China's Okay Not Essential To Settlement, Says Kosygin

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

DEEP COVE, Nova Scotia (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin says the war in Vietnam is "susceptible to settlement, without the participation or endorsement of China," Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland industrialist said today in an interview.

"He was very positive about this," Eaton said.

At the same time, the financier continued, Kosygin links the Vietnamese war with the conflict between the Arabs and Israelis. The Soviet leader has demanded an "immediate withdrawal" of Israeli troops from Arab territory overrun in the fighting.

Eaton said he had a conversation lasting 4½ hours with Kosygin in Canada on June 30. The Soviet leader had conferred with President Johnson in Glassboro, N.J., and with Fidel Castro in Havana. He stopped in Canada en route to Paris where he met with President Charles de Gaulle. Eaton said Kosygin sent word to him through the Soviet Embassy in Washington, asking a meeting in Gander, Newfoundland.

The industrialist said Anatoly Doylnitszyn of the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa served as the interpreter.

For more than 10 years, Eaton has been on cordial terms with the Soviet leaders. He received the Lenin Peace Prize in 1960. He frequently talked with Nikita S. Khrushchev and Anastas I. Mikoyan. Eaton said he has known Kosygin for about 10 years.

Eaton said Kosygin opened their conversation by questioning him about the state of the American economy. He said he replied, "There has been a slight falling off, but on the whole it's excellent." The discussion then turned to the presidential election next year and Kosygin asked Eaton about the potential Republican candidates. Eaton said he mentioned those in the news but Kosygin made no comment.

With respect to the Glassboro conferences, Eaton said, "He was pleased with reception in the United States and agreeably impressed with President Johnson.

"He felt that their meetings were constructive and helpful in terms of over-all objectives. Each presented his general view of the outstanding foreign problems.

"He is a consensus man, of course, and wants to report more fully to his associates. But I think he would welcome more talks with the President."

Eaton expressed the view that Moscow "will stand by North Vietnam with all resources, financial and military," adding, "They have their commitments to Vietnam and the Arabs and they can't be disregarded."

The industrialist said Kosygin told him he "felt they were on the verge of a settlement of the Vietnamese question" when the Soviet premier was in London last February, talking with Prime Minister Harold Wilson. "There was a formula," Eaton said, "but he did not go into details with me."

Eaton said the resumption of American bombing of North Vietnam set back the alleged progress toward a settlement. He said Kosygin told him: "Vietnam is the major problem. I thought we had agreed to a formula. The question is susceptible to settlement, without the participation or endorsement of Red China."

Eaton said Kosygin believes "the problems between China and Russia eventually will be worked out. He feels the solutions would come more rapidly if there were an over-all effort to reduce the tensions in the world and cut back the arms race."

Asked if he gathered that the Soviet leaders may be more frightened of Red China now that the Chinese have exploded nuclear devices, Eaton replied, sharply, "They're not afraid of anybody."

Eaton said Kosygin's position is "identical" with De Gaulle's in tying together the conflicts in Vietnam and the Middle East—a view rejected by Washington.

On June 21, De Gaulle said, "The war started in Vietnam by American intervention cannot help but spread trouble, not only there but far away. From that came the attitude of China and the speedup of its armament. From that came the psychological and political process which led to the fight in the Middle East."

The industrialist declined to say what Kosygin told him about his talks with Castro.

Eaton was interviewed in his summer residence, Deep Cove, about 65 miles from Halifax.

It's Still War For Veterans On Canal

EL QANTARA, Occupied Eggypt (AP) — The Middle East war is still going on for the tense Israeli veterans in this battle-scarred town, facing Egyptian troops only 150 yards away across the deserted Sucz Canal.

"A cease-fire there may be," said a captain at the army headquarters, "but as far as we're concerned it is still war.

"Nothing more may happen for now or for perhaps another 10 years, but it is going to happen. We can't go on like this."

In El Qantara, a dusty little town on the east bank of the canal, the shooting war is still a reailty.

Egyptian snipers fired Wednesday at a patrol of Sinai veterans north of Ismailia. There were no casualties. But the Israelis said the Egyptians also opened up on three patrol Jeeps south of Ismailia, wounding two Israelis. A military spokesman said in five hours of firing the Egyptians used machine guns, mortars, tanks and artillery, and the Israelis knocked out a tank and several machinegun pits.

On Tuesday, sharpshooting Israeli antiaircraft gunners a few miles east of El Qantara downed one of two fighter-bombers which flew over the east bank. It took only four shots from their 75mm guns.

Makeshift blinds of sacking have been strung up at the ends of streets facing the Egyptian bank so the Egyptians cannot observe Israeli movements.

One artillery battery commander radioed for instructions last week when his positions came under fire.

"Shall I return the fire?" he asked.

"No, I shouldn't bother. They won't hit anything anyway," headquarters told him.

El Qantara was badly shot up in the fighting last month, and only about two dozen Egyptians remain.

Patrols of two vehicles each rumble out of the town and nearby unit bases every day to scour the east bank of the canal north and south and to observe Egyptian positions.

"Mostly the Egyptians on the other side yell at us and shake their fists," said a half-track commander.

The Israeli soldiers are quartered in abandoned houses and cantonments. They are well supplied with stacks of captured canned food.

The town is ringed with tanks and antiaircraft guns dug in beside the wrecked batteries and positions the Egyptians held back at the Egyptians last month. The soldiers are tough, tanned, bored and tense with not always being able to hit back at the Egyptians.

TESCO Reveals Textile Feasibility Survey Plans

A plan to "get the attention" of industrial leaders in the textile industry with an economic feasibility study was outlined in a meeting at City Hall here yesterday afternoon by Bob Browder of Fort Worth, area development representative for Texas Electric Service Co.; Carl Cox of Dallas, director of the Cotton Research Committee of Texas; and, Bill Harris of Austin, head of the committee's economic division.

Their appearance here was sponsored by Texas Electric Service Co. Attending were local business, civic and farming leaders. Texas Electric hired the Cotton Research Committee to conduct an economic feasibility survey some six weeks ago, and it could be completed in December.

In this connection, the committee has secured information from local leaders for inclusion in the survey with a view to establishing a "long-range program" that ultimately may result in new industry here or in other towns in Texas.

Browder said that the textile industry traditionally has operated in the Southeast, although there are a few plants in Texas.

"We're simply trying to get their attention now with the survey," he declared, adding that the first step is to determine whether the industry can operate new plants in the Southwest on a firm financial footing.

"They (the textile industry) are not going to locate a plant here unless they can be certain that they will get a good return on their investment," Browder said.

He said there are several different types of textile operations, and the Cotton Research Committee determines how Texas cotton can best be used by the industry.

"The committee is qualified to conduct the feasibility study," he said, "for it operates perhaps the only textile lab west of the Mississippi."

Cox, the director of the committee, spoke with optimism, pointing out that the cotton industry has recovered from earlier losses and now is making substantial gains. For instance, he said, the textile industry is using 30,000 more bales per month than it did last year and exports are up 3½ million bales. Moreover, government stocks have dropped seven million bales to further improve the market.

"The market is on the upswing" he declared. There are firm market prices, and they may actually increase.

"We may be talking about increasing acreage rather than a reduction," he stated.

Fiber yield and spinning value are good, for glandless cotton grown as an experiment by the committee, he said, and this type of cotton could have a use in the food industry due to its high protien rating.

Speaking of other work being done by researchers, Cox observed that the length, strength and color of cotton can be determined through new electronic evaluation at a cost of less than 15 cents per bale.

Specifically discussing the textile industry, Cox said the manufacturers like the favorable business climate in Texas, especially from a standpoint of labor and transportation.

Textile manufacturers have poured $20 million into an expansion program at three mills in Texas, he said, although no new plants have been built in the state. The expansion program holds promise for development of future plants if the manufacturers can be shown that it is economically feasible.

"This is one reason that we have gone into the economic feasibility study," said Cox.

He talked at length about the desirability of cotton over other fibers and synthetics, saying that cotton is gaining in stature in the eyes of clothing manufacturers.

Harris, the economic expert, discussed specific developments and trends in the cotton, textile and clothing industries. He said that many clothing manufacurers have indicated they would purchase their raw materials from textile plants in Texas but that they need to know exactly the quality and quanity of material available to them.

He particularly emphasized the advantage in transportation rates to the west that would be available to texile manufacturers in Texas.

Cotton and allied industries rate only second to steel as the major industry in the country, and textile manufacturing could play a big part in the future growth of Texas; it was emphasized.

Texas Oil Flow Is Highest Since '48

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas oil wells, helping to fill the supply gap caused by the Middle East war, pumped away today at nearly half their full potential—possibly producing more barrels a day than at any time since 1948.

The market demand factor, which governs the wells' maximum production, was raised Wednesday by the Texas Railroad Commission from 42.9 per cent to 48 per cent for July, retroactive to July 1.

The commission, winding up a closed-door meeting with 16 major oil buyers and representatives of the U.S. Departments of Defense and Interior, said the increased allowable would fill additional demands for 131,000 barrels of oil a day.

The regulatory agency estimated the 48 per cent factor would permit wells to produce a maximum of 3,838,560 barrels a day, slightly more than the peak month following the Suez crisis in 1957 and maybe more than at any time since wells ran wide open—100 per cent—in 1948 to build up storage supplies drained by World War II needs.

A commission statement said the factor was hiked "due to the continued abnormal increase in the demand for Texas crude occasioned by the Middle East crisis and the urgency of the situation."

Since the commission order is retroactive to July 1, it means the wells actually may produce at a rate high enough to make the daily average allowable for the full month the equivalent of 48 per cent.

Four major companies said they had firm requirements for more oil: Texaco 54,000 barrels a day, Humble 50,000, Pan American 20,000 and Standard of Texas 7,000 barrels a day.

John Yeager of Humble said that company already had ships in Texas ports "to take this additional oil."

The companies' nominations were made in 15-minute session open to newsmen, then the buyers, railroad commissioners and government spokesmen went behind closed doors to talk about the Middle east and the recent war between the Arab states and Israel.

Infantrymen Hunt Fallen Comrades

ALONG THE CAMBODIAN BORDER (AP)—With their own artillery thudding around them like a protective box, U.S. infantrymen searched today for 10 Americans missing on the border battlefield where North Vietnamese troops engulfed a U.S. company Wednesday.

The intense artillery fire was intended to discourage superior enemy forces based across the Cambodian border two miles west of the Americans.

It was from Cambodia that an estimated 1,000 Communist troops came Wednesday, enticing a U.S. 4th Division company into a firefight at the edge of the central Vietnamese plateau. The North Vietnamese overwhelmed the outnumbered Americans, killing 35 men and wounding 31 in the understrength company.

The shattered company—it's commander dead, one entire platoon destroyed and the other platoons severely mauled—was this morning.

The the commander of the parent battalion, Lt. Col. Corey Wright of Omaha, Neb., said the outnumbered Americans gave a magnificent account of themselves, killing 110 of the enemy by body count.

Hopes faded today that the missing Americans might still be alive after a wounded GI, who had pretended to be dead, [illegible] he had seen wounded men being shot by North Vietnamese troops as they searched the battlefield after the shattered American force withdrew.

Weapons and equipment from the dead of both sides were gathered up and carried away by the enemy troops.

About one-third of the company was similarly due to go home soon. Only one of the four company medics survived. He was Prc. John Stroud, 18, of Seattle, Wash.

Surveyor 4 Cleared For Friday Shot

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Trouble-shooting technicians today successfully solved a rocket problem which grounded America's Surveyor 4 launch for 24 hours and were flashed an "all clear" to send the spacecraft moonward Friday.

"The problem has been solved," a National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said. "Additional tests will be run today, but we don't anticipate any more trouble."

Surveyor 4's scheduled launch today was abandoned late Wednesday night after crews failed to eliminate an electrical short in the upper stage of Surveyor's Atlas-Centaur rocket. The trouble prevented a valve in Centaur's fuel-mixing system from operating properly.

MODEL LANDING ON 'MOON'—An engineering model of the surveyor 4 spacecraft which will attempt a gentle touch down at the center of the moon, goes through tests by engineers at Hughes Aircraft Company in Los Angeles. The latest surveyor will carry a new tool — a tiny magnet — to determine whether the lunar soil contains magnetic particles. The Hughes firm builds Surveyors for NASA. (AP Wirephoto)

'In' Group Is Growing

Here are the latest firms to get "in" on the industrial campaign here:

Bill Love Barber Shop, Bagwell Automatic Laundry, Petroleum Equipment Pipe and Supply Corp. of Ira, C. R. Anthony Store, Rainbow Food Market, Sherwin-Williams Paint Store, Gene Dulaney and Renal Rosson Law Office, City of Snyder.

Firms whose employes contribute 100 pef cent in an amount of $10 each or more are considered "In for A. M." The individuals receive "Progress Unlimited" certificates and the business firms receive banners. The industrial board will use the funds to purchase land adjacent to an industrial site.

STUDY MANUAL — Police Chief Stephen Clark (left) and Sergeant Bobby Joe Goodwin look over a police training manual. Goodwin was promoted to sergeant following a comprehensive written examination.

Goodwin Is Promoted To Sergeant In Police Dept.

Patrolman Bobby Joe Goodwin, a member of the Snyder Police Department since July 16, 1966, has been promoted to sergeant, according to an announcement by Police Chief Stephen Clark. The promotion became effective Tuesday.

A comprehensive written examination was given to all patrolmen Monday, covering criminal law, criminal investigation, laws of evidence, traffic law, public relations and techniques of supervision. Bonus points were given for each year of service with the department.

Chief Clark asked Joe Sentell, local businessman, to administer and score the examination. Goodwin made the highest score of the patrolmen taking the examination. There was a tie for second highest between Travis Long and Jim McKenzie. Their names will be placed on an eligibility list and will be considered for the next promotion whenever a vacancy occurs. The next promotion will be determined on the basis of an oral interview by the chief, supervisory staff and a citizens' representative.

Sergeant Goodwin has served in the police profession as a member of the Coleman, Pecos and Dumas Police Departments prior to joining the Snyder force. He attended the San Angelo Police Academy, several FBI "in service" sessions, the Traffic Law Enforcement School of the Department of Public Safety, and is a graduate of the Southwest Academy for Law Enforcement at Howard County Junior College. In addition, he has taken specialized courses in juvenile law.

Chief Clark stated that Sergeant Goodwin is an outstanding example of the young career officer and is proud to have him as a supervisor.

Schools In Dallas Hike Free Lunches

DALLAS (AP) — By a 4-3 vote the Dallas School Board decided Wednesday to expand a free lunch program this year, partly by using federal funds.

It took a vote by the board's acting president, Percy E. Luecke Jr., to break a tie on whether to follow this course as recommended by Supt. W. T. White.

He proposed that the school system spend $411,333 on providing free lunches including $250,000 in federal funds to be obtained under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The remainder of the budget would come from the United Fund and district discounts for the lunches, which made $201,704 available for the same purpose last year.

Dr. White estimated that by more than doubling the program, 1,510,045 free lunches could be served 17,337 needy children during the next school year. He reported the school district served 586,031 lunches to 5,814 children at various times last year.

Board members left to school administrators a decision on whether to utilize any part of the national school lunch program, directed by the Agriculture Department. Dr. Luecke said he hoped the milk phase of this program could be adopted.

Garbage Men Reject Plan

By PAUL RECER
Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Striking city garbage workers rejected today a City Council plan that would increase their pay but withhold accumulated benefits from those who took part in a work stoppage.

The workers, members of the City, County and Municipal Employes Union Local 1095, turned down the proposal after a state AFL-CIO official told them, "I think the whole damned thing stinks and we're going to take it to court."

The garbage workers failed to show up for work Saturday, throwing the city into a garbage collection crisis.

The city plan would raise collectors' salaries by 16 to 20 cents an hour but would withhold accumulated vacation and sick pay from those who took part in the walkout.

Designers Make Dresses Look Costly As They Are

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Though wearing a designer's name on a scarf or his initials on the belt of a dress is now de rigueur, wearing the price tag is frowned upon.

Price tags are a bit much on the fall collections called the American Designer Series which are being shown this week for the nation's fashion press. But women with the wherewithal to wear the costly costumes want them to look it.

How to accomplish this, short of preserving those price tags, were challenges which had been resolved Wednesday in a variety of ways by Donald Brooks, George Stavropolus and Pauline Trigere.

Brooks did it with mirrors. He also did it with rocks and feathers. A linky woolen ball gown covered with mirrors the size of half-dollars reflected money. So did another studded with topaz stones the size of rocks, although the dress seemed uncomfortable to sit down in.

Pheasant feathers and big poufs of ostrich feathers went into ball gowns.

The theme for his daytime costumes was Robin Hood, the fellow with the feather in his cocked hat who robbed the rich. Brooks' models wore these jaunty caps with bold patterned coats and stockings to match — or black to contrast. Under all were belted culotte dresses or travel pants, or bosomless shifts that reeked with the chic of the slick magazines.

Gold and silver metal woven, or embroidered, or quilted into fabrics; edge-to-edge sequins, or masses of semiprecious jewels; or touches of fur are other dollar signs worked into expensive clothes.

Stavropolus uses more subtlety, shaping silks and draping chiffons in a way that has become a signature — a reputedly expensive one. The Greek import who has whipped up a few wispy chiffons for Lady Bird Johnson made simple, bias cut wools and crepes for daytime or evening.

Black is back and Trigere used it to emphasize a girl's best friend, diamonds or her most luxurious furs.

Sweet-Sour Flavor Favors Franks

Dinner for four can dent the budget at less than three dollars! That will be good news for newlyweds as well as career girls who want to entertain.

What's more, the main dish for this menu can be exotic. Far Eastern Frankfurters contain the vegetables for the meal. The meal is balanced by lettuce and cottage cheese salad and a hot bread with butter or margarine; fruit-filled gelatin with cup cakes makes the dessert with coffee, tea or milk.

This is also a new guise for frankfurters, a meat popular with almost everyone. These come packaged eight or ten to a pound.

Far Eastern Frankfurters

Cut 1 pound of frankfurters diagonally into 1¼ inch slices. Cook frankfurters with ¼ finely chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine until lightly browned. Add ½ green pepper, cut into julienne-style, ¼ cup raisins and 1 cup water. Cook slowly 5 minutes. Combine ¼ cup brown sugar and 2 tablespoons cornstarch; add an additional ¼ cup water and mix well. Add to frankfurter mixture and cook, stirring occasionally, until clear and thickened.

Add ¼ cup vinegar and 1 package (9 ounces) Italian green beans which have cooked according to package directions and then drained well. Continue to cook briefly until ingredients have heated through and flavors are blended, from 3 to 5 minutes. Serve at once, so green beans do not lose their tempting color, surrounded by 1 can (3 ounces) Chinese noodles. This recipe gives four servings.

Pledge To Buy Drinks Fulfilled

HUDSWELL, England (AP)—Joe Brohee promised his friends that the last time he passed their favorite pub, he would buy them all a drink and wait outside while they drank.

Brohee, 76, died last weekend. The hearse waited outside the George and Dragon Wednesday while 16 mourners drank up.

Brohee left $14 to pay for the drinks, but the bill came to half that. The change went to Brohee's estate.

Ageless And Bright, Starr Returns

Packers Are Without Taylor Or Hornung

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung, the twi trademarks of Green Bay greatness, headed nung, the twin trademarks of south instead of north as the Packers prepared to open training camp without them for the first time in 10 years.

But quarterback Bart Starr, the most valuable player in the National Fotball League in 1966, is back after signing his 12th Green Bay contract Wednesday.

Drills for 37 Packer rookies begain today, with 38 veterans reporting by Saturday, as NFL and American Fotball League clubs began preparing for a season that will run until the All-Star games in late January.

Both Taylor and Hornung, who helped the Packers to five division titles and four world championships, will be wearing the colors of the New Orleans Saints, the NFL's newest team. Taylor played out his option at Green Bay to sign with the Saints and Hornung, bothered by a pinched nerve, was taken in the expansion draft.

Starr, who led the Packers to the world title last year, admits the two will be missed, but said the Packers still will have an effective blocking and running game with veterans Ben Wilson, Elijah Pitts and last year's bonus twins, Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski.

Coach Joe Kuharich of the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL said he assumed that he would be without one of the Eagles' long-time backfield stars, Timmy Brown.

"Until Timmy gets back here and clarifies his position, we're going under the assumption he won't be with us," Kuharich said.

But Brown, who reportedly has been offered a television and motion picture contract, said "I will report to training camp and play for the Eagles this year," when contacted Tuesday in Hawaii. He said if the television and movie plans work out, the contract would not be effective until next January.

The Los Angeles Rams still expected quarterback Roman Gabriel to be on hand as they opened camp today for rookies and selected veterans. Gabriel's return apparently hinges on dismissal of a $200,000 suit brought by him against the Rams and Oakland Raiders of the AFL.

He contended the Raiders breached a contract he signed with them last year and that the Rams interfered with his contractual relations with Oakland.

Phil Verteger, attorney for the Rams, said he had been assured by Gabriel's attorney, Edward Masry, that he would ask for dismissal of the suit.

Veteran Charlie Hennigan will be one of those missing when the San Diego Chargers' veterans report this week. The 32-year-old flanker, who underwent a knee operation before he was obtained on waivers from the Houston Oilers, failed a physical examination. He set an AFL mark in 1964 by catching 101 passes.

Coody To Defend Title At Odessa

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)— The $30,000 Odessa Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament, $10,000 richer than when professional Charles Coody and amateur Richard Patton won it last year, opened today with singers Dean Martin and Don Cherry again on hand.

Coody of Fort Worth and Patton of Midland took the 1966 championship with a 255 for the 72 holes. The 1965 championship team of pro Babe Hiskey of Galena Park and amateur Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur was favored for the $7,500 first prize.

Fleckman, a member of this year's Walker Cup team, led after the first and third rounds in the recent National Open won by Jack Nicklaus.

Coody and Patton were back to defend their title against 99 other teams.

Cherry has been competing in the tournament since it was started in 1949. Martin made his first appearance last year.

Another highly rated duo is Rex Baxter of Houston and John Farquhar of Amarillo. Farquhar was on the 1961 and 1964 championship teams.

In Monday's qualifying round, the team of Don McDaniel of tenburg of Odessa led with an eight-under-par 63. Tuesday's Tuesday's special $3,000 pro-amateur saw pro Jack Montgomery and amateur Gary Jarmon, both of Fort Worth, shoot a 61.

Wayne Walker Wants More Cash From Lions

DETROIT (AP) — It's contract-signing time at the Detroit Lions camp and at least one veteran said he could be a holdout.

"I'm going to try to get everything I can," linebacker Wayne Walker said Wednesday. "We're not that far apart, but we are far enough apart for me to be a holdout."

Ru7s Thomas, general manager of the National Football League club, said the situation was about the same as in previous years, but he declined to go down a roster and name those signed and those unsigned.

Bill Buntin At The End

DETROIT (AP) — Life seems to have crumbled to pieces for Bill Buntin, former basketball star at the University of Michigan.

Buntin today is free on bond on a bad check charge. On Monday, in what was possibly a final effort to carve out a career in professional sports, Buntin was dropped from the roster of the National Football League's Detroit Lions because of a bad knee.

Buntin was trying out with the Lions as a tight end, after the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association released him just before the start of the 1966-67 season.

Last November, his 25-year-old-wife Evelyna started divorce proceedings against the 6-foot-7, 25year-old Buntin.

"Everything seems to have gone to pot," Buntin said after his arraignment in Detroit Recorder's Court Wednesday on a charge of writing a check for $75 with insufficient funds to cover it.

"I never meant to rook anybody," he said. "I just used bad judgment."

Police said Buntin cashed the check to pay a bill at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Detroit. They said they delayed serving the warrant, first issued Nov. 29, 1966, hoping Buntin would square himself with the hotel.

US Favored To Win Amercica's Cup Title

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Barring a mishap, Intrepid, a sleek 12-meter sloop skippered by Bus Mosbacher, appears a cinch to defend the America's Cup against the challenge of Australia's Dame Pattie in September.

Intrepid posted her fourth straight victory Wednesday in the second round-robin series of the U.S. observation trials, defeating American Eagle.

Intrepid built a one-minute lead at the halfway mark of the 24.3-mile course and then pulled away to win by 3 minutes, 45 seconds.

Constellation, the 1964 America's Cup winner, squared her observation trial record 2-2 by defeating Columbia, the rebuilt 1958 winner, by 2:13. Columbia was left with a 2-2 mark.

Columbia was to meet American Eagle, loser of four straight, and Constellation was to go against Intrepid today.

White Sox, Cardinals Lead As Teams Enter Second Half

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

A week ago Minnesota's rampaging Twins arrived in Chicago to challenge the White Sox' American League lead in a four-game series.

A split kept Eddie Stanky's crew on top, and now it's California's turn to take a shot at the leaders.

Sam McDowell softened the White Sox up Wednesday night with a six-hitter as Cleveland stopped Chicago 5-3. It was the only game scheduled in the American League and shaved the Sox' lead to 1½ games over Detroit, two games over Minnesota and four over California.

In the only National League game played Wednesday, Mike Shannon cracked a two-run eighth-inning homer that lifted first-place St. Louis to a 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh.

The Angels bring a six-game winning streak into Chicago tonight and will have their new ace, George Brunet, ready to face the White Sox.

California spent much of May in the American League cellar but since June 7, Bill Rigney's team has spun off a 25-8 record and zoomed six spots in the standings.

Brunet, who dropped nine straight after winning the season's opener, is 6-2 during the hot streak and 7-11 over-all. Joel Horlen, 10-2, opposes the Angels.

Stanky used six pitchers trying to beat the Indians Wednesday, but Cleveland scored five runs in the first three innings and that was enough for McDowell, 6-7.

Sudden Sam, 6-7, threaded his way through trouble and relied on his strikeout pitch for the big out. He walked the bases full in the fifth inning but then struck out Tom McCraw and Tommie Agee for two of his eight strikeouts.

Max Alvis ignited a two-run Indian rally in the first with a double and then cracked his 11th home run of the year in the second.

Tommy John, 8-6, was knocked out in the first inning and took the loss.

Shannon's eighth-inning shot brought the Cardinals from behind and enabled St. Louis to open a four-game bulge over Chicago in the National League race.

The Pirates had knocked out Dick Hughes and seized the lead in the top of the eighth on Gene Alley's two-run homer, a triple by Jerry May and Manny Mota's sacrifice fly.

But Orlando Cepeda opened the Cardinals' eighth with a single, knocking out Steve Blass, the Pittsburgh starter. Juan Pizarro retired Tim McCarver before Pete Mikkelsen relieved and Shannon cracked his sixth home run.

Shannon had singled across St. Louis' first run in the sixth as the Cardinals snapped the scoreless duel between Blass and Hughes.

All-Stars Ready For Revenge Over Packers

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Graduated collegiate football seats of the 1966 season—a squad of 51 of them—check in today to begin drills for the 34th All-Star game against the National Football League champions, the Green Bay Packers, in Soldier Field Aug. 4.

Some experts believe this year's crop is among the best ever assembled for the series. They will be out to revenge a 38-0 pasting by the Packers last year.

John Sauer returns for his second year as head coach of the All-Stars. His staff includes Bill Fisher, offensive line; Thurman McGraw, defensive line; Howard "Hopalong" Cassady, pass receivers; Galen Fiss, linebackers, and Warren Lahr, defensive backs.

The collegians will train at Northwestern University.

Cowboys Open Drills With Seventy Rookies

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys, last year's Eastern Conference champion in the National Football League, open drills today with a squad of 70 rookies and several veterans.

Two of the Cowboys' ten rookies were missing. Defensive back Phil Clark of Northwestern and guard Curtis Marker of Northern Michigan were in Chicago for the College All-Star game.

Quarterbacks and centers are due here Friday and the remainder of the squad will check in July 21.

Home Run Weapon Is Big In Texas League

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The home run was the big weapon in the Texas League Wednesday night as the El Paso Sun Kings clipped another half game off Amarillo's lead.

El Paso rapped four homers, including a pair by first baseman Larry Stubing, in a 14-4 victory over Austin. The loss dropped the Braves, who got a grand slam home run from Walt Hriniak in the first inning, from third to fifth place in the standings.

Amarillo divided a double-header with Albuquerque in the only other league activity. Wet grounds forced postponement of Dallas-Fort Worth at Arkansas for a second night.

Ray Lamb tossed a three-hitter and Luis Alcaraz accounted for the only run with a second-inning homer in Albuquerque's 1-0 victory in the seven-inning opener.

In the nightcap Amarillo scored all its runs in the third inning as Nate Colbert hit a three-run homer for a 6-5 triumph. It was Colbert's 23rd home run of the season.

England, Federation Disagree

By GEOFFREY MILLER

MONTDORF - LES - BAINES, Luxembourg (AP) — England might rebel against the International Lawn Tennis Federation, ruling body of the sport, and decide to hold open tennis championships without sanction.

The ILTF rejected Wednesday by 139 votes to 83 a British plan for open tournaments in which professionals and amateurs would compete for a two-year experimental period.

Herman David, chairman of the All-England Club which stages the Wimbledon championships, commented in London: "If progress cannot be made by constitutional means, we shall have to think about achieving it by unconstitutional means."

That aroused speculation among the delegates to the ILTF annual meeting about what would happen if the big tennis powers decided to go it alone and hold open tournagain?"

Dr. Giorgio de Stefani of Italy, newly elected president of the ILTF, declared "I cannot believe that any country would defy the ILTF and stage an open tournament. If it did, its players would be banned from competing in other ILTF countries. And then, what would we gainu"

In the vote Wednesday, the United States and Australia supported the British proposal for open tourneys, along with Austria, Canada, Jamaica, New Zealand, South Africa, Sweden and Switzerland.

When the New York Mets beat Vern Law 3-2 on April 13 it marked their first victory over the Deacon since Aug. 19, 1964. He had beaten the Mets six straight times.

For Poor Children?

California Won't Let Clay Fight

By BILL STALL

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Heavyweight boxer Cassius Clay was denied Wednesday a license to fight a bout in California to benefit poor children, Negro and white, in the South.

The California Athletic Commission voted 4-0 against Clay's application for a boxing license, with one member abstaining.

Clay, sitting calmly and seriously before the commission, had no immediate comment, except to say that he would not try to hold the fight outside California.

Clay was stripped of his title by the World Boxing Association and the powerful New York State Athletic Commission after he was convicted in a federal court in Houston, on a charge of refusing to be drafted into the armed forces.

Clay faces a five-year prison sentence if his appeal of the conviction is denied.

California's boxing rules deny any fighter a license if he has been convicted of a felony and even if he is out on bond pending an appeal.

Oakland boxing promoter Henry Winston said he had hoped to stage the fight in the Oakland Coliseum. Clay said he would pledge all his proceeds, except for $100, to a charitable organization to buy food for hungry children in Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia.

At the same meeting, the commission deferred action on the license application of former heavyweight champion Sonny Liston.

Commissioners said they wanted to check Liston's status with the New York commission before deciding. Liston, 35, was denied a California permit in 1962 on grounds of unsavory association by his managers and handlers.

MOVE OVER, MEN!

Filling Mobutu's Simple Request Not Exactly Easy

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It seemed so simple.

Congo President Joseph D. Mobutu asked this country for some cargo planes to help him put down a revolt led by white mercenaries and rebel Congolese troops about 1,000 miles northeast of Kinsasha, the capital.

This doesn't sound complicated. This government had publicly proclaimed support of Mobutu's regime. And it wouldn't be the first time the United States had helped the central Congolese government against revolt.

So, it might seem, all Mobutu had to do was ask for help again. But this was where it got complicated because anything like that has to go through a process, sometimes called machinery.

Mobutu sent his request Thursday, July 6, through a cablegram to his ambassador in Washington. The ambassador took it to the State Department at the same time the department was being told of Mobutu's Request in a cablegram from Robert McBride, the U.S. ambassador in the Congo.

The next day McBride followed up his first cablegram with another, saying he approved. By then the wheels were in motion. President Johnson at his Texas ranch had been informed. So had Dean Rusk, secretary of state.

Meanwhile, the request had to go through the process at the State Department. There it went to the Bureau of African Affairs where it got the instant attention of the bureau's Congo task force, headed by Dean Brown.

It was discussed and huddled over by the members of the bureau and the task force and by Wayne Frederick, acting secretary of state for African affairs.

Meanwhile, there had been trips to the office of Rusk who also conferred with some of the top people around him. Finally the bureau and task force approved, and so notified Frederick, who also approved and so notified Rusk.

Rusk, who had been in touch with Johnson by phone, also approved. So did Johnson. The decision to go ahead was reached Saturday, July 8. But before there could be any public announcement, Johnson told Rusk, key members of Congress had to be informed. They were, and the announcement was made Sunday, July 9.

But the State Department doesn't have transport planes. So meanwhile it had to discuss the problem with the Department of Defense. This was done by contacting the Defense Department's Office for International Security, headed by Assistant Secretary John McNaughton.

Then the Mobutu request, along with the State Department's thinking, went to the Joint Chiefs of Staff and to Paul H. Nitze, acting secretary of defense at the time since Robert S. McNamara, the secretary of defense, was in Vietnam.

Nitze and the Joint Chiefs concurred with the State Department. Now all that was needed was to send the planes. The Joint Chiefs' order to do this was sent to the U.S. Strike Command at MacDill Air Force base, Tampa, Fla.

The strike command is responsible for keeping military personnel in readiness for instant service anywhere.

Orders also went to the Tactical Air Command at Langley Field, Va., and to the Continental Army Command at nearby Ft. Monroe, Va. and, if this isn't complicated enough, the planes — three four-engine transports — took off late Saturday from Pope Air Force Base in North Carolina.

They had about 126 troops aboard, some mechanics and some paratroopers to guard the planes when Mobutu sent them where he wanted them to go. Neither the planes nor the men were supposed to get involved anywhere close to the direct action.

Things We Could Do Without

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK AP) — Things we could do without—and probably never even miss:

All business letters with transparent windows in them that deluge us with the false hope that there may be a check inside.

College men who beat the draft by taking graduate studies in social adjustment.

Brightly colored magazines whose dyes on moist days come off on your hands and leave them looking as if they had been stamped with a Scottish tartan.

All movies featuring the antics of the younger generation on beaches.

Any dog food that makes a crunchy sound when chewed. It is bad enough for a man to have to listen to his wife munch her way through the breakfast toast. Who wants Fido to join in the chorus?

Dentists with offices so luxurious they look like the setting for an orgy in an early Cecil B. DeMille film.

Museum statues that wear fig leaves. They simply cause today's modern children to ask, "What's the matter with that one, daddy? Is he trying to hide a scar?"

Nonwinning lottery tickets. And insider stockmarket tips.

Hostesses who blow cigarette smoke rings in a man's face, then blanch when he pulls out a cigar to launch a counterattack.

Fashion models built like the broomstick scarecrows farmers use to protect their crops.

Crackers that come in plastic bags so tough they can be opened only with a saber or by a person with teeth like a werewolf.

Beer cans, disposable glass bottles, and all other containers that are discarded after being used only once. The greatest threat to civilization isn't the atom bomb; it is the danger that it will suffocate in the junk it produces and can no longer throw away because there will be no place left to throw it.

Office secretaries who file their fingernails—rasp, rasp, rasp, rasp—during pauses in dictation.

Coin machines that dispense lukewarm black coffee in paper cups.

Exercise books that promise a plump middle-aged wife she can soon have slim, youthful hips. There are no such exercises. If there were, all washwomen would be shaped like Brigitte Bardot.

Hospital nurses who wake a patient from a sound sleep at 6 a.m. so he'll have a longer day in which to get his badly needed rest.

Television programs on which the main goal of the smart aleck interviewer seems to be to show off his own knowledge or to needle the person being interviewed into losing his temper.

Storekeepers who turn an ugly penny by selling high school kids buttons with filthy messages.

People who try to impress you by throwing wild rice at a wedding, because wild rice is so much more expensive.

From these and other annoyances of a parlous time, deliver us: Amen.

Junior Editors' Quiz on LIGHTNING BUGS

QUESTION: Why do lightning bugs light up?

ANSWER: Lightning bugs, often called fireflies, are neither true bugs nor flies, but a special kind of beetle. Little heat is given off by the light they produce, which because of this is called cold light and is of great interest to scientists. The light is formed by a group of five chemicals in the firefly's body held together by a chemical bond. But another chemical may be released, which will break the bond, allowing the chemicals to react together to produce light. The flashing lights enable fireflies to find each other during the mating season. As the picture shows, these fireflies have wings, but there are wingless insects in Europe called glowworms, which also give off similar light. Most dramatic of the fireflies is the large railway beetle of Paraguay in South America. It gives out a red light from one part of the body and green lights from other parts, suggesting railway signals. It's fun to chase fireflies and watch them flash inside a jar, but you're likely to make a grab at one and find him winking from some distance away.

(Brenda Gray of Baltimore, Md., wins the combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper.)

WELCOMES SPEAKER — Don Adams (right), president of the Snyder Kiwanis Club, welcomes Stephen Clark, Snyder police chief to the weekly luncheon meeting of the club. Clark was guest speake Wednesday.

Police Chief Seeks Top Staff, Pledges Service

Police Chief Stephen Clark told Kiwanians at their noon meeting Wednesday in Sallie's Cafeteria that he believes in a courteous, honest efficient police department.

Clark observed that it costs the city $117,000 to operate the police department each year, and he said that the public "is entitled to a full share of service for this money."

A former police instructor at Texas A&M, Clark said several changes are being made in the operation of he local department. He succeeded Chester Simons as chief July 1 when Simons accepted a similar position at Coffeyville, Kan.

New recruiting procedures provide that each applicant must pass tests in general knowledge, personality and adaptabliity. A former active psychologist, Clark declared that he is trying to attract better educated officers.

"We're shooting for second year college," he stated. A background check, credit rating check and a medical examination will be given each new candidate for the Snyder Police Department. In addition, new officers must pass an oral interview.

Other new plans call for performance ratings every six months. The chief will grade the captains; the captains will grade the sergeants; and, the sergeants will grade the patrolmen on overall efficiency.

Clark pledged that each citizen will have equal rights under the law.

Discussing the new Code of Criminal Procedure, he said that "most ambiguities" in the Code were corrected during the last session of the legislature. It still is not clear whether a person charged with a misdemeanor offense has the right to an examining trial, he added.

Clark called most of the changes in the Code "good," but said that the "bad changes are really bad." He reminded Kiwanians that laws are continually changing and that it is difficult for a "rookie" patrolman to know what to do in new or unusual circumstances.

"The days of Matt Dillon are gone," he declared, adding that policemen today must be well versed in criminal investigations, the applicability of the law and receive the specialized training that will make them more proficient in their work.

"There has always been sympathy for the underdog in this country, and sometimes sympathy is with persons being arrested," stated the chief. He reminded Kiwanians that good police protection results in large part from public support and confidence.

He decried present - day trends in which criminals sometimes go free on technicalities of the law, but he pledged a continuing effort towards making and keeping Snyder a safe town in which to live.

Kiwanians also heard Brud Boren, chairman of the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee, outline plans to locate historical markers at various points in the county. In this connection the committee is selling charter memberships in the "Order of the White Buffalo" to raise funds to place a replica of the animal killed by J. Wright Mooar, early Snyder buffalo hunter, on the courthouse grounds.

Cynthia Westbrook, president of the Gay Twenty social Club also was a guest of Kiwanians. The club she represents is helping in the sale of the charter memberships.

Don Adams, president of the Kiwanis Club, urged other local service clubs to join the Kiwanians in an "operation sprakle" project to place trash receptacles in the downtown area. Anyone seeking further information may contact him or Roy McCloskey.

Frank Stephenson led in the Pledge of Allegiance, and the invocation was given by I. E. Martin. Adams presided over the meeting.

Other visitors included Doc Weaver and Mr. Mark Adams.

DEAR ABBY: Please come to our rescue as soon as possible! The terrific heat, which requires that we keep our windows open, plus our "problem," make things unbearable.

A very lovely, cultured, retired lady in our neighborhood "practices" the piano every morning, afternoon, and evening. She owns a fine grand piano whose tone carries great distances. Altho she practices most of the day, she never seems to improve. We know every note of every piece she practices, and have even come to know when to expect the wrong notes.

We can't ask her not to play so loudly, or to keep her windows closed, or she would be offended. And we can't close ours. The newsboy who delivers our paper, delivers the same paper to her, so she must read your column. Please publish this. She is too nice to hurt, but we are suffering.

SILENT SUFFERERS

DEAR SUFFERERS: You have my sympathy. But have you ever considered how lucky you are that this lady doesn't study voice, with a penchant for opera?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We were four girls and two boys brought up in a Jewish home, so we never had ham, bacon, or pork in our house. Now that we are all grown and married, none of us has preserved the dietary customs, but our parents do. I must admit, mama and papa are very broad-minded about our liberal attitude.

My oldest sister has a beautiful home, and when she has mama and papa over she serves them a dairy dinner, but she always puts a big pork roast on the table for everyone else.

Mama and papa have never said anything, but I know they are hurt.

I once told my sister I thought she was out of line to put pork on the table with mama and papa there, and she said, "I'm no hypocrite. We have pork in this house, and they know it, so why hide it? Besides, in MY home I'll serve whatever I like."

I still think my sister is wrong. Or am I?

THE YOUNGEST

DEAR YOUNGEST: Your sister is not only wrong, she's childish, disrespectful, and mean. She's trying to show contempt for the old traditions and at the same time let mama and papa know that she's her own boss now and can do as she pleases. But she doesn't have to hit them over the head with a pork roast to make her point.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 30 years. I am 52 and believe me, Abby, there is nothing wrong with me. I'm refined, educated, and nice looking. People tell me I look like 40. I go to gym and keep myself fit. I don't want to sound like a bragger, but I could take a job as a topless waitress if I wanted to. Enough about me. My problem is my husband. He wants a divorce. He says he doesn't have anybody else, he just wants to be free. I think he's lying, but I can't catch him. We have grown children who think he is crazy. They don't want me to give him a divorce.

I am ashamed to say this, but I still care for him and can't throw 30 years of marriage out the window. Am I wrong to refuse to give him a divorce?

HANGING ON

DEAR HANGIN: No.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I would like to keep a tiger as a house pet, but people tell me there is a law against it. What law? We do not live in the city, we live in the country. We would have the tiger defanged and declawed and he would be kept in a sturdy cage to preclude his getting loose.

He couldn't do damage to any property but our own. The tiger is only a cub now and could be easily trained. Can you give me any good reason why the law would have anything to say about this?

LOVES ANIMALS

DEAR LOVES: I can't, but a lawyer might. You may not keep a pet in violation of laws prohibiting cruelty to animals. Better clear this with your local humane society.

Criticism Makes Johnson Cautious

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's dispatch of three U. S. planes to the Congo may have cost him political ground he gained in following a cautious course in the Middle East crisis.

After the quick Israeli victory over the Arabs there was demonstrable satisfaction in the country that the President had prevented any indirect American involvement in the war.

But Johnson's unheralded action in dispatching transport planes and about 150 men to the rebellion-torn Congo in reponse to a request by President Joseph D. Mobutu soured the congenial atmosphere, at least in Congress.

Critics said Johnson acted precipitously to poke into the domestic affairs of a country where the United States had no vital interests and where it was not its primary responsibility to keep the peace.

One result, in the opinion of influential members of Congress, could be a slow-down in any executive move at this time to enlarge the American military commitment in Vietnam.

They argue that Johnson, always keenly aware of the trend of congressional and public opinion, can only conclude that a great number of Americans are overly tired of having the United States police the world.

This attitude could be reflected in public reaction against any spectacular move to intensify the Vietnam war by substantially increasing troop commitments or expanding the bombing.

The expectation in Congress is that Johnson will move only in stages to give Gen. William C. Westmoreland more of the troops the general says he needs and that there will be no preceptible change in bombing patterns for the time being.

Senatorial supporters of the President's Vietnam course joined his critics in making it clear they want no more Vietnams by criticizing his decision to give even token help to Mobutu in his fight with rebels and white mercenaries.

This widespread concern was translated into action Wednesday when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee tentatively knocked $120 million out of the $600 million military aid program proposed by Johnson.

Ask Damage Reports From Sonic Booms

BRISTOL, England (AP) — Britain's doctors have appealed to the public for reports of damage to health believed caused by sonic booms.

The Scientific Commitee of the British Medical Association, holding its annual meeting here, also appealed Wednesday for reports on effects of the booms on delicate medical equipment.

"If the reports show that there is some risk to patients or delicate equipment, then we will send a report to the minister of technology," said Lawrence Abel, a London surgeon who heads the commitee.

Reptiles eat little in relation to their body weight. They get most of the heat they need from ouside their bodies — by basking in the sun, for instance.

LIFE SAVING — Floyd Boston, owner of the Beacon Lodge, and Robert L. Kissire, director of the Boy's Club, watch Bill Wiman, Ricky Rhodes, Bucky Crisp and Jesse Rios practice life saving techniques. Kissire is teaching the youths a course in senior life saving so they can perform life guard duty at the Boy's Club camp to be held in August. Boston donated the use of his pool for the instruction. Also taking the course (not pictured) are Bruce Ellard and Pete Rios.

Research Center Really Goes 'Ape'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—To put it mildly, the Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center at Emory University has "gone ape."

Dr. Geoffrey H. Bourne, center director, announced Wednesday another orangutan was born at the center July 9. It was the center's third such addition in the past nine months.

Bourne said only about 10 of the apes have been born in captivity.

Search Party Hunts Escaped Alligator

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Visitors at Nay Aug Park are warned to be on the lookout for a dangerous alligator.

The three-foot-long 'gator escaped from the park zoo and was spotted Wednesday by two men as it was heading through nearby woods toward Roaring Brook River.

A search party of park employes combed the woods and dragged the river Wednesday without any luck.
