Four-Unit Addition Started At Shaw's Motel

Workmen with the Knight-Susen Lumber Co., San Angelo, were at work this week digging trenches for foundation for a new four-unit addition to Shaw's Motel.

Formerly known as Keno's Motel, the establishment was taken over by the Shaws nearly two years ago. At that time, the existing units were modernized with carpeting, and some new furnishings.

The new addition, which will be just north of Griffin's Gulf Service Station and will face the motel office, will be modern in every respect.

Harold Susen will oversee the work.

Luman Baby Dies

Graveside services were held last Saturday afternoon at 4:30 in the Eldorado cemetery for Debbie Lynn Luman, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Luman of Eldorado.

The baby was born prematurely at 3:57 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 30, in the Sonora hospital and lived about three hours.

Johnny Griffith, Assembly of God minister, conducted the last rites. The baby's mother is the former Sharon Duke of Uvalde.

Survivors include the parents; grandparents: Mr. and Mrs. John Luman of Eldorado, Mrs. Bernice Duke of Uvalde and Chas. Duke of Kansas; greats: Mr. and Mrs. Lem Walters and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Luman all of Spur, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ducummon of Tulsa, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Shipman of Eldorado, and a great-great grandmother, Mrs. Hortense Blakeney of Camp Wood, Texas.

Griffin Leads Eaglettes To District Lead

The fans agreed on one thing Tuesday night; they were glad Karen Griffin was playing for Eldorado. The junior forward poured in 24 points, her high for the season, and grabbed six rebounds. Most of Karen's shots were lofted from the top of the free throw circle with 10 points coming in the first quarter. Marsha Mund was much improved offensively as she made 8 points, 5 of which came in the first quarter. It was Karen and Marsha that gave the home girls a 15-10 first quarter advantage. The second quarter Menard scored 13 while the Eagles had 14. Christy Moore began to connect and put in 6 consecutive free throws, Karen added 5 points and Marsha 3 for a 29-23 half-time count. Christy had 15 for the game.

The third quarter was almost disaster as Eldorado made 5 points and Menard 11 to give the Jackets a 34-34 deadlock. The fourth quarter was nip and tuck but a basket by Christy and 9 points by Karen plus two free throws by freshman Susan Hill iced the game. Little Chris Edmiston was everywhere rebounding and stealing the ball. She had a total of 13 rebounds while Frankie Blaylock garnered 10. Paula Mace and Jane Cain had the alternate job of guarding 6' 0" Joy Williamson. They were able to hold her to 6 field goals.

This victory gives Eldorado a 2-0 district record with two games remaining. Menard has a 1-1 record and Junction is 0-2. Junction comes here Tuesday and Eldorado will travel to Menard next Friday to try to cinch the crown for East Zone.

Eagles Host Broncs

The Eldorado Eagles with a 2-1 district standing and 13-7 season record will seek to avenge an earlier loss to Sonora this Friday night at Eagle Gym.

If the Eagles can manage a victory it will throw the zone into a tie with a zone play-off necessary if both teams win their other two games. Sonora's three remaining games are on the road while the Eagles will host the Broncs, and Junction before going to Menard next Friday.

Things in the West Zone are equally as tight as Iraan beat Big Lake to put their zone into a tie. A play-off will also be necessary there if both clubs can win the rest.

554 Paid Poll Tax

With passing of the deadline last week end for paying of the poll tax, a total of 554 had paid the levy in the sheriff's office.

In addition, 9 exemptions were issued to voters becoming 21.

Voting strength of the county also includes residents over 61, who are exempt from the poll tax in this county.

Nugent Is Named To Five Committees

Representative James Nugent of Kerrville has been named to five committees in the Texas House of Representatives by Speaker Ben Barnes. Nugent will serve on:

- Aeronautics
- Criminal Jurisprudence
- Livestock and Stock Raising
- Revenue and Taxation
- Rules.

The 26-year-old Barnes, youngest Speaker to serve in this century, said: "Each Member has been judged on his own merit, on his ability and his performance in previous Sessions if he has prior service. These were the guidelines I used in making all committee appointments. I trust the committee make-up of the 59th Legislature will be such that we can arrive at proper conclusions to the many problems confronting the people of this state."

Lions Club To Sponsor Girl Scout Fund Drive

At the meeting of the Eldorado Lions club yesterday, Ray Boyer appointed a committee to work out details for a fund drive for the Girl Scout council. No such drive has been held here in several years, it was pointed out.

Joe Gault will be chairman of the committee, and other members are Bud Davidson, John Stigler, and Bill Rountree.

A. G. McCormack, chairman of the committee to set up a dog vaccination day, announced that date of Feb. 20 had been set for this. Further details will be announced later.

For the program, a color film, "Operation Sunshine" which depicted the voyage under the North Pole of the American submarine, Nautilus, was shown. Kenneth Vaughan was program chairman and L. D. Mund was projectionist.

Johnny Griffith of Eldorado was a guest.

Eagles Win Second District Game Tuesday

The hot and cold Eldorado Eagles were warm enough Tuesday night to hand Menard a 56-52 loss. This gives the Eagles a 13-7 season standing and 2-1 record in district play.

Richard Preston dumped in 25 points and gobbled up 23 rebounds to lead all scorers and rebounders. However, Scott McGregor added 16 big points, mostly outside shots, to give the Eagles a scoring punch. Bob Halbert netted seven points and 3 rebounds and Chris McCravey managed 6 and 2 rebounds. Freshman, Gary Derrick contributed 2 more and 5 rebounds.

Every Eagle hustled and rebounded well however, the team hit only 35% of their shots and 66% from the free throw line. The team committed 28 fouls to the opponents 14.

"Texas Co-Op Power" is a statewide publication devoted to the interests of members of electric co-ops in Texas and goes out every month to over 250,000 rural and suburban Texans throughout the state.

In the February issue, just off the press, a page feature is devoted to El Dorado Woolens, with a brief review of its history and its recent expansion.

With our subscribers: Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brooks, who moved to San Angelo last year, are now staying in San Antonio where Mr. Brooks will undergo minor surgery and treatment at Baptist Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Brooks is staying at 146 Kayton Ave., San Antonio, Texas 78210. They expect to be there for about three weeks. J. I. Oliver renewed his subscription last week from Livingston, Texas.

Brian Edmiston has taken out a student subscription at 1225 20th Street, Huntsville, Texas.

"Please change our paper to Route 1, Marble Falls. We are now living in the Joe Edens home on Granite Shoals Lake, in Sherwood Shores addition," writes Mrs. C. C. Henderson.

On page 2 in this issue of the Success appears a legal notice in fine print that occupies one-half of that page.

Only three people in Schleicher county have read every word of it and they were the Success Linotype operator who had to set the type and the two proof readers who had to check it word for word.

The copy came from the office of P. B. Shannon, San Angelo attorney, who is legal advisor for a group of Tom Green and Schleicher county ranchers who are promoting this project. The first paragraph explains that "This is to give notice of intention to introduce a bill in the Legislature to create a conservation district."

Jimmy West of Schleicher county is one of seven members of a committee behind the project and he was in our office Monday and gave a general account of the purpose of the proposed district.

The idea behind the whole thing is water conservation . . . to hold back water in various draws following heavy rains and prevent flash flooding on the South Concho. It would also tend to increase the underground water supply over the entire county.

"We've been working on this project for two years," explained Mr. West, who went on to say that this newspaper notice is the first legal step in its establishment.

Next will be getting the bill introduced and passed in the Legislature. No doubt there will be a number of legal hurdles before the district is established, but once that has been accomplished the district will be eligible for a great deal of Federal aid for building detention dams, etc.

Members of the present committee are M. G. Shurley, Christoval rancher; Gene Jones, Gordon Kenley, Ford Boulevard, and Dr. Ralls of Tom Green county; and Joe Wagley and Jimmy West of Schleicher county. Wagley was added to the committee recently to replace the late J. Forrest Runge.

Mr. West explained that the proposed jobs to be done would be similar to that done to Sutton county several years ago.

On another page of the Success, E. C. Peters announces that he is now a licensed real estate dealer.

This newspaper is receiving a good deal of publicity from the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn., concerning a "pooling" bill which has been introduced in the Legislature. The proposed bill will be of interest to land owners in counties like Schleicher where over $10 million dollars worth of gas is produced yearly.

Whether they will all approve of it is something we have no opinion on, but we quote several paragraphs explaining the purpose of the bill:

"The problem which the bill is designed to solve is this: To develop an oil or gas reservoir according to best standards of conservation, the Railroad Commission establishes a spacing pattern of one well to so many acres, say 40 or 80. Thus a landowner with, say 10 acres, doesn't have large enough tract to qualify for, say, one well to the 40-acre spacing. Yet he owns the oil or gas which may underlie his 10 acres.

"He can drill a well on this small tract but the rub comes when the Commission must decide what amount of oil it will allow to be produced from the small tract. If the well on the small tract is allowed to produce the same amount as the one on the designated 40-acre drilling unit, then owners in the larger unit are penalized for following a pattern of development that is designed to make the most efficient recovery of resources from the reservoir. The small-tract well will be exhausting the oil or gas under its acreage at a faster relative rate than the larger tract. This could cause the fluids of the larger tract to be drained by the smaller one, resulting in inequitable withdrawals from the common reservoir.

"On the other hand, if the amount of oil allowed from the small-tract well is too small to justify the drilling of a well, then the owner of the small tract would see his oil recovered by his neighbor's well.

"By 'pooling' or joining, the small tract with other tracts to form a designated drilling unit, an arrangement could be worked out where one well would efficiently produce the assigned allowable and the small-tract owner would share in the production, regardless of where the well was actually located. This procedure has been used for many years on a voluntary basis."

Apparently the bill is intended to make it mandatory.

James Williams sold a used car to a Sonora customer this week and was paid off with $75 worth of silver half-dollars.

Eagles Win Dist. Contest

Eldorado Eagles had a profitable night at Junction Friday with an 82-31 rout of the black and gold.

Eldorado dominated the game with a 26-4 first quarter lead. All ten boys played equal amounts of time and all 10 scored.

Richard Preston scored 18 and got 19 rebounds despite half the game on the bench. Monty Montgomery was on target making 15 and Chris McCravey had 12. Bob Halbert scored 9 and gathered in 12 rebounds. Pat Childers, Gary Derrick, and Jesse Bosman, each tallied 6. Mike McCravey and Jay Halbert each had 4 and Scott McGregor had 2.

This win put the Eagles even in district play with 1-1.

Eaglettes to Rocksprings

The final game of the yearly duel between Eldorado and Rocksprings will unrelax at Rocksprings this Saturday immediately following the Junior High Tournament in which Eldorado boys and girls are entered.

Rocksprings defeated Eldorado the first time 48-45 and Eldorado in turn beat the Angoras 61-42.

A group of Eagle followers is expected to go to Rocksprings.

Miss Peters Announced B. Crocker Homemaker

KAY FRANCES PETERS

Miss Kay Frances Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Peters, has been named Eldorado High School's 1965 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. She scored highest in a written home-making examination taken by senior girls Dec. 1, and is now eligible for state and national honors.

Test papers of all school Homemakers of Tomorrow in the state are currently being judged. The state's highest-ranking girl will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow, with the state runner-up to be awarded a $500 educational grant. In addition, the school of the State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a complete set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica from that company.

Later this spring, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow, together with a school advisor, will join first-place winners and advisors from each of the 50 other states and the District of Columbia in a tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., Washington, D.C., and New York City. Climax of the week-long tour will be the naming of the Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. To be chosen on the basis of original test score and personal observation and interviews during the tour, she will receive an increase in her scholarship to $5,000. Second-, third- and fourth-place winners in the nation will have their grants raised to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 respectively.

The Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow was initiated by General Mills in 1954 to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. Including this year's record enrollment of more than half a million senior girls in more than 14,000 high schools, the total number of participants during the program's 11-year history stands at four million.

To Host Junction

Tuesday night Eldorado boys will host Junction in a district game. The green and white holds an 82-31 victory previously and will be out to make it two.

The Eldorado girls, who beat Junction last Friday, will be after their third district win against no defeats. The girls contest will begin at 6:30.

FIRE ALARM

Firemen were called out at 7:00 o'clock Wednesday morning for what proved to be a motor vehicle fire at Lawrence Dannheim's, caused by faulty wiring.

News of the Sick

CIRCLE MET MONDAY

The Ruth Dickerson circle of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon at the home of the circle chairman, Mrs. Jack Griffin.

Mrs. Griffin presided. Mrs. Weldon Davis read the Prayer Calendar and led the prayer. She served as program leader also with Mrs. Vernon Rogers and Mrs. Griffin assisting. Other circle members read passages from the Bible emphasizing the program topic, Applying Christian Principles.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery led the closing prayer. Refreshments were served to eight members and a guest, Mrs. Wm. Rountree.

A Scout Parent's Pledge

We have them such a little while; They grow with dazzling speed. How can we pierce that boyish smile

To learn of every need? We wish to make them straight and true

And clean in mind and heart; To set ideals to live up to, To get a healthy start.

We know that boys kept busy with The things that Scouts all do

Are better boys and better men

When boyhood days are through. And so we pledge our hearts and minds

And hands to help our boys. To work with them and share with them

Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKUCW

It is not often that I pick up a particular product or item and give it a plug but I am going to do that right now. I'm going to say that you "must" own a Teflon skillet, or other piece of cooking ware. The joy and ease of use simply must be experienced to be convincing. A Teflon coated cooking utensil literally takes the work out of clean up. Besides, it saves eggs. How does it save eggs? Nothing sticks, not even one half the scrambled eggs, not even cream of wheat or oatmeal. You simply suds the foods off and wipe the skillet clean. I use a paper towel.

DuPont discovered and patented the process of coating cookware with Teflon but you do not have to be as rich as DuPont or as smart as an Einstein to enjoy the ease of cooking with Teflon. You owe yourself the pleasure of owning at least one piece of Teflon ware.

Home making is not all new clothes and new recipes. Home making talks cover a multitude of assignments such as keeping the house and family clean, big jobs and small jobs—like these:

—To brighten the dingy mortar around bath tub and sink tiled areas: Scrub, with a brush, the tiled area with hot detergent suds. Next, apply a diluted solution (with water) of chlorine bleach. Repeat this wetting with the bleach often enough to keep the mortar joints wet for 5 minutes. Rinse with clear hot water and wipe dry. This cleans mortar between tiles as well as around plumbing fixtures.

—To remove water stains and discolorations from the floor of a shower or tub (it doesn't make any difference whether it is tiled or covered with other materials): cover entire floor with 2 or 3 thicknesses of newspaper. Mix 2 cups cheap vinegar and 2 cups water, sometimes not so cheap. Pour the vinegar-water mixture on the paper, wetting completely. Let stay from 30 minutes to a couple of hours, depending on the amount of lime deposit you are dealing with. Take papers out after having used them as a kind of scrubbing material. Rinse surface well. If it doesn't do the trick do it again; that vinegar is finally going to get to remove the cloudy film called lime deposit.

Someone asked how to clean a bathtub marred by having clothes soaked in it. Try this.

Have you seen the "split" plastic pail which comes with one side for detergent suds, the other side for rinse water? Very nice. Each half has one flat wall so that two parts fit closely and are held together by a removable handle. I saw one lately for less than a dollar.

"Are chickens with dark bones fit to eat?" Yes, they are. U. S. Department of Agriculture Poultry specialists say dark bones in no way affect the wholesomeness or the flavor of poultry meat.

Dark bones are actually a sign of a young bird, the specialists say. We are seeing more today because producers are marketing chickens and turkeys at an earlier age.

It rained one inch and a quarter in February, 1963; here is hoping we get it again. Everybody agrees on the two things Schleicher county needs most—water and oil.

Do you own a hair dryer for yourself and the girls? If you do, please remember that it is very, very dangerous to wear a dryer while in a bath tub or standing on a floor covered with spilled water. And, if the girls have one in a school dorm please warn them not to wear them while in the laundry room as well as in a tub or shower. Water conducts electricity and the hair dryer does not have to be faulty to give one a fatal shock if used improperly.

If you plan to do some watering of shrubs during cold weather be sure to do it early in the day so that the leaves will dry off before night.

But do water. Proper watering is just as important now as in the hot summer months.

MAURICE DOYLE CIRCLE

The Maurice Doyle circle of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. M. Hoover for the Royal Service Circle program.

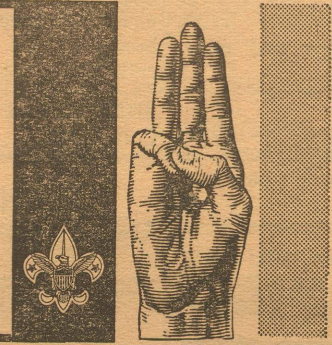

Mrs. C. N. Clark was leader of the program, "Applying Christian Principles." Others on program were Mrs. Ruth Finnegan, Mrs. Allan Kuykendall, Mrs. Hoover, and Miss John Alexander.

Mrs. Carroll Ratliff, WMU president, gave a report on a WMU meeting and program she attended in San Angelo last Thursday. Refreshments of cake, coffee, and tea were served to nine members, Mrs. Ratliff, and another guest, Mrs. Buster Gunn.

OF THE SOUTHWEST

What's Back Of Boy Scout Week?

Imagine yourself in the Washington, D.C., law office of Rayston, Siddons, and Richardson on February 8, 1910. Two others are there, one a newspaper and magazine publisher from Chicago, the second a Washington banker.

William D. Boyce, the publisher, has just returned from a business trip to London where he has had an experience that made a profound impression on him. It seems he was lost in the London fog, and a boy helped him find his way and then refused the tip that Boyce offered him with the words "Thank you, Sir, but I am a Scout and a Scout does not accept tips for doing Good Turns." Boyce was so dumbfounded that he asked more about the Scouts, and the boy took him to General Baden-Powell's office. Talking with that dynamic man sent Boyce back to America eager to bring the new program to this country.

He shared the dream with his friend, Colin H. Livingston, the banker, and they agreed that they should incorporate the Boy Scout idea in the District of Columbia.

This was done on that February day, and the first step had been taken to turn the dream into an actuality.

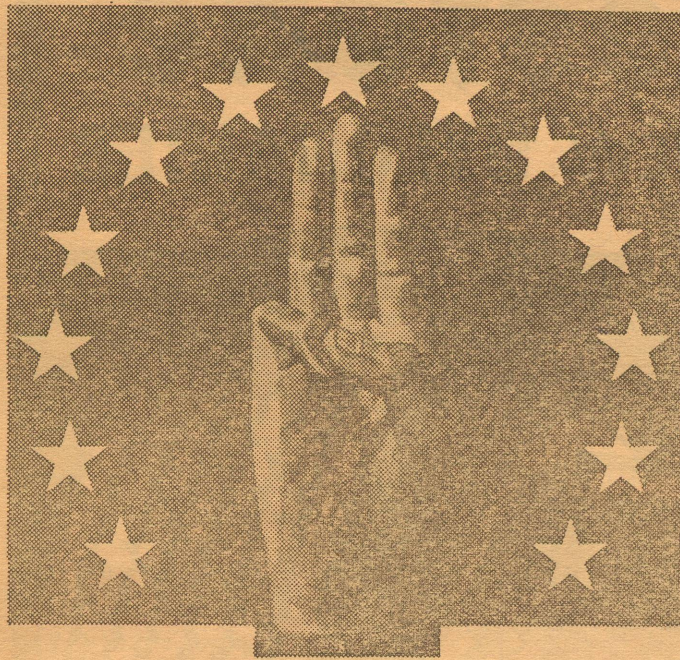

It is this event that we commemorate when we celebrate Boy Scout Week from February 7 to 13 each year—the birth of a movement that has grown beyond its founders' wildest dreams.

You will hear a lot about Scouting that week; magazines, newspapers, radio, and television feature Scouting's week as they do no other during the year, and this we deeply appreciate because it is important to keep reminding the public that Scouting is doing an important job for boys and that it is very much alive.

In addition to what the public will read and hear about Scouting, I hope that they will see a lot of it too, because of the special activities planned. But it is my personal conviction that most important of all the events in Boy Scout Week is a very simple but very meaningful one—the recommitment to the ideals of Scouting as stated in the Cub Scout Promise, the Boy Scout Oath, and the Explorer Code. I hope that no matter what else your unit does that week, there will be a solemn moment when everyone present will stand at attention, think for a moment about what it means to belong to the Boy Scouts of America, and repledge himself to the words that so well express our conception of citizenship. — by Lex Lucas, editor of Scouting magazine.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Netleton Industrial Museum

"I bet there are few people alive today who remember when this 1895 antique was actually used as a source of heat. Besides not giving out just an awful lot of heat to an awful lot of space, it didn't exactly smell like the breath of spring either. Times have certainly changed.

Now-a-days safe, flameless electric heating carries even, steady heat to all parts of a room or home. Hot spots, cold spots and drafts are things of the past. Since electric heating is totally flameless there are no pilot flames to go out or gaseous odors, no soot, film, smoke, or residue to rest on indoor walls and furniture. The house stays clean, comfortable, and fresh smelling.

If you aren't enjoying the comforts of flameless electric heat call a WTU representative or see your electrical heating contractor right away."

PAMELA HONORED
Austin.—It was announced last week that Pamela Calk, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Eldon T. Calk of Eldorado, was appointed advisory chairman for her dorm, University Arms. Pamela was elected an advisor last Spring.
She is majoring in Special Education for the Orthopedically Handicapped, and Speech, and is a Junior at the University of Texas.

FRIENDLY WASH
Eldorado's newest and most modern coin-operated laundry is ready to serve you in the Taylor building on South Main street. Open from early morning to late at night for your convenience.
Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McEwen

Austin.—Education still rates top priority in the state capital. But it was viewed in a new light after Gov. John Connally revealed his program to the State Legislature.
Connally took the suggestions of his Committee on Education Beyond the High School that a strong coordinating board be created to administer state colleges and universities. He adopted its plan to put public junior colleges under that board and then told the Legislators the state should assume full financing of instructional costs of junior college academic programs.

Three-Board College System
Real surprise in Connally's approach to higher education came in his proposal that all existing college and university boards of regents be abolished and the higher education institutions be re-grouped into three systems.

Even this idea held an added surprise, since Connally recommended establishment of an agricultural and technical university in San Antonio, to serve all of South Texas.
Under the three system approach there would be a University of Texas System composed of the University of Texas in Austin, Texas Western College, Arlington State College, North Texas State University, Texas Woman's University, University of Houston, Texas Southern University and all medical and dental units.
Texas State University System would consist of A&M University, Texas Technological College, Prairie View A&M College, Tarleton State College, Lamar State College of Technology, Texas A&I College, and the proposed San Antonio university.
A State Senior College System would include Midwestern University, Pan American College, East Texas State College, Sam Houston

State Teachers' College, Southwest Texas State College, West Texas State University, Stephen F. Austin State College, Sul Ross State College and Angelo State College.

Teachers' Pay
Connally by-passed a bill by TSTA designed to raise minimum teachers' pay by $45 a month. Instead, he endorsed a plan already in the form of a bill by Sen. Jack Strong of Longview. It provides for stair-step raises, with sizable pay increases for experienced teachers, and ups maximum teachers pay some $650 a year.
His recommendation that teachers be allowed to take summer graduate work at state colleges and universities, free of tuition, received big applause.

Liquor Bills
Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio offered three rivals to the bill backed by Texas Restaurant Association to legalize the sale of two-oz. bottles of alcoholic beverages to diners.
Johnson introduced an "open saloons" bill, a straight-across-the-board drink measure and a small bottles bill for bars serving no food.

Two other legislators, Rep. Paul Haring of Goliad and John Traeger of Seguin, offered bills which would make it illegal to buy liquor for anyone under 21.

Girls Trample Junction
Led by the shooting of Senior, Christy Moore, the Eldorado girls downed Junction 77-25 Friday in Junction. Christy tallied 47 with 25 of them coming at the free throw line. Karen Griffin made 12 points and everyone else scored as the subs were played freely. Libby Preston and Rita Rozean each scored six, Marsha Mund 4, and Susan Hill 2.

Again, freshman Chris Edmiston led the guards with 11 rebounds. Frankie Blaylock claimed 8, Paula Mace 3, and Jane Cain, Beth McCalla, and Mickey Phelps had 4 each.
This was the first district outing for the girls and their 18th win of the season. As of Friday night Eldorado and Menard are tied for first place with one win each.

Challenge Of Change

Sometimes all of us, especially Scouters, must stand still and take a long look at what lies ahead. You are interested in Scouting or you would not be reading this article. In fact, since you probably belong to the Boy Scouts of America, I assume that you believe in providing more and even better Scouting for all boys.

But when was the last time you asked yourself WHY you believe in and support Scouting?

Do you believe that Scouting helps develop a manly sense of responsibility that fosters resourcefulness and initiative among boys; that it provides real, but boy-sized opportunities for practice in the give-and-take required to preserve the democratic process; that it gives boys the opportunity, at their own level, to feel they are helping to shape the world in which they live?

Do you believe in Scouting because it teaches useful skills, because it helps boys love and appreciate their American heritage—and determine to defend it, because it provides fine male leadership for boys at a time when this leadership is harder and harder to find?

Perhaps I've listed some of your reasons, because Scouting CAN contribute to the achievement of these things in the lives of boys. But there is no magic formula for achievement. It happens only thru hard work. And we're going to have to work even harder.

Here are some of the challenges Scouting must face in the years immediately ahead if it is truly to serve our nation through a program of character building, citizenship training, and physical fitness.

1. We must face the implications of the change of our society from a predominantly rural culture to a predominantly urban culture. This change is here now, and it is accelerating.

The problems of our central-city areas are worsening dangerously. There are numerous seasons, but two stand out.

First, the change in patterns of employment—patterns that require skill and education to compete in a more and more automated industrial system that leaves fewer and fewer jobs for the unskilled.

Second, the serious impact of our second great period of migration—this time internal. The migrants come from the marginal farm, from areas where whole patterns of work have changed. In large measure, they are rural people seeking work. They may be assimilated in time but as of now they are not.

What might this change to the more complex urban culture mean? It can mean more emphasis on a program designed to reflect the changes that have occurred in our culture. Scouting has already changed and I'm not sad about this. I could be nostalgic and say it was better in the old days when I was earning my 1st Class badge. For example, I built a bough lean-to, made a bough bed, and cut dozens of saplings to make griddles and gadgets that I copied from Uncle Dan Beard. Scouting doesn't teach much of this anymore. We have accepted our responsibilities in a changed world where the woods and forests no longer exist just for the fun of using them wastefully. We must make sure that boys in Scouting today have the opportunity to have experiences that make sense in 1965.

2. We must face the challenge of changes in formal education. I refer to the increasing demand for educational excellence which is leading the schools into new and exciting areas of experimentation. I predict that Scouting will provide still more challenges in the future for the egghead boy as well as the football hero.

How do we face the 12-month school year that is cropping up here and there? Summer school is no longer the place inhabited by last year's failures. It is more likely to be inhabited by next year's successes. What do we do about the school year so arranged that vacations are staggered thru all of the seasons? What does this mean to summer camp? We will have to be ingenious enough to adapt to these impending changes and in the process strengthen the values of Scouting.

3. We must face the challenge of the population explosion. It means more than just more boys to be enrolled. It means less available land. If we expect to maintain some of the flavor of our program, we will have to move as rapidly as possible to acquire more camping land—and its year-round use.

The need for more land by people, by industry, and by highways poses other problems. Where is the open country? For city boys, it is no longer at the end of the trolley line. There is no trolley, and the urban sprawl extends on and on. In many places groups of Scouts must ride in a car to get to a spot for camping, and when they get there they stay put!

Leaders will ship in charcoal or bottled gas, but we will still expect Scout Johnny to prepare kindling and build a wood fire? Will he put on his knapsack and hike all the way to the axyard or the cooking demonstration area to build that fire?

A Scoutmaster told me that his troop uses duffel bags for all camping purposes because they fit better into trunks or cars; and, he said, "You don't get all tangled up with those useless shoulder straps." I don't like this—but then I used to be opposed to air mattresses and Bisquick until I learned that they were not the measures of importance.

4. We must face the challenge of population mobility. Last year one-fifth of the population of the U.S. moved their place of residence. Next year, another fifth will move, including some of the first fifth who will move again. It is true that over half of those who moved didn't move very far, but it is a fairly safe bet that nearly all of them moved beyond the normal meeting range of a pack, a troop, or a post. How do we meet this?

5. We must face the challenge of our role in relation to government. Regardless of which party controls the White House or the governor's mansion, the future will see more public involvement in private lives. This is inevitable if our nation is to continue as a mixed private and public economy. There will be more zoning, including zoning of rural areas and wilderness areas; more laws about sanitation and pollution, more safety regulations, more taxation. There will be increasing pressure on the Boy Scouts of America for cooperation with other agencies and with government to help in the solution of social problems—juvenile delinquency, for example. We need the means and the determination to face this responsibility.

We must also help boys understand our free-enterprise system. This in no way conflicts with an understanding of the complex role of government in our lives. We

Family Dinner Honors Mrs. T. W. Johnson, 90

A birthday dinner at noon yesterday, Feb. 3rd, honored Mrs. T. W. Johnson at her home here in Eldorado on her 90th birthday. Those present included Mrs. E. T. Johnson; Mrs. Annice Murchison; and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ramsey who live here in Eldorado. Throughout the day, a number of friends called on Mrs. Johnson to wish her well and they were served birthday cake iced with green icing, and coffee.

Mrs. Johnson has been a Schleicher county resident for 60 years. She received a large number of birthday greeting cards from her many local and out-of-town friends.

Stockholders Of P.C.A. Had Meeting Feb. 1st

The Texas Production Credit Association held its annual stockholders' meeting in San Angelo, February 1st. A number of Schleicher County stockmen and farmers attended. Phil H. Lane, the manager, gave the financial report and reported a good year for the association. J. Burney Ligon of Ft. Stockton, was re-elected to a three-year term on the Board of Directors.

The Schleicher County stockholders reported that Dr. Charles Jarvis afforded splendid entertainment in a humorous and inspirational talk.

are privileged to live with both.

6. We must face the challenge of the changing American family. Our families are today what social scientists call nuclear families in contrast to extended families. They are increasingly one-generation families, consisting of mother, father, and children. The grandparents, sisters, cousins, and aunts live somewhere else.

There is constantly less meaningful work for each family member to do that is necessary to the welfare of the others. Today's family provides more opportunities for growing girls to learn their female role in society than it does for growing boys to learn their male roles. The family has more leisure (time free from paid work) but it does not necessarily have more leisure time.

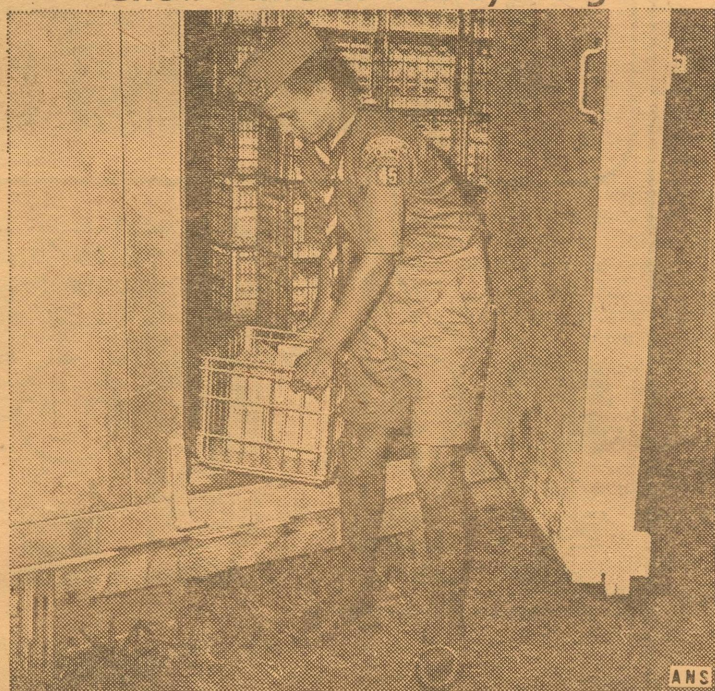

7. We must face the challenge of a changing moral climate. Americans of all ages are freer than they have ever been to make their own decisions about the nature of right and wrong. Much of our past's traditionalism has lost its grip. This is both good and bad.

Obviously Scouting alone won't change the moral climate of America—but it can help. When men who lead boys stand firm, have values of their own, and can explain these values to boys, then you have something of great worth, something sacred. And men CAN do this, and Scouting can help them do it!

The Boy Scouts of America is prepared to face the challenge of our changing times. Together we will determine Scouting's place in tomorrow's world. It can be a great one!—by Kenneth A. Wells, director, Research Service, National Council, B.S.A., Reprinted from Scouting Magazine.

Chow Time at Valley Forge

FEEDING 50,000 HUNGRY TEEN-AGERS three meals a day was an exercise in logistics during the Sixth National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge State Park, Pa.

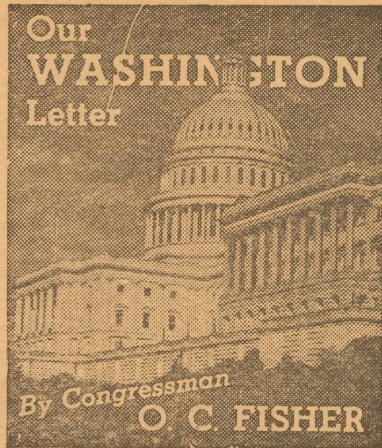

Tons of meat, produce, dairy products, and baked goods were trucked into the park daily to provide basic ingredients from which Scouts prepared their own meals. To keep perishables fresh and untainted, 46 Bally walk-in refrigerators insulated with vermin-proof, fire-retardant urethane foam were erected. Now resold to local councils, the same units are being shipped around the country to regional camp sites for permanent installation.

Special Scout recipes helped youngsters prepare appetizing meals at the Jamboree. Economy-minded mothers may like one that shows a way to stretch 1½ pounds of hamburger to feed 10 people.

GEORGE'S GOULASH

- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 pound spaghetti or elbow macaroni
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1-1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1 soup can water
- 1 11-ounce can condensed chili beef soup
- 1 10-ounce can condensed tomato soup
- 1 10-ounce can condensed vegetable soup

Bring 4 quarts of water to a boil, add salt, stir and add spaghetti or macaroni; boil for ten minutes or until spaghetti is tender. Melt shortening and brown beef in small pieces; blend in soups and water and heat. Drain spaghetti, add to meat sauce and serve.

With emphasis on social welfare, the President sent his budget message to Congress last week. Welfare funds, which have increased every year since 1960, takes off breathtakingly in the next fiscal year for a two-year increase of about 65%—a major feature of the Great Society.

The President estimated that the government will spend $5.3 billion more than it takes in during the next year, which begins July 1. The last balanced budget was in 1960—during Eisenhower's last year.

Spending for next year was estimated at $99.7 billion, which is about $2 billion more than the last fiscal year. At the rate of spending now projected, this will probably be the last budget we will see that is under $100 billion.

Indeed, in another 8 years spending is due to reach $150 billion annually. It was $70 billion only 8 years ago.

Most of this increase is the result of non-military spending. This constant rise is easy to understand. It stems from so many new programs the federal government begins. Once begun, they have a way of expanding and getting bigger each year.

A few examples will illustrate that: The cost of the so-called Poverty program will exceed $1 billion, four times what was spent on it this year.

Federal aid to education, under the President's program, will increase by 75% during the next year.

Outlays for welfare have more than doubled in 8 years.

Other programs have doubled, tripled, and quadrupled during the same period.

A brand new program, now before Congress, will pump more than a billion dollars a year into 11 Appalachian states.

When the government runs out of money, it borrows, add that much more to the public debt, and passes it on to our children and grandchildren to worry about.

It has become quite old-fashioned in some quarters to object to this system of deficit financing. Those of us who oppose this, and vote against these new programs, are accused of being out of step with progress!

In any event, it seems kind of sad that this nation, at the height of full employment and prosperity, should go merrily along with its 6th straight budget deficit, thus inviting still more balance-of-payments and inflation troubles.

Postmaster Notified of Mail 'Reading' Devices

Postmaster Bernard Carr said today he has received word from Postmaster General John A. Gronouski in Washington, D. C., that a big "breakthrough" has now been made on electronic machines to "read" ZIP-coded addresses on mail.

"The Postmaster General said he expects to begin installing these sophisticated new machines in major post offices starting in about a year," the postmaster explained.

Mr. Carr said each machine will be able to sort, as well as read, at the rate of 35,000 letters an hour. The offices to get the address readers have not been announced, but the local postmaster said they will have significant effects on the mail in and out of each community regardless of whether it gets the new machines.

This is because they will speed incoming mail to smaller offices from major cities and step up the dispatch of mail deposited in smaller communities but which must be processed enroute at major mail processing points.

The postmaster emphasized, however, introduction of the "seeing eye" device next year does not mean ZIP Code isn't useful already.

It is very useful right today, Carr pointed out. For example, Zip Code has made it possible for your mail to arrive each morning at 8:30 instead of the usual 9:30 a.m. Also, during the Christmas rush, the mail never was any later than 10:00 o'clock in arriving. As you will remember, in prior years, during the Christmas rush, the usual arrival time was 11:30 to 12:00, and some times much later.

You may say, "How am I supposed to remember all of those numbers?" Well, you are not expected to remember all of them. It is expected, though, that each person should always use his own Zip Code number in his own return address on all types of mail. Then in answering your mail, the Zip Code number is readily available in the return address of the person to whom you're writing or sending a package.

"Zip Code," he explained, "is important in mail handling under the system of mail processing already in use which will continue to be in use as the basic system at most points. These machines will be just another step—in conjunction with the mechanical mail sorting machines we have developed—to help keep pace with the growing volumes of mail. Neither will the machines endanger jobs—they will only help us meet mail expansion with minimum manpower expansion," Postmaster Carr concluded.

Our Zip Code, by the way, is: Eldorado, Texas 76936.

MERRY MAKERS MEET

The Merry Makers 42 Club met last Thursday at the ranch home of Mrs. Henry Speck, Sr.

There were three tables of players, including two guests, Mrs. Frank Van Horn and Mrs. E. H. Dannheim.

The hostess served a salad plate and coffee.

A Day

What is the gift you will give your boy?

A glamorous game, a tinselled toy, A whittling knife, a puzzle pack, A train that runs on curving track? A Boy Scout book, a real life pet? No, there's plenty of time for such things yet.

Give him a day for his very own—Just your boy and his dad alone. A walk in the woods, a game in the park,

A fishing trip from dawn to dark; Give him the gift that only you can—

The companionship of his "old man."

Games are outgrown and toys decay,

But he'll never forget it if you give him a day. —Author unkn.

Lower Long Distance Rates Announced

San Angelo—General Telephone customers will join others throughout the nation in enjoying reduced station to station interstate long distance rates effective February 1, 1965, according to Joe H. Collyns, director of public relations.

The rate reduction, announced late last year by the Federal Communications Commission, extends the hours during which station to station late night rates and night rates are in effect.

For example, the late night rates which apply only to station to station interstate calls (formerly referred to as the "After 9" rates) are now in effect all day Sunday and from 8 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday. Station to station interstate night rates, formerly in effect from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. each day, will now be in effect all day Saturday (from 4:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.) and from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Emphasis is placed on the fact that only station to station calls of over 431 miles between states are affected by the new rate reductions. Person to person rates and regular day time calling rates remain essentially the same.

National Jamboree Was Held Last July

Pennsylvania's historic Valley Forge State Park saw 53,124 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and Scouters right up to their red-white-and-blue neckerchiefs in the multifarious doings of the Sixth National Jamboree held July 17-23, 1964. They streamed in from all the states, Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Islands, and 42 foreign lands from Iran to Taiwan and New Zealand to Finland.

They came prepared—to camp, to make new friends, to absorb the rich heritage of the past and the equally rich atmosphere of the intriguing here and now. They hiked innumerable miles under sultry skies to national shrines, competition fields, instruction areas, or just to get a cold drink.

They cooked three squares daily, then for fun cooked hush puppies, clams, shrimp, alligator tails, turkeys, and date cake, among other exotic regional delights. They hootenannied themselves and were spectacled by stars. They worshiped with those of their many varied faiths, but all joined as one in pledging themselves to the ideals of the Scout Oath.

Months it has taken before they realize all they've taken in in this once-in-a-boyhood experience. But the underlying theme—our American heritage—indelibly impressed by monument and pageantry alike—will last many a Scout a dedicated lifetime.

Buddy Calk attended the Jamboree from Eldorado.

Steward-Craig Wedding
Was Held January 8

MRS. BILL STEWARD

The First Baptist church here was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony on January 8th, when Linda Craig of Eldorado was united in marriage to Bill Steward of Midland.

Rev. Kenneth Vaughan performed the ceremony in which Judy Deaton was matron of honor and Danny Owens was best man. Mrs. John Stigler provided organ music and Frank O'Banion sang, "I Love You Truly." Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Craig of Eldorado and is a member of the Senior class of Eldorado High School.

The groom is the son of John Steward of Midland. The newlyweds are making their home at Clinton, Okla., where Mr. Steward is an employee with a Dawson seismograph crew.

Peace Corps To Test
On February 13th

An opportunity for Eldorado area residents to test their aptitudes for Peace Corps service will come at 8:30 a.m., Saturday, February 13, at room 324, Federal Building, in San Angelo.

The opportunity is the Peace Corps Placement Test. It is not passed or failed, but simply indicates where your greatest potential lies. The Peace Corps Questionnaire which must be filled out and brought to the exam unless previously submitted, tells what an applicant has done in the past. But the placement test is aimed at showing what he or she CAN do in the future. Applicants do not have to register for the test ahead of time.

The Peace Corps Questionnaire can be found in post offices.

CARBON PAPER at the Success.

The formative years are the years when Scouting helps . . . molds a man from "just another" boy. That's why it's our pleasure to doff our cap to every Boy Scout, Scoutmaster, Cub Scout and Den Mother during the 55th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. The Scouting movement has done, and is doing, a terrific job in leading our youth down the right path — in showing them that the path to better manhood is in helping others as well as themselves. May we suggest you pay tribute to the Scouts, too. And consider how much better your boy might be if he takes advantage of all Scouting offers.
