its peak until men start tipping hatcheck girls four bits instead of a quarter.

Many people now are turning to painting as a way to express themselves. This is a fine idea, but the trouble with encouraging them by praising one of their paintings is that they are likely to press it on you as a gift. This means that, whenever they visit you, it is necessary for you to run down to the basement or scurry up to the attic to find where you hid it, then dust it off, and hang it on the living room wall until they leave. That is simply too much to ask in the name of art.

Nothing is impossible to a man who has the character to eat eight prunes for breakfast every morning of his life not because he likes them but because someone in his youth once told him they were good for him.

How much more romantic the world might seem if the same fine creative musical talent that is expended on television commercials was spent in composing our love songs!

Two out of five Americans don't know whether rutabaga is a musical instrument, a vegetable, or a kind of knapsack, and if you do tell these two what it is, one of them will think you're a smart aleck for bringing up the subject anyway.

Some fellows now are letting their sideburns grow so long they meet under their chins and form a semicircle. It does give them an interesting look—sort of as if their faces were skipping rope.

An old-timer is a man who can remember when all electric lights were turned on by pulling a beaded brass chain.

Wives complain as they get older that it becomes harder and harder for them to get their husbands' attention. Science finally has come up with the reason: any steady noise of 100 decibels or over can in time cause loss of hearing in a man.

Every generation creates its own slang that flowers and fades. An example is mazuma, an oldtime slang term for money. If you mentioned mazuma to a modern teen-ager, he probably would think you were talking about an obscure Egyptian belly dancer.

Happy is the heart that uses its rainy days to remember unforgotten rainbows.

Junior Editors Quiz on JOAN OF ARC

QUESTION: What does "Arc" mean in Joan of Arc?

• • •

ANSWER: Joan of Arc, or Jeanne d'Arc, as the French call her, is one of the most famous characters in human history. A simple French peasant girl born in 1412, she became well known in her native village because of her kindness to others and her religious faith. As a girl, Joan heard voices which she insisted were from heaven and which told her that she was to assist in liberating France from England, which was then in occupation of her country. This simple unlettered girl actually persuaded the French king to let her lead the French armies, which she did with amazing success, standing at last at the side of Charles VII as he was crowned king of France. Her mission accomplished, Joan asked to be allowed to go home. But Charles insisted that she go on battling the English forces. Then came disaster; Joan was wounded, finally captured by the English and imprisoned. She was accused of witchcraft, told she must repudiate the story of her voices heard from heaven; otherwise, she would be burned at the stake. Joan's amazing courage at this point captures our hearts. Rather than deny what she so truly believed in, she allowed herself to be burned to death. Later, Joan was pronounced innocent and was made a saint in the Roman Catholic Church. The word "Arc" was the last name of her father, Jacques d'Arc.

On the area scene, Gail will be at Dawson, Hermleigh hosts Wilson, and Ira will be at Blackwell Friday night while Hobbs will enjoy an open date.

In District 3-AAA, Lamesa hosts Estacado, Brownfield visits Levelland, Dunbar invades Lake View, Sweetwater entertains Littlefield and Colorado City hosts Stanton for Homecoming. Kickoff in the varsity Tiger game is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday at Slaton.

Perry, Cougs Reclaim 1st

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ron Perry came off the bench in the second half and made a big difference for the Carolina Cougars.

Perry scored 18 points and helped the Cougars reclaim first place in the tightly bunched Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association by beating Miami 118-103 Tuesday night.

In other games, Pittsburgh nipped Dallas 112-111 and Los Angeles downed Denver 126-118 in overtime.

In the NBA, Baltimore beat Detroit 125-110, Boston whipped Milwaukee 120-107, New York topped Atlanta 128-104 and Chicago shaded Seattle 16-114.

Miami jumped to an etrly 10-0 lead but Doug Moe, the game's high scorer with 30 points, helped the Cougars come back. Andy Anderson was high for the Floridians with 26.

The Cougars, 4-1, lead Kentucky, Indiana and Pittsburgh by one-half game.

Pittsburgh, 3-1, got into the thick of the race in a come-from-behind victory that wasn't decided until Tom Washington sunk two free throws in the final 14 seconds.

Washington's heroics climaxed a rally in the last two minutes which saw the Pipers overcome a six-point Dallas lead. Charles Williams sparked the surge with five key points and finished the game's high scorer with 37 points. John Beasley topped Dallas with 24.

Warren Davis and George Lehmann provided most of the scoring impetus in Los Angeles' overtime victory over Denver. The Stars trailed 80-67 when Davis scored 15 of his game-high 31 points to put Los Angeles in front 103-67.

Spencer Haywood of the Rockets collected eight straight points and Byron Beck's hook shot with 40 seconds left enabled Denver to tie the game 112-all in regulation time.

Lehmann, who finished with 27 points, scored six quick points in the overtime the Stars opened a 112-115 lead.

Beck and Walt Piatkowski collected 24 points apiece for the winless Rockets, who lost their seventh straight game.

People Misread Word

ERMELO, South Africa (AP) — Residents were puzzled when they found new mail-drop boxes painted blue instead of the traditional red. Sanitation men were puzzled when they found mail in the boxes instead of trash. A health department spokesman said people probably read the word "litter" as "letter."

Dale Mitchell, an executive for an oil company in Denver, was the last batter Don Larsen of the New York Yankees faced when he pitched his perfect World Series game against the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1956.

Football Is...America

(What is football? Tonto Coleman, an old West Texas boy who went east and made good, has an answer for that question in an article that appeared in the November 1968 issue of the "Texas Coach" magazine.

Born in Nolan County, Tonto is a graduate of Roscoe High School where he later coached. He also graduated from Abilene Christian College and coached there. Later, he was on the coaching staff at Georgia Tech and became assistant athletic director and athletic director for the Rambling Wreck. Presently, Coleman is commissioner of the Southeastern Conference.)

By TONTO COLEMAN

To many of our populace, football is 80,000 fans, sitting in a huge stadium screeching and screaming as a great bowl panorama unfolds before them. It is the symphonic rhythm of a machine-like aggregation moving down the greensward, sweeping everything before it. Or perhaps it is the sharp crackling tackle, the intercepted pass, or any of a dozen other defensive maneuvers that throw up a road block and stymies this seemingly indomitable force. To others football may be a whirling mass, a conglomeration, a game of mistakes — with the winner being the team making the fewer errors.

Football may have some or all these characteristics but it is much more than this. Football is an American way of life; just as American as dogwood, "Oklahoma!" "chittlins," cornbread, E. Pluribus Unum, Garrett's Snuff, Huckleberry Finn of "them lying politicians." It is a bunch of "tow-headed" kids with their scruffed up football, their one helmet, their faded levis, their occasional bloody nose and stubbed toe, playing on a vacant lot.

It is a group from a small high school with their multi-colored jerseys and ill-fitting uniforms working out on a sandy beach in Florida or a rock plateau in Colorado — personifying the hope, faith, joy and enthusiasm that characterize this freedom-loving nation of ours.

It is one of our more elite high school teams dressed in their finest livery, with the band playing, the pep squad marching and the majorettes strutting — with nothing in the world quite as important as a victory over old "Rival" High School and nothing quite as tragic in their young lives as a loss to their traditional foe. It is the whole gang joined by the entire community, all with a common objective and all "coming out of the huddle with the same signal."

It is democracy at work. It is the detonator of a force that destroys social stratification. It is the boy from "across the tracks" playing alongside the boy from "the silk stocking district". It is a series of experiences which will result in the building of a good character and a good life. It is discipline, it is work, it is sacrifice, it is success, it is disappointment, it is perserverance, it is sorrow, it is joy; it is learning to lose grudgingly but gracefully; it is learning to win by humility; it is learning to play and live by "the rules."

It is a generator of that intoxicating fervor known as college spirit, which permeates the college campuses of America — that intangible "something" that integrates the history-making action-packed present, with the glorious pages of the past — that which brings, binds and blends those who are a part of these two eras into a common bond of friendship and fellowship, and gives lustre, personality and individuality to their institution.

It is the pulsating force that keeps the old grad close to the bosom of his Alma Mater. It is the magnet that will cause grandma and grandad to cross the continent for homecoming; to relive with other grandmas and grandads their college experiences, which become bigger, better and brighter each time they gather on their hallowed soil.

It is that which gives us the legends and traditions of the exploits and experiences of those who made contributions to the sports history of our country, and in so doing helped to shape the destiny of our nation. It is the Staggs, the Rocknes, the Warners, the Thorpes, the "gippers," or perhaps some who throught his life and inspiration has given us those characteristics and those ideals that will result in the making of a better man, a better "team," a better community and a better nation.

Yes, football is one of our great American heritages and is the responsibility of all of us to guard, guide, defend, nurture and protect it — to see that the "termites" (evil forces) from within or without do not destroy that which contributes so much to our way of life.

Two Showdowns Set In 3-AAA

There are two big showdown battles in District 3-AAA zone action this week with the spotlight on the Lamesa-Estacado and Snyder-Slaton skirmishes.

The Tornadoes host the defending state champion Matadors — the only unbeaten team in the Zone I race — while Slaton hosts Snyder in a clash that could produce a leader in zone II. Both Tiger teams are unbeaten in their zone.

A Lamesa upset over Estacado would throw the Zone I race into a tie while a Slaton victory would stamp it as strong favorites to win Zone II. Snyder, even if it defeats Slaton, still faces a tough test at Sweetwater not to mention a final affray at home against Levelland.

Dunbar won the big game last week, turning back the Tornadoes 10-7 to stay in the Zone I running after dropping a 10-0 decision to Estacado the previous week. Snyder was impressive in blanking Littlefield 55-0. In other games last week, Sweetwater shut out Levelland 27-0, Slaton thumped Brownfield 33-8, Colorado City clipped Lake View 20-13, and Estacado prevailed 28-20 over Hirschi in a non-district tussle.

This week, other games find Brownfield at Levelland, Dunbar at Lake View, Littlefield at Sweetwater and Colorado City at home against non-league foe Stanton for Homecoming.

Hobbs, Gail Set Area Grid Pace

All the area football teams saw action last week, and Hobbs and Gail continued their winning ways. The Panthers have the best mark in the area, having won six of seven contests while the Coyotes in Borden County are only one step behind with five triumphs in six affrays.

Last week, Hobbs smashed Ira in area six-man action 64-29 while Gail disposed of Garden City in eight-man battle, 42-24. Hermleigh still is winless for the campaign, having dropped its sixth straight, 0-14, to Sands.

This week, three of the teams return to grid warfare again with Gail at Dawson, Wilson at Hermleigh and Ira at Blackwell. Hobbs will enjoy an open date.

Snyder Tops Grid Foes By 6 Games

Snyder football teams have won six more games than their opponents during the 1969 gridiron season, and they've outscored their foes 668 points to 434, a difference of 234 points.

Last week, Snyder teams won three, lost one and tied one. Lamar 9th grade preserved its unbeaten string at seven straight with a last half rally over Lee at San Angelo. They won 14-13. Other winners were the varsity Tigers and Travis 9th grade. The high school team triumphed 55-0 over Littlefield while the older Blue Devils thumped Stamford 20-6. The junior varsity was the only loser, dropping a 26-7 decision to San Angelo while Travis 8th and Lamesa battled to a 0-0 tie in the rain.

Glynn Lost Only Once

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex. (AP) —Glynn Gregory, who will be inducted into the Texas High School Football Hall of Fame here Dec. 1, played only one losing game in his high school career.

His team lost no games while he was in junior high school, then at Abilene High School, where he was the star for three years — 1954-55-56 — the Eagles lost only once.

At Abilene High School he was the mainspring in compiling a record of 49 straight victories as the Eagles set a national record. He wasn't there in 1957 when the record was ended in a tie game.

Chuck Moser, coach of Abilene High School during that mighty surge, will install his star player, Gregory, in the Hall of Fame. The coach looked back with great pride on the accomplishments of Glynn in Abilene's glamor days.

"He played both offense and defense," Moser said. "He was great on pass defense and an outstanding pass receiver. During the three years Glynn played Abilene High School lost one game and won three state championships."

Gregory is one of five former Texas high school stars to be inducted into the Hall of Fame.

Bobby Wilson, who starred with his running and pass-receiving at Corsicana in the thirties; Kyle Rote, great back of San Antonio Jefferson in the forties; Honk Irvin, Cisco's mighty tackles of the mid-twenties, and the late Chal Daniel, magnificent guard of state champion Longview in 1937, are others to be installed.

Red Bluff Dam Has Big Catch

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Through Oct. 25, Red Bluff Dam had caught 50,000 acre-feet of water recently to bring its total to about 86,000 acre feet. John Hays, general nanager of the Red Bluff Power Control District made the announcement.

Tors Lose Grid Status

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Class AAAA took on a strange appearance today in the Dallas Morning News Schoolboy Football Poll, with two-time state champion Austin Reagan looking up from its No. 8 position.

Reagan, who has won the Class AAAA title the past two years and 35 straight games, tumbled from No. 1 in this week's poll after losing 10-7 to Austin McCallum.

Abilene Cooper, ranked No. 2 last week, moved to the top in Class AAAA as Houston Elmore in Class AAA, Lufkin Dunbar in Class AA and White Oak in Class A, held onto their winning streak started this week against Austin Lanier but the feature game in Class AAAA will be a district showdown between third ranked Dallas Kimball and fifth rated Dallas Wilson.

In Class AAA, the headliner is No. 6 Ennis against No. 10 Waxahachie.

There are six newcomers to the top 10 lists, two each in Class AAAA, AAA and A.

Richardson (No. 9) and San Antonio Lee (No. 10) appeared in Class AAA as replacements for Spring Branch and Odessa Permian. Gregory Portland (No. 9) and Waxahachie are newcomers in Class AAA in place of Wichita Falls Hirschi and Lamesa.

In Class A, Pflugerville and Mason departed and were replaced by Friendswood (No. 9) and Sonora (No. 10), the defending Class A champ.

Bengals Face Crucial Test

The Snyder Tigers looked great last Friday night, but nothing has changed in their week - to - week confrontation, Coach Wayne Tyrone told Booster Club members last night at their regular weekly meeting.

"We'll be right back there putting everything on the line again this Friday night," Tyrone said. "Every game is crucial, because if we lose one now we have had it. If Slaton beats us, they're in."

He was referring, of course, to the battle of the Tigers scheduled this Friday night at Slaton, when the Snyder Tigers will meet the Slaton variety of the same species of cat in a showdown for the Zone II leadership of District 3-AAA.

Tyrone said Slaton is capable of knocking off any good team. Indeed, they already have decisioned the Sweetwater Mustangs, the pre-season favorite for zone honors, and they are tied with Snyder for the zone leadership now with two victories and no defeats in league play.

Tyrone said Slaton has a potent offensive attack with experienced backfield men. Their strongest performer in this department undoubtedly is the 212 - pound fullback, Richard Moore, a two-year letterman. The Slaton brand of Tigers have hurt their opponents with counter plays and traps, which they run from three different formations. Their offense operates some from the "full house" T, from the wing-T and from the I formation.

Defensively, the Slaton team relies upon the "Texas Six" line-up, very similar to the defensive formation long referred to as the wide tackle six. They put plenty of pressure on up front and they like to rush the quarterback.

Tyrone said all of the previously-injured Tigers were back and ready for duty, but sophomore line-backer Jerry Hardin must remain sidelined because of a back injury received in last Friday's game with Littlefield.

Fullbacker - linebacker Eddie Ray McClain was in uniform for Tuesday's drills in the Tiger Gymnasium, where the Bengals took shelter during the rain. McClain has been out of action since the Lake View game when he suffered a hairline fracture in a leg bone. All other Tigers worked out and are expected to be ready for action Friday night at Slaton.

Other coaches in the school system gave reports on their respective games of the past week. The schedule this week calls for two eighth grade games on the junior high field Thursday evening, while the Tiger Junior Varsity has Lake View JV booked into Tiger Stadium for a 7:30 p.m. engagement Thursday. Definite plans for the latter game may hinge on the weather. Tyrone said that if the rains continued the local athletic department would hesitate to play in the main stadium because they do not want to damage the turf there.

Houston Has Awesome Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston's explosive Cougars, gunning for their fourth consecutive total offense crown, pace the nation's major college football teams with an awesome attack that has averaged 530.6 yards per-game.

The Cougars, who have piled up 2,653 yards in five starts, lead second-place San Diego State by almost 200 yards, according to weekly team figures released today.

San Diego State is No. 1 in passing with a per-game average of 335.6 yards. West Virginia and Houston are 1-2 in rushing, the Mountaineers averaging 338.5 yards per game on the ground and the Cougars 329.4.

Top-ranked Ohio State, third in total offense and fifth in the rushing standings, has scored 46.4 points per-game—tops in the country.

NEWSPAPERS SELL THE MOST!

Career Corner

Dear Miss Lane: I have a friend who insists she wants to open a bookstore but has no experience or knowledge of what's involved. We've tried to tell her how many things have to be known and done, and also the monetary side, of which she has little. My friend thinks she's had a brainstorm — that all it takes is to rent space, buy books, put them on the shelves and wait for people to come in and buy!

C.V.M., Washington, D. C.

Dear C. V. M.: Her brainstorm is sure to fizzle into a drizzle if she doesn't get some solid background in book retailing before she proceeds. For a start, the Small Business Administration (SBA), an agency of the U. S. Government, has a "Bookstores Bibliography" which may be obtained free at any SBA field office. (A bibliography lists publications of interest on a particular subject which are issued by governmental and private publishers.)

Still another bibliography, "Retailing," would benefit anyone who wants to start — or is now engaged in — any type of retailing venture. This one's also available in SBA field offices, or if you wish, I'll send you a free copy of one or both if you send me a 12-cent stamped, self-addressed, long white envelope at this newspaper. No requests can be filled without the specified return envelope.

Dear Miss Lain: Any information about the schooling required to become a dental assistant would be appreciated. I need it to help plan for my next two years of high school.

C.S., Wenatchee, Wash.

Dear C. S.: Apparently some readers missed an earlier column on dental assistants because a large number have asked about it lately. Suggest you write to the American Dental Assistants Association. Or you may also want to consider a related and excellent career, dental hygienist; for this information, write to the American Dental Hygenist's Association. The address for both organizatons is 211 E. Chicago Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611. Enclose return envelope.

Dear Miss Lain: I saw your column mentioning a booklet about parents for inventors. Is there a similar one for writers who want to copyright their work — such as songs?

M.J.P., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear M. J. P.: Yes. It's called "Copyright Law of the United States of America," revised 1969, published by the U. S. Copyright Office, Bulletin 14. Send 45 cents and a return gummed mailing label to Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Dear Miss Lain: What jobs can housewives do at home for money? Some of the advertisements on such work that I have investigated turned out to be less than honest.

L.W., Memphis, Tenn.

Dear L.W.: I do suggest work-at-home opportunities from time to time as I find interesting and promising possibilities. Perhaps other readers who've solved this problem would like to share new ideas. I'll print the best suggestions.

Dear Miss Lain: "What do missionaries do? Is there a demand for them? Is a broad knowledge of the Bible required?

P.F., Houston, Texas

Dear P.F.: You should know the Bible from Genesis to Revelation. There is a demand. Many denominations now call their missionaries "fraternal workers" and emphasize the need for specialized nonclerical skills as well. The goal is to show God's love in action through teaching, healing and building, in addition to preaching God's word. Ask your clergyman for counsel; he can give you the headquarters address of faith.

HERE ARE THE RULES OF THE CONTEST

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played in the country this week-end. Get an entry blank from one of the merchants who are helping sponsor this contest and whose message is on this page. Fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only . . . opposite the name of the firm on the entry blank. Then send your complete blank to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie score must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

If there is a tie for first place the winners will divide the cash money of $12.50 and no second prize will be given. If there is a first place winner and a tie for second place, the second prize winners will divide the money for the place. If more than two persons tie for second place, no second prize money will be awarded and the cash will be added to next week's prize. Tie for perfect score will split $25.00. There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted from any one person. More than one will disqualify all of the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing on the choice of the winner. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number — and watch for the story on next Wednesday's front page for the winners. Hurry now, and get your entry blank from one of the merchants on this page. The contest blank must be in your own handwriting. Employes of The Snyder Daily News and their families are not eligible to enter.
