Oklahoman Is Seeking Mark For Solo Hop

American Aviatrix At Port To Greet Him; Doctor On Hand For Examination; Refusing To Eat Heavily

(By The Associated Press)

NOVOSIBIRSK, Siberia, July 18. (Tuesday) — Wiley Post, American around the world flier, landed here at 6:27 a. m. today Moscow time (10:27 p. m. Monday E. S. T.) from Moscow.

The Oklahoman, who is seeking to better the time for a like journey he set with Harold Gatty in 1931, left Moscow at 5:12 p. m. Monday (9:12 a. m. E. S. T.).

Average Is Slower

Thus, he flew the 1,818 miles in 13 hours and 15 minutes, at an average speed of about 138 miles an hour, as compared to the estimated hour rate of 150 miles he flew on the first lap of his journey from New York to Berlin.

HE'S OFF AGAIN

NOVOSIBIRSK, Siberia, July 18. —Wiley Post hopped off towards Irkutsk, Siberia, at 9:02 a. m. today, Moscow time (1:02 a. m., E. S. T.), just two hours and 35 minutes after completing an 1,818-mile hop from Moscow.

A representative of the Associated Press was talking to officials at the Novosibirsk airport on the telephone when Post's Winnie Mae swooped down on the field.

"We're expecting him any minute", began the attendant in answer to inquiries about the American flier.

Is 66 Hours Out

"Just a second—he's coming down now!"

And at that moment Post was landing, precisely 66 hours and 17 minutes after he left New York on Saturday.

(On his previous flight with Gatty the white and purple Winnie Mae came down at Novosibirsk 76 hours and 36 minutes after leaving New York).

Reported Only Once

From the time he left Moscow until his arrival there was only one report of his progress.

An airport official at Novosibirsk, at the time Post was landing, heard that the flier had passed over Tartarsk, 250 miles west of here.

As soon as Post's plane touched the ground, Fay Gillis, an American aviatrix who made refuelling arrangements for him, and Ivan Ronchароff, chief of the Novosibirsk airport, rushed out on the field to greet him.

"Ask--It Shall Be Given You; Seek And Ye Shall Find," Ferguson Says As He Offers Texas Latchkey To FD

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 17. — Texas stands ready to give its fullest support to President Roosevelt's "new deal" program, James E. Ferguson, former governor, said today upon his return from Washington, where he represented Governor Miriam A. Ferguson in a series of conferences.

"I told President Roosevelt that an army could have only one general," said Mr. Ferguson. "I promised him that Texas would give him anything he asked. All he has to do is to advise that he wants something. We will not ask his reasons for wanting it. We will give it to him without question."

Mr. Ferguson said that he is convinced the national government will be "just as good to Texas as Texas is to the federal authorities."

"We intend to be just as good, and probably a little better, to the national government as it is to us," Mr. Ferguson said.

Mr. Ferguson said he found that there had been considerable effort on the part of certain Texans, who had been visiting, to "dispossess the governor."

Brisk Drive For Jobs And Fatter Salaries Outlined

Almost A Million Workers Tackle Jobs On Monday Under Stimulus Of Higher Wages

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—With almost a million mill workers tackling their jobs today under the stimulus of higher pay, plans were fashioned at the industrial administration today for summoning the whole force of public opinion behind the national endeavor to open more jobs and fill additional salary envelopes.

Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, called in his staff of advisors to check over every detail of the preparation for a campaign modelled after the liberty loan drives of the World war days to unite the citizenry behind the recovery efforts.

Closest secrecy surrounded the formulation of the plans but there were indications they were almost ready to be made public.

Higher pay than they received on Saturday was the inducement that set the workers in hundreds of cotton, rayon, silk and knitting mills to work today under the new 40 hour week schedule that was formulated by the cotton textile industry.

The rayon, silk and knitting manufacturers will operate under wage, hour and competitive limitations of their own after they have been completed.

Submit More Codes

Meanwhile, more industries were submitting, tentatively or formally, additional codes of fair competition which form the basis of the industrial recovery program.

Indiana limestone men, who earlier had submitted an unacceptable draft, brought in a new one which first of all the codes so far presented, called for the entire industry to be put immediately under federal license.

Also, it called for a strict price control by the industry itself, a provision which may be questioned sharply by the administrators. The new code raised minimum wages to $15.50 for a 40-hour week.

Terms Similar

Another agreement was submitted by the "Industrial Recovery Association of Clothing Manufacturers" banding together 111 manufacturers who were not represented in the already presented code of the Clothing Manufacturers association, whose plants are manned by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America. Terms of the two were similar and a joint hearing probably will

Lithuanian Pilots Killed As Plane Crashes In Germany After Crossing Atlantic On Hop To Homeland

(By The Associated Press)

SOLDIN, Pomerania, Germany, July 17.—Covered by a huge Nazi flag and simple garden flowers the bodies of Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, Lithuanian-American fliers who were killed early today in the crash of their airplane Lithuanica near here, lay tonight in the chapel of Soldin cemetery with an honor guard of six brown shirted storm troopers.

The two fliers, who were attempting a non-stop journey from New York to Kaunas, Lithuania, were found dead in the wreckage of their ship which crashed into a group of trees at Kahdamm, eight miles from this ancient town.

Ocean Is Conquered

After successfully crossing the ocean and being in the air probably about 38 hours Darius and Girenas met disaster when they were 400 miles from their goal.

The mutilated bodies were carried to Soldin late this afternoon after authorities had investigated the shattered Lithuanica and made an inventory of the remaining effects.

At the scene of the disaster such parts of the wreckage as had not been carried away by souvenir hunting peasants were gathered in one heap over which storm troops and gray uniformed men from a voluntary labor camp nearby stood watch.

Tomorrow four Lithuanian officers will arrive from Kaunas and under their supervision the bodies of the aviators will be taken to Berlin and thence by airplane to their native Lithuania which the pair had expected to reach after a successful flight.

Brief Marriage Reaches Climax

(By The Associated Press)

MINDEN, Nev., July 17. — The brief marriage of Elliott Roosevelt, second son of the president, and the former Elizabeth Donner, Philadelphia society girl, ended in a speedy divorce here tonight.

The hearing in the district court lasted only eight minutes. When it was over young Roosevelt hurried to Reno for a flight tonight to Chicago.

In the world's fair city tomorrow may occur a meeting with Miss Ruth Googins, the Fort Worth girl with whom he has been linked in a new romance.

Repeal Battle Reaches South

Alabama And Arkansas Voters Today Will Decide Whether Their States Shall Stand Behind Roosevelt

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 17. — An appeal to the voters of Alabama and Arkansas to stand behind the 18th amendment tomorrow was made here tonight by Dr. A. J. Barton, prohibition leader, in the same auditorium where on Saturday night Postmaster General Farley urged them to vote for repeal.

Delegations from nearby states heard Dr. Barton, long prominently identified with national prohibition organizations, urge voters in the two states and in Tennessee, which votes on Thursday, to uphold the traditional dry stand of the South and break the string of 16 straight victories registered by the repealists.

Centered In Memphis

Both sides have centered their final drive in Memphis where voters of all three states are close by and both have told their followers they will show the way to other states of the South.

Farley said all three states would vote for repeal and that he had been told the Alabama majority would be two to one. He urged the

President Scans Long List Of Estimates And Sends Them Back To Board; Money To Be Wisely Spent

Work Is Varied

List Includes $1,500,000 For Flood-Control Works Along Rio Grande; Many Cities Of State Benefitted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Public building, river and harbor and flood control estimates were sent back to President Roosevelt's cabinet board today for strenuous reducing exercises to work off any fat that might be called "pork."

The president, after a brief scrutiny of the projects that had been proposed under the $3,300,000,000 building program returned the list to the board for additional study. Secretary Ickes, the public works administrator, said it would be carefully "reconsidered to make sure the money is wisely spent."

Not A Grab Bag

"This is not a grab bag," he told newspapermen.

The list called for $90,000,000 to be spent for rivers and harbors and flood-control work. Simultaneously, the board asked the budget bureau to revise and reduce the $750,000,000 public buildings estimate submitted by the treasury.

At the same time, the public works administration announced how it would spend most of the first allocation of $65,000,000 for federal construction.

Projects Are Listed

An 80-page document listing the projects to be financed under the initial program for federal construction disclosed items ranging from $50 for chicken coops to make poultry insect studies under the agriculture department up to $38,000,000 for Boulder dam.

Outside of the big reclamation projects which had been announced previously, the list included $1,500,000 for flood-control works on the lower Rio Grande in cooperation with Mexico under a treaty signed with that country a few months ago.

Virtually all of the $102,438 allotted to the public health service was for machinery and $10,000,000 of the $38,000,000 given to Boulder dam was designated for the purch-

John Citizen's Ears Prick Up As Labor Leaders, Economists Look Toward Short Work Week

Good And Bad Points Of 30-Hour Week Draw Interest From Many Sectors; More Time For Rest, Recreation And Self-Improvement Looms For Workers Of America

By BURTON KLINE
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Manufacturers and retailers, economists and labor leaders, and large numbers of John W. Citizen, all have an eye on Washington and what it is going to do with and for the short hour week. All are concerned over what the 30-hour week, if it comes, is going to do to them—for their good or their hurt.

The administration tacitly admits that some such work-week is one of its aims—if not the 30-hour week at least a short one. Some call it a fetish of the administration. Whatever its name, Washington is bearing down on it in every code submitted under the Recovery Act. Everywhere else two questions are asked: What is the shorter week going to do to business and to life? And is it anything more than a New Year's resolution?

Take the last question first. The '80's saw countless strikes for the eight-hour day, then another aim that jolted industry. Historians of our industrial history set down these strikes as "lost," most of them were fiery and bloody and all were ended by force. Yet we ended by having the eight-hour day.

It never was in universal application but it became general throughout enlightened industry.

The late Judge Gary, head of U. S. Steel, fought one of these strikes for the 8-hour day—and won it. He contended that in steel manufacture such a day was out of the question. Just as you can't work the 8-hour day on a teething baby. He will get awake out of hours. Steel was the same, Judge Gary argued. It called for two 12-hour shifts, and that was all there was to it.

SUDDENLY after he had put down the strike for the 8-hour day, Judge Gary instituted the 8-hour day in steel. He did it because all the "lost" strikes for the 8-hour day had won their case. Each had been an advertisement, an educational effort. Every such strike had referred to public judgment the argument for the shorter day. The public decided the matter.

Strikes Left Behind

We appear to have left strikes behind us. We publicize now in other ways. The wiser public of today sees the light without being knocked on the head with a costly strike. And the chances are pretty strong that it is "sold" on the short hour week. That also begins to look like what we call a logical step in progress.

WASHINGTON is banking on this. But employers will tell you that the short hour week en-

Grains Enjoy Prosperity As Prices Bound

Wheat Draws More Than $1.25 A Bushel In Chicago With 5 1-8 Cent Advance; Barley Soars 12 Cents

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 17. — Wheat sold for more than $1.25 a bushel here today. May delivery reached $1.27 1-4 with a maximum advance of 5 cents a bushel.

All grains, wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, were wanted by speculators who acted as if this were their last chance to buy. Trading was not a noisy scramble, as has so often been the case, but was an orderly affair.

For Profits

The speculators were not selling for profits. Wheat, for example, opened slightly higher and then proceeded to march right on up the hill, almost without a pause, until a maximum advance of 5 1-8 cents a bushel had been recorded. Then the market reacted a cent or more. At the close the maximum gains were just under four cents a bushel with the May delivery at $1.26.

The advance in wheat was startling enough, but was overshadowed

Glenn Hunsucker, Sought For Murder Of Tulia Sheriff, Is Dead And Perchmouth Stanton Is Captured

Bloody Story Ends

Hunsucker Also Is Linked In Murder Of Hale Deputy On Ranch; End Of Trail Comes After Gun Battle

(By The Associated Press)

CARRIZOZO, N. M., July 17. — The end was written tonight to a bloody story of gun fights, deaths and bank robberies in two states with the arrest of Ed (Perchmouth) Stanton, and the death of Glenn Hunsucker, alleged bank robbers wanted in Texas on bank robbery and murder charges.

After a 24-hour search, Sheriff A. S. McCamant of Lincoln county, New Mexico, returned here late this afternoon with Stanton and his brother, Will, after capturing them between Corona and Ramon, N. M. Neither resisted and officers lodged them in jail here to be held pending the arrival of Tulia, Texas, authorities.

Escapes To Wilds

Stanton escaped to the wilds of northeastern Lincoln county after officers had shot and killed Hunsucker when he and Stanton decided to shoot it out with the sheriff's posse near Ramon late Sunday afternoon. During the exchange of shots, Tom Jones, deputy sheriff was shot down and killed.

Hunsucker's death and Stanton's arrest marked the end of a trail of blood across West Texas and Eastern New Mexico which has seen the death of four peace officers and the robbery of one Texas bank and possibly a New Mexico bank.

Officers Dead

The four officers, all killed while searching for the outlaw, were Deputy Sheriff Tom Jones of Carrizozo, killed in Sunday's fight; John C. Moseley, sheriff of Swisher county, Texas, shot down in January of this year, and Harve Bolin, deputy of Hale county, fatally wounded a year ago on the Lee Pebworth ranch, 50 miles from Portales, N. M., and Joe Brown, Rhome county, Texas, deputy.

Hunsucker was believed by authorities to be directly linked in the deaths of Moseley and Jones, and Pebworth, with whom Hunsucker was indicted in the Olton robbery, is serving a prison sentence for the death of Bolin.

Gunman Identified

The Texas bank robber and gunman was identified today as Hunsucker when officers said his description tallied exactly with that given them by Tulia authorities. The body was brought here and will be held pending the arrival of officers from Tulia.

Meanwhile, Sheriff McCamant led his men over the rough country near Ramon in search of Stanton,

Tech Enrollment Figures At 563

Enrollment of second summer term students at Texas Technological college totaled 563 last night, President Bradford Knapp said.

Additional students will be enrolled through three more days, and the college president anticipates a final registration of "considerably more than 600 students."

Reduction in attendance for both summer terms will approximate 23 to 25 per cent. Doctor Knapp said he believed the reduction here was less than in other state schools, but that he had had no opportunity to compare the totals.

The reduction was attributed by President Knapp to the fact that many school teachers still held uncashable warrants, an unusually late decision by the legislature to appropriate funds for summer schools, the general economic condition, and increased fees.

Intensive Search Is Pressed After Harriman Again Takes French Leave

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 17. — Spurred by the recollection of his recent suicide attempt, federal agents, police and private agencies tonight pressed an intensive search throughout the metropolitan area for Joseph W. Harriman, who vanished from a nursing home today as an inquiry into his mental condition was about to be resumed.

Harriman, who is under indictment on charges growing out of the closing of the bank he founded on Fifth Avenue, last was reported buying a ticket for Haverstraw, N. Y., in Jersey City. This clue did not definitely identify the ticket-buyer as Harriman, however.

The former banker walked out of a service entrance at the Regent nursing home in east 61st street, where he and his wife have been living since his indictment, hailed a taxicab and ordered the chauffeur to

Soviet Plane With Mattern Aboard Due In Nome Monday

(AP)—Unofficial and unconfirmed wireless reports received here said a Soviet plane carrying Jimmie Mattern, American flier forced down at Anadyr, Siberia, was due here tonight at 6 p. m. The United States government, acting through intermediaries, had made arrangements for a Soviet plane to bring Mattern across the Bering sea. Meanwhile a relief expedition headed by William Alexander waited impatiently here for permission to fly to Russia, taking a plane in which Mattern might resume his interrupted world flight.

THE Great European Passion Play in English will be presented at Texas Technological college athletic field Friday night, August 4, it was announced yesterday. The Avalanche-Journal newspapers are sponsoring the appearance.

Little changed in text from the play which was offered in Europe before discovery of America, the religious drama will be offered in English here.

In addition to the members of the Passion Play company, about 225 Lubbock persons will take part. Arrangements are being made to place the tickets on sale.

The Passion Play has been described as the forerunner of a revival of the drama. The crusaders were not older. In the period when the Passion Play began the people were cramped between the vast power of ecclesiastical autocracy and the nobility, sunk in ignorance hardly understandable today.

Church Women Meet Monday For Study Hours; Two Societies Have Picnic Supper

The Woman's Angle

CALL US UP

SEVERAL people have called in or come in to tell about pretty yards or gardens in the city. These were came in response to a request for addresses of beauty-spots in order that they may be written up this summer. If you have such a place or know of one, call us.

THE RECIPE

THE other day it was remarked here that no one in the office could remember how salt beads were made several years ago, although we all remembered them. A letter has come from Mary Stephenson of the Monroe Community who writes: "I notice in the Woman's Angle you are in need of the receipe for making salt beads. So I am enclosing one which I copied from Mother's scrapbook." And here is her formula:

Heat two cups of salt in pan over fire, stirring constantly. In another bowl cover one cup cornstarch with enough cold water to dissolve it. Add dye (if you have children's water colors they are excellent) or any dye you wish to use to the paste. When salt is thoroughly heated mix with paste. Cool and then shape into beads by rolling in fingers, being careful to get the beads uniform in size and shape. String on wire or hatpins to dry.

If pendant is made, roll out and cut any desired shape and embed a rinestone on the soft dough, allowing it to harden. One can stamp designs on pendant and beads with glass ornaments.

You can cut that out and save it. Fads come back and you probably will be wearing salt beads again in a few more seasons.

HOW IT IS DONE

JUST in case that chicken you have been frying all these years isn't good enough, here's the way some professional cook would have it done: Wash and clean chicken and cut into serving pieces. Wash well in cold water. Drain and chill. Place flour in paper sack, add chicken and shake sack; flour will coat chicken. Heat lard in frying pan; while very hot add and quickly brown chicken. Cover, lower fire and cook 10 minutes. Add butter, salt and paprika. Cook slowly 40 minutes.

It will have a hard time beating what a lot of us have been eating all these years and what was fryed in deep fat until done after being salted and rolled in flour. The directions sound highfaluting but, after all, good old fried chicken is hard to beat with fancy cooking.

Baptists Meet In This Place

Representatives Are To Be Here From Eight Counties In This Area; Four State Leaders To Be Here

There is to be a gathering of Baptist young people from eight counties in the auditorium of the educational building of the First Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock, according to Miss Bonnie missionary movements.

Visitors at this meeting will include Robert Fling, state Baptist student worker; Miss Myralin Rea of Baylor college at Belton; Miss Mary Rust of Rice Institute at Houston. These three and Miss Ruby Atwood of this city are making a tour of the 21 Baptist districts in the state in the interest of the missionary movement. They are sponsoring programs showing the needs of the foreign mission churches maintained by the Baptists.

Every Baptist church in the eight counties in this district is to be visited, it was announced by Miss Thomas. This is a state-wide visitation campaign, she said. The eight counties are Lubbock, Crosby, Hale, Lamb, Hockley, Terry, Lynn and Garza.

But . . .
what of the Telephone?

The newspaper . . . brings to us the happenings from all the world, helps shape the actions and opinions of men, tells us what we should eat and what to wear. Our world without the newspaper would be smaller and less enjoyable. But, what of the telephone?

The radio . . . One turn of the dial and music comes to our living rooms, a comedian causes us to laugh, the President reports to the nation. Radio is a marvel of the age. But, what of the telephone?

The family car . . . takes us out of sweltering cities into the country in the evening, carries us to the homes of friends, goes shopping with the housewife, takes men to work and brings them home when day is done. The family car has added much to your life and mine. But, what of the telephone?

In 350,000 Texas homes, the telephone stands like a sentinel in the night. It tells the doctor that Bobby's fever has risen. In the morning it calls a jobless man back to work. In the afternoon it brings the message that husband will be late to dinner. It helps keep lasting friendships welded, adding to human happiness. The telephone has come to mean so much that few American families feel they can afford to be without one.

You can have a telephone for less than a dime a day. If you haven't one already, call the Business Office. Say . . . "I need a telephone."

Agreement On Wheat Sought

MacDonald Looks For Action On This Subject As The One Successful Project Coming Out Of Parley

LONDON, JJly 17. (AP) — Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, president of the world economic conference, was understood today to have indicated that he was pinning his hopes on a wheat agreement to provide him with the necessary note of success for his speech at the final plenary session next week.

Mr. MacDonald wishes to be able to say that the assemblage has produced at least one striking pact, and expectations in directions other than wheat are pretty slim.

Acceptance of the American plan to raise wheat prices by restricting production is held by many participants to be the biggest individual thing which could come out of the conference.

The American plan has been designed with the view of putting the farmer on his feet. With this in mind, Mr. MacDonald, it is said, has served notice on the wheat negotiators that they must reach an agreement. The negotiators include the United States, Canada, Australia and South American and Danubian countries.

Man On Trial After Slaying

Arkansas Farmer Faces Jury For Slaying Of His Wife In Home; Defense Motions Are Overruled By Judge

TEXARKANA, Ark., July 17. (AP)—John McAlpin, 57, Clark county, Arkansas, farmer, went on trial at Boston, Tex., today for the slaying of his wife three months ago.

Hicks Harvey, district judge, at the start of the trial over-ruled a defense motion to quash the venire on the grounds it had been summoned by mail. He also denied a motion for continuance. The state indicated it would ask the death penalty while defense attorneys indicated they would plead temporary insanity.

Mrs. McAlpin was shot by a person who fired through the window of her home and died the next day in a hospital. Her daughter, Mrs. Lelah Seyeman, was wounded in the arm.

McAlpin was arrested several weeks later at Arkadelphia, Ark. He had been separated from his wife some time when the shooting occurred.

WASHINGTON, July 17. (AP) — Harry Hooper, veteran big league outfielder and member of the world champion Red Sox team over a dozen years ago, was appointed today by Postmaster General Farley as acting postmaster at Capitola, California.

Father Of Post's Wife Is Eagerly Awaiting News Of Flier's Progress

BIG SPRING, July 17. (AP)—D. J. Laine, father of Mrs. Wiley Post whose husband Saturday began a round-the-world flight, hovered about a newspaper office today awaiting reports on the flier's progress.

"How's his iron man getting along?" was his first question.

Laine laughed when he was told that the robot was tired but Post was not. In his interest in the flight, he forgot the cotton farm in the southeastern end of the county where he had lived for many years and where Post and Laine's daughter began a childhood courtship which has never ended.

Mrs. Laine was too busy with her household duties about the farm to come to town but she eagerly awaited reports on Post's progress over her radio.

Laine said Post had written that he had all confidence in his robot pilot and believed beyond a doubt it would be a success. He checked Wiley's route on an atlas and pointed out features of sections of the country of which Post had told him.

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pains

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C.," in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold.—(adv.)

When Your Children Are Playing- That's The Time To Be Saving-

In the common experience of men who are our customers, saving does not become any easier as time goes on. As income mounts, expenses are apt to mount too. So if you really do intend to save something out of your money for your children, it must be saved out of present income. Later may be Never. We believe that fathers owe it to every one of their children to start a savings account for them at an early age. Select a strong bank such as these, and see to it that the savings process is kept up.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO PUT A DRY FLY WHERE YOU WANT IT — EVERY TIME

●ABOVE— MILDNESS COMES FIRST in a cigarette, according to Mr. Neu, for enjoyment and for the sake of your nerves. Camel's rich, inviting flavor always seems to say, "Have another."

● ABOVE—ARTHUR J. NEU, of East Orange, N. J., pulls in a nice one! Few men know the importance of healthy nerves better than Art Neu does. He is national champion in dry-fly casting for accuracy. Just as a stunt, Mr. Neu has frequently flicked the ash off a friend's cigarette with a fly at 35 feet!

● RIGHT—A DAY'S SPORT is more enjoyable with plenty of Camels along, because you can smoke all you want—and still be ready for more when evening comes! Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on your nerves...never tire your taste! Camels are better for steady smoking. It is more fun to know!

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

ARTHUR J. NEU, champion fly-caster, says:

"Dry-fly fishing is a delicate art that takes the best a man's got in steadiness of hand and eye. To win the championship in accuracy at casting a dry fly, I had to have healthy nerves. And yet I smoke steadily—all I want to—without disturbing my nerves. That's because I prefer Camels. There is no question but that they are milder. And their rich, inviting flavor seems to say, 'Have another.'"

Turn to Camels. Like Mr. Neu you will find that Camels are milder...that their flavor suits your taste . . . that steady smoking never jangles your nerves. So begin today!

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. The more you smoke them, the more you'll like them. Costlier tobaccos do taste better.

At least eight strong clubs have signified their intentions of entering. The list may grow to ten or twelve before the entries close at noon on Thursday.

Managers of all teams entering the tournament are to meet here Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the drawings. In the event a manager is not present, he is requested to have a representative at the meeting, or to signify a representative by proxy.

Two games will be played daily and the tournament will last as long as the entry list justifies. At least two Sundays will be included. Capable umpires have been procured to officiate the tournament games.

American Davis Cuppers Now Ready For British Enemies

PARIS, July 17. (AP)—The American Davis Cup squad faced two foes today as Ellsworth Vines, Wilmer Allison, George Lott and Johnny Van Ryn swung into the closing practices for the inter-zone matches with Great Britain starting Friday.

The first enemy, a British force consisting of Henry W. (Bunny) Austin, H. G. N. Lee, and George Patrick Hughes, arrived here today fresh from victory over Australia in the European zone finals at Wimbledon last week. Fred Perry, Britain's top ranked star, stayed behind for treatment of a slightly strained shoulder and is not due here until tomorrow.

The second problem maker was the revelation that funds for the players are running dangerously low.

Although the appropriation this year was the same as in 1932, when France successfully defended the cup against America's challenge, Bernon S. Prentice, captain of the team, said he was worried today because bills were running 30 per cent higher than last year due to the decline in the value of the dollar.

McDIARMID, BRYAN WIN

ATLANTA, July 17. (AP)—Robert "Lefty" Bryan of Chattanooga and John McDiarmid of Fort Worth, today won the doubles championship of the Southern tennis tournament, defeating Bryan Grant, singles champion, and Malon Court, both of Atlanta, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 11-9.

Between America And The Cup?

Bunny Austin (left) and Fred Perry, England's staunch pair, who eliminated the United States in the inter-zone finals two years ago, again loom between Uncle Sam's forces and the right to challenge France's tiring team for the Davis Cup, July 28, 29 and 30. A 4-Minute Mile Race Is Seen As Next Track Feat

NEW YORK, July 17. (AP) — The "four-minute mile" that has always seemed just a pipe-dream to foot-racing followers now may be just around the corner, in the opnion of even the most conservative of experts who discussed the future of mile-running today on the basis of Jack Lovelocks marvelous 4:07.6 record at Princeton Saturday.

"It may seem fantastic, but under the proper conditions, and particularly if it were possible to bring together the greatest three milers in the world today — Lovelock, Bill Bonthron and Glenn Cunningham —I think we might see the mile run in four minutes flat," said Daniel J. Ferris, national secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic union, who has seen all the great milers, from Tommy Conneff to Lovelock, run their record races.

Ferris concedes the throne of mile running right now to Lovelock, the slim New Zealander and Oxford medical student, but he does not think Lovelock has any more class or natural ability than either Bonthron or Cunningham.

Lovelock already has been approached on a proposal to re-visit the United States next winter for a series of indoor mile races, against Bonthron, Cunningham and Gene Venzke of Pennsylvania, who holds the board track mark of 4:10. The New Zealander probably cannot accept, however, because his studies at Oxford will keep him tied down until March.

Women's City Open Tourney To Start Monday And Tuesday

Women golfers of Lubbock who expect to participate in the Lubbock Women's open tournament next week may pay their registration fees early and practice all this week at Meadowbrook Golf course without a green fee charge, Bill McMillan announced yesterday.

Qualifying for the tournament will begin Monday and continue through Tuesday, June 24 and 25. Qualifying round will be played at the Meadowbrook, after which the field will move over to the Country club links for early elimination rounds. Play will revert to the Meadowbrook for semi-finals and back to the Country club for the finals on June 30.

Mrs. Rhea Vernon, the champion, has served warning that she will be back to defend her title. She has been playing recently after a long lay off and her scorecards show unusually low marks.

IVORY HUNTERS EYE CHAPLIN

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Nashville fans already are predicting that the ivory hunters will be giving the Nashville pitcher, "Tiny" James Chaplin, more than a cursory once over. In fifteen starts he had won 13 games this season—more than he won all year in 1932 at Baltimore, Jersey City and Nashville.

'Hookers' Take 27-26 Victory Over 'Slicers'

J. W. Branch Leads His Side To Victory In Close Joust At Meadowbrook Sunday; Last Match Decides Victory

Head "Hooker" J. W. Branch led his team of "Hookers" to a thrilling 27 to 26 victory over the "Slicers" captained by Dr. V. V. Clark Sunday in the Meadowbrook Golf club's annual chicken barbecue tournament.

It was one of the closest two-some team matches in the annals of local golf, one match deciding which side won the honors and the dinner at the expense of the other. With one match out late in the afternoon, the score was tied at 26-all, but the winner of the last match was a "hooker," and the side won.

Captain Branch set a blistering pace for his "Hookers," posting a 68 for his round in defeating Captain Clark of the "slicers," 8 and 7.

Allen Beats Bussey

In the feature match, Clinton Bussey, ace Hooker, fired a 67—three under par—but lost his match to Manson Allen, youthful Slicer and winner of the recent Country club invitation, 3 and 1. The match saw brilliant shotmaking. Allen posted a medal 67, scoring a 32 on the front nine.

Joe Bihl and Edgar Doherty played in the foursome with Allen and Bussey, the sorrel-topped Country club youth shooting a 33-33-66 for medal honors and victory over Bihl, 3 and 2. The former Meadowbrook caddy had a 72.

Hubbers Look Improved In Victory Of Sunday; Tahoka, Amherst, Enochs Win

Federals Defeat Compressors, 3-1

In one of the closest games of the season, the Post Office team defeated Lubbock Compress, 3 to 1, yesterday in an American league contest of the Lubbock soft ball association.

Pitcher Johnson for the Federals was almost invincible, allowing but few safe hits while his mates played fine ball in the field to prevent scoring. Robertson pitched a close game for the Compress team.

In today's games. Hule-Ribble meets Dee's Coffee Shop team to feature the American league, while Meinecke Bros. Hardware company tangles with the West Texas Gas company. The latter game will be played at the Fair Park field, the American league setto at the 22nd street field. Both games are scheduled to start at 6:15 o'clock.

The lineups yesterday:

Federals: McLaurin, lss; Pate, 2b; Carroll, rss; Billings, 3b; Hatton, 1b; Young, cf; Robinson, lf; Sides, c; Johnson, p; Blevins, rf.

Compress: Lewellen, rss; Jackson, 2b; McWilliams, 3b; Reeves, lf; Stewart, cf; Littrell, lss; McCraw, rf; Dunlop, c; Keetch, 1b, and Robertson, pitcher.

Lubbock Is Winner Over Wolfforth Here Sunday

Tahoka, Amherst and Enochs increased their percentage in the South Plains Baseball league Sunday with victories over Abernathy, Morton and Levelland, respectively.

The Lubbock Hubbers, scheduled to meet Slaton in the other league game, played Wolfforth instead, winning a 9 to 8 victory with a fine rally in the ninth inning. Slaton asked that the game here be postponed, the club remaining at home Sunday because of a death in the home of Manager Buck Johnson.

A revised schedule for the second half of the South Plains Baseball league will be published in the Morning Avalanche and Daily Journal later this week.

Several changes and corrections are necessary in the previously published schedules, and the complete card has been revised.

Next Sunday's games, however, will be played according to the schedule published last week. Amherst and Enochs will play at Littlefield and Morton will play at Levelland in the southern division. Tahoka comes to Lubbock and Abernathy goes to Slaton in the northern division.

Tahoka, winner of the first half, registered its second victory of the second half against one defeat by beating Abernathy, 9 to 2, in a good ball game. Abernathy was held to seven scattered hits by Pitcher Rose, while the Bulldog sluggers touched two Abernathy tossers for ten bingles.

Enochs Beats Levelland

Enochs played good ball at Littlefield, where all of the club's future home games will be played, to defeat Levelland, 10 to 4. The game was marked by the perfect day at bat by Durwood Howell, who banged out two triples, a two-bagger and a single in four times up. Calloway, Enochs third sacker, blasted a home run to add pepper to the game.

In another exciting finish, Amherst nosed out the rapidly rising Morton team, 11 to 10. Amherst scored in the ninth to win the game after Morton had gone on a rampage in the eighth to tie the score with seven runs. The game was close all the way.

The Lubbock game was a colorful affair, Cowboy Kyle's home run in the last of the ninth after two were out scoring Burly Burleson, new shortstop, for the tying and winning runs.

Fist Fight Features

A fist fight between Manager Fred Rich of the Wolfforth team and Second Baseman Howard "Pus" Ballard of the locals provided zest and pepper to the contest. In the fifth inning, with the score 8 to 4 against the Hubbers, Rich singled, and while tapping the base continued his tirade at the Hubber fielders. He went one remark too far and Ballard challenged him. It was a merry bout while it lasted, with Ballard getting the better of the heavier Rich.

Lubbock scored three runs in the eighth but lacked a tally when they came up in the ninth. The first two batsmen popped out, and Burleson was safe on an infield fumble. Kyle, who had hit safely three times before, once to tie the score at 4-all, and who played a neat game at first, zipped one down the third base line which went under the wire fence. The fielder recovered it in time to hold Kyle at third, but the umpire ruled it a homer, which was in accordance with ground rules.

pitcher who struck out the home-run king in one inning.

The score:

Chevies	102 000 200— 5	12 3

The game was Lubbock's first home affair in several seasons, and saw inspired polo played by several of the local horsemen. Julian Williamson was the outstanding player of the day, his riding and stroking proving highly important to Lubbock's victory.

The teams play the fifth and "rubber" game here next Sunday. In three previous games at Lamesa, Lubbock won one and lost two.

The lineups yesterday:

Lamesa: Elmo Smith, No. 1; Walter Lawrence, No. 2; Sol Cleveland, No. 3 and Lynn Parkinson, No. 4.

Thrown by a horse which ran away when it was scared by a barking dog, Miss Vivian Stegall, 614 Avenue N, suffered concussion of the brain on south Avenue H late Monday morning. She was received at West Texas hospital in a semi-conscious condition, but last night was resting. Her mother, of Del Rio, is en route to Lubbock. Miss Stegall, who had lived with an aunt, Mrs. Grover Stephens, east of Lubbock, was riding a horse owned by L. H. Redwine.

Fumes in an automobile gasoline tank caught fire at 1008 Avenue H about noon yesterday while the tank was being welded. Fire department members were called, quickly extinguishing the blaze. Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said that the tank had been filled with water, apparently forcing all gasoline from the container, before the welding was begun. Traces of gasoline which were unnoticed caught on fire. Damage was slight.

Loans Are Listed For Relief Funds

AUSTIN, July 17. (AP)—Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission, announced today that applications for loans under the public works bill aggregated $16,283,537.

He said 91 applications are ready to submit to the regional federal authorities as soon as they have been designated.

The relief office here has received about 1,900 preliminary survey reports requesting approximately $400,000,000 in projects.

Westbrook listed among the larger completed applications received during the past few days the following:

Beaumont port facilities $675,000.

Hale county highway construction $212,728.

Texas City sea wall, Galveston county, $37,050, to be used in conjunction with Galveston county expenditures amounting to $100,000, the latter funds being now available.

Baby Hoax Is Too Strong For David And He Asks Court To Give Divorce From Aimee; Mental Cruelty Cited

LOS ANGELES, July 17. (AP) — Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, evangelist, was sued for divorce today by David Hutton, her third mate, who listed as a cardinal complaint the baby hoax which he alleged she perpetrated in Paris a few weeks ago.

The first venture of the portly baritone singer into married life, begun on September 13, 1931, in an airplane elopement with the evangelist to Yuma, Ariz., was transformed into ridicule, he said, by a cablegram from Europe announcing the birth of a son to "Sister Aimee."

Cry Of Impossible

The cry of impossible, which Hutton set up then, was followed several days later by an explanation that Mrs. McPherson Hutton had struck upon the sensational message as a means of running down the course by which her caglegrams to Angelus Temple were becoming public property.

The suit, filed in superior court as the evangelist was speeding homeward across the Atlantic from a trip to Europe which started last January, alleged that:

"As a purported joke, the defendant perpetrated on the plaintiff a hoax as to the birth of a baby to the defendant, which birth was supposed to have taken place in Paris; that as a matter of fact, no baby was born to the defendant, and that said hoax was without basis of fact, all of which caused this plaintiff grievous humiliation and embarrassment."

Charges Mental Cruelty

"Bandied about in the press of the world," was the way Hutton described the circulation of the report.

He asked for a divorce on the general charge of mental cruelty.

Before she left for Europe, he said, "the defendant told various persons she wished to sever her marital relations with the plaintiff and to eliminate him from the business of the temple," where he presumably had been general manager after she sailed to the continent.

A net of intrigue was formed, he said, to embarrass him, all with "the full knowledge of the defendant," and ultimately he was "fired" out of the temple. He found, he said, that after Sister Aimee had gone away she had delegated authority to persons who were "hostile" toward him.

While she lived abroad in luxury, he said he remained at home almost without funds, having abandoned a career as a singer to aid her in spreading the Gospel.

After she had reached Europe he said he discovered that to obtain information about her travels he had to depend on "third persons." His cables to her for advice went for naught and she treated him without confidence.

There was, too, the matter of her sickness in Paris, he said.

"The defendant advised plaintiff repeatedly by cable and letter that she had undergone a major operation, withholding details of the same and causing plaintiff to become worried as to her condition; that plaintiff is now informed and believes and therefore alleges that said operation was a minor operation, undergone for purposes of beautification."

Asks Property Division

And finally he asked the court to consider a division of community property. Here there was indication that a stiff fight might be in the wind, for Hutton was reported to have signed, at the time of his marriage, an agreement waiving the right to property or earnings of his wife.

Last year, when Myrtle Joan St. Pierre, a nurse, won a $5,000 judgment against him for alleged breach of promise, committed, she said, when he inarried Mrs. McPherson instead of her, the waiver was mentioned. The judgment, it is understood, is in process of settlement.

"BANG! —then I lost all control of my car"

BLOW-OUTS never give WARNING!

Play safe—Prevent them with this 3 Times Safer Tire

Heat generated inside the tire separates rubber and fabric—starts "invisible blisters" which grow and grow... until BANG...a blow-out!

The exclusive Goodrich Life-Saver Golden Ply resists heat—makes the new Safety Silvertown 3 times safer from blow-outs at high speeds.

HE WOULD have laughed if you had told him he might have a blow-out. Weren't his tires practically new? Hadn't he checked them carefully only an hour ago? Why, a blow-out simply couldn't happen in those tires.

But it did happen. Like a bolt out of the blue . . . BANG! The right front tire flattened . . . the rim hit the road . . . And a terrible drag set in . . . Like some unseen monster pulling his car off the highway.

What causes blow-outs

It's the terrific heat generated inside the tire by today's high speeds that causes blow-outs. Rubber and fabric separate. A blister forms . . . inside the tire where you can't see it . . . and GROWS . . . bigger and bigger . . . until BANG! A blow-out! And you're headed for trouble . . . or worse!

But now Goodrich has developed the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This new invention—an exclusive feature of the new Goodrich Silvertown—resists heat—prevents rubber and fabric from separating. Thus blisters don't form inside the tire . . . the cause of blow-outs is eliminated.

The tread, too, is safer from skidding. Its squeegee drying action gives your car extra road grip and reduces danger of skidding to a minimum.

Isn't this the type of tire you want for your car? Especially since the new Goodrich Silvertown costs no more than standard tires.

Don't Leave The Home Town

ARE you, jobless or seeking a better job, planning to leave Lubbock or some other South Plains town in search of employment afar?

If so, be careful.

Reviving business activities are likely to cause many persons to "hit the road" seeking employment.

Work naturally becomes available in some communities before it does in others. It should be remembered, however, that virtually every community has in its own large numbers of unemployed. The latter are on the ground. When any new jobs are thrown open, they will get them.

There are thousands of college and high school graduates now seeking work. If it is not immediately available in their home towns, many of them will seek it in other towns and cities. New York, with its glamour of wealth, is likely to become the goal of many. This possibility has caused the New York welfare council to issue a warning against this course.

"Unless you have friends or relatives here, an assured job or money enough to last a year, don't come to New York," it says.

The metropolis already is filled with thousands of idle men and women.

The New York warning is not applicable alone to that city. It should have a general application. The man wanting a job now would do well to remain in his own community, unless he has a definite promise or prospects in another town. Business generally is picking up, and eventually, it is to be hoped, the improvement will extend to all communities, when plenty of jobs will be available.

Until then, aimless wandering in search of work will continue to be a hazardous undertaking.

HUMOR

The sense of humor has been called a saving grace. Some have even considered it necessary to salvation. It is certain that possession of it by the proper persons would have spared the world many catastrophies.

Even the Bible makes room for humor. Hear much-afflicted Job making sport of his three conforters: "No doubt but ye are the people and wisdom shall die with you." In the fascinating story of the Magi the sacred writer tells us that these men from out of the East made a laughing stock of old Herod. They "mocked" him, and made him make a fool of himself.

Of another Herod, who, like his predecessor, thought he could outwit Heaven's decrees, a fine touch of humor is recorded. When the Pharisees told Jesus that Herod was going to get him, He boldly answered: "Go ye and tell that fox."

Many a trying situation in life might be tided over if people would only use a little humor as lubricant. They are too everlastingly serious over trifles that could be, and ought to be, laughed off.

Of too many it is truthfully to be said: "A man cannot make him laugh; but that's no marvel; he drinks no wine." It should be necessary to make people sad and melancholy, rather than to make them merry.

A LEGALLY CAPABLE DRIVER

The competent motor driver knows that his car is in proper condition before he takes it out. Brakes must be functioning well, all lights, including the head-lights, both bright and dim, the parking lights, the tail light, the dash lights and the ceiling light, must be in working order, and the tires should have their quota of air pressure to the square inch.

Having ascertained that all is ready, he may take his seat.

He should then stop and think whether he knows the local regulations for right and left turn in whatever jurisdictions he may plan to visit; whether he knows their respective speed limits and parking laws. If he has these things clear in his mind, he may start the car: Provided,

That he can watch his speedometer, his oil pressure gauge, his gas gauge, his rear view mirror and the road all at one and the same time; and further provided,

That he can keep one foot on the clutch, one on the brake, one hand on the wheel, the other out the window signaling, and keep his pipe alight and drawing at one and the same time,

He should also be able to wield, expertly and expeditiously, a screw driver, a monkey wrench, a pair of pliers, a hammer, a jack, and various other tools, to be able to change a tire, to locate and stop squeaks and to remember to replenish the water supply of his batteries ever and anon.

If he knows all these things, and lives up to his knowledge, he is a capable driver in the eyes of the law and of everybody else except the lady in the back seat, and she ought to know.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

EUROPE: When they're hurt, they holler. That's the noise you hear emanating from various European cipitals.

We feel awfully sorry but we're going to give certain parts of Europe a spanking. President Roosevelt has decided to do something for the good of other nations whether they like it or not.

He only hopes they'll smile through their tears when the welts turn into tougher skin that will get them over the rough spots to recovery.

The first wallop will be to push remaining countries off the gold standard. The whip is in the air at this minute.

In the same boat with us they'll have nothing to do but apply the American brand of salve to their wounds. It seems to be healing things quite rapidly in this country. The President believes it will work abroad.

INFLATION: France and the other gold countries have been fighting controlled inflation to the bitter end. But they've seen the handwriting on the wall. They're dragging their ear-marked gold reserves out of the United States as fast as transatlantic liners can carry them.

They know the plunge is inevitable. The Dutch probably will go first. Possibly the Swiss. France won't be far behind. They merely want all their gold in home vaults before sliding off the standard.

Adolph Hitler already is applying American methods of industrial control and price-leveling to Germany in a highly dictatorial way. England admits she is in sympathy. France and her gold allies will have no alternative but to follow suit.

All of the undercover efforts of our delegation at London and our financial experts at home have been directed to this end recently.

It isn't altruism on the part of President Roosevelt. He wants buying power restored in Europe. That means reemployment at better wages and shortened hours.

This will open markets for America. He feels everybody will be happy in the end.

RADIO: One of these nights before long you're going to hear the President's voice on the radio if industry doesn't show more speed in getting recovery codes together.

Industrial Administrator Johnson has suggested a two-fisted radio appeal for action several times in the past few days. Mr. Roosevelt has been reluctant to undertake it immediately. But at the first concrete sign of stalling he stands ready to jump in and speak his piece.

Both the President and Johnson realize that industry can't be expected to get together with itself and labor overnight and compose differences of years' standing.

They also realize a great number of industries haven't even started discussing codes.

TEETH: There are about 7,000 trade associations in the United States. In many cases several will be combined into a single unit. Something over 600 industries are struggling with working agreements.

The administration wants to know why the others aren't getting their heads together.

There are teeth in the National Industrial Recovery Act. NIRA will snap if it gets any evidences of double-dealing.

CODES: Formal hearings aren't possible down at the Industrial Recovery Administration because complete codes are so slow coming in. Most of the rest are still in a highly formulative stage. A surprise in precedence may break in 48 hours.

Make no mistake about it, the President and Johnson are determined to make employment keep step with production. That means agreements—signed, sealed and delivered by main strength, as necessary.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

CURRENCIES: New York insiders whisper about a prospective deal to keep the dollar fairly steady around $4.86 to the pound. It may drop to $5.00 temporarily—chiefly to give the British Tories a scare—but Chamberlain's prediction may keep the speculators on the buying side. The story is that working arrangements as necessity arises were reached—very unofficially of course—in return for Britain's support in prolonging the Conference.

The important point is that this would not be stabilization. The pound would simply be cut loose from the franc and tie to the dollar instead. Both the pound and the dollar would almost certainly continue to depreciate in terms of gold.

The deal has advantages both ways. From our angle it is less costly and more satisfactory than a currency war with England. Either party can call it off practically at will, so it will not hamper our price rise program.

From the British viewpoint it is preferable to a continued drop of the dollar or a depreciation race. Also it averts a serious ruckus with the Dominions. England still has her preferential trade agreements within the Empire, so she isn't as badly handicapped as might appear.

There will be a good deal of Anglo-American teamwork behind the scenes from now on in this and other matters. The British Government will avoid committing itself publicly but has decided it can promote domestic recovery best by playing the Roosevelt system.

Both governments will express pained surprise if asked whether such an agreement exists. They can't be called Ananiases either. The arrangements will be handled by the central banks and no one officially will know anything about it. But the evidence will lie in foreign exchange quotations.

The experiment will probably be continued until internal price levels satisfactory to both nations have been reached.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BARRETT COLVIN, back in New York after years abroad, falls in love with 20-year-old ELINOR STAFFORD. Barrett is 35, wealthy, and has made a name for himself as an archeologist.

LIDA STAFFORD, Elinor's beautiful mother, has kept the girl in the background, wanting attention for herself. Lida is carrying on a flirtation with VANCE CARTER and constantly scheming to keep in the good graces of rich MISS ELLA SEXTON, her husband's aunt, in order to inherit a share of the Sexton fortune.

Years before Barrett shielded his half-sister, MARCIA, when a youthful romance ended disastrously. Marcia had a son whom Barrett adopted. She tells Barrett that if her husband ever learns of the affair he will never forgive her.

Elinor's mother goes to Miami for three weeks. When she returns she deliberately tries to break up the romance between Barrett and Elinor and succeeds. The girls is heartbroken because she does not hear from him.

Barrett and Elinor meet unexpectedly at Miss Ella Sexton's. He offers Lida a cigaret and she refuses, declaring she does not smoke. Rebellious at her mother's hypocrisy, Elinor takes a cigaret, thereby offending her aunt who once more decides to revise her will.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

Elinor had never had such a session with her mother as that on the drive home from Miss Ella's. She said again and again, "Mother, people are staring—!" but it made no impression.

The chauffeur's face reddened from the stares of men and women in the cars they passed. Lida's voice was so loud and high-pitched it could be heard through the glass. "I pity that girl!" the chauffeur thought. The thought was an old one that frequently became a chant when the servants were together.

Now Lida was laughing—a shrill, sneering, hysterical laugh. So far as the chaffeur could hear there had been no reply at all from Miss Elinor.

He sympathized with the girl even more deeply as he opened the door of the car a little later. Lida swept into the building, brittle and strong from her flaming anger. Elinor crept after her, her face paper-white.—

"For a moment," the chauffeur told the butler later, "I thought she was going to fall—poor kid!"

Elinor's reactions were divided. In one way she was glad that she had done what she had. For another reason she deeply regretted it. Lida had said, eyes narrowing and glittering, "Think of your father! The way he has slaved all his life. And now you—with a cigaret!—have burned every chance he ever had for rest and independence."

Elinor would even have lied to give her father all that he deserved. She would have lied gladly and as well as she could. But it was too late.

Barrett Colvin had not once looked at her. This realization crept between every separate recollection of the afternoon. She had stolen side glances at him, unable to help it. Each time he had seemed coldly composed, entirely unaware of her.

Two long days and longer nights stretched ahead. Elinor could not seem to sleep. On the morning following the second night Lida awoke to find the girl standing by her bed.

"Well, what is it?" Lida flung petulantly. She loathed being disturbed so early.

"Aunt Ella's gone—" Elinor said. Lida sat up. She laughed shrilly. "A pretty time you chose—!" she began. It was the old story Elinor had heard so often during those two dreary days. A story of her having ruined her parents' future.

Lida punctuated her diatribe with questions. "And you knew perfectly well how she felt—who telephoned?"

"Craven. Miss Smythe is prostrated—"

"Miss Smythe prostrated! How delicious! Your father can't go to the office? He knows that?"

"Yes."

"He'll probably be cut off without a cent—as you know. And of course you know why too but, even though he gets nothing, he must keep up appearances. I haven't a decent black dress. Has Bessie telephoned?"

"No."

"That's odd. I suppose she thinks since they will be the heirs that we are beneath notice. No doubt she's heard of your part in what happened. Hand me my negligee! Another thing—"

Celeste, whom Lida had summoned a moment before, appeared then and Lida exclaimed, "I've been waiting 10 minutes, Celeste!"

She must hurry to the house, Lida at least, the satisfaction of treating Miss Smythe with the contempt she felt for her.

"Are you going to run my bath, Celeste?" Lida demanded. The maid looked at Elinor who seemed, in her shabby negligee, a child. Celeste knew that she could leave but Elinor could not. Ah, but Celeste had regretted it when the visits of that tall, fine-looking Mr. Colvin ceased.

Elinor went to her own, much smaller room. She sat on the edge of her narrow bed and stared at a worn rug. Perhaps she had—ruined all hopes of rest for her father.

She heard her mother leaving, heard angry orders flung across a shoulder. Then there was quiet. She must dress, she knew, but delayed, sickened by the thought of what she might have done to her father by smoking that one cigaret. He deserved some of her aunt's vast fortune. He had worked hard all his life, driven by Lida's never-ending needs.

Elinor twisted her hands in misery Celeste appeared, her eyes pitying. Ah—she with all the rest knew the story!

Capitol Chatter

By Charles E. Simons

Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, July 17 (AP)—The Texas highway department, after weeks of delay, has moved into its new building.

For many years the department's Austin headquarters were scattered over the city. The executive offices were in the state office building; the state highway patrol and specifications and design division were housed in a privately owned building. Now all are under one roof and have spacious quarters.

The highway building is a pleasing addition to the Austin skyline and to the group of state buildings. It lacks, however, the austerity of the massive red granite structure that is the main capitol, being moderistic in design and finish.

The building sits on an eminence and presents an imposing sight to the traveler entering Austin from the south.

Occupancy of the building was set for April, but delays in finishing the interior caused the postponement.

It was erected at a cost of approximately $650,000.

The board of water engineers, the reclamation department and the United States geologic survey also will be given offices in the building. The state board of health and the industrial accident board will occupy the quarters vacated by the highway department in the state office building. These departments have been using rooms in the main capitol set aside for committees of the legislature.

The main entrance to the highway building displays a plaque emplifying the idea that "westward is the course of empire.' But the plaque shows the course of empire to be going east.

It was a technical mistake that displeased Commissioner W. R. E. of Abilene.

SMALLEST POSTOFFICE

The world's smallest postoffice is in the Straits of Magellan. It is a small painted cask chained to rocks in such a way as to allow it to float freely. Passing ships send a boat to it to take letters out and put others in. It is under the protection of all the navies of the world.

heriff Tom Abel and Deputy riff Cap Moore followed the ban- south and west of Lubbock, only ose the trail. They went as far Monahans in Ward county. Re- s that the suspects had been in ns were being checked.

Stations Robbed

The Gulf Refining company sta- n at Main street and Avenue M robbed about 3 a. m. of about in cash, 13 quarts of canned ricating oil, three gallons of gaso- and two additional quarts of an electric lantern, and the endant's billfold, containing 50 ts.

few moments later Scott's Auto rage company, Main street and nue K, was robbed of $30 or re in cash, two guns, and the endant's ring and shoes.

The ney was taken from the cash ister. None of the trio was ked.

fter taking the money and the ned oil at the Gulf station, the bers forced Jackson into their . They took him to the 400-block Avenue L, where one, also armed, rded Jackson beneath a tree on vacant lot. Jackson was ordered remove his shirt, white except a stripe, and his undershirt, d he did so, sitting on them.

Upon ir entering the driveway at tt's, Maddox went to the car, ked at the oil in the automobile asked, and was putting water in radiator when one of the men ked behind him, and displayed pistol's handle in a bulging side ket. He forced the attendant in- the office, took the money from cash register, and returned with n to the car. Maddox then was ed whether he had tires and tubes ich would fit the car. He asked size, was told, and said he pos- y had tubes. Soon afterward the ndit car turned to the right, but before Maddox jotted down the nse plate number, while Jackson d a lighted match.

Before Maddox had reached a m house, Jackson had waved n a Ford sedan, which was en te to Brownfield. Three men were the Ford. They brought the sta- n attendants to Scott's garage. riving here about 4 a. m., the tion employes informed police of robberies. H. M. One robber agreed another refused and kept it. m Scott's garage, the bandit a dark color, possibly blue or en, was driven to Avenue Q, thward on Avenue Q to Nine- nth street, and westward on eteenth street to state highway It was believed the Buick was odel of about 1928. MARKET REPORTS

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 17. (AP)—Markets headed up a one-way street today and raced through to new highs for the year. Closing prices were somewhat under the best in most departments, but the day's net appreciation of major exchanges was substantial.

Stocks whirled to a new average top with little or no interference from profit-takers until the late trading brought a fair volume of offerings. Net gains were 1 to 2 1-2 points for active favorites and volume reached the large total of 2,394,370 shares.

Inspiration for stocks was at hand in the grain markets where wheat had a maximum rise of more than 5 cents. Cotton's best effort was a jump of around $2 a bale, while crude rubber futures rallied a cent a pound. Hides and cocoa added their contributions to the day's accomplishments. Bonds averaged into new high ground.

Group movements were rather distinct in the stock market. Rubber, alcohol, metal and specialty shares of various descriptions lingered longest in the spotlight, rails and utilities being somewhat overshadowed. Steels were steady to firm. Chemicals mostly advanced; so did the foods.

Trade news behind the market was all that could be desired. It included week-end statistics on car loadings and fresher figures showing that the rise was being maintained. Steel production appears to be still headed higher, notwithstanding reported reluctance of some consumers to make further commitments. Volume of railroad buying is a little better and requirements of the oil and brewing industries are broadening.

Little incentive for brisk speculation was offered by dollar exchange which again fluctuated narrowly. Money markets were plentifully supplied with funds and although rates quoted by some dealers for time accommodations were a trifle firmer the general tone was toward easiness. A reduction in the Dutch bank rate carried with it the suggestion that Europe's gold crisis was lifting.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 17. (AP) — Cotton continued active today and prices again made new high levels for the season, October trading within 2 points of the 12 cent level. Extreme gains were about halved on profit-taking but the close was steady 50 to 72 points net higher.

The opening was steady although Liverpool came in worse than due. Manchester said cloth and yarns were quiet. Prices soon rallied however, on good general buying helped by a firm opening of stocks and insufficient rains in the western belt over the week-end. A sharp upturn in wheat and a continued optimistic view of the success of the acreage reduction campaign induced heavy buying and covering by shorts and prices advanced rapidly to new high levels for the season with October up to 10.98 and December to 12.17 or 44 points above Saturday's close.

The market turned easier around the middle of the afternoon due to reactions in stocks and wheat and to fairly good rains shown by the detailed map in West Texas. Prices eased off about 25 points from the highs but recovered somewhat at the close. October closed at 11.75 up 21 points net and December at 11.95 up 22 points net.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow unchanged to 1 penny point down.

Port receipts 17,078, for week 30,153; for season 8,821,395; last season 10,064,616. Exports 16,358, for week 47,842; for season 8,090,964; last season 8,430,960. Port stock 3,311,619, last year 3,487,587. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 142,641, last year 97,908. Spot sales at southern markets 11,023, last year 3,052.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 17. (AP)—Further heavy buying of cotton pushed prices up about $2 a bale today, but part of the gain was lost in the late trading under profit-taking.

December closed at 11.98, or 20 points off from the best, but 22 points net higher, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 17 to 38 points.

After opening unchanged to 9 points higher prices turned sharply upward.

There was buying here through houses with foreign connections, as well as a broadening local, western and Wall street demand and probably some rebuying by sellers of late last week.

Offerings were relatively light after the heavy reaping of Saturday, and all active months made new high records for the movement, October selling up to 11.99 and March to 12.38, or 37 to 45 points net higher on the new crop months.

Reports of showers in the southwest and the forecast for further showers in West Texas promoted realizing at the advance, however, and the market eased off from the best in the later trading, with closing quotations showing reactions of about 20 points from the high of the day.

Exports today 16,358 making 8,225,136 so far this season. Port receipts 17,078. U. S. port stocks 3,241,593.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, July 17. (AP)—Fair demand was reported Monday for the light offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market, where wheat set a new 1933 high.

Prices ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat No. 1 hard 1.18 1-2@1.21 1-2. Barley No. 2 nominally @@@; No. 3 nominally 67@68. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 1.70@1.75; No. 3 milo 1.65@1.70. No. 3 kaffir per 100 pounds 1.55@1.60.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats No. 2 red 42 1-2@44; No. 3 red 41 1-2@43.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 17. (AP)—Enormous sustained public speculative demand stole the grain markets almost completely away from professional traders today, and rushed prices irrestitably to new record peaks. Incidentally, the barley market shot 12 cents skyward.

Wheat was virtually kidnapped by the general public, with quotations taken so swiftly aloft that the hand-mark price of $1.25 a bushel was scarcely noticed on the way up and no halt was possible until a maximum of $1.27 1-4 was reached, a brand-new gain of 5 3-8 cents to nearly triple the value of wheat at the beginning of 1933. In the main, the attention of non-professional traders focused on reports of persistent drouth, destructive to spring wheat crop prospects, especially north of the Canadian border.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1 to 1 3-4 cents below the day's top but 3 1-8 3 7-8 above Saturday's finish, corn 1 1-8 to 2 5-8 up, oats 1-2 to 1 1-2 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 20 cents.

Closing indemnities: Wheat Sept. 1.13 1-2@3-4, 1.22 1-2@3-4; Dec. 1.16@1.16 1-4, 1.25 1-2@1.26, May 1.20 3-8, 1.30 1-8. Corn Sept. 68 1-4@1-2, 72 7-8@73; Dec. 72 1-2@7-8, 77 3-4@78; May 77, 83 1-2.

go to the Liberty Street ferry. There, all definite trace of him was lost.

United States Attorney George Z. Medalie moved for the forfeiture of Harriman's $25,000 bail when he failed to appear at the resumption of his hearing in federal court today.

The prosecutor said he had been advised that Harrison had "fled to parts unknown."

Judge Francis G. Caffey granted an adjournment until tomorrow.

Harriman's disappearance today was the second within as many months. On May 19 he walked out of the nursing home and was found next day at a Long Island inn, registered under an assumed name. The inn was near the spot where his only son, Alan, was killed in an automobile accident five years ago.

When he was discovered, Harriman picked himself in the chest with a knife, but the wound was not serious.

The former banker recently was described by Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe as mentally unfit to face trial on charges of making false entries, involving $1,500,000, in the bank's books and of misapplying $600,000 of the institution's funds.

this talk that has been going around about the Ferguson administration being in disfavor in Washington," Mr. Ferguson said. "True they have been working overtime with their extended prevarications, but they have not succeeded in getting Washington to ignore the constituted authority of this state."

Mr. Ferguson said that the national authorities had refused to listen to talk that the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission was incapable of functioning fairly.

"Washington knows that the Texas relief comwission was set up by an act of the legislature," he said. "Those fellows in Washington are as smart as we are. They refuse to rebel against the constituted authority. The governor appointed a minority to the commission membership. She had the designation of two members. The lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house each appointed two members."

forms of entertainment. The people had nothing. The nobleman, walled within his castle, alone enjoyed the meager luxuries of the day, and because they had so little and their masters comparatively so much, it was the people who turned eagerly to such spectacles as the Passion Play. In Europe, in the middle ages, there was no entertainment to compare with it. With the purest form of the Passion Play in its day of full glory, history and legend credited it with being the outstanding example of medieval magnificence.

In the present production, no expense has been spared to make it the most beautiful and elaborate spectacle ever presented to an American audience. Hundreds of costumes are carried by the company, for the large extra list of people used. Among the ensemble of this spectacle there will be found young ladies as angels, while others appear as water carriers, with their jugs and gourds, many as virgins, and followers of the Master. A great nondescript crowd of men and women and children are dressed in the period of the time. The players convey the atmosphere of this sacred drama to the hearts of both portrayer and the hearer.

Repeal Battle

To Remain Dry

Gov. F. M. Futrell of Arkansas has said his state would remain dry even if prohibition is repealed but added that "everybody I have talked to in Arkansas" believes the state will vote for repeal.

Repeal leaders in Alamaba predicted their candidates would carry a large majority of the state's counties and Tennessee wets believe their majority will be anywhere from 50,000 to two to one.

Anti-repealists are just as emphatic in their predictions.

Advance Guard Of Federal Oil Agents Arrive Monday

TYLER, July 17. (AP)—The advance guard of federal agents sent to enforce President Roosevelt's executive orders prohibiting the transportation in interstate commerce of oil produced in violation of state laws arrived in Tyler late today by airplane from Washington.

They were Professor J. Howard Marshall of the Yale school of law and Dr. Norman L. Meyers, who at present are acting as special solicitors of the department of the interior and have made an extensive study of legal problems involved in proration; and J. M. Leech, department of the interior investigator.

Know The Ropes

Lona Andre and Gail Patrick, a couple of beauties who made good in the movies, already know all the ropes of Hollywood and now they are learning about those on boats. Here they are, practicing up for the summer yachting season.

Heads Educators

Jessie Gray, Philadelphia training school teacher, was elected president of the National Education association at the group's convention in Chicago.

Job Drive

be held at the beginning of next week.

Before then, however, there might be an agreement between the industry and President Roosevelt to put into effect the wage and hour terms immediately as was done today to make the cotton code's benefits apply to the more than 200,000 additional workers in rayon and silk weaving plants, cotton thread and "throwing" or thread-twisting factories.

Delay Occasioned

This system might be employed generally to get wages up without waiting for the formal and deliberate processes of holding hearings, and promulgating the resulting agreement. It takes two to three weeks at best on each code. The preliminary agreements sanctioned by the president are binding until each separate agreement is passed upon.

The national campaign now in the making would seek ever more informal, purely voluntary wage-raising and hour-cutting action, along the lines of that taken by the steel industry in increasing wages 15 per cent today without waiting for an executive order by the president.

Grains Soar

by the action of barley. Quietly and with no more fuss than wheat, barley prices advanced 12 cents a bushel in the short space of two hours and every step of the gain was made by 1-4 and 1-2 cent jumps.

Never Stops Rising

The December delivery opened at 73 1-4 cents and never stopped rising until it hit a peak of 83 1-2 which was 11 3-4 cents higher than Saturday's close.

Not only wheat and barley, but rye, corn and oats enjoyed a taste of prosperity. There seemed little news to account for the advance, except reports from Canada that the weather was unfavorable for wheat. Traders even fell back on weather beaten weather adages to account for the upturn in corn.

Flour Hits Record

Flour rose to a 5-year record in Minneapolis. A 30 cent advance carried the price to $3.95 a barrel, including $1.32 process tax to pay farmers to curtail wheat.

Corn crossed 80 cents a bushel with the May delivery as high as 82 cents at one time, but reacting a little to finish at 81 5-8.

ters heavily into costs of production.—raises the question whether industry can accept the short hour week and exist.

The same argument was used against the 8-hour day, but public opinion happened to be behind it and over it went. And what passed the laws blanketed under the Roosevelt recovery program was not alone Mr. Roosevelt. It was public opinion. Which will probably turn out to be the answer as to whether the short hour week is a New Year's resolution.

Ford's Ideas Recalled

Taking the short week to be on its way, what then of its effect on business and on life? Take business first. Henry Ford has contended that the workers, 70 per cent of the buying public, have been kept so many hours producing things that they had no free hours to buy. Give them more time to buy, said he, and they will make better business, more profits, and more wages. We have been more than ahead of the times in the science of production; the science of consumption has lagged—this balance between making things and using them up. The short hour week may help strike that balance.

BIG AND important as this is, it is of less importance as compared with certain other matters. After all we live to live, not to spend all our lives in earning a living. With the shorter week in prospect, some time may be spared from earning a living in order to enjoy what we have earned.

What is to be done with these added hours of leisure? The question opens up one of the profound social problems of the day. So far every energy of our educational system has gone into teaching us how to earn a living. It filled the colleges, the professional schools, the grade schools with their vocational training. From now on the educational system has got to devote more of its wisdom and energy to training for this use of leisure, for the enjoyment of life.

Warning Is Issued

Eminent educators like Professor L. P. Jacks foresaw this long ago and uttered due warning. Ethelbert Stewart, Government statistician, who also foresaw technocracy years before it broke into the press, made an address before leading American colleges to urge this training for leisure. "For," said he, "take it from me, we are going to have a lot of it."

WE ARE. The short hour week is not only a predetermined fixture in our progress, it is but the beginning of more progress of a like kind. If humanitarian impulses had not been enough to bring about the shorter week, it would have been made a necessity by this steady mechanization of inudstry which gives us such pride. Schooling for the use of this coming leisure is a like necessity. It is no longer a lecture topic for eminent educators; it thrusts itself squarely under the noses of every school board in the country.

Slowly the ancient dream of Adam, of a life of riches with a minimum of labor is coming true, and the country that has led the long, long road to this goal should be glad to get ready for it.

theory that the pilots mistook the green treetops for a meadow when their gasoline gave out and crashed at high speed, tearing the plane into splinters.

Darius was buried under the wreckage while Girenas apparently was flung from the ship when it struck the trees since he was found some distance away with his head thrust deeply into the ground.

Plane Is Reported

Newspapers here reported today that at midnight a plane flashing a searchlight flew over the labor camp near here whose occupants first regarded it as "an enemy scouting plane." This was tonight believed to be the Lithuanica seeking a landing spot.

Peasant women found the shattered Lithuanica and its unfortunate pilots while they were picking mushrooms and blueberries early this morning.

The gas tank was empty, indicating the American-Lithuanian fliers were seeking to descend when the disaster occurred.

Follow Straight Course

The log kept by Darius and Girenas disclosed that they followed a remarkably straight course, keeping virtually in the same latitude throughout the long flight.

Residents of the rural community disagreed as to the time of the crash. Some said a thunder-like noise was heard about 1 a. m., while a group of berry pickers declared they heard the sound of an airplane motor at five o'clock.

Authorities planned to bring the bodies to Soldin after investigation of the disaster on the spot.

It took Magellan 1084 days to circle the globe. The time of Post and Gatty in their plane was eight and two-third days.

who fled on foot after officers had killed Hunsucker. It was believed he could not be far away as traveling that desolate region would be slow without a mount of some sort.

One Man Arrested

McCamant and his force of deputies were led to the outlaw's camp after a gun fight staged with them near Corona, N. M., Saturday night had led to the arrest of Dobey Blankenship, believed to be a third member of the gang, at Tipton Well, seven miles from Ramon. Blankenship is being held here for further questioning by the Texas officers.

On approaching the campsite of the two men, the officers found themselves in the direct line of fire from the outlaw's guns.

Jones fell on the first exchange of shots and Hunsucker's death came soon afterwards. Stanton, seeing himself outnumbered, evaded the officers and escaped on foot.

Four Tulia Officers Leave To View Body

TULIA, July 17. (AP)—Four officers left today for Carrizozo, N. M., to identify the body of Glen Hunsucker and verify his death for the records of Swisher county where he was charged with the slaying of J. C. Moseley, sheriff, here last January.

They were N. R. Honea, Briscoe county sheriff; F. O. Goens, Swisher county deputy, and J. H. Hamilton, chief of police, and Dennis Zimmerman of Tulia.

World Flight

joined them, and started an examination of the Oklahoman, Miss Gillis acted as interpreter.

On arriving at Moscow Monday from Koenigsberg, where he landed Sunday, Post was four hours and 24 minutes ahead of the schedule which he and Harold Gatty set in the same plane in 1931.

Gains On Schedule

By declining to take a long rest at Moscow Post gained on his previous record and left here 13 hours and 2 minutes ahead of the schedule he and his partner set two years ago.

The American airman showed distinct signs of fatigue when he took off for Novosibirsk, 1,818 miles to the east. He had remained in Moscow only two hours and 52 minutes after landing here from Koenigsberg, hopping off for the flight into Asia at 5:12 p. m. (9:12 a. m. eastern standard time).

Weather conditions were said to be extremely favorable for Post on the Moscow-Novosibirsk leg of his journey. As far as the Ural mountains beautiful weather prevailed while to the east of this barrier it was forecast that clouds which then obscured the sky would clear up before the American's arrival in that area.

Refuses To Sleep

Althouh swaying with weariness when he stepped out of his ship, Post refused to take any sleep but he did make use of his stop at Moscow to visit a barber shop for the removal of two days growth of whiskers.

The Oklahoma flier preferred to supervise overhauling of his plane which had developed a leak in the gasoline feed.

His robot pilot, Post asserted, had been a big disappointment, making such difficulties that he had been required to steer the ship manually all the way from New York.

Post blamed his mechanical copilot for a deviation of 100 miles off his course between Koenigsberg and Moscow and it was because of faulty steering by the robot, he said, that he landed at the east Prussian capital Sunday night.

Troubles Remedied

When he hopped off the American aviator was of the opinion that both the robot trouble and the leaky gasoline feed had been remedied.

Post ate very little. Soviet officials were concerned over his abstinence and urged more food upon him, but he declined, saying, "I eat only enough to keep from weakening myself. I purposely stay hungry so I can keep awake."

Wife Of Fort Worth Mayor Is Improved After Mishap

FORT WORTH, July 17. (AP)—Injured Sunday night in an automobile collision, Mrs. William Bryce, 72, wife of Fort Worth's mayor, was reported slightly improved today. Mrs. Bryce's left leg was broken just above the knee and her head was cut severely.

Mayor Bryce, who was driving, was bruised only slightly.

you—chere Mademoiselle — in the small room on the tray."

Mademoiselle must eat, Celeste reminded. For a second she forgot she was a servant to remember that Elinor was young and suffering and alone. She laid a hand on Elinor's shoulder.

"Thank you, Celeste!"

Elinor tried, because of Celeste and her anxiety, to eat as much as she could of "the little breakfast." The rest of the day passed slowly. She played chess with her father, wondering if she were really as guilty as her mother said. Memories of Barrett Colvin sitting stiff and cold in Miss Ella's drawing room haunted the girl.

There followed another sleepless night; another day of much the same dreary pattern. The third day was perhaps the most miserable, with Lida, nervous and flaring up angrily or becoming sullenly morbid. Everyone knew that at four they would go into the late Miss Sexton's drawing room and there a little later the will would be read.

At length the long stretch was ended.

The funeral was gloomily correct. No one wept except Craven, who was old, and Bessie Thrope, looking a little more bedraggled than usual in her shabby black. Lida was aware of the smartness of her own black attire. She studied Barrett Colvin who was staring at his hands, gripped between knees. It was amazing, Lida thought, to realize how easily he had been managed. She supposed she was in for a bad half hour with Vance Carter who would remind her of that promise to divorce Bentwell—a thing she intended to do in time but only when the right man appeared. How white Elinor was! And how stuffy Bentwell looked. Sentimental fool—he was actually blinking!

What a perfect old dodo the clergyman was! Well, Lida knew her share wouldn't be diminished by him, who, despite Miss Ella's stern disapproval, had had candles placed upon the altar.

The clergyman was droning, "We brought nothing into this world and it is certain we carry nothing out. The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away!"

Lida looked extremely pensive because she wanted to smile. So terribly apt, that remark!

Just an hour or two more and they'd all hear the will. Thank God, that suspense would be over! She had heard Mr. Grotner speak to Barrett Colvin before the opening of the service to ask him to stay for the reading of the will. It had made Lida a little uneasy. But doubtless Aunt Ella had left him a gilt-scrolled walnut bureau or a steel engraving of Pickett's charge at Gettysburg.

The drive to the burial ground was long and cold, despite the heat in the cars. The snow that had lain for several days had a coating of soot. The open grave and the damp earth was depressing. Even Lida felt the dreariness in such passing. She saw Elinor and saw Barrett Colvin's anxious eyes on the girl.

Then the coffin was lowered. There was the thud of earth on its lid—and the gloomy affair was over.

An hour later Mr. Grotner stood, long fingers tapping the chenille cover of the library table. They were all there before him—Bessie, Jim, Bentwell, Lida, Barrett Colvin, Miss Smythe, and the servants.

Lida, assured and half-smiling, was thinking that she might take a house at Cannes for the remainder of the winter with her share. Bessie was hoping there would be enough to make things easier for Jim. Jim was considering a house with more room around it. The children needed space in which to play. Barrett Colvin thought of nothing but the fact that he must not show what he felt, must not even look at Elinor, sitting beside her father who reeked of Scotch and swayed a little, walking.

Mr. Grotner cleared his throat. The rustling and motion ceased; tension was in the air. Mr. Grotner began reading a long preamble in which Miss Ella rendered to God her gratitude for being all that she had been.

Then the servants were mentioned. "So stuffy!" Lida decided, twisting her gloves which she had taken off, knowing how her hands looked against the black she wore. She heard the amounts which had been left the servants with growing resentment. So pointless, Lida reflected. Such people were happier working. Imagine $20,000 for Craven! And the interest from a soundly invested $100,000 for Miss Symthe for life. It was amazing.

The lawyer cleared his throat again. Ah—now they would hear the rest!

Jurors Selected In Woman's Case

FORT STOCKTON, July 17. (AP)—Two jurors were selected today in the second trial of Mrs. Bessie Sharp for the poison death of her husband, Telefus Sharp, at their ranch near Sanderson in May, 1931.

The prosecution was headed by Julian Lacrosse of Del Rio, district attorney, who participated in the first trial in Del Rio which resulted in a hung jury. Weaver Baker, district attorney for the one hundred and twelfth district, and Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, special prosecutor, will assist him.

The defense was in the hands of Coke Stevenson of Junction and C. S. Slatton of San Antonio. More than 100 witnesses were summoned, 81 for the defense including seven physicians.

Questioning of veniremen indicated the defense would plead insanity.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 38

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Within the cabin Jane saw the lioness almost through the window. She reached for the fallen revolvel. Raised it. Then she saw Esmeralda, nert but alive. She could not leave her. She must use one cartridge on the senseless woman before she turned the cold muzzle toward herself again.

Quickly Jane ran to the side of Esmeralda. She pressed the muzzle of the revolver tight against that devoted heart, closed her eyes, and—Sabor, the lioness, emitted a frightful shriek. The girl, startled, recoiled and turned to face the brute, again raising the weapon against her own temple.

She didn't fire again. Surprised, she saw the huge animal being drawn slowly back through the window and in the moonlight the heads of two men. Tarzan had seized the long tail in both his hands, braced himself, and thrown all his mighty strength into the effort to draw the beast back.

Slowly the lioness was emerging from the window. Tarzan, suddenly releasing his hold upon her, sprang full upon her back. Tighter his strong young arms forced her head lower and lower. The immense muscles of Tarzan's shoulders and biceps leaped into corded knots—a superhuman effort—and Sabor's vertebrae snapped!

Instantly Tarzan was on his feet. For the second time Clayton heard Tarzan give the bull-ape's savage roar of victory. He ran toward Jane's agonized cry. Calming her fears, they came out to the dead body of the lioness, to thank their rescuer. But Tarzan of the Apes was gone.

Wednesday Night Is Deadline For Mailing Of Contracts; Total Acreage Offered Here Is 98,321.26

With Wednesday night set for the last date for mailing cotton reduction contracts to Washington, announced Monday, the county's total acreage offered for destruction had passed the 98,000 acre mark, O. G. Tumlinson, county agent, said last night. Total acreage offered is 98,321.26 acres out of 236,948 acres planted to cotton. Cash payments slightly exceed the million dollar total.

"All contracts must be in the mails Wednesday night," Mr. Tumlinson pointed out." That means, they must bear a stamp cancelling date of July 19.

To Mail Notices

"I want to point out that no farmer should plow up any of his cotton until he has been advised to do so, from this office. Notices of plowing up are to be mailed from Washington, beginning Wednesday. As soon as I get a batch of bulk notices. I will begin sending them out.

"Any farmer whose name is not on the list I receive should not plow up his cotton until his name is sent me. He will not be allowed to plow up his cotton until his contract has been accepted by Secretary Wallace."

Expects Information

The county agent expects further information on handling of the work to be sent from Washington Wednesday. Local committees are to be used in inspecting the work to see that all cotton has been plowed up as per instructions.

Twenty additional contracts were tabulated and mailed Monday. An additional 14 were being tabulated late yesterday and will be reported today. Total of cash payments is $1,002,520.32."

Figures for 2,457 contracts are: acres in cotton, 236,948; acres under contract, 98,321.26; cash payments, $765,913.32; option payments, $236,607; bales optioned, 9,201.11-25ths.

John Shropshire Dies On Monday

John William Shropshire, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Shropshire of 2415 Thirteenth street, died of a cerebral ailment in a local sanitarium at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon

Funeral services for the young man will be conducted at Sanders Funeral home by the Rev. O. W. Carter and the Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of Asbury and First Methodist churches, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery. Pallbearers will be Boy Scouts.

Young Shropshire became ill about three weeks ago. Last week he underwent an operation for removal of an abscess on the brain. Previously he had lost his faculties of speech, and the operation was deemed his only chance for recovery. Although the abscess was located, his condition became worse.

Besides the parents, immediate survivors are a sister, Mary Louie; one brother, Otha Harral, and his grandfather, D. W. Puckett. Mr. and Mrs. Shropshire have lived here about 24 years.

Trip To Short Course At College Station Planned

Letters were mailed to a large numbers of farmers Monday asking them if they cared to go on a special bus to College Station for the annual short course beginning Monday. The bus will start from Lubbock Saturday noon.

A Lubbock county farmer is arranging his high-speed truck as a bus and can handle a minimum of 20 or up to 25 men, the agent added. The cost will be extremely low.

Mr. Tumlinson is seeking at least one delegate from each of the 29 communities in the county.

Trees do not grow by stretching and lengthening their limbs; fence wires stapled to growing trees remain the same distance from the ground.

Don't Skid!

CENTER-TREAD TRACTION GIVES YOU

SAFETY!

The two greatest causes of tire accidents are skidding and blowouts. Most people know that —so almost every tire maker—eager to make a sale—now claims his tire is built to prevent both of these troubles.

But in all the hubbub—Goodyear Tires outsell any others because of these facts:

More traction than ANY other tire

Traction means grip. Brakes may stop your wheels—but it takes tire traction to stop your car. And on streets flooded with water, cars equipped with Goodyear Tires grip and stop so much better than any other tire that in tests the next best skidded 10% farther—while others skidded up to 77% farther than Goodyears. Goodyear Tires give you traction in the center of the tread—and that's where the tire contacts the road.

Blowout Protection in every Ply

Every ply of every Goodyear Tire is built with Supertwist Cord—developed and patented by Goodyear to prevent tires from breaking down and blowing out under the strain of heat and speed. And every ply runs from bead to bead. Right before your eyes, at any Goodyear dealer's—you can see why this patented ply material prevents blowouts, how it stretches and comes back long after ordinary cords have failed.

The best buy in mileage

Because Goodyear treads are tougher and wear longer—because Supertwist adds longer life to the body of Goodyear Tires—you'd naturally expect these tires to outrun others. Well, here's the proof. The most accurate mileage records are kept by the bus operators, and Goodyear Tires on thousands of buses throughout the country are averaging mileages that represent an increase of 97% in the past five years. Goodyears are better every year.

Prices that say "Buy Now"

All you have to do is to look at today's prices to know they're low. And if you look what other commodities are doing—you know that prices can't stay where they are for long. Commodity prices already have risen 50 to 100%.

Be warned in time. Better look at every wheel on your car—and replace worn, thin, risky, slippery tires with the safest tires on the market—quality tires—Goodyear Tires—at prices you may never see again.
