The 83rd Infantry Division — the famous Thunderbolt Division of World War II — has launched a search for lost troops.

Victor E. Landis, National Publicity Director for the division, of Dayton, Ohio writes that some 25,000 former members of the division are being sought. They are scattered all over the nation.

They hope to locate all former members before the annual reunion of the 83rd Infantry Division Association is held in August. The association was organized at the close of World War II. Former members of the 83rd have been asked to contact the national secretary, Larry Redmond, 132 Rockwood Drive, Haverton, Pa. 19083.

Also in the mail today is a notice from State Rep. George T. Hinson about a series of public hearings on vocational and technical education now being conducted by the House Standing Committee on Education. Rep. Hinson, who is chairman of the committee, said that one of the sessions will be held May 22 at Lamesa. An earlier hearing for the Panhandle area will be held at Pampa. Others have been held at Austin, Kilgore, Gainesville, Waco and San Antonio.

"The committee realizes the importance to West Texas and the Panhandle of continued industrial development and we feel that a well-coordinated program of vocational and technical education will serve as a definite asset," said Rep. Hinson.

The Snyder High School Band returned from the Buccaneer Music Festival in Corpus Christi without one of the trophies it won for the simple reason that the SHS students did not know about their second, and largest award until too late to pick up the trophy. The band had been judged best Class AAA band in the event and Melvin Montgomery, Charles Shaw and their pupils were feeling pretty good about the trip on the basis of that alone. Later as they hurried away for a brief visit to the HemisFair, they learned that they had won the Grand Sweepstakes award for compiling the most competitive points in the festival. The trophy will be forwarded from Corpus Christi. — WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

Today is Wednesday, May 8, the 129th day of 1968. There are 237 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1945, President Harry S. Truman went on the radio and announced the end of the war in Europe.

On this date: In 1541, the Spasish explorer, Hermando De Soto, discovered the Mississippi River — at a point near the present city of Memphis, Tenn.

In 1779, Revolutionary forces under Gen. Casimir Pulaski fortified Charleston, S.C.

In 1854, the Atlantic Cable Co. was organized.

In 1902, a volcanic eruption on the island of Martinique left 40,000 persons dead.

In 1942, in the Pacific war, the Battle of the Coral Sea ended in a victory for the Allied nations.

In 1958, Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon were greeted with hostility and abuse in Lima, Peru during a goodwill tour of South America.

Ten years ago — The assassination of a pro-Communist newspaper editor in Beirut led to widespread rioting in Lebanon.

Five years ago — Dependents of Americans in Haiti were evacuated as tension grew between Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

One year ago — The U.S. Supreme Court extended new protection to distributors of books viewed by some as obscene.

HIGHLIGHT OF FIVE PRIMARIES

RFK, Nixon Show Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two victories by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, an impressive showing by Richard M. Nixon and the defeat of veteran Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, highlighted five primaries across the nation.

Kennedy defeated Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in Indiana's Democratic presidential primary and his national convention delegate slate beat Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's in the District of Columbia.

Republican candidate Nixon was unopposed and got an even bigger Indiana vote than in the 1960 primary. He carried the state in the 1960 general presidential election.

Lausche was defeated by Cincinnati City Councilman John J. Gilligan, a former congressman who had labor support and the Ohio Democratic organization endorsement.

In Tuesday's primary voting:

—Kennedy got about 42 per cent of the Indiana vote to about 31 per cent for favorite-son candidate Gov. Roger D. Branigin and about 27 per cent for McCarthy.

But it appeared possible Kennedy might have to share with Branigin some of Indiana's 63 Democratic National Convention delegates. Nixon garnered all 26 Republican convention votes.

—All 21 candidates on Kennedy's delegate slate in the District of Columbia were far outdistancing their Humphrey rivals. By unit rule Kennedy gets all 23 of Washington's convention votes.

Also in the D.C. voting, a GOP slate composed of both Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller supporters easily defeated a slate weighted toward California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a favorite-son candidate.

—Gilligan's Ohio GOP Senate opponent apparently will be Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe who issued a victory statement after outdistancing two opponents.

—In Alabama, third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace apparently won the right to run on his state's Democratic party ticket he appeared to have picked up at least 25 of 34 Alabama delegates to the Democratic convention.

—Florida Rep. Edward Gurney won the Republican senatorial nomination by a landslide but the Democratic race between former Gov. LeRoy Collins and Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth appeared headed for a runoff.

Kennedy was making no claims for the future after his Indiana victory, including his prospects in the Nebraska primary next Tuesday.

"Vice President Humphrey says he's the front runner, Sen. McCarthy says he's the front runner," Kennedy said. "I'm not making any predictions where I am because the only way I can do well is to take my campaign to the people."

He said the combination of results in the District of Columbia and Indiana "indicate a broad base of support for my candidacy."

But McCarthy and Branigin forces—and promoters of the Humphrey campaign—noted Kennedy was a minority winner. McCarthy said he would have gotten many of Branigin's votes in a two-man contest.

"No one deserves any prizes in this contest," McCarthy said. "We will carry the fight to Nebraska. I think the direct confrontation that was denied us here in Indiana will be given us in Nebraska."

Texans Spot Nine Twisters

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nine tornadoes struck Texas Tuesday but only one caused any reported damage or injuries.

The damage occurred in the southern portion of Corpus Christi where a twister knocked down tree branches, smashed windows and did other minor damage.

Mrs. T. A. Wall Jr. of Corpus Christi was cut by flying glass.

The Corpus Christi Naval Air tation on the city's south side measurd more than 5.5 inches of rain in two hours.

Five-inch gully-washers also hit west of Corpus Christi in the Callihan - Whitsett - George West area. The Weather Bureau said streams in the area might flood.

Funnel clouds also were spotted near Alice, Kingsville, Agua Dulce, Weatherford and Decatur.

Four tornadoes were spotted in the Weatherford section and one touched down twice at Decatur.

At one time, a 140-mile strip extending from southwest to northeast across the state and extending into Oklahoma was under tornado watch.

Hail the size of golf balls hit Alice and Kingsville vicinities.

Great Southwest Airport between Fort Worth and Dallas recorded 3.16 inches of rain in two hours before midnight. Itasca measured 3.05 and Smithville 2.24 inches.

Fog covered a large area today from Texarkana to the Fort Worth-Dallas area to Waco, College Station, Austin and Victoria.

Transplant Patient Dies Today

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—One of the three men who underwent heart transplants within five days of each other died today.

A St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital announcement said James B. Cobb, Alexandria, La., died eight hours after unexpected complications developed.

"The transplanted heart was not rejected and functioned well until the unforseen complications occurred," the announcement said.

The cause of death was not known but the hospital said Cobb, who received the heart of a 15-year-old boy Sunday, was believed to have died because of liver and kidney failure.

Meanwhile, the other two patints remaned in satisfactory condition.

They were J. M. Stuckwish, 62, Alpine, Tex., and Everett Claire Thomas, 47 Phoenix Ariz.

The condition of Cobb, 48, had been excellent Tuesday but doctors remained at his bedside constantly once the complications developed.

ROTAN, Tex. (AP) — Terry Lynn Floyd, 19, a Rotan High School senior, was killed Tuesday night when his car went out of control and overturned 12 miles east of Rotan on State 92.

US Communists To Enter Candidates

NEW YORK (AP) — The Communist party of the United States announced Tuesday that it would enter candidates for president and vice president this November for the first time since 1940.

Henry Winston, national party chairman, said the party's candidates would be selected at a special convention during the July 4 weekend.

Winston said the party would seek ballot status wherever possible and would try to get write in votes in those states where it could not get on the ballot.

Peace Team To Depart Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. delegation is set for Paris peace contacts with Hanoi negotiators but in Washington officials expressed concern that what they termed accelerated North Vietnamese military activity could force American retaliation.

The six-member American diplomatic team, headed by Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman, is to leave for Paris Thursday. North Vietnam's delegation began arriving there Tuesday.

Ha Van Lao, adviser to chief Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy, said he is optimistic about prospects but did not elaborate.

Despite the approach of preliminary talks, U.S. officials said, record levels of troop infiltration from the North into South Vietnam have been noted.

These officials also said they are concerned about a new wave of enemy attacks on Saigon and other South Vietnamese cities.

Accompanying Harriman to Paris will be: Cyrus R. Vance, former deputy secretary of defense; Lt. Gen. Andrew Goodpaster, under assignment as deputy U.S. military commander in Vietnam; Philip C. Mabib, Asian expert in the State Department; William Jorden, aide to presidential adviser Walt W. Rostow; and Daniel I. Davidson, special assistant to Harriman.

Sargent Shriver, just sworn in as American ambassador to Paris, is hurrying to his new post a few days ahead of schedule in order to be on hand for the peace contracts.

Up to last Sunday, according to reports from Saigon, an estimated 100,000 Communist troops have entered South Vietnam since late January—more than 6,500 of them in the first five days of this month. Meanwhile, there have been no U.S. reinforcements, officials said.

FOURTH DAY OF HEAVY FIGHTING

Curfew Clamped On Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 2,002 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers have been killed in the past three days of heavy fighting in and around Saigon. But despite his heavy losses, the enemy battled on for the fourth day in streets on the capital's western edge.

The government put a 24-hour curfew on the western half of Saigon to aid its forces.

In comparison with the 2,002 enemy killed, the U.S. Command said allied casualties in the first three days of the new wave of attacks on Saigon totaled 211 killed and 931 wounded —30 Americans killed and 323 wounded, 181 South Vietnamese killed and 608 wounded.

"There isn't much going on today," a senior U.S. officer said. "The key is whether the enemy will be able to reinforce and they don't seem to be able to. As far as the major threat from the west, it doesn't seem to be developing. It looks as if it is petering out, but it's a little early to say officially."

Refugees from the western section said the Viet Cong were digging bunkers in the rubble of burned-out homes, apparently determined to hold out to the end.

U.S. helicopter gunships slammed rockets into the enemy positions on the western edge of the city, while farther to the west fight-bombers pounded enemy infiltration routes.

"Contacts throughout the Saigon area have been light and scattered today, with minimal contact in Saigon itself," the U.S. Command reported.

While eastern Saigon remained under a 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew, the government said it ordered the round-the-clock curfew in the western section "to prevent Viet Cong infiltration."

One enemy 100-pound rocket hit the heart of Saigon, killing a civilian and wounding five, while 14 landed at Tan Son Nhut air base, on the northwest edge of the city.

A U.S. spokesman said three American servicemen were wounded at the base and damage was light. Other sources said five South Vietnamese also were wounded.

Military sources believe the Viet Cong intends to keep up their shelling and street fighting in Saigon in an attempt to influence the U.S.-North Vietnamese preliminary peace talks expected to open Friday in Paris.

New Hope For Trapped Miners

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) — Ten giant pumps, drawing out 3,200 gallons of water each minute, quickened prospects today of rescuing 15 miners known to be alive in a flooded coal mine. Ten others, deeper in the mountain, were feared dead.

"The boys working the pumps down in the shaft are real optimistic," said H.E. Sundstrom, in overnight charge of the rescue. "They think that if the water keeps coming out like it has been, 13 of the men should be able to walk out this morning."

The wives of the trapped miners, their children and friends, remained silently at the mouth of the mine through the chilly night—as many have been since the mine flooded Monday noon. The area became a tent city, a floodlit nightmare, as the rescuers pushed on.

The horizontal passageway, only three feet high in places and descending gently for two miles, has been filled with water since the wall to an adjoining abandoned mine burst.

Closest to the entrance—about one mile in—are 13 men. They are in a chamber higher than the roller-coaster like passageway. They have been sent food, water and blankets over a conveyor belt and air is being pumped to them.

Two others, mine foreman Frank Davis and miner Edward Rudd, are a half mile farther in. A vent drilled 140 feet through the roof of the mountain gave them similar relief.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a 29-year-old man for the last eight months. I am 22. He's nice looking, well-mannered and can afford to show a girl a good time. He has bought me some rather expensive gifts (a stereo for Christmas and a color TV for my birthday.) He tried to give me a diamond for St. Valentine's day, but I wouldn't accept it.

I just don't love him and he knows it, but he says he's desperately in love with me. I never tried to lead him on. I told him from the beginning that I didn't love him and didn't think I ever could. I've even asked him to quit calling me, but he calls anyway, and if I have nothing better to do, I go out with him.

I have acted bored in his company, and been rude to him but he can't be discouraged. Any suggestions?

TOO HONEST

DEAR TOO: If you really don't see any future with this man, don't go out with him again because the more you see of him, and the more you accept from him, the harder it will be to get rid of him. He plans to "wear you down." And if he succeeds, you'll both be sorry. A one-sided "love" doesn't last long.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am 31, have been self-supporting since I was 18, am well-groomed and have lots of friends. But in spite of my jolly disposition and happy smile, I am very unhappy. You see, I am one of those big-boned women who could diet herself down to nothing, but I would still be big.

I know I am fat but I am naturally so large that if I were to lose any weight it would show in my face and neck, and I would rather be a little on the plump side than haggard and wrinkled.

This letter is a plea for more consideration on the part of those who make fat women the butt of their jokes. We have feelings, too, and altho we are good sports on the surface, we are crying on the inside. I want love and companionship like any other normal woman, but it's hopeless. Men don't want fat women. Yet, no woman ever turned a man down because he was fat.

Don't tell me to go on a diet. No matter how much weight I lost, I would still be

BIG AND HATING IT

DEAR BIG: Alas, all men (and women) were not created equal. And that goes for the undersized as well as the oversized. Don't try to rationalize your excess poundage by saying you "need" it to go with your "big-boned" frame. A "big-boned" woman only accentuates her size by being fat as well.

Get a sensible diet from a doctor and stick with it. Plenty of "big" women are enjoying the love and companionship of big men. And some "little" men have shown their true "bigness" by marrying a bigger woman.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to "Lonely in Atlanta," there is an answer to loneliness. I know because four years ago I was in the same boat. I sat around feeling sorry for myself. I did my share of grumbling, too, then it dawned on me, nobody cared to be around a dripping faucet. So, I dried my tears, washed my hair, polished my nails, dressed in my prettiest dress and went out into the world to see who needed me.

Well, to make a long story short, there were plenty of less fortunate people than I who needed ME. First I contacted the local Red Cross to find what could be done and what I was qualified to do, I then became interested in Hospital Volunteers Service, now; I am so busy in one of the local hospitals, I haven't needed a handkerchief in months.

Stock Market Moves Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed ahead on a moderate scale in active trading this afternoon.

Gains by the averages were small but advances by individual stocks exceeded declines by nearly 250 issues.

Trading started off at a brisk pace, and the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape lagged by three minutes in reporting floor transactions. It later caught up.

New York Stock Exchange volume for the year topped one billion shares at 10:16 a.m. Last year the one-billion mark was reached May 26.

The Dow Jones average at noon was up 0.70 at 920.60.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was ahead .2 at 311.0, with industrials unchanged, rails up .1 and utilities up .4.

Airlines, chemicals and farm implements advanced. Most other groups were mixed.

Changes of most key issues were fractional, but a handful ranged to a point or two.

Some big blocks crossed the ticker tape, including 159,800 shares of Stokely-Van Camp at 55⅝, off 2⅛, and 88,500 shares of Kaiser Alminum at 43, off ½.

Jones & Laughlin advanced nearly 3 points.

Gains of a point or so were made by Commercial Credit, Ling-Temco-Vought, Boeing, General Dynamics, Homestake Mining, International Nickel and Eastman Kodak.

Losses of a point or so were taken by Youngstown Sheet, Gulf & Western Industries, Fairchild Camera, Du Pont and Westinghouse Electric.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

UAW Asks Amendment

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The United Auto Workers called today for an amendment to the U.S. constitution that would establish "an economic bill of rights."

The proposed amendment among other things, would establish a constitutional right "of all Americans to a useful job if they are willing and able to work."

If the private sector of the economy failed to provide jobs for all, then the amendment would require the government to provide them.

The amendment would also provide a guaranteed annual income "sufficient to provide adequate living standards" for those unable to work through some system other than "the obsolete and degrading welfare system currently in effect."

The convention interrupted its business to stand in a moment of silent respect to Gov. Lurleen Wallace of Alabama, who died Tuesday.

The union's leadership often has differed violently with philosophies of her husband, former Gov. George C. Wallace.

Railway Permitted To Discontinue Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission granted permission Tuesday to the Kansas City Southern Railway to discontinue passenger service between Kansas City and Shreveport, between Shreveport and New Orleans and between Shreveport and Port Arthur.

However, the railway was ordered to continue operating its Southern Belle passenger train between Kansas City and New Orleans for six more months.

The ICC said the railroad may discontinue the other trains May 10.

Liquor Bill Still Shows A Margin

AUSTIN (AP)—The American party's apparent rejection of liquor-by-the-drink does not look as if it will change the statewide results favoring the proposal, the party's state headquarters said Tuesday.

The party's preliminary count on liquor-by-the-drink showed 32,130 votes against and 28,458 for, with about 35,000 votes still to be counted.

The combined Democratic and Republican party primary results showed a margin of about 40,000 votes favoring the issue.

American party voters also disapproved the other two opinion polls, voting 31,887 to 26,759 against horse race betting and 60,339 to 10,240 against a milk price fixing commission. Democrats and Republicans also rejected those proposals.

An American party spokesman said the total party vote would be about 95,000, far more than enough to get former Alabama Gov. George Wallace's name on the Texas November ballot as a third party candidate for president.

Wallace needed 14,259 signatures of voters who did not take part in the Democratic or Republican primaries in order to get on the November ballot.

'Stay-In' By 75 Students

FORT WORTH (AP) — An estimated 75 students and one professor conducted a "stay-in" Tuesday in protest of Texas Wesleyan College's student assembly procedures.

Assembly attendance is mandatory and the Student Union Building is locked during the weekly meeting.

Most of the protesters left the student center at the urging of Dr. Ed Olson, dean of men. Five students remained, as did Dr. Edward Richards, associate professor political science.

Authorities took school identification cards from the six.

Protesters said that while the assembly was required, it was impossible for all to attend because there are 2,000 students and only 700 seats.

Some of those who are not assigned seats want the Student Center left open during assembly meetings, they said.

During the "stay-in" at the Student Center the assembly was addressed by a newsman whose topic was "Student Demonstrations."

Mexico Ship Is Aground

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A Mexican tanker carrying 105,000 barrels of oil ran aground near here Wednesday. Officials feared the loaded ship might break up, spreading oil from Corpus Christi to south of the Rio Grande.

James Wade of Wade Towing, Inc., Brownsville, identified the vessel as Pemex-D.

Wade said the tanker has a cargo of heavy, residual fuel oil and is aground near a line of breakers off the Mexican beach some 30 miles south of Brownsville.

Wade said his firm has been called to extricate the tanker. He said Mexican tugboats also were believed en route.

The veteran tugboat operator said if the oil should escape from the tanker, seasonal currents would bring the oil slick to the beaches at South Padre Island and at Washington Beach, south of the Rio Grande near Matamoros.

Jobless Rate Matches 15-Year Low Figure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nation's unemployment rate dropped to 3.5 per cent of the nation's labor force last month, matching a record 15-year low point.

But the jobless rate for Negroes at 6.7 per cent remained more than double the rate for white workers, which was 3.1 per cent, and was even worse in the slums of the nation's 100 largest cities, the Labor Department said today.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics also reported that the wave of riots in many cities reduced the hours of work in many areas.

Accused Killer Held In Juarez

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Freddie Lee McKenzie, 27, charged in the fire bomb death of eight persons in Fort Worth, Tex., is being held in jail here today.

He was arrested Tuesday by municipal police when he returned to a Juarez hotel where he was registered as Lonnie Smith.

McKenzie is accused of throwing gasoline into a Fort Worth night club called 'The Grave' late Sunday, then igniting it. Eight persons died of smoke inhalation when trapped in a back room.

Mexican and El Paso police got on McKenzie's trail after a tip from a Ft. Bliss soldier and some help from an Associated Press Wirephoto.

The soldier, Robert Meinert, told El Paso police that McKenzi picked him up as he was hitchhiking toward El Paso Monday. He said the two men registered in a Juarez hotel and McKenzie gave him the keys and title to a 1962 Pontiac.

Meinert said he was unable to locate McKenzie Tuesday morning and added he thought the car might be stolen. He came to El Paso police and told them his story.

A check of records revealed the car belong to McKenzie and that he was wanted in Fort Worth.

Neither El Paso or Juarez police had a picture of McKenzie, so they contacted El Paso Times police reporter Bruce Bissonette to see if his paper had received an AP Wirephoto.

The Times had received a picture Monday night and the newspaper gave it to police who went to the hotel where McKenzie was supposed to be registered. The clerk identified a man registered at the hotel from the picture but said he was out.

Juarez police staked out the hotel. When McKenzie approached the hotel a few minutes later he was arrested.

McKenzie was questioned by El Paso and Juarez police after his arrest. Mexican authorities said it might be Thursday before the necessary paper work could be completed and McKenzie returned to Texas.

A Fort Worth homicide investigator, Loyd LeFills, said McKenzie may be the man who left the club after an argument with a waitress Sunday. LeFills said a man fitting McKenzie's description purchased gasoline from a service station about 30 minutes before the fire.

Colombia To Host Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI announced today he will make a two- or threeday visit to Colombia in August to attend the 38th International Eucharistic Congress in Bogota and to open a Latin-American bishops conference in Medellin.

It will be the longest trip in the 70-year-old pontiff's reign and the first by a pope to Latin America.

He made no mention of visiting other Latin-American countries that have invited him but there was a possibility of airport stopovers.

His announcement to a crowd of pilgrims at his weekly general audience in St. Peter's Basilica brought cheers.

The trip will be Pope Paul's sixth journey abroad since he became head of the Roman Catholic Church in June 1963.

Garrison Rites Set

AUSTIN (AP) — Funeral services for Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Texas' No. 1 lawman for almost 30 years were scheduled for 10 a.m. Thursday at the Department of Public Safety auditorium.

The family had not decided on a burial site.

Garrison, 66, died Tuesday morning of bronchial cancer at M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston. He had been DPS director since September 1938.

Gov. John Connally ordered all state flags on public buildings lowered for half staff in Garrison's memory until after the funeral.

Methodist Bishop Kenneth Pope of Dallas will officiate at the services. He will be assisted by the Rev. Charles Sumners of St. David's Episcopal Church of Austin.

Garrison's family asked friends to contribute to his memorial fund at Anderson Hospital, rather than sending flowers.

Garrison's illness was first diagnosed at Anderson last July, but he was released after radiation treatment. He returned for periodic treatments and was last readmitted April 12.

14 In Local Delegation To Session

Fourteen Snyder representatives were on hand Tuesday at the closing session of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Odessa.

Snyder was one of the cities bidding for the 1969 convention which ultimately was assigned to Brownwood.

Attending the entire three-day event, from Sunday through Tuesday, were H. F. Clark, president of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, Gene Merrifield, manager of the Snyder Chamber, Karl Mawhorter, director of city development, and Herbert Feather. Clark and Feather are Snyder's representatives on the WTCC board.

Others who attended the general business meeting Tuesday included Doug McGlaun, Bentley Baize, Mel Gilbert, Mayor Bobby McCormick, Tommy Mills, R. C. Patton, Bill Nabors, City Manager George Patterson, Les Francis and H. W. Cargile.

Sorority Honors Students At Founder's Day Banquet

Twelve outstanding students from Lamar and Travis Junior High Schools were honored at a Founder's Day dinner of the Iota Psi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, held last night in the fellowship hall of Trinity Methodist Church.

The 12 include Travis students Jan Shelburne, Reatha Boyd, Josias Guzman, Marcia McCormick and Lawana Freeman and Lamar students Scott Morgan, Debbie Rollins, Susan Ferrell, Mike Huddleston, Kathy Martin, Jenny Mullins and Ginger Howell.

Parents of the students also were honored guests of the sorority chapter. One of the students will receive a plaque in a school assembly after he or she has been chosen as the outstanding student from among this group.

Mrs. Betty Hunter, the master of ceremonies, introduced guests and sorority sisters, Mrs. Trudy Wood and Mrs. Faydean Hart, both of whom explained the history of the social organization and Founder's Day.

Mrs. Hart observed that ESA began as a study club in 1929 and since then has grown to 1,550 chapters with 40,000 members. Philanthropic activities and social development are primary purposes of the club, she said. International headquarters are located at Loveland, Colo. The first chapter was organized at Jacksonville, Texas.

Mrs. Wood said that Bob and Dixie Palmer provided the ideals and leadership that "rebuilt ESA following the Great Depression and World War II."

She also called attention to Club goals of encouraging individual excellence and recognizing outstanding achievement.

Also included among the guests were Jack Gorman, principal of Travis Junior High School, and his wife, and R. E. Cooper, principal of Lamar Junior High School and his wife.

Invocation was given by Billy Hunter.

DEMOCRACY AT WORK ?

Nation's Credit Bureaus Busy Shaping Guidelines

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Prodded by public criticism and the prospect of legislation, the nation's credit bureaus are working on guidelines to protect the privacy of those whose financial histories they compile.

Within a few days, industry sources say, an advisory committee will be named to hammer out standards for the larger credit bureaus, most of which are members of the Associated Credit Bureaus of America.

These bureaus maintain files on a person's economic status and credit history for use by members in deciding whether to sell him goods or services on terms.

Among the questions to be considered by the bureaus:

—Should an individual be shown his own credit report?

—Should information in the files be given on request to government agencies?

—What information should be put in files?

—How long should derogatory information be maintained?

The action follows hearings by a special House subcommittee headed by Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N J. Following an agreement on guidelines, the credit bureaus then will submit their thinking to the subcommittee.

Some of the industry's stand apparently has already been agreed upon following a meeting just concluded in Chicago. Many of those attending, it was learned, feel an individual should be permitted to see his file on request.

This already is standard procedure for some credit bureaus. Others decline to show a person the information in his file but will discuss specific information contained in it.

Less agreement was reached on some other areas in which guidelines will be sought. One of the most controversial areas concerns the release of information to other than credit grantors.

Some bureaus believe they have a patriotic obligation to work with government agencies, such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation. An industry source, who asked to remain unidentified, put it this way:

"It is a serious philosophical question that is not completely resolved. Do we have a moral obligation to the country? Well, we're trying to face this question now and it's a damn serious one."

Another guideline will establish specific standards for the type of information to be placed in files. Data concerning a person's moral character generally is not now included in files. But beyond this point, the issues are less clear.

For example, if a credit bureau places the filing of a suit in a person's file, does it obligate itself to place the disposition in the file also? In current practice this is not always done, posing dangers to both the credit bureau and the credit seeker.

Here is an extreme case:

An individual denied credit in a large Eastern city inquired at the credit bureau for the reason why. He was told that a court suit was recorded against him.

"But this was a technicality involving health insurance," he answered, "and it was settled long ago."

"Then bring in the information and we'll correct the files," he was told.

"But this is your obligation, not mine," the credit seeker said. "Certainly I am not guilty until I prove my innocence, am I?" The credit bureau insisted on its point of view and the frustrated individual hung up.

Cases such as this very likely will be eliminated under the upcoming guidelines and legislation. Retailers are simply too eager for sales, too conscious of image, too wary of restrictive laws not to upgrade and modernize credit files. And that's what they're doing.

Bulletins From Boyle's Mailbag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The high cost of keeping up with the Joneses is creating more moonlighters in America. Some 3.6 million workers — about five per cent of the labor force—now hold down two or more jobs.

Modern war has eliminated at least one combat hazard—the mule. After the Civil War, a thousand Union veterans received disability pensions from injuries suffered from the bites and kicks of Army mules.

A German doctor has given medical approval of the feminine custom of wearing boots with miniskirts. He says the boots helps keep the girls from catching colds.

You have a right to take umbrage if anyone calls you bird-brained. A bird's brain is pretty small. Often it is outweighed by the bird's two eyes. And an ostrich is such a mental lightweight that either of its eyes weighs more than its brain.

Quotable notables: "I think it's very dangerous for an actor to get into politics," says Jackie Gleason, the fat man's fat man. "An actor spends his career learning how to fool people, and I think it becomes an unfair advantage if he uses his knack to get elected to public office."

How they got started: David Niven reveals in Saga magazine that he once worked as a liquor salesman. He got bounced when he blithely spent a salary advance on gambling instead of trying to make sales.

After exhaustive engineering studies, it has been found that it takes less effort to pick a paper clip off the floor and put it on a desk than it does to take a paper clip off the desk and lower it to the floor. There doesn't seem much left for science to find out, does there?

One reason they have to sell popcorn in motion picture houses to break even is the high cost of making films. For example, Julia Andrews, in her latest production, "Star!," wears 96 gowns created for her at a cost of more than $300,000. Think of all the money they might have saved if someone had taught Julie how to sew!

Despite a falling birth rate, the U. S. population explosion is still going boom, boom, boom If you love people, be sure to stick around until the year 2030. There'll be twice as many of your fellow Americans to love then—400 million.

Worth remembering: "The middle-aged woman with a nice figure may be only a bulge in a girdled cage."

History lesson: Can you name the first U.S. president who was born an American citizen? He was Martin Van Buren, whose birth date was Dec. 5, 1782. The seven presidents who preceded him in office were all born British subjects.

Do you dislike it for women to wear long fingernails? Well, think what they'd look like if they never cut them. As a girl's fingernails grow at about an inch every 32 weeks, if she left them untrimmed from birth she'd have fingernails 9½ feet long at the age of 70. Imagine having a wife like that trying to pour you a cup of morning coffee!

Junior Editors Quiz on MONROE DOCTRINE

QUESTION: When was the "era of good feeling" and in what country?

• • • •

ANSWER: It is pleasant to record that the "era of good feeling" refers to a time in this country's past, during the two terms of our 5th President, James Monroe, from about 1816 to 1823. America had emerged from the strains of the Revolution, had survived the troubled days of the War of 1812 and was being accepted into the company of great nations. Political rivalry was not so bitter in those days. The nation was rapidly expanding with new states joining the Union. New industries were appearing and education was being encouraged. Furthermore, other nations of the Americas were shaking themselves loose from European control. The great South American leader, Simon Bolivar, was at work encouraging South American democracy. This culminated in President Monroe's policy, announced in 1823, that independent nations of the Americas were not to be interfered with by European powers. This is known as the Monroe Doctrine. The American people felt that their difficult experiment in democracy was not only succeeding but spreading to other American nations. All these things led to an optimistic mood which became known as the "era of good feeling."

Scandals Are Few In Racing Game

BALTIMORE (AP) — The disqualification of Kentucky Derby winner Dancer's Image served anew to point out the policing job done by horse racing interests on their own sport.

The Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, organized in 1946, and the various state racing commissions have worked hard to eliminate the slightest hint of scandal.

The TRPB, sometimes called the FBI of racing, has rooted out and barred from the tracks hundreds of gamblers, touts, racketeers and various undesirables.

The organization is constantly on the alert for such things as the counterfeiting of mutuel tickets, the fixing of races and the stimulation of horses.

The number of cases of stimulation or doping once a sore spot of the sport, dropped drastically after the TRPB was organized under former FBI agent Spencer Drayton.

They still pop up periodically, but seldom with the dramatic impact of Tuesday's announcement from Churchill Downs that Dancer's Image was disqualified after the drug phenylbutazone was found in the system during a postrace urinalysis.

The TRPB handled 35 stimulation cases during its first year of operation, and the number dropped to 14 by 1952—when some 152,000 horses were involved in 19,000 races.

At the start, the TRPB had to investigate ringer cases, in which crooked horsemen would substitute a better-than-average horse for a low quality horse and clean up at the pari-mutuels.

A revolutionary system of lip tatooing of horses was started in 1947, making it virtually impossible for a horse to be used as a ringer.

Spurs 'Dig' Amarillo 4-3

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs pulled another one out of the fire Tuesday night, their third in a row.

The Spurs punched across an unearned run in the bottom of the 11th and nipped Amarillo 4-3 in a Texas League baseball game.

A bases loaded error by Amarillo third baseman Damosco Banco on a grounder allowed the winning run to score. Reliever Paul Doyle picked up the win while Ernest Quimby took the loss, his first of the year.

The Eastern Division lead ands Tuesday night ase beat13(swapped hands Tuesday night as Albuquerque beat Memphis 13-0 while Shreveport blasted San Antonio 10-5.

Albuquerque pitcher Charles Hough pitched a perfect game until the sixth inning and held Memphis to four hits. The Dodgers pounded five Memphis pitchers for 19 hits in the game.

In Shreveport, the Braves scored three runs in both the first and fourth innings and then wrapped it up with four unearned runs in the bottom of the eighth to sink San Antonio.

The win went to Ron Schueler, who went five innings for his first victory. The loss was tacked on Pat Jacquez, who failed to get past the first inning.

The El Paso at Arkansas game

The El Paso at Arkansas gam was rained out. The two teams will play a doubleheader today.

Female Trapshooter Takes First Prize

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A lady rancher from Henrietta, Tex., Miss Randy Hapgood, took the first open division handicap event Tuesday in the first day of the GoldenWest Grand Champion Trap Shoot Tournament.

Miss Hapgood hit 99 of 100 targets, besting several men. Nearly 300 shooters have entered the six-day tournament.

Big Tag Team Match Slated In Coliseum

Wrestling returns to Snyder at the Scurry County Coliseum at 8:30 p.m. Friday, May 10, with a giant wrestling card.

The main event will be a six-man tag team match. It pits the fabulous Funks — Dory Funk Sr., Dory Funk Jr., and Terry Funk — against Sputnik Monroe, The Hangman and Dirty Dick Murdock.

It is a rare occasion to have all three Funks on a wrestling card in one night, but they will all be here Friday night. Dory Funk Sr. and his two boys will be trying to beat three of the most vicious men in wrestling today, promoters said. Sputnik Monroe is a master of the deadly pile - driver and he is a veteran wrestler who has long been a rival of the Funk family. One of his partners is the Hangman, who is a newcomer to Texas. He has a 60 - inch chest and is just as tough and rough as Sputnik Monroe. The Hangman claims he was the chief executioner for the Utah State prison until they quit hanging people, which put him out of a job. Their partner will be another tough wrestler, Dirty Dick Murdock, who is the son of the all - time great, Frankie Murdock. He stands 6-4 and weighs 255 pounds and likes to make things rough for his opponents. He should round out one of the toughest three - man teams ever to crawl into a wrestling ring.

The semifinal will be Cowboy Bob Ellis VS. Kurt Von Brauner. Cowboy Bob Ellis is from San Angelo, and he will be making his first appearance here. Bob Ellis is one of the biggest names in wrestling and is one of the few athletes around today that has sold Madison Square Garden out three times in a row. He will be meeting one of the biggest "villains" ever to come to Texas — Kurt Von Brauner, the biggest and toughest of the Von Brauner brothers.

This semifinal match could well be a main event in any arena in the United States. Kurt Von Brauner and Cowboy Bob Ellis weigh 260 pounds each and when they meet something has got to give.

The special event will be the Lawman VS. The Mummy. The popular Lawman returns to Snyder Friday night to take on a newcomer to Snyder — the tough masked Mummy. The masked Mummy is big and rough and has been wrestling under wraps for 10 years concealing his identity. This will be another top match of the evening.

Another huge crowd is expected. For advance reservations, call the Scurry County Coliseum at 572-9811. Ringside tickets cost $1.50, general admission $1.25, and children under 12 are admitted for $1.

Tigers Still Have Chance

LAMESA — Levelland's 11-2 walloping of Lamesa yesterday afternoon scrambled the District 3-AAA baseball race.

The race could end in a 3-way tie Saturday if Snyder defeats the Tors and Brownfield beats Levelland.

Lamesa, on the other hand, still has a clear shot at the crown if the other two teams falter.

Keith Mills sustained the first loss of his high school career as the Lobos pulled off an upset victory.

The Tigers close out the campaign at Lamesa at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Mexican Cagers Defeat PanAm

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The Mexican Olympic basketball team broke open a tight game in the second half and defeated the Pan American Ex-All Stars 89-54 Tuesday night.

The two teams meet again tonight in Edinburg to complete the Mexican team's nine-game tour in this country. They will leave on a European tour immediately.

Manuel Rago scored 20 points to lead the Mexicans Tuesday night. The Olympians led 36-25 at halftime.

The victory was their fifth in eight games.

Stripe To Remain On The Queen Mary

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — When she sailed the seas, the Queen Mary wore a four-inch white stripe across the 1,019 foot vessel to give extra protection from salt water and air at the water line.

Although the Queen Mary is being turned into a museum, hotel and convention center, the stripe will remain. One of the workmen, restoring the ship in drydock, said "She's still the queen, you know."

NBA Draft Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association's college player draft continues today.

The first round of choosing was conducted late last month in secret sessions, but the subsequent rounds will be done in the open.

The only business conducted by the league's board of governors Tuesday was the approval of the transfer of the St. Louis Hawks to Atlanta.

The club's sale price was $3.5 million. St. Louis owner Ben Kerner sold out to a group headed by former Georgia Gov. Carl E. Sanders and Thomas G. Cousins, a real estate developer.

The team, which will play in the Western Division, will hold its home games at the Atlanta Memorial Coliseum, which has a seating capacity of 7,400 but could be enlarged to seat 16,000.

Temporary Peace In Cage Loop?

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Peace has been restored to the fledgling American Basketball Association, but it could just be a temporary truce.

Two feuding Eastern owners, Arthur Brown of the New Jersey Americans and Gabe Rubin of the Pittsburgh Pipers, buried the hatchet for a while at Tuesday's concluding session of the ABA's annual meeting here.

But the matter is not ended. It could flare up again, if they do not reach agreement on a dispute over New Jersey's territorial rights.

Rubin is believed to be trying to move his Pittsburgh team to New York City. Brown says he can't do it without compensating New Jersey for an infringement of the latter's 100-mile territorial protection rights listed in the ABA by-laws.

Commissioner George Mikan was optimistic that the air had been sufficiently cleared. "We met the challenge and are moving on," he said.

The Brown-Rubin confrontation overshadowed what had been expected to be a fight between Brown and Mikan over the commissioner's ordering the forfeiture a month ago of the New Jersey-Kentucky playoff game for fourth place in the Eastern Division.

While acknowledging that the forfeiture still irritates him Brown said it was never his intention to seek Mikan's resignation or removal at this meeting.

"It was untrue," Brown told The Associated Press. "We're not looking for blood or anything. We're just looking to see that it doesn't happen again. At the very least, I would hope to eliminate any such decision being made in the future."

Some of those attending Monday's meeting had come away with the distinct impression that Brown was after Mikan's job.

Owner Of Doped Nag To Offer Big Reward

By GEORGE W. HACKETT

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Charges of tampering reverberated in the turf world today over the disqualification of Dancer's Image from first place in America's most famous horse race, the Kentucky Derby.

Peter Fuller, owner of the 3-year-old colt, charged his horse had been tampered with.

"I'm going to get to the bottom of this and I'm going to offer a large financial reward to find the individual or individuals who tampered with my horse," the Boston sportsman said. "Anybody could have got to the horse before the race."

In what may become the most controversial incident in American thoroughbred history, Dancer's Image was disqualified and placed last by the Churchill Downs stewards Tuesday. This was three days after Dancer's Image, the 7-2 second choice, finished first in the Derby by 1½ lengths over the favored Forward Pass.

The stewards disqualified Dancer's Image because of the presence of a pain-killing drug.

They said in a statement: "The chemist for the Kentucky State Racing Commission has reported that the analysis of the urine sample . . . contained phenylbutazone and-or a derivative thereof."

Trainer Lou Cavalaris said he was stunned by the announcement. "Nothing like this has ever happened to me." Later in an interview over radio station CFRB in Toronto, Cavalaris denied he or any member of his staff administered phenylbutazone after the prescribed 72-hour ban before the Derby.

He said Dancer's Image was given the drug on Sunday, five days before the Derby, but not thereafter. He said he and any of his crew would take lie-detector tests "anywhere and anytime the Kentucky racing officials want us." He said it was possible someone might have slipped into the horse's stall and administered the drug.

Forward Pass, from the Calumet Farm, was declared the official winner and awarded first money of $122,600.

The drug, often called butazolidin, is used for the suppression of pain, but has been barred at Kentucky and others tracks since 1962.

Who administered the drug? When was it given? Why?

Churchill Downs, which announced the disqualification, declined to go beyond its statement.

"I have no idea who the guilty party is," said Wathen Knebelkamp, president of the Downs. "We consider this a tragic misfortune."

It was the 94th running of the famed Triple Crown classic and its first disqualification.

"The track is continuing its investigation," Knebelkamp continued. "The facts should come out at a hearing before the commissioners. The hearing is scheduled for Monday."

Regardless of the outcome, there will be no change for the bettors. Under the rules of racing the wagering on the race is not affected.

Dancer's Image had been under treatment for sore legs but, said Fuller, "I know my trainer, Lou Cavalaris, wouldn't give any medication he shouldn't have. I am convinced he is innocent."

Fuller expanded his comments when he returned to Boston. He said if Cavalaris is suspended Dancer's Image would not run in the Preakness at Pimlico May 18 or in the Belmont Stakes in New York June 1.

"They are a team," Fuller said. "My horse is not going to race without him."

Fuller said he had retained Louisville attorney, Arthur Grafton, Sr. to protect his interests.

Knebelkamp expressed surprise after Fuller's claim that "anybody could have gotten to the horse before the race." Knebelkamp said the track posted guards outside each barn and "I think we have better security than at many tracks."

Jockey Bobby Ussery, who thought he had been the first in 66 years to ride consecutive Derby winners, said, "This won't set me back any. I'll lose the money, but I'll still go on record as winning the Derby."

"What people must understand is the drug is not a stimulant," the native of Vian, Okla., told Dave Spitzer, sports writer for the Daily Oklahoman in Oklahoma City. "It doesn't make the horse run faster, it's just a pain killer."

Astros Rip Giants Again

HOUSTON (AP) — A four-run explosion in the seventh inning coupled with pitching by Don Wilson powered Houston to a 7-1 victory over San Francisco Tuesday night.

Wilson, a big right-hander, twirled a seven-hitter with ninth inning help from Mike Cuellar. It was Wilson's third victory against two defeats.

The Astros' hurler supplied two runs in the seventh frame with a single. He struck out five but walked four and left 12 Giants on base.

Wilson got the Giants in order in the fifth, seventh and eighth frames before he was replaced after a walk and an error.

The loss went to Juan Marichal, 4-2, who retired 12 Astros in succession before Rusty Staub opened the fifth with a first-pitch home run to break a scoreless tie. It was Staub's second homer of the year.

An unearned run in the sixth by the Giants tied the score 1-1. Singles by Ollie Brown and Bob Barton around Julio Gotay's error loaded the bases with none out. Wilson fanned pinch-hitter Jack Hiatt and Marichal before walking Ron Hunt to force in the run.

A triple by Jim Wynn sparked the seventh inning uprising. Staub was passed, Bob Aspromonte singled home Wynn and Gotay singled Staub home. John Bateman was intentionally walked and Wilson singled for two runs. Frank Linzy came in for Marichal to retire Ron Davis.

UNFAIR TO THE FAIR SEX?

British Women On Warpath Again

By LOUIS NEVIN
Associated Press Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE—It's been some 50 years since women got the vote in Britain. How has their quest for equality with men fared since? Emancipation has not gone far enough, cry a new breed of feminists. First targets of their new equality drive are the arenas of politics and sex. And physical equality. And spiritual and intellectual. And economic and legal.

LONDON (AP) — Fifty years after British women got the right to vote, the girls are on the warpath again for equal pay and the same chance at top jobs as men.

Some of them, however, say the 50-year battle for equality since emancipation wasn't worth the effort. "Emancipation was what first and finally betrayed us," said journalist Mary Kenny in an anniversary article. She said women were losing the chivalry and protection of men without getting the equality they sought.

"We are demanding to be freed of the last shackles of serfdom," cried Dame Joan Vickers, respected Conservative member of Parliament, at London's mammoth jubilee celebration. The 2,000 old-time suffragettes, now in their 80s, and the modern chicks roared their approval.

But they booed and hissed Prime Minister Harold Wilson when he told them that in the nation's financial straits the time has not yet come to give all women equal pay.

Baroness Summerskill, veteran Laborite parliamentarian, retorted: "In the 30 years I have been in Westminister, each successive minister of Labor tells us how his heart bleeds at the gross exploitation of women, but explains, with crocodile tears, that this is not just the moment to remedy this grave injustice."

The United Nations has set up commissions; governments make solemn pledges; trade unions and employers investigate and promise help, but women say they find little being done for them.

"Women are fed up with being exploited as 'pretty birds' when they are young and as 'silly moos' (cows) when they are older,'" Laborite lawmaker Joyce Butler told Wilson in the House of Commons recently.

Some psychologists say the miniskirt and even the see-through blouse are expressions, even symbols, of the new feminine drive for full freedom and equality. "It's my independence flag . . . and besides I look good in it," said one teen-ager of her miniskirt.

One lady objected, however, that woman's role as the bearer of children effectively bars her from ever achieving true equality.

That is a basic fact of life from which many of woman's complaints stem. It means a double, even a triple burden, for working wives and mothers with up to 100 hours of work each week.

Many thought The Pill would bring women full sexual freedom, to decide when and if, but now opinions seem divided. Feminist Margaret Drabble said, "A woman need no longer dread pain, or years of motherhood, or even on the crudest level, discovery, as the result of her sexual activities. She is free now, as never before: as (French authoress) Simone de Beauvoir put it—for a woman, liberty begins in the womb."

But Miss Kenny said: "We wanted sexual emancipation. With the pill, you might say, we got that, too. But a girl who plays around is still not the same as a man who plays around, and, in the end, there is a good deal more anguish with sex and the single girl than there are larks."

The banner of women's rights was first raised in this country by the celebrated Mary Wollstonecraft whose book, "Vindication of the Rights of Women," was published in 1792. Her work was carried on by Emmeline Pankhurst in the next century and, with her death in 1898, by her daughter Christabel who headed the Suffragette movement.

Susan B. Anthony, meanwhile, was fighting for the cause in the United States.

But despite the early start of the movement, Britain was a relative latecomer in giving women the vote. The numbers given the vote in 1918 in Britain were strictly limited, mainly to women over 30. Universal suffrage did not come until 10 years later.

The vote for women in the United States came with passage of the 19th amendment to the Constitution in 1920.

Switzerland still does not permit women to vote on national affairs, although a few cantons, mainly the French and Romanche-speaking cantons, allow them to vote on local affairs.

Lady Nancy Astor, American-born prohibitionist, became the first of her sex to sit in the House of Commons in 1919. At present there are 26 women in the House, out of 630 members.

Barbara Castle Britain's secretary of state for employment and productivity, is sixth in rank in the Cabinet. The United states has a woman senator, Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, and a woman representative, Patsy Mink of Hawaii.

But the number of women in politics is declining steadily, not only in Britain, but in France and elsewhere.

Laborite leftist legislator Lena Jeger gave this reason in a recent article: "Many women are not able to play a very active part in the chores of party politics—travelling, speaking, organizing—while they are busy with their families and often with a job as well. If, when the children are off their hands, they decide they would like to go into Parliament, they will find themselves right at the bottom of the ladder and regarded by patronizing young men on selection committees as too old to begin."

But equality is not only political and sexual. It is also physical, spiritual, intellectual, economic and legal.

Women the world over, from Soviet cosmonaut Valentina Tereshkova to British women running the railroads in World Wars I and II, have long shown their physical and spiritual strength and stamina. Still, it was front page news in Britain a few weeks ago when 31-year-old Gillian Cazalet was approved to become Britain's first women jet airline pilot. Many women complain that when a woman takes a test of that kind, the examiners are doubly tough because of her sex.

The world, too, has seen its women intellectual giants, but many British women complain that teaching is so inferior in girls' schools, especially in the science departments, that it is difficult for girls to secure science places in the universities.

The result, to take but one example, is that in Britain only 5 per cent of doctors are women; in Russia they make up 75 per cent.

Claimed economic inequalities range from unequal pay to unequal opportunity for advancement to the top jobs in management. Still, more and more women are entering employment.

New Officers Installed By VFW

Scurry County Memorial Post 8231, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held its installation of officers for 1968-69 at its regular meeting Monday night at the Post home.

New officers for the coming year are T. V. Early, Sr., commander; Don Ginbey, senior vice - commander; Weldon Biddle, junior vice - commander; W. G. Barr, quartermaster; Harold Spivey, advocate; Bob Bagwell, chaplain; John Abernathy, surgeon; and, Weldon Brooks, 3-year trustee.

Convention reports were given by several members who attended. Snyder's Post 8231 was well represented with 28 delegates from its post and auxiliary attending.

In district competition for all programs, objectives and membership, Snyder was first place winner for the second consecutive year, having completed all requirements. The Snyder Post exceeded its membership quota by 21, bringing in more new members than any other post.

Snyder placed two officers on the District 8 team. Albert H. (Shorty) Bevers was elected District junior vice commander and Harold Spivey was elected to a trustee position. The Ladies Auxiliary also has maintained the leadership of the district with Nell Fowler, president; Francine Spivey, junior vice-president; Bobbie McKinney, conductress; and, Ethel Sowell, trustee.

Posts that participated in the Voice of Democracy program were complimented for building up interest. Participation is expected to be better next season. Snyder had the second place entry in the District.

Colorado City will host the Fall convention in October.

Plans are being made at this time for Memorial Day. Anyone who knows of any unmarked Veterans graves is requested to contact the V.F.W. or the American Legion at 573-9216 or 573-3388 after 5 p.m.

"We want every veterans grave in our county marked with an American Flag on Memorial Day," declared Early, the commander.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — My refund hasn't come. Where should I write?

A — If it has been less than ten weeks since you filed your return, please be patient. Most taxpayers either get their refund or receive a letter about it within this ten-week period.

If it has been over ten weeks since you filed your return, write the regional service center where you filed. Be sure to give your social security number as well as your name and address, and indicate when you filed your return.

Millions of tax returns were filed in April, and our personnel are working on processing these returns as speedily and efficiently as they can. Requests to check on refunds slow this processing.

However, if you receive nothing after waiting ten weeks, and then write a thorough investigation will be made to determine the status of your refund.

Q — What's the rate I should pay when I report my maid's social security taxes this quarter?

A — The rate is 4.4 percent for the employee and 4.4. percent for the employer making the combined rate 8.8 percent. Employers who paid a household employee $50 or more in total cash wages in a quarter, should pay 8.8 percent of the total wages to IRS using Form 942.

Q — My refund has arrived. Does that mean my return was okay and will not be audited?

A — No, it does not. The fact that you have your refund indicates that your return contained all the required information and that there were no mistakes in arithmetic.

IRS generally has three years from the filing deadline of the return to examine the return and propose an adjustment in the tax liability.

For this reason, keep your tax records for at least three years from the due date of the return. Some records, such as those relating to the acquisition of a house or other property, should be kept longer.

Q — My refund was less than I expected. Who do I write about it?

A— Whenever a change is made on a return that affects the amount of tax due, an explanation is sent to the taxpayer, generally within two weeks from the date the refund check is mailed.

If you do not receive this notice, write to your IRS Service Center where you filed for an explanation. Please be sure to give your full name, address and social security number so that your return can be identified.

Humble Oil Leases State-Owned Land

AUSTIN (AP)—Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler says 34,368 acres of state-owned land were leased Tuesday for $1,499,081 for oil and gas development.

The high bidder was Humble Oil and Refining Co. offering $211,235 for 640 acres in Ward County.

Another 1,590 acres were leased for sulphur development. High bids totaled $155,267, an average of $97.61 an acre. Duval Corp. offered the highest bid, $76,918 for a 40-acre Culberson County tract.

Sadler said the leases raise the permanent school fund to $763 million.

Most of Basutoland's 11,716 square miles cling to the steep sides of the Drakensberg Range, whose loftiest peaks nudge clouds at over 11,000 feet. Rivers tumble down into treeless valleys and carve deep gorges across eroded plains.

Mutiny Is Charged By Ex-Captain

By MALCOLM G. BARR
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Cmdr. Marcus A. Arnheiter, stripped of a ship's command after junior officers' complaints, has told a special congressional committee there was mutiny on the vessel.

Arnheiter, a 42-year-old career Navy officer, was relieved as captain of the destroyer escort Vance in 1966 after the Navy ruled he showed "a serious lack of judgment" and "knowingly and deliberately committed many derelictions."

Capt. Richard G. Alexander, 45, who lost command of the battleship New Jersey after interceding with Defense Department authorities on Arnheiter's behalf, is to testify today.

Appearing Tuesday before a committee called together by Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y. —who vows to get the case "before Congress or to the White House if needs be"—Arnheiter said that when he assumed command of the Vance, "complete bedlam" existed.

He contended morale was low, the vessel was rusty and infested with cockroaches "and I began to wonder what I had inherited."

He testified throughout the first day of the scheduled three-day hearing, saying he wanted his "day in court under proper naval proceedings" and that this had been denied him. His wife sat two rows behind him in the crowded committee room.

There are no official Navy witnesses at the hearing. Resnick said the Navy has refused to cooperate or participate in the inquiry.

Arnheiter, a decorated Naval Academy graduate with seven years of sea duty aboard destroyers, said his intention aboard the Vance was to "take a lax ship and make it into a fighting ship."

Denying any improper conduct, he said, 'My major intent was . . . to take this ship into a war zone with a shipshape crew who would be proud of the ship and of whom the U.S. Navy could be proud."

Arnheiter said he met resistence in his efforts.

"Did you feel there was actual mutiny aboard the Vance?" attorney Marvin Lewis asked Arnheiter.

"Yes," Arnheiter replied, puffing on a cigar.

He said he filed charges alleging mutiny over the objections of the commander of the Pacific destroyer force.

Arnheiter now is shore-based near San Francisco and Alexander has a desk job in Boston.

Firehouse TV Gone

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Firemen at Station No. 4 rushed out to answer an alarm. While they were gone, thieves rushed in and stole the station's $400 television set.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT CAREER FOR YOU?

The San Bernadino Sun-Telegram and Miss Lain award a new Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Company, to Donna Rae Peterson, San Bernardino, Calif. for her question:

"What is the difference between a landscape architect and similar professionals?"

A — Before answering, let's define the field. Landscape architecture has flower-power nobody knocks. It's the design profession which creates a better landscape to make outdoor space more enjoyable, and usable for people. It's the only planning profession which covers the physical adaptation of man's entire environment. In fact, the term "ENVIRONMENTAL DESIGN" is being used more and more to express the comprehensive concept.

BY SIMILAR PROFESSIONALS you probably mean specialists in outside disciplines which the landscape architect must comprehend along with plant material expertise. These are: architecture with the design of buildings; civil engineering with the design of roads and utilities; and city planning with the development of communities.

EXAMPLES OF WORK include New York's classic Central Park . . . Pittsburgh's Mellon Square, a stunning public space atop a garage. . . exciting Ghirardelli Square in San Francisco. Also parkways, playgrounds, homes and gardens, institutions, shopping centers, industrial sites, housing, parks, subdivisions.

EMPLOYED BY self or other private practitioners, various planning offices, industrial firms, educational institutions or public agencies.

SERVICES PERFORMED include giving advice on land planning problems; selection of sites; making preliminary studies, sketches, models and reports; preparing working drawings, cost estimates, specifications for taking of contractors' bids; supervising construction; preparing; reviewing or formulating criteria for master and site plans of public land development; administering public or private land planning and construction.

PREPARATION. A bachelor's degree from an accredited college program in landscape architecture (four to five years); a master's degree (another two or three years) in some jobs such as city planning offices.

HIGH SCHOOL should include math, English, history, government, social studies, biology, botany and possibly chem or physics. Also mechanical drawing as ability to communicate graphically (make good-looking drawings) is essential. Find out about college work by writing for school catalogs. A list of schools and reef career literature are available from the American Society of Landscape Architects, 2000 K St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.

ADVANCEMENT. In private firms, the first couple of years are often spent in apprenticeship. Typical moveups are junior designer to senior designer to associate, partner or owner of a design firm. Some L.A.'s (frequently with a master's degree in city planning) become city or regional planning directors. Others working for the National Park Service (or state or municipal agencies) are promoted through civil service channels. The higher-on-the-ladder jobs have more irregular hours.

WOMEN. At least 10 per cent are women. "A superb career choice for women," says one authority, Mrs. Emmet J. Layton, herself a successful landscape architect and city planner in the Midwest.

HEADSTART. Pre-professional summer experience is expected. City students should try for rural experience, and vice versa. Try nurseries, greenhouses, floral shops, National Park Service and (for strong boys) surveying crews of civil engineering companies Learn to identify plant material by taking field walks (including city streets) and garden tours, attending flower shows, visiting botanical gardens where you should READ the plant labels.

Never Heard Of A Mushroom Dog!

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A friend of Ralph Whitson apparently pulled a practical joke by placing an ad in the St. Joseph News-Press that said: "Mushroom dog for sale. Points and retrieves, guaranteed. Call Ralph Whitson."

Whitson, a real estate operator who also raises dogs, said he was swamped with calls. He said he had never heard of a dog trained to hunt mushrooms.

Students Arrested On Marijuana Charge

FORT WORTH (AP) — Narcotics possession charges were filed Tuesday against five Eastern Hill High School pupils who police said were arrested last weekend with marijuana.

Dist. Atty. Frank Coffey said the teen-agers, all boys, were arrested Saturday night during a "pot party" in their car.

Charged were Grant Wakefield Couch, 17; James Neal Gammon, 18, Kurt F. Haueisen, 17, Charles Duane Brazzel, 17 and James Maurice Chapman, 17.
