The next two issues of the Success for May 19 and 26, will be our annual Keepsake Editions for the graduating Seniors and their parents and friends.

The crew have already done much of the preliminary work on these special papers. We will run individual pictures of nearly all class members along with a brief write-up of each. There will be historical highlights concerning the class included with advertising messages from local merchants and other boosters.

It is hoped that the coming two Success issues will be treasured mementos in the years ahead.

The class members and their sponsors left yesterday for their trip to Colorado Springs. They are to return home Sunday.

Reminder: The Social Security representative will be at the Schleicher County Courthouse on Friday, the 13th, from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Local residents who desire to file claims, or who wish information on any phase of the Social Security program or Medicare, should check with him at that time.

A good salesman, we learn, is a fellow who can convince his wife that she looks fat in a fur coat.

You've probably heard these words from Avis Car Rental Service in their ads: "We're No. 2 so we have to work harder."

Tom Ratliff came in second high in the race for County Judge and is now in a run-off race with Bob McWhorter. And Johnny Mayo was second under Dannheim in the race for Commissioner in Precinct 4.

No doubt they have already resolved to "work harder" for the next election which comes up three weeks from this Saturday.

Fact of the business is that they all will be working harder—the high man as well as the second high. It's a tradition in Texas politics that being high man the first time is no guarantee you'll be high in the second go-around. It might even be a little bit of a liability.

But please remember that is not a prediction. We've sworn off making election predictions.

County Chairman Dick Preston will order ballots sometime this week for the second primary. They will be ready for absentee balloting some time next week.

This of course didn't have anything to do with it, but this week we were going back over our January papers, and we noticed that McWhorter was the first candidate to announce for County Judge, and Ratliff was the second.

This writer lives close to the airport and has noticed that the new golf course is really getting to be a popular recreation spot. Last Sunday there were people scattered all over the place.

Incidentally, living next to the golf course, makes it necessary to keep my own premises cleaned up, but I'm always accumulating dead tree limbs and branches which are hard to dispose of. I'd prefer to chop 'em up and burn 'em. I know how to handle an axe, but the one thing I don't have is a good CHOPPING BLOCK.

I asked Rusty Gibson and Skeet Mace, but they were both fresh out of chopping blocks. Anybody know where I can get one?

From this you can see I am getting to be a dedicated booster for "Operation Sparkle."

Billy: "Daddy, why is the earth round?"

Father: "I'm not really sure."

Billy: "What makes an elephant so big?"

Father: "I don't know, son."

Billy: "Am I bothering you with my questions?"

Father: "Not at all. You never learn anything if you don't ask."

Road Contract Let

A contract for 6,376 miles of construction on RM Road 2596 in Schleicher county has been awarded to an Austin firm, it was announced in Austin this week by the State Highway Commission.

M. E. Ruby, Jr., Inc., submitted the low bid of $152,034.96 on the project. Grading, structures, base and surfacing is expected to take 90 working days, according to J. A. Snell, District Highway Engineer at San Angelo.

Robert A. McCulloch, resident engineer at Sonora, will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

Doran Wins Race For State Representative

HILARY DORAN

Emerging as winner of the race for state representative, of the 65th District of Texas of which Schleicher county is now a part, was Hilary Doran Jr. of Del Rio. Doran won handily over his opponent, Albert Smith of Eagle Pass.

Schleicher voters gave Doran 633 votes, to 168 for Smith.

4-H Girls Win In District Food Show

Two 4-H Club girls of Schleicher county were named winners in a 22-county Food Show which was held in San Angelo on April 30.

LeAnne Cawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cawley, took top honors with her entry in the vegetable & fruit division of the show. Chilie-Asparagus served from a chafing dish won the blue ribbon but the food, the recipe and the way it was served were not the main things the judges looked for.

An entrant's knowledge of general nutrition, her answers to questions about her own eating pattern, what part certain foods play in the daily diet and other relevant information, helped to determine who would win.

Debbie Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson of Eldorado, was a white ribbon winner with her loaf of carrot bread. Even though she won a third place, her table and setting was the hit of the show. Ordinarily a food is tasted only by the judges but in Debbie's case, she served her whole loaf to admiring visitors.

Mrs. Lloyd Johnson is the adult leader for Debbie's group of six 4-H girls. The group falls in the age bracket of juniors but they are advanced well in their subject matter and are able to not only prepare simple foods but as Debbie has shown, to produce complicated foods of prize winning quality.

Mrs. Bill Maness is LeAnne's leader and she too has five girls who are making sound progress under her able guidance.

These prize winning recipes appeared in my column the Thursday before Easter, or you may call the office of the Home Demonstration agent if you failed to clip them from the paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Granvil Hext visited their new grandson, Rodney Hext, in Albuquerque, New Mexico, last week while on vacation. They also visited with Rodney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hext. On the way home they spent Saturday night in Lubbock with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Walker, Jr.

Two Local Contests Remain To Be Decided in Run-Off June 4

With five names on the ballot the race for County Judge was of paramount interest to the voters of Schleicher county when the first Democratic primary was held Saturday. 949 votes were cast county-wide in this race which resulted in a run-off between Tom Ratliff with a vote of 277, and Bob McWhorter with a vote of 297.

One other race will be on the run-off ballot—that of Commissioner in Precinct 4, where Lawrence Dannheim leads with 41 votes, followed by Johnny Mayo with 26. The race for second place was close—Harper having 25 votes and Edmiston 21.

One state race will be included on the run-off ballot in this county. That will be Attorney General's race, in which Franklin Spears and Crawford Martin will be the candidates.

Pete Snelson

Dorsey Hardeman

The hairbreadth race between Dorsey Hardeman and Pete Snelson for State Senator apparently was settled when a 21-county vote canvass Tuesday showed Hardeman the winner with a bare 60-vote lead.

In the final outcome, Hardeman polled 21,172 votes to Snelson's 21,112.

The State Democratic executive committee still has to declare Hardeman the winner, but that seemed assured as the results of Tuesday canvasses which turned up few changes in early returns.

The state committee will meet to make nominations in the state and legislative races official.

Hardeman and Snelson were both incumbent senators thrown into the same district by the reapportionment of the State Senate last year. Their sector contains more miles and more population than any other and furnished Texas with the most thrilling legislative race in the state this year.

In the district canvass Tuesday, Hardeman picked up five more votes in Brewster county.

Dick Preston met Tuesday afternoon with his County Democratic committee to canvass the vote results. There were no changes made in any of the totals previously announced.

New Method Of Tomato Growing

A revolutionary new method of growing tomatoes without need for watering or weeding was developed by the late Mrs. Mary Robinson of Troy, Texas, County H.D. agents over Texas were recently notified about the new process. A brief article on her method was published in one of the recent issues of the Progressive Farmer. Mrs. Robinson used redwood sawdust and shavings but was experimenting with mahogany sawdust at the time of her death. She also had planned to try vegetables other than tomatoes.

A description of the method follows:
New Growing Meth for Tomatoes that was Developed by Mrs. Mary Robinson of Troy, Texas by John E. Larsen Extension Horticulturist, A&M College Station, Texas

"A bed is made by placing clear plastic on top of the ground. Redwood shavings are placed over the plastic to a depth of one foot by using a woden frame. In transplanting the tomatoes, a hole is dug to the plastic, about the size of a gallon bucket, with a small hole punched in the plastic. The cavity in the shavings is refilled with rich soil. Redwood is used because it rots or decomposes slowly."

While Mrs. Robinson used only redwood shavings, we believe many different kinds of sawdust or other organic materials are suitable. However, only slowly decomposable organic materials should be used since materials such as cotton burrs undoubtedly would "heat up" following the first rain and the plants may be killed. Rice hulls are available in the rice growing areas; however, I understand that birds and volunteer rice sometimes can be a problem since rice hulls usually contain some whole and cracked rice grains.

(White ash chips are available for 1c a pound at Rusty Gibson's fence yard here in Eldorado.)
 "The tomatoes are transplanted in the rich soil. Due to a temperature difference in the soil and shavings, moisture rises through the hole punched in the plastic. This explains why the tomatoes never have to be watered. The tomatoes put out roots all through the shavings; however, the nutritive requirements come from the small amount of rich soil in which the tomatoes are planted."
 Soil moisture vapor condenses on the plastic under the sawdust where it is cool and the soil remains continually moist. The soil in the bed is kept moist by capillary movement of the moisture from the soil under the bed to that in the bed. Rather than punch a hole in the plastic, we would suggest that a two or three-inch hole be cut in the plastic for good contact of the soil above and below the plastic.

"Her soil mixture includes 1½ bushels of sifted soil, two gallons of peat moss, two gallons of sand, two cups of 5-10-5, one cup of 0-46-0, one cup of sifted iron sulfate (copperas), and one cup of sifted sulfur."

- One modification of Mrs. Robinson's method which may be worthy of a demonstration, if your garden soil is desirable, is as follows:
1. Fertilize and till the soil in manner of good garden procedure before constructing a bed.
 2. Make a small mound of soil about four inches in height on top of the tilled area where each plant is to grow.
 3. Lay plastic on top of the tilled area and cut a four to five-inch diameter hole in the plastic at each mound of soil.
 4. Construct a frame about six or eight inches in height over the plastic and fill with sawdust or other organic material.
 5. Transplant or seed vegetables in each mound of soil.

Misses Humphries And Phelps Honored At Baylor University

The banquet climaxed Woman's Day sponsored by the Laurel Society, senior women's honorary leadership society. Woman's Day seeks to honor outstanding women on the Baylor campus each year.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column
By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

The "nothing new under the sun" adage has just now been disproven. I have found something new. You would never guess so I suppose I should just tell you outright.

I'm glad that I've found out about it — I really don't know how we, you and I, have made out this far without this absolutely new thing.

Give up? It is an electric waste basket.

This is what the advertiser says about it.
 "Shreds your memos, estimates, designs—all forms of important papers—silently, automatically, never to reload again. Simply plug the basket in, starts and stops by itself; no buttons to press."

Expensive? Oh certainly, very expensive. $100—just a hundred.

But then after all is a hundred dollars too much to pay for safety? Just think of it. No one ever needs to see the half finished columns I've started and thrown away and no one will see the notes to call so and so; little important memos which say butter, eggs, milk, orange juice, whole wheat bread and bacon. No one need ever know my grocery order did not mention mangos, sirloin steak, fresh strawberries, artichokes and other little interesting food items which certainly read better than the real list.

No one really needs to know that I'm out of the bulletin on making bread, salads, and some 4-H bulletins. I will shred the memo which reminds me and sometimes stays on my desk for a long, long time.

Yes, my mind is made up. I will order an electric waste basket. I really and truly need one. In fact I've wanted one all my life.

A half finished column has a great deal in common with unfinished letter. It doesn't read too well. It isn't fresh—the thing you were writing about is all over. It's old news.

I've just found a little note actually, that I started to you, the reader, the other morning at the 4-H contests and even though it isn't current what I wanted to say is still true—

Saturday Morning
April 30 8 a.m.

"Right now I'm sitting at the back of the room in the Home Economics department of San Angelo's Central High School. Junior 4-H girls are starting their cute, fresh and sometimes unusually informative talks on "How To Look Your Best."

A bright eyed, golden haired young lady of 11 seasoned years has just now confidently strode to the front of the room. She is confident, well trained and is handling her charts and demonstration materials like a professional. She looks like a picture on a 4-H calendar.

Now, I've found her mother. That isn't very hard to do you know — I just find the face that reflects every word and gesture the child makes.

This mother reminds me of a man in the control tower bringing a plane in under difficult conditions. The mother is holding the cue cards. The girl is searching for a word—the mother of course is silent but she is saying it with her lips. Now she is nodding—now smiling—now indicating with the forward thrust of her shoulders that yes yes—she is remembering correctly, yes, go on, one more card to go. The nods say, "That's right—you are doing fine—finish."

And she did finish in a very handsome kind of way.
 Never, in a long time, do I expect to see a mother so proud; a face so full of smiles, eyes so full of love. Like one encouraging a baby taking his first step she mentally held out her arms to guide her little one back.

Now—do you want a good cake recipe? Gloria Enochs came up with a delicious one not long ago (cake, not recipe) and the first bite was all I needed to ask for the recipe.

Gloria says a friend tests recipes for a big foods concern and this is one of her latest.

- Outside-In Fudge Cake
 1½ cups butter or oleo
 1½ cups sugar
 6 eggs (one at a time)
 2 cups flour

- 2 cups pecans
 1 pkg. double Dutch Fudge butter frosting.
 Cream fat and add sugar slowly. When thoroughly creamed add 6 eggs, one at a time. Add flour gradually, pecans and prepared frosting.
 Grease, flour tube pan. Bake at 325 F. for 1½ hours. Cool in pan one hour before removing. Serves 10 or 12.

On My 7th Anniversary in business, I wish to thank all local people for their past patronage and invite you to keep coming here for tops in drive-in service.

Lawrence Dannheim Is 'Wagon Boss'

Mr. Lawrence Dannheim, Wagon Boss for Schleicher county for the 1966 West Texas Boys Ranch Annual Round-Up announced today that the week of May 23rd has been designated as "West Texas Boys Ranch Week" in Schleicher county with a concentrated effort being put forth to obtain as many sheep and goat contributions to the Round-Up as possible.

"Due to recent rains and market conditions, and the fact that the Ranch needs help now, we have asked for this help during this special week during the Round-Up," Roddy Peebles, general chairman of the Round-Up, said. "We know that each county will want to take advantage of this effort during the week of May 23rd and pitch in and do their part by cooperating with their Wagon Boss to help the Hard Luck Boys at West Texas Boys Ranch near San Angelo," Peebles continued. The Annual Round-Up is one of the major fund raising drives conducted by the Ranch each year. The Ranch is supported solely by the free will cash or livestock contributions of West Texans. West Texas Boys Ranch has served over 750 boys since 1947, currently has 64 boys in residence, and is opening additional space for 32 more boys May 28th. "Sheep and goat donations will be accepted any time during Round-Up; we are just trying to get as many contributed at one time as possible during the week of May 23rd to show the Boys Ranch that Schleicher county is behind them," said Dannheim.

Miss Jo Beth Fine To Marry Gary Turner

Mr. and Mrs. Jo Beth Fine of San Angelo have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jo Beth Fine, to Gary James Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady P. Turner of 1308 Parker, San Angelo. The Turners are former residents of Eldorado and moved from here nearly two years ago.

The bride-elect was graduated from San Angelo Central High School, where she was a member of Tex-Anns, Bob-cat Boosters, Spanish Club and Speedreading Club. She is a student in Angelo State College.

The prospective bridegroom is also an ASC student and graduated from Eldorado High School with the Class of 1964. He was in the E-Club and on the track team while in high school here.

The couple will be married Aug. 26 in St. Luke Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Gunn visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Macon of Stamford, Texas.

Mrs. Macon is Mrs. Gunn's sister and also visited Mrs. K. Garrett (Mrs. Gunn's mother) who is in a rest home in Stamford.

The bride, a graduate of North Texas State University, has taught school in Odessa and played the viola with the Midland-Odessa and San Angelo symphonies. The bridegroom attended NTSU and Hill College and now plays with the Joe Reichman orchestra.

Schleicher Rates
95th In Oil and Gas

As Teas celebrates its 100th anniversary as an oil-producing state, Schleicher County shares in the development that made the Lone Star State the No. 1 energy source for a booming American civilization.

In 1866 Lyne T. Barret—a man most history books forgot—drilled the first Texas oil well near Nacogdoches at a depth of 106 feet. In the 100 years that followed, the search for oil and gas spread to every county in Texas, and today Schleicher county is one of the 210 in Texas which produce oil or gas.

Barret and other pioneer Texas oil men left a legacy for Schleicher county that can be measured at approximately $9.7 million a year, based on statistics compiled by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

During Texas' first century of oil production (29 billion barrels), Schleicher county has contributed approximately 42.7 million barrels, its record dating from 1937.

The latest U.S. Bureau of Mines figures (1964) show Schleicher county produced more than 2.6 million barrels of crude oil valued at $7.8 million; and 15.5 billion cubic feet of natural gas worth about $1.9 million. The 1965 output would be approximately the same, preliminary estimates indicate.

Schleicher county ranks 95th among the Texas counties producing oil and gas.

Payrolls, distribution of royalty checks to local landowners, new drilling ventures and tax payments are some of the ways by which oil and gas revenues are injected into the Schleicher county economy.

One of the most important "crops" harvested by Texas ranchers, farmers and other landowners is the royalty interest from oil and gas operations. These payments are at the rate of approximately $1.2 million a year in Schleicher county. Many more thousands a year are paid in lease rentals and bonuses on acreage which operators hope will some day yield oil or gas.

In addition to sharing the tax load for local schools and levels of government, oil and gas producers and royalty owners send some $491,000 a year to the State Treasury in severance taxes. Oil taxes account for $357,000; gas $134,000. The schools in this county depend on the oil and gas property taxes for a sizable part of the annual locally-raised budgets. Example: Schleicher, 65%.

Triggered by the first discovery in 1937, the search of oil in Schleicher county is still under way.

The Oil and Gas Journal reported 77 wells were drilled in the county last year. Thirty-three of these were "wildcats" seeking new fields or production from new strata. Results: 21 oil wells; 25 gas wells; 31 dry holes. Oil men and other investors risked an estimated $7.3 million in Schleicher county to drill 451,000 feet of hole. Some $2.1 million disappeared forever in dry holes.

The Texas Employment Commission reports an industry payroll of about $319,000 a year for Schleicher countians who are directly employed by oil and gas firms. This, of course, is only part of the total employment created by petroleum operations for many others work in related service and supply jobs.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

Austin, Tex.—Although the poll tax now is officially dead, as a voting requirement, the fight over registration procedures continues.

U. S. Supreme Court, as expected, agreed with a three-judge federal court here that the 74-year-old levy is unconstitutional. Court already had stated in a Virginia case that a state is prohibited from placing a charge on the right to vote.

Action, however, was necessary to place in full effect the voter registration law passed by the Texas Legislature in special session last February.

Texas voters still will cast ballots next November on a proposed state constitutional amendment to "repeal" the poll tax. Same amendment provides that an annual registration system will replace the levy.

Some groups are urging defeat of the November amendment. This so that annual registration will not be built into the state constitution. They will continue their drive for a permanent registration plan, whereby a voter once registered remains eligible simply by voting regularly in elections.

New Election Law Study Committee indicated it will devote much of its effort to improving the system enacted under emergency circumstances. Committee has requested that suggestions in general for amending Texas election laws be submitted to the Texas Legislative Council before June 30.

Courts Speak
Should federal court-ordered principle of equal population for congressional and legislative districts apply to county commissioner precincts as well?

State Supreme Court heard arguments on the question in a suit filed by Midland Mayor H. C. (Hank) Avery to bring the one-man-one-vote theory to precinct level. If court agrees, major changes could result in county government throughout Texas.

Opponents said Texas Constitution provides that precincts will be created "for the convenience of the people."

High Court also agreed to review a May 25 suit to void Jefferson county contracts for replacement of Pleasure Island Bridge at Port Arthur.

After a 13-week trial, a Travis County District court jury held that more than $1 million was "misappropriated" from Lumberman's Insurance Corporation of Dallas as the result of a scheme involving bankers and an insurance agency owner.

A.G. Rules
Texas State Library and Historical Commission may make direct monetary grants to local public library units under federal act, subject to approval of state plan, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr held.

In other opinions, the attorney general has ruled that: —Cigarette vending machines operated on a military reservation are subject to the regular permit fees.

—Residence in which the Cameron Independent School District superintendent lives is tax exempt, since it is owned and maintained by the district to encourage qualified personnel, and therefore serves a "public purpose."

—Acquittal of the charge of driving while intoxicated, second offense, would bar a subsequent prosecution for driving while intoxicated, first offense.

—Registration fees may be paid by state for Veterans Land Board appraisers attending an appraisal school at Texas A&M.

—Trust agreement for investment of perpetual care funds may be amended to permit investment in corporate stocks and other investments authorized by Texas Trust Act.

DPS Needs Recruits
Col. Homer Garrison, director for the Department of Public Safety, is looking for applications for the next DPS training school for patrolmen. Application deadline is June 6.

Garrison said training pay has been increased from $375 to $400 a month. Pay will be $468 to $484 upon graduation. Men between 21 and 35 are accepted for the 16-week training program. They pick their branch of service and are assigned to posts throughout the state.

Flood Aid Sought
Gov. John Connally has requested the President to declare 19 northeast Texas counties as part of a major disaster area as a result of heavy rains and floods.

His initial request for federal emergency relief funds for rehabilitation of public facilities total $1,500,000.

The 19 counties included are Bowie, Camp, Cass, Collin, Fannin, Freestone, Gregg, Harrison, Henderson, Lamar, Marion, Morris, Navarro, Rains, Red River, Rusk, Shelby, Titus and Upshur. Others may be added in a supplemental request when damage estimates are complete. At least 13 other counties suffered flood damage.

Connally pointed out that rains and flooding in the lower Rio Grande and along the Texas coast may require assistance to that area. Allocation of funds is made on the basis of surveys conducted jointly by local, state and federal agencies.

Water
Texas Water Development Board decided to enter a master agreement with the Sulphur River Municipal Water District, North Texas Municipal Water District, the City of Irving and the U. S. Corps of Engineers to pay part of the cost of construction of Cooper Dam Reservoir and Texarkana Reservoir.

Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Army Corps of Engineers, has approved the Aquilla Reservoir on Aquilla Creek.

Board recommended construction of a $23.6 million dam and reservoir for flood control, water supply, recreation and fish and wildlife enhancement between Hillsboro and Waco.

Texas Water Rights Commission announced plans and specifications for Livingston Dam and Reservoir in Polk and San Jacinto counties. Design calls for construction of an earthen embankment on an over-consolidated, low-strength clay.

Project would be a major source of water for Houston.

Textbook Committee
Texas' 15-member State Textbook Committee has been appointed by the State Board of Education. Committee has the job of evaluating more than 225 textbook offerings and deciding which five in each subject should be offered for school board adoption.

Members of the Committee are: H. G. Adams, Marfa; Mrs. Hulan Armstrong, Menard; Dr. C. E. Ellison, Killeen; Dr. Morgan E. Evans, Galveston; Dr. Frances Freese, Dallas; Miss Helen L. Fulton, Spring Branch; Gerald Gafford, Snyder; Mrs. Ethel D. Greenwood, Corpus Christi.

Also, Billy H. Guinn, Jacksonville; Mrs. Betty B. Johnson, San Antonio; Dan Lea, Fort Worth; Dr. James F. Malone, Kilgore; Mrs. Emma Lue Mohle, Lockhart; Mack W. Mullins, Corsicana; and Mrs. Alma Perkins, Canyon.

CRISIS IN THE COUNTRYSIDE Soil Stewardship Week Statement by D. A. Williams, Administrator Soil Conservation Service

Today, there is indeed a "crisis in the countryside"—or rather, two crises. One is the continued wastage of the land through erosion and improper use. The other is the result of man's partial success. This is the crisis of complacency about conservation.

Why this complacency? Perhaps it is because the need for increased conservation measures does not immediately strike the eye. The supermarkets are full—today. The dust may not be blowing—today. And so we concern ourselves with the big headlines—wars, space, missiles, murders!

These are serious matters indeed. But, we lose more of our land every year to silent erosion than we have ever lost, or shall ever lose, to a foreign foe. Where is the battle cry for this?

What happens to the eroding lands in Missouri and Montana affects us more directly than our landing on the moon. Where are the pleaders for this? And—no matter what weapons of the future we develop—the most modern army in the world still travels on its stomach, still depends on the bountiful earth we take for granted.

Do not misunderstand me. Our activities around the world, and out of it, are very necessary. But I will firmly believe to the end of my life that there is NO work more important, now or for the future, than conserving and enriching our own land, the basis for our life, our living, our national wealth.

Yet, we lose each year, through erosion and other forms of preventable damage, about 500,000 acres of formerly productive land. The bulldozer and the builder take another one and one-third million acres of the best land every 365 days for highways, factories, housing, and so on. Our rivers continue to flood and destroy homes and hopes. Our water supply runs short, becomes polluted, erodes the land. And, as much of our land disappears, our population and that of the world increases.

Yes, our supermarkets are still full. Our time has not run out. But, quite literally, the sins of our forefathers are being visited upon us. We cannot afford to be as wasteful in the future, if we desire our children's children to inherit an affluent America. We must plan more intensively, farm more wisely, care more urgently. And we must make sure the city man understands that what happens in rural America affects him immediately and profoundly.

We call our land "God's country," and it is Let us clearly acknowledge it is our job to keep it that way. Farmers and ranchers, as the chief soil stewards, have the heaviest responsibility. They, of all people, know the conservation job is far from done. Thirty per cent of our land is being properly treated. What about the

BACK FROM ALASKA

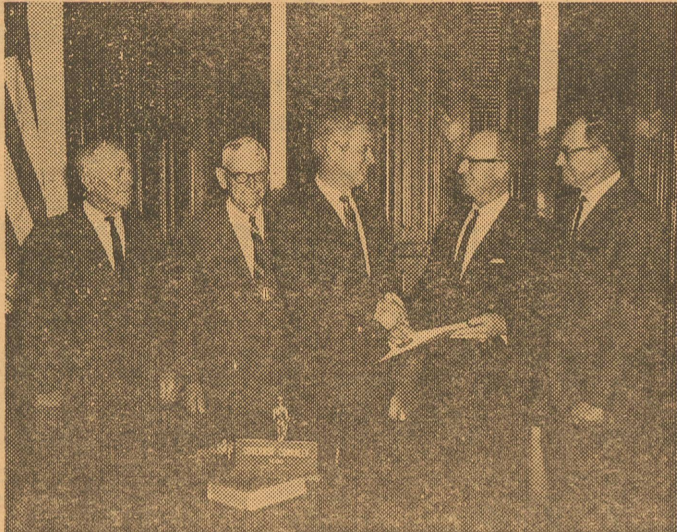

As we acknowledge Soil Stewardship Week, let us indeed thank God for this country, and for the thousands of dedicated people working to keep it rich and bountiful—especially the officials and cooperators of our 3,000 soil and water conservation districts. And then—let us get off our knees and go back to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Wilks and son, Mike, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sauer and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Sauer this week. Mrs. Wilks is the former Kathy Sauer. They have been stationed in Anchorage, Alaska, for the last two years. Mrs. Wilks plans to stay in San Angelo for the next few months while her husband attends Officers Candidate School in Georgia. He is in the Army.

Mrs. Bill Taylor of Sonora entertained her mother, Mrs. O. L. Woodward, with a cook-out at her home Saturday night.

Johnny Lawrence was at home from the University of Texas, Austin, for Mothers Day.

Governor Proclaims Soil Stewardship Week

Shown with Governor John Connally as he signs the proclamation designating the week of May 15-22, 1966, as Soil Stewardship Week in Texas are, left to right: Gilbert E. Kretzschmar, president of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts, Bartlett; I. B. Ray, Chairman of the Wilson County Soil and Water Conservation District, Floresville; Albert Roach, Secretary of North Texas Soil and Water Conservation District, Paris; and Heinie Bade, vice chairman of the DeWitt County Soil and Water Conservation District, of Cuero. Mr. Roach is Chairman of the Soil Stewardship Committee of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts and Messrs. Ray and Bade are members of this committee.

GREETINGS:

The citizens of our state recognize the earth is the Lord's and we are His servants charged with caring for it and developing it to the best of our ability. The soil and water, the trees, the grasses and wildlife, in their beauty and their infinite combinations and products, were put here for all of us, to help us grow together in dignity and wisdom, peace and service.

We cannot afford loss of land, waste of water, distortion and spoilage of human life. The countryside is a wealth of enormous values and unending uses with benefits and responsibilities for Americans everywhere. It provides food and outdoor recreation, wood and water, and it is the home of agriculture and forests, parks and wildlife, trails and highways, and deserts and wilderness.

The change under way on all sides imposes new tests on soil stewardship, and requires the assertion of leadership by those who take seriously their responsibilities to God for the soil, water and other resources entrusted to us.

Soil and Water Conservation Districts, sponsoring Soil Stewardship Week, have expressed their commitment to this challenge.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of May 15-22, 1966, as SOIL STEWARDSHIP WEEK in Texas.

—John Connally, Governor of Texas.

To a motorist who still hasn't put a Tiger in his tank.

Here's that Tiger.

You're a skeptic. Good. Then you're going to be a good customer, if we can ever win you. We showed you proof on television that High-energy Enco Extra cleans your carburetor while you drive.

(Probably you said, "So what? My car still runs.")

We told you it improves firing power, helps prevent hot spots and misfiring and gives you the high octane to help you take off like a cat.

(You drove right on by.)

It's frustrating to develop a gasoline that gives this kind of performance and then not even have you try it.

Did you know new High-energy Enco Extra is more powerful than aviation gasoline of just a few years ago?

That the Tiger is now the favorite of motorists all over the world? And that Jimmy Clark became the World's Champion Race Driver with a Tiger in his tank?

So why not "Put a Tiger in Your Tank?" "Happy Motoring!"
